GERMANS ARE REINFORCED AT LINE OF BATTLE AND HOLD THE ENEMY FIRM

FRENCH GAIN BATTLE FOUGHT NEAR ALSACE

All Efforts of The Reinforced French to Hold the Furious German Forces Prove Futile and the Gain is Slow But Steady--- Death Losses are Appaling.

GERMAN RESIDENTS ARE ANXIOUS

Intense Excitement Reigns Throught Germano Where The News of the Victorious Countrymen is Received--New Spirit awakened.

BULLETIN
Bordeaux, Sept. 17.—A telegram from Switzerland states that violent fighting is occurring in Alsace where the French are gaining ground. Great anxiety is displayed by the German population.

(Special to the Press.)
Paris, Sept. 17.—In the battle of the Aisne on the result of which depends whether the Germans shall be able to again threaten Paris or be forced from France, the allies have lost more men during the two days than during any previous period of the war. The fighting continues with the utmost of violence of the Aisne in a desperate effort of the allies to gain retribution for the terrible losses inflicted on their ranks by the German big gun fire during the perilous crossing under fire. The allies were repulsed in a fierce counter attack by the Germans from a strong entrenched position on the German right where General Von Kluck has received reinforcements and has taken offensive. The French have also been reinforced near Noyon, the extreme left of the allies line, and the Germans have been forced to yield slightly at other points. Von Kluck today was reported to be withdrawing his lines closer to those of Von Buelow, who in turn is fast closing up the gap between him and the main German center. This would appear to indicate the failure of General D'Armades' stroke at the rear of the German right wing in which an attempt was made to cut off the Von Kluck army from the main German force. The French admit their failure to isolate Von Kluck and the rival armies are now engaged in frontal attacks and counter attacks along the whole battle line, with as yet no decisive result.

London, Sept. 17.—The world once more has been set to the task of guessing how the terrific clash of arms on the heights northward of the river Aisne is progressing. Berlin claims the attacks of the allies have been repulsed and that the German counter attacks are succeeding, while it is asserted officially in London that the German counter attacks have been repulsed and the invaders are slowly giving way. The battle lines must be quite 150 miles long, so there is ample room for success in one part of the field and reverses elsewhere.

The opposing armies, with heavy reinforcements, which reached them, probably total in the neighborhood of 3,000,000 men. The Germans are in their selected positions, with strong reinforcements from Lorraine. Consequently this great battle may prove to be one of the most decisive moments of the war.

The British and French seem attempting to repeat on the Aisne the turning movements carried out so successfully on the Marne, and they are aware that should the German right be again turned, there will be no great defensive positions behind the invaders until they reach the river Meuse. The French army that barred the exit of the crown prince' forces via Toul, is still hurrying in pursuit of him in the direction of Stenay Gap. Italian and Roumanian activities seem to point to a decisive action in the near future. Should these countries take a hand against Austro-Hungary, it is argued here Germany would be thrown on her own resources to repel the Muscovite hosts thus strongly reinforced.

Italy seems to have called her reserves to the colors and to be on the point of occupying Altona, in order to safeguard her interests in the Adriatic.
London, Sept. 17.—Along a 90 mile front the armies are at bay and the allies are occupying a ledge across the river Aisne which was won after one of the most spectacular river crossings ever made by an attacking force under fire.
For the last two days there have been sporadic attacks from both sides along this line but according to the admissions of rival headquarters, they have not produced any definite results.
Both sides suffered enormously the past week and the present pause is undoubtedly being used to bring up reinforcements and supplies.
Something of the horrors of modern warfare is indicated by the hesitancy with which authorities discuss the terrible losses marking the progress of the armies from the Marne to the Aisne. The stories are told with great restraint but have enough gressive details to make even military men shudder.
Petrograd reports that the flower of the German corps, detached for service in East Prussia, are again hurrying back to the western front and Stockholm learns that General Von Hindenberg, flushed with his victory against the Russians on the East Prussian frontier, has been urgently summoned to command the western army.
The terribly battered second Austro-German army is safe under the guns of Przemysl but with the Russians only 19 miles away. Desperate efforts will probably be made to form a junction with the fourth Austrian army, with the idea of reorganizing with Cracow as a base.
The Russians have crossed the river San and are hammering at the retreating Austrian and German forces. Despite their unprecedented losses, the Germanic allies seem to retain their fighting organization and if they gain Cracow, may prevent the Russian right from marching on Berlin from Warsaw.
Grodtek, 16 miles west of Lemberg, which has been occupied by Russians is of great natural strength and can be easily defended in case of a counter attack.
The Servians and Montenegrins are well within Bosnia and Herzegovina, and are planning to march on Budapest.

FAYETTE YOUNG WOMAN WINS PRIZE WITH ESCANABA MAN
Walter Menard of 321 North Jennie street and Miss Nettie Devill of Fayette proved to be the lucky people in the Fair store "lucky number" contest. Menard won the man's sweater and Miss Devill won the woman's sweater.
Mr. and Mrs. John Gasman of Bark River motored to the city today to attend the Fair.

Salt Lake, Utah, Sept. 17.—A rush of earth and rock coming without the slightest warning, entombed twelve miners in the eight hundred foot level of the Centennial mine at Eureka late this afternoon. It is believed the miners are all dead. If any are alive they face death by starvation or suffocation as it will take days for rescuers to dig through the mass of earth and rock to reach them.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—It was stated at the White House that this government has received a reply from the German chancellor to the second suggestion of the United States to bring about peace. The reply is described as "Non Committal." Nothing was received from the Kaiser.

(Special to the Press.)
Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—Reports of peace intimations from Germany were scoffed at tonight at the British and French embassies, where an emphatic statement was made that neither of these governments have given an thought to even a basis upon which tentative proposals might be suggested.

GREAT ATTENDANCE MARK HUNG UP AT FAIR THURSDAY
All county fair records of Cloverland were smashed to smithereens at the Northern State Fair here yesterday, when over 12000 people passed through the gates to see the greatest fair ever provided in this district.
"The people of Delta county spoke in no uncertain terms today of their approval of the work of the officers of the Agricultural Society by this tremendous attendance record that is hung up. It is with a great deal of satisfaction that the officers, who have worked early and late for weeks, today saw the people place the stamp of their appreciation of the effort that was made to make the fair of this year a success," was the statement made last night by President T. E. Strom.

The Misses Ruth and Margaret Hamilton of Rapid River are visiting in the city.
Mrs. Frank L. Beauty of Marquette is the guest of Escanaba friends.
J. J. Williams of Baraga, Mich., is in the city on business.
R. C. Thomas of L'Anse is in Escanaba on business for a few days.

LIVES TAKEN

(Special to the Press.)
The following statements was issued yesterday by the executive committee of the Delta County Hotel and Liquor Dealers' Association:
"A few of the leaders of the Local Option movement seemed to be very much displeased when they saw certain banners displayed in booths at the county fair. They took particular exception to the use of statements made by Abraham Lincoln and Cardinal Gibbons.
"The trouble with these people is that they can only see one side of the question and to think that men like Abraham Lincoln and Cardinal Gibbons would be on the side of personal liberty, was no doubt a surprise to them.
We wish to say to the public that we have credentials for every piece of literature displayed or given out at the Fair Grounds.
"Cardinal Gibbons also says:
"We might profitably learn a lesson from the old cities of Europe, which for two thousand years have been ogitizing this question, there is not a single city in Great Britain or on the Continent, which attempts to prohibit by law the sale of liquor. They have learned from a long experience that the best method of regulating this article of commerce is to impose licenses to uncertain good order for the protection of the citizens and to punish the violators of the law. I therefore maintain that high license is the only solution of the problem."

GERMANS ANSWER

(Special to the Press.)
Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—The Delta County Potato Growers Association was formulated, at which time a constitution and by-laws were adopted and officers elected. The organization of the association should be the starting of real reputation for Delta county as a potato growing center.
The object of the association will be to grow more potatoes on less ground; to eradicate disease of all kinds and the community growing of market varieties together with the state inspection of potato fields.
A movement was launched yesterday to secure a big and excellent exhibit for Delta county at the Cloverland Potato Congress at Menominee as a good exhibit at this congress is sure to bring many big potato buyers into this section.
Should Cloverland make a good showing at the Cloverland congress an exhibit will be sent to the National Potato Congress at East Lansing on Dec. 2 and 3. At this congress all states will compete with their prize potatoes.
The officers elected yesterday are: George Jensen, president; Jacob Groos, vice-president; John Kahlow, treasurer and W. L. Davidson, secretary.
Membership to the organization is open to any potato grower in the county, the membership fee being 75 cents. All applications for membership should be addressed to W. L. Davidson. With the organization of the association a representative will be sent to all big potato conventions over the country which should place Delta county on the potato map of the world.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—The Delta County Potato Growers Association was formulated, at which time a constitution and by-laws were adopted and officers elected. The organization of the association should be the starting of real reputation for Delta county as a potato growing center.
The object of the association will be to grow more potatoes on less ground; to eradicate disease of all kinds and the community growing of market varieties together with the state inspection of potato fields.
A movement was launched yesterday to secure a big and excellent exhibit for Delta county at the Cloverland Potato Congress at Menominee as a good exhibit at this congress is sure to bring many big potato buyers into this section.

FOOTBALL AT FAIR TODAY

In addition to the regular athletic program at the fair this afternoon the Escanaba high school football team will clash with the Alumni team. The game will be staged immediately following the completion of the regular program of athletic events.
Escanaba's Leaguers Drop Another to the Twins, Games Scheduled Here Cancelled

LOOSE WORK LOSES GAME

(Special to the Press.)
Menominee, Mich., Sept. 17.—Poor baseball and bonehead baserunning today's game for Escanaba to the Twins by the one sided score of 8 to 2. Because of the demand made today by the management of the Twin City team for an exorbitant guarantee for two games to be played in Escanaba on Saturday and Sunday, the games were cancelled by Manager Schram, of Escanaba tonight and he is now making an effort to secure another team of the Wisconsin-Illinois league to play in Escanaba on the open dates.
Escanaba's players worked erratically and raggedly today and the Twins took an easy victory.

BRITONS BACK UP

(Special to the Press.)
Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—A formal denial of apparent reflections on the United States by Sir Lionel Carden, former British ambassador to Mexico, in his criticism of the president's order withdrawing American troops from Vera Cruz, was made today to the state department by the British ambassador. The ambassador discredited the authenticity of remarks attributed to Carden.
Miss Edna Gasman of Bark River arrived in the city last evening for a short visit with friends.

BAPTISTS TO MEET

Baptists of the peninsula will flock to Marquette next week to attend the twenty-fifth anniversary celebration of the Marquette District Baptist Association. The convention will depend on Monday, Sept. 21 and will continue through three days. Rev. John C. Rooney, of Bay City, formerly pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, is to deliver one of the principal addresses of the convention. Of the Peninsula Baptist gathering the Mining Journal says:
"The twenty-fifth anniversary of the Marquette Baptist association to be held here Sept. 21, 22 and 23, will be the largest assemblage of members of the denomination ever held in the upper peninsula. It is now indicated that the program for the three days' session has been prepared by Rev. E. M. Martinson, pastor of the First Baptist church, and includes addresses by prominent church workers from every part of the peninsula as well as from other states. In all there will be seven sessions of the association, each to be devoted to a different branch of church work. Ten Baptist churches of the upper peninsula will have delegate at the sessions, and it is also expected that some of the churches in the lower part of the state will send representatives. POLLINATION OF CORN

CONTAMINATION OF SILKS BY FOREIGN POLLEN AVOIDED.

Tassel is Covered While Still Immature and Before Anthers Have Protruded, With Ten-Pound Manila Paper Sack.

(By H. F. ROBERTS)

In the breeding of corn, some difficulties are encountered in the technique of pollination, in respect to the prevention of contamination of the silks by foreign pollen, carried on the hands or instruments of the operator, as he goes from plant to plant engaged in the work of artificial pollination. To obviate these difficulties the following method has been devised by the writer and has been used with success. The simplicity of the method and its complete effectiveness seem to justify a description.

The tassel is covered while still immature, and before the anthers have protruded, with a ten-pound manila paper sack, such as is commonly used in grocery stores. The mouth of this sack is securely gathered around the stalk beneath the tassel and pinned with a rather stout long pin. Ordinary pins are too small. The ear is likewise covered with a similar sack, which is drawn tightly over the top of the ear, folded around the stalk on the opposite side and the folds pinned. The sacking of the ear must be done before the silks have begun in the least to protrude from the husks. Otherwise pollination of the protruding silks from vagrant pollen is almost certain to occur.

When the silks have grown to a length of five or six inches within the sack, the ear is usually in the best condition for pollination, since by that time most of the silks have grown out. The first silks to appear are those from the basal kernels, and so on progressively outward, the tip silks being the last to develop. In natural wind pollination of corn, the pollen is blowing about the field for a period of a week or ten days, during which time the drifting pollen falls on the successive silks as they appear. In artificial pollination, if but a single application of the pollen is made, naturally only those silks will be pollinated which happen to be developed and receptive at the time. The consequence is a "muddin' ear." For this reason, the same ear is usually gone over by the pollinator two or three times, in order to secure the successful pollination of the greatest possi-

OSBORN WON'T TRY TO DOMINATE G.O.P. STATE CONVENTION

Chase S. Osborn, republican candidate for governor, in a statement has set at rest the rumors that he would attend the state convention at Kalamazoo with the intention of attempting to dictate the nomination of the various state officers to be selected or to dominate the resolutions committee that will frame the platform.

To Make Strenuous Campaign. Ever since the primary Osborn has been resting at his hunting lodge in the wilds of Chippewa county. Bronzed like an Indian and in perfect physical condition for a strenuous campaign trip, he arrived at his headquarters in Lansing where plans will be made for a tour that will include practically every county in the state.

While he is not in a boastful frame of mind the former chief executive is confident of the success of the entire state ticket at the November election and believes that the republican party will roll up one of its old time majorities this fall.

The former governor says that the big republican vote in the primary is a sure indication that the party is coming back into its own. He will not attend the meeting of the republican state central committee at Detroit Tuesday and says that he has no choice as to the selection of a chairman. He says, however, that a man who will wage a forceful and energetic campaign should head the committee.

"I am going to the state convention as one of the 400,000 republican citizens of Michigan because I have been honored with the chairmanship of the Chippewa county delegation, my loyal home county," said Osborn. "I am not going with a desire to dominate or direct the convention as to its platform or whom it shall nominate for state officers. Republican bossism is dead in Michigan. I do not wish to revive it. My only purpose shall be the general welfare of the party without reference to or interference with individual equations."

"Of all times in the history of the republican party this is the one momentous occasion when there is necessity for party bigness, party fairness, party fidelity, party tolerance in order that there may again exist that cohesive solidarity that made the republican party for decades a destructive force of bad government and an impressively potential vehicle of wise administration."

NORTHERN STATE FAIR PROGRAM

Today Mothers and Children's Day

No school today. The children are learning by observation what it means to be a good farmer, an expert stock raiser, a poultry fancier, an able house-keeper, a skilled needlewoman, an energetic merchant, or a progressive manufacturer. Let the Fair be their book today, let them read from the lessons of life here written.

ADMISSION, 5 to 15 years, TEN CENTS.

8:30 a. m. Morning parade led by Military band to the Fair. 9:00 a. m. Tickets please, the Fair is open. 9:00 to 12:00 a. m. Open air concerts for the children. Noon. If you have taken your kiddies to see the cows and horses, the sheep and chickens, have your lunch on the grounds and take them through the main building. Show them what can be grown with care; what can be made, with skill; what can be done by learning and ambition. 1:00 to 2:00 p. m. Keep in step with the band and go to the Fair. 2:00 to 3:00 p. m. Free shows. Fine fun. Wonderful feats. 3:00 to 4:00 p. m. Visit the booths. Get your souvenirs. Hear the music. 4:00 p. m. Gates closed. Thank you for your attendance at Your Fair. Commence loading for the next one.

Friends Expected Her to Die.

"I sincerely believe my life was saved in the Fall of 1910 by using Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes Mrs. Agnes Booth, Tonawanda, N. Y. "I was taken with diarrhoea followed by an attack of acute indigestion. Power of the pen fails to portray the agonies I endured. My friends expected me to die as I had been unable to get relief for so long a time. This remedy went directly to the seat of the trouble cured me in a few hours' time." For sale by all dealers.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

HUCKLEBERRIES IN PASTRY.

HUCKLEBERRIES are a fruit that is very indigestible served raw. Cooked huckleberries are delicious and wholesome. They are excellent in pies and pastries. Huckleberry turnovers are made the same as apple turnovers, using huckleberries instead of apples and omitting the cinnamon.

Huckleberry Cake.—Cream a cupful of sugar and a tablespoonful of butter, add an unbeaten egg and mix thoroughly. Add a cupful of milk and two and a half cupfuls of flour sifted with three tablespoonfuls of baking powder, then a pinch of nutmeg and stir in lightly three cupfuls of blueberries. Turn into buttered pans and bake for thirty-five minutes in a hot oven.

Served With Milk.

Huckleberry Float.—Take a cupful of huckleberries, three tablespoonfuls of sugar, a cupful of flour, a teaspoonful of baking powder, a teaspoonful of shortening, a quarter teaspoonful of salt and half a cupful of milk. Pick and wash the berries, put in small saucepan with half a cupful of water, bring to boil quickly, add the sugar and boil five minutes. Sift the flour, baking powder and salt into bowl, add the shortening and rub in very lightly, adding milk slowly. Take up a spoonful of milk and form into round balls, place on floured pie tin, brush with cold milk and bake twelve minutes in hot oven. While warm break in half, put in glass bowl and pour over the huckleberries. Serve at once. You can put a little butter on each biscuit if you like. This makes enough for four persons.

Hints For Pie.

Huckleberry Pie.—Add a spoonful of vinegar to the fruit when making pie—a tablespoonful may be needed, but no more. This amount will not be enough to modify the extreme saccharine quality. A few currants, if conveniently at hand, may be put in to impart "tang" to the pie. In this case the vinegar should be left out. Brush the lower crust before covering it with the fruit with a small quantity of egg white. Sprinkle the berries lightly with flour. Too much will make the filling pasty. Only enough to prevent the juice from running should be used. When the pie is taken from the oven sprinkle the top with powdered sugar.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

PIQUANT CHICKEN DISHES.

DINNER. Tomato Soup. Toasted Crackers. Chicken Goulash. New Potatoes With Parsley. Asparagus Salad. Huckleberry Pie. Coffee.

THE recipes given here are a few novel ways of cooking chicken. These dishes are more or less highly flavored and suitable for luncheon or tea.

May Be Served For Luncheon.

Deviled Chicken Legs.—Single the legs slightly, put them into a stock pot and boil for ten minutes. Remove them to a dish, cook thoroughly and season with salt, black pepper and a little cayenne, Worcestershire sauce and ground mustard. Now roll them well together, pass one after another into sifted breadcrumbs and broil them over a moderate fire for four minutes on each side. Arrange on a hot dish, pour over them a little chopped parsley and serve at once.

Chicken Goulash.—Boil fowl, then remove bones, put bones back into the liquor and cook them twenty minutes. Remove bones, cut chicken into small bits, all except the giblets, then put the finely cut chicken into the gravy, adding half a can of tomatoes, six small onions or three large ones, salt, pepper, half a teaspoonful of sugar one spoonful of butter. Cook about thirty-five minutes or until onion is done. Have ready a dozen slices of buttered toast. Pour goulash over toast and serve hot.

Unique Method.

Fricassee Chicken.—Chop half a pound of fat bacon and fry it with a dozen button onions, a dozen button mushrooms, two carrots diced and two ounces of butter. When lightly colored add a full grown chicken which has been cut up as for fricassee and stewed half an hour in some broth or boiling water. Add a blade of mace, a glass of white wine or sherry and salt and pepper to taste. Cook about forty minutes or until tender and serve hot.

Fried Chicken.—Clean and joint a fat fowl and fry it in two ounces of lard, oil or butter, an ounce of ham and an onion chopped fine. Add a quart of good broth or consommé, a pint of stewed or canned tomatoes, a dozen okra sliced, a cupful of washed rice, a green pepper shredded and seeds removed. Season to taste, cover closely and cook about one and a half hours. Do not add the okra if canned vegetables are used until the stew is nearly done.

TAX ON GASOLINE WILL BE 2 CENTS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—A two cent tax on each gallon of gasoline has been decided on by the Democratic House Ways and Means committee as a legitimate method of helping to raise the $100,000,000 war tax which has been asked by President Wilson.

The tax on freight rates has been eliminated after a hard fight in which Leader Underwood was beaten by the insurgent Democrats. The scheme was withdrawn by Senator Simmons of North Carolina after a conference with President Wilson. The new plan is expected to raise $105,000,000. It will include the Spanish war tax or commercial and legal papers, bill of lading, telegraph and long distance messages, the Spanish war tax on bankers, brokers, theaters, amusement places, a special tax on tobacco manufacturers, dealers in domestic wines and beer.

How to Cure Cholera Morbus. Many cases of this disease result fatally before medicine can be obtained or a physician summoned. It is easily cured when the proper remedy is at hand. Mrs. Charles Stewart of Mt. Collins, N. Y., says: "When my husband had cholera morbus last summer he used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and it cured him promptly." Every family should keep this remedy at hand. It only costs a quarter. For sale by all dealers.

Caught a Bad Cold. "Last winter my son caught a very bad cold and the way he coughed was something dreadful," writes Mrs. Sarah E. Duncan, of Tipton, Iowa. "We thought sure he was going into consumption. We bought just one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and that one bottle stopped his cough and cured his cold completely." For sale by all dealers.

REPORT CHANCE WILL LEAD SOX NEXT YEAR

New York, Sept. 17.—Frank Chance may manage the Chicago White Sox during 1915. This is the report here today, and while it could not be certain, baseball circles here have it that the one-time leader of the Cubs and until Tuesday ahead of the Yankees will be in Chicago late today or early Thursday, to talk matters over with Comiskey. When approached Chance admitted that another club had offered him a fat salary for his services, but he would not mention names. He would not say in what league the club held forth.

The terms under which Chance quit the Yankees makes him a free agent and he can sign where he wills. The P. L. received his full season's pay. It has been known for some time that Comiskey isn't satisfied with the work of the Sox and that a change of management would be no surprise.

Weather indications.
 Dew and fog both indicate fine weather; while remarkable clearness of the atmosphere is one of the most characteristic signs of coming rain.

CARPENTIER MAY VISIT THE U.S.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—If George Carpentier, the famous French fighter can secure his release from the army, where he is now serving in the war against Germany, Billy Nolan, American manager, who handled the affairs of Battling Nelson and Willie Ritchie, will bring him to America for a tour of the country this fall. This was the report circulated around Chicago yesterday, following Nolan's mysterious visit here. It likewise is said Ad Wolgast will come under Nolan's managerial wing.

The fact that Nolan was negotiating for Carpentier became known several weeks ago when another Chicago manager cabled the Frenchman a big offer for his services in this country. This was turned down by Georges, who wrote back that he was planning a trip to the United States under Nolan's management.

Wolgast has been in the field for a manager for several weeks. Nolan heard this and was advised to come to Chicago to discuss terms. Wolgast is now in the Cream City training for his bout with Joe Mandot Friday night.

Cost Kept Down—Quality Kept Up.

No better medicine could be made for coughs, colds, croup hoarseness, tickling throat, bronchitis, etc., than Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. That's why they can't improve the quality, and war or no war the price remains the same. E. J. Sargent, Dallas, Tex., says: "I believe Foley's Honey and Tar has no equal for it completely relieved me of all symptoms of tuberculosis and my cough has entirely disappeared." Don't accept any substitute, for Foley's Honey and Tar is the best. For sale by all dealers.

Good druggists are glad to sell Foley Kidney Pills because they always help. They contain no habit forming drugs. For sale by all dealers.

Harder Task to Do Present Duty.
 Pleasant it is to entertain the picture of ourselves in some future scene, planning wisely, feeling nobly, and executing with the holy triumph of the will; but it is a different thing, not in the green avenues of the future, but in the hot dust of the present moment, to do the duty that waits and wants us.—James Martineau.

SMALL MEN STAR IN BIG LEAGUES

Some one has revived the question whether big men or little men play the better baseball. The question is a good deal like the one discussed among players, whether nine Walter Johnsons could beat nine Ty Cobbs. But it is interesting.

One can pick a "little team" that probably would win, a tall team the same way, and the big team just as easily.

Undoubtedly the style of ball players now runs in the strong, big fellows, especially in the pitching line. Four out of every five pitchers in the major league now are close to 6 feet and 200 pounds. Styles have changed wonderfully. The managers are after men with the weight and the strength to stand the wear and tear of a season, or a dozen seasons, but the little men are not barred.

Look back over the lists: Anson, Delahanty, Young, Comiskey, Williamson, were giants of men. Anson wanted huge fellows with driving power behind them. On the other hand, Hugh Duffy was at his greatest at 140 pounds; Willie Keeler weighed about 135 pounds; McGraw was a little man; Griffith, Cunningham, Radbourne, Billy Sullivan and scores of great players were small.

Tip O'Neil weighed 98 pounds when he was catching 200-pound pitchers, who took a 5-ft run and buried the ball at him from 50 feet. Rusie was the fat, short-armed type, and so was Toad Ramsey. Nichols, Tacks, Parrott, Sellers, Foust were slim lanky fellows.

So it doesn't seem to make much difference. It is the spirit in the man rather than size, that makes the ball players, even though Anson when he released Hugh Duffy remarked: "You are about 7 inches and 100 pounds shy of being a great ball player."

SKIM MILK VALUABLE DRINK

Repeated Tests Demonstrate Pullets Lay More Eggs in Winter When Fed of This Diet.

To test the value of skim milk for laying hens, 60 pullets were put in two pens, equally divided, of one variety and all as near of an age as possible. They were fed exactly alike keeping strict account of their feed but given different drinks. One pen had sweet skim milk, while the other had only plenty of fresh water.

This test was begun on November 1 and accounts were balanced with both pens on May 1 following. The hens that drank the water had but a little over half as much credit for eggs laid, while their feed had cost nearly a third more than the pen which were fed skim milk. Some days in the very coldest weather the milk-fed pen of 30 pullets laid 28 eggs, and their average for January was 24 eggs daily. The skim milk-fed pen not only produced many more eggs, but they did not consume as much food as the other pen.

Since then these tests have been repeatedly tried with different breeds and with the same results.

CORN VALUABLE FOR POULTRY

Net Much Danger of Becoming Overfat, if Compelled to Exercise for Their Grain.

Corn is a valuable poultry food, and it is in its abuse and not its use that it is to be condemned. Some fowls become fat on almost any kind of food, while others will not fatten even on corn. There seems to be a good bit of human nature about the makeup of the hen. If hens are made to exercise for their grain, and are in a good laying condition, there is not much danger of their becoming overfat. In fact it is rather a difficult matter to overfatten laying hens. It is when they are slack in laying and become lazy that the fat seems to start to grow. When hens become too fat they should be placed in a separate yard where there is no male bird, as the attention of a male to an overfat hen is apt to hasten death. If such hens are given only an evening feed of wheat and nothing during the day except green food and water they will soon lose considerable of their surplus fat.

Adding the silo to the farm simply means applying one of the first principles of modern manufacturing industry to the oldest of all industries.

GUM SAVES YANKEES FROM SEARCH BY FRENCH.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—The vigorous chewing of gum saved a party of American women and girls from being searched by French soldiers at Bordeaux, relates Arthur F. Krohne of this city, who arrived today from Europe.

"At Bordeaux," he said the French soldiers searched all Americans. I had been searched and was watching the others. The soldiers came to a group of women and girls chewing gum.

"Don't bother with them," said the leader. "They're chewing gum. They're Americans all right."

Joke on Depew.

An episode at the Yale bicentennial in 1901 illustrated the readiness of President Hadley's intellectual resources. One of the distinguished guests was the representative of the University of Upsala in Sweden. This gentleman, when received by President Hadley and the corporation in the reception room of the Art school, delivered a long address in Latin. As soon as he had finished, President Hadley made a lengthy reply, also in Latin. "Well, well," said Chaucey M. Depew—at least the story represents him as saying—"I never knew that President Hadley could talk Swedish!"—World's Work.

"Reformers" Might Heed.

Trolope, in describing John Bold, in "The Warden," gives some advice to reformers. "Bold is thoroughly sincere in his patriotic endeavors to mend mankind," says Trolope, "but," he adds, "I fear that he is too much imbued with the idea that he has a special mission for reforming. It would be as well if one so young had a little more diffidence himself and more trust in the honest purposes of others—if he could be brought to believe that old customs need not necessarily be evil, and that changes may possibly be dangerous." This was written fifty-nine years ago. Will anybody dare to suggest that the criticism still holds good?—Springfield Republican.

Warships for China.

When the Creditanstalt, the Escomptebank, and the Laenderbank subscribed a portion of the Chinese loan to the amount of £1,500,000 ($7,299,750) in 6 per cent bonds, it was agreed that the Chinese government should favor Austrian industries with orders for ships. In compliance with this agreement, the construction of three Chinese cruisers has been ordered, which will be built at Monfalcone, near Trieste. The cruisers will cost 10,000,000 crowns ($2,030,000). It is reported that some of the machinery will be constructed in Bohemian factories.

Darwin's Regret.

If I had to live my life over again, I would have made a rule to read some poetry and listen to some music at least once a every week, for perhaps the parts of my brain now atrophied would thus have been kept alive through use. The loss of these tastes is a loss of happiness, and may possibly be injurious to the intellect, and more probably to the moral character, by enfeebling the emotional part of our nature.—Charles Darwin.

Mother of Eighteen Children.

"I am the mother of eighteen children and have the pride of doing more work than any young woman in my town," writes Mrs. C. J. Martin, Boone Mill, Vt. "I suffered for five years with stomach trouble and could not eat as much as a biscuit without suffering. I have taken three bottles of Chamberlain's Tablets and am now a well woman and weigh 165 pounds. I can eat anything I want to, and as much as I want and feel better than I have at any time in ten years. I refer to any one in Boone Mill or vicinity and they will vouch for what I say." Chamberlain's Tablets are for sale by all dealers.

Diarrhoea Quickly Cured.

"I was taken with diarrhoea and Mr. Yorks, the merchant here, persuaded me to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After taking one dose of it I was cured. It also cured others that I gave it to," writes M. E. Gebhart, Oriole, Pa. That is not at all unusual. On ordinary attack of diarrhoea can almost invariably be cured by one or two doses of this remedy.

RAIN.

Japan frankly admits that her delay in the operations about Kiau-Chau is due to the torrential rains which have caused floods throughout the Shantung peninsula.

Not until the waters subside will the mikado's men be able to bring their rartillery into position and to begin their serious business of war.

Future historians may estimate how seriously the fighting along the Marne and its affluents was affected by the rains which fell throughout northern France early last week.

That they did have some effect is altogether likely. Men horses and big guns cannot be moved as rapidly over quagmires as over dry fields, and the lessening of an army's mobility may be of serious importance.

In Maureland, the lake region of East Prussia, the advancing Russians encountered days of incessant rains which made the always difficult country almost impassable.

The Germans whose armies had recently maneuvered in this very region, took advantage of the enemy's difficulty, and in at least two encounters won undeniable victories.

Victor Hugo wrote that he did not rain on the eve of the battle of Waterloo the destiny of Europe would have been changed. He held that the rain cost Bonaparte the victory, and proceeded to prove his case.

How much the outcome of the present war may be dependent on the forces of nature, quite beyond the possible calculations of military commanders, cannot be estimated till the story is complete.

Two Belgian cabinet members are with the delegation which has come to America to present the Belgian protest to President Wilson.

It seems that there is not much of Belgium left to govern, and that the government might as well take little vacations like this.

Daniel McGuillicuddy, the Maine Democrat who has been re-elected to congress, is a brother of Cornelius McGuillicuddy (alias Connie Mack manager of the Philadelphia Athletics).

The habit of victory seems to run in the family.

INCREASE FARM EFFICIENCY

Work Done With Fewer Horses Means Saving of $100 a Year for Each Animal Not Required.

(By A. H. BENTON.)

One of the most frequent sources of loss on the farm is an insufficient return from work horses.

Have you satisfied yourself on the following points? It costs $100 annually to keep the average horse, but this horse works only a little more than three hours each working day.

This makes the horse labor cost approximately ten cents an hour. Do you handle the horse labor on your farm so that the annual cost of keeping your horses is less than the average, so that the number of hours worked is greater? Both methods will reduce the cost of horse labor, but the latter offers by far the greatest opportunity.

Can you revise your cropping system so that fewer work horses will be needed, or so that the work will be more equally distributed and thus make it possible to employ them more hours each year?

Can you raise colts and thus reduce the cost of keeping your horses? Can you arrange to use your work horses for outside work when not busy on the farm?

Can you reduce the cost of keeping each horse by feeding less feed or cheaper feed and still give a proper ration?

Farm work done with fewer horses means a saving of $100 a year for each horse not needed.

ALFALFA AS A FORAGE CROP

Most Valuable of Deep-Rooted Legumes and Its Long Lived Under the Best of Conditions.

Alfalfa is an exceptionally deep-rooted legume, and under the best conditions it is long lived. Like other legumes, it has the capacity, under the right conditions, of assimilating nitrogen from the atmosphere, but until the root system and the nodules which it bears are well developed its growth is greatly promoted by the presence of readily assimilable nitrogen in the soil.

It is without doubt one of the most valuable forage plants known to man. It has long been cultivated in various parts of Asia and Europe, whence it was brought to Mexico by the Spaniards, who took it with them to California, and the semi-arid portions of our southwestern states. During the last fifteen or twenty years its culture has been steadily pushed eastward, and it is now successfully grown in most parts of the United States and in a few parts of Canada.

In many essentials and in feeding value alfalfa resembles the clovers; and as these are so generally known its characteristics will be perhaps best brought out by comparison.

Source of Contamination. Milk pails are sometimes made with double bottoms so as to prevent rusting. The inside bottom is made of zinc. This after a time may get a hole in it and then it becomes a veritable hotbed for propagation of germs.

When the warm milk comes into the pail the air under the false bottom expands, as will be noticed by the bubbles rising in the milk. When the milk cools the air under the false bottom contracts and draws milk between the bottoms, where it can never be washed out. Here it putrefies and is a constant source of contamination.

Daily Thought. The world would be better and brighter if people were taught the duty of being happy as well as the happiness of doing their duty. To be happy ourselves is a most effectual contribution to the happiness of others.

John Labbok.

BOOTHS ARE ARTISTIC

The Richer Brewing Company has a huge pyramid of bottled goods in the center of their booth while huge anti-prohibition signs form the background.

The St. Stephen's Guild has an attractive booth from which they are selling home made candy. Immense amounts of the sweets were sold yesterday.

The Baptist Ladies Aid Society has arranged a booth from which they are selling short order lunches, ice cream and other eatables.

The booth of the Escanaba Harness Company is unusually well arranged this year. Harnesses are chiefly shown while many beautiful robes and blankets mark the walls of the booth.

The Delta Printing Company has a booth of office supply advertisements, the greater share of the booth being taken up by W. J. Hatton, who is advertising his razor blade sharpening device. Actual demonstrations are given.

Next to this booth Kratz Brothers have a most unique display. A huge canvas is stretched before the booth and holes large enough for one to stick their head through, are cut at regular intervals. The public is asked to go through this performance and then make a guess as to the retail worth of the merchandise on display. A mackinaw is given to the nearest guess of the men and a sweater to the nearest woman's guess.

The Hoyer and Baur booth here is given over to the sale of ice cream cones and cigars.

The Escanaba Hardware has a most attractive double booth. Sporting goods, kitchen utensils and a general line of hardware are shown in profusion.

The Fashion Suit Company booth is equipped with all of the latest in woman's apparel. The ready to wear department is especially demonstrated.

The Groos Drug store has a unique display of Swamp Root, Liquid Veneer and Mentholatum.

Kratz Brothers second booth shows an excellently appointed sleeping chamber. Everything that goes with the room is shown. On one side the firm is showing the McDougall kitchen cabinet.

The Manning-Peterson Shoe Company has an excellent display of shoes, the latest in everything from work shoes to dainty party pumps.

The Thatcher Insurance Agency booth is largely occupied by the Whitney Farm's display showing some of the best of the products of the National Pole farm. The exhibits of the farm are unusually fine.

The Thatcher agency is giving away souvenirs, matches to the men and blotters and other useful things to the women.

The Fair Store has triple booth space and has every inch of space taken up and in a most pleasing manner. Demonstrations are given for Leader coffee put up for the local store. The old and new way of washing clothes is demonstrated with a washwoman. A bag of flour was given away to every woman at 2 o'clock. A guessing contest is on in which a mackinaw and sweater are given away. There is also a demonstration of Tryphosa. Many souvenirs are handed from this booth.

The Bloomstrom and Petersen Jewelry Store booth, is this year arranged most artistically this year. A $2500 necklace is on display as is a $1500 engagement ring. A huge clock forms the background for the booth.

The First National Bank has on display a most unique collection owned by C. A. Cram. Everything is shown from the work of a beaver to birch canoes, a grass house, war relics and a piece of cloth made from the bark of a tree. The display is one of the most interesting at the grounds.

The Hill Drug Store booth has a color scheme of red and white. The Sorwine products are chiefly displayed, the booth being in charge of Miss Effie Holmes.

The Robbs Studio booth has on display samples of photography by the local studio. One piece of especial interest in an enlargement of the Robbs of a picture taken by Miss Elsa Atkins at Heidelberg, Germany, from a four by five film to a splendid picture of large dimensions. The color was by Mrs. Robb. In addition the booth has pictures of business of the city and the graduating class of 1914 of the local high school.

The Fritz and Fritz booth is given over to the display of their breads and ice creams.

"Scotts" has a most attractive booth of products of their store. Mrs. Scott is in charge and is receiving congratulations upon the manner in which her booth is decorated.

The Hoyer Baking Company has an excellent display of their Tip Top bread and their bake goods. Ice cream cones are sold here.

The L. A. Erickson booth is given over to the fall correctness in men's clothing and wearing apparel. The Ed. Erickson store shows every thing in woman's ware that could satisfy the desires of woman. Especially pretty furs are shown. The booth is nicely decorated.

The Columbia Music store has a display of pianos, violins, gramophones. Concerts are given from here through out the day.

Young & Pillion Company has a display of shoes that draws the eye of all. Shoes ranging in prices from $15 to $40 are shown. Some are hand painted heels while others are equipped with gold-leaf heels, brocaded and Irish lace over white tops. James Ashland has a display of his violins at this booth also.

The headquarters of the Delta County Liquor Dealers and Hotel Keepers Association is a veritable mass of advertising matter against prohibition, designating the campaign that is being waged by that organization.

The Escanaba Brewing Company has a splendid display of Northern Beauty beer and the booth is placarded with anti-prohibition literature.

The White Lion Baking Powder booth is a most unique one. One huge can of powder sits in the center of the booth while small cans of the powder are given away to the guests at the fair. Cloverland flour too is displayed from this booth as are also the pennants for the Marble Arms Manufacturing Company.

The West End Cycle Works has as its feature the Indian motorcycle that is to be given away by the B. J. MacKillican clothing store. In addition bicycles, repairs and motorcycle repairs are shown.

The Land and Loan Company booth is taken up by O. Rollins with the Singer Sewing Machine. Machines and their repairs are on display.

The Public Library has a display booth this year urging the public to patronize the local institution. Circulars are being given away by Miss Laura Brubaker, librarian.

The exhibit by Postmaster Doherty of Parcels Post and what can be sent through the mails under the new system attracted much attention from the guests at the fair.

The Escanaba Paper and Pulp Company booth is given over to a display by St. Anne's school. Work from every department is shown.

The Stegath Lumber Company has a most unique display in their booth having a completely constructed house, showing all products of the local firm. Fred Stegath was in charge yesterday.

The A. J. Kirstin Company has on display four models of their One Man Stump Pullers. Repairs for the pullers are also shown.

Hansen and Jensen Oil Company have a display of both gasoline and kerosene.

The F. J. Sheedlo Company has on display a large amount of indestructible suit cases and trunks. In addition harnesses and robes and blankets are shown here.

Charles Gunderson, the local implement dealer has one of the most complete farm tool displays ever shown in this city. Practically everything needed by the modern farmer is shown at the local mans' booth.

There is a Western Canada display by C. A. Laurier, as "a representative of the Canadian government. The display is a most elaborate one showing the products of the Canadian country.

The A. & J. DeGrand company has a big display of seeds, flour and stock foods. The display is most uniquely arranged.

The Escanaba National Bank has a booth of advertising matter, savings banks and souvenirs. The souvenirs are pencils.

The Escanaba Granite Works has a display of monuments equal if not surpassing that of last year. A contest is conducted at this booth.

Kratz Brothers have a third booth which is devoted entirely to souvenirs. Gifts of all kinds are handed out to the guests in attendance making the booth one of central interest.

The NorthWestern Co-operative and Lumber Company has a rest room at their booth. The walls of the room are lined with veneering and the furniture is a product of the concern.

The Mashek Chemical and Iron Company and the Stephenson Charcoal and Iron Company has made a rest room out of their booth.

John E. Jackson has one of his new model Maxwell auto's on display at his booth in addition to a show of his tailoring. The car is attracting much attention from auto owners.

The Hewitt Grain and Provision Company has a display of Seal of Minnesota, Marigold flour and butter.

The Cash Mercantile Company is serving their coffee to the patrons of the fair. Products of the store are also being shown.

The Ellsworth Drug store booth has a display of drug articles, cigars and camera's.

The Escanaba Manufacturing Company booth is occupied by the Methodist Ladies Aid Society selling candy.

The Gladstone Five and Ten Cent Store has a display of their products and besides is giving away souvenirs.

The Mead Drug Company and W. W. Berry, the local optician, have a booth in connection. The Mead store has Eastman cameras, while the Berry exhibit is of a full line of optical goods.

B. J. MacKillican has an excellent display of men's wearing apparel. He is giving away an electrically equipped Indian motorcycle for the lucky holder of a number received with every one dollar cash purchase at that store.

The Delta Hardware booth is divided into three sections, one is given over to modernly equipped kitchen, a thoroughly modern dining room and a sporting goods section. The display is one of the most modern ever shown here.

Grinnel Brothers have a display of player pianos, Victrolas and sheet music. The Grinnel orchestra yesterday drew big crowds before the booth.

The I. Stephenson agricultural display is easily the most attractive ever shown in this city or in fact the peninsula. Arranged on an inclined green sod surrounded by potted plants, the agricultural products indeed presented a most delightful appearance. In the center of the display was a huge "S".

Edward Thompson, manager of the I. Stephenson farms is responsible for the display at the fair grounds and is to be congratulated upon the designing of the attraction.

THE IRON TRADE REVIEW

Cleveland, O., Sept. 17.—The Iron Trade Review will say:

The extreme slowness with which foreign inquiries for iron and steel products develop into orders is having a discouraging effect upon the iron trade. It is generally recognized that early improvement cannot be expected so far as foreign demand is concerned. The domestic demand is likewise very light and a decrease in operating capacity seems probable.

The weakness of the market is shown in a tendency toward softness in finished materials for prompt delivery, but owing to the expectations that business will improve after financial conditions become straightened out, sellers are naming higher prices for delivery after January 1. Both buyers and sellers are conservative about contracting for delivery into next year and this attitude contributes toward the dullness of the market at the present time.

Inquiries for semi-finished steel for the British Isles continue to be received in increasing numbers, but American manufacturers find that prices are not satisfactory, to foreign buyers. One large independent company has, however, taken an order for 2,000 tons of billets to cover an export order for wire taken by a Trenton company.

Leading makers of plates in the east report a very marked decrease in demand during the past week, and there is very little activity in the plate market in any part of the country. Naturally prices are weaker and 1.15c Pittsburgh can be done on desirable business. Steel bars are also being quoted on this basis. There is still considerable activity in the east iron territory and prices generally are well maintained in leading centers, but there is some indication of weakness at Chicago.

Pig iron sellers of leading centers say that not for 16 or 17 years has the pig iron market been as dull as at the present time. The unwillingness of buyers to place orders for delivery after January 1, at higher prices than now prevailing is illustrated by the action of the Lukens Iron & Steel company in buying only 14,000 tons basic after inquiring for from 55,000 to 40,000 tons.

The shipments of ferro manganese from England including several cargoes which arrived during the past few days, have given relief in this market. The usual asking price is now $80 and it is understood that even lower can be done. The shipment of emery to manufacturers of abrasive wheels which was temporarily suspended on account of the war, has been resumed.

GIANT LOBBY IN PORK BILL PLAN?

Washington, D. C.—Representative Frear of Wisconsin tomorrow will introduce a resolution in the house directing the attorney general to investigate alleged lobby activities of the national rivers and harbors congress and the Mississippi levee association.

In his resolution Mr. Frear will prefer these charges against the rivers and harbors congress:

1. That its members have brought improper influence to bear on members of congress and senators to force them to vote for the rivers and harbors pork barrel bill.

2. That the congress to stir up public sentiment in favor of this bill, has scattered special agents throughout the country who are writing for papers and addressing public meetings.

3. That collections for carrying on its propaganda have been taken from the Newark board of trade, the Trenton board of trade, the Standard Oil company, the Southern Railway company, the Missouri Pacific Railway company, the Frisco Railway company, the Missouri Pacific Railway company, the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway company, the St. Louis Southwestern company, the Illinois Central Railway company, and many other concerns.

4. That many thousands of dollars collected from these interests were divided between the collecting agents and the congress.

5. That the rivers and harbors congress has attempted to appropriate to itself the rights to dictate to members of congress and senators how they shall vote on waterways matters.

6. That the congress is carrying on a secret, insidious, and manifestly improper lobby.

Will Ask a Fraud Order. Besides asking the attorney general to investigate the facts in connection with the alleged lobby, Mr.

Frear also will ask that the postmaster general issue a fraud order denying the use of the mails to the river and harbor congress.

Will Ask a Fraud Order. Besides asking the attorney general to investigate the facts in connection with the alleged lobby, Mr. Frear also will ask that the postmaster general issue a fraud order denying the use of the mails to the river and harbor congress.

Merely Bums; They Die Alone. Chicago, Ill.—Shortly after noon yesterday the police of the Chicago avenue station were called to a prairie on East Grand avenue to remove the body of a man.

The rolled the body on a stretcher and took it to Gavin's morgue at 672 North Clark street. Some one had heard the man called Malone, so on the books you will find him listed as "Probably William Malone, address unknown."

"What difference does it make," a policeman asks. "He's only a bum. There are thousands of them in Chicago, and they are dying every day. One of them won't be missed."

The ambulance doctor looks at the corpse.

Holes Only in Pockets. "Hum," he muses, "poor fellow probably died of starvation and exposure. Any money?"

There was no money nor valuables—nothing in the pockets but holes.

Later the police were called to remove the body of "another bum" from a damp basement at 746 North Franklin street. This man was known as Joseph Schuster and had been employed about the house doing whatever he was asked. Him they took to Shute's morgue in West Chicago avenue. And on the blotter you may read, "Death probably due to starvation and exposure."

All of which embittered Lieut. Fred Holzer.

Let Men Die of Want. "Here's a city of two and one-half millions," he said, "and they are letting men die of want. The United Charities goes about looking for families worthy of charity."

"They cannot find men who need it most—the men over 50, as these two men were—who are looking for work and who are too proud to beg."

"The people take care of the sick and crippled when they need help, but the strong man who needs their help most is passed by, and he dies, as these men did in the prairie or in the basement—bums because they are too old to find jobs, worthless because they are not able to work hard. What the answer? It seems to be 'Let them die.'"

Nice Distinction. "I have four more sons," said a witness at a Westminster (England) inquest the other day; "two in America and two alive."

ANOTHER ATTEMPT TO WRECK LIMITED

Green Bay, Wis., Sept. 17.—Still another attempt was made at Manitowoc Monday night to wreck the Northwestern limited train which is due in Green Bay shortly before midnight when the same switch which was thrown five weeks ago and which resulted in derailing the engine, was tampered with in Calumet yards south of Manitowoc. Due to the fact that the train was proceeding at slow speed, Engineer Jones stopped the engine within a few feet of the switch when he found the danger light facing him, the miscreant responsible for the attempt to wreck the train having failed to change the switch light to show clear, as was done five weeks ago when the train ran into an open switch.

Shrouded in Mystery. Mystery deeper than ever surrounded previous attempts to wreck the train shrouds the present case and officials of the road are making a thorough probe of reports that detectives employed to guard the tracks had failed to maintain the watch, though one man, who was found by the train crew near the switch, was later found to be a member of the company's staff of detectives who claimed to have reached the scene just as the train came to a stop. Superintendent A. N. LaCombe of Green Bay, who was aboard the train, directed the man to be taken aboard and turned over to the police until his claim to being a detective could be investigated.

Later Chief of Detectives McCary of the Northwestern corroborated the man's statement that he was a member of the force, and he was released.

The train was in charge of Conductor Israel Bean and Engineer H. Jones, the latter having had the run since the last attempt to wreck the limited.

It is said however, that the Northwestern authorities have no clew to work on that has not been followed to the end and proven fruitless.

WOMEN 'BROKE' GO TO $50 HOTEL

London, Sept. 17.—Two young American women who arrived from Berlin on Saturday night were given the addresses of an inexpensive hotel by the American relief committee.

Instead of going there they put up at a luxurious hotel, and today, according to the committee, appeared at the relief headquarters and presented a hotel bill for $50 requesting that it be paid on their behalf. They also asked to be provided with first class passage on a steamer to New York as they swore they were penniless.

The committee felt compelled to pay the hotel bill, but allowed them only $1.75 each daily for living expenses until Saturday, when they will proceed to New York as second class passengers. This privilege was granted because the young women declared they were in frail health.

MAN WHILE DRUNK STEALS PRAYER BOOK

Appleton, Wis., Sept. 17.—Henry Scholler, arrested Sunday for burglarizing the novelty store of A. H. Davis, said this morning in jail that he was so drunk at the time that he does not remember what he took.

He had been paid off tonight before and after securing a bottle of whiskey wandered to Appleton, finding a sleeping place in the rear of the store. When he woke up he noticed that he was behind a store of some kind and feeling hungry, broke in and helped himself to peppermints and candy. Before he left he took a little of everything else that he could find.

"What made you take the prayer-books?"

"Gee whiz didn't I tell you that I was drunk. I didn't know what I took, and I don't even know where that store is now."

He will have a hearing September 21, when he will be given a chance to explain. In the meantime he has not even the prayer books to console him in his cell.

LAST OF WILD PIGEONS DEAD

News of the death in Cincinnati, of Martha, the last wild pigeon in the world, according to all ornithological records, recalls the fact that years ago there were many wild pigeons in the copper country. Old timers declare that in certain districts the pigeons were so thick that they could be killed with clubs. Gradually they were exterminated, just as they were in other parts of the country.

The death of Martha, the last of the wild pigeons, is considered a calamity of as great importance in the eyes of naturalists as the death of a Katsura to Germans throughout the world.

Martha had been in poor health for several years in her cage at the Zoological Garden in Cincinnati. Many efforts had been made to find a mate for her, or to discover some other specimen of the wild pigeon, but they were without avail. According to all ornithological data available, Martha was the last of her tribe in the world.

Big Prize Offered For Nest. Members of the National Audubon

Societies some time ago offered a prize of $1,500 to any one who could find a wild pigeon nest. All that was necessary was to find the nest, telegraph to C. F. Hodge, a naturalist of Clark University, and to await the findings of ornithologists whom he would immediately dispatch to the scene to investigate the genuineness of the find. The Audubon Societies received on an average 100 false alarms a year, but in not a single case was the nest reported found to be a wild pigeon's. Instead, almost every such nest was found to be that of an ordinary turtle dove. The wild pigeon resembles the ordinary wild dove, but is considerably larger.

The extinction of the wild pigeon was the more amazing because of the vast extent to which it had flourished in this country prior to 1865. Wild passenger pigeons used to travel over the country by millions. Audubon himself told of their roosting in certain parts of Kentucky in territory covering a space of three to five miles long, which was almost literally hidden by them. Hundreds of farmers, he tells, used to camp on the outside of vast roosting pigeon host and shoot them by the thousands from the edge of their resting place. The birds were fed by thousands to the farmers' hogs after each night's killing.

The slaughter raged for years with nets, traps, and guns, and by 1884 there were very few of the wild pigeons seen in the country. Several years ago they had dwindled down to a few specimens left in captivity in Milwaukee and in the Cincinnati Zoo. Martha's mate died about four years ago, and though a prize of $1,000 was offered for any one who could find another bird to take its place, Martha remained in solitary widowhood until she died.

Martha herself was hatched in captivity in the Cincinnati Zoo. At the time of her death she was 29 years old. Her last illness had been a matter of concern to ornithologists the world over and the Cincinnati agent of the Audubon Societies had been instructed to communicate at once with leading ornithologists and naturalists of the country as soon as she died.

The Difference. An Atchison man who never held one job over two weeks, died not long ago, and people said he was a genius out of his sphere. When he was alive they said he was a loafer.

SOMERS SPIES TALE THAT GANZEL WILL SUCCEED BIRMINGHAM.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 17.—C. W. Somers, boss of the Naps, last night spiked the rumor that John Ganzel, manager of the Rochester International league club, would manage the Naps in 1915 with an emphatic: "No. It's out of the question."

"We never have spoken one word with Ganzel about the matter," continued Somers. "You may say positively that Ganzel will not manage the Naps in 1915 and that we have made no slightest effort to get Ganzel to manage the team for any other year."

"You can say just as emphatically for me that Joe Birmingham will be the manager of the Cleveland club in 1915."

Would Be Dangerous. Almost any man would be sent to the penitentiary or an insane asylum if he admitted as much to his discredit, that wasn't true, as he will admit falsely to his credit.
