

Rostock And Other German Bases Pounded

By Drew Middleton

LONDON, April 27—(AP)—Heavy formations of British bombers and fighter planes smashed violently at German airdromes across the channel today, cutting away at Hitler's air strength and daring him to make good his threat of full-scale retaliation against these islands.

The day's raids, centered on Marlyck and Le Touquet, followed the fourth consecutive overnight attack on Rostock, German Baltic port from which German men and supplies go to the Russian front.

Rostock now lies blackened and seared by an aggregate of 1,600,000 pounds of British bombs.

The Hurricanes roaring across the channel this morning to these new attacks on the German semicircle of coastal airdromes saluted the big bombers returning from Rostock.

Early tonight it was stated authoritatively that in the day's offensive sweeps the British had shot down 11 German fighter planes and lost two bombers and 16 fighters.

Eagles Down Five Planes
The American Eagle squadron, in what was believed to be its sharpest fight yet, was credited with bagging five of the enemy craft, all of them Germany's new Focke-Wulf 190 "super-fighters."

Lille and Ostend were among the Nazi bases attacked.

So completely had the British seized the initiative in the air that the German high command was anxiously trying to decide where to use its newest fighter squadrons.

A reliable source with continental connections declared "a regular tug of war" was in progress among the Nazis over the disposition of 20 fresh fighter squadrons of about 360 planes which were raised and trained during the winter.

The army was said to be urging their use on the Russian front, with Reichsmarshal Goering insisting that at least five squadrons be used to bolster Nazi fighter forces in western Europe and the remainder as a protective force of night bombers in Germany.

The results of last night's great British assault were thus summed up by the air ministry.

Dunkerque Docks Bombed
Last night Rostock and the Heinkel aircraft works were attacked by a strong force of our bombers for the fourth night in succession. Fires started in earlier raids still were burning when the first aircraft arrived.

"Bombs were seen to burst in the Heinkel works where fresh fires were started."

Aside from the Rostock attack, the Dunkerque docks were bombed and mines were laid in enemy waters.

At home, British night fighters likewise were active against German raiders who were based on Baku, causing extensive local damage and fairly heavy casualties.

Four enemy bombers were destroyed overnight over British soil and several were damaged. Moreover, an enemy fighter was destroyed over the North sea and an enemy supply ship was hit and left aflame off the Danish coast.

In all night operations, three British bombers and one fighter were lost.

Discussing the grand pattern of the British offensive—attacks by night on German war industry and by day on German air bases—one authority declared:

Hitler Can't Retaliate
"Hitler couldn't fulfill his promises of blow-for-blow retaliation for our bombings now even if he dared leave the Russian front uncovered."

"The vital system of German airfields built in the summer of 1940 is being gradually smashed, and the German fighter force no longer commands the air above the continent."

Heretofore, it had been believed that Hitler could turn his main bomber force against Britain in two weeks simply by flying his bombers west from Russia to their old stations and sending ground crews along in transport planes.

But now, six weeks is accepted as the minimum time in which such major attacks could be mounted—and this would not take into account the peril to the Nazis of stripping the Russian front of warplanes.

The British offensive against continental bases is said by the independent Belgian news agency already to have forced the Nazis to move equipment and personnel to new hidden flying fields.

Reds Hope To Knock Finns Out of War

By William B. King

LONDON, April 27—(AP)—Russia's immediate hope of knocking Finland out of the war, thus uncovering the northern flank of the main German armies, rested tonight on a developing counter-offensive on the still frozen terrain of Lapland and Karelia in the eerie light of an almost continuous Arctic day.

There where the thaw had not yet set in, the Red army strove against Finnish troops and an intermingling of Germans while the main German armies still generally marked time in the slush and mud from Leningrad southward.

About 2,000 Finnish soldiers were reported to have fallen in the past week.

On this front, the lines of battle were reported to be drawn well inside the 1939 Finnish frontier, on territory gained by the Russians in their winter war with the Finns when Germany did not participate.

In Lapland, the Russians were reported to have launched an offensive as powerful as that which forced Finnish surrender two years ago. That campaign settled Russia's demand for bases on Finnish soil to shield the sea and land approaches to Leningrad, but when Germany attacked Russia last June Finland again went to war.

Gigantic Clash Imminent
The Lapland drive would serve particularly to ease the threat to Russia's Arctic ports of Murmansk and Archangel, gateways for help from the United States and Britain.

Other advice from Russia told of only minor engagements on the main Russian-German front, but Kuibyshev's atmosphere was electric with the possibility that any moment might send the world's two most powerful armies into general action.

Stockholm reports said the Russians had captured Borok, 20 miles southwest of the German stronghold of Novgorod, on the Leningrad-Kalinin sector of the front.

The Russians were said to have cut enemy links between Novgorod and the remnants of the trapped 16th German army at Staraya Russa.

London military experts said German positions north and south of Lake Ilmen on the same general front had been outflanked and that communications with the rear were threatened.

Canadians Approve Conscription

OTTAWA, April 27—(AP)—The Canadian government was given a free hand by plebiscite today to send conscripted soldiers outside the dominion and into battle anywhere in the world.

With only predominantly French-Canadian Quebec province dissenting, as expected, the electorate was shown by incomplete returns tonight to favor overwhelmingly the release of the Mackenzie King government from prior commitments to provide only domestic service for drafted men.

The Canadian Press announced flatly at 10 p. m., Eastern War time, two hours after the polls closed in the eastern provinces, that the prime minister's appeal for a free hand in the use of manpower had won out.

The vote in Quebec where the draft was violently opposed in the last war and where riots broke out in consequence, showed 339,329 negative votes to 109,596 affirmative in the first 2,795 polls reported out of 7,962.

The cry of "a has conscription" (down with conscription) was raised in recent disorders among the French-Canadian populace during campaign demonstrations.

In contrast to Quebec's opposition, Ontario province voted at the rate of 388,545 to 193,768 to release Mackenzie King from his previous commitments.

American Destroyer Sunk Off Florida

WASHINGTON, April 27—(AP)—The United States destroyer Sturtevant was sunk off Florida yesterday, the Navy reported today, but whether it fell victim of a Nazi submarine or an American mine was not determined.

A naval communique said simply that the 1,190-ton World War type ship was blasted by "an underwater explosion" and while it may have been torpedoed, as was the destroyer Jacob Jones off the New Jersey coast earlier this year, authorities speculated that it might equally well have struck a floating mine since there was no reported evidence of an enemy submarine in the vicinity.

Loss of life was small, the Navy declared, explaining that "most of the crew" reached an unidentified port in safety. The Sturtevant had a normal wartime complement of 145 to 150 officers and men.

Japanese 85 Miles East Of Mandalay

NEW DELHI, April 27—(AP)—Swift Japanese shock troops were reported by the British to have reached a point 85 miles directly east of Mandalay tonight in a powerful thrust from captured Loloien which gravely threatened the railway to Lashio, terminus of the Burma road.

Another version of the Salween front combat came from Chungking, where a Chinese command reported acknowledged that Colonel 120 miles southeast of Mandalay, fell Friday and said the Japanese had driven 72 miles to the east. Such a move apparently would be designed to encircle troops in southeastern Burma commanded by Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, U. S. A.

Endanger Allied Positions
(The two accounts, however, could mean that the powerfully reinforced Japanese had thrust two columns from Loloien, one east and the other north. Either would gravely endanger the whole Allied position in eastern Burma, the backdoor to China.)

The Chinese command said the invader reached Loloien after a drive from Hopong and then brought up large tank and plane supported reinforcements which thrust out-northward and toward the broad upper Salween valley to the east.

One column, it asserted, pushed to Kunming, 75 miles east of Loloien, another struck northeastward and reached a point south of Kongsing, and the third toward Mong Sung on the north.

(These towns do not appear on available maps, but may be the Chinese spelling of Kunming for Ken Hkam, which lies just west of the Salween, and Mong Sung for Mong Kung, 45 miles north of Loloien. The map does not show a

Concentrate on Airfields
The communique which told of the attack on Loloien and Bougainville said the Allies had concentrated on airfields in those places.

It also declared nine Japanese bombers with fighter escort had attacked Port Moresby, New Guinea, causing slight damage.

Aerial attacks on Corregidor in the Philippines were diminishing in intensity, the communique said, while American artillery "executed successful missions on enemy land concentrations."

Another communique, reporting on Saturday's aerial attack by the Japanese on Darwin, Australia, said 11 of the raiding planes were shot down while the invaders were kept so high that their 500-pound bombs did little damage to the principal objective, the airport.

FDR, 13,000,000 Others Register Under Draft Act

WASHINGTON, April 27—(AP)—The selective service finished registering the nation's oldest today, about 13,000,000 of them including one who, filling out his card, said he was blue-eyed, grey-haired, ruddy-complexioned and that his place of employment was the White House.

When the last local draft board had closed its registration book, the Government had a preliminary record of men who were 45 before February 16 and who had not reached 65 by today. To each it will send a questionnaire to find what non-combat war work he might do best if the need arose.

The capital's local draft board No. 9 visited the White House to enroll President Roosevelt. Its chairman, James D. Hayes, somewhat nervous, made a little talk at the end of the ceremony in which he remarked that the registering of the Chief Executive was "proof and

Allies Again Hammer Jap Pacific Bases

By C. Yates McDaniel

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, April 27—(AP)—A continuation of the intensive hammering of Japanese island bases above Australia by United States and Australian airmen was announced today while military quarters expressed belief that a showdown in the bitter air war in this part of the world may be at hand.

A communique recorded punishing attacks yesterday on the enemy-held bases at Lae, New Guinea, and Bougainville, Solomon islands. At Lae the Allies destroyed three Japanese planes on the ground and one in air combat.

Military commentators pointed out that the growing power of the Allied blows apparently coincided with reinforcement and revived activity of the Japanese air force in this theater.

Japs May Try Direct Attack
These quarters, noting that the Japanese could hardly afford to be passive while the United Nations increased their striking power in Australia, said the enemy might be impelled to attack Australia directly or attempt to capture all of New Guinea and the string of islands to the south and east and thus attempt to cut off American supplies to Australia.

Francis M. Forde, Australian army minister, in a statement at Canberra, warned Australians against complacency and said they might have to "meet a Japanese attack in force at any time."

"Complacency and optimism resulted in the over-running of other countries," he said. "Australia must not make the same mistake."

The Japanese, it was reported, have been concentrating ships, men, supplies and planes in the Marshall islands, apparently in preparation for some new operation. Observers saw the possibility that a great naval battle involving the United States fleet would follow any attempt of the Japanese to drive southeast from the Marshall islands.

Concentrate on Airfields
The communique which told of the attack on Lae and Bougainville said the Allies had concentrated on airfields in those places.

It also declared nine Japanese bombers with fighter escort had attacked Port Moresby, New Guinea, causing slight damage.

Aerial attacks on Corregidor in the Philippines were diminishing in intensity, the communique said, while American artillery "executed successful missions on enemy land concentrations."

Another communique, reporting on Saturday's aerial attack by the Japanese on Darwin, Australia, said 11 of the raiding planes were shot down while the invaders were kept so high that their 500-pound bombs did little damage to the principal objective, the airport.

FBI Can Use Detectaphone, Court Rules

WASHINGTON, April 27—(AP)—In a ruling which the Justice department said would further its counter-espionage activities, the Supreme Court today held that the use of a mechanical device for overhearing telephone conversations was legal.

The 1934 Federal communications act outlawed wire-tapping, but the Court said that this protection covered "the means of communication" and not "the secrecy of the conversation itself." Thus the Court upheld the use of a device called a detectaphone which, from another room, can pick up the conversation when a man speaks into a telephone.

Can Use Testimony
In another decision on the same subject, the Court held that testimony procured through actual wire-tapping could be used in court.

Hunter Resigns As Commissioner of WPA
NEW ORLEANS, April 27—(AP)—Howard O. Hunter said here tonight that he had resigned as commissioner of the WPA, effective May 1, and that his resignation had been accepted by the President.

Hunter, here on vacation, would not discuss the matter further and would not comment on future plans. He said his resignation was a personal matter between him and President Roosevelt and that he was not at liberty to discuss it.

He refused to answer further questions.

Fix Prices And Freeze Wages, President Urges In Outlining Broad Anti-Inflation Program

Hitler's Admissions Added Argument for Allies Urging Opening of Second Front

BY KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Wide World War Analyst

Implicit in the rambling and disjointed address of Herr Hitler to his puppet parliament is a strong argument for the Allies urging quick attack in the west to end the war this year.

That Hitler outgiving makes two striking admissions: It tells the people of Germany that utter catastrophe was close at hand for their armies in Russia during the winter. It also discloses some degree of official disaffection in Germany. To cope with that he asked and received a rubber-stamp grant of power to "cashier any one if I consider he has failed in his duty, regardless of who he may be."

Balk At Hitlerian Strategy?
What sort of purge that fore-shadows it is difficult to anticipate. Since Hitler had already taken over direct command of his armies, it would not seem to be aimed at his generals. Yet it might well be if some of them are balking at Hitlerian strategy.

That calls for all-out attack on Russia, although Hitler now gives no assurances that victory can be achieved there before another winter grips his armies. There is every evidence, moreover, of intensifying Nazi apprehension lest the British and Americans launch a major attack somewhere along the 2,000 miles of continental coast to catch the Germans between two fires.

It is not impossible that important Nazi army leaders and civil officials share that fear to the extent of offering resistance to the supposed Hitler intention to mass against Russia. British air power is already making itself felt heavily in the stepped-up bombing attack. That it will soon be supplemented by American flown planes is unquestionable.

The war is being brought home more closely to Germany every night and day as the spring advances. Should the Allies manage to gain continental footholds wide enough and deep enough to permit establishment of advance air bases, the fury of that air attack would be redoubled.

Fear Invasion Of Norway
For the moment, however, the greatest Nazi concern seems to be over the possibility of an Allied invasion of northern Norway. The blasting of British air attack on Rostock as a follow-up on the repeated bombing of Luebeck in the same area points that way. Both are essential feeder centers for the Nazi forces of occupation in Norway.

There are also reports of German defensive preparations along the Norwegian coast area from Trondheim north. With German heavy surface warcraft in those waters, it also is certain that British and possibly American battle-ships are in the vicinity, although it begins now to look as though the Nazi naval concentration in Norwegian fjords was more a defensive move than to prey on Russia's Arctic supply route.

Whatever the Allies' intentions may be, it seems clear that Allied possession of air and submarine operating bases somewhere in northern Norway could greatly increase the security of the route from the Atlantic to Murmansk and Archangel. It is also possibly significant that the Russians appear to be bringing toward a climax repeated attacks on Finnish forces at various points. The complete freeing of the rail route for fast passage of war goods landed at Murmansk to the Russian fighting front is the obvious objective.

State Bonus For Soldiers Kelly Plank

By G. Milton Kelly
LANSING, April 27—(AP)—Harry F. Kelly, secretary of state, and a group of Republican legislative spokesmen launched a boom today to pay a bonus to men and women serving in the armed forces in World War II.

Kelly, as spokesman for the group, coupled the announcement with a plea for extraordinary speed in setting up plans for the November general election which would allow additional time to send absent voters' ballots to Michigan citizens in the armed forces, to allow them to vote.

Kelly, in a formal statement, adopted the plans as planks in his campaign for election as Governor, declaring that if he is elected "I shall consider it a privilege to do my part toward bringing such legislation into existence."

Gets Jump on Democrats
The statement asserted "there is no reason why five years should elapse as it did after the last war" before a bonus is paid.

Politicians quickly scanned the statement to determine its significance. They conceded Kelly had caught Democrats napping by stepping out boldly with the announcement of these campaign planks, but said there was no indication now that there would be any campaign fight about it.

In the presence of Senator D. Hale Brake, of Stanton, president pro tempore of the senate; Speaker Howard Nugent, of the house of representatives, of Bad Axe, and Rep. George N. Higgins, of Ferris, all influential Republican legislators, Kelly said they had brought him "definite commitments from over 70 Republican representatives and senators, committing themselves to such a legislative program."

Kelly said he had in mind payment of the bonus "immediately upon return of the armed forces, as a token of respect and esteem, and with a hope that it would be helpful to them as they take their place in the peace life that will follow their victory." He said he considered the word "bonus" was inappropriate, but that it probably would be used since that was the word applied to the $30,000,000 distributed to servicemen after the first World war.

Favors Study of Method, Amount
While the last bonus was based on an award of $15 for each month of service, Kelly said he considered a study commission should be created to work out amounts and method of paying the World War II bonus.

He outlined methods for eliminating waste motion and speeding the printing of ballots to allow greater time for sending absent voters' ballots to citizens at distant military and naval assignments, and called for serious study of laws similar to those of other states which allow the setting up in distant points of polling places for the benefit of men and women in armed service.

Panamanian Vessel Torpedoed In Atlantic
WASHINGTON, April 27—(AP)—The Navy said today that a small Panamanian merchant vessel had been torpedoed off the Atlantic coast and that survivors had been landed at an east coast port.

Red Success on Finnish Front Angers Hitler

LONDON, April 28—(Tuesday)—Lieutenant General Engelbrecht, commander of the 163d German division fighting in Finland, has been dismissed by Adolf Hitler and a reshuffle of the entire Nazi command in Finland is imminent, Stockholm dispatches said today.

Hitler was said to be angry because of Red army successes on the Finnish front and one dispatch said the removal of Engelbrecht might be one of the disciplinary measures referred to by Hitler in his Sunday speech.

Whatever the Allies' intentions may be, it seems clear that Allied possession of air and submarine operating bases somewhere in northern Norway could greatly increase the security of the route from the Atlantic to Murmansk and Archangel. It is also possibly significant that the Russians appear to be bringing toward a climax repeated attacks on Finnish forces at various points. The complete freeing of the rail route for fast passage of war goods landed at Murmansk to the Russian fighting front is the obvious objective.

Enemy Dealt Harsh Blow By Fortress

By Edward E. Bomar

WASHINGTON, April 27—(AP)—Besieged Corregidor dealt the Japanese sharp new blows today, nearly three weeks after the fall of Batan.

Replying to a four-hour crossfire pounding by enemy siege guns, the artillery batteries of the Philippine island fortress broke up a hostile troop concentration in the nearby peninsula and set afire a group of parked motor trucks.

The War department reported developments in its first communique dealing with action in the Philippines since such announcements were channeled five days ago through Australian headquarters of General Douglas MacArthur, the southwest Pacific commander-in-chief.

250 Air Raid Alarms
Since the start of the Philippine invasion, Corregidor has experienced 250 air raid alarms, and a still larger number of actual attacks, it was disclosed. The latest included an onslaught by dive-bombers on both Corregidor and the southwest Pacific commander-in-chief.

Small harbor boats also were

25 Per Cent Cut In Coffee Sales Ordered
WASHINGTON, April 27—(AP)—The War Production Board today ordered a 25 per cent cut in the consumption of coffee, because of "uncertainties about future supplies."

The cut was brought about by an order reducing the amount of coffee which may be delivered by roasters and accepted by wholesalers in any month to 75 per cent of deliveries in the corresponding period of 1941.

The Government will not attempt to ration coffee at the consumer level, WPB said, but the wholesalers are "expected to pass the cut along to their customers as equitably as possible."

"This action was taken to conserve supplies now on hand for the Army, Navy, and civilian population and to make future supplies go as far as possible," the board's announcement said.

Tornado Kills At Least 100 In Oklahoma

PRYOR, Okla., April 27—(AP)—A brief, violent tornado reportedly killed at least 100 persons and injured 250 late today in the war boom town, and left the main business district in ruins.

First reports from rescuers containing these figures were received by R. W. Stinson, Muskogee district manager for WPA, in a telephone call from his workers on the scene.

The storm struck at about 5:50 p. m., roaring down the main street, tearing down buildings and leaving the street filled with debris and the dead and dying.

Other Towns Hit
Three persons were reported killed and at least 15 injured near Talala and another person was killed at Tiawah, southeast of Claremore, as the tornadoic winds flared out over this northeastern Oklahoma area.

One eye-witness reported he saw 11 dead and scores of injured after the brief, furious storm struck.

The town was in darkness and phone communications within the city were disrupted, hampering rescue work.

Bonesteel Commands All Troops on Iceland
WASHINGTON, April 27—(AP)—The War department announced today that Major General Charles H. Bonesteel, commander of the American troops in Iceland, has taken over the command of all forces of the United Nations in that northern Atlantic island.

Bonesteel succeeds Major General Henry Osborn Curtis, of the British army, but there was no indication in the brief announcement whether British troops were being withdrawn from Iceland.

It was recalled, however, that both President Roosevelt and Secretary of War Stimson are on record as saying it was the purpose of the United States eventually to take over the garrisoning of the island from the British. Both of these statements, however, were made last year, before the entry of this country into the war.

Asks $25,000 Income Limit, Heavy Taxes

By Richard L. Turner

WASHINGTON, April 27—(AP)—President Roosevelt outlined to Congress today a broad anti-inflation program which would fix general price ceilings, freeze most wages, legal maximum prices for farm products, with increased war bond buying and debt paying, and with rationing of scarce essentials would, he predicted, avert the cost of living hardships of the first World war.

These steps, with taxes that would wipe up all corporation profits not necessary to continued production, with a reduction in the present legal maximum prices for farm products, with increased war bond buying and debt paying, and with rationing of scarce essentials would, he predicted, avert the cost of living hardships of the first World war.

Must Make Sacrifices
"We cannot fight this war, we cannot exert our maximum effort on a spend-as-usual basis," Mr. Roosevelt said in a special message to Congress. "We cannot have all we want, if our soldiers and sailors are to have all they need."

By implication he opposed any change in the wage-hour law, asserting that most defense workers were now working more than 40 hours a week, and that they should be paid time and a half for overtime, lest there be a reduction in their weekly pay envelopes.

In addition to slashing higher salaries down to $25,000 by taxing the foreman a process of stabilizing wages through protests to the War Labor Board, and decisions by the War Labor Board, which would "continue to give due consideration to inequalities and the elimination of sub-standards of living." Existing contracts between employers and employees should, he said, be fully honored.

The Office of Price Administration is expected to announce tomorrow a general price order, freezing prices as of some time in the recent past, probably March.

Tomorrow evening, Mr. Roosevelt will make a radio address explaining the program to the people of the nation.

Farm Price Fight Brewing
Except for taxes and for reducing the limit on agricultural prices, Mr. Roosevelt said in his message that no new legislation would be needed to make the program possible. He asked for quick Congressional action on taxes and farm prices, however.

A hot fight began brewing immediately on the farm price question, with Senators and House members from farm states announcing their opposition. Many members of Congress who have been supporting "new labor legislation found little to applaud in Mr. Roosevelt's course on hours and wages, and made it plain that that battle would continue.

Under present law, farm prices may not rise above 110 per cent of parity. "Parity" was defined, Mr. Roosevelt said, in a price level which would give the farmer "an assurance of equality in individual purchasing power with his fellow Americans who work in industry."

"The President asked that the limit be set at parity itself, not 110 per cent of parity."

At the outset of his message, Mr. Roosevelt emphasized the vast scope of the present war, and said it presented "problems which were unimaginable during the first World war." The nation, he said, was facing an "even greater challenge" to its existence, and fighting "more powerful and more sin-

Bonesteel, 57 years old, is a native of Fort Sidney, Neb., and a 1908 graduate of West Point. He commanded the Fifth division at Fort Custer, Mich., prior to his assignment to Iceland last year. He served in France in the World war as a captain in the Seventh division, one of the last regular divisions to see active service abroad in the conflict.

West Branch Fire Brought Under Control

The large forest fire in the Marquette district, which has burned nearly 3,000 acres of heavy slashings since last Thursday afternoon, was finally brought under control last night.

Low humidity and lack of high winds yesterday were contributing factors in the successful effort to build fire lanes around the huge blaze, which had threatened to reach several farms and camps.

Only four one-hundredths of an inch of rain fell Sunday night, but it was sufficient to permit tractors and bulldozers to operate at the edge of the fire and build effective fire lanes. The ground was hilly in most sections.

Hazard Rat v. Drops

Moderate rains in other sections of the Peninsula indicated that the peak of the fire hazard season may have passed, and it was expected that in most districts the rating today would be "six hazard," as compared to the most dangerous rating of "seven," with which all U. P. districts had been tagged since last Thursday.

The West Branch township fire, worst in the state, was estimated by regional conservation officers yesterday to have burned 2,500 to 3,000 acres. Officers were mapping the area yesterday to arrive at a more exact figure.

Fires at Little Lake, Big Bay, Negaunee, Treenary and Republic brought the district total to 4,850 acres. Second greatest damage in the Upper Peninsula—475 acres—was reported from the Sixth district, which includes Chippewa, Schoolcraft, Mackinac, Luce counties and the east half of Alger county.

9,067 Acres In State

In the Fourth district damage amounted to 405 acres and in others it was comparatively minor—27 acres in District No. 1, 38 in District No. 2 and 95 acres in the Fifth district. To date this season, 135 fires have occurred in the Upper Peninsula, 36 in the Sixth district, 28 in No. 4 and 19 in the Marquette district, which includes Marquette county and the west half of Alger.

The state conservation headquarters said 9,067 acres have been burned over in Michigan since January 1, compared with 10,462 for the entire year 1941, and that the current total is the worst as of this date in history.

Preaching to persons frequenting the tinder-dry woods to exercise extreme caution, the state headquarters said 7,360 acres were burned last week in the two peninsulas.

$652,064 Appropriated To Run City

The city commission yesterday approved appropriations amounting to $652,064.03 to finance municipal operations for the current year and the transfer of $105,934.88 from the city's utility funds was authorized to balance the 1942 budget.

The budget is $51,985 less than the tentative figure considered by the commission a month ago.

Mayor Louis W. Biegler and Commissioners Simon R. Anderson and H. E. Patrick voted in favor of the annual appropriation bill. Commissioners Lee McGinley and John B. Tierney were out of the city.

Patrick Registers Protest

After voting for the budget resolution, Commissioner Patrick registered a negative vote on the cemetery fund item in a second resolution providing for transfer of money from the general fund.

"Approximately $2,000 additional is needed for maintenance and care of the cemetery," Patrick said. He voted in favor of the transfer of money to other funds mentioned above, but made an exception of the cemetery fund.

The vote came after lengthy discussion of the cemetery problem by the commissioners and John Liberty, Park cemetery caretaker.

Discussion Is Heated

The amount appropriated for the cemetery fund was $9,818.23. Patrick and Liberty maintained this was not enough. Commissioner Anderson objected strenuously to the fact that this matter was brought up at such a late date—the date for the public hearing and passage of the annual appropriation bill.

Liberty said he had effected savings in the past in maintenance of the cemetery, but it was his opinion that more money than had been appropriated under the 1942 budget would be needed.

The discussion became almost as warm as the sun pouring through the west windows of the city commission chambers and did not abate until Commissioner Anderson, addressing Liberty, said:

"You go ahead and run it under

First Peoples State bank, of Traverse City.
The State, County and Municipal Workers union-CIO has filed notice of intention to call a strike in the light plant and some other department of city government.

the present arrangement and if you can't, we'll get someone who can."

"One Man's Opinion"

"That's only one man's opinion," Commissioner Patrick remarked. "Okeh, Mr. Anderson," was Liberty's reply.

Patrick added he wanted to bring the matter to the attention of the commission so that "if we go over the budget by $2,000 you'll know why."

To which Anderson replied: "You won't go $2,000 over the budget."

The amount to be transferred from the general fund to the street, park, cemetery, WPA, police and fire funds totals $162,633.30.

More than 16 per cent of the expenditures for 1942 will be paid out of the utility funds, $100,790.68 from the light and power fund and $5,144.20 from the water fund.

Estimated Expenditures

Estimated expenditures by departments follow:
Public affairs	$ 42,880.00
Accounts, finances	8,200.00
Health	15,800.00
Police	27,400.00
Fire	45,650.00
Street	64,120.00
Parks	16,900.00

Cemetery	9,700.00
WPA, other projects	21,695.00
Light and power	204,544.94
Water	51,736.79
Public schools	129,937.30
Library	13,500.00
Total	$652,064.03

The commission decided yesterday not to undertake operation of the Marquette state park, which will not be opened this season by the state conservation department because of restrictions imposed by war conditions.

Carnival Problem

A communication from L. N. Jones, chief of the department's parks division, in which he inquired whether the city would be interested in receiving the carnival, was authorized the mayor and city clerk to notify the conservation department that it had no funds available in its 1942 budget for maintenance of the state park.

Action on the request of the Richard M. Jolliffe post, American Legion, to sponsor the appearance here, in August, of the World of Pleasure Shows, a carnival, was delayed pending further investigation by the commission. J. H. Milnar, post commander, and a representative of the carnival addressed the commission, urging it to grant permission as requested. It was stated that the show is "clean" and that the post was eager to earn some money. The representative also informed the commission that the Federal Government was urging cities to promote recreation as a boost to civilian morale.

Back To Monday Nights

Mayor Biegler said it might be possible if the county fairgrounds could be used, but he opposed having the carnival on Cliffs Dow property, in North Marquette, as had been proposed previously. Commissioner Anderson declared bluntly that he was against carnivals in this city, and Commissioner Patrick said he would vote for it, if the fairgrounds could be procured.

The carnival representative requested an answer within two weeks. The commission said it would be glad to oblige and probably would take the matter up at its meeting next Monday when, it was hoped, a full commission would be present.

The commission will revert next week to its usual practice of holding meetings Monday nights, beginning at 7, instead of at 5 p. m., an emergency measure adopted temporarily so that members could attend American Red Cross first aid classes Monday evenings.

1941 Traffic Death Toll 20 in County

One-fifth of the automobile accident deaths in the Upper Peninsula last year occurred in Marquette county, a report from the Michigan state police headquarters in East Lansing shows.

There were 99 motor vehicle traffic fatalities in the Peninsula in 1941, or 20 more than occurred in 1940.

Of this number, 20 were killed in Marquette county, compared with 14 in 1940; 19 in Delta county, against 15 the previous year, and Houghton county had 18 fatalities, 10 more than the number recorded in 1940.

Five Counties Better Records

Dickinson, Luce, Iron, Mackinac and Menominee counties bettered their records last year. There were eight deaths in Dickinson, one less than in 1940. Luce had one fatality, compared with two the previous year, and Mackinac had only one death, two less than in 1940.

There were four deaths in Iron county, compared with six in 1940, and six deaths from auto accidents occurred in Menominee, one less than in 1940.

Two counties with clear records in 1940 had fatalities last year. They were Baraga county, with five deaths, and Keweenaw, with one.

In addition to Marquette, Delta and Houghton counties, Alger, Schoolcraft and Gogebic showed increases. Alger had six deaths, compared with two in 1940; Schoolcraft jumped from three to four, and Gogebic had 10 deaths, two more than in 1940.

Ontonagon, Chippewa Same

Ontonagon and Chippewa remained the same, three and seven, respectively.

Of the 20 deaths in Marquette county last year, the report showed, only one occurred in the city of Marquette. Marquette had only one death in 1940, also.

Deaths in other Upper Peninsula cities, with population over 10,000, were: Three in Escanaba, one in 1940; two in Iron Mountain, three in 1940; two in Ironwood, three in 1940; two in Menominee, one in 1940, and two in Sault Ste. Marie, compared with four the previous year.

Throughout the state, there were 2,108 automobile accident deaths in 1941, compared with 1,722 the previous year, an increase of 386. The accident rate per 100,000 population in the state was 40.11. In Marquette county, the rate was 42.42.

Alger, Delta and Baraga had the highest accident rates in the Upper Peninsula, 59.03, 55.82 and 53.44, respectively. All others, except Marquette, were well below the state average rate.

133,236 Accidents in State

"During the year, 133,236 traffic accidents were reported to the state police," Capt. C. J. Seavarda, head of the safety, traffic and radio divisions, said in the report. "This is 15 per cent more than were reported in 1940."

"It includes 1,850 fatal accidents in which 2,108 persons were killed, 28,039 non-fatal accidents which resulted in 40,708 personal injuries, and 103,347 property damage accidents.

"Fatalities increased 22.4 per cent; personal injuries increased 6.46; or 19 per cent, and property damage accidents increased 12.74 or 14.1 per cent."

The upward trend, Seavarda said, can be attributed partially to an increase of 9.5 per cent in the number of motor vehicles used and an increase of 15.75 per cent in total mileage for the year.

Outstanding causes of accidents were failure to have right of way, excessive speed, improper turns, cutting in, driving on wrong side of road, failure to signal and disregard of stop signs and signals. Fifty-eight and three-tenths per cent of the accidents occurred during the dusk or darkness.

County's Tax Delinquency Record Best in Michigan

Constituting the best record credited to any county in the state, the percentage of tax delinquency in Marquette county has decreased steadily each year from 10.42 per cent, as of March 1, 1933, to 3.46 on March 1, 1941, a checkup of county records reveals.

County delinquent returns last year amounted to $8,786 and county road delinquent returns aggregated $4,225.79 for a total of $13,011.79. The amount levied was $375,994.42, of which $362,982.63 was collected.

The delinquency declined in the city of Marquette from 18.92 per cent in 1933 to 6.26 in 1941. The percentage of reduction was approximately the same in the cities of Ishpeming and Negaunee. Ishpeming dropped from 5.56 in 1933 to 1.62 last year, and Negaunee's delinquency was reduced from 1.42 in 1933 to the extremely low mark of .43 in 1941.

Ely Has Good Record

Townships showing particularly large reductions in delinquency (from 1933 to 1941) were: Ely, 8.22 per cent to 1.28; Humboldt, 54.66 to 13.71; Ishpeming, 7.85 to 2.28; Powell, 14.70 to 3.31; Richmond, 8.90 to 2.23; Tilden, 6.13 to .99.

The delinquency percentage for the entire county declined as follows: 10.42 in 1933; 10.37 in 1934; 9.45 in 1935; 8.50 in 1936; 6.95 in 1937; 5.88 in 1938; 5.19 in 1939; 3.71 in 1940, and 3.46 in 1941.

The 1941 levy, amount collected and delinquent returns in the three cities and 19 townships of the county follow:

Plumbing And Heating Sale Ban Ironclad

Only if your gas stove, hot water heater or furnace are completely beyond repair can you expect any relief from the War Production Board order of April 16, which restricts the sale of new plumbing and heating equipment.

This statement was made yesterday by James E. Wilson, regional WPB priorities manager, to answer a deluge of questions from persons seeking a priority for the purchase of new plumbing and heating equipment and fixtures.

"In order to make new purchases of such things as gas stoves, gas refrigerators, bathroom fixtures and so forth, the buyer must show that his present equipment is worn out beyond repair, or is destroyed," Wilson explained.

"Any such equipment in the home which is in a usable condition cannot be replaced simply because the owner desires new and more up-to-date equipment."

WPB limitation Order L-79, which went into effect April 16, restricts sale or delivery of new plumbing and heating equipment, unless the purchaser obtains a priority rating. An exception to the order permits a retail dealer to make sales where the amount does not exceed five dollars.

To receive emergency priority relief from L-79, the buyer, if his equipment is beyond repair, may use Preference Rating Order P-84. (Most plumbing and heating equipment dealers are familiar with this order.) But in all such instances where the cost of new equipment exceeds $50, both the buyer and dealer must make a certified report to the equipment supplier, stating why the old equipment is impractical.

"In instances where a buyer is in doubt about obtaining a priority rating, he should consult his district priorities officer," Wilson said.

Six Persons Arraigned In City Court

On charges ranging from driving an automobile without an operator's license to building a campfire in violation of emergency regulations, six persons were arraigned before Judge John Siegel in city court yesterday. All pleaded guilty.

John Piece, transient lumberjack, was sent to the county jail for 15 days in lieu of payment of a fine of $10 and $8.95 costs for building a fire along the Chicago and Northwestern railroad tracks near Little Lake.

Conservation officers warn that it is unlawful to smoke or make a fire in the woods during the fire season until further notice. Govern-nor Van Wagoner has declared a state of emergency for three weeks or longer because of the tinder-dry condition of the woods.

Bond Covered Fine, Costs

George Aho, of Negaunee, received 55 cents change from a $10 bond he posted Sunday morning, pending arraignment before Judge Siegel. He was arrested by city police Saturday night for being drunk. He posted the bond and was scheduled to be arraigned Monday morning at 9, but long before that time he was arrested again by city police for being drunk and was ordered to pay a fine of $5 and $4.45 costs.

Robert K. Wehmanen, of Marquette, arrested by state police for permitting an unlicensed person to drive his car on County Road 553 in Sands township Sunday, paid a fine of $2 and $1 costs. William Filippula, also of Marquette, the unlicensed person who drove the car, paid the same amount.

Hearing on Railroad Petition Cancelled

LANSING, April 27—P—The state public service commission said today the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie Railway Co. has agreed to hold in abeyance until some time in October its petition for permission to abandon a daily round trip passenger train run between Gladstone and Sault Ste. Marie.

The commission cancelled a hearing on the abandonment petition which had been scheduled for May 13 at Sault Ste. Marie.

No Operator's License
Carl Christofferson, of Chatham, arrested by state police for driving an automobile without an operator's license on US-41 in Chocolay township on April 22, paid a fine of $2 and $1 costs.

Robert K. Wehmanen, of Marquette, arrested by state police for permitting an unlicensed person to drive his car on County Road 553 in Sands township Sunday, paid a fine of $2 and $1 costs. William Filippula, also of Marquette, the unlicensed person who drove the car, paid the same amount.

Better Spare Those Tires, Mr. Driver!

LANSING, April 27—P—Spare those tires, mister. The state rationing administration announces that persons who abuse their tires will be denied the privilege of buying new or recapped ones, if more careful persons can do their work.

Arthur H. Sarvis, state rationing administrator, said the regulation is "aimed at truck drivers especially," asserting there is evidence that a number of them carelessly slam on their brakes to skid their wheels, bump into curbs and race to and from stop streets, all of which contribute to abnormally rapid deterioration of tires.

Starting June 1, he said, county rationing boards will be authorized to determine whether drivers seeking new tires were careful of their old ones, and to act accordingly.

There are no "National" holidays in the United States. Each state has jurisdiction over the holidays to be observed.

People Ahead of Congress

IT HAS been frequent comment that in many matters in respect to provision for the war the country has been ahead of Congress and at times even ahead of the President.

The Gallup Institute has submitted the issue in the form of a question: "In order to help pay the cost of the war would you be willing to pay a tax of about two weeks' salary a year, in addition to all other taxes you have to pay?"

Of the group that now pays income taxes, 69 per cent recorded willingness to pay the increased amount. But the lower income group, most of which is now exempt from taxes, was only slightly less willing to assume a share of the burden of meeting the cost of war.

Congress is fearful about broadening the base of income tax payments in an election year. Members who want to be reelected are apprehensive that if they voted for such a proposal they would be singled out for opposition by many of the new taxpayers created by amendment of the law.

The lowering of the income tax base would meet with no more hostility than the imposition of a Federal sales tax, an alternative means of reaching the great number of persons who now pay trifling, or no, taxes imposed to meet war costs.

As simplification of the procedure would bring within reason the cost of collection of the smaller amounts that would be paid by hundreds of thousands of new taxpayers, it would appear that Congress might do it with the new law.

Completing the Inventory

The final enrollment of American men power for service has been completed. Men from 44 to 64 have registered and answered the questionnaires. When they have accumulated and digested, the Government will have a complete inventory of the capacity of the men of the nation to aid in prosecution of the war.

What demands, if any, will be made on the enrollees only the future can determine. They will not be drawn on for men for active service. But large numbers can give valuable aid in limited service, if and when they are needed.

But the likelihood is that duty of active service will rest on the men up to 44. The principal obligation of the men enrolled yesterday doubtless will be to keep industry and agriculture up on their toes, and to provide the money that will be required to meet the war bills.

It will be a common characteristic of the new enrollees, whether they be 44 or 64, that they will be ready to serve willingly whenever and wherever they are called. There will be exceptions, but they will be negligible, as the recalcitrant and Fifth Columnists are negligible in number among the great mass of citizens who are dedicating themselves to the task of pursuing the war to absolute victory.

Men With Dependents

The War department deserves considerable credit for going out of its way to meet the problem of dependency. Several weeks ago the department announced a plan whereby men who are potential officer material, but who are reluctant to volunteer because of obligations to dependents, may attend officer training camps and receive commissions six months after entering the Army.

Moreover, the department now suggests a plan, subject to Congressional approval, which is designed to meet the basic needs of the dependents of privates and non-commissioned officers. According to the plan, a soldier may contribute up to $25 a month to the support of dependents—a sum which will be matched, or in some cases exceeded, by a Government contribution.

Both plans are obviously intended to serve as an incentive to voluntary enlistments and to allay the personal misgivings of men with dependents. Naturally, there is no question but that the plans involve some degree of sacrifice on the part of the men and their dependents. For service pay in most cases is not and cannot be equivalent to civilian pay.

Nevertheless, in spite of the fact that the Army stands to gain much-needed manpower through the wide acceptance of the plans, the War department should not have to be preoccupied with family well-being. This should be the concern of Congress. In the months ahead the Army will have to draw more and more men with dependents into service. It is a process which is already under way and which can be facilitated by prompt Congressional approval either of the War department's plan for men in the lower ranks or of some equally effective measure.

Restrictive Order

The Government has now ordered restricted use of automobile vehicles in deliveries of all sorts of goods, from freight placed with long haul agencies to the handling of goods purchased in retail trade. The object is not so much to decrease the bulk of deliveries as to assure that the vehicles used in making them shall be used to the best purpose.

For instance, freight carriers will be required so to conduct their business that on the average a much larger capacity of the individual vehicles will be used. If necessary they will have to consolidate services.

In the field of central delivery for retail stores there is opportunity to make effective plans that will provide for all present deliveries with a greatly decreased use of rolling stocks. It is a subject, it appears, with which chambers of commerce, in which most of the business houses are represented, many well concern themselves.

Their Cooperation Essential

In the aftermath discussion of the meeting of the Republican national committee and its adoption of resolutions conforming closely to what Mr. Willkie desired to signalize the break of the party with its isolationist past it is made clear that Mr. Willkie is not entirely satisfied with the attitude of Mr. Dewey. His record is clear on commitment to unrelenting prosecution of the war, but he is not committed to the extent that Mr. Willkie believes desirable to participation by this country with the other nations fighting the Axis in measures to underwrite the peace it is their purpose to dictate.

It is to be hoped that such differences as now stand in the way of complete cooperation between these leaders will shortly disappear. Mr. Dewey will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor. It is not likely that he could be defeated even if Mr. Willkie supported another candidate. But, on the other hand, it is not likely that he could be elected unless he had the unqualified support of Mr. Willkie.

Under the most favorable circumstances, he will have a hard fight on his hands. Any party schism of any importance at all would almost certainly foredoom it to failure.

Mr. Willkie ought to bear in mind, however, that his influence would suffer greatly among those who share his views about this country's part in the post-war world if he became captious in his attitude toward Mr. Dewey. Inevitably it would be believed by many Americans that he was moved by jealousy of Mr. Dewey's repute and standing among the leaders of the party. They would find it difficult to disabuse themselves of the idea that he was moved by a desire to kill off one of the men who might challenge his ambition to lead in 1944.

A cordial understanding between him and Mr. Dewey is of the utmost importance to the party. Those who are interested sincerely in its well being will hope that it will soon be arrived at.

Contemporary Opinion

Hitler's Babies

A smuggled copy of a Polish underground newspaper tells of the latest and in some ways most horrible of the Nazi eugenic experiments. It has to do with a kind of human stud in which healthy Polish boys and girls between 15 and 18 years of age are being coupled with German girls and boys of the same ages at a camp in Helens near Lodz with a view to arresting a decline in the German birth rate.

Even two years ago such a report might have been classified as a crude and clumsy atrocity yarn. We certainly cannot vouch for its truth. Yet it is no more incredible than the campaigns of sterilization and mercy killings undertaken by the Gestapo which were first reported in this country about a year ago and which have since been abundantly corroborated.

Some implications of this latest bit of biological Schrecklichkeit, whereby the Nazis have debased even their own youth to an ethical and psychological level far below that of even the most primitive human beings, are a little too terrible to contemplate. Still the story, if true, has two points of considerable interest and significance. First, it suggests that the campaign of extermination against the Poles has been abandoned, or at any rate modified. Second, that the Nazi doctrine of racial purity has been revised to suit the ever-increasing requirements of the Nazi military and industrial machine.

Under the Nazi scale of racial values the Poles until recently occupied a place scarcely above that of the Jews. Now, it appears, necessity has made Polish boys and girls suitable fathers or mothers of "Aryan" children. There is nothing inconsistent about this reversal if one keeps in mind Dr. Ley's axiom that "truth is anything which is beneficial to the state, and fallacy is anything which is not beneficial to it."

The hint of a declining German birth rate is also significant. Hitler is apparently confronted with a manpower shortage not only for his present needs but also for future needs. The reckless and unscientific program of sterilization pursued in Germany for several years before the war, the subsequent absence of many soldiers from their homes, the decimation of young German manhood on the Eastern Front, and the continued absorption of German women and girls into war industries have certainly not helped matters. In the end we may discover that by some wonderful irony the very theory of the master race has been a means of dooming the master race itself to ultimate extinction. Is it not written that "the meek shall inherit the earth."—Washington Post.

I hope it's enough to buy a bomb to drop on him.—Charles Thompson, 11-year-old St. Louis boy, buying war bond on Hitler's birthday.

Marquette W. S. Ewing, of Chocoma township, is circulating nominating petitions for the office of state representative from the First district of Marquette county, which he has held the past term.

Thomas L. McCarthy, Matt Wallace and Ed Dougherty left for Barnesville, Minn., where they will be engaged in steam shovel work for the Great Northern Railway company. Henry Havery, of Powell township, received $80 in bounty for presenting nine wolf pelts at the county clerk's office.

Engineers on the run from Thomaston to this city over the South Shore are running their locomotives over many porcupines and see hundreds of them along the railroad tracks. The woods seem to be full of them and their craving for salt at this time of year is the cause of death of many. One engineer counted from 50 to 100 on every run last week.

Lepsewing James Martyn and Thomas Pryor, two old and well-known Lepsewing men, spent last week in the Lower Peninsula and while there purchased farms near Cadillac. They have arrived home and are preparing to move their families to their new homes.

Victor Holmgren, the street commissioner, has given notice that all occupants of dwellings within the city limits will be expected to clean alleys adjoining their premises on or before May 10.

Oscar Peterson, Saginaw location, is a candidate for nomination for mine inspector on the Republican ticket. About 6000 brook trout fry from the state hatchery at Sault Ste. Marie will be received in Lepsewing tomorrow morning and will be taken to streams near this city.

Bert Beard has taken a position as cigar-maker with Hosking & Wills, who have a factory in the Kjesboe block, Cleveland avenue. Negaunee Negaunee merchants are complaining of dull business this spring. Despite the good outlook for a heavy ore movement in the summer, money is tight and many working people are piling up charge accounts.

Herman C. Wagner will leave tomorrow night for Los Angeles, Calif., to attend the imperial council of the Shriners, to be held in that city during the week of May 7, as a representative of Ahmed temple. Stuart Johnson and Howard Gilbert are training for an endurance roller skating race to take place before warm weather sets in. Before it occurs, they will appear in a relay race against two Lepsewing skaters, Frank Horrigan and Ole Wiggins.

Edward Reidy has resigned as porter at the Breitung hotel and will work at diamond drilling for Cole & McDonald. Harold Barrett, formerly a clerk in Haupt's store, will succeed him. Miss Norine Reidy has accepted a position as a teacher in the public schools of Hibbing, Minn. She will begin her duties next fall.

War 'Conversion'

Another interesting example of the ingenuity of American industry in converting advertising and selling effort from a peacetime to a wartime basis is to be found in the case of the Lyon Metal Products, Inc., Aurora and Chicago Heights, Ill.

The program was decided in the fall of 1940 that it was face to face with a serious curtailment of civilian output and that it would be necessary to obtain war orders to maintain operations. But instead of relying on "official contacts" the company set out to utilize its own sales organization and redesign and intensify its advertising and sales promotion campaign to form a combined and co-ordinated program to acquaint prime contractors and Government agencies with its facilities. All this effort was pointed toward a description of how the company could fit into the war effort, principally on a subcontracting basis.

The program was a success and the company soon found that advertising and aggressive sales effort were as effective as ever, in selling its new customers, the holders of prime Government contracts and the officials of almost every Government agency having a part in the placing of war orders. Now far busier on war production than on distasteful manufacturing for civilian needs, the company is nevertheless continuing and even expanding its promotional activities along the new line.

Many Avenues Open Unusual as it is in many respects, the Lyon plan illustrates only one use of advertising in wartime. The Advertising Federation of America, in fact, lists more than 30 different ways in which advertising now may be employed to help individual companies and to foster the nation's war effort. These range all the way from preserving consumer good will to explanatory and educational messages having to do with various war-imposed restrictions.

It is noteworthy that many individual companies, large and small, recently have set forth their attitude concerning their intention of keeping themselves and their products before the public, whether they have anything to sell or not. One of these, the American Locomotive company, had this to say in its annual report to stockholders: "Everywhere in this world man is tearing down what he has built. One effect is to leave him poorer than he was in material things. But another is to create a vast reconstruction job. Throughout the world we intend to maintain our relations with our peacetime customers, with the financial world, with the trade and, to a greater extent than we have ever before attempted, with the American people. We consider this a wise corporate policy in time of war when the peacetime reputations of men and companies and products may so easily be forgotten."—Chicago Journal of Commerce.

If Russia Goes Down

(Lieut. Commander Charles Seely, Navy Veteran and Editorial Director of the Navy News, in the Progressive, Madison, Wis.)

It may be contended that predictions as to when the war will end are not worth the paper they are written on, but even if this be true, those who state that the war will not end this year or next are not, in my opinion, taking much of a chance. Certainly there is no reason for believing that the war will end any time soon, but by next December, whether the war will be long or short.

If the Russians can hold until next December, the war will be very much shorter than it will be if the Nazis break through and take, say, the Caucasus and cross the lower Volga in force.

If the Russian lines are broken in the south, or if the Russians are pushed back, say, half-way to the Urals, whether their lines are broken or not, the war will certainly drag out for many years. There can be no doubt about that.

Russians Will Win I firmly believe—and have said so on many occasions—that the Russians cannot be defeated; that they will finally win. But this belief does not blind me to the fact that if they lose the Caspian sea region, Hitler will obtain all the resources of the United States except and, I would think, he will need to fight on indefinitely. And what is worse, if Hitler does this, it will matter little if we take Tokyo. The war will go on and on.

If Hitler can gain any considerable advantage over the Russians within the next six months, Japan may be expected to strike hard at Eastern Russia and thereby make it impossible for any more help to reach China. In this case, China would have no choice but to surrender to Japan.

The Japanese certainly would then use China, just as Hitler is now using all Western Europe, to furnish workmen (slaves) and materials to strengthen the Japanese armies. No doubt Japan now has at least 200,000 Chinese, Malays, Javanese and other conquered peoples working for her. She will

New York Chats

By Charles B. Driscoll

NEW YORK.—The great brooding doors of St. Bartholomew's stylish Park avenue church were getting a great going-over as I passed the other day.

A young man, who may have been seven, was explaining to me, as he pointed to his girl friend, perhaps six. The young man had been to Sunday school recently, and had heard all about the story of man, as it is told in the beautiful square sections that make up the enormous doors.

First Scene Depicts Creation The story starts in the upper left of the door, as one might expect, with a scene representing the Creation. There is a panel showing Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden, the temptation, and the scourging of the unhappy couple out of the Garden by an avenging angel.

Two large elephants, together with other wild animals, appear in some of the scenes. Perhaps in the creation scene, and certainly in the Noah scenes.

The Circus is playing at Madison Square Garden, so it is no more than natural that the young man should be particularly interested in the scenes depicting elephants and other wild life.

I caught this much of the explanation: "You see, Dorothy, this is where Adam ate the Adam's apple, and that was a sin. And this one shows how him and Eve were chased out of Madison Square Garden, and they couldn't go back and see the elephants ever again, any more."

And speaking of churches, I visited the Cathedral of St. John the Divine on Morningside Heights, recently, just as dusk was creeping over the Hudson river, down below.

Since the great nave has been opened through the crossing, showing a vista of a tenth of a mile of great granite columns, from east to west in this church has become one of the most beautiful buildings that the hand of man has wrought.

I have seen this great pile of Not Always Simpler Father-Son Partnership Sons of many farmers will be wise to remain on the farm and form a partnership with their dads in boosting farm production under the war program, instead of seeking high industrial wages in cities.

Authority for this statement is J. B. Cunningham, agriculturist of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, who says: "A definite agreement between father and son is particularly valuable because it gives the son an opportunity to acquire the necessary capital to start farming for himself; it also gives him a chance to assume responsibility as his experience, knowledge and capital accumulate."

This is going back to the early days when fathers upon retirement divided their land holdings among their sons. There are still a few farms on which the present ownership can be traced back to pioneer days.

It would not only improve the agricultural problem of furnishing enough food for the war, but it would insure security both for the father and son and their families. There is bound to be a post-war era and with the economic problems that will be bound to crop out, the security of a productive farm, all paid for, will be something to be treasured.

It would help a lot if we had more of these father and son partnerships in business, as well as on the farm. It requires understanding and the spirit of co-operation on the part of both father and son to make such partnerships a success.—Danville Commercial-News.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—It is imperative to win the war at any cost. This point has been properly made again and again and it is what must be done in a war of survival.

But it is doubtful whether the public realizes the staggering totals involved. It is doubtful whether the public realizes how important it is to shorten the war by all-out effort at the earliest possible moment lest the cost prove back-breaking to the American people for generations to come.

The latest budget figures announced call for a budget of 77 billion dollars for the fiscal year beginning next July. Out of this vast sum about 71 billions will be spent for war purposes. Even if one-third is paid by taxes and miscellaneous levies, it still will leave a deficit of about 42 billions.

This means that in one year the Government will have a deficit more than twice as large as the Administration's deficit during all the preceding years.

If the 71 billions are spent in the coming fiscal year for war, it will mean that 71 out of a possible 117 billions of national income will go for war, leaving about 46 billion for the normal civilian segment of national income.

Let Our Eyes Know The big question is whether America can spend that much in so short a space of time. The President, at a press conference, hinted at a larger production program. This seems incredible, but he rightly pointed out that every program projected that far has seemed fantastic in size and yet we are beginning to meet the goals.

It is desirable that America's fiscal plans be told to the world. Germany and Japan, who have to squeeze their labor to the last ounce of energy to carry on their war program, can easily infer from the size of America's expenditures that the mightiest armament program ever dreamed of by the most extreme military planner of the past is about to be exceeded many times by the United States.

It is true the sums are so large that it is hard to get a sense of how they will ever be paid. But the financial resources of the American people are immense and the sums being spent will circulate within the United States in a kind of revolving fund which will enable the Government to recapture by taxes a substantial part of the spending and to borrow the rest.

Even though taxes are high, a tremendous amount will flow into the national stream and will be absorbed in the form of increased

Sugar Dealers To Register Here Today

Sugar dealers in Marquette will be expected to have familiarized themselves with regulations and requirements of the sugar rationing system when they report at Graveret high school today and tomorrow to register for sugar purchasing certificates.

Registrars will be on duty at Graveret from 4 to 6 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m. today and tomorrow. Signs will be posted at the school to direct dealers to registration rooms.

Retailers and wholesalers will be expected to know their gross sales of all merchandise during the week ending April 25, 1942; the quantity of sugar purchased during the month of November, 1941, and their present sugar inventory by pounds.

Industrial and institutional users will be expected to know the quantity of sugar, in pounds, used each month during 1941. "If the dealers will come prepared to answer these questions," Lloyd LeVasseur, county rationing chairman, said yesterday, "the procedure will be greatly simplified, and registrars will be able to take care of each dealer in a short time."

Graveret high school will be the registration place for all dealers in this city and in Powell, Marquette, Skandia, Sands, West Branch and Choccolay townships. In other communities and townships in the county dealers are asked to report to the high school closest their homes. High schools designated to handle the registration are Ishpeming, Negaunee, Michigamme, Champion, Republic, National Mine, Palmer and Gwin.

Hoarding Of Sugar May Bring Probes

A last-minute rush by housewives to stock up with sugar before the "freezing" order became effective will be a fruitless gesture as far as stocking the pantry is concerned, Arthur H. Sarvis, state rationing administrator, pointed out.

"Not only will housewives be jeopardizing future receipts of sugar, but in some cases the acts may lead to investigations if neighbors talk too much," he said.

He declared that when rationing starts May 5 everyone will have to report the amount of sugar on hand and a comparable number of stamps will be removed from his war-ration book.

Penalties Provided

"Anyone who falsifies the statement is liable to punishments ranging up to 10 years in prison, a $10,000 fine, or both," said Sarvis.

The rule, he declared, probably will apply to "hoarders" although no official word to that effect has been forthcoming from Washington.

Sarvis indicated that his office will employ no "snoopers" to check on amounts of sugar families might have prior to rationing, but he warned that violations might be disclosed by neighbors or grocers.

Under regulations each person is entitled to have two pounds of sugar on hand without having any of the sugar stamps removed from the book.

U. P. Bureau Advertising Drive Starts

The Upper Peninsula Development bureau's 1942 newspaper advertising campaign, calling for expenditures of $2,334 to attract tourists to this area this summer, has been started, it was reported here yesterday.

Advertisements are being run in metropolitan dailies in six mid-western states, two in Cleveland, one in Cincinnati, three in Detroit, one in Indianapolis, five in Chicago, one in St. Louis, two in Milwaukee and two in lower Michigan outside Detroit. They will continue until June 28.

The state of Michigan also is conducting a tourist advertising campaign in central western mediums, starting this month and running through May and June, costing approximately $3,000. Ads direct the prospective vacationist either to the downstate or outstate Michigan information bureaus, or to the Mar-

How Many Can Match Patriotism Of These Two?

(By MANTHEI HOWE)

If there is proof needed to demonstrate that we need to make democracy a more vital part of our daily living, need to energize it so it becomes basic in our life, over-throwing outworn and silly intolerances, stupid ideas of racial superiority, two recent press stories supply that proof.

You know most of us like to think we are patriotic (and likely most of us, if circumstances force our backs to the wall, will prove that we are) but we tend to say and do stupid things while we are taking our time about being convinced that our backs will be against the wall.

Is Mistaken Notion

There has been a sneaking notion in the minds of some persons that unless your ancestors came over in the Mayflower, or are members of the Daughters of the American Revolution, or Veterans of Foreign Wars, you can't be a dyed in the wool American.

I would not for a moment attempt to decide the splendid traditions and achievements of those and other organizations, but . . . I do hold that there are many true Americans who are deeply and intensely loyal to the American principle of freedom and equality, who are passionately devoted to the ways of democracy, who could never qualify for membership in the foregoing or similar organizations.

We need to evaluate real Americanism, not merely on the basis of past contribution, but on the attitude held in the present.

Would You Refuse $5,000?

For instance, how many of us native born Americans could match the choice made by this naturalized citizen of the United States living in Cresson, Pa. Her husband, is a coal miner. The woman is of Polish descent. She has a son in the Navy. Her daughter plans to join the Navy women's auxiliary when it is formed. She had another son who lost his life in the battle of Java. He was insured for $5,000, and when the Navy Recruiting office in Altoona took her papers to be signed so she could get the money, she refused to accept it, declaring she and her husband did not need the money as much as did the government!

"We have enough to live on," she explained.

How many of you reading this column would make a similar sacrifice? If all Americans were motivated by a similar intense determination to win this war, no matter what the personal sacrifice, there would be no need for the government to take action to freeze prices, to formulate laws so that men and women, heading industries, could not give huge bonuses in the guise of shockingly increased salaries so as to escape taxation; there would be no necessity for consideration of fixing a ceiling for wages and salaries; there would be no harrying worry about strikes and slowing down tactics in huge war production plants because some labor leaders think in terms of bloc advantage rather than in terms of the welfare of the country and winning this war.

Evaluate Honestly

I do not say that the majority of Americans behave as unpatriotically as some mentioned in the foregoing paragraph, nor do I say that all naturalized citizens are as truly patriotic as that Polish woman, but she and many others like her are proof that we must judge people's Americanism by what they do now, the sacrifices they are willing to make, the contributions they are prepared to furnish.

And then you know we have a bad habit of uttering platitudes and believing them to be facts. You certainly have heard some brave, two-fisted Americanism by what they do now, the sacrifices they haven't the guts."

A news story disproves that silly statement. Did you chance to see the name of Lieut. Gabriel Frumkin mentioned in news stories of the heroism and bravery of American men in foreign service. The lieutenant, whose home is in Memphis, Tenn., is the nephew of a rabbi.

Frumkin, a former football star at Baylor university and the University of Chattanooga, is now with the forces of Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Australia. He has been shot down three times, and says "air combats are not so bad!"

He Got Back to Java

His first crackup came when 15 Japanese Zero fighter planes attacked Frumkin's plane and two others of the southern tip of Borneo. Gunners in Frumkin's plane shot down five Jap attackers, but his plane later caught on fire from a broken oil line. Five of the crew parachuted and Frumkin and his co-pilot made a crash landing on a small island, inhabited fortunately by friendly natives. A week later a plane picked him up and he returned to Java.

Later his plane was separated from its squadron when Frumkin was returning from Macassar Straits. Five planes attacked him, and again he had to make a forced landing. But the crew repaired the ship and returned to its base.

A third time, outnumbered by Japanese fighters who damaged his plane forcing him down on an auxiliary field, he got stuck in the mud. Before he could get out the Japs attacked the field and he was wounded in the foot by shrapnel. The lieutenant was taken to a Java hospital, but was removed before the Japs arrived. He flew to Australia, where he has since recovered from his injury, and is again in active service.

The Jew is no fighter? Willing to match with Frumkin? Natives of the Philippines have fought heroically and with a complete lack of thought of self. Chinese (and how many are the stupid Americans who in the past have failed to appreciate China's culture) are fighting doggedly and efficiently in harrying Japan. The Japs would have clear sailing in obtaining their objective of domination of the Pacific, had it not been for those indomitable Chinese.

When we think of people in this country who rate as Americans, we have to think in terms of the present; we have to evaluate them on whether they do or do not believe in freedom for all people. People of this country who believe in freedom, who will fight and die for it, are Americans, no matter what their race, color or creed.

Serve Dinner Tomorrow In Cathedral Hall

The Knights of Columbus of this area, which includes Ishpeming, Marquette and Munising, are giving a dinner in honor of State Deputy Gervase Murphy, of Calumet, who recently was appointed a Supreme Director of the Knights. The dinner will be served at 6:30 tomorrow night in the cathedral hall by women of the Altar society of St. Peter's cathedral.

Knights of the area, and their wives and friends are invited to attend, and an invitation has been extended to all other Knights in the Peninsula and their wives. Since it is anticipated that the attendance will tax the capacity of the hall, it is urged that all those in Ishpeming, Marquette and Munising, who plan to be present, make reservations today, if possible, by telephoning the Marquette Council, Knights of Columbus, office, 492.

Is Signal Honor

The appointment of Mr. Murphy as a Supreme Director is a signal distinction for there are only a few in the country; moreover, this is the first time such an appointment has gone to an Upper Peninsula man. For the last 25 years, Mr. Murphy has been active in Knights of Columbus work.

At the after-dinner program, Ray Bath, of Houghton, district deputy, will preside and the address of welcome will be given by District Deputy Dr. J. P. Bertucci, of Ishpeming.

Other speakers will be Superior Advocate Luke Hart, representative from the Superior Council office, at New Haven, Conn.; the state chaplain, Monsignor Joseph Zyrd; the state secretary, Ed Barrett; the Most Rev. Francis Joseph Wagner, and the guest of honor, Gervase Murphy.

Program Has Much Interest

The program should be an exceptionally interesting one and undoubtedly will attract many Upper Peninsula Knights. In addition to the talks, there will be a program of instrumental and vocal numbers.

Though there will be dinner tickets available at the door tomorrow night, it is urged that all persons of the area who can possibly do so make reservations today so the Altar Society members serving the meal, will have a more definite idea of how many will be present, and also to eliminate the confusion incidental to having to sell tickets to too many persons at the hall.

Concert Next Week—The Howard junior high school will present its spring concert at 7:30 Friday night, May 8, in the Louis G. Kaufman auditorium. The public is invited.

Meeting Postponed—Surgical dressing supplies have not been received, so the group scheduled to make Red Cross dressings in the Guild hall will not meet this afternoon.

Meeting, Party—The Townsend club will meet at 7:45 tonight in the home of Mrs. William LaPlant, 537 Washington street. There will be a games party and lunch will be served at the conclusion of play. The public is invited.

Auxiliary Meetings—The American Legion Auxiliary will meet at 7:30 tonight in the Federated Women's club. At 8 there will be a meeting of the Marquette county Council. There will be a speaking program and lunch will be served.

Installation Tonight—St. Agnes court, Woman's Catholic Order of Foresters, will meet at 8 tonight in the Knights of Columbus hall. Business will include installation of officers. Preceding the meeting, dinner will be served at 6:30. Those wanting information about it are asked to telephone the Chic Ranger, Mrs. Frances Socha, 3267.

Demonstration Tonight—A college physical education demonstration will be held at 8 tonight in the gymnasium of Northern Michigan College of Education. It will be directed by students under the supervision of Miss Myrtle C. Stokk, R. Victor Hurst and C. B. Hedgcock. The public is invited and the admission charge is nominal.

Graduates Sunday—Miss Lillian Catherine Knudsen, a granddaughter of Mrs. E. T. Page, of this city, will be one of the class to receive diplomas from the Francis-Sisters of the Sacred Heart, St. Joseph's College of Nursing, at 3 Sunday afternoon, in St. Mary's cathedral in San Francisco. The Most Rev. John J. Mitty, D.D., will preside at the commencement exercises. Miss Knudsen, who lived here throughout her girlhood, is a graduate of the Baraga high school, class of 1938.

Twilight Musicals—Mrs. Elmer Smeberg and Mrs. A. L. Swinton will present a twilight musicale at 4:30 Sunday afternoon in St. Paul's church under auspices of the Saturday Music club. The program will include organ selections by Lester Champion, organist of the church, and other vocal and instrumental selections. The musicale will afford an opportunity for persons who have been busy doing defense work, spring housecleaning and other numerous activities, to have an hour of calm, listening to fine music. The complete program will be published later. The offertory will be devoted to the scholarship funds being raised by the sponsoring club, to assist young folk to attend the course at the Ba-Ta-Wa-Ga-Ma music camp, in Iron county, which will be operated this summer under the management of Martin M. Johnston.

City Schools' Grade Pupils Give Physical Education Program In Adams Gym Wednesday Evening

A physical education program of the Marquette public schools will be presented at 7:30 Wednesday night in the Sidney Adams gymnasium. There will be no admission charge and the public is invited.

The demonstration will be in charge of the instructor, Miss Anna Bach. Participating in the program will be pupils of the Howard junior high (Seventh and Eighth grades), and Fifth and Sixth grade pupils of the Froebel, Fisher and Graveret grade schools.

Teachers Direct Groups

The following teachers will direct their respective groups: Miss Caroline Siegel, William Savoia, Miss Anna Layne, Mrs. Irene Finnegan, Miss Eileen Scully, Miss Hazel Bush, Miss Helen Bucklin, Miss Jeannette Lundquist and Mrs. L. J. Lindstrom.

There will be music by the high school band during the evening. Miss Patricia Truckey will be pianist for the demonstration, and the vocal accompanists for the dances will be Irene Turenne, Ila Greenleaf, Shirley Malett and Isabel Nesbitt. Following is the program:

Presentation of Colors—Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts.

Who Will Help Entertain Boys Coming To Town?

Are you willing to help entertain the men who will be here for induction into the Army the early part of May? If you can sing, dance, play the piano or other musical instrument in an entertaining fashion; if you can present anything in the entertainment line, you are urged to get in touch with the committee responsible for providing fun for the boys during their stay in town.

You are asked to telephone Clarence Bullock at 2822, during the day, and at 305 in the evening; Dr. Russell Thomas, 1109-M, evenings, or Mayor L. W. Biegler.

Need a Bit of Cheer

The hours the talent will be needed will be during the afternoons, from 1 to 4:30, and a program will be presented every afternoon for a week or more. The present plan is to hold the programs in the Palestra, where there is games equipment, to help the draftees pass the time.

Some of the boys have never been away from home before. Those who have been away, have always known they would return in a short time, but those here in May, all those fortunate enough to be able to pass their "physical" and to be accepted, will be leaving immediately for camp.

They want to go, most of them, for they know there is a job to be done. But it is natural that they should be a bit keyed up, somewhat dazed, not in a mood, some of them, to play games that require attention, thought and concentration. They are hungry, though, for music; for skits, readings, square dances, accordion and other kinds of solos and group singing—numbers that will make them laugh, cheer them, give them an inspiration to salute "thumbs up."

Much Talent Needed

A great deal of talent will be needed to provide the programs. The committee is sending an all-out call to the innumerable folk who play good catchy jazz, who sing rollicking songs ("Deep in the Heart of Texas" and "You Are My

DeMolay Band Gave Delightful Concert Sunday

Despite the fact that Sunday afternoon was so warm and pleasant that folk were tempted to go to the woods, or charge the batteries of their cars by taking a ride, there was a sizable and appreciative audience at the excellent concert given in the Louis G. Kaufman auditorium by the DeMolay band under auspices of Fellowship chapter.

The program was dedicated to members of the chapter, Robert K. Rose, former director; Albert Buck and Edward Woodbridge who are in the U. S. military service.

The program was less than an hour in length, just exactly right for a warm afternoon. Howard Kitzman was director and he and the members of the band deserve commendation for the delightful concert.

It had variety that appealed to all tastes, and it was sparkling and gay, the kind of music most of us like especially well now.

Had Much Variety

It was diversified by the singing of the DeMolay quartet's two numbers, "Night" and "Sophomore Philosophy," and the playing of the trumpet quartet, composed of Howard Kitzman, John Kroken, Donald Bath, and Keith Butler, with the band playing for "The Trumpeters" (Erik W. G. Leidzen) under the direction of Robert Olsen. In addition there were a delightful number of good incidental solos throughout the program.

The introduction of several novelty bits tended to lighten the program and provide a sparkle. For instance, there was the incidental trumpet solo, the singing and whistling during the opening number, "On the Mall," (Souza) and the alluring trumpet section and carefully worked out rhythmic pattern in "Star Dust."

The second group was appealing for the rhythm of "The Viking March" (King) and then there was the clever work of the trumpet and clarinet sections in the syncopated tempo of Kurt's "Bohemo Non" which was so well played.

In the fifth group, again there were incidental trumpet and trombone solos, in "Boogie Woogie Band" (David Bennett) a distinctly modern number, and popular syncopations in "Rhythmoode" (arr. by Paul Koder) with the interweaving of the melodies of "Sophisticated Lady," "Mood Indigo," and "Black and Tan Fantasy."

Drums Gave Fine Support

Percussion instruments were notably good throughout, and were in evidence in the playing of "American Patrol" (Mencham) and, to demonstrate that the band was fully equal to other than swing music or merely syncopated rhythms, the group played an "Operatic Mingle" (arr. by E. W. Berry) with brass and wood winds, and the baritone horn and trombones lending color and variety in such bits of melody as "Poet and Peasant," "Faust," "Bohemian Girl," "Carmen" and "Orpheus."

There was real interpretation in the playing of "Operatic Mingle" and the audience and this reviewer liked it a lot, as they did the more usual, stirring marching number, "The U. S. Field Artillery" (Souza) and "Lights Out" which, with "The Star Spangled Banner," concluded the concert.

Has Capable Personnel

The band showed the improvement that comes when an ensemble works together month after month. The players responded well to the dignified and effective direction of Howard Kitzman. It was a delightful program. The following is the personnel of those participating:

- Clarinets—Jack Boxer, Bill Brown, Richard Keskey, Bud Rose, Howard Berryman, Clyde Sandell, Joe MacDonald, David Olsen.
- Trumpets—John Kroken, Don Bath, Keith Butler, Bill Hart, Emil Munter.
- Euphoniums—Fred Rydholm, Wilbert Wittala.
- Baritone—Harold Erickson.
- Trombones—Robert Olsen, Jack Jorgenson, John Wasmuth.
- Saxophones—Richard West, Russell Hamby.
- Percussion—Frank Richardson, William Ulrich, Jr.
- DeMolay quartet—Jack Hetherington, Palmer Craze, Bill Rich, Harold Erickson.

Exercise To Attain 'Frozen' Silhouette

Uncle Sam wants American women to keep their figures in check—and that means exercise, says Alicia Hart.

It all came about when designers were asked to "freeze" the present silhouette, which isn't as mysterious as it may sound. It just means present styles will continue to remain in style.

What Uncle Sam wants to do is encourage women to wear the clothes they have now, as long as they are useable, in order to aid the war's "Battle of Production." Imagine what a rush there would be for new clothes if over night the hourglass figure, for instance, should be a fashion "must." Uncle Sam wants to avoid just such situations.

Three Exercises

The silhouette today is a slender shape. Pretty soon, too, Uncle Sam is going to regulate the measurements of women's clothes. The resulting garments will be slender still—in fact, slightly more so.

Very likely, say authoritative sources, the sale of dresses-with-jackets will be prohibited. And you know dresses without jackets! They reveal every ounce of potatoes you ever ate.

No. 1. Lie on your stomach, elbows on floor under chest, weight on elbows. Bend knees, bringing heels near derriere. Raise left thigh in the air as high as possible, and return the whole thigh to floor with a good strong thump. Repeat with right leg. Continue to alternate, 50 times for each side.

All Ready For Tulip Time

May Jo, eight-year-old granddaughter of Holland, Michigan's, burgomeester, Henry Geerlings, is shown here in the Zeeuwisch costume which she will wear during Holland's annual tulip festival beginning May 16 and continuing for eight days. Michigan's Hollanders grow the world's finest tulips and the annual blossoming festival attracts more than half a million visitors from every state in the Union. It is a spectacle duplicated nowhere else in the world.

Combine lamb, celery, green pepper, scallions or onions. Brown meat and vegetable mixture in the hot oil. Add tomatoes, salt and pepper. Simmer until sauce thickens. Serve hot poured over hot boiled rice.

Keeping knees together, relax waistline, then drop legs to the right—and spank them down. Return to original position. Then spank down to the left. Keep alternating, until each hip has had about 50 spanks.

3. The figure eight. Lie flat, as above. Draw your knees up to your chest. Then push the knees down and over to the left as far as possible until they touch the floor. Then bring the knees up along the floor until they're opposite your waistline. Swing them up again to the chest position, then push them down on the right side until they touch the floor as far down and over to the right as possible. The knees thus really inscribe the figure eight—and at the same time, trim you down.

Now we have HOMOGENIZED VITAMIN D MILK

THIS new Homogenized Vitamin D milk is our regular grade of milk... made more nutritious by the addition of Vitamin D (activated ergosterol) and homogenized. Homogenization breaks up the fat globules, distributes the butter fat evenly throughout the whole bottle of milk... giving every ounce... every sip... an equal share of cream! This means that everyone drinking this milk gets his or her share of the valuable butterfat.

Vitamin D is essential to the proper development of bone and teeth in persons of all ages. It is found in very few foods and is almost non-existent in the daily diet. Now, in Homogenized A.R.P.I. Process Vitamin D milk, you have 400 U.S.P. units of Vitamin D in every quart! Growing children need not less than one quart per day. Expectant and nursing mothers the same. Others at least a pint a day. Serve our Homogenized Vitamin D milk at every meal.

Enroll Now For Red Cross Home Nursing Course

Many women, aware that the increasing dearth of nurses may make it difficult to engage nurses to care for any but critical illnesses in the home, have registered for the Red Cross home nursing course. The class will meet for the first time at 2 next Monday afternoon in the Craverst high school.

Classes will be held from 2 to 4 Monday and Thursday afternoons. However, it is evident from registration that the number of women wanting to take the course will be so large that it will be divided. Since some days are more convenient for some women than Monday and Thursday afternoon, there will be evening classes available for those who can not attend in the afternoon. The important thing is that women enroll now so that the committee may know approximately how many will be taking the course and will have an idea of arrangements that may have to be made.

Any women, who want to take the course and have not registered, are asked to do so today or tomorrow if possible by telephoning Mrs. Douglas Vielmetti, 2786.

She Used Her Training

This course is of great practical value to women and gives them a feeling of security in the face of a possible shortage of nurses. For instance, in a small town in lower Michigan 10 women last spring took the Red Cross course in home nursing. There had not been a great deal of publicity at the time about the project, but the women were convinced of its value as a preparation against some complications of family life, such as nursing care in an epidemic.

Shortly after the women completed their course there was an outbreak of "flu." The small daughter of a member of the class contracted double pneumonia. Because of a similar epidemic in nearby communities, it was impossible to get trained nursing care, nor was it possible to move the child to a hospital. The mother took care of the little girl, managed to pull her through the serious illness and gratefully wrote to the Red Cross, saying that had it not been for the training she had had in her classes in home nursing she could never have done the things and given the care the critically ill child required.

Because of the disruption of war other households may, in the future, face similar emergencies, so it is urged that all women who can possibly do so (even if they have to neglect housecleaning) register for the course which begins next Monday afternoon.

Boudreau-Blondeau

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Blondeau, of Harvey, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Eva Blondeau, to Corporal Herbert J. Boudreau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Boudreau, of Northland, at 7 Friday morning, April 17, in St. John's church, the Rev. F. J. Hofman officiating. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The couple was attended by Miss Geraldine Boudreau and Gildo Menl, of Princeton.

The bride wore a trained gown of white slipper satin; the bodice, made with long sleeves ending over the hand, had a narrow peplum at the waist, and was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline. Her veil of white lace was held in place by a coronet of white sweet-scented stock. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and stock.

Her attendant's dress was blue marquisette crepe trimmed with matching lace. Her shoulder-length veil of blue lace was fastened to a coronet of pink carnations and her bouquet was pink carnations and white stock.

Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served to the immediate families in the home of the bride's parents.

The bride is employed in the office by Dr. L. W. Howe and the groom is stationed with a National Guard unit at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri.

Begole-Burrows

Dr. and Mrs. Albert H. Burrows, 1301 North Third street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Marion Ruth Burrows, and Charles E. Begole, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Begole, 410 East Ohio street. The wedding took place February 27 in the rectory of St. Stephen's Episcopal church in Escanaba, the Rev. James G. Ward officiating.

The attendants were Miss Mary Coon, of Escanaba, a former resident of Marquette, and Paul Tintell, of this city.

The bride wore a green redingote ensemble with brown hat and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

The bride plans to finish her college course at the Northern Michigan College of Education. The groom is stationed at Marsh Air Field, Santa Ana, California.

Detroit Tigers Cut Squad To 26 By Sending Dutch Meyer To Buffalo

Open Eastern Swing Today With Red Sox

DETROIT, April 27—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers today released second baseman L. D. (Dutch) Meyer under option to Buffalo, of the international league. He is subject to immediate recall.

Meyer, former Texas Christian university football player, was recalled from the Bisons last year by the Tigers and participated in 46 games, batting .190.

His departure cuts the squad to 26, one over the season player limit. Rookie pitcher Virgil Trucks, who gained his first major league victory here yesterday against the St. Louis Browns although failing to go the route, entered Henry Ford hospital for a check-up. Club officials said Trucks has not been in the best of condition.

Open in East Against Boston
Another Detroit pitcher, Alton Benton, has been undergoing hospital treatment for a throat infection, but was recovered sufficiently to leave with the club on its first seaboard invasion.

The Tigers, only a half-game out of first place due to some excellent pitching and timely hitting from a flock of recruits, opened the eastern swing tomorrow at Boston.

Tommy Bridges was the Detroit pitching choice for the opening game against the Red Sox.

Cubs Defeat Reds, 4 to 3, In 11 Innings

CINCINNATI, April 27—(AP)—An eleventh-inning error by Shortstop Eddie Joost today gave the Chicago Cubs their second overtime victory in a series of three as they defeated Cincinnati, 4 to 3, in 11 frames.

Joost dropped Catcher Ray Lamanno's pop on Stan Hack's attempted steal and the Cub third baseman scored on Len Merullo's single to fair right.

Only Saturday, Jimmy Wilson's crew took the Reds into camp, 5 to 4, over the same route.

Johnny Vander Meer, gunning for his second win, instead went to his second defeat, although he pitched brilliantly at times in giving up 11 hits, walking four, but striking out as many.

Homers by each side featured early portions of the game, Lou Stringer getting one in the fourth, to score behind the singling Lou Novikoff, and Frank McCormick tagging his third of the year in the eighth to tie the score at 3-all.

Erickson Allows One Hit

Ironically, McCormick's four-batter was the lone hit gained by the Reds in five and two-third innings of relief hurling by Paul Erickson.

The big right-hander from Zion, Ill., came on in the sixth after Hiram Bithorn gave up two runs on a double by Ival Goodman, a walk to Bert Haas, a single by Gee Walker, an outfield fly and another two-base blow by Joost.

Lamanno was purposely walked to fill the bases, but there the Red threat ended as Vander Meer struck out and Mike McCormick fouled out.

Nats Recall Kennedy From Chattanooga

WASHINGTON, April 27—(AP)—The Senators, whose pitching hasn't been coming up to expectations, have recalled Bill Kennedy, tall left-hander, from their Chattanooga club.

Kennedy, with Washington during spring training, will replace Early Wynn as a starting pitcher. Wynn was hit solidly in his first two starts this year. The Senators' hurling staff also has been weakened by an accident which put Dutch Leonard in the hospital with a fractured leg.

Japanese 85 Miles East Of Mandalay

Burmese equivalent for Kong Haping.

Both sides were reported to have sustained heavy casualties. The British communiqué said: "Reports from the Chinese expeditionary force indicate that the enemy thrust toward the northern Shan states has reached halfway up the road from Lolem to Haping, 10 miles east of Mandalay. This would indicate a Japanese advance of 55 miles.

An earlier Chinese communiqué had given a somewhat more hopeful picture of the situation on the sector between the Sittang and Salween rivers, where the Japanese had advanced more than 150 miles in the last week, throwing the defense back in bitter confused fighting.

It was said the Chinese, finding a weak spot in the Japanese lines, drove forward to recapture Hoping, 10 miles east of Mandalay, which Stilwell's men had seized earlier. It was possible that this column was attempting to sheer off the advanced Japanese units, now some 350 miles beyond their main base of Rangoon.

Tinkham, 71, said his age and the strenuous duties of a Congressman in wartime led to his decision.

Cleveland Man Directs Ore Shipment Speedup

CLEVELAND, April 27—(AP)—Karl H. Suder, Cleveland railroad man, today was placed in charge of a new office which will seek to obtain maximum efficiency in the movement of iron ore down the Great Lakes.

Suder was named by a committee of Great Lakes vessel operators, and will maintain offices here. He has been chief traffic officer of the Akron, Canton & Youngstown railroad.

The War Production Board is seeking a movement of 88,000,000 long tons of iron ore this year—8,000,000 more than the record, set last year.

Down Sports Trail

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Wide World Sports Columnist

NEW YORK, April 27—Abe Simon was scheduled to meet Harry Bobo in Pittsburgh tonight, and thereby hangs a tale longer than the tail of a kite, and with more knots in it. At the loose end is the idea that if the retiring Mr. Simon ever decides to be retired he'd better expose himself to Bobo's fists before taking up any other unfinished business.

It's a "so what?" story in a way except that it gives an insight into the hazards of the weird business of fight promotion, wherein a contract is something very handy to have around as an understudy for confetti. It tears very easily.

Art Rooney and Barney McGinley run a boxing club in Pittsburgh, with Jake Mintz, the "meet me at 7 o'clock, if I'm early don't wait for me" double talker as matchmaker.

Rooney and McGinley are the injured parties in the Simon-Bobo affair. They were left holding the bag, from which had leaked about $2,000 of their money. However, they aren't sore. They're just deeply hurt about it all, and they have nothing but sympathy for Simon "if the report on his health is true."

If that latter phrase drips a little skepticism, well Rooney and McGinley aren't exactly drips themselves. They've been around the fight game long enough to know that the only thing you can be absolutely sure of is that you never can absolutely be sure.

The Pittsburgh promoters have outlined their case in a letter sent to the Pennsylvania and New York boxing commissions and the N. B. A. It is not so much a protest as one of these "I am confessing my sins" papers which may avoid such pitfalls' documents.

It states that Simon and Bobo first were scheduled to meet in Pittsburgh February 2. A week before the bout Jimmy Johnston, Simon's manager, asked for a postponement on the grounds Abe injured a foot. This was granted inasmuch as X-ray pictures of the foot were forwarded and there was no chance that an X-ray had been selected at random from the injured foot files and sent along, as Abe's feet aren't exactly standard models.

Another Postponement
The bout then was set for February 17, but four days before that date Abe, himself, discovered he hadn't been training and still was on his honeymoon, so he asked another postponement, which was granted.

Johnston then revealed that Simon had been offered a bout with Joe Louis March 29, and inasmuch as Rooney and McGinley didn't want to stand in the way of an Army emergency relief fund show they agreed to renounce their claim on Abe's immediate services on condition he would meet Bobo April 27.

On April 18 Abe told a radio audience he was in fine shape and would take apart Bobo and Lou Nova, whom he also was scheduled to meet, and see what made them tick.

Overnight Abe made another astonishing discovery. He discovered he wasn't feeling so well after all, what with a lame foot, head pains and one thing and another. He promptly announced his retirement.

Everyone hopes it's permanent. He's just a battler without guts and it's too nice and intelligent a guy to be used for target practice. But it is a tough break for the Pittsburghers who, were it not for the epidemic of cancellations, would be figuring up their profits on tonight's gate about now.

ST. LOUIS, April 27—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals game for the benefit of the Army and Navy relief funds will be played June 3 with the Boston Braves furnishing the opposition, Sam Breadon, president of the club, announced today.

These same two teams will meet in Boston June 25 to provide the Braves' contribution to the same funds.

Nurse Foils Plot Of Grand Rapids Youths
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., April 27—(AP)—Miss Clara Barton, 42, night nurse at the juvenile home here, today was credited by police with apprehending two boys who threatened her with a butcher knife and tried to remove a 16-year-old girl from the home.

The Grand Rapids youths, John Kiever and Robert Howard, who were scared away when Miss Barton caught them off guard and tipped over a heavy table, were arrested at their homes after police recognized them by descriptions given by Miss Barton. The boys were former inmates of the home.

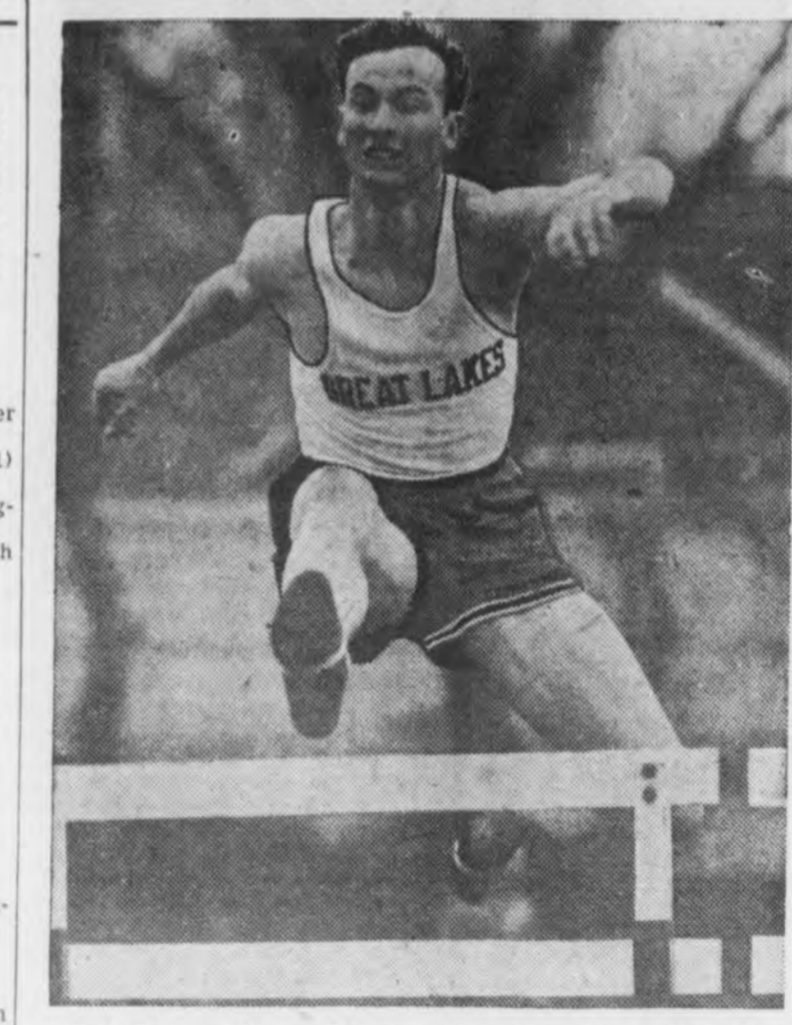

Contracts Must Be Carried Out
"All strikes are at a minimum. Existing contracts between employers and employees must, in all fairness, be carried out to the expiration date of these contracts. The existing machinery for labor disputes will, of course, continue to give due consideration to inequalities and the limitation of substandards of living. I repeat that all of these processes, none of which will work equitably for the overwhelming proportion of all our workers if we can keep the cost of living down and stabilize their remuneration."

"Most workers in munitions industries are working far more than 40 hours a week and should be paid at time and a half for overtime. Otherwise their weekly pay envelopes would be reduced."

The President urged that war bonds be purchased without stint, both to help the Government finance the war cost, and to retire from circulation money which otherwise would have a tendency to force prices upward.

"Every dime and every dollar not vitally needed for absolute necessities should go into war bonds and stamps to add to the striking power of our armed forces," he said.

Wolverines Wallop Huron Nine, 13-4

YPSILANTI, Mich., April 27—(AP)—University of Michigan's baseball team asserted its offensive power in the late innings to stamp an overwhelming 13-4 defeat on Michigan Normal here today.

The hard-hitting Wolverines, warming up for their game with Michigan State Tuesday, battered the offerings of three Huron pitchers for 12 blows, including four home runs.

Michigan caught up with the Hurons, who had scored two runs in the opening inning, when Paul White lashed out with a four-ply blast to score Wayne Christenson ahead of him in the fourth. Then Normal came back on Clare Kravczak's two-run homer to pull ahead again in the same frame.

Pitcher Dick Savage punched out another home run in the fifth with a teammate on base to once more knot the count and the Wolverines scored three runs in the sixth chapter to sew up the game.

Don Holman and Francis Chamberlain snipped out the other Michigan home runs. Don Smith, Savage and Leslie Parr worked on the mound for the Wolverines.

Coach Ray Fisher said that he would start Irving (Pro) Boim against State tomorrow. George Harms, who injured his throwing hand in the first inning of today's game, will return to his position behind the plate.

Rostock And Other German Bases Pounded

down five of the newest type German fighters—Focke-Wulf 190's—over northern France today in what was probably the shpest engagement they have yet fought.

Squadron Leader C. G. Peterson, of Santa Anita, Utah, who has won the Distinguished Flying Cross, was the first Eagle to go into action in the extensive sweep during which the Germans lost 10 planes.

Another pilot, describing Peterson's action, said the Uthman plane which half rolled and went straight down.

Gets Two More Nazis
"He saw five more below him," the flier said. "He attacked one and that, too, crashed into the ground. He then went on to attack another and saw the pieces falling off it."

Meanwhile two other pilots each shot down one plane.

One American pilot said that for about 10 minutes the sky was "absolutely full of aircraft."

"On their way home these two pilots saw a Spitfire being attacked by a Focke-Wulf 190, so our boys jumped on his tail and shot him down into the sea," the pilot said. "That made the fifth victim."

Another Eagle called the sweep a "swell party—about the best we have been out over France."

"In addition to those we shot down, another Eagle blew the rudder off a Focke-Wulf which plunged down in a vertical dive from 15,000 feet," he said. "But we could not follow it as he attacked again and he had too much to do to see whether the Hun hit the ground."

Pilot Officer A. B. Roscoe, 21, of North Hollywood, Calif., was credited with a "probably" and Pilot Officer E. M. Hunter, of Chicago, was given credit for one damaged.

GRAND RAPIDS,

Civilian War Groups Make Progress

ISHPEMING, April 27—Ishpe- ming's civilian war program is moving ahead as speedily as facilities permit.

Mayor John J. Johnson, who automatically became chairman of the local council when he was elected, has conferred with the city council, American Legion air raid wardens, chief of police and fire chief.

The volunteer registration list is being canvassed and registrants classified for service in protective units.

Chief Arthur Brown, of the fire department, reports 55 volunteer auxiliary fire wardens have finished their course of instruction. All have had their first aid course and 25 and 30 are finishing their basic instruction and drill.

Police Auxiliary Revised

Revamping of the police auxiliary will be necessary, but Chief Nestor Eckloff has a revised list of about 40, of which 16 have had first aid and eight have practically completed basic instruction.

The three men who attended the Legion air raid warden school are checking the registrations with the police and fire chief so there will be no overlapping. They are picking 110 men and women for instructional work. Arrangements are being made to enroll them in a second class of basic instruction and, when convenient, in first aid.

Women who have signed for civilian war service are advised that within a short time a school in home nursing will be started. Local officials have been endeavoring for some time to get this started, but have had to wait because nurses who will be instructors in this course are now busy as first aid instructors. As soon as their schedules can be arranged classes in home nursing will be formed.

The county council and advisory committee will meet in Ishpe- ming at 4:30 Thursday afternoon. The new county chairman, Arthur F. Jacques, of Marquette, will preside.

State Troops To March In City Parade

ISHPEMING, April 27—One of the interesting features of the Salvage for Victory parade here Thursday night will be the appearance of the Marquette county company of the Michigan State troops. It will be the first appearance of that organization in Ishpe- ming.

The full company is expected to march in the procession. The parade committee's invitation to the troops was extended through Edward Zhukile, sergeant of the company. The troops will come to Ishpe- ming in automobiles, assemble

COUNCIL INVITED

An invitation is being extended by W. C. Peterson, salvage chairman, to A. F. Jacques, county civilian defense leader, and the council to ride in Ishpe- ming's Salvage for Victory parade Thursday evening. The county council meets here at 4:30 Thursday afternoon and Mr. Peterson is suggesting that its members remain for the parade.

on South Pine street and march in the second section of the parade. Other features of the parade will be the massed colors of the American Legion, Legion color guard, Negaunee and Ishpe- ming Legion drum and bugle corps and the Ishpe- ming high school band, all in uniform.

There also will be a bicycle brigade, in which children will ride decorated and slogan-bearing "bikes." Others in marching units, such as Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, have been invited to carry slogans, for which prizes will be offered.

Merchants of the community will not take a back seat, they indicated today, on the question of slogans. A large number of industrial enterprises have been planned and each will carry a slogan highlighting a phase of the civilian war program.

Obituary

James Eddy

ISHPEMING, April 27—James Eddy, 83, a resident of Ishpe- ming 60 years, died at midnight Sunday in the Ishpe- ming hospital after a 10-day illness.

For the last five years he had made his home with Ervin Tonkin, 262-Ready street.

Mr. Eddy was born in July, 1858, in Cornwall, England, and came to this country when he was a young man. He resided in Ishpe- ming continuously and was employed by the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company, being retired in 1929.

He was a member of the First Methodist church and of the Sons of St. George.

He leaves two sons, Ervin Tonkin, of Ishpe- ming, and Roland Tonkin, of Waukegan, Ill.; two daughters Mrs. Ethel Waters, of Grand Rapids, and Mrs. Al Reynolds, of Detroit; a sister, Mrs. William Boase, of Aurora, Minn., and a sister in England.

The body was taken to Mudge's funeral home where services will be held at 3 Wednesday. The Rev. Lewis Keast officiating, interment will be made in Ishpe- ming cemetery.

News Behind The News

By Ray Tucker

WASHINGTON, April 27—Sabotage of the crudest kind was responsible for the Government's decision to take over the management of the Brewster Aeronautical corporation. Had it not been for loyal American employees who tipped off several Congressmen and Secretary of Navy Frank Knox, the inside conspiracy to hamper production might have continued indefinitely.

Not a single bomber of those constructed for long ago was ever delivered, despite numerous official queries as to the reasons for delay. The methods used to prevent completion of planes were amazingly lacking in subtlety. When a ship reached the assembly stage, the engineers discovered that aluminum "skins," tails, landing gear and other vital parts did not match or had not been finished. A checkup on the specifications, distributed throughout the various departments disclosed that they had been drawn erroneously with apparent deliberation. Many of the foremen proved to be Nazi or of German extraction. They urged machine operators to "take it easy," and to prolong the job with sarcastic remarks to the effect that "this is England's war."

Washington has temporarily withheld the evidence because of criticism which publication would direct against agencies charged with careful supervision and investigation of all firms engaged in armaments making. But the episode will lead to a more vigilant inspection of corporate performance as against promises and to a stricter watch over workmen and managers.

FEAR—The official and national reaction to the bombing of Tokyo reflects a desire for ruthlessness toward the Oriental enemy which has surprised its possessors. Such hatred did not exist toward the Germans in 1917 nor has it been present even since September, 1939. The Japs' report that merely "schools and churches" were destroyed generated no regret in high quarters. Only eagerness for more news of the same sort.

Strange as it may seem, this indication of American callousness comes at a timely moment. The effect is a definite military asset in linking the United Nations more closely. Some of our Allies, notably the Russians and Chinese, have been concerned lest our spirit and sportsmanship lead us to conduct operations on a Chesterfieldian basis. Our pre-Pearl Harbor policy of appeasement was partially responsible for their distrust, as well as our chivalric attitude toward the Kaiser. Our off-again-on-again relations with Vichy aggravated their fear. Moscow - Chungking statesmen have warned us that they intend to wage a bare-knuckle fight to crush the enemy without pity.

The fiery rain which fell over the Land of the Rising Sun served to quiet these suspicions. As Louis A. Johnson said in an attempt to assure the Indians of our seriousness and savagery of purpose, "This is one war which the United States intends to finish." Henceforth all our talk and actions will be designed to convince friend and foe that established ethics are out for the duration.

BETS—Popping Republicans have returned from Chicago to Washington less cocky about their prospects of winning the House in November or making sizable gains in the Senate. They still expect to increase their membership on Capitol Hill, but they have revised earlier expectations downward.

They grounded previous prophecies on the belief that the voters would visit on the "ins" their resentment against increased taxes, higher living costs, the conflict of privations etc., factors which would normally produce a political revolution. But the full-time employment which will prevail by fall ought to strengthen the Democrats. Millions of workers drawing a good week's pay were tired through the depression by WPA and AAA checks. Now that they are profiting from war contracts distributed by the Administration, they may feel doubly grateful toward President Roosevelt. The exception may be farm states which have not enjoyed a large share of Federal orders. In that area the younger and more "liberal" population has moved to the cities, leaving Republican fathers and mothers and aunts in the majority.

More astute political observers concede the futility of venturing predictions or making plans at this time. Even though the country were poised for a smashing GOP landslide, because of domestic dissatisfaction existing only a week before elections, they figure that a single major victory over the Japs for over the Germans, if American forces should participate) would alter the voting map overnight. All bets would then be off.

STEAK—Official inspection of the liner Normandie convinces the Navy and the Maritime Commission that a crocodile would have enjoyed the tears shed over her conflagration and prospective salvage. The publicized ship is symbolic of the state of France on the eve of the German invasion. She is a papier-mache vessel.

Marine engineers and architects report that her construction is flimsy from top to bottom. To the untrained eye she appeared to be one of the world's staunchest and most superb craft, a notable tribute to the invention and artistry of the Gallic character and temperament. But behind the facade there was only a shell. Experts from the National Gallery of Art, who appraised the supposedly classic paintings, have branded them as the phoney work of inferior artists. They would hardly do justice to a Greenwich Village or Provincetown neophyte in colors.

Our propaganda strategists in the Office of Facts and Figures have been stumped by the discovery. To publish details at this moment might weaken Laval in his attempt to force full collaboration with Hitler on his seize. On the other hand, he might seize on the revelations to turn them against his predecessors now awaiting a new trial at Riom. The boat was built during their various regimes. International relations are becoming so tense and complex that the bigwigs do not dare tell each other whether they had eggs or steak for breakfast.

COOLIDGE—The war is now official. The Board of Governors of the National Press club here has undertaken cognizance of hostilities. Under its tentative program 10 specially dishes will be served after 10 p. m. In order to save electricity, money and food, only delicatessen provisions will be available after that hour. The organization which once boasted that it never slept may even shut down from 2 a. m. until 6. Extra doors have been built and a guard assigned to keep out gate-crashers newly arrived at the Capital and unaware that the brothers have a treasurer quite as hard-boiled as Henry L. Morgenthau, Jr.

The "writin' fellows," as Calvin Coolidge used to call them, don't like the early closing hours and other restrictions. But their wives do—so much so that their collective conclusion is: "Even war has its blessings."

New York

By Albert N. Leman TEMPTED—Is Hitler also deliberately fanning popular enthusiasm for an Allied invasion of Europe? Some of our perspicacious staff officers are inclined to believe that the Teutonic trickster is scheming to make the British and the United States open a second front somewhere between Norway and Spain and thereafter walk into the most disastrous pitfall since the days of Braddock's ambush. They indicate that German-controlled European capitals are scattering rumors of the Reich being frightened because "the Yanks are coming again."

This reaction does not sound like the hard-boiled Nazis. When the daring English Commandos raided the important Boulogne area a few days ago, the landing party ranged several miles inland for approximately two hours and met little opposition. The situation was not typical of Axis thoroughness in defense. The easiest assumption is that the clever black-faced dare-devils troops the garrison troops off guard. But suppose this "weakness" were a decoy to lure in an expeditionary force?

Secret agents discovered that for months trains of cement, barbed wire and timber have been passing through western France and Belgium. A series of barriers, known as the Falkenhof line, has been erected in Norway. In many coastal areas all civilians have been evacuated. If a United Nations army could be tempted to try to crack this shell, it would consume material intended for Russia. Then if the incursion were checked by a superior counterattack, the tragedy might be worse than that at Dunkirk.

BLOC—Insiders divulge that the National Maritime Union is about to jump into a gutter - rolling, eye-gouging fight with rival labor organizations for control of all workmen handling cargoes from the time of their arrival at the warehouses to stowage in steamer holds at the New York piers. Harry Bridges, Pacific slope czar of the International Longshoremen and Warehouse Workers, is hurrying one of his cleverest lieutenants east to try to smash the United Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Workers (CIO), and Joseph P. Ryan's Longshoremen's association (AFL), which now runs the Gulf and Atlantic water fronts.

Eighty-five per cent of the seamen on U. S. vessels are members of the NLU, whose only competitor here is the weak Seafarers International (AFL), an affiliate of Harry Lundberg's Sailors Union of the Pacific. The Maritime is openly and aggressively left wing. Its attempt to absorb the dock workers was blocked by Ryan, who charged his enemies with being Communists.

The NLU retaliated with the accusation that Joe's outfit is filled with racketeers and saboteurs and cited the case of the Normandie fire as an example. This attack hit the group a staggering blow and resulted in the formation of a rebel "rank and file" bloc among the wharf laborers. Similar "boring from within" tactics are scheduled for the United Retail when Bridges' organizer arrives on the battlefield.

THRONE—A Laval-inspired suppression of De Gaulles throughout Madagascar revives anxiety about the security of Ceylon, the world's teaput and last big island held by the Allies in the Indian ocean. However, New York importers, recently returned from the tropical bastion, claim it will give the Nips a much tougher job than did the overrated bog called Singapore. The crown colony contains a heterogeneous population of several millions, is about three times the size of Massachusetts, and its topography resembles Britain.

Trincomalee, its naval base, has been less press-agented than the ill-fated Malayan docks, but the harbor is well sheltered. In the last tin empire apparently the coolies ran out on the British. Here the diverse races are united. The Dutch, Portuguese and British are enroled in mechanized companies. The Singhaless, who a century ago fought against encroachers with weapons made of sharpened antelope horns, have been formed into well-trained modernized outfits.

Their fealty was won in 1934 when London sent back the ancient throne of the kings of Kandy, which had been stored in Windsor castle. Since 1938 the various white and native military bodies have held war games in which they practiced repelling an imaginary invader called the "Hibullians," who were British regulars but whose tactics were copies of those used by the Japs.

Second USO Drive To Be Conducted

ISHPEMING, April 27—Plans for another drive to raise funds for the United Service Organization in Army camps and Naval stations will be made at a meeting called for 11 Thursday morning at the Mather Inn.

Cliff Drury, of the state YMCA organization, will confer with county and local leaders to explain the program, determine community quotas and line up skeleton organizations to carry on the work.

Louis Dubinsky, of Ishpe- ming, is temporary county chairman; Ben DeVoe will head the Marquette drive and H. S. Doolittle has agreed to serve as chairman in Negaunee. No Ishpe- ming leader has been named.

The USO sponsored a drive here several months ago and Ishpe- ming oversubscribed a quota of $1,300.

FBI Can Use Detectaphone, Court Rules

If the defendant were not a party to the intercepted message.

Justice Roberts delivered both opinions. Chief Justice Stone and Justices Murphy and Frankfurter dissented in the latter case, but Justice Murphy, was the lone dissenter in the detectaphone case. Justice Jackson did not participate in either.

In connection with the detectaphone case the Justice department said that in the light of the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor it was "of vital consequence whether a military officer or other Government agent may overhear or intercept the communications of suspected spies or saboteurs."

The majority opinion said that what is protected by the communications act "is the message itself throughout the course of its transmission by the instrumentality or agency of transmission."

"Words spoken in a room in the presence of another into a telephone receiver do not constitute a communication by wire within the meaning" of the act, it declared.

"The listening in the next room to the words of Shulman (a defendant) by a detectaphone, listened from an adjoining room" to Shulman talking on the telephone in his office.

In the other case the Court upheld the conviction of four New Yorkers, Dr. Maximilian Goldstein, Dr. Benjamin Schwartz, Herman Rubin and Nathan Karpis, in an alleged insurance racket. They contended that two other men, Dr. Hirsch L. Messman and Elias Garrow, "had been induced to plead guilty and to testify for the Government" upon being confronted with evidence obtained by wiretapping.

Keast Writes Message For "The Upper Room"

ISHPEMING, April 27—More than a million readers, including thousands of men in the armed service, will draw spiritual inspiration Tuesday from a devotional message written by the Rev. Lewis Keast, pastor of the Methodist church, Ishpe- ming. His message appears in "The Upper Room," one of America's most widely read book of devotions.

Mr. Keast's meditation for the twenty-eighth day of April is based on 1 Thessalonians 4:11. "Study to be quiet." It is a brief comment on the Scripture, a prayer and a "thought for the day" comprise the devotion.

Not only will Mr. Keast's meditation be read by more than one million subscribers in American homes, but thousands of copies go to correct the "lost soldier" instinct. Soldiers and sailors in Army camps and Navy yards receive individual copies in red, white and blue envelopes. There is a special edition printed in Braille for the blind, and foreign language editions are issued in Spanish, Portuguese, Korean and Hindustani.

The prayer for April 28, written by Mr. Keast, follows: "O God, we thank Thee for the quiet rest of the night. Help us with steady step to continue our journey another day. May we again test the truth of Thy Word: 'My peace is sufficient for thee.' In Christ's name. Amen."

Ford Sues Government In Collision of Ships

NEW YORK, April 27—P—The Ford Motor company, owner of the motorship Green Island, today sought $7,500 damages from the Government in U. S. district court today on charges that an unnamed U. S. destroyer was negligent in colliding with the Green Island.

The collision occurred off the coast of Florida last January. The Green Island was enroute from Newport News, Va., to Havana with a cargo of coal when it was overtaken by the destroyer. The complaint said the warship fired a shot after inspecting the ship with its searchlight then "continued on a converging course" to collide with the motorship which was running without lights in accordance with Navy instructions.

The complaint said the destroyer carried defense plant workers being carried to Peralta's funeral home at 7:45.

Dr. McCann Will Contest Appointment of Bertucci

ISHPEMING, April 27—Dr. N. J. McCann, city health officer, said this afternoon that he had retained M. J. Kennedy, Ishpe- ming attorney, to present his case for retention in office on the strength of the veterans' preference act.

The city attorney, he said, has been advised that the action of the council at its reorganization meeting last week in naming Dr. J. P. Bertucci to succeed Dr. McCann as of May 1 will be contested.

The election of the city health officer was the highlight of the reorganization meeting. In his application for reappointment, Dr. McCann cited the veterans' preference act, but the council, on an 11-10 vote, appointed Dr. Bertucci. This action was questioned and the McCann application re-read to the council. A second vote was taken, with the same result.

Tornado Kills At Least 100 In Oklahoma

town when the tornadic storm struck.

"I think I'm safe in saying there isn't a two-story building left standing in the town."

Rain, hail 'Fall in Buckets'

The wind storm was accompanied by hail and rain which witnesses said "fell in buckets."

Dickinson said he counted 11 bodies in five blocks of Main street and saw about 50 persons he believed seriously wounded and 50 others less seriously hurt.

"I couldn't attempt to estimate the number of dead and injured," he said, "because I saw only one section of the town."

Hospitals here, at Vinita and Claremore were jammed. About 200 carloads of doctors and nurses from Tulsa and many others from nearby towns were aiding in the rescue work.

The multi-million dollar Oklahoma Ordnance works south of here escaped serious damage.

The storm's fury struck down Main street with a freakish destructive hand, Dickinson said.

"Across the street from a filling station that was left a heap of rubble, a trailer and its occupants were unhurt," he added.

Dickinson said he aided in rescue work along Main street, and that while some single storied buildings may have escaped serious damage, every taller building was bettered.

Charles Barde, city editor of the Pryor Daily Democrat, wouldn't attempt to estimate the number of injured.

"We've just come through the wrath of God," he said.

Workers Aid in Rescue Work

A shuttle train, which normally carried defense plant workers between Claremore and Pryor, was used to carry two carloads of wounded to Vinita for hospitalization.

"About 2,000 workers from the powder plant are aiding in the rescue work," he said.

Barde had been unable to make a complete survey of the disaster. Buildings demolished, he said, included the First Baptist church, the Labor Union temple, and many along Main street. The roofs of the high school and the new post-office building were blown off.

Three persons were killed and 12 injured as the storm lashed near Talala, a town of 200, 12 miles northwest of Claremore. They were listed as Mrs. Harold Hewitt, Howard Willey and Lloyd Boyd.

Another person was reported killed at Tiawah, southeast of Claremore.

Decapitated Body Found

The decapitated body of an unidentified man was found along state highway 20, midway between Claremore and Pryor.

At Oklahoma City, Governor Phillips placed Safety Commissioner Walter B. Johnson in command of state relief agencies in the stricken zone.

With the state's national guard in Federal service, the task of helping in rescue of victims, preserving order and preventing looting fell on the state highway patrol.

Johnson was in the area when the storm struck and swung his men into action at once.

City Zoned For Salvage Collection

ISHPEMING, April 27—Every household in Ishpe- ming is asked to contribute to the Salvage for Victory collection next Saturday morning.

The schedule of collections will be announced Friday, but W. C. Peterson, Ishpe- ming chairman for the salvage committee, pointed out that in the meantime all salvage material should be assembled in the home Friday and be available for collection Saturday morning.

It is not necessary to separate salvage goods, but for the sake of speedy collection and easy handling, papers and magazines should be bundled. Metal and rubber do not have to be packaged or boxed.

Trucks For Each Zone

Several trucks, each manned by two adults, will make the rounds. Salvage material is to be on porches or curbing. Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and drum and bugle corps members will accompany the trucks and carry the material to the trucks. The city has been divided into zones and trucks assigned to each zone.

The Narotzky warehouse will be the distributing center and there experienced workers will sort the salvage for weighing and valuation.

Funds will go to the Boy Scout troops, Girl Scouts and drum and bugle corps.

Doctor Poisons Wife, Two Daughters, Himself

ROCKY SPRINGS, Wyo., April 27—P—Coroner J. Warden Opie said tonight that Dr. J. F. Rya, 35, injected drugs into his wife and two small daughters, watched them die, wrote a note giving the times of their deaths and then gave himself a fatal dose.

Police broke into the Ryan home last night and discovered the bodies of Mrs. Ryan, about 34, and the children in their beds. Dr. Ryan, who died this morning, lay beside the body of his wife. A doll was near the body of Virginia, 5, and another beside Mary Jane, 3.

Dr. Ryan clutched an injection syringe.

The coroner said a note, addressed to him and signed by the physician, related how he gave narcotics to his family.

The note follows, in part: "Do an autopsy on me and my wife if necessary. Please don't on the kids. Mrs. Ryan died at 4 p. m. (Saturday). Virginia at 4:30. Mary Jane at 12 midnight. . ."

In his note, Dr. Ryan predicted he would die at 8:30 on the following morning.

Coroner Opie said that Dr. Ryan left three letters in which he gave ill health as the reason for his action.

CHARLEVOIX, Mich., April 27—P—A strike of shore and boat crews striking higher wages today tied up a portion of the Charlevoix commercial fishing fleet. A conference will be held Tuesday to consider the demands.

small country school near here were killed and three others injured so severely they required hospitalization when a tornado demolished the building 20 minutes before school was to close today.

The two victims, Mary Pollock, a fifth grader, and Kenneth Lee, in the sixth grade, were found huddled together 200 feet from where the building had stood. The other children were found a few feet to the nearly 500 feet away. The teacher, Miss Edna May, and two other pupils escaped with scratches and bruises.

The tornado covered only a small area. Besides strewing wreckage from the school building, which was stripped to the front steps and foundation, over a half mile area, it wrecked several small buildings on a nearby farm. The school-house stood on a hill.

Ortonville is near the South Dakota border, almost directly west of St. Paul.

Sugar Ration Registration Starts Today

NEGAUNEE, April 27—Trade registration for sugar rationing is scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. in the first floor corridor of the high school.

Registrars will be under the direction of Mrs. Charles Steele, chief registrar, and H. S. Doolittle, superintendent of schools.

Materials and information concerning the registration were not received by the board until Friday, so Negaunee applicants have had little opportunity to study the application blanks. They were distributed Saturday to dealers known to the board and those who did not receive applications may obtain them today.

Deadline Wednesday
Doolittle pointed out that distribution of applications was voluntary on the part of the registering board to give applicants opportunity to prepare required information and speed up the actual registering Tuesday and Wednesday. Any person or firm that did not receive an application must get one and register before 5 Wednesday afternoon. There is no provision for extension of time.

Retailers and wholesalers and proprietors of hotels, restaurants, drug stores, camps and boarding houses in Negaunee city and Negaunee township are among those required to register.

Frantic Weekend

By Edmund Fancott

THE STORY: Ferdly Lorton's weekend guests at his Canadian country place have had two surprises. One was to learn that Fay Ransom, beautiful Montreal socialite, is the famous fight club singer, Fay Randall. The other is when Baldy Brien, Fay's manager, barges in to take her back to Broadway. Peggy Mack, 17, starts a campaign despite her older sister Mary's protests. Peggy plans to win Fay away from Nigel Monkhouse for her brother Michael, and to use Baldy to further her own "career."

"DAMES ARE CRAZY"

CHAPTER XI
Low and grumping were the mutterings that stirred the quiet of the lounge room as Peggy and Myra sat outside on the veranda.

"Dames... hmph!" growled the voice indignantly. "Crazy. Plain crazy."

Peggy jumped up, impatient to pursue her plans for the morning, but she slowed her stride as she entered the room and her voice was casual and disinterested.

"Something hitting you, Baldy?" She popped a strip of bacon into her mouth and foraged at the sideboard for another piece of toast.

"Don't call me Baldy," he growled. "Squirt like you oughta be more respectful to her elders."

"So dames are crazy," mused Peggy, dropping into the chair next to him.

"They are. Where's Fay?"

"Down by the lake I expect," said Peggy. "What has she done now?"

"It ain't what's she done. It's what she's going to do that's got me worried. And if she don't make up her mind soon we'll miss that afternoon plane to New York."

Peggy's eyes widened as she gazed at the little man.

"You're not going back so soon?"

"Listen, baby. Even five minutes ago isn't soon enough for me."

"Geel!" said Peggy, her eyes limpid with what looked like disappointment. "Just when I was thinking we'd have a really interesting man."

Baldy Brien returned her gaze, completely unimpressed. "Oh yeah?" he said.

Peggy offered to help him in his search for Fay. He refused the offer but found that she had the persistence of a mosquito. Not unlike one, Peggy was quite aware that every man has a vulnerable point somewhere.

She showed him the way to the lake and found Nigel disconsolately lying in the sun on the wharf.

Peggy looked from the one man to the other and wondered which to concentrate on—a rich man or a career.

But she was doomed to disappointment, if she expected encouragement in either of her aims.

Conscientious Objector In World War I, 47, Refuses To Register for Conscription

ANN ARBOR, Mich., April 27—Harold Studley Gray, 47, son of a wealthy Wayne county family, Harvard graduate and a prominent conscientious objector during the first World War, failed to register for selective service today because, he said, "I cannot see how it is possible to gain God's peace by violence, even though the overwhelming majority of my fellow countrymen seem able to accept this proposition without difficulty."

Instead, he spent the day writing an 800-word letter to Attorney General Francis J. Biddle in which he expressed his belief that "war is a denial of the concept of a God of infinite love," and said his duty was "to live up to the light as I see it."

Gray achieved fame at the close of the first war after the publication of a group of his letters to his parents written in England during 1916-1917 under the title "Character, Bad."

In that volume he described his experience in Fort Leavenworth prison camp, and laid the foundation of a religious philosophy that he put on paper again today.

"Conscription Dividing Line"
"Conscription to me," he wrote Biddle, "represents a dividing line between my allegiance to God and my allegiance to the state. I believe God is able and eager to guide men in matters of conduct and in the field of service if they in turn are willing to obey him."

"When the state passes laws for the general welfare which do require me to commit acts wrong in themselves, then I am prepared to obey those laws. But when the state assumes the right to dispose of my services without my consent, it trespasses upon a right reserved for the still small voice alone."

Gray pointed out that he had quarrel with other men who "believe in the necessity of meeting

Legion Auxiliary Holds District Meet Saturday

NEGAUNEE, April 27—The American Legion auxiliary will hold its Twelfth district meeting Saturday in Norway.

The rooms of the James Hall post, American Legion, will be used for the occasion, which opens at 12:30 p. m. with a luncheon. A business session will be held at 2, followed by a program of entertainment and tea.

Auxiliary members attending the meeting must make reservations by Thursday with Mrs. Beckstrom, president of the Norway auxiliary.

At The Vista

NEGAUNEE, April 27—"The Bugle Sounds" starring Wallace Berry with Marjorie Main, closes at the Vista Tuesday night.

Wednesday and Thursday a double feature bill, composed of "Dangerously They Live" and "Pot O'Gold," will be shown. The first film stars John Garfield, Nancy Coleman and Raymond Massey and concerns Nazi spy activities in England and counter activities by the British Intelligence. The second feature, with James Stuart and Paulette Goddard, is a romantic comedy with a cast including Horace Heidt and his orchestra, Charles Winninger and Kent Sanders.

violence with violence," but said that even as he accorded them the right to live by their conscience, so did he ask for that privilege.

Expects Prison Sentence
"I realize that the registration of men over 45 years of age does not necessarily mean that they will be drafted either for military service or for work in defense industries," he declared.

"My concern is in opposing a law which by limiting men's freedom to serve God and their fellowmen wherever and however they may feel called upon to render such service cannot fail to obstruct the operation of God's will in human society."

"By registering a man acknowledges the right of the state to dispose of his service. This right I deny."

Gray admitted that he "fully expects to receive a sentence of five years at hard labor," but he said "I shall not bear animosity toward anyone and shall take occasion to assure the trial judge of that fact."

Sent to Leavenworth in '18
Gray's paternal grandfather was first patent of the Ford Motor Co. His maternal grandfather was Dr. William S. Studley, a Methodist minister, who was at one time with the Central Methodist church in Ann Arbor. His father was Philip H. Gray, philanthropist and president of the Detroit YMCA.

In 1916 Gray went to England to serve as a YMCA secretary, but returned to this country in 1917. He was inducted into the Army on April 27, 1918, and proclaimed himself a conscientious objector at the first roll call, being sent to Leavenworth in July, 1918. He was later moved to Alcatraz and finally released in September, 1919.

Gray operates the Saline Valley farms in Washtenaw county.

President's Message Has Little Effect On Stocks

Improvement Signs Shown By Market

NEW YORK, April 27.—The stock market displayed faintly selective recovery signs today, but scattered blue chips remained on the weak side and many potential buyers continued to hold aloof.

The list was at its best in the forenoon. Advances were in fractions for the most part and dealings exceptionally slow. Prices wavered here and there in the final hour although modest improvement was maintained by many leaders at the close.

The President's message to Congress on national economy legislation apparently depressed some commodities, but, generally being in line with Wall Street forecasts, had little effect on stocks. The war news was viewed as slightly more bullish and a little nibbling was attributed to the belief the market was oversold.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at 323.7. Transfers dwindled to 281,250 shares compared with 290,800 Friday.

A cooling influence on speculative and investment sentiment was seen in first quarter reports of many railroads and industrial corporations revealing substantial recessions of net income from the comparable 1941 months.

Wheat Falls 3 Cents On Late Selling

CHICAGO, April 27.—An outburst of selling in the final hour today caused wheat prices to tumble about three cents a bushel to within fractions of the lows since before Pearl Harbor after the market had fluctuated nervously throughout the session.

Grain brokers said the reason for swift and wide price fluctuations was the President's anti-inflationary speech and various trade interpretations concerning it. Furthermore, wheat was affected by a new Government plan to speed the movement of United States grain into commercial channels.

Wheat fell more than a cent early in the day reflecting this plan, but there was a brisk rally following the President's message, which many traders interpreted as being less bearish marketwise than they had expected. Prices in all pits at this stage registered net gains of fractions to more than a cent compared with Saturday's finish. In the final hour, however, renewed selling appeared and in the wheat and soybean pits the price decline ran the market into the steep loss orders which accelerated the drop.

Irregular Trend Rules Bond List

NEW YORK, April 27.—Irregular price movements again ruled today's bond market and at the close averages of the principal domestic groups were virtually unchanged. The foreign index gained moderately.

Unevenness was particularly marked in the rail division. A few low-priced carriers were bid up a point or more as others slid off for somewhat sharper losses. Higher priced rails were steady.

The market took President Roosevelt's inflation control message without visible emotion, but in the outside market tax-free municipals turned heavy on the recommendation to end tax exemption as to surtaxes. U. S. Government issues held a firm line throughout. Up a point or so were Lehig Valley 5s at 45 7/8. New Haven 3 1/2s at 33 1/2. Oregon Railroad & Navigation 4s at 108 and Western Pacific first 5s at 28 1/2. Hudson & Manhattan Railroad refunding 5s, Illinois Central Cairo 4s and Detroit & Mackinac first 4s dropped one or more and Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville 4s fell 4-4.

Munising News

Hiawatha Forest Fire Under Control

MUNISING, April 27.—A forest fire which burned about 460 acres of cutover land within three hours Sunday was "mopped-up" today by a crew of 72 men.

The blaze, which started at 12:55 p. m. yesterday in dry grass and slashings in the old Cleveland-Chiffs Iron company Camp 7, seven miles east of Munising and two miles north of M-94, was ringed by furrows last night and during the afternoon and evening 190 men worked to get it under control. That was accomplished by 10 p. m. last night, and some of the force was released. Rain during the night helped the fighters beat down the blaze.

It was the first major outbreak in any Upper Peninsula national forest this spring and burned about 40 acres in that forest. It reached its height about 4 p. m. yesterday, high winds carrying the flames in a northerly direction. About 77 CCC enrollees from Camp Mormon Creek, near Rapid River; Munising mill employes, woodworkers and Munising civilians took part in the fire fighting.

The fire was in the east boundary of the Hiawatha forest and burned about 420 acres of state-owned land.

Forest Service officials said here today they were "very appreciative" of the cooperation given by the fire-fighting force.

Big Meteor Attraction For Tourists

SHINGLETON, April 27.—Charles Michaels, of Shingleton, has purchased the Warcock property at Star Siding, on M-28 four miles east of here, and has built a cottage court alongside the big meteor which attracts throngs of visitors each summer.

The "stone from the skies" weighs more than a ton and is shaped like an immense cartwheel. It fell years ago at a logging camp north of Star Siding, burying itself in the earth and steaming for days until it cooled and was dug out by the men at the camp. Later it was brought out to the highway and the South Shore railway and placed on edge in a field, where it attracts the attention of passers-by.

The meteor has been inspected by authorities from the University of Michigan, and assays show it contains iron, manganese and other minerals. It exhibits plain evidence of its fiery passage through the atmosphere when air-friction caused it to burst into flames. The stone is an unusually large specimen and there is believed to be nothing else like it in this part of the world. Star Siding and nearby Star Creek were named for it.

Michaels plans to issue a special folder telling about the meteor, and would like to have detailed information as to the exact date when it fell, who saw it fall, and when it was moved to the present location.

Man Who Aided German Faces Treason Charge

DETROIT, April 27—P—U. S. Commissioner J. Stanley Hurd today ordered Max Stephan, Detroit restaurant owner, bound to Federal grand jury under a continued $25,000 bond following an examination on a charge of harboring an alien unlawfully.

John Bugas, in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation here, read a statement signed by Stephan, telling how Stephan entertained Lieut. Peter Krug, escaped Nazi flier, here April 18, by visiting drinking places, lodging him in a hotel for the night and placing him on a bus for Chicago the next day.

Krug is the object of a nationwide search by Federal officials. John C. Lehr, U. S. district attorney, has recommended that Stephan be charged with treason, which is punishable by death.

Manslaughter Charge Filed In Fatal Crash

JERSEY CITY, N. J., April 27—P—Motorman Louis A. Vierbuchen was charged today with manslaughter and being drunk on duty when a Hudson river tube train crashed and burned 75 feet underground last night, killed five passengers and injuring 217 others.

Fifty-six injured passengers on the New York-bound Hudson-Manhattan railroad train were detained at Jersey City Medical Center, and 161 others were released after treatment. None of those still in the hospital was on the danger list. Emergency crews worked ceaselessly in an effort to clear the tunnel after the worst wreck in the company's 33-year history, but service was not expected to be restored before tomorrow. Tens of thousands of New Jersey and New York commuters meanwhile were taxing other transportation facilities to get between their homes and their jobs.

Had Five Glasses of Beer

Vierbuchen, 48, who lives in Newark, was held in Hudson county jail for grand jury action on charges of manslaughter and operating a public conveyance while under the influence of liquor.

Police Chief Harry W. Walsh, who made the charges, told Judge Anthony Botti in criminal court that the motorman, a veteran of 21 years' railroad experience, admitted having five glasses of beer and nothing to eat on his "eating time," just before taking the train to the wreck at the Exchange Place station.

Chief Walsh told the court that after the crash "this man, despite the seriousness of this accident, fell sound asleep and was very comfortable." The railroad said Vierbuchen was scheduled to take a train out of Newark at 9:30, but had not yet appeared and a substitute was called.

Several passengers said the train was going unusually fast.

Pvt. Wayman Craft, 20, of Company E, 372nd infantry, said "it was the fastest I've ever seen the train go. I grabbed my companion, and then came the blackout."

U. S. May Rest Case In McKay Trial Today

DETROIT, April 27—P—Government attorneys in the Frank D. McKay mail fraud retrial proceed today with routine proof of the use of the mails which they said would wind up their case. George A. McNulty, chief government counsel, said the government would rest tomorrow or Wednesday.

Today's session was cut short by the testimony of Ruben Simon, certified public accountant, that a check for $479.48 through which the government is seeking to link Don Flory, a co-defendant, and the Williams Sales Co. with an alleged $500,000 liquor graft shakedown was an expense check reimbursing Flory for money he already had spent and did not constitute a distribution of the firm's revenue.

The government's indictment described the Williams Sales Co. as one of a group of dummy corporations which screened graft collections. The defense contends it was a legitimate business concern.

Ross P. Tenny Named Boys' School Head

LANSING, April 27—P—The storm-tossed boys' vocational school today was placed in the hands of stocky, youngish Ross P. Tenny, superintendent of the Oakland county juvenile home and training school.

Tenny was named superintendent of the state home for delinquent boys at a meeting of the state juvenile corrections commission. He will take office May 15.

At the same time, Tenny picked John A. Swets, superintendent of the Holland Christian high school, as his assistant.

Tenny succeeds Garret Heyns, state corrections director, who took the superintendency on a temporary basis after Maj. Robert E. Marsh resigned under fire. Administration of the institution has been attacked by probate judges and penologists and has been called a "crime school."

The commission said it would institute administrative policy reforms as recommended by a study commission appointed by Governor Van Wagoner and headed by the Rt. Rev. Lewis Bliss Whittemore, of Grand Rapids.

Tenny, chosen from a field of more than 50 candidates, was credited by E. L. Bridge, commission chairman, with "setting up" a model vocational education program in Pontiac and with developing the county home from its foundations.
