

TO THOSE WHO LOVE US.

Here's a health to those who love us,
And a smile for those who hate;
Kind Heaven is above us,
And we may trust our fate.

I was a little cautious as to the amount and purposely hung around to see what was paid him. I noticed that the clerk counted him out just four hundred and fifty-two dollars.

EARNING AN EDUCATION.

How Impeccable Students Manage to Obtain a College Course.
It is wonderful how little a college education may cost nowadays.

A FEMALE HIGHWAYMAN.

How Old Williams Was Made to Shell Out the Money.

"Now, I am not an eavesdropper. I have an utter contempt for any thing of the sort. Still the voices were so clear and plain that I could not help hearing them; my senses, too, were so preternaturally acute that what was said made a deep impression on my memory.

ISRAELITIC NAMES.

Similarity in the Nomenclature of Israelites and Indians.
A mode of bringing to notice the barbarian stage of the Israelites at the time under consideration is to translate into English familiar personal names from the Old Testament, such as the Dog, the Dove, the Hyena, the Lion's Whelp, the Strong Ass, the Adder and the Running Hind.

Mercurial Rheumatism.

Mr. J. C. Jones, city marshal of Fulton, Arkansas, writes: about ten years ago I contracted a severe case of blood poisoning.
The leading physicians of the city were called in,
and they prescribed medicine after medicine,
which I took without affording me any relief.

A Prompt Cure.

Two bottles of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.)
cured me of a breaking out all over my body, caused by blood poisoning. Victor Stewart.

THE STATE.

George L. Seagrave, steward of the asylum at Pontiac, has associated with lunatics too long. Last week he went crazy himself but his friends hope he will get over it.
 The Russian influenza broke out among the bank clerks at Detroit and they think it came to them in the paper currency received from the east.
 Judge Cooley is at home, at Ann Arbor. He is not "broken down," as alleged, merely in need of rest.
 Supt. Metheny, of the G. R. & I. R. R., died of blood poisoning last week. He had an ulcerated tooth which he was treating with cocaine applied with a brush. A pimple on his thumb Sunday attracted his attention, and he applied the cocaine brush to it. In an hour his arm was seriously swollen and the pain became intense. Some of the matter from the ulcerated tooth had got into the system and the poison spread with frightful rapidity.
 While the children of one of the public schools in Detroit were rehearsing a Christmas exhibition the clothing of one of the girls took fire and a panic ensued. The fire caught the clothing of other girls and a dozen were badly and three or four fatally burned.

Bay City will ask the next legislature for an insane asylum. If insanity increases for twenty years to come as it has for twenty years past every city of 10,000 people will need one.
 Jennie Sweetland, the Kalamazoo girl forger, gets off with two years only.
 Gen. Alger visited the boys at the Soldiers' Home Dec. 20. An inmate named Bradley fell from a third story window and was killed the same day.
 "Deacon" Daniel Hubbell, of Pontiac, died Dec. 20, at the age of 82 years, having been actively engaged in business up to three weeks ago.
 Five of the girls burned at the Tilden school in Detroit have died.
 Col. Edwin S. Pierce, late of the 3d infantry, will get the Grand Rapids postoffice.
 Secretary Windom "lets up" on Collector Campau: admits that his first letter was hasty, and the collector comes out ahead.
 Another change is impending in the ownership and control of the Detroit Tribune—J. H. Stone retires and J. R. Hopper succeeds him.
 A fellow named McLeod while stealing watches through a hole in the window of Rich's store, East Saginaw, cut an artery in his wrist and bled nearly to death.
 A doctor is wanted at McBride's, Mont-calm county.
 The date for the national camp meeting at Eaton Rapids next summer has been fixed for the last week in July.
 Gen. Alger's checks went to the various charitable institutions of the state, as usual, at Christmas, $100 being the figure in most cases.
 Nellie Thatcher died Christmas, the sixth victim of the terrible affair at the Tilden school, Detroit.
 Gen. Clitz is legally dead—the court has admitted his will to probate.
 Ah; Mr. Stone, who ought to know, says that there is to be no change in the ownership or management of the Tribune—no Hooper.

The Erie railway company and the B. L. E. are "at outs" and a strike is looked for. It is not a question of pay but of a contract which the company asks the engineers to sign as a condition of continuing in its service.
 The visible supply of wheat as reported by the New York Produce Exchange last Saturday was 34,274,799 bushels.
 Mayor Cregier has bounced Geo. W. Hubbard, chief of Chicago police, but has put a good man, Capt. Fred. Marsh, late of the 46th Illinois, in his place.
Settlement Wanted.
 Persons having accounts with me are hereby urgently requested to call and settle the same not later than January 1, 1890.
 R. R. STERLING.
 ESCANABA, Dec. 27, 1889.

Pennsylvania coal mines shut down Jan 1, to wait better demand for coal.
 Blakeman and Atwood were rivals, the question being which should be the county seat of Rawlins Co., Kansas. Blakeman folks settled it by buying up Atwood and moving the houses to Blakeman.
 D. W. Millard, proprietor of the stove works at Manton, Wexford county, killed himself by a pistol shot Christmas day. Booz had him down.

WITH THIS ISSUE of the Gladstone Express a change is made in proprietorship. Its founder and former owner, Phil. J. McKenna, of Escanaba, finding it too much of a burden to conduct in connection with the Escanaba Mirror, sold it on Tuesday last to the Gladstone Publishing Co. It will remain under the same management as heretofore, however, and will be stocked up in all departments, thus enabling it to compete in every way with any office in the county. Believing that the change is for the best interests of the city and county at large, it is left to its patrons and the public to judge.—Express, Gladstone.
