BIG DEAL REPORTED

Acres of Timber Land.

It is reported that Joseph Reinger who recently returned from St. Louis, has closed a big timber deal, which includes the transfer of 12,000 acres of hardwood timber, the sale price being $12.00 per acre. The timber is located in Mackinac county. The purchasers were represented by Attorney Eastman of Marinette. Attorney Gallup and Mr. Reinger are understood to have been the principal owners of the tract. Mr. Gallup is at present in Wyoming, where he and Mr. Reinger are negotiating for Willis Brown and union meetings are the purchase of a sheep ranch. Mr. Gallup is expected back in a few days, and with Mr. Reinger will go later to the state of Washington, where they have extensive timber interests.

A SATISFACTORY MONTH

September Was Good Month at the Public' Library.

With the approach of cooler weather and longer evenings the number of readers has increased at the public library and the interest in reading renewed. In the library report for last month Miss M. B. Hewitt, librarian, POOR FARM NOT BOUGHT says that in many ways September has been one of the most important and wholly satisfactory months in the history of the library. There is better un-derstanding on the part of the constantly increasing number of patrons of how to get the most out of reference books, periodicals, and the knowledge of books in general.

and Sixty or More Are Injured.

Warrensburg, Mo., Oct. 11 .- Twentynine persons were killed and 60 in jured by a collision of Missouri Pacific trains three miles east of Warrensburg at four o'clock Monday morning. The trains were the second section of passenger train No. 30, which left Wichita, Kan., for St. Louis Sunday night and an extra freight train. The dead are in undertaking rooms in this city and most of the wounded are in the railroad hospital in Sedalia, Mo.

The freight train was an extra. Its crew had, according to the story of the conductor of this train, been instructed to take a siding and let the passenger train pass. The first section of the passenger train had gone by when the freight pulled out. The passenger train bore no signal of second section to come. he asserts, and he had no reason to believe that another train was due. The scene of the wreck was on the downgrade, on either side of which there was a steep rise. Both trains had put on extra steam to carry them up the opposite hill, and when they met at the curve at the lowest point they were running at a terrific rate.

The passenger train was made up o three coaches and a Pullman, with no baggage car, the front coach being next to the tender. The freight train was s heavy one. When the trains met the heavy freight train pushed the passenger engine back into the first coach. The tender of the passenger engine literally cut the coach in two in the center and never stopped until it had plowed itself half way through the car and its passengers, killing those in the forward end instantly, and mangling all within reach in a most horrible manner.

Half a dozen who were not killed outright were so terribly injured that they the debris. Many of the dead were almost unrecognizable. Arms and legs were dismembered in several cases and, together with baggage and pieces of wreckage, were tumbled together into a confused mass of bleeding human forms.

President Appoints First Assistant Postmaster General to Fill Vacancy.

Washington, Oct. 11. - President Roosevelt Monday announced the appointment of Robert J. Wynne, acting postmaster general, as postmaster general. How long Mr. Wynne may continue as postmaster general has not been determined. Beyond the statement that the appointment is temporary in character nothing is known The probability is that he will be succeeded by Mr. Cortelyou about January I.

Wynne took the oath of office as postmaster general at four o'clock in the afternoon. It was administered by John J. Howley, chief clerk to the first assistant postmaster general. Mr. Wynne was made first assistant postmaster general in April, 1902. Previous to that time he had been for years one of the best-known newspaper correspondents at the national capital. He served with Gen. A. C. Boynton in the Washington bureau of the old Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, and afterward was correspondent of the New York Press. He is an acknowledged authority on tariff, financial and economic subjects. He has been president of the famous organization of newspaper writers, the Gridiron club, is a member of the Army and Navy club, and a member of the Order of the Loyal Legion by right of inheritance. Mr. Wynne and his wife are prominent in social affairs.

. . MANDAMUS DENIED

Following a long line of immemorial usage and judicial precedent, the Supreme court refused to interfers in the Jennings and White election controversy. It seems to be the policy of the courts not only of Michigan, but throughout the federal union to interfere as little as possible with the determination of political conventions.

It is also highly probable that the court's desire to be as far removed from political factions and political strife as possible, Whenever, therefore, the Courts can find an excuse for refusing to consider the merits of a political controversy, they decide that candidates having a grievance must by the railroads.

No doubt that this policy as a whole is a wise turned home Monday on account of a and a raffle of different articles. one. At the same' time there are many persons who would like to have the interesting point involved in this contest decided once and for all. However, the point is not likely to arrise in this county again as political conventions in the future will probably adopt rules governing the convention as to the number of votes necessary to ballot for candidates.

On the lines of the Michigan Central, Lake Shore, Grand Trunk and Wabash railways there are 755 miles of road in Michigan upon which the rate of passenger fare has been reduced from three cents per mile to two cents, under republican laws and republican administration; and on the Grand goods. Trunk, the Michigan Central and the Grand Rapids & Indiana there are 376 miles more over which the rate has been reduced to two and one-half cents. For every passenger who rides over those miles there is thus a saving in cost of transportation of $9,43. At the same time the taxes assessed upon the railroad properties of the state have been more than doubled by recent legislation; and yet they do so. In adopting this policy they practically say that republican policy in Michigan is directed

> Up to very recently the Russian spies always used to play the part of an itinerant mechanic. Now, however, they have commenced to take advantage of the sympathy of the Norsemen for the Armenians.

A correspondent of the Nidaros, one of the leading papers of Trondhjem, Armenians were caught "red handed." He writes under a recent date from Vesteraalen, one of the counties on the western coast of the northern part of

"Once again some of the so-called 'Armenians' have traveled in these parts of the country. It was, by the way. the very same persons who this spring appeared in Skibotten and created quite a stir up there. It is now proved that they are Russian spies, and that their particular field of activity is northern Norway. They remained one night in the house of a fisherman in Lango. Late in the night-the fisherman heard low talk in the room of the strangers. As his suspicion already was aroused he crept up a ladder standing outside the house and looked through the window of the garret room which the strangers

"He saw one of the men absorbed in the study of some maps, while the other one was busy washing the 'Armenian' complexion off his face. When the strangers discovered the face of the fisherman outside of the window they immediately bundled up their few belongings. The man with the maps concealed them in his hollow walking cane, and away they went.

"The next morning the fisherman found on the floor of the room which the strangers had occupied a card. This card the fisherman showed to the cordent of the Nidaros, and on it was printed 'Alexis von Korelsky, Lieutenant.' The name of the regiment was erased. The 'Armenians' have not been seen in these regions since."

SUNBONNET BECOMES FAD.

Society Women Creates a Sensation at Newport with Her Costume in the Tennis Courts.

A sunbonnet and shirt skirt with waist, is the latest wall ing costume for young married women at Newport, Mrs. Lawrence Waterbury schieved distinction by the innovation. She seemed immensely pleased with the sensation her appearance created.
"Who is the little dear?" chirped Harry Lehr, when he saw a dainty vision in white enter the tennis courts at the Casino. When he caught a glimpse of the face beneath the sumbonnet, he hurried over to congratulate Mrs. Water-

"The most daring and picturesque stunt of the season," he smid, and from Lehr that was a compliment.

Mrs. Waterbury is just above medium height. The effect of her white skirt was startling. It would be six inches above her shoe tops had she worn shoes, but her dainty feet were encased in white canvas ties. Her stockings of white slik same into view generously. The skirt material was of white canvas and her shirt waist a flimsy silk peek-aboo. About her laughing face hung the truffled edges of a sunbonnet of thin white linen. If her hair had been worn in curis Mrs. Waterbury would have passed for a girl of 16.

Following a long line of immemorial usage and judicial precedent, the Supreme court refused to interlers in the Jennings and White election controversy. It seems to be the policy of the courts not only of Michigan, but throughout the federal union to interfere as little as possible with the determination of political conventions.

It is also highly probable that the court's desire to be as far removed from political factions and political strife as possible. Whenever, theredecide that candidates having a grievance must by the railroads.

No doubt that this policy as a whole is a wise one. At the same time there are many persons who would like to have the interesting point involved in this contest decided once and for all. However, the point is not likely to arrise in this county again as politital conventions in the future will probably adopt rules governing the conven- Co. ion as to the number of votes necessary to hallot for candidates.

On the lines of the Michigan Central, Lake Shore, Grand Trunk and Wabash railways there are 755 miles of road in Michigan upon which the rate of passenger fare has been reduced from three ents per mile to two cents, under republican laws her store and has a fine new stock of and republican administration; and on the Grand goods. Trunk, the Michigan Central and the Grand Rapids & Indiana there are 376 miles more over which the rate has been reduced to two and one-half cents. For every passenger who rides over those miles there is thus a saving in cost of transportation of $9.43. At the same time the taxes assessed upon fore, the Courts can find an excuse for refusing to the railroad properties of the state have been more consider the merits of a political controversy, they than doubled by recent legislation; and yet they do so. SUNBONNET BECOMES FAD.

Society Women Creates a Sensation at Newport with Her Costume in the Tennis Courts.

A sunbonnet and shirt skirt with waist, is the latest wall ing costume for young married women at Newport. Mrs. Lawrence Waterbury achieved distinction by the innovation. She seemed immensely pleased with the sensation her appearance created.

"Who is the little de m?" chirped Harry Lehr, when he saw a dainty vision in white enter the tennis courts at the Casino. When he caught a glimpse of the face beneath the sumbonnet, he hurried over to congratulate Mrs. Water-

"The most daring and picturesque stunt of the season," he smid, and from Lehr that was a compliment.

Mrs. Waterbury is just above medium height. The effect of her white skirt was startling. It would be six inches above her shoe tops had she worn shoes, but her dainty feet were encased in white canvas ties. Her stockings of white silk same into view generously. The skirt material was of white canvas and her shirt waist a flimsy silk peek-aboo. About her laughing face hung the truffled edges of a sunbonnet of thin white linen. If her hair had been worn in curls Mrs. Waterbury would have passed for a girl of 16.

OLD TOMBSTONES IN WALLS

Unearthed in Vienna Bearing Ancient Jewish Inscriptions - To Decorate Royal Library.

A most interesting discovery has been male in Jewish gravestones in the foundations of the Hofburg, the emperor's Vienna residence. Certain alterations have been made in the great imperial kitchens, which are below the chapel, and the gravestones had been utilized in building the walls.

They are 21 in number, and, as far as it has been possible to judge from the Hebrew inscriptions they bear, must be at least 800 years old. Some refer to women-for instance Zipora, the wife of the Rabbi David.

Obviously part of the Hofburg must rest on an ancient Jewish cemetery. The stones will be set up in the imperial library.

The sale has been decided upon by the executors and trustees of the Horatio N. Stater estate. Mr. Stater was a milproperty and cutting up his own into ing steel about 15 years ago. B. A. Wakefield, a civil engineer of Webster, has been surveying, with a number of assistants, so as to establish the boundary lines of the various bits | quiring softness. of property. The sale itself will be held in October on a date which has yet to be determined.

With a population of $00 the village is one of the fiveliest of its size in the state. It has telephone and telegraph connections, electric street lights-some features which are not to be found in towns five times its size. It is on the main line of the Worcester-Providence division of the New Haven & Hartford railroad.

The church is Episcopal in denomination, and the pastor, the Rev. Samuel Hodgkiss, finds his flock fucreasing rather than diminishing as the years go When a correspondent visited the town recently the ladies of the church were making extensive preparations for a lawn party.

In the general store, which also includes the post office, can be found anything from a paper of pins to a mowing machine, to say nothing of candy, cigars, tobacco, meats, groceries, clothing, etc. The owner, S. H. Arnold, is the village postmaster, telephone operator, and general information bureau. He told the reporter that there isn't such a mint of money in the store business, but he manages, he says, to keep tabs on the bulls and bears of Wall street in such a manner as to pull out several dollars to the best of the stock game every week. He has a method all his own of playing stocks, and says he has been a constant winner, so doesn't care if the town is sold.

With the exception of the mills every building in the town is occupied. The cotton for years, being closed only upon the death of their owner.

The mill buildings, mostly of heaviest stone, are all in good repair, and, all almost incredible." there is a big reservoir and ample water "Micro-organisms," said a power, the property would seem like a desirable investment. In addition to the water power plant, there is a big in the respiratory passages and the steam power plant, which can be used mouth. They remain there so long an during the dry seasons as an auxiliary

When the mills closed a few years ago, contrary to the usual course c things, the residents, mostly mill hands, found positions in some of the other mills within a few miles and retained their residence in Wilkinsonville, riding to and from their work in either the electric or steam cars. To-day it is impossible to rent a tenement in the town at any price.

Therefore, powerful searchlights were successfully used to-disclose the movements of the enemy. Old-fashloned black powder was used to create a curtain concealing the army's advance.

Capt. T. Bentley Mott, the American military attache, and other foreign attaches speak in the highest terms of the efficiency of the French troops.

Ganz and Chase had worked for years on the problem before either found out what the other was doing. When they did learn this they promptly decided to combine and work together.

That the chemists have at length succeeded is now known. Their method has not been made known, but they have found a way to cast steel that is hard on the outer side and soft on the inner side. It is known that this is done by the use of certain sands, but the composition and the proportions of these sands are held a strict secret.

CERMS FROM SPELLBINDERS

British Scientists Declare Loud Speakers Scatter Millions of Germs Through Atmosphere.

A new terror has been added to the public life of the average politician who finds the effort of addressing his constituents a tiresome performance. Now it is learned on no less an authority than that of the medical department of the London government board that he may not only bore himself and his audience but that he may prove the medium of disseminating infection.

"As the outcome of varied and repeated experiments," says Dr. Mersyn Gordon, of the local government board, "it has been well substantiated that not only in the act of coughing and sneezing, but also in the act of loud speaking, fine droplets of mucus are sprayed from the mouth to the mills were used for the manufacture of air, that they float in the air, and that they may be wafted by air currents such as obtain in ordinary rooms to a distance that appears at first sight on through the list.

Novelist Prophesies Society Will Soon Sanction Weddings for Stated Periods.

Marriages for 40 years, 40 hours or 40 minutes, at the option of the contracting parties, will be the rule in the near future, according to George Meredith, the English novelist. Such alliances will be legalized under the lightened order of things social. When this era dawns the state will enforce a provision of money for the educa-

In his interview Mr. Meredith welcomes a free discussion of the subject, though, as he confesses, "everycut in half." He adds:

There will by an awful uproar before such a change can be made. It will be a great shock, but look back and see what shocks there have been and what changes have nevertheless occurred in the marriage business in the past."

Mr. Meredith forsees great difficulty in English conservatism, notably revealed in criticism of America, "Indicating the Englishman's persistency in regarding any new trait as a sign of disease. Yet it is a sign of health, and I am very glad if any words of mine can help air the subject."

THE POPE'S PHYSICIAN ENDORSES AN AMERICAN REMEDY.

Dr. Lapponi Uses Dr. Williams' Pink Pills In His Practice Because Results Meet His Expectations.

Dr. Lapponi, the famous physician to the Vaticau, whose name has recently come so greatly to the front on account of his unremitting attention to His Holiness, the late Pope Leo XIII, and the high esteem and confidence with which he is regarded by the present Pope, His Holiness Pius X, is a man of commanding genius. He is more than a mere man of science; he is a man of original and independent mixd. Unmedical profession and having used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People in his practice with good results, he freely avows the facts and endorses the valu of this remedy with an authority which no one will venture to question.

Dr. Lapponl's Letter. "I certify that I have used Dr. Williams." Pink Pills in four cases of the simple anæmia of development. After a few weeks of treatment, the result came fully up to my expectations. For that reason I shall not fail in the future to extend the use of this laudable preparation not only in the treatment of other forms of the category of anemia or forms of the category of anæmia or chlorosis, but also in cases of neuras-thenia and the like."

(Sigued) Giuseppe Lapport, Via dei Gracchi 332, Rome.

The "simple anæmia of development," referred to by Dr. Lapponi, is of course, that tired, languid condition of young girls, whose development to womanhood is tardy and whose health, at that period, is so often imperiled. His opinion of the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People at that time is of the highest scientific authority, and it con-firms the many published cases in which ansemia and other diseases of the blood, as well as nervous diseases such as nervous prostration, neuralgia, St. Vitus' dance, paralysis and locomotor ataxia have been cured by these pills. They are commended to the public for their efficiency in making new blood and strengthening weak nerves. After such an endorsement they will be accepted by the medical and scientific world at their full value.

JAPANESE LINE IS BROKEN

ATTACKED BY RUSSIANS AND RIGHT FLANK TURNED.

Driven from Town of Bentsiaputre-Kuropatkin Announces Forward Movement.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 10.-Gen. Kuropatkin's order of the day announcing his determination to take the offensive is supplemented by the news that an offensive movement has already been begun and that the Japanese line has been broken at Bentslaputze. The Japanese occupied a front of about 52 miles, stretching from Bentsiaputze on the cast through Yental and across the railway to the banks of the Hun river on the west. The Russian force had been moving south in close touch with the Japanese advance since October 4. The Japanese outposts were driven back in a series of skirmishes, and on October 6 the Russians reoccupied the station of Shakhe, 15 miles south of Mukden, the railway battalion restoring the bridge across the Shakhe river the next day in order to facilitate the advance. Meanwhile Gen. Mistchenko's Cossacks pushed southwestward as far as the Yental mines, defeating the Japanese in a zeries of warm skirmishes.

Heavy Blow to Jap Right.

The most important action, however, occurred on the Japanese right at Bentsiaputze. Here the Japanese held a strong and important position, but it seems they made the inexplicable omission to fortify a commanding hill which was the key to the whole situation. A portion of Gen. Kuropatkin's force made strong attack on Bentslaputze and, taking a leaf out of the Japanese book, occupied the hill from the east and flanked the Japanese out of the town. causing a serious loss in a rear guard fight. The Russian casualties are reported to have been inconsiderable.

While it is understood that Mukden is not heavily fortified, Gen. Kuropatkin has a powerful force behind him, strongly posted at Tie pass; and if, as be asserts, the Russians are now powerful enough to assume the offensive, it is possible his advance movement will force the Japanese flanking column to withdraw in order to protect their own base.

Kuropatkin Orders Advance.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 10 .- Gen. Kuropatkin has issued a stirring address to his army, in which he asserts that the Russians have a force numerically superior to that of the Japanese, declares that the time has come for a forward movement, and predicts a telling victory for his soldiers.

In his address Gen. Kuropatkin says there will be no more retreats, that the army is strong enough numerically at last to defeat the combined armies under Oyama and that it is going forward to victory and ultimately to the relief of Port Arthur.

Price of Victory Will Be Heavy.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 10.—The news of only a few days ahead. Advices from Gen. Kuropatkin's southern movement the front are meager. All that is posis greeted by the press of St. Petersburg with deep thankfulness and an Kuropatkin has cast the die at last,

WATSON WRITES LETTER.

Accepts Nomination Tendered by People's Party—Synopsis of the Document.

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 11.-Thomas E. Watson's letter formally accepting the populist nomination for president was made public Sunday. The letter, which is addressed to Samuel W. Williams, chairman of the committee on notification, is about 12,500 words long.

The fetter opens with a lament by Mr. Watson over the tendency of humanity to submit to the domination of few, who use their power for oppression. Passing from historical examples to the condition of things now in the United States, he finds "symptoms which always have characterized the diseased nation when afflicted by class legislation." The corporations, according to Mr. Watson, now rule the land and the people.

The only hope for the "middle and lower classes," as Mr. Watson terms them, he sees is the rise and growth to success of a third party, not subject to corporation domination. Constructively, he proposes a national board of arbitration to pass upon disputes between capital and labor, the adoption of the initiative and referendum for the making of federal laws and the ownership of public utilities.

The question of class legislation was discussed, the national banking and transportation systems being held up as shining examples in this respect. The inevitable outgrowth of these systems, he declared, was the building up of colessal fortunes at the expense of the turning point in the campaign. the people.

Attacking the gold standard, the can-didate says: "The gold standard is not 'irrevocably fixed," because it is unscientific and wrong. Nothing is more certain than that the people of this country will continue their struggle until they have a national currency which the money power cannot control, and which answers the purpose of perfecting exchanges without becoming an armory from which the buccaneers of modern finance draw the irresistable weapons with which they attack values and raid the markets."

William Jennings Bryan, Mr. Watson declares, was a leader like Jefferson, Jackson and Stephen A. Douglas, and he cries out: "Would to God that Mr. Bryan were with me in this, the second than the past. We are going to vicbattle! Together we could have whipped tory, but must be prepared to pay a the fight in 1896, but the southern democratic bosses would not have it so."

Mr. Watson closes his letter with the charge that if men who deem him to be right fail to vote for him they are "moral cowards." He therefore relied upon all who love their country and care to see its sacred institutions preserved to cast their vote for him as the representative of the only party pledged to carry out the will of the people of the nation.

FREE MEDICAL ADVICE TO YOUNG GIRLS. All young girls at this period of life are earnestly invited to write Mrs. Pinkham for advice; she has guided in a motherly way hundreds of young women; her advice is freely and cheerfully given, and her address is Lynn, Mass.

Judging from the letters she is receiving from so many young girls Mrs. Pinkham believes that our girls are often pushed altogether too near the limit of their endurance nowadays in our public schools and seminaries.

Nothing is allowed to interfere with studies, the girl must be pushed to the front and graduated with honor; often physical collapse follows, and it takes years to recover the lost vitality,—often it is never recovered.

After Eugene Field's return from his first trip to Europe, where he "spent his patrimony like a prince," and before he went to Denver, he had a little close personal experience with hard times. One day he walked into a leading St. Louis hotel, and, squaring himself before the register, inscribed his name in his well-known copperplate chirography. The clerk had never heard of him, but he read the name with a quick glance, and said: "Do you wish a room, Mr. Field?" "No," was the answer. "Dinner?" "No." "Then may I ask what you do what?" continued the clerk. "I just wanted to arrive," replied Field, solemnly; "I had not arrived at a good hotel for many months. I feel better. Thank you," and he stalked out with long, heavy strides.—San Francisco Argonaut.

Contract Signed for New Ship to Be Used by His Expedition-Expects to Start Next Summer-More Money Is Needed.

The American Geographical society, at whose house in New York city the eighth international geographical con-gress was held recently, gave a dinner to its foreign guests one night during the congress, at which R. E. Peary, the aretic explorer, announced that he would make another try for the pole.

"I have the pleasure of saying to you that the contract for my new arctic ship has been signed and that the keel is being laid now," he announced.

"This does not mean that I have all the money necessary, but it does mean that I have from now until the 1st of next July in which to secure the additional funds to fit out and equip the ship, and I do not believe that my countrymen will permit the expedition to fail for a lack of necessary additional money.

"A word or two in regard to the ship. She will, I believe, be the ablest ship that ever pointed her nose inside the arctic or antarctic circle. She will possess such shape as will enable her to rise to the pressure of the ice floes and escape destruction.

"In maximum dimensions, length over ail, breadth of beam and draft, this ship will be of the size of the British antarctic ship Discovery; in displacepower she will compare with our largest ocean-going tugs. She will have engines capable of developing 1,000 indicated horse power continuously and 1,500 horse power for a limited time.

"What I require, is not a sailing ship with weak auxiliary engines capable of remaining out for a number of years and covering long distances at slow speed. with moderate consumption of coal.

"My requirements are a powerful steamer, capable of forcing her way through this comparatively short disc tance and demanding only a minimum amount of sall power to enable her to creep home in case all her coal is burned -that is what I propose to build.

"My plan is to force this ship to the north shore of Grant Land, taking on board at Whale sound the pick and flower of the Eskimo, with whom I have worked and lived so long; to go into winter quarters on that shore and to start with the earliest returning light on for Menominee's advertisement. the sledge journey across the central polar pack, utilizing these Eskimo, the people whose heritage is life and work in that very region, entirely for the rank and file of my party.

The pumpkins came along with the waters and seeds were scattered everywhere.

With the arrival of spring pumpkin vines sprang up all over and in the most inconceivable places. Now the town is yellow with them. The alarm is being raised in Germany against the freak of fashion which has decided that ladies' hats shall be trimmed this winter with the fur of the mole. It is calculated that the skins of at least 20 moles are required for each hat so trimmed, and one Berlin firm alone has given an order for 100,000 skins.

The consequence is that the commercial value of the mole has increased enormously and he is being trapped

The loss of all these moles will very soon have a most serious effect, for the deleterious insects, worms and larvae on which they live will now increase freely to the detriment of the crops.

The agricultural societies are taking every opportunity of explaining to farmers and peasant proprietors the great usefulness of the mole, and are doing their utmost to stop the wholesale massacre of such a valuable creature for so frivolous a purpose.

been added to the business department. In a very close and hard fought game the second team of the E. H. S. defeated the St. Joseph's high school team by a score of 56 to 0 last Saturday at South park. Many members of the second team showed up in very good form and in another year will be desirable championship material. Hodson at quarter was by far the most aggressive man on the team, and Ray Sullivan in assisting the man with the ball after he had been tackled was especially commendable. Manager John McCourt of the second team has written to Manistique for a gime, and negotiations are now under way. The team is out every night under the direction of Coach McCourt who is drilling the men in fine order. Every night they test the "Varsity" and take the hard knocks in a true and sportsman-like manner.

THE BIG MINSTREL SHOW

Gus Sun's Minstrels Play Here Monday Night.

Gus Sun, the well known minstrel magnate and his superb company of burnt cork artists are scheduled to appear at Peterson's opera house, Oct. 17th. The company this season is without question the finest organization of its kind in the minstrel world. There is nothing with the show that is old except the name. Every feature, song, dance or act is new and ahead of the times. The program is the most complete and superb ever offered by a minstrel company. Among a few of the prominent features we mention Chas. W. Milton, the Mansfield of minstrelsy. Crawford and Finning in their great musical act. Especial mention should be made of the eccentric dancing of Elliot & West, who showed the patrons of shows what was needed to convulse an audience with laughter. Without a doubt the Great Kylers' high wirecycle act defies the laws of gravitation and is really marvelous; Bros Spaulding, Parisian novelty artists, the only act of its kind in the world; the singing contingent; Ed. Rice, basso; James. Bardi, robusto tenor; Clarence Stonacher, baritone; and an exceptionally strong chorus. The scenery is a new deparsure entitled "A City of Splendor," resplendent with electrical and mechanidew-bedecked flowers thousands of mellow lights and flashed upon the gorgeous scene. The costumes are of the most elaborate of silks, satins and laces. The parade, which will occur at ncon, is the neatest and best dressed in the history of minstrelsy.
