COMMISSION CAN'T COME

ATTORNEY GENERAL FELLOWS MAY APPEAL TO TAX BOARD CANNOT BE MADE ON JUNE EQUALIZATION

The state tax commission cannot review the assessed valuations of property in Delta county, on the petition that has been filed with the commission by Supervisor Frank Burleson, of Bay de Noc township.

Atty. Gen. Grant Fellows has rendered an opinion holding that an appeal cannot be taken from the equalization report adopted by the board of supervisors at their June meeting, an appeal to the tax commission for a review being possible only from the equalization fixed by the supervisors at their annual October session.

Under the decision of the attorney general, the appeal filed by Supervisor Burleson will be valueless at this time and it is hoped that at the October meeting of the county board an equalization report, satisfactory to all portions of the county, may be adopted. A Lansing dispatch says:

A decision by Attorney General Fellows that holds there can be no appeal from June county equalization figures to the state board of tax commissioners will probably clear up what was rapidly becoming a question of much importance in regard to the coming spreading of state taxes in the fall.

The opinion of the attorney came in the nick of time, so to speak, for many counties had either filed appeals to the state tax commission or were preparing to do so.

The law now gives the counties the right to appeal from the equalization by the county boards. This appeal must go to the state tax commission and it is the duty of that commission to investigate each case and see whether or not the appeal is well founded.

Mr. Fellows, however, rules that the appeal cannot be taken from the June meeting. It strikes a responsive chord, not only in the state tax commission, but also with the members of the state equalization board, who for several weeks have been trying to figure just how they were going to get away with their August meeting and at the same time take into consideration all these appeals.

The state board of equalization will meet in August and it must finish up the work of equalizing the whole state so that the state tax can be apportioned by October 1.

In his decision Attorney General Fellows says that the June equalization is merely for the purpose of assisting the state board of equalization, and notwithstanding the June equalization it is the duty of the supervisors to equalize again in October although such action results in two equalizations.

The general tax law contemplates that the board of supervisors shall equalize at its October session for the express purpose of apportioning the state and county tax among the various cities and townships of the county," said Fellows.

"Had the legislature intended the equalization to take the place of the October equalization in the years in which the boards are required to meet in June, unquestionably it would have provided an exception in one act or another."

BIG EXCURSION BY A YOUNG MEN'S CLUB

The Young Men's Club have made final arrangements to hold an excursion to Marinette and Menominee on Sunday, July 19. The Saugatuck has been chartered for the occasion, and will leave the Stephenson dock at 8 a. m. A fine musical program has been planned aboard the boat, and refreshments and soft drinks will be served. No liquor will be sold aboard the steamer.

The excursionists will be given an opportunity to witness the baseball game between the Twin Cities and Racine of the Wisconsin-Illinois League.

Arrangements have been made with the Escanaba Traction Company to have street cars running from the Stephenson dock to Wells and Grand, so no one need fear about getting home the same night.

The Misses Beatrice Campbell, Madeline Burke, Donna McGivie and Anna Johnson have left for a visit with friends and relatives at Appleton.

Miss Julia Allard of Menominee returned to her home yesterday. Miss Allard has been visiting at the home of her mother, Charles Allard, 100

POSTPONE OUTING OF TODAY BECAUSE OF DESILETS DEATH

TO OPERATE THIS FALL

Excellent progressive is being made on the construction of the new Jones iron furnace at Marquette and the results obtained through the operation of the plant there will be watched with interest by Escanaba people as if the institution is a success a similar plant will probably be constructed at this port. The Mining Journal says:

Such excellent progress has been made in the erection of the Jones' furnace of the New Process Metals company, located a short distance west of the north Marquette school, during the last few weeks that the plant will now, it appears, be completed and ready for operation within three months. John T. Jones, of Iron Mountain, who is in general charge of the work, said Monday that the progress made was much better than he expected. The plans and specifications for construction were made by Mr. Jones' son, Arthur J. Jones, who is also superintending the building operations.

The larger portion of the basic construction work has been finished during the six to seven weeks that the work has been in progress, and the installation of the machinery and other apparatus is now being started.

The large tube that will be used in the melting process, sixty feet long and nearly four feet in diameter, has been received, and is now being placed in position. This tube will be placed in an almost horizontal position, inclining three-fourths of an inch to each foot, and will be rotated by electricity. In this tube will take place the electro-magnet process perfected by Mr. Jones after many years of study. Before being subjected to this process the ore will have gone through a heating process, in which it is metallized by combination with hydrogen gas from the burning of wood.

The upper end of the rotating tube will connect with a large stack, and the crystalline ore will enter the tube through a hopper at the base of the stack. The stack will be of the brick and steel construction, and it is now being erected. The machinery for the operation of the tube is now on the ground, and the remainder of the equipment is arriving daily.

Accommodations will be provided at the plant for the storage of a large amount of wood. Some coal will be used at the furnace. It will be a special grade, 40 per cent. volatile. There will be no waste, as the volatile gases will be utilized and the other 60 per cent will remain in the form of coke.

Owing to the fact that the new furnace is to use an entirely new process and is being built along lines entirely different from other furnaces in this section, the erection of the plant has been watched with interest by many Marquette people who have viewed the plant at various times since it was started early in May. Twenty to twenty-five men are now employed on the job.

A number of the buildings of the plant of the Dupont Powder company, which was dismantled a year or more ago, have been moved to the furnace grounds, and are being utilized. A fence has been built around the furnace property, which is located on the fair grounds spur of the South Shore railway.

WANT ALL TO DECORATE

COMMITTEE ASKS BUSINESSMEN TO MAKE THE CITY FESTIVE

Members of the Businessmen's Association Committee, headed by Mayor O. P. Chatfield, yesterday issued an appeal to all of the businessmen and citizens of Escanaba to decorate their places of business and residences with flags and bunting for the big Fourth of July celebration of Saturday. It is hoped by the committee that every business house on Ludington street, particularly, shall be decorated that visitors to the city may be imbued with the spirit of the celebration and thus aid in making the event a red letter affair.

Atty. Joseph F. Cuddy will act as the formal speaker of the day at the formal Independence day exercises at the city park. Atty. Cuddy giving his consent to members of the committee yesterday, thus completing the arrangements for that part of the program for the day.

Additional businessmen of the city yesterday agreed to enter floats in the big electrical parade of Saturday evening and which members of the committee plan on making one of the most novel features ever arranged to mark a celebration in the peninsula.

Every part of the program of the day has been given careful attention and only unfavorable weather conditions can prevent an unprecedented success being scored.

SOCIALISM IS GIVEN GRILLING

Socialism was vigorously condemned in resolutions adopted by the officers of the high court of the Catholic Order of Foresters at a meeting held at Ironwood on Saturday and Sunday. An exchange says:

The meeting this year was for the high court officers only, the order holding its general convention every two years. It is likely that Ironwood will be awarded the 1915 assemblage. The state officers were authorized to submit the question to their respective courts.

Resolutions condemning socialism in every phase of its propaganda were adopted unanimously. Two other resolutions were adopted, one protesting against the proposal to name Mayor Nathan of Rome, Italy, as a delegate in the San Francisco exposition on the grounds of his alleged antagonism to the Catholic religion, and the other protesting against the mail privileges granted to the Mencee, an anti-Catholic newspaper. Special emphasis was made in the Mencee resolution.

During the last year the Catholic Order of Foresters has been conducting membership campaigns. Prizes to the winners were awarded at the Ironwood meeting. A similar campaign will be conducted through the coming year.

GOVERNMENT FOUND SHORT

FAILURE TO PAY INCOME TAX ON TIME MAKES DEFICIENCY IN ANNUAL STATEMENT

(Special to the Press.) Washington, D. C., July 2.—Featured by a deficit in the individual income tax, which the returns show to be approximately $25,000,000 less than the estimates, the annual statement of the treasury department, containing the receipts and disbursements for the fiscal year ending June 30, was made public today. The exact sum of $1,010,068.81 is charged against the general fund as the fiscal year's deficit but Secretary McAdoo believes this amount will be forthcoming in the immediate tax days of grace allowed to income tax delinquents. Treasury department officials declare they are exceedingly gratified with the results for the first fiscal year of the new tariff and income tax and predict better results will be obtained in the following year.

The blame for the deficit in revenue is placed upon the provision of the income tax law which gives ten days of grace for payment after the close of the fiscal year before the penalties attach. There was a failure to pay of approximately $3,500,000 in taxes which had been assessed against corporations and individuals and which should have been paid by midnight last night. Sec. McAdoo contends that had this amount been paid on time there would have been a surplus for the fiscal year of approximately $2,500,000 against a surplus for 1913 of $1,897,000 and a deficit for 1913 of $400,000.

MURDER WAS THEIR GOAL

WOULD BE ROBBERS WHO SHOT DOWN J. N. COOK, PLANNED TO KILL HIM AND TAKE MONEY

That the trio of bandits, who late on Tuesday night shot down John N. Cook at the North Escanaba station of the Soo Line went to the isolated railway depot with the deliberate intention of murdering the agent that they might secure possibly $50 from the cash box, is the belief of officers, who yesterday investigated the case. Throughout the day Sheriff Curran and his force kept up a discouraging search for the cowardly bandits who shot the Soo Line agent in the back and only dared to enter the station when they believed him dead.

The robbers believed that a typewriter, in its case of tin, taken by them, was a cash box was proven yesterday when the typewriter machine, torn from its case, was found a quarter of a mile east of the station. Evidently thinking that they were carrying away a cash box loaded down with over 50 pounds of coin, the robbers took the machine through the brush to a secluded spot where they succeeded in ripping off the inside case. Their disgust at discovering the machine instead of money was shown by the fact that the tin cover was found thrown far to one side in the brush while the typewriter was turned over and left lying.

GIFT WAS PRESENTED

As a testimonial from all of the employees of the Peninsula Division of the North Western, C. E. Helmer, for many years assistant superintendent of this division and recently transferred to a similar position with headquarters at Winona, Minn., has been presented with a handsome gold watch and chain. MUSICAL TO BE GIVEN ON TUESDAY EVENING

FIX BLAME ON 1 MAN

Of evidence being gathered by Sheriff Joseph Kell of Menominee to fix the identity of the man who fired a charge of bird shot at Joseph Kosinski at his home at Wilson on Sunday evening, the Marinette Eagle-Star says:

A paper stating grievances of ten Polish settlers against Joseph Kosinski will prove a stepping stone for the Menominee county authorities in clearing up the mysterious attempt to murder Kosinski at Wilson, Menominee county, Sunday night. The paper is in the hands of Sheriff Joseph Kell.

The documents in Polish and is said to have been drawn up at an indignation meeting of settlers brought to Wilson through Kosinski, who is a land agent. This meeting was held on Sunday. It was said a committee had been appointed to go to Chicago and see what could be done in regard to fighting their alleged grievances against Kosinski.

Of the three suspects held in the county jail pending investigation of the Kosinski shooting, the authorities believe that suspicion for the deed which may prove fatal to the land agent, points most strongly in the direction of Adam Praglace.

In the home of Praglace in his investigation of the shooting Sheriff Kell found a gun which had been discharged within a few days, apparently and had been cleaned. It is believed that this may be the gun which the shooting was done. A report that the gun with which the shot was fired was found outside of the window after the attempted murder, proved to be erroneous today.

Further evidence against Praglace was found in the shape of a coat which was found in the house and which was soaking wet. As it was raining before the murder attempt and as the woods were wet, it was thought that the wearer of the coat and the man who was seen lurking near the Kosinski home before the shooting might be the same person.

SAW BURNING OF SALEM MASS.

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Merritt, who returned to the city yesterday after an extended trip through the east, witnessed the terrific fire that destroyed nearly one half of the city of Salem, Mass., last week. Mr. and Mrs. Merritt were visiting with friends in a small city near Salem when the fire broke out and went to the scene. The spectacle offered when the fire was raging in an area of nearly three miles in length and from a half to a mile in width is described by the Escanaban as appalling and one that will never be forgotten by them.

SEWERS BACK UP WHEN STORM COMES

Yesterday afternoon's heavy down pour of rain again caused the overloading of the Ludington street sewer, causing the water to back up at many points along the street and at the Delta hotel a portion of the basement was flooded, causing considerable damage. City officials were called out yesterday afternoon with street Commissioner John Garrity to inspect the sewer conditions in the basement at the hotel.

PAYS STIFF FINE FOR KILLING FISH

After appearing in justice court at Iron Mountain against Harry Wolford, charged with dynamiting the headwaters of the Ford River, in Dickinson county, for trout, Deputy State Game Warden Herman Leisner returned to Escanaba last night. Wolford entered a plea of guilty to the charge and was sentenced to pay a fine and costs amounting to $22.

PLATFORM ANNOUNCED

SENATOR FRANK D. SCOTT ISSUES STATEMENT OF PRINCIPLES UPON WHICH CANDIDACY IS BASED

Senator Frank D. Scott, of Alpena, candidate for the Republican nomination for congressman in the Eleventh district at the primary election of August 25, has issued a statement, outlining the platform upon which he will base his campaign. The statement issued by Mr. Scott follows: TO THE EDITOR:

Through the columns of your paper I desire to formally announce that I will be a candidate for Representative in Congress in the Eleventh Congressional District, on the Republican ticket, at the primaries on August 25, 1914.

That I am ambitious is undeniable, but I have deferred making my announcement in order that I might ascertain whether a goodly number of citizens in this district considered me worthy and qualified to fill this important position, and I feel now that I have somewhat determined that sentiment. My candidacy is being encouraged and supported by the laboring men, farmers, merchants, business and professional men of this entire Congressional district; not by word of mouth but they encouraged it but approximately five thousand citizens from the various walks of life, without my personal solicitation, have subscribed their assurance of confidence and support over their own signatures, and I therefore feel justified in submitting to the electors of this district my candidacy.

In this announcement I deem it improper to state a few of the things for which I stand I believe, if followed and adopted, would result beneficially to the people of this country. They are as follows:

First—A protective tariff which will protect the farmer, laboring man and also the manufacturer who is entitled to protection.

Second—Governmental ownership and control of the railroads.

Third—Governmental maintenance of and contribution to public highways.

Fourth—National protective and regulative labor laws.

Fifth—Conservation and reservation of mineral rights on government lands.

Sixth—To be the servant of the people, not the boss.

I have been a lifelong Republican; not as a business, but through a conviction that its policies are most conducive to the general welfare and betterment of the people of this country. I have served in the Michigan State Senate for the past four years and I invite and solicit an examination of my record in that body. A year ago I was unanimously chosen as the President Pro Tem of the Senate and in that capacity, as Chairman of the Judiciary Committee and a member of several other important committees, I had the privilege and opportunity of a real schooling in legislative experience which I feel and hope has fitted me for the position to which I aspire.

While a member of the Senate it was my aim to represent the people of this senatorial district. To ascertain their judgment I sent out thousands of letters and I believe my record will bear out the assumption that I did represent rather than dictate, and I wish to assure the electors of the Eleventh Congressional District, that should I be favored with the nomination and election, I will make my record, as your Representative in Congress, a reality and not a misnomer.

Very sincerely,
FRANK D. SCOTT.

BIG STEEL TRUSS FELL WITH CRASH

One of the immense steel trusses being placed in position to support the roof of the new theatre building, under the course of construction by John A. Smer, crashed to the floor yesterday morning when one of the ropes parted. Luckily not any of the men employed about the building were in the path when the terrific steel frame came crashing down, and no damage was caused by the accident. The truss was finally hoisted into position.

All of the steel is now in place at the summit of the building and brick-laying work can now be resumed along the sides of the structure.

John Kelley arrived in the city yesterday from Arnold and will spend several weeks in the city.

THE CALL OF HOME.

Ordinarily the occupant of a public office enjoys an advantage over a rival who seeks to wrest it from him, provided he has been a pretty good official and has not held the place so long that his recall appears desirable on general principles. This year, so far as members of congress are concerned, the advantage may be considered to lie on the other side. At least, that is the way the matter looks to some members of congress. One of them spoke about it the other day.

The trouble, of course, is with the fences. They are falling into unreasonable unrepair. Mere outsiders ambitious to sit in congress climb over them in all directions. Great breaches are beginning to appear and what gates are still hanging hang disconsolately by half a hinge.

So senators and representatives long to get back to fence-tending. Primaries are close at hand and the election itself is within sight. Clearly, this is no time to be at Washington. Congress has been pretty steadily at work since a year ago last April. It is not strange that fences show signs of decay.

But sympathy need not be wasted on the legislators. They could have adjourned and got back to their fences weeks ago had they desired. They insisted on discussing the tolls issue long after all chance of changing the result had disappeared. From the beginning delay has been of their own making. It would amount to a considerable public service if fences should get let on condition of such ruin that of one accord members of house and senate would hasten their program of legislation in order to get home to attend to them.

Senor Chamorro, Nicaraguan minister at Washington, says that Germany has been trying to outbid the United States for the Nicaraguan canal rights. In other words, Senor Chamorro gently hints that the United States senate should act with all due celerity in ratifying the pending treaty.

WOMEN LEAVE WHITE HOUSE DISAPPOINTED

Washington, July 1.—Five hundred members of the General Federation of Women's clubs marched to the White House today and drew from President Wilson a final refusal to accede to the demands that he support the movement for a woman suffrage amendment to the federal constitution.

The president reiterated his statement to previous delegations that his party had not embodied this question in its platform, and then for the first time announced his personal conviction that the suffrage issue was one for settlement by the states and not by the federal government.

The women went away plainly disappointed and chagrined, some of them talking of immediate action against the Democratic party.

Headed by such leaders as Mrs. Ellis Logan, Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley, Mrs. Rheta C. Dorr and Miss Alice Paul, the club women marched to the White House with a brass band playing and banners flying. They massed themselves in the historic East room many carrying babies that added their share to the unusual scene by cooing like or crying accompaniments to the different speeches.

Once inside the White House, the women made no demonstrations and allowed their leaders to do all the talking. There was no applause as the president entered the East room.

Mrs. Dorr and Mrs. Wiley questioned Mr. Wilson on his attitude with respect to national issues, in addition to that relating to the equal vote, and, after answering several of their queries, the president declared: "I can't permit myself to be cross-examined."

That put a stop to the questioning, and the delegation slowly filed out of the White House.

Is For "Local Self-Government"

The president told them that his "passion is for local self-government, and that he believed every state should decide certain things for itself. He classed the right of suffrage among these things.

Mr. Wilson told the women that the suffrage issue had not been mentioned in the Baltimore platform, and therefore he would be reluctant to take it up, even though his own ideas were different.

MAN HAD TAIL ONCE, SAY'S DR. DOWNING

Chicago, July 1.—Man once wore a tail asserted Elliot Rowland Downing, formerly of the Marquette (Mich.) Normal school and now assistant professor in the University of Chicago (College of Education in a lecture today, in which he defended the theories of the evolution of man.

"The fact that man, although without a tail, has all the equipment necessary to wag it, is additional evidence of his evolution from the ape," said the professor. "Why should he have all the tail muscles if he hadn't once had a tail?"

The professor held up the small boy who is able to wiggle his ears as an example of the lower animal still left in man's make-up. The wiggling muscles he held to be those which man's forefathers used in pricking up their ears when their nose scented danger.

Dr. Downing said that 198 useless bits of organism in man's bodily composition were proof he had once made use of them as an ape.

ARCHDUKE AND CONSORT INSURED FOR $10,000,000

Vienna, July 1.—The Tagblatt says the late archduke's life was insured for $10,000,000 and that of his wife for $6,000,000.

The will of the late archduke was found and opened by Emperor Francis Joseph.

The archduke's children, it is said, are to inherit their late father's estates in Bohemia, at Salsburg and at Arstettin. The rest of the estates including the famous villa Tivoli at Florence, are to go to the new heir to the throne.

SPANIARDS ASK U. S. TO 'MAKE UP'

El Paso, Texas, July 1.—The Spaniards expelled from Constitutional Mexico, have decided to ask the United States to reimburse them for all loss sustained as the result of their expulsion. The claims being filed against the United States will aggregate fully twenty-million dollars. Not only will claims be made for property confiscated but for damages growing out of loss of business the result of which the United States is responsible rather than Mexico, on the grounds that because of the civil strife that raged with the connivance of that country Mexico was powerless to prevent their expulsion or the confiscation of their property. The United States had the power, but failed to exercise it owing to the Monroe Doctrine, their own country, Spain, which also had the power could not exercise it. The United States is behind the Monroe Doctrine, therefore it is to be held responsible.

VEAL DEMAND IS GROWING STRONG

Washington, D. C., July 1.—The demand for veal has increased rapidly, and not only are the surplus dairy calves slaughtered, but thousands of beef calves as well, until a calf will now sell for $8 to $12 when only three months old.

The quotation from Farmer's Bulletin 588 of the U. S. Department of Agriculture means that unless the farmer has unlimited cheap feeds, it is usually more profitable to market the dairy for dual-purpose calves than to attempt to raise them, even though some of them might make good steers. While many deplore this heavy slaughter of calves and legislation against it has been urged, the consumer's demand must be met.

Cattle Feeding Changed.

While the number of cattle has decreased, the demand for meat has not usually grown until not only have the export nearly ceased, but the packers, that they may provide cheaper meats, are now buying many cattle that were formerly fed. The farmers who formerly bought nearly finished cattle as feeders have been compelled to pay higher prices for such cattle or to make thinner animals.

BOSTON MARKETS

Although the freight rate decision was not forthcoming as expected yesterday and the turn in Mexican affairs was less encouraging the markets held the advance surprisingly well, due of course to the strong technical position. There was a slight better tone to the copper metal market today and we believe the few sales around 13 1-2 cents marked the turn for better prices. We still believe purchases on reactions will prove profitable.

DAILY LETTER

Prices receding moderately without there being anything of novelty or interest in the news budget. Interests which were conspicuous yesterday for their dealings on the buying side were not very aggressive today and as a consequence scattered realizing on the part of the professional element imparted to the list a reactionary tendency. Washington advices from well regarded sources suggested that there may be some further delay in the rendering of the decision in the eastern rate cases. It was the general expectancy a while ago that commission would make known its findings after the close on July 2nd and that the financial community would thus have sufficient time to carefully analyze and digest the same but as stated above, it is now said that a week or more may elapse before the carriers learn their fate. We continue to believe that it will be the part of wisdom to await further developments before becoming extensively committed to the buying side.

Conditions Were Normal

Weather conditions in the month of June, just closed, were close to the normal for that month in this district according to a statement that has been prepared by Observer V. E. Jaki of the local weather station. The rainfall for the month was slightly greater than the normal, and the average daily temperature was slightly lower than the average for June in this district.

The statement prepared by Observer Jaki follows:

Considered as a whole, the past month was fairly typical of weather conditions for the time of year, as shown by comparison with June records in previous years. It was a month of abundant rainfall and weather slightly cooler than normal. Considered in more detail, the month was marked by a wide range in temperature, both extremes approaching within a few degrees the previous record for high and low temperature in June. Late frosts were also a feature.

The average daily temperature was 59.0 degrees, or 1.5 degrees lower than normal. A short period of unusually warm weather prevailed from the 8th to 10th, which was soon followed by a period of unusually cool weather, that began on the 15th, and culminated with the lowest temperature of the month, 55 degrees, on the 20th. During the latter interval, light to heavy frosts occurred on two days. The highest temperature, 72 degrees, was recorded on the 24th.

The total precipitation, 4.26 inches, was 0.75 inch above normal, and was principally the accumulation of a few heavy rains during the closing week. A period of dry weather prevailed from the 7th to 17th. Rain in measurable amounts fell on 11 days. The greatest amount falling in 24 consecutive hours was 1.71 inches, on the 27-28th.

The total wind movement was 1694 miles, or an average hourly velocity of 16.4 miles. The prevailing direction was south. The highest recorded velocity was 40 miles an hour from the northeast on the 25th.

Sunshine was recorded during about half the daylight hours, or slightly less than the normal amount for June. 19 days were clear; 10 partly cloudy, and 10 cloudy. Light fog occurred on the 24th, and dense fog on the 22nd. Thunderstorms occurred on the 6th, 11th, 21st, 24th, and 27th.

TO TEACH OR RAISE CHICKS

INTERESTING PROBLEM IS BEING WORKED OUT HERE BY PROF. E. W. DOAK

I am trying to find out if raising poultry is more profitable than teaching," was a statement made by F. W. Doak of the local high school faculty. Mr. Doak claims that he raises his fowls for a change of occupation and not to make money by them, but as he says, if he finds they bring more profit than teaching school, he will immediately buy a chicken farm. Many professional men of today and ministers, especially, are raising fowls for a recreation from the humdrum of every day life. They make a study of the best methods of keeping them, and how to raise them under a profitable basis.

On February 5, 1912, Mr. Doak started with a pen of five hens and one rooster. They were thorough-bred White Wyandottes, purchased from J. C. Fisher, of Hope, Ind. Mr. Fisher, as perhaps every one knows, is a world wide seller of White Wyandottes.

Mr. Doak's chickens are kept under the Philo system, and his coops are 3 ft. wide, 6 ft. long, and 4 ft. high, with an earth scratching pen on the bottom and a scratching pen of litter above. Some people are of an opinion that chickens must have a large amount of room, and they would be glad to raise them, but they believe they have not sufficient space. But this is not true, however, as Mr. Doak does not know what it is to have a sick fowl around.

At the beginning of the year 1913, Mr. Doak had 140 baby chicks, and he kept 30 of these for the next season. This spring he raised 240 baby chicks, and he received 20¢ apiece for them while they were still young. The hens started to lay in December, 1912, and since that time have laid 2500 eggs. The highest market price that Mr. Doak has received for the eggs was 45¢ a dozen, the lowest being 25¢ a dozen. The choicest eggs for hatching sell at 10¢ a piece, by setting, 6¢ by the hundred. The profit made on baby chicks in the months of April and May was approximately $50. An incubator is used for hatching, a 50 egg size hatcher, and a fearless brooder for the young chicks.

Signor E. Forcellati Dante to Direct His Band Here During One Day of Our Chautauqua

SIGNOR E. FORCELLATI DANTE.

ONE of the big features of the Chautauqua here will be the appearance of Signor E. Forcellati Dante and his Italian band on one day of the program.

Signor Dante was a student in the Conservatory of Naples at the age of seven and graduated from that college at the age of seventeen. Ten years later he became leader of his band. He is also a trombone soloist of unusual ability.

This is a brooder which Mr. Doak makes himself, and the little chickens are put into this after they are dried off from the incubator. The brooder is then placed in the brooder, coop, (Philo plan.) This method is used even in the coldest weather. During the first few days of the chicken's life, it seems to grow by leaps and bounds, having reached the age of 8 weeks, the pullets are put by themselves in coops, and fed so as to develop laying qualities. The roosters are sold for broilers into private families and to the local hotels, at the price of 50¢ each.

It will cost fifty cents to raise a pullet to maturity, and Mr. Doak has found it costs approximately $1.85 to feed a laying hen for one year. An extra good hen will lay 200 eggs in a year. Figuring these eggs sell for 2 1-2 cents each, makes the market value $5. Subtracting the $1.85 for feed, one has a clear profit of $3.15 with the hen thrown in. This hen can sell for $1.50. Suppose a hen lays 100 eggs a year, at 2 1-2 cents each, amounts to $2.50, subtracting the $1.85, a reasonable profit is made.

AGED MAN DIES ON A LONG HIKE

Dowagiac, Mich., June 30.—Having walked the entire distance from Montreal, Can., to Kalamazoo on his way to visit a brother at Glenwood, Harvey Gilmore died yesterday in the Kalamazoo county home. Although well provided with money to pay his railway fare, the man evidently preferred to save this and make the journey on foot. It is believed that his death came as a result of exposure to the hot sun of the past few days, which aggravated the heart trouble to which he was subject.

Gilmore was picked up in the Michigan Central railway yards at Kalamazoo Wednesday night and taken to Bronson hospital. His condition improved and he was removed to the county home. There he began to fail, but before he died he was able to tell of his relatives, asking that his brother, William Gilmore, be informed of his death. The latter lives on the John Blauvelt farm, near the North Wayne church. There are also two other brothers, who live in Ohio.

Gilmore was well known in and around Glenwood, where he had been employed for some time. About three years ago he went to Canada, which had once been his home. No definite arrangements have been made for the funeral.

CLAIM THAT THE BOUT WAS A FAKE

Paris, June 30.—Was the Johnson and Moran fight faked? Did the negro allow the white man to stay twenty rounds to help the moving picture privilege. Was Johnson one of the promoters of the bout? Did he fight Moran for 50 per cent of the gross receipts instead of $30,000 as he announced? Did Moran McKettrick and Flannigan know of this before the battle.

These and several more pointed questions were asked by the Americans who attended the twenty-round fiasco between Frank Moran and Jack Johnson staged here Saturday night. Later developments have gone a long way in proving that most of the charges are true, particularly those inferring Johnson purposely allowed Moran to stay the limit because of the pictures and that everything was "cooked" up several months ago with the view of rematching the men in America later on.

There is no doubt but that the fight was the poorest excuse of a championship contest ever offered, and this includes the Jeffries affair in Reno. Experts at the ringside say Johnson could have stopped his white rival as early as the fifth round had the occasion warranted and in the rebash there are many who believe he "pulled" his punches toward the close in order to make sure the mill was going the full twenty rounds. Jack Adams, the octoron sport-man, who was connected with Johnson's training staff, added fuel to the fire with the story that the Johnson-Moran fight was a fake.

"Moran has been the tool of Johnson, Siegler, McKettrick, Wolf and others ever since the articles were signed," said Adams. "McKettrick proposed Moran to Johnson as a man who could be used and who could be handled with the utmost ease. They sent Moran back to America to work up popularity for himself through moving pictures and otherwise as the one and only 'white hope'."

NORTHERN ISLAND IS BEAUTY PLACE

Washington Island, Wis., July 1.—Nature with a hand that was not gentle has made a spot of rugged beauty out of Washington island, the northern extremity of Door county. The precipitous sides of the island which have been worn by storms that sweep over Green bay and Lake Michigan hide the many little harbors which are fast becoming favorite spots for hundreds of summer tourists.

Ideal Summer Resort. The island, which is about thirty-five miles in circumference, is separated from the mainland by Death's Door. Death's Door in the days of the sailing vessel was a dangerous strait, but since the advent of power craft no fear is felt in making the passage. In the summer the waters of the harbors are dotted with boats of all descriptions. The resort season opens about June 1 and continues through October. The visitors to the island make their homes in tents and cottages, or at the hotels, where excellent accommodations can be obtained. One of the popular resorts is that of Ben Johnson. The Hotel Washington is situated on Detroit harbor and commands a beautiful view of Green bay, Lake Michigan and Death's Door. Other resorts are the Detroit Harbor hotel, B. L. Anderson, proprietor; Spring Beach hotel, conducted by Nor Shellswick, and the West Harbor hotel, conducted by J. P. Paulson.

Rich in Forests. All of these summer hotels are surrounded by forests of pine, hemlock, oak, maple, cedar, beech and ash. Bathing in water that is so clear that a person can see objects that are twenty feet or more below the surface is one of the luxuries to be enjoyed. Summer visitors to Washington islands, although in the midst of a forest and surrounded by water, are not in a wilderness that is hard to reach, nor are they cut off from civilization. The island can boast of enterprising businessmen whose duty has been to keep the little beauty spot abreast of the times.

The island can be reached in summer by steamers from nearly every port on Green bay of Lake Michigan, or if one is averse to lengthy lake trips a delightful trip can be made by land to the mainland extremity of Door county from where the island can be reached after a short trip by motorboat.

Climate Is Mild. The climate of the island is mild, rendered so by the waters of the lake and bay. Surrounded by water the island is practically free of mosquitoes and other pests that usually torment the summer visitor.

A fine opportunity is offered those who wish to spend much of their time on the water. The harbors are sheltered from the lake and bay and thus are nearly always calm. Fish—perch, bass, pickerel, lake trout and whitefish—abound in the vicinity of the island and fishermen have many occasions to brag of their catches.

Farmers prosper in this section of Door county. Fruits and vegetables are comparatively safe from the late frosts that cause havoc in many sections of the state. The climate, combined with the soil, which seems particularly adapted to fruit, is rapidly making the island one of the best of orchard regions. Apples growing luxuriantly without care. Many acres of cherry trees are now under cultivation.

RED WING MAN IS APPOINTED

Menominee, Mich., July 1.—John Silvernale, for seven years superintendent of schools in Red Wing, Minn., was chosen as Menominee school superintendent at a meeting of the Menominee school board last night. Mr. Silvernale will fill the vacancy created with the recent death of Supt. John N. Davis. If the Minnesota man accepts the position offered him by the board, he will receive a salary of $2,600 a year.

The choice of the Red Wing superintendent was unanimous on the part of the members of the school board. Out of the fifteen candidates each member of the board voted for three on the first ballot. This elimination vote left J. C. Moore of Streater, Ill.; E. A. Butler of Boine City, Mich., and Mr. Silvernale in the race. Mr. Moore and Mr. Butler received three votes each on this ballot.

On the final ballot all five members of the board favored the Minnesota man. Supt. Silvernale has just been appointed to his eighth term as head of the Red Wing schools. Prior to this time he was superintendent of schools in another city for 9 years. He is a man about 35 years old, is married and has a family.

CALLS ON GIRL SHOOTING IS RESULT

Menominee, Mich., July 1.—Following a brief altercation, the result of jealousy over a girl, Leonard Besau of Shawano, Wis., shot and dangerously wounded Delbert Burr at Marrek, Wis., Sunday night. Burr now lies at St. Joseph's hospital in this city with a bullet wound in his chest and the bullet lodged below the base of his brain. He probably will recover. Besau is being held at Marinette to await the outcome of the founded man's injuries.

Story of the Shooting. Both men tell about the same story, the only exception being that they differ as to the immediate cause of the shooting. The story is about as follows: Leonard Besau, 22, whose home is at Shawano went to Marrek Sunday to visit with his parents who live there. Sunday evening he went to the Bush home to call on Mary Bush, aged 16. The Bush family live on the farm owned by Burr, aged 32, who lives with them. Besau and the young girl went for a walk to the Besau home a short distance away. When they had been gone for a short time, Mrs. Bush sent her little girl to tell Mary to return home, but the little girl came back with the story that Besau said Burr was the one who wanted Mary at home and not her mother, and that Mary refused to return.

Burr, who had been keeping company with Mary, evidently jealous, went out for a walk when the younger girl came back, according to his story. When the couple returned from the Besau home, Burr met them at the line where his land joins with his neighbor's.

Here Burr ordered Besau to stop saying, "You've come far enough." At this point, Besau pulled a revolver, according to Burr's story and fired at Burr, the bullet entering at his cheek bone and lodging under the base of his brain.

Claims He Threw Rock. Besau claims Burr met them at the line with a rock in his hand and after a few words threw the rock at him. With the revolver in one hand he warded off the stone with his arm and pulled the trigger of the revolver, intending to fire up in the air to frighten Burr, but accidentally striking him.

An X-ray examination taken this morning at the hospital shows that Burr is dangerously, but not fatally wounded.

'FAINTING BERTHA' CAUGHT IN HOTEL

Milwaukee, Wis., July 1.—Bertha Miller, known to every police department as "fainting Bertha," was arrested in Milwaukee yesterday by Detectives Mauger and Dolan.

Mauger spied the woman on Grand avenue and trailed her to the Schilts hotel, where she had been staying. The woman, considered one of the most dangerous female thieves in the country, will be charged with vagrancy.

Ever since her release from a penitentiary in Omaha, the police have been watching for the woman, suspecting she would return to Milwaukee, inasmuch as she operated here about five years ago.

Origin of Name. The woman was given the nickname of "Fainting Bertha" by reason of her clever method of robbing the unwary. She would pretend to faint, and then rob her benefactor, usually taking his jewelry.

Since her arrival in Milwaukee the woman made inquiries about summer homes in Fox Point, and the police think she intended to rob some of the places there. She obtains employment, learns the location of jewelry and then ransacks the house.

Upon her last appearance in Milwaukee the woman robbed the Fuerstmann home on Juneau avenue of jewelry worth $3,000. She was located in New York, and was brought back to Milwaukee by Detective Dennis Sullivan.

Arrested in Chicago. When she was released in Omaha, a minister took an interest in the woman and she announced her intention of reforming. But the reformation was only temporary, the police say, inasmuch as she was arrested in Chicago several weeks later.

Bertha's record before coming to Milwaukee on Sunday and registering at the Schilts hotel is a long one. She was arrested in Denver on May 15, 1905, for shoplifting. Previous to that she had been arrested in Milwaukee and taken to Chicago, where she was committed to the insane asylum at Kankakee on October 24, 1904. On November 19, 1913, she was released from the penitentiary at Hastings, Neb.

It was while in Nebraska that Bertha was taken in charge by Rev. Charles W. Savidge. He and his congregation held prayer service for two weeks to drive the devil out of her. He said at the time that she was cured and would reform. Bertha then declared that she would get married. She also has been known as Dora Doffer.

FAILS TO KILL HIS WIFE; KILLS SELF

Detroit, Mich., July 1.—Jacob A. Moore, 63 years old, deciding death from cancer was inevitable, determined to hasten matters and take his wife with him.

He obtained a revolver from which he fired three shots at his wife, but his nervousness and his illness made his aim poor, none of the bullets taking effect. Mrs. Moore grappled with him before he could fire again.

The struggle was desperate—the woman fighting for life, the man for death. At last she broke away from him, ran from the house and entered the home of a neighbor. When she came back with assistance she found her husband lying on the floor. He had decided to die alone and had used a razor. He is in Grace hospital with very little chance for life.

Surprising Cure of Stomach Trouble.

When you have trouble with your stomach or chronic constipation, don't imagine that your case is beyond help just because your doctor fails to give you relief. Mrs. G. Stengle, Plainfield, N. J., writes, "For over a month past I have been troubled with my stomach. Everything I ate upset it terribly. One of Chamberlain's advertising booklets came to me. After reading a few of the letters from people who had been cured by Chamberlain's Tablets, I decided to try them. I have taken nearly three-fourths of a package of them now and can now eat almost everything that I want." For sale by all dealers.

The Best Medicine in the World.

"My little girl had dysentery very bad. I thought she would die. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cured her, and I can truthfully say that I think it is the best medicine in the world," writes Mrs. William Orvis, Clare, Mich. For sale by all dealers.

U. S. AND STATE AFTER FOOD MAN

Detroit, July 1.—State pure food men and the federal pure food and drug department have entered into an alliance to prosecute violators of the federal statute governing the interstate shipment of adulterated or misbranded food and drug products.

In the future, cases arising for federal prosecution will be reported by the state inspectors to District Attorney Clyde I. Webster instead of being forwarded to the department of agriculture at Washington.

Three federal inspectors were in Detroit yesterday to complete final arrangements for the new plan.

The government for some time has contemplated securing the aid of the pure food men in every state and in Oden Subler of Chicago, who was formerly head of the local bureau of chemistry which has been established, traveled about the state a few weeks ago lining up the state inspectors to help the government. Michigan is one of the first states to cooperate with the federal officers in joint prosecution of violators.

TYPOS' CONVENTION ON IN BAY CITY

Bay City, July 1.—The seventh annual convention of the Michigan Federation of Typographical Unions opened at the city hall here this morning, the delegates being welcomed by city recorder, Lovell U. Grant, President O. L. Hildebrandt, of Lansing, responded. Delegates are here from nearly every city in the state where there is an organization of the typographical union.

Following the response of President Hildebrandt the morning session was devoted entirely to routine business. Among the resolutions which will be considered are a protest against the proposed increase in second class postage and an endorsement of the clause in the Clayton anti-trust bill which exempts labor unions from its provisions.

IMPROVEMENTS ARE PLANNED

Members of the building committee of the Escanaba Board of Education have decided on a number of improvements to be carried out at different public school buildings during the summer vacation period. At the Franklin building a considerable amount of repair and improvement work is to be carried out. The boys toilet is to be moved into the basement of the building and other changes provided while every room in the structure will be kalsimined and the wood work varnished. At the Jefferson school general kalsimining and repair work will be carried out throughout the structure. In the remaining buildings minor repairs and improvements will be made.

BURNS UP ROLL OF CURRENCY

Houghton, Mich., June 30.—At the stamp-mill boilerhouse of the Wilnona Copper company, late Friday afternoon, Henry Schasene, fireman, shoveled into the furnace a large roll of currency. The money went into the fire with the coal. The money evidently had been taken into the boilerhouse with the day's supply of fuel by the attendant coal passer, and may have been lying on the coal pile, outside, anywhere from a few days to two or three weeks. How it came there is a mystery. Schasene had trouble with the valuable wad before finally getting it into the furnace and had made several ineffectual passes at it with his shovel. Finally getting it free, he threw it in to the fire box with some of the fine coal which surrounded it. On again turning to the spot where he had just got through prodding at the apparently worthless wad he picked up two bank notes, a $2 and a $5 bill, which evidently had become detached from the roll. This roll, it is said, was as large as the crown of one's hat. Judging from the description given, it must have been five or six inches in diameter and contained anywhere from a few hundred to a few thousand dollars, according to the denomination of the bills.

HERBERT BAKER IS CANDIDATE

Formal announcement was made yesterday in Escanaba of the candidacy of Herbert F. Baker, former speaker of the Michigan legislature, for the National Progressive party's nomination for congressman in the Eleventh district. Mr. Baker's home is at Weadock, Cheboygan county, and he has represented his home county for three terms in the state legislature, winning considerable prominence at the session of 1911 when he was chosen as speaker of the house. Mr. Baker has announced that he will make a campaign through the entire district before the primary election of Aug. 25.

A Good Investment.
 W. D. Magill, a well known merchant of Whittemound, Wis., bought a stock of Chamberlain's medicine so as to be able to supply them to his customers. After receiving them he was himself taken sick and says that one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was worth more to him than the cost of his entire stock of these medicines. For sale by all dealers.

Notice to the Public

BAYLISS FOR CONGRESS—ANNOUNCEMENT

JOSEPH E. BAYLISS.

To the Electors of the Eleventh Congressional District of Michigan: I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress, seeking your earnest consideration of my candidacy, your closest scrutiny of my official and legislative record, and your vote only in case an investigation of this record, together with my character and fitness, convinces you that I am worthy of such confidence as should influence you to trust me in the position to which I aspire—that of your representative at the seat of our national government—a position that no honest man may seek purely through a desire to promote his own welfare.

In a few weeks you will be awakened to a full realization of this position, in its relation to your years, but after the election, you are likely to lapse into an attitude of indifference. You may be off the job. You will have filled the place, thinking that whether for good or ill, you have done your part. Washington is a long distance from the Eleventh district of Michigan, and you cannot always keep your eye on the man you have hired. Now is the time to use your best judgment in selecting your man. Investigate. Learn where to find each candidate's record and study it. Remember that your representative will be subject to pressure from those who seek special favors, constant and ever increasing, and always subject to the Washington environment; that the tendency is to become unkindly of the folks back home, until another election approaches; constantly urged to legislate in favor of special interests, and to trim his sails to every apparent political breeze; invited to trade your vote on some matter for the promotion of measures beneficial only to a few, in return for something that will bring personal advancement to your man, but no benefit to you.

Whether you are worth one dollar or a million, the plan of our government is such that you now have a direct voice in its management and you will be held responsible in a measure for results.

I seek to be your representative. I would not have the office if you are unwilling to entrust me with it, but I ask that you prepare yourself to choose some man worthy of it by investigation of the credentials presented in the official life of myself and my opponent. Your man should have honesty, patriotism, courage, loyalty to principals, diligence, fidelity to those whom he seeks to represent, a sincere desire to be serviceable to his fellow men, a mind that understands and a heart that beats in sympathy with our millions of toilers, and yet be broad and courageous enough to insist that every man shall have a square deal. Wisdom enough to see that the success of both the wage earner and the capitalist depends upon the prosperity of each other, and that the destiny of this great nation requires that between the two, there must be a perfect understanding and co-operation.

I ask that you remember, during the coming campaign, that where the man has served the public, his record speaks louder than promises. Past performance is indicative of future actions. Promises to do this and that for this class and that man, are so much piffle, unless backed by a past which shows no deviation from paths that are right. No dodging, side-stepping and shirking.

Appeals for support in this locality on one issue, and in another locality on another, or promises to one class that certain things will be done while others receive opposite promises are but insults to the intelligence of the electors. It may have occurred to you that by withholding formal announcement of my candidacy until this time, I was attempting to circumvent the corrupt practice act passed by the last legislature which is designed to limit the election expense of candidates. Such is not the case. My announcement originally made Feb. 6, 1914, stated that my candidacy was subject to endorsement of the Republicans of my home county, where at that time there were several prospective candidates. I will include in my report of campaign expenses all moneys spent by me either directly or indirectly for campaign purposes since that date.

To have canvassed the district, much of the time since, claiming that I have been simply "looking over the field," would be a plain attempt to evade the law I helped to pass. The original announcement having been confined largely to my home county, I make the above general announcement and explanation.
 Very respectfully,
 JOSEPH E. BAYLISS.

MANY TEACHERS ARE AT NORMAL

A number of Delta county teachers have gone to Marquette to enroll at the summer session of the Northern Normal school. It is now believed that the enrollment for the session will total 400 representing all parts of the peninsula. The Michigan Journal says:

Fully 400 students will be enrolled for the summer terms of the Northern State Normal school, which opens this morning at 9 o'clock. The registration of the students will be started at that time and classes will be organized tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. The training school will also open tomorrow morning.

The enrollment at the summer session is always considerably more than for the regular terms, and President Kaye, believes that it will this summer exceed 400. Many of those who will be enrolled are teachers, some of whom have obtained limited teaching certificates from the school and are endeavoring to gain life certificates. The school will be in session for six weeks, and will close on Friday, Aug. 7. The training school will be in session during the mornings of the summer term.

Instruction will be given in all departments, and extra instructors of ability and skill in special lines of work have been secured. Institute courses will be given in all subjects required in the examinations for first, second and third grade county certificates. They will give opportunity for a thorough review in all the required subjects. A course in library methods will be conducted through the six weeks of the summer school, in charge of Miss Marie A. Newberry of the state library at Lansing. Special courses will be offered in music drawing, nature study, agriculture, oral arithmetic and domestic science, designed to give elementary teachers, a working knowledge of these subjects. These courses will be practical in their nature.

A special course in agriculture will be given for the purpose of helping teachers to teach the subject efficiently, as it is now required by the new state course of study.

EVE GETS CLEAN BILL OF HEALTH

Philadelphia, June 29.—Now comes a new authority to say Eve didn't eat the apple that the serpent of the Garden of Eden has been much reviled when painted as the world's first and most disastrous tempter. So University of Pennsylvania authorities announce.

This man says Noah ate of the fruit of the tree of knowledge at the wicked instance of Enki, the water god, who probably managed to scrape close acquaintance with the old admiral at the time of the big rain. And this writer, whose name is not likely to be known, had a pretty good chance to know what he was talking about, for he set down his tale about 400 years before Abraham was tending his flocks on the plains of Mmre the Amorite.

All this news has been taken off two fragmental of stone tablets brought back by University of Pennsylvania expedition to Nippur, which dug up a number of writings on stone done in Sumerian. The fragments, translated by Dr. Stephen Langdon of Jesus college, Oxford, report that Nuha, or Noah, was the man who saved the human race from destruction in the great flood. According to the fragments Noah got along all right after the flood until Enki corrupted him. From that time on Noah had to work—which appears to have been a radical change in the manner of his existence and that of the few other men who were shortened, so that there have been no men to rival Methuselah's age.

ASKS BANKS IF NEED CROP-MOVING FUNDS

Washington, June 30.—Secretary McAdoo today mailed a letter to each of the seventy-four hundred national banks in the United States, asking whether they believe it will be advisable for the treasury department to lend a hand again this year in the movement of crops by distributing additional government deposits. Last year Secretary McAdoo deposited more than $37,000,000 with national banks for crop movements, and every cent of the money was paid back with interest before April of this year.

DANFORTH CLEANS UP ON THE CRACK FLAT ROCK TEAM

A very interesting baseball game was played Sunday at Flat Rock, between the Danforth team and the Flat Rock team, which resulted in a score of 7 to 4 in favor of Danforth. The batteries for Flat Rock was Martel and Barron, and for Danforth, Larson and Gardiner. Larson's curves and smoke were too much for Flat Rock to make connections for consecutive hits. Danforth has issued a challenge to any team in the county.

Washington, D. C., July 2.—Washington made it four straight victories over New York today winning 7 to 4, when Shaw went the distance, holding the Yanks easily up to the ninth, when he weakened slightly. McHale was hit freely by the locals, a total of 11 hits being piled up in the game.

WOLGAST AGAIN BREAKS HIS ARM

Los Angeles, Cal., July 1.—Ad Wolgast, matched to fight Joe Rivers twenty rounds at Vernon July 4, broke the radius in the lower third of his right forearm while boxing with one of his sparring partners, Freddie Andrews of Milwaukee, on Monday at his camp, and will be out of the ring for at least two months.

The Rivers fight was declared off, but an attempt will be made to substitute Mattie McCue of Racine, one of Wolgast's sparring partners, for the Michigan bearcat. If this fails, Jess Willard and Tom McMahon may be matched for the Independence day date.

The accident came in the third round. Wolgast had been exceedingly rough with his sparring partner, all afternoon. Near the end of the third round he aimed a vicious right uppercut at Andrews' jaw. The latter cleverly blocked the blow with his left elbow, Wolgast's arm striking the bone with a snap that was plainly heard several feet away, the former champion, paled, staggered, and then caught himself.

To circumvent any claims of "fake" Wolgast was rushed to Dr. W. A. Preston of the Home hospital, where an X-ray photograph of the fracture was taken. It plainly showed the broken bone. After dressing Wolgast's arm, Dr. Preston said it would be two months before the arm could be used again.

BRESNAHAN MAY HEAD ST LOU-FEDS

St. Louis, Mo., July 1.—Keep an eye on Roger Bresnahan, the west side duke. He is being mentioned persistently as the future manager of the St. Louis Federal, and moreover it is whispered that the Cubs' catcher is anxious to make a jump.

That Bresnahan is liable to become a local pilot is by no means idle gossip. Mordcaid Brown is on the verge of being overthrown by a majority of scalp-hunting stockholders and Roger is the popular athlete in this community, but because he is looked upon as the possessor of managerial ability. His spurt with the Cardinals back in 1911 never will be forgotten here.

Bresnahan has a three-year contract with the Cubs. It expresses this fall, but Roger can jump when he sees fit if a court decision knocks out the ten-day clause, a thing contained in his present document. At least the right to "can" him in ten days was in the original contract and a new one has not been signed.

JACK SIDES-TEPS THE HARD ONES

MACK'S BUNCH LOOK LIKE REPEATERS

Detroit, Mich., July 1.—The Tigers are making a brave fight to overtake the world's champion Athletics, but if Hughey Jennings entertains the slightest feeling that he is going to decorate this city with another pennant, Connie Mack and his henchmen beg to differ with Hughey on the question. The tall, ministerial leader of Philadelphia's celebrated troupe of performers is not one given over to making predictions, but from no less an authority than Pete Daley, the erstwhile Athletic, who is now pasturing for the Yankees, the feeling of the Athletic team is unanimous that they are going to win the flag again.

Daley, who ought to know if anyone does, declares that the Athletics are cocksure that they'll figure in another world's championship series again. "The boys," said Daley, "don't believe there is a team in the league strong enough to beat them out. As far as they are concerned, they think they've the pennant won already. The only thing that causes them concern is how many games they are going to finish ahead of the next best club."

Bender and Plank Still Good.
 Chance's new-outfielder also volunteered the information that Mack is not worried about his pitching staff. "From time to time you hear them say that Plank and Bender are all in," said Daley. "Don't pay any attention to that kind of stuff. Those old boys will be there when Connie needs them. Bender isn't himself just now because he has been troubled with tonsillitis, and Plank has been troubled with a sore arm. But Connie has a couple of pitchers who will carry the team along until they get right."

"With that bunch of sluggers, Mac doesn't need any pitchers. Furthermore, they always get the breaks. I don't care what they try they always get away with it. If the Yanks had their luck they'd be up in the fight. I never saw a luckier team than Connie Mack's."

The Tigers have spurred to the front lately, but this has caused Mack no alarm. Daley says that Mack can't see the Tigers as winners. Mack admits the Detroit team is better than it was last year, but the lack of a pennant winning string of twirlers will keep them from getting the flag. The Athletics, so Daley says, fear the Red Sox more than any other club in the American league, and more so now because Smokey Joe Wood is back in the game and showing old-time form.

Look Out for Red Sox!
 "Boston got off to a poor start," says Daley, "but they're going better now. If the Athletics meet with any disaster, Boston, the boys think, will give them a hard battle."

Jennings of the Tiger's isn't saying much these days, but is keeping the team plugging along. Hughey, when asked what chance he thought the Tigers had to finish first, was rather non-communicative.

"That's a hard question to answer," the freckle-faced manager replied. "I won't say that we are going to win, but I will say this: We are going to be either first, second or third. We've got a fighting chance now, and if we have a little luck we may make the Athletics hustle a bit before the season ends."

HOW MURPHY GOT HIS REAL START

New York, July 1.—Very few of the present day athletic followers know how the late Mike Murphy, acknowledged to be the greatest athletic coach ever produced, broke into the training game. Here's the way it happened.

Away back in the spring of 1888, Mickey Finn, who is now manager of a southern baseball team, kept a cigar and newspaper store in Natick, Mass. At that time professional spring running was having a great boom throughout New England and all the crack sprinters made their headquarters at Mickey Finn's place. Whenever one of the towns through Massachusetts or Connecticut wanted to advertise a bit they would hang up some money for two or Finn to get the talent. The event would be advertised as a professional foot-racing gala day and generally drew big crowds.

Mike Murphy was one of the star sprinters and he and Steve Farrell, who now trains at the University of Michigan athletes, were the scratch men in most of the handicaps. Of course there was not a living to be made out of the running game and Murphy had a bottled beer route as a business. He owned a horse and wagon and for a number of years he did a thriving business. But went in to effect in the towns where most of his trade came from. Mike was much broken up over it.

On his way home one day, as usual, he stopped in to see Mickey Finn, and was bemoaning his hard luck at having soon to give up his business. Finn said to him, "How would you like a job as a trainer, Stucky? (That was the name Murphy was known under when he was running.) I have just received a letter from Yale, asking me

WILL KILL OFF RATS TO PREVENT PLAGUE

New Orleans, July 1.—State and city health authorities were astr here today preparatory to the inauguration of the first wholesale campaign in the history of the south for the extermination of rats in order to prevent the spread of bubonic plague. Two cases of the disease recently have been discovered in the industrial home of the Volunteers of America, in New Orleans. One man died, another is ill, and 28 inmates of the place have been isolated. With the home as a radius of a zone extending four blocks in every direction, the plans were for the construction of a concrete barrier around the entire area and for a rate drive toward the center. Other barriers will be erected as the warfare progresses, so that when the final onslaught is made and every rodent within the infected area will have been destroyed. Poison and traps will be used in the work of extermination, drain pipes will be screened to prevent the escape of a single rat and every expedient of rat killing employed to prevent a spread of the infection to other parts of the city.

MARQUETTE MERCHANTS TO SEND COMMITTEE

Members of a committee representing the Marquette Co-Operative Delivery Association, will come to Escanaba early in next week to investigate the working of the central delivery system in this city. The Mining Journal says:

"At a meeting held at the city hall last evening under the auspices of the Commercial club, meat dealers and grocers of the city formed a temporary organization to be known as 'The Marquette Co-Operative Delivery Association.' A Rydholm was elected temporary chairman, and Frank Pierce temporary secretary. A committee of four—Frank Pierce, John Carlson, P. J. Delik and August Melin—was chosen to go to Escanaba to investigate the central delivery system in operation there, on the invitation of the association of that city. The committee will visit Escanaba the early part of next week and will report to the Marquette association shortly thereafter. If the report be favorable, the Marquette organization undoubtedly will be made permanent. Fully 90 per cent of the merchants of the city are said to be favorable to the establishment of the proposed system."

AUTO DRIVERS HAVE SMASHUPS

Sioux City, Ia., July 1.—A desire to take the turns at a seventy-five mile an hour speed, caused the first accident on the Sioux City speedway here on Monday, where the drivers are practicing for the July 4 races. Harry Shrunck in a White machine ran into the inside fence of the track and damaged his car to some extent and tore up the barrier for sixteen yards. Shrunck and his mechanic were not injured, but their machine was unable to start.

CHARGE FOR GROESBECK

Another accident was narrowly averted in the afternoon when Anderson and Mulford got into a brush. The two fought for three laps, with Anderson leading in the Stutz. Coming down the home stretch, with Anderson ahead, Mulford put on more speed and caught the flying Stutz at the turn. He did not have room to pass. Masterly handling of the car saved the two from colliding.

WILL KILL OFF RATS TO PREVENT PLAGUE

Chicago, July 1.—President C. H. Markham, Illinois Central road, sees a great business boom coming, according to The Chicago Herald.

He says: "With almost unequalled crop prospects and some small assurance of settlement of some of the political questions which have been so vexing to the business world, it looks to me like every one will be so busy for the next few months that they won't have much thought for discussion of questions of this kind."

ing in the grass.

While the officers were searching for his assailants, Cook lay in a bed at St. Francis hospital with the would-be assassin's bullet lodged in his shoulder.

As he was leaning forward in his chair when shot the bullet caught the unfortunate man high up on the right side and ranged through the muscles of the shoulder. The bullet was in his soft nose variety and as it tore its way through the muscles made an ugly wound. The wound was sterilized when the patient was taken to the hospital but no effort was made to remove the bullet and it is possible that the patient will carry the missile in his flesh for the remainder of his life. Yesterday the patient showed a slight temperature, arousing the concern of the attending physician at first but an examination of the wound showed no signs of infection and it is believed that the temperature was due to nervousness.

Sheriff Curran and his force of men remained at the scene of the shooting throughout the night. Early yesterday morning they were able to pick up the trail of the three men, who walked to the station and returned by practically the same path.

The tracks of the men could be plainly made out by the officers and after the trail had been followed for a quarter of a mile the abandoned typewriter was found. The trial continued easterly and was followed to a point near the Austrian boarding houses above Wells, where it was lost. The trail left by the men convinced the officers that the would-be murderers reside either at Wells or at the Chemical Plant location. When the trail was lost practically the only clue left for the officers was lost, but a number of leads were being followed last night in the hope that the identity of the members of the gang may finally be established and their arrest brought about.

Cook has a wife and seven small children residing on a small farm that he has purchased back of Grosa. During the day Cook was accustomed to work on his farm and at night attend to his duties at the Soo Line station.

Hercules Pepin, father of City Clerk A. J. Pepin and one of the pioneers of Escanaba, is critically ill at St. Francis hospital. Mr. Pepin some time ago suffered from a stroke of paralysis and recently an affection of the stomach developed. He was removed to the hospital that he might be given every possible care but he has been slowly sinking and practically all hope for his recovery has been abandoned.

HOBSON BILL TO BE VOTED ON SOON

Hobson has not yet secured a rule by which his resolution for the submission of a constitutional amendment for national prohibition can be brought to a vote but he is gradually getting a little nearer the goal.

When that is effected, as also when the several states come to debate and vote on the matter in their legislatures, one of the biggest factors to be considered will be the matter of government revenue. Of course, it is usual to say that this should have no weight, that the matter of money should not be considered in a moral issue which the friends of prohibition claim and undoubtedly believe it to be.

Without intending at all to make the statement an argument against prohibition it is interesting to consider that two hundred and fifty million of the national revenue is now derived from the liquor traffic. That sum cannot be lopped off the national income without a compensating increase from some other source. Admitting, as we must, that on the present scale of expenditure for army and navy and agricultural improvement, for cheap and extended postal service and for all the present activities of the government, the amount to be expended cannot be reduced without detriment to the several interests served, it becomes evident that we must make up the two hundred and fifty millions annually from some other source. That may mean direct taxes or new revenue taxes or increased income taxes or inheritance taxes or increased import duties. It is immaterial in what way the deficiency is made up (except possibly in the matter of increased income taxes), the general public must be prepared to pay it.

This is intended as in no way bearing upon the desirability of national prohibition. We believe, if effective, it would be a good thing but, like all good things, it must be paid for. We don't get things for nothing in this old world. The law of compensation looks out for that.—(ort Smith, Ark. Times-Record, June 16, 1914.)

CUMMINS IS CAUSTIC

(Special to the Press.)
Washington, July 2.—In an attack on the Newlands trade commission bill, Sen. Cummins of Iowa, in the senate, denounced the Democratic senators "who would not even remain in the chamber to listen to the discussion of one of their own bills." "I suppose it's a result of caucus legislation," said Sen. Cummins, "that we seldom have more than a dozen senators in the chamber. The Democratic senators, no doubt, have been told that legislation will be passed and that legislation will be defeated, therefore they don't care whether they come to the senate chamber." The railroading of legislation almost has reached an automatic status these days, but I wish it were possible to compel at least a majority of the Democratic senators to remain in the chamber while we discuss bills which we've been told we have to act upon before we are allowed to go home."

HUERTA IS WATCHED

(Special to the Press.)
Vera Cruz, July 2.—General Carranza today instructed his Vera Cruz representative, Heriberto Jara, to use every possible means to prevent the escape of Huerta. Jara today confirmed the report from Tampico that the rebels have sent a body of picked men in disguise to Mexico city for the purpose not only of preventing Huerta's escape, but also to protect him from assassination. "We wish to try Huerta legally," said Jara. "If he escapes, we will demand his return as an embezzler, defaulter and murderer. We are prepared to prove that Huerta stole twenty million pesos. Some of these funds are deposited in New York banks."

ELKS CLUB STEWARD IS STEEPLE JACK

Frank Barchel, steward at the Elks club rooms, yesterday qualified as a steeple jack, when he mounted the 25 foot flag pole at the summit of the Elks temple and replaced the flag rope that had slipped from the pulley at the top. In spite of the fact that the pole has been in position for several years and yesterday was wet and slippery did not daunt Barchel. Applying resin in liberal quantities to the legs of his trousers and his arms, he succeeded after three attempts in reaching the top of the pole and placing the flag rope in position. Barchel is of German descent, but he is a firm believer in the proper observance of the national holidays of the United States. The fact that it would be impossible to hoist the flag at the temple on July 4 has preyed upon his mind for several weeks. After making repeated efforts to find a man with sufficient nerve to climb the pole and falling he tackled the job himself and early on the morning of July 4 Barchel will proudly unfurl the stars and stripes, an aim of several weeks finally accomplished.
