

MEN START ON LONG TRIP

THREE FAIRPORT FISHERMEN LEAVE IN 30 FOOT BOAT FOR ATLANTIC COAST CITY

Three Fairport men have left that port for Gloucester Mass., in a 30 foot gasoline launch and upon their arrival at the Atlantic coast city will engage in deep sea fishing. The members of the party are: Albert Chaffey, John Lang and James Casey. They have already left for the long trip, which it is expected will occupy at least one month. All of the men in the party have been engaged in fishing out of Fairport for a number of years and the trip was planned for a month before it was finally undertaken.

RAIDS UPON THE U.S. RANCHES

Washington, Sept. 11.—Early dispatches to the War Department today reported Salazar, the Mexican rebel leader, encamped across the Arizona line opposite the Lang ranch, threatening a raid into American territory. One of his troopers, captured in a skirmish, has told American soldiers that raids upon American ranches were upon personal orders of Salazar, who wanted beef for his men.

In anticipation of a raid by Salazar, Major Rice, with three troops of cavalry, is encamped near the rebel leader. Outposts have been established by both sides. Major Rice is concentrating his command, but the border is being patrolled by armed cowboys, acting as scouts.

General Steever reported that Lieutenants Johnson, Boone, and Wagner, in charge of patrolling parties, had talked with Salazar near Lang's ranch and that Salazar protested he meant no harm to Americans and was not with his men on the raid on Culbertson's ranch. General Steever's dispatch added that "Johnson does not believe the statement."

Brigadier General Murray, commanding the western division has instructed Brigadier General Schuyler to utilize all the troops at Fort Huachuca, Ariz., and has dispatched two troops of cavalry to Apache to strengthen the patrol.

General Murray reports more troops are needed and suggests that part of the Ninth cavalry on the way from Fort D. A. Russell, Wyoming, be assigned to his command.

The rebels are reported threatening the city of Torreon. The reported victory of the federal troops at Nacopari is discredited in a dispatch to the War Department from General Schuyler who telegraphed that it generally was accepted that the rebels had been paid by the Nacopari railroad company to leave the vicinity.

DESCENDING LINE DEMANDS LOWER SCAR

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 11.—Fearing the rage for low-cut bodices may descend even further, surgeons, here are making incisions four inches lower than formerly in appendicitis operations on women. One surprised his fellows by making the cut even lower.

"My patient is young, beautiful" and the daughter of persons of means," he explained. "She is apt to take kindly to the low-cut bodices. Had I made the incision higher she might have had to expose the scar."

SELL STOCK AT AUCTION SEPT. 20

The stock of the Delta Liquor store which was closed last week by creditors will be sold at public auction by Sheriff T. J. Curran on Sep. 20. Immediately after the date the building occupied by the old firm will be made ready for the new tenant.

Joseph Russell returned yesterday from a business trip to Perronville and Schaffer and will leave this morning for Rapid River.

DUCK SEASON OPENS SEPT. 15

Contrary to the belief of a great many of our citizens the open season of the killing of ducks begins September 15th instead of September 1st. It was generally believed by duck hunters of Escanaba that ducks of the mallard and teal variety could be killed on or after September first until Game Warden Lelander gave warning that any person caught hunting ducks before the 15th would be arrested and fined according to law.

KILLIAN INJURED

Timothy Killian, a pioneer resident of Escanaba, narrowly escaped death at Gladstone yesterday afternoon when his horse became frightened as he was climbing into the rig, throwing the aged man to the ground with the rig passing over his body. He sustained two long cuts across the forehead and one hand and his right hip were severely bruised and wrenched. William Hale, chauffeur for J. C. Kirkpatrick arrived at the scene of the accident within a few minutes after Mr. Killian had been thrown to the ground. The injured man was placed in the automobile and taken to the office of Dr. D. N. Kee at Gladstone where his injuries were given attention. Later he was brought to his home in this city. Mr. Killian had been at work erecting monuments in the cemetery at Gladstone and was preparing to start for home. He had untied the horse and was just climbing into the carriage when the horse became frightened and started to run. Mr. Killian was dragged for a short distance and when the carriage passed over his hip he released his hold on the reins.

SUMMER WEATHER WILL CONTINUE

A continuation of the delightful summer weather conditions that have invaded the fall season in Escanaba is promised for Escanaba today by Observer V. E. Jakl. Of general weather conditions Observer Jakl says:

The western high pressure area referred to in yesterday's report, has expanded during the past 24 hours, and now covers all interior portions of the country, with its crest over the upper Plains States. The weather has become decidedly cooler under its influence over all northern states from the Rockies east to the lower Lakes, and slightly cooler over the lower Plains and western Mississippi Valley states. Rains occurred over the lower Lakes and St. Lawrence Valley, and over scattered areas in the western corn and wheat region; but elsewhere over the country, except for local showers on the Gulf coast, the weather was fair. Fair weather, with light to moderate northwest winds, will prevail in this vicinity tonight and Thursday.

COUPLE REFUSE SMALL LEGACY

Denver, Colo., Sept. 11.—The refusal of a legacy because they don't remember the legator bids fair to give Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller the fame of being the most honest people in Denver.

Miller, who is night watchman at the Mercantile building, was greatly surprised when his wife, Mrs. Mollie Miller, received a check for $129.47 as one-sixth share of the estate of John Wesley Ellis of Joplin, Mo.

Mrs. Miller was born and raised in Joplin, but she has no recollection of Mr. Ellis. The letter accompanying the check, from the Conqueror Trust company, shows a conviction that she is the right Mrs. Miller, but Mrs. Miller has her doubts, and the check is to be returned.

"We need the money badly enough," said Miller, "but we are afraid it doesn't belong to us."

Mrs. E. Olson of Manistique is visiting with relatives in the city.

THREE MEN NEAR DEATH

ST. PAUL EMPLOYEES ON E. & L. S. ROAD CAUGHT LIKE RATS IN TRAP WHEN FIREBOX STAY BOLTS LET GO

Three men in charge of a locomotive, of the St. Paul road, running over the line of the Escanaba & Lake Superior railway company, early on Tuesday morning narrowly escaped being baked alive when stay bolts, holding the firebox of the locomotive suddenly gave way. The fire box was thrown backward into the cab of the engine in the explosion that followed and that the three men aboard the engine were not burned to death is considered miraculous.

Henry Larson, fireman, was critically burned while Benjamin Bernat, engineer, and E. Johnson, brakeman, were frightfully burned about the face and hands.

The train was brought to a standstill as quickly as possible after the accident and the three injured men were taken to Iron Mountain where they were rushed to St. George's hospital. The engine pulling a heavy train of ore was running over the E. & L. S. a mile and a quarter east of Channing when the stay bolts holding the fire box gave way. The big mass of fire shot out into the cab catching the men like rats in a trap and that all were not burned to death cannot be understood by those who have investigated the unusual accident.

RAPID GETS A HEARING

A number of Escanaba officials and businessmen went to Rapid River yesterday to join with the people of Rapid River in greeting a government engineer, who was sent to that place to investigate the feasibility of deepening the harbor about that port. The engineer was met at the office of Madison & Schible where Rapid River's needs and the necessity that is presented of dredging the harbor to allow the growth and prosperity of the village were set forth by Atty. W. J. Miller of Rapid River and citizens of that place. A complete hearing was given by the visiting engineer and last night he returned to Milwaukee and will later make his report to the officials in Washington.

Among the Escanaba men who went to Rapid River yesterday were: Mayor W. A. LeMire, Ald. R. L. Cantlin, Ald. Edward Smith, Herman Sallinsky, W. Ryan, M. N. Smith, J. K. Stack, W. R. Smith, A. R. Moore, C. M. Thatcher, Matt Pillion, Solomon and Julius Greenhoot and F. H. Atkins.

WILL DEMONSTRATE NEW DEVICE AT FAIR

Announcement was made yesterday by A. W. Eddy, head of the A. W. Eddy Company that the company's herring dressing machine that is now being placed on the market, will be shown at the county fair here next week. On Thursday arrangements have been made to clean a great quantity of fish with the machine and it is expected that fishermen from all parts of the peninsula interested in the new device will be attracted to the fair on that day.

ST. JOSEPH'S TEAM WON CHAMPIONSHIP

St. Joseph's high school baseball team clinched the amateur championship of the peninsula on Sunday when they defeated the Wells team in a tight game by a score of 5 to 3. Garland and Moody formed the battery for St. Joseph's team while Johnson and Burnham made up the battery of Wells. Garland whiffed 7 men and allowed 11 hits while Johnson established the enviable strikeout record of 15 and allowed only 3 hits.

GUILD TO HOLD MEETING TONIGHT

Members of St. Stephen's Guild of St. Stephen's Episcopal church will meet this evening at the home of Mrs. J. R. Andrews when plans for the work of the coming year will be made. The meeting of tonight will be the first arranged since the regular summer vacation enjoyed by the members and all are expected to be present tonight and aid in launching the work for the coming year with an enthusiasm that will make it one of the most successful periods in the history of the organization.

CALUMET DISCOURAGED

NOT CONSIDERED LIKELY THAT COPPER COUNTRY WILL SEEK LEAGUE BASEBALL BERTH AGAIN

That Calumet fans are thoroughly discouraged after their first season's experience with league baseball and that Calumet will probably not seek a berth in any league next season is the report that now comes to the city.

The Mining Journal's Copper Country Correspondent says:

Practically all of the outside men who played on the Calumet team have left the copper country. The copper country papers say the team's connection with the Iron-Copper league proved a most expensive luxury. Prospects for a league team next season are not very bright in Calumet, and it now looks as though the iron country would have to look elsewhere for a team to fill out, in case the league is reorganized.

The Calumet correspondent of The Houghton Mining-Gazette, yesterday said of the team's withdrawal:

"The Calumet club having pulled out of the Iron-Copper league, the team has been disbanded and Manager (Continued on page Eight)

CANDIDATE HERE FRIDAY

Woodbridge N. Ferris, Democratic candidate for governor of Michigan, will arrive in Escanaba tomorrow at noon and tomorrow evening will deliver an address to the people of Escanaba at the Peterson opera house. Voters of the city together with the women of Escanaba are invited to attend the democratic mass meeting of tomorrow night when Mr. Ferris will fire the opening gun in the general election campaign in this city.

Mr. Ferris is an orator of exceptional ability and his address is certain to be filled with interesting thoughts for voters of every party. Mr. Ferris entered the peninsula early in the week and in each city has been greeted by enthusiastic audiences, demonstrating well the growing strength of the Democratic party in this district.

THEIR AUTOMOBILE OVERTURNS IN DITCH

Bay City, Mich., Sept. 11.—One woman was instantly killed and four others were seriously injured today when the automobile in which they were riding turned over in a ditch near here.

Mrs. Charles C. Rosebury, wife of a Bay City furniture dealer, who was driving the machine, was caught under the car, the top of her head being cut off.

Mrs. Catlin, mother of Mrs. Rosebury, and Mrs. J. K. Mason, a druggist's wife, suffered fractured skulls and their recovery is not expected.

Mrs. Mary Shearer and her daughter, Miss Minnie Shearer, a school teacher, suffered broken limbs.

According to a man who witnessed the accident, the automobile was traveling at high speed. When the front wheels struck a rut, the car turned over.

PROGRESSIVES ORGANIZED

MEMBERS OF BULL MOOSE PARTY HELD MASS MEETING AND IN-DORSE COOK FOR CONGRESS

The National progressive party was organized in Escanaba last night. About 50 attended and resolutions endorsing A. C. Cook, of Iron Mountain for congress in this district were adopted. A meeting is to be called for Friday night in the City Hall when a permanent organization will be made. A telegram was sent to the chairman of the state central committee to have Mr. Cook attend the session of Friday night and address the meeting. All voters favoring the progressive ticket are invited to attend this Friday meeting and see the placing of a county ticket in the field will be discussed. The progressive sentiment it is said is growing in Delta county and a larger meeting is expected Friday night.

Following are the resolutions endorsing Mr. Cook adopted at the mass meeting last night.

"Resolved that the Progressive Party organization in Delta County notes with great gratification that Hon. A. C. Cook of Iron Mountain received sufficient votes in the recent primary election for the office of Congressman in this district on the progressive party ticket.

Resolved that we hereby urge Mr. Cook to accept such nomination and that we hereby pledge him our united support."

ROBBERY SUSPECTED

Mrs. W. A. Hews reported to the police last night that diamonds and jewelry valued at $855 had been stolen from her home during moving operations that were conducted yesterday. The home of the family was being moved from Georgia street to a new location and after the furniture had been placed in the new home Mrs. Hews missed a jewel case containing her jewelry. She asserted to the officers that she placed the case containing the jewelry between a mattress and springs in one of the rooms on the second floor of the old home. When a search was made for the valuables the jewel case could not be found. Charges were at once filed against two men who were engaged in moving the furniture and they were arrested last night. Both bear excellent reputations and both were released last night on bail bonds that were filed for their appearance before Judge C. D. McEwen on Saturday morning.

DELTA DANCING CLUB PLANS FINE PARTY

Members of the Delta Dancing Club have issued invitations for a dancing party to be given at Clark's hall on Monday evening of next week. The club has given a number of delightful parties in the past and every effort has been exerted to allow the coming event measure up fully to the standard that has been established. An excellent musical program has been arranged for and nothing will be neglected in the effort to make the evening enjoyable for all of those in attendance.

E. & L. S. TEAM TO PLAY GARDEN

Members of the Escanaba & Lake Superior railroad company's baseball team will go to Garden on Sunday to clash with the fast team of that town. The steamer Maywood is to run a special excursion to Garden and other Big Bay towns on that day carrying a party of rooters with the team to Garden and other pleasure seekers who desire to spend the day at different Big Bay points.

AGED RESIDENT FOUND VERY ILL

"Old Battiste" a character who has lived in a shack on the bay shore near No. 5 dock for a number of years and who is known to the residents of that part of the city by no other name, was taken to the Delta county hospital yesterday. He was found critically ill in the shack and the matter was reported to the county authorities who ordered Haring's ambulance to take the patient to the hospital where he is receiving treatment.

SCOTT IS THE STAR

Pitcher Scott, who was the mainstay of Ishpeming's pitching staff last season and who will again be seen in action here in the championship series between Ishpeming and Negaunee leads the Ishpeming pitchers again this season in the number of games. The Ishpeming correspondent for the Mining Journal says:

The pitching records of the Ishpeming twirlers in the league series that closed Sunday was figured out yesterday, and it was found that Scott had been on the mound for nineteen games and had won fourteen of them, or a percentage of .737. Hamilton had a percentage of .600, as he won both of the games that he twirled. Both Burton and Emmons pitched nine games, and each won five and lost four, giving them a percentage of .556. Cook pitched three, won one and lost two, or a percentage of .333; Beebe pitched two and lost both, and Gardner pitched one and lost it.

"Pop" Geelan, the star slugger of the Ishpeming team, leads the league in batting, with a percentage of .393.

ESCANABA MAN'S MOTHER IS DEAD

Announcement has been received in the city of the death at Menominee of Mrs. Emma Burnham, mother of C. E. Burnham of this city and ground keeper for the local baseball club.

Of the death the Menominee Herald Leader says: Mrs. Emma Burnham, widow of the late Alva P. Burnham and a resident of Menominee for the past 45 years died this morning at six o'clock at the family residence, 606 Wabash avenue, Menominee. Heart trouble was the cause of death. Mrs. Burnham who was 76 years old has been in poor health for some weeks, her condition becoming serious last Wednesday when word was sent her son Clarence in Escanaba and her daughter Mrs. Richard Luke of Detroit. The latter arrived from southern Michigan this morning about ten minutes after her mother had passed away.

The deceased was a member of the Lady Maccabees, the members of which will attend the funeral in a body. The services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Baptist church, the Rev. Louis Berry officiating. Burial will be at Riverside.

The deceased is survived by two sons, Clarence Burnham of Escanaba, Edward Burnham of Menominee and one daughter Mrs. Richard Luke of Detroit, also two adopted children, Mrs. Lottie Cummins and Earl Elder of Menominee.

KEEP WESTERN UNION OFFICES OPEN LONGER

Manager Lee of the Western Union Telegraph Company yesterday announced that in the future the local Western Union office will remain open each night until 11 o'clock for the handling of all messages. In the past the office has been closed at 9 o'clock each evening but because of the growth of the company's business here an extension of the working hours has been made necessary.

Charged with failing to support his wife John Junco was arraigned before Judge C. D. McEwen yesterday and released under $200 bonds and his promise to properly care for his wife in the future.

NEGOTIATIONS ARE CLOSED

SIX GAME CHAMPIONSHIP BASEBALL SERIES ARRANGED TO OPEN ON SEP. 21

Isaac Schram, acting as representative of the members of the Escanaba Baseball team, returned to Escanaba last night after completing all arrangements for a championship series of games between Ishpeming and Escanaba. The winners of the pennants in the Iron Copper Country and Upper Peninsula Wisconsin League will clash in a series of six games three of the games to be staged in Ishpeming on Saturday, Sunday and Monday, Sep. 21, 22 and 23 and three of the games to be played at the South park grounds in this city on Saturday, Sunday and Monday Sep. 28, 29 and 30. In the event that the teams are tied at the end of the six game series a seventh game will be played on neutral grounds yet to be decided upon.

The entire Ishpeming team will be retained for the series and in addition Pitcher Juul of Calumet and Pitcher Mahoney of Negaunee have been signed by the Ishpeming team for the championship series.

Mr. Schram met yesterday with Manager Stimmons and members of the Ishpeming team at the manager's office and all details for the championship series were settled without difficulty.

Ishpeming and Negaunee are to meet in series of exhibition games on Saturday and Sunday of this week while the local players will fill in the open dates at Marinette, where games were scheduled.

WEDDING WAS PRETTY AFFAIR

A decided pretty wedding was that which occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Wickert at 618 Ludington street, yesterday afternoon when Miss Esther Nyland, of this city, became the bride of Mr. Charles Swanson of Hermansville. Rev. H. C. Carlson, pastor of the Swedish Mission church, officiated at the ceremony, which was performed at 4 o'clock and was witnessed only by a few close friends of the bride and the groom.

The bride has for a number of years made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Wickert who have regarded her much in the light of a daughter.

The bride was attended at the ceremony of yesterday by Miss Ella Anderson while Mr. Robert Wickert served as groomsmen.

The home was delightfully decorated for the occasion with flowers and at 6 o'clock an elaborate wedding banquet was served. The table was beautifully decorated with flowers and the center piece being a monster wedding cake that had been prepared by Mrs. Wickert. During the final course of the banquet the cake was cut by the bride and pieces were distributed to the guests, following out the time honored connected with the bride's cake.

The bride for several years served as forewoman at the Escanaba Steam Laundry and Dye Works and has a large number of friends in this city. The groom is employed at the office of the Wisconsin Land & Lumber Company at Hermansville and is one of the valued employes of that concern.

Following a wedding trip to Minneapolis and St. Paul Mr. and Mrs. Swanson will return to Hermansville to make their home and after Oct. 1 will be at home to their many friends in that city.

MAN KNOWN HERE IS CRITICALLY ILL

Word has been received in the city of the serious illness at Ishpeming of Henry Hosking, father of Mrs. H. H. Lohmiller of this city. Mr. Hosking has been ill for a number of months and according to word sent to the city yesterday little hope is now entertained for his recovery.

A Word to the Wise. The proverbial advice, "Cobbler, stick to your last," had an apposite exemplification in the following anecdote, for which Zion's Advocate is responsible. A colored man was brought before a police judge, charged with stealing chickens. He pleaded guilty, and received sentence, when the judge asked how it was managed to lift those chickens right under the window of their owner's house when there was a dog in the yard.

Odd, Va.—"I am enjoying better health than I have for 20 years, and I believe I can safely say now that I am a well woman. I was reared on a farm and had all kinds of heavy work to do which caused the troubles that came on me later. For five years during the Change of Life I was not able to lift a pail of water. I had hemorrhages which would last for weeks and I was not able to sit up in bed. I suffered a great deal with my back and was so nervous I could scarcely sleep at night, and I did not do any housework for three years.

Now I can do as much work as any woman of my age in the county, thanks to the benefits I have received from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I recommend your remedies to all suffering women."—Mrs. MARY L. HOLLOWAY, Odd, Va.

HIS FIRST PATIENT NOT AN INVALID

Wonderful Revelations of the Stethoscope When Placed Over Girl's Heart.

BY BELLE KANARIS MANIATES.

(Copyright, 1912, by Associated Literary Press.) The doctor sat in his office at the sanitarium of the sulphur springs contemplating a telegram in a perplexity which lifted at the entrance of a young man with laughing brown eyes and a complexion of deep sea tan.

"Well, Fred, for once you are on hand when wanted. What brought you here?" "I was on my way north to spend my fortnight's vacation. Missing connections, I ran up to see you."

"Just in time to make yourself useful. It is imperative that I run down to Brighton for the day. I want you to take my place here."

"Great Scott, Uncle Walter! I haven't practiced for two years—not since I went into the manufacturing business."

"Well, you haven't forgotten how to examine hearts, have you? For the next two hours that is what you must do, and fill out these slips for the attendants. I do not keep the office open in the afternoon, and there are no patients here at present requiring much medical attention. I must leave at once."

He was gone before the young doctor could expostulate further. His first caller was a young woman whose grace and beauty made him change his attitude of mind toward his uncle.

"I wish to see the doctor," she said. "I am the doctor," he replied. "We just arrived," she explained, "and I came to see about arrangements for the baths."

He took one of the slips from the desk. "What is your name, please?" "My name is Elinor Grayson." "When he had filled out the slip with the exception of temperature for bath, of the tables chatting with a man whose face seemed familiar to him. As he passed, he heard her explaining to her companion that he was the doctor. During the meal his memory succeeded in identifying the man as one with whom he had placed a large order for goods a couple of weeks before.

"I wish to see the doctor," she said. "I am the doctor," he replied. "We just arrived," she explained, "and I came to see about arrangements for the baths."

After dinner, he was unfortunate in not being able to get a glimpse of her, and he returned to the doctor's office from where he was summoned to the bedside of patients who were confined to their rooms with slight ailments. After this he strolled again through the grounds. When near a little vine-clad pergola, he heard her voice.

"Then I guess it's apt to be fatal for it's bound to take his breath." "The doctor says he's got a bad attack of ammonia."

"Indeed I do! I thought your love for the profession would return. But I must go in to dinner."

"Come with me a moment first." His uncle followed his swiftly striding nephew to the veranda.

"Uncle, do you know that white-haired woman, the one next to the beautiful girl?" "Surely. She has been here all summer."

"Then introduce me to her and explain that you left me in charge today."

Together they approached the two women. "Mrs. Benson," said the elder physician, "let me present my nephew, Dr. Frederick Morgan. I left him in charge today as I was called out of the city."

"She in turn presented Miss Grayson and then announced her intention of dining. She was accompanied by the older doctor, and Morgan slipped into the vacant chair.

"The stethoscope is a wonderful instrument," he said gravely, "in that half moment I listened to your heart, I learned that you jumped too readily to conclusions."

"I didn't need a stethoscope," she smiled demurely, "to tell me that you did the same. Think how you mistook me for a patient!"

"We are certainly quits," he laughed. Then, as the notes of a waltz floated out from the wide hall, he continued: "The stethoscope told me something more—that you were fond of dancing. And I am to be here two weeks and help my uncle. Tomorrow, you may bring your aunt to the office. But, come! Can you resist that music!"

THE WAY OUT Change of Food Brings Success and Happiness.

An ambitious but delicate girl, after failing to go through school on account of nervousness and hysteria, found in Grape-Nuts the only thing that seemed to build her up and furnish her the peace of health.

"From infancy," she says, "I have not been strong. Being ambitious to learn at any cost I finally got to the High School, but soon had to abandon my studies on account of nervous prostration and hysteria."

"My food did not agree with me, I grew thin and despondent. I could not enjoy the simplest social affair for I suffered constantly from nervousness in spite of all sorts of medicines."

"This wretched condition continued until I was twenty-five, when I became interested in the letters of those who had cases like mine and who were getting well by eating Grape-Nuts."

What the Smartest Dressmakers Are Now Displaying—Hints That May Help the Undecided

The new fashions are directed, says Paris, but directed with a difference. The directoire styles we have all been used to during the past seasons were feminine directoire fashions—now the masculine directoire modes are to have their turn.

The directoire dandy wore an oddly cut coat, which was somewhat like the modern dress coat extremely exaggerated. This coat had a sharply cutaway effect in front and tremendously long tails at the back.

Grays in Favor. Grays continue in the pronounced favor accorded them this summer, and many of the women who wore nothing but black and white combinations last season are now taking up their grays.

Two striking features of Paris fashions for fall are the prevalence of pleats and the full-length sleeve. The elbow sleeve has passed with the high waistline—which is now relegated to the limbo of passe fashions.

Sleeves are not only long, but they are snug. They cover the forearm and even the wrist in all coats, frocks and blouses intended for day-wear.

Shantung in a soft shade is used for the costume shown. The skirt is trimmed with a band of natural color, this is hemmed at lower edge, and sewn to the skirt by the upper.

The smart short-waisted coat has a plain basque set to bodice by a wrapped seam; the collar and turn-up cuffs are faced with natural color to within about an inch of the edge.

Materials required five and one-half yards 34 inches wide, one yard natural color same width, six buttons.

that is going to work a transformation in the silhouette, though the change will probably be so gradual that nobody will realize that skirt lines have completely changed until the metamorphosis has been wrought.

Watteau plaits and paniers are being used with discretion by many of the courtiers, to give a touch of grace and picturesqueness to fall models.

The directoire dandy's cloth coat and satin breeches. Half of the new tailored wear for fall—hailing from Paris—shows the coat and skirt of contrasting fabrics, and the broadcloth coat with a velvet or satin skirt is seen as frequently as the velvet coat with a skirt of cloth or silk.

frocks are exquisitely graceful. Skirts remain narrow at the foot, all the width being introduced in plaitings and long, clinging draperies which do not interfere with the slim silhouette.

AN APPRECIATION

Muri H. DeFoe, representative of Amos S. Musselman of Grand Rapids, in the recent primary campaign which resulted in Mr. Musselman's nomination by the Republican party for the governorship, gives the following sketch of Amos Musselman, the man:

"Privileged through my connection with his primary campaign, I had splendid opportunity to observe Mr. Musselman at close range—the acid test of character.

"In a letter written on primary day, he in part, said: 'I have made the best fight I knew how during this campaign and have not done a single thing that I am ashamed of.' This paragraph typifies the real character of Mr. Musselman—his campaign was in harmony with the high minded ideals he has practiced during his entire life.

Several times I heard him say he would rather be defeated for the governorship than to indorse some of the schemes proposed in his behalf by the 'practical' politicians.

"Prominently a hard-headed business man, Mr. Musselman does not provoke the enthusiasm of the average campaign spellbinder, but he talks in such a way as to convince his hearers he is a man of sound judgement and thoroughly honest even to his politics. His thirty years handling big business affairs has naturally tempered his optimism, and his judgment when formed represents a cold business solution. This does not mean that everything he does is measured by a strict commercial rule, but rather that the proposition has the benefit of that poise and conservatism that has made him a successful man of affairs in Grand Rapids and western Michigan.

"Mr. Musselman is a church man and has always been a generous subscriber to every worthy charity in his home city, and takes an active interest in every movement for the social and moral betterment of his fellow citizens.

"He is a perfect gentleman, always the same respected by thousands of acquaintances and idolized by the men who hold his intimate friendship as a privilege and an honor."

PRISON DISCIPLINE AGAIN.

As we suspected, some of the newspapers of the state are expressing holy horror because the officials of Jackson see fit to inflict corporal punishment on ringleaders in the Jackson prison riots. The evidence shows that the men were flogged or padded until some of them were pretty badly beaten up.

And the usual howl goes up, from those who insist that corporal punishment should never be used toward prisoners.

What would they have officials do? A week ago it was necessary to send for several companies of the state militia to keep these Jackson prisoners from breaking over the walls of the prison yard and running away. The officials of the prison didn't run the institution at all. The convicts ran it as they saw fit.

Under the circumstances does any reasonable man suppose that Jackson prison could be operated for more than a month before they would have another riot and another call for the militia of they didn't make the ring leaders of the rioting understand full well that such conduct would not be permitted? And there is just one way to make an impression of that nature stick in the unfortunately weak mental storehouse of the average prisoner and that is by application of physical force where it will make the most painful impression.

It is fine sentiment, this rosewater treatment of prisoners of the state, this notion of handling these murderers as angels of heavenly ideals, but the men who have to do the work in prisons know more about the necessities of the case than do the silly sentimentalists who write about it from a safe distance.

BECKTOLD'S INDENTITY VEILED IN MYSTERY

Marquette, Mich., Sept. 11.—The accidental death of the so-called Charles Becktold, at Big Bay, last Friday afternoon, has developed a mystery concerning the identity of the man which has not yet been solved. It has been learned that his name was not Becktold, and until his identity is established the remains cannot be interred.

The man was employed as a lumber inspector by the Coman Lumber company, of Menominee, and had six men working under him. They were loading lumber from the Lake Independence Lumber company on three flat cars. Two had been loaded and after dinner Friday work on the third car was started. It was standing a few feet out of range of the lumber, and Becktold loosened the brakes, so that the cars could coast a few feet down the incline. However, the cars were blocked, and it was necessary for the men to kick the blocks out before they could be moved. The cars started down the incline rapidly and Becktold saw that they would go too far. He rushed over to the brake wheel on the front of the first car, but could not stop himself, and when the loosened wheel twisted under his weight, he was thrown in front of the moving train. The men tried to stop the train by throwing planks under the wheels but Becktold was crushed to death.

Coroner Orary telegraphed the Coman company to inquire about the man's relatives. He learned that the man they had sent to Big Bay was named Howe. Notwithstanding the address of Becktold's father was learned, and a message was sent to him, in a Pennsylvania town. The elder Becktold replied that his son was alive and all right. In the meantime, the Coman company telegraphed another name to Coroner Orary, that of Charles B. Hall, of Scranton, Pa., which it is declared is that of the dead man. Hall is supposed to have a father and other relatives living at Scranton, and an effort is being made to get into communication with them.

Becktold, or Howe, or Hall was a fine appearing man of about forty years. Among his personal effects nothing was found to identify him, and his letters had the address and date clipped off, also the signatures.

An article that has real merit should in time become popular. That such is the case with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been attested by many dealers. Here is one of them. H. W. Hendrickson, Ohio Falls, Ind., writes: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best for coughs, colds, and croup, and is my best seller." For sale by all dealers.

BOSTON MARKETS

The calling of the loans by the New York banks and higher money rates all around caused extensive liquidation all through the list. This was especially true in New York while selling in the local market was mostly of the odd lot variety combined with a few stop orders. The coppers are all right and the metal market is all right and the only reason we do not have a big bull market is the lack of speculation and the uncertainty regarding election and its possibilities. The coppers are harder to buy than they are to sell and we believe in picking them up on all weak spots.

NEW YORK MARKETS

Fundamentals are sound but as we have stated for some weeks the monetary and investment conditions are not as such will permit a material expansion of loans for stock market purposes and in addition to the element from whom encouragement is generally looked for when it comes to the matter of advancing prices are apathetic. However we believe moderate purchases on the current downturns will prove profitable.

RICH DAD WANTS SON TO BE BALL PLAYER

Pittsburg, Sept. 11.—Toby Thompson's father has something like 1,000,000 kopecks and could take care of his son by giving him a good profession to go after, but the old man is keen for baseball and does not know of anything better than the grand old game to start his boy with. Toby is now with John McGraw, who has been asked by Thompson's father to take care of the boy and so find out if he has in him the making of a big league ball player.

At present the boy sits close to John McGraw when the manager is on the bench, and is getting a lot of valuable big league stuff which will help him in his desire to be a ball player. Thompson is only a kid, and it may be some time before he breaks into fast company.

He comes from Pittsburg, and is the youngest player who ever broke into the big league. McGraw intends to Thompson on a string no matter where he may land him a job. It is said that the Boston Red Sox were after him. McGraw has watched him work in the morning practice, and the boy has proved to the manager that he is fast.

Renewed Vitality—Rosy Cheeks

SOME persons seem to be naturally weak and sickly. Others with the strongest constitutions break down after a long illness. It's simply a matter of deficient nourishment—an insufficient supply of the phosphates that are generated into nerve and brain energy, the body salts that build up bone and flesh, the iron that makes rich, red blood. The digestive organs are too weak to extract them from the food you eat. We have scientifically combined those vital body elements into a liquid form that is easily assimilated by weak systems—

Webster's Tonic

—a food for nerves, brain and flesh. Also contains the well-known tonic bitters—dandelion and gentian. They stimulate the appetite and the digestive processes—help you to relish your food and digest with comfort.

Contains no quinine nor harmful drug of any kind. Has a pleasant, snappy taste. Get the complete formula from the druggist who sells Webster's Remedies, then ask your doctor what he thinks of it.

Sold in two sizes, 14c and $1.00. Six bottles of the large size for $5.00. Your money refunded if you are not satisfied with results after a fair trial.

There is a Webster Guaranteed Remedy for nearly every common ill that does not require a doctor. High-grade tablet articles also. Your druggist has them or can get them for you.

CAPT. JACK TO APPEAR HERE

Those who pride themselves upon their abilities as "crack shots" will no doubt receive an eye opener or two at the Northern State Fair here next week when the Fair management introduce "Captain Jack" O'Connell the most noted rifle expert in the country. "Capt. Jack" has mighty few equals in his style of shooting. He uses real bullets in direct rebuke to the "Shot"—cartridge humbugs of the various travelling shows. O'Connell has appeared before millions in every quarter of the globe while a member of "Buffalo Bill's" famous show, he is a man of extra-ordinary ability with a ".22" caliber rifle, and some of his stunts are just a little short of the impossible. Small objects such as coins, marbles, dice—even lead pencils, are hit in midair. Shooting in various positions he cuts matches and even cards held edge-ways, etc. With a little "Ithaca" 51-4 No. "20" gauge shot gun he shoots under a tin can on the ground causing it to jump into the air, and catches it in the air with the second barrel, kicks up a can with his foot and catches it in the air with both barrels. Captain Jack is totally deaf and his entire right side is partly paralyzed, but he is still a man of rare skill in the use of fire-arms. His shooting under such circumstances is wonderful in its rapidity and accuracy, and it will be worth coming miles to see him do his "stunts."

Miss Josephine Sharp will leave on Saturday evening for Chicago where she will enter a Baptist Training school.

RAY SCHALK PROVES FALL SENSATION OF THE MAJOR LEAGUES.

Ray Schalk, the young White Sox catcher secured from Milwaukee for a price said to be $15,000, today looms up as a valuable addition to the Chicago club.

The $16,000 beauty made good in sensational style in his first game with Chicago, which was against the Yankees. He tried lots of things and made them all go through. Two Yankees tried to steal second and were out by miles. He also caught one napper off third and broke up the New York attack in the fifth with a snap throw to Weaver which fanned Chase stumbling.

He didn't get much less besides a couple of brilliant put out at the plate, a single, a double and a stolen base. Moreover, it was his initial chance to receive Walsh's pitching and he did it perfectly. Ray hasn't his growth yet, but even now he looks worth the price, whatever it was.

To see this youngster work behind the bag minds one of the work of Archer and Kling. He has a world of nerve, more confidence than that and is a tower of strength, despite the fact that he isn't full grown. His work likely has won him the place behind the bat for some time to come.

Few, if any, medicines, have met with the uniform success that has attended the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The remarkable cure of colic and diarrhoea which it has effected in almost every neighborhood have given it a wide reputation. For sale by all dealers.

OFFER MAYOR RODENT CURE

Evanston, Ill., Sept. 11.—Publication of the fact that Evanston has a rat epidemic, and that its new Lakeside park and beach are in the possession of a rat army, has caused Mayor Joseph E. Paden to be overwhelmed with letters from all parts of the country, filled with advice concerning the best way to destroy rats. Here a few of the epistles. Mrs. W. S. Moore of Washington, D. C., writes: "All you have to do is to build a wire screen along the lake front and connect an electric current with it. Then drive the rats against the screen."

Walter C. Evans, San Francisco—"Tie blue ribbons on the rats."

Henry Pilsner, Portland, Ore.—

"Why not paint all of those rats green. They would never remain after that."

Alton Williams, New Orleans—"Put bells on them. That's the way to do it. Rats hate bells."

William Hanson, Milwaukee—"It's easy. Just give them beer with a little poison in it."

PURE FOOD MEN PLAN TO ASSIST WILSON IN CAMPAIGN

New York, Sept. 11.—A conference of advocates of pure food legislation, attended by Governor Wilson, resulted today in a plan to organize workers for pure food laws throughout the country in an association to work for Democratic success next November. After the conference Wilson announced, "I expect to make the question of the proper regulation of public health and pure food one of the principal features of my campaign."

MISS MINERVA and WILLIAM GREEN HILL

"Did you all hear what Miss Larrimore, who teaches the little children at school, said about us?" asked Lina importantly.
"Naw," they chorused, "what was it?"

"She told the superintendent," was the reply of Lina, pleased with herself and with that big word, "that she would have to have more money next year, for she heard that Lina Hamilton, Frances Black, William Hill and Jimmy Garner were all coming to school, and she said we were the most notorious bad children in town."
"She is the spitefullest woman they is," Jimmy's black eyes snapped; "she 'bout the meddlesomest teacher in town."

"Who told you 'bout it, Lina?" questioned the other little girl.
"The superintendent told his wife and you know how some ladies are—they just can't keep a secret. Now it is just like burying it to tell mother anything; she never tells anybody but father, and grandmother, and grandfather, and Uncle Ed, and Brother Johnson, and she makes them promise never to breathe it to a living soul. But the superintendent's wife is different; she tells everything she hears, and now everybody knows what that teacher said about us."

"Everybody says she is the crankiest body they is," cried Jimmy, "she won't let you bring nothing to school 'cepting your books; you can't even take your slingshot, nor your air-gun, nor—"
"Nor your dolls," chimed in Frances, "and she won't let you bat your eyes, nor say a word, nor cross your legs, nor blow your nose."

"What do she think we 's going to her of school for if we can't have fun?" asked Billy. "Tabernicle sho' had fun when he went to school. He put a pin 'in the teacher's chair an' she set down on it plumb up to the head, an' he tie the strings together what two nigger gals had they hair wropped with, an' he squeeze up a little boy's legs in front of him with a rooster foot till he squealed out loud, an' he 'throwed spitballs, an' he makes him some watermelon tooth, an' he paint a chicken light red an' tuck it to the teacher for a dodo, an' he put cotton in his pants 'fore he got loked, an' he drawed the teacher on a sista. That's what you go to school for to have fun, an' I sho, 's going to have fun when I goes, an' I ain't going to take no bulldozin' offer her, neither."

"I bet we can squeeze her," cried Frances, vindictively.
"Yes, we 'll show her a thing or two"—once Jimmy agreed with her, "she 'bout the butt-in-est old woman they is, and she's going to find out we 'bout the squeezeingest kids ever she tackle."

"Alfred Gage went to school to her last year," said Frances, "and he can read and write."
"Yes," joined in Jimmy, "and he 'bout the proudest boy they is; all time got to write his name all over everything."

"You member 'bout last Communion Sunday," went on the little girl, "when they hand round the little envelopes and telled all the folks what was willing to give five dollars more on the pastor's sally just to write his name; so Alfred he so tricky 'cause he know how to write; so he took one of the little envelopes and wroten 'Alfred Gage' on it; so when his papa find out 'bout it he say that kid got to work and pay that five dollars 'hwell,' 'cause he done sign his name to it."

"And if he ain't 'bout the sickest kid they is," declared Jimmy; "I 'll betcher he won't get fresh no more soon. He telled me the other day he ain't had a drink of soda water this summer, 'cause every nickel he gets got to go to Mr. Pastor's sally; he says he plumb tired supporting Brother Johnson and all his family; and, he say, every time he go up town he sees Johnny Johnson a-setting on a stool in Baltzer's drug store just a-swigging milk-shakes; he says he cause to knock him off some day 'cause it's his nickels that kid 's a-spendin'."

There was a short silence, broken by Billy, who remarked, apropos of nothing:
"I sho' is glad I don't hafta be a woman when I puts on long pants; mens is heap mo' account."
"I wouldn't be a woman for nothing at all," Jimmy fully agreed with him; "they have the pokiest time they is."

"I'm glad I am going to be a young lady when I grow up," Lina declared. "I would n't be a gentleman for anything. I'm going to wear pretty clothes and be beautiful and be a belle like mother was, and have lots of lovers kneel at my feet, on one knee and play the guitar with the other."

"How they going to play the guitar with the other knee?" asked the preschooler.
"And play 'em like Thine Own," she mimicked, showing his imitations of "Thine Own" as she knew to be the name of the guitar.

"Looks like he'd 'a' wore his breeches out," said Billy.
"I don't want to be a lady," declared Frances; "they can't ever ride straddle no climb a tree, and they got to squeeze up their waists and toes. I wish I could kiss my elbow right now and turn to a boy."

CHAPTER XXVI.

Unconditional Surrender.
"They 's going to be a big nigger 'sursion to Memphis at 'leven o'clock," said Jimmy as he met the other little boy at the dividing fence; "Sam Lamb 's going and 'most all the niggers they is. Sarah Jane 'lowed she 's going, but she ain't got nobody to 'tend to Bennie Dick. Wouldn't you like to go, Billy?"

"You can't go 'thout you 's a nigger," was the reply; "Sam Lamb say they ain't no white folks 'lowed on this train 'ceptin' the engineer an' conductor."
"Sam Lamb 'd take care of us if we could go," continued Jimmy. "Let 's slip off and go down to the depot and see the niggers get on. There 'll be 'bout a million."

Billy's eyes sparkled with appreciation.
"I sho' wish I could," he said; "but Aunt Minerva 'd make me stay in bed a whole week if I went near the railroad."
"My mama 'd gimme 'bout a million Nickels, too, if I projected with a nigger 'sursion; she 'bout the spankinest woman they is. My papa put some burnt cork on his face in the Knights of Pythas' minstrel and I know where we can get some to make us black; you got Miss Minerva's ink bottle, too, that 'll help some, and get some matches, and I 'll go get the cork and we can go to Sarah Jane's house and make useable black."

"I ain't never promise not to black up and go down to the depot," said Billy waveringly. "I promise not to never be no mo' lajun—"
"Well, run then," Jimmy interrupted impatiently. "We 'll just slip down to the railroad and take a look at the niggers. You don't hafta get on the train just 'cause you down to the depot."
So Miss Minerva's nephew, after slipping into the house for her ink bottle and filling his pockets with contraband matches, met his chum at the cabin. There, under the critical survey of Bennie Dick from his customary place on the floor, they darkened their faces, heads, hands, feet and legs; then, pulling their caps over their eyes, these energetic little boys stole out of the back gate and fairly flew down an alley to the station. No one noticed them in that hot, perspiring crowd. A lively band was playing and the mob of good-humored, happy negroes, dressed in their Sunday best, laughing and joking, pushing and elbowing, made their way to the excursion train standing on the track.

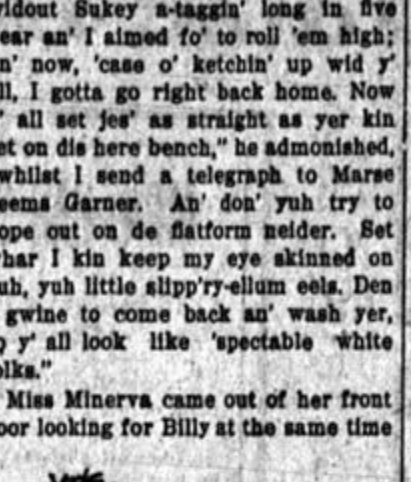

The two excited children got directly behind a broad, pompous negro and slipped on the car just after him. Fortunately they found a seat in the rear of the coach and there they sat unobserved, still and quiet, except for an occasional delighted giggle, till the bell clanged and the train started off.
"We'll see Sam Lamb torecky," whispered Jimmy, "and he'll take care of us."
The train was made up of seven coaches, which had been taking on negroes at every station up the road as far as Paducah, and it happened that the two little boys did not know a soul in their car.

But when they were nearing Woodstock, a little station not far from Memphis, Sam Lamb, making a tour of the cars, came into their coach and was promptly hailed by the children. When he recognized them, he burst into such a roar of laughter that it caused all the other passengers to turn around and look in their direction.
"What 's all grine to do nex' I jes' wonder," he exclaimed. "Yo' shals ain't made dis side o' 'ternity, Lordee, Lordee," he gazed at them admiringly, "you sho' is someway corn-fed, sorn-fer 's-er, an' 'd-ed an' 'ard-wide, gwine-d, Green-River Lollapalooza."

"Does yo' folks know 'bout yer' Lordee! What I aint' such a fool question fer' 'Cause dey don't. Come on, I gwine to take 's all off 'in dese cars right here at dis Woodstock, an' we kin ketch de 'commodation' back home."
"But Sam," protested Billy, "We don't want to go back home. We want to go to Memphis."
"Hit don't matter what 's all wants," was the negro's reply, "y' all gotta git right off. Dis-here 'sursion train don't leave Memphis twell twelve o'clock tonight an' yuh see how slow she am 'runnin', and et' y' no 'count nigger on her 'll be full o' red eye. An' yo' folks is plumb 'stracted 'bout yer dis minute, I 'low. Come on. She am guttin' ready to stop."
He grabbed the blackened hand of each, pushing Jimmy and pulling Billy, and towed the reluctant little boys through the coach.
"Yuh sho' is spiled my fun," he growled as he hustled them across the platform to the waiting-room. "Dis-here 's du' s' 'sursion I been on widout Dukey a-taggin' long in five year an' I ainted fo' to roll 'em high; an' now, 'cause o' ketchin' up wid 'y' all, I gotta go right back home. Now 'y' all set yer' s' straight as yer kin set on dis here bench," he admonished, "whilst I send a telegraph to Marse Jeems Garner. An' fo' yuh try to lops out on de station, mind on whar I kin keep my eye skinned on yuh, yuh little silpp'y-ellum eels. Den I gwine to come back an' wash yer, so 'y' all look like 'spectable white folks."
Miss Minerva came out of her front door looking for Billy at the same time when he is by himself, but he is easily led into mischief."

Miss Minerva's face blazed with indignation.
"William's fault indeed!" she answered back. "There never was a sweeter child than William;" for the lonely woman knew the truth at last. At the thought that her little nephew might be hurt, a long forgotten tenderness stirred her bosom and she realized for the first time how the child had grown into her life.
The telegram came.
"They are all right," shouted Mr. Garner joyously, as he quickly opened and read the yellow missive; "they went on the excursion and Sam Lamb is bringing them home on the accommodation."

As the major, short, plump, rub-cased, jolly, and Miss Minerva, tall, sallow, angular, solemn, were walking to the station to meet the train that was bringing home the runaways, the elderly lover knew himself to be at last master of the situation.
"The trouble with Billy—" he began, adjusting his steps to Miss Minerva's mincing walk.
"William," she corrected, faintly.
"The trouble with Billy," repeated her tutor firmly, "is this: You have tried to make a girl out of a healthy, high-spirited boy; you have n't given him the toys and playthings a boy should have; you have not even given the child common love and affection." He was letting himself go, for he knew that she needed the lecture, and, wonderful to tell, she was listening meekly. "You have steeled your heart," he went on, "against Billy and against me. You have about as much idea how to manage a boy as a—a—a—" he hesitated for a suitable comparison; he wanted to say "goat," but gallantry forbade; "as any other old maid," he blurted out, realizing as he did so that a woman had rather be called a goat than an old maid any time.
The color mounted to Miss Minerva's face.
"I don't have to be an old maid," she snapped sulkily.
"No; and yet are not going to be one any longer," he answered with decision. "I tell you what, Miss Minerva, we are going to make a fine, manly boy out of that nephew of yours."

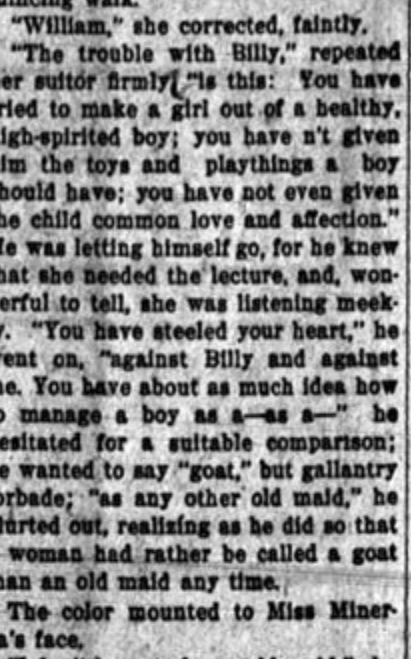

He Was Received With Caresses and Flattering Consideration.

that Mrs. Garner appeared on her porch in search of Jimmy.
"William! You William!" called one woman.
"Jimmee-ee-ee! Jimmee-ee-ee!" called the other.
"Have you seen my nephew?" asked the one.
"No. Have you seen anything of Jimmy?" was the reply of the other.
"They were talking together at the fence about an hour ago," said Billy's aunt. "Possibly they are down at the livery stable with Sam Lamb; I 'll phone and find out."
"And I 'll ring up Mrs. Black and Mrs. Hamilton. They may have gone to see Lina and Frances."
In a short time both women appeared on their porches again; "They have not been to the stable this morning," said Miss Minerva uneasily, "and Sam went to Memphis on the excursion train."
"And they are not with Lina or Frances," Mrs. Garner's face wore an anxious look. "I declare I never saw two such children. Still, I don't think we need worry as it is nearly dinner time, and they never miss their meals, you know."

But the noon hour came and with it no hungry little boys. Then, indeed, did the relatives of the children grow uneasy. The two telephones were kept busy, and Mr. Garner, with several other men on horseback, scoured the village. Not a soul had seen either child.
At three o'clock Miss Minerva, worn with anxiety and on the verge of a collapse, dropped into a chair on her veranda, her faithful Major by her side. He had come to offer help and sympathy as soon as he heard of her distress, and, finding her in such a softened, dependent and receptive mood, the Major had remained to try to cheer her up.
Mr. and Mrs. Garner were also on the porch, discussing what further steps they could take.
"It is all the fault of that William of yours," snapped one little boy's mother to the other little boy's aunt. "Jimmy is the best child in the world

SCIENCE AND INVENTION
LIFE PRESERVER IS SIMPLE
Chief Advantage Is That It Can Be Carried in Pocket—Can Be Inflated in Short Time.
A new and convenient form of life preserver has been designed by a man in the state of Washington, and probably its chief advantage is that it can be carried in the pocket by all persons, making them independent of the equipment of the boat they are on. An air tight bag has a tube at one end by which it can be expanded and a drawing string to close that end after it has been inflated. It thus forms a sausage shaped bag which can be fastened around the neck and which, small as it is will provide sufficient buoyancy to keep the wearer's head above the water. The importance of this little apparatus can be seen at a glance, for with one of them in a pocket or handbag a man or woman may feel reasonably safe on the water. It requires only a few moments to inflate.

BEES AS RHEUMATISM CURE

Medical Authorities, After Thorough Examination, Say Sting Has Curative Value.
In a recent issue of the Farm and Fireside is an account of the use of bee-stings as a cure for rheumatism. This cure has been thoroughly examined by some of the great eastern medical colleges and endorsed by them as scientific. The essence of the cure lies in the formic acid which bees inject into the blood. Following is a brief extract from the article:
"One sting will not cure your rheumatism, neither will two or three, but if you let one bee sting you every day your rheumatism will soon disappear. That's what some prominent physicians say who are watching an interesting experiment in Cincinnati, O."
"John Renner, of Cincinnati, long a sufferer from rheumatism, is taking two weeks of the treatment, about 17 stings, and he likes it. At first hardly able to hobble about with the aid of a cane, Renner can now walk almost as sprightly as any person. It is estimated by physicians that the poison injected into his system by the stinging bees has made the marked change in his chronic condition."
"Only a few cases are on record where bees were used to cure rheumatism. Mr. Fred W. Muth became interested in bee culture through his having rheumatism. Now he has bees and no rheumatism."
"Physicians who are watching this interesting experiment say that the formic acid which makes the sting of the bees so sharp and painful for the moment is the agent which nullifies the dreadful rheumatic pains. Sharp and painful as the stings are, it is a pain of relief compared to the dull and incessant pain of the rheumatism, declares Renner, the patient."
"In the above novel treatment the patient visits the apiary twice each week, taking from three to five stings at each visit. After the system is once inoculated with formic acid of the bee-stings the person becomes immune to rheumatic attacks."

An improvement on the old tubular lantern, by means of which the glass chimney may easily be removed or inserted, has been devised by a New York man. The metal canopy over the top of the chimney is so arranged on a spring wire that it can be raised on one side to permit this movement of the glass. The canopy tube of the lantern passes through a hole in the canopy proper. A side wire runs up on the other side and terminates at the top in a spring globe holder. The

NOTES OF SCIENCE AND INVENTION

Germany is about to experiment with the naval aeroplane.
Russia's army in times of peace numbers 1,200,000, and in case of war it can be nearly quadrupled.
In 1910 the total population of New York was 4,766,883 and the total street car traffic was 1,469,632,490.
A French inventor has placed a rubber roller in a cigarette paper holder to push out a single sheet at a time.
While a man's heart is beating 70 times a horse's is pulsating but 40 times and an elephant's only 30.
A small metal match box which clamps on the stem of a pipe is a recently patented novelty for smokers.
An international exposition of book making and its allied arts and sciences will be held in Germany in 1914.
A moving picture camera can be operated on horseback by using a recently invented attachment for the purpose.
An Illinois man has invented a metal tray to be attached to a broom to catch the dust which the latter collects.
Experiments with man power aeroplanes in France have led to the offering of several prizes for successful flights.
In some of the towns of Hungary a special tax is levied on bachelors, ranging from a few cents to about twenty dollars per annum.
The annual fall of snow in London, according to carefully figured estimates, amounts to from twenty-five to thirty-five pounds for each inhabitant.
An attachment for photographs by which a violet can be connected with a record and made to produce music has been invented by a Wisconsin man.
An aeroplane invented in England can be turned into a boat for its pilot to get a night's rest wherever he may happen to stop by the addition of various appliances between his wings.

HANDS CRACKED AND BLED

St. Clair, Mo.—"My trouble began about fifteen years ago. It was what some claimed eczema. The form the disease worked under was a breaking out with watery blisters on my hands which would then dry and scale, and then would follow the trouble of cracking and bleeding, also itching and hurting. My hands were disfigured at the time, and sore. The trouble was very annoying, and disturbed my sleep. This last February it was ever so much worse than before. I did not do all my work on account of the condition of my hands. I could not put them in water without making them worse. I tried a lot of home remedies, also salves and liniments that claimed to be a cure for the trouble, but I did not obtain a cure.
"At last I saw the advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I sent for a sample. I thought they would cure, so I sent for a fifty-cent box of Cuticura Soap and some Cuticura Ointment and some Cuticura Soap. A doctor advised me to keep ahead with the Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they cured me completely. No trace of the trouble remains." (Signed) Mrs. Mary Taylor, Mar. 25, 1912.
Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston."

Sparrow Sets House Ablaze.

An English sparrow was the cause of three houses catching fire at Lawrenceburg, Ind., recently, and had it not been for the prompt work of the neighbors and friends all would have been destroyed. The sparrow was building a nest under the eaves of the home of Mrs. Mary Webber, and it picked up a long cotton string from a pile of rubbish that had just been burned. With the burning string in its beak, the sparrow flew to the roof of Mrs. Sophia Shafter's house, then to Otto McCreight's house and then to the roof of Emanuel Wuest's home, where it dropped the burning string. A fire started in the shingles at each building. Each was extinguished by neighbors before much damage was done.

Barber Shops in China.

Since the Chinese revolution a great many Chinese have had their cues cut off, and this has led to the opening of a large number of barber shops throughout the far east wherever Chinese are located, says an exchange. Several progressive business men of Singapore, anticipating this, imported a large number of American barber chairs, and they are now unable to get supplies quickly enough. It has also been learned that the Chinese insist on having American hair clippers, and refuse all other makes offered them.
It would seem that American manufacturers of barbers' supplies should experience a large increase in their Oriental trade.

600 CLAIMANTS FIGHTING FOR A $64,000 ESTATE

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 11.—Six hundred claimants began today in the probate court a legal struggle for the $64,000 estate left two years ago on the death of Jeremiah Moynihan, an eccentric St. Louis character known as the "Millionaire Ragpicker," after the probate judge had rejected today what purported to be a will in favor of an alleged son, Glen Gilbert of Galena, Ill.

More than sixty of the six hundred claimants were in court. The claimants are from all parts of the country and the probate judge signified that night sessions of his court probably would be necessary to expedite the hearing of the contestants.

CALUMET TEAM NOT TO BLAME

Calumet, Mich., Sept. 11.—The Mining Journal, in explaining the failure of the Marquette baseball team to come to Calumet for games last Saturday and Sunday, and the withdrawal of the Marquette and Calumet teams from the league, infers that Calumet is as much to blame as Marquette for the failure of that team to come here. It explains that the Marquette management and players severed connections Friday night and that Calumet was notified Saturday morning that the Queen City team was not on the train bound for Calumet, but raised the point that the Marquette players offered to come here for Sunday and Monday games, so as not to disappoint the fans, an offer which was declined by Calumet, indicating that Calumet was as anxious to quit as Marquette, and thereby shifting some of the blame from the latter team.

Manager Horkins is able to place a different color on Calumet's action in declining the Sunday and Monday games, putting the Calumet team in a better light. He states that Manager Ridheme of Marquette called him up about 9:30 Saturday morning, explaining that the team was no longer under his control and was not coming to Calumet, and the Marquette manager made a proposal that if Calumet would offer some inducement. He could get the players to come here Sunday and Monday. As the league arrangement provided that each team retain its stadium receipts, and the Calumet team had never been given any inducements to fulfill its schedule in the Iron country, Manager Horkins rightly declined to give Marquette any money for coming here.

About an hour later, Manager Allen received a message from Marquette suggesting that the team would come here if the receipts of the two games were divided 60 per cent to the winner and 40 per cent to the loser. Mr. Horkins denies the Mining Journal's inference that Marquette offered to fulfill its baseball obligations here and that the Calumet management voluntarily threw away the probable gate receipts which would amount to about $500.

It is reported in Calumet that the Marquette management severed all connections with the players as early as Sept. 2, and that the players were paid by the fair management to remain there for the fair games. Had the Calumet management been advised of this, they could have disbanded the team Sept. 2 and saved five days' salaries.

The Calumet team has paid its share of the league expenses from the start. The Calumet teams draft on the league treasurer for the expenses of the trip, August 17 and 18, was returned unpaid, and the treasurer's explanation being that he had been unable to get Marquette to pay its share of the league expenses. The teams had an agreement for an equal division of the receipts of all holiday games, but Treasurer E. Klein of Negaunee asserts that Marquette has not made good with the receipts of the Labor Day games.

In a letter Sept. 6 to President F. S. Eaton of Calumet, Treasurer Klein asks Mr. Eaton to commence legal proceedings against Marquette for holding the receipts of the Labor Day games. His letter follows:

"The Marquette management has not turned in the receipts for the Labor Day games. They are holding $182.15 that rightfully belongs to the league, and which they claim they have paid out in salaries to their players. I think legal proceedings ought to be started at once."

If the claims of Treasurer Klein are justified, it appears the Marquette management has done the other teams of the league a great injustice. It is doubtful if any team in the league has escaped financial embarrassment this season, and if Marquette is behind it is no more than can be said of all of the other teams. It would seem that Marquette's best course would be to play fair and make good the shortage.

IS VICTORY FOR PROGRESSIVES

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 11.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt arrived here today. He expressed elation tonight when he read the returns from the Maine election. He said it was a victory for the Progressives.

"We named for governor of Maine the man the Progressives wanted," the colonel declared. "He wrote to me that he hoped we would not make a fight against him; that he was for me, and that he would come out for us after the election. I have just received word that he carried the state and that in accordance with his promise he had come out for the Progressive national ticket."

Assails Democratic Party.

Colonel Roosevelt delivered an address here tonight attacking the Democratic party and declaring it had made no fight against the "bosses" during the primary campaign. A Democratic victory in November would mean, he said, "the enthronement of the bosses, each in his own state."

The colonel, who spent most of the day in Seattle before crossing the bay to Tacoma, was followed through the streets there by a hundred bluejackets from the battleship Oregon, on shore leave. After marching about to the song "Everybody's Roosevelt Now," they stormed the colonel's hotel. Colonel Roosevelt shook hands all 'round and the bluejackets trooped out.

Nothing more was seen of the jackets until the colonel had begun his speech at the Progressive state convention, when sounds of tumult were heard through the closed doors. The Oregon detachment were demanding admittance, which the police refused. Mr. Roosevelt went to the rescue and directed that they be let in. They stayed at the end of the colonel to the station and then sent a detachment of seven men to accompany him here.

WALTER JOHNSON LOSES HARD LUCK GAME TO NAPS

Cleveland O., Sep. 11.—Bunched hits and numerous errors back of him allowed Walter Johnson to lose today's game to Cleveland 3 to 2.

The score: R. H. E.
 Cleveland 3 9 1
 Washington 2 8 3
 Batteries: Blanding and Carisch;
 Johnson and Henry.
 Umpires: O'Loughlin and Westervelt.

WELSH TO TAKE WOLGAST'S PLACE

New York, Sept. 11.—Ad Wolgast, lightweight champion, will not receive $18,500 for boxing Paeky McFarland in Madison Square garden on September 27. It is doubtful whether he will meet Paeky for the Garden A. C. decided today to refuse to consider Wolgast's terms any longer. The Garden A. C. doesn't believe Wolgast is worth the money he asks.

Freddie Welsh, former lightweight champion of England; who is matched to box Matt Wells for the British title in London, has been secured to box McFarland on September 27 as a substitute for the Wolgast affair. Welsh has boxed a ten, twenty, and twenty-five-round bout with McFarland.

Welsh will agree to let Paeky weigh 135 pounds at 3 o'clock, which will be largely in the American's favor. Welsh already is in fine trim and does not need much hard training.

Cadillac, Mich., Sept. 11.—Tom Jones arrived in town yesterday tearing mad over the fact that Ad Wolgast had matched himself with Paeky McFarland without his manager's O. K.

Said Tom: "Ad may make all the dates he has in mind for the next three months except for McFarland. I'll have something to say about that. There will be no fight until the club comes through with proper assurance of a $22,500 purse. Paeky thinks Ad is an easy mark, but I am not and the fight isn't coming off until it comes off right, if he and Paeky never get together."

NEGRO'S SLAYER PUT ON BONDS

Blue Field, W. Va., Sept. 11.—Gordon White, father of Nita White, aged 14 arrested Saturday in connection with the lynching of Walter Johnson, negro, last Thursday night at Princeton, W. Va., today was released on $10,000 bond. White was brought to Bluefield early today from Charleston where he had been taken to prevent his rescue by friends. He is charged with first degree murder, it being alleged he fired several shots into the negro. He was met by hundreds of sympathizers at the railroad station here.

TODAY IS NEW YEAR

Filled with the tender joys of family reunions and heavy with religious significance Rosh Hashanah, the New Year's day of the Jewish people, is one of their most generally observed holidays. This year it falls today and the church observances began at sundown yesterday.

Rosh Hashanah is not merely a day of rejoicing, as is Jan. 1 to the rest of the world. It is a day of remembrance when according to his religious instruction, the orthodox Jew is exhorted to the duty of self-examination and consideration of his transgressions. Symbolic to the call of Jehovah to the conscience to perform this duty, is the Shofar ceremony—blowing of a ram's horn.

For a day or two preceding Rosh Hashanah penitential prayers, called Selhot, are chanted in the temples before dawn.

The holiest of Jewish holy days is Yom Kippur, the day of atonement, which falls this year on Sept. 21. With the appearance of the first star on the night of Sept. 20, Yom Kippur observances will begin. The devout Israelite will give himself entirely to meditation upon his sins. From sundown of Sept. 20 until sundown of Sept. 21 no morsel of food will pass his lips. The day of atonement completes the ten days of penitence which began with Rosh Hashanah, and its credentials are a survival of these recorded in Numbers xxix:7-11.

Yesterday ushered in the 5673d year of the Jewish calendar.

Where There is Rest.
She—"Do you get a rest every summer, Mr. Jones?" He—"Oh, yes. You see, I'm only in business; I'm not in society."

DRUNKEN HOBO ON A RAMPAGE

Marquette, Sept. 11.—A drunken hobo entered the home of A. C. Wells the well known lumberman on State street Menominee last evening about six o'clock and before he left he went on rampage through the house and destroyed about $1,000 worth of plate glass, cut glass, chandeliers, china, mirrors, etc. It took three men to subdue him and carry him out of the house.

He entered the house without knocking or ringing the bell and was found in the dining room by Mr. Wells. The latter asked him what he wanted and uttering a line of profanity that would do credit to a bowery tough he took a swipe at Mr. Wells with one of his crutches and then continued on his way through the house, smashing bric-a-brac of various kinds, mirrors, cut glass, chandeliers, plate-glass doors, china and other fragile things were knocked into smithereens. Mr. Wells tried to stop him but found it impossible. He called for help and C. J. Huebel and Edgar Brown, neighbors rushed in. All three were unable to reach the desperate man until one of them pulled a rug out from under his crutch and he toppled over.

They then rolled him up in the rug, tied him with ropes and carried him out on the lawn with great difficulty, and held him there until a squad of police arrived. He was carried off to jail in an automobile. A serious charge will be preferred against him and one that will probably result in a prison term. It is not thought that he had any special grudge against Mr. Wells but was simply drunk and anxious to get locked up. He is a man about five feet nine and weighs about 150 pounds. During the fracas he struck Mr. Wells across the wrists several times with his crutch inflicting painful injuries and he also hit Mr. Huebel across the head, inflicting a painful wound.

At the jail this morning he gave the name of John McIntyre of Cass City, Lower Michigan. He claimed that he knew nothing of what he had done last night.

MAYOR GAYNOR LOSES TEMPER

New York, Sept. 11.—For more than two hours today, William J. Gaynor, mayor of New York, sat in a witness chair at the city hall and parried with picturesque retorts and evasions the attempts of counsel for an aldermanic committee to learn his views on the police situation brought to a head by the murder of the gambler, Herman Rosenthal.

Three times Mr. Gaynor threatened to leave the stand because he considered the questions irrelevant; twice he denounced the hearing as a scandalous mongering excursion, and often throughout his testimony he declared that attempts to "scandalize" him would be in vain, for he said he had lived in the city too long and had begun his efforts to purify government long before Emory R. Ruckner, counsel for the committee, was born.

At no time during his examination would the mayor admit that the police department was inefficient. He expressed renewed confidence in Rhineland Waldo, commissioner of police, and declared that if the social evil flourished it was at least on the decrease and was a lesser evil than police blackmail, which he had tried to eradicate.

Though the mayor lost his temper repeatedly and protested to Mr. Buckner that he was asking foolish questions, the young lawyer kept at his task patiently, unruffled by the rebuffs. The crowd, which jammed the aldermanic chamber until standing room only remained, broke into applause at the mayor's retorts.

"I hope you do not think I am trying to badger you, Mr. Mayor," Mr. Buckner remarked.

"Oh, I have to make allowance for your zeal and everything," the mayor replied laconically. "I was young once, myself."

After the heads of all seventeen inspection districts of the Greater New York police zone had been called as concluding witnesses, the departmental trial of Captain Cornelius G. Hayes ended late today. The decision of the issue, which is mainly one of veracity between Hayes and Police Commissioner Waldo, concerning the policy of the police department toward disorderly houses, rests with Deputy Police Commissioner Douglas I. McKay, who has been sitting as judge. He has reserved his decision.

ORE PRICES TO BE MUCH HIGHER

In spite of the great amount of ore that is being taken down the lakes this season from the northern shipping ports. Iron authorities are predicting an increase in the price of ore for the coming season.

The Iron Trade Review, in its last issue, stated that 35,000 tons of high grade Cuban ore for next year's delivery at Pennsylvania furnaces, had been sold at an advance of fifty cents a ton. The publication asserts that this emphasizes the upward tendency of prices of both foreign and home ores. Its reference to the possibility of an increase in Lake Superior ores for next season's delivery, is as follows:

"The probability is that the price of Lake Superior ores will be at least fifty cents a ton higher next year. Ore shippers not fully protected by contracts are having difficulty in moving ore and the offer of a Buffalo shipper of ten cents advance over present iron ore freight rates has not been accepted.

"Owing to the high freight rates prevailing on grain, it is not probable that lake vessels will be willing to haul ore unless furnaces offer considerably higher compensation. The heavy ore movement continues, August, with the shipment of about 7,800,000 tons, being the third month of the year in which the movement exceeded 7,000,000 tons."

CLUB NAMES ITS OFFICERS

Members of the Delta Hardware Club, an organization formed by the employees of the Delta Hardware Company in this city, held their first annual meeting last night at the general offices of the company and elected officers for the coming year. The officers chosen are: C. B. Smith president; Fred Earle, vice president; Laura Larson, secretary and Harry Smith treasurer.

Following the election of officers, refreshments were served and a delightful social session followed.

WIFE USES OPERA GLASSES TO SPY

New York, Sept. 11.—Members of the Moravian church at Castleton Corners, Staten Island, are as such excited over the story told by Mrs. Clara P. Housman of how she used opera glasses to detect her husband, Ansel Housman, organist of the church, making love to one of the choir singers, as they were by the remarkable scene she recently made at one of the services.

"I was compelled to leave my husband by this choir singer who far years I regarded as my intimate friend," she said. "I knew that he saw much of her in choir practice, but I didn't know she had taken him from me until some time ago, when he received a letter from her, which I found. The letter stated:

"I can hear the choir bells ringing tonight and I wish I were with you." "Mr. Housman then began paying so much attention to the singer that I watched him. In this way I was aided by Mrs. Anna Steele, our neighbor. We got opera glasses to keep them in sight and saw enough to convince me that we should separate.

"Before taking the final step, my mother, Mrs. William Hill; the minister, Mr. Chappelle, and I, went to the church. My husband was in the organ loft with the woman when I stood up and said to all those in the church:

"I have come here to tell you something about my husband." "Then I told them all how he had been taken from me by that woman. I was still talking when Rev. Fred Nitcki, pastor of the church, told me the church was no place for such a scene and ordered me to leave.

"My husband came out of the church with the woman on his arm. I demanded that he leave her and accompany me home. He laughed at me. Then this woman and some of her women relatives attacked me, my mother and sister. I was thrown down and rendered unconscious."

Housman denied the charges that he had been too attentive to the choir singer and said the trouble with Mrs. Housman was jealousy.

A few days ago Housman published notices that he would not be responsible for his wife's debts.

A poem by Mrs. Housman to "My Sweetheart," appeared in the same issue by coincidence. The theme was that her "Dear Old Baby Boy Was Her All."

WOMAN'S TRIAL SET FOR OCT. 10

Chicago, Sept. 11.—The trial of Mrs. Lena Musso on a charge of murdering her husband, Peter Musso, was postponed today in Judge Richard E. Burke's division of the criminal court. October 10 was set as the new date for the opening of the trial. Mrs. Musso was known as the "queen of little Italy." The state charged Mrs. Musso with shooting her husband because he objected to the attentions she is said to have received from other men.

Mrs. Fred Winchester of Wells yesterday afternoon entertained the members of the Five Hundred club at her home.

MAINE ALLIES GO TO BATTLE

Portland, Maine, Sept. 11.—Maine emerged from the state election of Monday, in which the Republicans were victorious, to find herself facing another political contest, with five parties instead of four in the race for the six presidential electoral votes.

The Progressive party, whose leaders joined with the Republicans in yesterday's election, came into being today after the announcement of the election by the combined forces of William T. Haines for governor, three out of the four representatives to congress and a majority in the legislature which will choose the new United States senator. Former Congressman Edwin C. Burleigh received the Republican preferential vote for senator at the recent primaries.

Revised returns today for governor, with only five small plantations missing, which in 1910 cast fifty-six Republican and forty-four Democratic votes, give:

- Haines, Republican 70,880
- Platsted, Democrat 67,848
- Hains' plurality, 3,032; Platsted's plurality in 1910 was 3,660.

Complete unofficial legislative returns show that there will be twenty-three Republicans to eight Democrats in the senate, and seventy-nine Republicans to eight Democrats in the house, giving the Republicans 102 on joint ballot, and the Democrats 80.

In interest today centered in the action of the Progressive leaders. The Republicans and Democrats already have nominated their presidential electors. The Progressive, Prohibitionist and Socialist parties, not being recognized officially, will make their nomination of electors by petitions. These papers began to be circulated today.

MONEY CANNOT BUY STABS IN CONNIE'S BUNCH OF ATHLETICS.

"The game is too great and too big to attempt any business such as a purchase of Johnson by the Red Sox at such a critical moment of the season, whether it's for mere advertising purpose or not," said Connie Mack of the Athletics.

"Imagine me, for instance, selling either Coombs, Bender or Plank to Washington or Boston for any amount $50,000, $75,000 or $100,000," continued Mack.

"Why, if I attempted such a thing I might as well pack the Athletics up and get out of Philadelphia. The people don't want such monkey business. They want a team to play the game and win or lose on its merits, not to go about trying to buy this player or that player.

"As a matter of fact, I wouldn't consider an offer for any of my team from any club in either league, and, what's better, the public wouldn't stand for it, and it shouldn't."

CALUMET IS DISCOURAGED

Allen, Third Baseman Connel, Shortstop Molyneux, First Baseman Kernan and Substitute Briggs have left for their homes. Pitcher Juul has joined the Ishpeming team, with which his brother, under the name of Burton, is playing. Juul pitched the last three innings of Sunday's game against Neogauee but the game was too far gone, with Scott pitching, for Juul and his teammates to win.

"It is doubtful if the Calumet Baseball club will be reorganized next year as, it is claimed, the venture this year was a losing one. The club's equipment, including twelve suits, the bats, catcher's outfit, bags, batsacks, etc., is to be given away as a prize in a contest being arranged by the club. It has been suggested that the outfit be purchased for the Grays but their treasury is depleted and, unless the businessmen desire to do something, a good chance to obtain a much-needed outfit will slip away."

C. S. Sullivan returned last night from a business trip to Marinette.
