United States Coast Guard Recruit Training Base To Be Established Here *

Koch House And Longyear Field Leased

A United States Coast Guard recruit training base will be estab-lished in Marquette soon, it was stated here yesterday by Lieut. Thomas G. Deegan, officer in charge, on authority of Commander M. W. Rassmussen, chief of staff of the Cleveland district, which includes Marquette.

"Although we have not received definite information about the number of men to be stationed here, or the exact date of the establishment of the base, it has been determined definitely that Marquette will be the site of a training station for recruits," Lieut. Deegan

The Otto H. Koch residence at 558 East Arch street, will be used as headquarters, and Longyear field and the stable adjoining the field also will be utilized.

Site Has Many Advantages The residence will be used for officers' quarters, a dormitory for enlisted men, class rooms and main office, it is understood, and equipment will be stored in the stable. Longyear field will be used as a drill ground and recreation area. Several weeks ago Coast Guard offcers from the Cleveland office came here to negotiate with owners of the property for leasing the buildings and the property fronting Lake street. The area is considered particularly advantageous because of its proximity to the Coast Guard station and the lake front, where boating and seamanship training are carried on.

and the property is ready for occu-pancy by the Coast Guards. Shortly after Cleveland Coast Guard officers inspected the building and found it satisfactory, remodeling was started to meet their specifications. Photographs of the buildings and the field had been taken previously by the Chamber of Commerce and sent to Coast Guard officers, and their visit to Marquette

Furnishings Ordered Stoves and refrigerators have been ordered for the main building and 125 doubledeck peds, mattresses and springs, shipped here from Duluth, are stored there. Other equipment and furnishings will be delivered soon. At present there are approximately 50 men on duty at the regular Marquette station and it is believed this number will be increased to 200 or more when the base is established. A similar base has been established in the Copper Country, Lieut Deegan said. There are 140 men at the Sandy Hill barracks near Hancock, 60 at Portage and many more at Eagle Harbor. A depassed through Marquette early

The men will be trained principally to serve as a landing force, one of the wartime duties of the Coast Guards. They will also be given infantry drill, boating, seamanship and signal instructions. Vessel Guards Relieved

Some of the men to be trained here will be those now being relieved from guard duty aboard Great Lakes ore carriers and other cargo vessels. Two Coast Guards are assigned to each boat.

Their services on freighters will no longer be required because of the Scrap Rubber To Be commissioning by the Coast Guard Shipped to Cleveland of ship masters, chief engineers, first mates, first engineers and othensigns in the temporary Coast Van Wagoner said today. Guard Reserve.

The ceremonies took place while the ships were in port, the officers of the S. S. North American and S. S. South American being sworn in at Detroit and the officers of the S. S. Alabama at Chicago Captain Richard A. Harreutt, S.

S. South American, Captain J. Oscar Spjut, S. S. North American and Captain Morgan Edgcomb, S S. Alabama, received commissions of lieutenant commander. In addition to the captain, seven other officers on each ship received commissions — the first, second and third mates, and the chief engineer and first, second and third assistant

The purpose of granting these commissions is for the protection of the waters traversed, and also to utilize the service of the officers in connection with security measures aboard ship. At present each of the three ships has a detail of Coast Guards aboard.

In Marquette and throughout the nation, all men in military service will be especially nonored tomorrow. There will be no formal program here, but there promises to be much excitement and fanfare to set the day apart.

Retail merchants, striving to reach a goal of $13,300, will sell war stamps and bonds in the business district, beginning at 10 a. m. Business streets will be dotted with gaily-decorated outdoor stamp en volunteers will sell attractive 25-cent and 50-cent boutonnieres during and after the parade.

Ring The "Liberty Bell"

R. C. Heynen, chairman of the Marquette "Retailers for Victory" committee, urges each merchant to have some sort of an outdoor booth in front of his store tomorrow eveing during the parade. The chairman, who is manager of the J. C. Penney store, has one of the most novel booths in front of his establishment. It is adorned with a large "Liberty Bell" and the idea is that every time you buy a stamp, no matter how large or small the denomination, you have the privilege of ringing the bell. Heynen predicts that the loud "bong" will be continuous tomorrow.

Maddy Asks Petrillo To Define Protest

INTERLOCHEN, Mich., July 15of the National Music Camp today asked the American Federation of Musicians (AFL) to "more clearly" define its protest which led to cancellation of radio broadcasts of the national high school symphony or-

In a telegram to Joseph Petrillo, president of the Musicians' union, Dr. Maddy took issue with the former's statement that "when amateur musicians occupy the air, it means less work for professional musicians.

Statement Will Arouse Parents "I feel certain your statement will arouse millions of fathers and mothers throughout the country, and educators as well, unless it is more clearly defined," Dr. Maddy telegraphed.

"The public has oeen generous in its moral support of unions and the principles of unionism, but education is close to the heart of American men and women and is the foundation of our democracy.

"Broadcasting by amateur musiclans without restriction might mean less work for professional musiclans, but the broadcasting of 15year-old high school students cannot have more than an infinitesimal effect and professional musiclans can hardly consider them as competitors.

Green's Aid Sought

Dr. Maddy expressed doubt that 12 years of symphony proadcasts at Interlochen had "deprived one musician of work."

Further protests against Petrillo's successful action in ordering the National Broadcasting company to abide by an agreement stipulating that network music broadcasts can

Case of Miriani

THE GOVERNOR, a Lansing dispatch to the Detroit News asserts, is on the verge of giving in to pressure from Democratic leaders who have been demanding that he not reappoint Louis C. Miriani on the welfare commission. If he gives in he will, it appears, do so with considerable regret, for served if Miriani was continued on the board, and Miriani shares his views about how the commission should be reorganized in the interest of economy.

Miriani will get some of the credit. They way of carrying on the war. would like to preempt it for Democratic members. But they seemingly overlook the point that failure to reappoint Miriani will not be devoid of political repercussions. It will not sit well with the great independent vote of the state that will have much to do tested to the Governor, without getting Larson, Elna Heisel and Louise Bellstrom. with determining the outcome of the next | much comfort from him, the decision to re-

Democrats. "Miriani is the best possible ferred to Traverse City. He made clear that man," the News quotes one of them. "Tve | the convenience of the men and their famso told the powers that be, but I can't say it | ilies, and the factor of expense, made mainin public. I am a Democrat, and I just tenance of an Upper Peninsula center adcan't." "Miriani," the News notes, "has visable. been on the commission since 1939, when Welfare league, a state wide civic organiza- question still to be answered. tion with definite influence among voters who tend to be independent."

If politics is the test for action in the case of Miriani-and it is a poor test-there will be a considerable opinion that if the Governor sees more to gain than to lose by rejecting him he will be a poor judge of where the balance lies, and will make a mistake the Republicans should be able to capitalize, to their advantage, in the fall campaign.

Second Front

The Russians hold that early establishment of a second front is imperative not only to relieve the pressure which is driving them back on the Caucusus, but because conditions for creating such a front will never be more auspicious than now.

But there is no evidence that this country and Britain have any plans for early creation of a second front. The will is strong, but the means are weak. The situation affecting plans to this end is by no means as Nazis captured Tobruk and before he left it was a question whether they could be held west of Alexandria.

This has been accomplished for the time being, at the expense of diversion of much British and American forces and material man Hoffman, of Michigan? of war from other areas. To establish a second front requires success in an effort that was beyond the Nazis when they sought to pave the way for invasion of Britain in 1940. And except in the air the British were much less prepared to decisively.

Hershey's Direction

The formal direction to the local draft boards by Major General Hershey adds and the tentatively preferred position of married men, with and without children.

First to be called, as they have been called from the beginning, are single men without dependents. If single men have dependents, consideration of deferment for them is a proper function of the draft in the last half of the ninth inning. boards. Through their ranks the boards must move upward to the two categories of married men. They will be called last for the excellent reason that the family relationship should be disturbed as little as possible, and because, under the amendment of the service law, it costs the Government much more money to keep a married man in service than one who is not married, both immediately and in the future, if the married man should become a casualty.

The married man, as we pointed out the other day, has no hard and fast deferment. The first duty of the draft boards is to meet the quotas they are required to furnish. If he realizes that the state would be well they cannot do this without calling on married men, these men will have to be called, first from the category of these without children and finally from the category of those with children.

Miriani is an independent Republican In this field of their duty, as indeed in all who has had little part in politics, but it is others, the draft boards have considerable his politics that is the principal concern of discretionary power. We Defend Our Way Of Life-Nichoson

"America is arming itself-not for aggression, not for conquestbut for defense of the American way of life," Capt. A. A. Of California's sun-lit orchards, yes; but more to defend the right of a Californians to vote as he sees fit. In short, we are arming to defend the American way

Freedom Is Precious

"We Americans of today have inherited from our country's founders and builders a scheme of living, a civilization based on freedom, which is more precious to true patriots than life itself. This heritage is a way of life in which the Government exists for the individual, not the individual for the Government. It is a way of life in which hope and opportunity inspire the individual, not one in which individuality is crushed by fear and coercion. It is a way of life voluntarily followed by the people, not one imposed upon them by an allpowerful dictator," he asserted.

"This is the way of life that is threatened today by military enemies abroad and ideological enemies at home, by the dictator way of life committed to the destruction of democracy and freedom.

"Let us take inventory of our achievements under the American way of life. Let us measure the effectiveness of our institutions in serving the men, women, and children who are sacrificing to defend them. The truth is that, by standards of human welfare, no nation in history has equaled, much less surpassed, our achievements. In the average man's opportunity for cultural enjoyment and self-expression modern America outshines ancient Greece. And spiritual freedom has long flourished here as in no other country; for centuries America has been the haven of the religiously persecuted throughout the world. Great Responsibility

"Our heritage is not only one of privilege," he continued, "it is also one of responsibility. As John Stuart Mill said, 'A people may prefer a free government, but if . they are unequal to the exertions necessary for preserving it . , they are unlikely long to en-

We must seek assurance that emergency controls over free men and free enterprise will be relinquished when emergency has passed. We must guard against ruinous inflation, and we must build a bulwark against postwar depression. All these are the responsibilities of freedom. "Those who seek to subvert American freedom allege that our traditional pattern of growth came to an end about a decade ago. They say that a new kind of society, a 'planned economy' dominated by the Government, must replace free American enterprise. The passing of our geographical frontiers is supposed to have spelled the doom of our opportunities. Frontier Of Science

About this column today "so sorry," as the not so nice Japanese would say when about to perpetrate the inexcusable. You see this is to be a lyric (or something) of quite personal character.

In addition, it is publicizing talent that the townsfolk hitherto likely overlooked, and which it seems to me they should know about.

I have two friends who go somewhat on the theory life is real and life is earnest, but the grave is not its goal unless they happen to attain that by laughing themselves

Ignorance Is Amazing

As folk (if any there be who have continued to read this column through the years) will suspect my horticultural talent is nothing to be proud of. Two Rather Odd Bits Make Day's Chitter-Chatter

Probably not once in years would such a coincidence occur at the L. S. & I. dock as happened

Tuesday evening. Mrs. F. B. Spear went out to Presque Isle rather late in the evening, and as she drove past, there were no boats at the dock. What was her surprise to note, when she returned home at 10 o'clock that the "Presque Isle" was on the north side of the dock and the "Marquette" on the south side!

Presque Isle, Marquette, how's that for local color?

Tek, Tek, Such Crowding

Believe it or not the housing problem has hit the bird colony in Marquette.

Ever since the martin house was erected at the rear of the Union National bank years ago folk have been interested in the martins. Remember how each year there would be comment on that martin apartment house?

Some one would telephone and ask: "Did you know that the martins have arrived and have set up

Not a little of that interest has been carried over and the other day Dr. James Dawson was regaling some friends with the prize martin story of the decade. One of his listeners passed on the anecdote for chitter-chatter.

Awhile ago Mrs. Robert Steele, Palm street, was astounded to note two martins fluttering around her yard investigating a wren house that is about 10 feet from her back

As she watched, she was amazed to see the two martins squeeze through the narrow opening and enter the wren domicile. Then she began worrying that such large birds could never get out again, that surely they would die in there. Nothing would do but Mr. Steele would have to become a kindly landloard and do something about enlarging the entrance. He did. He cut a martin-sized door and put some holes for ventilation at the sides of the house And lo and beholf, these exceedingly modern martins, imbued with the idea of stream-lined apartments, moved into the erstwhile wren abode and set up housekeep-

Now they are rearing a family and Mrs. Steele is helping provide the menus, and what do you suppose is the martin's favorite on the bill of fare? Mashed potatoes.

Tck, tck, those martins must man employes in Washington, D. doned barns and living three in a room, or they have been flying fense industries are located, where work in three different shifts and three persons rent the use of one

Anyhow, the housing problem faced the martins and, being even more adaptable than most humans, they settled into the snug quarters and are busy attending to their job of raising a family. That sounds like a nature fakir

Whirlaway Tops Seabiscuit's Mark As Turf's Leading Money Winner

Sets Record In Sensational Stretch Drive

BOSTON, July 15- AP -Mighty Whirlaway came from far back to become the turf's top money winner of all time by beating Rounders by two and a half lengths today in the $50,000 added Massachusetts Handicap at Suffolk Downs.

Attention placed third in the seven-horse field, just ahead of the early-footed Apaches as Whirly set a new track record of 1:48 1-5 for the mile and an eighth distance.

Whirlaway, owned by Warren Wright, got away very slowly and did not pull even with any horse until he was half way around the final turn where Jockey Georgie Woolf called upon him to go into his sensational stretch drive.

The triumph, the first scored by a favorite in this event since 1937, when Seabiscuit won, was worth $43,850 and it increased Whirlaway's total earnings to $454,366. As a result, Whirly now tops Sea-biscuit's earnings by $16,636. A crowd of 33,000, which made the famed "Mr. Big Tail" an evenmoney favorite, roared him a mighty welcome as he came flying under the wire after running over

Boudreau Has Faint Hope Of Beating Yanks

NEW YORK, July 15 -A- Unlike several of his American league lodge brothers who have been breathing defiance at the Yankees lately, Lou Boudreau, of the Cleveland Indians, is only faintly hopeful that the champs can be hauled back and forced to fight it out hand-tohand down the stretch.

ADJUSTMENT

War conditions call on all of us to adjusting our thinking, our way of living, our way of doing business.

The Government has ordered us to conserve on tires. To carry out this, as patriotic citizens, to help make more tires available for the military service, we have put into effect

ONE DELIVERY DAILY

On Mondays, we accept orders up to 9 in the morning for delivery the same day, but for every other day, orders should be in our hands the day previous to delivery.

Won't you do your bit, too? Adjust yourselves to this new condition so that we may continue to give you our usual quality service and still save on tires? Our Third street store is open to 9 p. m. for your convenience.

Fall of Ore Kills Miner In Hartford

NEGAUNEE, July 15-Dominic J. Baggiore, employe of the Re-public Steel corporation in the Hartford mine, was fatally hurt last night by a fall of ground as he was barring down loose ore from the back of a drift following a blast. The blasting, a little below the sixth level, had been done previously and miners were scraping the ore out with a tugger hoist. Apparently a large chunk back of the Bose of became dislodged, forcing the fall which almost buried Baggiore.

Dominic Baggiore was born October 5, 1918, in Negaunee and lived here until a few years ago, when he moved to Ishpeming. He leaves his wife and one son, James; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Baggiore, of Negaunee; three brothers, Anthony, of Ishpeming; and August and Attilio, of Negaunee; three sisters, Mrs. Eino Maki, and Mary Ann and June, of Negaunee; and a grandmother, Mrs. Mary Ann Dighera, of Italy.

He was a member of the Ancient Order of Druids, of Negaunee. The body was taken to the Koskey funeral home and removed to the home of Anthony Baggiore, 770 East Empire street, Ishpeming,

Michigan Farm Outlook Unfavorable, Card Says

LANSING, July 15-A-Unfavorable weather and farm labor shortage will prevent Michigan from filling some of its important food production quotas in the farming - for - freedom campaign, Leo V. Card, state commissioner of Preliminary reports from department inspectors, Card said, indicated a 25 per cent loss of the first cutting of alfalfa, a similar loss of the corn crop, 15 to 20 per cent loss of the planted bean acreage, and "considerable" sugar beet losses.

Card said he questioned Federal reports that there will be a good cherry crop in Michigan, "Our figures indicate there will be only 35 or 40 per cent of a normal crop of cherries," he declared. "The condition of the crop is very spotty. Some trees will produce few if any cherries, while others in the same orchard are over-loaded. Some farms will have a complete loss, and some will have a good crop. But the total crop will be far

Many farmers, Card said, have complained they cannot obtain or afford enough hired help, and have found it physically impossible to harvest wheat and pasture, and cultivate corn at the same time. Heavy losses are expected in many sugar beet fields, he said, because farmers were unable to "block" and weed, while lack of cultivation has left corn no taller than grass and weeds in some fields. Card reported that grain crops are in generally good con-

Canada's Tax Law Test Tube For America

By JAMES MONTAGNES NEA Service Correspondent

OTTAWA, Canada, July 15 While Congress is debating income tax collection at the source and the advisability of forced savings, Canada's Parliament has announced that Canadians will start paying on their 1942 income from their pay envelopes on September 1, and will have to pay as part of their tax a portion which will be refundable after the war.

Canada has overhauled her income tax set-up for an all-out war effort, has set a pace for steep income taxes and a new method of collecting them, just as she set the pace for price ceilings nearly six months ahead of the United States.

Canada is becoming the economic test tube for the North American continent.

Canada's new income taxes brought them much closer to those of Great Britain, leave them much higher than those proposed by Congress. An American under the new income taxes now being ironed out in Washington committee rooms will pay about $540 if he earns $5,000, is married and has two dependents.

Ten Times 1938 Rate

Under the new Canadian tax plan h's Canadian counterpart starts paying in September a total of $1,662 on his 1942 income, will receive $600 of it back two years after the war ends with 2 per cent interest. Or, if he saves that amount in life insurance, annuities, pension funds or principal payments on his home mortgage, can deduct that much from his tax and only pay the actual income tax of $1,062.

Last year that same Canadian paid $735, in 1938, $118. His British brother pays practically the same amount, $1,655, part of which is refundable after the war.

Canadians staggered under the impact of the income taxes when they were announced at Ottawa on June 23 by Finance Minsiter J. L. Ilsley. But they approved, even though it meant a definite drop in their standard of living. No sacrifice, they felt, was too great to beat the Axis. They were willing to cut their living expenditures. But in debate in Parliament following the announcement, Canadians asked that Ottawa also curb its normal expenditures, not increase them 10 News Behind the News per cent as shown in the biggest budget in Canada's history requiring $3,900,000,000 for the 1942-43 By Ray Tucker fiscal year, the equivalent of the national income in 1939.

Because the compulsory feature of the plan is anti-infiationary, inflow of requests for foodstuffs, meant to curtail buying of commodities requiring raw materials needed for war production, it safehome mortgages.

These can be deducted up to half the tax, which will otherwise be refundable after the war. But these deductions may not exceed, in the case of single persons 8 per cent of their income, or in the case of married persons 10 per cent of their income with one per cent allowed for each dependent.

Canadians who are employed will find their pay envelope lighter each pay day after September 1, 1942. Ottawa is distributing tables to employers so that they need not ask each employe his personal savings. two dependents, earning $500,000 a bureau, inasmuch as it is the naval Hill that the Price Administrator to plunge its fingers in the pie. Figuring Tax Compileated

The pay day deductions also include one-third of the compulsory savings. When the employe makes out his income tax form in the summer of 1943 he will settle with the government regarding the other two-thirds of the compulsory savings and any additional income and exemption which he claims. The individual who is not employed but has his own business pays quarterry, starting September 15, on his estimated 1942 income

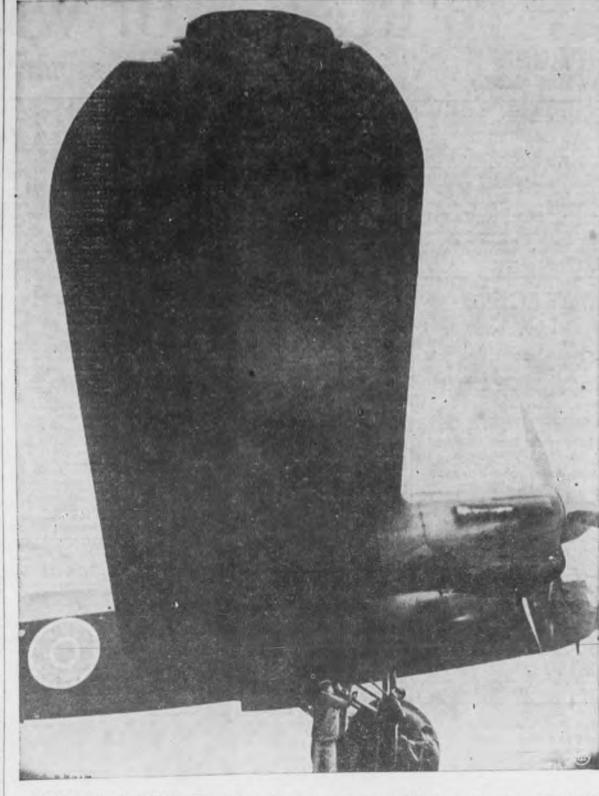

How does a Canadian figure his new tax? It's fairly complicated. He must earn $660 if he is single, $1,200 if married. If he earns more and his tax would bring his income below the minimum figures, he only pays the amount above the mini-

If he earns more and is single he pays a basic tax of 7 per cent on his total income up to $1,800; 8 per cent if over $1,800 but under $3,000; and 9 per cent if over $3,000. The married man pays a basic 7 per cent if over the minimum earning, with $28 off the tax for each dependent. If both husband and wife work, each has a mimimum of $660.

With the basic tax figured, the Canadian taxpayer, whether mar-ried or single, deducts $660 from his total income, and medical exemptions allowed, then computes his tax on a graduated scale starting with 30 per cent for the first $500, 33 per cent for the next $500. and so on up to 85 per cent.

From the tax derived, he may deduct, if married, $150 for his wife, $80 for each dependent. The basic tax and the graduated tax are added, forming the total tax including the refundable portion, which in turn can be deducted if saved according to the plan.

WINNER-Word from unquestionable sources has been received by prominent New-York friends of France that Lafayette's land, like a teetering sphere in a pinball game, will roll into either the Allied or the Axis cup at the slightest jolt. If the Germans sweep the British from the Mediterranean, the logical Gauls will shake hands with the Nazis as the best bargain for the revival of their nation. If Auchinlecq holds firm and the United States demonstrates its might, the French will follow the impulse of their hearts and swing toward their former comrades.

Murder in Ferry Command

By A. W. O'Brien

THE STORY: A series of clever deductions have brought Clyde Dawson, of the Canadian Intelligence department, from Newfoundland, where one spy was hanged for murder, to Chicago, where his confederates make their headquarters. The girl in the case, who may hold the key to the spy ring's operation, has agreed to meet Dawson secretly, after a first meeting in which Dawson knocks out her insulting companion. At the agreed meeting place, Dawson narrowly escapes a hail of bullets from a car in which the girl and two men are riding.

The "realignment" which Mr. Nelson has made does not cover this point. He has merely reshuffled his organization from an administrative standpoint. What Mr. Nelson has done is to detain a completely civilian setup instead of bringing about a merger between the War Production Board and the Army and Navy munitions board in which the latter would at least have equal voice with the spokesmen of civilian industry. son himself would make the final decisions. His present plan calls for a continuance of the ineffective system that has prevailed for months-a prolongation of the bickering between executive agencies as to authority and jurisdiction. The country expects the men in the War Production Board and in the Army and Navy Munitions his step, he mounted as rapidly as mained in that position before the Board to effect a reorganization in which the needs of the military not only will be given absolute priority but in which some force "The dog got a good shot of juice . . ." said a gruff voice, of the military for materials and
