

LOELL TO PLAY END

Will Take Place of Joe Curtis in Big Game With Penn. Today

An exceptionally big honor has fallen to the lot of John Loell, the Escanaba boy who has made such good showing on the University of Michigan team this season. He has been shifted from center end to fill the position left vacant by the injury of Captain Joe Curtis, and will occupy that place today against Pennsylvania in the biggest game which Michigan plays this season.

After Curtis broke his leg in a practice game a week ago there was considerable discussion as to who would take his place and Coach Yost finally decided to place Loell at end.

Loell's performance in today's game will be eagerly watched for by his Escanaba friends.

Dog Obeyed Phone Order

C. B. Kent, of Burlington, Vt., has a dog that money could not buy. Mr. Kent is foreman of the job room in the Free Press office. The other day he started for home, but a friend invited him to take an auto ride, and he did, leaving the dog on the street. The dog tried to follow the auto, but lost it and returned to the Free Press office and refused to leave. A couple of hours later Mr. Kent called up and asked that the telephone receiver be put to the terrier's ear.

"Come home," he commanded, when the dog had been raised to the instrument.

The terrier gave a sharp bark, bolted out of the door, and legged it for home like a streak of lightning. He ran the mile in less than five minutes. Exc.

NORMALS

WON GAME

Escanaba High School Foot Ball Team Defeated by Heavy Team From Marquette.

THE SCORE WAS 12 TO 11

Escanaba Team Almost Snatches Victory Out of Defeat by Scoring Twice in Last Six Minutes.

The foot ball game last Saturday between the Escanaba High school team and the Northern Normal of Marquette proved one of the most thrilling contests that has taken place upon the local grounds for some time.

The first half ended with neither having made a score although the Escanaba boys had a shade the better of it and kept the ball in the Normal's territory the greater part of the time and once made an unsuccessful attempt to score a field goal on a drop kick from the 25 yard line.

Shortly after the second half opened, the Normals, by using line plays and by a clever catch of one of their own punts worked the ball close to Escanaba's goal and scored the first touchdown. They kicked goal making the score 6 to 0. The Normals second touchdown came shortly afterwards when after making good gains on exchanges of punts they again drew near the Escanaba goal and used line plays which the Escanaba line seems unable to stop. Goal was kicked again and the score stood 12 to 0 in the Normal's favor.

It was then that the Escanaba players with hope of victory gone and little chance of scoring left, took a brace that surprised as well as thrilled the crowd of supporters that had been waiting for an opportunity to cheer.

With but a few minutes left to play, Cole securing the ball from one of Escanaba's punts, ran the length of nearly 60 yards for Escanaba's first touchdown. Walsh failed to kick goal.

Encouraged by this score the Escanaba team went into the game harder than ever and by a succession of forward passes and end runs worked the ball over for the second touchdown with scarcely a minute of time left to play. The goal was kicked and the final score was 11 to 12 in favor of the Normals.

DONOHUE NOT INSANE

Declared by Physicians not to be a Subject for Insane Asylum

John Donohue, a resident of Lathrop, who had been held at the county jail for a few days, was examined last Saturday and declared to be not insane.

It appears that the excitement attending the killing of Patrick McNamara at Lathrop early in October had preyed upon Donohue's mind, and temporarily unsettled his reason.

When examined by the physicians last Saturday, he gave prompt and satisfactory answers, and admitted that he believed that his mind had been deranged for a few days, over the killing of McNamara.

Mr. Donohue is a veteran of the Civil War and an attempt will be made by the authorities to have him enter the soldier's home at Grand Rapids.

IS RAISING PINE TREES

Sturgeon River Man Engaged in New Business

An interesting experiment in reforestation is being made at the Sturgeon River farm of S. W. Bridges, and it gives promise of excellent results. The pride of the farm which comprises 1,280 acres, is a grove of about 600 second growth pine, which Mr. Bridges has had trimmed up and the underbrush removed from amongst them. The trees have grown nearly two inches in diameter and thirty inches in height during the past year. It is Mr. Bridges intention to trim up 1,000 more young pines this year. He is so well satisfied with present results that he thinks there will be money made in cultivating second growth pine.

U. P. HEMP

This Region Adapted to its Growth

That hemp some day and that in the not far distant future, will unquestionably be a common crop throughout the Upper Peninsula, and will lead to the establishment of industries that will manufacture the fibre, is the opinion of Leo M. Geismar, superintendent of the state experimental station at Chatham, Alger county.

Hemp fibre is commercially used for the best grade of ropes, the backing of carpet and the weaving of other articles where great strength is required. At present the domestic crop is almost exclusively grown in Kentucky, where the plants reach an average height of about nine feet and thrive best in the so-called blue grass region of that state. In the Upper Peninsula of Michigan there are more than six million acres identical with the blue grass lands, and experiments conducted at the state farm the last two years show that the plant will thrive in this latitude in a remarkable manner.

Superintendent Geismar says that he knows of no cultivated crop which is equal to hemp in hardiness. Last year he tested the plant mostly for its size, and was rather surprised when the average height figured up thirteen feet. This year, in order to test its hardiness and its ability to ripen the seed, he planted the hemp very early had gave plants ample room in order to induce them to grow stout and short with numerous branches for seed production. Their experiments gave the desired results; yet the plants this season are over twelve feet high. Early in the spring, when the sprouts had attained a growth of four inches, the thermometer one night registered eighteen degrees, and not even the tip of a single leaf showed the effects of the frost. Superintendent Geismar thinks there can be no question about the hardiness of the plant.

An acre of hemp, where the distance from factories is not too great, is generally considered to yield an average of $50; hence, as a money crop, the station believes that the plant will constitute a welcome addition for more diversified farming throughout the peninsula.

First Hunting Fatality

Leo Hall was shot and instantly killed Tuesday by Frank C. Miller, who mistook him for a deer. The accident occurred near Fibre, a small station between Soo Junction and Trout Lake, where the two men were looking land. Hall who was a cripple was some distance from his companion when he tripped in the underbrush and fell. While he was getting up Miller caught a glimpse of him and thinking it was a deer, blazed away, killing him instantly.

Both men were residents of Ionia and were close friends. It is the old story of a fool with a gun blazing away at every moving thing, regardless of consequences.

THAT MEETING

Mirror Tells of Meeting Between "Prominent Citizens" and Board of Public Works

The Mirror informed its readers in Wednesday issue that there was a meeting of prominent citizens with the Board of Public Works to discuss matters pertaining to the rates and services.

As a matter of fact there was no such meeting and the members of the board justly are indignant that such a report as the Mirror published should be given out.

The board held a special meeting on Wednesday to discuss some sewer matters and to review a list of consumers on flat rates with a view to placing up on them meter rates. We are informed that the only "prominent citizens" present at the meeting were the editor and one of the proprietors of the Mirror.

Perhaps in the Mirror's mind this constitutes a meeting of prominent citizens with the board of public works but to us it seems to be stretching the truth.

This report of the Mirror seems to be in line with the policy of that paper in its strained effort to show the plant up in a bad light.

Women's lot is a weary one. There is a way to escape these woes. Doan's Kidney Pills cure such ills. Have cured women here in Escanaba.

This is one Escanaba woman's testimony. Mrs. Sarah Vassaw, of 340 Fanpie St., Escanaba, Mich., says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as a backache cure. I have not had a backache since I used them, while before that my back and kidneys bothered me for years. I suffered from a dull heavy pain across my loins and a weakness through my back, so severe at times as to cause me days and weeks of misery. Many a time I went about scarcely able to get one foot before the other, and not able to do any ordinary household work. I doctored and doctored, took remedy after remedy and rubbed liniments, but nothing did me any good and I was growing worse instead of better. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me and I got a box at the Mead Drug Co's store. Their use cured me. I have not had any return of the trouble since, and you are at liberty to refer any one to me who wishes to enquire about my cure."

CONFESSED TO OFFICERS

Man Accused of Murder in Lumber Camp Near Northland Makes Full Confession

TELLS STORY OF CRIME

Is Now in Marquette Jail Will be Tried at Next Term of Circuit Court

Michael Sheridan who shot Victor Erickson during a drunken brawl in one of the Wolverine Cedar and Lumber company's camps near Northland, has made a complete confession. After strenuously denying his guilt to the Marquette county officials by whom he was arrested, Sheridan on Saturday broke down and told a complete story of the murder.

He has waived his examination on a charge of murder and is bound over to the December term of circuit court in Marquette county for trial.

Sheridan's confession is as follows:

"When I was brought in here a few nights ago, I intended to make a clean breast of the whole affair, but somehow there were too many around at the time and I could not get myself to do it. But I cannot stand it any longer, and I feel as if I must tell or break down in some way.

Most of what I told you men that night was true; in fact, it is almost entirely true, with the exception of that part of it which happened after I came home to my shack. Victor Erickson, which is the name of the murdered man, had repeatedly struck me in the face while he accused me of taking his ten dollar bill from him. I stood his abuse as long as I could. Then my temper, or something else, I don't know what, got the better of me. I went to my own shack, and instead of going to the barn to attend to a sick horse, as I told you, I went to look for a weapon to take revenge on Erickson who was a much bigger man than I am.

I found the shotgun and slipped two shells into it. Then I returned to Erickson's cabin, and as soon as I entered he began to abuse me again. I backed out through the door and he followed me I stepped back, and holding the gun on a level with his stomach pulled the trigger.

To Build New Lock

It is announced at Detroit that plans are under way to bring before congress at the approaching session the desirability of appropriating $4,000,000 for a new lock at the Sault Ste. Marie ship canal.

A Question of Class

The cost to make an alum baking powder is about two cents a pound. When this powder is sold at 25 cents a pound it would not appear to the average consumer as a "high grade baking powder sold at a moderate price," but rather as a very low grade baking powder sold at a high price. The twenty-three cents profit on a two cent food article is not however, so important as the fact that the chief ingredient of the 25 cent powder is alum, a mineral acid, well known to be injurious when taken into the stomach.

Record for Anchors

The largest anchor ever made weighed 26,500 pounds, and cost nearly $10,000.

RUNNING SORES ON LIMBS.

Little Girl's Obstinate Case of Eczema—Mother Says: "Cuticura Remedies a Household Standby."

"Last year, after having my little girl treated by a very prominent physician, for an obstinate case of eczema, I resorted to the Cuticura Remedies, and was so well pleased with the almost instantaneous relief afforded that we discarded the physician's prescription and relied entirely on the Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Pills. When we commenced with the Cuticura Remedies her feet and limbs were covered with running sores. In about six weeks we had her completely well, and there has been no recurrence of the trouble. We find that the Cuticura Remedies are a valuable household standby, living as we do, twelve miles from a doctor, and where it costs from twenty to twenty-five dollars to come up on the mountain. ### First Flower of Spring.

In the northern United States the snowdrop is the only garden flower that we can count on year after year as the earliest sign of spring. Its pendulous white blossoms, with "heart-shaped scale of green" sung by Rossetti often appear before the last snow has gone.

Luckily, even city families need not be without snowdrops, for they have been known to thrive in narrow passages between all houses. Most bulbous plants like the baking hot sun of midsummer in order to ripen their bulbs, but the snowdrop thrives best in partial shade.

It blooms earlier if it has a chance at the March sun, but is one of the very few that will flower regularly, though less freely, in dense shade and with a northern exposure.—Country Life in America.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional Cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 20 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. ### Dyspepsia of Women

Caused by Female Disorders and Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

A great many women suffer with a form of indigestion or dyspepsia which does not seem to yield to ordinary treatment. While the symptoms seem to be similar to those of ordinary indigestion, yet the medicines universally prescribed do not seem to restore the patient's normal condition.

Mrs. M. Wright

Mrs. Pinkham claims that there is a kind of dyspepsia that is caused by a derangement of the female organism, and which while it causes a disturbance similar to ordinary indigestion, cannot be relieved without a medicine which not only acts as a stomach tonic, but has a peculiar tonic effect on the female organism.

As proof of this theory we call attention to the case of Mrs. Maggie Wright, Brooklyn, N. Y., who was completely cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after everything else had failed. She writes:

"For two years I suffered with dyspepsia which so degenerated the entire system that I was unable to attend to my daily duties. I felt weak and nervous and nothing that I ate tasted good and it caused a disturbance in my stomach. I tried different dyspepsia cures, but nothing seemed to help me. I was advised to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, and was happily surprised to find that it acted like a fine tonic, and in a few days I began to enjoy and properly digest my food. My recovery was rapid, and in five weeks I was a well woman. I have recommended it to many suffering women."

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement or has such a record of cures of female troubles, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

FISH IN NEW PLACES.

Wild Ducks Found to Bear Fish Eggs Ready to Hatch.

A correspondent from Saff wrote in our June issue expressing his mystification as to how small fish come to be in inclosed waters. A naturalist suggests an explanation. He says: "If the wild ducks, etc., of Morocco are similar to those elsewhere there is no mystery. For some years there was open-mouthed wonder as to how perch, bream and crayfish could get into newly cut dams near the Macquarie river in New South Wales.

"In some cases the water had hardly settled after the rain had filled the dam than the fish were observed, and the farmers started a large theory of spontaneous production.

"This obtained till a Sydney professor chanced to pick up a wild duck and found its breast feathers and webbed feet well dotted with fertile and almost hatched fish-ova, on which the 'spontaneous production' theory was promptly withdrawn."—Chambers' Journal.

Christmas Presents

GRANDMOTHER'S FRIEND.

A Simple Sewing Device That is Ingenious and Very Useful.

Grandmother's eyes are growing dim and she finds trouble in threading needles easily. Here is a simple device that may be easily made and one which she will greatly appreciate as a Christmas present:

First take an oblong piece of wood, nine inches long and about one and three-quarters wide. The wood should be half an inch thick, so that the peg to hold the spool of thread may be driven firmly in. Finish the wood of base with a little black-walnut or cherry stain and varnish.

Now select a narrow oblong paste-board box, fill it with bran for the cushion, and stretch a cover of cotton goods over it, letting the cotton pass under the box at sides and ends, and sewing it strongly. A silk or brightly-colored woolen cover is put over this and the cushion is finished with a frill of lace or ribbon.

Glue the box cushion on the wooden base. Whenever grandma has a certain piece of sewing to do, some pair of bright eyes can fit up the cushion with a paper of needles the desired size, threaded with the silk or thread grandma wishes to use, without breaking the thread.

The needles are placed in an even row in the cushion. Be sure the needles are all crosswise of the cushion, so the thread may pass through them easily as grandma takes a fresh needle. When one needleful is exhausted, grandma selects the needle farthest from the spool, holding it gently with thumb and forefinger until she has, with the other hand, pulled as long a thread as she wishes, then removes the needle from cushion and breaks off thread. The used needles are quilted into cushion at one side, ready for bright eyes to thread again some time.

This device is also most useful for blind persons who like to sew. Place a spool of white thread on one peg and thread from it a row of needles stuck in the cushion. Put a spool of black thread on the other, and thread a second row of needles, the thread passing through on the opposite direction.

When ready to sew take the needle farthest from the spool, draw gently away until a thread long enough is in hand, then break, and when the thread is used quilt in the needle to be threaded again, and use the next one.

The Italian King's Jest.

The Italian king spends the holiday according to his humor. Last Christmas day he took a cab at a public stand, and as he drove, chatted with the cabman, who discussed his sovereign in a free-and-easy and perhaps not altogether complimentary way. By and by the king told him to drive to the palace, where he ordered an officer to pay the man and note his number. When cabby learned who his fare was, he whipped away without his money and in great fright, which was in no wise lessened when the next day he was summoned to appear at a police station. To his relief and joy he was informed that as he had expressed a wish that the vehicle he drove were his own, his majesty had decided to present him with a new cab, a horse and some money to start him in business.—Woman's Home Companion.

A BABY RIBBON CASE.

Christmas Gift That Will Please Every Girl Who Receives One.

Every girl must have baby ribbon but she invariably finds the several kinds in a tangle when she attempts to use it, so a case in which it can be kept in order will make an appropriate Christmas present to any girl friend.

Take a piece of ribbon 11 inches long by seven and a half inches wide. Turn up and baste narrow hem on each side. On the same side fold over two and a half inches of width and baste. Feather-stitch the ends carefully, so that the work will be the same on both sides. Stitch in the same manner the fold to the back of the base, making four pockets two and three-eighths inches wide, and leaving a small one at the end to hold a bodkin. In the others place cards of baby ribbon of different colors, and fasten small scissors by narrow ribbon to one corner. Attach half a yard of the same ribbon to the back to tie round case when folded.

MADE OF MONKEY NUTS.

Pretty Ornament That Will Make an Acceptable Christmas Present.

Doubtless many are familiar with brilliantly attired Chinese mandarins, doing duty as hanging pincushions, the ornamental pins stuck round their large, flat, circular hats forming the excuse for their highly ornamental existence. These figures are formed entirely of monkey nuts, threaded on fine wire, with the exception of one large walnut which does duty as a head. If a Mongolian cast of countenance is faithfully portrayed the result is excellent. Richly dressed in oriental satins and brocades, these find a ready sale, and can be made additionally attractive by the use of embroidery, beads, jewels, fans, and any other embellishments that may suggest themselves.

PRETTY PHOTOGRAPH FRAME.

Ever So Many People Appreciate Them for Christmas Presents.

A pretty photograph frame is made by pasting cretonne over cardboard and gluing it to a back of the same shape. Leave a slit for the picture to be slipped in. Before you paste the front and back together, glue ribbon for hangers to the inner side of the back.

Of course, only the front is covered with the cretonne. If you think it prettier, you can paste colored paper over the back, so that it does not look so glaring when the photograph is not in. These frames can be cut either oval, round or rectangular, leaving a margin about two and one-half or three inches wide all around. It would be easier, perhaps, for you to cut the ordinary frame; but the oval one looks the picture is newer and prettier

WASHINGTON WELL LAID OUT.

How National Capital Was Planned by Its Founders.

The national capital, as planned by Washington, L'Enfant and other unnamed founders, and as described by writers, occupies a small part of the District of Columbia only, says the National Magazine. Rock creek, flowing down a narrow valley, with precipitous banks, bounds it on the west and separates it from what was Georgetown; the eastern branch of the Potomac River bound it on the east and south; and a long, irregularly curved street, circling along the foot of Meridian hill and the hills to the east of it, known for many years as "The Boundary," and now as Florida avenue, was the northern boundary of the city. Sentimental considerations should have retained this appropriate name, "The Boundary," for it marked the limits of the city as the founders planned it, and showed plainly what their successors have added.

Within these bounds are all the avenues, streets, squares and parks that were in the original design of the city, the capitol and all of the public buildings except the naval observatory and the asylum for the insane. The parks have been sadly encroached on for public buildings, congress, after having ordered the sale of the lots which became the share of the government in the original division, finding it more economical to seize parks and reservations for building purposes than to buy the needed ground. While the city was yet unbuilt, and during the many years it was being constructed, and had but small population, the long avenues and streets, with high sounding names, won for Washington the appropriate name of "the city of magnificent distances." But the epithet is no longer applicable—almost all of the original site of the city is built upon; the boundary has been overlapped in every direction, and the part of the city outside is almost as large as that within the original bounds, and is rapidly extending. After the lapse of more than a century, nothing but commendation can be offered of what the founders did, and it is marvelous how well and wisely they planned. When they laid out the city, the national population was about 5,000,000, and the area was enough for a nation of 50,000,000, while the design was so beautiful and commodious, that city building in our day has hardly reached up to it. In but few instances, in any line of human endeavor, has foresight done so well, and for this all thanks is due to the founders of Washington.

JUSTICES OF SUPREME COURT.

Fifty-Three Have Sat on Bench of Highest Tribunal.

There have been 53 associate justices of the supreme court, seven of whom are there yet. Of these Justices Story and Fields each served 34 years, Justices McLean, of Ohio, and Wayne, of Georgia, each 32 years. Rushed Washington, of Virginia, 31 years; William Johnson, of South Carolina, 30 years; Justices Catron, of Tennessee, and Miller, of Iowa, each 28 years.

There have been one chief justice, Marshall, and four associate justices—Blair, Washington, Barbour, and Daniel from Virginia; one chief justice, Rutledge, and two associate justices, Rutledge and Johnson, from South Carolina.

North Carolina furnished Justices Iredell and Moore; Georgia, Wayne and Woods; Tennessee, Catron and Jackson; Kentucky, Todd, Trimble and Harlan; Alabama, McKinley and Campbell; Mississippi, Lamar; Louisiana, White.

Since 1861 there have been only five justices appointed from southern states. They are in the order named—Harlan of Kentucky, Woods of Georgia, Tanlar of Mississippi, Jackson of Tennessee, and White of Louisiana. During the same time 17 justices have been appointed from northern states.

Fort McHenry to be Abandoned.

Historic Fort McHenry, the chief defense of Baltimore during the war of 1812, and whose bombardment by the British fleet led Francis Scott Key to write "The Star Spangled Banner," is about to be abandoned. Orders have been issued by the general staff of the army that all the soldiers comprising the Thirty-Ninth Coast artillery, now stationed at Fort McHenry, and who man the famous post, shall abandon the fort on March first next. It is announced that the change means that no longer after that date will Fort McHenry be a military post, after serving in that capacity for more than a century, having been established in 1794. It has been found, the government officers say, that Fort McHenry has outlived its usefulness for defense purposes, and after March first will be given over to the care of the engineer department.

Fort McHenry was named after James McHenry, an Irish physician, who served through the revolutionary war and afterward became one of General Washington's private secretaries. Dr. McHenry was surgeon of the Fifth Pennsylvania regiment in the revolution and was promoted to the staff of General Lafayette. After the war McHenry settled down in Maryland, representing that state in the Confederation Congress that assembled after the United States had gained its independence. In 1796 Washington appointed Dr. McHenry as Secretary of War in his cabinet, which position he retained under President Adams' administration until 1800, when he resigned. Dr. McHenry died in 1813.

Useful for the Kitchen.

EASILY MADE CABINET WILL SAVE MUCH WORK.

Description of One Manufactured from Old Organ Box—All Kinds of Utensils Can Be Stored Therein.

This is how one woman made an organ box into a kitchen cabinet, says the Montreal Herald.

Take a good box and divide it off as shown in Fig. 1. Begin by putting solid blocks in each corner of the bottom in which place castors, then it can be easily moved. On the back put a board, and if possible, a mirror as shown, as it gives it a finish. For the shelves, which are Figs. 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5, use lumber about one inch thick. Fig. 6 is for cup hooks, Fig. 8, four, and Fig. 9 for cooking utensils.

Use pieces of a shade roller to strengthen the small shelves, Figs. 1 and 2, which are 17 inches long.

Ready for Use. No. 2.

The next shelf, Fig. 3, is one and one-half inches wider than these, and the other shelves are flush with the edge of the box. In the space left for floor, place a box, which fits easily, place on the castors, and put a dresser handle on the front so it could be easily pulled out.

On the main shelf white oil cloth could be placed if one wished it. Along the front put a curtain, which can be easily pulled aside when one is busy; otherwise it serves as a screen.

Fig. 2 shows the cabinet completed, and the most useful addition to the kitchen.

Ideas for the Hostess.

Entertainment for a Club of Ladies on Thanksgiving Day—Really Unique Card Party.

How to entertain a club of ladies on the afternoon of November 29 is answered by the following suggestions: For the table centerpiece get a perfectly formed pumpkin, hollow it out and line it with oiled paper; fill it with fruit, grapes, bananas, rose-cheeked apples and golden oranges. If a basket in the shape of a horn of plenty can be purchased at the florists, suspend it over the table by ribbons or tulle filled with chrysanthemums, which are the flower for November; Louise Alcott mentions them in "Little Men" as being used on the Thanksgiving day table.

It would be a very pretty idea to ask the ladies to powder their hair and to wear dark gowns with white kerchiefs; in fact, to wear anything suggestive of colonial days. Make boxes to hold salted nuts out of yellow tissue paper chrysanthemums and have the candle shades carry out the same idea. This menu may be written on little pumpkin shaped cards, with the name of the guest, the day and date. A small prize might be awarded the person guessing the most courses on the menu before they appear on the table.

THE CURSE OF DISCONTENT.

Happiness Impossible Where This Folly is Indulged In.

If she is unmarried she is discontented at the want of romance in her life; her main desire in life is to change her father's home for one of her own.

If she is married the causes of her discontent are multiplied indefinitely and where she was out of harmony with one set of circumstances she is now in discord with 20, says a writer in the Chicago Inter-Ocean.

She is discontented because her husband is not her lover and marriage a perpetual courtship; because her husband is irritable or because he is so good-natured that he maddens her with his stolidity.

Os she is discontented because she has so many household duties; because she has so few servants or because she has so many of them.

Wherever, in short, the discontented woman is placed it is just where she would rather not be.

Life is a bewildering tangle at best, but the discontented woman is not the one to make it smoother.

She is a general nuisance to herself as well as to the world at large.

And the discontented woman is only another name for the selfish, unsympathetic woman.

Baby Pillows.

English eyelet work adapted to baby pillows form one of the most attractive as well as practical of decorations. Either over plain white or a color it is equally effective, and it possesses the further advantage of laundering beautifully.

Done on the finest and softest of round thread linens with the eyelets symmetrically formed, the work is decorative and satisfactory to do. So many designs in the English; eyelet work are to be found in the shops now that to select a suitable one for a baby pillow will be the work of a moment.

There is always the possibility of adapting a design so that it will be perfectly suitable for the object to which it is to be applied, and in no sort of fancy work is this so true as with the eyelet embroidery. If one is sufficiently ingenious to draw special designs some really charming effects may be obtained.

Winter Combinations.

The wise woman who possesses good furs will take the most speedy advantage of the delicate bright-toned faced cloths which are to make the best and prettiest winter gowns, for no one could be slow to recognize that sable is at its best when allied to soft pink and white or gray gowns, and chinchilla with pale blues and greens and the new and lovely shades of pale brown.

CHURCH PEW HIS BED.

Tramp Finds Rest for His Weary Bones in House of Worship.

The janitor of one of Portsmouth's largest churches was given a big surprise Sunday morning as he stepped into the auditorium after opening the big front doors to allow of the usual airing out. He came face to face with a strange and tough-looking man. At first the janitor feared a touch of the chills, but he finally brought himself together and inquired of the man what he had been doing.

The fellow said that he had been enjoying a night's rest on the cushions of a pew away down front. Saturday night he was attracted to the church by the singing of the choir during rehearsal. He found the door open, walked in and sat down.

The music had that soothing effect and the wanderer fell asleep. He knew nothing more until daylight, when he awoke wondering where he was at. He said that in all his life he had never found a more comfortable bed.

The janitor looked about, saw that nothing was disturbed and then allowed the stranger to go.—Portsmouth, N. H., Times.

Parisian Meat Supply.

The last year for which complete statistics concerning the meat supply of Paris have been published is 1903. From the reports of that year it appears that 267,027 cattle, 274,390 calves and 2,047,770 sheep were slaughtered at the city abattoirs and produced 156,007,850 kilograms (or 327,616,485 pounds) of meat, of which 123,712,180 kilograms (259,795,578 pounds) were consumed in Paris, and 32,292,650 kilograms exported. Some of the choicest of French beef goes to England, where the filets and other prime cuts are in demand for clubs, hotels, and the best class of restaurants. During the same year there were killed 282,508 hogs, which yielded 27,657,350 kilograms (58,080,435 pounds) of pork, and 29,370 horses, which furnished 7,305,650 kilograms (or 15,341,865 pounds) of meat, all of which was consumed in Paris.

Mysterious Find.

She went down to a swell play the other evening, attired in a superb white gown and wearing a splendid opera cloak. In fact, she was stunning. As she seated herself, she was about to remove the long red cloak when with horror and consternation depicted on her face she discovered something! My, what a predicament! She had prepared supper before leaving for the show, and there, covering the front of the white skirt was a lowly calico checked apron. She managed to remove it after the house had darkened, and the next morning the sweeper at the Colonial found an apron under one of the seats.—Pittsfield Journal.

Makes Son Private Secretary.

In appointing his son, Lord Bruce, as his private secretary the earl of Elgin only followed the example of the late William E. Gladstone, who, when he became prime minister in 1889, appointed Herbert Gladstone, then a young man of 20, to a similar position.

IT'S THE FOOD.

The True Way to Correct Nervous Troubles.

Nervous troubles are more often caused by improper food and indigestion than most people imagine. Even doctors sometimes overlook this fact. A man says:

"Until two years ago waffles and butter with meat and gravy were the main features of my breakfast. Finally dyspepsia came on and I found myself in a bad condition, worse in the morning than any other time. I would have a full sick feeling in my stomach, with pains in my heart, sides and head.

"At times I would have no appetite for days, then I would feel ravenous, never satisfied when I did eat and so nervous I felt like shrieking at the top of my voice. I lost flesh badly and hardly knew which way to turn until one day I bought a box of Grape-Nuts and in a month and a half I had gained 15 pounds, could eat almost anything I wanted, didn't feel badly after eating and my nervousness was all gone. It's a pleasure to be well again."

RUNNING SORES ON LIMBS.

Little Girl's Obstinate Case of Eczema—Mother Says: "Cuticura Remedies a Household Standby."

"Last year, after having my little girl treated by a very prominent physician, for an obstinate case of eczema, I resorted to the Cuticura Remedies, and was so well pleased with the almost instantaneous relief afforded that we discarded the physician's prescription and relied entirely on the Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Pills. When we commenced with the Cuticura Remedies her feet and limbs were covered with running sores. In about six weeks we had her completely well, and there has been no recurrence of the trouble. We find that the Cuticura Remedies are a valuable household standby, living as we do, twelve miles from a doctor, and where it costs from twenty to twenty-five dollars to come up on the mountain. Mrs. Lizzie Vincent Thomas, Fairmount, Walden's Ridge, Tenn., Oct. 13, 1905."

First Flower of Spring. In the northern United States the snowdrop is the only garden flower that we can count on year after year as the earliest sign of spring. Its pendulous white blossoms, with "heart-shaped seal of green" sung by Rossetti often appear before the last snow has gone.

Luckily, even city families need not be without snowdrops, for they have been known to thrive in narrow passageways between all houses. Most bulbous plants like the baking hot sun of midsummer in order to ripen their bulbs, but the snowdrop thrives best in partial shade.

It blooms earlier if it has a chance at the March sun, but is one of the very few that will flower regularly, though less freely, in dense shade and with a northern exposure.—Country Life in America.

There is more Calumet in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the few years ago was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Calumet to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Dyspepsia of Women

Caused by Female Disorders and Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

A great many women suffer with a form of indigestion or dyspepsia which does not seem to yield to ordinary treatment. While the symptoms seem to be similar to those of ordinary indigestion, yet the medicines universally prescribed do not seem to restore the patient's normal condition.

Mrs. M. Wright

Mrs. Pinkham claims that there is a kind of dyspepsia that is caused by a derangement of the female organism, and which, while it causes a disturbance similar to ordinary indigestion, cannot be relieved without a medicine which not only acts as a stomach tonic, but has a peculiar tonic effect on the female organism.

As proof of this theory we call attention to the case of Mrs. Maggie Wright, Brooklyn, N. Y., who was completely cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after everything else had failed. She writes:

"For two years I suffered with dyspepsia which so degenerated the entire system that I was unable to attend to my daily duties. I felt weak and nervous, and nothing that I ate tasted good and it caused a disturbance in my stomach. I tried different dyspepsia cures, but nothing seemed to help me. I was advised to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, and was happily surprised to find that it acted like a fine tonic, and in a few days I began to enjoy and properly digest my food. My recovery was rapid, and in five weeks I was a well woman. I have recommended it to many suffering women."

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement or has such a record of cures of female troubles, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

FISH IN NEW PLACES.

Wild Ducks Found to Bear Fish Eggs Ready to Hatch.

A correspondent from Baff wrote in our June issue expressing his mystification as to how small fish come to be in inclosed waters. A naturalist suggests an explanation. He says: "If the wild ducks, etc., of Morocco are similar to those elsewhere there is no mystery. For some years there was open-mouthed wonder as to how perch, bream and crayfish could get into newly cut dams near the Macquarie river in New South Wales. "In some cases the water had hardly settled after the rain had filled the dam than the fish were observed, and the farmers started a large theory of spontaneous production.

"This obtained till a Sydney professor chanced to pick up a wild duck and found its breast leathers and webbed feet well dotted with fertile and almost hatched fish-ova, on which the 'spontaneous production' theory was promptly withdrawn."—Chambers' Journal.

Never Before Was There So Favorable an Opportunity for Laying the Foundation of a Future Fortune as There is Right at This Time.

THE FACTS ARE THESE: The Chicago-New York Electric Air Line Railroad is now building a line between the two great cities of Chicago and New York, which when completed, will be 230 miles shorter than the Lake Shore and New York Central roads and 160 miles shorter than the Pennsylvania system. It will be a road without grade crossings, material curves or excessive grades and will be operated by electricity, covering the distance between these two great centers of commercial activity in 10 hours, compared with the present schedule of 18 to 24 hours. By reason of these advantages the revenue of the road will be greater than existing steam roads, its operating expenses materially less and its dividend earning capacity correspondingly great. The entire capital stock of the road is common stock. There will be no preferred stock and no bonds, thus placing every shareholder on the same footing and giving all an opportunity to share alike in the profits according to their holdings. It is indeed an unusual opportunity for investment and is being rapidly availed of by those who are familiar with the favorable terms of our offer.

The present price of the stock is $37 per share of the par value of $100, full paid and non-assessable, and if desired, it may be purchased on very easy terms, namely $2.10 per share with your order and $2.70 per share on the 15th day of each month thereafter until paid for, or if paid in full at time of purchase, a discount of two per cent will be allowed.

To postpone it might mean to forget, it and to forget it would cause you to miss an opportunity that may not come to you again. DO IT NOW that you may fully profit by the more than ordinarily favorable conditions that are available to you right at this time. All information furnished FREE.

IT IS EASY

to escape the rigors of a Northern winter and enjoy a home in a mild and equable climate all the months of the year. It is a change, too, that can be made at comparatively little cost, as Southern lands and homes are undoubtedly selling now lower than they can be purchased again. There is a constant and steadily increasing demand for them and values are increasing. Unimproved properties can be arranged for at as low as $5.00 per acre and improved lands from $10.00 per acre up. These properties are susceptible of the highest cultivation and produce a range of crops which can not be approached in Northern latitudes. Right now is the time to make a selection of your future home and arrange for early spring crops.

Christmas Presents

GRANDMOTHER'S FRIEND.

A Simple Sewing Device That is Ingenious and Very Useful.

Grandmother's eyes are growing dim and she finds trouble in threading needles easily. Here is a simple device that may be easily made and one which she will greatly appreciate as a Christmas present:

First take an oblong piece of wood some inches long and about one and three-quarters wide. The wood should be half an inch thick, so that the peg to hold the spool of thread may be driven firmly in. Finish the wood of base with a little black-walnut or cherry stain and varnish.

Now select a narrow oblong pasteboard box, fill it with bran for the cushion, and stretch a cover of cotton goods over it, letting the cotton pass under the box at sides and ends, and sewing it strongly. A silk or bright-colored woolen cover is put over this and the cushion is finished with a frill of lace or ribbon.

Glue the box cushion on the wooden base. Whenever grandma has a certain piece of sewing to do, some pair of bright eyes can fit up the cushion with a paper of needles the desired size, threaded with the silk or thread grandma wishes to use, without breaking the thread.

The needles are placed in an even row in the cushion. Be sure the needle-eyes are all crosswise of the cushion.

Grandma's Friend.

so the thread may pass through them easily as grandma takes a fresh needle. When one needleful is exhausted, grandma selects the needle farthest from the spool, holding it gently with thumb and forefinger until she has, with the other hand, pulled as long a thread as she wishes, then removes the needle from cushion and breaks off thread. The used needles are quilted into cushion at one side, ready for bright eyes to thread again some time.

This device is also most useful for blind persons who like to sew. Place a spool of white thread on one peg and thread from it a row of needles stuck in the cushion. Put a spool of black thread on the other, and thread a second row of needles, the thread passing through on the opposite direction.

When ready to sew take the needle farthest from the spool, draw gently away until a thread long enough is in hand, then break, and when the thread is used quilt in the needle to be threaded again, and use the next one.

The Italian King's Jest.

The Italian king spends the holiday according to his humor. Last Christmas day he took a cab at a public stand, and as he drove, chatted with the cabman, who discussed his sovereign in a free-and-easy and perhaps not altogether complimentary way. By and by the king told him to drive to the palace, where he ordered an officer to pay the man and note his number. When cabby learned who his fare was, he whipped away without his money and in great fright, which was in no wise lessened when the next day he was summoned to appear at a police station. To his relief and joy he was informed that as he had expressed a wish that the vehicle he drove were his own, his majesty had decided to present him with a new cab, a horse and some money to start him in business.—Woman's Home Companion.

A BABY RIBBON CASE.

Christmas Gift That Will Please Every Girl Who Receives One.

Every girl must have baby ribbon, but she invariably finds the several kinds in a tangle when she attempts to use it, so a case in which it can be kept in order will make an appropriate Christmas present to any girl friend.

Take a piece of ribbon 11 inches long by seven and a half inches wide. Turn up and baste narrow hem on each side. On the same side fold over two and a half inches of width and baste. Feather-stitch the ends carefully, so that the work will be the same on both sides. Stitch in the same manner the fold to the back of the base, making four pockets two and three-eighths inches wide, and leaving a small one at the end to hold a bodkin. In the others place cards of baby ribbon of different colors, and fasten small scissors by narrow ribbon to one corner. Attach half a yard of the same ribbon to the back to tie round case when folded.

MADE OF MONKEY NUTS.

Pretty Ornament That Will Make an Acceptable Christmas Present.

Doubtless many are familiar with brilliantly attired Chinese mandarins, doing duty as hanging pincushions, the ornamental pins stuck round their large, flat, circular hats forming the excuse for their highly ornamental existence. These figures are formed entirely of monkey nuts, threaded on fine wire, with the exception of one large walnut which does duty as a head. If a Mongolian cast of countenance is faithfully portrayed the result is excellent. Richly dressed in oriental satins and brocades, these find a ready sale, and can be made additionally attractive by the use of embroidery, beads, jewels, fans, and any other embellishments that may suggest themselves.

PRETTY PHOTOGRAPH FRAME.

Ever So Many People Appreciate Them for Christmas Presents.

A pretty photograph frame is made by pasting cretonne over cardboard and gluing it to a back of the same shape. Leave a slit for the picture to be slipped in. Before you paste the front and back together, glue ribbon for hangers to the inner side of the back.

Of course, only the front is covered with the cretonne. If you think it prettier, you can paste colored paper over the back, so that it does not look so glaring when the photograph is not in.

These frames can be cut either oval, round or rectangular, leaving a margin about two- and one-half or three inches wide all around. It would be easier, perhaps, for you to cut the ordinary frame; but the oval one has the picture in newer and prettier

WASHINGTON WELL LAID OUT.

How National Capital Was Planned by Its Founders.

The national capital, as planned by Washington, L'Enfant and other unnamed founders, and as described by writers, occupies a small part of the District of Columbia only, says the National Magazine. Rock creek, flowing down a narrow valley, with precipitous banks, bounds it on the west and separates it from what was Georgetown; the eastern branch of the Potomac river bound it on the east and south; and a long, irregularly curved street, circling along the foot of Meridian hill and the hills to the east of it, known for many years as "The Boundary," and now as Florida avenue, was the northern boundary of the city. Sentimental considerations should have retained this appropriate name, "The Boundary," for it marked the limits of the city as the founders planned it, and showed plainly what their successors have added.

Within these bounds are all the avenues, streets, squares and parks that were in the original design of the city, the capitol and all of the public buildings except the naval observatory and the asylum for the insane. The parks have been sadly encroached on for public buildings, congress, after having ordered the sale of the lots which became the share of the government in the original division, finding it more economical to seize parks and reservations for building purposes than to buy the needed ground. While the city was yet unbuilt, and during the many years it was being constructed, and had but small population, the long avenues and streets, with high sounding names, won for Washington the appropriate name of "the city of magnificent distances." But the epithet is no longer applicable—almost all of the original site of the city is built upon; the boundary has been overlapped in every direction, and the part of the city outside is almost as large as that within the original bounds, and is rapidly extending. After the lapse of more than a century, nothing but commendation can be offered of what the founders did, and it is marvelous how well and wisely they planned. When they laid out the city, the national population was about 5,000,000, and the area was enough for a nation of 50,000,000, while the design was so beautiful and commodious, that city building in our day has hardly reached up to it. In but few instances, in any line of human endeavor, has foresight done so well, and for this all thanks is due to the founders of Washington.

JUSTICES OF SUPREME COURT.

Fifty-Three Have Sat on Bench of Highest Tribunal.

There have been 53 associate justices of the supreme court, seven of whom are there yet. Of these Justices Story and Fields each served 24 years, Justices McLean, of Ohio, and Wayne, of Georgia, each 32 years. Bushrod Washington, of Virginia, 31 years, William Johnson, of South Carolina, 30 years; Justices Catron, of Tennessee, and Miller, of Iowa, each 28 years.

There have been one chief justice, Marshall, and four associate justices—Blair, Washington, Barbour, and Daniel from Virginia; one chief justice, Rutledge, and two associate justices, Rutledge and Johnson, from South Carolina.

North Carolina furnished Justices Iredell and Moore; Georgia, Wayne and Woods; Tennessee, Catron and Jackson; Kentucky, Todd, Trimble and Harlan; Alabama, McKinley and Campbell; Mississippi, Lamar; Louisiana, White.

Since 1861 there have been only five justices appointed from southern states. They are in the order named—Harlan of Kentucky, Woods of Georgia, Tanlar of Mississippi, Jackson of Tennessee, and White of Louisiana. During the same time 17 justices have been appointed from northern states.

Fort McHenry to be Abandoned. Historic Fort McHenry, the chief defense of Baltimore during the war of 1812, and whose bombardment by the British fleet led Francis Scott Key to write "The Star Spangled Banner," is about to be abandoned. Orders have been issued by the general staff of the army that the soldiers comprising the Thirty-Ninth Coast artillery, now stationed at Fort McHenry, and who man the famous post, shall abandon the fort on March first next. It is announced that the change means that no longer after that date will Fort McHenry be a military post, after serving in that capacity for more than a century, having been established in 1794. It has been found, the government officers say, that Fort McHenry has outlived its usefulness for defense purposes, and after March first will be given over to the care of the engineer department.

Fort McHenry was named after James McHenry, an Irish physician, who served through the revolutionary war and afterward became one of General Washington's private secretaries. Dr. McHenry was surgeon of the Fifth Pennsylvania regiment in the revolution and was promoted to the staff of General Lafayette. After the war McHenry settled down in Maryland, representing that state in the Confederate Congress that assembled after the United States had gained its independence. In 1795 Washington appointed Dr. McHenry as Secretary of War in his cabinet, which position he retained under President Adams' administration until 1800, when he resigned. Dr. McHenry died in 1815.

Useful for the Kitchen.

EASILY MADE CABINET WILL SAVE MUCH WORK.

Description of One Manufactured from Old Organ Box—All Kinds of Utensils Can Be Stored Therein.

This is how one woman made an organ box into a kitchen cabinet, says the Montreal Herald.

Take a good box and divide it off as shown in Fig. 1. Begin by putting solid blocks in each corner of the bottom in which place castors, then it can be easily moved. On the back put a board, and if possible, a mirror as shown, as it gives it a finish. For the shelves, which are Figs. 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5, use lumber about one inch thick. Fig. 6 is for cup hooks, Fig. 8, flour, and Fig. 9 for cooking utensils.

Use pieces of a shade roller to strengthen the small shelves, Figs. 1 and 2, which are 17 inches long.

Ready for Use. No. 2.

The next shelf, Fig. 3, is one and one-half inches wider than these, the other shelves are flush with the edge of the box. In the space left for flour, place a box, which fits easily, place on the castors, and put a dresser handle on the front so it could be easily pulled out.

On the main shelf white oil cloth could be placed if one wished it. Along the front put a curtain, which can be easily pulled aside when one is busy; otherwise it serves as a screen.

Fig. 2 shows the cabinet completed, and the most useful addition to the kitchen.

THE CURSE OF DISCONTENT.

Happiness Impossible Where This Folly is Indulged In.

If she is unmarried she is discontented at the want of romance in her life; her main desire in life is to change her father's home for one of her own.

If she is married the causes of her discontent are multiplied indefinitely and where she was out of harmony with one set of circumstances she is now in discord with 20, says a writer in the Chicago Inter Ocean.

She is discontented because her husband is not her lover and marriage a perpetual courtship; because her husband is irritable or because he is so good-natured that he maddens her with his stolidity.

Or she is discontented because she has so many household duties; because she has so few servants or because she has so many of them.

Wherever, in short, the discontented woman is placed it is just where she would rather not be.

Life is a bewildering tangle at best, but the discontented woman is not the one to make it smoother.

She is a general nuisance to herself as well as to the world at large.

And the discontented woman is only another name for the selfish, unsympathetic woman.

Baby Pillows.

English eyelet work adapted to baby pillows form one of the most attractive as well as practical of decorations. Either over plain white or a color it is equally effective, and it possesses the further advantage of laundering beautifully.

Done on the finest and softest of round thread linens with eyelets symmetrically formed, the work is decorative and satisfactory to do. So many designs in the English eyelet work are to be found in the shops now that to select a suitable one for a baby pillow will be the work of a moment.

There is always the possibility of adapting a design so that it will be perfectly suitable for the object to which it is to be applied, and in no sort of fancy work is this so true as with the eyelet embroidery. If one is sufficiently ingenious to draw special designs some really charming effects may be obtained.

Winter Combinations.

The wise woman who possesses good furs will take the most speedy advantage of the delicate bright-toned faced cloths which are to make the best and prettiest winter gowns, for no one could be slow to recognize that sable is at its best when allied to soft pink and white or gray gowns, and chinchilla with pale blues and greens and the new and lovely shades of pale brown.

Ideas for the Hostess.

Entertainment for a Club of Ladies on Thanksgiving Day—Really Unique Card Party.

How to entertain a club of ladies on the afternoon of November 23 is answered by the following suggestions: For the table centerpiece get a perfectly formed pumpkin, hollow it out and line it with oiled paper; fill it with fruit, grapes, bananas, rose-cheeked apples and golden oranges. If a basket in the shape of a horn of plenty can be purchased at the florists, suspend it over the table by ribbons or tulle filled with chrysanthemums, which are the flower for November; Louise Alcott mentions them in "Little Men" as being used on the Thanksgiving day table.

It would be a very pretty idea to ask the ladies to powder their hair and to wear dark gowns with white kerchiefs; in fact, to wear anything suggestive of colonial days. Make boxes to hold salted nuts out of yellow tissue paper chrysanthemums and have the candle shades carry out the same idea. This menu may be written on little pumpkin shaped books, with the name of the guest, the day and date. A small prize might be awarded the person guessing the most courses on the menu before they appear on the table.

CHURCH PEW HIS BED.

Tramp Finds Rest for His Weary Bones in House of Worship.

The janitor of one of Portsmouth's largest churches was given a big surprise Sunday morning as he stepped into the auditorium after opening the big front doors to allow of the usual airing out. He came face to face with a strange and tough-looking man. At first the janitor feared a touch of the chills, but he finally brought himself together and inquired of the man what he had been doing.

The fellow said that he had been enjoying a night's rest on the cushions of a pew away down front. Saturday night he was attracted to the church by the singing of the choir during rehearsal. He found the door open, walked in and sat down.

The music had that soothing effect and the wanderer fell asleep. He knew nothing more until daylight, when he awoke wondering where he was at. He said that in all his life he had never found a more comfortable bed.

The janitor looked about, saw that nothing was disturbed and then allowed the stranger to go.—Portsmouth, N. H., Times.

A PUBLIC DUTY.

Montpellier, O., Man Feels Compelled to Tell His Experience.

Joseph Wilgus, Montpellier, O., says: "I feel it my duty to tell others about Doan's Kidney Pills.

Exposure and driving brought kidney trouble on me, and I suffered much from irregular passages of the kidney secretions. Sometimes there was retention and at other times passages were too frequent, especially at night. There was pain and discoloration. Doan's Kidney Pills brought me relief from the first, and soon infused new life. I give them my endorsement."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Parisian Meat Supply.

The last year for which complete statistics concerning the meat supply of Paris have been published is 1903. From the reports of that year it appears that 267,027 cattle, 274,390 calves and 2,047,770 sheep were slaughtered at the city abattoirs and produced 156,007,850 kilograms (or 327,616,485 pounds) of meat, of which 123,712,180 kilograms (259,795,578 pounds) were consumed in Paris, and 32,292,650 kilograms exported. Some of the choicest of French beef goes to England, where the filets and other prime cuts are in demand for clubs, hotels, and the best class of restaurants. During the same year there were killed 282,508 hogs, which yielded 27,657,350 kilograms (58,080,435 pounds) of pork, and 29,370 horses, which furnished 7,305,650 kilograms (or 15,341,865 pounds) of meat, all of which was consumed in Paris.

Mysterious Find.

She went down to a swell play the other evening, attired in a superb white gown and wearing a splendid opera cloak. In fact, she was stunning. As she seated herself, she was about to remove the long red cloak when with horror and consternation depicted on her face she discovered something! My, what a predicament! She had prepared supper before leaving for the show, and there, covering the front of the white skirt was a lowly calico checked apron. She managed to remove it after the house had darkened, and the next morning the sweeper at the Colonial found an apron under one of the seats.—Pittsfield Journal.

Makes Son Private Secretary.

In appointing his son, Lord Bruce, as his private secretary the earl of Elgin only followed the example of the late William E. Gladstone, who, when he became prime minister in 1859, appointed Herbert Gladstone, then a young man of 20, to a similar position.

IT'S THE FOOD.

The True Way to Correct Nervous Troubles.

Nervous troubles are more often caused by improper food and indigestion than most people imagine. Even doctors sometimes overlook this fact. A man says:

"Until two years ago waffles and butter with meat and gravy were the main features of my breakfast. Finally dyspepsia came on and I found myself in a bad condition, worse in the morning than any other time. I would have a full, sick feeling in my stomach, with pains in my heart, sides and head.

"At times I would have no appetite for days, then I would feel ravenous, never satisfied when I did eat and so nervous I felt like shrieking at the top of my voice. I lost flesh badly and hardly knew which way to turn until one day I bought a box of Grape-Nuts food to see if I could eat that. I tried it without telling the doctor, and liked it fine; made me feel as if I had something to eat that was satisfying and still I didn't have that heaviness that I had felt after eating any other food.

"I hadn't drank any coffee then in five weeks. I kept on with the Grape-Nuts and in a month and a half I had gained 15 pounds, could eat almost anything I wanted, didn't feel badly after eating and my nervousness was all gone. It's a pleasure to be well again."

"The early sower never borrows of the late," nor does the early shopper often wonder why she "missed a bargain."

A New York burglar put the baby to sleep before robbing the house. He evidently realizes the value of a baby as a burglar alarm.

A Mexican plant has been discovered which forecasts fogs, rain and earthquakes. There ought to be one of these in a jardiniere on every weather bureau.

There is one man in Massachusetts who is firmly convinced that marriage is a failure. He makes $10 a week and has been ordered to pay $20 a week of it to his wife for alimony.

Proceedings in behalf of the state have been commenced against the Grand Trunk railroad to compel that road to reduce its fare from three cents a mile to two and one-half cents. It is understood that the constitutionality of the state's requirement will be tested and the controversy on the part of the supreme court of the United States. But whatever may be true as to the contention of the railroad and the action of courts the people of the state will observe with satisfaction that aggressive action for the observance of the state law has been demanded and will be insisted upon by the railroad commissioner and the attorney general.

Good Butter and Egg Market.
It is a dull market day in New York city when 5,000,000 eggs and 500,000 pounds of butter are not received.

Bee Culture in Europe.
Germany is now the premier bee country of Europe—1,910,000 hives, 29,000 tons of honey per year. Spain comes next, 1,690,000 hives, 19,000 tons of honey. Austria-Hungary has third place, 1,550,000 hives, 18,000 tons of honey. It is rather surprising to learn that France's annual production of honey is only 10,000 tons. From 20,000 bee hives Greece gets yearly 1,400 tons of honey; from 111,000 hives Russia gets but 900 tons.

Object to Tipping.
The liverymen of Richmond, Va., are making much complaint against the evil of tipping their drivers. They say that whenever a driver receives a tip, he proceeds to spend it for drinks, causing him to fall to do his duty.

GARDEN

Tuesday Nov. 15, 1906

Mr. and Mrs. William Gauthier of this village, returned the 7th, from a two weeks vacation at Negaunee.

Mrs. Larson of Isabel, transacted business in Garden on the 10th.

Richard Shier was down from camp on Sunday last. "Dick" is a "hustler" when it comes to getting out anything in the line of forest products, his camp this winter is located about ten miles northeast of this village.

James Loague of Thompson, Schoolcraft county, was in the village on Tuesday. While here Mr. Loague made sale of pine and hemlock, timber on four forties of land in township 40, range 17 to William Bonefas.

Oscar Packard, formerly in business in this village, was in town last week for several days, settling up old accounts, etc. Mr. Packard is now located at Marinette where Mrs. Packard has accepted a position with Lanerman Bros. We wish them a large measure of success in their new location.

W. A. Lemire, M. D. formerly located in Garden, but now in Escanaba, is now in this village shaking hands with his many friends. The "Doc" looks as cheerful and happy as ever. Judging from appearances, you must use him well over there in Escanaba.

R. A. McDonald, Edward Disco, Gaspard Plant, Napoleon Boudreau, and

George Wood, all left for the north woods on a hunting trip the 9th. The boys will hunt on the head waters of the Fishdam. We hope they will have a good time. It is also to be hoped that some careless "greenhorn" from outside, does not take any of the party for a woodchuck or bear and take a snap shot at them. A man is just as safe out of the woods these days.

Supervisor William Bonefas has called our attention to an item in the last week's Garden correspondence, criticising the management of the township cemetery. Mr. Bonefas says, that the item in question did the township board an injustice, inasmuch as they have lately spent quite an amount in repairs on the cemetery grounds. And that fences are now in good repair, with locks on the gates, and that everything has been put in good shape. The article was written on what we considered good authority. And if we were in error, and have done the township board an injustice, we are glad of the chance to make this correction. The Port Scribe will always be found willing to eat his little dish of "crow" and not make a face over it either.

Mrs. Philomene Deloria, wife of Antoine Deloria, one of the oldest citizens of Garden, died suddenly at her home in this village at 11:30 o'clock in the forenoon on Monday the 12th, of heart disease. Mr. Deloria was absent, having left that morning on the boat en route for Negaunee. Mrs. Deloria apparently had been in her usual good health, having been attending to her household duties in the forenoon and had prepared dinner and seated herself at the table to partake of it. Her son, Joseph Deloria, postmaster at Garden, had been with his mother but a short time before, but had left the room for a moment. On his return he found his mother seated in her chair unconscious. Dr. Lemire and Footé were called in, but to no avail. Death had been instantaneous.

Mrs. Deloria was over seventy years of age, and had lived in Garden for more than thirty years. Her sudden death cast a gloom over her large circle of relatives and friends in this village. She was a faithful and devout member of the Catholic church and was a person of whom it could be said: that she practiced in her daily life, the Christianity she professed to believe.

The funeral services will be held at the Catholic church in this village the 14th.

Aich. Geo. Ess.

Salt and Epilepsy.

"Whenever we get a call to attend a case of epilepsy," said an ambulance surgeon at Bellevue, "we always find the patient's neck and face covered with salt. The efficiency of salt as a cure for epilepsy is evidently a relic of some old country superstition, though just what it is we've never been able to find out."—N. Y. Sun.

NEW YORK LEADERS ASK COUNT OF VOTES

Republicans Want Courts to Order Production of All Void and Pro- tested Ballots, While Democrats Moot to Devise Means to Protect Interests of State Ticket.

Election returns show that the next congress will be Republican in both branches. The political complexion of the senate shows a Republican gain of one in Colorado. There are two or three close legislative contests, but they are chiefly between individuals, and the senate will stand nearly as at present, with 58 Republicans and 32 Democrats, leaving a Republican majority of 26. The returns indicate a Republican membership in the house of representatives of about 217, which is a majority of 56 over the Democrats.

HEARST IS ONLY LOSER.

Rest of Fusion Ticket Appears to Be Elected in New York.

New York.—Both parties are preparing to demand a recount of ballots. Already tangled, the situation offers vast possibilities of infinite further complications if the courts take in hand the work of straightening out the result of the election.

Applications will at once be made by the Republican campaign managers in the supreme courts of all adjoining counties for orders compelling the production in court of all void and protested ballots. These number 15,000.

Chairman Connors of the Democratic state committee issued a call for a full committee meeting to "devise means to protect the interests of the state ticket." From telegrams I have received," said Mr. Connors, "it is plain that the Republican machine is resorting to its old thievish knavery in order to beat our ticket. There is absolutely no doubt that the returns are being held back. We are going to get an honest count of the vote."

The latest returns indicate the following result of the vote for candidates for state offices other than governor:

Chandler, lieutenant governor, 3,898.
Whalen, secretary of state, 6,522.
Jackson, attorney general, 3,859.
Hauser, treasurer, 3,633.
Glynn, controller, 8,643.
Skene, state engineer, 10,376.
Hughes' plurality for governor is now placed at 60,432.

The vote in Greater New York shows that Hearst was slashed unmercifully by the Democrats. He ran so far behind the rest of his colleagues on the Democratic ticket that his defeat looms up all the larger. He is 63,000 votes below the lowest man on the Democratic ticket and 70,000 votes below the highest.

William R. Hearst has had little to say since his defeat. He showed a cheerful front to callers that went to his home in Lexington avenue to congratulate him "on making a good fight, anyway," and put in several hours reading telegrams from all parts of the state and all over the country to the same effect.

He has refused to follow Chairman Ihmsen's loud cry of "Fraud!" and "Robbery!" and "stands pat" on the statement he issued, which conceded defeat, and was virtually a promise to abide by the result.

Hearst to Continue Fight.

At 2:15 Wednesday morning Mr. Hearst made the following statement: "In view of the result I have only to repeat what I said in my speeches. I am enlisted in this fight against the control of the government by the trusts and corrupt corporations, and I will fight it to the end."

"But I will serve in the lead or in the ranks, just exactly as the people desire, and as earnestly and loyally in one place as in the other. The people have decided to retain the Republican party in power. I will make my fight in the ranks, therefore, and as a private citizen do my best to promote the interests of my fellow citizens."

Hearst Carries Brooklyn.

In Brooklyn, where Senator Patrick H. McCarren made a bitter fight against Hearst, the latter carried the borough by a small plurality, probably 4,000. At one time it seemed that Hughes had been successful in Brooklyn, but the late returns were all strongly in favor of the Democratic candidate.

State Senator Thomas F. Grady, of Tammany hall, has been reelected over Thomas Rock, who has been known in the campaign as "eight-hour" Rock, and who claimed he had been "tricked" by the Independence League.

Gov. Cummins Safe in Iowa.
Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 8.

Summer Earnings of Students.
The Columbia university committee of students reports that out of 551 who applied for positions during the recent summer vacation, 313 reported earnings aggregating $140,240. Most of the men received positions as tutors, but some worked as secretaries, clerks and salesmen. Their earnings averaged $113.43. The law students averaged $374.59, and the medical students $203.19. The women of Barnard were employed as clerks, stenographers, companions and governesses.

Gov. Cummins has been reelected by a plurality close to 15,000 votes. For 24 hours the result was in doubt because of the heavy gains in the Democratic vote.

The Democrats, while still insisting that official returns may possibly elect their candidate, do not speak hopefully.

Congressman Lacey, in the Sixth district, was defeated.

MICHIGAN 100,000 REPUBLICAN

Gov. Warner Reelected by a Large Plurality.

Detroit.—Gov. Fred M. Warner and the entire Republican state ticket are reelected by what will probably be the largest plurality ever given a state ticket in Michigan. Warner's plurality, based on present returns, will exceed 100,000, with the rest of the ticket slightly lower.

The Republicans also elect a solid delegation to congress, with hardly a semblance of a contest. In fact, in four of the congressional districts the Democrats did not take the trouble to nominate a candidate.

The state legislature is almost solidly Republican, with the possible exception of two or three men. This legislature the coming winter will choose a United States senator to succeed Russell A. Alger. Three prominent candidates, William T. McMillan, of Detroit; Congressman William Alden Smith, of Grand Rapids, and Arthur Hill, of Saginaw, will claim a majority of the legislature chosen are favorable to them. Congressman Townsend is also a candidate for Senator Alger's place.

REPUBLICANS HAVE INDIANA.

Entire State Ticket and Legislature Won by Party.

Indianapolis.—Republicans have elected their entire state ticket in Indiana by an estimated majority of between 40,000 and 50,000. The next legislature will be Republican. Republicans have elected six congressmen in the First, Sixth, Seventh, Ninth, Tenth and Thirteenth districts. The Democrats have elected two, in the Third and Fourth districts. Frederick Landis, Republican candidate for congress in the Eleventh district, is defeated, his Democratic opponent, J. A. M. Adair being elected by 1,800. The defeat of George W. Cromer in the Eighth also is conceded by Republicans, and the election of Watson in the Sixth is in doubt. Cromer ran 3,000 behind in his own county.

The Republican state ticket carried several Democratic strongholds, which elected Democratic county and legislative tickets, and in other places the opposite was true. The vote in the state was surprisingly light. In Indianapolis not more than two-thirds of the full vote was polled and the shrinkage was largely in the Republican wards.

Princeton Alumni.
Exclusive of the class of 1906 there are 7,190 living alumni of Princeton. Of the 6,522 classified according to their occupation, 2,285 are in business, 1,498 in the law, 924 in the ministry, 699 practicing medicine, 433 teachers, 290 engineers, 104 journalists, 50 ranching and farming, 50 gentlemen of leisure, 41 students, 34 in the army, 31 civil service, 28 architecture, 19 chemists, 10 artists, 9 authors, 7 in the navy, 5 librarians, 4 musicians and 4 dentists.

The Democrats have elected the prosecuting attorney and probably the auditor in Marion county. Republican majorities have been reduced from the figures of two years ago.

DAVIDSON WINS IN WISCONSIN

Entire Republican Ticket Elected by Good Plurality.

Milwaukee.—The entire Republican state ticket was elected in Wisconsin by pluralities of 50,000 and more.

Indications are that ten Republican congressmen have been elected in 11 districts, and that the next legislature is overwhelmingly Republican. Most counties report the election of Republican county officers.

Returns show Gov. Davidson ran ahead of his ticket and that Connor was scratched considerably.

The situation in some of the congressional districts is close, but indications are ten Republicans will be returned to Washington.

In the Third district a hard fight was made by La Follette men, many of whom scratched Congressman Babcock, former congressional chairman, and supported the Democratic nominee, J. H. Murphy. Murphy's plurality is estimated at from 300 to 400.

Hoch's Plurality Small.

Topeka, Kan.—Completes official returns from 96 out of 105 counties, give Gov. E. W. Hoch a plurality of 2,060 votes over William A. Harris (Dem.). The nine counties still out are all small ones, but probably bring Gov.

Hoch's plurality down to 2,000 or less. The democratic campaign managers now concede the election of Hoch, but claim that his plurality is considerably less than 2,000. The Democratic leaders declare that they are highly elated over the showing made by the party at Tuesday's election and claim that the cutting down of Hoch's plurality of nearly 67,000 in 1904 to less than 2,000 in 1906 is in itself a great victory. Gov. Hoch's plurality is the lowest ever given a candidate for governor in Kansas.

ILLINOIS IS REPUBLICAN.

Chicago Democrats Overwhelmingly Beaten in Municipal Contest.

Chicago.—The Illinois Republican state ticket has been elected with a plurality of 120,000 for John F. Smulski. Cook county furnishing 50,000.

All the Republican state candidates have been successful, Smulski running a little behind Francis G. Blair for superintendent of instruction, who has a plurality of 130,000, according to first returns—the largest Republican plurality ever given in an off year election, with one exception. A total of 825,000 votes were cast throughout the state—the smallest vote cast in a state election in 14 years, and 251,000 less than in the presidential election of November 3, 1904.

In the legislature the Republicans will have 89 house members and they have elected 23 of the 27 senators. They had 21 of the 24 hold-over senators. The joint ballot which will reelect Shelby M. Cullom to the United States senate will poll 133 Republican votes out of 204.

Miners Expect Fight.

Saginaw.—Preparations for a long fight at the Wenona mine are indicated by the district miners' executive board ordering strike assessments on Michigan miners of a dollar per month, payable November 24 and December 8. The national organization has also been appealed to for funds. John Mitchell's compromise proposal has been partially rejected by the miners.

Burglars at Birmingham.

Nearly Killed by Rescuers.

Flint.—Roy Bills, aged 24 a sewer digger, was rescued from a cave-in by a score of workmen, who, after digging an hour and a half at a depth of 14 feet, contrived to get a rope about his body. All hands tugged on the rope and the pull that saved his life nearly yanked him in two.

Prominent Bay City Man Dead.

Bay City.—Nathan B. Bradley, first mayor of Bay City, member of the forty-third and forty-fourth congress, a lumberman with interests in several sections of the United States, died from pneumonia after a week's illness. He was 74 years old.

Boy Killed in Stealing Ride.

Shop Men's Wages Increased.

Took Chloroform by Mistake.

Lansing.—Mrs. Whitney Boebe took in place of chloroform and remained unconscious 11 hours. Members of the family say that it was a mistake.

From the State Capital

Information and Gossip Furnished by Special Correspondent at Lansing.

Lansing.—Railroad Commissioner

Atwood has requested Attorney General Bird to commence legal proceedings against the Grand Trunk Western railroad to compel it to reduce its fares on the line of railroad extending from Detroit to Port Huron. Suit will be commenced within a few days in the Ingham circuit court. Notice was given several months ago that its earnings had reached a point where, under the state law, a reduction to 2½ cents a mile should be made. There has been no compliance with the notice, and it is understood the company will contest the constitutionality of the statute providing for reduction of fares based on earnings per mile, contending that it amounts to a violation of the federal constitution in that it is taking property without due process of law. Other railroads have complied with the statute, including the Grand Trunk company itself, the fare on its trunk line having been at the two cent rate for years.

Favoritism Is Denied.

It has been the custom in the secretary of state's office for several years when articles of incorporation are offered for filing to send out from the state department an envelope containing samples of books, printed matter, etc., that may be desired by new corporations commencing business. This advertising matter is prepared by a Chicago firm, filed in envelopes and stamped, the only duty performed by the state department being to address the envelopes to the new corporation, charging a fee of five cents for each envelope addressed. George W. Purchase, of Detroit, has complained of this practice, asserting that the Chicago firm is given an advantage over other firms in the same line of business in Detroit and other Michigan cities, by first getting the attention of the prospective purchaser and the propriety of the purchase and the propriety of the purchase of the state's office engaging in furthering private business in this manner is questioned. At the secretary of state's office it is stated that any other firm desiring the same privileges will be given them at the same price. The fees received go into the state treasury.

Few Changes Looked For.

Little change in the make-up of the forces that do the state's business at the capital is expected after January 1, the beginning of the second term of the governor and of all the state officers with the exception of Lieut. Gov. P. H. Kelly, who now occupies another state office, and of Superintendent of Public Instruction L. L. Wright, who, in reality, is the only new member of the official family. Mr. Wright is very likely to choose for his deputy Walter H. French, who has and Superintendent Kelley. The other held that position during the administrations of both Superintendent Fall and his predecessors and is expected to be continued, but there will be a few changes in the clerkships. The governor, at the beginning of his second term, will have an unusual number of important appointments to make. The terms of banking commissioner, game and fish warden, and state librarian are for four years, and the terms of all three expire this winter. Aside from these there are the two-year appointments for railroad and insurance commissioner and various other offices.

Court Cuts Tangled Divorces.

The Michigan supreme court has set a finality upon the divorce proceedings of Howard Hews, of Chicago, and his former wife, who was Miss Wester, of Saginaw, by denying Hews' petition for a rehearing of the case, which was decided in the supreme court last July. In that opinion the court upheld the validity of a decree granted to Mrs. Hews by a Saginaw (Mich.) judge, together with alimony and the custody of their children, despite the fact that the husband, while asking a rehearing in Michigan, had secured a subsequent divorce in Chicago, by which he was given charge of two of the children. The ground for Mrs. Hews' divorce was cruelty and nonsupport.

Law's Constitutionality Upheld.

The supreme court upheld the constitutionality of the law of 1905, providing for the holding of alternate terms of the circuit court for Calhoun county in Battle Creek, instead of all of them being held in Marshall, the county seat. Various objections to the act were raised, one relating to the title and another being that the act conferred legislative powers upon the Battle Creek common council, upon whose provision of suitable quarters the location of the court there was made conditional. Such objections were overruled.

Chinaman's Case Is Appealed.

Attorneys Black & Reasoner, who were retained in the case of Pang Shu Yin, arrested at Ecorse June 30 after being rowed across the Detroit river, have filed with United States Commissioner Chapin an appeal from his order of deportation. The case of the Chinaman, who is charged with entering the country in violation of the exclusion act, will thus be tried in the United States district court at Detroit. It is understood that new testimony will be introduced in his behalf.

The State Election.

With only about 75 per cent. of the vote cast that was recorded two years ago, Gov. Fred M. Warner, Republican, has been reelected by about 90,000 majority. The entire Republican ticket was elected by about the same majority as Warner. The record Republican majority in this state is 106,000, in a presidential year. John T. Rich's plurality in 1904 was 106,392, the only time the state has ever elected a governor by more than 100,000. Rich's plurality in '92 was but 16,090. But 1892 was a Democratic landslide throughout the country, and 1904 an equally extensive Republican landslide. The nearest to 100,000 plurality any candidate ever received was Hazen S. Pingree, in 1896. His in that year was 83,409. From 1872 to 1894 no candidate for governor received as high as 50,000 plurality. Pingree's plurality in 1898 fell to 75,097. Gov. Bliss' dropped from 79,384 in 1900, to 37,184 in 1902. Warner's plurality in 1904 was 60,228, in a total vote of 504,521, which was but 2,285 more than in 1902, 43,698 less than the total state vote in 1900, and 16,643 less than in 1896.

With Gov. Warner, of course, the whole state ticket is elected. In only eight of the 12 congressional districts of the state were there contests, and in every one of these eight the Republican candidates are elected by majorities ranging from 3,000 to 25,000. Those congressmen who were reelected without opposition are Charles E. Townsend in the Second, William Alden Smith in the Fifth, Joseph W. Fordney in the Eighth and George A. Loud in the Tenth.

The legislature, like that of 1905, it seems will be solidly Republican, not a Democratic candidate for senator or representative having been elected.

The state ticket elected: Governor, Fred H. Warner; lieutenant governor, Patrick H. Kelly; secretary of state, George A. Prescott; treasurer, Frank P. Glazier; auditor general, James B. Bradley; attorney general, John E. Bird; superintendent public instruction, Luther L. Wright; land commissioner, William H. Rose; member state board of education, Dexter M. Ferry, Jr.

Beavers Menace to Trout.

Beavers in Michigan are protected by state law until 1910. As soon as hunters have a legal right to trap these valuable fur-bearing animals the harvest will be golden. Beavers have been multiplying so rapidly that they are damaging fishing. They do not eat fish, it is said, but their dams block up streams, stagnate the water, and make it unhealthy for the trout. It is not generally known that the beaver is edible, rivaling the opossum of the south. It is the delight of the woodsman epicure.

Fine Highway Completed.

The new macadam road from this city to the agricultural college has been completed and will be approved by the state highway commissioner within a few days. The road is two and a half miles long and built of crushed stone. It is the finest highway in this part of the state. The city has paved Michigan avenue to the city limits, thereby giving a fine roadway extending from the capitol entrance to the college.

Michigan R. F. D. Growing Rapidly.

The official statement of the rural free delivery service for October, which was issued recently, shows that the number of routes in Michigan on November 1 was 1,918, as compared with 1,813 on June 30 last. Sixty petitions for routes were pending at the end of October, out of a total of 24,601, received up to date, only 478 having been reported adversely on since June 30. Five Michigan routes were discontinued.

Railway Line to Be Built.

J. A. Thiek, of Detroit, who is promoting the proposed Lansing & Saginaw electric railway says that the right of way between this city and Saginaw has been secured with the exception of about three miles between Owosso and Saginaw. He says the Saginaw, Owosso & Lansing Railway company will be incorporated with a capital of $1,500,000. The grading of the line will not be started before spring, but Mr. Thiek asserts that cars will be running over the line by next fall.

Attendance at Leipzig Fair.

At the Leipzig fall fair of 1906, the number of firms represented as buyers was 9,886, as against 9,105 in 1905 and 7,534 in 1903; an increase of over 41 per cent during the last three years. The United States and Canada were represented by 114 buyers, while Latin America, Asia and Europe were also well represented. The official list of sellers this year shows that 3,275 firms had exhibits, as against 3,101 in 1905. The countries represented, and the number of firms from each, were as follows: German empire, 2,961; Austria-Hungary, 228; France, 40; Great Britain, 13; Netherlands, 13; Switzerland, 6; Italy, 5; Belgium, 4; Denmark, 2; Sweden, 2, and the United States, 1.

HOW DEBILITY SHOWS

And Why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Are a Specific for Dangerous Physical Declines.

The symptoms of general debility vary according to the cause but weakness is always present, a tendency to perspire and fatigue easily, ringing in the ears, sometimes black spots passing before the eyes, weak back, vertigo, wakefulness caused by inability to stop thinking, and unrefreshing sleep. The cause of the trouble may be some drain on the system or it may be mental or physical overwork, sometimes insufficient nutrition due to digestive disturbance. In the latter case there is generally a loss of appetite and a coated tongue as well as general languor and debility.

Miss Lula M. Metzger, a stenographer, living at 71 Mill street, Watertown, N. Y., suffered for over a year from general debility. "It was caused by overstudy," she says, "and I had no ambition, didn't want to go anywhere, my food didn't taste good, I was run down, lifeless and listless. I took medicines but they failed to help me. Finally friends recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to my mother and she got some for me. I took them for some time and was entirely cured and had had no return of the trouble."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure debility because they actually make new, red, rich blood, and as the blood carries nourishment to all the organs and tissues of the body, nerves as well as muscles, the new blood stimulates the organs to do the work that nature expects of them and normal health follows. Not only is this treatment sufficient to cure debility but many severe nervous disorders as well.

The pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Send for free diet book.

50 VICTIMS OF WRECK

IMMIGRANTS TRAPPED IN CARS BURN TO DEATH.

PINNED BENEATH SEATS

Companions Work Desperately to Rescue Their Unfortunate Friends from Burning to Death in the Coaches.

Valparaiso, Ind.—Fifty persons are known to have been trapped and burned to death and 80 others seriously injured in a head-on collision early Monday near Woodville, Ind., 43 miles from Chicago, in which a Baltimore & Ohio immigrant train was smashed by a fast freight train.

The accident was caused by the freight crew failing to observe signals on the first section of the immigrant train that another section was following. The immigrant train caught fire and was entirely consumed. There were 167 passengers on the train, and 117 of the party have been accounted for.

The crews of both trains escaped except the fireman on the immigrant train, who was killed.

The immigrants consisted of Russian Jews, Servians and Poles, and were en route by way of Chicago to the northwest.

Fire added to the horrors of the wreck, as there was considerable delay in rescuing the victims.

The train of six coaches, filled with foreigners who expected to make their home in the west, was on its way from Baltimore.

When the crash came there was a terrible panic. Men and women fought in the darkness to reach the ground. Babies were snatched up by their screaming mothers, and doors and windows were broken to make avenues of escape. Flames burst from the baggage coach.

Some of the passengers were found pinned between the seats. Their companions worked furiously to save them from death in the flames.

There were many heroic deeds, when men suffering from injuries themselves risked their lives to help women and children.

DEATH OF MAJ. GEN. SHAFTER

Retired Army Officer Succumbs to Effects of Slight Cold.

Bakersfield, Cal.—William Rufus Shafter, U. S. A., retired, died at 12:45 p. m. Monday, at the ranch of Capt. W. H. McKittrick, his son-in-law, 20 miles south of this city, after an illness of seven days, despite the best medical attention available in California.

While returning from the polls November 6 Gen. Shafter contracted a severe chill, which augmented a slight indisposition and necessitated confinement to his bed.

The body of Maj. Gen. Shafter will leave this city Wednesday evening on a Santa Fe train, and upon arrival at Point Richmond the next morning will be placed aboard a government tug and escorted by military officers to the Presidio at San Francisco. Interment will be in the post cemetery, immediately after the arrival, with full military honors. The body will rest at the McKittrick ranch until Wednesday evening.

Minneapolis, Minn.—The feature of the opening session here Monday of the twenty-sixth annual convention of the American Federation of Labor was the exhaustive annual report of President Samuel Gompers.

The annual report of Secretary Frank Morrison was read, which showed the federation to be in not only splendid financial condition, but also stronger in membership than ever before.

Demands of Engineers Granted.

New York.—The demands of the engineers employed by the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad company were adjusted Monday at a conference between President W. H. Truesdale and the representatives of the engineers. The engineers were granted a ten-hour day and increases in wages aggregating for the 900 engineers $30,000 to $35,000 annually.

Engine Tears Down Depot Walls.

JOLIET WANTS WORKMEN.

All Kinds of Help, Men and Women, Wanted in Her New Factories.

If you want a good position in one of the mills or factories of Joliet, now is the time to apply. There is unbounded prosperity for all in that Illinois city of 45,000 people. It has grown to be a great manufacturing center, and business is lively the year round. More than 100 important industries employ 15,000 people, both men and women. Old concerns are enlarging, and new ones are being established, so that thousands more are wanted to help do the work. Men of all trades, men without trades, and women for work suited to them, are wanted.

Joliet is a public-spirited, go-ahead city, and a very attractive place in which to live. It has many prosperous churches, four public parks, four theaters, a very fine public library costing $250,000, one of the very finest high schools in the United States, and over 20 other schools; banks, home-building associations, clubs and social organizations; a conservatory of music, and all that goes to make up a wide-awake, modern city. These all are to be considered for a home.

Steady employment is the foundation of individual prosperity, and few places can hold out such attractive inducements as Joliet. It has long been known as the best labor market near Chicago. It is better than Chicago, because one may live near his work, and save time, as well as money, while wages are just as high. Living is as inexpensive as anywhere, because supplies may be purchased direct from farmers. About 1,500 farmers sell their produce in Joliet.

The American Refractories Co., of Joliet, has just brought 65 more men from Pittsburg, and will soon add 150 more. The American Steel & Wire Co. employs over 2,000 hands, and wants 300 more. The Western Car & Foundry Co. is putting on 600 hands. The Joliet Malleable Iron Co. has increased its works three-fold. The Joliet steel works employs 3,500 hands, making 5,000 tons of steel a day, having just spent $1,250,000 on a new blast furnace. Three million dollars are being spent in track elevation.

Joliet is at the southern end of the Chicago drainage canal, an open channel for vessels of the great lakes, and the ship canal to the Mississippi passes through that city. Forty thousand horsepower is being developed at the end of the drainage canal, while other great power plants are contemplated. Thirty trains run daily each way between Chicago and Joliet.

Fine opportunities exist in Joliet for business of all kinds. Cheap coal and the best railroad facilities are at the bottom of Joliet's great industrial prosperity, and any person who wants to make a change in his fortunes cannot do better than go to that city. Write to the Citizens Alliance of Joliet for additional information.

Wouldn't Fit.

Some visitors from the north attended service at a colored church in Alabama and were much amused when the good old preacher referred to John I. and John II. as "John with one eye and John with two eyes!"

But when he gave out a hymn beginning "Purge Me with Hyssop," there was consternation in the choir and great fumbling around for a tune to fit the words. At last the leading chorister addressed the preacher: "Say, Brother Johnsing, won't you please try some odder yarb?"—Lippincott's.

Year's Tea Production.

The total exports of tea from India during the year ended April 26, 1906, amounted to 214,198,943 pounds, valued at $29,294,936. The shipments to the United Kingdom were 166,604,000 pounds; Canada, 15,019,000 pounds; Russia, 9,991,000 pounds; Australia, 7,746 pounds; Turkey and Asia, 3,464 pounds; the United States, 2,185,000 pounds; Persia, 1,091,000 pounds, and to all other countries, 8,084,000 pounds. All these countries, except the United States and Persia, increased their purchases over 1905. The trade with the United States decreased 9.7 per cent, and that with Persia 65.5 per cent.

Size of Heads.

The average adult head has a circumference of fully 22 inches. The average adult hat is fully 6 1/2 size. The sizes of men's hats are 6 1/2 and 6 3/4 generally. "Sevens" hats are common in Aberdeen, and the professors of our colleges generally wear 7 1/2 to 8 sizes.

Heads wearing hats of the sizes 6 1/2 and smaller, or being less than 21 inches in circumference, can never be powerful. Between 19 and 20 inches in circumference heads are invariably weak, and, according to this authority, "no lady should think of marrying a man with a head less than 20 inches in circumference."

People with heads under 19 inches are mentally deficient, and with heads under 18 inches "invariably idiotic." —Young Woman.

Marion Harland.

The celebrated authoress, so highly esteemed by the women of America, says on pages 103 and 445 of her book, "Eve's Daughters; or, Common Sense for Maid, Wife and Mother":

"For the aching back—should it be slow in recovering its normal strength—an Allcock's Plaster is an excellent comforter, combining the sensation of the sustained pressure of a strong warm hand with certain tonic qualities developed in the wearing. It should be kept over the seat of uneasiness for several days—in obstinate cases, for perhaps a fortnight."

"For pain in the back wear an Allcock's Plaster constantly, renewing as it wears off. This is an invaluable support when the weight on the small of the back becomes heavy and the aching incessant."

In the last 500 years over twelve billion dollars' worth of gold is estimated to have been dug from the earth. THE LAXATIVE OF KNOWN QUALITY

There are two classes of remedies; those of known quality and which are permanently beneficial in effect, acting gently, in harmony with nature, when nature needs assistance; and another class, composed of preparations of unknown, uncertain and inferior character, acting temporarily, but injuriously, as a result of forcing the natural functions unnecessarily. One of the most exceptional of the remedies of known quality and excellence is the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., which represents the active principles of plants, known to act most beneficially, in a pleasant syrup, in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to contribute their rich, yet delicate, fruity flavor. It is the remedy of all remedies to sweeten and refresh and cleanse the system gently and naturally, and to assist one in overcoming constipation and the many ills resulting therefrom. Its active principles and quality are known to physicians generally, and the remedy has therefore met with their approval, as well as with the favor of many millions of well informed persons who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual experience that it is a most excellent laxative remedy. We do not claim that it will cure all manner of ills, but recommend it for what it really represents, a laxative remedy of known quality and excellence, containing nothing of an objectionable or injurious character.

There are two classes of purchasers; those who are informed as to the quality of what they buy and the reasons for the excellence of articles of exceptional merit, and who do not lack courage to go elsewhere when a dealer offers an imitation of any well known article; but, unfortunately, there are some people who do not know, and who allow themselves to be imposed upon. They cannot expect its beneficial effects if they do not get the genuine remedy.

To the credit of the druggists of the United States be it said that nearly all of them value their reputation for professional integrity and the good will of their customers too highly to offer imitations of the

Constipation

Baked sweet apples, with some people, bring prompt relief for Constipation. With others, coarse all-wheat bread will have the same effect. Nature undoubtedly has a vegetable remedy to relieve every ailment known to man, if physicians can but find Nature's way to health. And this is strikingly true with regard to Constipation.

The bark of a certain tree in California—Cascara Sagrada—offers a most excellent aid to this end. But, combined with Egyptian Senna, Slippery Elm Bark, Solid Extract of Prunes, etc., this same Cascara bark is given its greatest possible power to correct constipation. A toothsome Candy Tablet, called Lax-ets, is now made at the Dr. Shoop Laboratories, from this ingenious and most effective prescription. Its effect on Constipation, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Sallow Complexion, etc., is indeed prompt and satisfying.

No gripping, no unpleasant after effects are experienced, and Lax-ets are put up in beautiful lithographed metal boxes at 5 cents and 25 cents per box.

The Swedish National Dances

One of the most unique and interesting performances that have been here for a long while will be the exhibition here of Old Swedish folk dances by the National Swedish Dancers from the Skansen Stockholm who appear at the Peterson opera house Monday Nov. 26, under the auspices of the North Star Society. The company consists of 14 people, 12 dancers and two fiddlers, dressed in national costumes each representing a province or district of Sweden. A program of some 17 dances is presented, many of which take their origin back several centuries and nearly all of which become forgotten but during the last few years have been revived at the great historical park, Skansen, where they have created extraordinary enthusiasm and have been seen by all the crowned heads of Europe that have visited Stockholm since their revival. It is the first time that these dancers have ever been seen in this country and the press, wherever they have been seen speak of them as an extremely picturesque and interesting performance.
