FIFBRATION GREAT SUCCESS

nner Fourth of July Celebration in This City Went Off Smoothly.

NO ACCIDENTS TO MAR DAY

Perfect Weather Conditions Alded Plans of Committee in Giving Escanaba Best Fourth Ever Arranged Here.

The Fourth of July celebration held in this city without doubt eclipsed any former celebration ever held here. Perfect weather conditions prevailed throughout the day and made possible the carrying out of the complete program upon which the committee had expended so much labor.

The absence of the large cannon cracker, pistol caps and other nerve trying devices was a great relief and the action of the mayor and the city councilin passing the ordinance prohibibiting the sale of these articles is approved by all and hope is expressed that the same action will be taken by the city's governing body in the future.

No accidents which have in the past years accompanied the celebrations in this city, occurred to mar the day.

The grand parade in the forenoon was the largest that has ever been seen upon our streets and extended ever seventeen blocks and is a credit to the enterprise and energy of our business men and citizens.

The patriotic exercises at the park were marked with eloquent addresses and attractive musical numbers and were of especial interest.

The program of sports and games held in the afternoon passed off smoothly. There were a large number of contestants for nearly every event and close and sensational finishes marked nearly all of the contests. In the amatuer events the contestants appeared in track suits and presented a very fine appearance. In one event, the pole vault, the upper peninsula high school record was broken by both Clarence and McEwen at 10 feet. Semer and him. Grenier claimed that the boss Clifford also made good showings in had ordered him to perform some work, this event.

early in the day and by nine o'clock in struck and kicked him. the morning Ludington street was packed with people.

The grand parade was made up of 500 marchers, 65 carriages and floats and nine automobiles. It required 30 minutes for the parade to pass one point on the line of march.

Following were the prize witners of the parade as decided by the committee of judges composed of C. A. Miller, A. J. Henry and A. J. Young:

Largest society, North Star society. Best appearing society, Institut

Jacques Cartier. Best decorated carriage, first prize, Herman Salinskey; second prize, Henry Marchand. Best decorated automobile, first prize, W. R. Smith; second prize J. F. Carey. Best float, first prize, Delta Hardware company; second prize, Groos Brothers. The display in the parade decided upon for honorable mention were Blood

Berry Gum, Loeffler Brothers, John E. Todd and Henry Green. The display of the Delta Hardware company consisted of five seperate and

was more largely represented in the parade than any other firm, having a a total of ten floats and carriages. Their two decorated carriages were especially attractive.

The exercises at the park came at the close of the parade and were attended by nearly three thousand persons. Atty, I. C. Jennings acted as chairman and announced the numbers of the program in their tern. Prayer was offered by the Rev. Frederick Spence of the First Methodist church. "The Star Spangled Banner" was sung by a quartett composed of T. A. Cleary, J. A. Allo, George Wink, Jay Price and William Kennedy, The musical number was followed by the reading of the Declaration of Independance by Atty. F. D. Mead.

The oration of the day was delivered by the Hon. John Pywer, who fully sustained his reputation as a speaker of force and eloquence. The great progress this country has made, the dangers that now confront it in the growing greed for riches, entangling alliances with foreign nations, and the inclination of some of our representatives in foreign courts to to ape the garb of royalty, were among the points dwelt upon by Mr. Power.

The exercises closed with the singing of "America" by the entire audience.

The afternoon program opened with fire run by the two city fire departments. Department No. 2 won the event reaching the given point a couple of seconds ahead of Department No. 1. Following were the winners of the different events of the afternoon pro-

A bicycle race scheduled as the final number of the program of events was called off and a one hundred yard dash for members of the Escanaba Light Guard was substituted, with the members of the guard carrying their guns and in full uniform. The honors in that race went to C. Berrigan.

The celebration closed with a grand display of fireworks at the city park on the bay shore which attracted, it is estimated 10,000 people' to that 'part of the city.

Joseph Wickert, chairman of the committee of arrangements and those who worked with him in arranging the celebration deserve high praise for the way in which the celebration was carried out. Mr. Wickert started out to make the celebration a success and that he succeeded so well is a source of great pleasure to everyone

Rapid River-Escanaba Game Called After Two and One-Half Innings.

Bill Has Passed Senate and Received Signature of President Roosevelt.

NOW SURE

CREDIT DUE TO H. O. YOUNG

New Federal Building Which Will Cost $50,000 Will be Built in Escanaba.

5. 0. The appropriation bill in which a $50,000 federal building for Escanaba was provided has passed the senate and has been signed by President Roosevelt. There is therefore no longer any doubt but that the long expected and hoped for building is now a certainty.

To Congressman H. O. Young should be given the credit for obtaining the new building for Escanaba and his work in this respect is greatly appreciated by the business men and citizens of this city. The securing of the appropriation also comes as a source of great satisfaction to those of our citizens who have worked for the measure from time to time.

The location of the new building has at once become the subject of discussion and will no doubt prove a matter of considerable interest. One other city in the Upper Peninsula was included in the appropriation bill, that city being Sault St. Marie for an appropriation of $100,000 for a federal building.

RAIN SPOILED GAME

After two and one-half innings in which Escanaba scored six runs and shut out Rapid River, in last Sunday's game was called on account of rain. The performance of Rapid River: was marked by numerous errors, some of which were undoubtedly caused by the drizzling rain and other unfavorable conditions. Dunovan and Cole were the battery for Rapid River and Nolden and Aubin for Escanaba.

"Happy Hooligan" Rotten.

"Happy Hooligan" was the bill at the Peterson Opera house last Sunday night and it is putting it mildly to say that the entire cast, with one exception, was "rotten." The piece as originally produced is a musical comedy-and a pretty fair one at that but the small cast that produced the piece Sunday hight in the form of re-hash could not act near as well as school students in an amateur production. The opera house was packed.

EXCURSION TOMORROW

Trip to Washington Island will be Made by Str. Maywood.

The excursion to Washington Island which was planned for last Sunday and which was called off on account of inclement weather, will be held tomorrow and it is expected that the Str. Maywood will take a large number of excursionists to that delightful resort. Washington Island is one of the beauty spots of Green Bay and persons who have never visited this isle should lose no opportunity to do so.

in three acts and is a delightful concoction of fun and frivolity. When seen here last season it scored an emphatic hit with our theatregoers. There are many new and jingling songs added to the long list of musical numbers introduced for the first time this season on any stage, while the comedy element has not been neglected with new material. The company is a large one consisting of prominent stage favorites, including Chauncey L. Southern, Wm. Colton, Frank Dunn, George Fee, Helen McGowan, Jean Darrow, Georgia Haynes, Mabel Hawthorne, Ruby Raymond and others.

All Musicians and Other Who Desire to Become Members of Bandare Urged to Meet at G. A. R. Hall This Evening. . .

A movement is on foot to establish in this city a first class military band.

John J. Sourwine and W. S. Seeger have charge of the oganizing of the new band and have called a meeting tonight at the G. A. R. hall, which all musicians are urged to attend together with beginners who desire instruction to fit themselves for places in the band latter on.

The plan which will be adopted in organizing will be to start out with all the musicians in the city who can take a part and at the same time to organize a class for the instruction of beginners o'clock. who shall, as soon as they are proficient be given places in the band. All young men who desire to take some part in the band should join the class and begin at once to prepare themselves.

By this plan it is hoped that there will be established in this city a permanent band organization of good size. The city is in need of a band and the of our business men and citizens.

AN EXPLODING TORPEDO CUTS THE THROAT OF A YOUNG WOMAN.

THE INHERITANCE TAX.

Things Done and Sald in Various Parts of the State Which Are Briefly Told.

Seriously Injured.

Miss Mary Weisenmeier, aged 24, of Monroe, recently a nurse at St. Vincent's hospital in Toledo, was injured in a peculiar manner in that city. She had escorted a patient to the car when an explosion, presumably a torpedo, was caused by the wheels of a car. A bit of flying iron struck Miss Weisenmeler, cutting her throat and penetrating downward toward the lungs. Her condition is serious.

Miss Weisenmeier is the support of an invalid father. She studied evenings to be a nurse while clerking in stores in Detroit and Monroe.

Judge Miner's Ruling.

The attorney general's department, by the decision rendered by Judge Miner at Howell, has established the fact that the inheritance tax law applies to mortgages and contracts representing interest in property in this state, even though the owner was a resident of another state. The decision was in the case of the estate of Hosea Rogers, of New York, who had mortgages and contracts on Livingston county lands of the value of $170,-

Judge Miner held that the apparent intent of the inheritance tax law was to tax every such transfer of property within this state, and as ancillary adminstration of an estate requires the ald of the state's own laws, this was a just position to take. The peculiar circumstances are that the Roger mortgages and contracts were the identical ones concerning which it was held that the general tax law does not apply to credits owned by non-residents,

It Happened All Right. Clarence Hoverter, a traveling preacher, was exhorting a crowd to flee from the city as they would from San Francisco during an earthquake, because, he said, something surely would happen because of the sin in Adrian, when he was struck with many eggs thrown by the crowd. A policeman escorted him to his stopping place. Sunday night he arraigned churches and secret organizations and was also a target for eggs, but did not take warning.

Passed the Century Mark.

Mrs. Elizabeth Dunbar, the oldest person in Ottawa county, died Monday evening at the county infirmary, aged 108 years. She was born in Antrim county, north of Ireland, and came to America to live with her daughter in Adrian 20 years ago. She retained her faculties until her final illness and often spoke of times in Ireland nearly a hundred years ago. When a girl of 15 years old she witnessed the battle of Ballynahinch in County Down, Ireland. Until the very last the old woman spent the days in her chair, her only comfort being a clay pipe, which she smoked incessantly,

Search For Parents.

Fred. Deland, aged 24, is in Kalamazoo seeking information as to-his father. His parents separated when he was 2 years old and he was sent to the state school at Coldwater. He was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. George Jessup, near Danville, and until he was 12 years old he supposed they were his parents. Learning the truth, he resolved to find his own parents and ran away, working on the lakes and fh Toledo until 1901, when he went to the Philippines in Uncle Sam's uniform. He recently learned of an aunt in Kalamazoo, who tells him that his father now lives in Alberta, N. W. T.

Might Have Been Saved.

Minnie Morse, aged 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Morse, of Flint, was drowned in Thread creek, The girl, in company with her brother, aged 8, was fishing off the brick wall of a mill destroyed by fire a number of years ago, and Minnie fell into the abandoned wheel pit. The cries of her brother were not heeded, people thinking he was joking.

Strangled to Death. Leonard Smith, aged 57, a retired farmer, was found dead in his son's barn near his own, residence in Hastings. He had been dead several hours. He had tied a rope about his neck and around a beam, and had lain down on the hay and strangled to death in a nearly horizontal position. Brooding over domestic matters for some time is the alleged cause for the suicide.

A Political Joke.

Paul Faraci, an Italian applying for citizenship papers, nonplussed Democratic Justice Parkinson, of Jackson, as the latter was trying to explain the question of anarchy, and asked if Faraci believed in killing public officers.

"Oh, no," said the surprised Italian; 'me no killa nobody; me a Republican." Under the lead of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co., Alger county has adopted the county road system and voted to raise $100,000. John Mar, a Chinaman who attempted to enter Detroit from Windsor, has been ordered deported.

Dee Cole, an Ionia boy, has been missing since the 22d and the county has been searched for days. A cruel bridge.

THE ICE TRUST.

Pere Marquette Is Alleged to Be the Chief of Toledo Ice Kings.

Developments come thick and fast in the ice trust cases. Attorneys for H. P. Breining have filed a petition, in which Breining makes the statement that he bought his ice from C. L. Wagner, of Sandusky, and says that Wagner doubled the price on him.

The feature of which the prosecutor took great cognizance was the statement that Wagner, of Sandusky, was implicated in this trust, as he is alleged to be in the Cleveland trust. Prior to the statement of Breining, Pe ter H. Waters, of the Michigan Lake Ice Co., stated that his company didnot control the ice supply, but was forced to buy ice from the Pere Marquette Railroad Co., which is supposed to be the backbone of the local ice tust and a party to the great increase in prices.

Indications now are that the statements of these two men made under oath will be the means of direct action against Wagner and the Pere Marquette railroad officials, and it would create no surprise if they were brought into court before long.

Bad Boys Jailed.

Charles McLeud and Niles De Little, two Schoolcraft boys, are being held in the county jail at Kalamazoo. It is alleged that they took Lulu Barnes, aged 13, and Louise Marshall, a Polish girl, out riding Sunday evening in Vicksburg and when near the old schoolhouse, forcibly took the girls from the buggy. The Marshall girl got way from De Little, and after running about a mile reached the house of Samuel Brockway, where she was taken in and kept until the next morning, when she was brought to town. Her face was badly scratched and her clothing covered with blood and badly torn. Miss Marshall has been employed in the paper mill and her home is in Grand Rapids, where she was taken.

Taxes Raised. The Gogebic county board has raised the assessment of Bessemer $75,000. It has lowered that of the city of Ironwood $200,000 This action is interpreted as punishment to those who appealed to the state tax commission against the under assessment of mines in Bessemer. It comes four days after the action of the state tax commission and has caused consternation. It establishes either the incompetency or indifference of commission, and as citizens say, calls for another investigation or action by the governor himself.

The "Homecomers."

About 1,000 persons visited Adrian last week on the annual home-coming day. Detroit sent 300, Chicago 500, Jackson 150 and Toledo 200. H. C. Smith gave the address of welcome at the opera house. Prof. Franklin Hubbard responded for Toledo, Mayor W. W. Todd for Jackson, Henry Jordan for Chicago and Prof. L. H. Richards for Monessen.

Found the Thumb.

Earl Isaman, of Boyne City, had his thumb blown off by a giant firecracker. 'He was standing in the store and threw it into the street. The firecracker struck the door, and against the warning of the village marshal the young man picked it up, it exploded in his hand. His thumb was found later on the sidewalk.

Went Blind.

Dr. A. J. Wildanger, a Flift dentist, was stricken blind in his office while working on a patient. The dentist was using the drill, when suddenly he saw the room grow dark. Then he became unable to see. The blindness is due to overwork, and may be only temporary.

Neuralgia and Ansomia are Cured by Dr. Williamy' Pink Pills.

For nearly a generation the people of this country have known Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, during which time proof of thousands of cures by this remedy has been published and confirmed and not one person has been harmed in the slight-est degree by their use. The pills contain no opiate, narcotic or stimulant, nor any drug which could injure the most delicate constitution.

"For over a year," says Miss Charlotte Van Salisbury, of Castleton, N.Y., "I suffered from neuralgia and palpitation of the heart. My skin was pale and sallow and I was troubled with dizziness, fainting spells and fits of indigestion. I was very nervous and would start at the slightest sound. At times a great weakness would come over me and on one occasion my limbs gave way under me and I fell to the sidewalk.

"Of course I was treated by our local physicians and also consulted a noted doctor at Albany, but nothing they gave me seemed to benefit me. One day I read in a newspaper about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and I immediately gave them a trial. I soon felt much better and my color had begun to return. I continued using the pills and by the time I had taken eight boxes I was entirely cared. "My sister, Sarah Van Salisbury, suf-fered terribly from anaemia. She was pale and thin and we feared that she would become a victim of consumption. She tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and in a short time she began to gain in strength and weight. She is now strong and well and we both heartily recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all who are in ill health."

A REVIEW OF THE WORK ACCOMPLISHED BY CONGRESS

Passed the Meat Inspection, Railroad Rate and Pure Food Bills at the Close--Many Important Measures Become Laws--Most Notable Session in Last Quarter of a Century.

Friday the execution of its legislative pended on a sea level project. A maprogramme and adjourned Saturday.

On the eve of adjournment the difference between the house and senate after a vigorous debate the president's on the important bills pending were adjusted. As a result of the action type was approved by a vote of 36 taken the following measures were laid to 31. before the president for his approval:

The railroad rate act. The agricultural appropriation bill, including the meat inspection amendment.

The pure food act.

The president signed the railroad rate bill at 11:45 Friday night. It goes into effect in 60 days.

New Epoch in Legislation.

Had rothing else been done this congress these measures would stand out as monuments to the present national administration. In emphatic manner they mark the beginning of a new epoch in federal legislation-governmental regulation on corporations and the invocation of the police power, so to speak, to stay the hand of private greed and protect the pocketbook and the health and general welfare of the

In the end the house has had its way mostly regarding the railroad rate bill. Oil pipe lines remain in the measure as common carriers, but the commodity provision of the bill has been fixed so as to make the prohibition of an "alliance between transportation" and production apply only to "railroad companies." The railroads cannot own coal mines or transport their own products, but Standard Oil and the independent oil companies can pipe their own product. The senate yielded on this point because the house refused to give in by an overwhelming vote, and otherwise the whole bill would have died.

Secator Tillman contented himself with a severe "roast" of the Standard Oil influence, and then as the one in charge of the measure voted to accept the conference report. The senate gained a part of its contention in a readjustment of the anti-pass feature of the bill which prohibits free transportation to every one save certain excepted classes, including railroad employes and their families, and the officials, attorneys, surgeons, etc., of the companies.

House Victory in Ment Bill.

In announcing the failure of the senate conferees to win on these disputed ated and the promotion system has points, Senator Proctor said the bill been established by the state departaccomplished a great deal, inasmuch as it provides for thorough inspection of all meat products and the saultary regulation of packing plants, and that the conferees felt they could not lose everything by holding out for distinctive features which the public would not accept. He paid his compliments to the packers in strong terms and charged them with having engineered the scheme that created sentiment in favor of making the government pay the cost of inspection. Other senators entered their protest against the controverted provisions of the measure, but finally the conference report was adopted.

In the house, acceptance of the report was a pure formality. One important new feature of the measure as it passed both houses is an added appropriation of $900,000 to the $3,-000,000 for inspection provided in the house amendment. . This was brought about by combining the amount originally appropriated to the bureau of animal industry for inspection under the old system with the new permanent appropriation.

Pure Food Bill Criticised. The conference report on the pure food bill was adopted by both houses without any change. In the opinion of Dr. Wiley and other officials of the agricultural department, it is a good measure as far as it goes, but Mr. Mann, of Chicago, who had charge of the conference report, says that it was not as good as had been hoped for. It is weak in that it does not provide a standard by which drugs, foods and drinks can be measured to determine whether they comply with the law. the courts, which under the bill as it will become law must add to their already great burden the consideration er certain articles of food or drugs contain harmful ingredients, are misbranded or because of their labels violate the pure food law.

A joint resolution was passed by congress requiring the purchase of supplies and materials for the canal in the American market unless the president shall determine that the bids of domestic producers are extortionate or unreasonable.

Congress appropriated $42,500,000 for continuing work on the canal, $16,500,000 being deficiency appropriations and $26,000,000 being for work during the fiscal year 1907. In addition to these appropriations steps are being taken to issue the canal bonds authorized by the Spooner act, which may be issued "from time to time" to the extent of $130,000,000. During the present session congress provided that these bonds should have the rights and privileges of other two per cent, bonds of the United States and the tax of one-fourth of one per cent. imposed upon bonds deposited to secure national bank circulation was imposed upon the canal bonds when used for such security. It was also provided that the deficiency appropriation should be returned to the treasury from the proceeds of the sale of the canal bonds.

Statehood Issue Settled.

The admission of Oklahoma and Indian territory as a single state was accomplished by the act approved June 16. The act also admits Arizona and New Mexico into the union as a single state, provided that a majority in each of the territories shall vote for joint statehood, "and not otherwice." This bill was the subject of bitter contention, as it had been in former sessions. It passed the house in the form of a bill admitting the four territories as two states. senate amended the bill by eliminating all provisions relating to Arizona and New Mexico. In conference the conditional admission of these territories as a state was agreed upon, and after vigorous debate in both houses the conference report was agreed to.

After several years of effort on the part of the state department congress The meat legislation was a complete at this session passed an act reorganoffices should be filled by promotion only, but this provision was eliminmeat without further enactment. Boon in Alcohol Bill.

A most important piece of legislation is the removal of the tax upon denatured alcohol. It was strongly opposed by manufacturers of kerosene and gasoline. In the debate it was alleged that, with the tax removed, alcohol could be manufactured and sold cheaper than either kerosene or gasoline and that it would enter into universal use for illuminating, motive power and otherwise.

A national quarantine law, providing for uniformity of administration and giving the federal government power to establish quarantines in port cities and supersede the local and state authorities, has been passed. An employer's liability bill, to meet the demands of the trainmen of the United States; has been placed upon the statute books after years of effort. Congress has had difficulty with the executive departments through the expenditure of money and the incurring of obligations in excess of appropriations for many years. Several amendments to appropriation bills were made during this session designed to correct this abuse. Hereafter the heads of executive departments are required to apportion appropriations made for their departments in order to avoid deficiencies, and deficiency appropriations will be made only to cover unforeseen emer-gencies. Congress also put its foot down upon the disbursement of money collected by any department and not turned into the treasury.

All money received hereafter must be turned into the treasury, and no That important question is referred to disbursements may be made except in accordance with appropriations of congress. Detailed estimates of all appropriations are required from all of cases raising the issue as to wheth- departments. It also is provided that no clerk shall be transferred to another department at a higher salary until he has performed three years' service in his first position.

Greater Aid for Militia. Among the acts affecting the milidepartment of the army and increasing the appropriation for the militia Congress took a new tack in the plans for such a vessel, to be submit-ted to congress. The naval act of this year makes small-provision otherwise for the increase of the navy.

A bill was passed defining hazing and providing for the punishment of midshipmen guilty of the offense.

No opposition of importance developed when the motion was made to concur in the conference report on the naturalization bill. It provides a board which will have charge of the naturalization of allens, and makes some changes in the law relating to court proceedings in naturalization

General legislation during this session included an act prohibiting interstate commerce in spurious or falsely stamped articles made of gold or silver alloy, an act providing for the marking of the graves of confederate soldiers and sailers and an act providing for the disposition of the five civilized tribes of Indians.

The principal legislation affecting the Philippines was an act postponing the operation of the coastwise laws until April 11, 1909; another revising the Philippines tariff, and a third authorizing the purchase of coal claims by the secretary of war. A bill was passed providing for the election of a delegate in congress from Alaska. Provision was made for the allotment of homesteads to natives of that district. The "Alaska fund" was created, through which receipts from liquor and business licenses will be devoted to the schools and road building. A bill was passed prohibiting aliens from fishing in Alaskan waters. An important measure to cattle interests is that changing the 28-hour law so that cattle may be kept in cars 36 hours without unloading.

Immigration Bill Fails. Among the Important measures that have failed the immigration bill demands first consideration. It failed because a conference committee was not appointed to settle the disagreement between the two houses. After a spirited fight in the house, in which Speaker Cannon participated, the immigration bill, originally a senate measure, was passed, with a substitute for the "educational test," which required immigrants to possess the ability to read English or some other language. The house substituted a section providing for a commission to investigate the subject of immigration. The bill will command attention when congress reconvenes in the fall.

The bill to prevent contributions by corporations to campaign funds was started in the house. It was forced through the senate by the indefatigable efforts of Senator Tillman. The house leaders refused to let it come up there, although it is understoodaction will be permitted at the next sesssion. The Democrats charge that the Republicans want to lay it over until after the congressional elections, in order to get one more chance at the corporation barrel.

The Philippine tariff bill is still anthe features of the original administhe insurgents, and eventually landed of cans and packages of meat prod- consular service receiving more than in the seclusion of a senate commit- the conduct of the government for the ucts. The government will pay the $1,000 is permitted to engage in busi- tee-room. It has been allowed to be forgotten for the present.

> The immunity bill, designed to prevent the recurrence of fiascos such as attended the prosecution of the Chicago beef cases, passed the house and in amended form was reported favorably from the senate committee on judictary. Ever since then efforts to get it up have falled owing to the objection of some senator or other.

It has been a hard session for treaties. The Santo Domingo convention, much desired by the administration, has been kept down by the bostile minority in the senate. No action has came out and fired their guns in the been taken either on the Isle of Pines or Algeciras treaties.

Fate of Labor Bills. Bills, most of which were demanded by the leaders of organized labor, have , tallated. met their fate as follows:

1. The anti-injunction bill-dead in the judiciary committee. 2. The eight-hour bill, reported from the committee on labor, but not acted

3. The election of senators in congress by direct vote of the peopledead in committee.

4. The publicity of campaign expenses bill, recently reported to the house, but not acted upon.

5. The letter carriers' bill-dead in committee. 6. The bill to regulate the hours of railway trainmen-dead in committee.

7. The bill for the relief of the Slocum survivors-dead in committee. 8. The bill to prevent convict-made goods from competing with the goods manufactured by honest labor-dead in committee. Outside the line actual legislation, through having authorized the investigation that has led to the railroad-coal exposures. Another resolution adopted by the senate will cause an investigation of the alleged grain trust and that promises to be equally if not more sensational. What Congress Has Spent. The following is given as practically an accurate statement of the disbursements authorized from the public treasury;

PECULIAR INQUIRY CONDUCTED AT SALISBURY.

NO QUESTION AS TO CAUSE

Adjournment Taken for Fortnight for Purpose, It Is Believed, of Holding Investigation by Board of Trade.

Salistury, England .- The embalmers have prepared the majority of the bodies of the score of Americans who lost their lives in the wreck of the Plymouth express Sunday morning for their return for burial in the land they left so recently in the fullness of life and hope.

Te inquest Monday was a prolonged and tedious formality which utterly failed to give any idea of the cause of the accident.

No questions on that point were asked and the subject seemed to be avoided-a strange proceeding to the many Americans present, but which is thought to be due to the queer formalism that seems characteristic of such cases in this country.

The proceedings were solemn, sad and monotonous, so much so that spectators surprised a juror by asking what necessity there was to adjourn the inquest for a fortnight. No answer was given. The delay is believed to be due to the declared intention of the board of trade to institute an investigation.

It seems strange to Americans that while the population of Salisbury is shocked by the disaster practically no emotion is displayed. It would seem as if such accidents were an everyday occurrence, and yet nothing even remotely aprpoaching it, has heretofore disturbed the peace of this city. There have been no scenes, no groans, nothing of the picturesque tragic element associated with the pit mouth in times of trouble so familiar to those in coal mining regions.

Washington. - Representative Tawney, chairman of the house committee on appropriations, has prepared a detailed statement concerning the appropriations for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1906, made by congress during the session just closed, in which he claims that the per capita* cost of the government of the United States, including federal and state, is less than in any European state.

Bank Is Closed.

Homestead, Pa.-The foreign bank of M. Karemar & Co. falled to open its doors Monday and nearly 20 Cexcited foreigners gathered in front of the bank clamoring for their money. The traveling men of Michigan are not alone in heir recognition of Governor Warger as an altogether different man from the representations made by his political oppo ents and by the socalled "independent" newspapers of Michigan, two years ago. This state has never had a chief executive who has given more time or more efforts to advance Michigan's agricultural interests than has Governor, Warner, As a life-long practical farmer he has known what to do and he has tried to do it. No co-ntry community has been too distant for him to visit when occasion existed, and no village too small or unimportant for such useful service as his presence might render. Michigan has already gained in actual collars and cents more than Governor Warner's full term salary many times multiplied through the higher prices for the state's dairy products due to his efforts, and the gain in that line and in other directions will continue for many years after his two terms as governor have been honorably and successfully completed.

NEW YORK WOMAN'S SHOES

Said a Philadelphia woman the oth

"There is one peculiarity about women in New York which must strike any stranger coming to the city.

"At home, and in most other place have visited, a woman feels almost well dressed if only her gloves and shoes are new and really smart looking. In New York that evidently is not the case, at least so far as the footwear is concerned.

"Have you noticed it? Even very well dressed women over here wear poor shoes. When they are not shabby and broken they are of poor last and cheap leather.

"And the fact is the more remarkable because I have never seen men more extravagant in their footwear than those of New York. The next time you are in an elevated train or street car observe the row of feet opposite. The men will almost without exception be well shod, and there will be glimpses of the most beautiful things in silk and embroidered socks appearing above their shoe tops; while the stylishly clad feminine foot will be conspicuous by its absence.

"I don't know whether it is that the New York woman considers a five-dollar shoe an unheard of extravagance or whether she is a poor judge of footwear. But whatever it is, I prefer the old-fashioned Philadelphia opinion that a lady is known by her hands and feet more than by anything else."

HAND-PRESSED LEMON OIL.

Only Way of Extracting the Flavering Matter from the Rind of the Fruit.

"This oil of lemon," said the spice merchant, "is an exquisite thing. It is hand-pressed-pressed by hand out of lemon rind. Smell it."

. The odor of the clear oil, says our informant, suggested sunlit lemon groves miles in extent on a mountain side overlooking the blue sea.

"I'll tell you how the ofl of lemon is extracted," he said. "A man sits with a sponge in one hand and a piece of fresh lemon peel in the other. He presses the peel against the sponge, giving it finally a certain difficult and dextrous twist, and this breaks the cells in the rind, and the oil-there's only a half drop of it-comes reluctantly out upon the sponge.

"When the sponge has taken up the dribblings of about a hundred rinds, it is wet enough to be squeezed out. An ounce or so of clear and fragrant oil then flows from it.

"There is no way to extract this oil within a lemon rind except by squeezing and twisting the rind by hand, It takes the rinds of about 1,200 lemons to make one pound of oil.

"Did you, by the way, ever watch a bartender hold a piece of lemon peel West street," is the way it read in the over a cocktail, and give the peel a sudden, quick twist? Well, he was then flavoring the cocktail with oil of lemon, though the quantity he extracted was so small as to be quite invisi-

"Imagine doing that bartender twist until you had collected a quart or so of this rare oil."

VOICE OF THE RHINOCEROS

Sound So Tremendous It Seems to Bet the Whole World to Trembling.

In the course of a year I saw more than 600 rhinoceroses and the tracks of thousands, writes C. B. Shilling in World's Work. The sight of these gigantic beasts standing in the moonshine on the snow-white steppes is still vivid in my memory. I have never encountered more than four at one time, though I have seen as many as eight together.

Their appearance when in a sitting posture is very like the stump of a tree. While resting the rhinoceros often resigns himself to his feathered friends who alight upon his body and serve the double purpose of freeing his skin from parasites and giving warning o "Alas!" he cried, "you have broken of danger. It is a case of partnership my heart!" between an animal with a keen sense of smell and birds with keen eyes. The horns of the African rhinoceros sometimes attain a length of nearly five feet, and when he lifts up his voice the whole world seems to tremble. The sound is so tremendous that the effect is startling in the extreme.

SCENTED LUBRICATING OIL

Used for the Bearings of the Delicate Drills Employed by Dentists.

"No, we don't perfume axle grease nor do we scent the oil used on the journals of freight cars" said the dealer, "but there is one lubricating oil that we do scent, and that is the fine oil used on dentists' drills.

"Such drills, tiny little drills of beautiful workmanship, are made nowadays for use in every possible position. There are drills that project from the shaft at a right angle, this being made possible by the daintlest little bevel gearing you ever saw, within the drill head. Others are set at an obtuse angle, and others, again, are set at an acute angle.

"With one or another of these various drills you can drill out a hole in any tooth in any direction, up or down or from the front or the back or the side, but of course the little drills wouldn't run smoothly or nicely without lubrication, and you wouldn't want to put fish oil in a patient's mouth, already suffering enough, probably.

"So here is where scented lubricating oil is used, on dentists' drills-on the solid part, within the casing that constitutes the handle, attached to the end of the flexible shaft and on the dainty gearing at the head of the drill stself-fine oil that is scented with just a touch of attar of roses.

DOG'S NAME IN DIRECTORY

Utica List Contains One with Occupation Given as That of Watchman,

"Robert Badgero, wachman, No. 39 who responded to the bell call told the man at the door that "Bob" was in, says the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

"I'd like to see Mm," remarked the caller, for he was in search of a watchman for his establishment.

"Here Bob! here Bob!" called the woman, and a lively bull terrier rushed

And then the woman laughed, for the Robert Badgero in the directory was none other than "Bob." the mas cot of the Utica & Mohawk Valley Rail way company, who had been listed in the directory as a "watchman" because that's just what he was.

Bob is probably the only dog on record who has his name in a city direc tory. He is the property of Milford Badgero, private secretary of General Manager Allen, of the street railway. He is known by all employes of the line, and is always a welcome passenger, who need pay no fare.

A short time ago Bob went to Rome with the company's claim agent and became strayed there. When the claim agent reached home Bob was there. He had taken an earlier trolley.

IN A MEXICAN GARDEN

By RUTH RAEBURN

The bright sunshine streaming into her bedroom by the open French window wakened Cecilia, or, as her father loved to call her in the graceful language of his adopted country, "my pretty one."

Evidently her thoughts were pleasant, for she got up with a smile on her lips and stood for a few moments looking out on the view before beginning to dress. It was just six o'clock and the mist still hung in the valley, and already the garden was a blaze of light. The scent of the roses, the orange and lemon blossom, the moist earth and the myriad growing things, filled the air with a delicious fragrance. One breathed life and happiness on such a morning, and love for all that lives in this glorious, beautiful world. Besides, was not her old friend and playfellow, Philip King, coming home after being away for seven years in the States, learning to be a doctor?

Cecilia was an only child. Her mother died when the poor little mite was only three days old, and her father never married again, but gave his small daughter into the keeping of a kind-hearted Mexican woman, who had from that moment spoiled her charge with the utmost fidelity, and now, at the age of 19 years, the tall, handsome girl was still old Concha's favorite.

The two families were near neighbors, and had been fast friends from the beginning, so it was no wonder that she and Philip should be constantly together, running about and playing at hide and seek in the woods round the ranch, and when they were older cantering over the pasture lands on their sure-footed Mexican ponies-and no wonder either, as time went on, that the folks should nod their heads and smile knowingly, as they watched the pair, a pretty little girl of 12 and a handsome lad of 15. In their imagination these good people aiready heard the bells ring for the betrothal.

Not much time was wasted over the tollet this morning. There was a great deal to be done before eight o'clock breakfast. First, the asparagus had to be cut, while the sun was still low in the sky, for later on when he had attained his full strength it was insufferably hot in the garden, and only the dark-skinned natives might work there with impunity. Then she would pick some ripe, juicy peaches for dessert. Her father loved asparagus and peaches, and so did Philip, if her memory did not deceive her-but seven years beautiful girl he had ever seen-a

"Who knows if he is still fond of peaches?" and-she looked in the glass and smiled at her own reflection-"I think I can answer for peaches." Her thoughts ran on questioning and replying to themselves, "but as to asparagus and, and-other-things-who plaits, Mexican fashion, selzed her sombrero and ran downstairs. At the kitchen door Concha was waiting with a basket and long knife with teeth like a saw at one end; this was used to cut the asparagus. The dew drops on the feathery branches of the asparagus vines sparkled like diamonds in the sunshine and fell on her in showers as she brushed them aside to look for the white heads appearing above ground at their roots. By the time she had cut sufficient for a generous dish an hour had already gone by and she was very warm and decidedly, muddy-but what did that matter? There was soap and water in the house, and a pretty clean white rides abroad—and with a few stroke dress in her room waiting to be put on. The peaches could be picked in from the prickly branches, when st a few minutes, and then her morning's fled hastily into the middle of th work would be done.

How bedutiful it was that morning! From her perch among the peaches she gazed fascinated on the scene before her. Orizaba, glory of mountains, with its snow-capped peak, seemed but to her hair had to be disentangled; a a stop from the garden, but in reality one would have to travel more than 40 miles to reach the foot of it. On all sides were the hills as far as the eye could see, and right in front, only which had seemed so real a few mit about a mile away, nestled the little town with its whitewashed houses and brown tiled roofs, half buried in trees.

Absorbed in the view she did not see a horseman who was maneuvering his way in and out the winding pathway which led to her father's ranch, and so it happened that Philip King was almost upon her before she was aware of it. When she did at last catch sight of him it was too late to fly to the house. The color leaped to her face in a crimson flood, and her knees trembled beneath her, with agitation, disappointment at the sudden collapse of all her plans and humiliation at the miserable figure she cut. She clutched her hair, which had long since freed itself from the plaits, and nervously, itself from the plaits, and hervously, her. "There is only one girl in t with shaking fingers, tried to twist it whole world, and she is right here up and hide it inside her sombrero, but in my arms!" she had no hairpins, so it only fell down again in even greater disorder

The young man had by this time a good stroke of business the rose bush between them-then for the first time he saw her, and had he been a wise young man he would have become suddenly blind, discovered comething of great interest in another direction and quickly walked away,

As it was he was not wise and had little experience in the ways of women, and besides was very glad indeed to see his little playmate again, so he started forward with both hands outstretched to greet her.

"Cecilia," he cried, expecting she would run to him as in days gone by, but she drew back and gave him her hand very formally with stiff words of welcome which sounded unreal on her

After they had both made a few commonplace remarks, a long and uncomfortable stience followed. The key to the situation appeared to be missing, and Philip at any rate was at a loss to understand what was the matter. This was indeed Cecilla, looking too much the same as on the day he left, only a great deal taller, and yet there was a difference, and a very great one. He couldn't disguise from himself that he was bitterly disap

He understood everything now-it was clear as daylight-Cecili: had a lover and did not want hi friendship any more!

At last the girl broke the silence "My father will be so pleased to see you," she said, "but if you will excuse me now I will just finish cutting some roses and be with you presently."

She began to cut roses feverishly not seeing or earing where she stepped till the thorny branches laid hold o her long loose hair and held her fast almost as though they knew what the were about, and determined to mak her prisoner.

In her struggles she stepped at las on a loose mound of earth which gave way suddenly beneath her, an in a moment myriads of tiny brow insects, each carrying a precious eg almost as large as itself, were swarm ing about her feet and ankles.

Mrs. Willadsen Tells How She Tried Lydla E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Just

Mrs. T. C. Willadsen, of Manning, Iowa, writes to Mrs. Pinkham: Dear Mrs. Pinkham :-

"I can truly say that you have saved my life, and I cannot express my gratitude to

Before I wrote to you, telling you how I felt, I had doctored for over two years steady and spent lots of money on medicines besides, but it all failed to help me. My monthly poriods had ceased and I suffered much pain, with fainting spells, headache, backache and bearing-down pains, and I was so weak I could hardly keep around. As a last resort I decided to write you and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so thankful that I did, for after following your instructions, which you sent me free of all charge, I became regular and in perfect health. Had it not been for you I would be in my grave to-day.

"I sincerely trust that this letter may lead every suffering woman in the country to write you for help as I did."

Escananba Light House Partially Wrecked in Monday's Storm

NO ONE INJURED

Escape From Injury by Three Occupants Seems Almost Miraculous.

The Escanaba light house was struck by lightning during the severe electrical storm Monday afternoon and the living apartments of L. A. Rose, lighthouse keeper, were considerably dam-

Three members of the family, Mrs. Rose, Miss Edith Rose and Clarence Rose were within the house at the time and their escape from death seems almost miraculous.

Every window on the first and second floors was broken and the doors on the interior were broken from their hinges. A pantry full of dishes was completely wrecked, the china being thrown from the shelves and broken. All of the silverware in the honse was touched by the current and turned a deep brown. An organ stored on the second floor was completely wrecked. Nails heated by the electricity were thrown from the walls and burned holes in the carpets. Tools in a chest were converted into ufel, 16 Hard hands are repulsive. The powerful magnets and the temper removed, making them useless.

Brick walls on the outside are cracked in many places and on the interior walls there are twenty holes varying in size from a foot in diameter to small punctures.

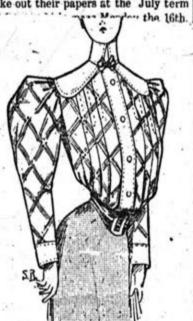

Mrs. Rose and son Clarence were on the first floor and Miss Edith Rose on the second floor when the bolt struck the house. None of them felt the shock though all were badly frightened.

WIFEY'S LITTLE HINT.

Gentle Lesson, But the Probabilities Are It Cured Hubby of Staying Out Lata

It came about this way. The man, although a good fellow and well liked, managed to evade the women until he was steered against a widow, who won him hands down in three months. For a long time he was one of the model men of the city, and all the young married women held him up as a Ladies' Home Journal sample of manhood, but later he began staying out after ten o'clock and finally became so bold and hardened to feminine scoldings and pleadings that he had been known to barely get home in time for breakfast,

The other morning at three o'clock he turned the corner leading to his home and was surprised to see a light in the window. Thinking that his wife might be sick, or that something else equally as terrible might have happened, he quickened his step and burst into the door to find his wife sitting in the parlor dressed in black. "What's the matter, dear?" he mur-

As Means of Bringing Sinners to Repentance, Minister Saw They Were What He Needed.

In a rural town in Michigan lived a family named Beaver, noted for their hardihood in all manner of naughtiness. They were the great torment of the minister's life. Finally, one of the boys was bit by a rattlesnake and sent for him. He found the lad greatly scared and very penitent. After some conversation, the reverend gentleman-closed the interview by prayer.

"O, Lord," he began, "we thank thee for rattlesnakes. We thank thee that a rattlesnake has bit Jim. Send another, we pray thee, to bite Tom, and one to bite Joe. And, O Lord, send the biggest kind of a rattlesnake to bite the old man; for nothing less than rattlesnakes will bring this Beaver family to repentance."-Metaphysical Magazine.

IN A MEXICAN GARDEN

By RUTH RAEBURN

The bright sunshine streaming into her bedroom by the open French window wakened Cecilia, or, as her father loved to call her in the graceful language of his adopted country, "my pretty one."

Evidently her thoughts were pleasint, for she got up with a smile on her lips and stood for a few moments looking out on the view before beginning to dress. It was just six o'clock and the mist still hung in the valley, and already the garden was a blaze of light. The scent of the roses, the orange and lemon blossom, the moist earth and the myriad growing things, filled the air with a delicious fragrance. One breathed life and happiness on such a morning, and love for all that lives in this glorious, beautiful world. Besides, was not her old friend- and playfellow, Philip King, coming home after being away for seven years in the States, learning to be a doctor? Cecilia was an only child. Her mother died when the poor little mite was only three days old, and her father never married again, but gave this small daughter into the keeping of a kind-hearted Mexican woman, who had from that moment spoiled her charge with the utmost fidelity, and now, at the age of 19 years, the tall, handsome girl was still old Concha's favorite.

The two families were near neighbors, and had been fast friends from the beginning, so it was no wonder that she and Philip should be constantly together, running about and playing at hide and seek in the woods round the ranch, and when they were older cantering over the pasture lands on their sure-footed Mexican ponies-and no wonder either. as time went on, that the folks should nod their heads and smile knowingly, as they watched the pair, a pretty little girl of 12 and a handsome lad of 15. In their imagination these good people aiready heard the bells ring for the betrothal.

Not much time was wasted over the toilet this morning. There was a great deal to be done before eight o'clock breakfast. First, the asparagus had to be cut, while the sun was still low in the sky, for later on when he had attained his full strength it was insufferably hot in the garden, and only the dark-skinned natives might work there with impunity. Then she would pick some ripe, juicy peaches for dessert. Her father loved asparagus and peaches, and so did Philip, if her memory

As it was he was not wise and had little experience in the ways of wor and besides was very glad indeed to see his little playmate again, so he started forward with both hands outstretched to greet her,

"Cecilla," he cried, expecting she would run to him as in days gone by, but she drew back and gave him her hand very formally with stiff words of welcome which sounded unreal on her

After they had both made a few commonplace remarks, a long and uncomfortable stience followed. The key to the situation appeared to be miss ing, and Philip at any rate was at a loss to understand what was the matter. This was indeed Cecilla, looking too much the same as on the day he left, only a great deal taller, and yet there was a difference, and a very great one. He couldn't disguise from himself that he was bitterly disap-

SUNLIGHT TO HEAT YOUR HOME BUILD STRONG, SUPERB BODIES

The Building of Physical Culture City

A Few of the Many Subjects to which my magazine Religiously Devoted

Years ago I lost my respect for so-called authoritres. I was weak, miserable, emaciated. Various doctors took my money, but I received no benefit. There was the turning point. I began to think for myself. I interested myself in various natural means of building health and in proof of the accuracy of the theories I gradually evolved. I built such a powerful physique that I secured a world-wide reputation as athlete.

Having no respect for authorities, my magazine is therefore a part of myself. It is without precedence in the publishing world. It attracted attention from the first issue, and is now read monthly by over half a million people. My magazine is leading a reform for a cleaner, stronger and nobler manhood and womanhood. In it, I am trying to annihilate the world's greatest curses—prudishness, corsets, muscular inactivity, gluttony, drugs, alcohol and tobacco.

I am now engaged in the building of what I term a PHYSICAL CULTURE CITY. For this purpose I bought 2,000 acres of land about 40 miles from New York, on which there is a lake of nearly 100 acres. I expect to build a city free from salbons, tobacco shops, drug stores and all other demoralizing influences.

I am trying to solve the problem of heating my HOME with SUNLIGHT. I do not consider this difficult. I expect to give readers of my magazine the result of this experimentation.

Tam trying to solve the problem of heating fly HOME with SUNLIGHT. I do not consider this difficult. I expect to give readers of my magazine the result of this experimentation.

I bedieve that BABIES ARE KILLED BY THE THOUSANDS by wrong methods. To prove this theory accurate and for my own personal pleasure. I am adopting from twenty to thity infants of from six to twelve months of age. These bables will be secured from large Cities, one from each. I intend to publish various articles describing my methods of developing these infants. Their homes will be more like a greenhouse than an ordinary dwelling. I believe any human being can possess a strong, superh, body if he is willing to make the efforts required.

MEN'S DEPARTMENT Each issue of my magazine contains a profusely likus trated article of exercises for men. Arthur Dufley, the world renowned athlete, conducts the Department devoted to the World of Athletics. He is also writing a series of articles about professionalism in Ameter Abletics.

IN THE WOMAN'S OEPARTMENT there appear monthly exercises for remedying defects and building a strong, bealtiful body. Also a question Column, wherein replies to all queries are made, and a detailed weekly menu of healthful foods with recipes.

BOY'S AND GIRL'S DEPARTMENT consists of various exercises of especial value for boys and girls.

STORIES—I am running a wierd and wonderful interesting serial story in which are pictured the habits and character of inhabitants of Jupitor.

MEDIOAL AND OTHER QUAGKS, Years ago I started the crusade against medical quackery is doomed. Our monthly article on quackery is of striking interest BPEGIAL OFFER—VALUABLE TREATISES FRS.—To introduce my PHY-SICAL CULTURE magazine, I am giving to every subscriber a free, home drugless treatment for any of the usual complaints, of a lesson that will enable anyone to develop any part of his body, or instructions for remedying any of the common physical defects.

The price of my magazine is ten cents a copy or $1.00 per year, Upon receipt of $1.00
