DOUBLE BILL SCHEDULED

ISHPEMING AND ESCANABA WILL CLASH IN TWO GAMES AT SOUTH PARK

Disabled by the terrific drubbing given them by Gladstone on Thursday and Friday, the Ishpeming league squad was unable to come to Escanaba yesterday morning for the scheduled game and instead a double header will be staged at South Park this afternoon, opening at 2 o'clock.

The Ishpeming team arrived here last night and were joined by a catcher and an infielder, from Chicago who reached Escanaba yesterday morning. This morning a pitcher and an outfielder are scheduled to arrive to join the lineup of the visitors and make what is claimed by the Ishpeming management a stronger team than has before this season carried the colors of the Hematite City.

The double beating delivered Ishpeming by Gladstone proved fatal to the holders of second place and when it was time for that team to leave for Escanaba yesterday morning four of the regular players were on the hospital list and could not accompany the team on the trip. A hurry call was sent to Escanaba, asking for a postponement of the game and it was finally decided to book a double header for today to give Ishpeming an opportunity to bolster up its lineup.

It was known on Friday that neither of Ishpeming's regular catchers would be able to work in the local series and one infielder was out of commission for at least a week and to fill those gaps two men were signed up in Chicago. Both arrived here yesterday and will be called out from Ishpeming yesterday, two more players are scheduled to come today.

TOLAN IS IN RACE

John J. Tolan yesterday issued the formal announcement of his candidacy for the Democratic party's nomination for Sheriff at the primary election of Aug. 25. Mr. Tolan filed his formal petition with the requisite number of signatures, at the office of the county clerk last week and announced yesterday that he will make a complete canvass of the entire county in the interests of his candidacy.

PUBLIC WILL ATTRACT BAND CONCERT TODAY

The populace of the city will today seek to the City Park to hear the band concert to be given by the members of the Escanaba Military Band. It is believed that the residents of the city will today display their appreciation of the concert at the park by joining in one huge body to attend. Not only is it the duty of the people of the city to attend the weekly concerts but while at the park should display their appreciation of the musical numbers by applause and will try harder than ever to please when it is given. This end of the program the public doesn't need to realize but it is really a duty for those in attendance.

BIG ENGINE IS FINALLY TAKEN FROM NARENDA SWAMP

The work of taking the big model NorthWestern engine from the swamp at Narenda where she plunged in last Sunday night, was completed on Friday by the wrecking crew of this division. It was necessary to haul several cars of cinders to make a suitable foundation on which to raise the monster engine.

CONVENTION IS OPENED

About 150 delegates arrived in the city yesterday to be in attendance at the big Luther League Convention, which opened here last night and which will continue until Monday evening.

Last evening at 8:30 o'clock an elaborate supper was served to the guests in attendance at the Swedish Lutheran church. The first session of the convention was held last evening when the reception program was staged. Rev. C. A. Lund delivered the address of welcome which was responded to by Rev. C. J. Karl of Marinette. The special musical number that was rendered was "The Great White Throne" by Grieg. Following the reception end of the program the election of officers was held and after a business session the first night's program was brought to a conclusion by the serving of a luncheon by the local league.

The officers selected are: Rev. C. J. Karl of Marinette, to succeed himself as President; P. O. Dahlberg, of Daggett, vice president; Miss Lillian Johnson, Escanaba, secretary; Nebert Berglund, Stephenson, treasurer and Dorothy Eckman, Marinette, corresponding secretary.

BOAT FIRE TERRIFYING

OIL BURNING STEAMER CATCHES FIRE IN NEW YORK HARBOR. PASSENGERS SAFELY REMOVED

(Special to the Press.) New York, July 18.—A hundred thousand persons gathered on the battery and the Brooklyn and Manhattan bridges this afternoon and watched the most spectacular steamship fire since the burning of the General Slocum in East river in 1904 with a record of a thousand deaths. The passenger steamship Massachusetts, with 700 passengers and a crew of more than 200 on oil burner, cleared from her pier in North river and swung into New York bay shortly after 5 o'clock when there came a sudden burst of flame through the upper works amidships.

Too far from the pier to return with safety, Captain Colbeth decided to land his ship at the battery. Swinging around he found all available docking space occupied by the Saturday excursion steamers. Capt. Colbeth started to circle the battery and run for the pier in East river, two miles distant.

By this time the Massachusetts was almost completely enveloped in a cloud of dense black oil smoke. Every available man was at work rigging up fire hose and preparing to man the lifeboats while squads were taken off from the crew and herded the passengers with stern and bow as far from the blaze as possible.

Half a dozen fireboats by this time stood by but Capt. Colbeth signalled he thought it was safer to keep up the river as he hoped to keep the flames partly under control until a way was found to get the passengers ashore.

After what seemed an age the steamer crawled into Wall about market between the Manhattan and Brooklyn bridges, and was made fast. The smoke died down and when the fireboats crews joined the efforts of the seamen on the Massachusetts, the blaze was soon extinguished. The passengers were removed but after making the necessary repairs the vessel resumed the trip to Boston.

BRICKLAYERS ARE PUSHING THEIR WORK

Bricklayers are pushing the work of laying the new walls at the summit of the Masonic building, which is being generally remodelled to provide the Escanaba lodge of Masons with one of the best appointed homes of any lodge of that order in northwest Michigan. Heavy timber trusses erected on what was formerly the roof of the building are now being enclosed with brickwork and the height of the building increased by approximately 15 feet. The interior partitions of the second and third floors are being torn out and a large crew of men will be employed at the building throughout the summer.

Although 77 years of age, Mr. Ives is remarkably active and has thoroughly enjoyed every moment of his visit here. He has been particularly impressed with the immense mills of the I. Stephenson Company at Wells and has enjoyed a number of trips into the woods where for the first time he viewed extensive lumbering operations. He will remain in Escanaba until Tuesday.

MAN IS ARRESTED FOR

Sheriff T. J. Curran was called to Perkins yesterday where he arrested John Krawl of Maple Ridge, charging him with being a peace disturber. It seems that Krawl is forbidden in the saloons at Maple Ridge on account of his ill temper and that while getting a drink or two at Perkins he got into a general mixup with a bunch of Italians that live near that village. The man will be arraigned tomorrow morning.

ANGELES TO BE NAMED

COMMANDER OF CONSTITUTIONALIST GENERALS MAY BE MADE PRESIDENT AD INTERIM OF MEXICO

(Special to the Press.) Washington, D. C., July 18.—General Carranza, organizer of Gen. Villa's artillery, now secretly commander of all Constitutional generalists will be made President Ad Interim of Mexico according to confidential information in the hands of the state department. The power of general Villa is thrown to Angeles.

At the recent Torreon conference between Carranza and the military chiefs, Angeles at the dictation of Villa was secret arrangement given the supreme command of all generalists in the constitutionalist army Carranza allowed to retain the title of "First Chief" but he was shorn of all military authority and his functions limited to civil and diplomatic matters.

The concentration of Villa's troops in the north is regarded as a move to stand guard over Carranza and make sure that the Torreon agreement will be carried out. If he later moves to Mexico City, it is expected that on reaching there, Angeles will be immediately proclaimed Provisional President. Villa will be given command of the Mexican military forces and Carranza will probably be permitted to resume his former office as governor of Coahuila.

The administration today redoubled its efforts to secure the agreement of Carranza and his military chiefs, granting general amnesty to political offenders of the Huerta regime and the protection of origin and other property.

The depleted condition of the Mexican treasury threatens to cause a revolt in Mexico City. The action of Orozco in already starting a counter revolution, taking to the mountains with 4000 troops; guerrilla and factional warfare near Acapulco on the west coast and renewed activities at Zapata are causing concern at Washington. It is hoped that peace will be speedily established but officials in touch with the Mexican situation confidently admit the end is far from sight.

Villa communicated to the state department today his willingness to guarantee the protection of lives and property of Americans and other foreigners along the border and in the territory he controls.

Carranza's answer to the note of the mediators, asking him to send delegates to meet informally the Huerta delegates at the Niagara Falls conference, reached Minister Naon today. He declines the request on the ground that the military chiefs of the constitutionalist army refused to agree to the plan.

GREAT INDIAN HALF IS IN ESCANABA

John Gayou, all American halfback for three successive years, while playing with the Carlisle University team, is in the city in the interest of the Spalding & Company, sporting goods manufacturers. Gayou played half on the Carlisle team in 1902-03 and 04 and because of the fact that he weighed at that time but 141 pounds his spectacular playing was the sensation of the football world and for three successive years was selected as the greatest American halfback. After graduating he served as coach at Washington and Lee College of Pennsylvania and Washington college of St. Louis. A year ago he became a traveling salesman for Spalding & Company and has now permanently abandoned the coaching field.

ESCANABA TO GET $26,000

APPORTIONMENT OF PRIMARY SCHOOL FUND IS MADE ON BASES OF $7.10 FOR THE SCHOOL POPULATION

The city of Escanaba will receive from the state of Michigan a total of $25,957.60 from the state of Michigan as its share of the apportionment of the primary school fund for this year. The apportionment will be made this year on the basis of $7.10 for each child of school age, the per capita being slightly lower this year than last year, as one of the railroads of the state have not yet paid into the state treasury their tax assessments for the year.

Auditor General Fuller has sent out the figures fixing the amount of the apportionment for each school district of the state and within a short time the fund will be made available for the school officers.

The primary school fund is derived from taxes paid by railroads, telephone, telegraph, express and other corporations doing business in Michigan, the fund being distributed annually among the school districts of the state, that are eligible to participate in the fund.

DAVIS NOT CANDIDATE

Formal announcement was made yesterday by F. D. Davis that he will not be a candidate for the Republican nomination for senator from this district at the primary election in August. ## FAYETTE FARMERS TO TAKE HOLIDAY

The publicity agent of the Fair store outing trip to Fayette on Tuesday, July 27, has received numerous letters from farmers residing in the farming district surrounding Fayette stating that they expect to make a general holiday of the Fair store picnic. The head of the Grange at Fayette has recently written to the Fair store here stating that the Grange probably would attend the picnic in a body and in her letter inquired whether or not they could do anything to assist in making the day a bigger success. However all of the farmers surrounding Fayette have been invited to attend as the guests of the Fair store and an effort is now being made to secure W. L. Davidson, the county agricultural expert to deliver an address to the gathered farmers. Everything, at the present time points to a huge success for the big Fair store outing.

BOURKE HAS NEW TITLE

Ernie Bourke, who covers left field for the local leaguers, hitched a new title to his name yesterday and in the future he will be known as "Skipper" Bourke. Yesterday he demonstrated that what he knows about sailing is hardly worth knowing and therefore is eminently entitled to the new handle to his name.

Accompanied by Eddie Hirn and "Mike" Baum, Bourke went to the Merchant's dock yesterday afternoon and in spite of the fact that a heavy sea was rolling in from the north while a brisk wind was puffing out the south, the trio took a sailboat belonging to Isaac Schram from its moorings and started out in the bay immediately after they had cast loose from the dock the members of the sailing party discovered that their knowledge of the proper manipulation of a sail boat was sadly deficient. They found that they did not know how to hoist the sail but they were able to get up a sufficient spread of canvas to carry them out into the bay, but without in any way being able to control the direction of the vessel. The cries of the three men for aid were heard by men on the dock and as it was seen that the craft was slowly being carried up the bay, Capt. Shipman of the Tug WaWa was preparing to cast loose and start for their rescue.

"Red" Murray, catcher for the local club, accompanied by Clifford Roberts, however put out in a yawl and finally reached the helpless craft. Both Murray and Roberts are expert sailors and after the sails had been properly hoisted, by making two tacks against the wind, they were finally able to reach the dock. It is asserted by those on the dock that had the three inexperienced lads been able to properly raise the sails their craft would have been toppled over by the puffy gale and their position would have been far more dangerous than it proved to be.

PYTHIANS WILL ATTEND SERVICE

In his letter to the head of the local association, Mr. Curtis stated that possessed of a friendly feeling, as he is, for Escanaba, he will give Escanaba and the surrounding district a distinct boost in his addresses. The lectures will be delivered by the former Escanaban in Southern and Western states.

GLADSTONE CAN'T LOSE

UPPER BAY CITY SQUAD KEEPS UP GREAT WINNING GAIT, COPPING FOURTH STRAIGHT

(Special to the Press.) Negaunee, Mich., July 18.—By winning 6 to 2 today, Gladstone registered her fourth straight victory without a defeat. Incidentally Monte Olmsted appeared in a comeback stunt for Gladstone today that left nothing to be desired. The big port sider had the Negaunee sluggers biting at his foolers throughout the session and while he allowed seven hits the blows were scattered and Gladstone was never in danger.

Murso started yesterday's game for Gladstone and as in the game of the previous day against Ishpeming, the visitors got jump on the locals in the early innings and then rested on their laurels with Negaunee held helpless by superior pitching. After Gladstone had rushed four runs across the pan in the fourth on two hits, Murso was yanked and Gaffney, who has not climbed the pitcher's mound in years was sent in as relief agent. The first ball that he pitched was cracked for a two bagger but after that spurs the visitors were held hitless by the veteran for the remainder of the game. In addition to keeping the hits scattered Olmsted was chary with his passes to first and whiffed seven of Negaunee's batters.

With four straight wins to their credit and Carlo saved and in prime form for tomorrow's battle, the Gladstone squad is jubilant tonight with the excellent prospect of annexing another game tomorrow and making their record five straight wins.

BAND DANCE MONDAY EVE.

A special car will be run from Gladstone and will return the dancers to the upper Bay city immediately following the closing of the party. This feature of tomorrow night's party should draw crowd from the upper bay city. With ideal weather existing the dancing by "the blue, blue bay should be most entrancing."

MANY WILL GO TO TWIN CITIES

Two sign painters were picked up yesterday afternoon, suspected by the police of being connected with the freight car robberies but were later released.

FIVE MILES IN THE AIR.

Twice within a single week German visitors have broken the altitude record. The weight attained by Heinrich Gielich is reported as 25,000 feet,
nearly five miles.

Balloons have occasionally attained a greater height, but they have invariably lost consciousness, and some of them have perished in the rarefied atmosphere. Mountain climbers have reached almost as great a height, but they have been men of the strongest physique, and have devoted their entire attention to the comparatively simple business of climbing.
The valuator must retain complete control of mind and body, or his flight
will certainly be fatal.

Endurance flights may continue to break records until an aviator has circled the globe without once stopping.
Theoretically there is no end to the setting of new records in these lines
of endeavor.

But the altitude record will not be broken many times in the future, no matter what mechanical perfection may be achieved in the constructing of aeroplanes. Beyond a certain limit man cannot live, and beyond a certain lesser limit he cannot retain consciousness. This limit is not far above the 25,000 feet which Heinrich Gielich has attained. The next sailer toward the sun may gain a higher altitude, and pay for his achievement with his life. The danger is so great that no possible theoretical or practical gain can make further endeavor worth while.

BRITISH VESSEL TO MAKE SIX YEAR TRIP

London, July 18.—Six years at sea
and a voyage of 210,000 miles to hunt
and chart island, reefs and banks of doubtful location is what the British Antarctic and Oceanographical Expedition now proposes to do for the benefit of the world's merchant marine.
Originally Sir Ernest Shackleton and J. Foster Stackhouse intended only to survey and chart the coast of the Antarctic continent, looking for such menaces to shipping as might lie on their voyage down and back. But the charts disclosed so many points marked D. P. D. and E. D.—doubtful, position doubtful and existence doubtful that the explorers have added two and a half years to their projected voyage, which starts next December
in the "Discovery."

The seven seas have never been accurately charted because says Mr.
Stackhouse, "being every body's business it was no body's business to do it." Even the north Atlantic has its doubtful islands and sunken rocks.
Four different mariners, previous to the Titanic disaster, reported seeing rocks near the point where the ship went down, and this is one of the first things to be investigated by the Discovery, Polynesia, Delanasa, and Malaysia are notorious for volcanic and coral obstructions, and the Panama canal will open new routes thru these dangerous seas. The South American and African coasts have their doubtful rocks. Mr. Stackhouse considers it just as important to find out that a menace does not exist as
that it does.

The new sea charting expedition is financed by public contributions. Its fifteen officers and scientists have given their work for the next six years gratis. The only expenses besides the equipment are those incident alto running the ship, and the pay of the crew of nineteen men. The foremost hydrographer of Great Britain, Captain J. A. Rupert-Jones, will have charge of these sounding and Lieutenant Mumphrey will do the land surveying. Various other kinds of scientific work are planned, including observation as to the magnetic pole.

Existing charts disclose facts which have a disturbing influence on traffic such as the presence of shallow surroundings in areas of deep water.
Such places will carefully be searched for submerged rocks. All corners of the world will be visited and studied by the expedition.

The Discovery is a wooden ship
with steam auxiliary, especially designed for work on ice water, and she will carry the latest sounding machinery. While the voyage is planned to last six years, the officers and crew are signed on for seven in event of delays.

DICTATOR'S FALL HELD
A TRIUMPH FOR WILSON

London, Saturday, July 18.—Commenting upon the resignation of President Huerta, the morning papers today give credit to President Wilson
for the success of his policy, but consider that the Mexican imbroglio
is in no way solved.

The London Chronicle asserts that it is premature to describe it as a triumph for Mr. Wilson. He gained his point, the paper says, but his policy has entailed an appalling amount of murder and pillage, most of which would have been avoided if he had joined Europe in recognizing Huerta.

The London Daily Mail regards Hu-erta's resignation as granting a reprieve, but not a reprieve in the situation. It says, however, the world will breathe more freely at the thought that war between the United States and Mexico has been averted.

The London Times considers that President Wilson never intended to elevate the rule of non-recognition applied to Huerta to a policy of universal application. "But," adds the Times, "the sequel has proved him right, and his remarkable innovation
in diplomatic procedure has thus far justified itself both in aim and method. The ultimate Mexican question, however, is not yet disposed of. Rather is it beginning to reveal its true proportions."

His indigestion cured at last.

SEES DANGER FOR
STATE IN GIVING
HELP TO MOTHERS

Bay City, July 18.—Issuing a word of caution lest too free an administration of the mother's pension law create a class of dependents upon the state Judge of Probate Henry M.
Gardner of Lansing, president of the Michigan Association of Probate Judges in an opening address before the annual convention, advised that the work under the new act be done hand
in hand with charitable organizations.
"Insist that those dependent become independent," was the note of the address. Judge Gardner recommended that absconding from a state
by a divorced husband, who fails to pay alimony, where there are dependent children, be made an extraditable offense and that it be made compulsory for prosecuting attorneys to enforce the payment of alimony.

Has Had Many Requests.
"We have been working under the mother's pension law for 10 months and it has given us many notions as to the benefits attained," stated Judge Gardner. "Let the law be called whatever it may, it nevertheless gets back to the plain proposition of administering and giving aid to the dependent children of a certain class of our state and the giving or withholding from such children must, under the provisions of such act rest in the honest judgment of the several probate judges of their counties. I have had application for help from 74 mothers representing 138 children ranging in age from a few days' old to past 16 years, and I take it that undoubtedly each of you have also according to the population of your counties, has as many, so therefore it can be seen at a glance, that the time demanded from each and every one of us is great, but uncomplainingly spent, all for the suffering humanity.

"Getting back to the question I would say that my experience with its operation has led me to believe that its intents and purposes, when carefully carried out are good, but I here desire to add a word of caution on this class of legislation and also generally as to giving pecuniary aid in all of its forms, and that is we must be careful in giving assistance that we do not leave the impression to those we help that they thereby become resigned to the general plan of being helped. Instead we must teach them that each and everyone must depend upon their own efforts and that they must not live off from the fruits and industry of others. Insist that they become independent and not dependent. I believe that the act should be so amended as to make it an extraditable offense for a divorced man to abscond from the state where it has been decreed by the court that he pay alimony, especially so where there are dependent children. And I would make it compulsory on the prosecuting attorney of each county to appear in every case where alimony has been decreed and look after the enforcement of the same.

Tell of Own Work.
"I also believe that the general plan
of giving pensions should be placed in the hands of the poor commissioners of the several counties. Of our state, or any organized charitable society, as they make that their entire business, and they can combine the pension matter with the other duties
of their office, for they are better equipped to follow up and look after the individual cases than probate judges as they have more time, and besides it comes in line with their duties as they are now established.

"The plan that I adopt in following up cases is in keeping in touch with the poor commissioners and aid societies generally, especially so as to the Associated Charities of our city.
This society has a person engaged whose sole business is to visit the homes of the needy and render assistance to the worthy. And I also have the mothers that I have given pensions
call at my office personally and I go over their case from time to time so that I may know how they are getting along. By doing so, I have found it necessary to make many changes increasing some, reducing others and to revoke some entirely. In all I have made at least changes in four-fifths of my original orders.

"You may think that I have taken up considerable time with this matter but to carry my point I believe it to be very important having in mind that the legislature must have thought that where the mother was a suitable and competent person to have the care, custody and bringing up of her child or children to have the home training than to be sent to some public institution for care and maintenance."

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Mr. W. S. Gonsalus, a Pennsylvania farmer, residing near Fleming, P. O., Pa., says: "For the past fourteen years I have used Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in my family and have found it to be an excellent remedy. I always have a bottle of it in my house and take pleasure in recommending it to my friends."

BOSTON MARKETS
Market opened quiet but with a more confident tone. In the general list, New Taven was the feature advancing to 54. Greene Cananea was the feature, in local market on reports of the smelter starting full force Monday. The market is in a strong position to advance considerably on any favorable developments.

DAILY LETTER
There has been quite a little selling
during the past few days and the fear of an adverse decision in the eastern rate cases, so when it was generally reported, today that the findings are likely to be delayed a while longer
quite a little short covering occurred and as a consequence prices hardened materially throughout the list. The immediate course of the market will probably be governed largely by the tenor of the remarks of the Interstate Commerce and the treatment which is accorded the Eastern roads and therefore until something definite is obtainable in the above respect, the stock list will probably remain very feverish, especially until the liquidation which has been in progress for some time in the minor rails has run its course.

PUNISHING FOR THE SINS OF A FEW
The New Orleans Picayune says: "There is nothing that condemns the use of wine or liquor in moderation and it is a fact that of the great mass of people that use such beverages, the total number that abuse such use and become inebriated is quite small. To punish vast numbers of people because of the sins of a few is both illogical and unjust."

Since it is a necessity, most desirable, and will last a lifetime,
—isn't it thoughtless not to get it now instead of later? The durability of "Standard" modern bathroom fixtures make the question of length of service merely a matter of whether we are permitted to install the equipment now or later.

Interesting Items From the Three Great Kingdoms of the North Selected for Scandinavians and Their Descendants.

By MARTIN W. ODLAND.

Norway.

A writer for the London Times, in an interesting article on the government of Norway, says that members of the storting are paid at the rate of 5,000 kroner ($804) per year for ordinary sittings, but if called upon to attend for any extra period an additional payment is made of 12 kroner a day. In addition to the cash payment there are also special privileges, such as free doctor and nurse in case of illness and free traveling on the state railways. The demands made upon a storthingsmand are heavy. Each member must attend sittings regularly and vote upon every question. He is not allowed to absent himself unless he can give an adequate reason, or unless he has first obtained the permission of the storting. If he is unavoidably absent, then his deputy must be present. The deputy has no direct payment for his services, but receives a share of the member's salary at the end of the year, the amount depending upon the number of sittings he has attended.

Interesting reports from Constantinople state that a Norseman, Eivind Blehr, secretary in the Norwegian department of foreign affairs, is about to be appointed chief of the European cabinet of Armenia. In this capacity he will be directly subordinate to another Norseman, Maj. Nicolai Hoff, recently appointed general inspector over its southern Armenian districts, a region comprising over 60,000 square miles and inhabited by about 2,000,000 people. The headquarters of both Hoff and Blehr will be at Bitlis, a town of 40,000 population, situated about 160 miles north of the ancient city of Nineveh. Mr. Blehr was born in Norway in 1881. He received a legal training, and in 1905 he was appointed to a position in the department of foreign affairs. He has served as secretary of the Norwegian legations in The Hague and Paris, and as vice-consul in Havre.

The Social Democrat pronounces King Haakon's speech the best delivered at the great banquet, which was one of the features in connection with the opening of the centennial exposition. "It was the best speech," says the paper, "because the king penetrated deepest into the life of the people. There is one thing which this exposition does not show us, said the king; it does not show us all the difficulties, all the sorrows, want and worries under which the people have labored while creating for Norway her progress and prosperity. With reverence and gratitude we shall remember the many efficient laboring people."

It is reported from Los Angeles, Cal., that Norwegians of that city have sent as a centennial gift to Crown Prince Olaf of Norway a collection of the finest Navajo rugs obtainable. These rugs are the work of the Navajo Indians of southern California and Arizona. The collection was taken to Norway by G. G. Glesnes, who represents the Peer Gynt lodge of the Sons of Norway in Los Angeles.

A female fox took up her abode under the floor of the Opatad church, near Kongsvinger, and brought forth a litter of young ones. The unusual occurrence aroused widespread interest. Mrs. Fox and young were captured and slain by the indignant trustees of the church.

In the opinion of the Times writer the government of Norway as a whole is a triumph in democracy and is given high praise.

During the ten months ending with April, 1914, 29,546 Scandinavians landed in America.

In the public forests, which constitute a million acres, a million new trees have been planted. The largest number are being planted in Vestland.

The movement to organize a defense league or union among the young men of Norway is meeting with success. It originated at Bergen shortly after New Year's and Bergen continues the center of the agitation. A paper to be called Forsvarskretsen is to be issued by the league at Bergen.

The Catholics are anxious to build a chapel somewhere in Osterdalen Ivar Sater, an author who has just settled on his paternal homestead in Tolgen, has been asked for permission to have it built on his land, and he gave a very favorable answer.

The department of war has appointed a committee to report on a proposition to shut off Christiansia fjord off Tonsberg. This would be the first step towards constructing a new naval station.

Denmark. A cablegram from Copenhagen says that the upper house of the rigsdag of Denmark was on June 15 dissolved by order of King Christian. The 12 life members of the rigsdag are re-elected only for the 54 elected members. The rigsdag is composed of the upper house. The dissolution of the upper house of the Danish parliament is an outcome of the deadlock over the constitutional amendment bill which abolishes all property qualifications for electors of members of that body and takes away from the crown its right to nominate 12 members of that chamber.

conservatives, forming a majority, refused to vote on the bill and consequently a legal quorum could not be obtained.

Doctor Moller, who was at one time the spokesman of the Right party in Folketinget (the popular branch of the rigsdag) on foreign affairs, has published an article in Nationaltidende in which he calls upon the Danish government to declare its attitude toward the efforts of the Danes of North Schleswig to preserve their language and traditions. There have been complaints from Germany that the people and government of Denmark are encouraging the Danish residents of Schleswig to resist the "Germanizing" influences, but Count Ahlefeldt, the minister for foreign affairs, declared in a speech to the folketing in 1912 that the matter in question was outside the province of the Danish government and that its course ought to be one of non-interference. This has continued to be the policy of the Danish government till now, but recently one of the prominent officials of Denmark assured the German parliament that it has changed its attitude toward the Schleswig colony of Danes.

Sweden. It is learned in Sweden that the ill will of Russia toward the Swedes has become manifest in an entirely unexpected direction. From St. Petersburg it is learned the czar's government is going to bring pressure to bear upon the Persian government to prevent the reorganization of the Persian gendarmes into a regular army, for the reason that the gendarmes are commanded by Swedish officers and the change would place Swedish military men practically at the head of the Persian army. The Swedish officers were called into Persia by the advice of Shuster, the American who was entrusted with the reorganization of the financial affairs of the Persian kingdom. They were employed as instructors for the army and were also placed in actual command of the gendarmes, an armed police force, who were charged with the preservation of order in the country and with the collection of the land taxes. Their sphere of activity was gradually enlarged and gradually the force came to embrace all three branches of an army, infantry, artillery and cavalry. The proposed change contemplates reorganizing the gendarmes from a police force of 6,000 men, under the command of the minister of the interior, into a regular army of 12,000 men, under the command of the minister of war. It is this change that the Russian government opposes.

Norway buys considerable meat from Sweden, and of late there have been complaints that some of the meat shipped to Norway has been unfit for consumption. An investigation was made by the Swedish authorities and it was found Karl Johanson of Jarfvaas had sold two animals that suffered from a disease that renders their meat unfit for human consumption. Johanson was severely reprimanded and warned not to repeat the offense.

Sweden will participate in the international hydroplane flights. The entry is concerned in the contests in that a part of the course lies across Helsingborg.

A Scandinavian laborers' meeting is to be held at Arika next July. A representative of Norway and a representative of Sweden will speak at the meeting, the purpose of which is to give expression to, and proof of, the friendly attitude which the labor parties of the two sister countries maintain toward each other. Similar meetings will be held at Trondhjem and Frederikstad later in the summer.

The Stockholm division of the anti-cancer society of Sweden, which for four years has maintained a "radium home" (clinic), is planning to establish a much larger and better equipped institution, and has at its disposal for this purpose a million crowns. One-half of this goodly sum was bequeathed by a large Stockholm estate; the other half was donated by various persons, including Queen Victoria and the late Queen Sofia.

Merit in Modesty. Thy modesty's candle to thy merit. —Henry Fielding.

The Diagnosis. Young Author—I don't know what's the matter with me, doctor. I've just published my new book, and I thought maybe the strain.—Physician—I see. A bad case of new-writs.

Fitting Punishment. "It is a pity the English can't ship their arsenites to India." "Why so?" "Why, then, they could turn them into suttees, for they have 'em to burn."

Sometimes a long, narrow house is preferred, and sometimes a house of this shape is necessary because it must fit a narrow lot. This plan is 22 feet wide and 37 feet long. It contains six rooms and is built on the economical order, that is, the amount of material is small when compared with the amount of room the house affords. To avoid long hallways, the stair is placed about the center of one side, which works well on the first floor and is very convenient on the second floor, as the landing is near the center of the house and the short hall makes an easy connection between the three bedrooms and the bathroom.

One chimney answers for the dining-room grate and the kitchen range, and it is well placed for looks and it is properly built to prevent leaks, because it is so much easier to lay the roof around a chimney at the peak than it is lower down. Advantage is taken of the sides of the upper part of the house to make clothes closets er it is forgotten or not. When it is necessary to have more circulation the whole fire may be opened up. A well-planned and well-built house, whether large or small contains many little conveniences that were not of the ordinary family. In this plan the chimney is there for use if wanted, and the chances are that it will be used for a good many years to come.

When the Senators lose nowadays it is not bad ball playing or pitching, but punk umpiring, that loses the game for them, according to the Washington scribes.

It is usually the newly married who want all the up-to-date fads, while the older people prefer to retain that which they know to be good until they are sure of something that has proved itself better.

under the low part of the roof on one side, and the same space makes headroom over the stairway on the other side.

Many changes are taking place in house building. Not so many years ago clothes closets were unusual, perhaps only one bedroom in a house being supplied with a closet. It was necessary to buy portable wardrobes in which to hang extra clothing or else pile it up on the floor. People used to say that closets are not nice, that they smell bad, which was true enough in some houses and is today, but housekeepers who know the value of fresh air and cleanliness have no difficulty in keeping a well-built house clean in the out-of-the-way corners as well as in the parlor. A lady asked her new maid if she never swept under the beds, and got this reply: "Yes, ma'am, I always do. It is handier than a dust pan." Some mistresses do their housework on the same plan.

The extra flues in the chimney, with ventilating pipes connecting with the clothes closets, are intended to keep the air good in the out-of-the-way places of the careless as well as the careful housekeeper. Some of these ventilators work all right, and some are no good at all. To test one it is only necessary to light a match and hold it in the opening. Such flues should have a good draft and they should be fitted with a damper valve having a small opening that can not be closed so there will be some air flowing through it at all times with-

A splendid feature of this house is the big dining room, which will naturally be used as a living room. Later, perhaps, a summer kitchen will be added and the kitchen used for a dining room. Even a more marked change may be made by substituting the new electrical cooking apparatus which some people think is destined to combine the kitchen and the dining room. In fact, at the present time a good many families are making the coffee on the dining table by means of an electric heater.

Big Bear Goes on Spree. After escaping from his cage a large cinnamon bear tore things loose in Bradnock.

Bruin, a performing member of a wild West circus, has a taste for fire-water. After gaining his liberty he made for the saloon of Kent McAtee, and, taking possession, sat down and drank two bottles of whisky. He then sallied forth into the street on a rampage. Rolling from side to side, the big beast defied every effort to capture him. He lurched into several teams, throwing the horses into a panic. Show cases and everything movable that happened to be in his way went down, including several pedestrians, who were slow on footwork.

Finally bruin entered a fruit store and, after gorging himself, climbed to the top girder of the West Bradnock bridge, where he was lassoed by Ed Walters, a cowman from the show. —Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.

Dutch Bees Make Friends. To check the ravages of the disease which has devastated English hives, and as the last hope of beekeepers in England, ten million Dutch bees have been imported. These are supposed to be immune.

When the 10,000,000 bees were unloaded from the steamer, several escaped and flew gaily round the wharf, buzzing round the astonished dock hands, and causing something approaching a panic. One flew straight into a laborer's ear, whence it was deftly removed by an expert, who transfixed it with a needle with which he was mending the sack.

For some time the onlookers were kept constantly on the alert, but in time the bees seemed to decide that everybody was friendly, and modified their fierce attitude, even settling on the workmen's bare arms and walking about on them in a most confident manner.

It is said that Manager Clark Griffith will abolish team practice in Washington to strengthen the Senators. Griff says that every time his crew takes morning practice they play better ball.

INFIELDER ORR GOES BACK

FOUND—A HUSBAND

By CHANNING POLLOCK. There was a perfunctory note in the paper which warned me that ingly, I shook my head at the sight of the orchestra, smiled sweetly and tripped off the stage.

Fred Allen, the press agent of the show, walked over to meet me. "Got a minute before you go on again?" he inquired.

"Miss Hammack, were you ever divorced?"

"Never took a step in that direction," I replied. "Never got married."

"That's too bad," he sighed. "However, it can't be helped. You can say you've been divorced, can't you?"

I nodded.

"Well, then, tomorrow I'm going to put an advertisement in the Lost and Found column of The Sphere. I'm going to say the writer has dropped a bag containing $10.30 and a decree of divorce, and that the finder can have the ten thirty if he'll return the decree. See?"

I nodded again.

"What'll that do?"

"It will suggest a funny story to every reporter in New York. All you've got to do is tell a straight story and mention the show so often that they won't be able to leave its name out. Will you do it?"

"Yes," I answered. "Wait here for me till the end of the act."

Fifteen minutes later Allen told me the whole story of my past life.

Good gracious, what a liar a man must be to succeed as a press agent! He said my husband's name was Harry Hammack, and that we had been separated since 1899. We had no children. I had lost the decree somewhere on Lexington avenue, and I was anxious to get it back because I was afraid that without it I would not be able to marry again.

The hall-boy brought me a copy of The Sphere before I had eaten a bite the next morning, and on the tenth page I found this:

"LOST—On Monday, probably between 42d and 57th streets on Lexington avenue, bag containing $10.30 and a decree of divorce. Finder may keep cash if he will return decree to Margaret Hammack, 310 Lexington avenue."

That was all, and it was enough. Men from the evening papers bothered me all the morning and men from the morning papers besieged me most of the afternoon.

I got rid of them and went into my bedroom, pulling the curtains between that apartment and the parlor, and began to take off my clothes. I had just slipped out of my waist when somebody knocked at the door.

"Well, who is it?" I inquired angrily.

There was no answer, but I heard the sound of a footfall on the other side of the curtains.

I walked into the parlor and found myself confronting a dapper young man who was rocking comfortably to and fro.

"Well," I observed, "I like your nerve."

"That's the first time I ever heard you say so," he retorted. "How are you, Madge?"

Upon my word, the man took my breath away.

"What do you—I should say, whom do you take me for?"

"My wife," he answered.

"You—I beg your pardon—you—well, who are you?"

"Henry Hammack!"

"Oh Lord!" I said. "You never were my husband in your life!"

"You're Madge Hammack?"

"Margaret Hammack—yes."

"And the man you married was named Henry Hammack?"

"I never married any man—Hammack, Jones, Brown or Smith."

"Then how did you get the name?"

"From the man my mother married."

"And this clipping?"

"Is a hoax. I give you my word of honor that I haven't a husband. I'm playing a part in 'The Cannibal King.'" I explained, "and the press agent of the show put that advertisement in the papers in order to bring the attraction to the attention of the public. He didn't suppose for a moment that there was a real Harry Hammack hanging around."

"It'll be cussed!" observed Mr. Hammack in a tone that made me certain Mr. Allen was being cussed at that very moment. Then he added: "What if this thing should scare up the real Mrs. Hammack. I haven't seen her for twelve years. Well, we'll pray for the best. I would like to call on you again. Do you know you made me sorry for a second that we'd been divorced?"

"We hadn't."

"No." He moved toward the door. "I'll drop around Sunday."

He opened the door.

"I think you said that every other man alive shares my ill luck in not being your husband?"

"I'm single, if that's what you mean."

"Yes, that's what I mean. Thank you. I'll see you later."

He stepped into the hall, closing the door after him, and I heard him trot down the stairs.

The Result. "What do you think of this proposition for women to go on a kissing strike for the vote?"

"I think the majority will set their faces against it."

BY CHASE

For some reason unknown to us Ishpeming didn't show up yesterday. Just for that we will administer a derbie dose today.

Can it be that Ishpeming is troubled with cold feet after the way Gladstone so nifty handed it to them.

Let Mahoney come, we're not afraid of his red top.

We've met and defeated men that Mahoney couldn't carry bats for.

August Lillquist of Gladstone was in the city yesterday. In speaking of Gladstone's chances he said, "As aye bane toll you before ve skoll vorry, ve har da panger and ve vill dere to da finish."

Gladstone is sure going and unless Ishpeming and Negaunee move up, Gladstone will have them chasing her.

No to it Gladstone. Ve shall vorry.

Give us Mahoney to start on. He should be good batting practice for our bunch.

Ishpeming imported a catcher from Chicago yesterday. Wonder how long before the whole team will be made up of Chicagoans.

Negaunee is up against the toughest proposition in the league at present.

"Ducky" Stewart is sure making those boys go the limit.

Local fans have not had the opportunity of seeing our bunch hand it to a team twice in the same place in one afternoon for many a moon.

With Ishpeming for the victims and a bargain price the local grounds should be swamped this afternoon.

Of course Ishpeming's pegs needed a rest and you couldn't blame them after the way Gladstone went after them.

We're sure got a hand it to dat Gladstone bunch for their stickto-itiveness they have shown.

If Ishpeming or Negaunee had the same luck the league would have been disrupted several weeks ago.

Generally fair Sunday—Jaki.

When Olmsted and Calder go wrong all Stewart has to do is call Carlo.

DIAMOND DUST.
 Guess maybe Gladstone didn't wreck that Ishpeming gang, "hey"?

It's a mighty poor aggregation that can't stand two straight beatings from the cellar champs without blating for mercy from the leaders.

If Ishpeming, as a second place team, can't stand the gaff from a sound that had won only one game for the season, it will sure be a sorry looking outfit when Olmsted's carries get through with them after that double bill today.

Anyway Ishpeming just made it possible for the locals to crowd two victories into a single day instead of the usual one.

Dreamy Scanlon started another string of victories for himself by trimming Oshkosh 8-6 on Friday. The big left hander won nine straight and then was credited with a loss when he pitched the last nine innings of an eighteen inning game a week ago.

Raleigh Baum, on Thursday got his usual hit for Cadillac and just to bring his record for the day up to the standard score one run and stole two bases.

Maybe we'd better lose on of those games today just to keep that peevish Ishpeming gang in the league.

Although for some reason he did not get credit for it from the official scorer, Ducky Stewart signaled his return to the game for Gladstone on Thursday by driving out a two-bagger with the bases choked in the tenth, putting the game on ice for the Upper Bay city squad.

If Gladstone can cop two games up north it's just possible that the Marquette county management will submit a proposition for the local and Gladstone to play it out for the league pennant while Negaunee and Ishpeming are battling for cellar honors, so that those northern weak sisters will not be required to pay railroad fares to this end of the circuit.

'Twas an entirely new one that Ishpeming sprung on Escanaba yesterday: "We're wrecked. Please mister call off the game." And Escanaba called off a perfectly good scheduled game so that Ishpeming might save the price of one meal.

CELLAR CHAMPS COP ONE MORE FROM REDS

Cincinnati, O., July 18.—Rudolph kept the hits scattered today and Boston copped the game handily from Cincinnati 6 to 3.

The Score: R. H. E.

 Cincinnati .000100101-3 7 3

CECILIA LOFTUS IN "A Lady of Quality," A Romantic Drama

Indicative of the pretentious subjects elected for its program, The Famous Players has produced in picture form the famous play in popular novel, "A Lady of Quality," by the noted authoress, Frances Hodgson Burnett, presenting for the first time in motion pictures the distinguished character actress, Cecelia Loftus, and to be shown at the Royal Theater, this city, Monday night.

A more suitable subject for Miss Loftus' mimic powers could hardly have been chosen. In the role of Clarinda, the headstrong, tempestuous hoiden whose father's contempt for the other extends even to herself, but who later wins his respect and grows up among his dissolute companions, learning to drink, smoke and swear as freely as any of them, till the derision of the man she loves at her masculin manners and dress prompted her to renounce them forever and become "A Lady of Quality." Miss Loftus has a capable part. One of the many strong climaxes of the story is introduced when Sir John Oxon, a dandy of London town, lays a wager with his son vivants that he will win her heart, not as a hoiden, but as a woman. Upon his lips she bestows her first kiss, not without a price, for at that moment he steals one of her raven curls, the proof of his success. He hastens back to London to boast of his conquest while Clowdon in vain for his promised return, and then receives news that he is to wed a wealthy lady of title. This tragic episode changes all the rest of her life, which is traced through the five reels of film with an impressive charm and appeal.

REPORT ON U. P. STRIKE TO BE TAME AFFAIR

Washington, July 18.—Developments of the last few days indicate that the report of the congressional committee investigating the Calumet strike will be short and to the point. There are a number of reasons why even democratic members of the investigating committee are not now so anxious to make what might be called a radical report. In the first place, the strike is now ended and the feeling is growing that a lengthy report would serve no good purpose.

Would Have Hit Owners.
 It is hinted that radical members of the committee, all of whom are democrats, are being warned against the political effect of the report on the Michigan situation. Had a report been made immediately on the conclusion of the investigation, it is possible the democrats constituting a majority of the sub-committee would have severely criticized the national guard of the state. The republicans then as now, would draw a minority report maintaining that the miners had very free grievances and were not justified in demanding a recognition of the union.

Aim at Armed Guards.
 The difficulty which men of the type of Congressman Taylor of Colorado and Casey, a strong labor union advocate, find in the present situation, is that in making a report such as they originally intended, they would be reflecting indirectly, at least, upon Governor Ferris, one of their own partisans. This, to say the least, would be bad politics in the face of the fall campaigns. It is said influences have been at work for some time to delay the report, and now the same influences are working to tone it down.

Congressman Taylor, chairman of the sub-committee, states however, that some kind of a report will be made before the end of this session. It is possible a recommendation will be included asking congress to pass a law prohibiting the shipment of so-called "armed guards" from one state to another during labor troubles.

LABOR DEMANDS APPOINTEE ON ACCIDENT BOARD

Lansing, Mich., July 18.—Members of the Michigan Industrial Accident Board are determined that Governor Ferris shall name a representative of organized labor on the industrial accident board to fill the vacancy when the term of Ora A. Reeves expires August 31 and resolution to that effect were adopted at a meeting last night. Reeves is the only labor representative now on the commission, Chairman Kinnam being a lawyer and Commissioner Kennedy a preacher.

The resolution follows: "Whereas, It having been stated by Governor Ferris that organized labor's representative on the industrial accident board Ora A. Reeves will be re-appointed at the expiration of his term of office August 31, and that

"Whereas, that organized labor has been given no assurance that it will be represented in the appointment to be made, and

"Whereas, Governor Ferris has been repeatedly quoted in the daily press of Michigan to the effect that he will not re-appoint Mr. Reeves and such repeated statements have not been denied, therefore, be it

"Resolved, that organized labor voice its protest to the governor of Michigan as to his proposed removal of the incumbent and his failure to give assurance that the Michigan Federation of Labor will be recognized in the appointment of his successor, and be it further

"Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be submitted to the secretary of the Michigan Federation of Labor and that he be instructed to send a copy of the same to every labor organization in Michigan and be it further

"Resolved, that all such affiliated locals are hereby requested to send a communication of protest to Governor Ferris for his contemplated procedure in this matter."

LION AVENGES WIFE'S WRONGS, Dangers of the Veldt on Monday Night

"Dangers of the Veldt" is a three-reel drama laid in Africa at the time when the brave Boers were making the first and desperate fight to establish themselves and till the soil. Produced on a lavish scale seldom attempted, it combines sensationalism with a sturdy love story that grips the heart and holds in suspense. Wild animals, leopards and lions—have been used and the actors have taken desperate chances in taking many of the scenes. For instance there is one where Edna Maison, as the heroine is left alone with her baby boy in the farm house. Leopards sneak down upon the place and poke their faces against the window glass. The little heroine stands on the other side, terror-stricken; nothing stands between her and death but the glass, and the leopards. Then we see, at the other point in the thrilling drama the villain burned by lions; they run him up a tree and, after furious leaping, bring him down with the claws fastened into his boot. He pays for his crime with his death.

Also a big three reel Warner's feature, "The Sleeping Beauty," featuring the great child actress, Baby Early.

CHILD BITTEN BY UNMUZZLED DOG

Harvey Nichols, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Nichols of South Birch street was bitten early last evening by a dog belonging to Francis Gallagher. Dr. Groos was immediately summoned and the wound left by the dogs teeth, dressed.

The biting of the child last night is the first serious result of the disobeying of Mayor Chatfield's orders in regard to the muzzling of dogs during the hot weather. Mayor Chatfield issued his final ultimatum yesterday in that regard and unless all dogs in the city are muzzled by Tuesday they will be shot by officers. Although the child bitten last night has not suffered seriously from the bite, there may be more that may mean a horrible death for some innocent child of the city.

MANY EXCURSIONISTS TO BIG BAY POINT

A great number of local people yesterday afternoon took in the excursion on the Steamer Saugatuck to Fayette and other Big Bay points. The boat left the Stephenson dock shortly after noon and after making all stops on Big Bay returned the excursionists to the city early last evening. The renewal of the Saturday afternoon excursions has met with instant favor among a great number of local people. In years gone past the steamer Maywood made a similar excursion around the bay on Saturday afternoon, many of which the local people enjoyed. The announcement that the excursions have started again has created general satisfaction among local people and it is believed that they will be well patronized if continued by Captain McCauley throughout the summer months.
