

United Front In Congress Urged By Vandenberg

Wallace Lays GOP Sweep To 'Small Vote'

By Richard L. Turner

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—P—A leading Senate Republican, Vandenberg of Michigan, today proposed a Republican-Democratic victory coalition with "politics and New Dealism" out for the duration—as the solution to wartime problems arising from the close party alignments in House and Senate.

His idea is that Congress should now create a "unified committee on war cooperation." The Administration "should deal more openly with Congress"—including the Republican leadership—and with the country. The election, he added, had demonstrated popular dissatisfaction with the conduct of the war.

Ask Repeal Of Wage Laws

Meanwhile, the House heard demands that the wage-hour law and national labor relations act be repealed, while a Senate colloquy found a prominent Republican and a leading Democrat agreeing that Tuesday's many Democratic losses could not be attributed to any lack of unity on the war front.

Senator Connally (D-Iowa) arose, he said, to make it clear that reverses of the Administration party could not be interpreted by the propagandists of Berlin and Tokyo as any "repudiation of our war purposes."

He attributed them to public impatience with the prosecution of the war and resentment against Washington bureaucracy. Actually, he said, the voters had "registered a more desperate will to carry this war to triumph and victory."

Senator McNary of Oregon, Republican floor leader, agreed that "no issue of patriotism or unity" was raised in the campaign, and added that the Administration had committed "enough mistakes and errors" to justify the people in calling it to account.

The Democratic defeats, he said, represented revivals against wastes in expenditures which "astounded, abashed and shocked" him and against unnecessary employment by the Government "of people who should be home working at real war efforts."

Vice-President Wallace, leaving a conference with President Roosevelt, told reporters that Mr. Roosevelt was in "excellent spirits." Wallace said the elections turned out the way they did because only a relatively small number of voters participated.

Party Set Modern Record

He said that millions of young citizens, now in the Army, did not vote, and that most war workers were too busy. This, he said, deprived the Democratic party of some of its strongest support. In times like the present, he said, an abnormally large proportion of voters are "people who are well-to-do, hence are more likely to be Republican."

"It is only a miracle that the House isn't Republican under these circumstances," he said. Later Wallace telephoned reporters from his Capitol office to offer additional comment. He said he believed Democrats had established a modern record in keeping control of both branches of Congress for six straight elections, including this one.

"How long has it been," he asked, "since one party has held control of both branches of Congress for six elections straight running?" "The American people have al-

Slayer of Little Girls Convicted of Murder

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Nov. 5.—P—Edward Haight, 17, was convicted of first degree murder tonight in the double slaying of two little Bedford village sisters last September 14.

A jury of six men and six women found him guilty of first degree murder in both indictments after deliberating one hour and 35 minutes. The verdict carried a mandatory death sentence.

Haight heard the verdict with a smile and was led away after Judge Frank H. Coyne set next Tuesday for sentencing.

Throughout the day, the pimply-faced but husky boy remained as casual as he had been ever since his arrest. When Defense Attorney Charles J. Wallace and District Attorney Elbert T. Gallagher summed up their cases he smiled frequently and nodded agreement on several points.

During the trial, the jurors, all of them parents, were told how Haight picked up the two little girls, Margaret, 7, and Helen Lynch, 8, in a station wagon, attempted rape, and threw them into Northern Westchester waters to drown.

The body of one of the girls was found in a shallow stream not far from her home. After his arrest, Haight led police to the second body in Kensico reservoir.

Yanks Attack East Arm Of Jap Pincers

By John M. Hightower

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Violet fighting flamed in a new sector of battle-ravaged Guadalcanal tonight as American troops, already heavily and successfully engaged on their western flank, sought to crush the eastern arm of a Japanese pincer move before it could be fortifiably strengthened. The extent of American successes to the west was shown in a Navy communique announcing this latest development. The communique said that in the western sector 350 Japanese were killed on November 3, and three enemy field pieces, a dozen 37 mm. light artillery guns and 30 machine guns were captured.

Meanwhile both naval ships and Army aircraft had struck new blows against the enemy's western threat to the strategic American airfield on the Solomons island, bombing and shelling supply dumps and troop concentrations on the north coast of Guadalcanal in the vicinity of Kokumbona.

Focal Point Of Island

The airfield is the focal point of all operations on Guadalcanal island, both American and Japanese, and the directions east and west are determined from it as center. In an obvious effort to divert some American strength from their main forces to the west, the Japanese threw a force of troops on to the island east of the field on the night of November 2-3. The Marines had started their counter-offensive to the west against the enemy's jungle-protected troops on November 1, and had gained two miles in the initial actions.

The official communique said that on the night of November 3-4, the Japs again effected landings to the east, in the vicinity of Koli Point, about six miles from the airfield. Apparently it was about the time these latest landing operations were being completed that Marine forces of the Army-Marines forces defending the field met the assault in the east, for the communique's first reference was a statement that they suffered an "initial repulse" at dawn on November 4.

Recovering from this setback, they again attacked and the communique reported that they are now "pressing their attacks on this enemy troops."

Capable Of Two-Front Battle

Considerable significance was attached here to the outburst of fighting on the American east flank. It was the land offensive of the Japanese threat at that point he demanded prompt American counter-action and also that the American defenders were entirely capable of undertaking a two-front battle without waiting for the enemy to begin.

The report of air and naval actions against the enemy concentration area around Kokumbona—which is about six miles west of the airfield—contained no detail of results achieved. Army bombers carried out their assault on November 1 as the land offensive was getting under way and the naval bombardment was delivered on the night of November 3-4, even as the Japs were building up their strength east of the airfield with new landings.

Previously U. S. warships had been in action against the enemy's north shore positions on October 30, when they carried out a two-hour bombardment.

American Airmen Down Three Japanese Planes

CHUNGKING, China, Nov. 5.—(AP)—United States fighters shot down three Japanese fighters and probably destroyed an enemy bomber in an air battle over Kweilin, in Kwangsi province, last Monday, the Chinese Central News agency reported today.

The agency said one American plane was missing. The combat occurred when 36 planes coming in three waves attempted to attack Kweilin. The 36 were part of a formation of 54 which took off from Canton earlier in the day.

Home Rule Amendment Believed Defeated

DETROIT, Nov. 5.—P—Late reporting tonight gave an apparent death blow to the Wayne county government reform amendment which was referendum No. 2 on the ballots.

The more than 77,000 advantage which Wayne county voters accorded the proposal was whittled down and more than wiped out by outside ballots.

The count from 3,566 out of the state's 3,748 precincts on the proposal was: Yes 408,348; No 413,447. Late results on other referenda are:

Victory Achieved, General Says, Axis Desert Army Across Egypt

Triumph May Be Turning Point of War

By Robert Bunnelle

LONDON, Nov. 5.—P—The Axis army in Egypt "is busted and virtually helpless" and is being subjected to the grimmest kind of slaughter in a narrow trap along the Mediterranean coast, a high British official said today.

The informant, who cannot be identified by name and who usually has been extremely reserved, said the fate of Marshal Erwin Rommel's forces would finally be sealed soon and that the British army, navy and air force were engaged in what amounts to virtually a mopping-up process.

'Turning Point of War'

"It is impossible to be too optimistic," he said. The official estimate came but a short time after the Allied elder statesman and premier of South Africa, Marshal Jan Christian Smuts, had suggested strongly that the triumph in Egypt was "the turning point of the war."

Sir Stafford Cripps, Lord privy seal, declared the North African battle was but one of the new offensives the Allies would mount against the Axis. Exiled governments in London exulted in the prediction that the desert smash was preliminary to an invasion of Europe itself.

The official who declared Rommel "busted" said the Allies were "hunting the Germans and Italians like rabbits" with every weapon at their command.

"We're giving the herrenvolk in uniform a taste of what they gave the civilian population of France and we intend to keep on giving it to them," he said. "This is only a prelude to what the Germans and their Italian lackeys can expect in the next few months."

"We have captured a hell of a lot of prisoners," he added, "and will take more merciless slaying of the Axis forces was at once an answer to those who said Britain couldn't fight on land and to those who said British and American equipment was inferior. He said the Allied intention was to turn desert tracks into streets of death.

Allied Troops Held in Reserve
Marshal Rommel, he said, is known to be in the desert. Beside the United States and British air forces, and the British land troops now engaged, the official said, some of Britain's finest regiments are waiting in reserve for their turn. He said that the Germans were believed to have their main supplies in the forward lines and that they would find it impossible to escape this time.

"We've got Rommel where we want him."

Americans in Norway To Be Sent to Germany

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 5.—P—American citizens arrested in Norway have been interned in a camp near Oslo, but soon will be sent to Germany, reliable reports reaching here said tonight.

The Americans, mostly of Norwegian descent, were believed to number several hundred.

Siege Of City In 74th Day

Despite fresh German regiments and at least one new division, the Russians declared they beat off all attacks in Stalingrad where the embittered siege on the Volga was in its 74th day.

Along the Black sea littoral, the Red army continued its attrition northeast of Tuapse, encircling and annihilating Axis troops. The noon communique quoted German prisoners as saying enormous losses had been suffered by their troops.

Even the recently-formant Mordok front in the Caucasus east of Nalchik and atwart the approaches to Grozny's oil flared into activity. The Russians said they beat off German attacks, then counter-attacked, occupying an enemy strongpoint. The Germans recently had shifted their weight from Mordok to Nalchik and the Russians attributed the change to 38,000 casualties they inflicted in September and October.

Over 100,000 Nazis Killed At Stalingrad

By Eddy Gilmore

MOSCOW, Nov. 6.—(Friday)—P—Wave after wave of attacking Germans faltered and died in the rubble heaps of Stalingrad yesterday, and the Red army also held firm and even gained ground in the Battle of the Caucasus, the Soviets announced early today.

Thus far the Germans have lost more than 100,000 men killed, 800 tanks and 1,000 planes in their futile effort to subdue the Volga river city, the Moscow radio said in quoting a letter from the Stalingrad garrison addressed to Premier Joseph Stalin.

The midnight communique told how the enemy continued "throwing in his reserves" yesterday in repeated attacks, but said every assault was repulsed and heavy losses inflicted on the Nazis.

Eight hundred more Germans were wiped out northwest of Stalingrad, and five enemy blockhouses were destroyed by Red artillery.

Wipe Out German Unit

In the Caucasus southeast of Nalchik on the approaches to the Georgian military highway across the Caucasian mountains, the Red army wiped out a party of tank-borne German tommy-gunners who had penetrated behind the Russian lines. More than 700 other Nazis also were killed in the same area, and four tanks and many motor vehicles were destroyed.

Northeast of Tuapse on the Black sea coast the Russians said their troops "forged ahead somewhat," annihilating an enemy battalion and occupying another height.

The communique also mentioned a new sector—east of Novorossiisk—where a Russian group surrounded a farm occupied by 60 Germans and wiped them out to the last man. No fighting has been mentioned in this area for weeks since the Russians abandoned Novorossiisk in their retreat along the coast toward Tuapse.

The situation as it had been summed up late last night before the issuance of the midnight communique was:

Milwaukee Police Nab Youths After Cab Theft

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Two men who stole a taxicab at Iron Mountain, Mich., and forced the driver to accompany them here were identified by Detective Capt. Adolph Kraemer tonight as Ernest Martin, 23, Moreland, Ga., and Charles Bennett, Jr., 22, Spring Lake, N. C.

Kraemer said the youths, who were apprehended by Chief Thomas Berres, of suburban River Hills police, told him they had been absent without leave from Camp Chaffee, Ark., since September 5.

The cab driver, George Massa, 19, said the men called him to an Iron Mountain cafe last night and asked him to drive them to Pombine, Wis. At Pombine, he said, one of them drew a pistol and forced him into the back seat.

Berres captured the men today when he noticed a cab backing out of a lane. Revolver in hand, Berres approached the car and the two men in front raised their hands. The officer then noticed Massa in the back seat with a gag in his mouth.

O'Daniel Asks Suspension Of 40-Hour Week

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—P—The idea of compulsory mobilization of civilian manpower drew strong opposition today from Senator McNary, Oregon, the Republican leader, who called it "the most dictatorial thing ever conceived by the American mind."

He referred to various suggestions in the capital and elsewhere that workers be directed into essential war jobs, McNary said in the Senate.

Testifying before the Senate military committee, Rear Admiral Emory S. Land, chairman of the Maritime Commission, said he favored solving the manpower problem on a voluntary basis but if that failed would favor compulsion.

Otherwise, both Land and another witness, Secretary of Agriculture Wickard, were non-committal on proposed national service legislation.

Both agreed merely that, as Land put it, "we haven't too much time to make up our minds."

Senator O'Daniel (D-Tex.), meanwhile, introduced a bill in the Senate to suspend the 40-hour week law for the duration of the war "to utilize our full manpower." On this proposal, too, Secretary Wickard declined to take a stand, except that the working of men longer in the war industries might be worthy of study as a possible means of stopping the drain of labor from the farms.

Secretary Wickard told the military committee that "skilled, managerial help" on the farms should be deferred from the draft. He suggested, too, that Congress take steps so that war plants with Government contracts "shall not hire these people."

Already agriculture has lost 1,600,000 men and women, 60 per cent of them to war industries, the remainder to the armed forces, Wickard said.

Allies Still Advancing Toward Buna

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Nov. 6.—(Friday)—(AP)—The Allied ground forces, which on last September 29 began hurling back the Japanese from their approach to within 32 miles of Port Moresby, are continuing their advance beyond Kokoda toward the north New Guinea coast, the high command said today, indicating bitter fighting, the communique stated the troops were advancing slowly.

Bombers Raid Timor Bases

For the second straight day, Allied bombers struck at the Japanese-occupied towns of Maubisse and Alley in Portuguese Timor, and at Salomaua, Australia, and at Salamaua, Japan base on the north shore of New Guinea above the port of Buna toward which the Allied ground forces now are on the march.

Other bombers returned last night to the Buna-Faisai area in the northern Solomons where MacArthur's raiders already have sunk or damaged more than a score of ships, including an aircraft carrier. Last night's results were not observed.

Motorists Slowing Down To Wartime Speed Limit

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—(AP)—The nation's motorists seem to be slowing down to the wartime speed limit, but are not doing so well when it comes to selling their "sixth tires" to the Government. Rubber Coordinator William M. Jeffers reported today.

Jeffers said sectional reports indicated the 35-mile-an-hour speed limit was being observed, but added that only "spotty" results had been obtained in the program for buying all tires in excess of five for each car.

However, other officials predicted the turn-in rate would shoot sharply upward about November 12-14 when motorists must register for gas rationing in midwest and western states. "They can't qualify for motor fuel rationing without certifying that they have disposed of their idle tires."

A hint of the vast potential reservoir of mileage which "the turn-in plan might release in some areas was given in a report from Akron, Ohio. Officials there had expected 2,000 to 3,000 "sixth tires" to be turned in. Instead, they got 10,000.

Jeffers said the entire rubber program depended to a large extent on building up a Government stockpile of usable tires.

Gustav J. Senob, 69, Dies in Marquette Home

Gustav J. Senob, 69 years of age, died at 11:40 last night in the family residence at 521 High street. He had been in ill health for several years.

The body was taken to the Swanson funeral home. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

U. S., British 'Bomb-Line' Moves Ahead

By Edward Kennedy

CAIRO, Nov. 5.—P—British tanks pursued a broken and bleeding Axis desert army across the sand of western Egypt tonight as the British commander told his men they already had achieved a complete victory and ordered them on to "wipe out all the Axis forces in North Africa."

A dispatch filed at 9:55 this morning from Lieut.-Gen. B. L. Montgomery's field headquarters in the desert quoted the general as saying it was "now the armor's turn to destroy the enemy completely" after royal artillery and infantrymen had shattered the 40-mile Axis alamein line.

The general earlier had been quoted as saying in an order of the day published in the eighth Army newspaper, that "complete victory is almost in sight," and other dispatches received late tonight said the Axis flight was more precipitate today than ever.

Little Aerial Opposition

Little or no enemy aerial opposition was encountered as the Axis definitely showed signs of panic and demoralization.

Wrecked Axis transports and tanks were bowled over and fire both on the Mediterranean coastal road, and on the beaches where the enemy apparently was trying to disperse his equipment in order to escape the deadly rain of aerial explosives, those dispatches said.

A large mixed force of heavy bombers also streaked across the Mediterranean Wednesday night to pound Mideim airbase on the island of Crete—a site used by the Germans in their aerial ferry service to land reinforcements to Marshal Rommel.

Allied medium bombers and naval planes also hurled their weight into the desert advance, pouncing on land objectives, but also attacking clusters of enemy torpedoboats between El Daba and Fuka.

Allied fighter pilots reported a scarcity of enemy opposition, but one fighter-bomber squadron encountered and shot down four Messerschmitt 109s this morning. Another Axis plane plummeted into the sea in a second action.

General Montgomery told Associated Press Correspondent Frank L. Martin that the Axis forces had received a decisive thrashing at the hands of the eighth army, and praised the effective teamwork of Allied army and air forces. The armor especially had played a major part in smashing the enemy's morale, he said.

Over a 40-mile front littered with hundreds of wrecked enemy tanks, planes, and gunposts, the British 8th army and its homeless allies—French, Czech, Greek, and Polish—drove relentlessly forward on the heels of Marshal Erwin Rommel's exhausted columns withdrawing hastily toward Fuka, 62 miles west of the shattered Alamein line.

U. S. and RAF airmen streaking overhead steadily moved their "bomb-line" ahead of the advancing Allied infantry and tanks. By day and night they hacked at the remnants of the Axis desert legions who were so certain of victory last summer that Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy made hurried plans for a triumphant personal appearance in Cairo.

The Allied formations themselves had fought 13 grueling days, but with victory so nearly in their grasp Lieut.-Gen. Bernard L. Montgomery spurred them on with orders of the day. "I call on all troops to keep up the pressure and not to relax for a single moment. We have a chance to put the whole panzer army in the bag and we will do so. I congratulate all troops on what has been achieved steadily. Complete victory is almost in sight."

Axis Units Short of Fuel
Front dispatches said the retreating Axis armored detachments—or what is left of them—were short of fuel, thanks to the steady rain-line battering of their supply depots by American order Allied airmen. (A Reuters dispatch said no single Axis tankier had been able to cross the Mediterranean in the last six weeks.)

There also were accumulating signs that the German African corps, the backbone of the Axis invasion, was outstepping its Italian counterpart in the fight. The advancing British discovered that Axis rear-guards were mostly Italians, that most of the screen of rear guard weapons were of Italian make. Marshal Rommel, these dispatches indicated, clearly was trying to save his own battered formations and leaving the Italians to fend for themselves in a "jackrabbit war" where most commanders appeared to be left out.

Cohan, Great Showman, Dies After Year's Illness; Wrote 'Over There' in Last War

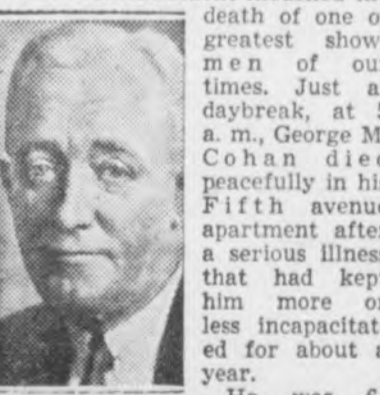

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Broadway was a quiet street today as producers, playwrights, actors and others who frequent that noisy lane of entertainment mourned the death of one of the greatest showmen of our times. Just at daybreak, at 5 a. m., George M. Cohan died peacefully in his Fifth avenue apartment after a serious illness that had kept him more or less incapacitated for about a year.

He was 64 years old, and only a few weeks ago he said that he was recovered enough to take another of his long habitual walks in Central park and also said that he soon was planning another appearance on Broadway both as actor and producer.

The son of a family act that was famous in vaudeville, Cohan, who was born at Providence, R. I., on July 4, 1878, was an actor since the age of 7. One of his first roles was in "Peck's Bad Boy." As a boy he wrote one-act plays for his family, the four Cohans, and he also wrote songs for Lottie Gilson and Maggie Cline, two outstanding variety stars of those days.

Cohan, a quiet spoken man who always said that his office was in his hat, wrote more than 40 plays, about 100 songs and scores of vaudeville sketches. He was awarded the Congressional Medal for his "outstanding contributions to the American spirit" which included many patriotic songs including the famous "Over There."

He was a man who was the personification of Broadway, and he never liked Hollywood although he went west a few times to make some movies. In addition to his play and song writing, he became a producer when he met Sam H. Harris, who had been interested in some amateur theatricals in Philadelphia.

City Approves Purchase Of Oates Home

At a special meeting yesterday morning the city commission voted unanimously to purchase the Oates home at a cost of $12,000 for use by patriotic and veterans' organizations in Marquette as a servicemen's clubhouse.

The session followed a preliminary meeting Wednesday night when City Attorney John J. Walsh explained to commissioners that there was no question of the legality of the proposed purchase.

Authorization of the purchase was delayed at the regular meeting of the commission Monday night because doubt was expressed of the advisability of permitting the Richard M. Jopping post, American Legion, to undertake solely the administration of the building as a servicemen's center.

City To Retain Title

A resolution adopted by the city commission yesterday covers the question of administration by calling for a meeting of veterans' organization to adopt a plan of operation of the building as a center for all veterans' activities.

The building and an adjacent lot, 50 feet wide by 150 feet deep, was offered to the city by Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Oates for $12,000. Under the proposed plan, the city will retain title to the property, lease it to veterans' organizations for $1 a year and furnish light and power.

Represented at the special meeting yesterday were the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American War Veterans and the Spanish American War Veterans.

The Resolution

The resolution follows: "Whereas, there is at the present time no central meeting place for the various veterans' organizations now functioning in the city of Marquette; and,

"Whereas, this commission considers it conducive to the public good to provide such a meeting place for such organizations, the same to be open not only to all present members, but also to all future members of such organizations;

"Now, therefore, be it resolved that, subject to the approval of the city attorney as to title, the city accept the offer of Harold R. Oates and wife for the sale of the property as set forth in their offer of October 23, 1942.

"And be it further resolved that all of such present organizations be and they are hereby requested to meet and discuss the situation, and, bearing in mind the object and intention of this commission as above set forth, submit to this commission a plan for the operation of the building now located on said property as a center for all veterans' activities."

Former Branch Prison Inmate To Be Paroled

LANSING, Nov. 5—P—The state parole board said today it would release, within two weeks, Ben Bernstein, 76-year-old former Detroit, who has served 20 years for second degree murder "without a black mark on his record."

Bernstein will be the second prisoner released under the "lifer" law by which the legislature empowered the board to parole life term prisoners.

The inmate was convicted of slaying a common-law wife, the board said. During 14 1-2 years he spent in the Marquette branch prison, Bernstein was credited with helping to save the life of a prisoner on guard during a riot behind the walls. Now in the state prison of southern Michigan, the prisoner has been in virtual charge of the prison shoe repair shop.

Woman's Shirt Tells Names of War Survivors

REDDING, Calif. — P — An American woman released by the Japanese after internment in Manila has relieved suspense of at least one family. She had fellow prisoners' autograph her shirt and a closeup of the garment later was published in the United States. On it Lois Linder, Redding nurse, recognized the signature of her brother. It was the first assurance she had that he was alive.

A five-man crew from Randolph Field, Texas, changed engines on a basic training plane in the record time of one hour 59 minutes. The change was made in the field.

News Bits About Marquette County Young Men in Armed Forces

EDITORS NOTE—The Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard and Merchant Marines are growing in strength every day. That means more and more Marquette county men are "Serving U. S." They read and enjoy this column as faithfully as those of us at home. Don't fail them! Send in items about young men in uniform to the Service Editor, The Mining Journal, Marquette, Mich., or telephone Marquette 150. In shipping, phone 3; Negunee, 404, and in Republic, 701.

SEVEN Upper Peninsula young men, including three from Marquette, have been accepted in Milwaukee for enlistment in the U. S. Army. They are: Robert Guy Fletcher, 215 Green street; Edward Francis Green, 1105 North Lincoln street; and Joseph Warren Green, 428 West Crescent street, all of Marquette; Charles William Matson, 308 Onota street, Munising; Edward Henry Hammerberg, Escanaba, and George Sabol and Joseph Bernard Buda, both of Ironwood.

Most of the Marquette county men in the October contingent left Fort Sheridan, Ill., several days ago. But four still holding down the fort are Pts. William DeBruyn, Albert Stolnack, Marvin Thompson and Bill Lyons. Comes this word from the left-behinds: Stolnack and Thompson are running around in their shorts because they haven't found Army pants to fit them yet; DeBruyn is going barefooted because they haven't found shoes to fit him yet and Lyons just missed getting additional K. P. duty when he woke up practically the whole camp with his trumpet the other night.

Dave Caden is driving to Chicago tomorrow and says he has room for one or two soldiers, who might appreciate transportation in that direction. His home telephone number is 2455.

Modest LeVeque, seaman, first class, U. S. N., has completed his boot training at Great Lakes, Ill., and is visiting at his home, 218 Chestnut street, Munising. The son of Mrs. Stella LeVeque will enroll in a Naval service school as a gunner's mate upon his return to duty. The furlough will last nine days.

Ralph Sweeney, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Sweeney, 604 North Fourth street, Marquette, has been advanced to staff sergeant in a signal company of the Army Air Forces at Bolling Field. It is Ralph's fifth promotion since he enlisted on February 3, 1942, which constitutes a record of some sort. He became a sergeant September 1 and less than two months later he became staff sergeant. Ralph is in charge of a technical section.

City-owned dumps in Mansfield have yielded 20,000 tons of scrap stoves, refrigerators, and iceboxes—buried and long forgotten. Mansfield manufacturers had discarded the rejected materials.

In a letter to one Ford Flanagan, of Flanagan's Washington street emporium, Lee Webster, Marquette, says he is stationed at Camp Funston, a new Army camp attached to Fort Riley, Kans., and is just beginning to learn the rudiments of basic military training. While equipment was being issued, Lee was given the job of measuring men for pants and among those whom he measured were Chet Young and Jerry O'Neil. He said Ted Butler also is at Camp Funston, but Ted's pants didn't enter into the discussion. The tone of Lee's letter was unmistakable. He likes the Army and even likes his sergeants, which definitely is news!

The Perry family, formerly of Marquette, is still sailing the high seas! Fred, who used to work in the Lake Superior Yacht Yard, is head rigger in the shipyard at Sturgeon Bay, Wis. His son, Joe, also is a rigger in another shipyard at Sturgeon Bay and two other sons are serving in the United States Navy. Both of them are former Mining Journal carriers. Grant enlisted a year before Pearl Harbor and is a fireman, first class, now aboard the U. S. S. Memphis, and has had service both in the Atlantic and Pacific. Harrison is a machinist's mate, second class, aboard a U. S. Navy tug out of San Francisco.

Pvt. Earl McMahon, son of Mrs. Minnie Becon, 844 West Washington street, Marquette, is with Co. A, 25th Engr. Bn., and may be reached by writing APO-256, Desert Maneuvers, care of Postmaster, Los Angeles, Calif. Earl has been married since going into the service. He was wed to an Arkansas girl while stationed at Camp Cathey, Ark. The desert did not quite agree with Earl at first. He suffered "desert sunstroke" and was hospitalized for some time but is okeh now. Pvt. and Mrs. McMahon hope to visit Mrs. Becon here on a Christmas furlough.

Gas Station Proprietors Asked To Get 'A' Book Form

Application blanks for gasoline rationing "A" books have been received by the Marquette county rationing board and proprietors of filling stations in the county are asked to call for them without delay at the board office in the Donckers building.

Automobile owners who will register November 12, 13 and 14 for the "A" books are informed that they may procure the application blanks from filling station attendants.

Consumers will register for their books at designated schools in the county on the dates mentioned above. Each automobile owner will be required to present the serial numbers of his five tires (or less), his automobile registration certificate and the number of his Federal auto use tax stamp.

The list of schools at which the registration will take place throughout the county will be announced later.

1,200,000 Votes Cast in Michigan Tuesday

LANSING, Nov. 5—P—G. T. Hartman, deputy secretary of state, estimated today that a total of approximately 1,200,000 votes were cast in Michigan's general election Tuesday, a decline of almost 60 per cent from the 1940 Presidential year poll of 2,085,929.

With the decrease showing out-state as well as in metropolitan areas, Tuesday's balloting fell below the 1938 total of 1,605,214, Hartman said.

He said it was impossible to determine what percentage of registered voters had cast ballots because registration totals are not made available to the secretary of state's office by the counties.

Although county clerks previously had been instructed to expedite returns, Hartman said official results were straggling into the secretary of state's office and that the state board of canvassers planned to "shake up" tardy clerks before Tuesday. The board is required by statute to meet within 20 days after an election.

Palmer DePetro, 28, of 1831 Presque Isle avenue, and Alfred Feltnr, 26, and Oliver Feltnr, 25, of Van Evert avenue, pleaded guilty in city court yesterday to charges of headlighting deer and each paid a fine of $50 and costs in lieu of serving 60 days in the county jail.

The men were arrested by conservation officers and state police. The offense was committed in Marquette township Monday, November 2. Aggregate costs in the case were $6.85.

Tax on Liquor Based On Alcoholic Content

LANSING, Nov. 5—P—The state liquor control commission today cautioned distributors that liquor tax increases made effective November 1 may be marked up only on the basis of alcoholic content.

The commission said buyers can make an automatic check of prices by remembering that, while the increased levy on a "proof bonded whiskey will be $2 per gallon, it will only be $1.80 on 90 proof whiskey and $1.60 on 80 proof variety.

No increase in price of draft beer to the consumer is permitted as result of the tax, the commission said, but bars may increase prices for standard two-ounce glasses by three cents per "straight" drink of 90 proof domestic distilled whiskey. Cocktails and highballs are not under price control, it was explained.

Imported Scotch whiskey will be taxed an additional 27 cents per gallon after present floor stocks are exhausted.

Contrary to the general impression ordinary civilians can still find seats in air transports.

ENSIGN NORMAN E. KUKUK

Pvt. Russell Christian, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Christian, Munising, who has been in the service since last September, was advanced to the grade of corporal November 1 at Camp Miles Standish, Taunton, Mass. He is a graduate of Northern Michigan College of Education and taught in Amasa one year before entering the service. His address is: No. 3618975, Hdqts. Co., Barracks 24, Staging Complement, Camp Miles Standish, Taunton, Mass. Russell says he reads the Mining Journal from "cover to cover" regularly and usually reads it through again just to make sure he didn't miss any home town news.

Modest LeVeque, seaman, first class, U. S. N., has completed his boot training at Great Lakes, Ill., and is visiting at his home, 218 Chestnut street, Munising. The son of Mrs. Stella LeVeque will enroll in a Naval service school as a gunner's mate upon his return to duty. The furlough will last nine days.

Ralph Sweeney, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Sweeney, 604 North Fourth street, Marquette, has been advanced to staff sergeant in a signal company of the Army Air Forces at Bolling Field. It is Ralph's fifth promotion since he enlisted on February 3, 1942, which constitutes a record of some sort. He became a sergeant September 1 and less than two months later he became staff sergeant. Ralph is in charge of a technical section.

City-owned dumps in Mansfield have yielded 20,000 tons of scrap stoves, refrigerators, and iceboxes—buried and long forgotten. Mansfield manufacturers had discarded the rejected materials.

In a letter to one Ford Flanagan, of Flanagan's Washington street emporium, Lee Webster, Marquette, says he is stationed at Camp Funston, a new Army camp attached to Fort Riley, Kans., and is just beginning to learn the rudiments of basic military training. While equipment was being issued, Lee was given the job of measuring men for pants and among those whom he measured were Chet Young and Jerry O'Neil. He said Ted Butler also is at Camp Funston, but Ted's pants didn't enter into the discussion. The tone of Lee's letter was unmistakable. He likes the Army and even likes his sergeants, which definitely is news!

The Perry family, formerly of Marquette, is still sailing the high seas! Fred, who used to work in the Lake Superior Yacht Yard, is head rigger in the shipyard at Sturgeon Bay, Wis. His son, Joe, also is a rigger in another shipyard at Sturgeon Bay and two other sons are serving in the United States Navy. Both of them are former Mining Journal carriers. Grant enlisted a year before Pearl Harbor and is a fireman, first class, now aboard the U. S. S. Memphis, and has had service both in the Atlantic and Pacific. Harrison is a machinist's mate, second class, aboard a U. S. Navy tug out of San Francisco.

Pvt. Earl McMahon, son of Mrs. Minnie Becon, 844 West Washington street, Marquette, is with Co. A, 25th Engr. Bn., and may be reached by writing APO-256, Desert Maneuvers, care of Postmaster, Los Angeles, Calif. Earl has been married since going into the service. He was wed to an Arkansas girl while stationed at Camp Cathey, Ark. The desert did not quite agree with Earl at first. He suffered "desert sunstroke" and was hospitalized for some time but is okeh now. Pvt. and Mrs. McMahon hope to visit Mrs. Becon here on a Christmas furlough.

Gas Station Proprietors Asked To Get 'A' Book Form

Application blanks for gasoline rationing "A" books have been received by the Marquette county rationing board and proprietors of filling stations in the county are asked to call for them without delay at the board office in the Donckers building.

Automobile owners who will register November 12, 13 and 14 for the "A" books are informed that they may procure the application blanks from filling station attendants.

Consumers will register for their books at designated schools in the county on the dates mentioned above. Each automobile owner will be required to present the serial numbers of his five tires (or less), his automobile registration certificate and the number of his Federal auto use tax stamp.

The list of schools at which the registration will take place throughout the county will be announced later.

1,200,000 Votes Cast in Michigan Tuesday

LANSING, Nov. 5—P—G. T. Hartman, deputy secretary of state, estimated today that a total of approximately 1,200,000 votes were cast in Michigan's general election Tuesday, a decline of almost 60 per cent from the 1940 Presidential year poll of 2,085,929.

With the decrease showing out-state as well as in metropolitan areas, Tuesday's balloting fell below the 1938 total of 1,605,214, Hartman said.

He said it was impossible to determine what percentage of registered voters had cast ballots because registration totals are not made available to the secretary of state's office by the counties.

Although county clerks previously had been instructed to expedite returns, Hartman said official results were straggling into the secretary of state's office and that the state board of canvassers planned to "shake up" tardy clerks before Tuesday. The board is required by statute to meet within 20 days after an election.

Archibald's Majority Cut To 59 Votes

Returns from Turin and Wells townships, received yesterday morning at the county clerk's office, reduced the majority of Robert Q. Archibald, Republican candidate for prosecuting attorney, but when the canvassing board completed its check the official count gave Archibald a 59-vote victory over John Voelker, Democratic incumbent. Archibald had a lead of 125 before the Turin and Wells returns were in.

The official canvass showed that Governor-elect Harry F. Kelly defeated Governor Van Wagoner in Marquette county by a margin of 809 and U. S. Senator-elect Homer Ferguson was given a majority of 313.

Bennett's Lead 1,801
All Republican candidates for lesser state offices carried the county, the largest vote being polled by Attorney General Herbert Rushton, who piled up 7,460 to gain a majority of 2,490 over John W. Babcock, Democrat.

The complete official vote in the county in the Bennett-Hook contest for Congress was: Bennett, 7,051; Hook, 5,240, a majority of 1,801 for Bennett.

Sheriff Howard C. Treado, re-elected on the Republican ticket, walked off with top honors as a vote-getter. He polled 8,019 and runner-up was Marvin C. Fassbender, Republican, re-elected coroner on a poll of 7,684.

681 Votes For Askainen
On the Prohibition party ticket Andrew Askainen, Gwinn, candidate for Congress, polled 681 votes to lead that group. Second on the Prohibition ticket was Harold Lindahl, Iron River, candidate for state senator, whose total in the county was 378.

Gerald L. K. Smith, slip candidate for United States Senator, received 364 votes.

Raymond W. Starr, successful candidate for re-election to the State Supreme court on the non-partisan ballot, received 7,310 votes to 2,104 for Earl C. Pusley.

Marquette county voters favored Proposal No. 2, the Wayne county home rule amendment, 5,151 to 3,434, but turned down the other two proposals. The vote on proposal No. 1 was: Yes, 3,748; No, 4,447. On Proposal No. 3 it was: Yes, 3,371; No, 4,472.

The complete official returns for Marquette county follow:

A Car's An Auto, Even a Jalopy

NORMAN, Okla.—P—The University of Oklahoma, announcing that students no longer would be permitted to have automobiles on the campus, was asked to define "automobile."
"Anything that's worth less than $25, in other words a jalopy, shouldn't be classed as an automobile," said one fellow.
"A car is anything that uses gasoline and backfires," the university officials decided after serious consideration.

Eight times as many people are killed or injured annually as die from natural causes.

Inspectors Wanted For Escanaba Job

Men interested in obtaining employment as construction inspectors on the Escanaba ore dock project are informed that Capt. James I. Corbett and George E. Owen, of the area engineers' office, Escanaba, will interview applicants in the Marquette office of the U. S. Employment service, Kaufman building, from 8 a. m. to noon next Wednesday.

Inspectors are wanted for pile driving, dock and timber construction, grading and dredging work. Applicants should have had experience in one of these classifications, but sufficient educational background may be substituted.

Salaries range from $1,620 to $2,600 a year. They are based on a 40-hour week with time-and-a-half pay for overtime. The average work week at present is 60 hours.

It is expected that the present 60-hour week will be maintained during construction operations, which means that the basic pay will be augmented by 54 per cent.

L'Anse

Neighborhood War Clubs—Neighborhood war club organization was completed here Tuesday night, the village being divided into four zones. Zones will be divided into natural neighborhood groups consisting of approximately ten families. The sector directors will contact homes and hold meetings from which Neighborhood club leaders will be elected. When this work is finished the neighborhood leader of each zone will meet with the temporary post director. Under the neighborhood war club plan each family will participate directly in the war effort. The L'Anse zones follow: Zone 1—Mrs. J. Almie, temporary post director assisted by Mrs. Arnold Dunbar; Zone 2—Mrs. A. Hollappa, temporary post director, assisted by the mesdames Peterson, Holso, Kotila, McKindies, Brennan, Connors, Jacobsen, Harrington, and Schroeder; Zone 3—Mrs. K. Kelsey, temporary post director, assisted by the mesdames Dubuque Cosgrove, Christianson, Huot, Leemon; Zone 4—

Mrs. Floyd Carr, temporary post director, assisted by the mesdames Charleston, Taylor, Duguay, Petit, Belanger.

TB X-Ray Report—Dr. T. H. Johnston, director of the county health unit advises that reports on X-rays taken by the Michigan Tuberculosis association here, October 2, have been received and reports can be obtained at the health department office by those who were X-rayed. The films have been examined by an expert, and diagnosis made at one of the state sanatoriums.

County Road Commission—The annual report of the Baraga county road commission indicated the following projects completed during the year: 23 miles surfacing with pit run gravel; 8 miles surfacing with crushed gravel; 7 miles ditching; 1 temporary bridge over Otter river. In addition the WPA assisted the county road commission in completing the following: 38,687 cubic yards earth excavation; 40,775 feet of ditching; 15,830 lineal feet of fence removed and replaced; 16.18 acres of roadside clearing; 15,104 cubic yards crushed gravel on roads; 462 lineal feet of 15 inch metal culvert; 92 lineal feet of 24 inch metal culvert; 1 box culvert; 2 B culverts; 6,280 square yards

Truck Owners Must Obtain Certificates

Truck operators are warned by Edward J. Konkol, district manager of the Office of Defense Transportation, motor transport division, Green Bay, that they must return applications for certificates of war necessity, as soon as possible. Konkol's district includes the counties of the Upper Peninsula.

"Application forms mailed to operators of trucks, buses, taxicabs and other commercial vehicles in the district have not been returned to the ODT central mailing office in Detroit as rapidly as they should," he said. "A last-minute rush is likely to occur, which will make it impossible for ODT to issue some of the certificates required to continue operating such vehicles after November 15. Truck operators who have not sodding; 379 cubic yards field stone; 34 lineal feet 30 inch metal culvert; 125 lineal feet cribbing.

yet received application forms may procure them by writing the ODT District Office, Columbus Building, Green Bay, Wis. There are two forms, one for owners of one or two vehicles and another for those who own more than two.

Motor fuel consumption on American highways in 1940 totaled 22 billion gallons while two billion gallons were consumed for non-highway purposes.

Gas Rations Dry Up Thirsty Kansans
KANSAS CITY —P—Rationing is going to make the dry state of Kansas even more arid, some of its citizens predict. Gasoline rationing and tire inspection are almost insurmountable obstacles for the rum runner, say prohibition officers. And sugar rationing is going to curtail home liquor production.

475 Tires Surrendered In Marquette

Marquette automobile owners have turned in 475 surplus tires in compliance with the Office of Price Administration order limiting each car owner to five tires. A. T. Williams, Railway Express agent, said yesterday.

The Railway Express agency has been designated by the OPA as the collection center in each community. They are sent from Marquette to a Government storehouse in Duluth where they will be disposed of in accordance with national rubber-saving regulations.

All car owners are urged by Arthur H. Sarvis, state director of the OPA, to turn in their idle tires as quickly as possible. Before a motorist can register for gasoline rationing next week, he must show that he has no more than five auto tires.

Snow Tires, too

Snow tires are in the same category as regular tires and must be included in the limit of five permitted each owner.

"Delay in surrendering the tires," Sarvis said, "will jam the pickup service of the Railway Express agency to such an extent that considerable delay may be faced in getting rid of the tires."

"All usable tires over the limit," he continued, "will be purchased by the Defense Supplies corporation through the REA. Tires which cannot be repaired and are not in serviceable condition should be surrendered to a local scrap dealer or salvage committee."

"If an applicant fails to get rid of his surplus tires by the time he registers for gasoline November 12, 13 and 14, he will be unable to procure a book until November 25, three days after gasoline rationing becomes effective."

New Governor Known As Fighting Lawyer

LANSING, Nov. 5.—P—Michigan has chosen in Harry F. Kelly a fighter—a man who won medals for valor and sacrificed a leg on the field of battle in World War I—to be its new war governor.

A blunt-spoken lawyer, Kelly habitually employs the language of the courtroom—the language of a fighting prosecutor—in his conduct of public affairs.

It is his boast that "I made my campaign without making a single promise or commitment to a soul. I made it without accepting a single embarrassing dollar to finance

He also examined four derivative citizenship petitions and interviewed several persons on naturalization problems.

that campaign. I am free to go into office and work for the people and see to it that those who surround me work. We are going to work like hell."

Friend Of Van Wagoner
He has an engaging grin, but a forbidding scowl when something riles him. As secretary of state he has made his voice heard sharply in political councils, baring desks when he believes the Democratic administration was trying to out-manuever him.

Kelly and Gov. Van Wagoner, the Democrat he defeated, had been fast friends. Kelly laughed when a violently partisan Republican once rebuked him for allowing Van Wagoner's autographed photograph to hang on the wall in his office.

Actually the office of governor was thrust upon him. Kelly wanted to run for United States Senator or for another term as secretary of state. He told his friends he disliked the strain the executive office imposes upon its incumbent. The party literally drafted him, but in the days before he announced he would run, there was much speculation that his friendship for Van Wagoner might help to keep him adamant.

Battle Wayne Corruption
In his campaign, Kelly resisted mention of the battle wounds which cost him a leg in the first World war, and of the croix de guerre he won for bravery under fire. "Those things have nothing to do with whether I would be a good public official or a bad one," he said. "I'll run on my record as secretary of state, and win or lose on it."

As a trial lawyer in Detroit, Kelly won fame and was employed by the Wayne county prosecutor's office to conduct the grand jury inquiry into the gangster era slaying of Jerry Buckley, Detroit radio commentator, and other crimes of gangland.

He convinced himself that the Wayne county jury system was faulty, and led a successful fight for reforms.

Kelly is the father of six children, Mary Anne, a year old; Roger G. Lawrence, 9; twin boys, Harry, Jr., and Brian, 11, and Joanne, 13.

Nearly 800 tons of airplane engine forgings prepared originally for shipment to France have been taken over by the WPB. They will be re-melted and used in production of high-grade alloy steels.

Kelly Polled 3,455 Lead In Peninsula

DETROIT, Nov. 5.—P—One of the surprises of Tuesday's voting in the state-wide election was the return of the Upper Peninsula to the Republican column after something like a decade of Democratic support from the area north of the Straits.

In Tuesday's voting for Governor, with only two of the Northern Peninsula's 351 precincts missing, Harry F. Kelly, successful Republican candidate, carried the upper state section by 49,552 votes to 45,597 cast for Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner.

In the last "off-year" election four years ago Frank Murphy carried the Upper Peninsula 70,286 to 61,783 for Frank D. Fitzgerald.

Democrat Strongholds Slip

What effect the smaller turn-out of voters this year had on the Upper Peninsula result is problematical. A tabulation of the vote for Governor by counties, however, shows that some of the larger areas that four years ago gave substantial margins to the Democratic candidates went completely over to the Republican column or closed the margin sharply.

In this trend were such populous counties as Houghton, Marquette and Menominee. Four years ago

Houghton voted 10,363 for Murphy and 8,927 for Fitzgerald. Unofficial figures on Tuesday's voting showed Houghton voting Van Wagoner 7,203; Kelly 7,344. Four years ago Marquette voted Murphy 10,626; Fitzgerald 8,444. This year it reported Van Wagoner 6,222; Kelly 7,031. Menominee four years ago voted Murphy 4,632; Fitzgerald 4,492. This year Van Wagoner 3,182; Kelly 3,983.

Delta county, which four years ago voted Democratic 7,548 to 5,483, this year voted Democratic again, but by the scant margin of 4,688 to 4,627, according to unofficial returns.

Returns By Counties

A tabulation of the vote for Governor in the Upper Peninsula's 15 counties follows:

Alger	1,497	1,034
Baraga	1,345	1,598
Chippewa	2,651	4,012

Sixteen USO Centers In Michigan

USO maintains 16 clubs and service centers in Michigan, offering a "wide range of activities, designed to interest servicemen drawn from all walks of life," according to a report from USO headquarters in New York.

In a recent month, total attendance at USO clubs and centers in Michigan was 86,641. Organized group activities, such as dances, movies, parties, classes and hobbies, some of which are held outside of clubs, numbered 552. Attendance at these group events was 83,469, including servicemen and civilians. Information services were given 6,781 times, an average of 425 persons were guests in private homes arranged through USO.

Many Facilities

Included in USO programs are dances, movies, vespers, open house, games, sports, hobby classes, dramatics, music appreciation hours, discussion forums and various social events.

Among the facilities at USO clubs are reading, writing and game rooms, showers, libraries, social halls, snack bars and information service.

USO maintains 1,041 operations, including 637 clubs, 283 smaller units, 82 troops-in-transit lounges in railroad and bus stations, and 36 mobile service units. Of the 637 clubs, 590 are in the continental United States and 47 are in hemisphere bases. The USO affiliate, Camp Shows, brings plays, revues, concert artists and name bands to entertain men in Army and Navy posts. More than 3,000,000 individual servicemen a month visit USO clubs and units throughout the country. Total attendance, including civilians and repeat visits of servicemen, is 7,735,768 monthly.

KEEP YOUR 5 BEST TIRES— ALL OTHERS MUST BE SOLD TO UNCLE SAM

If you own idle passenger car tires on or after November 22 it will be illegal to use gasoline in your car

LEON HENDERSON, PRICE ADMINISTRATOR, ANSWERS QUESTIONS ABOUT THE IDLE TIRE PURCHASE PLAN

Q What is an Idle Tire?

A Since the Idle Tire Purchase Plan limits the ownership of passenger car tires to five tires for each passenger car owned and to one tire for each running wheel of each passenger car trailer or other such equipment owned, any passenger car tire in excess of those limits is an Idle Tire.

Q How will the owners of Idle Tires be affected?

A Beginning November 22, it will be illegal to use gasoline or permit gasoline to be used in the operation of any passenger car if the owner of the car owns one or more Idle Tires. Furthermore, it will be illegal for any person owning a passenger car, to use or permit gasoline to be used in its operation if any person in his or her household who is related by blood, marriage or adoption, owns one or more Idle Tires.

Q What is the purpose of the Idle Tire Plan?

A The rubber shortage is serious. Your Government must have tires right now—today—for essential use. America's passenger cars must be kept running on the war effort will suffer.

Q What shall I do with my Idle Tires?

A The Government will buy them at ceiling prices. If you want to drive your car you must dispose of your Idle Tires as provided by the regulations. You MUST also file a Tire Record Form that certifies that neither you nor any member of your household who is related to you by blood, marriage or adoption owns Idle Tires.

Record Forms may also be obtained at school houses when you register for gasoline. The forms must be filled in and presented before you can obtain a gasoline ration book.

Q Must I file a Tire Record Form if I own no Idle Tires?

A Yes, if you wish to use gasoline in your passenger car.

Q Are any passenger car tires exempted from the Idle Tire regulations?

A Yes—in three general classifications. Passenger car tires intended for use on cars owned or leased by Federal, State, local and foreign governments; passenger car tires intended for use on trucks, taxicabs, public rental cars, jitneys, buses, cars licensed for hire, etc. The exemptions do not apply to the latter group, however, if the owner of such tires also owns a private passenger car and uses gasoline in its operation.

Q How much will I be paid for my Idle Tires?

A In areas where gasoline rationing becomes effective November 22, Tire

Q How much will I be paid for my Idle Tires?

A All tires and tubes, new and used, will be paid for at OPA ceiling prices, less cost of repairs, if needed. In nearly every case, the manufacturer's list price will prevail for new tires and tubes and for undamaged tires run less than 1,000 miles. The correct ceiling prices will be determined by expert tire appraisers at Government warehouses. Payment by U. S. Treasury check or in War Savings Bonds or Stamps, whichever you elect, will be sent to you by mail.

Q What will I do when my own tires wear out—put up my car?

A No. Automobiles are essential to the war program. The purpose of this plan is not to take cars off the road—but to keep cars on the road—years included, for essential driving. When you need tires, the Government will do everything possible to see that you are supplied.

Q I bought 2 tires before Pearl Harbor and put them aside for a rainy day. Do I have to give them up?

A Sorry, but it's America's rainy day now. The limit is 5 tires per passenger car. But you can keep your 5 best tires.

Q Does the Government want old tires?

A Yes. The Government must have all usable Idle Tires, new and used, even those needing repairs. Idle Tires beyond repair should be sold to scrap dealers.

Q What about bus and truck tires and tubes?

A Compulsion does not apply to bus-type and truck-type tires, nor to tubes of any kind, but the Government will buy all that are offered.

Q Can I sell or give my Idle Tires to a relative or neighbor?

A No. Usable or repairable tires can be disposed of only to the Government in accordance with the instructions given elsewhere on this page. Idle Tires that are beyond repair should be sold to scrap dealers.

Q Are there penalties for violation of the Idle Tire regulations?

A Yes. The penalties are severe for illegal use of gasoline on and after November 22, or for making false statements about tire ownership, or for illegal disposition of tires. If in doubt on any point, consult the OPA Mileage Rationing Regulations.

Keep your five best tires for each passenger car; sell all excess tires, new or used, even if they need repairs, to your Government before November 22.

In "pick-up" zones Railway Express Agency will collect Idle Tires (at no cost to you) for delivery to Gov't Warehouse. Call or write nearest Office. A truck will call.

In rural areas beyond "pick-up" zones, take Idle Tires to the Railway Express Agency Office, usually at nearest Railroad Station.

Tires and tubes will be appraised at ceiling prices, less cost of repairs, if needed. A U. S. Treasury check or War Bonds or Stamps (as you elect) will be sent to you by mail in payment.

IDEAL TIRES BEYOND REPAIR SHOULD NOT BE TURNED OVER TO RAILWAY EXPRESS—SELL THEM DIRECT TO SCRAP DEALERS

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1942

Brown In Front THE honor of leading the Republican ticket fell to Auditor General Brown. It was not one of those things that just happens. It came to him because of widespread realization that in the offices he has held he has given conscientious and capable service.

Before he sought his present position he had a long term of service in the House of Representatives, in which he was a commanding figure on the important finance committee. Close study and attention to his duties made him an authority on the state's finance. His counsel regarding it and in the framing of measures relating to it carried much weight.

His experience in the field recommended him for the office of auditor general, one in which his service can probably be, if he desires, of indefinite duration. Mr. Brown has often been discussed as a potential candidate for governor, an office for which he is admirably equipped. But up to this time it has been his preference not to seek it. His strength with the voters, as shown by the vote given him Tuesday, if the time seemed propitious and his inclination led him to ask for the office, would make him a formidable contender.

Casualty Lists

The casualty lists issued by the War and Navy departments and the roll of merchant seamen lost and missing do not stand alone. There is an industrial casualty list, too. Since Pearl Harbor, a computation shows, 42,000 workers on war jobs have been killed in industrial and other accidents. Some of the 42,000, presumably, are included in still another casualty list, that of 21,290 Americans killed in automobile accidents in the first nine months of the year.

For the nine-month period there was a drop of 24 per cent in accidents compared with 1941, but much of this decline was the result of gasoline and tire rationing. With nationwide gasoline rationing there should be a further decline, but there is as yet no conclusive evidence that the quality of driving has improved with the decline in quantity.

So far as industrial accidents are concerned, management and labor have cooperated in efforts to make our war plants safe. On a relative basis, the safety record is good; on an absolute basis, every worker taken off war production, temporarily or permanently, as the result of an accident represents a loss. His place may be taken, but it is likely to be taken by a worker not so well trained or by one who must take time to get acquainted with his new job. Every preventive measure that can keep industrial accidents from happening counts for production of planes, tanks and guns.

A Progressive Wins

Governor Heil was decisively defeated in an election in which the Wisconsin voters chose all the other Republican candidates for state office. His Progressive successor, Loomis, will have to get along with a Republican legislature, but it is expected that he will make a good job of it. While his success will have some effect in revitalizing the Progressive party in the state, the sum total of returns Tuesday leaves no doubt that Wisconsin is Republican. Heil was defeated because he could not hold the Republican vote.

Some months ago the director of conservation, Mr. MacKenzie, was removed, with resultant weighty protest from conservationists that the action was unwarranted. This probably cost the Governor some votes. The Progressives in the closing weeks of the campaign bore down heavily on drafts by the Governor on state funds within his control for obviously personal, if legal, purposes. The outcome suggests that it was an effective attack.

If the Governor was pushed, so were the Democrats. They were a poor third. The President has seemingly done them in for keeps.

Guadalcanal

When Mr. Knox counsels against reading too much into the recent news from Guadalcanal there need be this no apprehension that he is preparing the country for release of bad news already in hand. The worst of it seems to be out. The best of it is the failure of the Japanese to get at the first crack all they were after. They were successful in landing, with appropriate quantities of material, on Guadalcanal troops who may exceed in number the American troops. But they did this at a considerable cost. While their airplanes and ships delivered heavy blows at their enemy they were so hardly used in the process that they found it expedient to sail away.

It is to be assumed that their purpose is refitting of damaged craft and bringing up of additional forces preparatory to going back. The alternative would be isolation and final destruction of their troops on Guadalcanal. They are no more likely to leave them to such a fate until they have exerted, to the utmost, without avail, their power in the field of combat than the American command would be to abandon its forces without a supreme effort to preserve them, and to make possible retention of their position.

The theory that the situation is shaping up to a battle in which either the Japanese or the Americans will take a sound licking is soundly based on the extent and character of present commitments.

While Mr. Knox's words of caution are timely, there is, nevertheless, much cause for satisfaction that in the lull in the fighting that has now occurred, with the Navy for the time predominant in Guadalcanal waters, there will be opportunity to reinforce the land forces on Guadalcanal and supply them with more material, at the same time that naval and air forces are strengthened in preparation for the climactic battle that probably is to come.

It is too much to hope that the Japanese have suffered so heavily that, without further effort, they will give this country unrestricted initiative in the Guadalcanal oceanic area.

Pattern of War

After the swift conquest of Poland, Norway, the Netherlands, Belgium and France many people began to assume that Germany had somehow changed the fundamental laws of warfare. They believed that because of the application of the gas engine to military uses in the air and on the ground the great conflict would be won or lost solely in terms of German "Blitz."

Today we can see that this was a misconception. Both sides have newer and deadlier weapons than they had in 1939 and 1940. But there are no new and easy roads to victory. Every fighting front shows that war is still as costly, as slow and as difficult as ever.

The most fluid fighting in this conflict has taken place in North Africa. Tanks there have plunged back and forth across a thousand miles of desert in a bewildering complex of maneuvers. Yet dispatches from the Egyptian front say that the current battle has been "a slow, intense fight like those of the First World War."

In Russia, which the Germans first invaded with the same speed that paralyzed Poland, the Nazi armies have been stalled for more than two months before the single stronghold of Stalingrad. The battle there moves only from house to house. Berlin communique give a conquered street almost the same importance that they formerly gave a conquered province.

For seven months in the Far East Japan swept everything before her. But since then the opposing forces have hardly changed position. The fighting has increased in intensity; planes and ships have been flung in prodigally. But Secretary Knox now calls it "war of attrition." That is what the First World War was.

The reason, of course, is found in the condition that the opposing forces are approaching an equality of power. That balance will not be quickly upset. But the rate of increase now definitely favors the United Nations.

Contemporary Opinion

Related Apology It may seem relatively unimportant that the long-standing controversy between the Smithsonian Institution and the Wright brothers has at last been ended by a handsome, if belated apology on the part of the Smithsonian. But the apology means that the way has now been opened for the return to this country of the first airplane capable of sustained free flight with a man. The plane in question is, of course, the one flown by the Wrights at Kitty Hawk, N. C., in 1903. Since 1928 it has been on exhibition in Britain, where it was sent by Orville Wright more or less in protest against the Smithsonian's persistent refusal to recognize its true place in the history of airplane invention.

As is fairly well known by this time, the Smithsonian's stand for many years was that the plane built at the turn of the century by its secretary, Dr. Samuel P. Langley, was actually the first capable of sustained flight. That this was not so was vigorously maintained by Orville Wright and his argument has finally been accepted after detailed inquiry by Dr. Abbot, the Smithsonian's present head. The composing of these past differences is not of world-shaking importance, but it is at least good to know that credit is finally given where due. In the public mind, certainly, there was never any question about the Wrights' role as the true airplane pioneers. Now all that remains is to get the original plane back to this country, where it surely belongs.—Washington Post.

Item from Russia For those melancholy and dejected ones who are so hopeless about our manpower crisis, here is an interesting item of news from Russia. In spite of heavy losses in the field and in spite of the drain of manpower involved in holding a line that stretches from the Arctic to the Black Sea, not to mention a million men or so in Eastern Siberia with wary eyes on the Japanese, Russia was able to add 1,000,000 new workers to its forces on the production front since Germany opened hostilities in June of 1941.

Perhaps effort inspires effort. Because of the imminence of the danger and the vast proportions of the struggle, it was almost inevitable that the Russian industrial effort should be pitched to an almost unbelievable tempo. We, in turn, should be inspired by the Russian effort.—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

Severely Figures Paul McNutt says he is informed it takes 18 workers in industry to support one man in the armed services. He says we have about 5,000,000 in uniform and that the potential working force of the United States is 80 million.

Multiply 5 million by 18 and you have 90 million. That is 10 million more workers than we have to support those 5 million armed men. But remember—those 5 million came out of the 80 million, so we have only 75 million, or 15 million less than enough to do the work. Yet the work is being done.

If we put 10 million in the armed services—and it looks like that is the aim—we shall have reduced that 75 million to 70 million working people. Yet we will need 90 million more workers to support the armed forces, 18 to one, 180 million in all. Then we shall have to have 110 million more people working to support our armed forces than there are workers. Our head goes around and around. Or is it Paul's head.—Charleston (W. Va.) Gazette.

Marquette Seventy-five high school pupils, a larger number than in any previous year, are taking manual training work this year. In addition there are almost 200 pupils of the grammar schools who are receiving this instruction. Increased demand for practical instructions has led the school board to give the manual training and domestic science departments more attention this year. Two new manual training courses, plumbing and bricklaying, have been added.

Albert Pavoglio, of Pavoglio Brothers, carvers of stone and cemetery monuments, left for Iron Mountain, where he will spend a few days. From there he will go to Tulsa, Okla., to carve stone on a church edifice.

A delegation of firemen, composed of J. J. Donovan, T. J. Downs, Clifford LaFave, John Kind and M. V. Mullaly, met with the board of fire and water commissioners to go over the newly adopted rules and regulations for the department. After the firemen's committee had left, Chief Maney and Captain Foley launched a discussion of the old subject of purchase of a gasoline fire engine, with the result that a resolution was passed ordering one of the concerns which manufacture this apparatus to send an engine here for 30 days' free trial.

Ishpeming John Wahlman was given a surprise at his home on North Fourth street by a large number of his friends, a majority of them members of the Swedish Lutheran church and society here, in honor of his 30th birthday. The organizers of the Swedish Lutheran church society here, is now one of four of the original members still living.

James C. Wood, former Ishpeming attorney, who was the Republican party's candidate for state senator in the Thirteenth senatorial district, has been elected. He received a majority over his opponent, A. L. Sawyer, of Menominee, in Schoolcraft, Delta and Luce counties.

Births recorded here include a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson, 318 Canada street, and a son to Alderman Eric A. Henstrom, of the Fourth ward, and Mrs. Henstrom, 207 Davis street.

Mr. M. Duncan, agent of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company, Mrs. Duncan and daughter, Miss Helen, left for a three-week visit in the east.

Mrs. G. O. Barnett left for Detroit, where she will spend a few days visiting her son, Lawrence Barnett, who is practicing law there.

Elmer Dobbs, who has been employed in Ed Faul's barber shop for several years, has purchased an interest in J. H. Allen's shop in Ishpeming and has left Mr. Faul's employ. He is succeeded here by Peter Saunders, an Ishpeming barber. Mr. Dobbs learned the barber trade in Ishpeming, having worked for several years before coming to Negaunee.

Dominic LaVigne, who has been working in the Colahit district in Canada, has returned to his home in Negaunee. Mr. LaVigne operated a steam shovel for the Government in the Panama canal for several years before going to Canada.

Charles Arntson, Captain August Fagerberg, Louis Olen, Peter Johnson and Captain J. O. Flack, of Gwinn, are spending the week hunting near Little Lake.

John Kieren has awarded August Anderson a contract for erection of a dwelling on Peck street, on the site of the old house formerly owned by Charles Swartz. Mr. Kieren has torn down the dwelling and his new house will be modern in every respect. (From The Mining Journal Files)

The First 800,000

When General Marshall, in his Navy Day greeting, saluted the sister service for "the skillful seamanship that has insured 800,000 soldiers safely across the submarine-infested waters of the Atlantic and Pacific," he was not only acknowledging a remarkable achievement but also publishing a datum of intense popular interest. In the first 11 months of this war we have moved a rather larger Army overseas than we did in the first 13 or 14 months of the last great struggle. Perhaps it is true that General Marshall's total includes men moved to Iceland or Dutch Guiana or other places before last Dec. 7; but far more than offsetting that in the comparison is the fact that this time many of the distances have been far greater than those covered in 1917-18, while the troops for the most part have gone fully equipped with a weight and variety of weapons and stores unknown to the half-trained and half-armed divisions that were tumbled into the ships 25 years ago.

It is sometimes difficult to realize how much greater an effort we must make in this conflict than we did in the last one. Last time we sent in all about 2,000,000 men to Europe; almost half that many have already departed for the far-flung fields upon which we are now engaged, and yet our battle effort has still scarcely been felt. Last time we mobilized 4,800,000 men in the Army, Navy and auxiliary services; today we already have 4,250,000 men in the Army alone, and next year's plans call for a total force, including the Navy, of about 9,000,000. Where we put about 4.5 per cent of the population into uniform in 1917-18, we intend to put about 8.5 per cent in uniform this time—and this despite the fact that every man in uniform requires for his support a vastly larger complement of industrial workers than was the case in 1918.

It is a grimly ironic commentary upon all those theories which held that the day of the "mass army" was over and that war would henceforth be waged by "small" groups of highly trained experts using machines to replace the individual on the battlefield. The theorists were right about the machines and the high training—and they may even have been partly right about the reduction of the combat armies, for it is probable that there has been a reduction in the percentage of those in uniform who will ever actually perform combat roles—but they were wrong in supposing that war would lower its demands upon the people who fight it. Total war means total war; and, though we are already beginning to approach the numerical totals employed a quarter of a century ago, we still have only "begun to fight."—New York Herald-Tribune.

Do We Need It?

"Our government should be made accountable at all times to the people," writes Henry Hazlitt of the editorial board of the New York Times. He thereupon urges, as an important step toward winning the war, an immediate and sweeping change in our Constitution. The essence of this change would be to adopt an important part of the English system.

Congress, like the British parliament, would have power at any time to vote a lack of confidence in the executive, who would then have the choice of resigning or of dissolving congress. If congress were dissolved, every member would have to go to the electorate, as would the chief executive himself. If the voters supported the executive, they would elect a congress to support him. If not, congress would choose another executive.

The proposal is not new. Educators and some statesmen have debated it through at least a half century. That it offers advantages is not denied. It sometimes would be well if we could avoid a situation which occurs when congress opposes the president or when one house of congress opposes the other. But would a mechanical change in our Constitution do this for us? We have never seen a good case made out of it.

There are great differences between a small compact country, closely knit through many centuries, and a country as broad as ours with many sections in which many people do not vote primarily on national issues. It may be noted, moreover, that when war comes, the British parliament does not go to the country. Since this war began, it has twice voted to postpone elections.

There is a more fundamental difference between a system which has grown and developed through usage and a system suddenly

New York Chats

By Charles B. Driscoll NEW YORK—Thinking out loud: There is a large terrestrial globe in my study. We bought it years ago, so that our children might get some graphic ideas about the strange planet on which they live. . . . But it has been gathering altogether too much dust in a corner of my study. I wiped off the dust and started looking for the japs. I found them uncomfortably close. . . . A global map gives you a much more accurate picture of the situation than any flat map possibly can give, although the newspapers are publishing some remarkable maps day by day. . . . No flat map can give you the realization that you can get from a globe, of the nearness of the Aleutians and their enemy forces to Canada and Western United States. . . . If we don't get those monkeys out of there, we're in for trouble, sure enough. . . . I wiped off my fog, but just as foggy for them as for us. . . . No word in three weeks from Nephew Bernard Blood, with the Navy on the west coast, so we assume that he has left for the big show. . . . He is a big, tall, healthy young man, brave as they come, and has never yet shrunk from combat nor acknowledged defeat. . . . With the rest of the brave nephews and sons of all of us, he'll do his part, and God go with him over the sea. . . . I believe the nation was somewhat sobered and shocked by a recent revealing article in the Saturday Evening Post, "Must We Beat Japan First?" by Edgar Snow. . . . It is slightly disturbing to realize that the japs have become, by reasons of their own fighting ability and generalship, the haves, while we and the British have become the have-nots, within a few months.

A reader in York, Pa., has sent me an item published in a York paper fifty years ago. It's about a play at the York Opera House, entitled "New York Day by Day," which was said to have played to terrific applause. This gives rise to interesting speculation. Herbert Corey, now a famous journalist of 70 years, was just 20 years old when the now-forgotten drama, "New York Day by Day" was playing the circuits. He was born in Toledo, was a cowboy in the West, and became New York correspondent for a Cincinnati newspaper 42 years ago, styling his letter to the home-town paper, "New York Day by Day."

Twelve years later, O. O. McIntyre took up the New York letter writing, and, with Corey's permission, the same title was used, at least in the Cincinnati paper. The letter now runs under many titles in many papers, but "New York Day by Day" is most frequently used. I'm wondering whether Corey got his title from the play he probably saw when he was in his twenties. I'll have to ask him, just for fun.

The government's action in freeing Italians in the U. S. from the stigma of "enemy alien" is very popular in New York. I think it is one of the most astute moves our wartime government has made. According to my observation, New York Italians as loyal to the United States as any other group of foreign-born, and far more loyal than some. They are against Mussolini and never wanted to be in this war on Germany's side. Now our government says to them, in effect: "We appreciate your loyalty, your bond-buying, support of American war measures. It's silly to pretend that you're enemy aliens. You are free to come and go, as long as you behave yourselves as Americans. And besides, your participation in the war is so unimportant that we don't even notice it."

It is popularly believed that there are more Italians in New York than in any other city in the world. Their sons are in our armed forces by the thousands. Americans of Italian blood have been prominent in New York's affairs for many years. Our mayor is of Italian blood, part Jewish, part Christian. Some of our leading statesmen and political leaders bear Italian names, some Catholic, some Protestant.

A 'Choral Masterpiece'

A new and important work has just been added to German music the credit for which, as for so many additions to German culture, must go to the Fuehrer. It is a "choral masterpiece" by the composer, Gottfried Mueller, based on five of Hitler's most noted sayings. "What could be more fitting? Is not the 'Messiah' based on texts from the Bible? So many of Hitler's sayings in 'Mein Kampf' and his speeches are 'noted' and 'worthy' for one reason or another—the selection of five suitable ones can have given Dr. Mueller little trouble. "To suggest only one possible combination, he could bring (recitative) with that frank avowal of divine guidance 'I regard myself as the instrument of Providence' (ppp) to 'That I love peace is shown by my work.' 'Whatever the savings included, the world will await the first performance of the 'masterpiece' with great interest. It would welcome even more the composition of an oratorio based on Hitler's famous 'last words.'—Manchester Guardian Weekly.

Can't It Be Speeded Up?

Many men in the army stationed in such widely separated zones as Iceland and Hawaii have written home imploring friends and relatives to "drop me a line." One soldier asks his mother wistfully, "Why don't you ever write?" The truth is that the folks have been writing but for some unknown reason the mail apparently has been delayed for many weeks. Strangely enough, letters from the soldiers seem to arrive regularly and on schedule. We realize, of course, that Uncle Sam's volume of overseas mail has increased tremendously and that it is no slight task to handle expeditiously all the letters and packages addressed to our men outside the country. Then, too, the necessity of having to send mail for the armed forces through central post-offices set up in this country doubtless slows up deliveries. And, of course, lack of precious cargo-space is another factor. Nevertheless, it seems likely that the present situation can be improved upon. Letters from home are the best morale-builders we can provide the men on distant fronts. American soldiers in England told Mrs. Roosevelt last week that one of the two things they wanted most was more letters from home. Let's keep on writing the letters, therefore, even more frequently than we have been. But at the same time it is to be hoped that the army will iron out whatever difficulties have interfered with more prompt mail delivery to soldiers abroad.—Grand Rapids Press.

Today in Washington

By David Lawrence WASHINGTON, Nov. 5—Unlike the last election in which the mid-point of the President of the United States took no step directly or indirectly toward influencing the voters to support the majority party.

Whether this was because President Wilson's appeal for a Democratic Congress in 1918 was resented by the voters or because the present administration felt sure it could maintain control anyway, the record shows that President Roosevelt meticulously refrained from taking a partisan position so far as the Congress was concerned.

In his own state, of course, Mr. Roosevelt expressed a preference for Governor, but this is in accordance with custom and it is a privilege which every President in the past has exercised without incurring hostile criticism.

Perhaps more significant than the forbearance of the President is the attitude of the electorate itself. With rare exceptions, the campaign has been fought on a win-the-war basis, and there has been a healthy rivalry between the parties in asserting that its members could do more than the other toward attaining the objective—victory.

Damaging to War Effort

But even considering the fact that the war mechanism itself has been kept free from political entanglement and the President has not taken part, the unfortunate fact remains that the election campaign was damaging to the war effort. Members found it necessary to go home to meet the attacks of would-be members, and this meant that for the last several weeks the Congress has had only a handful here to do business. Nobody can feel proud of the anti-inflation law, which was about the most hastily drawn and ambiguously phrased legislation passed in many years. Whether this was because a campaign made it difficult to be explicit, lest some members be punished by minority vote, or whether it was because the Congress did not feel free to debate the measure or to give it the consideration it deserved, the net result was a law that has already antagonized many groups and interpretations have been derived from it.

Many vital studies that should have been made by Congress on the draft and manpower problems have been put aside, and the whole tendency has been to abandon the legislative process for the time being so that the members could go home to conduct their campaigns.

Date Fixed by Constitution

No such restriction has been found necessary in the other democracies allied with us in this war. Thus, it has been a long time since Britain had an election.

"But," expostulated the press agent, "P— is positively the most unique town in the whole country."

"Ah," cried the actress, "at last we are agreed. 'Unique' is the word which fits that city perfectly—unus meaning 'one' and equus 'horse.'"

The press agent had nothing more to say. —Christian Science Monitor for Parliament, and the same is true for Canada. In the parliamentary system, agreement between the parties makes possible postponement of an election till an opportune time, while in America, because the Constitution fixes the date, it becomes necessary to hold an election no matter how inopportune the occasion may be. Thus in 1940 after France fell and America discovered the big emergency demanded immediate expansion of the Army and Navy, it was necessary for the Commander-in-Chief to become absorbed in a Presidential campaign if he wished to stay in power and if the majority of the people concurred in that idea. Abroad—just across the line in Canada, for instance—under the parliamentary system, the legislative body can decide when it wants a change in the executive.

It may well happen that in 1944 the country will be faced with the same situation that confronted it in 1940, and a large number of persons will insist that there be no change in the midst of war. Yet if the war should end six months after the election and a change should then be desirable, the people would have no opportunity for an election to bring about such a change.

The Congressional election of 1942 is over. The people can well ask themselves the question whether or not it has been worthwhile and whether the same objective—an expression of the will of the electorate—could not be achieved henceforth just the same through a constitutional amendment giving the people the right to have an election at any time. This would mean the right to defer or postpone an election, Presidential or Congressional, when the nation is absorbed in a crisis involving the very safety of the republic. Reforming Bad Boys

Dorothy Canfield Fisher, novelist, literary critic and humanitarian, says mothers can show the way to peace by passing on to the world at large the lessons learned in the family circle.

"Every mother has seen instances of the beginning of frustration and anger in a child—the kind of frustration that can lead to the making of a monster, or a Hitler. A child goes into a blind rage and seizes a carving knife. Of course, the first thing to do is wrest the carving knife away, but the wise mother knows there is more to it than that. She knows that beating the child is not enough. She knows that she has to get to the root of the trouble and, through understanding and care, correct the thing that led the child to grasp the knife—so it won't happen again."

"And so it is with international affairs. The first thing, of course, we must win this war. But after the war, there must be a reorganization of international relations so that frustrated, ill satisfied people will be treated with understanding, and their tension relieved, before it flares into strife again."

A Cup A Day

Although the need for coffee rationing is well understood and generally accepted, the scarcity of the bean is going to have serious repercussions.

Imagine, for instance, the plight of Aunt Minnie who has spent the better part of 50 years hovering about the coffee pot. Imagine, too, the fearful use to which gammen and radio comedians will put the limitations on coffee consumption.

A cup of coffee may even become the piece de resistance of the corner drug store's blue plate special. The stop-and-snatch luncheons will have a field day when the man who has had only one helping of his favorite eye-opener reaches the Loop. Office-bound, he is sure to be in the market for a second brace—no sugar and not too much cream.

All of these things can be borne with fortitude. War is war, and that's that. What we will miss most of all is that sleek villain, Old Man Coffee Nerves, who used to whisper his meanness into the ears of his unsuspecting victims in the coffee substitute advertisements. At the rate of one cup a day, coffee drinkers won't be able to work up much more than a pipsqueak grouch at best.

By the way, what did people use before they began to use coffee?—Chicago Journal of Commerce.

Skilled Men Over 40 Accepted by Army

The enlistment and re-enlistment of men who have passed their fortieth birthday will be limited to those possessing skills needed in the Army and who are fully qualified physically to render the military service required in the proper utilization of these skills, it was announced yesterday by Maj. Gen. H. S. Auran, commanding general of the Sixth Service Command, Chicago.

In accordance with War Department policy, adopted after it was learned that the average age in many combat units was alarmingly high, General Auran said emphasis would continue to be placed on the enlistment of 18 and 19-year-old men.

Campaigns for the enlistment of men over 40 for duty as air forces mechanics, Army railway mechanics, signal corps technicians or in other duties requiring special skills are being continued throughout the Service Command, which includes Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan.

232 Put On Deer Hunting Black List

The conservation department's new blacklist of persons denied the privilege of buying a deer hunting license this season, recently distributed to proper authorities throughout the state, contains 232 names.

Sixty-five of the 232 were violators of the deer law and 167 were persons who while hunting wounded or killed, by shooting, some human being. This odd ratio of violators to persons responsible for accidents is the result of a 1941 change in the law that struck the names of many violators from the list.

Where once conviction for certain deer law violations automatically invoked the three-year ban on deer hunting, this penalty, which still may not exceed three years, now must be specifically ordered by the court. In the case of a violation of the small game law, the court may order cancellation of the small game license for the current season and prohibit purchase of a small game license in the next season.

The five-year suspension of the privilege of buying a hunting license by any person who while hunting accidentally or otherwise wounds or kills, by shooting, any human being is automatic, however, and requires no court action. Shooting a person in either season bars the offender from both small game and deer hunting for the succeeding five years. Of the 167 now under this ban as dangerous to public safety, 38 are persons who wounded themselves.

Registration for the Red Cross home nursing course will take place at the Community Building Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4.

Classes will be organized among women over 18. A trained nurse will be in charge of classes.

News Behind the News

By Ray Tucker

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5—The most critical question before our High Command today is where the soldiers and arms that are being welded into great military machines should be used to fullest advantage. Besides seeking to meet the quiet desire of our principal Allies, strategists believe the time has come when the United States should play a role commensurate with its might.

This country is now turning out more than 5,000 planes every 30 days of which more than 60 per cent are combat types. In contrast Germany is manufacturing only 2,500 monthly; Great Britain about 2,000 and Japan only 400. Our production of tanks and merchant ships stands at the top of friendly and hostile charts. Within a few months we shall forge ahead in the completion of guns, artillery and all kinds of armored vehicles. In addition we are building the world's third largest Army and probably lead on the water.

Yet it is realized in this city that we have not made our strength felt in proportion to these human and mechanical resources. Some believe that we are retaining too much of our output on this side of the water and they include high-risers in Washington. It is admitted in all quarters that long supply lines and lack of ships have been other factors in our delayed action. And we have had to disperse our units in order to hold United Nations fronts against the better prepared forces of Germany and Japan.

For these reasons there is only slight disposition to cavil at our past policies. But now it is argued here that the period of improvisation has ended; that we can and should formulate and execute a more aggressive plan of attack. As one staff member puts it, "We can't keep our men down there in ratholes all around the world."

BURDEN—Abolition of the Army Specialist corps is an admission from high places that establishment of the agency was a poor idea in the first instance. The behind-the-scenes story hints at a waste of valuable manpower, time and money on a scheme which had the enthusiastic support of the War Department.

Congress was cold to the proposal from the start. Introduced as a rider to an appropriate bill, it was rejected by the House on the advice of its military experts. But Secretary Stimson and Chief of Staff Marshall persuaded the Senate to accept it and the lower chamber bowed. The argument was that A. S. C. personnel would release thousands of officers for the field. It had quite the opposite effect.

Stimsonian aides spent weeks in classifying 300,000 applications, finally approving only 1,300. The newcomers had to be trained for their desk jobs by wearers of bars who might have been drilling troops. Thousands of additional clerical help—clerks, stenographers, messengers etc.—were of necessity hired to handle this fresh burden. Then it was ruled that the non-combatants should work only 40 hours a week, with time-and-a-half pay for overtime. Thus men disqualified for regular duty would have earned far more money than those on active service, although the latter were tutoring the freshmen. The regulars' morale fell when they heard of this decision and Dwight F. Davis' amateur array had to be dismantled quickly.

THEORIES—President Roosevelt's jibe at "typewriter strategists," as well as Wendell Willkie's retort questioning the omniscience of military experts, has stirred an unemery row among some of the Capital's most eminent journalists. Gladstone Williams, Washington correspondent for the Atlanta Constitution, composed a somewhat provocative article in which he reported that the volunteer advisers on the war satirized by F. D. R. were Arthur Krock of the New York Times, Frank Kent of the Baltimore Sun and David Lawrence, the columnist. Mr. Williams did not divulge the source of his information but he conveyed the impression that it was authentic and presumably obtained from sources close to the Executive Mansion.

The trio took umbrage at the charge, despite their long experience in the newspaper game. They protested in writing to the editors of The Constitution suggesting that they had been libeled. Mr. Krock thought he ought to have a retraction. But the men down in Georgia stood on their story with the explanation that they saw nothing out of the way in Mr. Williams' speculative theories.

CARRIERS—Mr. Williams subsequently sent his original dispatch and the complaints to the White House Secretary Marvin H. McIntyre, a bridge-playing partner several times a week at the National Press Club. Gladstone suggested that the papers be passed along to Mr. Roosevelt in the belief that he might think the whole thing a "joke."

Several days later "Mac" reported that he had turned the documents over to "the boss," as he calls F. D. R. "And you were right, Gladstone," added Marvin. "The President thought it was a 'swell joke'."

Mr. Lawrence had the last word, however. In the current United States News he points out that the castigated writers had a better sian on the aircraft carrier subject than did the gold brayers. The journalists advocated a large number of small ships; the admirals a few giants. "The Japanese took the typewriter strategists' advice," he explained. "They now have carriers to spare."

GIRLS—Most popular Christmas gifts for American soldiers stationed in England are cigarettes and candy bars. According to letters from overseas, they are extremely useful in winning the affections of British girls. Next come soap and sugar.

Winning The War

By Albert N. Leman

OUTRAGE—Government officials anticipate that a draft of manpower will brew trouble in a section of the population little known by the public. Certain religious sects refuse to support violence in any form. Federal agents say that members are not disloyal; they merely hold aloof from war activities. Approximately 6,000 conscientious objectors is expected to be much greater, especially if women are conscripted.

One group, Jehovah's Witnesses, furnishes a tough problem. It refuses to salute the flag, join the Army or Navy or even to vote. Patriots whose own sons are enduring the perils of battle frequently hail these nonconformists into court. But no "worldly law" seems to stop them. The denomination has more than a million communicants in North America and Europe. Canada has interned many and Germany has placed 6,000 in concentration camps. Pacifist faiths like the Mennonites, Dunkers, Brethren and others will face a dilemma if Uncle Sam orders civilians to take jobs in defense factories, shipyards, etc. Many of these folk profess that it is wrong to help make anything that will be later used in fighting. Cracking down would give them martyr complexes. Allowing them to stand aside would outrage parents of soldiers and all others trying to win the conflict. The authorities are likely to use these people in raising crops and thus steer between Scylla and Charybdis.

WITCH—Uncle Sam rushed soldiers to Liberia and French Equatorial Africa to forestall a drive planned by Rommel against the line of aerial bases which we established from the Congo to Egypt. His whole scheme was knocked for a loop when the British Empire forces attacked in the north. Flyers of the ferry service, who rest in New York between trips, say that Hitler sent General Student to Italy to organize the Eleventh German Air Corps of planes, gliders and troop transports for an African campaign.

He was chosen because he is a specialist on the Dark Continent. Before the war as chief of Nazi air intelligence he sent a mission to study the strip between Tripoli and the Cameroons. Not long ago De Gaulle's at Chad drove off an Axis reconnaissance machine which was scouting over this old "Student route." But we are talking no chances on a return visit in force and are expanding our "hop, skip and jump" spots between the Atlantic and the Nile.

The natives make life interesting for the Americans. Kids from the mud huts and even jungle beasts stroll across the field and create landing hazards. To scare them off a bushboy was given an ordinary horn whose length was increased to huge megaphone size by gasoline tins soldered together. A laborer swore he was tormented by evil spirits and hid in a tree for three days. The rest of the local staff knocked off work to watch him. Finally an ingenious Yankee hired a witch doctor to perform exorcisms. The patient was cured but the notation of the cost must have appeared strange to the distant disbursing officer when he examined the engineer's expense account.

FACTIONS—Balkan uprisings are giving Herr Hitler one of his worst nervous headaches but, according to word that reaches New York, the discord is not all to our advantage. So many revolts and counter-rebellions are raging in King Peter's domain that the confusion threatens to hamper effectiveness of General Mihailovitch's marvellous "invisible army." The United Nations had hoped that his efforts would prepare the ground for an eventual Allied invasion but one often cannot distinguish brother from foe.

Yugoslavia always was a country of bitter feuds and long memories for past grievances. Races, religions, tribes and families have intermingled but the melting pot is a volcano crater. Refugees in Manhattan admit that even India is not worse scrambled. Nationalities which abhor the Axis invaders equally detest one another. Croats, Slovenes and Serbs pull in different directions. Unhappily a new household brawl has burst in which Chetnik guerrillas and the Communist partisans are quarreling about which of them is entitled to the most credit for harassing the Germans and Italians.

Leaders of all factions are trying to compose differences and present a united front—and lately progress has been made. Small shipments of supplies are being flown in. Allied intelligence officers are smoothing ruffled feathers so that the brave mountaineers will use their energies against the common enemy.

TOMB—New York banks receive streams of financial and economic reports from their clients in neutral countries often an agent will add timely but unrelated news tidbits. Here are a few of the latest postscripts:

"If the Japs invade Siberia their main objective will be the Russian gold fields." "The Duke of Windsor offered to return to England and take up new duties as soon as he learned of the death of his brother the Duke of Kent. He was politely given the brush-off."

"Fifteen million women are employed in the Reich. Six million are married and nearly half of these have children. Among male workers every fifth person is a foreigner." "Of the 2,000,000 Belgian refugees who fled to France all returned except 10,000 who were thrown into concentration camps by the Germans." "Read Admiral Hibino of Japan, in a public speech declared that Nippon's best strategy against the United States is to destroy our 'modern artillery,' which he described as air bases and carriers."

"Hitler has designed a tomb for himself inside a 700-foot column surmounted by a Nazi eagle with a 200-foot wing spread. It will be erected in Munich, the scene of his earlier political days." "The Rockefeller Foundation through the Red Cross worked out a scientific diet for Americans interned in Manila. This may save many from malnutrition resulting from improperly balanced prison fare." "Fifteen Rumanian general have been dismissed because the government feared they might try to bring back King Carol."

'Tarzan' Goes To Jail, But Doesn't Know Why

SANTA ANA, Calif.—P—The legend of a Tarzan-like tree man in this region turned out to be true.

Answering a call to the effect that some creature was climbing backwards up a power pole, Sheriff Elliott sighted a man cawing atop the 145-foot structure. When the climber finally descended, he proved to be Louis Antolin, 32, a deaf mute, locally nicknamed Ajax.

Ajax is unable to read or write, so officers have been unable to tell him why he is serving 60 days in jail.

Call Emily Post! Kids Remove Teeth in Public

HUTCHINSON, Kas.—P—Little Charles Sprinkle, discovered, in school classroom, that he had a loose tooth. He pulled it. Then the class went on a tooth-pulling spree. Fifteen other children in the room remembered they had loose teeth and began working on them. "Maybe it wasn't exactly orthodox, but they had a lot of fun," said second grade Teacher Miss Naomi Garrison.

U. S., Canada Aid Fisheries On Lakes

Aimed at increasing production of certain species of Great Lakes fish, which has reached low levels, the International Board of Inquiry, established in 1940 by the United States and Canadian Governments, recommends that regulations for the management of fisheries be formulated and tested by a joint agency of the two countries.

Establishment of the board, which has completed two years' intensive investigation, grew out of a series of interstate and international conferences held during the last few years by the council of state governments for the conservation of Great Lakes fisheries.

The board has conducted hearings and meetings in 29 cities on the Great Lakes in which more than 1500 commercial fishermen, public officials and sportsmen participated. Facts brought out at the meetings were supplemented by information gained in 4,000 questionnaires mailed to commercial fishermen in the area.

Ann Arbor Board
John Van Oosten, United States Fish and Wildlife Service, Ann Arbor, was a member of the four-man board, which has submitted its report to the U. S. Secretary of State and the Canadian Prime Minister.

Its recommendations follow:
(1) That there be common investigation of the fisheries of the Great Lakes.
(2) That, insofar as investigation shows fisheries to be dependent upon a common stock or to have the same conditions, regulations for management of these fisheries be formulated and tested by a common or joint agency.
(3) That where investigations are not conclusive such common regulations be applied and the results therefrom carefully determined until there is adequate proof of their effectiveness for the purpose.
(4) That the attention of the agencies concerned be drawn to the need (a) for accurate statistics of the take and of the fishing effort, (b) for separate statistics for each species of fish, and (c) for separate statistics for each of such districts as may be defined in common agreement.
(5) That thorough tests be made of the effectiveness of planting fish in a lake or lakes in order to determine whether the present planting of fish should or should not be continued or altered.

800 Hunters Selected For Special Licenses

LANSING, Nov. 5—Eight hundred hunters soon will receive by mail permits to hunt during Allegan county's special deer season, December 1-10, the state conservation department announced today. They were among 1,028 nimrods who had applied for the privilege and were selected by lottery yesterday.

Approximately 30,000 acres in central Allegan county will be opened for the season which is intended primarily to reduce crop damage by deer herds.

Good Rabbit Hunting In Area Reported

LANSING, Nov. 5 — The state conservation department's weekly hunting forecast indicated today that ducks and geese were providing increasingly good sport for nimrods, while rabbit hunting is poor in the Lower Peninsula and good across the Straits.

With the end of the upland bird hunting season today, sportsmen were awaiting the start of the deer season November 15. Increased flights of northern duck and geese had improved waterfowl shooting.

The report by districts included:
Gogebic - Ontonagon — Rabbit hunting good near Rockland, fair near Marquette and Ironwood. Ducks plentiful near Bergland.

Baraga-Keweenaw—Duck hunting fair near Sidaw and Chassel, but the main flight not arrived yet. Rabbits plentiful near Calumet and Covington.

Delta-Menominee — Rabbit kill light. Duck flights few and hunting spotty, awaiting colder weather.

Marquette-Alger — Few flight ducks, but fair numbers of geese reported. Good rabbit hunting.

Chippewa - Schoolcraft — Duck flights fair near the Soo and hunting fair at Millecoquin lake, Drummond island and upper St. Marys river. Little rabbit hunting reported.

Ask Workers To Cancel Trips
LANSING, Nov. 5—Governor Van Wagoner declared tonight he would grant the request of the war manpower committee for Michigan that he publicly appeal to munitions plant workers to abandon deer hunting trips this fall, only if Governor-elect Harry F. Kelly joined him in issuing the proclamation.

Earlier in the day, he had announced he probably would issue the appeal before nightfall. He said he changed his mind later, however, because he considered an appeal from a defeated Governor for public compliance would be "valueless" unless accompanied by the support of the victor.

George W. Dean, president of the Michigan Federation of Labor and spokesman for the war manpower committee, had told the Governor 1,130,000 man-days were spent deer hunting by 226,000 hunters last year, and that war production schedules would suffer materially if any substantial proportion of that time were lost this year from factories.

Dean had proposed that the Governor by proclamation stagger the hunting season by counties, or close it entirely, or appeal publicly to workers to remain on their jobs.

The Governor pointed out that 50,000 deer hunting licenses already have been sold, many of them to men employed in factories, and that he would have no authority to suspend the law which fixes the dates of deer hunting, although the conservation commission could suspend or shorten it.

Double Penalty Mandatory For Rationed Goods Theft
LANSING, Nov. 5—Attorney General Herbert J. Rushton declared in an opinion today that Michigan judges are bound by a legislative mandate to impose double maximum penalties upon persons convicted of stealing rationed goods.

Garrett Heys, state corrections director, asked for the opinion, asserting problems were being created in the state prisons because some judges were following the legislature's double punishment law and others were not.

He said between 75 and 100 persons have escaped the full punishment since the law was enacted. Some judges, Heys said, sentenced men to three to five years for stealing a car, while others impose five to 10 years.

Marquette Committee Announces Opening Of Consumer Center Today

It's Smart To Face Facts And Go On Smiling

(By MANTHEI HOWE)

Some folk manage to turn out a great deal of constructive work in a day while others may do little or nothing, but there is a special kind of person who, whether he or she does a great deal (measured in our terms of work) nevertheless contributes much by merely being in circulation.

I mean the kind of a human being who has what for want of a more descriptive term, we tend to call "a bright and shining face."

Reminders of that came in talking with a woman some weeks ago. She was literally bubbling with enthusiasm about a woman she had met.

Was Welcome Sight

"Do you know her," she asked. "She was as good as a tonic. She walked jauntily and looked so cheerful. It did my soul good just to look at her."

Usually those bright and radiant looking folk do plenty of work, but even if they didn't, they have a real value in the way they succeed in spreading good cheer.

Now, for goodness sake, I don't mean the Pollyanna kind of creature who toddles around with a simpering smile pinned on her face, but with eyes about as sparkling as a fish too long out of water.

But you know the kind of person—the one who may not be smiling at all, but who looks calm and serene, with a twinkle in the eye; the one who meeting you says: "Hello. How are you? Fine weather we're having isn't it?" And means it no matter whether the weather happens to be blainy, frigid or rainy.

Have Faith

Those precious radiant folk are the ones who feel that, crazy as the world and the people in it may seem to be on occasions, there is nevertheless a sane and sensible plan in the universe.

Those folk may not want to be lesson friends with all the specimens of the human species they may chance to encounter, but they do like people, have a sympathy for their problems, and are reasonably tolerant of human frailties in others.

They are the kind of folk who consciously, or by good luck, have mastered the secrets of mental hygiene and have adjusted themselves to facing life as it is without tearing themselves to pieces with revolt because life isn't what they would like it to be.

As you go about and talk with men and women who have sons and daughters in war service you are convinced (if you needed convincing) that we all of us have it in our power, if we are so disposed, to make even tragic situations more bearable, but that we aren't all so disposed.

One conceals that the conditioning we have received from childhood tends to have something to do with how we shall face situations, how much control we shall have over our reactions to burdens and troubles and griefs.

And because we did not all of us acquire through wisdom or force of circumstances, the ability to face and accept things realistically, some of us have a had time when we find the war changing life for us.

They Take Beating

The folk who have always had their own way, who have not had to control themselves when irritated or displeased, are the ones who are having the worst time now. They can't see why they have to part with their children, why those young folk should be exposed to possible dangers, why life cannot be as comfortable as it always has been.

Such a woman will say of her 21-year-old son: "Why should he have to go to war. He is only a boy. There are a lot of boys who aren't as fine as he who aren't going away. Why should he?"

Or the daughter will want to join the WAAC and her parents will wail: "We have done everything for her, given her the best education in our power. Why should she want to go away from home when she doesn't have to?"

When the son and daughter leave those parents begin to look gloomier and gloomier. They tend to shut themselves away from fun, and worry themselves into a neurosis. They haven't been disciplined to taking disappointments, but they can do something to change their reactions—if they will.

It's Normal To Wince

Few parents can send their sons and daughters into military service without a momentary, or longer, wrench of feeling; a slight attack of apprehension, but if they are the cheerful, well adjusted persons, they have learned to face the reality.

The sons and daughters are no longer babies, but young men and women able to make decisions and with the right to do so. There is a war to be fought, if the young folk decide it is their duty to get into it, the parents will accept the fact that there is war, that no matter how much they may love their children those children are no better loved and no least bit better than thousands of other sons and daughters. They have enlisted in the military service and so—the sensible parents write cherry letters to the young folk, express their pride in what the sons and daughters are doing, keep strong the ties between themselves and their children.

But they don't make them ties that chafe and bind too tightly. Those parents don't encourage themselves to sit home and mourn and weep, but bestir themselves to get into civilian defense and other community work, to mingle with other men and women who have children in the armed forces. They retain their sense of humor and don't feel guilty if they laugh uproariously at a joke. They may not be notable examples of radiant folk, but they have enough of that quality of cheerful and unafraid

Preaches Sunday At First Baptist

DR. RALPH T. ANDEM

The sermon at the Sunday morning service in the First Baptist church will be preached by Dr. Ralph Taylor Andem, executive secretary of the Michigan Baptist convention. "The Place for Christian Witnessing" will be his subject.

Dr. Andem is known to many Marquette folk. He has occupied the Baptist pulpit on some previous occasions, and it may be recalled that he preached the sermon when the Rev. Robert S. Shahbaz, present pastor of the church, was ordained.

For 13 years he has held the office of executive secretary and is considered the outstanding executive secretary in the Northern Baptist convention which includes 26 states. During his tenure of office missionary contributions have doubled.

Dr. Andem is a fluent speaker and doubtless many folk will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear him Sunday morning.

Saturday Music Club Holds Meeting Saturday

The Saturday Music club will hold a meeting at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon in the Federated Women's club. The theme for tomorrow's program, of which Mrs. Elmer Smeberg and Miss Florence Driscoll are chairmen, will be "Music Contemporary With The Pilgrim Fathers." Hostesses for the social hour will be Mrs. W. A. Ross, Mrs. Nels Flodin, Mrs. W. A. Ulrich and Miss Josephine Long.

Following is the program: Talk: "Colonial Music To 1700"—Miss Florence Driscoll. Group singing: "The Lining Out of 'Old One Hundred' as in the days of the Pilgrims."

Piano: "Harmonious Blacksmith"—(Handel)—Mrs. Forrest Kepler. Vocal: "Amarilia, Mia Bella"—(Caccini)—Miss Audrey Trevarthan, Miss Ruth Craig, accompanist.

Cello: "Bais Epais" (from opera Amadis)—(Lully), "Bourree"—(Handel)—Miss Helen Raatikainen, Mrs. Russell Miller, accompanist. Madrigals: "Sing We and Chant It"—(Morley); "Weep, O Mine Eyes"—(Bennett); "Now Is the Month of Maying"—(Morley)—Miss Adda Eldredge, Miss Audrey Trevarthan, Mrs. Fred Burrall, Mrs. Arvid Savola, Mrs. Austin P. Johnson, Murray Moon, Frank Richardson.

Two pianos: "Prelude in E" (from Sixth Violin Sonata) (Bach)—Mrs. Roy Williams, Mrs. Elmer Smeberg.

Can You Answer This Test on Manners?

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below.

1. Should you let your maid gossip to you about persons she has worked for before she came to you?

2. Should you let your maid repeat gossip she picks up from servants in other homes?

3. Should a maid's time off be respected, or is it all right to expect her to give up her plans at the last moment if she is needed?

4. Should you insist that your maid look neat and trim at all times?

5. If you are upstairs when your maid answers the door should you permit her to call upstairs to you to tell you that you are wanted?

What would you do if—

When guests drop by for a visit and there is nothing in your kitchen to serve them—

(a) Apologize for not having anything to serve?

(b) Don't mention the subject?

Answers

1. No.

2. No.

3. Her time off should be respected.

4. Yes.

5. No. She should walk upstairs and tell you that you are wanted.

Better "What Would You Do?" solution—(b).

acceptance of realities, so they go about the business of living.

And the more parents can approach that attitude the more they contribute to the physical and mental health, not only of their absent children, but of themselves and their friends.

Serene, unafraid, well adjusted people make a real contribution to the group in war.

Radio Program Will Be Given This Morning

For five or six months, the Consumer interest committee of Marquette, which Miss Jane Bemis, of the home economics department of Northern Michigan College of Education, is chairman, has been hard at work making plans, perfecting an organization acquiring material so the committee may offer an effective and practical service to housewives.

The results of the work are materializing now in a most practical fashion. Announcement is made of the opening of the Consumer service at headquarters in the city hall this afternoon. Folk are asked to note that this is merely a temporary location.

Temporary Headquarters

It was hoped not to open headquarters until a centrally located downtown site could be obtained, but the many problems arising in relation to rationing, food prices, and related subjects have made the committee decide to use a temporary location in order to provide the service now when it is badly needed.

So this afternoon the office will be open and a volunteer worker will be present to explain the facilities and equipment available. Every Friday afternoon hereafter the room will be open for use.

There is available a complete and carefully arranged file and a great deal of literature on rationing, economical buying, hints for buying intelligently through a knowledge of labels, and much other information on how the housewife may really get the most for money spent.

Radio Program Today

Then this morning the first of a series of Consumer Interest radio broadcasts will be made. The women have fumed and fretted, some of them, trying to understand why there has to be rationing. They are asked to tune in from 10:30 to 10:45 this morning and listen to the program which has been arranged by the Consumer Interest committee's radio chairman, Mrs. Fred S. Onge. Appearing on the program will be Edward J. Dundon, Upper Peninsula district manager of OPA; L. B. Hadley, chairman of the ration board of the county OPA, and Mrs. Leo Murk, representative of the civilian consumer.

And then there is this third announcement of special importance to all housewives. The Consumer interest committee will sponsor a two-day institute to be held next week Friday and Saturday at the Northern Michigan College of Education. Keep the dates free for attendance, and watch for further announcements and the detailed program next week.

Society-Club

Smorgasbord—The Ladies' Aid society of the Covenant Mission church of Carlsend will give a smorgasbord on Tuesday night. It will be followed by a smorgasbord. Every one is invited to attend.

Pictures Of Africa—A motion picture travelogue on "Africa" will be given at 7:30 tonight in the motion picture industry, and reminded of California's boast that the state has everything that any other state in the Union possesses.

Rummage Sale—The Gravenet PTA unit will hold a rummage sale at 7 tonight in the sewing room. Those having contributions are asked to bring them to the gymnasium this morning or afternoon.

Sea Scouts Dance—The annual formal dancing party and Bridge of Honor, sponsored by the Sea Scouts, will be held Saturday night in The Northland. The hours will be 9 to 12 and Wally Swanson's orchestra will play for the dancing.

Meeting Tonight—The Women's society of the Trinity Lutheran church will hold a social evening at 8 tonight in the church parlors. The women of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Green Garden, will be guests of the Marquette group. Lunch will be served at the conclusion of the games party. Each member of the hostess society is reminded to bring two 10-cent gifts.

Had Birthday—Mrs. Art LaRue, 401 Rock street, entertained the Jolly "500" Birthday club in her home Wednesday night, in honor of Mrs. A. Lemieux's birthday. The winners of prizes in "500" were Mrs. Simon Girard, Mrs. E. Zyskowski and Mrs. A. Mallette. Lunch was served at the conclusion of play and a large birthday cake formed the centerpiece for the table.

Dancing Party—Young folk of high school and college age are reminded that the first of a series of winter dancing parties, to be given under the auspices of the Young People's Fellowship of St. Paul's Episcopal church, will be held from 8 to 11 tonight in the Guild hall. The admission fee per couple is a small one. John Wasmuth's six-piece ensemble will play for the dancing.

Remember Silk Stockings—If you remember Wake Island and Pearl Harbor and don't want other similar things to happen, then do your share by providing the help you can so readily give. Don't forget to respond to the call of the Marquette County salvage committee and contribute every single available clean, old silk or nylon stocking, or those which are a mixture of rayon or cotton and silk or nylon. The silk stockings will be used to make the woven

IT'S A DOG'S LIFE—AS MANY A MAN KNOWS—Husbands who have patiently submitted to the ordeal of having their wives practice first aid lessons on them will have a fellow feeling for Nellie. Despite the Great Dane's woebegone expression, it is all for her own good, for Nellie is being bandaged in an A. S. P. C. A. class where methods of caring for pets injured in air raids are taught.

Salvage Drive Opens Today To Collect Fur To Make Jackets For Fighting Men

Don't forget the drive being carried on to salvage silk stockings, but important please note this NEW DRIVE in which women are asked to participate. Please contribute some old furs which can be used to make warm jackets for the men in the armed forces and the merchant marine.

Requests for 800 such fur jackets have been received from the Great Lakes area alone.

Get Them Out

All kinds of furs will be of use so begin getting grandmother's fur cape and other's four or five-year-old coat, and sister's jacket, and a possibly dad's old fur driving coat out of the moth balls. Some of those furs haven't been used in years. Put them to important war use now.

Miss Eula Jack Gave Talk On 'California'

Under the title, "California, Yesterday and Today," Miss Eula Jack, of the Northern Michigan College of Education faculty, gave a talk at the meeting of the Marquette Woman's club Wednesday afternoon in the Federated Women's club.

Giving the necessary background of geography and topography of the country, she gave a resume of the prehistoric period, commenting on the Indian, Mexican and American invasion of the state, and took her listeners through the dramatic Gold Rush days, and up to the present.

The speaker commented on the initiation and growth of the motion picture industry, and reminded of California's boast that the state has everything that any other state in the Union possesses.

Obviously the need is immediate and urgent and those who are to donate furs cannot put off the notion, so begin today taking the furs to the Schuster shop in the Harlow block.

Salvage Drive Opens Today To Collect Fur To Make Jackets For Fighting Men not officially a project of the county salvage committee, W. J. Weber, committee chairman, has given his enthusiastic approval of the offer of L. P. Schuster, furrier, to establish a fur collection station in his shop in the Harlow block, and he will assume the responsibility of shipping the donated furs to the Associated Fur Industries, of which he is a member.

Doubtless many of the readers recall seeing notices of the fur salvage drive in the east.

Mr. Weber points out that the Associated Fur Industries, a national organization of furriers, "is a responsible association and has on its roster some of the biggest names in the fur industry. The salvage committee heartily endorses this plan."

Leave Them Now

Furs left at the shop will be prepared by Mr. Schuster for shipment, with the freight charges being paid by the Marquette defense council.

The manufacturers of the furriers' association will donate linings and other materials needed to make the jackets for the men, and the employees of the association members will donate the labor for the extra hours which will be needed to complete the work.

No one in Marquette need be told how much such fur jackets will be needed by America's fighting men during the winter, so be generous about contributing all fur you can for Mr. Schuster says all kinds of fur can be used, since the fur manufacturers have all facilities for repairing and conditioning the furs for use.

He asks that folk having fur garments to donate bring them to the shop as soon as possible that "Marquette may do its share to keep the men in the armed forces and merchant marine warm during the ensuing winter."

Obviously the need is immediate and urgent and those who are to donate furs cannot put off the notion, so begin today taking the furs to the Schuster shop in the Harlow block.

Set Good Examples In Beauty Habits

No nurse to do your daughter's grooming routines, now, and no time to do them yourself? Then, teach her how to do them for herself, says Alicia Hart. Show her by your own example, and also talk to her, tell her how to take care of her skin, hair, hands.

If she's four or less, you will have to devote considerable time to this part of her training. But this is time that "pays out" in satisfaction to you, now and later. Besides, it is essential to any scheme for making certain that your child, at 20, won't go about blaming her mother for a lack of beauty. For any child who is taught—and I mean taught, not cowed—to take care of her physique properly is going to be attractive, whether or not she's a born beauty.

So take time to brush her hair nightly, and brush it correctly with upward strokes. The weekly shampoo is accomplished best by putting the child under the shower instead of using the wash bowl. Use a foamy liquid shampoo—never, cake soap.

To encourage her to enjoy her daily bath and her weekly manicure, give her her own gadgets for them, especially a nail brush and emery boards. Push the cuticle back with a soft towel several times a week; use clipper or scissors for hangnail only.

Pays For Bible He Stole From Penny Store

Seldom, probably, has R. C. Heynen, of the J. C. Penny company, been more surprised than he was yesterday morning when opening the mail he found a letter from downstate. Here is part of the letter:

"You will wonder at getting a letter like this one, but I should have sent one much sooner than this. About 11 years ago at Christmas time I went into your toy department in the basement and stole a Bible. It is an unusual thing for one to steal a Bible, but always wanted one and having no money with me when I saw this one I stole it. They sold for 50 cents."

Army Gives Go-Ahead Signal For Annual East-West Football Game

Rose Bowl Contest May Be Approved

By Russ Newland
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—One of the Pacific coast's big post-season football classics, the east-west game, will return to its original San Francisco site New Year's day, and military approval of the event encouraged belief today that the Pasadena Rose Bowl contest might receive similar treatment.

William Coffman, general manager of the east-west all-star event sponsored by the Shrine's organization for charity, reported in New York that authorization to hold it in Kezar stadium had been received from Lieut.-Gen. John L. DeWitt, head of the western defense command.

The game, which annually attracts close to 60,000 fans, was transferred hurriedly to New Orleans last December following the attack on Pearl Harbor. At that time, Army authorities clamped down on such scheduled west coast sports events as the New Year's day east-west and Rose Bowl football engagements and the Christmas day opening of Santa Anita race track.

Western defense command headquarters confirmed Coffman's announcement that the east-west game could be held in the municipal stadium, situated in the middle of the city and not offering any traffic congestion problems.

Army authorities withheld comment on the possibility of the Rose Bowl encounter being given the go-ahead signal. It was not learned whether a direct application had been made. Officials of the Pasadena gridiron spectacle voted recently to hold it if approval could be obtained.

The game was moved to Durham, N. C., last New Year's day where Oregon State coast conference champion, defeated Duke.

Ohio Works On Air Attack For Panthers
COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 5.—Coach Paul E. Brown put Ohio State's Buckeyes through an extended passing drill today in preparation for Saturday's clash with Pittsburgh's Panthers.

Buck aerial efforts failed to save Ohio State from its first defeat of the season at the hands of Wisconsin last Saturday and Brown has been emphasizing the overhead attack all week.

Don Steinberg, of Toledo, held down the left end berth and Don McCafferty the left tackle spot, indicating that Brown intends to start them against the Panthers.

Edgers in Final Drill
MADISON, Wis., Nov. 5.—Wisconsin's varsity ran through a complete rehearsal of offensive and defensive maneuvers today in the final practice before leaving for Iowa City to defend its Big Ten lead Saturday against Iowa's Hawkeyes.

Marlin (Pat) Harder, ace fullback, returned to the drill field today after having spent two days in the infirmary with a severe cold and Coach Harry Stuhldreher said he was a certain starter.

A 36-man Badger squad will leave tomorrow by automobile, with 12 cars and an equipment truck making up the caravan. The squad will spend the night at Cedar Rapids.

Abandon Two-Team System
GREAT LAKES, Ill., Nov. 5.—Following a light drill today, Coach Paul Hinkle named 34 Blue-jackets for the trip to Lafayette Saturday's game with Purdue.

The squad will arrive in Lafayette tomorrow afternoon for signal practice. Hinkle indicated he planned to abandon the two-team system and stick to his 11 best men against the Boilermakers. This system, against Missouri last week, brought the Sailors a 17-10 triumph.

Down Sports Trail

By Whitney Martin
NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Our good friend Al Schacht has opened a restaurant, which, he says modestly, "I built with my own two hands while waiting for a traffic light to change."

Al has been entertaining the customers at baseball parks for years with his very funny pantomime, and now that the bottom has dropped out of that business because of transportation and one thing and another, he feels he is entitled to let the customers entertain him. He laughs easily. In fact, just seeing customers walk in makes him smile.

Al is a former baseball pitcher. Well, anyway, he was paid to pitch. He is a very dapper fellow, with a head that looks like a buffalo nickel. The other side of the nickel, that is. Give him a couple of feathers and a paint job and he'd pass for Sitting Bull himself.

Anyway, Al's restaurant naturally has baseball as its motif. It has everything from a home plate (steak sandwiches featured), to a bullpen so guys like Johnny Murphy and Joe Beggs would feel right at home.

Not Ordinary All-Star Team
As a special attraction he plans to install his own private hall of fame, and has asked sportsmen friends to help him select an all-time all-star baseball team. The selected players will be suitably honored by having their pictures hung for all to see.

Now this isn't just an ordinary all-star team. Most all-star teams have four or five pitchers, and a couple of catchers. Then, if you think there are infielders or outfielders whose absence might cause debate, you can shove them in as utility men, and if some fellow thinks one of these utility men should be in there you can just tell him to imagine that some player on this imaginary team is hurt and put in his place. That way everyone is satisfied, except the fellow who is hurt. He wants to know who will play the doctor hills.

Al's team leaves no room for "ifs" and "maybes" and "I guesses." There are just nine positions, with one man for each position, including pitcher and catcher, so when you make your choice it's just like checking a team in a football pool. Second guesses don't count.

He asked us to give our lineup, which is quite a compliment, but is like asking us to name the coldest winter since 1880. We haven't experienced all the winters since 1880, nor have we seen all the ball players since that time. All we can go on is what we have heard and read, and the records.

Here's Whitney's Team
After two minutes of profound thought we named this lineup: Catcher, Bill Dickey; pitcher, Walter Johnson; first base, Lou Gehrig; second base, Rogers Hornsby; third base, Pie Traynor; shortstop, Honus Wagner; left field, Ty Cobb; center field, Tris Speaker; right field, Babe Ruth.

Now there probably are more loopholes in that team than in a daisy chain, and old-timers, and some moderns, will chip it to pieces, but for all-around power and at least fair defensive ability we'd like to see it against any team.

With the exception of Cobb and Wagner, and possibly Gehrig, you could get an argument about any position. Johnny Kling and Roger Bresnahan might be mentioned for catcher, for instance, or Christy Mathewson and Cy Young for pitcher, and Joe Gordon and Frankie Frisch and Bobby Lowe for second base, etc.

But you're only allowed one guess in Al's system, and we've had ours. We've usually found that the team that gets the most runs wins the games, and that team should account for a few. And with a guy like Johnson out there on the mound all the fielders would have to be able to do would be to point to the ball. Right in the catcher's mitt.

Central And Alma To End Grid Seasons

DETROIT, Nov. 5.—With Michigan State thousands of miles away and Detroit idle, the home team of an eight-game state college football program is the none too successful Michigan - Harvard game at Ann Arbor Saturday, but there are smaller games of much interest.

While the Wolverines are attempting to add an underdog Harvard eleven to a superb Michigan inter-sectional record, Michigan State's Spartans will tackle powerful Washington State at Spokane Saturday. The Spartans hardly can be classed with the Cougars, who have won four and lost one for second place in Pacific Coast conference football affairs.

Three Have Ended Seasons
Detroit is alone with an open date, Michigan Tech, Northern Michigan and Grand Rapids Junior have finished their schedules, and four others will end their seasons this weekend.

Two of these are the state's remaining undefeated and untied teams, Alma and Central Michigan. Alma was to have closed at Hope on Armistice day, but the game has been moved up to Saturday. By winning its seventh successive game and twelfth straight in a two-year period, Alma can clinch another Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic association crown.

Central Michigan, winner of five games, closes at the University of Grand Rapids. The teams met once before several weeks ago with Central winning, 6-2.

The week's program opens Friday at Ypsilanti where Michigan Normal tackles Hillsdale in an afternoon game.

On Saturday, Wayne is host to Akron and, for the first time this season, is favored to win. Both clubs have gone without victory this year. Kalamazoo meets Albion in the fight for second place in the MIAA, while Western Michigan is host to the Grrosse Ile Naval Cadets, Michigan's only service eleven. Grrosse Ile has a three-game winning streak after dropping its opener to Hillsdale.

Good Inter-sectional Record
Michigan has an incredibly good inter-sectional record in the last 25 years, having won 26, lost two and tied two, and Harvard should have no great threat this time. Coach Dick Harlow is one of the game's best strategists, however, and two years ago kept Tommy Harmon and mates pretty well in check with a looping defense.

Against Washington State, the Spartans are sending a 500 record in previous trips to the coast. State defeated Los Angeles Loyola and San Francisco before dropping two starts on the coast against Santa Clara.

Johnny Pesky Expected To Be 'Rookie of Year'
NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The "rookie of the year" debate in the major leagues was practically decided in favor of Shortstop Johnny Pesky, of the Boston Red Sox, by voting for the most valuable players, even though it wasn't the issue at stake.

The 23-year-old freshman star, whose spectacular play enabled Joe Cronin to retire to bench managing, ranked third in the rating of Defeated opponents of the latter four teams were the Northland Hotel, Merchants Bakery, Munising Wood Products and Getz's.

The Merchants Bakery five, led by L. Schwemin with 493, topped the competing teams with a match total of 2,188.

Adrian Schools Abandon Interscholastic Sports
ADRIAN, Mich., Nov. 5.—The board of education voted today to abandon interscholastic high school sports for the duration of the war. The action also affected debates and music festivals.

Supt. George H. Little told the board it was increasingly difficult to arrange transportation for teams participating in contests away from home. Adrian teams regularly play Sturgis, Marshall, East Lansing and other Twin Valley Athletic association outfits.

Tomorrow night's football game with Monroe will mark the end of team competition.

Hawks Defeat Bruins
CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—The Chicago Blackhawks, displaying crisp passing form in their first game of the season here, handed the Boston Bruins their third straight National league setback tonight, 5-1. A crowd of 13,028 was on hand.

strong man about whom the Republicans could rally for repeat victories.

Kelly personally does not discuss this line of reasoning. Nevertheless, he has promised to give to the state a "common sense" administration in which government would be stripped of non-essentials and for the sake of taxpayers upon whom the burden of wartime Federal levies is growing heavy.

The Governor-elect will go into office with commanding Republican majorities in both legislative bodies to back him. Politicians have not forgotten that Republican members of the house and senate helped to shove Kelly into the gubernatorial race when he was reluctant to run. This, they consider, is a circumstance which will give him added voice in the legislative halls.

May Break Up Demo Machine
He will be surrounding him an administrative board composed of Republicans, save for the lone Democratic survivor in high state office—G. Donald Kennedy, state highway commissioner, whose job was not at stake in this election.

There have been rumors that the victorious Republicans may take action to restrict the commissioner's powers and break up what they long have considered to be a strong political machine operating from his office. Republicans were tempted two years ago to do this, and at that time considered amending the statute which created his office to place a bi-partisan commission at its head. The highway commissioner is not a constitutional officer.

Wings Crush Rangers By 12-5 Score

DETROIT, Nov. 5.—The Detroit Red Wings buried Steve Buzinski, New York Ranger rookie goaltender, under a 12 to 5 defeat in a National Hockey league game tonight before 6,828 spectators. It was the largest total ever scored by a Detroit team, and Carl Liscombe personally bagged three goals and four assists for seven points.

Liscombe's feat established a new National Hockey league individual scoring mark for a single game. He bettered by one point the performance of Pit Lepine, of the Montreal Canadiens, who had five goals and one assist against the Canadiens beery Ottawa, 6-3, on December 18, 1939.

The Red Wings, seizing sole possession of the league lead with their second successive victory, swarmed through the Blueshirts defense repeatedly to fire at Buzinski, 25-year-old replacement for Jim Henry, who is in the Army. Detroit got five goals the first period, one in the second and six in the third.

Aiding Liscombe were Syd Howe, Don Grosso and Harry Watson, with two goals each, while Mud Bruneteau, Alex Motter, Joe Carveth and Conny Brown got the others. Hub Macey scored twice for the Rangers, with Lynn Patrick, Angus Cameron and Joe Bend getting one each.

Buzinski, who had yielded seven goals to the Toronto Maple Leafs in his debut, made 39 stops as compared to Johnny Mowers' 14, but a dozen drives got through him. The red light behind his cage flashed so frequently his back must have got sunburned.

Detroit got the first score while Bryan Hestall was doing time in the penalty box. Howe beating the rookie from close in. Patrick tied it up less than a minute later, but then Motter sliced in a 55-footer to give the Red Wings a lead they never lost. In the final period the goals came so fast that the Wings scored four times in less than four minutes.

It was a bad night all the way around for Buzinski, who was knocked out in the third period, but revived to stay in the game.

Spartan Foe Favored In Coast Battle
SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 5.—Without waiting to take a look at the train - weary Michigan State squad, football sources here established Washington State today as a favorite to beat the Spartans Saturday in their inter-sectional battle.

Backed by four victories in five starts for second place behind U. C. L. A. in the Pacific Coast Conference, Washington State appears to have a touchdown or two edge on the traveling Spartans, who haven't had a workout since they left the home field Monday.

Practice sessions enroute were out of the picture inasmuch as regular railroad accommodations don't provide for stopovers of that length. The Spartans were slated to arrive tonight too late for a drill here, so Coach Charley Bachman has set a final practice for tomorrow at Gonzaga university stadium.

State's small traveling squad of 28 players includes the injured Ed Rippmaster and Wally Pasowski, both of whom are not counted in Bachman's plans for Saturday. As in the past, State will depend greatly on the passing of little Dick Kleppe, who can be devastating when he's hot.

The Spartans likewise will face a passing attack built around Halfback Jay Stoves. The Cougars have a strong offensive record of 119 points or an average of some three touchdowns a game. The home forces have a good defense, too, particularly against Stanford and Oregon, who were held scoreless.

Saturday's game originally was scheduled at tiny Pullman, home of the Cougars, but was shifted as a wartime move 100 miles north to this city of more than 100,000.

Completion of the WPB's recommended program will give the United States a steel ingot capacity of 98,279,970 tons. This is almost 10,000,000 more tons than the present rated capacity of the steel industry. Expansion will be completed by mid-1943.

High School Boy Stricken While Wrestling Dies

GRAND HAVEN, Mich., Nov. 5.—A Stricken while wrestling with a school friend before a gym class at Grand Haven high school, Adrian Chittenden, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Chittenden, of near Grand Haven, died today.

The youth had been wrestling with Sam Corella, 15, and had pinned his companion's shoulders to the mat just before the tragedy occurred. An older brother, Leon, 17, said that Adrian suffered from a weak heart.

Coroner W. B. Bloemendal attributed the death to over-exertion.

Packers To Battle Rams In Cleveland
GREEN BAY, Nov. 5.—The Green Bay Packers will leave here Friday for their invasion of Ohio, seeking their sixth consecutive National football league victory against the Cleveland Rams in Municipal stadium there Sunday. They will arrive in Cleveland Saturday morning in time for a pre-game workout.

With Cecil Isbell and Don Hutson headed for their greatest year, and Andy Uram close behind the Alabama end in the pass-receiving glory, the Boys of Coach E. L. (Curly) Lambeau are on a scoring spree that has brought them top honors in the league, with a total of 211 points in six contests.

Hutson Has 82
Hutson has made 82 of them, and needs only 13 to tie his last year's league record. The official total gives him 10 touchdowns, all on passes, and 22 points after touchdown, while Uram is in fourth place on the loop list with four touchdowns and one placement, all but six of the points coming on his stellar performance against the Chicago Cardinals Sunday.

The Rams will oppose this with a defense that has been airtight since the last Bay game. Dutch Clark's charges Sunday shut out the Brooklyn Dodgers, 17 to 0, and the week before beat the Cardinals, 10 to 3, only points scored against them since they met the Wisconsin press here.

Scores of the two teams:
Green Bay
Packers 38; Chicago Bears 44.
Packers 17; Chicago Cards 13.
Packers 38; Detroit Lions 7.
Packers 45; Cleveland 28.
Packers 28; Detroit Lions 7.
Packers 35; Chicago Cards 24.
Packers 21; Opponents 123.

Cleveland
Rams 0; Chicago Cards 7.
Rams 24; Philadelphia 14.
Rams 14; Detroit Lions 0.
Rams 14; Washington 33.
Rams 28; Green Bay 45.
Rams 7; Chicago Cards 3.
Rams 17; Brooklyn 0.
Rams 11; Opponents 123.

Much Scoring Foreseen
On the basis of the two teams' last encounter at Green Bay, the contest should be a high-scoring, fast-moving affair, with Parker Hall matching tosses against the record-breaking Cecil Isbell. The Purdue pitcher hasn't missed a touchdown via the aerial route in the last 18 league games, and hopes to make Sunday's fray No. 19 with the Green Bay boys.

Coach Lambeau, in drills this week, worked on the overconfidence bogey, pointing out that the Cardinals opened the season with a win over the Ohioans, only to have the result reversed in the second meeting. Clark's victory over the Dodgers should serve notice that the team is hot and the Packers will be the object of all their steam when the opening whistle sounds.

Fewer Boys Covered By Prep Benefit Plan
LANSING, Nov. 5.—The administrative committee of the state high school athletic association today announced a modified insurance plan to provide compensation for injured high school athletes, recommended today that schools extend the coverage to youths participating in vigorous wartime physical fitness training. The plan is sponsored by the Michigan High School Athletic association.

Julian Smith, acting director, said the plan is broad enough to cover all intramural sports and physical training as well as inter-scholastic competition.

He added that a result of the war has been a reduction of about 500 in the number of boys covered by the benefit plan, although seven more schools have elected to come under it. He speculated this might reflect reduction of the size of football and other squads because of problems of transporting them, and also the fact some boys who otherwise might be engaged in athletics are taking after-school jobs which keep them out of sports.

Wild Scoring Spree Likely At Ann Arbor

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 5.—Unless Harvard surprises everybody with something new and different in the way of football defense, Michigan's inter-sectional gridiron duel with the Crimson Saturday night will develop into the wildest scoring melee played here this fall.

The Wolverine record to date would lend authority to such a prediction. Against opponents of greater stature than Harvard, Coach Fritz Crisler's eleven has rolled up an impressive total of 119 points in six games.

Three Touchdowns a Game
That breaks down into 19 2-3 points—three touchdowns—a game. Michigan has been defeated twice, but no eleven has managed to hold the Wolverines to less than two touchdowns.

Add to this the information that Crisler has been concerned to open an offense in practice this week and that Harvard is almost certain to try a wide-open passing game, and you have every prospect of a busy afternoon for the man who punches the scoreboard buttons. Traditionally a good team in the late season, Harvard has an aerial attack at least good enough to defeat Princeton. A 60-yard forward pass flung by Freshman Jack Comford beat the Tigers in the last few seconds of a game Saturday.

The Crimson have scored only 35 points in six games, however, and one eastern sports writer who saw the Princeton-Harvard contest commented bluntly, "technically it was all a mistake. The Crimson haven't a back who can pass, yet won this game with a 60-yard aerial."

Crisler will start his "seven oak posts" up front and will place his most healthy backfield behind the line. There is an excellent chance that Sophomore Bob Chappuis will start at halfback. Chappuis had a brilliant day against Illinois Saturday and Tom Kuzma and Don Robinson, who work at that position, are recovering from injuries.

May Give Regulars Rest
Kuzma and Robinson will see action, and it will be no surprise if either or both respond to the opening whistle. Captain George Cellaham will be at quarterback, either Bob Wiese or Don Lund at fullback, and probably Paul White at halfback. Wiese is still bothered by a slight ankle injury.

Crisler would like nothing better than to give his first-stringers a rest this week, if the Crimson permit such indulgence. Michigan crashes into Notre Dame and Ohio State in the next two weeks.

Michigan has a perfect inter-sectional record under Crisler. This includes a victory over Harvard, two decisions over Yale, three over Pennsylvania, and one each over Pitt and California.

Iowa Won't Settle For Tie Contest

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Nov. 5.—Iowa has no ties in the 19-game Wisconsin-Iowa football series, and Iowa's Hawkeyes won't settle for one Saturday — they think they can beat the nation's currently ranked No. 2 gridiron team.

There's no "hold 'em" attitude as Dr. Eddie Anderson drives his lads for the shot at the undefeated Badgers, the Hawks refusing to accept the underdog role assigned to them by the football experts.

Anderson's boys went this one just as badly as the Badgers, for an Iowa victory would send the Hawks into a first-place Western Conference tie with Ohio State, and possibly Minnesota and Illinois.

The head coach is emphasizing offense, gearing up the attack by shifting his backs into various assignments to outstep Wisconsin. Only Tom Farmer, the pitching star, has been kept exclusively at his position, and even he has been assigned new variations in his quarterback duties in the T formation.

Charles (Chuck) Uknes, the blond fullback who played prominent parts in Iowa's victories over Indiana and Purdue, Duke Curran, Quincy, Ill., speedster, and veteran Bill Stauss each has worked in different backfield slots.

If you have a battered old jalopy in your back yard, a car that will never provide transportation again, you're holding up the manufacture of three 2000-pound bombs that might be knocking out factories in Tokyo. A total of 3,750,000 jalopies is needed by the steel industry.

Elk Peggers Hold Lead In Card League

Defeating the Knights of Columbus, 11,540 to 11,380, the Elks took a 91-hole lead in the Marquette Cribbage league this week. In second place are the Pfeiffer Beers, who covered the most ground in the race with an 11,631 to 11,293 triumph over the Cliffs Dows.

In the third match the fourth-place American Legion won from the Independents 11,361 to 11,312. Team standings:
Elks 23,070
Pfeiffer Beers 22,979
Knights of Columbus 22,859
American Legion 22,579
Cliffs Dows 22,557
Independents 22,527

In this week's matches a high score of 1,225 was held by R. Bullock and W. Goroux, of the Pfeiffer Beers, and W. King and H. Carlyon, of the Independents, were second with 1,224. H. Smith, of the Legion peggers, held a 28-hand, one less than perfect.

Next week's schedule:
Elks at Cliffs Dow; Knights of Columbus at Independents, and Pfeiffer at American Legion.

Completion of the WPB's recommended program will give the United States a steel ingot capacity of 98,279,970 tons. This is almost 10,000,000 more tons than the present rated capacity of the steel industry. Expansion will be completed by mid-1943.

Raid Warning Post Requires Large Force

ISHPEMING, Nov. 5—Citizens of IshpeMING will learn all the reasons for and get information on the operation of an aircraft warning post when they attend the civilian mass meeting Friday evening in the high school auditorium at 7:30.

Through the courtesy of the commanding officers at Fort Brady, Major C. M. Barnes, regional signal officer for the 800 information center, will be the principal speaker here. From Marquette will come Ralph R. Eldredge, who instituted the aircraft warning service at a large number of volunteers is required to man a primary post.

The mass meeting was planned as the means by which the greatest number of persons could be advised as to procedure in carrying out a project requested by the United States Army.

Clark McGiffert, chief aircraft observer, has handled most of the details for the meeting and will appear on the program, to explain the manner in which IshpeMING citizens will volunteer for this patriotic work. His assistants will be introduced from the stage, along with Olaf E. Stolen, defense corps commander for IshpeMING.

"Every effort is being made to facilitate organization," said Mr. McGiffert. "Our observation post is under construction and will be ready for use by the time volunteers are signed up."

Mr. Stolen, speaking for the defense corps, said: "This is an urgent matter. It is a protective measure for the community and for others who will have to rely upon communities like ours for advance warning of air raids. Nobody is telling us there will be raids, but we cannot escape the lesson of preparedness forced upon other countries, or even upon our own nation last December."

Obituary

Neils Steffens
ISHPEMING, Nov. 5—Neils Steffens died last week in the Moosehaven Home, Calif., where he had lived, because of ill health, for the last three years.

Mr. Steffens was a former IshpeMING resident, being employed here for many years as painter and decorator for Trembath Bros. He was forced to give up this work because of ill health, and for a time was employed at the Silver Lake dam. About 1929 he moved to Marquette, where he again took up his occupation as painter and decorator, and lived in Marquette until about 1925. Then he moved to Lower Michigan to make his home with his sister. He lived in Lower Michigan until three years ago, when the IshpeMING Moose lodge, of which he was a member, sent him to the Moosehaven Home.

Hans Selsback
ISHPEMING, Nov. 5—Hans Selsback, 83, died suddenly at 5 this morning at the home of his son, Neils Selsback, 627 East Bank street, where he had resided 16 years.

He was born on March 28, 1853, in Trondhjem, Norway, and came to IshpeMING when he was a young man. He had been a pensioner of the C. C. I. Co. for many years. He was a member of the Viking society.

Surviving are two sons, Neils Selsback, IshpeMING, and Martin, Duluth, and a grandson, Paul Selsback, Fairbank, Calif.

The body will be brought to the family residence, 627 East Bank street, Friday morning. Funeral services will be held at 2 Saturday afternoon, with the Rev. P. E. Bongsto, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, officiating.

Interment will be made in the IshpeMING cemetery.

Michael Tassone
ISHPEMING, Nov. 5—Michael Tassone died suddenly at 5 this morning in Chicago where he had resided for the last month.

Mr. Tassone and his two brothers were owners of Tassone's store until two months ago, when they closed it and sold all their merchandise and equipment.

Surviving are two brothers, Salvatore and Louis Tassone, of Grass Valley, Calif.

The body will be brought to IshpeMING and will be accompanied by the brothers.

William Matters
ISHPEMING, Nov. 5—Word was received here today of the death, in Hinckley, Minn., of William Matters, a resident of IshpeMING many years. While residing here he was employed as a diamond driller.

He leaves his wife, a daughter and a niece, Mrs. E. F. Rydholm, Marquette. The body will be received in IshpeMING about 8.

Mr. Matters was a member of the Modern Woodmen of America and the Odd Fellows lodge.

Police Chief Given $10 Increase in Pay
ISHPEMING, Nov. 5—Chief of Police Nestor Eckloff received a $10 increase in salary from the council last night and the city also agreed to pay for rental of a telephone at his residence because of the preponderance of official business transacted over that telephone.

The chief last month asked for an increase in salary to compensate for the council's action in removing him from quarters in the city hall, which long have been considered part of the remuneration of the chief of police.

In granting the $10 increase, the committee conceded it would not meet rental and fuel bills, but that it would bring the salary to $185 a month, which "compares favorably with salaries paid in other cities of our size and is also more in line with the salaries paid other members of our police department."

All the larger cities of Canada make use of hydro-electric power.

Council Notes

ISHPEMING, Nov. 5—The strains of the election grind visibly affecting attendance at the council meeting Wednesday night. Only 13 were present. Among the absentees were notably those who served on election boards the night before.

Mrs. Philomena Beldpedio and Mrs. John Dowerick were granted exemption from further payment of water taxes.

During October, Lloyd Guy, milk and dairy inspector, collected 59 samples for analysis, took three water samples, inspected 20 vehicles, issued one license and made 31 other inspections.

Charles Heck, East Wabash street, requested permit to connect his home with the sewer on Maurice street.

Acknowledgment of receipt of dues was given by the Michigan Municipal League in a communication from Herbert A. Olson, director. He pointed out that municipalities have felt the impact of war and that in the next 12 months conditions may be expected to change rapidly. He promised the league would contact member municipalities as frequently as legislative and other problems necessitate.

A request for a $250 contribution to the Community Chest was referred to the finance and taxation committee.

Whether the city can proceed with plans for remodeling the city building will depend on permission from the War Production Board in Washington. Alderman Dominic J. Tassone reported the matter has been referred to the Iron Mountain division of the WPB, which has forwarded the request to national headquarters.

25th Anniversary For Mr. and Mrs. Stephens
ISHPEMING, Nov. 5—Saturday evening, at the IshpeMING Ski club, a surprise party was held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. John Stephens, North Second street, the occasion being their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. Approximately 200 relatives and friends assembled in the hall, which was decorated by Miss Loretta Goliniger and Wallace Nault. Silver and pink bells and hearts were used.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephens entered the hall with Mrs. Esther Hoffman and William Stephens, who were attendants at the wedding 25 years ago, and their children, Dorothy, Burton and Earl. The wedding march was played by Miss Loretta Goliniger.

The following program was given: Scripture reading and prayer, the Rev. Mr. Pearson; duet, Florence and Anita Swanson, accompanied by Miss Florence Reed; poem, "Twenty-Five Years Ago," Mrs. Dorraine Doney; solo, Wallace Nault, accompanied by Miss Goliniger; accordion solo, Maurice Hansen; song, "Jah & Clara's Silver Anniversary," composed by Miss Loretta Goliniger and Wallace Nault; The Rev. Mr. Pearson made the presentation of gifts, which included a chest of silver and purple of silver. The program closed with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

Lunch was served from a table decorated with pink candles and silver bells, gifts of Mrs. Tom Cundy; a three-tiered wedding cake, gift of the children, and bowls of astors and pompons. Mrs. Ingwald Engen and Mrs. Adolph Swanson poured. Serving were Mrs. Maurice Charbeneau, Mrs. Bartlett Doney and Mrs. Ed Maloney, assisted by Mrs. Henry Hansen, Mrs. Sam Harper and Mrs. Nela Matson.

Later in the evening there were solos by Jack Williams and Tom Williams and humorous stories by Harold Sandlund.

Out-of-town relatives and friends present were: Miss Joanne Niemann, Chicago; Earl Stephens, Rockford; Mrs. Esther Hoffman, Raymond; Scottfield and Donald Johnson; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bagly and daughter, Carol, Iron Mountain; Mr. and Mrs. Gust Johnson and son, Donald, and Mr. and Mrs. William Maki, Negaunee; Mrs. Arsenau Nault and son, Wallace and Miss Loretta Goliniger, Gwin; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Stohl and daughter, Joanne, Marquette.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES
This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve aching backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 15 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause aching backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent uric acid passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Employees Of Inland Steel Choose CIO

ISHPEMING, Nov. 5—Employees of the Greenwood and Morris mines of the Inland Steel company yesterday voted in favor of the United Steelworkers of America, CIO affiliate, as their sole bargaining agency.

The results of the election:
For Greenwood Morris
Against 143 168
. 5 20

At the Morris mine, 204 were eligible to vote and 191 availed themselves of the opportunity. Three votes were challenged, leaving a net of 188 votes cast.

At the Greenwood, 155 were eligible, 148 cast ballots and none was challenged.

Field Examiner John H. Brown and Attorney Clarence A. Meter, of the Milwaukee office of the National Labor Relations board, supervised the election.

It was the second such election on the Marquette range, a similar result obtaining when employees of the Blueberry and Mary Charlotte mines voted last month.

City Police Arrested Seventeen in October
ISHPEMING, Nov. 5—The drunk and disorderly charge was rung up 14 times in 17 arrests during October, the others involving reckless driving, assault and battery and vagrancy, Chief Nestor Eckloff, of the city police department, reported last night to the council.

Thirteen persons paid fines and costs, two went to the county jail, one was turned over to probate court and one released.

Police investigated 176 calls and complaints, found 22 windows and doors open in night-time inspections, gave first aid to one person, gassed eight dogs, issued two parking violation tickets, investigated 22 auto accidents, traveled 2,263 miles in the police car, burned 177 gallons of gasoline, reported 146 street lights out, gave 57 chauffeur's and driver's license examinations and lodged 16 transients in the city jail.

Legion Post Given $150 By Council

ISHPEMING, Nov. 5—Taking cognizance of growing demands upon the American Legion clubhouse for use as a community center, the city council last night unanimously concurred in the recommendation of the finance and taxation committee that the Albert V. Braden post be granted $150 to help pay increased fuel and light bills and janitor service.

The report of the committee follows: "Your finance and taxation committee, to whom was referred the local American Legion post's request for financial aid from the city in order to continue to carry on activities usually considered as strictly community affairs, believe their request to be just and reasonable at this time, when so many extraordinary activities are being carried on due to war conditions. Their fuel, light and janitor expenses have increased as a result of these extra activities."

"Your committee believes the American Legion and like organizations should be self-supporting ordinarily, but for the reasons stated above, we recommend that the city grant their request for a donation at this time of $150."

Mrs. Ettie Lawry or Mrs. Myrtle Nichols, who are in charge.

Election Inspectors Will Get Extra Pay

ISHPEMING, Nov. 5—Inspectors who served on election boards in the long grind Tuesday and Wednesday morning will get extra compensation.

Inspectors will receive $20 each for their work and gatekeepers $6.

The matter was brought up last night and aldermen who did not serve on the boards were those who emphasized the extra burden of work caused by the special election of charter commissioners.

Women in Republic Form Altar Society

REPUBLIC, Nov. 5—At a meeting of Republic women of St. Augustine Catholic church, held Tuesday evening in the parish house, an altar society was organized, it was announced today by the Rev. Fr. Anthony P. Schloss, pastor of St. Augustine's and successor to the Rev. Fr. William B. Stahl, retired, who has returned to his home in Houghton after serving the parish here 25 years.

Officers elected by the Altar society are: Mrs. William Zeiter, president; Mrs. Philip Schiska, vice-president; Mrs. Clarence Sevigny, secretary; and Mrs. Joseph LaFolias, treasurer. Meetings will be held the first Wednesday of every month and will be followed by a social hour.

The Rev. Fr. Schloss came here from Sault Ste. Marie. He is well known in this vicinity, having served the parish of the Guardian Angel Catholic church in Crystal Falls for two years, following the

Dr. Bertucci To Get $120 From City

ISHPEMING, Nov. 5—Dr. Joseph P. Bertucci, now serving as a captain in an Army medical detachment at Fort Shelby, Hattiesburg, Miss., will receive $120 from the city of IshpeMING in payment for services as health officer in May, during the legal controversy over the question of whether he was entitled to the office.

September 9, Dr. Bertucci submitted a bill to the council for services as health officer during May. It was referred to the claims and accounts committee which, at the October meeting, asked for more time. At the November session last evening James P. Mooney, chairman of the claims and accounts committee, submitted the following report:

"Regarding the bill presented to the common council by Dr. Bertucci for salary as health officer for the month of May, 1942. You are all familiar with the situation that brought this about and the final disposition of the case, therefore it should not be necessary to review it now.

The claims and accounts committee, together with the mayor and city attorney, held a meeting October 23 to consider this claim.

death of the Rev. Raymond Bergeron.

After a lengthy discussion your committee deliberated, thoroughly considered and unanimously agreed that from a moral standpoint as a matter of fairness and equity the claim should be allowed.

"It is in the basis of these principles we recommend that the claim be allowed."

The council concurred in the motion.

High Pythian Officers To Visit Zenith

ISHPEMING, Nov. 5—Supreme Vice-Chancellor Charles J. Schuck, Wheeling, W. Va., of the Supreme lodge, Knights of Pythias, will make an official visit to Pythians of Upper Michigan at a meeting to be held in the Pythian castle hall, in Ishpeiming, at 8 Friday, November 13.

Supreme Keeper of Records & Seal, Harry M. Love, Minneapolis, Minn., also will attend the meeting and all K. of P. lodges in the Peninsula will be represented.

Officers and members of Zenith lodge and Korayb Temple No. 147, DOKK, are working together in planning the occasion, joint committees being given charge of arrangements. A turkey lunch will be served at the conclusion of the meeting.

In addition to the Supreme officers several Past Grand Chancellors of Michigan and other distinguished guests will be here.

The program and other details will be announced later.

U. S., British 'Bomb-Line' Moves Ahead

their own because of demoralized communication and leadership.

The British announced yesterday that General von Stumme, second in command to Rommel, had been killed, and that Gen. Ritter von Thoma, third of the topflight Axis leaders, was in captivity.

The tidal wave across the desert was irregular, most of the speed being made along the Mediterranean coastal road. Far to the south, near the edge of the (qattara depression, isolated enemy groups were being mopped up with little trouble, dispatches said.

There also was a steady eastward trickle of Axis prisoners which already has passed the 9,000 mark.

Ignore 'Breather Device'

Three days ago the Italians were reported to have asked for a truce to bury their dead. The advancing British ignored this apparent "breather device" and pushed on ahead.

Allied airmen reported desert roads and trails were packed tight with retreating Axis vehicles, and their bombs tore huge gaps in these concentrations. Fighter planes also were seen swooping scurrying away from the roads.

While all the Allied air forces spread continue destruction down the long, weaving lines of retreating motor convoys and armored vehicles, U. S. heavy bombers reached out in plying Bengasi, Rommel's main rearward supply port.

They hit four ships for sure and probably a fifth, reducing by that much the German marshal's chances of supplying his defense.

In the air, U. S. fighters got at least four more enemy planes, including Wednesday's dogfights. No American plane was lost.

(Axis high commands said their desert armies had fallen back to "new lines" or "prepared second positions." Rome, placing the fighting between El Alamein and Fuka, admitted: "Our losses have been severe.")

Over 9,000 Captives Taken

Fourteen hours after issuing the special victory communique, which announced destruction or capture of more than 260 enemy tanks, 270 guns, capture of more than 9,000 prisoners and death or capture of Rommel's highest commanders, the British GHQ said today in a regular communique:

"The eighth army continued to advance over the whole front yesterday.

"In the south, the enemy is still holding out in a few isolated positions.

"In the north, he has a screen of anti-tank guns and tanks which is withdrawing before our advancing forces."

Battle front dispatches, necessarily retarded by crowded communication lines, told a graphic story of the initial Axis break.

They quoted, too, the prediction of one British officer: "Once the enemy is pushed off the narrow front, which defied large-scale flanking, there will be no place for hundreds of miles behind him where he cannot be outflanked."

Attempting To Direct Retreat

Rommel's predicament tonight thus was low. He was believed to

Nine Scarlet Fever Cases Last Month

ISHPEMING, Nov. 5—Nine cases of scarlet fever and one of measles were reported last month to the city health department.

Ispeiming had 32 births and only eight deaths. Death causes were: Heart disease, three; accident, cancer, diabetes, mesenteric thrombosis and pneumonia, one each.

Eight children were vaccinated for smallpox prevention and five for diphtheria prevention at a pre-school clinic. In addition, 72 school children were given toxoid for prevention of diphtheria.

Examinations were made of city and North Lake water supply and the high school pool, and six private water supplies were tested.

The school nurse reported 738 school inspections in 35 visits, followed by 35 calls at homes, during which she found 366 cases of decayed teeth, 33 enlarged tonsils, six defective vision, four defective hearing and two orthopedic defects. Two pupils were excluded from school because of impetigo and 18 because of illness.

During the summer 32 tonsillectomies were performed on school children and four were fitted with eye glasses.

9,000 Volunteers Man 300 Plane-Spotting Posts

DETROIT, Nov. 5—P—Capt. Don Leonard, state civilian defense commander, said today an army of 9,000 volunteer plane-spotting posts was at work in Michigan checking on the movements of aircraft of all types.

Leonard said the spotters were working in shifts of four hours or longer to man 300 observation posts. Their work would make it possible, he said, to alert every city in the state in 15 or 20 minutes were a hostile plane sighted.

Volunteers for 400 more posts are being sought, Leonard added.

be somewhere back in the desert, attempting to direct the retreat, his task immensely complicated by the death of General von Stumme, commander of the "Africa corps."

It now is thought that Rommel did not return to the Egyptian front from his recent Berlin visit until after the British offensive began on the night of October 23.

Desert dispatches indicated, surprising degree of unpreparedness in the Axis front lines at the hour in which the British eighth army struck.

Some advance posts, it now is reported, were not even manned.

However, conservative officers believe there is still some hard fighting ahead for the eighth army; they point out that the existence of an enemy screening force shows Rommel has been able to hold his elements together to some extent in order to cover his retreat.

The unbreakable punishment of British gunfire and aerial bombardment which finally—after 11 nights of incessant ordnance—rolled back Rommel's first line infantry was related by Frank L. Martin, Associated Press battle correspondent, in a dispatch written Tuesday night.

Retreat Started in North

"The withdrawal started in the northern sector, which had been under constant barrage for a week, and where the bombardment had reached such a pitch of violence that the Germans, inured to artillery terror in Russia, fell shell-shocked into British captivity."

"The enemy was up against an ominous, ever-expanding bulge carved by British infantry into their fortifications west of the gap in the Alamein line, and bristling with American-made tanks and other armored machines."

"Sheltering the enemy armor, massed to the northwest of this breach, was but one ring of German artillery and anti-tank guns. It was thrown up hastily, by the Axis in an attempt to delay the advancing Allied armored forces—the most formidable ever seen in the desert."

In preparation for the supreme assault, Martin wrote, "night after night the British empire infantry has cut great, vicious gashes into the narrow but armor-encrusted line. For 11 nights most of it has held. But tonight Rommel's forces showed the first signs of cracking when their first-line infantry began pulling back."

Some observers believed that Rommel had, until this point, ranged virtually his entire army in the Alamein line, and that he had no large forces available in his rear.

Conservation of cloth in manufacture of men's pajamas will be effected through limitation of styles, restriction to a few fabrics, and through style simplifications.

Conference Monday For Older Boys

NEWBERRY, Nov. 5—Monday, November 9, Newberry Hi-Y boys will be hosts to boys from other towns in the eastern end of the Upper Peninsula who will meet here for a district conference. Because transportation conditions make it difficult to hold a U. P. boys' conference, the latter has been abandoned and in its place six district conferences have been planned.

These conferences, while shorter in duration, will have all the spirit of good fellowship, platform addresses and timely discussions associated with the former U. P. conferences.

The district conference here is open to all high school boys upon payment of a registration fee of one dollar, which includes dinner and program fee. Schools, churches, service clubs and individuals interested in better opportunities for boys are urged to send delegates. Registration should be made with the Newberry Hi-Y leader, D. C. Maltby.

The guest speaker will be Dr. John Brown, former national YMCA physical director and member of the Olympics committee.

The conference discussions will center around physical fitness, military service and home responsibilities.

Other conference host cities in the Upper Peninsula are: Negaunee, November 10; Houghton, November 11; Iron Mountain, November 12; Gladstone, November 13.

1,000 Bottles of Milk Used in Schools Daily

NEWBERRY, Nov. 5—The penny milk program, started in the Newberry schools Monday, proved successful the first week, the number of half-pints of pasteurized milk consumed in the two schools amounting to approximately 1,000 daily, averaging almost one to each student.

Some of the children obtain more than one bottle of milk a day. It is distributed from the high school cafeteria and is brought there by the Newberry dairy.

Gas Registration To Change School Routine

NEWBERRY, Nov. 5—Since school teachers are requested to serve as registrars for the gasoline rationing program, registration will require a change of routine in the schools. In McMillan township present plans provide for opening schools November 12 and 13 at 8:30 and 9 a. m., as usual, but the morning session will continue until 1 p. m., when schools will be closed for the rest of the day. Periods in school employed for study purposes and extra-curricular activities will be omitted from the daily program. Time in school will be provided for the meeting of all regular classes, but time provided for study under supervision will be omitted. The bus schedule also will be changed. Kindergarten children attending school in the afternoon will be excused Thursday and Friday.

Superintendent of Lapeer Home To Be Selected

LANSING, Nov. 5—P—Selection of a successor to the late Dr. F. R. Hanna as superintendent of the Lapeer state home and training school was to be discussed at a meeting of the state hospital commission here tonight.

Dr. R. L. Dixon, superintendent of the Caro state hospital, was named temporary head of the Lapeer institution.

Hudson Bay is 590 miles wide and 1,300 miles long—an inland sea second in size only to the Mediterranean.

Dr. Surrell Promoted To Rank of Major

NEWBERRY, Nov. 5—Word was received here today of the promotion of Dr. M. A. Surrell to the rank of major. Major Surrell is a former Newberry physician. He is now stationed in Camp Barkley, Texas. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Surrell.

Newberry Firm Asks Freight Tariff Reduction

LANSING, Nov. 5—P—The state public service commission today heard testimony on the appeal of the Robbins Flooring company, Newberry, for an eight per cent reduction in the freight tariffs on lumber shipped from the Upper to the Lower Peninsula.

The company filed its complaint against the Ann Arbor railway, asserting cheap labor in the southern United States permitted the railroads to lay down southern yellow pine in Lower Michigan cheaper than possible by Upper Peninsula mills. It asked a competitive balance which would result from a Lower Michigan tariff.

The railroad contended the price differential was solely the result of low labor costs in the south and that its tariffs should not be required to bear the difference.

The lowest point in the Libyan desert is 430 feet below sea level.

George Durman Taken To State Hospital

NEWBERRY, Nov. 5—George Durman, 35, was taken from the Luce county jail to the Newberry state hospital Wednesday. Durman, who resided in Marquette county some years ago, was sent to the state hospital from Marquette, but was released a few years ago. His actions last Saturday night, when he attempted to attack Mrs. Lee Douglas and broke into a neighbor's home when she fled there for protection, resulted in his arrest and subsequently he was adjudged insane.

Teachers To Handle Gas Registration

NEWBERRY, Nov. 5—Under the direction of the county school commissioner, Mrs. Walter Johnson, teachers of Luce county will set up facilities for gasoline rationing registration. Persons residing in McMillan township will register in the dining room of the community building on November 12, 13, and 14, beginning at 2 each afternoon and continuing until 6. The same plan will be followed as was used in the registration for sugar rationing.

Before an auto owner can obtain his "A" book, he must meet the following requirements: Agree to the 35-mile speed limit. Possess no more than five tires for one vehicle. (Trailers are permitted only the tires mounted on running wheels).

List the serial numbers of his tires on his application and on his tire inspection record.

Agree to have tires inspected at regular intervals at official tire inspection stations.

Positively prohibit tire abuse.

Each must present the registration certificate of his car.

Koski Held For Killing Hunting Dog

ISHPEMING, Nov. 5—Oscar Koski, West Ishpeiming, was arraigned before the district court here on a rare charge, that of wilfully and maliciously killing a hunting dog, and examination and was bound to court.

Complaint was made by Gilbert Vanderlin, who said he was hunting rabbits south of the city with his dog Sunday, November 1, when he heard a shot and found his dog had been killed with a .22 calibre rifle. Complaint against Koski followed.

Patrick McGlone, Ishpeiming, pleaded guilty to driving a car while under the influence of intoxicating liquor on Tuesday, November 3, was fined $50 and costs and ordered to surrender his driver's license.

Explosion, Fire Fatal To Two Young Brothers

CADILLAC, Mich., Nov. 5—P—An attempt to fill a lantern with gasoline resulted in an explosion and fire which burned two young brothers to death and destroyed their farm home near Meanton last night.

The dead, Joel Bowen, 7, and his brother, Franklin, 5, were asleep in an upstairs bedroom when their house, Charles Van Meter, Detroit, attempted to fill the lantern. Van Meter and another Bowen brother, Richard, 10, escaped from the house.

$322 Raised For Hospital In Republic

REPUBLIC, 1. ov. 5—The Republic hospital fund campaign recently sponsored by a committee of the Republic township board and Republic board of education, is nearly completed and $322.25 has been collected. It was announced today by Sheldon M. Hocking, chairman of the committee.

The following amounts were turned in by the solicitors: Earl H. Arola, $26.50; Bengt Bengtson, $14.25; Arthur J. Carlson, $73.75; Sheldon M. Hocking, $35.50; George D. Johnson, $32; John Keskkita, $15.50; Joseph F. Lahold, $33.25; George Nikka, $65; Guy Schutte, $14.50, and Dennis Sullivan, $12. The Republic township board and board of education each donated $100.

The money will be spent on improvement of the building and for purchase of fuel. The furnace has been put in good operating condition and radiators repaired. A new roof has been put on the kitchen and storm windows painted. The stairway going to the second floor has been closed in order to keep the heat from the second floor, which is not in use. The doctor's office has been decorated and the committee has purchased 22 shades for the building. The building was decorated during the summer, all rooms being painted and papered and floors varnished. The entrance of the building has been repaired temporarily and it is expected that the committee will remodel the front of the hospital and paint the exterior next spring.

Nine Towns To Send Boys To Meeting

NEGAUNEE, Nov. 5—All communities and organizations within communities planning to send delegates to the district boys' conference in Negaunee Tuesday, November 10, were reminded today reservations must be in the hands of R. K. Richards, general chairman, by Saturday.

The problem of feeding the boys will be a major one, Mr. Richards pointed out, and it will be necessary to have reservations three days in advance of the dinner.

Throughout the district there are indications of widespread interest in the meeting.

"Our correspondence," said Mr. Richards, "shows that the decision to hold district conferences has been well received. There is much of value in these sessions for boys of high school age and the district plan makes it possible to offer the boys the same opportunity for conference experience this year, yet reduce traveling to a minimum."

It is expected that Marquette, Negaunee, Ishpeming, Gwinn, Palmer, Champion, National Mine, Michigan and Republic will be represented.

Evangelist

OLGA OLSSON

NEGAUNEE, Nov. 5—Evangelist Olga Olsson, Minneapolis, will be the speaker at a series of evangelistic meetings to be held every evening, starting Sunday, November 8, by the Assembly of God Gospel Mission church. The meetings will be held in the Bernard building, corner of Iron street and Pioneer avenue.

Miss Olsson plays the piano accordion and sings. The public is invited to attend the services.

W. E. Thomas To Address MEA Group

NEGAUNEE, Nov. 5—Wesley E. Thomas, director of field service, will address a combined meeting of the Marquette county and Northern Michigan College of Education districts of the Michigan Education association at 8 next Wednesday evening in the college auditorium. It was announced today by Erwood Slade, Sands, president of the county group.

"Because this meeting will keynote the activities of state and local organizations for the year," Mr. Slade said, "all members are urged to be present. The pressure of war activities, along with the rationing of gasoline, undoubtedly will limit the activities of the association this year, but we are determined to carry on a modified program. We are fortunate in having the expert counsel of Mr. Thomas in the setting up of such a program."

The Marquette county district includes approximately 300 teachers, administrators and members of boards of education in Marquette, Negaunee, Ishpeming, Palmer, Republic, Gwinn, Michigan, National Mine, Champion and rural schools.

District officers will confer with Mr. Thomas before the meeting. Officers of the Marquette county group are: Erwood Slade, president; Enid Mitchell, vice-president; Hazel Elson, secretary-treasurer; Bruce K. Nelson, delegate to the representative assembly.

Playful Popping Gets Cop Hopping

TULSA, Okla.—Fifty pounds of dynamite was found in a vacant lot, where it had been forgotten by careless workmen, and it was carried to Police Capt. Charles F. Carr's office for safekeeping. Imagine the captain's reaction when a playful policeman popped a paper bag behind him!

No Catch To It, Lucky Fisherman Discovers

WHITEVILLE, N. C.—On a fishing party, Fulton Memory felt a heavy tug on his line. Struggling with the catch for a few minutes, he finally brought it in and nearly fell out of the boat with surprise, for his catch was four bottles of soft drinks, tied together with a string.

The long-discarded raisin seed has been found to contain an oil rich in vitamin F, the "skin vitamin," and now is expected to be utilized.

GOP DEWEY ELECTED NEW YORK MAYOR—Thomas E. Dewey, 40, Republican governor-elect of New York, waves to a crowd of supporters at Republican headquarters in New York City, after his Democratic opponent, Atty.-Gen. John J. Bennett, Jr., conceded the election. With him is Mrs. Dewey. The Republican victory ended 20 years of Democratic leadership in the state. (Associated Press Telemat)

Armistice Day Program At High School

NEGAUNEE, Nov. 5—The Rev. Flinton Teban, of St. Paul's church, principal of St. Paul's parochial school, will give the principal address at Negaunee's Armistice day observance, to be held at 11 Wednesday morning, November 11, in the Negaunee high school auditorium.

John P. Collins, commander of Albert H. Mitchell post, American Legion, will be chairman of the program. Arrangements are in the hands of R. A. Gilmour, high school principal. Nothing has been stated about embracing observance of Marine day, Tuesday, November 10, in the same program, but it is anticipated that the Legionnaires will make some arrangements for tribute to the Marine corps.

The public is invited to attend this program.

Marine Had Payroll Well in Hand

OAKLAND, Calif.—P—Leaving his money and mementoes of many years at sea, Sgt. Maj. Ernest D. Villegas spent his last few minutes on the sinking Alcraft Carrier Yorktown rescuing the Marine detachment payroll, he revealed on arrival here. As a result the devil dogs did not encounter any delay due to checking of records.

Make Post-War Plans, Educator Urges Women

LOS ANGELES—P—Women should realize current war employment is abnormal and be prepared to go back to home-making when peace comes, Edwin A. Lee, dean of education at the University of California at Los Angeles says. He stresses the need for education looking toward post-war family life.

ways liked to shop around, and it indicates to an extreme degree their satisfaction when you find them giving majorities in both Houses for 12 years straight, including this election.

"The breath-taking thing about it is the success of the President in holding both Houses through six elections."

Democrats Control House
Senator Vandenberg advanced his coalition suggestion as returns, all but complete, from Tuesday's election demonstrated that the party of President Roosevelt would have a plurality of no more than 15 in the House, and no more than 19 in the Senate.

These were, moreover, purely paper margins. They assured the Administration of enough votes to organize Congress and retain Democratic committee chairmanships and majorities. But in view of the tendency of many Democrats to bolt the Administration on important issues, the returns made it clear that the Administration could claim no dependable working majority. The situation offered possibilities of prolonged and intensified inter-party quarreling. Vandenberg chose, however, to take a different approach to the problem—that of cooperation and a united Congressional front to push the war effort. "The country," he said, "wants maximum efficiency and minimum mistakes. Meanwhile, it wants New Dealism and all other politics pigeon-holed for the duration."

Further evidence of the importance of the light plane in national defense is the recent announcement of the War Department that a new order has been placed for $240,000 worth of these small ships, already so popular with private owners.

Negaunee Briefs

The confirmation class of the Covenant Mission church will meet at 4 this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Lahti, Arch street, have returned from Chicago, where they visited relatives.

Services of the Apostolic Lutheran church will be held this evening at the home of Mrs. Hilda Aho, Ann street.

The Altar guild of St. John's Episcopal church will meet at 7:15 Friday evening to prepare for a silver tea and fancy work sale to be held Saturday.

The Jackson Rebekah lodge will meet at 8 Friday evening in the IOOF hall. Five candidates will receive the Rebekah degree. Preceding the meeting a supper will be served for members, starting at 6 in the community building, honoring winners in the recent attendance contest and the five candidates.

Gas Panel Ready For Registration

NEGAUNEE, Nov. 5—Russell C. Miller has been appointed chairman of the Negaunee gas panel, which is prepared for the second registration of automobile owners for gasoline rationing.

Peter Dighera and Searle Bath are other members of the panel. The group has completed its plans for the second registration. Details will be announced later.

The average American soldier is five feet, eight inches tall.

Evangelistic Meetings Set For Negaunee

NEGAUNEE, Nov. 5—An evangelistic conference will be held in the Bethany Lutheran church, beginning Sunday morning, November 15, and continuing through Friday evening, November 20. The Rev. Ewald J. Conrad, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, Minneapolis, will be the speaker. He is widely known as a Bible teacher and preacher.

Besides his pastoral work the Rev. Mr. Conrad has, for the past eight years, preached regularly over station WJGY in Minneapolis. He is founder of the Lutheran Colportage Tract society and the author of many tracts. Ten years ago he became the pastor of Trinity Lutheran, a church about ready to close its doors. Now it is one of the largest Lutheran churches in the city, having a Sunday school enrollment of children and adults totaling over 800.

Because of the spiritual progress in the church it was possible, two years ago, to call an associate pastor, thus enabling one of its pastors to conduct conferences such as that to be held in Negaunee.

The public is invited to attend the meetings. Full use of railway shop facilities, wherever available, to help in production of urgent war materials, has been unanimously agreed to by railroad management and shop crafts unions. An estimated 75 major shops and more than 400 back shops in general repair and erecting service, employing more than 150,000 men, will be effected.

I wish to thank all those who supported me Tuesday in my candidacy for register of deeds. JACOB H. ANDERSON NEGAUNEE, MICH.

Stock Leaders Fail To Respond To Cheering News

Worries Over New Tax Laws Chill Traders

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Selected stocks moved up in today's market, but leaders generally failed to respond to the much brighter news picture.

The apparent rout of the Axis forces in Egypt, hopeful bulletins from the Solomons and Russia, together with Wall Street cheer over the elections, were viewed as definitely bullish items. There was the beginning of year-end tax selling, however, and worries over the likelihood of the Treasury pressing for more onerous revenue law served to chill many buyers.

Transactions Decline

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at 402.2 of 789 individual issues traded, 282 were up, 262 down and 245 at Wednesday's final levels. Transfers totaled 598,360 shares against 771,830 yesterday.

Homestake Mining dipped 1-4 when directors, due mainly to the Government's suspension of gold production, failed for the first time since 1920 to declare a dividend.

Loew's ended unchanged at 44-1-2, seemingly having discounted payment by the British of more than $11,000,000 of the company's funds that had been frozen in England.

Among stocks getting into new high ground for the year were Yellow Truck, Continental Motors and Sears Roebuck. Douglas Aircraft, ex-dividend $5, regained 1-4 of its loss in the previous session. Up a point or so were Mack Truck and Allied Chemical.

General Motors and Chrysler each finished 1-8 higher. U. S. Steel advanced 1-4 and Bethlehem 1-8. Modest improvement was retained by American Telephone, Pennsylvania, Southern Pacific, North American, Goodyear, U. S. Rubber, Texas Co., International Harvester, Philip Morris, Johnson, Minivan, Standard Brands, General Electric and American Can.

U. S. Rubber Dividend Voted

On the offside were Santa Fe, New York Central, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Kennecott, American Smelting, Woolworth, Westinghouse, Du Pont, Eastman Kodak, Deere, Boaling, Glenn Martin and International Nickel.

U. S. Rubber directors voted a $4 dividend on the non-cumulative preferred, first since last December when $2 was paid, but the stock was unchanged at 95.

In an uneven curb gaupers included Gulf Oil, Lake Shore, Creole Petroleum, New Jersey Zinc and Phoenix Securities. Small declines were posted for Moshell Iron, American Gas, Humble Oil and Nigara Hudson Power. Turnover here was 87,165 shares versus 149,425 yesterday.

Quotations of Corn at Peak For Month

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—An advance of two cents a bushel in prices to best quotations in a month today touched off enough buying to lift other cereals fractions to a cent.

Brisk shipping business in corn, a letup in the country movement in some localities, and reports of good demand in rural areas, with truckers active, inspired buying. Many orders represented purchases to cover previous short sales. Demand from industries and distillers remained good.

Corn closed 1-3-4 to 2 cents higher than yesterday, December $2 to $2-1-8, May $7-3-8 to 1-2, wheat, 5-8 to 1-1-8 up, December $1-25-5-8 to 3-4, May $1-27-7-8 to 1-28; oats, 3-8 to 3-4 up; rye, 3-4 to 1 higher; soybeans, 1-4 off to 3-8 up.

Utility And Rail Bonds Turn Higher

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Selected utility and rail bonds gained modestly in today's bond market while the main corporate list was hesitant and quiet.

Only one $1,000 par value Government bond was traded on the stock exchange and that resulted in a minor decline. The trend was narrow in outside markets. Foreign dollar loans were a little higher as a rule, especially in the South American and British empire group.

Trading suffered from the lack of initiative exhibited by the main body of issues. Sales totaled $8,700,800, par value, against $10,788,000 on Wednesday. Only slight changes either way were shown by the Associated Press averages.

Emerging with gains of fractions to a point were, among others, American Water Works 6s at 97-1-8, Brooklyn Union Gas 5s at 104-3-8, St. Paul 5s at 103-3-8, Columbia Gas 5s of '61 at 90-3-8, International Great Northern first 6s at 28-1-4, New York Central 3-4s at 99, Kansas City Southern 3s at 64-3-4 and Illinois Central 5s at 49-1-2.

Unchanged or lower issues included Rock Island refunding 4s and 4-1-2s of '52, Lehigh Valley 4-2s, Missouri-Kansas-Texas 5s, Missouri Pacific 5s and general 4s, New York Central refunding 5s, New Haven convertible 6s and St. Louis-San Francisco 4-1-2s.

Limitation and conservation orders have saved 300,000 tons of copper and brass products for military use. A nation-wide salvage campaign is under way to round up all copper now frozen in the hands of owners.

Munising Briefs

William Beauchine has gone to Detroit, where he is employed.

A. M. Bowerman is spending several days in Detroit on business.

A rummage sale will be held today and Saturday at the Legion County club by St. John's guild.

Entertained Club—Mrs. Michael Sepp and Mrs. Matt Kallio entertained the Wednesday Night club at the home of Mrs. Seppi at Forest Lake this week. Three tables of "500" were played and prizes won by Mrs. Fred Lemm, Mrs. Oscar Johnson, Mrs. Nelson Godreau, Mrs. Evert Vander Muelen, Mrs. Richard Williams and Miss Konstenius. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. Vander Muelen Wednesday evening, November 18.

Parking Ordinance Takes Effect Soon

MUNISING, Nov. 5.—The city's winter parking ordinance becomes effective November 15, and continues in force until May 1, Frank Chase, police chief, advised motorists today.

The regulation prohibits the parking of cars on city streets for longer than one hour between 11 p. m. and 7 a. m.

Killed in Action

CALUMET, Nov. 5.—Mr. and Mrs. John Gareau of No. 1 Beach street, Tamarack location, have received word from the Navy department that their son, Ernest, apprentice seaman, 26 years old, has been killed in action. The deceased enlisted in the Navy last April. Before entering the service he was employed as a mechanic at the Public Chevrolet garage in Calumet for three years.

Munising News

Alger Lead For Coaster Not Enough

MUNISING, Nov. 5.—David P. Morrison, Gernfask Republican, was elected state representative from the Alger district in Tuesday's general election. He received 3,227 votes to 2,977 for Frank Coaster, Democratic nominee from Limestone, Alger, Luce and Schoolcraft counties are in the district.

Some confusion on the outcome of the race was caused yesterday when state reports indicated Coaster had won the office from "Alger county." Vote compilers downtown apparently mistook the Alger district for Alger county, since Coaster won Alger county by a 1,536 to 875 vote. Morrison carried Luce county, 992 to 466, and Schoolcraft county, 1,360 to 975.

Final unofficial results of the 30th district senatorial race indicated today that the incumbent, Joseph LaFrance, Gladstone Democrat, had defeated Charles Field, Sault Ste. Marie Republican, by a count of 15,514 to 14,903.

Fred Bradley, Eleventh district congressional representative, a Republican, won a third term by defeating Paul L. Adams, Sault Ste. Marie Democrat, by about 8,500 votes. Nearly complete returns gave Bradley 29,793 and Adams 21,788.

Dates Set For Gasoline Registration

MUNISING, Nov. 5.—Registrations for basic (A) gasoline rationing, which is for passenger cars only, will be held November 12, 13 and 14 in Alger county schools, the county War Price and Rationing board announced today.

The board advised prospective registrants to secure application blanks from any auto service station, and to present them, filled in, at the school nearest their residence when they register next week.

Application forms must contain the serial number of the car's Federal use tax stamp and the serial number of all tires. Car owners should also present their certificates of title.

Obituary

Joseph Bubeling
MUNISING, Nov. 5.—A resident of Munising 36 years, Joseph Bubeling, 68, died at his home on Hickory street at 2:50 this morning after an illness of two years. His illness was serious the last three months.

Mr. Bubeling was born November 24, 1875, in Austria-Hungary, and came to the United States in his youth. He lived in Braddock, Pa., before coming to Munising about 1906. He and Mrs. Bubeling were married 48 years ago.

Among his survivors are his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Clifford Benzing and Mrs. Charles LaFontaine, Munising; two sons, Frank and Joseph, Jr., Chicago, and eight grandchildren.

The body was taken to Beaulieu's funeral home where it will remain until services are held. Mr. Bubeling was a member of the Holy Name society and a parishioner of Sacred Heart church.

For some time after coming here Mr. Bubeling was employed by the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company, but for many years he sold vegetables which he raised in a garden near his home.

Rehearsals For Senior Play Begun

MUNISING, Nov. 5.—Regular rehearsals are being held by the cast of "Plane Crazy," annual senior class play, which will be presented in a few weeks in the Mather high school auditorium. The principal members of the cast of 22 students are:

W. K. Jackson Dies At Home in Buffalo

MUNISING, Nov. 5.—W. K. Jackson, 82, president of Jackson & Tindle, Inc., died in Buffalo, N. Y., at 2:30 this afternoon. News of his death came in a telegram to J. N. Wallace, resident manager of the company's plant in Munising.

The company was founded by Mr. Jackson's father-in-law, Thomas Tindle, and was called Thomas Tindle & Co. The name was changed to Jackson & Tindle when Mr. Jackson became its president. At first the company was engaged only in cooperage, but later, under Mr. Jackson's presidency, it went into the lumbering business. At one time it operated several mills in Upper and Lower Michigan and one in Canada.

Levy Applicant For Enlistment in Army

MUNISING, Nov. 5.—Emmet Levy, Munising, who was elected Alger county treasurer on the Democratic ticket in Tuesday's election, left today for Marquette to take a preliminary physical examination for joining the U. S. Army's ski troops. If he passes that test he will continue on to Milwaukee, where he will receive a final examination.

Mr. Levy's two-year term as treasurer will begin January 1.

 Will Edit Camp Paper
 IRON RIVER, Nov. 5—Richard H. Crosse, of the editorial staff of the Iron River Reporter, has been advised of a civil service appointment as assistant editor of a camp paper at the Al. Service Command, Patterson Field, Fairfield, Ohio. He and Mrs. Crosse and daughter, Judy, plan to leave Saturday. He is to report on Nov. 10. Crosse, who took an examination for the position a year ago, will be attached to the Civilian Personnel branch of the flying field. His appointment was made under war service regulations.

Venison Cost Him $108.50
 MANISTIQUE, Nov. 5—Stating that the case was the worst game violation to come before him during his time in office, Judge W. G. Stephens Wednesday fined Ivan Carlson $100 and court costs of $8.50 after Carlson had pleaded guilty to the charge of having illegal possession and of transportation of three venison dogs. In addition to this his hunting license was ordered revoked for three years and action was started in circuit court Wednesday afternoon for condemnation and confiscation of the car in which Carlson was carrying the three deer.

Game Law Violators Fined
 IRON RIVER, Nov. 5—Three game law violators were penalized Monday in Justice John F. Lyle's court in Iron River city hall. All were arrested by Ernest Ruecker, state conservation officer. Two were convicted of possession of venison a year ago, will be attached to the Civilian Personnel branch of the flying field. His appointment was made under war service regulations.

Mineral Challenges Incendiary Bombs
 RALEIGH, N. C.—P—The War Department's new building in Washington will be protected from incendiary bombs by vermiculite, a mineral little known but which is becoming an important factor in modern warfare, the North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development has announced.
 Vermiculite has already been used to make bomb-proof roof decks for military installations. It can be expanded so that untreated mineral weighing 100 pounds per cubic foot will weigh only 6 to 20 pounds per cubic foot after heating. It is highly resistant to fire, and mixed with concrete provides both lightness and insulation.

A. P. Writer Tells Story Of Guadalcanal

(EDITORS' NOTE: The following delayed dispatches were written from Guadalcanal at a time when the Japanese ruled the seas around the embattled island and were raining heavy blows upon it day and night. Tom Yarbrough, young Associated Press correspondent, from Okinawa, gives a detailed picture of what life was like on the island as the shells burst around the United States forces and they dug in for "a desperate fight—probably against terrible odds." Since these words were written the main Japanese fleet has retired and the American forces for the time being, at least, are on the offensive.)

By Tom Yarbrough

GUADALCANAL, Solomon Islands, Oct. 14—(Delayed)—P—American forces on Guadalcanal have been under heavy fire all night by naval bombardment, artillery and air bombing, and the attack continues with the dawn.

It's a major assault and has the characteristics of an all-out Japanese effort to capture this priceless outpost in the Solomons which the Marines invaded nine weeks ago.

Apparently it is the beginning of the Big 'ush for which the Japanese have been doggedly gathering strength since a fortnight after they were blasted away from the fine airfield they had just completed.

Troops In Alaska Face Severe Tests

By William L. Worden

HEADQUARTERS, Alaska Defense Command, Nov. 5—(AP)—The business of defending Alaska has entered a new phase.

There will be no official change-over, nor is the late exact all over this sprawling territory; but to all intents and purposes, winter is now beginning in a war front where the Japanese put up much less of a fight than does the weather.

Actually, nobody knows yet just how the United States Army will fare through the next six months with ice for highways and zero as a high mark on its thermometer. Tests have been made; men deliberately have been cold and hungry discovering just how an army can expect to exist. But the actual experience begins now.

Winter here offers a queer mixture of conditions, some of them paralyzing, some of them better than summer. For example, scattered along the Arctic and sub-Arctic coasts are United States Army bases, outposts, airfields, manpower concentrations and signal stations, which can be supplied only by sea or by air.

Supply Ships Had To Wait

Plans were laid last winter to supply most of these during the summer months when vessels had to battle only heavy seas and bad anchoring conditions to reach them. Icebergs floated then, but the pack which acts as an impenetrable winter wall shutting off Bering straits and the Arctic ocean was breaking up.

Then the Japanese struck Dutch Harbor. While Navy ships and Army airplanes combined to drive them back from the continent, the supply ships for the cold weather posts had to wait. Some of them were near the bottom of the barrel on food. Others, taking on sudden new strategic importance, had to be supplied immediately with men and ammunition.

Whole garrisons were moved by air transport while the supply ships were held up or busy on other urgent jobs. Comparatively small airports, where a daily plane had represented the only link with civilization, suddenly accommodated, willy-nilly, as many as 50 transport planes arriving daily, bulging with troops, loaded with guns and shells. Fighting ships lined the runways, heavy patrol planes were based at places more used to two-seated civilian ships piloted by hardly bush fliers.

The arriving troops dug into the tundra, set up their guns on ground so spongy that a man needed high boots to walk to the mess hall. Ice was only a few inches or a foot or two under the surface—and on top was mostly water. Tent-pitching was an engineering problem, one-tenth getting it up, and the rest protection against high winds and drainage for the dirt floors.

Attack Never Came

Before the Japanese were sufficiently corralled on Kiska, Attu and Agattu to make shipping reasonably safe, the Alaskan north was braced for an attack.

The attack never came, but the supply ships did. Not the few which had been in the plans, but dozens, deep at the water line, carrying supplies for a full-fledged army rather than for a few outposts.

And, instead of the leisurely unloading in the plans, there followed a 24-hour, hard-driving campaign to unload each vessel as quickly as possible so that it could go back for more supplies.

Civilian longshore crews were hurriedly recruited. Soldiers pitched in. Even Eskimos, some of whom could not speak English, were herded to the docks under their own chiefs. Hands which had been adept at hurling walrus spears became even more adept at handling cargo slings.

So the cargo came to the north—food for the winter, shells, tents, huts to replace the tents, tractors, trucks, radio installations, fuel, plane engines, everything an army would need to sustain itself. First it piled up on the beaches. Then it was moved back into dispersion areas by trucks making full use of the northern 20-hour daylight.

Today, this army, scattered throughout posts where snow already is deep and the ground frozen, is ready for the winter. There will be few luxuries, there won't be much entertainment. But neither will it be easy prey for any invader—or for nuisance air raids.

Part Of Troops In Tents

Some of the troops are still in tents; but these tents are winterized, as nearly comfortable for extreme cold weather as it is possible to make a tent with wood, chunks of tundra and red-hot stoves.

From now on, no ships will enter the most northern ports until spring—but neither will an invader's fleet appear off the coast. For better or worse, both United States troops and any enemies must, in these northern latitudes, depend upon the airplane for supplies, for mail, for reinforcement.

It could be worse. The United States has lots of airplanes. No one who stood on the aprons of these northern airports during those critical days of early summer can doubt that.

Plumper Turkeys Are in the Offing

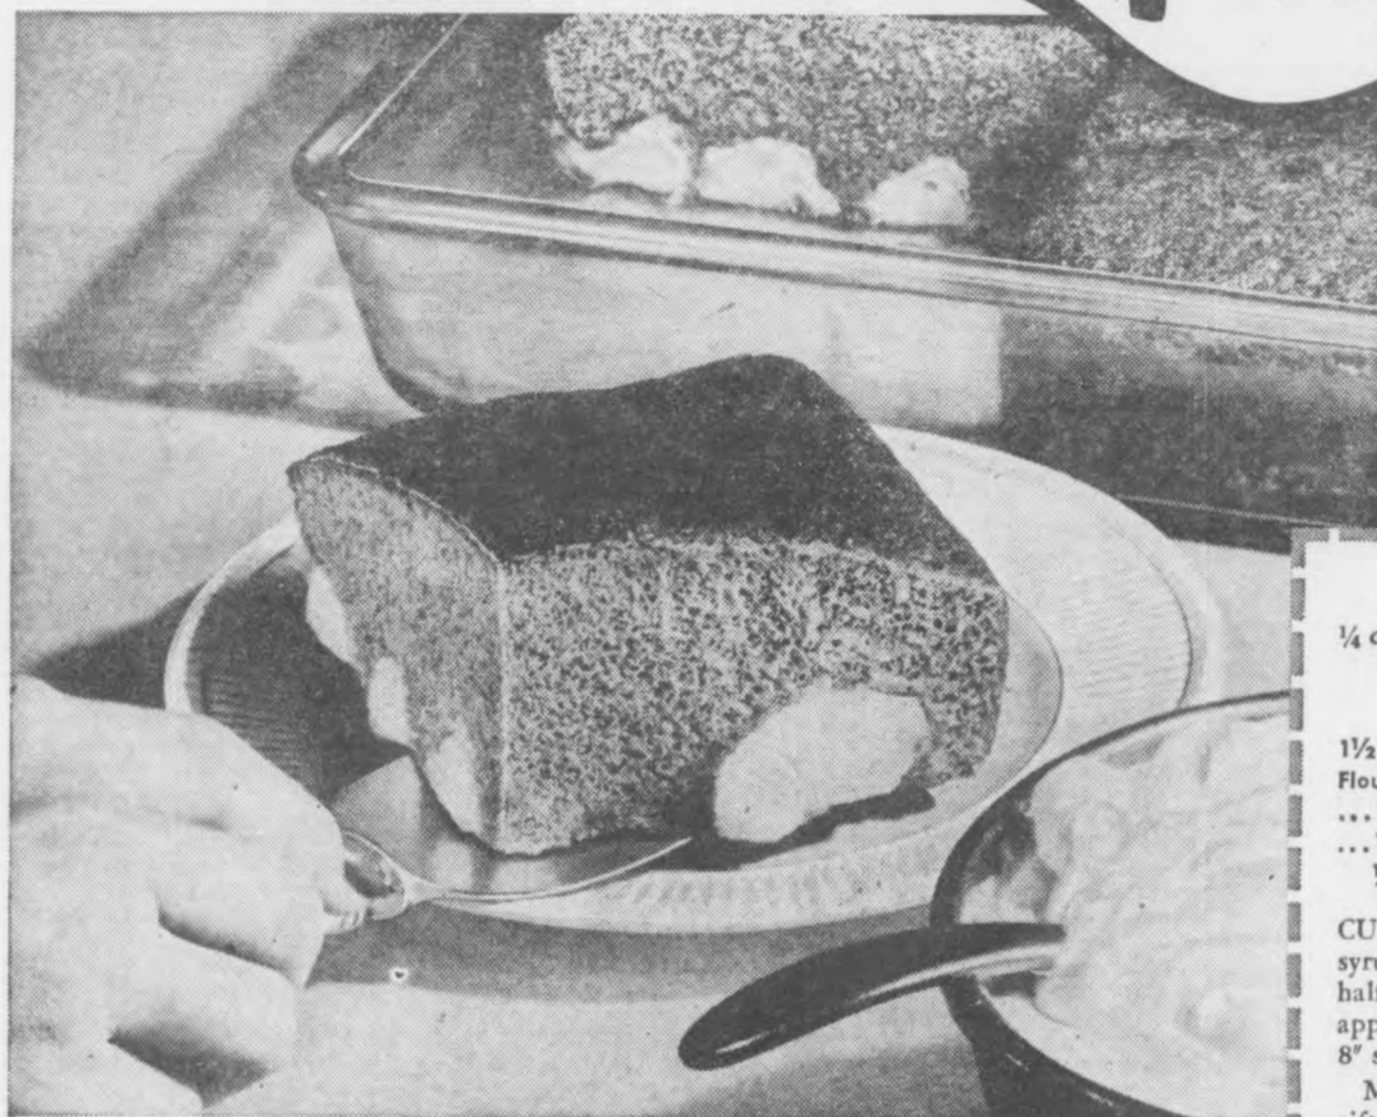

BROOKINGS, S. D.—P—The gobbler that graces the table Thanksgiving Day (it's Nov. 26 all over the nation) and Christmas probably will run a little heavier this year.

With meat rationing in the offing and grains for feeding more plentiful, poultry experts are urging turkey growers to put a better finished bird on the market. They promise farmers a good price as an inducement for fattening them up.

Visitors from the United States to Canada in 1941 numbered 13,968,088, compared with 13,529,429 in 1940.

Here's Something New in Upside-down Cakes...

Gingerapple Pudding!

... a cozy, homey, inexpensive gingerbread baked with sliced apples—a layer of each! Remember, gingerbread is fashionable these days—it takes so little sugar! This combination is delicious and attractive, and easy to make. Try it soon!

You'll need 3 apples... 1/4 cup sugar... 1/4 cup water... and the following ingredients for the

GINGERBREAD:

1 1/2 cups sifted GOLD MEDAL "Kitchen-tested" Enriched Flour... 1/2 cup sugar... 1 tsp. soda... 1/2 tsp. salt... 1/2 tsp. ginger... 1/2 tsp. cloves... 1/2 tsp. nutmeg... 1/2 tsp. cinnamon... 1 egg... 1/2 cup molasses... 1/2 cup hot water... 1/4 cup shortening, melted

CUT cored, pared apples into eighths. Cook in a syrup made of the sugar and water until about half done. Drain off any excess syrup and spread apples evenly over bottom of a very well greased 8" square cake pan.

Make gingerbread batter as follows: Mix and sift flour, sugar, soda, salt and spices together. Beat egg, add molasses and hot water, and stir into dry ingredients. Blend in melted shortening last.

Pour Gingerbread batter over apples. Bake about 40 minutes in a moderate oven (350°). Serve warm with sweetened whipped cream, hard sauce, creamy sauce, or any desired sauce... Makes 8 servings.

LOU'S MARQUETTE

THERE'S never any uncertainty about your baking results when you use Gold Medal Flour and the Betty Crocker recipes that come in the sacks. This combination cannot fail you!

Try the recipes for Gingerapple Pudding and Chocolate Drop Cookies printed in this advertisement. Cut them out and save them.

Use Gold Medal "Kitchen-tested" Enriched Flour with them. All our recipes, of course, are tailored to fit that flour.

Remember that more women use Gold Medal Flour than any other. And the Betty Crocker recipes are the most popular of their kind.

There must be a reason. And you'll see what it is when you try this combination. It's simply this: you don't have baking failures when you use this flour with these recipes.

Every batch of Gold Medal is tested by the Betty Crocker staff. Tested for all-purpose baking results.

Make Gold Medal your baking standby. It's made by General Mills, Inc., Minneapolis, Minn.

ONLY 1/4 CUP SUGAR FOR 48 DELICIOUS DROP COOKIES!

1/2 cup Shortening... 1/4 cup Sugar... 1/4 cup Dark Corn Syrup... 1 Egg... 2 sq. (2 oz.) Unsweetened Chocolate (melted)... 1 1/2 cups sifted GOLD MEDAL "Kitchen-tested" Flour... 1/2 tsp. Salt... 1/2 tsp. Soda... 1/2 cup Buttermilk... 1 cup coarsely Chopped Nuts late. Sift flour, salt, soda together, stirring into creamed mixture alternately with buttermilk. Blend in chopped nuts with last addition of flour mixture. Drop by teaspoonfuls (2 in. apart) on a greased heavy baking sheet. (If kitchen is warm, chill dough first.) Bake 12 to 15 min. in moderately hot oven (400°). Makes about 4 doz. When cookies cool, spread icing thinly over tops.

NO-SUGAR CHOCOLATE ICING

18 Marshmallows (6 oz.) cut in quarters... 2 sq. (2 oz.) Unsweetened Chocolate... 3 tbs. top Milk

COMBINE marshmallows, chocolate, top milk in saucepan, over low heat. Stir constantly till chocolate and marshmallows are melted, well blended. Remove from heat. Let cool till thick and fudgy (be consistency to spread easily). Enough for 20 cookies.

Perfect results guaranteed only with Gold Medal "Kitchen-tested" Enriched Flour

Mrs. Miles M. Buck, 119 E. Crescent St., Marquette, says:

"Betty Crocker recipes and Gold Medal Flour are just as good today as I found them years ago when I first started using them... The Gingerapple Pudding is especially delicious. I enjoyed making it. You'll enjoy making it too!"

Mrs. M. Ford, 223 Genesee St., Marquette, writes:

"It's fun to cook when you use Gold Medal Flour and Betty Crocker recipes... they can't disappoint you. The Chocolate Drop Cookies recipe turned out just the way I expected... and the cookies were eaten up in a very short while."
