

UNJUST DISCRIMINATION.

Deliberate Cruelty of Which Many Things Are Guilty.

Is woman the equal of man? The question has been asked many thousands of times and answered with fierce negations...

It is too much the habit of fathers to spend all their means in pushing along their sons, leaving the daughters to take the chances in the matrimonial lottery...

Discrimination like this is being practiced every day in thousands of homes. If there is to be discrimination among children, should it not be in favor of the girls instead of against them?

This is a side of the woman question which can not be reached by law. It is the outgrowth and survival of the time when women were chattels...

The Dog Was Innocent.

A sanitary officer who was sent to a house on Catharine street to see about a savage dog who had bitten a neighbor was met by the allegation:

"Dot dog vhas not so dangerous as I vhas myself."

"But he bit a man."

"Of course he did, but dot vhas a mistake."

"How?"

"Vhell, he pellets dot man vhas going to bite him, and so he get in der first bite. Lots of times if I pelles some man's vhas going to hit me I shump in and knock him first. Dot man vhas to blame, and you should go oop and kill him."

President Carter, of Williams College, has raised $500,000 for that institution during his management.

THE FRENCH CREOLES.

Some of the Peculiarities of This Simple-Minded People.

The French Creoles of the lower class are a hand-to-mouth class of people, purchasing the stick of wood to use to cook and season their potage...

The chief charm of the character is a touching gentleness and benignity that blends all other characteristics and permeates the whole constitution of the native Creole.

The customs, games and sports of these exiles are full of reminiscences of the fatherland, mingled with odd accretions and aftergrowths...

STRANGE MISTAKES.

Some of the Laughable Experiences of an Eastern Bookseller.

Says a Portland bookseller: "At one time we were carrying a large stock of religious works, and one day I called out to one of my clerks...

"On another occasion a woman with a valise in her hand rushed in and asked a new boy if he had 'That Husband of Mine' in our store?"

"Some of the most amusing mistakes, however, are those made by people who get the titles of books wrong. They read about them in some catalogue or newspaper...

The Proper Place for Her.

Wild-eyed parent—I want to bring my daughter, aged fifteen, to this institution and have her closely guarded and given your best treatment for about three years.

Keeper of private lunatic asylum—Is she violent?"

Wild-eyed parent—She is ungovernable. She writes poems of passion."

Keeper—State Reform School is just across the way.—Chicago Tribune.

LEG-ND OF MARCOLINI.

A Curious Venetian Custom That Keeps Alive a Poor Lover's Fate.

In the courts of Venice a curious custom has been observed for three hundred years. When the Council of Ten, a body of men acting as a jury, brings in a sentence of death...

Many years ago Marcolini, a young Venetian noble, paid court to the beautiful Giulietta, whose family occupied a palace on the same square.

Many years after a bandit on his death-bed confessed to a priest that he had been hired to murder the Senator.

A ONE-ACT TRAGEDY.

How He Won and Lost a Bride All on Account of an Uncle's Death.

"Then this is your final answer, Miss Stubbles?"

"My final answer."

"Nothing can move you?"

"Nothing."

"Then my life will be a lonely one and my fate a harsh one, for my uncle, with whom I lived, has just died and left me—"

"Just died?"

"Yes, and left me—"

"That fact somewhat alters the case, Henry. I can not be harsh to one who has sustained such recent bereavement. If I could believe that you are sincere—"

"Sincere? Oh, Miss Stubbles!"

"You have certainly made an impression on my heart. Give me time to think of it."

"How long?"

"After all, why think of it? Henry, I am yours."

"Oh, Genevieve!"

"Do not squeeze me so hard, Henry. Your poor uncle! Was he long ill?"

"Three days."

"It is too bad! You say he has left you—?"

"Yes, he has left me."

"How much?"

"How much? I said he had left me. He had nothing else to leave. I am alone in the world now; homeless, penniless, but with you by my side—Gracious, she's fainted!"

Curtain.—Boston Courier.

The Extent of Illiteracy.

A census of the illiterates in the various countries of the world, recently published in the Statistische Monatschrift, places the three Slavic States of Roumania, Servia and Russia at the head of the list...

"Red-headed girls don't tan, eh?" said Poots, scornfully, as he laid down the newspaper in which he had been reading a statement to that effect.

"Well, when I was a boy there was a red-headed girl teaching our district school, and she tanned so much that I haven't forgotten it to this day," and he rubbed his shoulder ruefully with the thought.—Texas Siftings.

—Mrs. McCorkle—"John, dear, the doctor's sermon this morning was from the text, 'Ye are the salt of the earth.' Where do you suppose I can find the passage?" Mr. McCorkle—"I should think you could find it in the Psalter."—Drake's Magazine.

—Butler (after the "Queen's Mate" has been rendered four times and repeat)—"Ere's a dollar, an' th' master says would you kindly move hon' o' e's hill!" Leader Schwanenflugel—"Dot vrost a square mans, fellers. Ve him blaf der 'Def March in Sauls,' oud ohf combilments."—Puck.

—Benevolent old gent—"How my heart bounds when I see the happy faces of childhood. Note the beaming smile of the little boy now approaching. Little boy (grinning)—"Ma got mad and spanked me with her new four-dollar hair brush and—she broke it."—Philadelphia Record.

SCHOOL AND CHURCH.

—A Mormon church has been discovered in Brooklyn, but there is no polygamous doctrine taught in it.

—It is reported from Yale College that there has been a notable decrease in smoking there during the last six years. A year ago nineteen per cent. of the freshmen used tobacco; this year the ratio is down to sixteen per cent.

—The worst kind of a church member is that one who is always out of sorts with his pastor. A small hornet can spoil a good-sized camp-meeting, and a disgruntled member can overthrow the work of a church.—Hartford Religious Herald.

—A medical missionary society has been in successful operation in New York for seven years. The society is unsectarian, as is evidenced by the fact that the forty-three students in training during 1887 belonged to nine different denominations:

—When Mr. Moody was in London a number of young men were commissioned to follow up the converts and see that they remained true to their profession. Two of the committee were at the Bible school, and said that they got the names of 45,000 converts made in London.

—In the interest of both parents and children, we protest against the cramming system in our public schools. If matters were rightly managed, all the study might be confined to school-hours, and our boys and girls might have the balance of the day for rest or play, or other employment, which would change if it did not entirely relieve the strain.—Christian Standard.

—The Methodist Book Concern will be a century old next year, and will celebrate the event by the opening of an imposing structure of brick and granite now going up at Twentieth street and Fifth avenue, New York. The building and grounds will cost $1,000,000, and the intention is to make it the finest publishing house in the country. The institution, backed by the Methodist Episcopal church, has during the hundred years of its existence expended some $2,000,000 in charities.

—Yale College in 1795 had but four or five students who were church members; to-day nearly one-half hold such membership. Princeton in 1815 had but two or three openly professing the Christian faith; to-day about one-half, and among them the best scholars. In Williams College 147 out of 243, and in Amherst 233 out of 362 are members of churches. In many other colleges, as proved by Dr. Hodge, from whose carefully-prepared tables these figures are taken, the proportions are still more favorable to the prospects of religion.—Archdeacon Mackay-Smith, in Harper's Magazine.

TORTURED TO DEATH.

The Terrible Punishment Inflicted on Two Innocent Chinamen.
The following case, which is reported by the highest authorities of the Hu Kuang provinces, has been under judicial investigation for some time past and its final settlement is now reported. The principal parties to it were She Yun-shan, a man who kept a drapery establishment at a place called Jen-ho, in the Kung-an district, and two persons named Chang Tsunao and Chang Ming-la, father and son, who carried on a trade in firewood. About the middle of last year the latter purchased the trees of a small wood in the Chiang-ling district, and went with a number of their servants to cut them down and convert them into firewood. They then hired a boat belonging to a Chung-ling man to convey the products to the Kung-an district, where they heard there was prospect of a high market for it. One night, shortly after their arrival at that place, the drapery establishment of She Yun-shan was attacked by robbers and completely rifled, the proprietor himself and his wife being wounded in the struggle with the assailants. The robbers were pursued by the village police, but contrived to make their escape under cover of night.

Next morning She Yun-shan instituted a search for the property and found five bales of cloth, part of the plunder, at a place not far from where Chang Tsunao's boat was anchored, and his suspicion having fallen on its six occupants, he called in the aid of the police and had them at once arrested. When he brought them before the magistrate he charged them with piracy and falsely alleged that he found the stolen goods on board the boat. The accused, having refused to confess, were beaten and tortured, and in the end one or two of them dreading further torture, said that they had agreed with Chang Tsunao and his son to rob the house, but were not present at the commission of the deed. Chang Tsunao and his son were brought before the magistrate and were exposed once more to torture, but they still firmly adhered to the declaration of their innocence. Both men died under the ordeal, and the wife of the former instituted proceedings against all the parties responsible for the death of her husband and son.

The magistrate was at once removed from office and degraded, and a full investigation of the whole circumstances was held in the provincial capital, with the result that the innocence of the six men were completely established. The blows, it was proved, were administered on the usual places, the buttocks and legs, and no illegal torture was used. The law is that any one who falsely accuses an innocent person, and thereby causes his death, is to suffer strangulation after the usual period of confinement. In the present instance, although the immediate cause of death was torture, still, as the torture was the consequence of the false accusation, She Yun-shan has been convicted under the above provisions of the law. The magistrate is to be banished for his careless management of the case; the policeman who made the arrest and the Yamen underlings, who only carried out the law in the usual way, are exonerated from all blame, and a fresh search is to be made for the actual robbers.—Peking Gazette.

A workingman with a dinner pail in his hand came out of a little shop and was met by a fellow workman, who said: "Why, Jim, you're working overtime now, aren't you?" "No," was the reply, "I am not." "Aren't you putting in more than eight hours a day?" "Yes." "I thought eight hours was the union scale?" remarked the outsider. "Yes, but you see I have just bought the shop and work thirteen."

Richardson, the match man, wins his case against Alger and Buhl, and is some $70,000 richer for that result.

The joint resolution to make the salary of the governor of Michigan $4,000 a year has passed and will be voted on at the spring election.

THE STATE.

Connors and McMahon wrestled at Detroit last week. The result was a draw but Connors had a trifle the best of it in the opinion of the crowd.

Sixty head of cattle, seventeen horses, and a great quantity of other property were destroyed by the burning of H. E. Staples' barn near Montague on the night of Feb. 27.

Michigan railroads earned $79,958,117 in 1888, a falling off of $851,492 from the earnings of the previous year.

Supt. Sears, of the Coldwater schools thrashes truant boys with a horsewhip and parents are "exercised" about it. Two last show cuts three inches long where his lash did its work.

Tim. Tarsney got a postmaster who "went back on him" bounced as late as March 1.

George Morley failed March 1. The failure is a result of the previous failures of E. G. Richards and the Dwights.

A patient in the Pontiac insane asylum attacked an attendant and was thrown, heavily, the attendant falling upon him. By the fall the patient's ribs were broken and driven into his lung and death ensued. Supt. Hurd, while deploring the occurrence, fully exonerates the attendant.

On the 16th ult. the jewelry store of Max Davis, at Fenton, was broken into and the safe opened (by some one who knew the combination) and $1,174 in cash stolen. Marshal Miller Saturday arrested Geo. L. Howes, who had been a clerk in the store, and things he has got the thief.

A Pittsburg steel manufacturing firm wants Prof. Langley, of the university and measures its want at $5,000 a year. The professor will probably go.

Gen. Innes sounds his bugle for Sherwood but he don't get the old ring out of it, some how. Come to remember, Innes was't a bugler.

Phin Berry, a Mecosta lad of only sixteen shot himself through the body when about to be arrested for a theft. Bad wound but not certainly fatal.

Wm. Spangler is missing from Cadmus, Lenawee county, since September and his friends think he has been robbed and murdered.

Nellie E. Porter, crippled by the bad handling of a train on the Chicago & West Michigan railway, wants $12,000 and is likely to get it.

Judge Steere gave Billy McLean, convicted of highway robbery at St. Ignace, ten years. His accomplice, John Judge, got off with half that because it was his first offence.

A Law student of the university named Murray, whose home is in Iowa, is in arrest charged with arson—setting a barn on fire.

Boss Weston refuses to run again for mayor of Grand Rapids. It was too close a thing a year ago and he has been licked as much as he cares to stand since then.

Hon. George Robertson was drowned in a mill pond at Albion last Sunday night. Accident, perhaps, but probably suicide, as he had been off his head since the death of his wife a short time ago.

Fire at the eastern asylum for the insane at Pontiac Monday morning—employees quarters burned. Loss $3,000.

Mrs. Stowell, botanical microscopist at the university, has been called to the agricultural department at Washington as microscopist.

Kalkaska had a $25,000 fire Sunday, and therewith an explosion which is not accounted for.

The legislature has been figuring up the cost of the boards of supervisors of the state and finds the total about $81,000 a year, whereupon it proposes to substitute smaller and less expensive "boards of commissioners."

Gov. Luce would not sign certain bills which went through the senate during an absence of the president pro tem and were certified by senator Giddings, who occupied the chair. On Ball's return he added his signature and then the governor, with some misgivings, put his fist to them.

The sugar fraud people—Mrs. Friend and the Howards—had to go to New York. Gov. Luce could find no good reason for refusing the demand of Gov. Hill.

JAMES MEANS' $3 & $4 SHOES
"Competition is the Life of Trade," and if you have not seen our latest improved goods you cannot imagine how lively trade is, or how hard our competitors have to work to keep within sight of us. Ask your retailer for the James Means' $3 Shoe, or the James Means' $4 Shoe according to your needs. Positively none genuine unless having our name and price stamped plainly on the sole. Your retailer will supply you with shoes so stamped if you insist upon his doing so; if you do not insist, some retailers will coax you into buying inferior shoes upon which they make a larger profit.

Such has been the recent progress in our branch of industry that we are now able to affirm that the James Means' $4 Shoe is in every respect equal to the shoes which only a few years ago were valued at eight or ten dollars. If you will try on a pair you will be convinced that we do not exaggerate. Ours are the original $3 and $4 Shoes, and those who imitate our system of business are unable to compete with us in quality of factory products. In our lines we are the largest manufacturers in the United States.

Shoes from our celebrated factory are sold by wide-awake retailers in all parts of the country. We will place them easily within your reach in any State or Territory if you will invest one cent in a postal card and write to us.
