Fifty-Sixth Year

Treasury Would Double Income Tax Payments

Big Increases In Other Levies Asked

By Richard L. Turner

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The Treasury asked today that the income tax payments of most citizens be doubled next year as part of a steep general tax increase designed to raise $9,610,000,000.

"War is never cheap," said Secretary Morgenthau, presenting the program to the House ways and means committee, "but it is a million times cheaper to win than to lose."

The "new taxes," he said, would "be severe" and their impact "felt in every home." They contemplated extensive increases not only in individual income tax payments, but in corporation income taxes, together with new or higher excise taxes on a list of 15 such items as soda pop, candy and cigarettes; and increased levies on estates and gifts. Also included was a $2,000,000,000 increase in social security taxes, details of which will be disclosed later.

Proposed Rates Severe

The new rates on individual incomes, as proposed by the Treasury chief, would be so severe that a single man earning $2,500 a year would turn more than seven weeks' pay over to the Government. His payment would be $345, as compared with $165, or about three and one half weeks' pay, under the present rates.

The tax bill of a married man without children would be raised from $90 to $175 if his salary is $2,500; from $138 to $285 if he earns $3,000; from $249 to $535 on $4,000 and $375 to $805 on $5,000.

A married man with two dependents would pay $32 (instead of $12) on a $2,500 income; $118 (instead of $58) on a $3,000 income; $333 (instead of $154) on $4,000 and $587 (instead of $271) on $5,000.

The average increase was reckoned at 60 per cent by the Treasury. However, it starts at more than 100 per cent in the lower brackets. The rate of increase grows less on the higher incomes, of which the Government is already taking a larger percentage than is paid by the "little fellow."

Thus while the married individual with two dependents would pay $32 instead of $12 on a $2,500 income, the tax to be collected on an income of $5,000 would rise from $3,921.84 to $4,478.215, or an increase of about 14 per cent. The man who makes a round million in a year's time would be permitted to keep about $120,000 of it for his own use.

Would Abolish Present Surtax

Under the Treasury program, these increases are to be brought about by simply upping the rates. Present personal exemption figures—$750 if single, and $1,500 if married—would be retained, and the allowance for dependents—$400 each—would not be altered. However, the ten per cent credit given on earned income, as distinct from income derived from investments and other sources, would be abolished.

The increased income tax rates would jump from the present six per cent on the first dollar of taxable income to 16 per cent. At present the maximum rate—applied on incomes of more than $5,000,000—is 81 per cent. It would be raised to 90 per cent.

Where corporations are concerned, Morgenthau proposed that the present "normal" rates of 15 to 19 per cent for corporations with incomes up to $25,000 a year and of 24 per cent for larger corporations be left untouched. The present corporation surtax of 6 to 7 per cent would be abolished and replaced by a "special war surtax" of 16 to 31 per cent. Rates on "excess profits," now 35 to 60 per cent, would be raised to a level of 50 to 75 per cent. Capital stock taxes and the levy on "declared value excess profits" would be repealed.

Taxes in Nutshell

WASHINGTON, March 3.—In brief, here is the tax program which Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau said today would be felt in every American home:

Increase individual income taxes by about $3,200,000,000. This would mean doubling most people's income tax, with tax rates running from 16 to 90 per cent.

Increase excises by $340,000,000 through new taxes on candy, soda pop and chewing gum, and higher levies on liquor, beer, wine, cigarettes, gasoline, telephone and telegraph service, transportation and photographic apparatus.

Increase corporation taxes by $3,060,000,000 through higher excess profits rates and a heavy "war surtax" in addition to the corporation income tax.

Raise $680,000,000 by removing "certain special privileges." Under this heading, the Treasury proposed to require husbands and wives to file joint returns, abolish or modify depletion allowances of oil companies, tax interest from state and municipal securities, limit tax exemptions of insurance companies and other methods.

Manufacturers Sabotaged Output Pl. —Daladier

RIOM, Unoccupied France, March 3.—(P)—Nationalization of French arms factories resulted in tripled production during eight months of war with Germany, but industrial leaders sabotaged the manufacturing plan until "it was too late," former Premier Edouard Daladier testified at the "war guilt" trial today.

Daladier was an outspoken witness in his own defense before the special court attempting to fix responsibility for France's defeat.

The only other witness called, former Generalissimo Maurice Gustave Gamelin, stood stiffly at attention, refusing to answer questions and maintaining his announced intention of refusing to defend either himself or his army.

Defenders Of Burma Hold River Line

LONDON, March 3.—(P)—The British defense of Burma still held firmly along the Sittang river line today, with motor patrols briskly cleaning up small Japanese infiltration units which managed to reach the river's west bank.

In reporting this situation, a communique from the menaced metropolis of Rangoon told of successful RAF attacks on Japanese troop and transport concentrations and said that increasing numbers of Indians were returning to Rangoon and reopening their shops. The city had been virtually deserted except for the military.

General Sir Archibald P. Wavell, newly relieved of the United Nations command in Java to return to his old post as commander-in-chief for India, with Burma as an added responsibility, visited the forces in Burma and then went on to India.

Wavell has not yet taken over formal command, it was announced from New Delhi, but he is expected to do so quickly.

Dispatches from the front north of Pegu, Burma, predicted that he would have at least a week's time before the Japanese could reorganize in strength for a renewed attack westward.

A likely zone of this drive was believed to be between Pegu and Pymnana, a 200-mile stretch in which several coordinated and successive thrusts might be made.

The Japanese were described as wary of operating too far north, however, for fear they would lay themselves open to a flank attack by Chinese troops in the Shan states.

An informed source in London said Japanese patrols may already have crossed the Burma road to China and cut it temporarily before retiring, but he expressed doubt that the road was blocked entirely.

Foes Extend Attacks In Philippines

WASHINGTON, March 3.—(P)—A renewal of Japanese attacks in an apparent attempt to extend control over southern and central islands of the Philippines was reported today by the War department, with particular emphasis on the landing of enemy troops at Zamboanga.

This important port on the southwest tip of Mindanao was in flames, a department communique said, and troops were being landed from four transports, which were escorted by a cruiser. These transports may have carried a total of 4,000 soldiers.

At the same time, ships of the Japanese navy were reported to be shelling several coastal towns on Cebu and Negros islands, north of Mindanao. Apparently no effort was made to put troops ashore at these points, but the Army said a cruiser and destroyers participated in the attacks on Cebu city and Argao on Cebu; Misos, Tolong, Dumaguete and Marica Bong on Negros; and Bugo on Mindanao.

The Japanese already held Davao, principal port of Mindanao and former United States naval base. Davao is the center of a large Japanese civilian population.

The move against Zamboanga, informed persons said, may have been undertaken to forestall any attempt by the United States to use it for supplying arms to the Moro tribesmen of the interior and Mindanao who have been organizing for resistance to the Japanese. There also were suggestions that the enemy might intend to use Zamboanga as an additional base for naval operations.

A city of 50,000 population, Zamboanga has excellent port facilities and before the war was an important export shipping center for copra and abaca.

Japs Lose 16 Bombers In Raid On Fleet

WASHINGTON, March 3.—(By A. P.)—A thrilling account of an attack by 18 Japanese heavy bombers on a United States aircraft carrier and other warships in which 16 of the enemy planes were shot down—six by a single, doughty fighting-plane pilot from the carrier—was told by the Navy tonight.

A lieutenant junior grade, Edward H. O'Hare, of St. Louis, was the hero who took the heavy toll. The other 10 bombers were accounted for by other fighting planes from the carrier, two of which were lost, and by anti-aircraft fire from the warships. The carrier, itself, and the other ships—cruisers and destroyers—suffered not a scratch.

Feat Record for War

O'Hare's feat apparently is a record for this war.

"There may have been others who have shot down six planes in one day," a Navy official said, "but no reports on them have been received. So far as we know Lieut. O'Hare's feat was the highest single bag and a record for the war."

Records available tonight showed that the closest approach to O'Hare's record was made during the first World War when David L. Ingalls shot down five enemy planes in one day. Ingalls, who was described as the only Navy ace of World War 1, later became assistant Secretary of the Navy for aeronautics.

"Only three enemy planes of the first formation reached their bomb release point over the aircraft carrier which avoided all attacks," he said.

Red 'Chutists Retake Town From Nazis

MOSCOW, March 3.—(P)—Red army parachutists in a new and spectacular foray far behind German lines pounced on an occupied town, killed scores of Nazis and seized vast quantities of booty, a warfront dispatch reported tonight.

After shooting up this town and scattering the German garrison which had been there for three months, the parachutists then wrecked telephone and telegraph lines and railroad rolling stock.

All this, the dispatch added cryptically, was incidental to the parachutists' "main task" which it did not disclose.

Say 60 Planes Destroyed

Injecting a new note into its nightly communique, the Soviet information bureau said that during today's fighting Soviet troops went methodically about the task of "eradicating and annihilating nests of resistance on several sectors of the front" and continued their advances.

In the past two days 3,400 Nazis have been killed on the Leningrad and Kalinin fronts, the official announcement said. Red airmen were credited with destroying 60 enemy planes yesterday, eight of them in dogfights, compared to 11 Soviet losses.

The Russians announced the capture of nine fortified towns and villages in one sector alone and 12 more at other parts of the southern and in the Staraya Russa region in the north. German losses totaled 700 in one fiercely-contested Ukraine strong point.

Soviet Power Growing

(Verification of the Moscow announcement came in part from the Berlin correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyheter, who reported that 11 planes had fallen to the Russians in the vicinity of the Dnieper river.

(With the decisive hour of spring approaching, evidence accumulated that Soviet power was growing vastly and that Josef Stalin was hurling ever-greater forces at the Nazis in a supreme effort to spike Hitler's promised spring offensive before it could get going.)

French Merchant Ship Sunk Off Tunisian Coast

VICHY, March 3.—(P)—An official Vichy announcement said today that the 5,417-ton French merchant ship P. L. M. 20 was torpedoed and sunk off the coast of Tunisia last Sunday by a submarine, "presumably British."

The announcement said nine persons lost their lives, including five Frenchmen, while 32 were rescued.

The ship was said to have been enroute from Sfax north to Tunis with a cargo of phosphates to be used as fertilizer. The trip down the coast was made in ballast, the government declared.

(The latter statement apparently was made to forestall charges that the ship might have been carrying supplies south for Field Marshal Rommel's African army. Sfax lies approximately halfway between Tunis and the Tunisia-Italian Libya border.)

American Warship Torpedoed, Sunk Off Coast Of New Jersey; Invaders Driven Back In Java

Allied Planes Hammering Jap Vessels

By Witt Hancock

BANDOENG, Java, March 4.—(Wednesday)—(P)—The Dutch and their allies have driven infiltrating Japanese invaders back seven miles in an important sector, it was disclosed today, and are beating forward in a supreme counter-offensive aimed at casting every one of the enemy into the sea.

The push, location of which was undisclosed, followed a three-day stand during which the Allies had yielded no ground since the Japanese invasion began.

Allied bombers and warships likewise were in heavy action against the enemy's ships and sea lanes.

Government Moved Inland

An upward turn in the fortunes of Allied forces afield already had been indicated by an announcement of the Dutch command that not a single one of the enemy's three initial beachheads had been extended, and by the declaration toward midnight of an authorized spokesman:

"It can be stated without reservation that the situation remains well in hand on all fronts."

(This degree of optimism was not shared in London, however. There, Dr. W. G. Peckema, of the Netherlands colonial ministry, announced that the N. E. I. government had been moved from Batavia to Bandoeng and declared his opinion that Java could not hold out much longer unless reinforcements, particularly aircraft, arrived.

Allied military informants in London also expressed the belief that a Dutch withdrawal under overwhelming enemy force might soon be necessary—probably to the Bandoeng plateau for a defense comparable to General MacArthur's prolonged resistance in the Philippines.)

Aerial Warfare Violent

Great and violent air action was proceeding. American, British and Dutch bombers were hitting at the Japanese invasion forces in Java waters and at nearby air bases, while the Japanese were centering their force upon Bandoeng military headquarters in a heavy raid of one and a half hours by bombers and fighters.

F. M. Alger, Jr., On Way to Foreign Duty

DETROIT, March 3.—(P)—Lieut. Frederick M. Alger, Jr., was on his way to foreign duty today, Navy officers disclosed—the third of his name to bear arms against an enemy abroad.

Alger has been seeking an active assignment since Pearl Harbor, but when he was called for service from the Naval Reserve he was assigned a desk job in a Detroit office building.

"I'm no desk man," he protested to all who listened.

Alger's father, the late Col. Frederick M. Alger, saw combat service with field artillery of the 85th division in World War I. His grandfather, Gen. Russell A. Alger, a former governor of Michigan, was Secretary of War during the war with Spain.

Lieut. Alger is 35 years old and the father of two small children.

U.S. Agrees To Develop Large Resources of Brazil

By Jack B. Beardwood

WASHINGTON, March 3.—(P)—The United States, the manufacturing arsenal of democracy, and Brazil, the world's largest storehouse of strategic materials, signed today a multi-million dollar series of agreements designed to develop the tremendous resources of the South American country for the use of the United Nations.

Simultaneously, and as a new enemy submarine attack was reported in the Caribbean, the United States expanded its lend-lease aid to Brazil so it can strengthen its defenses.

The agreements were the first outgrowth of pledges by the American republics that they would mobilize their economic resources for the fight against the Axis. The agreements provided for: Grant $100,000,000 Credit

A credit of $100,000,000 so Brazil can develop her natural resources, including such war-wital materials as iron, rubber, magnesite and bauxite.

Establishment of a $5,000,000 rubber reserve company to develop raw rubber production in the Amazon valley and adjacent regions.

The state defense council and the state salvage committee said the gun was sold by the city to a junk dealer, cut up with torches and shipped to a steel mill producing war materials, all in three days. Jap Planes Raid Airports In Australia

MELBOURNE, Australia, March 3.—(P)—Japanese planes attacked airfields and grounded planes at Wyndham and Broome in continental western Australia today, causing some damage and emphasizing the invasion threat against which this commonwealth is hastening its defenses.

Another flight of 15 bombers and at least three fighters raided Port Moresby, on the island of New Guinea, for the third daylight assault in a week. Only minor damage was reported, however. Port Moresby's anti-aircraft guns were credited with keeping the bombers at high altitudes.

Wyndham, 300 miles southwest of Darwin, the only mainland port previously raided, was subjected only to machine-gun and cannon fire. Bombs were dropped at Broome, 700 miles southwest of Darwin.

It was believed probable that the raiders of both places came from Timor, Japanese-occupied island some 500 miles to the north.

BURIED IN COAL PILE

ALPENA, Mich., March 3.—(P)—Ten minutes after he had been buried under five tons of coal, Henry Pilarski, 20, was rescued by fellow workers. Pilarski, a coal company employee, suffered internal injuries, however. He was caught when a huge coal pile started to slide.

30 Shells Land on Cliffs

Cassaba informed Sam P. Gilstrap, National Youth Administrator for Puerto Rico, that some 30 shells landed far up on the cliffs and caused no damage or casualties.

Cassaba said the boys at the camp "behaved very well" but added, "we want protection at once."

Forestry officials confirmed the attack, which was put down here merely as nuisance shelling, in contrast with that of the Dutch island of Aruba and the attack on ships in harbor at the British island of Trinidad.

Planes, Ships Hunt Raider

Naval authorities made no official comment, but dismissed any theory that the shelling might have been due to target practice in the vicinity. American air and naval patrols were reported covering wide beaches of the Caribbean in a hunt for the raider.

Mona, a mere 4 1/2 miles long by 3 1/2 miles wide, is rated of no military importance. It is primarily a tourist fishing resort.

It is a rough plateau, with 175-foot perpendicular cliffs. A lofty white rock at its northwest tip could be mistaken for a sail from a little distance at sea.

Besides 170 youths at the camp, the island's population includes one family and a lighthouse keeper.

RAF Bombs Airports In Suburban Paris

VICHY, Unoccupied France, March 3.—(P)—British planes bombed airfields and factories in suburban Paris for two hours tonight and there were "victims among the civilian population," a terse communique said.

Authorities would not permit the naming of the suburbs bombed or the extent of the damage.

The first bombs were said to have started falling at 10 p. m. Paris time.

This was the first announced bombing of Paris since the pre-armistice German raid on June 3, 1940, which caused more than 3,000 casualties, including 254 dead.

(It is known, however, that British raiders have made occasional bombing attacks on military airfields in the Paris area since the Germans took over the city. Before the French surrender the capital was declared an open, undefended city and thus escaped virtually unscathed after the June 3, 1940, "daken bombing.")

U-Boat Shells U. S. Island In Atlantic

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, March 3.—(P)—An enemy vessel, presumably a submarine, made the war's first French an United States soil in the Atlantic last night, harmlessly shelling the cliffs of Mona island, a pinpoint of volcanic rock in the Mona passage 50 miles southwest of Puerto Rico.

The office of Governor Rexford Guy Tugwell announced today that word of the attack came in a radio message from Remberto Cassaba, assistant director of a National Youth Administration camp on the island.

Both stressed the fact that it is for offensive, not defensive, efforts that American sea, land and air power is being reorganized. The sweeping Army reorganization ordered by President Roosevelt has the same significance.

Over 100 Of Destroyer's Crew Killed

By John M. Hightower

WASHINGTON, March 3.—(P)—The first United States warship ever torpedoed and sunk by an enemy submarine in home waters went down off Cape May, N. J., in the pre-dawn darkness last Saturday after two hull shattering explosions.

Eleven men, presumably the only survivors, have been landed at Capt May, N. J., the Navy disclosed this evening. (No Michigan men were among the survivors, according to Navy lists.)

The vessel was the old Word war destroyer Jacob Jones, and of her crew, which may have totaled as many as 145 officers and men, all were killed except nine workmen in the engine rooms and two apprentice seamen.

Attacked Without Warning

Loss of the 1,200-ton ship, ninth naval craft of the war officially announced as destroyed by enemy action, was revealed by the Navy department today in a communique which tersely explained the main points of what was known of the attack:

"Prior to receiving the first torpedo hit, the enemy sub was not sighted nor was the torpedo.

"The first torpedo blew up the bow and apparently killed all the personnel on the bridge as well as the men sleeping in the forward compartments.

"The second torpedo, which was fired after the submarine circled ahead of the Jacob Jones, blew up the stern and all the depth charges."

Captain Killed in First Blast

The initial blast, it was surmised here, cost the lives of the captain, Lieutenant Commander Hugh David Black, Jr., and of most if not all the other officers, whom the Navy did not identify. The second undoubtedly blew the entire aft part of the ship to pieces so that the wreck quickly went under.

The normal complement of the ship was at least 125, usually 145 officers and men. There was no question that many more than 100 had lost their lives—making this the most costly single ship loss reported in the war so far except for the toll taken by the Japanese raiders at Pearl Harbor.

The Jacob Jones, named for a hero of the War of 1812 and the campaign against the Barbary Pirates, was traveling in dangerous waters even though close to shore when she cruised along the Jersey coast early Saturday.

Tanker Sunk Near There

Only a day before she was attacked, the tanker R. P. Resor was torpedoed and sunk in flames off Jersey. Along the whole length of the U. S. coast, 26 merchant ships and tankers have been officially announced as sunk since Germany's U-boat operations started around January 12.

The Jacob Jones was built by the New York Shipbuilding company, Camden, N. J., and was launched November 11, 1918. Capable of 35 knots, she was equipped with four four-inch guns and 12 torpedo tubes.

Rationing of Gasoline May Be Necessary Soon

NEW YORK, March 3.—(P)—Fuel oil supplies on the eastern seaboard have been reduced so sharply by tanker shortages and torpedoings, oil men said today, that gasoline rationing even on a national scale may be necessary within a few days.

Members of the industry said gasoline rationing might be needed to allow tankers and tank cars to concentrate on building up supplies of fuel oil in the east coast area from Georgia to Maine.

While gasoline stocks on the eastern seaboard were below those of this period last year their decrease was far less than that in stocks of fuel oil which for weeks have been growing steadily smaller.

Eastern home owners already have been rationed by companies supplying them with fuel oil, with each purchaser allowed no refills until his furnace tank is four-fifths empty and none given more than 75 per cent of capacity.

Enemy Supply Lines Open To Flank Attack

BY KIRKE L. SIMPSON

World War Analysis

Even before the Battle of Java comes to its crisis, there is evidence that Tokyo is increasingly concerned over possible vulnerability of Japanese communication lines through the south China sea.

Given American naval and air power to strike now at either of two bottlenecks there, a crippling blow to the whole Japanese conquest scheme could be driven home. Either the northern entrance to the south China sea above Luzon, or the southern approach from the Pacific south of Mindanao exposes the whole Japanese effort against Burma, Java or Australia to a flank attack by sea.

Nor can Tokyo be unaware of intensifying pressure in this country as well as from Dutch authorities for some bold and aggressive American move in the Pacific theater to relieve pressure in the south.

Early Offensive Unlikely.

The time for that still may be distant. There is little in either the letter from General Marshall, chief of staff, to Senator Austin, or the simultaneous statement by Admiral King, United States fleet commander, to suggest early American major offensive action.

Both stressed the fact that it is for offensive, not defensive, efforts that American sea, land and air power is being reorganized. The sweeping Army reorganization ordered by President Roosevelt has the same significance.

County Car Quota 60 For Three Months

The Marquette county rationing board will be permitted to authorize the sale of 60 new automobiles during March, April and May, Lloyd LeVasseur, board chairman, said yesterday.

Rationing of 1942 model passenger cars went into effect Monday, and the county board has received application forms and regulations covering eligibility for purchase. "In general the regulations governing the purchase of a car are about the same as those for the rationing and sale of tires and tubes," LeVasseur said. "Apart from proving necessity, the applicant is required to say exactly where he is going to keep the car, where he is going to use it and why a car owned by some member of his immediate family is not available or adequate for his use."

March Tire Quotas

"He must also explain why transportation facilities other than a passenger automobile are not adequate for the work he believes entitles him to purchase a new car." When deliveries will be made will depend largely upon the volume of applications filed in communities in the county. Beside allocation of new vehicles, the rationing board has new tire and recapping certificates to act upon, and the supervision of sugar rationing will come under the direction of the board.

Automobile and truck tire and tube quotas for Marquette for March follow: Passenger cars—29 tires and 24 tubes; trucks—130 new tires, 37 recapped tires and 130 tubes.

"Obsolete" Tires

The board reported yesterday that confusion still exists among motorists as to the exact meaning of obsolete tires and the method by which such classification is established.

The term "obsolete" is applied only to passenger car tires, the board states, as no truck tires of any size are considered obsolete. It also is pointed out that to get an obsolete tire an applicant for a certificate of purchase must meet the eligibility classification just as any person applying for one of the standard tires. The rules governing the approval of certificates of purchase for obsolete tires are strict, says the board, and they are granted only after careful consideration of the application and only when the applicant fully qualifies under the rules governing the sale of these tires. Full information on the eligibility requirements may be obtained from the board.

As applied to tires, the words "obsolete type" applies to passenger tires of the following sizes, and no others: 325-19; 325-550-19; 350-19; 600-19; 600-550-19; 650-19; 700-19; 750-19; 450-20; 475-20; 450-475-500; 20; 500-20; 525-20; 550-20; 600-20; 600-650-20; 650-20; 440-450-21; 440-21; 450-21; 475-21; 500-21; 525-21; 600-21; 650-21; 700-21; 500-22; 600-22; 750-14; 30x3; 30x3 1-2; 31x3; 32x4; 33x4; 32x4 1-2; 33x4 1-2; 34x4 1-2.

Compensation Case Settled at Hearing

Two workmen's compensation cases were taken under advisement, one was settled and another adjourned at hearings conducted at the court house Monday by Jerome C. Nodoney, of Ironwood, deputy commissioner of the state department of labor and industry.

Cases under advisement are John C. Larson vs. Republic Steel company, Negaunee, and Harold Horner vs. A. K. Proksch, Iron River. Paul Jones' claim against Tonella & Rupp was settled. The case of Frank Sumerix vs. Munising Wood Products company was adjourned.

LANSING, March 3—(P)—Governor Van Wagoner today appointed additional members of the physical fitness and recreation committee of the state defense council. U. S. Plans To Acquire Huge Forest Acreage in Michigan

WASHINGTON, March 3—(P)—The forest service contemplates the acquisition of a large portion of Michigan's vast forest acreage.

This was indicated to a Congressional committee during hearings on the Agriculture department appropriation for fiscal '43.

Leon F. Kneiff, assistant chief of the service, reported that the purpose of this agency was to buy as much of the Michigan land as possible so as to preserve it and prevent exploitation.

He informed the committee that there were more than 5,000,000 Michigan acres available for acquisition, of which 2,537,804 were considered purchasable acres.

As of June 30, 1941, 1,835,711 acres had been approved for purchase at a cost of $5,457,524.

The report said $13,000,000 would be spent throughout the country during fiscal '43, barring curtailment of the program because of the war.

Land Office Board Rejects Bids for Tax Properties

LANSING, March 3—(P)—Acting on the belief that the city of Ann Arbor and the Ann Arbor school district are trying to force up the price of tax reverted properties by entering bids equal to the full amount of delinquency, Clarence W. Lock, executive secretary, today said the state land office board rejected 32 of 53 bids submitted for such properties.

Lock said in one instance the city bid on a piece of property for a traffic control station and information bureau, and board inspectors said the property, located in the middle of a block, is passed only by persons coming and going on a dead-end street.

Mr. Burrows was born in Fond du Lac, Wis., June 26, 1887, and was 74 years old. He had been in the employ of the D. S. S. & A. Ry. for 23 years, and later had engaged in the real estate business. He had retired shortly after the death of his wife in April, 1938.

Mr. Burrows leaves his son and four grandchildren, all of Muskegon.

The body will arrive here Thursday morning and funeral services will be held in the Swanson funeral home Thursday at 2 p. m. The services will be conducted by Masonic officers and burial will take place in the family plot in Park cemetery.

9 Recruits Entrain For Army Service

Nine young men, six of them residents of Marquette, who enlisted in the United States Army at the recruiting station here, entrained last night for Wausau, Wis., where they will be assigned to Army posts for training.

Leroy J. Kolky, 907 North Third street, Marquette, is in charge of the group, which includes Franklin W. Nord, Box 242; George A. Gings, 513 West Spring street; Bernard J. VanLinden, 420 Baraga avenue; Vernon W. LaBelle, 136 Baraga avenue; Lawrence J. Murray, 807 Fisher street, all of Marquette; Steven W. Mindok, Crystal Falls; Norman C. Larson, Negaunee, and Leonard C. Lund, Iron River.

"These men requested service in particular branches of the service, but because of a new regulation they will not be assigned until they arrive at the reception center," Corporal Carlton L. Olyer, local recruiting officer, said yesterday. "Effective March 1, all enlistments except those in the parachute troops will be unassigned. Men will be assigned at the reception center after their qualifications become known."

"This will speed up the process and eliminate much confusion," Olyer said. "In some cases, men enlisted for some certain type of work and it was found out later that they were not qualified for the service they requested."

$7,716 Given Northern For Training Plan

LANSING, March 3—P—The state administrative board today released from the $5,000,000 "war fund" a $20,000 grant to the Michigan defense council and $79,731 to five colleges to expedite the training of professional and technical students for the war effort.

The allotment to the defense council will finance that agency's activities only to the end of March, but the limited allowance was recommended by Secretary of State Harry F. Kelly, chairman of the administrative board's defense committee, until it has been determined what amount is needed to establish a civilian protective service.

Allocations to colleges included: Northern Michigan College of Education, $6,371 for personnel service and $1,345 for supplies, materials and contractual services; Michigan College of Mining and Technology, $20,914 and $2,440; Michigan Normal, $13,567 and $2,035; Central Michigan, $3,146 and $1,800; Western Michigan, $20,063 and $2,050.

The board rejected requests for $500,000 by the state board of control for vocational education; $256,960 for the conservation department's forest fire protection service; $5,000 for the Grand Rapids convention bureau; $63,765 for Michigan State college to establish greenhouses for sugar beet research, and a request for $108,000, for the same purpose, from the Farmers' and Manufacturers' Beet Sugar association.

British Warn Operators Of Black Markets

By E. C. Daniel

LONDON, March 3—P—The British government served a stern warning today on food racketeers who fatten their purses on the nation's wartime hunger.

Announcing the determination of the new cabinet to stamp out profiteering and glutinous alike, Major Gwilym Lloyd George, parliamentary secretary to the food ministry, told the House of Commons that stiff new penalties soon would be imposed on black market operators.

Members immediately renewed their demand for punishment ranging from flogging to life imprisonment for "this most sinister form of sabotage."

The government, itself, was understood to be considering prison terms ranging from 10 years up for big-time black market operators.

New regulations are expected also to put the screws on sources of supply for luxury clubs and hotels in the west end, where Common members charged well-to-do patrons could get eggs for breakfast and, in one restaurant, a week's ration of ham, at one sitting.

Simultaneously, Hugh Dalton, new president of the Board of Trade, told American correspondents Britain must wear less, eat less and drink less and that "we shall gradually have to squeeze out all industry that does not contribute directly or indirectly to the war effort."

Extending "our sincere thanks and admiration for the way in which the government and people of the United States have helped us with food," Lloyd George disclosed that one-fifth of Britain's meat ration was U. S. tinned meat and that lease-lend food from May 1, 1941, to January 1, 1942, was approximately equal to one month's imports from all sources.

to discuss ways and means of organization. William Roark, general representative of the International Laborers' Union, asked the Marquette organizing committee to hold this meeting so plans can be made for a union, if the men so desire. It is expected that Mr. Roark will be in Marquette to address a meeting in the near future.

Facts About American Navy

Navy Personnel

The Navy has three components—ships, men and bases. All three are equally important, but it is the calibre of men who sail the ships and use the bases that makes the difference between a defeated fleet and a victorious fleet.

The personnel of the Navy consists of officers and enlisted men. The grade of an officer is denoted by his rank and an enlisted man by his rating. Each wears a mark on his uniform which shows his rank or rating. The highest rank for an officer is admiral and the highest rating for an enlisted man is chief petty officer.

Thus, a sailor's uniform has a story to tell to the trained observer about the kind and quality of work done by the wearer as well as his rank and length of service.

All bluejackets up to the rate of a first class petty officer wear the standard uniform of bell-bottom trousers and middie blouses. Chief petty officers wear a uniform of slacks, coat and visored hat cut much on the lines of an officer's uniform. A commissioned officer can be distinguished from a chief petty officer by the gold stripes on his sleeve and hat.

What Stripes Mean

Upon joining the service, the sailor receives a single, thin white stripe around his cuff which indicates he is an apprentice seaman. After four months he automatically becomes a seaman second class and receives a second white stripe around his cuff. The bluejacket adds a third stripe upon being promoted to the position of first class seaman.

Seamen wear a "watch stripe" to indicate whether they belong to the engineering force or "black gang," or to the above-deck force or "deck gang." The watch stripe runs completely around the shoulder when the sleeve joins. It is red and on the left shoulder for the black gang and white and on the right shoulder for the deck gang.

In order to advance further, the seaman must become proficient in some specialized branch such as pattern making, machinery or stenography. When a sailor has become efficient at a trade he is promoted to the rate of a third class petty officer in his specialty.

Petty Officers' Ratings

A third class petty officer corresponds roughly to the rank of an Army sergeant. A chief petty officer to that of a master sergeant.

The man who has reached the rated class adds a white eagle, a symbol of his rate and a red chevron on his upper sleeve. One chevron denotes third class, two second class and three first class. A hoop running from the top chevron over the eagle distinguishes a chief petty officer.

Specialty marks are symbols of white crocheted silk that place the petty officer in his correct branch. Thus a small bugle would indicate a bugler, a helm a quartermaster and crossed quills would indicate a yeoman.

It is the high degrees of specialization that makes the United States Navy the model of all other nations as far as the enlisted man is concerned. The Navy training and rating system make not only for better personnel, but better citizens as well.

Ouster Move Started Against Wayne Auditor

LANSING, March 3—P—Governor Van Wagener today instituted ouster proceedings against John C. Cowan, a member of the Wayne county board of auditors, on charges of participating in a "shakedown" and accepting other forms of graft.

The charges were voiced in a "finding of fact" submitted to the Governor by Judge Homer Ferguson, of Detroit, whose one-man grand jury has indicted two other members of the Wayne board of auditors, also on graft charges.

In the cases of the other two, Edward H. Williams and Ray D. Schneider, Judge Ferguson recommended and obtained their removal from office. Today, however, he submitted merely "findings" which recited charges against Cowan, but made no recommendations. The Governor promptly submitted the case to Probate Judge Maurice E. Tripp, of Adrian, for ouster hearing, which was the same action he took against Williams and Schneider.

Judge Ferguson accused Cowan of having participated with Schneider and Williams in a shakedown in which vendors doing business with the county were required to pay $10 to $25 for tickets to dances and boat rides, proceeds going to the auditors for their personal use. The board of auditors is the agency which passes judgment on vendors' bids.

Farmer May Buy Wheat For Feed

Farmers of Marquette county may obtain their share of 100,000,000 bushels of government-stored wheat for poultry and livestock feed, Charles R. Swanson, of Skandia, county Triple-A chairman, said yesterday. That amount has been made available by the Commodity Credit Corporation of Chicago.

Farmers desiring to place orders may do so by applying at the Triple-A office in the Harlow block, Marquette. The price will be $1 a bushel, and the farmer must pay for the wheat at the time he places the order. It must be used only for livestock or poultry feed.

Information about the plan of disposing of the wheat already has been sent to farmers in the Republic area, and others are invited to obtain further information at the Triple-A office here. If there is a great enough demand for the wheat, arrangements will be made to have a carload shipped to the county.

Because the wheat is in bulk form, farmers will be required to furnish their own sacks.

IRON MOUNTAIN, March 3—Although the von Platen-Fox Lumber company, of this city, is now on about 70 per cent war production, and may go higher, long-term contracts providing for specifically scheduled shipments on any large scale are not being sought by the company at the moment, pending the outcome of contract negotiations now in progress with Local 184, International Woodworkers of America, CIO, according to Abbott M. Fox, president of the company.

Fox's statement is in reply to a resolution adopted on Feb. 22 by the CIO unit, urging that the company accept government orders for lumber, to maintain working schedules here.

Admits Forgery

MENOMINEE, March 3—Henry Nerat, 23, Menominee township, pleaded guilty to forgery before Justice Joseph A. Bottkol and was bound over to the May term of circuit court. Bond was set at $2,000. Nerat and Sentinel Cooper, 23, of Marinette, who was bound over to the May term last week when he pleaded guilty to forgery, signed confessions with Sheriff Edward Reindl admitting that they had forged and passed a series of checks in Menominee and Marinette counties. Most of the blank checks, which the young men stole from Hotel Menominee and Hotel Marinette, were filled in, signed and cashed in stores in Menominee, Birch Creek, Marinette and Peshigo.

Patrick's Plan Sound

IT SHOULD be obvious to all members of the city commission, as it has been to many other citizens who have observed the handling of park development projects and recreation activities in this city during the last several years, that results have fallen short of what should have been accomplished with the amount of money spent.

As long as the commission continues to sanction the expenditure of upward of $50,000 annually for parks and recreation, it should, if it proposes to get the maximum return for the dollars, recognize the soundness of Commissioner Patrick's recommendation that a separate department of parks and recreation be established and that it be operated under the direction of a competent, full-time executive, a man qualified by training and experience as a specialist for that kind of work.

Patrick supports his request with a concise statement of facts and records which leaves little room for effective refutation of his arguments. He frankly admits progress made in park development and in expansion and administration of recreation facilities has left much to be desired, but he contends that the heaping of these responsibilities upon the department of public works has left it greatly overburdened. It has, he points out, neither the man-power, equipment or administrative staff required to properly look after parks and recreation, which it has had to do in addition to its major job of street maintenance and construction, sewer and sidewalk maintenance, snow removal and other work delegated to it.

In other words the department of public works has been forced to give only secondary attention to and make, in large measure, a sideline of costly undertakings that rank high in community interest and importance.

Proper development and maintenance of public parks and playgrounds cannot be achieved without expert planning and trained direction. It is too much for the city to expect its public works superintendent and commissioner to shoulder this job. If Marquette is to spend more than $50,000 a year on parks and recreation, the commission could do no better than to take the action Patrick requests.

By setting up a separate department, employing a trained executive and giving him adequate equipment and labor, responsibility for the work would be definitely fixed and the commission could demand, and undoubtedly would get, results that would, as Patrick says, more than offset the cost involved.

Will Take War To Foe

The statements by General Marshall and Admiral King should clear the air for critics who have wondered whether leaders of our armed forces have had defensive or offensive tactics primarily in mind in shaping general war plans.

The words of General Marshall leave no doubt about what he intends to do with the Army. "The time has now come," he declares, "when we must proceed with the business of carrying the war to the enemy and not permitting the greater portion of our armed force and our valuable material to be immobilized within continental United States."

His words are plain and blunt and he serves notice on Americans of the Army's determination not to permit isolated air raids by a few enemy planes—raids he says we must expect—to swerve it from its major purpose of attacking and whipping our foes on far-distant fronts.

movement of troops and materiel means that American armed forces will be carrying the war to the enemy as soon as that is humanly possible.

The job upon which Americans on the home front must concentrate is that of all-out production of the materiel without which there can be no American offensive anywhere.

A Canadian View of Hepburn

Americans have not forgotten the cracks made by Premier Hepburn, of Ontario, who charged that the American fleet has been hiding from the Japs, and many of them doubtless would like to know just what kind of a bird he is. Not that his words burned any deep holes on this side of the border, or diminished in any degree the standing of the Dominion of Canada in the American mind.

The Winnipeg Free Press has something to say on the subject which should interest all persons in this country who have been wondering. Its editorial comment follows: "We know Mr. Hepburn very well in this country. We know him too well to try to explain his remarks away. But it may be possible, briefly, to explain to our neighbors, whom he has insulted, just what kind of a man he is. If they will remember their own Huey Long, of Louisiana, their own Talmadge, of Georgia, and the poor de-ranked Zioneck, of Seattle, all figures in the public life of their own country; if they will take from each of them his most unbalanced and objectionable traits, and construct a human character from the material thus selected, they will have before them something that is more or less like Mr. Hepburn; and their judgment of him and of us will be tempered accordingly."

Protect Your Tires

Tire thefts are becoming more numerous, not only in this district, but in practically every community, large and small, in the nation. Some of us probably have wondered where and when the wave will stop and what can be done about it.

One Michigan judge warns that tire thieves brought before him will receive the maximum penalty provided by law. In several cases severe punishment has been inflicted and these examples and warnings probably will have some effect, but our experience with crime waves should teach us that alert police and stern judges, important as their work is, cannot stop the thievery.

As spring comes and warmer weather increases the volume of motor traffic it is almost certain that the number of tire thefts will grow. In spite of anything law enforcements officers do, many car-owners are going to lose tires in the months ahead. The best rule for them is to take every possible precaution to prevent theft and to protect their tires.

The best place to park your car when you are not using it is in a locked garage. If one is not available, park the car in a well-lighted place at night. If you have guests at your house at night, leave the porch light on while their cars are parked in front of your house. If there is a spare in the rear compartment, be sure the compartment is locked.

Despite these precautions, tires will be stolen, but you can protect them further and help to discourage theft by marking the tires so that the thief will find it hazardous to use or dispose of them. Motorists have been advised to record the serial numbers of their tires, but that is not effective, because the numbers can be removed easily.

French Learning In Exile. When Rome fell, the scholars fled to Constantinople. When Constantinople fell, about a thousand years later, the scholars returned to Italy.

Some years ago the New School for Social Research established in this city a university in exile, to which came a group of eminent men from Germany, Austria and Italy. They could teach in freedom. It was our gain. Now the New School is about to set up a French university, with faculties of law and political science; philosophy and the humanities, and the studies will include relationships with Central and South America, in which the French, as members of the Latin race, can help us a great deal.

France has had her world-famous universities since the middle ages. In her own land the barbarian invasion has temporarily silenced them. A few of her scholars can keep the light burning here and in God's good time reilluminate the torches of humane learning in a liberated France.—New York Times.

Our Liquor Bill

Iron county's liquor bill in 1941 was $1 a month for every man, woman, and child and for an average family of four greater than the sum spent for electrical service. For the entire year we spent in excess of $200,000 for potable spirits, a considerable sum in any financial language.

Thirty Years Ago

(March 4, 1912)

Marquette. Father J. B. Moriarty, for seven years assistant pastor of St. Peter's cathedral parish, has been transferred to Ironwood to succeed the Rev. H. A. Buchholz, who will take charge of St. Paul's parish in Negaunee. Father Moriarty was born in Marquette in 1875 and with the exception of the time he spent studying for the priesthood he has been a continuous resident of this city.

The Northern State Normal basketball boys returned from their Copper Country trip on which they won three and lost three games. In the final contest with the Michigan College of Mines, they lost, 45 to 11.

Prentiss M. Brown, of St. Ignace, who is the "Riley" who played second base for the Marquette baseball team last season and who left Marquette to enter the University of Illinois, has received an appointment to the position of research assistant to Dean Kinley. Brown was one of the most popular men on the Marquette team last season. He was a gentlemanly and sportsmanlike player.

Francis Tasson, Jr., will perform on the bagpipes at the Ishpeming theater tomorrow evening and William and Edward Wilson and Walter Sandberg, Ishpeming boys, will give imitations of musical instruments and will play violins made of cigar boxes.

In the declamatory contest at the Ishpeming high school, Walfrid Elson was awarded first place and not Walfrid Olson, as first announced.

The basketball games played in the town hall at Champion between the Champion high school five and the Marquette C. B. C. team, and the Champion second team and the E club five of Marquette were witnessed by a large audience. The game between the high school and the C. B. C. team was close, Champion winning, 30 to 19. The Champion second team lost to the E club by a score of 20 to 4.

Thermometers in the business section of Ishpeming registered 25 degrees below zero at 5 p. m. It was just 40 degrees colder than a year ago.

Negaunee. Walter Sterling, Ray Brotherton and "Bony" Marketti returned from a wolf hunt on Grand Island. They were not successful in killing the animal, but drove it from the island.

W. C. Hart, of the American mine, was a Negaunee visitor. Miss Jean Nelson, of Gwinn, spent two days visiting Miss Edna Mitchell here.

William Jones, who recently moved from the Sundberg block where he has been conducting a pool and billiard room, to the Raatikainen block on Gold street, is delayed in opening his new place because the tables have not yet arrived. The tables which he used while in the Sundberg block are the property of J. F. Allison, owner of the building, who will continue the business.

Lawrence Thibault, bookkeeper at the Baron mine, Humboldt, arrived in the city to spend the weekend with relatives and friends. (From The Mining Journal Files)

"Down With Japan"

So 185 welders on a Navy job strike because their foreman used vile and abusive language. So one foreman can't quit cursing. So one company which hung up posters calling for uninterrupted industrial production can't shut a foreman. So industrial production is interrupted in the Hoboken shipyards and the War Labor board is holding conferences!

The Chinese have a retort to insults, a slogan for foremen, a line for posters. It goes, "Ta tao Jih-pen," and it doesn't mean "For crying out loud!" It means "Down with Japan!" This Hoboken foreman might try it in Chinese—like counting 10—before cursing as customarily. The welders might find it satisfactory in English to save their wounded pride when spoken to roughly. It may be more inspirational for posters than "uninterrupted industrial production" which company heads interpret to mean "the men must keep at work, no matter—we run the business."

Of course, the foreman is in the best military tradition—could cite "Fighting Bob" Evans, General Dawes, Admiral Farragut, General Ulysses S. Grant as bosses whose swearing made tradition. But they dealt with men who were fighting the enemy. He deals with men who feel their dignity as workers. The Chinese cry "Ta tao Jih-pen" as they work and as they fight. Next week, perhaps, we will all shout "Down with Japan"—next week, after a few more American ships have been sunk, after a few more American soldiers and sailors have died. But the ships cannot be replaced for a while because the Hoboken shipyards have a strike and the War Labor board has been called in.—New York Herald Tribune.

Haven't They a Telephone? The difference of opinion between Secretaries Knox and Stimson about what happened at Los Angeles has been cited as an illustration of the need for a single department of national defense. It will strike many Americans as a far better illustration of the need for unified information. When Secretary Knox says that the affair at Los Angeles was a false alarm and Secretary Stimson says that at least 15 planes operated by enemy agents were over the city, the public may well wonder whether the telephone wire between the War and Navy Departments has been severed by enemy action.

Secretary Stimson's explanation of what happened, since it is the more exciting, is likely to command more attention than Secretary Knox's account. The war has demonstrated that almost nothing is impossible, hence it is not beyond reason to say that enemy agents have used commercial planes, operating from hidden air bases, for a post-war offensive against Southern California. The enumeration of the number of rounds of anti-aircraft ammunition fired at the unidentified planes gives Secretary Stimson's story the benefit of circumstantial trimmings. On the next occasion for news, the public will hope that Secretaries Stimson and Knox will take time out for preliminary consultation.—New York Sun.

Quotations

In this hour, when the very existence of our nation as a free people is at stake, we cannot afford to indulge in the promotion of selfish interests.—President Roosevelt.

The Navy does not indulge in the policy of overstating losses that we inflict upon the enemy or in understating the losses inflicted upon us.—Secretary of Navy Frank Knox.

When the invader comes here he will be fought by a people who know that they not only are defending their own homes but also are standing on one of the most critical battlefronts in the history of mankind.—Attorney General H. V. Evans, of Australia.

We can do this job of factory conversion if we stop thinking about what we are going to do to the enemy in 1943 and start thinking about what we are going to do to him now.—War Production Board Chairman Donald M. Nelson.

If rationing actually curbs the consumption of sugar, we should look for an improvement in the dental condition of the population.—Dr. Robert Kesel, University of Illinois dentist professor.

Back To Normalcy

There were men in Tokyo and Berlin who argued against the attack on Pearl Harbor. There were men in London who, knowing their history and remembering how America many times before had achieved the miracle of national unity overnight, said that this sneak assault would rally 132,000,000 people behind their leader in one mighty, burning resolve.

But the Hitler and the Tojos laughed at their faint hearts, boasting that they knew us better. The real tragedy of Pearl Harbor is that they did.

Why did ourselves? Today, with the first defeat in our history staring us in the face, we are listening to a mounting chorus of personal, vituperative abuse of the commander in chief, of his immediate family and of his cabinet. Today, when we should be straining every nerve to turn out weapons, we are permitting a situation to worsen to a point where the Congressional answer to continued strikes called by irresponsible labor leaders will be the disfranchisement of all labor. Today, when no citizen should think in any terms other than pure patriotism, we see special interest groups scheming for their pound of flesh.

Politics-as-usual, profits-as-usual, strikes-as-usual, personalities-as-usual. That is the pattern. Little by little, we are slipping back to what we love to call "normalcy." The lively ghosts of America First, the Silver Shirts, the knights of the White Camellia meet behind drawn shutters to wish the President ill. Only the Lord—and maybe Dr. Goebbels—knows how many among them are secretly hoping and praying for Axis victory and a taste of totalitarianism, American style.

Fortunately there are Americans among us who are thoroughly awake to the dangers inherent in this state of mind. One of them is Lieut. Col. W. E. Keenan, of the United States Army. Colonel Keenan tells us in a little book which every American ought to read that we must strike and win in Europe now, this spring—or face the possibility that we will not have the opportunity again.

But we must do more than read his book, nor solemnly over its indisputable logic, and straightway fall to quarreling again over whether we ought to relieve General MacArthur, or whether we ought to go on aiding Russia, or whether Admiral Kimmel and General Short ought to be tried right away, or whether the NYA and the CCC are worth keeping, or whether we ought to just sit back and do nothing until "that stubborn man" gets rid of his Secretaries of War, Labor and the Navy.

What the Enemy Would Do. What would the Germans and Japs be doing in our place? They would have an army of at least 10,000,000 in training, if not fighting—and hang whether they were fully equipped; the Nazi tanks fell apart in Austria, but so did the democracies, and so did Austria! They would not be talking about what war was doing to the schools. They would not be seeking deferment or cushy, noncombatant berths. They would be eating hamburger instead of fussing about the price of sirloin. They would be putting their cars in storage and walking to work. They would be buying government war securities faster than the Government could print them. And they would be giving much more than mere lip service to their chosen leaders.

Hitler's way is not our way. Thank God! But is there no in-between? Must a nation be either totalitarian or muddle-headed? Must men abolish freedom of speech and the press to prevent its being used to poison and weaken the state? It is now clear that Hitler, in taking us on as an enemy, gambled that national unity was beyond our grasp—that everything we managed to do would prove too little or come too late.

And it is equally clear that the vast majority of us—as distinguished from a few courageous leaders—have as yet done very little to convince the Nazi Führer that he was wrong.—Chicago Sun.

New York Chats

NEW YORK — A strange ceremony, reminiscent of the catacombs of ancient Rome, takes place about once a month in the depths of a great wine cellar in Manhattan. The cellar occupies several acres of space, many stories up, in a towering old loft building in 23rd street.

In darkness that would be total except for the light of candles, a hundred men in costumes resembling those of Benedictine monks, march in single file, in perfect silence, through miles of narrow aisles that wind among gigantic casks of wine.

The men are guests of the Cribari family in America. For many years, the Cribaris have held these strangely ritualistic parties for their friends. Each guest (men only) is handed a monk's robe as he enters. As he passes on his way to the dining hall, he is handed a lighted candle. The dinners are always decorous, dignified, restrained. Grandpa, Papa, or Grandson Cribari, is on hand to bid the guests welcome. The worst manners in the world would be indicated by a guest who should take so much wine that he would speak up in more than a parlor voice.

Among the guests, an invitation to one of the Cribari parties is much sought after, by indirect means. I found myself opposite a famous tailor and men's stylist at a restaurant in Rockefeller Center the other day. The friend on my left assured me that the Julius Pitassy, a slightly bald, blue-eyed gentleman of ready conversation, makes clothes for the Astors, Vanderbilts and Morgans.

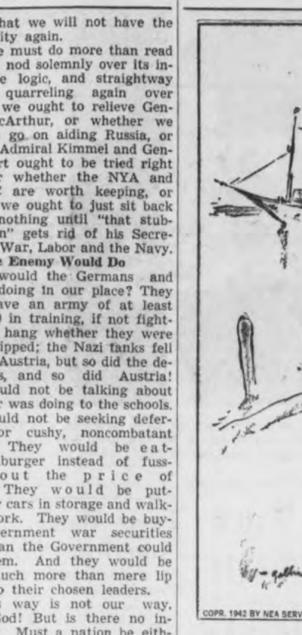

Being mad at my clothier that day, because my wife had pointed out to me only that morning that the sewing had come out of the sleeves of a new overcoat and the buttons were wearing out after less than a month's wear, I lit into clothing makers in general. I showed Mr. Pitassy my coat, the weak spots and the second-hand appearance of the thing, and told him how much I had paid for the coat. My friend asked me not to become too angry, since Mr. Pitassy hadn't made the coat.

Used Old Silk Thread. "Simple enough," said my new friend, "They ran out of good silk."

Legs. Persons alarmed over the rubber shortage and fearful their tires will not last may be interested to know they have an excellent substitute in the form of legs. Most people assume that legs are good only for getting around the house or into an automobile. But, with practice, legs may be made to cover a much wider range. Lay out a course of a couple of blocks and see if you can walk them. If the legs give out, you can rest on the curbing. By extending the distance each day you should eventually be able to reach the drug store or the grocery.

Legs properly cared for will go farther than legs abused. Caution should be used in walking in the dark, jumping ditches and kicking at dogs. If you are conscious of a knock, the trouble lies in the knees. In that case take your legs to an orthopedist for a checkup. When the movement of the legs is accelerated, the result is known as running. This is useful in catching buses. But in so doing take care you do not strain your engine. Like automobiles, legs may be washed and greased. But they do not have to have the oil changed and they do not run out of gas. Since they have no back seat they are free from backseat driving. It is unwise to offer a lift with them to persons more than five years old. Fortunately, in the present emergency, there is no national shortage and a great surplus of unused legs that, with slight conditioning, may be returned to service. Not does production depend upon raw material from the war zones. Where there is a local shortage synthetic legs may be employed. We need not fear the rubber situation so long as we have legs to fall back upon. Just be careful they don't too suddenly and too hard.—Baltimore Sun.

Side Glances

"She looks pretty nice out there in the service of her country! Now maybe I'll be able to pay my new income tax with what I'll save in gas, oil and cocktail money, running around to show her off!"

Today In Washington

By David Lawrence. WASHINGTON, March 3.—No court-martial now for either Kimmel or Short and maybe not till after the war. This announcement marks the first real defeat for public opinion since the war started. For it means that under the convenient excuse given by the Administration that the enemy must not be permitted to know the mistakes that led up to Pearl Harbor, the American people will not know them either. And this means that the same system of incompetent operation of the Navy department which made Pearl Harbor possible will be continued.

The outside world may not realize it, but a controversy of the deepest significance has been raging for some time among Navy officers of high rank concerning the right kind of an organization for the Navy department in wartime. That since Pearl Harbor the faulty organization has been corrected. But the truth is some of the highest among our naval experts think the present organization, involving as it does a system of dual control within the Navy, is cumbersome and ineffective and should be changed.

Navy's "Billy Mitchell". Admiral Taussig, who, like Billy Mitchell, was punished for a patriotic attempt to serve his country by constructive criticism of the existing "tradition," wrote an article in January, 1940, which was published in naval institute proceedings analyzing the weaknesses of the Navy organization. It was made part of the public records of the Senate naval affairs committee on April 22, 1940. It not only pointed out the errors in the set-up, but gave concrete recommendations for improvement.

The principal contention of Admiral Taussig was that the chief of naval operations cannot give orders to the other bureau chiefs in the Navy department. He cannot even assign officers to the fleet without the consent of one of his subordinates—chief of the bureau of navigation.

Now President Roosevelt has superimposed on an already confusing system of bureau chief control another high ranking officer—the commander-in-chief of the United States fleet—who has no statutory authority to give orders to the chief of naval operations, but probably does. Commenting on the present state of affairs, a naval officer, whose name must necessarily be withheld, observed only last week in a letter to a friend: "Need Workable Organization. 'Right as Admiral Taussig was on the Far Eastern issue, he was much more correct in trying to impress a workable organization on the Navy. Due to the super imposing of the commander-in-chief of the United States fleet over the chief of naval operations, everything is in a terrible state of disorganization. Officers spend more time trying to find out which office to approach in order to get letters approved than in preparing the letters themselves. 'In spite of the self-evident truth, so ably shown by Admiral Taussig that the Navy organization would not function in war, I can see no real improvement in this dual system of control. When an organization doesn't work the remedy seems to be to superimpose something else. Of course, with the proper spirit of cooperation most any organization can be made to work some way or other, but I am still wondering about our present set-up.'"

Victims of System. It does seem inexplicable that the Senate or House naval affairs committees do not feel their responsibility to the American people sufficiently to insist on knowing at least the form of organization that exists in the Navy department and subjecting it to the scrutiny of retired officers who are free to speak. For the truth is that while Admiral Kimmel and General Short did not take all the precautions they should, it is also true that the Navy and War department officers in Washington failed to do certain things which, if the two courts-martial are postponed indefinitely, will never become known till the war is over and needless sacrifices have been made. For it is the system that Kimmel and Short followed which today stands convicted. That system is, in principle, in effect still as will presently be revealed when testimony begins to be taken about the Normandy disaster which may be traced to dual controls and divided responsibilities within the government itself. Matched! When you hear widows tell how well-mated they and their husbands were, it may not mean what you think. It may mean that they were even matched and one could slug as hard as the other.—The Vagabond.

Stray Facts. When one hears different locomotive whistles, he may be sure that each has its own meaning. One short-stop; one long-approaching station junction or crossing; succession of short toots—alarm for persons or animals on track; two long—release brakes and proceed; three short—back up (when standing); three short-stop at next station (when running).

Sculptor, Desist! Ralph Waldo, Emerson manifested a whimsical modesty toward himself which was truly delightful. Once he favored Daniel C. French, the noted American sculptor, with a number of sittings for a bust, which now reposes in Memorial Hall, Harvard university. One day when the work was well advanced, the New England author suddenly walked over to where the sculptor was working, looked long and earnestly at the bust, and said: "Mr. French, I hope you will soon have this job done." "Why, Mr. Emerson?" inquired the sculptor, "replied Emerson with a droll expression, 'It is getting to look more like me every day, and the more it resembles me the worse it looks. I don't think I can stand it much longer.'"

Hitler's Numerous Excuses. Urgent reasons are required to keep such a lover of ceremony and adulation as Adolf Hitler from going to a function that he has attended annually for 21 years. Adolf has the excuses ready in sending his regrets to the Nazi veterans who are sponsor; the party's yearly birthday celebration in the Munich beer cellar. He is undoubtedly detained on the Russian front, preparing for next spring's offensive, and explains that his plans of conquest are being held up by (1) the weather, and (2) "a conspiracy hatched in the banking houses of the plutocrats."

The only trouble with Hitler's excuses is that they are too numerous. In view of what the Red army has been doing for 21 weeks, it is conceivable that the Fuehrer would be rather fully occupied with military planning. Also, it is reliably reported that the weather is somewhat inclement in those parts. But what's this about "plutocrats" and "banking houses of the plutocrats"? There's any place in the world where plutocrats are unpopular, without influence and, in fact, non-existent, it's Russia. If Hitler means plutocrats (or capitalists) of other countries, they have been viewing Soviet Russia with dread and alarm these many years, and would sooner have November—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

Will Enlarge Sawmill

IRON RIVER, March 3—With orders for 5,000,000 feet of hardwood stock for Army coats and 22,000,000 feet of poplar for powder boxes already in hand, an extensively remodelled and enlarged sawmill operated by Anthony Ehlinger, of Iron River, will begin work at Gibbs City within 30 days. Employing 40 men and with facilities for continuing output of flooring and other wood products, the plant is expected to bring new life to the little lumbering community north of here, which in recent years has declined from a prosperity to the status of a near ghost-town. Ehlinger said the new plant is expected to turn out 5,000,000 feet of hardwood stock a year. Output of the plant will go to George W. Morgan, Milwaukee, who has conducted logging and milling operations in the Upper Peninsula and the Pick Manufacturing company, West Bend, Wis. Pieces will be cut to order here ready for assembly by the Wisconsin firm.

Defense Attorney Barred In Trial of Viereck

WASHINGTON, March 3—Defense Attorney Emil Morosini today was barred from further participation in the trial of George Sylvester Viereck, German-born publisher, after he openly charged Federal District Court Justice F. Dickinson Letts with being "biased" in favor of the Government and "prejudiced" against the defendant.

Morosini, protesting bitterly against the repeated ruling out of testimony he sought to introduce, rested the defense case before his exclusion and the trial was recessed until tomorrow. Viereck, charged with failure to file essential information when he registered as a German agent with the State department, will continue to be represented by D. F. Cohalan, Jr., Morosini's New York law partner, and Col. O. R. McGuire, a Washington associate.

The exclusion of Morosini followed a conference of attorneys before the bench. Later Justice Letts disclosed he told the conference he believed Morosini had made the charge in the jury's presence for the purpose of prejudicing the jurors and trying to make them feel that Viereck was not getting a fair trial.

23 More Indicted In Ford Theft Case

DETROIT, March 3—A few hours after Federal agents disclosed the indictment of 23 additional defendants in the Ford parts theft conspiracy, 16 of those arrested were arraigned before Judge Ernest A. O'Brien in Federal court here.

Three, including owners of two Detroit auto parts companies and a Ford Motor company service man, pleaded guilty. Thirteen others stood mute and pleas of innocent were entered for them.

Announcing the new indictments which brought the total of defendants to 64, John S. Bugas, agent in charge of the Detroit office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said the theft ring was so well organized that Detroit "fences" would procure samples of the parts and then order deliveries to cover their requirements.

AAA Rules On Fertilizer Use Cited

Marquette county farmers procuring fertilizer through the conservation materials program of the Triple-A are warned by Charles R. Swanson, of Skandia, county Triple-A chairman, that it must be used for the purpose intended or the violator will be penalized.

Swanson said it must be applied to acreage that will be devoted to a "conserving land-use." Application to a soil-depleting crop, failure to apply it during the program year or other intentional misuse of material furnished through the Triple-A will result in a deduction being made from the farmer's AAA payment of twice the cost of the material.

"In addition to this," Swanson warned, "the farmer will lose the soil-building payment he otherwise would have earned by the application of the fertilizer under the AAA program."

"In the interest of national defense, we should use these conservation materials to stimulate production, and they should be used as soon as possible to avoid the risk of waste or loss of quality."

Home Consumption of State Produce Encouraged

EAST LANSING, March 3—Michigan State college extension specialists and representatives of growers and chain stores in conference here today laid plans to encourage home consumption of Michigan-grown produce.

Keith Barrons, professor of horticulture and vegetable growing and marketing specialist, was named to select a committee to study harvesting and marketing southwestern Michigan tomatoes. Tomato growers were advised to harvest "mature-ripe" produce to insure favorable results in competition with out-of-state varieties.

Sault Radio Station Goes Back on Air

WASHINGTON, March 3—The Federal communications commission today granted King-Trendle Broadcasting Corporation, Grand Rapids, Mich., authority to construct a new high frequency station which would operate on 46,900 kilocycles, serving an area of 5,300 square miles.

The commission also reinstated the application of Hiaswathland Broadcasting company, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., for renewal of the license for station WSOO, subject to acknowledgement by the company within 20 days. At the same time, the commission reinstated the station's temporary license and set aside its order of February 20 denying application for renewal of the license.

THERE'S A "K" IN VICTORY!

This war is being fought with resources as well as with men. Every pound of vital materials that can be conserved for weapons and munitions is another step on the road to Victory.

About the time the war began in Europe, Bell System engineers were starting to use the "K" carrier system—a new telephone development which now is saving large quantities of copper for use in implements of war.

In operation, the "K" carrier system enables two pairs of wires in parallel cables to carry as many as twelve separate conversations at the same time!

"K" carrier is helping Michigan Bell handle more Long Distance calls with fewer wires—making an important saving in copper.

Even with the help of research and invention, increasing shortages of materials make it difficult to satisfy service demands as promptly as in the past. But we are confidently determined that every war need will be met.

Four-Piano Numbers To Be Highlight On Sunday's Concert Program

Tire Shortage May Be Blessing In Disguise

(By MANTHEI HOWE)

You know the old saying that if you yank a person's arm to his side after awhile he will lose the use of that arm. To retain power we have to exercise it.

Folk who hated to write letters simply had to sit down, chew on their pencil, wind their legs around the legs of the chair, and laboriously scribble some kind of message in the days way back when there was no other way of communicating with friends or relatives.

'Twas Easy Way
But with the convenience of telegram and long distance telephone calls bridging the distances, even of a continent, the folk, who hated to write letters, sent birthday and other anniversary messages by telegram or forwarded some greeting by way of long distance.

Though more expensive to take that means of communication, we folk of the "come easy, go easy" school of thought telephoned instead of writing. But with the need of today for saving all the pennies, nickles, dimes and dollars for the purchase of defense stamps it may be some of us who have been poor correspondents will recapture the art of letter writing.

And for the same reason we may recapture an equally important and lost art—that of conversation. If the tire shortage means that the old bus has to stay in the garage except for really important trips, there will be less of skittering around across country this summer.

You know how conversations went when folk were motoring. Skip and Jump Talk

The driver, if a careful one, did not indulge in any debate on politics or religion while at the wheel. Nor did the passengers, if at all sensible, start a conversation so stimulating and interesting that it would take the mind too much off the road.

Some one would say: "Isn't that a lovely scene? The trees against the sky-line," but before the others in the car could focus attention on the scene, it would have been left several hundred feet behind.

"Look at that road hog," the driver might comment about an offending motorist ahead of him; or "That's the way accidents happen. Look at that fellow passing that car on the hill."

Possibly women riding in the car would remark about Lucy driving to California, or tell something about the difficulty Esmeralda had getting good food when she took the motor trip through the south.

Entering a town, the conversation, such as it was, would break off the one subject and become a jerky comment on things seen in the town.

Most talking that goes on during a motor trip is apt to have something of a jazz tempo, a jumping from subject to subject, hither and yon, with part of the attention given to the conversation and the rest to the passing landscape.

Didn't Meet Often
And when it was so easy to jump into the car and go dashing off for a ride, folk did not forego their much during the summer months. When they did, they were likely to play bridge.

But, with car owners looking prayerfully-protective at the tires on the family bus, it is quite likely that all of us will be more inclined to "stay put" this year, and if we do, since we have accustomed ourselves to having to have something to fill the hours of leisure, we may once more discover what fun there can be in an evening of conversation.

You know the Chinese have a proverb: "A single conversation across the table with a wise man is worth a month's study of books." Now there are not too many wise men visible on the horizon in most communities, but all persons, if they care to, can have something interesting and informative to contribute to a conversation.

Everyone Knows Something
You may have a hobby about which you know a great deal and which can be interesting to your friends, if you are sensible enough not to ride the hobby to death. Some of your friends may be tops as gardeners, cooks, social workers, physicians, lawyers—every one who works must have ideas a bit out of the ordinary to relate.

Some folk seem to think that the moment you speak of the art of conversation it is being capitalized and set apart as something that must be made up of fine phrases, extremely erudite thoughts. None but the genius (and one doubts if even he could) would qualify for that kind of talk all the time.

All of us, once in a blue moon, surprise ourselves by getting off "something" "rather good," but most of the time we have to be content with less vivid and eloquent expression. Often we do not succeed in saying the right thing in the right place, in being able to recall the perfect phrase to illustrate our thought, or to bring to mind the amusing incident that happened a year or two ago . . . but part of that is due to the fact that we have gotten out of practice.

We have been so busy dashing about that we have tended to become a bit inarticulate. Even having thoughts to express, we don't take time to do so.

But when three or four friends foregather, you have to make your minds work or there will ensue that devastating and embarrassing silence that sags down over the group and gets heavier and heavier and ever more silent, until one is tempted to kick over a chair to start a bit of excitement. Just as that silence is contagious, so is the effect of being with stimulating conversationalists. You polish your mind against theirs.

If we could recapture the almost lost art of conversation, one might rate the tire shortage as a blessing in disguise.

Spoke in Calumet—Mrs. Waino Lahti, of the Brunswick hotel, has returned from Calumet where she addressed the "Klotta Svard" in the interests of the American Red Cross. "Klotta Svard" units were formed in many communities for the purpose of doing war relief work for Finland but, since our country's entry into the war, these groups are now concentrating on working for the American Red Cross.

Red Cross Materials—Materials for surgical dressings have arrived and the work shop at the Northern Michigan Children's clinic will be open Thursday afternoon and every Tuesday and Thursday thereafter. The surgical dressings group meeting in Guild hall will begin its work next Tuesday afternoon. The workers have been impatiently awaiting the arrival of materials and doubtless there will be a large attendance at the clinic Thursday and at Guild hall next Tuesday.

Make Annual Visit—Dr. B. W. Carey, medical director of the child health division, of the Children's Fund of Michigan, and Miss Marian Cummings, statistician for the fund, are on their annual visit of appraisals of the fund's health units, and spent yesterday at the Northern Michigan Children's clinic. Woman's Chorus Sponsors Benefit For Red Cross

The Marquette Woman's chorus is giving a concert at 8:30 Sunday afternoon in the auditorium of the Northern Michigan College of Education. It is a Red Cross benefit and the committees have arranged to have an exhibit in the foyer, special and distinctive decorations, and an unusually fine program, which will be published on this page Saturday.

Much interest and enthusiasm have been created among those who have heard the rehearsals by the four piano numbers. Two grand pianos on a stage provide rather an impressive sight and four of them become downright spectacular.

Are Popular Compositions
There will be two groups of four-piano music. The first will include "Andante" and "Scherzetto" by C. Chaminate, and "Valse" by Anton Arensky.

In the second group are: "Donkey Serenade" from Rudolf Friml's "Fire-fly," and "Dark Eyes," a paraphrase on a Russian gypsy song, by Gregory Stone.

This is the first time four-piano numbers have appeared on a Marquette program and the announcement has awakened much pleasurable anticipation among musicians. The pianists will be Mrs. Elmer Smeberg, Mrs. Tom Graff, Mrs. Roy A. Williams and Miss Ruth Sinclair.

The concert will begin promptly at 8:30. Tickets may be purchased any time this week at the Boucher drug store or at the box office Sunday afternoon. All talent and work connected with the venture is given without pay and all proceeds from the concert go to the Red Cross.

Phil Stong, In His Latest Novel, 'The Iron Mountain', Relates Lusty Story Of Missabe Range

Phil Stong has many books for adult and younger readers to his credit but probably none will have more interest for readers of this region than his latest novel, "The Iron Mountain" which is available at the Peter White Public Library.

It is a story of the Missabe iron range and seems to be, for the most part, an authentic picture of life along the range in those lusty days.

Many iron mining towns had boarding houses similar to the one Stong describes in the opening page of his story:

Had Food and Shelter
"The Iron Mountain house was a barn for men, but it was a clean barn and a warm one; though the fodder was simple it was good and plentiful. The House was an un-painted frame, nearly 200 feet long and a third as wide, two stories, two gables the single windows in the gables at each end were the only deviations from strictly economical and utilitarian architecture. . . . On the first floor, there were doors at both sides of the lobby, dining room and kitchen and an extra door from the parlor of the owners' two-room apartment.

"The interior arrangement was almost as simple. The lobby ran the width of the building, though it was shallow; the dining room took up most of the floor except for a small inset where the Heibergs lived; a door at one corner ran into a four-seat toilet and bath; this was walled off from the kitchen which occupied the remainder of the end of the house. There was only one stair; this was in the dining room. Its landing cut to the middle of the building where there was a long and rather narrow aisle between the two stalls; that is to say, the little cubicle bedrooms where the roomers slept."

Was Rather Typical
The description with inner differences might have been used to describe many boarding houses on the range, only all were not as well kept as that run by Marta and Waino Heiberg.

Thirty men ate and lodged there and twenty additional ones ate their meals at the Iron Mountain house. There were a cross-section of the range population and formed a regular melting pot of America. The Finnish Heibergs were assisted by Lucia Toronucci, the exceedingly attractive Italian girl who picked and chose the men she liked, and was thinking seriously of the fact that it was getting time that she married.

In the kitchen of the Iron Mountain house, Marta and Waino and Lucia gossiped naively and happily about the doings of the men. In the dining room and the lobby the 50 or more men visited, ribbed each other with high good humor, played cards, while away the time during their hours of leisure, and between while went down to Duluth or Minneapolis for a binge.

When they were working at top pitch there was little trouble. When work slowed down there was apt to be friction. Came the 'Menace'
And then came a letter that brought news destined to turn the world of the Iron Mountain House quite topsy-turvy.

Marta's niece, Ekaterine Skoroni, ski, sent a cablegram from Liverpool that she planned to visit her aunt and uncle in America. Immediately there was heated discussion as to how it could be arranged to lodge Ekaterine, and the solution was a somewhat bizarre one to say the least.

On the day of Ekaterine's arrival Marta and Lucia went to the depot to meet her. They had been prepared for anything. "A good many immigrant wives came into Biora at one time and another and most of these were almost hopelessly addicted to the European habits of petticoats and shapelessness, but if Ekaterine wore a petticoat it had been designed by Renoir."

Men Became Rivals
Ekaterine was a dazzling blonde and with her coming there was plenty trouble in Biora. The Hoaglund brothers, Bull Ginnarsson, and all the other Swedes, Owe Craikie, the little Cousin Jack; Ivarsson, a Norwegian; Chief Fire-writer, an Assinibolin Indian; the Slav, Muta Jaroslawski; Ryan, the range mine watchman; Horace

Sturges, the mining engineer and dynamite specialist, and all the other men in the boarding house stared at Ekaterine that night, and each, in his own way, decided she was a menace to their placid and comfortable days. The Slav and the Swedes immediately lined up as suitors. Horace Sturges, who was engaged to the mine captain's daughter, was unmoved by Ekaterine's charms, but recognized their potent effect on the men.

His expectations were fully realized and there were as a result, a few fights, a few corpses, two marriages, and quite an exciting time was had by all.

Stong's style is no more pindling and reticent than was life on the range. He shows a lusty sense of humor in his delineation of the characters of Sturges, Ryan, and James Mansfield, the mine captain. You may think that Stong goes a bit too imaginatively romantic in his characterization of the beautiful Lucia and Ekaterine, but maybe they were as gorgeous. This reviewer wouldn't know never having lived in the Iron Mountain hotel on the Missabe iron range. It can't be denied, though, that the volume is something of a gallery of types common to any mining region in the north; and the author does give a graphic picture of life in those small mining towns, and the rambunctious demonstrations put on by the men when they aren't busy mining.

And the book, like the men it portrays, has back of even the serious situations, an echo of robust laughter.

Dancing Star Gives Hints on Exercises

Speaking of streamlining beauty techniques—singing and dancing star Lois January has a sequence of exercises which slice the daily dozen time nicely, says Alicia Hart. By doing these for just 10 minutes per morning, she says, she manages to keep peace between herself and her shadow.

The shadow is important. Lois starts her routine by taking a shadow test. She stands in front of a neutral-colored wall, a strong light behind her and observes her figure. Any bulges, any heaviness or padding on the arms, thighs, midsection?

"It's the most exacting test and the quickest challenge you can find," she told me. "Mirrors flatter us by reflecting the becoming color of our skin. Shadow tells the simple truth about our actual lines."

Show Weight Quickest
The silhouette wisdom of this popular star of the screen, the radio, and now Broadway's "High Kickers," is first-hand experience stuff. Lois is just five feet four inches tall; every extra pound shows. And she wasn't born slim. In six months she took off 20 pounds. She did it with diet supervised by a physician, and exercise.

"I took both to get the extra weight off," she reported, "and it takes conscientious exercise to keep them off."

Her exercises will keep the right-sized woman fit and supple too. They go like this:
Sit on the floor with knees straight, legs extended, well apart. Raise your arms in front of you, elbows stiff, to shoulder height. Now bend the knees as far as possible, letting arms stretch and push between feet, trying to make your head touch the floor. Return to position, and repeat. Continue for three minutes.

Now stretch on the floor. Lying flat on your back, arms extended at sides, straight out from shoulders, knees straight and feet together. Bend the left leg up till the knee touches the chest, and again S-T-R-E-T-C-H. Keep the right foot on the floor, toe pointing.

Then return to original position and reverse, bending right leg up and stretching. Continue for about three minutes. You will feel this flattening your tummy.

All-Over Pull Exercise
Last is the all-over pull, in two parts. Stand with feet about 18 inches apart. Raise arms straight overhead and lock the thumbs together. Then reach and stretch with every inch of your stature. Now lean to the left, letting hands unlock and swing, freely. Return to upright stretching position, and reverse, bending to the right.

Repeat five times and try the second half. Stretch hands aloft and stretch as in the foregoing, and bend to the left. But this time clasp the ankle with the hands and bring head down to touch the left knee. Come up to original position slowly, keeping knees straight all the while. Reverse, bending right. Repeat five times. This, four minutes.

That last one is strenuous, I'll admit. But the routine that cuts your workout time and remains effective, naturally must be done with some ginger.

Lois maintains a quick rhythm easily because she's trained to it in dancing on the stage. And there is a cue to any woman who finds it difficult to develop a good, swift pace. Try it with music which has a fast-enough rhythm. It will carry you along and make the routine more pleasant.

Allied To Style

Molyneux designed this pink and gray sports ensemble stressing jersey tweed, which is jersey but looks like tweed. The blouse is pink rayon linen. The skirt, with ginkered fullness below broad waistband, is of Dutch inspiration, and typifies how, in his spring collection, Molyneux works in details symbolic of the various Allied powers. This hat is pink felt with a brown veil.

VIVID PRINTS ACCENT
Blouses and matching turbans of vivid prints will give color and dash to your plain dark suit. A New York specialty shop displays them in hand-blocked, hand-screened rayon crepe in splashing tropical flowers or paisley print. Blouses have flattering deep neckline, full sleeves, turbans wrap snugly and flare skyward atop the pompadour.

HATS IN SHAPE
Getting your hat rained out doesn't necessarily mean that it will have to be immediately re-blocked. Just be sure that it is dried slowly at room temperature away from artificial heat, also that it is not crammed into a crowded shelf or hatbox. Push out dents, let it dry slowly, brush it with the nap, then shape it to its original form.

Jacobsen.

The formal program ended with the singing of "Star Spangled Banner" by the assembly, and was followed by a social hour.

The St. Patrick's day motif was emphasized in the decorations of the table with its shamrock centerpiece, and candlestick bases, tablecloth and napkin, repeating the favorite leaf of Ireland.

The hostess committee included Mrs. Al Jacobson, Mrs. Art Lemieux, Mrs. James Malloy, Mrs. Dave Lupton, Mrs. Sam Metheral, Mrs. Art LaRue, Mrs. Julia Dahlstrom and Mrs. Hjalmer Peterson.

Ten Teams Entered In District Pre-Basketball Meet In Ishpeming

Soo, Mathers, County Fives In Class 'B'

ISHPEMING, March 2—Ten teams entered in the district high school basketball tournament at Ishpeming March 12, 13 and 14.

They are: Class B—Sault Ste. Marie, Negaunee, Munising, Marquette and Ishpeming.

Class D—Brimley, Eben, John D. Pierce (Marquette), McMillan and St. Paul's, of Negaunee.

Because of five teams in each division, it will be necessary to have a "bye" in each, with two of the three lowest ranking teams meeting in a Thursday night game. The third would draw the bye and play one of the seeded teams on Friday, the winner of the preliminary game meeting the second of the seeded entries in the Friday program.

Drawings March 7

Two games in Class D will be played Friday afternoon, which will narrow the field down to the two finalists who will meet Saturday for the district title. Two Class B games will be offered Friday night, the winners to be paired in the Saturday finals for Class B honors.

Drawings will be held at 10:30 Saturday morning, March 7, in Room 100 of the high school and all competing schools are invited to have representatives present.

John Sartoris, of Bessemer, will be the head tournament official, assisted by George Ruwiteh, of Escanaba, and John Dedo, of Ironwood. Officials will be assigned to games by Lot. C. J. Chari and Claude Farrell, of the high school faculty, will be, respectively, scorer and timer.

Reserved Seats

The south and west bleachers will be reserved for students, and the north bleachers for adults. All adult seats will be reserved for the evening session, reservations permitted by mail if accompanied by remittance. Telephone reservations will also be accepted, but for only one game at a time. No season tickets will be available.

The ticket office will be open Thursday and Friday, March 12 and 13, from noon until 5 in the afternoon, and on Saturday, March 14, from 9 a. m. to noon for the accommodation of those who wish to buy seats in advance.

Ted Williams Sought Draft Deferment

By Jay Vessels

ST. PAUL, March 3—P—Col. J. E. Nelson, chief of the state draft setup, "just to keep the records straight," today summoned reporters to emphasize, he said, that Ted Williams, Boston Red Sox slugger, had sought draft deferment for the benefit of his recently divorced mother.

Col. Nelson made the announcement after Herbert W. Estrem, Government appeal agent for Minneapolis draft board No. 6, had related in a newspaper interview how Williams had not pressed his case and that he (Estrem) had investigated the case on his own initiative.

The object of discussion—Master Ted, himself—meantwhile was packing to leave for Sarasota, Florida, Red Sox training camp presumably dreaming of plans to pick up his 406 championship batting pace where he left off last fall, rather than of the conflict of opinion prevailing at his winter residence.

Says He Made No Appeal
Today Ted was not making a motorizing to Sarasota, but the ball player appeared unexpectedly at his Minneapolis hotel early tonight and left shortly afterward for Princeton, 50 miles north of Minneapolis, where he has been wintering. He said he might "leave by train tonight or by automobile tomorrow" for Sarasota.

Asked about the appeal, Williams said: "I did not make a formal appeal to the President or anybody else. I went with my attorney to Mr. Estrem and asked for a clarification. I explained my status and that I originally had been in 3-A." Ted's attorney was out of range. He enlisted in the Navy. So the post mortem talk was mostly within the selective service system.

Col. Nelson has not figured publicly in the case by which Williams' rating was changed last week from Class 1-A to Class 3-A and eligible to at least start slugging out a reported $30,000 contract with the Red Sox. At that time, Williams said he had nothing to do with the decision and merely had made a routine report.

Sets Record Straight

Then, today, came the stories describing Estrem's part and quoting the appeal agent that he acted not altogether because of any action by Williams but rather because of fear that his mother's welfare might be endangered by Williams' loss of income. He said Williams, five months ago, had as much cash as the average 23-year-old getting $35 a week.

In setting "the record straight," Col. Nelson said that Williams' attorney had conferred with him and was assured that nothing could be done unless Williams personally asked it. Thus, he said, the routine was for the attorney to notify Williams who in turn notified the appeal agent (Estrem). Then, by schedule, the agent had to clear the case through Col. Nelson. This therefore conformed with technical requisites that Williams himself apply for deferment.

A large proportion of the customers, orders and commodities handled by many distributors are unprofitable.

Tokle Soars To Set Ski Record

Torger Tokle (above), famed Norwegian skier from Brooklyn, N. Y., soars in midair as he set the American ski jump record at Iron Mountain, Mich., with a leap of 288 feet. The jump exceeded by one foot the American record Tokle made at Snoqualmie ski bowl near Seattle a year ago.

Sentinels Set for Clash With Chiefs Here Tonight; Playoffs Start Next Tuesday

Marquette's Sentinels will return to action in their final scheduled home game of the season here tonight against the Painesdale Chiefs, who are determined to gain revenge for one of several beatings handed them this winter by the new champions. The opening faceoff will be at 8:15.

Although Painesdale has had its ups and downs (mostly downs), every team in the Northern Michigan circuit has plenty of respect for the scrappy bunch of Chiefs from the Copper Country, who usually carry the fight all the way and bow down only to the greater manpower of their opponents.

Painesdale has the reputation of being the fightin'est sextet in the league, with all due respects to the Soo Indians, who specialize more in verbal warfare. The Chiefs will furnish plenty of battle tonight, that's sure, and the Sentinels will have to be on their toes for the duration to stave off a defeat.

Sentinels Have Troubles

Particularly is this true when one considers that the Sentinels have been having their troubles of late. They looked none too good in losing to the Indians, 7-2, here on Washington's birthday, and a week later in Sault Ste. Marie, they didn't look that good.

Whether the loss of Boots Kukuk via the Navy and Lloyd Hill via a leg injury has seriously affected the Marquette offense, by breaking up the forward lines, remains to be seen. At least, the Sentinels have not been at their best with Curly Brink and Joe Kusler filling in on short notice. Inductively, the players are about on a par but it takes

Matt Surkont May Be Cards' Find of Year

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 3—P—Outsider Horard Pollet, the young left-hander from Houston who is accepted as a sure-fire regular, Matt Surkont looks like the future book's best bet to be an important addition to the Cardinals' pitching staff this year.

Surkont, who has been playing professional baseball for five years, is rated by Manager Billy Southworth as a prospect to be compared to Bobby Feller.

He can throw just as fast a ball as Feller. Southworth says. He stands six feet one inch; weighs 200 pounds, and throws and bats right-handed.

Determined and confident of himself, Matt has been the center of attention at daily drills Southworth plans to use him in the opening exhibition against the Yankees Friday.

Surkont, a Pawtucket, R. I., lad who will not be 20 years old until June, was signed by a Cardinal scout at the age of 15. This was during the summer of 1937 and he was sent at once to the Rochester farm to get some knowledge of baseball life as a batting practice pitcher.

A fractured wrist cut short Surkont's chances in 1940, but after recovering he wound up with a great year at Decatur with a losing only five. Last year he pitched a seven-inning no-hitter for Rochester and finished with 10 victories against six defeats.

He's so fact he's still a bit wild at times. But when he gets control, predict the experts, he will be good for 20 major league victories a year.

Shoreland Major
The league-leading Orange Crushers bowed twice to Campbell's Fuels in a second-shift match on the Shoreland lanes Monday night. Longtime was high with 574, and Gustafson's 524 paced the Fuel boys. Bancroft took a pair from Clifton Hill, despite Robertson's fine 551.

In a third late match, the Golf club lost two to Central Cafes. Kooker's 551 for the Golf clubbers was high. Two-hundred scores were posted by Longtime, 224; Kooker, 210; Klinger, 214; Schmeltzer, 212, and Ellis, 225.

Elk's Women's Loop
Two-to-one triumphs were much in vogue in Elk's Women's league competition as the lassies of Cliffs Dow, Bancroft Dairy, Getz and the U. P. Beauty School posted victories by that margin.

Baseball Banter

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 3—(P)—Ford Frick, president of the National league, is giving up both his vacation and his customary tour of the training camps this year in order to visit military encampments in his role as liaison officer between baseball and the Government.

Greenberg In Morale Section
Sergt. Hank Greenberg is in the morale section at MacDill Field near Tampa and took an active part in getting the Cincinnati Reds out there for the entertainment of the soldiers on a recent night.

The Reds responded 100 per cent, both players and executives. . . . It is Greenberg, Paul Derringer and Bucky Walters held a three-cornered fanning bee on the public address system and Bucky ribbed Hank that it was he, Walters, and not Greenberg who hit a home run in the 1940 World Series. . . . Hank retorted Cincinnati had rigged up propellers to blow the ball over the fence and the soldiers whooped.

When Greenberg supervised the loading of players into trucks and waved goodbye as they rolled away afterward, some of the Reds had lumps in their throats.

Hutchinson Wears Spectacles
Ira Hutchinson, the St. Louis Cardinals' pitcher, is wearing spectacles for some of his training camp work as an experiment. . . . It is reported locally that Jimmie Fox, the Red Sox slugger, is withdrawing from the Jungle Golf club in which he sank considerable of his baseball earnings. . . . The Cincinnati Reds' sale of Ernie Lombardi to the Boston Braves was conditional, the condition being that if the catcher failed to come to terms or for any reason did not report at camp the deal would be off. . . . Bill McKechnie now weighs more than 200 pounds, about 20 over-weight.

More Pills for Cards
The Cardinals, who made vitamin tablets popular among baseball players last spring, have brought 12,000 pills to camp this spring, but also are promoting a new form of arch support for players. . . . The pitching machine which the Redbirds introduced for batting practice a couple of years ago has been adopted by three or four other clubs. . . . Inventors may soon be forming a line outside Branch Rickey's door. . . . Baseball people in arms against Texas League President Alva Gardner's suggestion that Judge Bramham's post as boss of the minors be abolished and one magnate pointed out that it was Gardner who led a successful movement two years ago to boost Bramham's $5,000 salary to $30,000.

In recent years more than 10 per cent of the total retail trade in the U. S. has been generated in connection with motor vacation travel.

HOLD EVERYTHING! On hand a note from Paul Martin, the tennis professional from Troy, N. Y., who says quite frankly that Marquette's rising young stars, Bill Mikulich, Dale Rank, Frank Frei, et al, really have a great chance to go somewhere in tennis. Martin gave public and private lessons here for six weeks last season and says he'll be back again this summer, with his term starting on July 27. "I know the Marquette bunch is the best I've ever worked with," he writes. "I have them set for a few tournaments, and if we can just get our share of the breaks, we'll have a couple of Marquette boys with a western ranking and maybe a national one, too. I really mean it."

The mailman also brought a card from cheerful Len Padock, ex-publicity man at Northern Michigan, who is currently attending the school of hard knocks in Uncle Sam's Army and hoping for a slap at a Jap. Len enlisted in the medical corps and is stationed at Camp Robinson near Little Rock, Ark., for an eight-week basic training course. Excerpts from Padock's note: "The medical unit here has a fine basketball team. . . . I miss the sports sheet of the Daily Mining Journal, but Charles Hedgecock has promised to send me all the dope about Northern basketball. He put in a good word for the 503rd company, state troops.

Add Iron Mountain ski meet: For the statistically-minded, here's the picture of the record-smashing in each class at Iron Mountain Sunday—

(1) Tokle's 288 broke his American record of 287 set at Snoqualmie, Wash., and Alf Enger's 267 Pine Mountain hill record, both set in 1941.

(2) Ralph Bieltla's 261 broke the national Class C record of 225 feet he set at Ishpeming in 1941.

(3) Leonard Bieltla's 238 cracked the national senior class mark of 227 set by Ingvar Arneson, New London, Wis., at Ishpeming in 1941.

(4) The 258 posted by Ralph Thorsen, Chicago, and John Zoberski, Ironwood, broke the national Class B record of 240 set by Jim Running at Iron Mountain in 1940 and tied at Iron Mountain by Bob Riley, of Coleraine, Minn., last season.

Tokle covered himself with glory in more ways than one. He not only won Class A in a breeze but he copped the long standing and, by scoring 151.08 points out of a possible 160, he was judged the most graceful rider.

And now the inside story of Pine Mountain, as reported by Buck Erickson, Iron Mountain News scribe, who did a bangup publicity job on the meet: The consensus of the riders, Buck said, was that Pine Mountain is a 270-foot hill requiring plenty of digging at the bottom of the landing to make it capable of 300-foot jumps. That's the next project for the energetic Iron Mountain promoters, who already have made a "mountain out of a mole hill."

Torger Tokle said frankly that he figured he had outjumped the hill by 19 feet and actually was plenty scared when in mid-air on that record-making leap. "It scared the hell out of me," Tokle said after the meet. "I thought I was going to land in the transition."

To help to prevent the possibility of a rider overjumping the hill and landing in the flat or in the transition, 10 feet was taken from the end of the take-off before the meet started. The only thing left for Iron Mountain promoters now, 'tis said, is to lengthen the landing, put the 10 feet back on and let this man Tokle really open up.

Financially, the meet fared better than ever before, although there were plenty of non-cash customers filtering through the woods across the sking terrain east of the jump and elsewhere. Up to Monday afternoon, receipts totaled $7,648.69, or about $1,000 more than was reported through tournament day last season.

Nelson Aims To Top Ben Hogan's Record
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 3—(P)—Byron Nelson, the tall Texan now affiliated with a Toledo, Ohio, club, has levelled his golfing sights on Ben Hogan's record of finishing in the money in 56 successive tournaments.

As Nelson and two score other top flight pros tuned up for the $5,000, 72-hole St. Petersburg open which starts tomorrow, Fred Corcoran, PGA tournament director, disclosed that Nelson already has been a money winner in 30 straight meets.

Stocks of tires in the hands of distributors totaled 6,502,000 units on January 1, the Department of Commerce reports.

Indianapolis Baseball Park Damaged by Fire
INDIANAPOLIS, March 3—(P)—A fire caused $6,000 damage to Victory field, the recently-renamed stadium of the Indianapolis Indians, late today. Assistant Fire Chief Roscoe McKinney said the concession stand was destroyed and a hole was burned in the roof behind home plate.

The 12,000-seat brick and concrete structure, built in 1931, is one of the largest and most modern in the American association. Albert Schlessler, secretary of the baseball club, said the loss was covered by insurance and the fire would have no effect on the opening of the baseball season April 16.

Hurons Elect Captains
YPSILANTI, Mich., March 3—P—Michigan Normal's basketball team today elected Ralph Chapman, Grosse Pointe, and Al Greenwood, Toledo, Ohio, co-captains for the 1942-43 season. Greenwood is a former all-city prep center from Toledo Woodward.

Marquette, Negaunee Eagles Play Cribbage

NEGAUNEE, March 3—The Negaunee Eagles and the Marquette Eagles will meet at 8 Thursday night in a cribbage match in the lodge rooms of the Negaunee Aerie.

"Moose" LaCombe, champion "flyer" of the Negaunee aerie, has made arrangements for lunch and refreshments which are to be paid for by the Marquette Eagles. Thus far this season each lodge has won a match.

Mathers End Cage Season Friday Night

MUNISING, March 3—What has Negaunee got that Munising hasn't? If anything, it probably will come to light Friday night when the Miners come here for a basketball game with the "Papermakers." While that affair will begin at 8:15, fans may begin pouring into Mathers gymnasium at 7 to witness a spirited preliminary battle between the reserve teams of the two schools.

A few weeks ago Coach Red Sudegen's outfit put blunders on the Munising lads and beat them, 34 to 27. Coach Bob Villeneuve is polishing up a set of blunders of his own design this week to fool the Marquette county youngsters.

Pessimism which engulfed supporters of the Mathers until mid-season disappeared five weeks ago when the Orange and Black squad developed a winning complex which Manistique, Newberry, Baraga (of Marquette), Graveraet (likewise of Marquette) and Sault Ste. Marie were unable to prescribe for.

Unless Negaunee coaching alchemists have improved upon the dope they administered to the Mather lads last month, it may be that the Munising aggregation will complete its season with another triumph.

Friday night's game will be the last for Munising before the district tournament in Ishpeming.

St. Joseph Quint Tops Baraga, 31-17

ESCANABA, March 3—(Special to the Mining Journal)—Baraga Parochial stood up for one period against the strong St. Joseph quintet, of Escanaba, but then faltered badly as the home team went on to win an easy 31 to 17 triumph.

Debooked at 7:47 at the end of the first eight minutes of play, St. Joe went into the lead and had things well under control the rest of the way, outscoring Baraga 8-1 in the second quarter, 9-5 in the third and 7-4 in the finale.

Joran, St. Joe forward, topped the scorers with three field baskets and a like number of charity tosses. His mate, Dufour, was second high with six points.

St. Joe had a 15-8 lead at half-time.

Series of International Ice-Boat Races Planned
HAMILTON, Ont., March 3—(AP)—If ice conditions permit, a series of international ice-boat races will be held March 7 and 8.

Detroit and Chicago are expected to send 20 to 30 boats to the meet.

High wages, scarcity of labor, and good prices for agricultural products have stimulated use of power on New Zealand farms.

Tigers Refuse To Agree To Pay Demands

LAKELAND, Fla., March 3—P—The Detroit Tigers, currently engaged in their bitterest holdout battle on record, today admitted indignity on the part of some of the dissenters, but the club is standing firm in its take-it-or-leave-it mandate.

General Manager Jack Zeller disclosed today that one of the bargaining ball players has a personal manager, while another's correspondence is attended to by an attorney. There are nine unsigned players.

"The trouble is," declared Zeller, "that these players do not seem to realize the country is at war."

Zeller, the big Texan who has full authority in Detroit's baseball affairs while Club Owner Walter O. Briggs devotes his attention to war industries, made it clear today that a lighter pay roll was made necessary by the prospect of a decline in baseball revenue because of the war.

Made No Money on Baseball
"Mr. Briggs did not go into baseball to make money," Zeller declared. "He never has taken a dollar out of baseball and he never intends to take one. What profits the club showed at the end of the first five seasons he put back into salaries, bonuses and improvements. If the club makes money this year he will do the same."

When the club slashed its 1941 payroll, reputedly the largest in baseball history, it threw the playing talent into a tremendous turmoil. Normally Detroit's salary affairs are ironed out before the team reaches camp.

Now with practice sessions in the second week the Tigers have nine holdouts. Pitchers Bobo Newsom, Paul Dizzy Trout, Johnny Gonsica and Luther "Bud" Thomas, Catcher Billy Sullivan, First Baseman Rudy York and Outfielders Barney McCosky, Rip Radcliff and Roger Cramer.

Wakefield Agrees to Terms
The latest to enter the fold is Dick Wakefield, former Michigan collegian, who agreed to terms reported to be $600 a month if he plays with Beaumont, of the Texas league, and half that figure if he goes back to Winston-Salem, of the Piedmont league, where he batted .300 last year.

The Detroit mound corps has been increased by Earl Cook, right-hander from Buffalo and Knoxville, who belatedly received permission to cross the border from his home at Stoffville, Ont.

Cold weather and rain has delayed the Tiger workouts this week, but Manager Del Baker plans to stage the first camp game on Thursday. The Tigers open their exhibition series March 13 with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Western Michigan Cager Rums Point Total to 400

KALAMAZOO, Mich., March 3—P—Two Western Michigan College basketball scoring records were broken last night, but the Broncoes, concluding their season, fell before Indiana State Teachers, of Terre Haute, 49-46, for a second time this year.

Harold Gensichen, sensational sophomore forward, bagged 17 points to run his season total to 400 for 20 games, and Western Michigan, in winning eight of 20 games, tallied 1,002 points, an average of 50 per game. Both were new school records.

Indiana State had a lead of 47-33 midway in the final period, but Western Michigan rallied only to fall short of victory. The Indians won the first game at Terre Haute, 51-45.

Republican Leaders To Meet Friday

ISHPEMING, March 3—Plans for the party's ward caucuses and city convention will be made at a meeting of the Republican city committee at 7:30 Friday evening in the offices of Herbert J. Potter.

Plans also will be discussed for an active campaign preceding the April election. Leaders of the party said this afternoon that an active campaign will be carried out, regardless of opposition.

"This is not," said a spokesman, "a question of whether we allow opposition to prod us into activity, but a mandate of the times. There is too much public inertia to responsibility, too much of an attitude of 'let George do it.'"

"We must get and keep our local house in order before we can claim any part in assisting to put the national house in order."

"Many have noted, too, the feeling that the war-time effort is an excuse for brushing aside responsibilities in our municipality.

"Hence, our campaign, aside from political issues involved, will be one of stressing responsibilities of citizens and of those who seek public office, to help keep alive a sense of obligation to the duties and an awareness of the privileges of citizenship."

Ski Tourney At Baby Lake For Juniors

ISHPEMING, March 3—The improved Baby Lake ski slide at the winter sports area will be the scene of a three-class jumping tournament at 2 Saturday afternoon, Al Quaal, activities chairman of the Winter Sports club, announced this afternoon.

Class B will be for boys 14 and 15 years old, Class A for those 16 and 17 years and the Senior division for those 18 and over. There will be five prizes in each division. This is not to be confused with the Teal Lake tourney, Saturday's event will be on Baby Lake slide, which permits jumps of 100 feet.

Ski club officials have given assistance in conducting these meets as it is from the junior ranks that future ski club riders are graduated. At least half a dozen boys now registered as Class C riders for tournament competition get their start on junior hills in tournaments sponsored by the Winter Sports club.

Boys are asked to register before Saturday noon at Eman's Shoe store or at the winter sports clubhouse. Numbers will be assigned at 1:30 at the clubhouse and riders are asked to call there for tourney numerals.

The Baby Lake slide has been materially improved since last year.

fighter craft. Sixty enemy planes were observed at one time.

Two more Japanese transports of 10,000 and 8,000 tons, respectively, were squarely hit and a Japanese tanker was sunk by a submarine to bring known enemy losses to 30 warships and other vessels sunk or damaged.

As this Allied action against the enemy's sea trains went on it was reported that only five ships remained afloat of an original enemy force of 12 which had carried the invaders ashore at Rembang in northeast Java.

Reports of Armada Unconfirmed

There was no confirmation here of reports from abroad of the approach of any new Japanese invasion fleet, nor was there any indication of any fresh landing anywhere on Java.

The known Japanese landing forces (said in London reports to number 85,000 to 100,000) were last reported in this position:

One column, trying to advance from beachheads on Indramajoe bay, west Java, stalled 30 miles from Bandoeng;

The second column, about 85 miles west of the Soerabaya naval base in east Java after an advance from Rembang;

The third column, in the Bantam district of westernmost Java, 60 miles from Batavia, apparently having failed to make much progress inland.

Aid To Continue, Wavell Says

It was disclosed during Tuesday that General Sir Archibald P. Wavell, former supreme Allied commander in the southwest Pacific who now resumes the India-Burmese command, had left Java some time ago.

In his farewell to the troops he said: "The change of command will not mean any cessation of the flow of aircraft and other war materials for the defense of Java."

23 Warships Sunk—Tokyo

TOKYO—(From Japanese Broadcast)—March 3—P—The United States cruiser Houston was listed today among 23 United Nations warships claimed sunk by the Japanese in weekend naval clashes off Java.

Imperial headquarters said another U. S. cruiser of the 9,650-ton Houston class, reported sunk earlier in the Java sea, has now been identified as the Augusta.

Against these losses, a naval headquarters spokesman said the sole damage to Japanese warships was one destroyer slightly damaged.

(The Japanese figures, out of all reasonable proportion, were in sharp contrast to official Dutch announcements of 27 enemy warships and transports sunk or heavily damaged. The Dutch acknowledged loss of two cruisers and two destroyers.)

Besides the Houston, the Japanese claimed these cruisers were sunk over the weekend: 8,390-ton

Food Merchants To Meet Tonight at 7:30

ISHPEMING, March 3—All food merchants of the city are asked to attend an important meeting at 7:30 Wednesday evening in the men's lounge of the Mather Inn.

Several matters of interest to the trade will be brought to the attention of the merchants, the committee in charge said today.

Food merchants have been working in close cooperation for the past several months and it is expected that the meeting will be well attended.

Enemy Supply Lines Open To Flank Attack

Tokyo that when the ships and planes are available, the China sea gateways from the Pacific offer the most alluring chances of quick breaching of the Japanese conquest front.

Extend Hold On Philippines

General MacArthur reports fresh Japanese incursions in Mindanao. The Japs already are planted at Davao on the southeastern extremity of that island. Zamboanga, at the southwest tip, has now been seized. At least two other Philippine ports have been bombed from the sea, suggesting further landings; but neither was named. Presumably they are in the southern area and mean establishment of other new enemy bases to guard the southern flank of Japanese China sea-Hava sea communication lines.

That the new move in the Philippines is of great strategic importance in Japanese eyes is certain. MacArthur has been bypassed to achieve it. Air power and naval and merchant shipping which could be ill spared from the effort to capture Hava was assigned to the Mindanao operations. It is a recognition of the potential danger to the whole Japanese conquest concept which the Pacific gateways to the China sea must always represent.

Students To Raise Funds To Buy War Materials

LANSING, March 3—(AP)—Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, superintendent of public instruction, appointed himself treasurer of a state-wide high school movement to raise funds to purchase war materials for the armed forces.

He acted after receiving for this purpose a $104 check from the senior class of Milford high school.

"If some of our adults had the enthusiasm of these kinds," said Dr. Elliott, "we'd get some place in a hurry."

He said free-will contributions and revenues derived from benefit shows, candy sales and other such fund-raising enterprises would provide money enough "possibly to buy a machine gun or some other weapon."

STUDENT STRIKE ENDS

HOLLY, Mich., March 3—P—A strike of Holly high school pupils for a student council that would afford them self-government in matters of discipline ended today with the return of the youngsters to classes.

Miss Mabel Bensett, their principal, explained to the student body that a representative assembly already constituted amounted to the same thing they were seeking.

bomb hits by split-second maneuvering," the Navy related.

"The leading bomber of this group attempted a crash landing on the carrier and was shot down by heavy close-range anti-aircraft fire when barely 100 yards from its objective."

In the second attack, the Navy continued, only five enemy bombers reached the bomb release point. In the two attacks two American fighter planes were lost. The pilot of one was recovered.

The communique said that despite the severity of the Japanese attack there was no damage to the American surface forces.

The attacks, the Navy continued, occurred late in the afternoon and were timed about one-half hour apart.

Mother 'Proudest in Land'

ST. LOUIS, March 3—P—Lieut. Edward H. O'Hare, credited in a Navy announcement tonight with destroying six Japanese bombers in one day during offensive action with the U. S. Pacific fleet, is the son of the late Edward J. O'Hare, nationally known horse and dog track operator, who was mysteriously slain on a Chicago boulevard in 1933.

The filer's mother, Mrs. Selma A. O'Hare, when advised at her home here of her son's feat, exclaimed: "I'm the proudest mother in the land. He always was crazy about airplanes."

O'Hare attended Western Military Academy at Alton, Ill., before entering the Naval Academy at Annapolis where he was graduated in 1937.

He received his flight training at Pensacola, Fla., and San Diego, Calif., and was commissioned a lieutenant in January, 1942. He is 28 years old and married.

City Workers To Attend Bond Meeting

NEGAUNEE, March 3—A meeting of all city employees, called for the purpose of increasing the amount of payroll deductions for defense bonds, will be held at 4 Wednesday afternoon in the council chamber in the city building.

The payroll deduction plan became effective in mid-February and deductions at the end of the month amounted to a little more than $30, or approximately one per cent of the total payroll for the last half of the month.

Must Answer Roll Call

All employees will be expected to answer a roll call at the meeting and those failing to attend will be docked the same as though they failed to work a whole day at their regular job.

W. J. Tamblin, defense bond sales chairman in Negaunee, has organized the sale of stamps in the schools and mines and is carrying on a campaign for payroll deductions in all business establishments employing five or more persons. He pointed out today that under the payroll deduction plan the purchase of stamps is not considered. It will be used only for the purchase of bonds.

Mayor Leslie W. Richards said city employees' deductions now are not sufficient to make the plan profitable and that continuance of the plan will depend upon increased participation.

Alien Registration Short of Expectations

NEGAUNEE, March 3—The deadline for alien registration passed last Saturday and Postmaster Peter Trudell, Jr., reported today that the registration was "not up to expectations." The actual number of registrants could not be revealed.

Trudell said that persons required to register, but who failed to do so, still may file the information at the postoffice, if they can give valid reason for being late. Persons who were ill during the registration period should present doctors' certificates, he said.

Hauserman Named Party Chairman

NEGAUNEE, March 3—John J. Hauserman has been elected chairman of the People's party, it was announced today.

Hauserman will guide the campaign of the party in the April election and is preparing for the city convention and ward caucuses to be held Monday evening, March 16.

Questioned as to the party's candidate for the office of mayor, Hauserman said the name of the nominee could not be announced until after the convention, but added that George Russell, who has been the party's nominee for the mayor's office the last two years, would seek the nomination again.

Regarding other offices, he said that to date no persons have announced their desire for the party nomination.

Hauserman, a resident of Negaunee since 1905, has not previously participated in city politics to any extent and has not been actively affiliated with any party.

States Party Principles

Referring to his selection as chairman of the People's party, Hauserman said:

"Before agreeing to serve as chairman of the People's party I made certain that the core of the party was good and found their chief aim was good clean politics, with no juggling or underhandedness to gain control or remain in office.

"I found the People's party composed of good, solid Americans, interested in clean businesslike administration of city affairs and who believed in nominating men for office who would have the

Why use more gas than you have to?
 If you haven't checked the gas consumption on your car within the last six months, better do it now. It's not unusual for an engine to lose forty per cent of its efficiency without the owner knowing it.

It takes an expert mechanic to find out just what's causing a loss of mileage. It might be the carburetor, the spark plugs, or perhaps your whole engine needs a tune-up.

That's what Buick Quality service does for you—finds out exactly what's wrong and sets it right quickly and reasonably. Give us a trial and we'll show you how to get more and better miles from your car.
