NO STRIKE HERE

Tie-up on Lower Lake Ports has Seri-, ously Affected Business at Local Docks.

As a result of the Longshoremen's strike on the lower lake ports a number of dock workers on the North-Western docks and the St. Paul dock have been laid off. Seventy-five were laid off by the North-Western road and twenty by the St. Paul.

Business has been good at the local docks up to the present time but the complete tie-up at the lower lake ports is seriously affecting the shipping business here.

How long the strike will last or how serious it will become are purely matters of speculation. In Escanaba the tie-up means more than lack of employment for the dock workers alone. It means a lay off for the train crews used to bring the ore from the mines and other employees whose labor depends on the shipping business.

Man Found Dead

The body of Mike Macomovitch was found Thursday morning near the back door of Mr. Butler's residence at 625 Stephenson Ave. Mr. Butler had been awakened the night previous by someone who seemed to be trying to get into the house and upon going out, discovered Macomovith at the back of the house. He was obliged to order the man away

WEEK SHOW COMING

The Howard Dorset Company Will be at the Peterson Next Week.

The Howard-Dorset company, a re-pertory organization combining all the elements necessary to meet the de-mands of the modern amusement line will make the first visit to Escanaba begining a week's engagement on Monday May 7th.

George B. Howard the leading comedian of the company stands alone is the repertory field, playing with his own company many larger cities of the South where no other stock company has ever been able to get a single week, and receiving a larger salary for the summer season at Sioux City, Iowa, under the managemant of the Traction company, than any other comedian for a ten week's engagement. This is the sixth consecutive season of twelve weeks at Riverside Park, Sioux City, Ia., the most fashionable resort in the state of Iowa, and possibly in the middle West, Howard is the only man who has ever been able to make more than one season there. A fine line of high class comedies will be given here during the week, opening with "A Trip to Bombay" by Henry Arthur Jones.

Off on Vacation

The Rev. P. B. Ferris, of the First. Presbyterian church left Tuesday night for his home at Cincinnati to spend a month's vacation. During his absence the pulpit will be filled by the Rev. Herbert A. mary election law which was enacted by the Michigan legislature last year, petitions must be signed by 20 per cent of the enrolled voters asking that the question be submitted to the people on the second Tuesday in June,

This is the second step toward adopting the new law. The first step was taken when an enrollment of the voters was taken at the April election. If 20,per cent of the enrolled voters sign the petitions then the question of adopting the new law will be presented to the voters on the second Tuesday in June.

If the petitions do not receive the signatures of 20 per cent of the enrolled voters then the proposition will not be submitted to the people and primary reform in Delta county will be lost by default.

What Primary Reform Means

The adoption of the new primary law will mean the nomination of candidates by a direct vote of the people.

There will be no more electing of delegates to meet in convention and trade your votes to suit themselves. The new law gives the people a chance to name their candidates directly. It is similar to the law which Governor Lafollett secured after a long fight.

Now, it's squarely up to the voters of this county either to have this law or not to have it. It's not the duty of any official to circulate these petitions; this is something the voters themselves must look after.

Blank petitions will be circulated in the wards and townships. If none appear then apply to the county clerk, who will furnish the necessary blanks. Remember these petitions must be signed before the 10th of May.

THE 'FRISCO DISASTER.

An era of hope and good feeling has taken possession of San Francisco. Order has been brought out of chaos almost like magic, and naught but optimism prevails. Old antmosities have and main for the upbuilding of a greater San Francisco.

"Congress never intended that its appropriation of $2,500,000 should be expended by the city of San Francisco," said Acting Secretary of War Ollver. The money, according to the resolution of congress, he said, was to be expended by the war department to reimburse that department for the rations, tents, blankets, etc., belonging to the army which were rushed to San Francisco, and also to purchase other relief stores.

The war department gave out a series of telegrams from Gov. Pardee, of California, and Gen. Greeley, commanding the federal troops in San Francisco, the intention being to quiet any rumors of clashes between the state and federal authorities. The governor asks that federal troops be not withdrawn.

San Francisco was shaken by a new earthquake, which toppled over walls of ruins in the burned district and did some damage to frail houses, causing much terror and one more death.

There is a wide discrepancy in the figures reckoning the number of dead at San Francisco. Coroner Walsh estimates the total casualties at 1,000. But Gen. A. W. Greeley, now in charge of the federal troops, has officially stated to the war department at Washington that the total dead is 277.

"You think he loves me, Katti?" "Of course he loves you, Princess." "But why should he love me, Katti?" "Because you are so good, Princess." The Princess paused, and smiled a sad smile, and then:

"I suppose it will be rather an advantage for him to marry me. It will be what people would call a good match for him, Katti, won't it?"

Katti's blun eyes opened in amazement.

"A good match for him? Yes, and a great match. Is not that what all in such burning words as those. the newspapers are saying-what all the world is saying? You, the daughter of the greatest of the emperors, and he only a Prince in exile, turned out of his miserable kingdom in the Balkans, a soldier of fortune, an adventurer without lands or lleges."

The Princess was by no means sure that he loved her, though she had his word for it. He had courted her, indeed, to begin with, with all a soldier's dashing gallantry, and her heart had yielded readily to the assault. But she knew that the gallantry of soldiers is superficial, and her looking glass told her that she was very plain and insignificant, and she wanted to be very sure of him, and she was not sure.

And of late, in a scandalous paper that had come, by accident, into her hands, she had read a strange scandal about her lover's way of life.

The Princess questioned Katti about the scandal to which she had read dark references in the scandalous newspaper. "A more play actress. A minx! A hussy!" cried Katti. "There is no room for jealousy of such a thing as that; there is room only for pity and contempt. A princess can only ignore such creatures, can only behave as though she did not know that they existed."

ONE SUIT NOW IN COURT.

Jentral Seeks Damages for Repeal of Company's Special Charter-Attorney General Makes Important Decision.

Lansing .- The board of state auditors, at the request of the attorney general's department, has ascertained the expense to which the state has been put. in trying the law suits which have grown out of the repeal of the special railway charters and the enactment of the present ad valorem law for the taxation of railroad properties. The total expense is $169,308.54, The railroad tax cases, which were commenced three years ago and which were recently decided by the United States supreme court in favor of the state, cost $74,-304.93. The Michigan Central charter case, in which the state is being sued for $6,000,000 damages for the repeal of the company's special charter, has cost to date $71,405.61. Inasmuch as the state is defendant in this case it has not seen fit to hasten the proceedings, but the tax cases were rushed through at a speedy hearing upon motion of the attorney general. A great deal of work has been necessary in preparing for the trial of the charter case and a force of clerks at Jackson and Detroit has been employed in collecting the facts for more than two years. While the state's attorneys expect to defeat the company on the law questions involved, they feel that it would be unwise to neglect the fact upon which they may have to proceed to trial.

Friday she entertained the delegation from Michigan, at luncheon. The presideut general of the national society, Mrs. Donald McLean, also was one of the guests. The others were Mrs. W. J. Suggestion for School Officials. "State officials are worrying because over 1,500 school districts in Michigan receive more money from the primary school fund and the one mill tax than is required for teachers' salaries," says Robert Oakman, former tax commissloner. "I believe this trouble may be overcome by a simple change in the statutory law. The constitution does not restrict the use of railroad taxes to the payment of teachers' salaries. That provision is simply statutory. The use of the mill tax for that purpose is not a constitutional provision, either, and both may be repealed by a majority vote of the legislature. In many districts where the primary fund and the mill tax equal or exceed the teachers' wages, we find that the teachers receive a beggarly reward for their services, and that the school houses are unfit to give shelter and convenience for our Michigan school children. I would like to see the law changed so as to give the superintendent of public instruction power to consolidate or rearrange the school districts in certain cases, and compel the local authorities to provide suitable houses and to fix a minimum rate of wages for the teacher."

New Point in Railroad Cases. The Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railroad company has raised a point in connection with the penalty on its taxes of 1902, which, if established, will apply to all other roads for the taxes of that year. Auditor General Bradley had the interest computed from April 1 of the following year as the time when those taxes became delinquent, but the company contends that the interest should begin two months later, owing to the fact that the Detroit school board's litigation caused the state board of assessors to reconvene and determine a new rate, and that notice of the taxes as later fixed was not given the company until the latter part of May. The Lake Shore, however, paid its taxes and penalties for 1903 and 1904, those of 1905 having previously been sent in. Taxes for 1903 were $253,575.22, and for 1904, $221,750.96. Other receipts of taxes and penalties were: Ann Arbor, $58,817.80; Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, $60,916.10; Cincinnati Northern, $10,266.47; Delray Connecting Railroad company, $2,610.61.

IONS FOR HOMELESS PEOPLE. Bide-Tracking of Generous Aid Voted

by Congress, Places City in Embarrassing Position.

San Francisco.-A feeling akin to consternation was created at the meeting of the geperal municipal mmittee Monday when Mayor gregate $3,750,000. Schmitz stated that the city faced a shortage in the food supply. It had been the popular belief, and that of many officials also, that San Francisco, through the generous aid of the nation, had been placed in a position above want for a long time to come, and the mayor's declaration came in' the nature of a painful surprise.

Monday the plan of Gen. Greeley for distributing food to people in want was commenced in a number of the newly created districts, and there was some diminution noticeable in the output of goods.

An unfortunate happening was the destruction of a number of homes in the saved section on Van Ness avenue. The blasting gang was notified that certain insecure walls were a menace to pedestrians and, in order to blow up an unusually solidly constructed facade, was obliged to use a large quantity of dynamite. As a result of the tremendous explosion four houses on the other side of the city's broadest thoroughfare were utterly wrecked.

Signs of renewal of industrial activity were apparent in many parts of the burned districts, and the work of clearing away debris preparatory to rebuilding was in progress in a score of places. It was said that plans for over 30 large buildings have been drawn, and will be submitted to the authorities after the new building laws are promulgated.

The mayor notified the board of supervisors that he would appoint a committee consisting of engineers, architects, builders and lawyers to prepare plans for laying out streets and boulevards and reconstructing San Francisco.

Nominating Petitions Invalid.

Michigan.

In Clinton county petitions have been circulated for the nomination of a candidate for representative on the Republican ticket, and the attorney general's department was asked whether nominating petitions circulated at this time under the new primary law are valid. The attorney general holds that nominating petitions, except for the offices of governor and lieutenant governor, will not be valid if signed before the primary election on June 12. He says that in signing the petitions prior to June 12 the enrolled voters are requesting that a condidate's name be placed on the ballot before it can be determined whether the law authorizing such ballot will be in force. It is asked "How is it possible to comply with the requirements of an act of the legislature before such act becomes operative?" It is understood that in many localities candidates for legislative and county offices have already been circulating petitions among the enrolled voters. Petitions of this character, under the decision of the attorney general, will be declared invalid as it will not be known until June 12 whether nominations can be made by the new primary system in counties, legislative and congressional districts. It should be made clear that the opinion of the attorney general does not prevent the circulating of petitions for the nomination of governor and lleutenant governor, as such nominations are not optional but compulsory.

Costly Blaze at Calumet.

Fire destroyed several buildings on Pine street, Calumet, causing $50,000 loss, and for a time threatened, widespread damage in that section. The blaze started in a barn owned by Wickstrom, Neimi & Co., supposedly from a lighted pipe, and spread with great rapidity. Soon the adjoining structures were enveloped and every fire department available was summoned. Wickstrom, Neimi & Co. are the greatest sufferers, their loss being $20,000, partly insured.

The company paid the state the sum of $777,734.29, which includes the balance of the taxes due for Representative of the Oil Magnate the years 1902, 1903 and 1904, with the accumulated penalties. One other company volunteered payment of its taxes, but without the penalty. The check was held by the auditor general. Several other large railroad companies are expected to pay taxes soon. The railroads may appear successfully to the next legislature to remit the penalties, but the auditor general has no power to accept less than the tax and penalty for which the law provides.

Get . SCOTT'S Emulsion

When you go to a drug store and ask for Scott's Emulsion you know what you want; the man knows you ought to have it. Don't be surprised, though, if you are offered something else. Wines, cordials, extracts, etc., of cod liver oil are plentiful but don't imagine you are getting cod liver oil when you take them. Every year for thirty years we've been increasing the sales of Scott's Emulsion. Why? Because it has always been better than any substitute for it.

And the two, taken in conjunction, have well-nigh ruined both. The serpent taught Adam and Eve to write, after they had, made their marks on a paper that gave him all their seal estate. their real estate.

It is not here insinuated that the government officials in Washington that my statement may be the means of would induce poor Lo to sign bunko papers, but there are many scribes hanging about the reservations who would take advantage of the Indian commissioner's advice to wrong the ignorant savage by writing.

If the government officials really have any regard for the Indian, they will permit him to transact his affairs by word of mouth, according to ancient use. And if any business is to be transacted by mail, let it be that of the white office seekers, who now throng the streets of the capital. This would enable the officers to save more time than they "waste" on the Indian delegations.

Dr. Williama' Pink Pills Restored the Patient to Perfect Health And Strength.

Mrs. Mary Gagner, of No. 576 South, mmmer street, Holyoke, Mass., has Summer street, Holyoke, Mass., has passed through an experience which proves that some of the greatest bless-ings of life may lie within easy reach and yet be found only by mere chance. A few years ago while she was employed in the mills she was suddenly seized with dizziness and great weakness. "I was so weak at times," she says, "that I could hardly stand, and my head be-came so dizzy that it seemed as if the floor was moving around. "My coudition at last became so bad that I was obliged to give up work in the mill, and later still I became so feebly that I could not even attend to me household duties. After the slightest exertion I had to lie down and rest until I regained strength.

I regained strength. "A friend who had used Dr. Williams"

OF HISTORIC INTEREST.

An edict of Charles IX. of France, dated 1563, made it a civil offense to offer any guest more than three courses at one meal. If a fourth appeared, the provider of the feast was liableto a fine of 200 francs; while the guests who partook of it could be called upon to pay the authorities 40 francs each. Here are a few random incidents picked from the edge of the cataclysm: Fillmore street, a third-rate metropolitan artery, has become for the noment the business center of the town. Here, in dinky bakerles, cheap candy stores, tawdry photograph galleries and insignificant lodging nouses, are found all that is left of the greatest business institutions on the Pacific coast. A sawmill that formerly employed 4,000 men has its office in a hall bedroom that used to rent for one dollar a week.' A bakery that employed 300 carts before the fire is operating out of a hand laundry that was run by three women. The largest department store in the west is being resurrected from a soda water stand that has been roughly partitioned, the front 14 by 16 feet space being used for an office. In a rear room of similar ex-

Odd Quarters for City Officials.

You can see the chief of police in San Francisco as easily as you could see the sheriff of the most backwoods county in Arizona. He sits in the window of a corner grocery and as you pass on the sidewalk you glance at his bright face and hear his hearty laugh. The mayor issues his orders from the lodge room of a secret so-clety. The superior court is being held in a Jewish synagogue, while the city and county records are buried in a tomb in the Masonie cemetery.

The newspapers that once occupied the principal skyscrapers in the city are being operated from four little rooms in the same block, no one of which has more than a 30-foot front or a 50-foot depth. On one side of each room you can see the sign "Subscription Department," on the other "Advertising Department," while on each rear wall is hung a rough sign, "Editorial Department."

One Newspaper Office a Bedroom. One of the most fortunate papers, after much maneuvering, has managed to commandeer a second-floor bedroom, the nature of whose previous occupants is attested by the notice still hanging from the chandelier, which reads, "Don't Blow Out the Gas." In this tiny room, around two small tables, is congregated the jour-nalistic talent that formerly conducted a world-famous organ from a suite of

Not Fair Shake; Start Again.

Young men who can swing a small capital to-day will be millionaires in a few years. Millionaires who to-day are walking the streets mourning over their ill-luck will never again be flush. San Francisco, queen city of change, born of the gambling fever bred of the gambling energy, dreamed out of a gambler's visions of wealth and glory, with a fierce and terrible grandeur, has smitten all who loved her and said to the half million who had sworn by her: "It's not a fair shake; start again."

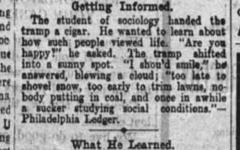

Rescue Insane People.

Many stories of heroism lie buried in the ruins, but some tales that make the heart tingle are slowly filtering through official sources. This is the story of the noble work performed by Mrs. Kane, matron of the Detention hospital, and Policeman John McLean, who was detailed there the night of the great earthquake. The insane patients at the ruined city hall were kept in locked cells, from which only the keys of the stewards could free them, At the hour of dawn on that fatal Wednesday morning, the structure in which the courts were housed was the first to fall. The weight tense nervous energency and the officer the detention hospital, which was 'on the ground floer. Steward Manville was so badly injured by the falling rulns that he died two days later. Mrs. Kane and Policeman McLean, however, managed to rush outside to momentary safety. Both of them are welladvanced in years, but the nurse is a woman of intenso nervous energy and the officer is a man of giant frame. As soon as they reached the open court they were greeted by the terrified shrieks of the insane that pierced through the smoking ruins around. They refused to leave their helpless charges, and both went back into the chaotic debris.

New Buildings Are Planned. The work of rebuilding San Francisco will proceed rapidly. which takes but little room in your eag, should be the next article to find a resting place. Some pins, a spool of thread and some peedles and a few but tons will possibly be found useful, es-pecially where there are children. If one is made ill by the motion of the train a bottle of lavender salts will often relieve the headache. For this surpose it is also well to carry a few salted or other plain crackers, for the lilness is often caused by an empty stomach. The breakfast has possibly been hastily eaten, or prhaps but a cup of coffee has been taken. Toward lunch time one will experience a racking headache. Before the headache be comes established the cuncker should be eaten and the headache will probably disappear. Do not attempt to marry any great amount of money with rou, but place the bulk of it in a chamols bag that may be securely fastened around your neck under the dress. A sufficient sum to meet immediate wants may be carried in the bag. A night dress should certainly be placed in the hand satchel, for trunks have been tnown to go astray .- New York San.
