It was directly charged that the scavanger has been in the habit of cleaning closets at some of the residences owned by the lady when such work was not needed. and so reported to the scavanger by the health officer. Mrs. LaPierre claims that when Dr. Breitenbach was health officer he informed the scavanger that certain work was not necessary, to to clean the closets anyway, as Mrs. LaPierre had plenty of money and he was going to have some of it. The lady also claimed that the scavanger tippped over a closet on one of her residence properties leaving it in that condition for four or five days. It was also stated that Dr. Breitenbach refused to O. K. the bill, but that Dr. Cotton did so through mistake when he assumed the duties of health officer. OVATION FOR FULEER

Met at the Depot Here Tuesday By Many Escanaba Friends

Hon. O. B. Fuller, the nominee for auditor general of the state of Mich-Igan, was given quite an ovation in Escanaba upon the arrival of Mr. Fuller and his son Harold on their way to which the scavanger said he was going their home at Ford River from Detroit where they attended the Republican state convention and where Mr. Fuller was lucky in landing the nomination. Mr. Fuller and the Delta county delegates were to arrive here Thursday morning at 8:40 o'clock, but despite the fact the train and making himself generally obnoxdid not arrive till after 10 o'clock, about sixty of the business and professional men of the city were at the depot in their automobiles to give the nominee a hearty welcome. He was escorted to the Ludington Hotel, where many of the politicians of the city and friends of M. Enlles gated. On motion of Ald. Bissel, the Health committee was instructed to fully investigate the matter. G. W. the pitching of Hooker for the visitors.

The Menominee manager certainly did an unfair act in sending a vigorous protest against Olmsted pitching for Escanaba and then show up with five outside picked players in his team to battle against the locals. The visitors hit McDonald and Walsh pretty hard in Saturday's game.

A Careless Practice.

At a special meeting of the city council last Friday evening, Alderman James Powers hit upon a subject that deserves the attention of the city authorities. It is the increasing and dangerous practice of leaving horses and teams about the streets without being tied, which is a violation of one of our city ordinances, which provides a penalty for not adhering to the provisions of the same. The ordinance should be enforced and Mr. Powers is sound in his declaration against the practice which has become so brazenly open that one would never imagine that there was an ordinance providing against the practice in Escanaba. A word to the wise should be sufficient and the proper authorities should see that the ordinance is strictly enforced.

ROUGH HOUSE BY FLYNN

Kicked in a Door Sunday Night at Lndington St. Home

Wilham Flynn, a chimney sweep, was arrested Sunday night on the charge of disorderly conduct. He appeared in Judge Glaser's court Monday morning and was given a fine and costs amounting to $15. The charge on which Flynn was arrested was that of breaking in the door at the home of a woman residing on Ludington street ious. The fellow paid his fine on Tuesday when he was rearrested on the charge of assault and battery, the complaint having been made by John McGirr who received some severe punishment Sunday night by Flynn in a bar-room melee, the trouble alleged to have started at the Ludington street home.

anded two places on the state ticket including the coveted auditor-generalship, which finally went to Senator O. B. Fuller, of Ford River.

"To Wayne county, Fuller owes his nomination, the result of as clever a game of politics as has been played in a long time. It was a peculiar situation. Wayne was out to defeat C. A. Palmer of Manistee; was willing to take Nathan F. Simpson of Hartford, but decided to stand by Fuller, who was rated third in the race, until it became apparent how much strength Palmer would develop. The upper peninsula was not particularly anxious about Fuller, except on the score of his being a native son, and a number were anxious to support Simpson, but they could not break away with Wayne standing for him.

"Only three ballots were needed to settle the fight. Wayne could have nominated Simpson on the first ballot, but in accordance with the agreement made, voted for Fuller, as Palmer failed to show the strength his followers had claimed for him. On the second ballot, both Palmer and Simpson lost, while Fuller gained thirty-one votes. "Kent and Jackson had promised to swing to Fuller on the third ballot, but the break came before they were needed, as Berrien, Simpson's own county, divided its vote. This gave Calhoun and Clinton counties the cues, so they quickly switched to Fuller and he was really nominated, before the interested counties were reached.

"The slate that had been agreed upon Monday night by Wayne county, the upper peninsula and such delegates as Gov. Warner could muster, went through, with but one exception, that Huntly Russell, of Grand Rapids, was substituted for, Hiram A. Savage, of Saginaw, for state land commissioner. The latter was brought about by the Kent delegation agreeing to swing to Fuller and begging that the western part of the state not be left without a candidate on the ticket."

The Three Grades of Milk.

A city man took a house in the country for the summer. He sought out a farmer at once, looked over the cows on the farm, found them to his liking, and said:

"My servant will come to you every morning for a quart of milk."

"All right," said the farmer; "It will be eight cents."

"But it must be pure milk, mind," said the city man, "absolutely pure." "In that case it will cost you ten cents."

"Very good. And you will milk the quart from the cow in my servant's presence?"

Sincerely yours, CHARLES N. HASKELL, Bryan Reproves President.

Detroit, Mich .-- The . remarkable spectacle of a presidential candidate rebuking the chief executive of the nation for making statements deemed to be unjustified, was witnessed here when William J. Bryan in a letter to President Roosevelt defended Gov. Haskell of Oklahoma, treasurer of the Democratic national committee, against the charge that he had unlawful connections with the Standard Oil Company. Mr. Bryan serves notice on the president that as the candidate of the Democratic party "I shall not permit any responsible member of the Republican organization to misrepresent the Democratic party in the present campaign."

The letter concludes with the statement that the Democratic party is making "an honest and honorable" fight in defense of its principles and policies, and expects and will demand honorable treatment from those who are in charge of the Republican campaign.

I left the place and grew up to manhood, and had almost forgotten all about conjuring and such trash, when an incident in the trial of a criminal case recalled it all again very vividly.

I was called on to defend a splendid specimen of the negro race for killing his wife. He was a Hercules in broaze, and had lived happily with a quadroon wife until he had the misfortune to lose his leg in falling from the root of a house-he being a carpeater by trade. After this his wife seemed to have lost affection for him; she allowed the attentions of other men, and worked him into a frenzy with her flirtations. He remonstrated, she continued; he threatened, she replied with counter threats; and one day, when fully convinced of her infidelity to him, he came to town, purchased a pistol, announced his intention to kill her, hobbled a mile with the loaded pistol openly in his hand, and reaching home, followed by a curious crowd, he deliberately walked up to his wife, put the pistol against her bosom, and shot her five times; then stumped away, leaving her dead, with her clothing burning. Well, he sent for me to come to the jall and arrange about his defense. When I reached his cell he related about what I have told you, and I frankly told him I saw but little chance to prevent his being hanged. Not a single minute did that darky wait before breaking out in a loud horselaugh.

In each corner of this diagram he placed small dolls made of the resin of the pine tree, figures fashioned and all at once each of those puppets broke out into flame as quickly as a skyrocket and continued burning as long as we stayed.

Around all this he drew a large circle, still walking backward, and mumbling in an undertone in a way to make your flesh crawl; the fact is, he reminded me of old "Horse-Leg" Jones at a backwoods prayer meeting, except that old "Horse-Leg" had a different way of breathing through his nose. Well, I got so interested that I couldn't stay away from near the old sorcerer, and inadvertently I stepped truthfully say to the younger generation "Beauty is what beauty does," for it is an acknowledged fact among women that, irrespective of their mental attainments or noble qualities of heart, they must be youthful in looks as far into old age as possible.

Of course, the pendulum can swing too far this way, and a certain class hold themselves up to ridicule by all fair-minded women; but as a principle, this assisting nature with simple means on the outward form and denying age the right to make wrinkles from within by maintaining a mind free from nagging worry and a heart clear of angry dregs, all this is a most wise step on the part of woman and one to be commended on all sides.

That the expression, form and texture of the face can be altered, is a scientific fact. There are just two a drenching perspiration turn off the conditions that you must always plan to figure in when working for any desired result. One is, you must not expect miracles, and the other, you must be willing to pay the price. The one takes patience, the other character.

If children were taught in the pub lic schools that their natural expression pictured their general line of thought and that their dispositions could be read by others, then would we indeed start a generation of character builders that would surprise the most enthusiastic optimist.

The highest type of beauty in our minds is represented by beauty of form, beauty of face, beauty of grace. The right combination of all three is not very common and, therefore, all the more to be desired. Yet, women are often attractive who possess only one of these three requisites.

The first requisite for decency of living is neatness. The first requisite for morality is neatness. The first requisite for the attainment of beauty of either face, form or grace is "exquisite neatness" in person, dress and ways.

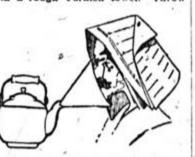

Soap and water is a great factor to force one to a higher level from any free from deposit of dust more or less. walk in life. A woman must first be destructive to an attractive skin. "well groomed" at all times, if she aspires ever to sit within the kingdom be a pleasure, and your senses must

WILL BE PALATIAL

NEW SENATE OFFICE BUILDING NEARING COMPLETION.

Two Rooms and a Bath for Each Statesman-Tunnel and Electric Cars to Carry Member to Chamber.

That palatial establishment for the comfort of senators, the new Senate office building, it is now announced will be ready for occupancy by the time congress meets next December. It is now about 80 per cent. completed and the purpose is to rush it to completion in the next few months.

When finished the new Senate office building will have cost $4,500,000, inclusive of the site. This provides office rooms for 92 members of the senate and their attaches. It is rather more than the cost of the House office building, which was occupied early in the last session of congress. There is no doubt that a genuine need for an office building of some sort, both for the senate and the house members, has existed.

In the capitol there are not enough committee rooms to go around. Some of the senators have little, dingy rooms down in the terrace and many are obliged to have their offices in the old Melby building, known as the Senate Annex, a short distance northwest of the capitol. The senator who is ist, when Mr. Brown appeared in his able to get an office room inside the capitol building, even if it is dismal and cramped, considers himself fortunate.

When the Senate office building is completed it will connect with the capitol by a subway, as is the House office building, and in the subway will be a sidewalk and an electric car line., One will be able to descend an elevator in the capitol, get into an electric car and get out at the foot of an elevator in the office building. The subway itself is al ready finished.

Each senator will be entitled to a suite, consisting of two handsome rooms and a private bath. The building will have 99 such office suites in the three principal stories above the basement, ten single offices and sixcommittee rooms, besides a conference room and a dining-room. The larger room of each office suite is intended for the use of the senator himself, and will be 16 by 25 feet. The smaller room, 12 by 25 feet, is for the senator's secretary.

One of the convenient features of the building will be the conference room, back of the main stairs on the second floor. It will be 52 by 74 feet, will seat 300 people easily, and is intended for public hearings.

Not the least interesting room of the office building will be the dining- courtroom. He was arrested in his quickly arranged at home by the aid room, 30x65, on the second floor, flight before he had left the building, where beauty reigns. Bathing must of a teakettle, a funnel of tin or one overlooking the capitol grounds and and brought back.

LEFT IT TO MRS. BROWN.

Reverend Gentleman, Very Willing to Evade Responsibility.

The trust and dependence which characterized Rev. Mr. Brown's attltude toward his wife's judgment in all practical affairs were sometimes touching, but occasionally they were amusing.

"I'm sorry you've been troubled with the toothache," said the family dentoffice one day. "I gave you the first minute I had free after receiving your wife's telephone message. Let's see, which tooth is it that's troubling you?"

"M-m, it's not aching just at present," said Mr. Brown, after a moment's hesitation, during which he made a cautious investigation with his tongue. "Didn't Mrs. Brown mention to you which tooth it was? I always rely on her in such matters."-Youth's Companion.

The house had been situated on top of a little plateau about 75 yards square, and the soil there was a slaty white clay mixed with sand, was dead level, and clean of grass and rubbish.

The old darky had on a red wool blanket, which he wore Mexican-Poncho fashion, a queer kettle-looking iron hat, and was bare-footed and barelegged. He made us all stand at least ten yards away from him, and charged us particularly not to come close to him while the charm was working.

He squatted down on the ground, and for about 15 minutes he chanted or crooned the most outlandish gibberish I ever heard. It seemed to be a sort of crude poetry, with the refrain of:

Dark Blue Serge.

Year in and year out, the school coat of dark blue serge holds its own against all rivals. The reason for this is not far to seek. The color is subdued; but not somber, and the material sheds the dust. Blue will accord with almost any other shade; It becomes a youthful face, and it lends itself readily to supplementary adornment. Some silks and velvets is much worn, but of the blue serge coats now worn by young school girls-the majority of these are shaped similarly to those developed in black and white checksare brightened with huge buttons of gold or silver, showing some tinge of the dark blue in their incrustations. Other blue coats of this class- have black and white checked silk collars and cuffs and nearly all have little neckties of black or dark blue satin, with tiny gilt tassel-finished ends.

Advance Fall Suits.

Empire and directoire effects are decidedly a feature of the advanced fall suits, while braid and buttons are the favored trimmings. Soutache is used extensively and large, handsome buttons are added as decorations.

The skirts are in many cases plaited, differing very little from those worn last year, and the coats are longaveraging three-quarters length-Ghe fronts cut away to display a vest, but straight up and down.

There is no rounding off at the corners at lower front edges.

Traveling Garb.

In lieu of long-skirted gowns and coats in the prevailing directoire type many women are adopting these shortskirted one-plece frocks for traveling. as they answer perfectly for morning garb at week-end house parties, for tennis, golf or almost any informal outing. In the absence of a suit wrap the best substitute is a rubbarized utility coat in black and white plaid, checked worsted or silk. Many of these are made up in one with the garment proper. Others are quite scant below the waist line and of shawls worn, fringed, tasseled or simply hemmed and tucked on the border, and even then weighted with tasmousseline of another color. Lead, color, khaki, dark amethyst or navy blue are the colors preferred, for these shawls or scarfs are worn with all sorts of light frocks .-- Vogue.

senators hope to be able to partake of their mush and milk and senate ple knew the man to be a simple, honest in something more of peace and solitude than they have been able to find end of the capitol.

One of the banalities of senate membership is that, whereas the average senator would like to hie himself away to some secluded spot for lunch. where his ears will not be beset with the troubles of pension-hunting and office-seeking constituents, it is impossible to exclude the proletariat entire ly from the senate restaurant as it now exists. It often happens, even, that a senator has to wait for service while a waiter is serving a meal to some mere private citizen. Senators hope that under the new regime they will be enabled to be more thoroughly in retreat when they want to partake of something to eat.

'In' design the Senate office building resembles the House office building, the two being fashioned to harmonize with the exterior of the capitol. The house members are allowed but one room each. A number of the committee rooms will be rearranged when the office building is completed, some of them being in the new structure. While in some respects the new building is expected to prove a great convenience, yet it will have its drawbacks. This has been shown in the experience on the house-side.

Many members find their rooms in the office building so convenient that they absent themselves more freely than before from the house chamber. So it is expected to prove on the senate side, especially when Superintendent Elliott Woods gets installed in each office the ticker apparatus that will enable the occupant to see at a glance just what' is going on in the body to which he belongs. The new office building will, moreover, greatly increase the difficulties of finding members. This was the experience with the House office building last-winter. The next great building that will be erected by the government near the capitol will doubtless be a commodious home for the United States - supreme court. The present quarters in the capitol are inadequate and unsatisfactory. Even the accommodations for attorneys who are forced to attend the supreme court sessions and who are anxious to hear arguments and opinions are insufficient. On Mondays, when opinions are handed down, a large number of visitors, as a rule, are turned away from the doors be cause there is no more room for them.

This woman says Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved her life. Read her letter.

Mrs. T. C. Willadsen, of Manning, Iowa, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I can truly say that Lydia E. Pink-ham's Vegetable Compound saved my life, and I cannot express my gratitude to you in words. For years I suffered with the worst forms of female complaints, continually doctoring and spending lots of money for medicine, without help. I wrote you for advice, followed it as directed, and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has restored me to perfect health. Had it not been for you I should have been in my grave to-day. I wish every suffering woman would try it."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pink-ham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

TRAGIC STORY OF DR. RUSTIN

Happening in Modern Life That Pales the Wildest Fiction Ever Evolved from Brain of Novelist

All the weirdness of fiction has been outdone by the wonderful case of Dr. Frederick T. Rustin, an Omaha physician and former Yale athlete, who was shot down on his own veranda as a result of a triple suicide pact in which the woman he loved was to be one of the participants. Here is a true story of the case in chapters. It is one that surpasses all the inventions of the most cunning mind.

familiarizing her with hospital scenes and then by working on the hero worship and sympathy in her nature had gradually worked toward the point where she could fire the shot which would kill him. Books of fiction in which one man died for another, and books in which great sacrifices were made for friendship's sake were read by Dr. Rustin to Mrs. Rice and com- riages. Others were dashing up and mented upon by him until the woman saw the killing of Rustin by herself in a kind of a halo.

"For weeks and weeks Dr. Rustin trained me to murder him," said Mrs. Rice, "First, he trained me to the sight of bloodshed. He used to take me around with him when he performed operations. Caustic Comments of a Neighbor on Conditions in the Capital.

Washington, in its public structures and private residences, its hotels and business buildings, its parks and boulevards, is becoming not only the most beautiful city in America, but one of the finest of the world's capitals, says the Baltimore Sun. All Americans are proud of its growth and its magnificence.

Therefore it comes to them as a shock when they learn that women, are not safe on its broad avenues and that purse snatching and robbery are the most common of crimes.

During the last two years the records show an almost unbelievable number of attacks upon women. These range from assaults and attempted murders in the suburbs to brutal attacks and robberies in the very heart of the most fashionable, residence section. Most of these offenses are committed by negroes and they seem to think that they have a license to commit any crime. The daughter of an army officer was attacked and robbed by negroes almost at the door of the British embassy. Judging from the number of crimes of which they are the victims, in no city in America are women so poorly protected as they are in the nation's capital. What paralyzes the arm of the law Why is it that negro hoodlums are allowed to run riot, terrorize certain sections and even attack the police? Why is it unsafe for women to go out the District of Columbia? Is it because the arm of the law is weakened by an inefficient police force and sometimes by absurdly inadequate punishment when criminals are arraigned in the courts?

Most of the crimes are committed by negroes, according to the accounts, and the criminal negro element acts as if it could defy the police and as if it need have little fear of severe punishment. The attack of a large crowd of negroes on Policeman W. J. Field when he went to arrest a negress is only one of a number of such attacks. The Scramble for Wealth.

If there is a sad thing in the world, it is the spectacle of the men and women who, in their mad scramble for wealth, have crushed out of their lives sentiment and the love of all that is beautiful and sublime. The very process by which they seek to win the means of enjoyment kills the faculties by which they can enjoy. When the average man wins his wealth he finds himself without the power of enjoyment, for the enjoying side of his nature is dead. He finds to his sorrow that the straining, striving life is also a starving one.

Decorations for Women.

There are few decorations for women in Europe, the most ancient order coming from the Austrian throne. It is the decoration of the Star and Crucifix, and is given to women of high rank. Another is the Luisen, founded in memory of the beautiful queen on the streets or roads after dark in of Prussia, whom Napoleon insulted. This order is given to all classes of women who commit any great selfsacrifice.

The insurance companies have taken a hand in the murder mystery, and three different companies filed petitions in the district court asking that the testimony of both Charles Davis and Mrs. Rice be perpetuated. Then Abbie Rice consented. Together they went to a pawnshop and purchased a pistol. They had planned first to do the deed in the office of the doctor, but he was afraid that she would not be able to get away, so they went to the apartment where he had installed her. He loaded the pistol, cocked it, but in his eagerness drew the hammer so far back that he broke the spring. There' was no other way of dying at hand. The killing had to be postponed. No matter what the emergencyfire, riot or street car crash-the "hurry" wagons of the city will hurry no more. Corporation Counsel Thomas has decided that they are subject to the laws governing the speed of all other vehicles.

Recently several persons have been hurt by the galloping horses of patrol wagons. Citizens complained to the commissioners who suggested to, Major Sylvester, chief of police, that more care be exercised. The major replied that a patrol wagon, fire engine or ambulance is not called unless it is needed hadly and that when it is needed it ought to get to its destination in the quickest possible time.

Besides, he did not believe that the law makers had city vehicles in mind when they made the speed laws. But the corporation counsel overruled him.

It is understood that the Anti-Noise society, encouraged by this ruling, will ask that the clanging gongs be removed from the wagons and engines on the grounds that they disturb the peace of the citizens and that they are not needed on slow moving vehicles.

J. Pierpont Morgan, John Hays Hammond and others have contributed more than $50,000 of the fund of $125,-000 which Dr. Richard D. Harlan of George Washington university is raising to broaden the work of political sciences in that institution.

The college, which recently formed for training young men for the diplomatic, consular and public service, has been largely attended. Great interest has been manifested throughout the country in the betterment of the foreign service. The university hopes to place the new school thoroughly before the people, indicating its importance to the nation and men to fit themselves for the serviceof the government.

Home-Made Barometer.

Those who love experimentation may try the following method of making a cheap barometer, practiced in France, suggests the Youth's Companion: Take eight grams of pulverized camphor, four grams of pulverized nitrate of potassium, two grams of pulverized nitrate of ammonia, and dissolve in 60 grams of alcohol. Put the whole in a long, slender bottle closed at the top with a piece of bladder containing a pin-hole to admit the air. When rain is coming, the solid particles will tend gradually to mount, little star crystals forming in the liquid, which otherwise remains clear; if high winds are approaching, the liquid will become thick, as if fermenting, while a film of solid particles forms on the surface; during fair weather the liquid will remain clear and the solid par ticles will rest at the bottom.

How the Booth company profited from this law is explained by a fish dealer who says that the company had its cold storage plants filled with frozen fish which it could not sell so long as fresh fish were on the market. When the closed season was provided for, the Booth company got rid of its stale fish and for six weeks in the year it enjoyed a monopoly of the market.

Zimmerman sets forth he is satisfied that the capital of the bank has become greatly impaired and is satisfied that it is insolvent; that its liabilities greatly exceed its assets. He also points out that since May 6, 1908, the bank has been without proper officers and directors, and that at the present time it has but two directors, Gardner L. Hunn and William H. Burletson; that it has but two officers, viz., Gardner L. Hunn, vice-president, and William H. Burletson, cashier; that prior to May 6, 1908, it had the required officers and directors under the law; that on May 6 A. M. Holmer, F. K. Corwin and C. W. Bullen, who were officers and directors, ceased to be officers and directors, and the offices have never been filled.

Seeks to Overcome Lead.

Auditor General Bradley, who by a recount sought to overcome Gov. Warner's plurality of 1,600 for the Republican nomination for governor, petitioned the supreme court to mandamus the state canvassing board to go back of the returns and investigate allegations of fraud in the enrollment of voters. Gov. Warner applied for a mandamus to prevent the board from going back over the returns. After listening to arguments all day the board of state canvassers, acting on the advice of Attorney General Bird, decided that no inquiry could be made into the primary election enrollment. Secretary of State Prescott, speaking for the board, said: "This board decides that it has the same powers as the previous board had," meaning the board of primary election inspectors. "We don't claim to have the right to subpoena witnesses or go into the enrollment. We will look the way the other board looked at It."

INSANE WOMAN HANGS HERSELF.

Inmate of Asylum Had Mania for Tearing Off Clothes.

Traverse City .- Mrs. Margaret Kelly, 44 years old, either committed suicide at the Northern Michigan Asylum for the Insane or was strangled in endeavoring to free herself from a chair in which she was lightly restrained. The woman was sent from Cadillac and had a mania for undressing herself, so that it was necessary for an attendant to hold her constantly, or for a restraint to be used. A piece of denim cloth was employed to keep her in the chair, and this was so loose that her arms and hands were free, but it served its purpose. She either deliberately got this about her neck or was caught while endeavoring to free herself. When found, she was suspended from the chair dead. The coroner's verdict was accidental death.

had a miraculous escape from death Monday afternoon during the course Thousands of spectators had gathered to witness the ascent and they were horror stricken at the accident which occurred high in the air.

On being released from its fastenings the balloon soared almost directly upwards to an altitude of 6,000 feet, when the envelope suddenly ripped open. The gas escaped in streams and the balloon shot downward. The aeronauts swiftly clambered into the network in the desperate hope of avoiding the shock of contact with the ground. After a fall of 2,000 feet, however, the envelope spread out, seemingly in a purely accidental manner, forming a sort of parachute which checked the descent. The balloon then gradually came down, taking an hour and a half to reach the earth, the two men clinging to the ropes and the basket. They suffered no injury except a few scratches. The cause of the accident was the sudden expansion of gas.

Le Mans .- Wilbur Wright, the American aeroplanist, made three successful flights Monday evening. On the first flight he was unaccompanied, and remained in the air for one hour, seven minutes, 11 4-5 seconds, covering a distance of about 30 miles.

On the second flight he was accompanied by the aeroplanist Tissandier, and he succeeded in beating the record for flight with passengers by remaining up 11 minutes 3 2-5 seconds. His previous flight with a passenger was made on Friday last, when he remained in the air nine minutes 13 1-5 seconds at a height of 50 feet. Count de Lambert was his passenger on the third trip, when he covered about 31/2 miles in six minutes and 15 seconds.

Sister Contests Hewitt's Will. Elmira, N. Y .-- Mrs. Stephen T. Arnot of this city Monday began a contest of the will of her late brother, Frederick C. Hewitt of Owego, who left several millions of dollars to charity and made no mention of Mrs. Arnoth. The contest is taken on the general grounds that Mr. Hewitt was not competent to make a will at the time he distributed his property. It is also claimed that undue influence was brought to bear upon him. Mrs. Arnot is the millionaire's nearest relative surviving. She is old and wealthy.
