

ESCANABA TEAM SCORES VICTORY

Over Soos in Series of Three Games at South Park

GAMES WERE GOOD

Sunday's Score 5-2 Monday, 5-3 and Tuesday's Game a Walk-over for Locals.

In a series of three games played at South Park, Sunday Monday and Tuesday of this week, the newly organized Escanaba baseball team defeated the strong Rault Ste. Marie aggregation.

In spite of the fact that announcement had been made Saturday night that the game had been cancelled, about 700 fans of the city were attracted to the ball park on Sunday afternoon, and they were rewarded by witnessing one of the best games that has been played on the grounds this season.

Miller of the U. S. Survey Ship "Search," was in the box for Escanaba and struck out ten men, gone no base on balls and allowed but one hit during the entire game.

McCutcheon was in the slab for the Soos and succeeded in holding the locals down to four hits, struck out two men gone two bases on balls and hit two batters with pitched balls.

Following was the lineup of the teams:

Escanaba	Soos
Flath	c. f. Moss
Jaegers	t. b. Corbier
Buckley	l. f. Casey
Miller	p. McCutcheon
Aubin	r. f. Murray
Walsh	s. s. Lewis
Lentz	s. b. Stagybe
Bushjaeger	s. b. Rollis
Loell	c. Jacobs

Following was the score by innings:

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Soos	0	0	0	1	0	1	0	0	2	1	6
Escanaba	0	0	1	0	0	0	4	x	5	4	6

In Monday's game Nolden was in the box for the locals and his excellent work kept the visitors down to three runs.

Heavy batting marked the playing of the local team but excellent fielding work at the part of the visitors at critical stages of the game kept the locals down to but five scores.

The last game of the series was played Tuesday afternoon and proved to be a walk away for the home team. The defeat of the lock city team in that game was the most severe of the three games, they being unable to score but three runs while the home team piled up twelve. The discrepancy in the scores of the teams was due to the heavy batting of the Escanaba team combined with the numerous costly errors on the part of the Soos players.

McDonald was in the box for Escanaba and made good showing allowing but six hits and having 11 strikeouts to his credit.

Murray, who held down the slab for the visitors, was in poor form, being touched up for thirteen hits and fanning but 4 batters.

DIED AT BUTTE

Body of John Lynch Brought to Escanaba for Burial Tuesday

The remains of John Lynch, who died in Butte, Montana, were brought to this city Tuesday morning.

Funeral services were held at St. Patrick's church, Rev. Fr. Langan conducting the services. Interment was in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Mr. Lynch moved to Escanaba a few months ago with his family, intending to make his home here. A month ago he went back to Butte to settle up his business affairs and while so engaged his condition became so serious that Mrs. Lynch was at once notified and she left at once for Butte, arriving there but a few days before her husband's death.

MANY PEOPLE

Attended Locomotive Firemen's Outing at Maywood Sunday.

The ideal weather conditions resulted in a large number of people from the city taking part in the seventh annual picnic and excursion arranged by the Locomotive Firemen at Maywood Sunday.

The new military band which has recently been organized under the direction of John J. Sourwine, furnished the musical program on the boat and at the picnic grounds at Maywood. The showing made by the band last Sunday is that Escanaba has excellent material for a good band; and before the summer is over Escanaba will have as good a band as can be found in this end of the peninsula.

About 500 people attended the outing.

WEER NOT MARRIED

Pretext of Marriage Cost John Clermont $150 and Costs

John Clermont of Danforth settlement was fined $150 and costs in Judge Linden's court Monday morning for leading the public to believe that he had been married to Miss Goudreau, daughter of Joseph Goudreau of Danforth settlement on May 16th. of this year.

Clermont and Miss Goudreau were refused a license in both Delta and Menominee counties because of the would be bride was not 16 years of age. The couple returned from Menominee and announced that they had been married in that city.

For two months they lived together and on Saturday the father of the girl learned that the marriage ceremony had never been performed.

The girl, when confronted, admitted that there had been no marriage and declared that she was already tired of the man she had taken for a common law husband. She has now reached the age of 16 and could legally be married to the man she chose as a husband but instead she appeared with her father and swore out a warrant for Clermont's arrest.

Special Announcement

We take pleasure in announcing that Mr. Sieher representing the furriers, Gordon & Ferguson of St. Paul, Minn., will be here Monday and Tuesday, July 30-31, with a full line of men's and ladies' fur coats, including astrakan, seal, beaver, con, martin, mink, nutria, otter and Persian, which he will have on exhibition at our store, at which time he will take special orders for coats for fall delivery. We shall be pleased to have you inspect these high grade coats, and as Mr. Sieher will be here for two days only, do not forget the date—Monday and Tuesday, July 30-31.

These furriers, "Gordon & Ferguson," guarantee every fur garment and we stand back of each and every guarantee. Fair Savings Bank Dept. Store Escanaba, Mich.

HECTOR GAUDETTE DEAD

Old Resident Passed Away After Operation in Milwaukee Hospital

Hector Gaudette, for many years a resident of this city, died Tuesday at the Post Graduate hospital at Milwaukee over two weeks ago to submit to an operation. It was at first thought that he would recover but a relapse came Monday which resulted in his death the day following.

The body was brought to Escanaba Wednesday and taken to his home.

LOCAL NEWS

The picnic and outing given last Sunday at Maywood by the Locomotive Firemen proved a great success.

Enoch Debeck, a well known passenger conductor employed on the North-western road is ill at his home in this city as the result of a stroke of paralysis.

Miss Inez Greenhoot of Chicago, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Greenhoot.

Joseph Robinson left Sunday for Green Bay to take a position with the Barber Asphalt Co.

Miss Hester Yockey left Monday morning for Milwaukee to visit with her brothers, Attorneys Chauncey and Edward Yockey.

A marriage license was issued this week to Adolore Leduc of Beaver and Elizabeth Bernier of Escanaba.

Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Snyder have been entertaining Judge and Mrs. McEwen of Chicago this week.

Otto Bendler of Green Bay was in the city this week.

Clarence Carey return Tuesday from a short visit with Marquette friends. Geo. Schell and Harry Donaldson of Munising were in the city this week attending the carnival.

Owing to the fact that Monday night was the opening night of the Eagle's Carnival but a small audience was present at the Peterson opera house to witness the production of "Our Old Kentucky Home," and those who were present were disappointed, as the production was far below the average.

"Pete" Nolden, the Escanaba pitcher was engaged last Sunday by the Hurley team to pitch against the Crystal Falls. Hurley won by a score of 5 to 2.

J. W. WELLS

A CANDIDATE

Menominee Man Enters Race for State Senatorship in 30th District.

TO SUCCEED W. N. MILLS

Mr. Wells Makes Third Candidate to Enter Field Others are Parsille of the Soo and Fuller of Ford River.

The candidacy of J. W. Wells of Menominee for the state senate from the Thirtieth district to succeed senator W. N. Mills was announced by the Menominee Herald leader on Thursday.

After senator Mills announced his withdrawal and unwillingness to accept the nomination a second time, two candidates were suggested, one from the Soo, John E. Parsille and one from Delta, former G. B. Fuller.

Mr. Wells has come out squarely in favor of William Allen Smith for United States senator, a fact which will probably lend strength to his campaign in parts of the district that favor William Alden Smith.

MRS. ANDERSON DEAD

Victim of Lightning Bolt Succumbs to Burns

Mrs. Charles Anderson who was struck by a bolt of lightning during the terrific electrical storm early in the morning of June 28th last, died at her home at 303 North Sarah street Monday afternoon.

When Mrs. Anderson was hit by the lightning bolt her clothing was stripped from her and her entire body was so severely burned that no hopes were entertained for her recovery.

However at times her condition seemed to be better but each time she suffered a relapse, and her strength and vitality were finally sapped and worn away.

Before death came to her relief Mrs. Anderson suffered untold agony from the burns on her body.

The funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock from the Swedish Mission church, Rev. Abel Anderson, officiating. The body was laid to rest in Lakeview cemetery.

WM. ALDEN SMITH HERE TUESDAY

Grand Rapids' Congressman Visited Escanaba on Tour of Peninsula.

MADE GOOD IMPRESSION

Is Confident of Victory for Place in U. S. Senate to Succeed Gen. Russell A. Alger.

William Allen Smith, candidate for the United States Senate from Michigan to succeed Gen. Alger, made a short visit in this city Tuesday evening. He arrived at seven o'clock and from seven until 8:30 made his headquarters at the Oliver hotel where he was tendered a warm reception by a party of twenty-five leading Republicans.

Congressman Smith made a good impression with those whom he met in Escanaba. He has a pleasing manner and makes friends easily.

Mr. Smith is accompanied on his tour of the peninsula by Senator Huntley Russell of Kent county and Ex-Senator E. M. Brenard of Grand Rapids both of whom are enthusiastic in the belief that Mr. Smith will win out.

Mr. Smith, too, sees victory. "I have received assurances of support from many parts of the state and I am not apprehensive of the result," said Mr. Smith. "I do not say it in a boasting spirit but I am sure that up to the present time I have the assurance of two votes for every one of the other two candidates."

Mr. Smith has risen in a few years from a newsboy selling papers on the streets of Grand Rapids to one of the leading figures in Michigan politics. His rise from a humble position as page in the senate to one of the leaders of the Republican party in the state has been rapid.

The Fifth district which he has represented in congress for the past twelve years, was originally a Democratic stronghold. Smith's predecessor in office was elected in 1894 by a majority of ten votes over his Republican opponent, and was carried by the present congressman by 10,000 majority two years later. With Representative Bishop, Congressman Smith is the dean of the Michigan delegation of congressmen in point of service. His career in politics has been uniformly successful, and his rise from comparative political obscurity to an important place in the public eye has been accomplished within a few years.

The following dispatches have just been received by Mr. Smith since he has been traveling through the U. P. Grand Rapids, July 24, 1906.

Hon. William Alden Smith.

Bunting, of Benzie county, nominated with instructions from William Alden Smith for United States senator to succeed Alger.

Grand Rapids, July 25, 1906.

Hon. William Alden Smith, Dr. John A. Barry, of Wexford county, nominated. Strong resolutions were passed endorsing William Alden Smith for United States senator to succeed Senator Alger.

RE-ELECTED H. W. READE

Board of Education Organizes For Coming Year

The board of education held its annual charter meeting on Tuesday evening and organized for the coming year. H. W. Reade was re-elected president and A. E. Ellsworth secretary. The naming of the regular committees was deferred until the next meeting of the board.

It is expected that 12 contractors will bid for the contract of building the new high school.

Killed at Cornell

Samuel W. Hollywood, the nineteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hollywood of Cornell, was accidentally shot Monday afternoon.

The bullet entered the abdomen of the unfortunate young man, who lived about twenty minutes after being found by his brother and an uncle, with whom he had been out hunting. The three had separated and young Hollywood had been alone but a few minutes when the others heard a shot. They called, but, receiving no answer, hurried to the spot and found the young man dying on the ground.

Funeral services were held at Cornell on Thursday and the remains were brought to this city for interment Thursday afternoon.

Irving McEwen who represents Nelson Baker & Co. of Detroit in North Dakota, visited with his parents Mr. and Mrs. C. D. McEwen of this city a few days this week.

ELK'S LODGE

Will Run Excursion to Marinette Tomorrow on Steamer Maywood.

Tomorrow (Sunday) morning at 8:30 the Steamer Maywood will leave the Stephenson dock for Marinette. The local lodge of Elks have chartered the boat for the trip and the excursion should prove a popular one. The Maywood will arrive in Marinette at twelve o'clock noon, and leave again at 8:30 in the evening for the return trip, arriving back at Escanaba about midnight.

The excursion will provide an inexpensive means for Escanaba people to visit the Northern Chataqua assembly, which is now in session in Marinette. The program for tomorrow will be one of the most interesting arranged for the assembly and excellent opportunity is offered for a day's pleasant outing and entertainment at the Chataqua grounds. An orchestra has been engaged to furnish music on both the trip down the bay and also on the return trip.

The Elks who compose the arrangement committee for the excursion are: Joseph Wickert, Herman Salinsky, Harry Block, Emil Erickson and C. A. Miller.

SHOULD NOT GRANT IT

Request for Gas Franchise Should Be Denied By Council

It is understood that the City council will soon be asked to grant a franchise to a concern to construct and operate a coal gas plant in this city. We do not believe that it would be a good policy for the city to part with their gas plant.

When the demand for gas for fuel purposes becomes great enough to make the business profitable, the city should be in a position to furnish the gas from its own plant. The two plants—electric and gas—can be operated together with less expense than if operated separately and as both are making good money there seem no good reasons for selling.

Whether there is a demand for gas for fuel purposes can only be learned by making a canvass for customers which could be made made by the city before putting in equipment.

GLADSTONE GIRL SHOT

Dolores Mertz had Narrow Escape from Death by 22 Rifle

Dolores Mertz, the five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Mertz, of Gladstone, had a narrow escape from death Tuesday night. The parents of the child were visiting friends in another city and during their absence left the child in the care of Mr. and Mrs. Frank N. Hood, neighbor of the Mertz family.

Tuesday afternoon the children were playing with several others and in the party was a son of Jules Bellan. Yonng Bellan had with him a 22 calibre target rifle, which he afterwards claimed he did not know was loaded.

In a playful manner Dolores Mertz grasped the muzzle of the weapon and attempted to wrest it from the hands of young Bellan. In some manner the cartridge was exploded, the bullet entering the left shoulder of the unfortunate child.

Dr. Forsyth of this city was summoned and attended to the wounded child. Unless complications set in, the child will recover.

WORK WEAKENS KIDNEYS

Doan's Kidney Pills Have Done Great Service for the People Who Work in Escanaba

Most Escanaba people work every day in some strained, unnatural position—bending constantly over a desk—riding on jolting wagons or cars—doing laborious housework; lifting, reaching or pulling, or trying the back in a hundred and one other ways. All these strains tend to wear, weaken and injure the kidneys until they fall behind in their work of filtering the poisons from the blood. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys, put new strength in bad backs. Escanaba cures prove it.

Oscar Glaven, miner, of 338 No. Murray St., Escanaba, Mich. says: "I never saw a remedy which acts so beneficially in such a short time as Doan's Kidney Pills. They cured me of an old chronic case of backache from which I had suffered for years in spite of trying all kinds of remedies. I have seen the time that I had to quit work and come home, simply or account of the pain in my back. It would be so severe at times that I thought my back would come unjointed. I was told about Doan's Kidney Pills and sent to the Mead Drug Co's store and got a box, and their use as directed helped me from the start. I had not used one whole box before my trouble left me. I have never had a backache since I took Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

WONT OPPOSE ERICKSON

Atty. Norblad Denies Rumor that he is Candidate for Office of Representative.

Asst. Pros. Atty. A. W. Norblad denies the rumor that has been circulated to the effect that he would be a candidate for representative in the state legislature from Delta district in opposition to Hon. Ole Erickson.

Following is the announcement issued by Mr. Norblad:

"Persistent rumors have it that I will be a candidate for state representative from this district. I wish to announce that such rumors are unfounded, and that I have at no time declared my intention of being a candidate. A rumor was started a few days ago that Mr. Erickson would not be a candidate for a second term, and I was approached by a number of people who asked me if I would be a candidate if this was so. I announced that I have never given the matter any consideration at all, that I understood that Mr. Erickson would not seek the nomination, but if offered to him he would accept it; that he positively declared himself not a candidate for the next term that I might be a candidate, but under no circumstances would I in any way oppose Mr. Erickson but would do all in my power to assist him.

A. W. NORBLAD."

$10 FOR EACH CHILD

Authoritative Statement as to Amount School Boards Can Expect on Primary School Account.

Some discussion was had some time ago, when it was first assumed that the primary school fund would receive a large accession from the result of the railroad tax suits, whether the entire amount would be apportioned to the districts at once, or be distributed over a series of years. The law places upon the auditor general the duty of making the apportionment, the distribution being made through the department of public instruction, and Auditor General Bradley has decided that there is no authority for withholding any part of the fund which shall be on hand Oct. 1, and that the whole amount must be distributed in November. It can also now be stated very closely what the amount will be in the neighborhood of seven and a half millions of dollars, apportioned pro rata among the counties upon the basis of the their number of children shown in the school census; and the apportionment will be very close to ten dollars per capita varying but a few cents from ten dollars for every child of school age.

REVOLT IS PRACTICALLY ON IN LAND OF THE CZAR

Incendiary Manifesto Issued by Lawmakers Calling on People to Refrain from Paying Taxes—Urge Stand for Justice.

St. Petersburg.—War was practically declared on the government when the deputies of parliament, assembled at Viborg, Finland, adopted an address to the country while they were surrounded by troops with cannon sent to disperse them.

Even before the document was signed, however, outbreaks both in the army and among the peasantry and workmen were in progress. Scores of persons were killed at many points in the empire, thousands paraded under red flags, and the prisons of St. Petersburg and other cities were filled to the choking point by revolutionists.

By the time the declaration of independence adopted by the deposed representatives of the people, who still consider themselves the rightful governmental body of the nation, reaches the length and breadth of the land, the battle which is to decide the fate of the throne will be on in full swing.

Last Act of Drama.
Viborg, Finland.—The curtain dropped Monday afternoon on the final act of the drama of Russia's first parliament, when, under the spur of the threat of Gov. Richenberg to use force to end the session and with troops already converging on the Hotel Belvedere, where the meeting was held, the assembled members of the lower house, 186 in number, hurriedly adopted and signed an address to the people which is thoroughly revolutionary in its nature, elected a perpetual executive committee headed by Prince Paul Dolgoroukoff, vice president of the house, to carry on the work of liberation and adjourned amidst characteristic Russian embracing and kissing.

Immediately after the governor's announcement that the meeting must be stopped a detachment of infantry passed the Hotel Belvedere singing, to show that there are enough troops to carry out the threat of dispersal.

The members of parliament intend to return to St. Petersburg in a body.

Document Is Inflammatory.
The address, which bears a remarkable similarity to the manifesto framed by the council of workmen last November, which landed its authors and the editors of eight St. Petersburg newspapers in cells of the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul, strikes the government in its most vulnerable point by declaring that the administration and not parliament is responsible for the delay in the settlement of the agrarian question and by proclaiming a cessation of payment of taxes and of military service and repudiation of future loans. The address is as follows:

Gist of the Address.
The following is the text of the parliamentary manifesto:

"To the people from their popular representatives:

"Citizens of all Russia: Parliament has been dissolved by ukase of July 21. You elected us as your representatives and instructed us to fight for our country and freedom. In execution of your instructions and our duty we drew up laws in order to insure freedom to the people. We demanded the removal of irresponsible ministers who were infringing the laws with impunity and oppressing freedom. First of all, however, we wanted to bring out a law respecting the distribution of land to working peasants and involving the assignment, to this end, of crown appanages, monasteries and lands belonging to the clergy, and compulsory expropriation of private estates. The government held such a law to be inadmissible, and upon parliament once more urgently putting forward its resolution regarding compulsory expropriation parliament was dissolved.

Seething with Unrest.
The government promises to convolve a new parliament seven months hence. Russia must remain without popular representation for seven whole months, at a time when the people are standing on the brink of ruin, and industry and commerce are undermined, when the whole country is seething with unrest and when the ministry has definitely shown its incapacity to do justice to popular needs. For seven months the government will act arbitrarily and will fight against the popular movement in order to obtain a pliable, subservient parliament. Should it succeed, however, in completely suppressing the popular movement the government will convolve no parliament at all.

Urges People to Be Firm.
"Citizens, stand up for your trampled-on rights, for popular representation and for an imperial parliament. Russia must not remain a day without popular representation. You are now the means of acquiring it. The government has, without the assent of the popular representatives, no right to collect taxes from the people nor to summon the people to military service. Therefore, you are now the government. The dissolved parliament was justified in giving neither money nor soldiers. Should the government, however, contract loans in order to procure funds, such loans will be invalid without the consent of the popular representatives. The Russian people will never acknowledge them and will not be called upon to pay them. Accordingly, until a popular representative parliament is summoned do not give a kopeck to the throne or a soldier to the army. Be steadfast in your refusal. No power can resist the united, inflexible will of the people.

"Citizens, in this obligatory and unavoidable struggle your representatives will be with you."

Douma Is Dissolved.
St. Petersburg.—The czar issued a ukase Sunday morning dissolving the parliament and placing St. Petersburg under martial law. The ukase calls for a new parliament to meet March 5, 1907.

Another ukase issued by the czar relieved M. Gorenkyin of the premiership and appointed M. Stolypin his successor. The latter retains his present post of minister of the interior.

The government's midnight coup d'etat is already having the effect of uniting all the discordant elements of the opposition, and it requires little perspicacity to see that an era of repression and all it entails will drive liberal and revolutionist alike to support the most desperate measures.

With the regular garrison there are now more than 60,000 troops massed in the city, including 40 battalions of infantry, practically the entire cavalry of the guard, a division of infantry of the guard, a field battery, four other batteries and four companies of machine guns.

Country Facing Revolt.
The dissolution of the Russian douma by the imperial ukase brings Russia face to face with what may prove to be the most stupendous revolution in history. The emperor's autocratic act also rings down the curtain, temporarily at least, on the late stand and one of the most interesting attempts in history to give a nation a form of representative government.

Judged by its positive achievements the douma will not rank high as a law-making assemblage, but as giving voice to a people's sense of wrongs, its brief existence has proved of momentous importance. The circumstances of the dissolution of the douma may be attributed to two causes: The lack of harmony among the strangely diverse elements that went to make up the body and the fundamental law by which the emperor limited the matters that might be considered by the parliament.

The world's youngest parliament was opened by the emperor on May 10 of this year. It may be said that friction began to develop almost from the first. Not long after the opening the emperor refused to receive an address from the president of the douma. The premier read the emperor's reply on May 26, and the independent spirit and temper of the representative body was manifested on that occasion. The constitutional democrats were strongly in the majority at the opening, but when bitter debates over the agrarian and Jewish questions developed new groups like the "Group of Toll" were formed and the overwhelming strength of the constitutional democrats began to dwindle. The more radical elements showed a growing spirit of intolerance, and even the moderate and conciliatory statements of the emperor's ministers were often greeted with derision. The emperor's advisers urged that the douma was simply a forum for the promulgation of revolutionary doctrines.

The breach began to widen and it was apparent that a crisis was inevitable. It came when the parliament attempted to counteract an appeal to the peasants from the crown by an appeal to the country to stand by parliament on the question of the expropriation of church and state lands. The dissolution of parliament followed.

The douma's only piece of legislation that has become a law is a bill appropriating $7,500,000 for the relief of famine-stricken peasants.

Four Workmen Killed.
South Framingham, Mass.—The front of a partially constructed three-story brick and cement building collapsed Monday. Only nine men were taken out alive, and four bodies were recovered.

Mine Breaker Burned.
Hazleton, Pa.—Fire Monday destroyed the Crystal Ridge breaker of A. Pardee & Co. The loss is about $60,000; covered by insurance.

Explosion Kills Four Men.
Mount Union, Pa.—Four men were killed and five injured Monday in an explosion in the powder and dynamite house belonging to Jesse O. McClain, near Robertsdale, Huntingdon county.

New Trial for Alleged Slayer.
Detroit, Mich.—The state supreme court at Lansing has granted a new trial to Floyd Harper, convicted some months ago of the murder of Patrolman Daley in this city.

TERRIBLE TO RECALL.

Five Weeks in Bed with Intensely Painful Kidney Trouble.

Mrs. Mary Wagner, of 1367 Kossuth Ave., Bridgeport, Conn., says: "I was so weakened and generally run down with kidney disease that for a long time I could not do my work and was five weeks in bed. There was continual bearing down pain, terrible headaches, and at times dizzy spells when everything was a blur before me. The passages of the kidney secretions were irregular and painful, and there was considerable sediment and odor. I don't know what I would have done but for Doan's Kidney Pills. I could see an improvement from the first box, and five boxes brought a final cure."

Cornelius Vanderbilt, in the name of his father, and Alfred G., in the name of his mother, made application for membership in the Rhode Island Society of the Cincinnati as the representative of the Vanderbilt family. The society decided that Cornelius was the proper representative and he was elected with 15 others.

Shelter Tents.
There is a probability of the Australian military authorities encouraging the manufacture or importation of shelter tents, as used in Japan during the late war. The tent consists of a waterproof sheet with hooks and eyelets, the weight being trifling. Each Japanese soldier carries one of these sheets in his kit, and any number of them can be laced together, the custom being for four men to form a bivouac. Arms are piled in the usual way, and the sheets are spread over the pile weapons, affording shelter from both heat and rain. They can be utilized in many ways for sheltering the soldiers.

The Virtue of Abbreviation.
A writer in the Evening Standard, complaining of the London habit of abbreviation, says he would like to hang the "fend who christened the Baker street and Waterloo railway the 'Bakerloo Tube.'" We think he should canonize him. This column speaks with a certain anxiety—for it at least gave currency to both these abbreviations. On the opening day of the Shepherd's Bush and Mansion House line a forgotten omnibus driver fired the gibe, "It ain't nothing but a twopenny tube," at the people who turned from his omnibus and took to the bowels of the earth. The officials who could build a railway could not name it. The driver's gibe fixed the word. In the same way the London public, though quite ready to travel by the Baker street and Waterloo railway, wanted to save its breath, and for the economy of hurried speech the suggestion was here made—Bakerloo. The two words have been taken to the heart of travelers, and received official sanction; for at Trafalgar square you are directed to the "Bakerloo Tube." The phrase is swift, convenient, as a matter of speech, and has just as much relation to literary language as a bill of lading.—London Chronicle.

BACK TO PULPIT.
What Food Did for a Clergyman.

A minister of Elizabethtown tells how Grape-Nuts food brought him back to his pulpit: "Some 5 years ago I had an attack of what seemed to be La Grippe which left me in a complete state of collapse and I suffered for some time with nervous prostration. My appetite failed, I lost flesh till I was a mere skeleton, life was a burden to me, I lost interest in everything and almost in everybody save my precious wife.

"Then on the recommendation of some friends I began to use Grape-Nuts food. At that time I was a miserable skeleton, without appetite and hardly able to walk across the room; had ugly dreams at night, no disposition to entertain or be entertained and began to shun society.

"I finally gave up the regular ministry, indeed I could not collect my thoughts on any subject, and became almost a hermit. After I had been using the Grape-Nuts food for a short time I discovered that I was taking on new life and my appetite began to improve; I began to sleep better and my weight increased steadily; I had lost some 50 pounds, but under the new food regime I have regained almost my former weight, and have greatly improved in every way.

"I feel that I owe much to Grape-Nuts and can truly recommend the food to all who require a powerful rebuilding agent, delicious to taste and always welcome."

PENINSULAR HAPPENINGS

THE PITIABLE LIFE OF A DEAF MUTE ENDS IN HIS SUICIDE.

BOY PROMPTLY OBEYED.

A Sparrow Laden Life Drove Ernest Smith to Death—Saved by Instant Obedience to Command.

Life Was Too Hard.

The careers of very few people are so full of pitiable incidents as that of Ernest Smith, until recently a farmer of New Haven, whom fate had foredoomed should be a deaf mute, to die in silence after suffering the vicissitudes of speechless existence. The man had lived on a farm from boyhood, and for years had been saving money in order that he might enter some school for the deaf and dumb, where he could have the obstruction to his happiness removed to some extent. Last December he became infused with the gold fever, took the $700 that he had saved, and started west. While in St. Louis thieves waylaid and robbed him of his money and watch, which were the results of years of hard work. Stunned by the calamity, he started to walk home. The journey was filled with perils, and several times he was at the point of starvation.

Finally, destitute and nearly exhausted, he reached the farm of his brother, who is also a deaf and dumb man, adjoining the tract he had sold before starting on the journey. There he lived for a few weeks, dejected, lonely and dependent. In sign language he told his brother several times he was going to kill himself. About a week ago he disappeared. Wednesday afternoon searchers stumbled across the body, half covered by earth, in a tract of woods about two miles from town. A revolver with one of the chambers empty, clutched in his right hand, told all that was needed of the tragic sequel of the man's life drama.

Obedience Saved Him.

Prompt obedience to his father's commands saved 8-year-old Reggie Gibbons, of Grant township, from a horrible death. The little fellow was assisting his father unloading hay from the wagons to the barn when he was caught in the fens and carried a distance of 20 feet into the air and a few feet from machinery which would have ground him to pieces. The father, seeing his son's plight, yelled to him to drop. Reggie did so and fell face downwards on the barn floor, receiving only bruises on the face and body. The father ascribes the boy's escape to prompt obedience. He says if the drop had been 500 feet Reggie would have let go just the same.

Wants to Die.

John Stolzer, a Portsmouth farmer, who was arrested for beating his wife with a bar, was removed to Mercy hospital, Bay City, in a weakened condition as a result of his refusing to participate in his arrest. Mrs. Stolzer, who says her husband struck her on the head with a bar several times, inflicting painful injuries, is afraid he will get away from the hospital and kill her. Stolzer has not taken a mouthful of food in over a week, and his wife says this has been his habit whenever he gets violently angry.

Persistent Socialists.

For insisting on holding a political meeting on a public street in Kalamazoo Monday night, in violation of a city ordinance and after he had been offered the use of Haymarket square, Guy L. Lockwood, state chairman of the Socialist party, was jailed. Elmer H. Nutter, another Socialist, who called Chief of Police Allen an opprobrious name, was arrested as a disorderly. A big crowd gathered for the meeting, as Lockwood had announced his intention of speaking in the street, through threatened with arrest. He was taken into custody as he was about to introduce G. H. Goble, of Detroit, and a peering mob of curiosity-seekers followed officer and prisoner to the jail. The Socialists then adjourned to the square. They had claimed that this place was "unsanitary."

Lockwood and his wife have been actively engaged in the spread of socialist propaganda for several years. In a wagon, and later in an automobile which Mrs. Lockwood won in a contest from H. Gaylord Wilshire, they have toured several states. For two years they have been residents of Kalamazoo. Mr. Lockwood, who is an artist of ability, is at the head of an art school.

Bay City's Plague.

Bay City has been visited by a plague of flies, even as the ancient Egyptians were plagued for their refusal to let the children of Israel go forth from the land. Just why the plague has visited Bay City is not evident, but the streets were filled with them, before the plague subsided, and when the streets were flushed to clean them of the insects they lodged in the catch basins and it was necessary to shovel them out while people fought shy of the down town districts or fled to the hills.

THE MICHIGAN.

Fishing for the Vessel Sunk Thirty Years Ago.

Like hunting for a needle in a hay stack is the search in 150 feet of water off Holland harbor for the fine steamer Michigan, which was sunk nearly 30 years ago. The job is under the direction of the Crosby Transportation Co. of Muskegon. The steamer cost $250,000, is an iron boat and was handsomely furnished throughout. It was sunk as the result of an ice jam, the crew escaping after a perilous trip. Until a few weeks ago no one had thought of the log sunk boat as a thought. Then a Holland fisherman happened to foul his nets on the bottom of Lake Michigan, and in grappling for them picked up a piece of the upper works or cabin of the Michigan.

Now two tugs, the Trio of Muskegon and the Crouse of Grand Haven are at the scene, and Charles F. Glew, an expert on deep-sea marine matters, is supervising the work. The boat is believed to be too far down for the chains with lines and then send a diver down in a diving bell. The job is hazardous and mariners are watching the work with interest. Once the divers get a line on the boat one of the Crosby steamers now running into Muskegon will pull the boat into shallow water, the hatches will be closed and the hole in her side batted up ready for pumping out.

The Michigan was an exact counterpart of the Wisconsin, now the Nanon, and both steamers were then owned by the Detroit, Grand Haven & Milwaukee railroad.

The Woman Went.

Claiming to be a deputy sheriff from Branch county, a man came to the home of Leonard Fisher, near Plainwell, declaring that he had a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Fisher. He added that the woman had advertised for a husband, and had been in correspondence with the "complainant" for several months, securing about $50 from him. He said his warrant called for her arrest on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Fisher protested against the arrest, but the woman appeared willing to go with the stranger. She said she was guilty. The husband did not believe her and didn't believe that the stranger was an officer. He started out to inform local officers.

In the meantime his wife and the stranger drove to Plainwell, disassembled their heavy rig and disappeared.

The Fishers were married about two and a half years ago in Grand Rapids. Mrs. Fisher is about 40 years old.

Jumped to His Death.

Carl Benton, 21 years old, son of A. J. Benton, of Charlotte, was killed in Lansing early Friday morning by jumping from a Grand Trunk passenger train. He struck a water tower and his skull was crushed. He had been to Detroit with a friend, Roy Bishop, of Charlotte, and they were heading their way home. This story is told by young Bishop.

"We were afraid we would be picked up by officers when the train drew into Lansing, and Carl jumped without looking. I did not jump. When I went back to look for Carl I found him beside the track. I called the trainmen, and he was taken to the hospital, where he died."

Young Benton was a graduate of the Charlotte high school, a student at the Agricultural college and a member of the football team of 1902.

Thief Was Loaded.

Literally loaded down with silver plate until his pockets bulged, Walter B. Stewart, who had raided the private dining room of the Van Vleck hotel, in Saginaw, was discovered by a young girl as he was about to escape by a side door. The girl called on the burglar to halt, and the proprietor rushed to the scene and grappled with the man. Every pocket of his trousers, coat and vest and his shirt made into a blouse, were filled with silver, until he could hardly walk. A second search at headquarters revealed still more loot. One piece was valued at $100.

An Insane Fiend.

James Braghini, who so fiendishly murdered the infant son of Henry Montelati at Iron Mountain last May, has been removed from the Dickinson county jail to the asylum for the criminally insane at Ionia. Entering the Monday home, Braghini snatched the nursing babe from his mother's breast and dashed it against the wall with such violence as to cause instant death. There was no provocation.

Must Go Dry.

The primary election provided for a September drought. The law says the saloons must close on that day, which is Tuesday, September 4, this year. The Monday preceding is Labor day and law-abiding saloonists will not keep their places open on Sunday. This makes three days of unsatisfied thirst and the condition will obtain every time except when primary day is on the first day of the month.

Did a Good Job.

A 12-year-old boy called at the Ishpeming hospital and asked for a doctor, saying he wanted to have some leaves pulled out of his ears. The youngster had been in swimming, and had plugged his ears to keep the water out. He did an excellent job, the leaves being wedged in so tightly that he could not remove them. It took a surgeon some minutes to rid the ears of the obstruction.

The Rescue Mission will hold open air meetings from a gospel wagon in Saginaw during the season. The wagon holds 15 persons and an organ.

Charles Fisher fell from a ladder in a Battle Creek cereal plant, and dropped among some cog wheels which tore the flesh off his limbs in shreds.

The battleship Rhode Island collided with the Norwegian steamship Gurnsey during a storm at Newport News, and may be compelled to go to the navy yard for repairs.

Paul Bieleter and Albert Spinde, of Jackson, boys aged 10, were struck by an auto driven by Charles De Water, a testee, and seriously injured. Both may die.

Talked of in New York

Numerous Boating Accidents and Lack of Knowledge About Resuscitation—A Bevy of Southern Girls Capture the Town—Street-Cleaning Commission Asks the Children's Aid—Hard on the Horses—Remembering the Little Ones.

NEW YORK.—The extraordinary number of drownings around the metropolis sufficiently advertise the fact that we are at the height of the out-door season. Incidentally they reveal the fact that a vast majority of people do not know the first principles of that science which devotes itself to the resuscitation of the drowned. In scores of cases lives might be saved if the simple rules were even partially known.

Very many of the drownings near and in the New York waters—the city has 50 miles of water front—are due to boating accidents. Some of these are doubtless what might be called unavoidable. The vast majority are due to carelessness, or ignorance—ignorance of sail-craft, ignorance of motors.

A great number of curious craft are visible in the bay and sound this season. New York has seemed to go motor-boat mad. "Yichers" are put not merely into most sailing yachts, but into all manner of small boats, until one wonders that the motors are kept afloat in such slender vessels.

The latest announcement is of a turbine yacht. At this writing the matter has not been proclaimed in point, but one of New York's millionaires will soon launch a yacht with a turbine engine from which is promised a hair-raising speed, a speed that will make even the little Vanderbilt terror seem slow.

This craving for speed which is killing so many on land will continue to drown both the ambitious contestants and those who may be lured into their company—not to mention those whom they run down.

WITHOUT DOUBT NEW YORK IS HOSPITABLE.

Seventeen lovely girls from the south have said so and they have reason to know—that New York is really hospitable.

The 17 have been seeing the town as a result of a "most popular girl" competitive. Having won the honor in their respective towns the 17 came north in charge of a chaperone and one man.

It is not true that they came north as 17 southern beauties. "Most popular" was the official designation.

The chaperone and the man told me the "beauty" designation was a joke, and they resented New York's taking it seriously, though in justice to New York it should be said that an astonishingly large proportion of the 17 are really pretty—and the chaperone is not excepted. Hence New York quite naturally took the invasion as a "beauty" affair.

Anyway, the 17 captured the town. They have been everywhere. They have "done" Coney Island, bumping the bumps and sitting in the lion's den. They have been photographed separately in groups a hundred times.

In spite of the chaperone it is said that certain romantic things happened, that certain introductions were accomplished from which may result romantic consequences. The whole affair was very diverting to New York, and the 17 had the time of their lives.

NOW COMES THE BANANA PEEL SEASON.

A banana peel doesn't seem like a very important matter, but it has been made a real issue.

Of course it is important enough to the person who steps on it at the wrong time and in the wrong way, and Street-Cleaning Commissioner Woodbury had this in mind in taking steps to have people arrested who put banana peels in the wrong places. Moreover the commissioner organized the city children into groups whose duty it is to help keep the city clean and to apprehend those who violate the law.

The street cleaning commissioner went further. In a printed circular he said: "Feed your banana peelings to the horses."

This sounded very well. The act seemed both precautionary and charitable. It seemed to have humane purpose and a clean, safe intention.

But trouble has come. Trackmen, cabmen and others are complaining that they have sick horses. They are watching for youngsters with banana skins and are protesting that while banana skins may be scientifically adjudged a good diet for horses, there is sometimes too much of a good thing.

And so there is a banana skin issue that is really important to some folks. So many people may not topple and break their necks, but after all the poor, faithful, confiding horses have some rights, and maybe the whole affair is a terrible blow to the fruit diet theory.

New York has a new fruit diet theory every 24 hours. Every fresh attack on the beef trust sends fresh converts to the fruit and vegetable diets. Then comes trouble, as with the horses. "Strawberries and insanity" is just one of the year's propositions. "No uncooked fruit" is another cry. The man of the future who listens to all the theories as to what he should and should not eat will surely die of starvation.

A TERRIFIED GIANT AND THE BRITISH MUSEUM.

Some time ago the British museum authorities offered to buy the skeleton of Machinow, the Russian giant who is now here. That is, the museum was ready to put down a certain sum of money for the use of Machinow's body after his death.

The proposition threw the giant into absolute terror. He is said to have wept in an agony of fear. No remonstrances or explanations seemed to comfort him.

He is nine feet three inches tall, but he is a child in his outlook on the world and this and other propositions seemed to him and continue to seem to him like an assault upon his life.

When Dr. Simon, of New York, the other day offered $1,000 for his brain the offer was not permitted to reach him. Neither his wife, his physician nor his manager would permit the proposition to be translated to him. To have done so would have utterly prostrated the trembling giant if it did not end his days.

Dr. Simon explains that he wants Machinow's brain because he thinks he could prove by it that "giantism" is a disease, that certain ganglia in the brain when atrophied produce a dwarf, and when over stimulated produce a giant. The doctor thinks it not at all impossible that a right understanding of this law might make it possible to consciously increase the height of men.

Unfortunately, it seems to be true that giants grow weaker as they grow bigger. Machinow has little strength, and evidently very little courage. He eats many pounds of meat a day and smokes many cigarettes. He has to be cared for like a child. His wife, who is an ordinary-sized woman, is always with him.

And his supreme dread is being killed by the doctors.

FOR THE CHILD MILLIONS IN SUMMER.

While one set of doctors is complaining that the modern man works too much, and that children have too many months of schooling in the year, the other set is insisting that even in vacation children must have something to do, and so New York has agreed to compromise.

The "vacation school" is the compromise. After all the term school sounds worse than the fact. They are schools, but they have not the rigidity of the regular sessions. Mostly the youngsters regard them as fun. The new school were mobbed with applicants when they opened last week.

The popular features are the manual training and playgrounds which are among the despised "new ideas" in public schools. The wood-working classes are a great delight to thousands of boys. Girls and boys alike are to be taken on historic excursions in and near the city, and for this purpose government military reservations and other such places are to be thrown open to the young excursionists. In other words the new theory is that children boxed up in a city with nowhere to play and nothing to play with, need employment for their hands and their eyes in order to be contented.

Naturally the playgrounds are a great vent to juvenile energy. They have a kindergarten annex for the very youngest.

Supplementing these enterprises are the recreation piers at the river, and roof playgrounds for the early evenings.

Bands play at the piers, in the parks and on the roofs. Every day some prominent person of benevolent instincts suggests some new means of comforting the children. Maybe they will be spoiled by and by, but in the meantime the children are having their "innings." At last it is realized that beginning at the beginning is the wisest thing for a community.

From the State Capital

Information and Gossip Furnished by Special Correspondent at Lansing.

Lansing.—The total number of deaths reported to the department of state for June was 2,650, an increase of 256 over the corresponding month of 1905, but a decrease of 377 from May of this year. The death rate was 12.5 per 1,000 population. Tuberculosis was the most important cause, claiming 228 victims. Of the 207 deaths from accidents and violence, nine were caused by lightning and 51 from drowning. Tetanus claimed four victims during June, but none of the deaths resulted from the careless handling of explosives. There was one death from hydrophobia and one from smallpox. Births during June numbered 4,119.

Primary Election Law.

One of the proposed amendments to the primary election law that some Lansing men believe would result in less hard work during a campaign relates to the number of names that may be secured on the petitions of the candidates. A limit might be placed on the number, it is suggested. The law requires that for a candidate to secure the printing of his name on the primary ballot he must have a petition signed by a number of enrolled voters equal to two per cent. of the vote on governor in the county or district in which he is a candidate. Thus, in Ingham county a person wishing to have his name on the primary ballot for a county office must have 106 signatures. The suggestion is made that the requirement should be not less than two per cent. nor more than three per cent. This would fulfill the object of the law and the limit would restrain the candidates from making a mad race for all the signatures they could get. It would allow a number above that required to provide for any who were found not to be enrolled or disqualified for other reason. In this county candidates for one office met and tried to form an agreement as to the number of signatures they would get, but all could not agree and all are now trying to secure as many written promises of support as possible. An interesting fact in connection with the fight for signers to nominating petitions for the various offices has been brought to light by the filing of the petitions of some of the candidates. On some of the petitions other candidates have found names which also are signed on their endorsement sheets. Among the men who are guilty of this error are some of those most prominently connected with municipal affairs. It is not known just what disposition will be made in such cases by the department of state, but probably either the names will be crossed off both petitions or the signature bearing the earliest date will be accepted.

Dairy Prizes Awarded.

The first award of prizes in the educational scoring contest conducted by the state dairy and food department has been made by Deputy Commissioner Colon C. Little. The contest covered the last seven months of last year. In the butter department Frank Jankowski, of Wayland, is awarded the gold medal, and S. M. Miles, of Buchanan, the silver medal for the second highest score. Almon Powell, of Willard, received the gold medal for cheese, and H. P. Fitzpatrick the silver medal. Diplomas have been issued to about 50 butter and cheese makers whose average scores was over 93 per cent.

Father Exercises Authority.

Off to the farm where the haying season is on Miss Lila Galvin was taken by her father after a scene at the home in Lansing in which the young woman's husband figured. The latter's advance on the house from the front was repulsed by the father, and from the woodshed of the neighboring house he later took up a position to entreat the girl to elope with him. The mother fainted and the father became angry and soon was headed toward the country with the daughter, while the whereabouts of the young man were lost to the view of the neighbors.

Railroads Given Privileges.

After a hearing Railroad Commissioner Wood granted an order allowing the Benton Harbor-St. Joseph Traction company to build a subway under the Pere Marquette and cross two sidings of the Michigan Central at grade at St. Joseph. This permits the traction company to reach the Graham & Morton dock. A temporary grade crossing of the Jackson Consolidated Railroad company and the Michigan Central at Francis street in Jackson was allowed, but the Consolidated company must construct an overhead crossing within six months.

Think Father Took Boy.

Christian Gang, a nine-year-old boy, whose parents have separated, is missing from the place where he was being cared for, and it is alleged he was taken by his father, who had been denied the custody of the children after a hearing in the circuit court on a writ of habeas corpus. Pending the divorce suit the children were to be cared for by others. The father is also claimed to have made an effort to secure possession of his daughter.

Two Senators to Heat From.

United States Senator Burrhead and State Senator Charles C. Toughton, are the only ones who have not written the governor to accept the invitation to attend the convention at Des Moines, Ia., looking to the submission of an amendment to the federal constitution for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.

Rev. R. H. Cole Dead.

Rev. R. H. Cole, member of the Lansing presbytery, is dead at Marshall, of cancer of the stomach. He was a graduate of the Drew theological seminary, Madison, N. J., in 1883. He was pastor of various Presbyterian churches, but for the past ten years has been a life insurance agent. He leaves a widow and eight children.

Lansing Resident Dies in Ontario.

Samuel Ferguson, aged 75, of Lansing, died suddenly at Langton, Ont., at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. William Murphy. He arrived in Langton from Lansing only a few days ago and was apparently in good health on retiring for the night. Heart disease is supposed to have been the cause of death.

May Join Rifle Association.

Capt. R. C. Vandervoort, of the First battery, field artillery, received a letter from E. D. Ellis, of Detroit, secretary of the Michigan State Rifle association, inviting the Revolver club, which will be organized by the artillerymen after camp, to join the National Rifle association. It is probable that after the new club is organized it will become a member of the association. Secretary Ellis desires to have the Lansing soldiers enter so that matches with the Detroit Revolver and Rifle club may be held.

Lansing Pioneer Dead.

Mrs. Julia L. Green, widow of the late George H. Greene, who was for many years secretary of the State Pioneer and historical society, died in Lansing, aged 79.

SATURDAY, JULY 28, 1906

With the death of Russel Sage, one of America's foremost financiers has passed into the great unknown. His has been an eventful career, starting life as clerk in a general store in Troy, N. Y., at a salary of $4 a month. He was ambitious and soon developed great talent in a "dicker" and made quite a sum trading horses. Five years later, at the age of twenty, he decided to strike out in the world on his own account, leaving this far saved every cent that had touched his fingers. He, in company with his brother Montague, started a small grocery store, selling rum as a side issue. When the "temperance reform" wave struck that part of the country, they had to cut out the liquor end of the business to save the grocery trade.

By the time he had reached the age of twenty-five or five years after starting out for himself, he had managed to save a fortune of $75,000 and was a leading citizen of Troy. He became identified with several large railroad deals. He made money by leaps and bounds, chiefly through loaning money and charging usurious rates of interest. On July 15, 1869 he was indicted for usury, convicted, fined $250 and sentenced to a week's imprisonment. He pleaded with the court and the imprisonment was remitted after the judge had delivered one of the most stinging reprimands ever heard in a New York court room.

One of the greatest fears of his life was that he might unwittingly lose a cent. His abilities as a money maker were of the highest order. Hard grasping, pinching he was at the same time clear-headed, shrewd and far sighted to an almost inviolable degree. A wonderful manipulator and a tremendous power in the financial world, he was "feared by many, respected by some, admired by few, envied by none, and loved by his wife."

Such was Russel Sage. Miss Rose Hessel has returned from an extended trip through the western states.

Nervous Worn-Out
If you are in this condition, your nerve force is weak—the power is giving out, the organs of your body have "slowed up," and do their work imperfectly. This failure to do the work required, clogs the system and brings distress and disease. When the nerves are weak the heart is unable to force the life-giving blood through your veins; the stomach fails to digest food; the kidneys lack power to filter impurities from the blood, and the poisonous waste remains in the system to breed disease. Nerve energy must be restored. Dr. Miles' Nerve will do it, because it strengthens the nerves; it is a nerve medicine and tonic, that rebuilds the entire nervous system.
"Several years ago I was all broken down. I was nervous, worn-out, could not sleep, and was in constant pain. I doctored for months, and finally the doctor said he could do nothing for me. I began taking Dr. Miles' Nerve, and used altogether eight bottles, and I became strong and healthy, and now weigh 170 pounds."

The Most Beautiful Summer Resort and the Handsomest Summer Hotel in Northern Michigan

The Royal Frontinac hotel, Frankfort, Mich., will open its fifth season Saturday June 30th.

Perhaps you are already familiar with this attractive summer home, which now numbers its friends in nearly every state in the Union. If you are, you will be interested in knowing that for this season an especially low schedule of rates will be offered, and from our correspondence that has already passed through this office, a thoroughly enjoyable season, with ample patronage of a desirable sort is assured.

If you do not know Frankfort, a few lines will tell you that it is a beautiful spot, well fitted for a summer resort. The hotel is thoroughly modern and the surrounding grounds are of a beautiful and extensive nature. The location is in the heart of one of the most beautiful sections of the State.

We should be glad to have from you, in any event, and will be pleased in giving you detailed information as to rates either for yourself and friends.

Humphreys' Specifics for Children

The introduction of Humphreys' Specifics into the home is often through the children. When your child comes in from play, hot and feverish; and after being in bed, is restless, tosses and tumbles about, a dose of Humphreys' Specific Number One, quiets the child and the chances are largely in favor of the little one waking in the morning perfectly well and happy. Thus serious fevers and sickness may be prevented by keeping this Specific in the house.

Humphreys' Specifics also include the following cures for Children's Diseases: No. 2 for Worms; No. 3 for Colic; No. 4 for Diarrhea; No. 13 for Croup; No. 20 for Whooping Cough.

At all Drug Stores or mailed, Dr. Humphreys' Manual sent free. Humphreys' Homeo. Medicine Co. Cor. William and John Streets, New York.

Twenty Minutes Time Enough?
To Cure the Worst Headache From Any Cause—New Reduction Method.

Most headaches and pains yield instantly to the new Reduction Method—Dr. Shoop's Twenty Minute Headache Cure. The cause for these pains is congestion—a building up of the nerve centers, which distends the veins to nearly the bursting point. Swollen and enlarged, these veins and capillaries exert an irritating pressure on the rays of nerve branches and fibres. This causes pain and fever that excruciating, ceaseless, and distressing. Reduction Method dispenses the blood, distributes the nerve centres and directs it from the nerve centres from all pressure and irritation. A reminder—do not give up your headache and stiff neck because you have tried other remedies—but the remedy which brings prompt relief and permanent cure will be successful because it reduces the congestion. It must embody the Reduction Method. Dr. Shoop's has thus found a way—simple and sure, yet the only way—to thoroughly relieve these attacks of Headache and Stiff Neck. The effect of Dr. Shoop's Twenty Minute Headache Cure is prompt—permanent relief from the most distressing and absolute headache and stiff neck. For sale and information write to:

LIFE THE STAKE

Albert T. Patrick's Long Fight to Prevent the Carrying Out of the Grim Sentence of Death.

HAS MADE THE LAW A PLAYTHING

Sentenced in 1902 for the Murder of Millionaire William Marsh Rice, By Skillful Maneuvering He Has Thus Far Evaded the Hands of the Executioner.

New York.—Take the average murderer. Sentenced to die, he bows to the seeming inevitable. Like a thing whose spirit has already crossed the border-line, from life to death, he mechanically waits for the end, sometimes moaning, sometimes praying, but always waiting—waiting for the executioner to behead him forth.

Nowhere can a more striking contrast to the above be found than in the amazing and even brilliant fight of lawyer Albert T. Patrick against the law, his own stock in trade, says the New York World.

Arrested in February, 1901, for the murder of William Marsh Rice, an eccentric old millionaire who had been found dead five months previously under suspicious circumstances in his apartments at No. 509 Madison avenue, Patrick was tried, found guilty and sentenced to die in the electric chair in the week of May 5, 1902. More than four years have passed since then, and yet Patrick is still very much alive, and actually has a longer lease of life ahead of him now than he had on April 7, 1902, when the grim death sentence was pronounced for the first time upon him.

Dangerously near to the dead-line, Patrick has been forced time after time, but by skillful maneuvering he has evaded the executioner's hand and obtained another respite. As the case now stands, Patrick is safe at least until next October, when the United States supreme court will pass upon the writ of error granted on June 12 by Justice Day. This writ was granted at Canton, O., within six days of the time set for Patrick's execution, and after preparations for putting the condemned man to death had already been commenced at Sing Sing. It was the closest shave Patrick ever had.

When Millionaire Rice was found dead in his apartments at No. 509 Madison avenue, on September 23, 1900, there was absolutely no suspicion that his lawyer, Patrick, had murdered him. Not until four days later, when the funeral had been stopped by order of the coroner and Rice's body sent to the morgue, did Patrick learn that he was a suspect. Six days from the date of Rice's death detectives began to shadow Patrick, and finally, on October 3, Patrick and Rice's valet, Charles F. Jones, were arrested, not on a charge of murder, but for forgery connected with Rice's will and a $25,000 check which Patrick had tried to cash after Rice's death.

On the day following their arrest, Patrick and Jones were held in $10,000 bail each on the forgery charge. The bail was purposely placed at that high figure, in order that the two prisoners might be detained while the investigation of the circumstances surrounding the mysterious death of Mr. Rice could be probed. Then, while Patrick and Jones were endeavoring to get somebody to bail them out, the police and coroner worked hard to solve the murder mystery. On October 27 the result of the analysis of Rice's body was announced, showing that the aged millionaire had been poisoned.

Had Been Poisoned. Next the police turned their attention to Valet Jones. They "third-degree" him for three days, and then he told them what they already suspected: Patrick had murdered Rice. Two days later Jones made a still more detailed confession, shouldering all the guilt on Patrick to save his own neck. Having done that, Jones cut his throat in prison, but the police doctors "stitched up the gash and saved him for further confessions.

Then, suddenly, on February 25, Patrick made his first move to get out. The bail, $10,000, necessary to liminary examination, he was held for the grand jury, and on April 25 that body returned an indictment against Patrick, charging him with murder in the first degree. Next day Patrick was formally arraigned before Recorder Goff and remanded for trial.

On October 14, when more than a year had passed since the death of Rice, Patrick's lawyers went into court and made a motion for their client's release on the ground that two trial terms had passed without the district attorney bringing Patrick to trial. This motion was denied.

Patrick was placed on trial for his life on the following January 20. Postponements came on February 4 and 5, owing to the illness of Juror John D. Campbell, and it was not until March 26 that the trial ended with Patrick's conviction. Immediately following the announcement

Patrick's next move was more successful. The court of appeals on July 24, just 14 days before Patrick was to die, granted a stay of execution pending a new hearing and re-argument on the grounds of newly discovered evidence. This was followed on October 2 by a motion for a re-argument of Patrick's original appeal, but on October 27 the court of appeals decided against Patrick by refusing to reopen his case and denying the motion for a re-argument.

On November 10 Patrick asked the court of appeals to amend the record of decision in the case. His motion was denied. Matters began to look grave.

On July 6 Justice Rogers called Patrick to the bar in the criminal branch of the supreme court and sentenced him to die in the week beginning January 22 of this year. Then Patrick made a personal appeal to Gov. Higgins for a stay of execution. The appeal was deof the jury's verdict of "guilty of murder in the first degree" Patrick's lawyers filed notice of their intention to appeal from the verdict, and to move for a new trial.

Sentenced to Die. Recorder Goff called Patrick to the bar on April 7, and after denying the motion for a new trial and another motion for the arrest of judgment, he sentenced Patrick to die in the electric chair in the week beginning May 5.

A notice of appeal was at once filed with the court of appeals. This acted temporarily as a stay of execution, and the dreaded week of May 5 passed with Patrick still alive.

A delay of almost three years followed, during which Patrick successfully checked every move made to end his life.

Patrick's lawyers had six months from the date of the notice of appeal in which to present their case to the court. The six months expired on October 7, 1902, but on the day previous went before the court of appeals and asked for an extension to January 15, within which to file Patrick's appeal for a new trial.

Two days later the court refused the application for an extension of time.

This left the case in suspense. The court record stopped with the court's refusal to extend the time limit, which, by the way, had already expired. The court of appeals, although it had stopped the execution of Patrick, had no jurisdiction to fix a new date for carrying out the sentence. Things were at a standstill.

Patrick broke the ice on November 17, 1902, by filing a motion for a new trial. On November 26 the hearing of the motion before Recorder Goff was postponed until December 5. The year 1902 closed with Patrick waiting in his cell for Recorder Goff to decide whether he would grant the motion for a new trial or not.

New Year's day, 1903, found Patrick anticipating an unfavorable decision from Recorder Goff by preparing an appeal from the anticipated decision. February 9 passed without the recorder's decision being announced, and the court of appeals granted Patrick an extension of time under which to file his appeal if necessary.

On March 2 Recorder Goff denied the motion for a new trial. Patrick immediately filed his notice of appeal, and nothing more could be done toward carrying out the death sentence for another six months at least.

The court of appeals the following June decided against Patrick, refusing to grant a new trial and affirming the judgment of conviction.

Two days later Patrick prepared a new appeal for presentation to the court of appeals for a new hearing and argument. This time it took the court of appeals just three days to decide against Patrick's newest move. On June 14 his application was refused and the court fixed the week of August 7 for his execution.

THE POISONING OF MILLIONAIRE RICE

nied. Patrick then made a public appeal for "a square deal." This was on December 23. Time was getting short and Patrick's resources seemed exhausted.

As a result of Patrick's appeal many petitions reached Gov. Higgins on December 20, asking him to save Patrick's life. Patrick followed these with another appeal to the governor for a stay of execution, but this, too, the governor refused to grant.

When January 15 came and Patrick's execution was only distant seven days, the governor granted Patrick an extension to March 19 in order that he might present the testimony of the Texan witness who came to New York city later to tell what Valet Jones had told them about Patrick's innocence.

Patrick waited until February 18 before filing his motion for a new trial on the grounds of newly discovered evidence. His fight for a new trial began before Recorder Goff on February 21 and ended disastrously, one of the Texan witnesses being arrested and sent to jail for perjury.

On March 12, one week from the date of execution, Patrick received another reprieve, this time to May 21, and on May 14, with the day of execution one week away once more, Gov. Higgins granted a further respite to June 18.

Gov. Higgins dealt Patrick a hard blow on May 20 by vetoing a legislative bill passed at Albany which would have permitted him to obtain easily a new trial on the grounds of newly discovered evidence.

Another very hard blow came on June 11, when Recorder Goff handed down a decision denying Patrick's motion for a new trial. Patrick apparently had reached his last ditch. He was to die within a week.

But on June 12 a writ of error was granted on his application to the United States supreme court. This acted as a stay of execution and is not returnable until the October term of court.

In his prolonged fight Patrick has had the assistance of many celebrated attorneys, but almost every move made has been at his own suggestion or that of Attorney Bell Thomas, who has been his most constant adviser.

Public sentiment in New York has been a great factor in the case. The Rice was murdered has been proved beyond all doubt, but many believe the millionaire's valet, Jones was the assassin. Both Patrick and Jones benefited in a pecuniary way through the death of Rice.

During his stay in jail Patrick has made himself the idol of the prisoners, acting as their legal adviser in many cases. His knowledge of the law is profound, and many a criminal, it is alleged, has attained his liberty through clever technicalities devised by Patrick. The state's attorney's office would be glad to have him liberated or the death sentence, so long delayed, carried out.

The case shows as perhaps never before in criminal history how easily a man of resources can evade punishment for his misdeeds.

World Now Dependent on America's Copper Supply

By P. A. O'FARRELL, Expert on International Finance and the History of Copper Mining.

COPPER is more important to the individual citizen of America than most any other metal that is mined at present.

In copper lies the making and solving of economic questions, and the probability of the electrification of the steam railroads of the entire world and the changing from all the old methods of cooking to the one of electricity.

Every individual in America is concerned in the development of the copper industry; whether they know it or not, and every time a new mine is opened up in the copper world it means a step forward to the luxurious simple life which is bound to prevail when electricity becomes a common commodity.

Thirty years ago there was not a pound of electrolytic copper made in America. Copper sulphide ores had to be shipped to England and Germany for reduction and refining. This year of 1906 will see about 800,000,000 pounds of electrolytic copper produced in America, and its value will be about $150,000,000. Add the lake copper to this and it will be seen that America is producing copper at the rate of $200,000,000 a year. Europe has to have half this copper, no matter whether it pays 10 cents or 25 cents a pound. It is as necessary to its industrial life as coal or iron. Within seven years America will be selling $250,000,000 worth of copper yearly to Europe, and the United States will be consuming at the rate of $250,000,000 worth of copper itself. That is how the captains of industry and the great scientific authorities of Europe calculate the coming demands for copper. It is the age of brass, and bronze, and copper, and America is the only country so far that can supply the marvellously increased demands for the metal. It would be a great misfortune for the industrial world were copper to go beyond 20 cents a pound. Were it to do so it would check consumption and the world's progress. But unless some great new copper deposits are discovered and made producers we shall have a copper famine within the next three years.

Success by the Rule of Three

By DR. NEWELL DWIGHT HILLIS.

Success represents a rule in three: Multiply one's talent by one's opportunity and divide by circumstances and limitations and you have the career. Unfortunately, the divisor called circumstances is often made too large. Strictly speaking, everything depends upon the man. Every day I hear some youth exclaim: "If I only had a chance!" "Give me his place," with similar expressions, indicating an over-emphasis of opportunity, and an under-emphasis of self-reliance. The simple fact is that some of the greatest cotton mills are a thousand miles from the cotton fields, some of the greatest steel plants are a thousand miles from the iron mines, that gold ore is often smelted at distances remote from the quartz and that South African diamonds are polished in Amsterdam and African silk woven in New Jersey looms.

The more difficult the task the more development and growth there is in mastering it. There is not a tool in the world that cannot be made ten times as good. There is not a business to-day that is not full of wastes that could be saved. The method you are using to-day is already outgrown, and why may you not find a better one? Young man, work more with your head and less with your hands. Go to the library and get some textbooks on your own occupation. There is a fortune waiting for you. Stop thinking about what your father is going to leave you. Forget Solomon's advice to nephews: "Go to thy aunt, you sluggard!" and fall back on yourself. Consider what opportunities you have lost through indolence and drifting and sloth and ease. The time has come to awake and rise from the dead to a new life of purpose, self-reliance and success!

Man as Old as He Feels

By G. ELLIOT FLINT, Author of "Power and Health Through Progressive Exercise."

What makes most persons old is the idea that they are old. A man is as old as he feels; because as he acts he is.

The belief that our activities should decrease as our years increase beyond middle-age is of all false conceptions one of the most vicious. Nothing so hastens the infirmities of age as does a decreasing activity. Only when we cease to be active do we become truly old.

After middle-age most men imagine that they are slowly losing strength; so they do less physical work and they eat less, thereby greatly accelerating their decline. For the ultimate effect of reducing our amount of food is to diminish appetite, and this hinders repair. And again, the less we exert ourselves the less are we inclined to exertion. This is the chief reason that men become corpulent, short-winded and progressively more helpless as they grow older.

Men 50 and 60 years old have asked me whether I thought they were too old to begin some regular course of exercise. I have answered, "No." When old men begin to exercise they develop almost as rapidly and just as surely as they would were they young men. Their muscles at first become sore, and the unaccustomed work causes breathlessness; then, after a time, their bodily strength increases and their wind improves. I have known men that at 50 were weak and in poor health to become within one year, through the proper kind and amount of exercise, athletic and robust.

Nothing holds off old age like activity. And activity does more than this—it inhibits fatigue. Boys playing at baseball or at any exciting game do not soon tire. And when the mind is actively engaged it, for a long time, experiences no fatigue.

It is not old age that renders us incapable; it is the indolence that tempts to ease, whereby the functions are weakened and the structures disintegrated.

When Millionaire Rice was found dead in his apartments at No. 509 Madison avenue, on September 23, 1900, there was absolutely no suspicion that his lawyer, Patrick, had murdered him. liberate him, was produced, and Patrick had already left his cell and was almost free, when orders came to refuse the bail and put Patrick back in his cell. Two days later Patrick was formally charged with the murder of Rice and held without bail pending a hearing.

Events in Patrick's case came swiftly after this. On April 9 Jones declared that Patrick had admitted to his lawyers in Jones' presence, that he had killed Rice. On April 12 Patrick was remanded on the charge of murder. Four days later, at a pre-

A Balloon Incline Railroad.

Consul William Bärde writes from Bamberg that Engineer Balderauer, of Salzburg, has invented a balloon railroad, experiments with which are now being made in the mountains in the neighborhood of that German city. It consists of a stationary balloon, which is fastened to a slide running along a single steel rail. The rail is fastened to the side of a steep mountain, which ordinary railroads could not climb, except through deep cuts and tunnels. The balloon is to float about 25 feet over the ground, and a heavy steel cable connects it with the rail. The conductor can, at will, make the balloon slide up and down the side of the mountain. For going up the motive power is furnished by hydrogen gas, while the descent is caused by pressure of water, which is poured into a large tank at the upper end of the road, and which serves as ballast. Suspended from the balloon is a circular car with room for ten passengers. The cable goes from the bottom of the balloon through the center of the car to a regulator of speed, which is controlled by the conductor. The inventor of this railroad claims that his patent will force all incline cable roads out of existence.

The fanatic would rather see the race go to the pit than that any should reach heaven unlabeled with his fad.

Thinks Peruna Is a Wonderful Medicine.

MISS ANNIE HENDREN.

MISS ANNIE HENDREN, Rocklyn, Wash., writes:

"I feel better than I have for over four years. I have taken several bottles of Peruna and one bottle of Manalin.

"I can now do all of my work in the house, milk the cows, take care of the milk, and so forth. I think Peruna is a most wonderful medicine.

CANNING DIRECTIONS.

Wash Cans with Hot Soda Water—How to Fill So They Will Not Break—Use Good Rubbers.

Prepare carefully and have everything absolutely clean if you want your canned goods to keep. Wash the cans with hot soda water, and lightly boil the covers in soda water. Then rinse both in clear, hot water. Next test the cans by filling to the brim with hot water, adjusting new rubbers, screwing on tops, drying, and then setting on their heads for an hour, or over night. If any cans leak, discard them, or test them again with new rubbers or covers. When satisfactorily tested, be sure to keep the same cover to the same can, admonishes Farm and Home.

Glass cans will not crack if, when filling them with hot fruit and juices, you will first raise the can with hot water, and place it upon a folded towel wrung out of hot water. Also place a long silver spoon or fork in the can, which attracts the heat to itself. Then stir the contents of the can with the silver spoon, so as to break and remove any bubbles or air-holes that may have gathered, and be sure to have the can over-flowing full before screwing on the cover. When the can has cooled off (never place it in a draft) give the screw another turn, for in cooling, the glass has very likely contracted somewhat. Then carefully set the can away in a cool, dark, dry closet. Don't place so near together that they touch, and don't disturb them any more than you can help.

If these rules are conscientiously followed, you ought to have no trouble in keeping things, always provided, of course, that what you put in the cans was properly prepared, and all the rules of cleanliness were observed. Never make the mistake of thinking half-ripe or over-ripe or imperfect fruit or vegetables are "good enough to can." They are not, and if you do use them you are likely to have your trouble in vain.

KISSING THE BABY.

A Sweet-Faced Toddler a Helpless Victim and the Habit Is One That Should Be Stopped.

One of the things upon which careful mothers insist in engaging a nurse for young children is that indiscriminate kissing of her charges must be prevented. Many persons consider that a baby or sweet-faced little toddler met anywhere is a legitimate object for kisses and fondling, a practice which cannot be too much discouraged. A writer recently made the startling statement, credited to a physician, a specialist in treating croup, that an adult with a simple case of catarrh can give a child membranous croup. It is probable that this statement needs qualification, that certain conditions are necessary beyond the mere contact of breath to develop the germs, but even the remote possibility should be sufficient to warn parents and friends of their responsibility.

A physician's wife said not long ago, in regard to the same matter:

"I was surprised, in securing a nurse for my first child, to have my husband object to one who came to me on trial. She was efficient and neat in every way, but she had very poor teeth. They were discolored, and evidently in poor condition, and my husband insisted I should discharge her at the end of her trial week. 'The mouth,' he said, 'was a hotbed for septile germs, even in its most perfect condition.' He would certainly have no nurse about breathing into his child's face, who could not at least show a sound set of teeth. And our next nurse, whose teeth were promising, but not quite perfect, he sent to our dentist for care, while she remained with us."

Bathing in White House Grounds.

"Those Roosevelt boys," remarked a well-known citizen, "certainly make the most of their opportunities for pleasure. You know there is a large fountain in the president's grounds south of the White House. Well, I was walking in that vicinity on one of the warm days last week when I saw a sight that interested and amused me.

"Two of the president's boys rushed across the lawn from the mansion in bathing suits of the seantiest type, and mounting the iron rail of the fountain, dived in among the gold fish and aquatic plants. The water was rather cold, but those youngsters didn't seem to mind it a little bit.

"After swimming around like porpoises for a few minutes and indulging in a splashing battle the smaller boy climbed out of the basin and ran into the White House with his brother in close but futile pursuit. It was a hot day, and I envied them their big out-of-door bath tub."—Washington Star.

Pick the Blossoms.

Plants like sweet peas, nasturtiums and pansies, that produce a succession of flowers, should have the blossoms picked daily to stop the formation of seed pods and consequent decrease in number of blossoms; but in the case of such plants as have but a short period of bloom, and but one during the year, the formation of seed is prevented to increase growth of roots and branches on which the next year's blossom depend.

When Boiling Turnips.

A spoonful of sugar put in the water when boiling turnips will prevent their tasting bitter.

Amber Color to Soup.

A teaspoonful of burned sugar will give an amber color to soup made from white meats.

In a few days a letter dropped in the Chicago general postoffice fifteen or twenty minutes before the departure of trains for St. Paul, Minneapolis, Omaha, St. Louis, New Orleans, Detroit, Grand Rapids, Cincinnati, Buffalo, New York and the east will be aboard flyers on their way to these and hundreds of other points between the Lakes and the Gulf and the two oceans. The new fast work will be possible by the connection between the Chicago subway and the Illinois Central's main rooms at the Park Row station, which is also used by the Michigan Central, Big Four and Wisconsin Central roads. The subway which runs under Wabash avenue has a spur in Thirteenth street to the south end of the big railway station. All sack mail to this station has been hauled by wagons. Now it will be dropped into waiting electrical cars in the subway under the postoffice and rushed to the Park Row station, where it will be dumped onto waiting elevators which will lift them to the doors of waiting mail cars.

FROG WAS TO BLAME.

Weather Prophet Had Simply Put Faith Where He Believed He Had a Right.

James Wilson, the secretary of agriculture, was discussing an antiquated kind of farming.

"It is about as profitable and logical," he said, "as the weather reading of a Connecticut farmhand I used to know.

"This farmhand claimed that he could read the weather infallibly. On a walk with me one afternoon a frog croaked, and he said:

"We will have clear weather for 24 hours. When a frog croaks in the afternoon you may be sure of 24 hours of sunshine."

"We walked on, and in 20 minutes or so a heavy shower came up and we were both drenched to the skin.

"You are a fine weather prophet," said I, as we hurried homeward through the downpour. 'You ought to be ashamed of yourself.'

"O, well," said the farmhand, 'the frog lied. It's to blame, not me. Am I responsible for the morals of that particular frog?'"

AWFUL ITCHING ON SCALP.

Hair Finally Had to Be Cut to Save Any—Scalp Now in Good Condition—Cured by Cuticura.

"I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment for a diseased scalp, dandruff, and constantly falling hair. Finally I had to cut my hair to save any at all. Just at that time I read about the Cuticura Remedies. Once every week I shampooed my hair with the Cuticura Soap, and I used the Ointment twice a week. In two months' time my hair was long enough to do up in French twist. That is now five years ago, and I have a lovely head of hair. The length is six inches below my waist line, my scalp is in very good condition, and no more dandruff or itching of the scalp. I used other remedies that were recommended to me as good, but with no results. Mrs. W. F. Griess, Clay Center, Neb., Oct. 23, 1905."

Sleepy Policeman's Mistake.

An urban councillor of Milton, Sittingbourne, England, got into a compartment at Barking in which a policeman and a prisoner were traveling.

Presently the policeman fell asleep and when the train reached Plaistow the prisoner, failing to arouse his custodian, quietly got out. When the policeman woke up he mistook the urban councillor for his prisoner and tried to force him out to the platform. The councillor resisted, and the train went on to Bromley-by-Bow.

Here the policeman succeeded in hauling the victim out and took him back to Plaistow by train. After a long cross-examination the councillor was liberated and reached home by cab in the small hours of the morning.

Yellowstone Park.

This is the grand tourist resort of the people and one of the most beautiful parts of the American Continent.

Only by a trip to this region can the tourist comprehend the endless variety and stupendous grandeur of the features embraced in this tract of country. Very low round-trip rates to this resort have been put in effect this summer by the Union Pacific and its connections.

For full information in regard to rates, and Yellowstone Park folder, address W. G. Neimyer, G. A., 129 Jackson Boulevard, Chicago, Ill.

Adam and Eve should have got along better than they did considering that there was never any dispute about one leaving no room in the closet for the other to hang his clothes.

THE WINNING STROKE

If more than ordinary skill in playing brings the honors of the game to the winning player, so exceptional merit in a remedy ensures the commendation of the well informed, and as a reasonable amount of outdoor life and recreation is conducive to the health and strength, so does a perfect laxative tend to one's improvement in cases of constipation, biliousness, headaches, etc. It is all important, however, in selecting a laxative, to choose one of known quality and excellence, like the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., a laxative which sweetens and cleanses the system effectually, when a laxative is needed, without any unpleasant after effects, as it acts naturally and gently on the internal organs, simply assisting nature when nature needs assistance, without griping, irritating or debilitating the internal organs in any way, as it contains nothing of an objectionable or injurious nature. As the plants which are combined with the figs in the manufacture of Syrup of Figs are known to physicians to act most beneficially upon the system, the remedy has met with their general approval as a family laxative, a fact well worth considering in making purchases.

It is because of the fact that SYRUP OF FIGS is a remedy of known quality and excellence, and approved by physicians that has led to its use by so many millions of well informed people, who would not use any remedy of uncertain quality or inferior reputation. Every family should have a bottle of the genuine on hand at all times, to use when a laxative remedy is required. Please to remember that the genuine Syrup of Figs is for sale in bottles of one size only, by all reputable druggists, and that full name of the company—California Fig Syrup Co., is plainly printed on the front of every package. Regular price, 50c per bottle.

The Age of Greed.

"A few days ago, while walking down an Omaha street, I saw a man ahead of me drop a pocketbook. A messenger boy picked it up. Just then the man missed it, and the boy returned it to him without looking inside. The man gave the boy a quarter. The boy accepted it, but was disgusted.

"Is that all I get for being honest?" he asked. "Yer a pretty cheap guy!"

"There's just three dollars in the pocketbook," said the man.

"Well, you oughter give a dollar anyway," the boy replied.

"Had I been the man I'd have been sorely tempted to add a kick to the quarter," concluded the traveling man. "And there are lots and lots of people just like that boy in this world."—Denver Post.

"The best hearts are ever the bravest," said Sterne.

Exceptionally Low Rates to Brighter Possibilities

The Southwest is the land of possibilities. The opportunities for men of average means are brighter here than elsewhere—you can get more for your labor or your investment. The opportune time is now while the land is cheap. The country is settling up. If you purchase land now you will soon see grow up around you a community of prosperous-energetic men who like yourself have seen the brighter possibilities of the Southwest, and have taken advantage of them.

Along the line of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Ry in Indian Territory, Oklahoma, and Texas are vast areas of unimproved land—land not now yielding the crops of which it is capable. The same thing, in a different way, is true of the towns. Few lines of business are adequately represented. There are openings of all sorts for you. If you are in any way interested in the Southwest, I'd like to send you a copy of my free paper, "The Coming Country."

August 7th and 21st

You can make a trip Southwest exceptionally cheap. Round trip tickets, good thirty-to-60 days, will be sold by all lines in connection with the M. K. & T. Ry at not more than one fare plus $2.00 in many cases—from Chicago to San Antonio, n. g., the rate is $25.00. From St. Paul, $27.50. From St. Louis and Kansas City, $30.00—the rates are considerably lower. The tickets permit of stop-overs in both directions, via M. K. & T. Ry. If your nearest railroad agent cannot give you the rates, write me for particulars.

NERVOUS DEBILITY
OUR NEW METHOD TREATMENT will cure you, and make a man of you. Under its influence the brain becomes active, the blood purified so that all pimples, blotches and ulcers heal up; the nerves become strong as steel, so that nervousness, bashfulness and despondency disappear; the eyes become bright, the face full and clear, energy returns to the body, and the moral, physical and sexual systems are invigorated; all drains cease—no more vital waste from the system. The various organs become natural and manly. You feel yourself a man and know marriage cannot be a failure. We invite all the afflicted to consult us confidentially and free of charge. Don't let quacks and fakirs rob you of your hard-earned dollars. WE WILL CURE YOU OR NO PAY.
NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.
THREATENED WITH PARALYSIS.
Peter E. Summers, of Kalamazoo, Mich., relates his experience: "I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indigestion and excesses in early youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me, guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbers in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wrote an electric band for three months, went to St. Clement for BEFORE TREATMENT baths, but received little benefit. While AFTER TREATMENT at St. Clement I was induced to consult Dr. Kennedy & Kergan, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the New Method Treatment and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through my nerves. I was cured mentally, physically and sexually. I have sent them many patients and will continue to do so."
CURES GUARANTEED OR NO PAY.
We treat and cure VARICOCELE, STRICTURE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, BLOOD DISEASES, URINARY COMPLAINTS, KIDNEY AND BLADDER DISEASES.
CONSULTATION FREE. BOOKS FREE. If unable to call write for a Question Blank for Home Treatment.
