Air Raid Sirens' Call Can't Be Heard Above Cities' Roar

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 - From New York, Washington and other big American cities comes news that tests of air raid sirens failed. This can be turned into success if the authorities will take essons from London.

Anyone coming to any big Amercan city after service in blitzed England is apt to jump up and make ready to go to an air raid shelter when, suddenly, down in the street they hear sirens hooting. But the siren is usually only on a fire engine, police car or an ambulance. At all hours of the day and night in the big Americar cities these screams are heard. So long as this continues, it will be very difficult to devise a system of sirens that, to the average American, will mean an air raid alarm.

Use Gongs In London

In London and other big British cities no fire department or police vehicles are equipped with sirens. Land Is Bright," just for the fun of Neither are ambulances. They still use simple gongs. And the vehicles get though the crowded streets of London just as quickly as do their siren-howling counterparts in Lesson No. 1: Ditch the sirens. Go back to gongs.

But even if American authorities dispense with sirens on fire and police vehicles and ambulances, there still remains the every-minute noise of American cities-the swelling chorus of motor horns that would serve to drown out the sound of air raid sirens.

Some years before the present war broke out, authorities in Lonentirely to cease. Motorists at once set up the kick that this would lead to endless accidents. The authorities stood pat.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2-A con-cerned Capital is seeing a new American witch-hunt getting ready to race through the country like the full-bloomed anti-German hysteria of the World War.

Practically everybody with slant eyes is being suspected of snooping for the Japanese. The foreign ac-cent of the neighborhood spaghetti dispenser fills many eyes with mistrust. The butcher with a German name may or may not know it, but a number of cutsomers are linking him to the Gestapo. Trying to nip the thing in the the Department. To refresh vague memories and remind the new war generation of the taboos, in effect ever since June 15, 1917, which came tumbling off the dusty legal shelves when the nation went to war, here is a look at the parts of the act particularly affecting Mr. and Mrs. John Citizen.

The first section is pretty much what you'd expect, dealing with unauthorized possession of information injurious to the U.S. National Defense, passing it on to unauthorized persons or withholding it from the proper officials. Section II deals with out-and-out treason. But when you get to Section III you are out of the realm of the professional spy, and should begin to sit up and take personal notice. For you find that wilfully making false statements to interfere with operation of the armed forces brings 20 years in jail and or $10,-000 fine, as also does inciting disovalty or insurbordination among oldlers or sailors, and N. B. ob structing the recruiting or enlistment services.

Of course there are additional sections specifying penalties for conspiracy or for the concealment of persons suspected to be guilty of any provisions of the act. But the heart of the Esplonage act for the average citizen was, and is, Section III. Since this part relates to sedition rather than esplonage, the whole act is sometimes popularly called the Sedition act. Examples In World War

Turning back the pages again to 1917 and 1918, here are typical case histories of what people were tried for under the act.

ceived in the sparkling 5-1 conquest of the champion Sault Ste. Marie Indians Thursday night, the Marquette Sentinels will trek to the Copper Country tomorrow to meet the Calumet-Laurium sextet in the Calumet Colosseum. It will be the Sentinels' first test this season against a Copper Country team. Marquette played a 1-1 deadlock with Soo Tuesday before conquering the Indians. Norman "Boots" Kukuk, hockey mainstay here for several seasons, sustained a severe charleyhorse at the Soo that may keep him out of the lineup tomorrow afternoon, and Lloyd Hill, forward, also suffered a minor injury.

Fast And Rough The game was fast and plenty rough all the way, the Sentinels reported yesterday. Injuries to Kukuk and Hill undoubtedly will prevent the squad from being at its peak, but followers are hopeful that the momentum of the Soo victory will carry them through tomorrow's clash. A close race looms in the Northern Michigan circuit this season. Opening their third week of activity tomorrow, the teams appear to be nearly on a par. The Soo Indians, who have taken it on the chin thus far, are expected to hit their stride soon, which would be the final step toward making it a wide open race. Soo also has felt the jar of the injury jinx, Don Olson suffering a foo injury in the Calumet game that will keep him out for several more days and Duke MacDonald tearing a leg ligament in the first Marquette tilt.

Calumet Fortified

Soo will experience plenty of difficulty, however, annexing its third straight title. Calumet is fortified by the return of George Koivuniemi, league-leading scorer with Marquette last season, and Frank Gresnick, veteran defenseman, who started the current season with Ching Johnson's Washington Lions in the American league.

Judging from the showing made by Calumet and Painesdale thus far, the Copper Country also has its share of capable former intermediate stars who have stepped into senior ranks this season for

T DIDN'T HAPPEN to be the Chattanooga choo-choo with hereabouts last Tuesday night. It was William (Bill) Jones steaming his faithful pellet into the king and his guard in the Elks bowling academy that caused all the commotion. And what a rumbling noise there was as Bill, rolling his first game in the singles event in the Marquette City tournament, wheeled the pumpkin into the wooden soldiers with perfect finesse for 12 consecutive strikes and a 300 game. When you consider that the chances of crashing into the select "300 circle" are a 1,000,000-to-one shot you'll realize that when you snare one of those elusive scores you really got something. T WILL NOT BE a cheerful little earful to the ball players of the American league to know that Emmett "Red" Ormsby will not be behind the dish when the 1942 endurance grind starts. "Red" was not only one of the veteran umpires of the jumor circuit but one of the most popular. In his younger days Ormsby had, to some extent, aspirations of becoming a major league pitcher. After his graduation from BY WHITNEY MARTIN De Salle Institute in Chicago in 1912, where he twirled for the varsity nine, he obtained his first job umph in a bitterly-fought contest as a pitcher with Gladstone in the utes, when the Huskies blasted a for a few seasons he hurt his fling- next Friday night. 39-34 State lead and nosed ahead in ing arm and was forced to give up a wild-eyed finish which was mark- the playing end of the game. While on the subject of baseball, the question arose recently whether major league baseball was affected during World War No. 1. Baseball, like all other sports, was affected in many ways during that conflict. For one thing the 1918 season was so shortened that the World Series started on Sept. 5, or about a month earlier than usual, and the attendance and players' split were among smallest in history. In 1919, although the fall classic was returned to October, the season's schedule was abbreviated to 140 games.

Senators Hear Dispute Over Price Control

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2-AP-A spirited dispute between Price Administrator Leon Henderson and Secretary of Agriculture Wickard flared into the open today as the Senate banking committee completed final details of broad wartime price control legislation.

Senators said Wickard told them he feared Henderson would fix farm prices so low the nation's farmers would not meet wartime production goals.

Henderson, already fixing prices under orders of President Roosevelt, vigorously opposed suggestions of some Senators, among them Bankhead (D-Ala), that control over farm prices be placed in the hands of the Secretary of Agri-

Senator Brown (D-Mich) said the full banking committee was "practically unanimous" in rejecting any control of wages, salaries and income "because effective price control will bring wage stability."

Brown said Senate debate on the measure probably would be delayed until Wednesday of next week in order to let Senators study it. The measure will be formally reported Monday. Brown, who will act as floor manager of the measure in the Senate, reported agreement on these changes in the bill approved by the House: Exercise of price-fixing powers by a single administrator with appeals to special Federal courts. Insert Licensing Provision

(The House voted to establish a special five-member board with power to review and supersede orders of the price administrator). Agreement that ceilings would not apply to agricultural products until they reached the highest of two levels: 110 per cent of parity or average market prices on Oct. 1. (The House had included a third level: Farm price averages during 1919-29).

Authority to place any business or industry affected by price controls under license. (The House eliminated this licensing provision which some witnesses said might involve policing and licensing of up to 2,500,000 business concerns). Authority to fix maximum rents in defense areas. (The House approved similar provisions).

LONDON, Jan. 2—P—Stark new disaster imminently threatened the German salient west of Moscow tonight after Red army forces reoc-cupied Maloyaroslavets to the south, tightening cruel pincers fashioned from the Nazis' own

The Soviet thrust to Maloyaro-slavets, 30 miles south of the German advance position, and a companion Red army drive to Staritsa, 80 miles northwest, left the Germans facing the prospect of encirclement or a hazardous retreat of more than 80 miles from Mozhaisk to Vyazma. Even before the capture of Maloyaroslavets the westward push of the Russian armies to Staritsa and Kaluga had thrust deep salients into the Nazi lines both above and below Mozhaisk, menacing the rear of that position. Mozhaisk, itself, is under the fire of Russian artillery and seems about to collapse.

SINGAPORE, Jan. 2-A-Britain's jungle-tested defenders of Malaya were engaged in battle with newly-landed contingents of Japanese invaders nearly 300 miles above Singapore tonight, and latest reports stated the fighting was becoming increasingly heavy.

That undoubtedly was a major consideration in the grim decision to evacuate the Manila area and the Cavite navel station nearby and fall back on Corregidor island and mountainous Batan peninsula. An additional reason can be cited, nowever. MacArthur's force was obviously too small and too bereft of air support to hold a wide perimeter around the city and all Manila bay.

Japanese occupation of Manila is more serious as it indicates the tremendous power thrown into the Luzon struggle by the Japanese than in the immediate strategic adtacks on one U. S. warship and two vantages its possession gives the enemy. So far as the probable positions chosen for last-ditch stands by American-Filipino forces can be picked out on the map, they are powerfully buttressed on all fronts. Corregidor's guns still deny enemy ships access to the bay. They also guard the southern bridgehead to Batan peninsula, on which MacArthur's men evidently plan to make a bitter defensive stand. 26 Axis Foes Sign Pact Of Solidarity

By D. Harold Oliver

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2-AP-The United States, Great Britain, Russia and China formally agreed with 22 other nations today to use their full military and economic might against those Axis powers with which each is at war and further pledged not to make a separate peace with the enemy.

Climaxing lengthy conferences among President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and diplomatic represenatives of the associated nations, the joint declaration implements the eight-point Atlantic charter agreed upon by the British and American leaders last August It also makes the charter a multilateral one by bringing in 24 other countries.

Signing of the formal declaration began yesterday. It was completed today at the State department when several Latin American diplomats affixed names for their countries. Announcement of the agreement was made simultaneously at 3 p. m. (EST) in the capitals of the 26 signatories.

'Greatest Common War Effort' Secretary of State Hull said the joining of 26 free nations "in the greatest common war effort in whelming majority of the inhabitents of all six continents." "This is a living proof that lawabiding and peace-loving nations can unite in using the sword when necessary to preserve liberty and of mankind," said Hull's state-

Long Struggle For Control Of Luzon Probable

By Richard L. Turner

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2—(By A. P.)—With Manila gone, and the Cavite naval base abandoned, a consolidated defending force north and northwest of the Philippine capital today continued a stubborn resistance to an increasingly furious Japanese onslaught.

This word came from the War department late in the day, hours after it had announced strategic necessity had compelled General Douglas MacArthur to surrender Manila that he might continue the battle in more favorable territory.

"American and Philippine troops north and northwest of Manila are continuing to resist stubbornly attacks which are being pressed with increasing intensity," the communique

LANSING, Jan. 2-(A)-The state tire rationing committee tonight rushed instructions and bundles of forms to county tire rationing agencies in a last-minute scramble to have the rubber conservation program functioning by Monday morning when rationing becomes an

The state board reduced the size of county and city boards to three members upon instructions from Washington and called upon the public to report immediately any evidence that tire dealers are bootlegging new tires or tubes.

Clarence A. Doyle, member of the Dearborn city council and Wayne county board of supervisors, a trucker, was appointed executive secretary of the state tire rationing board. His salary has not been determined. He is a member of the American Legion, having served in the Navy during the first World war.

Clerks Made Key Men

County and city clerks were made the key men in the local tire conservation program, being designated by the state board as county tire administrators and chairmen of the county and city boards.

Upon instructions from Washington, representatives of tire retailers were dropped from the boards, while consumer representatives previously designated as chairmen, also were eliminated, leaving 54 rural boards composed of county clerks, a representative of business and a farmer. In 29 other counties, the board consists of a clerk, businessman and laborer.

The state board said consumer and tire retailer representatives should be enrolled on advisory boards in each county. Representatives of motor transportation, and

For 395 Days For the second time in the history of U. S. weather bureau reporting here an entire calendar year has elapsed in which no zero or below zero temperatures were recorded, H. B. Cowdrick, meteorologist here, said yesterday.

*Temperature

Above Zero

On December 2, 1940, the temperature dropped to 2 degrees below zero, and since that time it has remained above the dividing line for 395 days, one of the longest above-zero periods in the history of

The only previous occasion in which a whole calendar year passed without the mercury dropping below zero was in 1931. The period started on December 1, 1930, and ended on January 30, 1932.

The longest above-zero spell, which oddly enough did not include a calendar year, was one year, nine months and 15 days — from March 6, 1920, to December 21,

Weather bureau records indicate the first prolonged "warm" period was from February 5, 1902, to February 17, 1903, while the most recent, with the exception of the past year, was from January 23, 1935, to January 24, 1936.

Michigan Highway Death Toll Over 2,000 in '41

EAST LANSING, Jan. 2- AP -Capt. C. J. Scavarda, of the state police traffic division, said today safety officials estimate 2,000 or more persons lost their lives in automobile accidents in Michigan during 1941. Official tabulation, he said, will not be completed until February or March after reports collected by his staff and the state health department have been assembled. The figures at present, however, conclusively indicate a 2,000 toll, second only to the record traffic kill of 2,160 in 1937, Scavarda asserted. He described as "needless" more than half of the 1941 fatalities which he said resulted from "failure of somebody to do simply the things that common sense dictates.' Scavarda said it was estimated reaction and reflexes-and 200 re- driving sulted from circumstances beyond the driver's control.

Hitler at the Front

As long as he had a facade of generals and admirals nominally responsible for operations he had an ample number of scapegoats to sacrifice when things went wrong. Now that he has arrogated to himself the powers of the supreme active command he must accept the responsibility for such Nazi misfortunes as occur in the future progress of the war. If he fails, as he is bound to fail as time wears on, the bearing on army and civilian morale must be immense and incalculable. He has, in effect, put himself in position where the course of events may make him the principal contributor to the break within Germany which has be counted on-factor in a material shortening of the war.

In the last war the planning and the execution of plans was left to the high command. Kaiser Wilhelm was a ubiquitous figure, but as far as he had voice in council he had but one voice of many. Whatever his responsibility for the outbreak of war he was not responsible for the manner in which it was waged, or the outcome. He did not flee to Holland because of military disasters due to his overriding of the army and navy commanders, but because, following on the collapse of the home front, it did not seem safe for him to return to Berlin.

a commander. If he did not impose his will on the high command it may be for the reason that he lacked the power. For the Kaiser was not the dictator of a totalitarian state. He was the ruler of a constitutional state in which constitutional processes had navy command.

LANSING, Jan. 2-An upswing in Michigan oil production that brought a half million dollars to Mrs. B. Parks. the state's general fund, a general increase in use of recreational facilities, a new low record for forest fire damage, and definite progress in rebabilitating 2,500,000 acres of recently reverted tax delinquent northern lands were among the 1941 highlights listed today by Conservation Director P. J. Hoffmaster in his annual report to the conservation commission.

"The upward trend of oil production through the discovery and adequate control of new fields, the discovery and survey of new sources of magnesium and other important in popularity of parks, lakes, streams and forests are among the things that to me are evidence of stress," Hoffmaster said.

"While wood, minerals, oil and brines are of tremendous importance now, we shouldn't forget that parks and other facilities for out of door recreation are equally important in any defense program in sustaining health and morale. I think we are too often inclined to forget this important resource.

Sale of state-owned lands, and royalties obtained from producing and gas wells on state-owned lands, yielded a revenue of almost $1,000,000 to the general fund of the state during the year 1941. Sales included 183,005 acres and 5,-350 platted lots. In commenting on other work of the lands division the report said that there are now 175 producing oil wells on state-owned ands of which 300,000 acres are now under lease. The department's law enforcement organization reported 4,104 convictions for violations of various conservation laws during the first 10 months of the year with violators paying a total of $57,000 in fines and costs and serving jail sentences of 3,614 days. All such fines are paid to the state library fund. A total of $26,035 was paid during 1941 in bounties for coyotes, wolves and bobcats.

The state parks division indicated a new high record for attendance in the 57 parks under administration. The attendance figure for 1941 was 9,642,000. While loss of several CCC camps and curtailment of WPA labor slowed up work, improvements were completed in 22 of the parks.

One hundred and twenty-two million game fish weighing 298,848 pounds were planted in Michigan waters during the year. The division of fisheries also spent $52,000 in acquiring public access on 34 lakes and 12 streams and spent about $25,000 for improvements to make them usable.

(By MANTHEI HOWE)

In a house organ published by a business firm there was a querulous whine that made me chuckle, The writer said he liked the fair sex, but he doesn't like the women in the men's club. He declares that he believes the decline of American club life began when women were generally admitted to the club, and that resignations have increased in every club where the women were given the run of the place.

Of course his wail may get him in arguments for he signs his name, and he likely knows a considerable number of women and they will be about his ears since they know the identity of the author.

To prove his contention he declares that in Philadelphia some clubs (like the Racquet club) which never admitted women, have survived all economic ups and downs and have retained a good member-

That's true in general, but a woman can snatch a minute or two in the day when the house is quiet. Moreover nobody thinks much about it if a woman excuses herself and says she has to change her dress and comb her hair. It is understood that blanks have been mailed from Washington to all dealers and when received they are to be used by tire rationing boards to determine the supply on hand and use the figures as a basis for the January rationing program. January quotas, however, already have been determined for Michigan counties.

A commodities distribution committee has been appointed by Mayor Leslie W. Richards, subject to approval by state council, but whether it will function by January 5 is questionable. No information has been received as to procedure for the sale and rationing of tires.

Forty-seven cities and 58 counties in Michigan have reported agencies organized for rationing of Rules and regulations as issued from Washington are changing each day and according to Lt. Col. Harold A. Furlong, administrator of the Michigan council for defense, even the latest regulations are subject to revision.

The latest change in the rationing of tires is the appointment of a state tire rationing officer who will devote full time to rationing duties but will receive no compennon-defense costs, the budget total may reach $55,000,000,000, or more than twice as much as the figure for the current fiscal year.

Revenues in sight for the next fiscal year, as estimated by the Treasury, are about $16,000,000,000, but may be supplemented by large new levies which Treasury and Congressional experts now are

The Federal debt is already close to $58,000,000,000, and the deficits in the rest of this fiscal year and next year may bring it to around $100,000,000,000, officials said.

While these preparations were being made the Treasury disclosed direct defense spending reached a new high of $1,846,553,311 in December. The effect of war upon the defense program was shown by the fact this figure was $400,000,000 more than was spent in November, and was about four times the size of defense spending in December,

The December total brought de-fense costs in the first half of the current fiscal year to $8,214,186,367, Converted Into compared with $1,767,068,628 in the similar portion of the preceding fiscal year.

Stock Market Leaders Swing Higher In Final Hour

Volume Down As Heavy Tax Selling Ends

The necket

NEW YORK, Jan. 2- AP -The stock market got a late start on a New Year's rally today, but, led by rails and an assortment of industrials, leaders pushed up in the final hour for gains of fractions to two points. There were scattered advances of wider proportions.

The list failed to lose its bearings on the bad news from the Philip pines, including occupation of Manila and Cavite by the invading Japanese, and, after considerable forenoon irregularity, enough bidcropped up to lift trends generally. ding cropped up to lift trends gen-

It was an exceptionally quiet comeback, however, with cessation of heavy tax selling drying up volume to 582,020 shares, campared with 1,753,353 Wednesday. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up .9 point at 38.0. Expect Rise In Commodities

Aside from the ability of the market to tax discouraging Far Eastern bulletins in stride, bullish implications were seen in a brisk rise in agricultural commodity futures following approval by a Senate sub-committee of price ceilings on major farm products at not less than 110 per cent of parity.

While oils were soft spots throughout, they reduced losses at the last. Motors, too, were down most of the day, but they showed modest advances when the closing gong sounded. The automotive group improvement was up in the face of a substantial drop in this week's output, and the banning of all sales of new cars until Jan. 15, when rationing is supposed to go into effect.

Rubbers also exhibited a forward slant notwithstanding the drastic curbs on new tire sales. Rails were firm members from the beginning as greater traffic expansion was looked for in coming months. Mail orders reflected prospects for heavier public spending as armament production gains headway.

Steels were indifferent for a while, but took an upward direction in the concluding hour. Sears Roebuck Big Gainer

Sears Roebuck added 3 5-8 points, but was up five at the top, American Can tacked on three. Lesser gainers were Santa Fe, New York Central, Pennsylvania, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Great Northern, Montgomery Ward, American Telephone, General Motors, Chrysler, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, U. S. Rubber, Goodyear, Westinghouse, General Electric, J. I. Case, International Harvester, Anaconda and Phelps

On the downside were Standard Oil of New Jersey, Texas Co. and Phillips Petroleum.

Curb stocks generally trailed with the big board. In front were Aluminum of America, American Gas, Electric Bond & Share and American Cyanamid "B." Losers included Gulf Oil and Humble Oil.

Grains Open New Year At Higher Level

CHICAGO, Jan. 2-AP-Greatlyexpanded trading in grain futures at sharply higher prices greeted the New Year today.

In initial dealings of 1942 on the Board of Trade prices of grains soared one to four cents, some futures contracts reaching new seasonal peaks.

Buying was stimulated principally by price control developments, including upward revision of ceilings on fats and oils, among the items affected being soybean oil and lard, and reports of Senate sub-committee approval of legislation providing ceilings at not less than 110 per cent of parity for Closing at or near the day's best levels, wheat was 1 1-8 to 1 7-8 cents higher than Wednesday, May $1.28 to $1.28 1-8, July $1.29 1-8; corn, 1 1-4 to 1 3-4 up, May 85 1-4, July 87; oats, 1 1-8 to 1 3-4 higher; rye, 2 1-8 to 3 7-8 up; soybeans 3 5-8 to 4 1-8 advanced, and lard 55 to 70 cents per hundredweight higher. September deliveries of wheat, corn and rye and July soybeans were at new highs for the season. Short covering accounted for much of the steep rise of rye.

Late Demand For Rails Lifts Bond Issues

NEW YORK, Jan. 2-P-Spirited last-hour demand for rail issues snapped the bond market out of early lethargy today and dotted the price list with gains ranging to more than two points.

Buying spilled over to other categories, but not enough to lift industrials. On the average they ended a shade lower while utility and communication groups came out ahead.

Analysts traced the revival in demand to similar moves in stocks and major commodities. Traders also found impressive the stability of prices in the face of news that Manila was in Japanese hands.

U. S. Governments scored gains of 1-32 to 3-32 points on slim turnover. Dealers noted current quotations were from 1 1-4 to 2 points below those prevailing just prior to the Pearl Harbor attack.

Latin American bonds attracted support in the foreign list. Uruguay adjusted 3 3-4s of '79 gained 1 1-2 at 53 1-2 and Argetnine 4 1-2s

Educators Plan To Increase College Military Training

By Edward O. Ethell

BALTIMORE, Jan. 2-AP-Leading educators from throughout the nation, pledging to make necessary sacrifices for victory, laid plans tooffer more military training to

The Association of American Colleges, meeting simultaneously with the American Association of Junior Colleges, voted to appoint a committee to confer with President Roosevelt on plans for extending military or naval training to those schools requesting it which do not have R. O. T. C. units. Win War 'Great Task'

"We request the Government to prescribe this training program designed to make complete use of these institutions in relation to the war effort," the approximately 500 college officials resolved. They also considered asking the Government to compensate students for increased costs and the loss of summer earnings in a proposed, year-around, accelerated study program. This program would allow graduation in three instead of four years.

The "one great task" is to win the war, President Roosevelt declared in a letter to the educators, adding "it will be futile to win the war unless during its winning we lay the foundation for the kind of peace and readjustment that will guarantee the preservation of those aspects of American life for which the war is fought." SPIES - Russian representatives here and at Moscow have furnished the British and ourselves with the first authentic reports on psychology among the German people and military. They were able to submit this evidence because of the vast number of prisoners they have taken and because the Kremlin has an excellent spy system inside Hitler's realm.

The Soviet reporters warn against any belief that Germany will crack up overnight. But they feel confident that the strain of 26 months of war and failure to attain a quick triumph are slowly creating a defeatist spirit among the Nazis. This attitude has been heightened by Der Fuehrer's promise on October 2nd that Russia would fall in a few weeks with the implied hint that then would come an end to aggressive warfare outside the boundaries of the Reich. Recent reverses are wiping out the jubilant memories which greeted their soldiers' unprecedented triumphs in Western Europe and the Balkans.

Army officers seized before Moscow and Rostov spoke bitterly of their new Commander - in - Chief. They confirmed the hithert ified suspicion that his generals almost mutinied when he ordered them to undertake the invasion of Russia last June. Most German military leaders are avid historical students and they recalled Napoeon. The entry of the United States into the conflict disheartened the older commanders who remembered Chateau-Thierry, St. Mihiel and the Argonne. Although refusing to indulge in undue optimism, Stalin's sples and psychologists predict that Berlin's mustachioed statesman cannot survive another 12 months of battlefield setbacks.

WINDFALL-Earlier fears of an era of aggravated price inflation are subsiding in financial circles at the Capital. Basic reason for the more hopeful attitude is the belief that the conditions which produce the phenomenon - excess buying power and a reduced quantity of goods-may not show up. Here is how bread-and-butter economists paint the picture for the average

Curtailment On Cars Hits U.S. Income

By Jack Stinnett

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2-The rationing of tires and tubes and the drastic reduction in new car production may eventually give the public fallen arches but it already is giving the tax experts on Capitol Hill one of their worst headaches.

A quick glance at the revenues anticipated from motor transportation in this country will make

In 1941, the 1 1-2 per cent Federal tax on gasoline and lubricating oils was made permanent to give the Treasury an estimated revenue of $436,000,000.

Tire, tube and other Federal vehicle taxes are supposed to yield approximately $116,000,000. The new $5-a-year automobile use tax, slated to become effective February 1, is supposed to bring in around $160,000,000.

In other words around threequarters of a billion dollars was to roll into the Treasury coffers in 1942 as result of taxes on new cars, tires and fuel.

Revenue Getters Worry Just how much that is going to be cut is anybody's guess. The revenue won't disappear entirely any By Adelaide Hazeltine more than cars will disappear from the streets and highways, but with the rationing of tires and tubes; the slash in new car production; and the proposed repeal of the use tax, because of the expense and difficulty of collection, the revenue getters in Congress are worried

In their frantic search for new sources of revenue for the next fiscal year, the automobile was to play an important role. It is an open secret that they were eyeing the gasoline and lubricating oil tax for a substantial boost and already were ready to point out to any objectors that England imposes a gasoline tax of around 15 cents a gallon. There also was a plan to slap a tax on the sales of used cars.

Now, with no tires available except on new cars and with new car production cut to one-fourth normal and probably slated for complete stoppage, Congress is faced with two problems. First, an increase in these taxes would fall primarily on those whose cars and trucks are considered vital to public health and safety. Second, any great increase in tax might cause such a shortage of transportation facilities, in sections where buses and trolleys are not available as to disrupt completely the American

Lack of Concern The first possibility would be bad enough, Congressmen say, but the second might be tragic in its results. Consequently, Congress observers are predicting now that the lawmakers will swallow the bitter pill and point to it as one of the have to turn to a Federal sales tax on practically all commodities to raise funds for even a portion of our war effort.

His Christmas Carol

THE STORY: The terms of Andrew Dearborn's will specifying that his secretary, Carol, and five other employes, shall judge whether or not his playboy son Andy is running the business according to his father's policy of service to the people," put Carl, who has loved Andy since girlhood, in a difficult spot. Her neart sinks when Andy, currentinvolved with sleek Linda Juian, turns management over to unscrupulous Mr. Herrick, whose only idea is to make money. She knows that unless Andy mends his ways and takes over he will lose the store to charity by a ote of the strange "jury" the lost will provides for. Buck-passing Herrick blames employe Bill Reece for the toyland elevator accident that Injures newsboy Nicky, although Nicky discovers that Bill had reported the elevator's condition and was not to blame. Herrick also takes credit for cash adjustments made to customers by Carol without his knowledge, in an effort to save the store's reputation. At the annual store party Andy kisses with Linda. Next day Carol finds the will's envelop in the vault, but the will is gone, Herrick then fires her for writing a retirement check for an employe he has dismissed, although again she was only following the Dearborn policy. Returning to the store for a file she has forgotten, she overhears Andy telling Herrick he knows the truth about the elevator accident and the adjustments says he knows the whereabouts of the will, tries to blackmail Andy into letting him run the store and forgetting its terms.

Chicago Bears Rated Underdogs In Battle With Pro League All-Stars

Halas Drills Eleven Hard For Contest

By Austin Bealmear

NEW YORK, Jan. 2-A-Chicago's champion Bears, two-term rulers of professional football, may go into the charity scrap against the National league all-stars here Sunday with their opponents rated as favorites for the first time since most of the players can remember.

After watching the all-star squad work out the last few days many followers of the boys who play for dollars instead of hollers are predicting defeat for the Bears.

In fact, one man thinks the stars appear to be unbeatable. That man is George Halas, who not only coaches the Bears, but also owns

Not All At Once

There won't be any strangers on the field at the Polo Grounds Sunday. The Bears faced such passing stars as Sammy Baugh, Cecil Isbell, Frank Filchock and Tuffy Leemans and battering backs like Pug Manders, Art Jones and Ward Cuff all season-but never all in

And the all-star passers won't be throwing at any ordinary marks. Their receivers will include such capable performers as Don Hutson. Perry Schwartz, Dick Humbert and Bill Dewell.

That's why Coach Halas has the Bears working overtime in their drills at the Polo Grounds, perfecting their aerial defense.

Steve Owen, of the New York NEA Staff Correspondent Giants, coach of the all-star squad, thinks Halas "was just talking" when the Bear coach declared it isfied" with the progress of his door. All it says is "Ned Irish." squad, which has been bustling City on Long Island. Bears' Lineup Unchanged starting all-star line probably will include Schwartz and Dewell at ends, Bruiser Kinard and Wee Willie Wilkin at the tackles, Joe Kuharich and Jim Sivell, guards, and Mel Hein, center.

Davis-Morgan Kiss Halted By Test Alarm

BURBANK, Calif., Jan. 2-P-A scant inch separated the lips of Bette Davis and Dennis Morgan. Slowly he drew her to him.

Then the whistle blew, It wasn't the first time a movie kiss had been whistled at. But this one was different. It was the huge air raid alarm whistle at Warner Bros. studio, one of the biggest lots in the business, signaling the industry's first text evacuation.

It blew at five minutes before 12, conveniently making possible little loss of production time. Picture work halted instantly. More than 2,000 employes poured from sound stages, dressing rooms, shops and office buildings. Stars mingled with extras and technicians.

Arrows pointed the way to the nearest of four shelters. Workers had been instructed to "run-not walk," but the pace wasn't much faster than at lunch time. Nonetheless, Studio Police Chief Blayney Matthews said, the evacuation was accomplished two minutes under the estimated 12minute limit.

The largest shelter, near several of the busiest stages, is a huge, reinforced steel sub-basement of the carpenter shop, fitted with hospital facilities, kitchen, air conditioning, separate power plant and tele-phone system. It can hold 2,000.

training in patrol work. Landis said members of the civilian patrol would be trained for courier service, patrol of inland areas, towing aerial gunnery targets, aircraft ferrying, flying ambulance planes, highway patrol duties and any other functions related to defense.

Landis said the patrol would be instructed in the science of observation, air navigation, identification of American and enemy planes and warships and aerial photography. The pilot strength of midwestern states and the percentage of applications, he said, included: Michigan, 3,361 and 0.9 per cent. Conferees included Wing Commander S. B. Steers, Lansing, Mich.

If you falter, you'd have a terrible time making a go of it in the movies. So opines Monty Wooley, whose movie version of "The Man Who Came To Dinner," opened on Broadway this week.

"Now just listen to this speech and see if there's anything wrong with it," Wooley spoke with some nervousness as the hour of the show's premier approached. "In the teepening twilight . .

Cut, cut, cut!
"You see? I make a little mistake like that—say 'teepening' for 'deepening,' and it's 'cut, cut, cut!

"I suffered at times like that, figuring how it cost the studio $1,-600 for every five minutes of shooting time, and the more I'd worry the more I'd tangle up the Different On Stage

"On the stage, it's easy. You can say 'teepening twilight' and nobody cares, or peepening or beepening. It's all right, the audience doesn't notice it, it doesn't cost anybow $1,600 and you go right on with the play. And that wasn't the worst of it.

"In Holywood they expect you to report for work at 7 a. m.," Wooley went on. I can hardly speak at that hour. I always fluff lines, and when I fluff lines I get nervous, and when I get nervous I sweat and when I sweat my makeup runs - and it's cut! cut! cut! again and wait until Wooley gets his face re-done

"Another $1,600 thrown away. I tell you the responsibility is awful."

And, About Food-The arrogant man-who-came-todinner, the epitome of poise during the long Broadway run of the seemed so upset somebody said, "let's talk about food instead."

"Oh, yes, food," said Wooley. photo. "How I love good food, but why, simply because I attend a dinner on the stage, does everybody expect me to be able to cook? I cant' cook. I've tried. I drop pans. I burn my fingers.

"I eat as well as I can, however. And I think cabbage and parsnips and turnics are much to be preferred to out-of-season peas.'

There was the old Wooley back again, the sure-of-himself ex-Yale professor making pronunciamentos. But as we left the restaurant he reverted to the deepening twilight lot further than such obvious details. They observed, talked, sketched, painted and recorded music and speech. They bought samples of authentic clothes, utensils and tools. They went into huddles with native artists, musicians and

Among the clearest lessons were that South America would like to be represented, for a change, as a continent with a lot of progressive people and modern cities. Brazil is awfully tired of being shown as a mere jungle land, and Argentina insists it has something besides

The Disney flight over the Andes brought the idea for the first picture with a Chilean locale. It seems at the airport at Santiago lived a big papa mail plane, and a female plane, and a baby plane, anxious to grow up and begin carrying the mail over the towering mountains. One day it got the chance, and its adventures on the round trip provide a record of thrills, comedy and fascinating panoramic geography in the way only an animated cartoon can show it.

The Argentine picture involves a tall tale of that country about a flying donkey at a race track, but it brings in the atmosphere both of cities and hinterland. Goofy plays a gaucho and thus satirizes tourists rather than the pampas cowboys.

In Brazil, Disney and his crew discovered and adopted a new character-a snappy little green parrot. The Brazilians themselves asked him to use a papagalo, because it's a symbolic national favorite, Most of the wisecracks current in the cities are told by asking: "Did you hear what the parrot said about such-and-such?"

The picture, like three others of a planned series of at least 12, so far is only in the form of scores of sketches and paintings arranged on the story boards. This one is to be called "Aquarella," meaning water-color, of Brazil, and the principal music will be the popular samba tune of the same name.

Good Neighbor Brazil Boosted Through Capitals

By James E. Helbert

MORE books on South America continue to pour from the presses, and this uncoubtedly should aid our Good Neighbor policy, now that many of the nations to the south are our allies against the Axis. Possibly if more publishers should have found it profitable to produce such books before, and fewer on Paris, Monte Carlo and other international swank spots, our relations with South America would be even better today.

A sort of post-graduate course on Brazil is offered by Vera Kelsey in her new "Brazil in Capitals" (Harper: $3:50). If you know nothing of Brazil except that it produces coffee, or even if you have visited there, this book offers a vista of the vastness of the United States of Brazil which is stunning.

Capitals of 20 Brazilian states and four "unofficial capitals" are described. Effect upon the average reader is something like that of a European who has visited New York and Washington, but then for the first time hears of Chicago, San Francisco, New Orcans and Minneapolis.

The vastness of Brazil is well suggested by the device of describing successively the varied capitals of the clustered Brazilian states, each center of the life of an entire district. It is all spiced with those locally-flavored aneclotes which make travel books on South America absorbing to many readers. prise, are proving that they can pull their own weight in the boat." According to the psychiatrist, there is no physiological reason why women should be less brave than men. Perhaps they become frightened quickly but that may be because women are more intuitive and so realize danger more readily. Cause of Cowardice

But to act courageously in the face of a known danger requires more pluck than to act with bravado when scornful of danger. "When an individual shows courage or cowardice it is not because of being a male or female but because of being a particular human being," says Dr. Oberholser. "A very bold man who has fought in three wars and rolled over Ni-
