

Eight Million Nazis Put Out Of Action--Stalin Foe To Feel Red Blows Soon, He Says

By Henry C. Cassidy

MOSCOW, Nov. 7 (Saturday)—Premier Stalin told his people today that the Soviet army "has put out of action more than 8,000,000 enemy officers and men," and declared "the day is not far off when the enemy will feel the force of new blows of the Red army."

This hint of an imminent Russian counter-offensive against the Nazis followed the premier's statement yesterday that the Allies would open "a second front" against Germany in Europe "sooner or later."

The suggested new developments were made in an order of the day commemorating the 25th anniversary of Soviet revolution, and he told the Russians that the fighting on the Russian front "is becoming more and more tense."

"The Red army," he declared in the order of the day, "is carrying the full weight of the war against the Axis, and by its self-sacrificing struggle it has won the love and respect of all freedom-loving peoples of the world."

In his speech yesterday Stalin spoke only to Moscow members of the Communist party and other special organizations in a secret meeting place.

The German dream of conquest envisioned the fall of Stalingrad by September 25, Saratov by August 9, Baku by September 29 and Moscow this fall has failed, the Russian commander-in-chief asserted.

"In their hunt for oil and for Moscow, the German strategists have got into difficulties," he said amidst cheers. "Their summer plans appear to have failed."

Will Not Destroy Germany
The premier offered "facts to prove the strengthening" of the coalition between Russia, the United States and Great Britain, and added:

"The Anglo-Soviet-American coalition has all the possibilities for victory and they will win."

He said "no sane man" would attempt to destroy Germany, "but we will destroy the Hitlerite military power." Germany, he said, was already weakening as attested by its inability to launch general attacks along the entire Russian front.

"The Germans were not strong enough to attack southwest and north Russia at the same time like last summer," he declared, "but they are still strong enough to launch a serious attack in one direction."

He said the Russian home front was stronger and better organized than ever before, and that the people of Europe under Hitler domination were seething in revolt. The transport problem was Russia's major hurdle, he said, but he added that Russia had been able to build new factories and supply the Red army with tanks, planes and guns, and furnish it with food.

He said the main German objective had been to divert the Russian reserve strength to the southwest in order to attack Moscow, and by taking the capital, finish the war this year. The Germans, he said, had more than 3,000,000 troops in Russia.

Defenders In Factory Area Repel Attacks

By Eddy Gilmore

MOSCOW, Nov. 7 (Saturday)—The Russians announced today that repeated assaults by large forces of German tanks, infantry and planes upon a factory district in Stalingrad have been thrown back with heavy losses for the Germans and indicated they were holding firm in the Nalchik and Tuzup area of the Caucasus.

The Soviet midnight communique reported that the Germans were thrown back to their original positions in the fierce fighting for the Stalingrad factory area. Further, the Soviets said, the Nazis lost about 1,000 men killed, 11 tanks, 20 trucks, and a large number of blockhouses there.

Action on Kalinin Front
In the first mention in weeks of action on the Kalinin front, northwest of Moscow, the Russians said the Germans threw a battalion into an attempt to capture a height of tactical importance.

"At first the Germans succeeded in pressing back our units somewhat," the communique said. "A Red army unit then counter-attacked and threw the Germans back. About one company of the enemy was wiped out and some arms were captured."

On the battlefield northwest of Stalingrad, where the Russians are pressing the Germans hard to re-secure Stalingrad, Nazis and Russian artillery maintained a fierce duel, the war report said.

One German field battery was reported destroyed and an enemy force of about 400 men was partly wiped out.

Fierce Fighting in Caucasus
The Russians said their men were fighting "tense defensive engagements with enemy tanks and infantry" southwest of Nalchik, deep in the Caucasus. One Red unit repelled three enemy attacks in which the Germans lost about 400 men and five tanks while Russian artillery dispersed and partly annihilated about one battalion of enemy infantry.

Only fighting of local importance took place in the area northeast of Tuzup.

The Russian communique yesterday noon had contained equally good news of Soviet resistance. The reports added to the festive atmosphere as the Soviet Union went into the celebration of the 25th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

The Germans said their attacks continued in the Nalchik area, but no gains were cited. Numerous fortified positions near the Black sea in the Tuzup region were claimed. In Stalingrad, the Germans said there was "mutual shock troop activity and warding off of some thrusts by the enemy."

34 Red Pillboxes Destroyed
Further north, the Germans said, Hungarian allies crossed the Don and destroyed 34 Russian pillboxes. South of Lake Ilimen on the frozen northern front, 37 more pillboxes were reported stormed. Further bombings of Mursansk on the Arctic were reported.

The Nalchik fighting on the approaches to the Georgian military highway starting at Ordzhonikidze still is critical, but a curtain of fire from Russian field guns and mortars has Hitler's hordes in check, the communique said, and "stubborn engagements continue."

A half regiment of tank-support infantry fanned ground toward a Russian stronghold, but artillery forced the Germans back to their starting point, 300 men weaker than when they attacked.

Yanks Repel Attacks On Guadalcanal

By James M. Hightower

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—P—American forces, taking a heavy toll of enemy troops, have repulsed several strong Japanese counterattacks in the land fight on Guadalcanal island in the Solomons, the Navy announced today.

The Japs struck against advanced Army-Marine positions to the west of the American-held airfield Wednesday night and early Thursday, Guadalcanal time.

But not one of their several attempts to drive the Americans back upon the airfield was successful and presumably they left the American forces in position to continue the offensive begun last Sunday.

Subjected to Air Assaults
The Japs were subjected not only to withering fire from U. S. ground forces, but also, a Navy communique reported, to stinging from American planes which maintained "continuous air patrols" over the enemy lines. There was no mention of opposition and apparently the planes had full control of the air.

American positions to the east of the airfield, where the Japs landed troops and reinforcements earlier this week to undertake a squeeze maneuver, were unchanged, the communique said, and so far as was known here, the threat from that quarter had only been checked, rather than eliminated.

In a press conference just before the communique was issued, Secretary Knox said that Japanese casualties in the three-month-old Solomons campaign were more than four or five times as great as American losses and that this ratio was continuing. He was "inclined to believe" that this ratio was due to the superb marksmanship of the American troops.

Lull in Sea Action Continues
The lull in sea fighting which set in with the retirement of the Japanese armada from the Solomons late last week continues, the Secretary said, but he cautioned against any conclusion that "this is a finished fight."

"We thoroughly expect and confidently expect that they will come back," he added, explaining that American preparations were being made accordingly. Asked whether a prolonged lull in sea fighting would work more to the advantage of Japan or to the United States, Knox said, it would be advantageous to both sides in that: each

Political Truce Foreseen In Washington

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—P—Prospects of a political truce seemed to increase today as President Roosevelt and leaders in the greatly strengthened Republican party emphasized anew that winning the war was the paramount task before the country.

At a press conference, a reporter asked Mr. Roosevelt whether the results of Tuesday's elections would make any difference in his attitude toward Congress.

Why should it? Mr. Roosevelt asked.

He went on to say that he assumed Congress also wanted to win the war.

Persisting, the reporter said that what he wanted to know was whether the President would confer now with both Republican and Democratic leaders about legislative procedure. Mr. Roosevelt replied that he had been doing that.

Surprised At Opened Polls
The President made what appeared to be an indirect reply to those who have been accusing the Administration of dictatorship.

Asked how he could account for the election results, he said he had had a very pleasant surprise, a perfectly delightful surprise, when he went to vote at Hyde Park, N. Y., Tuesday and found the polling place open.

"Do you think people expected it to be closed?" a reporter queried.

With a grin, Mr. Roosevelt said that apparently the reporter had not been reading some of the papers.

On Capitol Hill a movement was developing to declare a holiday on politics in order to concentrate on the common objective of victory over the Axis. Senator McNary, Oregon Republican leader, who has attributed Democratic election results

Roosevelt, Knox Elated Over Rout of Rommel

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—P—President Roosevelt and Navy Secretary Knox both expressed elation today over the rout of Marshal Rommel's Axis forces in Africa, but cautiously refrained from characterizing it as a complete all-out victory as yet.

Mr. Roosevelt said it looks like a victory of major proportions heartening to all the United Nations.

Knox said the situation was gratifying, but "as for a complete and all-out victory for keeps—I don't believe it is that as yet." He said Rommel's forces had not been completely smashed.

Years of War Seen by Men In Front Lines

PEARL HARBOR, Nov. 6—P—There are no 90-day victory thinkers among the American fighting men in the jungle wildernesses of the south Pacific islands.

Their experiences with life in the raw and their contact with realities there make them feel as if they were living in a different world. And they are thinking differently, also. They are convinced that it will take years to lick the Japanese.

Above all, this realization stirs their emotions deeply when they hear reports from the mainland of folks at home at times expressing opinions that he war will be over in 60 or 90 days. That makes the fighting men really feel that the folks at home don't realize what a tough and desperate job Americans have been plugging into.

Face Stark Realism
There is no wishful thinking in the front lines of the Battle of the Pacific. These men face stark realism. They know that the war in the Pacific is the toughest war that Americans have ever faced.

It is now three months since the American offensive was launched in the south Pacific, and 11 months since the war started. Guadalcanal, in the Solomons, is just an outpost, a remote one of the Japanese line of conquest. The Japanese moved on to Guadalcanal without opposition March 5. Five months later the United States Marines landed there in the first American offensive. They captured the airfield the Japanese were building and killed most of the enemy, a few getting away into the jungle hills.

Since then the greatest air and naval surface engagements of the war have been fought over possession of this outpost. The end of the Guadalcanal campaign is not yet in sight. The major Japanese land, sea and air effort to smash the American lines failed in its first phase. A second and perhaps even stronger Japanese effort is expected.

The battle for Guadalcanal is one of the decisive battles of the war.

Ships Sail Out Of Gibraltar, Nazis Report

LONDON, (Saturday), Nov. 7—P—A German radio broadcast early today reported the British battleship Rodney, one of a large number of British warships said to be maneuvering mysteriously around Gibraltar, and a large convoy of freighters, steamed away from the British base yesterday.

The convoy, the radio said, headed into the Mediterranean, but there was no indication of the direction the battleship took. The Rodney, the German report added, was protected by an "air umbrella" of fighting planes.

The convoy, it was said, included troop transports and tankers.

The German broadcast was the latest in a series of reports by Axis and Nazi-friendly sources that there has been lively military activity on land and in the harbor at Gibraltar.

The German news agency DNB reported yesterday afternoon that a large convoy had departed and there was speculation in Axis quarters whether another large shipment of supplies was headed for Malta or that the convoy was en route to some destination in Africa.

(There was no confirmation of such ship movements from any Allied source.)

DNB, quoting a dispatch from La Jena, Spain, estimated that there are 125 war vessels in the fleet clustered about the Rock of Gibraltar. From Vichy came reports that the vessels included the battleship Rodney, the aircraft carriers Furious and Argus and one other, and a large number of auxiliary and fighting ships.

Brown Likely To Get U. S. Appointment

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—P—Prentiss M. Brown is in line for a Federal appointment if he wants it.

Defeated for reelection Tuesday, the Michigan Senator has not discussed his plans with associates here, but he is expected to talk with President Roosevelt and other high Administration officials between now and the end of his term in January.

Friends in and out of the Senate said they had reason to believe that the President would be loath to see the energetic Senator leave the service of the Government and go back perhaps to his law practice. They added that the matter already was under consideration.

Brown will continue his work in the Senate right up to the expiration of his term. He is a member of committees handling important war legislation, among them banking and currency, finance, and commerce, as well as a special committee investigating Government agencies.

Florida Area Threatened By Hurricane

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 6—P—The first tropical disturbance of the season roared up out of the West Indies today, striking toward the northern coast of Cuba, including Havana with its crowded population of more than 700,000.

With but nine days left of the hurricane "season," the storm made up in the lower Bahama islands and at first was charted heading directly for the colonial capital of Nassau and for the resort coast of southwest Florida.

By mid-day, it had veered more to the west and southwest and was found following the northern coast of Cuba, apparently aimed at the Florida straits and the Gulf of Mexico, with winds approaching and possibly exceeding 75 miles an hour.

Key West, the nation's southernmost city at the tip of the Florida keys, plus the small islands set like stepping stones northward to the mainland, appeared worst threatened of any section of Florida. Farther north, the areas of Miami, Fort Lauderdale, Palm Beach and Melbourne were promised high winds, possibly approaching gale force, and attending high tides.

At 5:30 p. m. (EWT) the Miami Weather Bureau reported the storm was continuing in a west-southwestward direction, with winds of 70 miles an hour along the Cuban coast.

Dangerous gales were in store for Cuba and the east Florida straits, but Forecasters Ernest F. Carson said the threat to southeast Florida apparently had passed.

Six Italian Divisions Cut Off or Trapped Far in Rear Of Nazis Fleeting Into Libya

By Paul Kern Lee

CAIRO, Nov. 7 (Saturday)—(By A. P.)—Pursuing British mobile forces, equipped with big American-made General Sherman tanks, have overtaken some of the remnants of Marshal Erwin Rommel's African corps in the Matruh region of western Egypt, "and are steadily chopping them to pieces," front dispatches said early today.

After a swift 104-mile drive from their jumping-off point of Alamein, three British tank divisions were said to have pinned some of the fleeing German armored units against the Mediterranean coast.

The advancing British ignored thousands of surrendering German and Italian infantrymen along the way in their effort to crush with finality the Axis armored units.

Occupation Of Madagascar Completed

LONDON, Nov. 6—(AP)—British occupation of Madagascar, begun last May and resumed in September to thwart its use as a U-boat base for Indian ocean raids, was completed today as an obscure but vital link in the Allied high strategy for mastery of Africa and the seas.

Even as the final surrender of the island's Vichy French was accepted on their petition for an armistice, Japanese sources in Ankara disclosed that Hitler in desperation over his crumbling position in North Africa, had appealed to the Japanese to make a naval attack on Madagascar or South Africa as an Axis diversion.

Axis Losses 'Terrific'

These correspondents said the Axis losses were "terrific," and dazed, bomb-shocked Germans and Italians who escaped this destruction were being rounded up in the desert. Thousands of these prisoners were pouring back into rear-line camps.

Three entire Italian divisions, the Trento, Brescia and Udine, have been transported by the British far south of the Mediterranean coastal road at the Axis anchor positions near the Qattara depression.

These troops were abandoned as the German African corps scurried westward. But another reason for their encirclement was effective Allied aerial blows that wrecked most of the Fascist transport.

These U. S., British and South African airmen still were hacking constantly at the fleeing Axis columns packed tight in four lanes west and south of Matruh. The entire Mediterranean coastal road by which Rommel's troops hope to escape into Libya has become "a ribbon of fire and death." P Correspondent Frank L. Martin said in a dispatch from the front in the western desert.

For miles this road is littered with the wreckage of Axis equipment—and hopes. Sometimes this debris extends for hundreds of yards on either side of the road as evidence of telling aerial blasts.

Airmen Move Bases Westward
Allied airmen were constantly moving their bases westward in their knockout effort. The newly-formed RAF regiment, a ground force that does this necessary work, already had taken over El Daba airfield, 33 miles west of the shattered Alamein line. This British group also captured 200 Axis prisoners sitting glumly at the edge of the field.

Fighter-bombers soon were roaring westward from El Daba's field to sow further destruction among the harried Axis columns, some of which are between Fuka and Matruh.

A U. S. Army Air Forces communique issued tonight said the American fliers destroyed many of the fleeing vehicles and started fires among others. American fighters also shot down at least one Messerschmitt during the day, but Florida apparently had passed.

Unessential Telegrams Banned by Government

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—(AP)—Telegrams of felicitation, including "Happy Birthdays" and "Merry Christmas," were banned today, effective December 15.

The board of war communications directed the telegraph companies to refuse such messages for the duration, and to discontinue a number of other services which were held unessential to the war effort.

In connection with this move to facilitate the handling of important messages, the board also directed the companies to cut by one-third the time required to handle business messages delivered by messenger and to clear messages on the wire within seven minutes after they reach the operating room.

All Must Sacrifice For Victory, Pearce Declares

"Every citizen must sacrifice, sweat and save to preserve democracy and freedom and every American must dedicate his life to victory in this war," Ernest L. Pearce, Marquette, regional chairman of the Victory Fund committee, declared in an address highlighting the luncheon meeting of the Upper Peninsula planning conference in Escanaba this week.

Mr. Pearce's address, "The Task Ahead," outlining financial problems involved in the American war program, presented indelibly the wartime picture of America, the sacrifices that must be made for victory, and the obstacles that must be overcome to meet the threat of inflation.

$80 Billions This Year

Stating that war commitments already have reached 223 billions of dollars, he declared that Americans have slipped from speaking in terms of millions to billions without full realization of what a billion dollars actually represents. He said that the United States will spend 80 billion dollars during the present fiscal year, which means an expenditure of $2,520 with every tick of the clock.

Cheaper Than Defeat

"Are American securities a good investment?" Mr. Pearce asked. He replied to his own question by asserting that either the American securities are the best in the world, or the securities of Italy, Germany and Japan are the best, and added, "no one is crazy to believe that."

"The total cost of victory is beyond comprehension," the speaker stated emphatically, "but whatever the cost, it's a lot cheaper than defeat."

The threat of inflation and steps that are being taken to overcome it were outlined in detail by the speaker.

Inflation is created by a shortage of consumer goods and an increase in the national income, Mr. Pearce explained. He said there will be between 20 and 30 billions of dollars "without a place to go" this fiscal year. There will be from $1 to $3 of the national income competing for every $1 of consumer goods on the market, he said.

A moderate inflation has already raised the cost of living 10% the last 12 months and 17% since the outbreak of war three years ago, Pearce told his listeners.

More Tax Bills Coming

The banker declared that the public may not like it, but taxation is the best way to forestall inflation.

Must Cut Public Expense

"This needless waste causes confusion in the public mind and creates paralysis in industry," he said. "The Federal Government today has two million Federal employes, as compared with one million during the last war, the speaker declared. State, county and local governments also must eliminate unessential expenditures, he added.

"This war will never be won until every man bases each decision he makes upon the question 'Will it help to win the war?', until politicians place the interests of the country over their personal interests, until manufacturers are ready to place all their facilities at work for their own salvation and that of their country, until workers give all that until labor leaders realize that they have for the common cause, this is no time to get but to give."

LANSING, Nov. 6—P—Detailed charts providing alternative plans for organizing air raid defense in industrial plants were released today by the state defense council. The plans were prepared by Henry Lohr, plant protection consultant of the council, who said they would profit factory manage-

Civilians Urged To Use V-Mail

Because of the great need for conserving shipping space for supplies destined for overseas posts of the U. S. armed forces, more widespread use by civilians of the V-mail service is urged by the Postal department and by the American Red Cross at the request of the War department.

The plea is made not only because of the urgent need to conserve space for war shipping, but also because of the importance of "mail from home" toward maintaining the good morale of American armed forces.

More soldiers than civilians use V-mail, and for the greatest efficiency, civilian use should be greater because more valuable cargo space than would be available, it was pointed out.

V-Mail Has Priority
An example of the amount of space saved by use of V-mail follows: 150,000 ordinary one-sheet letters weigh 2,575 pounds and occupy 22 mail sacks.

As a further inducement for more widespread civilian use, it is pointed out that V-mail is given preference and offers the most rapid form of personal mail service.

In handling and dispatch, it is given priority over all other classes of personal mail, including air mail. Because of the small space required for film, as compared with bulky mail packages, it frequently is sent by ferry plane or by bomber.

In order to assure delivery of all V-mail, the original of every filmed letter is held by military authorities until word is received that the film has reached its destination and a photostatic copy of the original is on its way to the recipient.

Originals Destroyed
Original letters are then destroyed. If the film does not arrive at its destination, the letters are refiled and another film is dispatched to the overseas port.

Many V-mail letters are being received at V-mail postoffices without the name and address of the person to whom the letter is written shown in the panel at the top of the message side of the sheet.

The information in the panel is photographed, as well as the message, and when reproduced at the destination of the letter, it must serve as the address for the message, since the letter is forwarded to the recipient in a window-type envelope.

The Postal department announces that, henceforth, unless the name and address of the person to whom the letter is addressed are shown in the panel on the message side of the sheet, letters will be returned to senders by the V-mail stations.

Experienced Steel Men Sought at Soo
College graduates with approximately five years' experience with steel or steel construction work, needed by U. S. engineers in the building of new locks at Sault Ste. Marie.

Their duties will consist of checking steel as it arrives, inspecting assembly of steel and rejecting inferior materials or workmanship. They must have experience also in electric welding or possess adequate background to acquire quickly knowledge of the electric welding process. The base pay will be $2,600 a year. Appointments will be for the duration, and in no case will extend more than six months after the war.

Also sought for work on the Escanaba ore dock project are men with two years' college engineering or equivalent experience in building requiring the sinking of timber piles or sub structure caissons. They will serve as inspectors of timber pile driving at ore docks now under construction. The base pay will range from $2,000 to $2,000 a year, and appointments will be from six to nine months.

These opportunities are not open to men liable to early induction into the armed forces or to those deferred because of corrective physical conditions or dependence circumstances which would make them unable to induction in the near future.

Men engaged in war work now also are ineligible unless the above positions require use of higher skills than the skills they are using on their present jobs.

Applications should be filed with P. J. Martin, U. S. Civil Service Commission, New Postoffice Building, Chicago, Ill.

AIRLINER CRUMPLED AFTER MID-AIR COLLISION—This is the wreckage of a TWA transport which collided in mid-air with an Army cargo plane 4,000 feet above North Kansas City, Mo., without injury to either crewmen or passengers. Longer Draft Deferments For 3-A's in Essential Jobs

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—P.—The selective service system is seeking to induce large numbers of men with dependents to shift from non-essential work to war-supporting occupations by offering them the prospect of longer deferment from the draft.

Officials at headquarters here said they had laid down the policy that men in class 3-A (deferred because of dependents) who engage in an activity supporting the war effort should be transferred to 3-B (deferred because of the nature of their work) whether or not their particular jobs are listed as "essential" in their line of work.

Such men would thus have a double-deferment status. However, officials emphasized that this would not assure deferment for any specific length of time such as the six-month period covered by the classification of a single man as necessary in essential work, but only until classes with lesser deferment claims are exhausted.

This illustration of the operation of the double-deferment policy was given by officials:
A childless married man working as a barber could shift to an aircraft factory and get reclassification from 3-A to 3-B, even though his work consisted only of sweeping the factory floor or running the elevator.

This would defer him beyond the call of other married but childless barbers, but would not postpone his induction beyond the call of other men in the aircraft plant who did work that was necessary to keep up the plant's production.

Likewise, all 3-A men in an enterprising farming, newspaper work and other occupations in the critical list should be reclassified to 3-B until it becomes necessary to make inductions from the ranks of persons in similar status, when the questions of the essentiality of their work or the number of their dependents would be considered.

The officials said the double-deferment policy, despite the major limitations on the extent of additional deferment provided, already was scoring noteworthy success in

Mountain Troops Want More Recruits

Men who pride themselves in their stamina and ability to take care of themselves in the open or who consider themselves good raw material for such training and experience are especially sought for enlistment in the U. S. Army's mountain troops.

Arthur L. Hiebel, Jr., 805 North Front street, Marquette, active member of the Marquette Slalom club, has been appointed representative of the National Ski Patrol here to encourage the enlistment of men for the mountain infantry.

Not only are experienced skiers and mountaineers wanted, but men who possess the physical stamina for life in the open and in the mountains will "fill the bill," the Army reports.

Patrol to Recommend Men
The National Ski Patrol has the status of consultant to the War Department on mountain and winter warfare and for the selection of specialized personnel for mountain troops.

"The Army wants qualified men now," Stephen Harbut, director of personnel selection, New York, said in a letter of instruction to Hiebel. "Many of these men have not yet heard that we assist them. That the National Ski Patrol can do this is an unique privilege for a civilian agency."

The patrol has the privilege of recommending men, such as it did for the 87th mountain infantry, of which Sgt. Harold Larson, of Marquette, is a member. The 87th, incidentally, was the first mountain regiment to be activated.

Emphasis On Toughness
"Men who have lived and worked in the mountains, such as rock climbers, trappers, packers, guides, prospectors, timber cruisers and others are preferred," Charles M. Dole, patrol chairman, reports. "If they ski, so much the better. Good skiers without extensive mountaineering experience, if they are physically fit for rigorous winter and mountain training, will be acceptable."

"We also, shall be glad to consider the applications of any young men who show evidence of exceptional fitness, even though they have no mountain experience. The emphasis is on toughness and ability to take it. No candidate need be a member of the National Ski association or of any ski or mountain club."

Any man in Marquette interested in serving in the mountain troops and in being recommended by the patrol for such service is asked to contact Hiebel. He may be reached by telephoning 624.

3,475 Typewriters Used By Employes of Michigan
LANSING, Nov. 6.—P.—Acting Budget Director C. J. McNeill today said a survey of typewriters owned by all state agencies showed a total of about 3,475 were in use among Michigan's 17,000 state employes.

Although many agencies reported they could not operate with fewer machines, the Government has asked that 25 per cent of state-owned machines be sold to the Army and Navy. McNeill will present the request to the finance committee of the state administrative board.

Navy Offers New Plan For College Grads

Through a new officer training program, the Navy is offering greater opportunities to college graduates 27 years of age and under to become commissioned Naval officers in a special year-end midshipmen's class.

Enrollment of a class of 1,800 must be completed within the next few weeks, Capt. E. S. Root, Chicago, midwest director of Naval officer procurement, said yesterday.

The special school, under the Navy's V-7 program, was ordered a few days ago to turn out a class of ensigns ahead of 1943 schools receiving next June's college graduates accepted in V-7. The special school, starting no later than January 1, will be divided between existing midshipmen training centers at Northwestern and Notre Dame universities, the New York Naval Reserve Midshipmen's school and the United States Naval academy.

Three Months As Midshipmen

Men in the special class will enroll as apprentice seamen in V-7 for four months' training in the Navy's wartime midshipmen schools. For the first month those accepted will be apprentice seamen in Navy indoctrination. For the next three they will be midshipmen.

Midshipmen completing the instruction successfully will be commissioned as ensigns in the United States Naval Reserve. Those who fail will be discharged to their former civilian status or, if they choose, may remain in the Navy in an enlisted status of their choice and qualification.

Aside from possessing degrees, applicants must show credit for a year of college mathematics. Men without that however, may be accepted if they agree to complete such a course, correspondence or by personal attendance, within 90 days after enlistment.

Opportunities For Lifetime Career

The program requires enlistments within the next few weeks. As a part of V-7, which also applies to college undergraduates this special program is open to college seniors who will receive their degrees by January 1, 1943.

Both married and single graduates are eligible. The latter, however, must agree not to marry during their training period. Physical requirements include a minimum height of 5 feet, 4 inches and weight in proportion to height with a minimum of 124 pounds.

Opportunities for a lifetime career in the United States Navy exist in this midshipman training, for Naval reserve ensigns after a year at sea, may apply for transfer to the regular Navy.

Inquiries may be made at the Navy recruiting station in Marquette.

Volunteers Not Members Of Board

Persons who have volunteered to assist in the county rationing program will be notified by the rationing board when they are needed and, as far as is practicable, they will be called upon to work only during hours convenient to them.

This statement was made yesterday by the county rationing board in answer to numerous requests it has received concerning the volunteers' status.

"These volunteers have been enlisted for the purpose of assisting in the processing of fuel oil and gasoline ration applications. They are not being enlisted as members of the county war price and rationing board," it was stated.

"Their duties will be confined to registration, computation, issuance of necessary rations and filing. As soon as operations have progressed to the point where these volunteers are to be called to duty, they will be notified by mail or telephone and will be asked to state the hours they will be available."

In prior years, such sessions were employed by the majority party to settle upon choice of a president pro tempore of the senate and a floor leader in that legislative branch.

Senator Earl W. Munshaw, Grand Rapids, has been mentioned for the president pro tempore position, but there has been no indication yet of active bid by any one for designation as the floor leader, whose duty it is to call the signals in voting on partisan issues. Munshaw was the floor leader in the 1941 session.

Is it worth it, that's the thought? Is "good credit standing" worth that to you. Some will say it is, others will disagree.

Your local merchant, garage dealer, hospital or doctor will render much better service if your answer is yes. Local merchants extend courtesies to those who appreciate favors most.

The value you place on your credit, of course, must be determined by you. If you need $50 to keep your credit good, it will cost you $3.75 and you will have five months in which to repay.

(Payments include charges at the rate of 2 1/2% per month. This rate is less than the maximum permitted by the small loan act.)

HIROHITO WOULDN'T UNDERSTAND

We couldn't expect the dictators to grasp the full meaning of the American Way of Life . . . nor of the American Newspapers that safeguard our Freedom. They wouldn't know about news reports that tell you what's really going on . . . nor about advertisements that help you buy what you want at the stores of your choice. But you and I know that these things are the bulwark of our Democracy . . . the promise for a stronger, better America when the war is won.

Unbeaten-Untied Elevens Expected To Keep Records Spotless Today

But Don't Be Surprised If They're Upset

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The nation's football fans, by now immune to the shock of astounding upsets, wondered vaguely today just which favored teams would take it on the chin in tomorrow's schedule matching rugged elevens in major sectional, intersectional and conference games.

There was no chance that the downfall of major undefeated and untied elevens would match that of last Saturday, when Ohio State, Alabama, Army, Syracuse, TCU and Detroit fell by the wayside.

Chief reason for this is that the list of such top teams has dwindled to virtual insignificance, and the fact that the survivors in that list face opponents which, for the most part, figure to cause little trouble.

Of four outstanding undefeated and untied teams—Georgia Tech, Georgia Tech, Boston College and Tulsa—only Georgia Tech might possibly have its troubles.

The Rambling Wrecks meet Kentucky, an in-and-out eleven which, when in, is plenty tough. It lost to Georgia by a lone point in the opener.

Georgia meets Florida, Boston College takes on Temple, and Tulsa plays the Oklahoma Aggies in games that see the unbeaten elevens as heavy favorites.

From a national standpoint, the Army-Notre Dame game at Yankee stadium probably holds the spotlight, although a slight edge was removed from the contest when Army was drubbed by Penn last week.

Other intersectional battles include Michigan State-Washington State, Michigan-Harvard, Louisiana State-Fordham and St. Mary's-Duquesne.

The Midwest schedule is peppered with major contests. Wisconsin's fine team may be due for trouble against Iowa's heavy Hawkeyes.

Indiana meets Minnesota in another Big Ten argument, and Illinois takes on the always-dangerous Northwestern team.

Nebraska tackles Missouri in a game which goes a long way toward deciding the Big Six title.

Mississippi State and Tulane tangle in one of the highlights of the southern program, with Mississippi and Vanderbilt meeting in another contest.

Texas, a leader in the southwest, will have to play the game to dispose of the once-defeated Baylor eleven.

TCU, deflated last week, hopes to bounce back against Texas Tech, and Texas Aggies meet SMU in another southwest contest.

Rice takes on Arkansas. UCLA, riding high right now on the coast, meets Oregon in one of the feature attractions out there.

Other contests of varied importance on the Pacific slope include Washington and Stanford, Montana and Oregon State and California and USC.

Good Games in East

The eastern schedule is crowded with good games. In addition to the spotlighted Army-Notre Dame encounter, the strong Penn team meets Navy, Cornell plays the improving Yale team, Dartmouth meets Princeton, Colgate plays Columbia, Holy Cross takes on Brown and Syracuse tackles Penn State.

Other games that will hold a share of attention over the nation include Great Lakes vs. Purdue, Kansas State vs. Oklahoma, Maryland vs. Duke, Pittsburgh vs. Ohio State, South Carolina vs. Alabama, Georgia Pre-Flight vs. Auburn, Iowa Pre-Flight vs. Fort Knox, North Carolina Pre-Flight vs. Georgetown and Tennessee vs. Cincinnati.

Athletes In U. S. Service

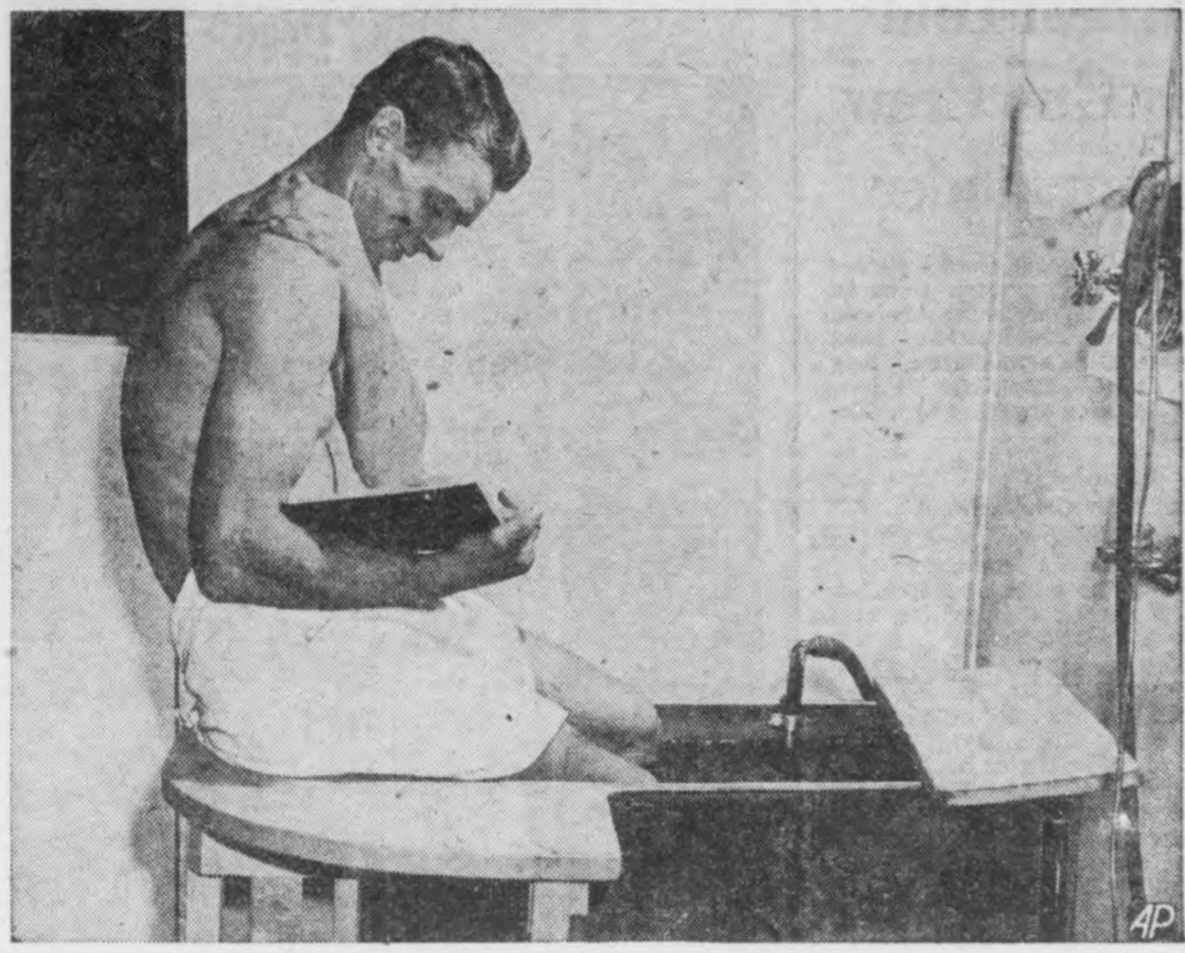

WIDE WORLD FEATURES

EUGENE BALL, who recently joined the Great Lakes Naval Training Station football squad, was a quarterback on the unbeaten Duquesne University team last year.

International football among service teams was introduced recently when the U. S. Naval Training School at Wahpeton, N. D., played a squad of Canadian Army, Navy and Air Force players at Winnipeg, Canada.

Ensign Billy Dewell, who played end for Southern Methodist a few years ago, was named co-captain of the Corpus Christi Naval Air Station football team for its game with SMU.

Fred (Buzz) Borries, Navy's last All-America football player—1934 halfback—is a flier attached to a carrier fighting in the Solomons. . . he's shot down six Jap planes.

KUZMA GRABS WHILE HIS LEGS HEAL—Halfback Tom Kuzma plunges his injured knee and wrenched ankle into a whirlpool of hot water in the Michigan football training room at Ann Arbor, Mich., and catches up on his studies at the same time.

Down Sports Trail

By Whitney Martin

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—When we first heard that the Navy pre-flight schools were going to have football teams, and would compete against major college elevens, we felt a little sorry for the pre-flighters, and their coaches.

Particularly Bernie Bierman at Iowa City. A schedule had been lined up for his team which looked like it might have been dictated during one of Bob Neyland's particularly bad nightmares when he was at Tennessee.

Now we understood there were certain physical requirements these embryo fliers had to meet, and that one of the requirements was that they couldn't pack too much weight, as the Navy doesn't want young fellows who have to be shoehorned into the snug cockpits and pried out with jacks.

Line Averaged 220 Pounds

We thought this weight maximum was around 200 pounds, and that the average would run much lighter so that Bierman would do as well as assemble a 180-pound line and a 170-pound backfield to put up against the unlimited young men of Minnesota and Northwestern.

It was quite surprising, therefore, to discover through the latest roster put out by the Iowa fliers that they could put a line on the field averaging just a shade under 220 pounds and a backfield average 194 1/2.

Of the 38 men on the new roster, 13 weigh 200 pounds or better, with tops being a couple of 240-pounders from—surprise—Minnesota.

You know that story about how Bierman picked his Gopher candidates by asking farm boys directions. If they picked up the plow and pointed with it they'd do.

Well, these two fellows must have picked up a barn to point with the weather-vane.

Anyway, despite the remarkable testimonials for the pre-flight school food offered by these fragile lads and their lesser brethren in the 200-pound class, showing that proper diet will take care of the weight problem nicely, the pre-flight coaches have their troubles.

Large Numbers Leave Squad

Most schools have two graduation periods a year, mid-year and June. Otherwise a football player starting a season is pretty certain to remain with the team, barring slight lapses like flunking in math or whamming the dean with a ball bat or some other youthful prank.

The pre-flight lads abruptly are liable to find themselves educated at any time and told to depart for advanced training. Just this week the Iowa squad lost two of its backfield starters as Bill Schatzer and George Benson moved on to flight instruction.

The original Iowa roster listed 70 names. The new roster lists only 38, and 14 of the 38 were not on the original roster.

This gives an idea of how Bierman must shuffle around his players, bringing in newly arrived candidates as he watches the "veterans" depart.

It's a sort of an endless chain proposition, with Bierman doing what polishing he can as the boys move slowly toward the dump bin at the end. Then he starts all over again on the new boys at the other end of the line.

Quits Worrying About Em

The one thing that has enabled the pre-flight coaches to turn out tough teams is the fact practically all of the boys have played college football, some of them a good deal of college football.

If Bierman, for instance, had only run-of-the-mill material such as most colleges attract to work with, he could not hope to turn out a stout team in the limited time he has to work with the lads.

But we've quit worrying about the pre-flight boys. On the whole they've taken care of themselves pretty well on the football field, despite that weight handicap. Imagine! Only fourteen 200-pounders on a squad of 38.

Cribbage

NEGAUNEE, Nov. 6.—The results of the cribbage matches played last Monday evening follow:

IOOF 9,060, Firemen 9,036; Elks 9,155, Vets 9,008; Legion 9,256, Eagles 8,960.

Simo and Hill, of the Legion team, had high score of the week, 1,228.

Standings: Legion18,550 IOOF18,222 Elks18,124 Firemen18,004 Eagles17,961 Vets17,908

The following teams will play next Monday evening, starting at 8: Vets vs. Firemen at fire hall; Eagles vs. Elks at Elks lodge; IOOF vs. Legion at Legion clubhouse.

One hundred octane fuel is expected to be in general use for automobiles after the war, bringing more power with greater economy.

Pasadena To Stage Rose Bowl Contest

PASADENA, Calif., Nov. 6.—The guessing can start, folks. They're going to play the Rose Bowl game here again next New Year's day, all things being equal.

The Associated Press learned from an unimpeachable source today that while formal application for permission to play has not yet been acted on by the Army, there is not objection to the 29th renewal of the classic, oldest and most famous of the post-season bowl games.

The source cannot be named, and there was no comment from the Army.

Subject to Cancellation

Last year's contest, coming in the midst of huge military preparations on the west coast, was moved to Durham, N. C. Oregon State defeated Duke, 20-16.

This year's game, as is every other civilian activity, is subject to cancellation at the Army's discretion.

Although tentative preparations for the event have been going on for weeks, the general uncertainty has held back a usual rush of speculation as to who'll oppose who that Friday afternoon.

Here are a few things to bear in mind as the chatter along those lines gets under way:

1. The opponent of the Pacific Coast Conference champion is extremely apt to be a service team. The Iowa, North Carolina and St. Mary's pre-flight Navy training schools are all prospects.

So is the up-and-coming March Field Army air base eleven from only 75 miles away.

2. The coast representative at the moment is UCLA, unbeaten in conference play. Next choice is Washington State, once beaten.

Nearly Rival May Be Picked

3. Transportation is an important factor. It might cause the selection of a west coast team—St. Mary's pre-flight or March Field—although UCLA lost to the former, 18-7, in its second game of the season.

The Bruins also dropped one to Texas Christian, 7-6. In any event, the west's opponent won't HANDSOME BUT TOUGH—Clarence (Biggie) Munn, University of Michigan football line coach, has called Elmer Madar (above), "the roughest little monkey on our entire first team." Madar, a Detroit boy, moved to end this year from the backfield, and weighs 170 pounds. He is a sticky-fingered pass snatcher.

Michigan Normal Wins From Hillsdale, 19-13

YPSILANTI, Mich., Nov. 6.—Sophomore Joe Dowdy, reserve fullback, smashed through center for a pair of fourth period touchdowns that gave Michigan Normal a 19 to 13 football victory over Hillsdale college here today.

Michigan Normal scored first on a forward pass from Charles Nemeth to Bob Harvey, but Hillsdale came back to knot the count at 6-6 in the second quarter when Tom Ward tossed a 19-yard aerial to Captain Art Konas.

Ward, Imlay City freshman, dashed 47 yards for another goal shortly after the second half opened and Emil Kott placekicked the extra point.

Halfback Jack Brown converted after Dowdy's initial touchdown.

Nearly 7000 American business concerns, ranging from a New Jersey war plant with 26,000 workers to a four-man Alaskan packing company, have pledged at least 10 per cent of their pay to War Bonds.

MSC To Use Speed, Passes In Coast Tilt

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 6.—Train-weary from a 50-hour train ride broken by only 10 or 15 minute stops enroute, the Michigan State football team worked out at Gonzaga stadium today in preparation for the game tomorrow against Washington State.

Certain to be heavily outweighed in the backfield and almost certain to be without the services of two first string backs—Ed Ripmaster and Walt Pawlowski—Michigan Staters went through a snappy limbering-up program on the hard firm gridiron apparently intent on making speed and passes offset WSC power.

Coach Bachman said neither Ripmaster nor Pawlowski were sufficiently recovered from injuries received in the Temple game to see much service and it is "extremely doubtful" if either will be used at all.

"I hope for a dry snappy day, or one so wet we can play in a lake," Bachman added, obviously intent on passing and speed on the one hand or the bogging down of WSC runners on the other.

Tentative lineups issued today by coaches showed lines tomorrow will be about equal in weight, but with the heavy-weight WSC backfield carrying approximately 15 pounds to a man more beef than the visitors.

And with the extra weight carried by such backs as Kennedy, Akin, Stoves and Renfro, all very fast, the pounds spell "sock" hitting against anybody's line.

Coach Bachman said the squad generally, besides Ripmaster and Pawlowski, is in fair shape and that Kieppe is in top form and "ready to go."

Lineups:

Pos. Mich. State	Wash. State
LE—Mroz	Suseoff
LT—Canner	Dyson
LG—Radulescu	Ward
C—Beyer	Remington
RG—Leclair	Brangan
RT—Mangrum	Wright
RE—Roskopp	Anderson
QB—Gilpin	Renfro
LH—Kieppe	Stoves
RH—Fornari	Akin
FB—Gingrass	Kennedy

Coast Guard Accused Of Stealing Pay Checks

DETROIT, Nov. 6.—Coast Guardsman Edward F. Kelker, 19, accused of stealing and cashing pay checks belonging to other Guardsmen, will be turned over to the Federal court at Toledo, Ohio, according to a statement made today by George F. Boos, Detroit supervisor of secret service agents.

Boos stated that Kelker also was accused of intercepting mail delivered to freighters at Toledo and Duluth, Minn.

Kelker, stationed at Grand Haven, Mich., since May, enlisted in 1941 from South Langhorne, Pa., and served as a watch on lake freighters prior to his present assignment.

California led all states in the Union in motor vehicle registrations in 1940 with 2,773,659.

Shot of 'Stimulant' Will Speed Up Output of Resins

OLUSTEE, Fla., Nov. 6—A revolutionary process for drastically increasing production of extremely water-insoluble "naval stores" is no longer a German secret, but is working for Uncle Sam, thanks to the success of U. S. Forest Service scientists here in cracking the riddle.

Wickard's prayer may be answered, as a result of the U. S. Forest Service's new process for stimulating the flow of resinous gums by as much as 55 per cent above normal.

Naval stores are obtained by distilling the trees' natural gum, which flows from the wounds or "streaks" into containers. In the still the pine gum vapor condenses into water and turpentine. The turpentine floats on top of the water and is drained off.

The gum residue in the still is rosin, which is discharged into vats, where it is strained through two layers of wire and one of cotton batting laid on fine wire. While molten it is ladled into barrels, where it solidifies.

Ordeal Told By Gun Crew Commander

The dramatic photo - picture below was written from an American merchant ship gun crew commander's first-hand description of the week-long ordeal of himself and his crew after being torpedoed by a German U-boat.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6—It's a long way from a comfortable Chicago home to a black-out merchantman plowing through the humid South Atlantic night.

So mused Lieut. (jg) Joseph Bailey, U. S. N. R., the blond, stocky commanding officer of this merchant ship's Naval armed guard. Standing at his battle station on the flying bridge, he scanned, for a final time during tonight's general quarters, the endless, star-reflecting waters.

He thought fondly of his wife, soon to be a mother. And of the life he had left behind him in Chicago. He was an up-and-coming lawyer of 30, business manager of the profitable and popular "Quiz Kids" radio show when he volunteered for the Navy.

This was his first ship. They'd started off in convoy, and then, when the most dangerous areas were past, the escort vessels had broken out their "good luck" pennants and turned back. The very next evening, at dusk, they had surprised a surfacing sub. In the same motion that it surfaced, the sub dove again, porpoise-like, seeking the waves' opaque safety.

Hit By Two "Fish"

All that night Lieut. Bailey and his men had stayed at battle stations. Now it was night again, not clear. No trace of the sub all day. Taking no chances, the officer secured half of his men to cut at the gun while the others were kept on guard. He gave each station a final check and went below to speak to the captain.

Suddenly the ship lurched violently. There were two thunderous explosions, so close together that they were almost simultaneous. Two torpedoes had torn into the forward holds, exploding and spraying flame over the length of the ship. There hadn't been a moment's warning.

In the seconds it took Lieut. Bailey to reach the wheelhouse, the fire had already choked it. The whole forward part of the ship was blazing. The communication system was out. No orders could be given. The fire was raged aft, fanned by the night wind.

Cabin Was Aflame

Lieut. Bailey hurried to his cabin to destroy confidential papers. The fire, whipped by passageway drafts, held him to it. His cabin was aflame. By the time he got to the boat deck, the lifeboats were already being lowered.

He made his way aft, gave his Navy men orders to abandon ship. Instead of following them overboard immediately, he went all the way aft to see if there was any further hope of saving the ship. There wasn't. Then he went down a rope. Already the ship's deck was so hot that he burned his hands just letting himself over the side.

A strong swimmer, Lieut. Bailey pushed through the warm water to a safe distance from the burning ship. Flames lighted the waters around him, and when he bobbed up to the crest of a wave he sometimes could see one of the lifeboats tossing around, looking for survivors. He thought of his wife again, and wondered if he'd ever get back to Chicago to see his yet-unborn baby.

Nearly two hours later he was picked up in the ship's 25-foot motor launch. Built for 25 passengers, she was now packed with 35. Her gunwales were so near the water the men dared not start her motors.

All night they stood by, watching their merchantman burn, treating their wounded. Those who could manned the oars to keep a safe distance from the ship. No one talked.

At dawn they spied the red sail of a second lifeboat. Just as they came up to her, the submarine surfaced and delivered the coup de grace to the still-burning ship. Then it came over to the lifeboats. On its deck were two survivors whom it had fished from the sea.

The sub's crew was young, ill-kempt, unshaven. All were pallid. The sub threw the boats a line and made them fast. A young German went to the machine gun, let his fingers dance pointedly on its grips. But he did not aim at the boats.

The U-boat commander did not speak English, but a junior officer did. He asked for particulars about the torpedoed merchantman. He was given the information. You don't answer coyly with a machine gunner drumming on the grips.

Nazis Nudging Vichy Into Conflict; Need French Navy

By JEAN GRAFFES
NEA Staff Correspondent

BERLIN'S synthetic "Allied attack on Dakar" ballyhoo, plus the United Nations' real-for-sure drive in Egypt, must be giving Vichy's Laval more to worry about, and the average Frenchman more to hope for, than anything that has happened in the last two years.

Emanating from Germany, echoed by the Nazi press in Paris and re-echoed by collaborationist Vichy papers, the Dakar story means just one thing—that the Nazi masters are prepared to call on Laval and Petain for another big favor—perhaps the biggest of all.

Want Navy in Fight

If granted, this favor would turn out to be the nearest thing to all-out military collaboration yet attained by the Berlin-Vichy combine.

Germany's purpose is to swing the French navy and colonial army into direct action against the United Nations. This accomplished, the Nazis would graciously and generously offer armed assistance to the French. Signing and sealing the deal as a Franco-German military alliance would follow automatically.

Further evidence of current Nazi pressure along this line is the report that industrial units along rail lines between Lyon, Limoges and St. Etienne in Unoccupied France are threatened with German control.

This does not mean that German soldiers would come in to of the sixth day a light was sighted, well ahead and to the north. They shot up a flare, but there was no excitement. It might just be another star. But for the first time since they first set sail they started their motor again.

They had to get within 500 yards of the light before they were sure.

Then a mighty cheer. It was a neutral ship. When they came along side, most of the men were too weak to climb aboard. They had to be hoisted up the side.

The rescue ship offered warm drinks and brandy. But Lieut. Bailey and his men had a thirst for only one drink that night—water.
