MICHIGAN'S ROOSEVELT.

The Benton Harbor Banner Register in a recent issue refers to Chase S. Osborn, candidate for governor as "Michigan's Roosevelt." The phrase is aptly and appropriately used.

No man can follow Chase Osborn for a day either in the city or in the woods and fail to recognize the striking similarities of these two disciples of the strenuous life.

When Roosevelt tired of fame, urban life he went into the Bad Land of the west and bought a cattle ranch. When Osborn left civilization behind him, he threw a pack on his back and with a prospector's pick he disappeared in the Canadian wilderness and found a new mineral range.

Both men possess the power to sway public opinion by vigorous speech. This power is derived not so much from eloquence as from the evident earnestness and homely honesty which lives behind the words.

It is perhaps in their method of thought and expression that the greatest resemblance may be found. Both men are fearless in language, forceful to a degree in the expression of their views, both instinctively emphasize most fundamental virtues and both prize their political independence above all price.

When an issue is to be met their nature is to meet it squarely. At a time when the country was aroused against the railroads, Roosevelt argued that they be permitted to pool rates under proper restrictions.

UNCLE JOE AND THE PRESS.

They say Uncle Joe Cannon was overcome with the heat at the Winona Chautauqua, but the act is he was suffering an unusually acute attack of his old ailment, typhoid, but previous to his collapse, these attacks are becoming alarmingly frequent with the aged gentleman.

Uncle Joe doesn't believe it. If he believed it of course it wouldn't bother him so much. After he has cast the press into the waste paper heap, saying to himself, "There, that's done for," he returns to it again and again to see if it is still dead, and it worries him so much that he must needs stiffen his own faith by going out and shouting it.

The press has been spoken of as the molder of public opinion. That is only a half statement—it is also the recorder of public opinion. If you see discontent seeping out through the columns of the newspapers you may make up your mind that there is considerable of it lying about amongst the mass of the people.

cannot bring himself to believe that the country has seen through him at last. After several decades of public life, during which the people laughed at his odd profanity and regarded him as a sort of farmer-stateman, he cannot realize that on closer view of him he has lost considerable prestige.

EDITORIAL PARAGRAPHS.

"The Right to Be Idle" is the subject of a French economist's latest book. That's all very well, but is he ready to fight for it?

Mr. Taft's refusal to write state platforms is an admirable instance of prudential abstinence from meddling with fire.

John Gottfried Galle, the discover of Neptune, is dead in Potsdam. But what's that got to do with the league standings?

Mr. Roosevelt would bar the fight pictures. He never was much of a man for picture fights, anyway.

With Gov. Harmon and Mayor Gaynor doing things, democracy has at least the nucleus for new life.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Bernard Shaw says he cannot see anything great about Roosevelt. Score another tally for T. R.—Cleveland Leader.

Speaker Cannon is on the Kansas chautauqua circuit, which indicates that the Kansas insurgent crop will be large this year.—Chicago News.

It used to be "as easy as rolling off a log," but since it became easier they compare it to falling out of an airship.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Dr. Crippen, the dentist, for whom London has asked all nations to be on the lookout, may yet fill a cavity in a prison.—St. Louis Times.

As New York will see the fight pictures, the rest of the country will observe closely the extent to which that city's morals become corrupted.—Baltimore American.

STATE POLITICS.

If politicians weigh more than other folks, the section of Michigan in and around Grand Rapids will be perceptibly tilted for a few days; because most all of the state clans are coming in that direction, says the Grand Rapids Herald.

Congressman Charles E. Townsend, candidate for United States senator, reached Grand Rapids bright and early Monday morning and immediately jumped for Newaygo county. He spoke at Grant at 9 a. m. and then proceeded to Newaygo and White Cloud, holding a noon meeting at Fremont.

In the afternoon he went over into Muskegon county and was there in the evening, speaking at Muskegon.

Meanwhile, another whirlwind will hit Newaygo from the other direction, when Chase S. Osborn, candidate for governor, moves into Grant at 9:46 and proceeds from there to Newaygo, White Cloud and Hesperia, with an evening meeting at Fremont.

Then Senator Burrows, campaigning to succeed himself in the upper house, moved out of Grand Rapids—where he spent the day yesterday—and started on a three days' tour.

Among the candidates this year for the Republican nomination for governor is a man, who is without doubt the most promising in the state of Michigan aspiring to that high honor. Chase S. Osborn combines the qualities that have marked some of the best chief executives of the state.

MAN ESCAPES HEAT; IS FROZEN TO DEATH

Newark, N. J., July 21.—Frozen to death in mid July with the temperature hovering about 90 degrees was the fate yesterday of Paul Sorrente, an employe of an iron foundry at Floronce, N. J. Mr. Sorrente was overcome by the intense heat of his work and a physician advised placing ice about his head.

Friends took the advice too literally and placed large cakes of ice about his head, neck and limbs. Becoming alarmed a few hours later, the young man's family recalled the physician, who discovered that his patient had been dead some time. Examination showed that too much ice had actually frozen the man to death.

ALONE, SHE BEATS OFF ARMED HIGHWAYMAN

Grand Haven, Mich., July 21.—Using a horsewhip as the only weapon of defense Miss Grace Schiller, 18, fought off an unidentified man, who held her up in the highway while she was driving from her home, a mile and a half, into town Sunday night. She eluded capture when the man, with a revolver in each hand, fired two shots in her direction, none of which took effect. Miss Schiller then fainted.

Two young men who were coming from High Banks saw her and brought her into town, where restoratives were applied, and she soon recovered. She is unable to furnish the officers with a description of her assailant.

VOLIVA TAKES FORMAL POSSESSION OF ZION

Chicago, July 21.—Silver coins and bills a foot and a half deep were thrown into a tri-colored barrel placed before the pulpit of Zion City tabernacle yesterday by the followers of Wilbur Glenn Voliva, general overseer of the Christian Catholic Apostolic Church of Zion and successor to John Alexander Dowie, who marched over the north shore city and took formal possession of the buildings which last week again came into their control through the action of the federal court in dissolving the receivership.

It was like a revival of the old days of Dowie. The call for the free-will offering preceded the march about the city and thousands of men, women and children filed past the tri-colored barrel in front of the pulpit and cast therein their offerings, ranging from five-cent pieces to $20 bills. The Zion bank took its place at the head of the column that formed outside of the tabernacle to march through the town. After the band came Overseer Voliva and the elders of the church, and behind these came the hundreds who compose the "white-robed choir."

These in turn were followed by the "junior" seventies, the "intermediate" seventies and the "senior" seventies. Those who were too old to stand the three-mile walk were allowed to ride in omnibuses.

CARE OF THE HANDS.

The hardest, roughest hands may be soft and white in a month or two with the proper care. Rain water is considered best for washing them, but a little borax added to hard water will counteract its effects and make it just as good. If you are undecided as to a good malt tonic, a trial of golden grain belt beer will convince you of its healthful and nourishing qualities. Order of your nearest dealer.

MISS DOYLE IS HONORED

Miss Mary Agnes Doyle, the reader of Marinette, who is well known here, returned late Saturday afternoon from New York City, where she went to meet, by appointment, Winthrop Ames, the director of the New Theater in that city. The result of the meeting is that Miss Doyle is to become a member of the New Theater Company of New York. The leading people of New York are interested in this venture, having expended an enormous sum upon the building and much money also in procuring naught but the best talent for the theater with a view of educating the people to appreciate the choicest work in the theatrical sphere regardless of the monetary side of the question. That Miss Doyle is to be admitted as a member of the company is a signal honor and will cause universal pleasure among her many friends to learn that her ability has been thus recognized by so high an authority as Mr. Ames.

Miss Doyle is busy at present with the details of the recital which the Chautauqua management requested her to give in this city at the auditorium the evening of Wednesday, July 27. Upon this occasion she will read Mrs. Frances Hodson Burnette's story of "The Dawn of Tomorrow" and in addition to this masterpiece will give dialect selections, including the "Doolley" stories for which she is famous. Prof. Alex Enna, the tenor, and Miss Marie Louise Nadeau, pianist, will be among the local artists who will assist Miss Doyle in the recital the coming week. Later during the summer, in the latter part of August, Miss Doyle has Chautauqua engagements in southern Illinois.

Teething children have more or less diarrhoea, which can be controlled by giving Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. All that is necessary is to give the prescribed dose after each operation of the bowels more than natural and then castor oil to cleanse the system. It is safe and sure. Sold by all druggists.

WILL SAY "HELLO" ENGLAND TO U. S.

New York, July 21.—Telephonic communication between England and America may soon be a possibility if a new experimental submarine cable recently laid across the English channel by the British postoffice answers expectations. The cable extends from Dover to Cape Gris Nez and is the first of the kind to be laid in tidal waters.

According to reports received by American telephone officials, the tests so far made have given very satisfactory results, and it is expected that the cable will be opened for public use between London and Paris as soon as the French government has completed the connecting land lines.

Government reports declare that the tests made lead to the belief that they will revolutionize telephonic communication between England and the continent of Europe and as improvements are effected, will bring spoken communication between London and New York within the bounds of possibilities.

COMMENTS OF THE STATE PRESS

It rather makes one smile to see a man who has been identified with some of the "deals" as has Wm. H. Anderson, of Grand Rapids, to set himself up as a critic and state that Mr. Osborn cannot be governor because he is interested in the mines. Yes, but the only mine Mr. Osborn owns an interest in is located in Canada. How will that war his judgment? Mr. Anderson's candidate has all his life been connected with a trust handling commodities such as the necessities of life—and it is such combinations as this that the federal authorities are now bringing suits against Mr. Anderson should go away back and sit down.

BARK RIVER HOME HIT BY LIGHTNING

EAU CLAIRE HAS A CHURCH WAR

Eau Claire, Wis., July 21.—A tense situation exists between two factions of the Trinity Getman Lutheran church, both factions contending for the possession of the church and parsonage. The church is under constant guard, day and night by members of one faction so that the other side which was dispossessed of the church two weeks ago Sunday, will not get possession of it.

The Rev. Fuhrman held services at the church up to two weeks ago Sunday. The Rev. H. Voltz had been assigned to take charge of the church by the synod officers and early Sunday morning, July 3, the new pastor and a number of the members of the anti-Fuhrman faction marched to the church and took possession, the janitor, a member of the other faction, being put out in the street.

THE CHAOS OF DESEASE

Health and strength beget a careless attitude. Sometimes a lack of sympathy will creep into the nature of the man or woman who continually en joys good health. These people sometimes forget how short is the road from health to sickness, how narrow the boundary between strength and weakness. This message is not to the strong. It is to those who have suffered, however long, or hopelessly, to those who have wasted under the blight of needless disease, whose strength has been manacled and upon whom affliction has laid a heavy hand.

Why Life Was a Burden to Him
