Тір-Тар Тар

ATLANTA, Ga., April 17-They A don't call them American Commandos, but that's what the men of the U. S. Marines' Amphibious Corps really are. These Marine landing parties, trained not for defense, but for slashing atlack, are virtually the same type of troops as the famed British Commandos. bashful pride to their amphibious organizations. Ever since the Presilent announced the state of limted emergency in 1940, the Marine Corps has been training special troops as an assault force. Today they're ready. These "American Commandos" are tough - make no mistake about it. They're trained in everything from jiu-jitsu to the tough-est major offensive. If the enemy doesn't want to play according to Marquis of Queensberry rules, then the Marines will play his way— only better. For close-in fighting, they're taught to use either razoredged knives or bayonets; they're taught to use knees, thumbs and feet if no weapons are left to them.

"There's nothing the British Commandos have that we haven't got," declares Major Meigs O. Frost, Marine Corps public rela-tions officer for the South. "In fact, a substantial share of Americanmade landing party equipment has been going in a steady stream to the British for many months."

Merchants of Sudden Death

Roughly, the Amphibious Force is divided into two organizations -the Atlantic and the Pacific Amphibious Corps. Included in each corps are sea soldiers, infantry, Marine aviation squadrons, Marine mechanized units and para-marines, as the Marine Corps parachute troops are called.

and then his mother asked him his opponent's name. "Never mind," said Pudge, "I'll take care of that guy myself." The incident, says his 83-year-old mother, is typical of Vice Ad-miral William F. Halsey, Jr., U. S. N., the Japs No. 1 American naval nemesis, who won the Dis-tinguished Service Medal and the tinguished Service Medal and the thanks of a nation for leading destructive sea and air raids on Japanese-held Wake, Marcus and Marshall and Gilbert Islands.

White-haired Mrs. Anne Masters Brewster Halsey, who lives here, was NOT astonished at "Pudge's" exploits.

"What can you expect?" she said "He grew up with the Navy. Admiral Halsey's father, the late Capt. W. H. Halsey, U. S. N., was at sea when the national hero was born 59 years ago at Elizabeth, N. J. It was three years before he got back and saw his son.

Farewell to Curls "I'll always remember that day,' the captain's widow said. "By that time William had long golden curls The first thing his father did when he got on shore was to take him to the barber's and have the curls cut off.'

Wililam Halsey, Jr., would have objected to golden curls anyway, Mrs. Halsey recalled with a touch of wistfulness, "because he was just like other little boys, although possibly a bit tougher." Admiral Halsey is descended from old American stock. On his maternal side, one of his ancestors is Elder William Brewster, who came over on the Mayflower and settled in Plymouth, Mass., where there is a family lot in the cemetery. On his paternal side, he is a descendant of Rufus King, one of the founders of Kings College, now Columbia University. As a youth, Billy circled the globe between stopovers in Elizabeth, traveling with his mother and sister, now Mrs. Reynolds Wilson, of Greenville, Del., to various points where his father was stationed.

Trucks Loses First Major League Start

ST. LOUIS, April 17- P - The "dark horse" St. Louis Browns stretched their winning streak to four straight today as they downed the Detroit Tigers, 7-6, to stay in a first-place tie with the Yankees.

Still dubious about the Brownles' improvement this year, only 4,956 cash customers turned out to see them in their opening home game.

Timely hitting off Virgil (Fire) Trucks, the starting Detroit hurler, and Charley Fuchs, who relieved him in the seventh, gave the Browns a 7-3 lead going into the eighth inning. Detroit rallied with three quick runs on a double, triple, two singles and a walk, but a double play with two on and none out cost them a chance to go ahead.

Bloodworth Hits Homer

Jim Bloodworth hit a home run for Detroit with one on in the fifth. With better luck the Tigers might have made the major league debut of the 21-year-old Trucks, 1941 International league strikeout king, a successful one. In the big St. Louis seventh frame, Roy Cullenbine's hit to left took a freakish hop past Barney McCosky for a damaging triple.

Then in the eighth Detroit rallied for three runs and had the tying marker on second base and the winning run on first with none out. Manager Luke Sewell, of the Browns, resorted to strategy and summoned southpaw Al Hollingsworth from the bullpen to pitch to Ned Harris, a left-hand slugger. After Harris twice had failed in his efforts to advance his two teammates with a bunt, Manager Del Baker substituted Don Ross at the plate with two strikes against him.

Ross hit into a fast double play, ending Rudy York to third base, but Eric McNair rolled out to retire the side.

Mass Assault

WASHINGTON, April 18 (Saturday)-(By A. P.)-The War and Navy departments had no confirmation immediately today on the Japanese announcement of bombing of Tokyo.

There was no indication of when a communique might be issued. It was pointed out that if the bombing was a long distance attack, the aircraft would take many hours to return to their starting point, and that reports would be unavailable until then.

Tokyo Worried About Raids

Tokyo officials, charged with protecting some 5,000,000 residents in a city where many of the houses are flimsily built, long have been worried about air attacks.

The capital has undergone air alerts when sighting its own planes because of this uneasiness and general expectation of attack. The people have been repeatedly warned to expect bombings. On March 4 when Marcus was attacked the Japanese warned the people Tokyo

IRON MOUNTAIN, April 17-Frank J. Molinare, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Molinare, of Norway, agriculture instructor in the Trenary high school, yesterday was recommended for appointment as Dickinson county agricultural agent to succeed the late Art Lonsdorf. The recommendation for Molinaire's appointment came after 74 Dickinson county farmers, in an advisory ballot, had voted 33 for Molinare, 35 for George D. Hurrell, Pontiac, who conducted a land-use survey here about two years ago, and six for Guy P. Williams, Hermansville high school agricultural instructor. Molinare was recommended despite the larger farmers' vote for Hurrell.

A Test Case

WHEN Federal Judge Raymond, considering the cases of three conscientious objectors, members of Jehovah's Witnesses, ruled that the court had no authority to review the decision of a local draft board, he deliberately set the stage for a test case. The defendants, charged with failure to reorder of a draft board, have appealed his decision to the circuit court of appeals.

If the precedent set by Judge Raymond is sustained by the appelate court, as we believe it should be, conscientious objectors week, over which controversy has been ragand others will not be able to appeal on the ing in both houses for months. It generalground of improper classification.

Judge Raymond has taken the position that the selective service act has provided the machinery necessary for appeal by making draft board decisions subject to re- els on all Governmental contractual work view of an appeal agent or board and, if necessary, by the President and that Con- the war labor board would serve as a megress did not intend that these decisions diation agency in labor disputes and a new be subject to review by the Federal courts.

The principal function of the Federal courts under the selective service program, Judge Raymond contends, is to review the cases of men under indictment for violating provisions of the act. But, he believes, review of the evidence does not extend to review of the reasons for the draft board or appelate board decisions. It would, because of the great burden that would be placed on the courts, be most unfortunate if these decisions were made subject to judicial review.

Inducement—Compulsion

Senator George, chairman of the Senate finance committee, has suggested that Federal income taxpayers be allowed to deduct from labor commission would be created to serve net income sums invested in a special type of war bond. These bonds would be non-transferable and when they were paid off the amount received would be taxable as income in the year in which the payment was made. Ellsworth C. Alvord, representing the United States Chamber of Commerce, suggested a similar plan to the House ways and means committee. He would permit a deduction limited to 20 per cent of net income from taxable earnings for investment in Government securities. These securities would be non-interest bearing and non-negotiable for the period of the war. They would become negotiable and bear two per cent interest after the war and would be redeemed in five annual instalments. Each of these plans offers an inducement

We Need Bit Of Toughening And Adult Education

(By MANTHEI HOWE)

Awhile ago a woman said confidentially: "I'm ashamed to confess it, but the war makes me afraid."

She thought she was all alone in being scared, and it seemed abnormal to her. Well, she has a lot of company. Practically every normal person has a tendency to be a bit scared at the idea of this country being in war. They have if they aren't dim-wits. For any intelligent person should know that a war is no joyous pink tea interlude with nothing to do but lounge around eating liced cakes and listening to sweet music.

We Don't Like Pain

Everybody has a momentary qualm if he thinks about being hurt (however you know you can go down your own cellar stair and fall and break your neck).

Clubhouse Was Crowded At Defense Meeting

For Men Only

The first meeting of the "De-fense Information series," held in the Federated Women's club at 7:30 Thursday night, was eloquent proof of the fact that people want to do something about civilian defense and want to know what to do. Both rooms of the clubhouse were filled to capacity with men and women who arrived promptly and listened attentively through out the meeting.

The program opened with an ex-planation of the setup of the Office of Civilian Defense and of the Volunteer office. Charts prepared and mimeographed by the committee in charge of the series were distributed. The chart showed the county council of civilian defense with its various ramifications of publicity, speakers and the protective and volunteer service divisions Under each division were sub-divisions and persons attending were given the names of the chairman of each group so those names might be written in and the person having the chart would know immediately which person to query for needed information.

Permanent Directory

Those given the charts were urged to save them and, as new appointments were made and the names appear in the Mining Journal, to fill in the spaces, so a com-plete, up-to-date directory would be available. Blanks for enrollment for com-nunity services and emergency programs, under volunteer activities, were passed out. Many women will be interested in the volunteer activities in which they can serve, such as: Health, nutrition, onsumer education, family security, child welfare, recreation, education, hospital services, library services, American Red Cross, salvage for victory, USO and armed forces, defense worker, defense bonds and programs in liaison with war relief oranizations. There are blanks in which other pertinent information may be given.

Work Is Good Cure

Attend all the defense meetings and don't merely sit there and listen, plan to take some active part in the work whether it is Red Cross First Aid, helping survey the town, becoming responsible for work with children, establishing a part-time pre-nursery school to release mothers of the children for defense work, arranging programs to raise money for defense projects.

Though we may not believe it, the fact remains that when we are busy we don't have time to be frightened. As one Marquette lad in the armed forces wrote back home after his first taste of fighting: "We were so busy we hadn't time to be frightened,"

That checks, too, with the reaction of the British people. Before the Nazis got so active with their raiding, the British people waited for something to happen and, as usual, when waiting they discovered that the anticipation was worse than the realization.

When they actually were bombed they became fighting mad and forgot about the war jitters. In fact, they surprised themselves and the world by the demonstration of courage they gave.

Americans will act much the same way, if, and when, the time comes that we get a taste of war on American soil, and near at lome.

Better Toughen Ourselves

Meanwhile we need to do something in the way of discouraging those jitters. The first thing is not to sit at home alone for fear we'll hear people talking about the war; not to turn off the radio for fear we'll hear war news. We might as well be realistic and recognize that we aren't going to hear too many nice things for the next year or two.

And it is time that we awaken from our ostrich-like paradise and lace the situation realistically. It is high time that we stop reading just the head lines in the paper and start on a self-motivated course for adult education and force ourselves to read the whole articles carefully, and to do some solid thinking.

So many of the headlines (because they cannot tell the whole story in six words) suggest only the content of the story, state what it is about. Often it is merely the suggestion of a Congressman for consideration of some action. but people, reading only the head-

City Council To Reorganize On April 23

ISHPEMING, April 17-Although there may be a change it is now planned to hold the reorganization meeting of the council Thursday afternoon, April 23, in the city council chambers.

Mayor John T. Johnson, who already has taken the oath of office, has been conferring with city officials and the Thursday date appears to be the most satisfactory.

One thing is certain. More applications are pending than at any time in recent years. The police force, it is believed, will attract the most applications because a vacancy exists as a result of the recent resignation of Charles Cowling who has taken a position with the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company.

Contests are shaping up for other offices.

The council will name a city attorney, engineer, health officer, police force, custodian of the city hall and others.

Mayor Johnson will give his inaugural address and will announce committee appointments.

Editor's Mail

From CIO Officer

Editor, Mining Journal: Mr. Henry Paull, treasurer of an independent union, has given the public a sample of his "two-bit" union by his signed articles in The Mining Journal.

I did go to Washington, D. C. with other delegates from this range, to represent labor at the wage and policy meeting, held by the Steel Workers' Organizing Committee. Where can the union you represent send you?

Your "two-bit" union "stoolpidgeons" did not get the true statements of the meeting our union's delegates attended and it really is none of their business.

Yes, Henry, the trip was fine and very educational. It certainly was an opportunity. You wouldn't be sore because you couldn't go along? Maybe you would refuse to go, or would you?

Of all the petty things I have seen was an officer of your union berating and nearly chastising a brother officer for neglecting to make out a check for two dollars and fifty cents ($2.50) for attending a meeting of your union.

By the way, Henry, do the officers of your union get paid for ev-ery meeting they attend; also get paid their wages in case of losing time to take up grievances, also 10 per cent (10%) of the two-bits for every three months membership for collection of the 25c dues?

Whoever is the instigator of your articles should get you your Old Age assistance, instead of letting you mess up things for the younger generation, who are not only fighting for their country but ISHPEMING, April 17-The Ish-peming Rotary club last night added its voice to that of the Ishpeming Industrial association in asking that the Chicago and North Western railway extend seven-day service on the streamliner "Peninsula 400" to Ishpeming. A representa-tive of the Industrial association brought the topic to the attention of the Rotarians.

Official announcement has been made by the railway that it has extended its seven-day service northward to Escanaba. The original northern terminal for the all-week service was Green Bay. The train does not now come into Ishpeming on Saturdays and, of course, there is no southbound service Sunday mornings.

Opinion was expressed that the volume of both freight and passenger traffic was sufficient to warrant serious consideration by the North Western of the request for

Tax Commission Opens Data to U. P. Authorities

LANSING, April 17- AP -- The state tax commission today opened to Upper Peninsula tax assessing authorities the data on which it will base its fixing of assessed valuations of Upper Peninsula mining properties.

The commission sent letters to the tax officials informing them the data has been assembled and will be available for study up to May 10, but that appointments to examine the material should be made in advance.

Some Upper Peninsula municipalities have criticized assessing methods employed by the commission.

35 Studying Radio in Soo; Tech Sponsor

HOUGHTON, April 17 - Under the direction of the Michigan College of Mining and Technology electrical engineering department 35 students are now taking a radio course in Sault Ste. Marie. Instruction began April 10, under James An assistant instructor Oswald. for laboratory work will be chosen Michigan Tech has been approv ed to sponsor in the Upper Peninsula courses of collegiate grade in any type of training required for the war effort. Particularly, the Army and Navy have asked colleges to train as many persons as possible in radio for both communication and detection purposes. Also industry requires people with radio knowledge to replace men now in armed services.

Use High School

The course at Sault Ste. Marie utilizes the high school building and calls for three hours per evening, three evenings a week, for 16 weeks. The work will be continued for another 16 weeks if authorized by the U.S. Department of Education. Requirements for admission are high school graduation, two years of mathematics and one year of physics. Sixty persons applied for the course. Interest is growing in other cities, but further enrollment awaits additional financing by the Department of Education. Michigan Tech employs the instructor, is loaning certain equipsent, and through Professor George W. Swenson is supervising the course in Sault Ste. Marie. He reports that the class is making ex- By Edmund Francott cellent progress.

THE STORY: Returning to Montreal from a summer resort, Myra Mack shares a train seat with Lieut. Nigel Monkhouse. They discover a mutual friend in Ferdy Lorton, artist, and a mutual admiration of a pretty girl aboard the train. Back at her stenographer's job Myra makes a business call, sees the pretty girl behind a desk.

Col. Flikke's A Lady; Heads Army Nurses

By LUCRECE HUDGINS Wide World Features Writer

WASHINGTON, April 17 - The Army's newest colonel stands feet 3 inches, has long gray hair, inned in a knot at the back of her ead, and wears skirts!

She is Julia O. Flikke, first and only woman colonel in our armed forces and the only colonel whose command is composed entirely of officers.

As head of the Army Nurses' Corps (every member of which holds a rank comparable to second lieutenant), Col. Flikke sits at her desk in the War department and pulls the strings which send a handful of Army nurses to Northern Ireland, another handful to Iceland, and still others to Australia, China, the Philippines.

"And the only way we know what happens to some of these said Col. Flikke as she time. Each man carries a canvas "ditty bag" connurses." studied the assignment sheets on taining his personal belongings. her desk, "is by listening to the radio.

Corps 10,000 Strong

The Nurses' Corps now has 10,-000 members, "We want 8,000 more by June," says the Colonel. 'After that it depends on the size of the Army."

Like all members of the armed forces, Col. Flikke must wear her two-toned blue uniform at all times while on duty and most of the time off duty. "But I'm on duty practically all the time," she admits. "I'm at my desk from 8 until 5 every day. When I get home I listen to the news reports, have dinner, and then I'm ready for bed."

She is very proud of the silver eagles which decorate her shoulders. They entitle her to a salute from every man and woman in the Army. "But, of course," she laughs, "it would be ridiculous to have everybody saluting all the time. We just don't do it."

The Colonel also wears on her lapel the Victory Ribbon which troit, and William Patterson, of she earned overseas in the last Kalamazoo, Mich., find they need war. It was just shortly before the "sea legs" to shave in the rocking World war, in fact that Julia train. Flikke took up nursing as a career.
