Two Men In Judge Linden's Court on Charge of Larceny

GOODS FOUND ON TUG

Authorities of Door County May Take Prisoners on a More Serious Charge—Hearing Adjourned

Charles Cummings and Frank Schunberg appeared in Judge Linden's court Monday morning on the charge of larceny. The complaint was made by George Fitzpatrick, who alleges that the fellows entered his camp across the bay and helped themselves to a sack of flour and cooking utensils. The examination was adjourned to Wednesday, bail being fixed at $100 each.

The prisoners appeared in court again Wednesday morning and another adjournment of one week was taken. It is understood that there is a mass of evidence against the parties, but that the charge of larceny only is made against them, with a view of turning them over to the authorities of Door county, where the charge of grand larceny will no doubt be lodged against them. In the event of the men being released here a half dozen other warrants issued by people living along the bay shore in Delta, Door and Menominee counties will claim them.

One of the charges against the two men is for stealing brass work from the wreck of a boat near Eagle Island. Not only was this alleged plunder found on the tug taken by the two men to Menominee, but articles of every description were found stowed away.

The local authorities are of the opinion that for weeks the men they believe to be pirates have been operating successfully and think that they have disposed of their hauls in this vicinity. A quiet investigation is now being made in an effort to learn where they sold copper, iron or junk.

When taken in custody Sunday morning their launch, by means of which they made the trip to Menominee was filled with old brass and iron and a variety of articles. One of the two men was arrested in Menominee not long ago and when taken to the county jail gave a different name than the one he uses now.

The arrest of the two men in Menominee followed a weeks investigation by the authorities and for several days the entire Menominee police force has been on the lookout for the alleged pirates. The officials declare that for some time the men have under the cover of darkness, been connected with a series of thefts which occurred at Escanaba, Gladstone and other points along the shore. They charge the men with loading their tug with the hauls, steaming to a desolate shore spot in Delta county, where the plunder was hidden until disposed of. The tug reached Menominee early Sunday morning and the arrests were made the moment the two men stepped on shore.

HONORS FOR CAPT. LOELL

Engaged as Physical Director at the Northwestern Military Academy

Capt. John Loell of the Escanaba crack baseball team, has been engaged to serve as athletic director at the North-Western Military academy at Highland Park, during the coming year and expects to leave here about Sept. 20 to take charge of the football squad at the academy. His instructions will also include baseball, track and indoor sports. Mr. Loell's experience as full-back on the University of Michigan football team, catcher in the big nine of Western colleges, and other training well equips him for the performance of the duties at Highland Park. Mr. Loell was recommended for the place by the athletic authorities of the state university. The offer was considered by Mr. Loell for some time before filing acceptance. There is no doubt but that the newly chosen director will improve the athletic standard of the academy and put their already promising football squad in the front ranks. Mr. Loell gained an enviable reputation during his two years on the university squad, even during his first year. In the beginning of his second year at the varsity he was welcomed into baseball circles and was made the catcher on the team, in which position he attracted unusual attention. Returning to his home here last spring, he assumed charge of the local baseball team and has the honor of developing one of the strongest teams ever organized in Escanaba, with chances favorable of securing the championship in the upper peninsula for the present season.

Infant-Child Dies

Carl W. Johnson, the four-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson, 116 May street, passed away Monday afternoon after an illness of short duration. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at the family home at 2:30 o'clock, the Rev. Bernsten of the Norwegian Lutheran church officiating. Interment was at Lakeview cemetery.

BRADLEY SENTIMENT IS STRONG

POPULAR CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR WILL GET MUCH SUPPORT IN DELTA COUNTY

As the time for the primary election draws near, one thing is quite evident, and that is, that Auditor General James B. Bradley, candidate for governor, will receive strong support throughout the county. Mr. Bradley's visit to this city and the straightforward address made by him, in which he outlined his policy, has made him many friend and support.

His record as Auditor General has demonstrated that he is a man for the people to trust and the many reforms he inaugurated in that department give him a record of which he may well be proud.

One thing that has marked Dr. Bradley's administration of the duties of Auditor General has been economy, and judging from all that can be learned about state affairs at present, Michigan needs just such a man. As to the issues that the people of the state are interested in at present, Dr. Bradley's position is well known. He favors a state wide direct nominating law. He has pledged himself to work for a law imposing an ad valorem tax upon telephone and telegraph companies, and is in favor of an anti-lobby law.

With such a candidate for governor, the voters will undoubtedly put the stamp of disapproval upon the third term idea in no uncertain manner on September 1.

BAD WRECK ON N. W.

Rolling Stock to the Value of Thousands of Dollars Was Demolished

Because of a bad wreck occurring near Spread Eagle, Menominee iron range, the Chicago & Northwestern railroad is out some thousands of dollars, the value of the rolling stock demolished. Two ore trains, carrying full loads of fifty cars each, were started from Crystal Falls and Stambaugh. The Crystal Falls train was ahead and was in charge of Conductor John Coughlin, of Iron Mountain, while the second train was in charge of Conductor George Adams of Green Bay. As the first train neared Spread Eagle, the train broke in two and was brought to a halt for the purpose of setting out the bad-order car. While engaged in doing this all of the precautions were closely adhered to by Conductor Coughlin, and he commissioned one of the brakemen to use the torpedoes. The brakeman carried out his instructions. But there is a hill in the vicinity known to the railroad men as "Hill siding" and once that Engineer George Sullivan of Escanaba, struck this decline, his "iron horse" persisted in developing speed, aided by the fact that the air refused to work properly until when the locomotive driver received the danger signal from the flagman it was utterly impossible to stop. When within two or three car lengths of the caboose ahead the crew jumped and the engine crashed into the cars, splitting the caboose in two as slick and clean as though done with a knife and causing the derailment and wreckage of thirty-four cars of the two trains. The debris was piled up in a heap. The wreck completely blocked traffic for hours.

Bids for Road Work

Members of the Delta county board of road commissioners met Thursday afternoon for the purpose of receiving bids for the construction of a macadam road in Maple Ridge township, a portion of a road system stretching across the county. It is expected that more bids will be received for this piece of work than for any done heretofore.

Will Visit Montana.

A party consisting of about eighteen prominent local men will leave here next Tuesday in a special car for Butte, Mont. The gentlemen are interested in the Michigan-Montana Mining Co. and the object of their western visit is to inspect the company's property and decide upon future plans.

Medics at Convention

Dr. C. L. Girard, H. W. Long, William Elliot and O. C. Breitenbach left Wednesday for Marquette to attend the Upper Peninsula Medical Society. Dr. H. B. Reynolds left for the convention city on Thursday morning, he being on the program for an address. Dr. Lang was also on the program for a topic of interest on the profession.

Gave a Musical Treat

Music lovers of Escanaba were given a treat Wednesday evening at the Norwegian Lutheran church in a recital given by Miss Clara Bohnsack and Miss Mildred Ronisdah of the Fargo Conservatory of Music. The first mentioned is a soprano singer of marked ability and she delighted her audience immensely in the various numbers rendered. Miss Bohnsack is a pianist of much ability, who added materially in making the entertainment the great success it proved to be.

Enroll To-day

CRIPPLE WAS ROBBED

Stephenson Avenue Shoemaker is the Loser—'Twas Case of Work While You Sleep

Robbery in any form is bad enough, but the most contemptible robber is the one who will deliberately steal from a cripple. The old gentleman who conducts a shoe repair shop at the foot of Stephenson avenue was robbed early Wednesday evening of an amount which he claims to have been between $70 and $80. The "touch" is said to have taken place in a rear room of the Hess saloon, while the shoemaker was enjoying a sleep. There was only one party, a stranger in the city, seen near the scene of the alleged robbery. The officers were furnished with a description of the suspect, but so far have been unable to get their optics on him. The worse feature of the robbery is the fact that the victim is a cripple, being minus both legs and naturally feels the loss keenly.

Lectures by Fr. MacCorry

The Rev. Father MacCorry will deliver lectures at St. Patrick's church on Sunday and Monday evenings. The reverend gentleman is a lecturer of great ability and is no stranger to Escanaba people, having appeared here on several occasions. "The Story Beautiful" and "A Ramble in the Realm of Childhood" are the topics upon which he will dwell. The first is illustrated with many fac-simile reproductions of the world's greatest modern religious paintings, while the second lecture is a plea in behalf of the children, urging better care, training and education. The lectures will begin at 8:00 o'clock and no doubt Father MacCorry will be greeted by immense audiences.

Death Calls Old Resident

Mrs. James Kennelly, who has been a well known resident of Escanaba for many years, passed away at the family home, 330 South Georgia street, Wednesday afternoon after a long illness. The announcement of her death came as a shock to many friends.

Candidates Withdraw

To My Friends in Delta County: After having given the matter very careful consideration, I have decided that it will be for the best interests of the Republican party to withdraw from the contest for the Republican nomination for the office of sheriff at the primaries on the 1st day of September. And in withdrawing from the contest, I wish to respectfully urge all my friends to use all their influence and to give their vote in support of A. J. Henry, for the office of sheriff, as I believe that the best interests of the party demand his nomination.

I wish to most heartily thank all my friends for their cordial support of my candidacy thus far, and I assure you of my fullest appreciation of all you have done and for your promises of support. I sincerely trust that you will give A. J. Henry, the same hearty support at the primaries that you would have given me if I had remained in the contest.

JAMES R. MACDONALD.

Picnic at Stonington

Stonington will be the scene of a pleasant gathering tomorrow—Sunday. The occasion is a picnic planned by the members of the Escanaba City band. The Maywood will make regular trips throughout the day. The band will leave for the scene of merriment on the first boat in the morning.

Surprised Their Friends

At 4:30 o'clock Tuesday morning at the parsonage of St. Patrick's church occurred the marriage of Miss Mary Ryder and Mr. John Tretchler, the same being in the nature of a surprise to many of their friends. Mrs. George Fish acted as matron of honor and her husband as groomsman, they being the only witnesses to the ceremony. Friends had heard of rumors of the intended event, but were entirely at sea as to the exact date, therefore when the announcement of the marriage was made Tuesday morning, there were numerous surprises. A wedding breakfast was served at Tretchler's Cafe at 5:15 o'clock, after which the bridal party left for the north on a short wedding trip. Both the bride and groom have numerous friends in the city who extend well wishes and congratulations.

YOUNG COUPLE WED

Miss Edna Fraser and Mr. John Frechette Married at Grand Rapids, Wis.

The wedding of Miss Edna Fraser of Grand Rapids, Wis., and Mr. John Frechette of Bark River, took place at the bride's home at Grand Rapids on Aug. 16. Both bride and groom are popular young people and have a host of friends. The young couple will be at home at Bark River after September 20.

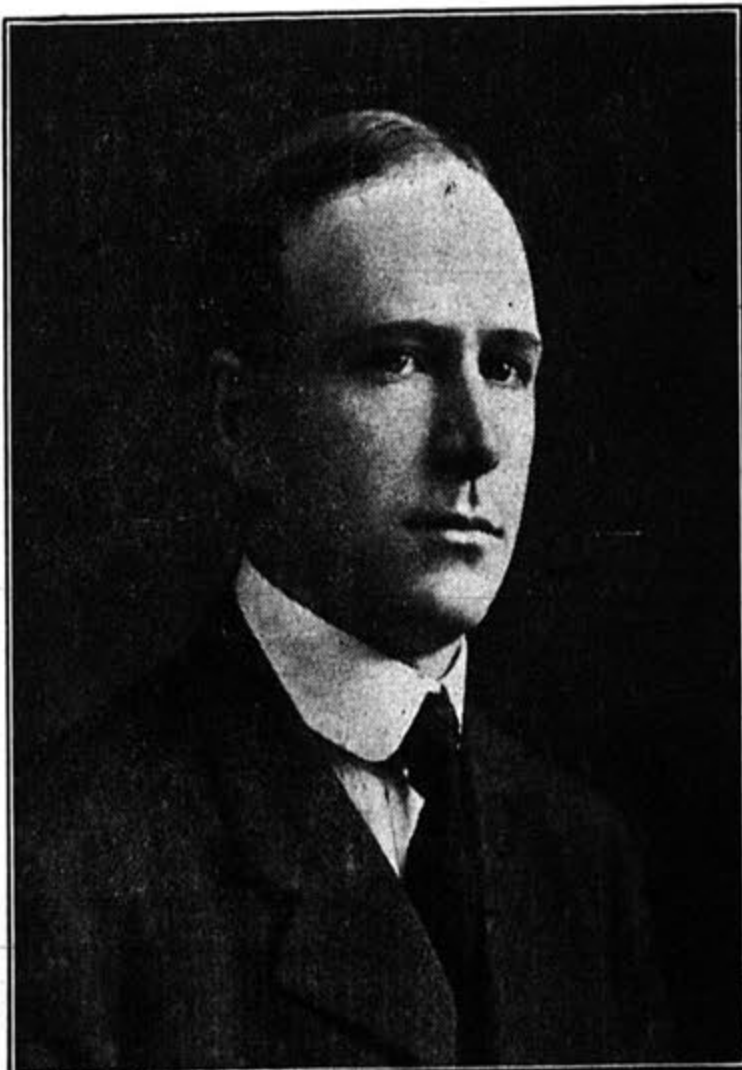

SERIES WITH NIAGARA

Locals Have Arranged For Five Base Ball Games—First Here This Afternoon

The base ball game at South park last Sunday between the Escanaba and Hermansville teams resulted in a victory for the locals by a score of 4 to 1. The game was witnessed by a large crowd of fans and much enthusiasm was shown throughout the progress of the contest. The visitors came shy a pitcher, their regular twirler, Slack, being ill and unable to accompany his teammates. Capt. Loell went into the box for the visitors and pitched an exceptionally good article of ball. In fact his work was one of the features of the game. Lentz, the short stop for the locals, was also greatly in evidence in the game and had several brilliant plays to his credit.

Today, the Escanaba team will play Niagara at Iron Mountain and tomorrow (Sunday) they will play the same team at Niagara. A return series of three games has been arranged for a week later, on Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 5th and 6th, and Labor Day, Monday Sept. 7th. Niagara has a strong team and a good series may be looked forward to by the Escanaba fans.

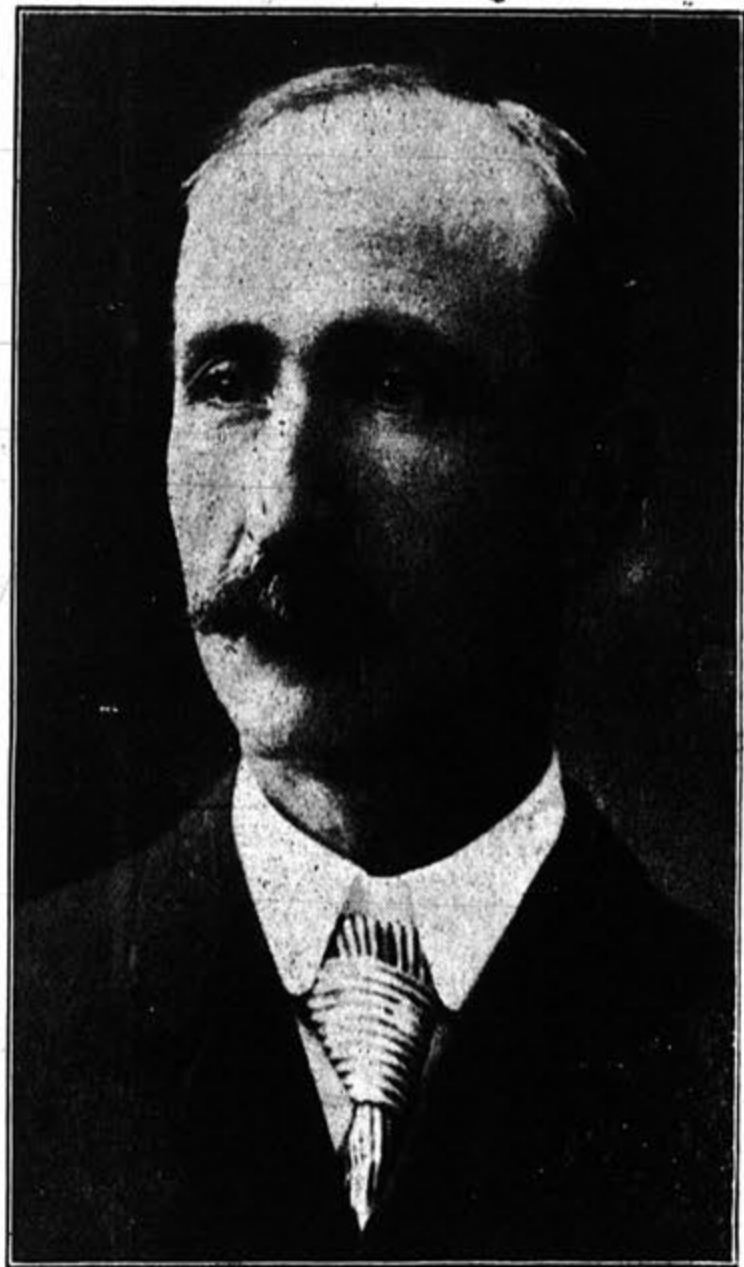

In the game at Niagara last Sunday between the team of that place and Rapid River, the latter came out victorious, carrying off the honors by a score of 4 to 1.

STANLEY M. MATTHEWS
Candidate for Representative

The candidacy of Stanley M. Matthews for the office of representative should interest all who are desirous of having the district represented to the best advantage. In selecting a man to represent the district this year, the question of qualifications is one the voters should not overlook. The new constitution will undoubtedly be adopted and a considerable amount of new legislation will be necessary. Mr. Matthews is particularly well fitted to discharge the duties of the office. He is a man of liberal education and legal attainments, and is possessed of sound judgement and good business ability. He is a member of the school board and is also secretary of the Escanaba Businessmen's Association, positions which he fills in a creditable manner.

Mr. Matthews, if elected, will represent all the people. He is bound by no faction or special interest. It will certainly be to the advantage of the voters of the district to have a man for representative who is so well fitted to perform the duties of the office as Mr. Matthews.

JUDD YELLAND
Candidate for Judge of Probate

There is little question but that Judd Yelland has the lead in the contest for the office of judge of Probate. Reports from all parts of the county indicate that Mr. Yelland's candidacy is proving a popular one and his victory will not prove a surprise.

Mr. Yelland's qualifications for the office of judge of probate are exceptionally good. He is a lawyer and is familiar with all the duties of the office. He is a man of unquestioned honesty and integrity and has the confidence of all who know him.

The fact that Mr. T. B. White, Mr. Yelland's chief opponent, is seeking the office for a fourth term after having held the office for twelve years, is a point many voters will consider, and is one of the reasons why Mr. Yelland's chance of securing the nomination is particularly good.

Mr. Yelland's position with regard to the new direct nominating law will undoubtedly help him in this election. It was through his efforts that the adoption of the new primary election law was adopted in this county and the voters given the chance of nominating their county officers this year by a direct vote.

HAYDEN WITHDRAWS

I wish to announce to the enrolled republican voters of Delta County, that I am no longer a candidate for the office of Judge of Probate.

My reason for withdrawing from the race is that I prefer to devote all my time to my law practice, and feel that if nominated and elected to the office of Probate Judge, my law practice would not receive the attention it deserves.

I earnestly request that all my friends support Judd Yelland as I consider him to be by all means the best qualified of any of the other candidates for the office. I intend to do all in my power to help Mr. Yelland land the nomination.

Yours very truly,
CLYDE HAYDEN.

News Notes from Lansing

Interesting Happenings at the State Capital of Michigan.

Lansing.—Following is the Michigan board of health report: During July, the number of persons taken sick with pneumonia was considerably less than in the preceding month, and also considerably less than the average for July in recent years. The number of fatal cases of pneumonia in July (70) was but one less than the average for that month in recent years. During July, 47 new cases and 207 deaths from tuberculosis were reported, the number of deaths being considerably in excess of the average for that month in recent years. As indicating the laxity and tardiness with which cases of tuberculosis are reported and restrictive measures enforced, it may be stated that of 109 deaths from tuberculosis in June, concerning which no reports had been received from the health officers up to the time this department learned of the deaths through the department of state, but 58 reports have since been received in response to requests from this department. In the 58 reports the health officers stated that, in six instances, the attending physicians had not made reports of the cases, and that, in two instances, some precautions for the restriction of the disease had been taken. In the balance of the 58 cases, the usual precautions were observed. During July, this department issued and circulated a "Warning" placard, giving advice against the promiscuous spitting habit, designed for factories, depots, and public buildings; and the lively appreciation of the same, expressed by leaders in the industrial world, indicates its timely appearance and the growth of public sentiment against the spitting nuisance. During July, typhoid fever was reported present in 65 localities, being 19 localities more than in the preceding month. In July, typhoid fever was considerably more prevalent than in the preceding month, but somewhat less prevalent than the average for July in preceding years. It may also be seen that, in the next three months, typhoid fever will attain its maximum prevalence, and the need for watchfulness and for special efforts on the part of the local health officials for the restriction and prevention of the disease will be apparent. During July diphtheria was much less prevalent than in the preceding month, and also much less prevalent than the average for July in preceding years. The disease was reported present in the following localities: Berrien county, Lake township; Delta county, Escanaba; Dickinson county, Iron Mountain; Genesee county, Marquette township; Houghton county, Duncan township; Huron county, Schewaline; Jackson county, Jackson; Lenawee county, Clinton; Saginaw county, Taymouth township; St. Clair county, Wales township; Wayne county, Detroit. The reports of meningitis in July indicate that this disease was considerably less prevalent than in the preceding month, and also considerably less prevalent than the average for July in recent years. Of the 53 deaths from meningitis which occurred in July, 13 (or 25 per cent.) occurred in the city of Detroit. From the reports of whooping-cough in the month of July, it would appear that this disease was less prevalent than in the preceding month, and very much less prevalent than is usual in the month of July. From many localities, only the fatal cases of whooping-cough are reported, therefore the figures relative to the numbers of cases of whooping-cough, do not accurately represent the total numbers of cases which occurred. During July scarlet fever was much less prevalent than in the preceding month and also very much less prevalent than the average for July in recent years. Measles was very much less prevalent in July than in the preceding month, and also very much less prevalent than the average for July in preceding years. The reports to this department indicate that smallpox was very much less prevalent in July than in the preceding month, and also very much less prevalent than the average for July in recent years.

New Law Harms Hay Men.
One hundred and fifty shippers and commission merchants attended the eighth annual convention of the Michigan Hay association at Flint. At the opening business session, presided over by W. H. Meacham of Holly, addresses pertaining to the hay business were made by Maurice Neizer of Monroeville, Ind., president of the National Hay association; Burdick Potter of Fenton; E. Steen of Baltimore, Md.; and F. M. Sheffield of Detroit. In presenting the report of the transportation committee, J. A. Heath of Lenox said that the interstate commerce law had worked greatly to the disadvantage of shippers of hay because the railroads were no longer permitted to give rebates on hay shipments damaged in transit. The committee, however, has taken the matter up with the interstate commerce commission.

A resolution was adopted providing for the holding of a semi-annual convention by the association in the first week of January each year, in addition to the regular annual meeting in August.

Warner Denies Glazier Loan.
Gov. Warner took occasion to deny charges made by Capt. Negus of Chelsea that former State Treasurer Glazier had given him $2,000 at Whitmore lake which he had not repaid. "All I want to say about the matter," said the governor, "is that it is absolutely untrue and I think I am entitled to a denial. I borrowed $5,000 from Mr. Glazier, and after renewing the note several times I paid the balance shortly before the Chelsea bank failed. Glazier wanted to let me have $10,000, but I only wanted credit for $5,000. He gave me the money at different times and the note covered all I owed him."

"Did Glazier give you $2,000 at Whitmore lake?" the governor was asked.

"I don't remember whether he did or not. When I wanted money I got it from him, but I paid it all back."

"Did Mr. Glazier contribute to your campaign fund?"

"It was all covered by the $5,000 loan."

Michigan's Greatest Fair.
"We certainly will have this year the largest and most attractive state fair ever offered for the inspection of the people of Michigan," says A. J. Doherty, general superintendent of the Michigan State Agricultural society.

"If the weather man will do his part, we will undoubtedly have the largest attendance ever recorded at the state fair grounds. Exhibitors have come in earlier than usual, and many new ones of prominence in this and other states have secured space. There are indications that more people than ever are planning to take a few days off and come to Detroit to visit the fair and the city." A strong feature of the educational department, which has been given the whole first floor of the Michigan building, is to be the manual training exhibit, which will be the largest and most varied ever displayed in the state.

Findings Bonds Worthless.
Attorney General Bird has learned that surety companies have been writing bonds in Michigan for public officers with a clause which relieves the companies of liability in case of the failure of a bank in which public funds are deposited by the insured. The attorney general has called the attention of the secretary of state and the state superintendent of public instruction to the situation and they have been advised to inform school and township officers that bonds of the kind described do not comply with the law in this state, do not furnish protection to public funds, and should not be approved by any public board.

Bids for State Armories.
Bids were opened by the state military board for the construction of state armories at Pontiac and Ionia. For the Pontiac armory only one bid was received, it being for about $19,500, which is considered reasonable, although the contract may not be awarded thereon. Eight bids were submitted for the Ionia armory, the lowest being more than $28,000, which is deemed too high. The plans for the Ionia armory were prepared by E. A. Boyd. Only $16,500 is available for the building.

Socialists Qualify for Primary.
By checking up closely the petitions filed by Socialists, it is found that Alexander M. Stirton for governor and Vernon F. King for lieutenant governor, have qualified for places on the state primary ballot. Harry K. Gustin is found to have qualified as a candidate for state senator in the Twenty-ninth district against F. R. Ming. Gustin had a margin of not more than one name on his petitions. The news that their candidates had qualified was received with much joy by the Socialists.

Must Run if Names Go In.
Secretary of State Prescott has informed Woodbridge N. Ferris of Big Rapids that if he receives sufficient petitions for his nomination for governor on the Democratic ticket his name will be placed on the primary election ballot, notwithstanding his request that his name be omitted and his written declaration that he is not a candidate. There is nothing in the law that gives the secretary of state power to leave the name of a qualified candidate for office off the primary ballot. Prof. Ferris in a letter received by the secretary of state says he is not a candidate for the governorship and requests that his name be not printed on the official ballot. Petitions for Ferris have been received from several localities, but they do not begin to equal in number those sent in for Lawton T. Hemans of Mason, and it is probable that, in response to the request of Mr. Ferris, further petitions will not be filed. Petitions containing over 1,500 names of Democrats favorable to Hoffman's nomination were filed here. Many petitions for the nomination of Edwin Ryan of Hancock for lieutenant governor have also been filed. Petitions for Vernon G. King, Socialist candidate for lieutenant governor, were filed. Congressman Diekmann of the Fifth district and Senator Edinborough of Bay City, a candidate for congress in the Tenth district, have qualified as candidates for the primary election.

GERMAN AMBASSADOR TO AMERICA PASSES AWAY.
VON GOETZEN MAY COME
Present Prussian Minister at Hamburg Likely to Succeed the Dead Diplomat in the Washington Post.

Heidelberg, Germany.—Baron Speck von Sternburg, the German ambassador to the United States, died in the Hotel Victoria in this city. The baroness, who was Miss Lillian May Langham of Louisville, Ky., was with her husband at the end. The cause of death was given as inflammation of the lungs, though the baron was under treatment for lupus.

The foreign office at Berlin, upon receiving announcement of the death, sent a cablegram to Count Hermann von Hatzfeldt-Wildenburg, the German charge d'affaires at Washington, instructing him to inform President Roosevelt that the question of a successor to the baron probably would not be settled until Prince von Buelow, the imperial chancellor, saw the emperor, which might not be until the second week in September. Various diplomatic changes in prospect are to be gazetted in October, and among them probably will be a successor to the baron at Washington.

Some of the diplomats under consideration for this post are Count von Goetzen, the Prussian minister at Hamburg; Herr von Reichenau, the German minister to Brazil, and Dr. Baron Munaw von Schwarzenstein, the ambassador to Japan.

An American diplomatist, in conversation with Emperor William in January of this year, said something complimentary of Count von Goetzen. "I am glad to hear you say this," replied the emperor, "because Count von Goetzen will be the next ambassador to Washington."

Count von Goetzen is a brilliant and amiable man, 42 years old. He has seen a variety of service, including the post of military attaché at Washington from 1896 to 1900. He was governor of German East Africa for five years. In February of this year he was appointed minister at Hamburg.

MAN ROBS ELEVEN COACHES.
Bold Hold-Up of Tourists in the Yellowstone Park.

St. Paul, Minn.—One of the most daring hold-ups ever perpetrated took place in Yellowstone park Monday when, according to word received at the Northern Pacific general offices, a lone highwayman stopped 11 coaches loaded with tourists and compelled them to turn over their valuables to him.

The hold-up took place between Old Faithful Inn and Yellowstone Inn, and the robber, after securing his booty, took four of the coach horses and with them started in the direction of the Jackson Hole country.

There are four troops of the United States cavalry in the park and a portion of the troops have been ordered to scour the country for the bandit, who it is expected will soon be captured.

JOHN W. KERN NOTIFIED.
Formally Told He is Democratic Nominee for Vice-President.

Indianapolis, Ind.—John W. Kern was notified, shortly after noon Tuesday, that he was the Democratic nominee for vice-president. The ceremony took place in the Colosseum at the state fair grounds.

Theodore E. Bell of California, chairman of the notification committee, told Mr. Kern the news and the candidate responded fittingly. Thomas E. Marshall, Democratic candidate for governor of Indiana, also made a speech, and William J. Bryan then delivered an address in which he discussed the question of trusts. Fifteen thousand people heard the speeches.

Safety Appliance Law Upheld.
St. Louis.—Two sweeping opinions, noteworthy in that the decisions of the lower courts were reversed in full in each instance, were handed down by the United States court of appeals here Monday, sustaining the position of the government against the railroads in the matter of the safety appliance law of congress. By these decisions the court of appeals abrogates the common law rules of "reasonable care" that have heretofore governed and behind which the railroads sought shelter.

Cincinnati.—Judge Thompson in the United States court Monday denied the petition of the Union Distilling company and others for a temporary injunction restraining the government from carrying out its order that "imitation" whisky must be branded as such.

Springfield Man Murdered.
Springfield, Ill.—Thomas Brady, 65 years old, was murdered here Monday, and for a time much excitement was caused by reports that he had been killed by a negro. The negro population of the city was uneasy lest the race riots of a few days ago would be renewed. Later, however, it developed that Brady had been killed in his room, 915 East Washington street, and that his room-mate, Frank Sullivan, 24 years old, was missing; as was also $14 which had been secreted in Brady's trunk.

Smoking Car Just the One Old Woman Was Looking For.

"Madam," said the brakeman as the train stopped at a village station and a little old woman started to enter the smoking car, "the car back is the one you want."

"How do you know?" she tartly asked.

"Because this is the smoking car." She pushed past him and climbed up the steps, and after taking a seat she pulled out and filled a pipe, struck a match on the sole of her shoe, and after drawing a few puffs she said to a man smoking a cigar across the aisle:

"That young fellow out there don't know half as much as he thinks he does."

"How so?" was asked.

"He took me for an old woman that had never rode on the cars before, and told me this was the smoking car."

"And you wanted this car?"

"Why, I never ride in any other— not unless my pipe is broke, my tobacco all out and none of you me-folks will lend me a cigar."

NATURE AND A WOMAN'S WORK

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

Nature and a woman's work combined have produced the grandest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known.

In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers they relied upon the roots and herbs of the field to cure disease and mitigate suffering.

The Indians on our Western Plains to-day can produce roots and herbs for every ailment, and cure diseases that baffle the most skilled physicians who have spent years in the study of drugs.

From the roots and herbs of the field Lydia E. Pinkham more than thirty years ago gave to the women of the world a remedy for their peculiar ills, more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is now recognized as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

Mrs. Bertha Muff, of 515 N.C. St., Louisiana, Mo., writes:

"Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my troubles public.

"For twelve years I had been suffering with the worst forms of female ills. During that time I had eleven different physicians without help. No tongue can tell what I suffered, and at times I could hardly walk. About two years ago I wrote Mrs. Pinkham for advice. I followed it, and can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice restored health and strength. It is worth mountains of gold to suffering women."

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Muff, it will do for other suffering women.

Estimates on the World's Age

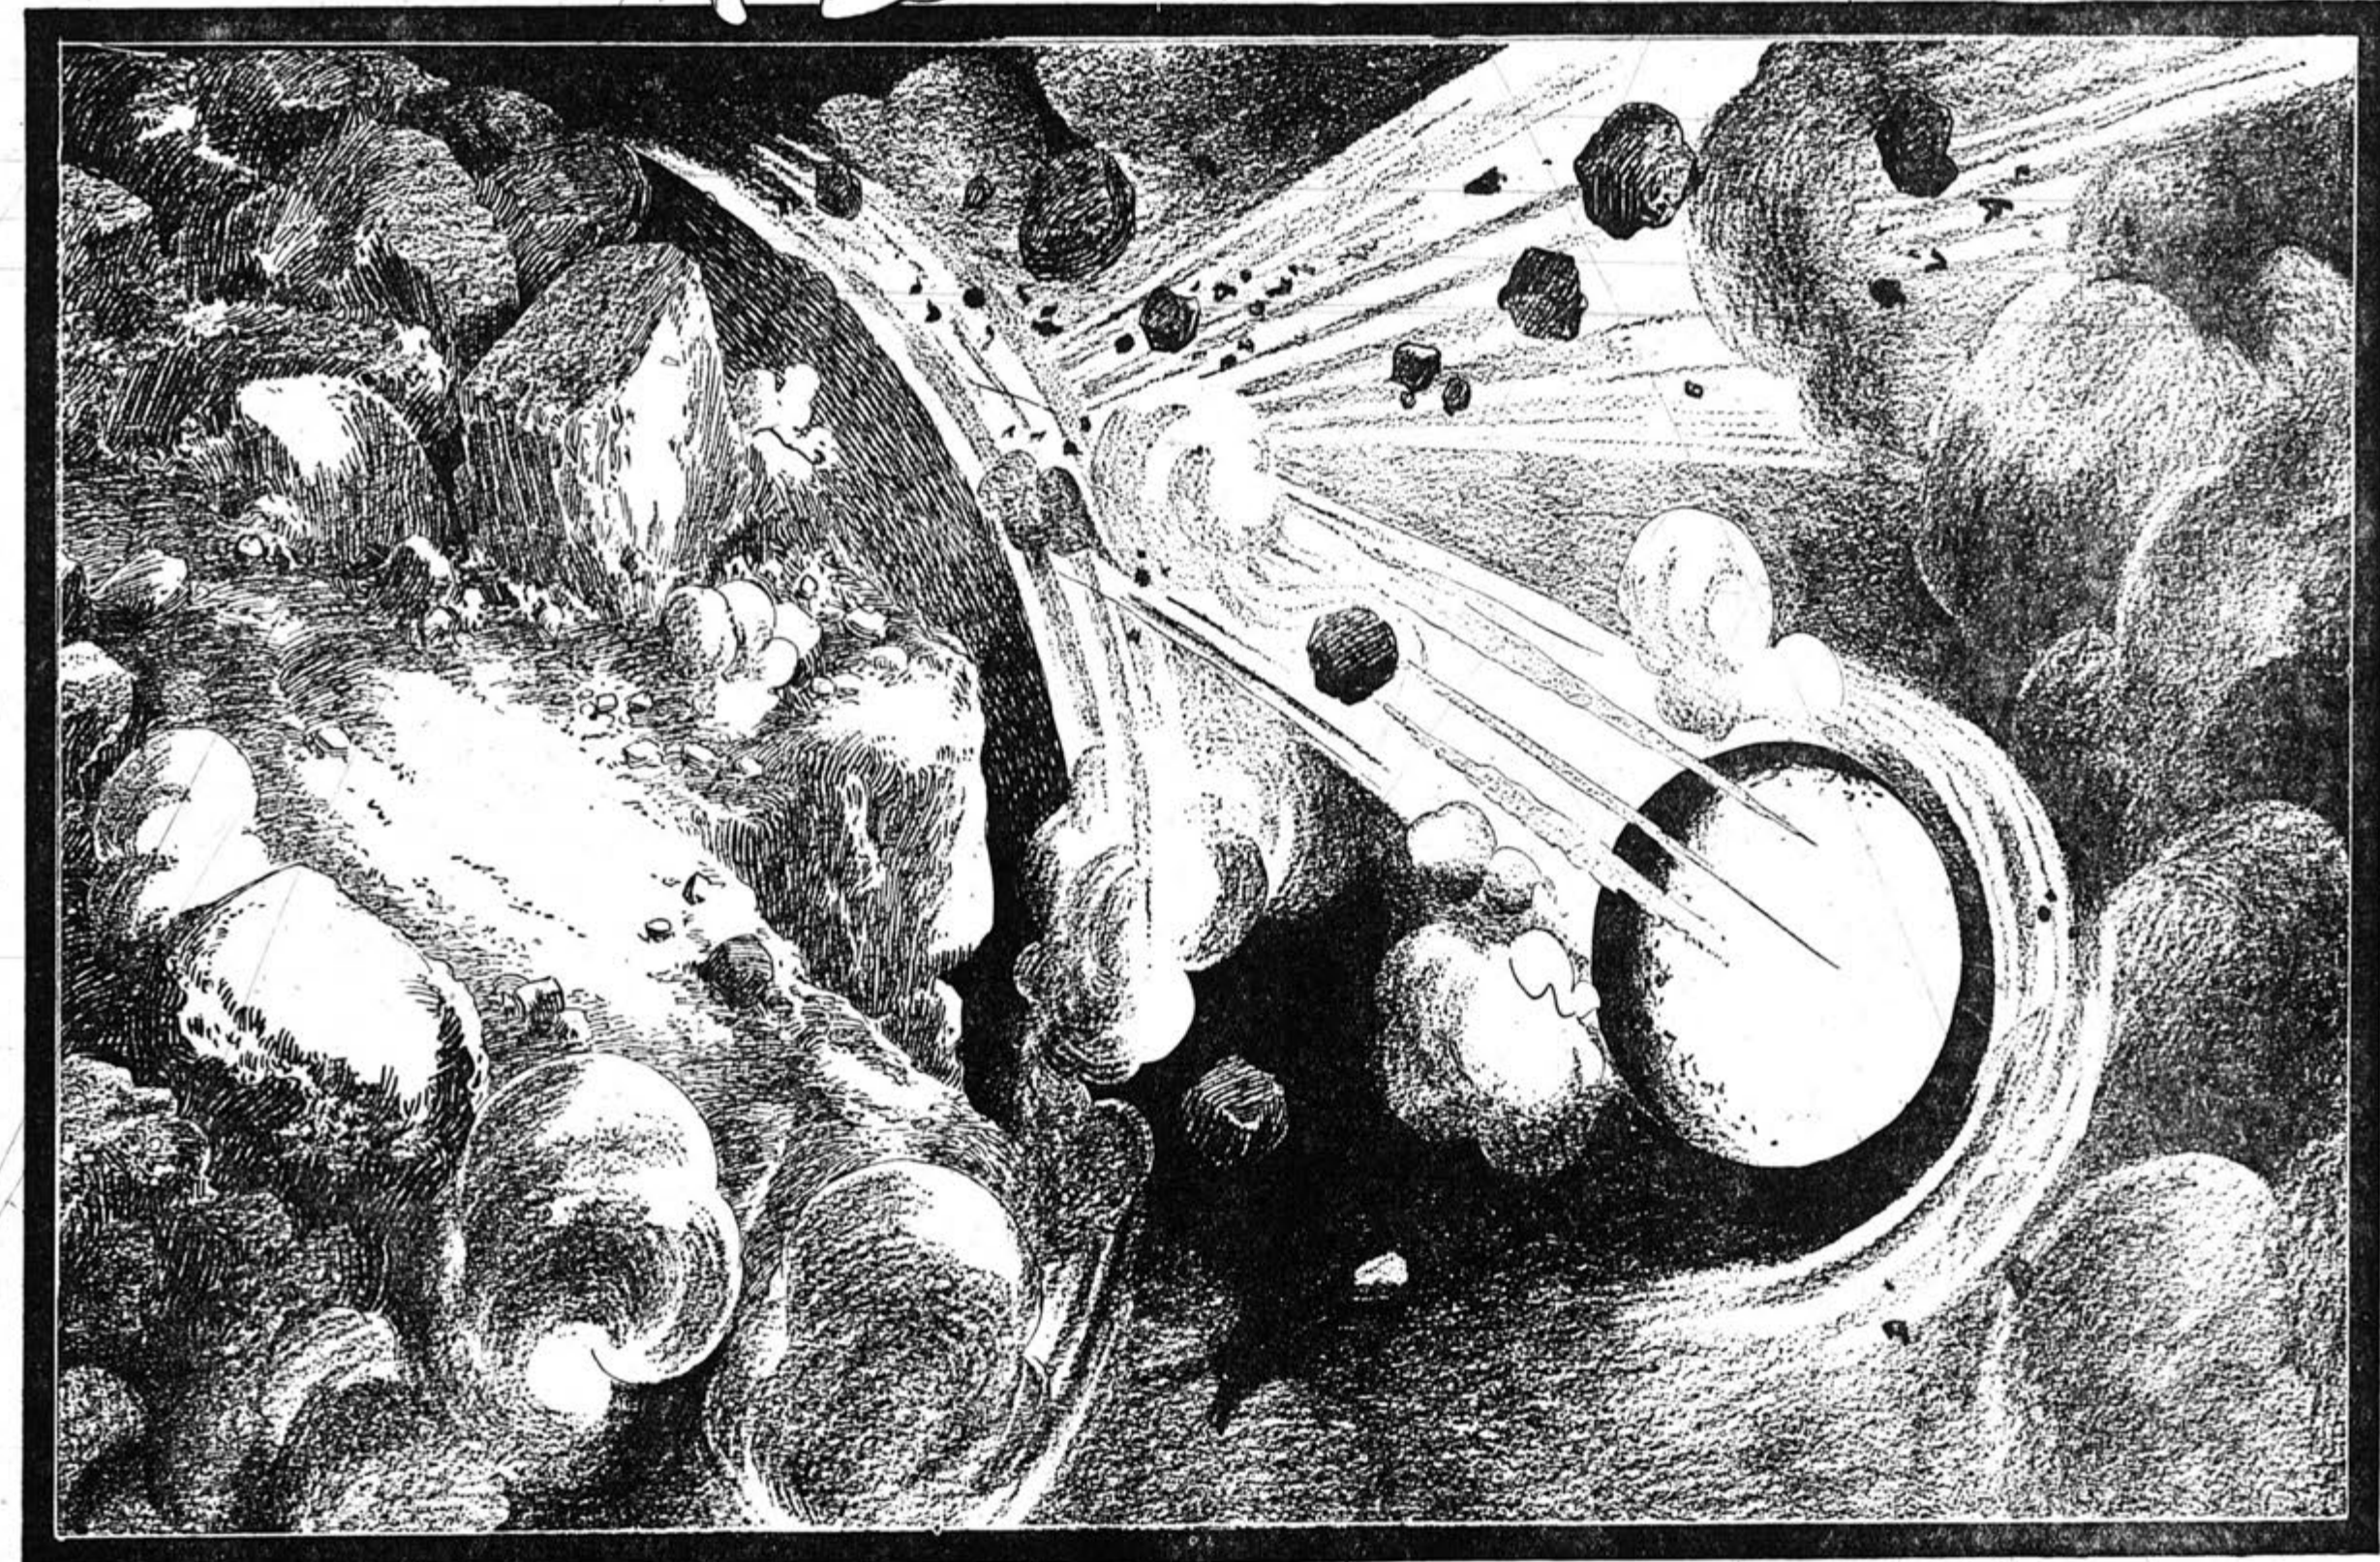

BY
G. FREDRICK WRIGHT, A.M., LL.D.
AUTHOR OF "MAN AND THE GLACIAL PERIOD," "ASIATIC RUSSIA," ETC.

THE casual observer the mountains seem a type of eternity. We naturally speak of the hills as "everlasting." A favorite mode of expressing future eternity is to say "as long as the world endureth." Even to the astronomer, with his most perfected instruments for measurement of both space and force, no variation in the diameter of either the earth or the sun has been discovered. This, however, is not because no changes are taking place, but because they are so slow and man so short-lived that they do not make themselves perceptible to our dull senses. In reality there is no absolute uniformity in nature. Everything is changing. Tomorrow will not be like to-day, and to-day is not like yesterday. What were the conditions a million years ago and what will be a million years hence are largely matters of conjecture. Still we have data enough to make speculation interesting, if not perfectly conclusive.

It is estimated that if all the matter in the solar system had been moving from the utmost bounds of space towards the center of the sun, it would furnish heat at the present rate for only 18,000,000 years. But it is probable that formerly the radiation of the sun, when it filled much larger space than now, was greater than at present. It is a rather startling fact that if the sun's heat were increased by much more than one-half it would boil away all the water on the globe. As water is necessary to life on the globe, Prof. Newcomb, our great authority at Washington, thinks that "the balance of causes which would result in the sun radiating heat just fast enough to preserve the earth in its present state has probably not existed more than 10,000,000 years" and that this is therefore "near the extreme limit of time that we can suppose water to have existed on the earth in the fluid state."

ONE OF THE FIRST INHABITANTS

THE CATAclySM IN WHICH THE MOON WAS BORN

But though the mathematicians insist that some such limit as 10,000,000 or 20,000,000 years must be placed upon the existence of even the lowest forms of life on the earth, geologists still contend for a longer lease of time. Reasoning from the known rate at which forms of life change, Darwin and Lyell assumed that it must have been on the earth for many hundred million years. Darwin, indeed, in his earlier editions of "The Origin of Species," speaks of 366,000,000 years as a mere trifle of geologic time. But the geologists of the present day are more modest in their demands, and would, apparently, be satisfied with 100,000,000 or twice that number of years. Alfred Russell Wallace, however, from geological evidence, calculates that 20,000,000 years is all that need be demanded for the facts of geology.

Wallace's estimate is an interesting one. Taking the thickness of the sedimentary rocks at 117,200 feet, which is an extreme estimate, and reckoning the coast line of the globe at 100,000 miles, and that the sediment brought into the sea is deposited on an average over a belt 30 miles wide, he finds that at the present rate, the total thickness of rocks would be formed within the above mentioned length of time. For, at the present rate of erosion of the continents, the whole land surface of the earth is lowered one foot in 3,000 years and the sediment deposited along the shores of the continents. One foot from 57,000,000 square miles (the land surface of the earth), is equal to 19 feet deposited in 3,000 years over the belt stretching 30 miles out from 100,000 miles of shore line; 177,200 divided by 19 multiplied by 3,000 equals 28,000,000.

Such is the reduction to the age of the world made by the more recent investigations both of astronomers and geologists. Assuming the truth of the nebular hypothesis, Prof. George H. Darwin obtained results remarkably similar from calculations concerning the relations of the moon to the earth. The moon produces tides upon the earth, and conversely the earth must produce tides upon the moon. As was long ago shown these tides retard the daily motion of the revolution of these bodies. The tides are equivalent to a wave on the earth about three feet high, striking twice a day on the eastern shore of the continents. This has the same effect as a brake on a wheel, and imperceptibly, but surely, retards its motion. As the moon is much smaller than the earth and hence has less momentum, its motion has been affected much more by its tides than has that of the earth. Whereas the moon once revolved on its axis very rapidly, it now requires a whole month to revolve, and so keeps the same face toward the earth all the time.

It is estimated that to produce the present amount of heat the diameter of the sun must contract 220 feet per year, or a mile in 25 years—four miles a century. Though this is too small an amount to have been noted by any present means of measurement since accurate observations began to be made, it is by no means an insignificant amount.

By Darwin's calculation it was shown that formerly the earth revolved on its axis once every eight hours, but was reduced to its present rate by the same process that has reduced the moon.

At the time when the moon and earth were revolving so rapidly they were much nearer to each other than now; indeed, so near that the tides they produced on each other were many times as great as those now produced; so great indeed was the tidal wave which then rolled over the world that it is hardly possible to suppose that any form of life could have endured the conditions.

Going further, Mr. Darwin proved that the moon was originally thrown off from the mass of earth by the increased centrifugal motion of the contracting sphere of the earth, as water is thrown off from a grindstone. Furthermore, by his calculations of the retarding influence of the tides, he proves that this could not have occurred less than 50,000,000 nor more than 100,000,000 years ago. All geologic time, therefore, must be brought much within these limits, for after the birth of the moon an immensely long period must have elapsed before the conditions were such upon the earth that life could have endured them. So that his calculations agree in a remarkable manner with those of Mr. Wallace and of Prof. Newcomb.

But 1,000,000 years is a long time, and slowly working causes produce immense results within that period. As Darwin remarks: "Few of us know what a million really means. Take a narrow strip of paper 83 feet four inches in length and stretch it along the wall of a large hall; then mark off at one end the tenth of an inch. This tenth of an inch will represent 100 years, and the strip a million years." Bearing this in mind, we shall appreciate the following calculations concerning the great length of the geological periods even on Mr. Wallace's estimate of the total length of geological time, and they will seem sufficiently long for all necessary purposes.

Dana estimates the "ratio for the Paleozoic, Mesozoic and Cenozoic periods to be 12: 3: 1;" that is, Cenozoic times (the time since the beginning of the tertiary period) is one-sixteenth of the whole, or about 2,000,000 years; Mesozoic time (the age of the prevalence of reptiles), would be about three-sixteenths of the time, or 6,000,000 years, while Paleozoic time would be about three-fourths of the time; that is, about 20,000,000 years.

If, however, we should be compelled to accept the calculations of Prof. Newcomb, these would have to be reduced more than one-half.

But the accumulating facts concerning the rapidity of the action of present geological forces seem to be pointing toward these lower estimates, and to make it entirely credible that the earth has not been suitable for the existence of man for very many thousand years. The 1000 estimate in which hundreds of thousands of years are assigned to the existence of the human race take little account of the real facts, which are coming to light.

LOOK CAUTIOUSLY UPON THE "GOOD FELLOW"

On Tuesday next occurs the primaries, when the political parties designate who shall represent them for the various offices within the scope of the system at the polls in November and then be named to fill these offices of trust. It is the duty of every American citizen to go before the primaries and express their choice of favoritism in the party nominations. The names of the aspirants for nominations are familiar to the readers of the Iron Port and it is unnecessary to dwell upon them individually. In some cases, the character of these aspirants are familiar, as well as the principles they espouse, both socially and politically. In some cases, perhaps, voters will express choice without a concept or thought of the underlying principles that do not, in many cases, appear on the surface in the anxiety of seekers after political fame and office. The fact that an aspirant for office is a "good fellow" does not embody the qualifications necessary to fit the man for the duties of any office. These are critical times and it behooves the voters of the county, state and nation to look beyond the goal of political ambition in determining on Tuesday next who shall stand as party representatives and be chosen to administer the affairs of county, state and nation. The voters should weigh well and act cautiously upon the pleading for votes for some aspirant merely on the theory that he is a "good fellow."

JOHNSON NOMINATION IS NO PARALLEL

Governor Warner may parallel his case in seeking a third term to that of the situation in Minnesota where "a party by the name of Johnson" has been persuaded to accept the nomination for governor on the democratic ticket for the third time. But over in Minnesota, Johnson has been the only available piece of gubernatorial timber the democrats could muster up and lead them to victory. It being a presidential year, all the strength available must be mustered up to save the state and help in swelling the vote of the head of the ticket. Naturally, Bryan is elated with the decision of Johnson and thinks president be d—J. But here in Michigan the state can be saved from the "damnation bow-wows," even though Governor Warner should be lost it the primary shuffle and Auditor General Bradley chosen as the standard bearer to lead his party on to victory. Fortunately for the Republican party in Michigan, its gubernatorial stock is not limited to an individual and Gov. Fred M. Warner is not it.

PUNGENT PARAGRAPHS ON THE SIDE

The Democratic party is to get the profits of Bryan's Commoner. Well, it will need them, and then some, before the campaign is over.

"Mr. Bryan is proud of his record," announces one of the democratic papers. His phonograph record?

The Smiths, Jones and Browns may be in demand when votes are needed, but we notice that it takes the Flannigans, McGraths, Sullivans and Murphys to get away with prizes at the Olympian games.

Bryan announces that he wants $5.00 from every farmer. As they are producing $8,000,000,000 worth of crops this year, they probably could spare the money, but they couldn't afford the result it would bring.

An English writer springs the belief on a long suffering people that Bryanism is a religion. Hardly that, Mr. Englishman. It is simply a habit.

IMPROVE CODE OF CRIMINAL LAW

Presidential Candidate W. H. Taft has in unmistakable terms put his seal of condemnation on the recent Springfield (Ill.) race riots. He says in part:

"Every good citizen in the country must deplore the fiendish work of the disgraceful mob that has brought the city of Springfield to sorrow.

"Such an outbreak of lawlessness and bitter race prejudice, makes the lover of his country sad. It should nerve those in favor of improving the administration of the criminal law to more earnest effort, because I am confident that if all charges of crime were promptly investigated and convicted criminals punished, there would be much less temptation to the formation of such conscienceless and cruel mobs as that which ran riot in Springfield."

The republican who preaches democratic doctrines, and advocates democratic principles, but who always votes the republican ticket from top to bottom is a hypocritical demagogue of the most dangerous type. The converse of the proposition is true, and the democrat who preaches republican principles and votes the democratic ticket is a sneak, a coward and a dangerous citizen. When you run across a republican who is talking in favor of the democratic platform and its principles, and at the same time advising his friends to vote for republican candidates for office, you have run across a dangerous demagogue such as the country has been damned with the past few years.

In singling out an individual for presidential honors, the people of the nation should carefully make choice and in so doing elevate the man who is and has proven himself a producer, rather than a mere consumer. Bryan is not in any sense of the term a producer and his only vocation has been that of living off the earnings of the industrious. He is a good talker, but that's all.

With the primaries to be held next Tuesday, the race is on in earnest and the candidates are coming down the home stretch. While the Iron Port is not of a speculative turn of mind and offers not even an even break on the success of any individual, its only desire is, may the best men win.

About the latest joke of the present gubernatorial campaign is a letter received by Dr. Bradley from a knitting concern. The purport of the letter is as follows: "Dear Sir:—We do not know the size of your socks, neither do we know whether you prefer sea island cotton, wool, lisle or silk. We have a new ventilated sock, triple toe and heel, with a perforated or embroidered monogram. We guarantee this to wear six months without wearing out. If we were as sure of our socks making a hit as we are of your election we would retire from business. Can we supply you? What colors do you need? Wire answer at our expense."

FULLER IS CONFIDENT

Feels Certain He Will Have The Hearty Support of The U. P.

The Record of Ishpeming in its last issue gives the following account of a visit to that city of Hon. O. B. Fuller in the interest of his candidacy for the auditor generalship:

State Senator O. B. Fuller of Delta county, candidate for the republican nomination for auditor general was in the city a few hours Tuesday afternoon. He was accompanied by Clark Kirkpatrick of Escanaba, and C. L. Sporley and Postmaster Tom Connors of Negaunee, the quartet riding in Mr. Kirkpatrick's White Steamer automobile. While in the city Mr. Fuller met several of the leading republicans, with whom he has been acquainted for years. He said he had received encouraging reports from friends in the lower peninsula and that he expects to have strong upper peninsula support in the state convention. In his own senatorial district—the thirtieth—the O. B. Fuller Home committee is doing effective work. The committee is also extending its efforts into other U. P. counties and the lower peninsula. Mr. Kirkpatrick, who accompanied Mr. Fuller to Negaunee and Marquette, said he was confident the senator will have the support of the entire upper peninsula delegation.

Hon. Chase S. Osborn of the Soo, who is a member of the O. B. Fuller Home committee, will probably deliver the speech in the state convention placing Mr. Fuller's name in nomination.

The other candidates for the nomination are Representative Nate Simpson of Van Buren county and "Puss" Palmer, postmaster of Manistee.

Annual Convention

The Rev. J. C. Rooney of this city, was on the program and took an active part in the nineteenth annual meeting of the Marquette Baptist association, the association of the upper peninsula churches of that denomination, which met at Laurium on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Among the speakers of prominence was Dr. A. Gaylord Slocum, president of the Kalamazoo college. On Thursday, the Rev. C. H. Rutledge, the anti-saloon worker of the upper peninsula, spoke in regard to the work of the Anti-Saloon league. The gathering was opened on Tuesday evening in a prayer and praise service, led by the Rev. Rooney of this city who, on Thursday afternoon, read an interesting paper on "The Doctrinal Basis of a Sound Church Life"

Felix Belisle, Jr. Dies

Felix Belisle, Jr., the 17-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Belisle, passed away Tuesday morning at the home of his parents at 302 North Sarah street after an illness of several months with tuberculosis. Funeral services were held at St. Anne's church at 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning, interment being in St. Anne's cemetery.

MAYOR PERRON FEELS CONFIDENT

Thinks Delta County Will Go Strongly Republican in November.

NONE GOING TO BRYAN

Bradley Sentiment is Also Said to Be Very Strong—Will Win Out in Delta at the Primaries

Mayor M. Perron, chairman of the Republican county committee, in his recent travels over Delta county, finds a very strong Republican sentiment and feels greatly encouraged, not only in the belief that the county will go very largely Republican in the election of the candidates at the head of the ticket, but feels fully confident that the county ticket will be elected by one of the largest votes ever rolled up. The mayor states that the talk that many Republicans were going over to Bryan, is all nonsense. He adds that everywhere he finds great loyalty to the principles of republicanism among the members of his party and a strong conviction that the success of Taft in his elevation to the presidency is imperative to the success of the nation in realizing more quickly a recovery from the recent panic, which now gives many evidences of being near the end. "No, there is no faltering or doubt in the ranks of the Republican party in Delta county, as far as I have been able to observe," said the mayor, "and I feel absolutely certain that the county will go as strongly Republican as it ever has." The mayor also finds that the Bradley sentiment is strong and he believes that the doctor will easily carry the primaries a week from next Tuesday and have a handsome majority over Governor Warner as far as Delta county is concerned. Mr. Perron states that he finds Bradley especially strong in the cities and villages, where the people give more thought to the political situation. But in the outlying districts, Warner has the advantage of his political name as governor and will no doubt catch some votes from those who are either disinterested or not fully conversant with the political situation in their state.

Pioneer Resident Dies

Mrs. Mary Boyle, a well known pioneer resident of this city, passed away at the Delta county hospital after a lingering illness, having been a sufferer from cancer for several months, death coming as a relief early Tuesday morning. The deceased was sixty-five years of age, she had been a resident of Escanaba. Two sons and one daughter survive, Miss Bridget Boyle and Barney Boyle of this city, and James Boyle of Gladstone. The funeral was held at St. Patrick's church at 9:30 o'clock Friday morning.

MR. WOLFE RESORTS TO LUDICROUS TACTICS IN ATTEMPT TO GAIN VOTES

ATTEMPTS TO RAISE TEMPERANCE QUESTION IN AN EFFORT TO WORK INJURY UPON HIS OPPONENT FOR THE NOMINATION FOR PROBATE JUDGE

The most ludicrous part of the present political contest is the effort of A. W. Wolfe to get votes as a candidate for the office of Judge of Probate. He has caused circulars to be circulated among the people, attempting to raise the temperance question as an issue at this time. His sole motive in doing this is to "hood-wink" intelligent voters by prejudicing them against certain candidates. The temperance question is not an issue in this campaign, especially pertaining to the judicial, and he is doing the temperance cause more harm than good by his method.

He offers principally two reasons why voters should not support Mr. Yelland. In the first place, he claims that Mr. Yelland supported Mr. Perron for the office of Mayor last spring, and, in the second place, he is supported by the liquor interests. Both of these statements are made without regard to truth and without regard to any of the same being correct. It is enough to state that Mr. Yelland was not in the city last spring during the campaign for Mayor, and was not here on election day. He was in southern Michigan with his family. If he had been here, he might have supported the candidacy of Mr. Perron, but as to that we cannot speak with authority. Even if he had been here and supported either candidate, it would be no reason for voting against him at this time. If the liquor interests are supporting Mr. Yelland, in this county they are doing it individually. It is certain that every candidate is getting every vote that he can, and in no other case are the candidates appealing for votes upon any such issue.

Mr. Wolfe has always been a Democrat, and it is safe to say he is a Democrat today. He comes in the Republican party and raises this issue. Instead of running for the legislature upon such a platform, he singles out the most non-partisan office in the whole list and goes before the people and asks for the support of certain people on this issue. Any person who has an ounce of common sense can see that Mr. Wolfe's motive is a personal and selfish one. He don't care any more about the temperance question at this time than any other candidate, and for him to attempt to raise a false issue at this time is an insult to intelligent voters. Every person who is in favor of the enforcement of law should support Mr. Yelland for the office of Judge of Probate. Those few people who are supporting Mr. Wolfe so enthusiastically and with blind prejudice, want to remember that they will be in no position hereafter to complain about officers not doing their duty. Mr. Yelland has made a fearless prosecutor and has not attempted to appeal to any "blique" or class and has not taken sides with any particular party. For doing this at the request of those very persons, what is he receiving from them? Their course only shows how short-sighted people are. Their course is only notice to officers in the future to "steer clear" of them. Mr. Yelland has saved thousands of dollars to the tax payers of this county by his course and at the same time has received the approval of the Attorney General's department of the state, and will, it is conceded by the wise ones, receive the approval of a large majority of the voters on Sept. 1st.

Wheat Fields Follow Civilization.

From the Atlantic coast the progress of grain production has advanced westward with settlement, until it now has reached the banks of the North Saskatchewan river and the foothills of the Rocky mountains. In the days of our fathers, the Richelieu valley was the great wheat field. It bore 40 crops in succession.

Stick to Facts.

"Remember, my boy," said the old milkman to his son who was about to step into his shoes, "that it pays to be honest and truthful. Above all things, never put water in the milk. Always put water into the can first, then add the milk. By working this plan you can truthfully say 'no,' when inquisitive people ask if you put water in the milk."

Character Shapes Our Lives.

We cannot avoid our work from ourselves, nor isolate our future from our qualities. A ship might as well try to sail north with her jib and south with her mainsail as a man to go one way in conduct and another way in character. What we do belongs to what we are, and what we are is what becomes of us.—Henry Van Dyke.

An Explanation.

A Boston woman seeking divorce says her husband drinks 60 gallons of whisky a month. Her estimate is probably an exaggeration. If not, it explains why the average per capita consumption of liquor is so high among this sober people.—Rochester Herald.

Testing the Gas Meter.

Another way to test your gas meter is to look steadily at the dial for five minutes. If it gets black in the face it's doing its best to hold on.—Toronto Star.

A Purple Moment.

"Speaking of purple moments," sighed the nervous woman, "to me there is nothing equal to the agony of seeing your car start around Twenty-third street to Lexington avenue when you are under the impression that you are going up Broadway."—New York Press.

Time for the Bath.

It is not a wise plan to stay in the tub too long, especially if the water be hot, or cold. If one stays in a hot bath too long one is apt to feel weakened. A great deal more is to be gained from a short, brisk rub, which is wonderfully refreshing.

In Fray of Work.

It is worth and a determined spirit that make the wheels of the world go round and bring success in their train. Idleness never accomplished anything, work has accomplished everything good, and great, and useful in the world.

Man's Nature.

No matter how much a man is in love with his wife, she mustn't be surprised to see him sit up and take notice when an unusually handsome girl goes by.—Spangerville Journal.

For Lack of a Better Reason.

It's likely that many a fellow who is scarcely able to take care of himself tempts a girl on the theory that she will be able to help him do so.—Topeka Journal.

Man's Dull Attire.

Britishers are constantly becoming diller and more morose in the matter of their clothes. Their carelessness in this respect seems sometimes to amount to affectation.—Chambers' Journal.

Keeping One's Promise.

It is a good rule always to keep your word. If you make an engagement, keep it; if you say you will do a thing, do it, and let it be known that you are sincere in your promises.

Old Settler Is Gone

All that was mortal of the late Philip Thompson, a pioneer of Delta county, was laid tenderly at rest in the Lakeview cemetery Monday afternoon. The body was brought to Escanaba in the morning and taken to the home of Mrs. Angus Aird, a sister, residing at 230 Frank street. Funeral services were held at the First Methodist Episcopal church at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, conducted by the Rev. Frederic Spence. The circumstances leading to the death of Mr. Thompson were particularly sad. As is familiar to all, he passed away aboard the schooner Juanita last week while floating helplessly about Lake Michigan following a heavy storm. The deceased was 64 years of age and was one of the first white children born in this county, his parents being among the first white settlers in this section, the deceased being born in a small shack near the mouth of the Escanaba river, when practically the only neighbors were Indians. The country at that time was in its most primitive state, there not being a railroad or even a wagon road in this section of country. The departed spent most of his life in this section of country and of late years had made Escanaba his home.

Learn to Cross the Road.

No limitation of speed can prevent accidents from occurring to people who will not use their common sense, and who do not know what it is to be systematic in their actions. It only remains for the carelessly inclined to be made to realize their individual responsibilities before accidents will be as rare on the roads as on the railways.—Automotor Journal.

Where the Man Should Walk.

A matter that is debated now and then of late is in regard to the position that a man shall take when escorting a lady on the street. In this country he always takes the position next to the curb. In Europe he takes the inside place, the theory being that in case of any trouble he would crowd the lady if on the outside and give her less opportunity to escape. If the escort is on the right and the crowd turns to the right, it will be more likely to jostle the lady.

Easy Mistake to Make.

Farmer Andrews says that he made a mistake last week in stating that his wife had died of cancer. The item should have read that he had lost a cow by lump-law. These things happen occasionally, and we are always glad to correct them. It is easy to get women and cows mixed up.—Hometown (Pa.) Banner.

The Lit Torch.

Let us not delude ourselves with the thought that, when a strong man lays down this mortal burden we have really lost anything of the actual man. The real man lives on in the few of the many with whom his career in the flesh has counted most. We partake of one another's nature as a lit torch passes on its light to an unlit one.—Wall Street Journal.

Lucky Brunettes.

"You are lucky," said the first mother to the second, "in having a brown-eyed baby." "Where does the luck come in besides that of his being good-looking?" inquired the second. "Because brown-eyed babies are immune from many of the infantile ills that blue-eyed children always have. I've seen it work dozens of times and heard doctors admit it. Blondes catch everything, but brunettes get off easy."

SPANISH WAR VETS

Local Division of National Encampment Mustered in Monday Night

On Monday evening, the Escanaba division of the U. S. Spanish War Veterans was mustered in to the National Encampment at the city hall, succeeding the Stephenson Valentine Company which was allowed to die out. The mustering in was by Comrade A. G. Gerde who was appointed as temporary mustering officer.

Following are the officers chosen: Anton Embs commander, Albert J. Pepin senior vice-commander, Gus L. Anderson junior vice-commander, Ned Haring chaplain, John W. Bergeon adjutant, Fred Giese quarter master, Otto Scheriff officer of the day, Hugh Early officer of the guard. The trustees are Albert J. Pepin, James A. MacKle and Hugh Early.

Dangers of Sentiment.

It is useless trying to explain on sociological, psychological or other mysterious grounds the extraordinary number of crimes committed recently in this country. The cause of the crime wave is simply the suppression of capital punishment. Only fear of the guillotine will stay the arm of the criminal.—Petit Journal, Paris.

The Honest Friend.

We are all travelers in what John Bunyan calls the wilderness of this world, and the best that we find in our travels is an honest friend. He is a fortunate voyager who finds many. We travel, indeed, to find them. They are the end and reward of life.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Jew Peddlers Fined—Couple Tried on Charge of Larceny—One Has Record

Two Jewish peddlers giving their names as Shapere and Chaplamitz, hailing from Iron Mountain, were ushered into Judge Linden's court Monday morning to answer to charge of peddling in the city and surrounding country without the necessary local license.

The parties were to have appeared in court a week previously but forgot the date they had made with the officials and instead made "back to the mines," making it necessary for Under Sheriff Pepin to make a special trip after the parties. Their fine was suspended upon the payment of the costs, which alone was a nice little bill of expense to the two Jews. A third party of the same nationality was arrested on the charge of selling on Sunday, but as the law grants that privilege to those who observe Saturday, the fellow, M. Carmon by name, claimed to be a seventh day worshipper, escaped a fine and went his way rejoicing.

Charles Cummings and Frank Schunberg appeared in Judge Linden's court Monday morning on the charge of larceny. The complaint was made by George Fitzpatrick, who alleges that on the night of Aug. 13, the fellows entered his camp across the bay and helped themselves to a sack of flour and a quantity of cooking utensils. The fellows pleaded not guilty to the charge and demanded a trial, assuring the court that they were satisfied that they knew who the party was who committed the theft. The judge however, set their trial for last Wednesday morning, fixing their bail at $100 each, in default of which they were remanded to jail. One of the parties is said to have a record that is not at all in his favor, having a natural tendency to pick up and carry away anything of value that is not nailed down.

Business is Looking Up.

The Iron Port was glad to announce two weeks ago that there were indications pointing to the fact of a revival in the iron ore industry, citing the fact that mining operations were gradually being resumed, also that just prior to that time, officials of the North-Western system had given orders to get the No. 1 ore dock in readiness for receiving ore. The latest evidence of increased business is the fact that on Monday morning last, forty additional men were given employment on the docks. This now brings the number of employes up to a little more than half of the number normally employed and the season gives promise of ending much more satisfactorily than that which has characterized the present summer.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULT

C. Johnson Held to the Circuit Court Under $5,000 Bail—Prisoner a Woodsman

Charged with the hideous crime of an assault upon a 14-year-old girl, C. Johnson, a woodsman about 32 years of age, is held at the Delta county jail under $5,000 bail to await trial at next term of the circuit court. The accused was placed under arrest last Saturday morning and in the afternoon was arraigned in Judge Glaser's court for preliminary examination. The evidence was considered sufficient to hold the prisoner to the higher court for trial and if convicted of the charge, a long term in the state penitentiary awaits the culprit.

The alleged assault is said to have occurred about 8 o'clock last Saturday morning while the little girl was on her way home from an errand. It is charged that when the child arrived at the alley on Jennie street between Escanaba avenue and Ludington street she was met by Johnson who grabbed her by the arm, threatening to kill her if she uttered an outcry, dragged her to a nearby barn, where the attempted assault is said to have occurred. Fortunately the child succeeded in freeing herself from the fiendish brute and ran crying to her home, relating the horrible experience to her mother, who immediately acquainted the police department with the facts. Officers hastened to the scene of the attempted assault, but the accused had disappeared. Luckily a person who had observed Johnson leaving the barn, followed him down the street and while on Ludington street was pointed out to Officer Dominick McCauley, who placed him under arrest. When accused, Johnson stoutly denied the same, but when taken to the home of the child, the little girl unhesitatingly identified Johnson as the man who had dragged her to the barn. At first Johnson did not seem to realize the seriousness of the offense and not until he was taken into court did he show signs of fear. The prisoner claims to have been in the city only a few days, claiming to have come here from Channing, where he was employed by the I. Stephenson company.

Man Must Think to Live.

The decay of any real power of thinking is an adequate explanation of a deal of the early mortality of prosperous middle life. The business man of 40 is often content to live in the mere practice, as a matter of habit, of what he has acquired. He eats and drinks too much, and the higher brain centers waste for want of exercise. He dies from stupidity; there is nothing left to keep him alive.—London Lancet.

Cupid's Lament.

Men put off marrying till middle age, and then become so used to bachelorhood that they end by never finding a wife at all. Year by year the bachelor becomes more and more fastidious, more and more selfish, more wedded to his own ways.—The Lady.

Beware of Touchiness.

Touchiness is one of the unpardonable sins. It springs from self-love. Don't care a rap what folks say—half of them don't think.

NO ADVERTISEMENTS

In the Future Will Not Be Printed On Govt Envelopes

Business people throughout the country who have been in the habit of using stamped envelopes will be interested in a recent order issued by the postal department that provides that hereafter no advertisements will be printed on the stamped envelopes furnished by it. The ruling is made to comply with an act of congress, approved in June, 1906, but which has heretofore not been strictly lived up to. The act provides that no envelopes shall be sold by the government containing advertisements of any nature, whether printed, lithographed or engraved, except a printed request to return the letter to the sender in case of non-delivery.

The matter to be printed will be limited to a request to return after a given number of days, name of purchaser or society, rural delivery route, box number or street address. Names indicating or incidentally disclosing the nature of the purchaser's business will not be printed on the envelopes unless it be certified by the postmaster with the requisition that such name is under corporate charter of corporation or co-partnership agreement and that the name has not been assumed merely to get the advertisement on the envelopes. Such titles as "M. D.," "Rev.," "L. L. D.," etc., will not be printed unless the postal authorities are satisfied that such titles are necessary for identification and not for advertisement purposes.

Young Man Summoned
Julius Brigman, a well known young man of this city, passed away Friday at his home, 616 South Norris street, after an illness of several weeks suffering with rheumatism, which finally reached his heart and hastened the end. The deceased was married only a little over a year ago and is survived by his wife and a baby only a few weeks old. Until recently he was employed at the baggage office of the North-Western road. The funeral was held at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the First M. E. church, the Rev. Frederick Spence officiating, interment being in the Lakeview cemetery.

Clarence Cunningham, well known in Escanaba athletic circles and better known as "Cully" has opened the Non-Panel Cafe at Norway, where he is said to be enjoying a good business. He was formerly chef at the Oliver House and prior to that was at the Hawarden Inn.

FIRES EXTINGUISHED

Fire Warden BeDell Finds State Laws Disobeyed By Harris Farmers

Deputy State Forestry and Fire Warden A. B. BeDell of Menominee, recently took a long buggy trip through Menominee and Delta counties, in certain sections of which he found that the state laws, regarding the setting and caring of fires in the woods have been and are being grossly disobeyed. In the vicinity of Harris, where the warden spent the greater portion of Thursday of last week, he found fire after fire blazing away in the woods with no one to check it and plenty of lumber and brush in its path to enable it to soon assume dangerous proportions. The fires were set during the week by farmers living east of Harris and the warden claims that practically no attention has been paid to them since. All the farmers living in the city were visited by the warden, and warned of the consequence, which will follow a repetition of the offense. When Mr. BeDell left that district for Delta county, the farmers were busy extinguishing the fires. Near Bark River—which is also in Mr. BeDell's territory—a fierce forest fire starting from similar causes was raging. Warden BeDell drove to Bark River and notified Senator O. B. Fuller and the superintendent of the mill. A force of employes were hurried to the scene and late at night succeeded in getting the blaze under control. "Farmers in the vicinity of Harris well know that there is practically no water in that region and should be more careful in the setting of fires," said Mr. BeDell. "The state imposes a punishment of imprisonment as well as a fine for such offenses."

Mr. Peavish says the reason women get off a street car the wrong way is because men get off the right way.

An Ideal of Patriotism.
Let our object be our country, our whole country, and nothing but our country. And, by the blessing of God, may that country itself become a vast and splendid monument, not of oppression and terror, but of wisdom, of peace, and of liberty, upon which the world may gaze with admiration forever.—Daniel Webster.

Second Race Matinee
Lovers of good horse racing will have an opportunity to witness a good bill of speed events at the driving park tomorrow afternoon. A good program for the second matinee of the season has been arranged by the members of the Gentleman's Riding and Driving club and every indication is that the second matinee will far eclipse the one of two weeks ago. Several new horses have been entered and all of those which appeared on the track two weeks ago will again be among the racing stock. There will be a good field of horses and an interesting and exciting program of events is assured those who attend.

Beauties of Cere.
No one who sees a common or hill side covered with gorse in full flower can fail to appreciate its beauty, and we can well understand such plant lovers as Linnaeus and Dillenius going into ecstasies of delight, as they are reported to have done, when such a sight first burst on their view after being acquainted with the plant from botanical material only.

A STEADY DRAIN
Sick Kidneys Weaken the Whole Body—Make You Ill, Languid And Depressed

Sick kidneys weaken the body through the continual drainage of life-giving albumen from the blood into the urine, and the substitution of poisonous uric acid that goes broadcast through the system, sowing the seeds of disease. Loss of albumen causes weakness, languor, depression. Uric poisoning causes rheumatic pain, nervousness, nausea, cricks in the back, gravel and kidney stones. The proper treatment is a kidney treatment, and the best remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills.

Samuel Peterson, of 514 Thistle Ave., Iron Mountain, Mich., says: "Doan's Kidney pills are the only medicine that ever did me and good for a bad case of kidney complaint, backache and difficulty with the kidney secretions. I always had pains through the small of my back during the several years I suffered with my kidneys. The secretions were irregular and unnatural in appearance. The pains often came on suddenly and each attack of the trouble was worse than the former. I tried many remedies but nothing seemed to give me relief. I saw Doan's Kidney pills recommended and got a box. They helped me the first day. I took two boxes and since then have had no further trouble. My back is as strong as it ever was and I have no more pain."

Plenty more proof like this from Escanaba people. Call at Mead Drug Co's store and ask what their customers report. For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

SICK PEOPLE SHOULD INVESTIGATE

I know the Diseases of Both Sexes Like an Open Book. I have Been Curing Them for 49 Years. In fact, My Entire Life Has Been Devoted to Curing What Others Have Failed.

I Have Changed Hundreds Upon Hundreds of Nervous Wrecks Into Fine, Strong Men and Women. I Accept No Case I Cannot Cure.

ESPECIALLY invite all discouraged and distressed ones who have been treated without a cure to write me fully and frankly about their case. It will cost you nothing to write me, and I will gladly tell you your condition, truthfully, honestly—accepting no case that I cannot cure—holding out no false promises. I have spent my whole life in the study and cure of chronic diseases, and my study and investigation have been blessed by the discovery of many new and marvelous methods of treating disease. Forty-nine years ago I graduated from the Western Homeopathic Medical College of Cleveland, O., for two years, Head Physician at the Alma Hospital, Alma, Mich. I have spent many long years as a specialist, treating chronic diseases of all kinds with wonderful success, and am now owner of one of the largest sanitariums in the country, giving my entire time to the treatment of Nervous Diseases of both sexes. I cure the worst forms of Epilepsy, St. Vitus Dance, Paralysis, etc.

My long experience in diagnosing cases and my understandings of the different diseases that I treat enable me in almost every case to prescribe by mail a perfect, thorough cure. All correspondence in plain envelopes and strictly confidential.

I CURE NERVOUS TROUBLES—Wasting Away, Loss of Vitality in Both Sexes. Whether from excess or overwork, I promptly and positively cure, no matter of how long standing.
I CURE BLOOD POISON—I cure Blood Poison in the first, second and third stages—driving the poison from the system, the taint from the blood; curing pimples, copper spots, sores in the mouth, tumors and ulcers.
I CURE FITS—Epilepsy, St. Vitus Dance, Paralysis, etc., by striking direct at the cause, restoring the diseased nerves to perfect health.
I CURE PILES—in 30 days to stay cured and to never return.

I CURE CONSUMPTION, the Great White Plague, in the first and second stages. Have made a special study of this disease for fifty years. Have cured hundreds given up by home Doctors. Those I cannot treat at home by seeing or by mail, I will take to my Sanitarium, where best of medical skill, nursing and private rooms are given, for Ten Dollars a week.
I GUARANTEE TO CURE, to stay cured, liquor, morphine, cocaine, nicotine or cigarette habits. Most cases treated at home.
Call and see me or write to either Sanitarium as below.
No matter what disease you are suffering from, write me fully today. I will answer at once, and my advice, which costs you nothing, may be worth hundreds of dollars—life itself—to you. If I cannot cure you I will tell you so. WRITE TODAY.
Faithfully yours,
ANDREW B. SPINNEY, M. D.

Richter Beer enjoys a deserved popularity in public places where beer is served and patrons are learning to designate it in ordering, that they may avoid the possibility of getting an inferior brand.

There is a vim and a snap to this beer that is a sign of A1 materials and superior brewing. It affords just the proper degree of healthful stimulation needed by busy people and its effects are greatly beneficial. It makes good red blood and builds up the tissues.

CUPID PLAYS MERRY PRANKS ON CAPTIVES

Retains Faith in Young Lover

ONCE in a while love can't "find a way," but gropes about blindly for a time in the darkness and then changes his mind. Of course this is not the real kind of love, but that spurious passion which mistakes itself.

When a young man wants to marry a woman old enough to be his grandmother Cupid regards the affair as a mere joke and feels justified in interfering to stop the match. Frank Heckman of Cincinnati, O., is only 21 years old, but he got a romantic streak and decided that he wanted to marry Mrs. Hagenback, a widow of 65.

At least that is what the widow thought. She put on her wedding gown and repaired to St. Paul's Catholic church, where the ceremony was to be performed. The wedding guests were there and the bride was smiling happily.

But the smile changed from naturalness into a set, mechanical grin. The widow, resplendent in her wedding finery, plainly showed signs of uneasiness.

"Do you think he is coming?" questioned her friends. She was game.

"Certainly," she answered serenely. "Frank would not disappoint me. He is the soul of honor and I am sure that he loves me."

"But at least he could have sent you word if he was going to be delayed," insisted her friends, posing in the light of Job's comforters.

The widow, however, smiled on. She was in love and love is ever ready to find excuses. She only grew indignant when her friends exchanged meaning smiles and openly expressed their somewhat scornful pity.

But the bridegroom came not. Messengers were dispatched to seek him, but they could not find him. They hinted that his heart had failed him at the last moment, perhaps. But Mrs. Hagenback was full of confidence. She could not believe that Frank would flit her at the last moment, and she waited.

At last the wedding had to be put off sine die, for lack of a bridegroom, but the aged bride expressed her belief that Frank was kidnaped and hidden by his relatives, who objected to the marriage. She declares that when he gets out of the toils he will flee to her side and that the marriage will take place yet.

Had Peculiar Wedding Trip

PERHAPS the strangest wedding trip of the summer was a journey three times around Boston Common in a c.b. This was taken by two theatrical people, Miss Pearl Carvace Cook, who plays Cupid in "A Knight for a Day," and Edward Beck, the stage manager in the same company. The exigencies of stage life compelled them to cut their honeymoon short and abbreviate the wedding trip.

The young couple were married at four o'clock in the afternoon and they meant to go away on the train, but were delayed. They got in the cab for their trip and the members of the company were waiting at the stage entrance, where the cabman had been instructed to drive.

The man on the cab had unfurled a great red banner, "Just Married," and like a band of Indians the actresses attacked the coach, hurling huge fistfuls of rice, flour, shoes, etc., while the bride and groom in the cab squealed their protests.

When the supply of things to throw was exhausted the cab was allowed to drive away, but the driver was instructed to keep going round and round the common. Three times the cab passed along Tremont street, where a big crowd had gathered, laughing and cheering. The wheels had been tied with white ribbon and about a dozen pairs of shoes were trailing along behind, fastened by ribbons.

On the third trip around the cab slowed up because the horse was tired, and the bridegroom leaped out, ran to the animal's head, and held it while the bride made her escape. They ran into a hotel for shelter, pursued by a laughing crowd. They were on duty at the theater that night, where a wedding gift was presented.

After the play was out, there was a merry reception held. The bride was asked to explain just how she felt as she was being driven around and around the common. She said:

"O, in the first place I was mad—just plain mad. Angry couldn't quite express it. It seemed to me that I was being made a perfect fool of and I am not sure but that I was. Even then though I had company—" She cast a laughing glance at her husband. He smiled back at her. Then she continued:

"Then I became possessed with a fever to outwit all of you. I asked Ed to see what he could do. He said, quite dramatically—I didn't think it was in him to tell the truth—I will get out of this or die in the attempt."

"Just as I started to yell 'Don't die!' he jumped out and stopped the horse. My, but I was proud of him."

Heiress True to Early Love

IN Butte, Mont., they love money well, but they love love better.

Miss Montana Largey was born in Butte. Her father was an associate of Senator Clark in the early days of the big copper camp. He became one of the financial kings of the northwest, and his daughter, named after her native state, was a beauty and a social favorite in Butte.

During her school days Miss Montana gave her heart to Ray MacDonal, a young Scotchman from Canada. Ray was poor, but that did not make any difference to Montana. She loved him.

When her father was killed in his bank Miss Largey was sent east to be educated. Her mother hoped and believed that she would outgrow the girlish attachment for the poor boy. At school in the big eastern college the Butte girl was as popular socially as any other rich and winsome girl. She had many admirers and would-be lovers. Some of these were rich and famous, but they could not touch her heart. Always she remembered the youth back in Butte who was clerking in a cab office at $60 a month.

This summer, when she went back to Montana, her father's estate was divided, and Miss Largey received as her share just $27 less than a million. By saving her income for a day or two she had more than a million. She was one of the richest 19-year-old girls in the west.

She waited for her lover to speak, but he would not. Apparently her money stood between them, and it seemed that he never would propose.

"My money is nothing to me unless you will share it with me," she told Ray MacDonal. "If you are going to be proud and stuck up about it, and let it come between us, the money will make me wretched. I love you."

Then she looked at him with a tear dimmed eye.

"I love you. I have always loved you," said MacDonal. "I will marry you in spite of your money."

They were married at midnight and slipped away to California, where they are now honeymooning at Los Angeles. Within a few weeks they expect to make an auto trip across the continent, visiting Mr. MacDonal's parents in Canada, for this sweet-hearted heiress is just as proud of her husband's family as if they were millionaires, too.

Finds Affinity in Pie Maker

IT has been said that the way to a man's heart lies through his stomach. This has been proved to be true as many times as it has been declared. Man is a hungry animal, and what appeals to his palate is almost sure to open the gateway to his heart.

When a man is accused of this fact he usually smilingly acknowledges that it is true.

"I know that it is true," said one man the other day. "I would rather marry a good cook than the most beautiful woman in the world. I would rather marry a good cook than the cleverest woman in the world. I would rather marry a good cook than—than—O, I'd rather marry a good cook than anybody else that I know of."

Most men in naming the qualifications of their ideal woman include affection, an equable temper, and a facility for—good cooking.

Cupid, hiding in the pie crust of a delectable mince concoction that was better than mother used to make, brought about a pretty romance in Boston a week or two since.

When Col. John H. Bartlett, a Grand Army man, formerly on the staff of National Commander Tanner, went to the pie social in the Hub he had no idea that he was going up against his fate. And when he was served with a piece of New England mince pie that tasted like ambrosia, he begged for an introduction to the maker of the pie. The colonel was taken to Mrs. Susie J. Reese, who had baked the pie. He merely desired to pay his compliments to a fine cook, but he remained to whisper tender words.

"I thought one marriage was enough for me," explains Mrs. Reese, who now is Mrs. Bartlett. "I had no use for men except to save them from drink and make them better, until I met Col. Bartlett, but after the colonel and I became acquainted I knew that fate had decreed that I should marry again. He liked my pies and he would not be satisfied unless I would agree to become his official pie-maker."

"A woman who can make pies like that is my real affinity," declared the gallant colonel. "One could not help loving her."

For several years young Pilson and Miss Savin had been sweethearts. Not long ago Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Alexander, the uncle and aunt with whom the young girl lived, decided to go for a six months' jaunt to Europe. They took their niece with them. Before she left this country, however, she and Pilson had pledged their troth and agreed to marry at the earliest possible opportunity.

After several weeks' stay in Europe Miss Savin persuaded her lenient relatives to allow her to return to America. When she arrived in Washington the Pilsons, with whom she always had been friendly, asked her to remain with them until Mr. and Mrs. Alexander could come home. Gladly she accepted the invitation. None of the family suspected what was on foot.

But they are "ma-a-ried now" and everybody seems happy.

"The kids will live with us," said Millionaire Pilson, "until we can decide on a business career for the boy. Do I care? I should say not. They're happy—so am I."

Indian Burials.

The Indian method of burial was to fasten a corpse upon cross-sticks supported by poles in the ground or in the boughs of the treetops. Here the air and the elements silently disposed of the lifeless clay, until in a year or so but little remained to bear evidence of a tomb, perhaps some broken sticks in the top, and a few scattered beads or human bones beneath the burial place. I cannot conceive of anything more pitifully greswome than an Indian burial ground of this type. I have seen them in the fall of the year when the winds were shaking and swaying the platforms and wringing the leafless trees, flaunting the burial rags like signals of distress from the dead, and whistling through and over the whitening bones and neglected remains of those who had many a time withstood the tempest and storm when the breath of life stirred within them.—Army and Navy Life.

asked the groom. The bride shivered.

"O, I can't!" she said.

"Why?" questioned the young husband eagerly.

"Because papa would spank me," replied the newly made wife.

And so the telling was postponed time and time again, while Singley continued to call at the house as he had done previous to the wedding. One Sunday morning, however, the daughter felt that she could bear leading a double life no longer. So while her mother and father and herself were seated in the parlor she unbundled her soul.

There was a moment's awful silence. Then the mother gathered her child into her arms and wept over her. The father, unable to be stern in the face of so much emotion, came over and awkwardly patted the two on the back.

"Singley's a nice boy," he said huskily. That night Singley came and there was a happy family reunion, and now to Mrs. Singley her spankings are but a memory which is gradually fading away.

Young Bride Made Welcome

THEY were awfully young—but O, my!

Pretty 18-year-old Marjory J. Savin of Washington and Edwin Pilson, aged 19 years, son of a millionaire railroad man, were secretly married in Washington the other day, the first intimation of the wedding being given when the youthful bride walked up to her father-in-law and dangled before his astonished eyes her marriage certificate.

"I'm one of the family now," she announced calmly, with dimpling cheeks.

"And you'll have to support me somehow because I'm ma-a-ried now."

Benjamin F. Pilson, clear headed man of affairs, started wildly forward in his chair and seized the paper from the laughing girl. He read it carefully. Then he looked up. His eyes were twinkling.

"Well, you've sprung a surprise on the old man this time," he said, pensively. Then he arose and placed both hands on the slender shoulders; then he bent down and kissed his newly made daughter on her forehead.

"You are extremely welcome," he said sincerely.

For several years young Pilson and Miss Savin had been sweethearts. Not long ago Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Alexander, the uncle and aunt with whom the young girl lived, decided to go for a six months' jaunt to Europe. They took their niece with them. TRIPP COUNTY, S. D. Government Land Opening.

The government opening of a million acres of fine agricultural and grazing lands will probably occur about Oct. 1st. The Rosebud extension of The Chicago & North Western Ry. is the only railway reaching these lands, and Dallas, S. D., is the railway terminus and the only town on the reservation border. The U. Honesty No Bar to Fortune.

It is a mistake to think that vast fortunes cannot be built up by honest methods. They can and often are. There are thousands of men among whose riches there does not mingle one particle of the sweat of unrequited toll, on whose crimson plush there is not one drop of the heart's blood of the needlewoman, whose lofty halls are the marble of industry, not the sinews and bone of the toiling masses.—Dr. Madison C. Peters.

Those Men!

"I went into the office looking like a fright," said the woman. "I didn't have a chance to straighten my hat or pat my hair or anything. I had intended to primp going up in the elevator, but there was a man standing before each mirror twirling his mustache and I couldn't even get a peep at myself."

RAPID RIVER

Arrangements have been made for a series of three games between Rapid and the Togs of Sault Ste. Marie to be played on the grounds of the latter next week, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, the latter being Labor Day. The Togs have made two trips here this season and four games have been played between the teams here, each having two to their credit. The people of both places are anxious to have the teams break the tie. Three more games added to the four will make the odd number of seven for the season and will thus give an opportunity for settling definitely the question of superiority. The Soo news in speaking of the coming contest, says: "The members of the local team and their supporters are of the opinion that the series should go to the home lads. It is reasoned that if they could break even with the Rapid River boys on the latter's own grounds, they should do even better at home."

Rapid River baseballists and the fans have been congratulating themselves all the week on the victory of last Sunday over the Niagara team on the grounds of the latter. Even though the locals were away from home, they took the honors of the contest by a score of 4 to 1. Niagara failed to bring a man across the home plate up to the ninth inning, when the Badgerites succeeded in making their solitary score. Brazile and Cate were in the joints for our team, doing very effective work. Mercier and Gloff formed the battery for Niagara. The locals got 10 hits off Mercier and had only one error charged up against them, while eight hits and five errors were credited to Niagara.

John Darrow and August Goodman returned last Saturday after spending about three weeks in Oklahoma and New Mexico. The gentlemen visited the south with a view of investing in timber lands, but were not particularly pleased with the country. They took an option on a tract of timber land in Oregon, whither they will go in a few weeks to look the land over.

Walter Darrow left last Saturday for Indianapolis, Ind., his old home, to visit relatives. He will also attend the state fair in that city and expects to be gone two weeks.

The Dops and the Mosquitos played a game of base ball Wednesday afternoon resulting in a victory for the first mentioned, the score being 8 to 7. The kids put up a good game as can be vouched for by Mose Buchman, who keeps "tabs" on the rising generation for available material.

Mrs. Valling of Escanaba, is enjoying a weeks visit with her daughter, Mrs. F. Darling.

Miss Emma Buchman has returned from Munising. She was accompanied back by her brother Abe Buchman, who will remain here till Saturday.

The Masonville new school building is nearing completion and will be ready for the opening of school on Sept. 15th.

Miss Theresa Savoit returned Thursday from Escanaba. She was accompanied back by Mrs. Nic Johnson, who will remain a few days.

Mrs. E. L. Soules leaves Friday for Coral to visit relatives and friends for a few days.

Edward Soules left this week for Utah, where he will engage in the lumber business. His many Rapid River friends regret his departure and join in wishing him unbounded success. Mr. Soules was formerly with the Barker Lumber company and later with the White & Soules Lumber company.

H. W. Cole left this week for Fond du Lac, Wis., where his horse, Glen S., is entered in the races at the county fair there. His stepper will also take in a circuit of fairs.

The Escanaba Brewing company is moving back the saloon fixtures from the building in which Claud Ackley formerly conducted a saloon. Mr. Ackley recently returned to Idaho.

Miss Dausey, who had been a guest for three weeks at the home of William Cardinal, has returned to Manistique.

Dr. A. L. Laing has returned from his camp at Whitefish, where he enjoyed a few days outing.

Charles LaBelle and Miss Anna Desmond are at Hamilton's camp, where they are enjoying an outing with a party of friends.

The Soo is improving its roadbed on the branch line from Rapid River to Eben Junction. Four gravel trains are working daily.

John Cleary of Escanaba, was a visitor in town Wednesday afternoon, looking after business interests and incidentally feeling of the political pulse.

Mrs. Charles Fish is making improvements to her residence property, among which is laying a stone foundation and building a new fence.

The Jerry Madden shingle mill began running a double shift on Wednesday and is now turning out shingles night and day. Mike Shraw, the foreman, was in Escanaba the first of the week looking for shingle weavers.

Max Rabon, George Haskins and Henry Cannon of the Rapid River base ball team, are "sofs of toil" and willing to earn a livelihood by the sweat of their brows, but they are adverse to handling ties. They eagerly sought work and finally those secured them jobs at Masonville handling ties. A half day was enough to convince them that the work was a little out of their line of business and at noon on the day they started work, a telephone message from the boys to Mose was in the nature of an appeal to come home. They came.

N. C. Peterson, G. H. Wicklander and A. J. Henry, were among the visitors from Escanaba on Tuesday.

Frank Rebens and Julius Flath of Escanaba, were Rapid River visitors on Wednesday.

John W. Hendry of Rhineland, a lumberman, was a visitor here Wednesday.

McKerning & Rowley of Manistique, have finally got their moving picture show going, after delays of two weeks or more, caused by the bucking propensities of their engine and dynamo, it being necessary for them to generate their own electricity.

FORD RIVER

The Night Cap Social given at Scandia Hall last Saturday evening proved a grand success. Everybody reports a good time and a full "dinner pail."

Several of the young people surprised Nels Jeppesen Tuesday evening, it being his twenty-first birthday. All report a high and glorious time. Games and music helped to make the time fly and to help the good cause along. A very nice supper was served and now every one is wishing some one else would soon be twenty-one, so they could give another surprise party.

William Lafountain departed last Wednesday for an extended trip through Wisconsin and Illinois. During his sojourn he expects to take in a few ball games at Milwaukee and Chicago. In the event of the Cubs winning the World's Championship, he is authorized to arrange a post season series with the Ford River baseball team.

John Chaunkin left for Chicago the latter part of the week. He expects to take a trip through the South-west as well as the West.

Isaac LeFaive departed for North Dakota last Tuesday. He expects to be gone for some time.

Mr. Chas. Malloch of Escanaba, was in our city the fore part of the week. As Mr. Malloch, who now holds the office of Register of Deeds, is a candidate for the re-election, of the same office, we trust his many friends will do all in their power to assist him in his undertaking.

Several of our "sports" expect to take in the horse races which are to be held in Escanaba Sunday.

Miss Stella Grund is spending her vacation at the Ford River Farm at Ward, Mich.

Mrs. Van Blois and children of Alfred were callers in our city this week.

The base ball game between the Macabees and the home team which was to be played last Sunday, was called off by the former, they having made other arrangements.

The Ford River baseball team defeated the Bark River ball team by a score of 7 to 6. While the score would lead one to think it a close and interesting game, it was merely a case of Alphonse and Gaston; each team trying to force the game onto the other. In this special department the visitors were the stronger and finally forced the game onto the home boys, the visitors going to sleep when the bases were full with but one out, and failed to score, although they had innumerable chances.

Desmond McGuire recently purchased a camera, and is now enjoying the pleasures of a photographer. We understand some of our other young people plan on purchasing cameras and starting a camera club.

Mr. and Mrs. Crain spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Casper Bartley.

Mr. Crain recently purchased a highly pedigreed partridge dog with which he expects to "bag the birds" this winter.

Mr. J. A. Kennedy recently purchased a double-barreled shot gun. While we are not certain, it is reported he and Mr. Crain are going into the partridge business on "halvers" this winter. We wish them unlimited success.

Mr. McDuffee of Allegan, Mich., called upon Mr. Kennedy, who is also from Allegan, last Thursday.

ROCK RIPPLES

John Larson, A. Kirby and John Nour came up from Bark River to spend Sunday with friends and relatives here.

Coleman Nee and John B. Moran of Escanaba, was here on business Saturday.

The Misses May Kirby and Clara Burby of Escanaba, visited here for Sunday.

Dan Dupe was here in the interest of the National Grocer Co., Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. John Christenson of Chicago, who have been visiting here the past two weeks, returned home Saturday.

Peterson Opera House Sept. 1

"The New Dominion," is one of those plays calculated to give one a better opinion of things theatrical, it is a beautiful picture true to life and after the deluge of trash with which the public has been afflicted it comes like a ray of sunshine to relieve a cloudy day. Mr. Clement is a magic playwright and placed in this beautiful comedy the romantic character of Baron Hohenstauffen which will never fail to please its patrons, the manager has had the good taste to see the necessity of capable support and has placed in this play a company of artists that are not apt to be seen on our stage in many days. Such is the verdict of the Indianapolis News. Prizes 25 50 75 and $1.00.

Patrick W. McCauley

Candidate for

Register of Deeds

Republican Primaries

Sept. 1st.

Mr. McCauley solicits the support of the voters at the primaries. He is a member of the Escanaba city council and has filled the position with credit to himself and satisfaction to his constituents. He is well qualified for the office and if elected will give the position the careful attention that characterizes all of his work.

FOR COUNTY TREASURER

E. M. ST JACQUES

Subject to the Will of the Voters at the Republican Primaries on Sept. 1st.

Mr. St. Jacques is well known to the voters of Delta county as a man of integrity and good business judgment. He is at present a member of the Escanaba city council and vice-president of the Businessmen's association. His support has been given to every movement for the benefit of the city and county and he is public spirited in every respect. He is entitled to the thoughtful consideration of the voters at the primaries on Sept. 1st.

A. J. HENRY, Candidate for SHERIFF at the Republican Primaries. Tuesday, Sept. 1, 1908.

Adam J. Henry has been a resident of Delta county for the past thirty years, working first on the ore and coal docks in Escanaba and later becoming proprietor of the Henry Wagon Works. He is well known throughout the county and has the respect and confidence of all who know him. It has been argued by Mr. Henry's political opponents that he is opposed to the saloons, but the saloon that is conducted in an orderly and decent manner has no more to fear from Mr. Henry than from any other candidate for the office. He can be depended upon to do his duty, if elected, and would make an excellent official.
