

MARQUETTE AFTER PLACE

THIRD HOLDER IN PERCENTAGE COLUMN WILL ATTEMPT TO OUST ESCANABA NOW.

But two games behind Escanaba and prepared to fight desperately for second place in the Marquette-Delta County League, the Marquette players will arrive in Escanaba tomorrow morning for a series of two games.

The Marquette squad is now going at top speed and it remains to be determined whether the locals have recovered their early season form and are prepared to give the visitors a set back that will seriously crimp their pennant hopes. The locals believe now that all possible errors are out of their systems and that they are prepared to come back with a vengeance and demonstrate to the other teams of the league that the present lineup is of real pennant winning caliber.

It is known positively that if the players in the present lineup can show anything approaching their real form, Marquette will be proven a victim in both games.

The workouts of the past two days has shown a wonderful improvement with the locals and they will go into the games against Marquette determined to put the "jinks," that has persistently pursued them to flight, and score a win in both games.

NEW UMPES DELAYED

Word was received by Dr. R. E. Hodson, manager of the Escanaba baseball club, yesterday, that E. Brichter of Bay City, who was recommended to the local league by N. Nelson who umpired here last season, will be unable to report here before early in next week. It is expected that the new umpires will be on hand for the games against Port Washington on Tuesday and Wednesday while for Saturday and Sunday games either C. C. Hamilton of Rapid River or A. L. Connelly, who is visiting here, will officiate in the two games.

ESCANABA PEOPLE WILL ATTEND THE SHOW AT GLADSTONE

It is expected that a number of Escanaba people will go to Gladstone this evening to attend the production of "The Talk of the Town," by a big Gladstone cast of people. The play was recently presented by an Escanaba cast and proved to be most enjoyable for two audiences that packed the local theater. The play is being given at Gladstone for the benefit of the business men's committee, arranging the big two days Labor Day celebration and it is expected that a snug sum will be realized from the undertaking.

WELLINGTONS TO MARCH ON IRON RIVER SUNDAY

The Wellington baseball team of Escanaba is scheduled to go to Iron River on Sunday to clash with the team of that city in a game on Sunday afternoon. The Wellingtons is made up of such old time stars as Chris Buckley, Mike Walsh, Nick Walsh, William Matt and other players who have been stars of the game here for years. Freddie Hirm, formerly a member of the city league team, will accompany the Wellingtons to Iron River and will play short stop with Iron River in the game against the locals.

J. H. Will, agent for the National Cash Register company was transacting business in Masonville yesterday.

FORMER DELTA COUNTY MAN IS BROUGHT HERE

In charge of T. D. Wheeler, an attendant at the Winebago insane asylum of Wisconsin, Tony Marabiel, formerly a resident of North Escanaba was brought to the city yesterday and turned over to Sheriff T. J. Curran.

The insane man will be taken to the Newberry hospital for the insane on Saturday morning and the cost of his maintenance there will be charged against Delta county.

COLE OUT WITH TEAM

Glenn Cole, the former Rapid River and Lansing catcher, joined the Escanaba baseball team yesterday for a tryout for the catcher's position made vacant by the resignation of Atty. Loel.

Cole arrived in the city yesterday morning and was out with the team for a workout yesterday afternoon, showing all of his old time pep and infusing more life in the team than has been engendered since the squad struck its recent slump. Unless other arrangements are made Cole will probably work behind the bat in the games against Marquette tomorrow and Sunday. He is recognized as one of the best backstops ever to don a mask in this district but for some unknown reason his stick work has slumped this season. Last season he was regarded as one of the heaviest clouters in the Delta county league and if he can come back with the hickory the Rapid River lad is bound to prove a valuable addition to the team.

LAYMEN WILL HOLD ANNUAL MEETING HERE

Members of the Laymen's Union of the Methodist Episcopal church of Delta county will hold their second annual meeting and banquet at the Swedish Methodist church of this city on Tuesday evening of next week.

Officers of the union are to be chosen for the coming year in addition to other business matters an enjoyable banquet and program of toasts will be carried out.

The banquet is to be served at 6:45 o'clock and will be followed by toasts, the following being the subjects that have been assigned:

The Relation of the Layman to the Minister; the Relation of the Church to Reform; and a discussion of Some of the Things That the Next General Conference Should Do.

It is expected that Methodists from all parts of the county will be in attendance and it is desired that all of those who intend to attend shall notify either Mr. Spence, Atty. A. H. Ryall or Rev. Pearson of the Swedish Methodist church.

IT JUST RAINED 5 DOLLAR BILLS

Cleveland, O., Aug. 10.—A physical mishap to Thomas Laws, aged 76, a wealthy mine and land owner of San-Cruz, California, together with his horror of having any one do anything for him gratis, was the means of enriching a number of Clevelanders.

As Laws stepped from a train at the passenger station late last night he sprained his ankle. To passengers who assisted him, he dispensed five dollar bills. A man who telephoned for an ambulance was similarly rewarded, as was the porter who brought him a glass of water.

Soon the aged man was surrounded by a crowd of men eager to offer any assistance. Each member of the crew of the ambulance that took him to the hospital was given five dollars. At the hospital $2,500 in bills was found in Law's pockets.

ARENSONS SUPERINTEND

FIRM OF CONTRACTORS ENGAGED TO DIRECT WORK ON THE BIG DEPARTMENT STORE BUILDING.

Arenson Brothers have been engaged by Kratze Brothers to superintend the work of constructing the monster department store building which is to be erected at the corner of Ludington and Jennie streets. The finishing touches are now being given to the excavation work for the basement and actual work on the building of the west wall of the store building is to be started on Monday of next week.

Arenson Brothers will have charge of the labor employed on the building, being paid a stated sum for that service and all bills for labor and material will be paid by Kratze Brothers.

YOUNG PEOPLE ATTEND PARTY

Benjamin Gibbs entertained a party of 20 young people at his home at 617 South Jennie street on Wednesday evening in celebration of his twentieth birthday anniversary. Games and music made up a delightful program for the evening after which refreshments were served.

AUSTRIANS ARE BROUGHT TO COURT FOR KEEPING PIGS

Three Austrians, who insisted on keeping pigs about their premises at North Escanaba, were arrested yesterday upon complaint of Health Officer H. W. Long. All were released after paying the costs of the case and giving a solemn promise to the court that they would have the pigs removed within three days. The defendants arrested were: Frank Simlich, Thomas Galich and Micheal Gerabald. The latter two readily agreed to dispose of their pigs within the time limit while the first refused until a commitment had been issued for his imprisonment for 20 days, when he suddenly relented and agreed to the same terms as his companions.

SEES CHICAGO AFTER 63 YEARS' ABSENCE

Chicago, Aug. 10.—"Give me the same room I had when I was here before, I think it was near No. 14," said Andrew Anderson, 81 years old, of South Bend, Ind., to the clerk at a downtown hotel last night.

"Gee," replied the clerk, "that must have been before my time." When were you here last Mr. Anderson?"

"In the spring of 1848 I rode to Chicago from our Indiana town, on horseback and this is my first visit here since."

"The Sherman house stood right here and I got a good room, two tall candles and plenty of cover. I'm glad to be here again, but I guess it's for the last time."

GLADSTONE PROM WELL ATTENDED

A large number of Escanaba people attended the promenade at Gladstone last night in spite of the signs of bad weather. The party was held in the opera house, the music being furnished by Olson's orchestra. The crowd from this city returned late last night on the last car and expressed themselves as having enjoyed a most pleasant evening.

CANTLIN LAID UP WITH SORE EYE OBTAINED IN PLAY

While playing with his babe at his home a week ago Ralph Cantlin allowed the little fellow to knock his glasses from his face. One of the lens struck the eyeball but at first the injury did not give Mr. Cantlin any trouble. Yesterday Mr. Cantlin suddenly became troubled with the eye and upon visiting a specialist found that he will be forced to give the eye a rest for several days until a slight gash in the ball has been healed.

MAGNATE IN CITY

In a big seven passenger Peerless auto, Edmund Archambault of Minneapolis, half owner of the Minneapolis baseball club of the American Association, visited Escanaba yesterday with a party of Peahigo friends.

Mr. Archambault is a former Peahigo lad and is now visiting at his old home.

Those with Mr. Archambault in the auto party were D. Gervais, Gust. Archambault, M. Archambault, Joseph Deroche and S. Barrett.

PEPIN BACK ON THE JOB

After being confined to his home for a week City Clerk Albert Pepin is able again to be at his office. The city clerk has been suffering from boils that formed on the stumps of his limbs, making it impossible for him to wear his artificial legs. Yesterday he was able to wear one of the legs but until the other limb heals he will be forced to go about with the aid of crutches.

STREET SWEEPERS ARE BACK ON THE JOB ONCE MORE

Street sweepers employed on Ludington, who quit work because they claimed that the new sweeper carts, recently purchased by the city, were too heavy, are gradually returning to their jobs.

In spite of the firm stand taken by the first of the sweepers following the first disturbance, several of the old men have reported for duty and new men have been hired to take the places of the holdouts.

The entire street was manned yesterday by sweepers and the white wings, who thought by their quitting that the entire street would go unswept, are doomed to a severe disappointment as Commissioner Holmes is well satisfied with his present force and will be unable to take the old men back when they relent.

SAGES "SHIELD" DIES PENNILESS

New York, Aug. 10.—William R. Laidlaw, who was maimed for life when he was struck by a bomb hurled at the late Russell Sage, died today at the home for incurables, the Bronx. Laidlaw always asserted that when the missile was hurled Sage took hold of him and used him as a shield. He brought several suits against Sage and on one occasion was given a verdict of $40,000, which was reversed.

During the last few years of his life Laidlaw was penniless and was supported by his sisters.

F. A. Emsley has returned to Milwaukee after a short business visit here.

CHINAMAN GETS DEED

FIRST CELESTIAL EVER TO OWN PROPERTY IN DELTA COUNTY FILES HIS DEED.

The first deed ever filed for record by a Chinaman in Delta county was that presented yesterday for recording to Registrar of Deeds C. W. Malloch by Charles Fong, who conducts a laundry on upper Ludington street. In 1908 Fong purchased a house and lot from Peter Hirm on a contract and has now completed his payments on the property. The formal deed is now filed for record and thus official notice is given of the first Celestial to actually own real estate in this county.

APPLICANTS ARE HERE

A total of 42 applicants for teachers' certificates are taking part in the annual August teachers' examination for Delta county at the court house here. The examination opened yesterday morning and the tests will be completed this afternoon.

Of the total number taking the tests 18 are applicants for second grade certificates and the remainder are seeking third grade permits to teach school in the country districts of the

RAPID RIVER TEAMS PLAY A FINE GAME

In an exciting game yesterday the Rapid River businessmen defeated the Colts of that city by a score of 11 to 6. L. E. Scott, playing in right field for the businessmen's team, was the star of the contest winning the title of the Ty Cobb of the Rapid River aggregation when he made several sensational catches and by brilliant base running, stole second, third and home in a single inning. Dempsey, who played the second sack for the businessmen distinguished himself by stopping a hot grounder by falling on the ground and putting the batter out at first by throwing from a lying position. The game was full of exciting incidents and was witnessed by practically the entire population of Rapid River.

BOY SCOUTS WILL HIKE ON TUESDAY

The Escanaba troop of Boy Scouts will undertake another "hike" Tuesday to Wells, where they will be the guests of R. E. McLean.

The scouts are requested to notify Scout Master Spence, not later than Monday, whether or not they will be on hand for the trip.

The line of march will leave the First M. E. Church Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock and will proceed directly to Wells where they will be taken in charge by Mr. McLean, who will show them all the points of interest about the mills. He will be the host at a dinner party after which the start home will be made.

GOOD GAME IS TO BE PLAYED SUNDAY

The machinists team of the Chicago and North Western base ball league will clash with a team from the Fond du Lac House on Sunday at the Yellow diamond. Kehoe and Levits will be the batteries for the Fond du Lac House while Christenson and Grosnick will do the heavy work for the machinists. A good game is expected.

NEGAUNEE AND MARQUETTE DID NOT PLAY BALL

Because of the unfavorable weather conditions that prevailed yesterday the Marquette and Negaunee teams of the Marquette-Delta county league did not play off the postponed game that was scheduled for the afternoon. Unsatisfactory weather conditions have now twice made necessary the postponement of the game and when the contest will be scheduled again, has not yet been decided.

MAN DIES SUDDENLY

After arriving in the city on Wednesday evening from a camp of the I. Stephenson Company where he had been employed as a cook, Moses Tessier suddenly became ill at the boarding house of C. DeVost early yesterday morning and died before a physician could be summoned. Mr. Tessier had been ill in camp for the past two weeks suffering from an affection of the heart. He came down on Wednesday night but refused to consult a physician. He was ill when he arrived here and a friend remained with him until 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning when he said he was feeling easy. No further attention was paid to the sick man until after 9 o'clock yesterday morning when a man went to his room and found the patient gasping for breath.

Dr. P. C. Dube was immediately notified but before he could reach the place the patient had passed away.

As coroner, Dr. Dube made a careful examination of the case and found that death had been due to natural causes.

In addition to the chronic affection of the heart he had suffered from congestion of the lungs which was the primary cause of death.

The body was removed to the undertaking rooms of J. A. Allo where it will remain until the funeral is held.

He was 55 years of age and is survived by two sisters and one brother. A sister at Cheboygan, Mich., was notified yesterday and responded that she was unable to offer assistance and that the county would be forced to stand the expense of the funeral.

A brother, living in Colorado, has also been notified and the body will be kept at the undertaking parlors until some word is received from him.

TROLLEY RIDE IS SCHEDULED FOR TONIGHT

Through an error yesterday morning it was stated that a trolley excursion would be conducted to Gladstone last night by members of the Escanaba City Band when in fact the excursion is to be conducted this evening from Gladstone to this city.

Members of the band will furnish a program for the pleasure seekers both on the trip to this city and returning and with fair weather conditions prevailing it is expected that a large number of people will take part in the outing.

PRETTY PARTY WAS HELD WEDNESDAY

Miss Marje Brunell entertained a company of young friends Wednesday evening at her home at 615 Mary St. in honor of her fourteenth birthday.

After many games and a marshmallow toast a delightful luncheon was served.

Those who attended were: Irene Cyr, Stella Walker, Alice Dupont, Eva Godin, Rosella Younger, Julia Whybrow, Bernice Ferguson, Theresa Bink, Rosella Olson, Helen Brynell, William Soper, George Walker, Winann Lortis, Lawrence Klein, Michael Feller, Fred Soper, Harold Grosse, Edward Brunell.

START WORK ON PLANT

FOUNDATIONS ARE BEING LAID FOR BIG IRON FURNACE AT THE CHEMICAL PLANT LOCATION.

Work has been started at the Chemical location on the construction of the Stephenson Charcoal Iron company's plant by a big crew of men. The work is to be pushed forward as rapidly as possible that the plant may be ready for placing in commission early in the coming winter.

The foundations of the buildings are being constructed of concrete while the upper works will be of brick. The concrete work is being carried forward by Contractor Fred Laforest of Ishpeming and it is likely that he will also be given the contract for the brick work on all of the buildings.

The furnace proper is to be located close to the present chemical plant while the stockhouse for the charcoal and ore will be located on the site formerly occupied by the big boarding house. The boarding house has been moved across the tracks westward to a new position, which is well removed from the position of the two big plants

BANQUET WAS GIVEN

Members of the Alpha Club, of St. Joseph's church, last night entertained the members of the Society Chorus who took part in the recent production of "Talk of the Town" under the auspices of the club, at the Peterson opera house. The chorus members were entertained at a banquet last night at the Alpha club rooms and a delightful evening was passed at the quarters by all of the guests. It is the intention of the Alpha club members to entertain those who assisted in making the undertaking an immense success, in small companies, it being believed that in that way all of the cast can be shown that the club appreciated their efforts.

MEN BREAK RULE AND ARRESTS TO FOLLOW AT WELLS

Because some of the employees of the I. Stephenson Company at Wells attempted to break a rule recently established by the company that all of the men should form in line to receive their pay envelopes last night, one man attacked Deputy Sheriff Edward Thompson when an effort was made to restore order in the line. The man who, it is alleged attacked the officer, is Charles Beauchamp and a warrant for his arrest was issued last night. It is claimed that in spite of the company's order some of the men refused to fall in line to pass in front of the cashier's window and in attempting to restore order in the melee it is asserted that Officer Thompson was hit by Beauchamp.

TIP TOPS ARE TO CRASH WITH RAPID RIVER TEAM

Members of the Tip Top base ball team will go to Rapid River on Sunday to clash with the crack aggregation of that place. Last Sunday Rapid River played the Alphas of Escanaba to a 13 inning tie and the game against the Tip Tops is being looked forward to as an equally as tight a game.

The game also will offer an opportunity to judge the relative strength of the Tip Tops and the Alphas of this city.

Jimmie Smith, the demon speed artist, will be in the box for the Tip Tops, while Boyle will be behind the bat.

OSBORN IS AMUSED

Houghton, Mich., Aug. 10.—Denouncing E. H. Gary's suggestion that the federal government assume control of prices, scoring "the radicals who are agitating to unsettle the governmental and commercial systems which the American people have developed," and bemoaning the restricted scope of his department, Secretary Charles Nagel of the department of commerce and labor Tuesday night precipitated a controversy and aroused the ire of Gov. Osborn, Republican executive of Michigan.

Secretary Nagel's address was delivered to an audience of 2000 persons at the quatercentennial reunion of the alumni of the Michigan College of Mines. At the conclusion of the address Gov. Osborn said:

"It is speeches such as Secretary Nagel has just made and others by Attorney General Wickersham that have kept President Taft apologizing ever since he assumed office."

Gov. Osborn's words, quoted above, bore especially upon Secretary Nagel's strictures upon the initiative and referendum. In regard to this reform Nagel had said:

"The reason most people like the idea is because they don't understand it. It has a pleasing mystery about it. But this change would accomplish no real reform; its real result would be to make it easier for the boss. As to recalling judges, would it not be better to provide that no decision should be announced as such until it is submitted to the public? Then they could recall the judge before the term was done. We might just as well abolish the courts altogether."

In his disapproval of E. H. Gary's plan to have the government fix prices Mr. Nagel expressed considerable distrust of the financier's motives.

"E. H. Gary says he would have the government fix prices," he said. "Yes and when the government runs the whole business, Gary will try to run the government," he concluded.

TAFT WILL ATTEND LIFE SAVING SHOW

Washington, Aug. 10.—In the line with its efforts to reduce the number of deaths in the coal mines of the United States the bureau of mines will hold a national miners' life-saving demonstration on Saturday, September 16, in Arsenal Park, Pittsburgh, Pa.

President Taft, Secretary of the Interior Fisher and Dr. Joseph A. Holmes, director of the bureau of mines, will attend and speak to the miners.

The bureau of mines will have the cooperation of the Pittsburg Coal Operators' association and the American Red Cross.

It is expected that between 20,000 and 30,000 miners will attend and that many of the important coal companies will send their trained first aid and rescue corps to take part in the exhibition.

Already a number of teams have entered and are in training for the event, which promises to be the most important gathering of miners ever assembled.

Arsenal Park is the site of the testing station of the bureau of mines and the experts of the bureau are busy arranging for a unique program. The arrangements for the first demonstration are in the hands of H. M. Wilson, engineer in charge of the bureau of mines, Pittsburg, Pa.; Major Charles Lynch, medical corps, U. S. A., in charge of the first aid department of the Red Cross, and Dr. M. E. Shields, of Scranton, Pa.

The first aid to the injured work will be one of the features of the entire day. The teams from the various coal mines will not contest, but will give exhibitions of their skill in bringing injured miners from the mines and binding the wounds and fractures. Many of these teams have been instructed in first aid by the surgeon of the American Red Cross and also by the rescue corps of the bureau of mines.

In addition to the exhibition by the first aid teams the miners will witness gas and coal dust explosions in miniature, which will be staged in the great explosive gallery of the bureau of mines.

In Arsenal Park there will also be a temporary gallery which will resemble a coal mine. This will be placed at the bottom of a natural amphitheater, giving a clear view to thousands of persons.

There will be a gas explosion in this play mine; miners will be entombed and one of the government rescue corps in oxygen helmets will enter and save the men. One side of the miniature mine will be open its entire length in order that the on-lookers may witness everything that happens in an underground horror except the loss of life.

The famous oxygen helmets that members of the rescue corps of the bureau wear and which have been instrumental in saving a number of lives will be on exhibition and explained to the miners.

The oxygen reviving apparatus which automatically takes the poisonous gases from the lungs of an asphyxiated miner and fills them with oxygen will also be demonstrated. This apparatus has already brought back to consciousness a number of miners given up as dead.

A well known Des Moines woman after suffering miserably for two days from bowel complaint, was cured by one dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by Gross Drug Store and Farrell and Lohmiller.

PRESENTS TOTAL A MILLION

Many Costly Gifts, Are Lavished on Denver Bride of New York Society Man.

Denver, Colo.—Florence Sheedy, youngest daughter of Dennis Sheedy, millionaire mine owner and merchant, of Denver, recently became the bride of I. Townsend Burden, of New York. No wedding in Denver in years has attracted as much attention as this ceremony. The bridal gifts, which came from all over the world, aggregated in value $1,000,000.

Glittering baubles by hundreds lay on tables in the drawing room of the Sheedy mansion. Outside a force of Pinkerton detectives kept watch. In the rooms of the big house, mingled with the guests, were more detectives and men from a safety vault company in New York, who were to transport the gifts to Manhattan. Following is a partial list of the gifts:

- Pair tortoise shell opera glasses, studded with diamonds, $5,000.
- Onyx clock and candlesticks trimmed with solid gold, $1,500.
- Solid gold instandant with diamond clasp, $2,500.
- Complete silver table service from the I. T. Burdens, $35,000.
- Two dozen butter plates, $200.
- Four solid gold candlesticks, $500.
- Two solid gold candelabra, $250.
- Solid gold after-dinner coffee set, $500.
- Silver salad bowl, $100.
- Two solid silver compotiers, $500.
- Check from Dennis Sheedy, $100,000.
- String of pearls from mother and father of bride, $50,000.
- Foreign touring car from father of bride, $10,000.
- Two dozen Dresden plates, $500.
- Silver tea service, $500.
- Silver tray, $250.

PIGEON CAMERA THE LATEST

Instrument Attached to Breast of the Bird Takes Pictures While Lat-ter is in Flight.

Berlin.—The pigeon camera is the latest. Dr. Neubronner is a German specialist who has a sanitarium a few miles from his home. Several months ago he obtained a number of carrier pigeons by the use of which he was able to carry on communications between the house and the office. With the coming of the warm weather some of his messengers "played hooky," the messages were undelivered and, try as hard as he would, the doctor was unable to find out where the birds passed their idle moments. Then he invented a small and delicate photographic apparatus which he places beneath the bird's stomach, fastened to the body by means of a thin band beneath the wings. Attached to it is a rubber bulb which empties and fills with air automatically. The breeze sets the camera to work and the bird unconsciously takes eight snapshots in an hour's flight.

The pictures are capable of enlargement and the finished photographs afford telltale evidence against the truant messengers.

Solves Stonehenge Riddle.
Boston.—Prof. Richard Norton of Harvard, according to reports that have reached here from Cyrene, Grecian Libya, has made discoveries that may solve the mystery of Stonehenge, the ruins on Salisbury plain, England. Prof. Norton, it is said, soon will announce the result of the excavation by the American archaeological expedition of the Greek city Cyrene, which was founded B. C. 631.

Lightning Restores Lost Sense.
New Orleans.—After being absolutely speechless for two years as a result of a long sickness, Miss Jessie Flahel instantly recovered her speech through fear, caused by a vivid flash of lightning and a loud peal of thunder.

TO MEND GOWN OF MISS LIBERTY

New York, Aug. 10.—Miss Liberty, who supervises New York harbor, is going to have the rips in her dress "sewed" up if the War Department can induce Congress to make an appropriation next winter to pay for the work.

Miss Liberty's gown is battered and frayed and lets in new light through chinks which time has made. The quartermaster, Lieut. Jones, stationed at Fort Wood, promptly notified the Department at Washington, and now comes the cheering news that the War Department is to have a special examination made to determine the extent of the damage.

The perforations are still very small the largest not much larger than a penny, but in thin spots on the plates of the gown the bronze is nearly worn through. The War Department will determine what repairs are needed, and will then ask congress for an appropriation.

The method of repair will probably be to remove those plates in which there are most perforations of those that have been worn thinnest by the elements.

These can be used as patterns for new plates, because every plate, on its interior, corresponds exactly to the exterior. What is convex on the outside is concave on the interior, and vice versa.

There are about 300 sections in the statue, but they are so cleverly joined that it is impossible from the interior to detect the joinings.

There are only about 100 holes or so in the statue. These are scattered all the way up and down, but are principally in plates that are oblique or approaching the horizontal, so that part of Miss Liberty's jaw and cheek will have to be removed and made good, and part of her shoulder, and also part of her skirt.

It is possible that the upstretched arm also is beginning to wear through but it is not visible from the outside and visitors are not admitted inside.

As there is no prospect of the dress falling to pieces, and as the statue is said to be good for at least 100 years as it stands, it probably will be a year or two before the War Department begins the work of patching the gorgeous lady's frock.

"JURORETTES" FAIL TO REACH AN AGREEMENT

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 10.—Superior Judge Graham empanelled a jury of women in his court Tuesday to aid him in deciding who should be given custody of Mary Ellen Callahan, 4 years old, whose parents, Fabian and Catherine Callahan, are divorced and both of whom seek the custody of the child. The result was a woeful disappointment to the judge.

Judge Graham, before hearing testimony in the case, invited twelve women in the courtroom in the jury box, saying he believed they could aid him in making his decision. After the testimony, he asked for their opinions. The "jurorettes" expressed unfettered opinions of each other.

When Judge Graham could make himself heard, he declared that he feared the jury had been "packed" by both the parents and that the jury was therefore dismissed. Mary Ellen was given into custody of the convent of Notre Dame pending further orders of the court.

LORIMER INQUIRY IS CLOSED FOR AWHILE

Washington, Aug. 10.—After concluding the testimony today of former State Senator D. W. Holstlaw, the self accused bribe-taker is the Lorimer election, the senate Lorimer committee took a two months recess. The committee will convene in Chicago Oct. 10, instead of in Washington.

The transfer of the field of inquiry was marked by the departure today for Chicago of Senator Lorimer and his counsel, Elbridge G. Hancey. After a two weeks' rest, Attorneys J. H. Marble and J. J. Healy, representing the committee, will go to Chicago to prepare for the autumn hearing.

What is regarded as the ground work of the inquiry has been completed. The evidence to be heard henceforward, it is expected, will be either in substantiation or in refutation of testimony now in the hands of the committee. Lee O'Neil Browne, State's Attorney Wayman of Cook county, State's Attorney Burke of Sangamon county, John Broderick and Robt. J. Wilson will be important witnesses when the committee resumes its sessions, it is understood.

IN HARD LUCK.

First Tramp—So weary Willie is suffering from brain tag, is he? Second tramp—Sure 'ing. He hasn't ask for work no more cause he hasn't got brains enough ter think up some excuse for not taking it if he gets it.

Nothing Doing but Talk. The following is told of a federal official, formerly a senator of the United States from Kentucky.

In the days of his youth the Kentuckian was asked by a friend to second him in a duel. He consented, and at sunrise the parties met at the appointed place.

Now it was this Kentuckian's duty to say the last words touching the terms of the duel. But, although he faithfully performed this duty, the duel never took place.

A murmur of "Why not?" invariably goes round whenever this story is told, whereupon the answer is as follows:

"For a very simple reason. When Joe finished speaking it was too dark for a duel."—Chicago Journal.

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Peoria, Ill.—"I wish to let every one know what Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies have done for me. For two years I suffered. The doctors said I had tumors, and the only remedy was the surgeon's knife. My mother bought me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today I am a healthy woman. For months I suffered from inflammation and your Sanative Wash relieved me. Your Liver Pills have no equal as a cathartic. Any one wishing proof of what your medicines have done for me can get it from any druggist or by writing to me. You can use my testimonial in any way you wish, and I will be glad to answer letters."—Mrs. CHRISTINA REED, 105 Mount St., Peoria, Ill.

Another Operation Avoided. New Orleans, La.—"For years I suffered from severe female troubles. Finally I was confined to my bed and the doctor said an operation was necessary. I gave Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial first, and was saved from an operation."—Mrs. LILY PEYBOUX, 1111 Kerlerec St., New Orleans, La.

The great volume of unsolicited testimony constantly pouring in proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a remarkable remedy for those distressing feminine ills from which so many women suffer.

FASHIONS of the MOMENT

PARIS.—We have arrived at that period of the Paris season known as La Grande Semaine. All the most brilliant entertainments are being given at the present moment and on every side one finds the most costly and exquisite toilettes displayed. La Grande Semaine is really the herald of the end of the summer season in Paris, but then it is also the herald of the birth of another and equally important season, that of the chateau parties and of the fashionable seaside resorts.

I have seen some really lovely costumes lately, which were specially created for the "Grand Steeple," the race meeting which the Parisiennes call La Journée des Haies; and on looking at them in detail I was more than ever struck by the rapidity with which fashions and ruffles have crept into popular favor. On many of the very newest models we now find one or two fashions on the skirt but as yet these fashions are skimpy and so shaped that they fall into straight lines and outline the figure almost as accurately as a plain tight skirt might do. And for such dresses as these taffeta is a favorite material.

The skirt with the triple flounce is quaint in outline and very picturesque. The shaped fashions are mounted on a tight underskirt of thin silk or satin, and the top flounce is shaped to the figure like a tunic; in fact, the impression given is of a skirt arranged in three shapen tunics.

The other afternoon I saw a model of this order chez Worth and the material was ivory crepe de chine inset with Irish crochet of finest quality. The shaped fashions were slightly cut up in front and each one was bordered with a deep band of crochet which had been specially designed for the dress. There was a fish-like arrangement of Irish crochet over the shoulders, and underneath was a kimono blouse of crepe de chine. This blouse was bordered by bias bands of dark green velvet, and on the collar of the fine net gumpe a touch of dull orange was introduced. The sleeves were quite short, barely reaching to the elbows, and the hat made to accompany the costume was a Duchess of Devonshire shape in yellow tussan, which had lengths of black satin and dark green velvet ribbons passed over the low crown and tucked away under the hair at the back, while on the wide brim, lying rather flat, was a cluster of glorious yellow roses mixed with branches of white heather.

Worth is this season using a quantity of the finest embroidered muslins it is possible to conceive. A great deal of it comes direct to him from India, and for evening dresses he is employing long lengths of the famous Indian embroidery in gold and silver threads. This year the whole world seems to have become "quite English, you know!" The excitement over the coronation in London has made English fashions and English materials stylish in Paris and it is natural that the embroideries of India, as the laces of Ireland, should attract a good deal of attention.

Worth is always very much occupied with his royal clients, and quite lately he created a most delightful tea gown for the queen of England, in which Indian embroidery and Irish lace played an important part. The groundwork of the gown was ivory, white muslin and on the hem was a deep band of Limerick lace. The folded corsage was almost entirely composed of lace, but in front at the breast was some rich embroidery and the sleeves of the "angel" pattern, were of lace and net combined. A supple sash of pale heliotrope crepe de chine fringed in gold was wound round the waist and tied in a loose knot at the left side. This particular shade of heliotrope—which seems pink in certain lights—is a great favorite of the queen's, and she frequently selects it, especially for her afternoon and evening gowns.

A rarely lovely dinner gown, recently created in Paris for the same royal lady, was composed of palest rose mirror velvet with a side panel of diamond and seed pearl embroidery. There was a cloud-like drapery of deep-est mauve silk tulle falling over one side of the skirt and this drapery was embroidered and fringed in silver and crystal. The corsage was a glittering mass of embroidery, diamonds, seed pearls, silver threads and crystal beads and little wings of embroidered tulle formed the short sleeves.

Redfern has recently created some lovely models for a new piece as the Comedie Française which have made a sensation and which are being freely copied for the race meetings. One dress in particular has attracted general attention and it is worth while taking special notice of it, because it indicates a little innovation, which is likely to become very popular. The skirt of this dress was plain and very little fitting. In fact, it was quite like a sheath, but it was buttoned straight down the front, after the manner of a priest's cassock, opening at the hem to show an underdress of another color. The material of the dress in question was oyster white serge silk, and it opens over an underdress of dull blue linen. There was a smart little coatee of the blue linen, and this coatee was scalloped round the edge and piped with black satin. There was an empire sash of black tulle, finished off with heavy black tassels, and the collar of the coatee was very wide, with a single rever, in empire style, at the left side, both collar and rever being of white serge silk. There was an immense jabot of pure white tulle and the hat worn with this dress was in the Alfred Stevens style, of white rice straw with an abnormally high crown, which was literally covered with black and white aigrettes.

I have seen in Redfern's show rooms several costumes which showed little coates of a material and color different from the skirts and the general effect was excellent.

The tendency of the moment is to give much more material to the skirts; but then this material is so cleverly arranged that it falls about the figure and displays the outline. The softest and most supple materials are employed and the whole success of the robe depends on just how it is cut and how it is draped about the form. The general use of heavy fringes and tassels gives much aid to this style of dress-making. The supple materials are kept in place by the weights attached to them and by the fringes and tassels.

The Paisley-patterned nixon is delightful, but it needs the contrast—and relief—of a plain fabric, and so the sketch will show you how best this can be introduced, in the form of an apron tunic, which will look well in plain nixon in the same lovely shade of blue as the background of the patterned under-dress. Use as a lining throughout the palest pink Japanese silk, finishing this off at the foot with a transparency of lace, beaded, and bound with pale blue satin ribbon, as this arrangement will make it unnecessary to wear a separate petticoat, and so will make it unnecessary to wear a separate petticoat, and so will ensure a special and beautiful slenderness of outline for your figure. As for the outward trimming of the dress, this can be effectively completed by means of a little "tucker" and cuffs of mellow-toned net and lace while the always telling touch of black can be introduced by means of a tiny neck bow, and then a longed sash of either tulle or velvet ribbon, a second sash of blue satin just a tone or two darker than the nixon, being a wise provision, in case you wish to give variety to your gown. It will be pretty to have blue silk stockings and antelope shoes to match.—Idalia de Villiers in the Boston Globe.

Just a Bit in Doubt. "I don't altogether like the hens I'm keeping this year," the suburbanite said; "do you know anything about chicken raising?" "Not from my own experience," the city visitor answered, "but I have a cousin in Wyandot county who has made a great success in raising tufted Cumberlands—or else he lives in Cumberland county and raises tufted Wyandots. I always get that mixed up, somehow."

The Last Man's Last Grievance. The last man snorted. "Just my luck," he cried, "as soon as I get to be the only man the earth stops being a summer resort." Herewith he watched the globe shove up.

MAKE 2 WOMEN HAPPY

ONE KANSAS MAN TRIES IT AND FAILS MISERABLY.

Peter Sharp Weds Another, Believing First Dead—"Turns Up Alive" and He Tries to Live With Both.

Pittsburg, Kan.—That beautiful plan of Peter C. Sharp to keep his two wives with him under one roof on his farm has gone awry. His dream of bliss in his old age turns to a nightmare. He is over 70 years old and about 40 years ago, at the time of the great Chicago fire, he and his wife Anna Catharine, became separated. He supposed she had perished and several years afterward he took another wife, Cella, and settled on a farm near here. During all these years Anna Catharine has been searching for him. Two or three years ago she found him and his second wife living very happily.

There was a long family discussion. Each woman admitted that the other was blameless and each generously volunteered to disappear and leave the other in possession of the man. Finally Mr. Sharp plucked a rose and tucked it tenderly into Anna Catharine's hair. Then he plucked another and adorned Cella's hair in the same romantic manner. He said he loved both of them and couldn't think of parting with either.

So it was arranged that all three were to live in harmony under one roof.

But such a state of affairs could not last. The women quarreled. Mr. Sharp offered to build a separate house for one of them—either one, he didn't care which. They couldn't agree as to which was to live alone and the quarrel waxed more and more.

Finally Mr. Sharp took matters into his own hands and he is building two new cottages on his farm, separated by a high picket fence. Each wife is to have a home of her own and keep out of the other woman's home. For himself, he says he will live alone in the old house.

But he says he will eat his meals with each on alternate days, if they are good—the women as well as the meals.

SNAKE ON LINE; TALK STOPS

Reptile in Cable Box Crosses Wires and Trouble Hunters Work Three Days.

Elwood, Ind.—"Trouble hunters" on local telephone lines learned something when a party line was found to have been put out of business three days by a common blacksnake. The reptile had climbed a telephone pole and got into a cable box, where it had worked its way into a mesh of small copper wires.

The current killed the snake, but the same operation "crossed" dozens of telephones. Men worked three days to find the trouble.

It is said to be the first instance of a snake putting a telephone exchange out of commission. What induced the snake to enter the cable box and entwine itself in the copper wires is a mystery unless it was cold. The wires in resisting the current threw off heat, and this may have led the snake to choose its novel resting place.

Dog Deadheads 623 Miles.

San Antonio, Tex.—Three months ago George Fleming went from this city to El Paso, taking with him a small dog. Three weeks or more ago the dog was missed from the El Paso home and nothing was heard of the animal until it appeared in this city.

"It seems that the dog made friends with a number of railroad men in El Paso, and after a time concluded to return to his old home here. After riding out of El Paso on a freight train the animal was passed along from crew to crew and finally reached San Antonio, having deadheaded the entire distance, 623 miles.

Postage Stamp Kills a Girl.

Geneva, Switzerland.—A strange accident is reported from the village of Koblenz, in the canton of Argovie. A girl of seventeen was about to stamp a letter, and placed the stamp on her lips, when she coughed and swallowed the stamp, which choked her. A doctor was sent for at once, and on his arrival he found the girl dead.

Snakes Loose in a Hotel.

Cochitocton, O.—There was an exodus from the lobby of the Hotel Stanhope in this city when a snake charm: attached to a show, let two rattlesnakes get away while unpacking a trunk. Those standing near ran out of the hotel, as if a dynamite bomb had been discovered.

Horse in Cistern Seven Days.

Greensville, Ind.—After standing in four feet of water in an abandoned cistern for seven days without food, a horse, owned by Henry Meyers, ran from the place when released. The horse fell into the cistern, which is about ten feet deep, and was found there by children.

Mistake Snake for Root.

Ashley, Ill.—Charles Carrol, residing five miles northeast of here, was bitten by a copperhead snake. While ascending a hill on a hunt, he slipped and grasped what he thought was a root of a tree. It was a copperhead snake, and the reptile buried its fangs in his right hand.

BABY'S HAIR ALL CAME OUT

"When my first baby was six months old he broke out on his head with little bumps. They would dry up and leave a scale. Then it would break out again and it spread all over his head. All the hair came out and his head was scaly all over. Then his face broke out all over in red bumps and it kept spreading until it was on his hands and arms. I bought several boxes of ointment, gave him blood medicine, and had two doctors to treat him, but he got worse all the time. He had it about six months when a friend told me about Cuticura. I sent and got a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment. In three days after using them he began to improve. He began to take long naps and to stop scratching his head. After taking two bottles of Resolvent, two boxes of Ointment and three cakes of Soap he was sound and well, and never had any breaking out of any kind. His hair came out in little curls all over his head. I don't think anything else would have cured him except Cuticura.

"I have bought Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Soap several times since to use for cuts and sores and have never known them to fail to cure what I put them on. Cuticura Soap is the best that I have ever used for toilet purposes." (Signed) Mrs. F. E. Harmon, R. F. D. 2, Atoka, Tenn., Sept. 10, 1910. Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere, a sample of each, with 32-page book, will be mailed free on application to "Cuticura," Dept. 16 L, Boston.

His Criticism. An old man stood on the street corner in Cherrivale when the trolley stopped and let off a woman passenger. She had on a linen dress, a Panama hat, champagne-colored hose and strapped pumps. "Gosh!" exclaimed the old man. "I'd spend less money on my bonnet and buy some socks."—Cherrivale (Kan.) Journal.

YANTIC SAILED FROM HANCOCK

Hancock Mich., Aug. 10.—The U. S. S. Yantic, training ship of the second battalion of the Michigan Naval Brigade will leave port this evening for its annual cruise, and will head for Port Huron, carrying as a guest, Governor Chase S. Osborn, who leaves to attend the annual militia camp at Port Huron. The governor enjoyed his trip of two weeks ago to Marquette on the Yantic in spite of the storm, that he was desirous of making a longer trip on the boat. At his request, therefore, the ship will proceed to Port Huron and after landing the governor, will cruise about until Wednesday, August 16. It is probable that stops will be made at Traverse City to let the people of that town see their new division on board ship and Escanaba may also be visited. The crew and guests will number nearly two hundred, all of whom are now on board, those not having been able to take the trip to Ashland on Saturday having gone aboard since the return of the boat yesterday. The men were not given shore leave while here, being obliged to remain on board, the cruise being considered to have begun on Saturday last, and the visit to Houghton being a part of the cruise. The ship was tied up all day yesterday at the Peninsular Wharf-dock.

PALMER TO SIFT INSURANCE WAYS

Lansing, Mich., August 10.—Insurance Commissioner C. A. Palmer of Michigan, chairman of the special committee appointed by the national convention of insurance commissioners to investigate certain industrial insurance companies, has called a meeting of the committee for Detroit, Monday, August 14, at the Hotel Tuller. At that time representatives of 11 insurance companies will be given a hearing on the report the committee has prepared as a result of its investigation of their methods of doing business. It is understood that the report contains sensational charges and the meeting promises to be an important one. Commissioner Palmer refuses to discuss the matter at this time, stating that the investigation and report are not in shape for publicity as yet. It is understood that charges have been made that in instances some companies have been taking advantage of the importance of some of their policyholders to pay less than the face of the policy in settling with beneficiaries, and charging agents' fees. It is known that accountants and experts in insurance matters have been making the investigations.

SOUVENIR FAD CAUSES CONFUSION

One more fad has been nipped by the postal authorities. This is the practice of placing souvenir stamps or representations of stamps on the address side of the envelope. Postmaster Rogers of Hancock says the ruling is much the same as the one issued last winter. Hereafter all such stamps, including Christmas stamps and Red Cross stamps, must be pasted on the reverse side of the envelope if they are used at all. Some may not lawfully be used under any circumstances. This is true of all impressions or stamps that either in shape or design resemble postage stamps. Envelopes have been received which were sent out by the ladies of the Maccabees. This stamp bears in the space directly to the left of the spot where the postage stamp usually is placed, two printed representations of stamps bearing the letters, L. O. T. M. and pictures of Emma E. Bower and Frances E. Burns. These imprints resemble postage stamps sufficiently to make them unlawful, and the persons printing or using the envelopes are, in the opinion of the postmaster, liable to prosecution.

BOSTON MARKETS

The New York market looks much better. We had the heaviest liquidation in the first hour than has been seen in months. Insiders took the stocks on a scale down and rallied prices at the close. The rally should continue tomorrow and we would take advantage of it to sell long rails and industrials. The local market developed a little more activity on the down side today but at no time was there any selling which was not well taken care of. North Butte and Lake showed the best buying and rallied fast at the close. We believe the two markets will have separate movements and New York stocks should be sold and the coppers bought.

NEW YORK MARKETS

The steel statement of unfilled orders made a rather satisfactory exhibit today and continuation of current advices relative to the condition of affairs in the steel and iron industry would probably result in the Steel corporations recording larger earnings than has been the case for some time.

Many regard the steel industry as a true barometer of existing trade conditions, but of course, the labor question which is apparently yet to be dissolved will doubtless be a greater factor from now on, and perhaps serve to curtail the buying of some of our large corporations. Technically the stock market appears to be past due for a substantial rally in view of which it might be well not to press the selling side too closely. Disaffection is still expressed relative to the unsatisfactory showing of the government report of grain.

IRON TRADE REVIEW

Cleveland, O., Aug. 9.—The Iron Trade Review tomorrow will say: Pig iron prices are hardening on account of the recent increase in demand, and mill activity continues, but when any business of importance appears in finished-lines, strong competition and frequently considerable cutting of prices is noted. The decrease in the production of pig iron by merchant furnaces continued at a greater rate during July than during the preceding month. During July, 22 furnaces blow out, of which 16 were merchant stacks, while 11 were non-merchant, and only three merchant stacks blew in. In the east there is a marked tendency toward former prices for pig iron, and this is true to a considerable extent in southern territory, where $10 iron is now very scarce. An Eastern steel maker is in the market for from 25,000 to 30,000 tons of basic, and a New England consumer has purchased six thousand tons from Virginia furnaces. Pipe companies in the Philadelphia district are actively in the market. The Westing house purchase of 12,500 tons of four dry grades is the most important transaction in the central west, and established a price of $13.50 valley for No. 2 foundry.

Not in years have so many contracts for ships been pending in eastern territory. One company is now figuring on 16 vessels, which will require fifty thousand tons. There has been a considerable revival of interest on the part of the railroads, and a large number of inquiries for cars are pending. The Erie has practically closed for forty-five hundred cars, including two thousand hoppers, 1,000 gondolas, 1,000 box and 500 flat cars, dividing the order among the Pressed Steel Car Co., the American Car & Foundry Co., and the Standard Steel Car Co. The Atlantic Coast Line has placed eight cars with the Pressed Steel Car Co. The Standard Steel Car Co. has received an order from the Atlantic coast line for 1,000 cars. The Missouri Pacific has divided 50 all steel cars between the Pullman Co. and the American Car & Foundry Co. The Southern Railway has ordered 21,000 tons of open hearth rails from the Tennessee company, and has awarded the Cambria Steel Co. and the Maryland Steel Co. five thousand tons each. The St. Louis & San Francisco has placed 4,100 tons of 85-pound rails with the Pennsylvania Steel Co. for 31 miles of new track.

THE MAN WHO WINS
Any man can go without many comforts before he can safely dispense with a savings account. It is his paymaster in time of idleness, and his insurance policy against sickness; it is protection for his loved ones in case of death, and above all it is his testimonial of manly self-denial, industry, forethought and independence. Luck and fortune play but little part in the drama of modern industrial life. It is the man who works every day he can, and saves what he can, who wins. He wins because he is the most fit. That is the law.

DROUGHTS AND INTENSE HEAT WITHER CROPS

Washington, Aug. 10.—A tremendous decline in the condition of crops, general throughout the country and traceable to droughts and intense heat, occurred during last month, as indicated by the official figures and estimates made public today in the monthly crop report of the department of agriculture. The report today is the worst as to general crop conditions that the department has issued for any single month since 1901.

The area most seriously affected extends from New York and Pennsylvania westward to the Rocky mountains embracing all of the great corn, wheat and hay producing states in the country.

While the crops in many instances probably will be short in the yield per acre and in the total production, they will not be small, as shown by the following estimates of the yield of the principal crops:

|--------------|---------------|
| Corn | 2,620,221,000 |
| Winter wheat | 455,149,000 |
| Spring wheat | 209,646,000 |
| Oat | 817,806,000 |
| Barley | 139,252,000 |
| Potatoes | 249,893,000 |

The indicated yield of tobacco is 600,588,000 pounds and of hay 49,129,000 tons.

BOARD TO HOLD LONGER SESSIONS

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 10.—When the state board of equalization meets in Lansing on the 21st of this month there promises to be some of the liveliest meetings ever held.

Auditor General Fuller, who is a member of the board, is busily engaged in making comparison of the assessed valuation of the various counties as equalized by the supervisors in joint session as compared to the equalized valuation as made separately by the various supervisors. He finds that in many cases the assessed valuation of counties according to separate equalization by supervisors is far greater than that sent to the state board by the entire board of supervisors.

For example, Kent county sends in the equalized valuation at less than $3,000,000 of what the county was equalized at according to the figures made by the supervisors separately. Chippewa and Allegan counties are also $1,000,000 less than the assessed valuation of the supervisors show. Auditor Fuller has not gone far enough so that he is assured that something is wrong. He states that he cannot ascertain why the board of supervisors of a county should submit a report of the equalized valuation of their county at a less value than that placed on the county by the supervisors themselves in their separate reports.

Mr. Fuller thinks the board will be in session this year for at least two weeks. Various unfavorable comments have been made on the hasty action of the board that convened five years ago. According to their records it is shown that after hearing counties the board took an adjournment of four days and in less than three hours' time after convening they had appraised the valuation of the entire state. This work was at the time considered far too hasty and an effort will be made this year to avoid a similar occurrence.

Tortured for 15 Years

by a cure defying stomach trouble that baffled doctors, and resisted all remedies he tried, John W. Modders, of Moddersville, Mich., seemed doomed. He had to sell his farm and give up work. His neighbors said, "he can't live much longer." "Whatever I ate distressed me" he wrote. "I tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for me that I can now eat things I could not take for years. It's surely a grand remedy for stomach trouble." Just as good for liver and kidneys. JOHN W. GATES IS DEAD AT A HOTEL IN PARIS

Paris, Aug. 10.—John W. Gates, the American financier, died at 5:10 o'clock this morning. He passed away in the arms of his wife and son, Chas. G. Gates.

The end was peaceful and it seemed as though he was falling asleep. The usual restoratives failed in the last crisis. Others present at the bedside besides the members of the family were Drs. Gros and Reed.

His iron constitution and courageous resistance, backed by every resource of medical science, failed to save Mr. Gates. He had battled for weeks heroically with a disease of the kidneys, and when it was believed that he was almost sure to recover he contracted pneumonia. He died at a hotel in this city.

The death of John Warren Gates in Paris today ends the career of one of the most courageous and most successful financiers of the United States and a man of much prominence in the field of sports. Since 1890, when he organized the Southern Wire company, Mr. Gates had been one with whom it was necessary to reckon in the particular affairs to which he had given his attention. In recent years he found relaxation from business cares in becoming a well-known and picturesque patron of the American turf.

William Tamminen and the boy Lauri Tamminen, succeeded in swimming ashore. William Tamminen saw Miss Forsman floundering about in the water and plunged in to save her but was unable to do so, both going down with the current. Lauri Tamminen, the boy, was a fine swimmer. He saw his mother rise to surface and cried out, "Don't drown, mama, I'll save you." With that he plunged in and sought to save his mother, but the task was too much for the little fellow and both perished.

Mrs. Lindholm went under twice. The second time up she happened to grasp the side of the boat and clung to it. She drifted with the boat about a mile, when it lodged in some driftwood and she managed to get to shore. Mr. Holm can't give any good account of how he was saved. He was carried by the current until he found footing and managed to get to the bank. In a half crazed condition he ran along the bank of the river until he came to the boat and Mrs. Lindholm. They walked barefoot and with clothing torn to shreds over a trail through the woods and got to Mansfield about 5 o'clock and spread the alarm.

HOTTEST SUMMER IN FORTY YEARS

The summer of 1911 has been abnormally hot. Uncle Sam says it has been the hottest summer in forty years and there are many of the old timers who will agree with him. Temperatures this summer have been sufficiently unusual to warrant the weather bureau in issuing a special illustrated bulletin on summer weather, one paragraph of which is reprinted:

"A rather hasty examination of the weather conditions in the United States during the past forty years does not disclose another period in the late spring and early summer when the temperatures have been so uniformly high for so long a period and over such a large portion of the country. The nearest approach thereto was in 1901, when the temperatures for both June and July were decidedly above the normal, and the combined excess of temperature for the two months was not so great as during the practically similar length of time covered by the recent warm spell. June 1901, while considerably warmer than the average over most of the districts east of the Rocky Mountains, was without marked extremes. Beginning near the end of June, however, and continuing until near the end of July, one of the severest and most persistent periods of heat and drought ever known prevailed through out the great central valleys and over large portions of the eastern part of the country."

The new act reads as follows: Section 1.—It shall be unlawful until the year 1920 to kill any deer with in the limits of any county in this state having a population of more than 48,000 and less than 65,000, as shown by the U. S. census for 1910.

Section 2.—Any person who shall be found guilty of violating the provisions of Section 1 of this act shall be liable to a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars for each deer that he may have killed, or in default of payment of such fine, imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months, in the discretion of the court.

SOME FARMERS ARE DISCOURAGED

"I fear that we are going to lose all of our potatoes as a result of the almost continuous rain of the past month," said a farmer yesterday. "The potatoes are rotting in the ground and the tops are also rotting so I fear there is very little hope of saving the crop. Much of the hay that has been cut during the past three weeks, and has not yet been placed under cover, is also practically destroyed. The farmers had hopes of securing big potato crops this season, as conditions from four to six weeks ago were most favorable. We expected to get good prices for them on account of the short crop in many places.

"Our loss this season because of the rain will be just as heavy as the loss we sustained last year because of the drought and grasshoppers. Last year our hay crop was practically a failure and our potato crop was far below normal. During the past month it has rained here every ray or night, with the exception of two, since July 4."

"I understand that a number of the farmers have their hay stacks anchored in the field, so that the water will not carry them away. Many of the farmers' especially those on the low lands, have been completely flooded several times during the past month."

DIAMOND DRILL TELLS OF DROWNING

The Crystal Falls Drill gives the following account of the shocking fatality enacted when five persons were drowned in the Michigamme river about a mile below the mouth of the Fence river:

The dead were: Mrs. Emil Tamminen; her fourteen-year-old son, Lauri Tamminen; her sister-in-law, Mrs. Victor Matson; her husband's brother, William Tamminen, and Miss Edith Forsman, who was to have been married to William Tamminen within a few days. Those who escaped are John Holm and Mrs. John Lindholm.

The party left the Mansfield mine early in the morning in a gasoline launch to go up to the mouth of the Fence river to pick blueberries. The launch was owned by John Holm and carried seven passengers. On the return trip they ran out of gasoline and took to paddling the craft down the stream. One man was doing the paddling and the other sat in the rear of the boat, steering the craft. Two deadheads suddenly appeared just ahead and in trying to steer away the boat was carried sidewise onto them, overturning and dumping the occupants into the river. The river was a raging torrent after the heavy rains and the current was very swift.

William Tamminen and the boy Lauri Tamminen, succeeded in swimming ashore. William Tamminen saw Miss Forsman floundering about in the water and plunged in to save her but was unable to do so, both going down with the current. Lauri Tamminen, the boy, was a fine swimmer. He saw his mother rise to surface and cried out, "Don't drown, mama, I'll save you." With that he plunged in and sought to save his mother, but the task was too much for the little fellow and both perished.

Mrs. Lindholm went under twice. The second time up she happened to grasp the side of the boat and clung to it. She drifted with the boat about a mile, when it lodged in some driftwood and she managed to get to shore. Mr. Holm can't give any good account of how he was saved. He was carried by the current until he found footing and managed to get to the bank. In a half crazed condition he ran along the bank of the river until he came to the boat and Mrs. Lindholm. They walked barefoot and with clothing torn to shreds over a trail through the woods and got to Mansfield about 5 o'clock and spread the alarm.

He was carried by the current until he found footing and managed to get to the bank. In a half crazed condition he ran along the bank of the river until he came to the boat and Mrs. Lindholm. They walked barefoot and with clothing torn to shreds over a trail through the woods and got to Mansfield about 5 o'clock and spread the alarm.

Mrs. Lindholm went under twice. The second time up she happened to grasp the side of the boat and clung to it. She drifted with the boat about a mile, when it lodged in some driftwood and she managed to get to shore. Mr. Holm can't give any good account of how he was saved. SISTER TRAINS FREDDIE WELSH

That a little rosy-cheeked English woman will play a prominent part in the next international lightweight battle, which is scheduled to be fought on the Pacific coast early in September, is no idle gossip. That she discarded her duties as assistant manager of Bernard Macfadden's health home at Chesham, Bucks, England, to come to this country to train Great Britain's representative, is not generally known. Mrs. Horace G. Church known to all the English folk in Bucks as Katie Welsh Church, is no other personage than the sister of Freddie Welsh, the British lightweight, former holder of the Lord Lansdale belt.

As soon as she learned that there was a possibility of her brother meeting Ad Wolgast, the American champion, for the title, she suddenly discovered that she needed a tonic, and nothing but an ocean voyage would fill the prescription. The coronation of a king had little charm for even this royal little Englishwoman when her brother was to fight for a title. To return to her home in Pontypridd, Wales, a proud possessor of that title would make him a bigger man in the eyes of the Welsh people, than their king. She was sneaked by his side. He needed the careful training of a sister whose ideas of a fruit and a vegetable diet ran in the same channel as his own.

The sister trained him for his bout with Matty Baldwin. That bout was arranged just to let the Pacific coast sports see if Welsh had retained all his old-time speed and marvelous footwork. While he made no effort to knock-out Baldwin, he set a terrific pace and was as fast in the twentieth round as he was in the first six.

K. O. BROWN AGAIN GOES AFTER WOLGAST

New York, Aug. 10.—Ad Wolgast, champion lightweight pugilist of the world, can earn $1000 a round if he wills, and what is more, he can name the limit of his earning power—can say whether he wants $10,000 or $20,000, if he will agree to meet Knock-out Brown in the ring for either ten or twenty rounds. Danny Morgan, manager for Brown, is ready to guarantee this money and has $1000 up as a forfeit that Brown will fight Wolgast.

Seemed to Give Him a New Stomach.

"I suffered intensely after eating and no medicine or treatment I tried seemed to do any good," writes H. M. Youngsters, editor of The Sun, Lake View, Ohio. "The first few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets gave me surprise and relief and the second bottle seemed to give me a new stomach and perfectly good health." For sale by Groce's Drug Store and Farrell & Lohmiller.

JACKSON NEVER WILL EQUAL TY COBB AS A BALL PLAYER

Will Joe Jackson ever be such a player as Ty Cobb? No. Jackson and Cobb are temperamental opposites. Jackson is easy-going, Cobb is all nerves. Jackson is a typical southerner, with the southern love for rest and quiet. Cobb doesn't even talk like a southerner and has none of the southern love of rest. Jackson's ambition is to make a lot of hits, score a lot of runs and steal a lot of bases. When the season is over he wants to go to Greenville and C., and loaf around his dad's meat shop. When his baseball career is over he wants to go to Greenville and stay there.

Cobb wants to steal more bases than any other player, make more hits and score more runs. He wants to be crowned king of ball players. He wants to be rich and own autos and property, and he won't stop until he attains his ambition.

Jackson likes to loll on the beach or in the grass outside the foul lines between innings. Cobb seldom stays in one spot a minute. He hurries off the field, gets a drink, slides from one end of the bench to the other, walks around, returns to the bench, sits around the bats, then scurries to the field again.

Jackson may become a valuable player as Cobb; he is a greater star in his first season than Cobb was, but there is nothing about Joe to promise that he will make conditions as Cobb does.

JOHNNY COULON RETIRES FOR TIME

Johnny Coulon, bantamweight champion, will not be seen in the ring for several months owing to the death of his father, who had acted as his manager and chief adviser ever since he first started boxing. Johnny yesterday said that he didn't care to fight for a long time.

Since he started in the fighting game Coulon has accumulated a neat little fortune, and if it were not for the fact that he is the star of his class he would retire from the ring. Johnny has decided that his uncle, Fred Coulon, will look after his affairs, and all matches or pending bouts have been declared off until the middle of the winter.

At present the little fighter is spending his time at his summer home at Bluff lake. He said he does not know who his next opponent will be or when he will fight again. When he enters the ring again Coulon insists that his opponents make 116 pounds ringside.

KETCHEL'S BROTHERS ARE ARRESTED FOR ASSAULT

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 10.—Mrs. Julia Ketchel of this city, mother of the former middle weight boxing champion of the world, who was murdered in the west several months ago, was made to feel the fighting qualities of her two living sons yesterday.

Mrs. Ketchel returned from a visit to Detroit and sent word to her sons, John and Oliver, aged 23 and 21 years respectively, to meet her at the depot. They failed to do so.

On her arrival home she chided them about their neglect. Then, she says, they attacked her. She showed her disapproval by causing their arrest.

The assault was committed on the farm given to her by the champion before his death and paid for from his ring winnings.

The Summer Cottage Pony

Billy was introduced on the premises by Anna when she came to clean house. As I saw her rattling along down the wooded road in her old rickety cart drawn by a small and businesslike bay pony I did not clasp my hands to my heart with a premonition of trouble—I was too busy thrilling with joy at the prospect of turning the battle against cobwebs and dust over to her. She unhitched the pony and tied him to the back of the cart outside the fence with his nose in a bunch of hay under the seat.

The sun was shining fiercely on him a little later when I noticed him and had a surge of philanthropy. "It's a shame!" said I. "I am going to tie him inside, in the shade, where he can eat grass. It'll save mowing it!" Billy turned a mild and trustful eye upon my approach. It was then that I saw a cherished grapevine that had been trampled over the fence at the expense of much time and several yards of twine had been eaten bare. Not a leaf remained. Early that morning it had been a mass of green.

"You imp!" I said and slapped Billy. He was tied short. To eat those leaves he must have performed an acrobatic feat that would have been well worth seeing. He did not seem in the least concerned as I jerked him inside the fence and tied him, but rubbed my shoulder with his soft nose. I hardened my heart. There are people who use exactly the same tactics as Billy and they should be disapproved of on principle.

Some time later I looked out at Billy. I never did have a head for mathematics and I had been too liberal in the length of the rope. Having eaten all the grass in a circle Billy was now with great enthusiasm and gusto enjoying a salad of my scarlet geranium bed recently set out at so much per geranium. "Billy!" I shrieked, just as he bit off the top of the sixth geranium. He merely flicked his tail and seemed injured when I hauled him back. Holding his ears firmly, I glared into his countenance and told him a few things. Wriggling loose, he tried to stick his nose into my apron pocket. "You are not in the least cute!" I insisted coldly. "I am not impressed at all, understand! I prefer beauty of character to parlor tricks and it's plain to be seen you are an abandoned and hardened case!"

Then I tied him to a small tree in the midst of an arid waste of moss, sprouting acorns and other unappetizing things, for it really seemed that by this time Billy must be entirely fed with food. Leaving him to his meditations I stalked away. It was Anna, washing windows, who saw the deed.

"That bad horse!" she commented with cheerful stolidity. "He is now eating things above!"

It was true. Twisting and stretching his neck like a serpent, Billy reached a waving tendril of the grapevines trained over a rustic arbor and dangled in several yards. He was standing on tiptoes to do it. We went out and seriously considered the matter after separating Billy from his aerial feast. The only safe place for him was on the fireplace mantel or the roof. Still, from the latter he probably would spring agilely into the treetops and devour those. If there had been an abandoned well on the place he could have been lowered into that till Anna was ready to depart. Comfortably bulging from his numerous repasts, Billy watched us with mild and liquid eyes as we debated. He whinnied beguilingly. He seemed to think he was a favorite with the family, instead of an outcast.

I got the yardstick and measured. Tied around by the corner of the house, it seemed that Billy would be rendered utterly innocuous and helpless. He could not reach the peach tree with six peaches on it, which are more to me than diamonds. He could not reach the young beeches to gnaw the bark and he could not touch the wood-bone over the house. Under his feet was good, plain sand, on which he might gorge if he cared to, and over his head unlimited quantities of air. I tied him in vindictive triumph while he tried to rub his nose against my cheek and whinnied the depth of his affection. There was no doubt he was a social horse.

"There!" I crowed. "Now go ahead and do your worst!"

An hour later it was time to get our noonday dinner and I sought the kitchen. Hastily stepping into the pantry, I got a shock that finished me. Through the open window from outside projected Billy's head, and he was just consuming the last of the rhubarb pie that I had baked early that day and set on a chair to cool. He licked his jaws as he twinkled his eyes at me. If he could have talked he would have murmured: "You told me to!"

I am going to save up money and buy Billy. I think he would be far more interesting than a parrot or a buldog.

Science Called to Aid Business. As white truffles have nothing like the market value of black ones—the black truffle of Perigord, for example, is worth $4.40 a pound, while its humbler white cousin of Bergundy only brings 40 cents to 75 cents—means have been found to make the cheaper delicacy assume the outward appearance of the dearer.

CONNIE MACK THINKS HIS TEAM WILL LAND FLAG

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 10.—Connie Mack is wearing the smile that won't come off these days. With the world's champions leading the Tigers, by two games in the chase for the American league pennant, the crafty leader of the locals seems to be contented with the world at large.

While Connie is not saying much, he is very much impressed with the brand of ball his young champions are putting up. Winning three straight from the White Sox has put much more confidence into the camp of the champs and the players say they will never be headed.

The great secret of the Athletics' success is in the wonderful fielding game Mack's players are putting up. They are stopping everything hit any where near their reach.

The work of Eddie Collins is nothing short of phenomenal. In yesterday's game the star infielder of the champs came near setting a new fielding record. He accepted fourteen chances around second base without an error, which is going some.

TODAY IS CIRCUS DAY

No doubt there will be many small boys missing from the family circle at breakfast time this morning. The cause? Today is circus day, the small boys' delight.

Campbell Brothers' big show will arrive this morning by a special train of 23 cars, from Menominee, where they showed yesterday.

The Campbell show is reputed to be one of the best on the road today and no doubt please a large number of patrons from this city and vicinity.

THE BIJOU

With out a doubt the best animal act ever given on a local stage is that which is now on at the Bijou. "Major a clever little horse does some really good stunts. An unexpected demonstration of his work was given at last night's performance when the orchestra was playing the music for another act. The piece was one which is also used in the animal act and the pony hearing the music thought that it was his turn and broke his halter and trotted onto the stage, putting to rout the act which was on at the time.

THE GARRICK

The bill at the Garrick theatre has been changed and the Emery Musical Comedy company are now presenting the Runaway Girl. This is one of the best pieces that the company puts on and will no doubt make a big hit with local people. The piece is well sprinkled with catchy songs and the broiler girl chorus appears at its best in this production. The Garrick has been packed to the doors at every performance during the present bill which speaks well for the company.

THE GRAND

Walter McCullough and company in the "Servant the Man and The Devil" appearing at the Grand this half of the week made a great hit with all of the audiences at the popular little theater last night and will no doubt continue to please large crowds for the remainder of the week. The act is exceedingly well put on and the characters well portrayed. Manager Malone is to be congratulated upon securing such an act for the patrons of the Grand.

SCHOOLMA'AMS KILL MONSTER RATTLES

Niagar Fall, N. Y., Aug. 10.—The first rattlesnake seen within the Niagara Falls national park in 20 years is on exhibition here today, a tribute to the nerve and prowess of four school teachers from Springfield, Ill., who are spending their vacation at Niagara. The four young women were standing near the edge of the cliff late yesterday when the reptile crawled across the path over which they had just walked. There was no panic and no retreat. The young women bombarded the snake with sticks and stones until it was dead. Then they counted the rattles—10 of them.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL

VISITOR TO PREACH

Rev. Herbert A. Wilson, rector of Trinity church at Kendallville, Ind., will occupy the pulpit at St. Stephens' Episcopal church on Sunday morning and evening. Regular services will be held at 10:30 o'clock in the morning and 7:30 in the evening with the visiting pastor officiating. Rev. Wilson has been visiting with Rev. B. G. Burt of Marquette and has consented to come here especially for the Sunday services. He will arrive here from Marquette on Saturday evening and will be met at the station by William Hall who will escort the visiting rector to the Ludington hotel where he will remain over Sunday.

GOV. OSBORN RECOVERS GIRL

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Aug. 10.—After two years, George BBobrowski will be able to again see his 9-year-old daughter, Jennie, who was left in the wilds of Kamchatka peninsula because a Russian government transport on which the father sailed for Nome, Alaska, refused to carry females.

The child was placed in charge of an acquaintance by the father, who was assured that another boat would soon arrive to carry her to Nome. The boat bearing the child, however, never arrived.

After a vain endeavor to find his daughter, Bobrowski came to America and eventually landed here.

His friends reported the case to Gov. Osborn, who communicated with the United States consul with the result that father and daughter expect to be re-united soon.

Little Jennie is now on her long trip from Kamchatka to Seattle, where she will be met by friends and brought here. The child was brought from the Petropavlovsk district by a Red Cross nurse to Vladivostok, but the authorities at Vladivostok refused to keep her or send her on her journey.

YANTIC IS OFF ON REAL TRIP

Of the leaving of the steamer Yantic from Hancock on Wednesday and the itinerary of the vessel for the remainder of the cruise the Couper country correspondent for the Mining Journal says:

The U. S. S. Yantic, manned by the naval reserves of Ashland, Hancock Traverse City and Escanaba, left Houghton at 1:30 yesterday morning for the annual cruise to Chicago. Governor Osborn was a passenger, taking the ship immediately at the close of the banquet at which he was a speaker. The following is the Yantic's itinerary:

- Arrive at the Soo at 10 p. m., Aug. 9.
- Leave the Soo at 12 p. m., Aug. 9.
- Arrive Port Huron Aug. 10, 5 a. m.
- Leave Port Huron Aug. 11, 9 a. m.
- Arrive Traverse City Aug. 12, 7 p. m.
- Leave Traverse City Aug. 13, 12 m.
- Arrive Charlevoix Aug. 13, 5 p. m.
- Leave Charlevoix Aug. 14 5 p. m.
- Arrive Soo Aug. 15, noon.
- Leave Soo 2 p. m., Aug. 15.
- Arrive Hancock Aug. 16.

JOHN DEITZ IS NOT ILL IN JAIL

Waupun, Wis., Aug. 10.—John F. Deitz of Cameron Dam fame, is well and hearty in the state prison here, doing his portion of work regularly each day. Stories published to the effect that he is in a serious condition from blood poisoning are false, assert the authorities and the prisoner's own attorney. Particles of a shell which entered his hand during the famous battle against the deputies work out of the flesh from time to time, but give Deitz no pain or discomfort. He is a model prisoner and goes cheerfully about his daily tasks.

Madison, Wis., Aug. 10.—No communication has been received by the governor or state board of control from John F. Deitz relative to his physical condition, which is reported to have become aggravated on account of blood poison in his hand, developing from his gun-shot wound.
