Baron Von Schoed Declares That Interview Propoed Coming From Him in Regard to Jap-U. S. War is Without any Foundation.

BULLETIN
New York, Sept. 24.—Count Von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador declared tonight that he had received a letter from Baron Von Schoen attached to the German embassy at Washington, denying emphatically the interview attributed to him in which he was quoted as saying that a war between Japan and United States was inevitable. "Von Schoen calls the interview a pure fake," said ambassador. "He tells me he never said anything which could be construed in a way in which he was quoted. That seems to end it."

BULLETIN
New York, Sept. 24.—W. Orten Tewson, of the International News Service of London correspondent cables an explanation of the incomplete details of the fighting in France. It is due to the fact that the official press bureau has rendered censorship much more drastic. During the progress of the long battle all stories from within twenty miles of the front are at present prohibited.

London, Sept. 24.—A wireless from Berlin says:

"The army headquarters reports that one mortar shot only was fired by the Germans at the Rheims Cathedral because it was otherwise impossible to drive away the enemy's observation post mounted on the structure. "It is officially reported from Vienna that the Austrian forces have been concentrated in a new position for several days, but have waited vainly for any serious Russian attack. This proves the inaccuracy of statements issued by the Russian General Staff that their troops have been victorious, that Dank's army has been defeated and that the Austrian forces have been completely broken up and pursued by the Russians. The people and the army have entire confidence in the final victory of Austria."

(Special to the Press.)
Paris, Sept. 24.—Two decisive victories were won by the allies on their left today in a movement to envelope the German right wing under General Von Kluck.

The first was the capture and occupation of Peronne to the northward of the German right and behind it. No sooner had the French occupied the city than the Germans directed a series of attacks against the town. The detachments forming the force of occupation successfully met and repelled them. The arrival of the French at Peronne marked an advance of seventy-five miles by the French left wing since the allies assumed the offensive. Peronne is seventy-five miles northwest of St. Quentin and its possession opens the road for an attack on the latter city in full force. St. Quentin commands the railways to the eastward over which the German supplies might be brought to the beleaguered right wing. Secondary gains were made by the French in the direction of Roye, 25 miles southeast of St. Quentin, indicating the steady progress of the allies left wing along the right bank of the Oise river. At midnight the official bulletin from the war office at Bordeaux summarized the situation to that hour in a statement that a battle was developing on the French left but that action was less pronounced on their center. On the right, in the region northwest of Verdun, no activity was reported.

BURGLARS IN VARIETY HAUL

Detroit, Mich.—Burglars, apparently with a taste for variety, broke into several residences in the Indian village last night and stole everything from cash and jewelry to bacon, eggs and butter.

Roy L. Carlisle, 26 years old, 23 Adams avenue west, a detective, employed by a local private agency, was arrested by real detectives yesterday on the charge of grand larceny. Despite the fact that Carlisle had the usual tin badge and other keepsakes supplied by a private sleuth, he was locked up in a cell just like an ordinary civilian.

Carlisle Is Held.
Carlisle is suspected of committing three robberies, say Detectives Kane and Gliniski, who arrested him. Miss Anna William, 74 Bagley avenue, committing three robberies, says Detectives Kane and Gliniski, who arrested him. Miss Anna William, 74 Bagley avenue, complained to the police that someone entered her room through the transom over the door and stole $100 in cash. Miss Anna White, who also rooms at 74 Bagley avenue, complained that her room was entered and $125 stolen. I Freedman, 159 Adams avenue west, says $10 in cash, four boxes of cigars and one carton of cigarettes worth $17 were stolen from him.

The burglars who visited the Indian village houses ransacked the places thoroughly. Dr. W. H. Drebel, 407 Burns avenue reports that $100 in cash, a $25 chain, a $30 diamond stick pin, two pounds of butter, one dozen eggs, and a half pound of bacon, all valued at $160 were stolen from his home.

Chinamen Are Robbed.
Five Chinese living at 158 Randolph street, directly across the street from police headquarters, were robbed some time Saturday night. Lee Poy reports that his gold watch and chain and $9.35 were stolen; Dear Chung, says "they" got $24 in cash and a $50 gold watch and chain from him; Yee Shung lost his $15 watch and chain and $48 in cash; Lin Sam, $2 in cash and an $8 watch, and Quin Kee is out $11 in cash.

Herman Lelauer and William Harrington are in Lathrop on business. Rudolph Matheson and Harold Campbell left last evening for a visit at Milwaukee.

WILLIAM CHAMPION

(Special to the Press.)
Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 24.—William, an unbeaten stallion, today defeated Directum I. in three straight heats for the pacing championship. The purse was worth $6,000. William is owned by E. A. Van Natta, of Otterbein, Ind.

ROADS HERE ARE PRAISED

A visitor arrived in the city yesterday by auto after making a trip through Wisconsin and the peninsula and asserts that the roads of this district surpass those to be found in any part of the United States.

"I can see from the condition of the roads I traveled over, that much highway work has been done in the upper peninsula during the past few years. The combined cost of highway improvements in Marquette, Delta, Iron and Dickinson counties since the building of new roads started surely amounts to a large sum, but it is money well spent.

"The highways in the upper peninsula are much better than those in several of the states that I have driven through this year. Any car of ordinary power can get over your roads without difficulty, and the fact that the highways in this region are excellent is being heralded through the country. It will finally result in a great increase in the auto traffic through this region.

"Delta, Iron and Dickinson counties are a few laps ahead of other counties in Northern Michigan and Wisconsin with regard to road improvements. The highways in all of these counties are constructed in a substantial manner and the roads should stand up without extensive repairs for years. I have paid particular attention to the manner in which the roads are built and for comparatively cheap work I think your dirt roads cannot be excelled, while the macadam highway between Bark River and Escanaba speaks well for your road builders. It compares favorably with the very finest highways that I have seen in the United States."

MANY STUDENTS ARE ENROLLING

A large number of Escanaba students are entering the Northern State Normal school for the year's work and according to an announcement issued by President Kaye, the total enrollment for the year will be approximately 300.

The Mining Journal says: The fall term enrollment at the Northern State Normal school will approximate three hundred students by the end of the current week, President Kaye said yesterday. The number is gratifying, considering that industry in the copper country and other parts of the upper peninsula is depressed.

Active work in all the classes was started Tuesday morning but it will be the last of the week before the work for the term is fully organized. The training school pupils reported Tuesday morning, and the enrollment in that department is larger than ever before.

No difficulty was encountered in finding rooming and boarding places for the new students, who numbered more than two hundred. The Normal dormitory is filled to its capacity, as usual.

WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS TO SEND DELEGATES

The members of the Woman's Relief Corps on Escanaba are planning to send delegates to the district convention which opens in Marquette next Tuesday.

Cities from throughout the district will be present for the entire program when it is planned to make the event one that will long stand as a peer in this district.

CHAOS IN MEXICO

CLASH BETWEEN VILLA AND CARRANZA IS IMMINENT. AMERICAN TROOPS REMAIN

(Special to the Press.)
Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—Chaos again reigns in Mexico as the result of a breach between Carranza and Villa and the setting up by Villa of what is practically an independent republic in the north. Official reports reaching Washington from all parts of Mexico describe the unrest as more marked than at any time within the last three years.

Proscription, confiscation of property and drumhead executions have created a reign of terror. The departure of American troops from Vera Cruz has been indefinitely postponed and the American war ships will remain in Mexican waters. The major part of Carranza's troops have been hurried to Zacatecas and Torreon.

A battle between Carranza and Villa forces may be fought within a few days.

(Special to the Press.)
Washington, Sept. 24.—General Villa has telegraphed General Carranza, disavowing the latter as first chief of the Constitutional army in charge of the executive power in Mexico. This was announced in a telegram from General Carranza tonight to the Constitutional agency here.

General Villa at the same time announced that neither he nor his delegates would participate in the national convention called for Oct. 1 at Mexico City to designate a provisional president.

The exchange of telegrams resulting from General Carranza's order to suspend railroad communication between Aguas Calientes and Torreon until he could learn whether or not General Obregon, commander of the division of the northeast, was held under arrest by Villa.

(Special to the Press.)
Vera Cruz, Sept. 24.—American marines tonight quickly put down an incipient riot here. A group of Constitutionalists who had entered the city were requested by the patrol to move on. They refused to obey the command and were then forced to comply. A crowd gathered and offensive remarks were hurled at the Americans. At once marines, under Captain Hooker, moved into the midst of the throng and scattered it.

(Special to the Press.)
Mexico City, Sept. 24.—Manuel Bonilla, minister of communication in the cabinet of President Francisco I. Madero, and a number of other persons were arrested yesterday and incarcerated in the penitentiary. No reasons for the arrests were made public.

MOVING PICTURE MAN WORKS TODAY

B. E. Newman, who is taking moving pictures of Escanaba and the surrounding district, yesterday stated that, with fair weather, today will be his big day. The Fair store, the Ed. Erickson store, the First National Bank and other places of business on the street will fall in the wake of the camera man today. The pictures will be started at the Fair store at 2:45 o'clock this afternoon and the general public is invited to take part. The more that turnout for the pictures this afternoon the more activity that will be given to the films to be shown here at a local moving picture house some time later, probably within two weeks time.

On Saturday the fire departments of the city will be taken in action. The departments will make a run down Ludington street, hoist several ladders, throw some water and go through several operations that will go for the making of an excellent picture.

Yesterday the Post office, the Raymond Log Loader Company and the Chatfield Brass and Iron Works were taken. At the post office a big crowd of citizens gathered inside the doors and at a given moment all flocked down the steps and as luck would have it, several autos and motorcycles together with a street car passed by the movie man was turning the crank of his machine.

M. Rosenblom of Gladstone was in the city last evening enroute to a business trip to Chicago.

BLAZE ON ROOF CALLS FIREMEN

A blaze in the roof of the home of Emil Leid, at 1614 Park avenue, was extinguished by members of the fire department early last evening with but a nominal loss. The blaze was started, it is believed, by a spark from the chimney. Both companies No. 1 and 2 responded to the alarm.

PROSPECTS ARE BRIGHT

The outlook for a winning football team for the local high school, at the present time is most pleasing. Coach Hutto has been devoting practically every minute of his spare time since arriving in Escanaba to the development of a team.

The first big question that confronted the coach was a quarter back. Practically every man on the team was tried out at that position but at last it is believed that he has struck the real man in "Johnnie" Perrin. Perrin has been filling that position every practise night this week and has shown admirable progress. Hergman a lad hailing from Bark River is one of the best "finds" that the coach has landed this fall.

For a lad who had scarcely seen a football until three weeks ago he displayed marked ability in more ways than one. With hard practise work the Bark River lad should assist materially in building a winning team for Escanaba this fall.

Phil Beath is playing at center this fall and it is the hardest working man on the team. Beath has improved in weight considerably since last season and should be at his best in the center position. The other men on the line are well equipped with weight and from the present outlook will make the heaviest and the fastest line sent out by Escanaba in a number of years.

MANY CASES HEARD IN DISTRICT COURT

Of cases in the United States district court at Marquette in which Escanaba people are interested in the Mining Journal says:

District court promises to be in session for several days longer than was expected as a result of the prolonging of the case against Peter H. Finnegan, charged with misuse of the United States mails. This action has occupied the attention of the court since it was called to order Tuesday morning. Louis Lustwick, of Alger county, who worked with Finnegan in several of the alleged fraudulent ventures, has been the only witness examined. He was on the stand through out yesterday.

Lustwick said he bought shares of mining stock from Finnegan, and later sold stock from Finnegan, working at times with him and sometimes alone. Lustwick, who is an Australian, traveled through several states selling the stock to his countrymen. Some of the stock was sold on the partial payment plan, at the rate of thirty-five cents a share. After a considerable amount of the stock had been disposed of, the purchasers learned, it is said, that the mining company had discontinued operations, and that Finnegan was not an authorized agent.

Unless more rapid progress is made with the case today than yesterday it is likely that it will not go to the jury until tomorrow.

Amherst H. Dickinson, postmaster of Uno, Delta county, who was indicted for embezzlement of postoffice funds, and who pleaded guilty on the first day of court, changed his plea yesterday, and was fined by Judge Sewell.

Doc Wing, a Chinese laundryman of Escanaba, who pleaded guilty to attempting to bribe an officer of the immigration service, on Tuesday, was fined $200 by the court. He paid up and was released.

Henry P. Fetter of Rapid River yesterday took out a hunting license at the office of County Clerk Sewer.

BOY FORGER TAKEN BACK

EARL SANDERS RETURNED TO MARQUETTE BY PROBATION OFFICER WELLS, HAS BAD RECORD

Probation Officer Wells of Marquette arrived in the city yesterday and took Earl Sanders, the "boy forger" back to Marquette where he had been released on suspended sentence only three days ago by Judge Flannigan. Two days after his release by Flannigan the probation officer received a letter from an Alfred Reese of Escanaba, stating that he could give his charge a position here as a shipping clerk at a salary of $10 per week. Accordingly, believing the letter to be an honest one, Sanders was given enough money to bring him to Escanaba. It is evident to the probation officer now that the lad had an accomplice who wrote the letter from Escanaba to allow the prisoner to get from under the care of the Marquette officers.

At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the officer took the prisoner back to Marquette, where he will be lodged in the county jail until the next session of the circuit court there when he will reappear before Judge Flannigan for sentence.

Before leaving the county jail here Sanders told Sheriff Curran that he had been convicted of forgery seven different times in seven different cities of the United States. His record will probably be used against him when he receives his next sentence at Marquette.

The local business houses who cashed the checks for the lad were yesterday given back the greater share of the money. The forger had spent a small sum before his capture.

PRAY FOR WORLD PEACE

Hebrews of Escanaba observed the Jewish New Year on Monday by joining in prayer, led by the Rabbi for the return of world peace. A fervent prayer was uttered by all in the congregation for those that have fallen in the terrible combat and for those people on the tremendous battle lines and are fighting for an unknown cause. The New Year observance, which opened on Monday marked the opening of the 5685th year of the Jewish calendar.

ORNAMENTAL WORK STARTED YESTERDAY

A large crew of men yesterday started placing the ornamental plaster in the foyer and the front rooms of the new Delft theater. Several car loads of the decorative plaster has been unloaded and practically all has been moved to the opera house site. The work is being done by the Western Ornamental Company of Milwaukee and Frank Dressel, a member of the firm, is in charge.

Although a large number of men are now at work several more will be brought here from Ironwood on Monday that the work may be rushed to a rapid conclusion.

Electricians and plumbers were yesterday working a full force each at the local theater building and are making rapid progress in their work. Practically all of the rough work in plastering has been completed and within a short time the inside decorators should be on the job.

POSTAL SUPERINTENDENT VISITS IN ESCANABA

C. Comstock, superintendent of the Postal Telegraph Company was in the city yesterday passing inspection upon the local office. Mr. Comstock expressed himself as being highly pleased at the manner in which the local office work is being carried

Mrs. F. W. Sanderman of Marinette left for her home last evening, having visited with Mrs. A. Rafoth of North Escanaba. M. MacDonald is spending a week with his parents at Chicago.

GOLF ASSOCIATION TO HOLD MEETING

The members of the Escanaba Golf Association have a meeting scheduled for this evening at the office of Atty. M. D. Mead. The meeting is called for 7:30 o'clock and will be in charge of President F. E. King. At the meeting of this evening several matters of utmost importance will be brought before the assembly and it is desired that every member attend.

CARE IS ADVISED

Particular care should be taken in gathering the potatoes to be used in exhibition. At digging time the potatoes should be carefully dug out with a fork or else selected by hand as they are turned out by the digger.

At this time care should be taken that the ground is perfectly dry and precaution taken to prevent bruising and peeling. This is particularly important when the potatoes are not entirely ripe.

As they are gathered they should be allowed to remain in the sun only long enough to dry and harden the skin properly, potatoes two or three hours. As soon as perfectly dry the potatoes may be carefully brushed with a soft brush—to remove all dirt and dust—then wrapped in soft paper and carefully packed in slatted crates or boxes. If potatoes are left in the sun too long they turn green. Exhibition potatoes must be kept in a cool, dry place and should be examined frequently to make sure that all conditions are right.

The kind of potatoes that win in the show are the ones that are of the greatest commercial value, a smooth, even tuber, weighing from 12 to 16 ounces with clear, disease-free skin, shallow eyes and the lustre and bloom that makes an attractive appearance—they must be true to the type of the variety and every potato as near like the others as possible.

Do not wash your potatoes. Clean them by using a soft brush or rag without water.

NEW POST CARD PLACED ON SALE

J. Willard Walstrom, advertising manager of the Fair store, has just received a shipment of souvenir post cards of the new St. Francis hospital. The original work for the card was completed by Arntsen Brothers and is an excellent reproduction of the local hospital now on the last lap of construction. The cards have been placed on sale in all of the principal places of business of the city and already there has been a large demand for them.

Mrs. James E. Patton has returned from a visit with relatives at Garden. John Arbeiter has left for a weeks visit with his mother at Whittlesey, Wis.

STRIKES BLOW AT THE GOVT.

"Prohibition will work great injury to the cause of temperance. It is a species of intemperance within itself, for it goes beyond the bounds of reason in that it attempts to control a man's appetite by legislation, and in making crimes out of things that are not crimes. A prohibition law strikes a blow at the very principles on which our government was founded. I have always been found laboring to protect the weaker classes from the stronger, and I never can give my consent to such a law as you propose to enact. Until my tongue shall be silenced in death I will continue to fight for the rights of man."

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.
For the best interests of your community, State and Country, you should vote against Prohibition at every opportunity. Signed: The Delta County Hotel and Liquor Dealers' Association.

WAR AND MUSIC.

That there should be any relationship between the dissonance of war and the harmonies of violin and bassoon and flute may seem odd, and yet the leaders of orchestras, maestros, symphony directors, will declare that the nonrelation is unhappily close.

Without warning, a great war envelops a continent. Where are those highly-prized and highly-priced players? Kreisler, prince of violinists, has been seen, musket on shoulder, guarding a bridge in Vienna.

WAR

The allies, since the beginning of the battle of the Aisne, have pushed back the Germans a distance of nearly eleven miles, forcing them to seek a further defensive position on the plateau and in the rough country, where, however, are excellent opportunities for entrenchment.

The headquarters staff has been enabled to make a long movement toward the north. The town of Soissons has been subjected to a furious German bombardment for nine days. The cathedral and other buildings have been greatly damaged.

Today's advance of the allied troops entailed severe fighting in which the artillery played a large part. The combat lasted for twenty-four hours, but eventually the Germans yielded ground, after losing heavily. The allies suffered severely.

Many ambulance trains have left the front for provincial cities, carrying German and French wounded. Large numbers of seriously wounded British officers and men have been transported to Paris. Among the killed today was General Dupuis, commander of the Sixty-Seventh Infantry brigade.

London, Sept. 24.—The battle of the Aisne seems to be waiting on the outcome of the attempt of the allied forces to outflank the German right wing. At any rate, the French official report issued this afternoon, while it speaks of an advance made by the allies' left in the region of Lassigny, and unofficial reports say that this advance was one of eighteen kilometers (about twelve miles), simply records the repulse of several violent attacks by the Germans and the fact that elsewhere the situation remained unchanged.

The event of the day has been the flight of British naval aeroplanes from Antwerp to Dusseldorf, approximately a distance of five hundred miles, in the course of which they dropped bombs on the Zeppelin sheds of the German aerial fleet which would cooperate with the German navy in case of a raid on England.

Belgium or France the allies can retaliate. It is likely that the warning is also intended to include London, which has been looking for a visit from the Zeppelins for some days.

Paris, Sept. 24.—The French official communication issued tonight, after announcing that there has been no change in the situation on the battle front since the issuance of the previous communication, makes some comment on the battle of the Aisne. The text of the announcement is as follows:

"There has been no change in the situation since the last communication. The battle which is in progress along the Aisne has extended over eight days, but it would cause no surprise if one recalls the Russo-Japanese war. The battle of the Marne was an action undertaken in the open field, which began with a general resumption of the offensive by the French army against armies which did not expect it and had not had time seriously to organize defensive positions.

"This battle of the Aisne therefore presents, on a large part of its front, the character of war by assault similar to the operations in Manchuria. It might be added that the exceptional power of the artillery facing each other, the heavy German artillery against the French 7.5-centimetre cannons, gives a particular value to the temporary fortifications which the two adversaries have drawn up.

"The plan is therefore to make whole rows of entrenchments, each one protected by very close defenses, particularly rows of barbed wire, with mitrailleuses in concealed positions. In the circumstances, progress of necessity must be slow. It often happens that the progress of the attack amounts only to from five hundred metres to one kilometre a day."

Rotterdam, Sept. 24.—An appeal to the civilized world has been issued by a committee of the German Humanity League in Rotterdam. It is signed by Karl Bernstein, Emil Gott, Franz Gausson, Jacob Mamelsdorf, Gustav Ochs and Ernst Cebuster.

"We reiterate," says the appeal, "as men passionately loving our fatherland, and, although living in exile, serving our country to the utmost of our power, that it is the bounden duty of every man who cares for the welfare of mankind to join hands in arresting the Kaiser and the men around him who are responsible for these appalling crimes which have disgraced our nation in the eyes of the world."

"No matter how long the campaign or how great the sacrifices it may entail, we know that the true and lasting interests of the toilers and wage earners in Germany can only be served by the victory of the allied armies. The Kaiser, having ruined the innocent and deceived Belgium, is now despoiling and drenching France with the blood of his victims. It must therefore be plain to all honest men, without distinction of race or creed or party, that there can be no settlement of the existing disruptions, no lasting peace or security for the rights of man, no protection for democracy of Prussia within Germany if crushed, disarmed, and swept away forever.

"Then, and then only, will Bavaria, Wurtemberg, Saxony, and Hanover be rescued and Poland liberated from the grip of a monarch who by his conduct has forfeited the allegiance of his subjects and by his boasted defiance of all international treaties and conventions has embarked upon a career of crime unparalleled in ancient or modern history."

Paris, Sept. 24.—The Fiarco prints a special dispatch from Rome indicating that Italian intervention is almost certain to take place. The correspondent considers it is the only remedy for the unemployment threatening to devastate Italy, apart from the exceedingly strong material reasons for action, especially regarding Valona, Albania, which is now the object of Italian attention, even above Trent and Trieste.

London, Sept. 24.—The Russians in Galicia are pushing steadily on to their goal, which for the moment is Przemyel. They apparently have that place fairly well surrounded by now, following the capture of Jaroslau, they announce today the occupation of Wislok, a town on the Hungarian border southwest of Przemyel and an important station on the railway which extends from Sanok through one of the passes of the Carpathians to Zemplyn and thence to Budapest. The Servians record almost daily successes. This time it is the capture of Lubovia, on the river Drina.

Wislok probably was taken by that part of the Russian army which advanced from Lemberg by the southern route to cut or the retreat of the Austrian army through the Carpathians to Hungary. It is also another link in the chain which the Russians are drawing around the fortress of Przemyel and Cracow. On the German frontier the Russians are in close touch with the German border forces, according to their reports, but no fighting has occurred.

Up to Sept. 14, according to Russian papers, the Russians have captured seven Austrian flags, 636 guns, 44 machine guns and 64,000 prisoners, including 535 officers. On the other hand, according to a wireless dispatch from Berlin, it is officially stated that the Russians lost "in the battles near Tannenberg" ninety-two thousand men captured and one hundred and fifty thousand men killed.

Venice, Sept. 24.—Nine cases of Asiatic cholera have been discovered among wounded soldiers in Hungary, according to an official announcement by the Hungarian minister of the interior. The announcement has excited great apprehension throughout the dual monarchy.

Yonon, Sept. 24.—A dispatch to the Reuter Telegram company from Nish says that Servian troops have recaptured Ljubovia, after violent fighting in which the losses were very heavy on each side. Farther to the left, the Servians have occupied Srebrenica (ten miles southwest of Ljubovia, in Bosnia.)

London, Sept. 24.—Two squadrons of British naval airmen made a daring raid yesterday from Belgium against the German Zeppelin airship bases at Dusseldorf and Cologne.

The attack upon Dusseldorf was officially reported as having been successful. Lieutenant C. H. Cole dropped three bombs there on a Zeppelin ship. The attack at Cologne apparently failed of its object, as the official announcement fails to mention it. An Antwerp paper, however, says that four bombs fell on Zeppelin camp at Tickerdorf and set fire to the hangars.

The squadrons making the raids into Germany are believed to have each consisted of five aeroplanes, with a navigator and an assistant in every machine. The weather was misty. It is thought in some circles that the weather conditions may have caused a hitch in the schedule of the aeroplanes, and that it is possible the two bombs which were dropped on the Dutch town of Maastricht, near the German border, from a mysterious aircraft, may have come from one of the British fliers. No fatality resulted from the explosion in Maastricht.

LAYING DOWN IS CHARGE MADE

Detroit, Mich. Sept. 24.—The charge is made here that the Tigers are "laying down" to the Boston Red Sox, in the hope that by handing them four games, they will be close enough to the Athletics to make a fight for the pennant. The reason given is that the Red Sox are members of the baseball players' fraternity, which the Athletics steadfastly have refused to join it.

The charge first was made in a local newspaper, the story, calling attention to the fact that Detroit had won ten of its last eleven games, beating Philadelphia two out of three and slugging various phases of inexplicable slump against Boston.

Dauss Criticized. Pitcher George Dauss is especially criticized for his work in the eleven inning tie. Dauss was in good form. In the ninth inning Monday it was growing dark and a pitcher with speed has batters at his mercy under such conditions. Yet four Dauss hits in succession were made, which, with a wild pitch, let the Boston tie the score. Yesterday the Tigers made the charge look good by dropping two more games by loose playing.

The various members of the Tigers are indignantly denying the truth of a rumor that they have been "laying down" to the Boston Red Sox in the last series, hoping to boost the Hub team past the Athletics in the pennant race.

HOLLAND'S AID TO AMERICANS LAVISH

Washington, Sept. 24.—Holland's generous hospitality to stranded Americans as they poured in on every side from belligerent countries was described today by V. S. Merle-Smith of New York City who has served as a voluntary secretary at the American Legation at The Hague since the outbreak of the war. He arrived here today with private dispatches for the state department from Henry Van Dyke, the American minister.

"Though Holland herself," said Mr. Merle-Smith, "has suffered immeasurably from the effects of the war she has spared no pains in her treatment of Americans. There has been the most hearty cooperation between the government of The Netherlands and the American minister. Holland, with a population of about 6,000,000 mobilized an army of 300,000 men in four days. Her commerce and fishing industries have been badly crippled and many of her home industries ruined.

The American relief committee which has been helping Americans in Christiania, Norway has about finished its work and will sail for London, Friday. Further relief work will be conducted by American diplomatic and consular officers.

A consular report received at the state department today says Antwerp is tranquil and there is no danger of a German bombardment. American whose automobiles were commandeered or requisitioned in Europe at the outbreak of the war have been advised by Cone Johnson, solicitor of the state department that they should file claims with the belligerent governments. Only in the event that such representations fail will the claims be taken by the state department here.

IRON TRADE REVIEW

Cleveland, O., Sept. 23.—The Iron Trade Review tomorrow will say: Slight improvement in financial conditions has caused some change for the better in sentiment in the iron trade, but the tight money market still seriously hampers business. This is strikingly illustrated in the shipbuilding industry of the Atlantic coast. Three companies which are anxious to place two boats each have been unable to do so for financial reasons. Here and there a little softening of prices of finished materials is noted. While many mills are resisting the taking of orders for delivery after Jan. 1, there is evidence, although not of a very positive kind, that prices on some finished lines for delivery in the first half of next year will not be much, if any, higher than for the last quarter of this year. The remarkable dullness of the pig iron market continues.

2 BOYS TAKEN FROM FATHER

Menominee, Mich., Sept. 24.—Frank Otrudavez, a wealthy Gourley, Mich., farmer was relieved of the custody of two children yesterday by Probate Judge Stiles, on the grounds of abuse and ill-treatment. Otrudavez' own brother testified against him.

Complaint was made by neighbors of Otrudavez, who testified in court yesterday that he used a rawhide whip frequently, that he broke a barrel stove on one of his boys while punishing him, that he threatened to shoot them once, and that often the children slept in the woods. Each witness testified that the children were made to work from early in the morning until late at night, and it is said that the two girls and two boys who appeared in court gave the appearance of being badly mistreated. The boys will be sent to school, while he still has charge of the girls.

Case is Pitiful One.

The case is a pitiful one. A family of seven children, ranging in age from two to nineteen years, was left motherless when Mrs. Otrudavez was killed by lightning August, 1913. Since then the oldest boy has left home and the two youngest children are with relatives. The four who remained with the father are the ones who were mistreated. Left only in their father's care, they fared the life of a Polish widower. Testimony from four witnesses showed that the children often ran away from home in fright and slept in the woods to escape punishment. John Otrudavez told of the condition of the children after being punished and Martin Christiansen, John Parson and Anton Mott also were witnesses.

Father Denies Charges.

The father denied the charges made against him by the neighbors and said he whipped them only when it was necessary. When he was ordered to send his children to school, Otrudavez claimed he had no money, but it was brought out in court that he owned a farm worth considerably more than $5,000, and it was said he had loaned money at different times and had money out at the present time.

Judge Stiles ordered him to raise the money at once with which to send the two boys to school, even if it was necessary to mortgage his farm, and through his attorney, John O'Hara arrangements are being made for placing the boys in school, either at Green Bay or Sturgeon Bay. Meanwhile they are being held at the detention home on Ogden avenue.

The two girls, one of whom is 11 and the other 9 years old, returned to Gourley with their father who has promised to take proper care of them.

GERMAN LOSS 45,967 KILLED AND MISSING

Berlin, via Amsterdam, Sept. 23.—The German losses in the war as shown by lists thus far given out total 45,967 in killed, wounded and missing. They are listed: Killed, 7,482; wounded, 28,584; missing, 9,900.

The large number of officer killed shows that they are leading their men with bravery.

The German aviation corps has suffered a great loss in the death of Lieut. Werner von Beaulieu. He was fatally shot Sept. 4, while scouting over the enemy's lines, but managed to guide his aeroplane back to safety.

Crown Prince George and Prince Christine, of Saxony, have been given the iron cross for valor in battle.

French aviators are releasing showers of steel arrows in their flight over the German troops. These arrows are of pressed steel and as long as four to six inches long, a quarter of an inch in diameter, and have a pointed head and skeletonized shaft. They have caused but little damage, however, only one soldier having been killed.

MARCH WITH GOD IS KAISER'S SLOGAN

Berlin, Sept. 24.—The Kaiser's address to the cadets ordered to the field which is published in the Kreuz Zeitung, was as follows: "Cadets, already in your earlier youth I send you out to my regiments to fight against the enemy as guides at the head of my brave troops. You shall take with you to the army all the moral qualities which have been implanted into your young hearts in the corps of cadets.

"Regardless of bravery, cold blood, clear head in hard times, head high and faith in God; then you will lead my troops to victory. I need not recall historic instances. You have learned them all.

At any rate, should the Lord grant us victory, I ask of you that you do not forget the song of Leuthen. Now march with God. Adieu, cadets!"

ART TREASURES NOT BADLY HURT

Berlin, via The Hague and London, Sept. 24.—The committee appointed by the German government of Brussels to care for the art treasures of that city, has just turned in a report of an inspection of Louvain.

From this inspection, the committee says, it is apparent that the damage done to the churches, town hall, Hotel De Ville, and the library of Louvain, has been exaggerated. All the works of art now are in the town hall, which was not damaged at all.

The church of St. Peter lost part of its roof, and there are small holes in the vaulted ceiling of St. Michael's church and St. Jacob's. St. Hubert's chapel and the church of St. Gertrude are intact. The facade of the beautiful university was damaged but it will be possible to repair it.

About one-sixth of the city was destroyed. All of Depot street, the buildings along the Place du Peuple, and the houses about the town hall and St. Peter's were dynamited by order of the commandant, to prevent the flames reaching the town hall. German officers saved pictures from St. Peter's while the roof of the church was burning.

In Liege all the art treasures are intact, according to the committee.

DUM DUM BULLETS NOT BEING USED

The Medical Record declares that both the Germans and the Allies are mistaken in their accusations concerning the employment of dum dum bullets in the present war. It further contends that the terrible injuries recorded were undoubtedly inflicted by the so-called Spitz bullets, but expresses the belief that the mistaken accusations were made in good faith.

These are the reasons advanced for the opinion, which appears beneath the caption, "The Dum Dum Myth!"

"The Allies have made the same accusation against the Germans, and, of course, are equally mistaken. The explanation of the error on both sides is not far to seek. In an editorial comment on Col. La'ard's recent work on "Gunshot Injuries" in The Medical Record of May 2 we prophesied that there would be a return to inhumanity in the next war because of the use of the spitz bullet recently introduced in Germany and adopted by several other armies, that of Great Britain and the United States among them.

Turns Sideways on Impact. This bullet is quite short, of conical shape, and tapers so gradually that the center of gravity is thrown back near the base; consequently, in spite of its great initial velocity and flat trajectory, it has a tendency to turn sideways upon meeting any obstacle, although it will go through the soft parts making a small, clean-cut channel, and do little or no injury unless it hits a vital organ. In the article on "Gunshot Wounds" in the fourth volume of the 'Reference Handbook of the Medical Sciences,' Col. La Garde says of this bullet:

"The least resistance upsets it and in turning at great velocity the wound it inflicts are very much lacerated and otherwise attended with destructive effects which are not unlike the wounds inflicted by dum-dum bullets. For this reason, the new dum dum bullet is a great disappointment to military surgeons. In experiments which we conducted two years ago, we found the resistance encountered in the hip-join, chest, and abdomen of cadavers sufficient to cause the bullet to turn and the resulting wounds were like those of an expanding or metal-patch bullet. Col. Roosevelt, in his 'African Game Trails,' refers to the wounds of the pointed bullet as having a slashing effect against large game. At 280 and again at 180 yards he brought down two bullets each with one shot, the bullet making 'a terrific rending compared with the heavier ordinary shape bullet of the same composition.'"

"In all probability these spitz-bullet wounds have been mistaken for the explosive lesions of the dum dum bullets, and the accusation of the German Emperor was therefore made in good faith, but in curious ignorance of the effects of the missiles used by his own army. Nevertheless the dum dum or a similar bullet has been occasionally used in this war, but by civilians. East Prussia, for instance is a game country, and the hunters there use the dum dum type of bullet in the chase.

"The Russian invaders of that country have been frequently attacked by snipers who used their hunting rifles loaded with dum dums. It is possible that the civilian hunters in Eastern France did the same, and so occasional dum dums may have been found in the bodies of the German wounded, but that the armies of any of the nations now at war are using this bullet is altogether improbable. They have no occasion to use it, for the spitz bullet is almost as destructive and its employment is just as brutal."

GERMAN SUBMARINE STALKS UNSEEN AROUND BRITISH COAST FLEET

London, Sept. 24.—A German submarine recently made a reconnoitering cruise to the Scottish coast, according to a letter written by a German sailor and published in German newspapers. She was ten days absent from her base, and went all along the English coast, at times under the water and passed under a British squadron.

"It was the prettiest picture I ever saw," the sailor wrote. "Up there, like a lot of peaceful lambs, lay the English squadron without a care and as if there were no German sea wolves in armored clothing. For two hours we lay there under the water on the outposts. We could with certainty have succeeded in fetching under a big cruiser. But we must not; we were on patrol, and our boat had further work to do."

Origin of "Uncle Sam." The name Uncle Sam was first used in Troy, N. Y., in 1812, when some goods bought for the government and marked U. S. were inspected by Samuel Wilson, a government employe, whose nickname was Uncle Sam. The similarity of the initials suggested the adoption, and the familiar picture was soon created.

SAWS ARE QUIET; MILL IS CLOSED

Wausau, Wis.—The last board was sawed at the Barker & Stewart mill yesterday afternoon at 4:25 William Newell, who has worked at the mill for the last thirty-three years continuously. While he ran the last board through the edger, the other employes stood solemnly grouped around him, and the directors of the company looked on. Because of the fact that about ninety men were to be given perhaps an indefinite vacation, the ceremony resembled a funeral and the blowing whistles sounded the requiem.

The owners will now proceed to dispose of the 24,000,000 feet of lumber which they now have on hand.

It is then expected that the mill will be sold. W. C. Landon, president of the company, has already become affiliated with the Pelican Bay Lumber company of Klamath Falls, Oregon and will make that city his home later.

William Newell, who had the honor of sawing the last board, came to Wausau with the Michigan Lumber company and helped to build them a mill, which has been operated by the Barker & Stewart Lumber company since that time. 1881, he has been continuously in the same mill.

Over 175 men in all have been thrown out of employment by the closing of the mill in Wausau. A large crew which did the logging will also be dispensed with, so that in all there will be several hundred men without employment. Of these, many have already found positions, but the majority of them are now without work.

Friends Expected Her to Die.

"I sincerely believe my life was saved in the Fall of 1910 by using Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes Mrs. Agnes Booth, Tonawanda, N. Y. "I was taken with diarrhoea followed by an attack of acute indigestion. Powe of the pen fails to portray the agonies I endured. My friends expected me to die as I had been unable to get relief for so long a time. This remedy went directly to the seat of the trouble cured me in a few hours' time." For sale by all dealers.

Diarrhoea Quickly Cured.

"I was taken with diarrhoea and Mr. Yorks, the merchant here, persuaded me to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After taking one dose of it I was cured. It also cured others that I gave it to," writes M. E. Gebhart, Oriole, Pa. That is not at all unusual. On ordinary attack of diarrhoea can almost invariably be cured by one or two doses of this remedy.

SHOOTS GIRL AND HIMSELF

Tonawanda, N. Y.—William Galica, 29 years old, of Detroit, shot and killed his sweetheart, Mary Emery, the 14-year-old daughter of Joseph Emery of First avenue, this city at 5 p. m. at 5 p. m. today. The lefty by the couple showed they had decided to die together and that the Detroiters did the deed.

Galica came here Saturday night with the intention of marrying the Emery girl and returning to Michigan. The Emerys objected to the marriage. Yesterday was spent in conferences in an effort to accomplish a compromise, but the youth's efforts were of no avail. Last night the couple agreed to die together.

This morning Galica wrote five letters to relatives explaining the crime, while the girl wrote two letters to her parents.

In one of the letters the girl wrote: "The only way for us to be happy is to end our troubles here and journey to heaven together."

Galica fired one shot through the girls' heart and another into her head and then sent a bullet into his own heart.

Caught a Bad Cold.

"Last winter my son caught a very bad cold and the way he coughed was something dreadful," writes Mrs. Sarah E. Duncan, of Tipton, Iowa. "We thought sure he was going into consumption. We bought just one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and that one bottle stopped his cough and cured his cold completely." For sale by all dealers.

SAFETY FAIR HERE BEST IN CLOVERLAND

W. F. Raven, field agent for the Michigan Agricultural College, Cloverland and who served as one of the judges at the recent Northern State Fair here, in an interview at Marquette has announced that the local fair was the best ever attended by him in the peninsula. The Marquette Chronicle says: W. F. Raven, field representative of the Michigan Agricultural college, has returned from Escanaba where he visited the Delta county fair, and says that Delta county has one of the best fairs, from an agricultural standpoint of view, that he has ever seen in the Upper Peninsula. "The exhibits of vegetables, garden truck, and in fact every kind of farm produce, were the most complete I have seen in the Peninsula," said Mr. Raven. He spoke particularly of the National Pole Co.'s exhibit which included potatoes, corn, wheat, oats, rye, barley, tobacco and vegetables of every variety.

OPIMUM CIGARETTE MAKERS CAUGHT

Chicago, Ill.—The discovery of a Chinese chemist of an "opium cigarette," the enactment of a federal law making its manufacture or sale a felony, secret raids on dens where the new cigarette was being made, the indictment of seven Chinese and one white man, summarizes a story revealed here today. The invention of the chemist was discovered several months ago and the law against it was passed. The chemist escaped, and plans which he had made to spread the opium habit lasted until recently. The den where the indicted Chinese and white man, Emil Lehman, worked was located in this city. The raid revealed preparations to make the cigarette on a wholesale scale. There were several tins of pure opium and an assortment of herbs which were to be used in giving the cigarette the appearance of tobacco. Addresses of agents all over the country were found, and circulars instructing agents, how the habit could be spread among the unwitting. A great advantage of the invention was, it was said in the circulars, that it could be smoked in the street. The raid was made several days ago in the greatest secrecy and the story came out today in connection with the return of indictments.

PROTESTANT JOIN TO EASE DYING MAN

Bordeaux, Sept. 24.—A young German soldier in a Bordeaux hospital lay dying of his wounds. He asked for spiritual consolation and a French Protestant chaplain came to his side. The chaplain, however, spoke no German. Hearing of the difficulty, a Catholic priest volunteered to interpret. The Protestant minister pronounced the words of consolation and peace in French and the priest translated them into German to the dying man, who peacefully breathed his last.

FOUR SONS OF KAISER LYING IN HOSPITALS

The paper also states that it hopes Italy will maintain her neutrality, that she may assist in restoring peace through mediation when the proper time comes.

METZ IN DANGER OF DEVASTATION

Metz, Mich.—Fire which started from forest fires has burned several farm buildings around here and is now threatening the entire village. School has been dismissed. The entire village is completely surrounded by fire within a half mile circle.

A. D. & M. engine and crew left Alpena at 2:15 this afternoon to fight fire at Metz.

Fires are reported raging near Hillsboro today, also, though no serious losses have as yet occurred.

Alpena, Mich.—Forest fires are burning in northern Michigan from a point north of Metz to Bolton and the situation tonight looks serious with the country dry as tinder.

Fears of a repetition of the fires of 1908 prevail. Metz is again the center of the stage. From there comes the report that fires are burning over a wide area and are heading toward the village. The station agent late this evening stated that a few farmers are coming into the village with part of their household effects. They say that their buildings have already been burned.

According to information given out by the station agent, Metz is again in danger of destruction.

There has been no rain in this section in several days and the entire situation is very dry. The burned-over slashings and underbrush form material for a blaze of considerable magnitude. The warm weather of Sunday and Monday gave fresh impetus to the fire and with a warm southerly wind blowing the situation tonight is serious.

Alpena is in no danger but residents are on the alert for anything that looks like fire.

Fires are also burning near Rogers City, Posen and other villages, but a nominal damage to timber and crops is only reported.

WOMAN DIVES FROM AUTO TO SAVE LIFE

Milwaukee, Sept. 24.—When the brakes on her automobile refused to hold on the steep Lincoln avenue hill and the car went through an open draw on Tuesday, Mrs. E. D. Rigby, formerly a resident of Peshtigo and brother-in-law of R. C. Ramsay of that city, dived into the waters of the Kinnickinnic river.

Coming to the surface after the dive, Mrs. Rigby swam to the dock near the bridge and was assisted to the street by J. Draker and Leon Harris.

As Mrs. Rigby was coming down the incline, she noticed the drawing bridge was open. As there was no side street, she could turn into the jammed on the brakes, but because of the steep incline, they refused to hold the car. After being assisted from the river, Mrs. Rigby was taken to her home. She is not expected to suffer any ill effects from her experience. The car was still in the river late Tuesday night.

I can eat anything I want to, and as much as I want and feel better than I have at any time in ten years. I refer to any one in Boone Mill or vicinity and they will vouch for what I say." Chamberlain's Tablets are for sale by all dealers.

CALL DESTRUCTION OF OLD CATHEDRAL AN UNCIVILIZED ACT

Rome, Sept. 24.—When informed of the destruction of the Notre Dame cathedral at Rheims, Pope Benedict XV, said he "could not believe it possible that such a civilized epoch as the Twentieth century, could be plunged back to the time of Attila."

The pontiff requested Cardinal Ferrata to request Cardinal Amette, archbishop of Paris, for full particulars, as telegrams for Rheims are not accepted.

There is widespread indignation here among the public over the destruction of the cathedral. The academy of St. Luke has telegraphed the Berlin academy demanding confirmation or denial of the report of the destruction of the famous edifice.

The Internal Art association has called a meeting of its members and is likely to demand the resignation of all the Germans in the association.

London, Sept. 23.—The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph at Rheims sends this story of the situation at that point.

"To the visitor, Rheims, wreathed in smoke and echoing with the boom of cannonading, presents a forlorn and disconsolate sight. Everywhere there is evidence of the damage done by the shells of the big howitzers. Whole houses are seen with their interior smashed into a shapeless mass of bricks, mortar and wood.

"Around the cathedral hardly a house escaped damage. In front of the facade of the cathedral stands a statue of Joan of Arc. The figure is unscathed, but the horse and pedestal are chipped and seared by shells and the flames.

"At first sight the exterior of the cathedral does not appear to be much damaged, although the masonry is chipped, scarred and whitened by countless shrapnel bullets, while many carved figures and gargoyles have been broken off.

"In the doorway still stands the crippled beggar, who has sought alms there for many years. He maintained his post throughout the bombardment, and like a statue he stands covered with dust, pebbles and glass. The man was unharmed. He was crippled in the war of 1870.

"An examination of the interior shows that the better part of fifty shells have found lodgment, but, luckily, the range being very great, the solid stone work of the building had resisted the successive shocks. It was the ancient and priceless glass of the windows which suffers the most. In the center of the vault the great chandelier, which hung from the roof lies broken in the center of the floor amid a great mass of debris.

"The general impression is that the cathedral can be restored, although most of its priceless decorations are ruined.

"Some of the German wounded are still in the cathedral. Several of them were killed by shrapnel bullets during the bombardment as well as at least one of the French soldiers who were attending them.

"German aeroplanes hovered over Rheims, while the bombardment was in progress, doubtless to report the success of the cannonading. They flew very high and the French soldiers did not trouble to fire at them.

BRITISH GENERAL KILLED IN CONFLICT

London, Sept. 23.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail in France describes the death of Gen. Neil Douglas Findlay of the Royal Artillery, as follows:

"When at dawn on Saturday the British advance continued toward Soissons, the enemy was fighting an exceptionally fierce rear guard action. A terrible shell fire was directed against our artillery under Gen. Findlay, temporarily situated in a valley by the village of Prise. It seemed a matter of moments when we should have to spike our guns, and Gen. Findlay saw the urgency for action.

"Boys," his voice echoed down the line, "we are going to get every gun into position." Then deliberately the general approached the regimental chaplain kneeling beside a gunner.

"Here are some of my personal belongings, chaplain. See that they they don't go astray."

One by one our guns began to blaze away and the general had a word of encouragement and advice for every man. In vain his staff tried to persuade him to leave the danger zone.

"Our range was perfect, the German fire slackened and died away and with a yell our men prepared to advance. The outbreak came too soon. One parting shell, exploding in a contact with Findlay's horse, shattered man and beast."

What Did He Mean?

"Don't you know that your wife should have had the money you spent in getting on this drunk?" Judge Church White asked a prisoner, relating the Atchison Globe. "I have no wife," the prisoner replied. "Well, then, what on earth did you want to get drunk for?" asked the judge.

AD GOES HOME TO TAKE REST

Milwaukee—Ad Wolgast, former lightweight champion, who was defeated in a ten round bout by Joe Mandot on Friday night, left Saturday for his home at Cadillac, to rest up for his coming bouts.
The officials of the Queensburg A. C. announced yesterday that the proposed bout between Wolgast and Charley White, scheduled for Oct. 12, was called off, and that Leach Cross would most likely be secured to meet the Chicago lightweight contender. Cross has done a real comeback stunt of late, and will probably give White one of the hardest battles of his career.
Ad is not in the least discouraged by his showing against Mandot. He figures that in view of the fact that he has just recovered from a broken arm and that he could not box as he wished to for fear of injuring the member further, he did pretty well.
Ad intends to rest for a while at Cadillac. After that he will start to get into the best of trim for his winter campaign. His next match will probably be before the National A. C. on Oct. 9, and his opponent has been selected as Harlem Tommy Murphy. Murphy is a tough boy at his weight, and has given them all a run. He boxed Ritchie last winter, and went the limit with him. Matchmaker Mulken is endeavoring to arrange this match, and if it goes through it should supply the boxing fans with a toothsome bit of entertainment.

BRIDGE FOR NEW ORLEANS

It seems that the project of a bridge over the Mississippi near New Orleans, first proposed in 1858, is to be put through. The original design was for a crossing about four or five miles above New Orleans, where no change of bed or banks has occurred in the recorded history of the river. The span of the cantilever bridge was to be 1,970 feet between centers of main piers, the suspended span being 440 feet long and the anchor arms each 660 feet 8 inches in length. The foundations were to extend to 170 feet below water and were to rest on a bed of firm sand. The piers were to be sunk by dredging through open wells or cylinders. The present plan calls for a double bridge, one deck for highway and electric railway travel, and the other for railway service.—Scientific American.

BRAVES LEADER IS TOO MODEST

Boston, Mass., Sept. 24.—Manager George Stallings of the Braves today interrupted plans for a Stallings day by declining to be honored by the fans for bringing his team out of the rut to the lead of the league. It has been proposed to give him a present at the game next Monday, and a committee of fans has begun to collect money from his friends. After the game yesterday Stallings called a meeting of the baseball writers and requested them to ask the fans to cancel the day. If the Braves won the pennant and the world's series it might be all right to do something for him, he said, but he wanted no presentation now lest it bring bad luck to the team. The money collected will be returned to the donors.
Life's Service and Joy.
Hail, social life! Into thy pleasing bounds I come to pay the common stock, my share of service, and, in glad return, to taste thy comforts, thy protected joys.—Thomson.

AURELIO HERRERA IS SHEEP SHEARER

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 24.—Local boxing fans who well remember the famous Aurelio Herrera, the Mexican lightweight, will doubtless be interested in the following taken from the San Francisco Bulletin:
"Persons returning from Taft and oil field towns tell us of seeing Aurelio Herrera, the old-time Mexican lightweight, and who is well remembered as one of the hardest hitting men of his class that the ring ever had.
Herrera has a government land grant just outside of Phoenix, some twenty miles from Taft and managers to add to his purse by shearing sheep.
"During shearing time Herrera is a frequent visitor to Taft, and unless one knows him well, it is difficult to distinguish him from the dozens of other overalled sheep-shearers who flock to the saloons to spend their hard-earned coin. Herrera, according to report is not drinking much, and would not touch liquor at all were it not for the fact that some time since he boarded the water wagon, with intention of remaining thereon for good, and lost flesh so rapidly he became frightened and decided not to cut out the 'licker' so abruptly.
Herrera is generally conceded to have been a better fighter than Joe Rivers. But as in the case of the Los Angeles Mexican, a lack of heart kept him from being a real championship contender."

MAY LOSE TITLE BUT LOOKS GOOD

While we are all singing the praises of G. Stallings & Co. let us pause and say a good word for an old enemy—Jawn McGraw.
Never in his long and victorious career did McGraw ever look as good to me as a manager of men as he has done during those last few weeks while he, with his nerve and fighting qualities tested to the limit, has been struggling to hold the wreckage of the Giant club together long enough to win a pennant.
If he comes through and noses Boston out of the pennant of course, he will be adjudged the greatest manager of the age. But if he fails as it now seems he will do it should not detract one iota from the credit due him.
He has done the seemingly impossible; rallied a quitting and broken ball club and made it fight. It is fighting now harder than it has done since 1908; harder even, if not so well. And, whether or not you like him, feel a bit sorry for McGraw if he fails to accomplish his greatest ambition to win four straight pennants.
The truth is that McGraw has known all year he had a fading team. He knew it before the press, public and pulpit got onto the fact.
He admitted early in the spring that if any good team developed strength this season the Giants would have a hard time getting past.
He has been fighting his men, urging them, trying to spur them on.
Had they realized in June what he did—the fight would be for second place now.
The trouble with the Giants is exactly the same trouble that ruined the Chicago Cubs; too much prosperity. True, the team has been without an efficient third baseman, true, Merkle and Snodgrass and Doyle all fell down in hitting; true Mathewson has been hit harder than ever before, DeMaree has failed.
But McGraw has, for the first time in years, a really competent outfield, well reinforced. He has Trossett pitching better ball than ever before, and Matty's winning has not been so much affected by the harder hitting than one would think.
The trouble is with the lack of the old fighting spirit. The players have not attended to business. They had too much money, too many automobiles, too many outside interests to detract from their interest in baseball. On top of that things were coming easily for them, it looked as if it would be the old story again and they grew careless and over-confident. Then, when the Braves started to rush forward, the Giants tried to get up speed and couldn't.

LEACH WILL QUIT CUBS; DEMANDS ARE REFUSED

New York, Sept. 24.—Capt. Leach of the Cubs had a conference with President Thomas yesterday and at its conclusion announced he would be through with the Chicago club at the expiration of his contract next month. President Thomas was inclined to treat the matter much less seriously and asserted his belief that Leach would be with the team next season.
Leach's ultimatum was refused and a counter proposition was presented by President Thomas which the captain refused to accept.
Inexpensive Joy.
The amount of joy in one's life is not at all dependent upon the amount of money one spends. A man can get just as much fun, for instance, out of lying about the height of his tomato plants as he can out of pursuing the same course with respect to his mileage per gallon of gasoline.

GERMANY GIVES WORLD ITS SIDE OF CONFLICT

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 24.—So general is the interest of the Teuton in the present world's conflict and so intense is the German on seeing justice done the empire that many of the most prominent citizens in all the professions and walks of life have united in arranging and editing a handbook that is now being circulated broadcast throughout the empire. It is entitled, "Truth About Germany. Facts About the War."
A copy of this publication has been brought to Milwaukee by Isidore Boreal, just returned from German.
"Charge English with Perfidy."
The first few chapters review the remote and immediate causes of the war. England is charged with perfidy, the matter of Belgian neutrality is explained, England and France are accused of conspiracy to place Germany in a wrong light with the rest of the world. The clock work precision with which German mobilization was accomplished is narrated and the final chapter contains an appeal to American friends of the empire.
Relative to Belgian neutrality and the proposal of the Kaiser not to molest French maritime commerce in reply to the English ultimatum, the book prints the following in full:
"In spite of this Great Britain declared war on Germany and sides today with those continental powers that have united for our destruction, in order that Muscovite barbarism may rule Europe."
Then follows the declaration that Germany is fighting for her very existence and the hope is expressed that the great powers beyond the ocean will do her justice as soon as they know the truth.
"Neutrality by the grace of England," is the title of one of the chapters of the book. It begins thus:
"Janus, a mighty god of the ancient Romans, was represented as having two faces. He could smile and frown simultaneously.
"This god Janus is the personification of neutrality as embodied by English ideals. Neutrality smiles when violated by England and frowns when violated by the other powers."
"The United States got a taste of England's neutrality when, a century ago, the English impressed thousands of American sailors, taking them from American ships on the high seas, when they searched neutral shops and confiscated the enemies property on board of them, until congress in Washington, voted for the declaration of war against England.
"In the great Civil War England had counted on the victory of the southern states; she recognized them as belligerents and supplied them with warships. This was not considered by England a breach of neutrality until on September 5, 1863, the United States minister insisted that unless England ceased, war would result. England yielded.
"According to the old German proverb, "A cat cannot resist catching mice." England secretly permitted the fitting out of privateers for the southern states and was finally forced to pay an indemnity of $15,000,000. England gained, however, more than she lost by this interpretation of neutrality, for American maritime trade passed to English hands.

"Lies About Germany" is the caption of another chapter. It begins:
"Germany has now not only to battle against a world in arms, but it must also defend itself against lies and slanders which have been piled up around it like a hostile rampart. There is no cable at our disposal, England has either cut the cables or is in control of them. No German description of what has actually happened can be sent by telegraph; the wires are carrying into the world only the distortions of our enemies. Germany is shut off as with a hedge from the outside world and the world is

TOLD OF VALUE OF PUBLICITY

Marquette, Mich., Sept. 24.—Advocating the value of publicity as a means of reaching the people, Rev. F. R. Leach, of Manistique, delivered the principal address at the final session of the Marquette Baptist association last evening. Some of the delegates to the meeting, which was the twenty-fifth anniversary of the association, left last night for their homes, and the others will depart today. Yesterday's sessions, which were held throughout the morning, afternoon and evening, were highly interesting and were well attended. The closing address of the convention was delivered by Rev. T. L. Kotman, district secretary of the A. B. P. society, who spoke on "The Work of the Publication Society."
"A change and the use of up-to-date methods are called for if the church is to keep pace with the age," Rev. Mr. Leach said in opening his address. "Many churches are out of date and antiquated in their methods of work and are afraid to get out of the beaten tracks. Jesus said, 'Go and compel them to come in.' The church has the truth and must make men feel it. Shall we excuse ourselves for empty pews, if there is a way to fill them? The business-world appreciates and uses advertising. Why not the churches?"
"There are twenty thousand advertising men in our country, and they spend annually $290,000,000 worth of newspaper advertising. Wanamaker took in $24,750 the first day in business and spent $24,000 of it in advertising. He now spends for advertising approximately a million dollars a year. The largest advertising contract ever made totalled $7,000,000. This was awarded by the Spearmint Gum company and is to cover a period of seven years.
"The business of the church is to get new business. To do this we must advertise the goods. The church should advertise, because advertising reaches the people and brings them to the services. Merchants of Birmingham, N. Y., believing in advertising gave their usual Saturday space to ministers. On Sunday there was an increase in church attendance of thirty per cent. Mr. Hotchkiss, of Gimble Bros. stores, says: "The fact that advertising has been neglected in church work has been a tremendous loss."
Mentioning the best methods by which his plan could be carried out, Rev. Mr. Leach advocated making the church prominent in the community, featuring the Sunday evening service, using newspaper advertising cards, church bulletin boards, placards in windows, moving picture slides, and special services and themes. He urged every church to finance this work by giving it a place in the church budget.
Harry Norden went to Trombly on Friday evening.
Russell Noel and Henry Labombard of Rapid River was here Sunday evening.

CHANGE PLANS FOR ORPHANAGE

An alteration in the plans for the new Catholic diocesan orphanage, which is now being built at Marquette make provision for a fourth story. This story will greatly increase the size of the structure, and will give it a much more imposing appearance than it would otherwise have had.

The decision to increase the height of the building was reached last week when the walls of the third floor had been about completed, and the work on the roof was about to start. The work will put off the roofing of the structure about three weeks, as it will require some time to obtain the necessary material. However, it is expected that the structure will be completely enclosed before cold weather sets in. The progress made in the construction of the orphanage has been exceptionally rapid, much better, in fact, than it was expected to be.

The Fair Savings Bank showing of the latest styles in wearing apparel in the various sections on first and second floors has been creating a great deal of sensational talk among the women of Escanaba and this city can well be proud of a store that carries

These coats are trimmed with broadtail, fur velvet or satin. They are showing a beautiful model in taupe chifon velvet and in black chifon velvet beautifully trimmed. They are also showing broadtail and Hindu Lynx coats in several stylish models.

Millinery Section—Simplicity and uniqueness of line are the foremost features of hats of the moment. While decidedly "dress" in effect, due to the use of novel forms of ostrich and fancy feathers and hackle, the new models suggest strongly the semi-dress type. While the strictly tailored hats of former days is still the correct thing for certain informal costumes, the fashion requirements of all other events are met by this simple yet rich type of headwear, relieved as it is by innumerable forms of brilliant decoration.

The small hat is still very much in vogue, though favor is perhaps equally divided between the turban and toque types, and the wide brimmed canotier, which leads in the medium and large hats. Trimming may be either high or quite flat, as used on either small or large hats.

The material which dominates the field is velvet in all the rich soft dark tones thought so highly of today. To relieve the sombreness of these tints a great deal of gold and silver lace and ornaments is used, little bird's heads, with jet wings, bird cabochons, metal wings, tiny ostrich or hackle tufts and fancies, and other bright spots of color ornamentation from the endless variety of trimming fancies offered this season.
