

CONFLICTING REPORTS FROM WAR THEATRE
MARK DEVELOPMENTS ON BATTLE FRONT

Unofficial Reports Say Allies Have Won Great Battles in North of France While Official Advice Say Simply That "Situation is Satisfactory."

BULLETIN
Paris, Sept. 30, 11 p. m.—Tonight's official statement says:
"The general situation is satisfactory. There is no appreciable change at the front except in the southern part of the Woivre district, where we have occupied Seicheprey and have pushed forward to the slopes of the Rupt De Mad."

BULLETIN
Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—Rear Admiral Aaron Ward, U. S. N., retired commander of the Red Cross, today cabled the Red Cross headquarters here that Russian and British hospital units were landed and that relief will reach Paulica tomorrow and Rotterdam Oct. 6.

BULLETIN
Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—Signor Cellere, the new Italian Ambassador presented his credentials to the state department today. They will be presented at the White House within a few days.

BULLETIN
Paris, Sept. 30.—Asked to define Italy's role in this war, Gabrielle D'Annunzio said today:
"Every day is a day of eternal glory lost for Italy, who should enter the struggle with France immediately. This war is not a simple conflict of interests, but a struggle of races, a trial of breeds, which the enemies of the Latin race are pursuing to the most ancient laws of violence."

BULLETIN
Manchester, Mass., Sept. 30.—Ambassador Dumba of Austria issued tonight the following wireless from Vienna:
"The Russians, trying to cross the Carpathians and to break into Hungary in small columns the last few days have been repulsed everywhere. These unimportant incursions, far from the theater of our duties do not attain their end of alarming the Hungarian population. Perhaps these invasions were arranged to create abroad impression of new successes."

New York, Sept. 30.—Charles F. Flint, controlling large shipping interests said today:
"It is a fact I have received orders for a large amount of supplies from the nations at war with Germany. It would not be advisable for me to say when or how the goods are to be shipped, as some of them are contraband of war subject to capture."
The order from Russia is said to amount to two million dollars.

Paris, Sept. 30.—That unshaken optimism reigns throughout the battle front, I am convinced, after a visit to the principal points, which I had the good fortune to make in company with a British staff officer. My conversations with the officers and the evidence of my own eyes all go to show that the greatest battle in history over a 150 mile front and which has lasted ten hours has now lasted eighteen days, must eventually end in the Germans being hurled from the strong entrenchments to other defensive positions further east and northeast. The allies are bubbling over with confidence.

(Special to the Press.)
London, Sept. 30.—London was electrified today by the publication of a dispatch stating that the advance guards of the French force have reached Orchies, near Valenciennes, only five miles from the Belgian border. The dispatch, which purported to have been transmitted from Berlin, via Amsterdam, attributed the statement to the German official staff. The report stated that the French were in sufficient force to administer defeat to a battalion of German landwehr which contested its advance. French sharpshooters, according to the dispatch, fired upon the military hospital at Orchies and Germans destroyed the town. If the report is to be credited it indicates a surprising rapid advance of French troops in enveloping movement to cut the German line of retreat and prevent the Germans from occupying Valenciennes.

(NOTE: Official dispatches from Paris and London ignore this report.)
(Special to the Press.)
Paris, Sept. 30.—Complete success appears to have attended the great flanking movement designed to encircle and cut off the German right wing of Von Kluck and Von Boehm. The center of activity shifted north of the Somme, where the enveloping movement is being pushed with greatest vigor. The war office statement in this region says: "Action continues to develop more and more toward the north" is of weighty significance. The latter official bulletin issued at midnight says: "The general situation is satisfactory." The Allies have now advanced to positions north of Somme, which effectively cut off Von Kluck's retreat to the northeast and Juniville, Kluck's sole remaining immediate base of supplies with a single railway line.
The railway is in a precarious situation. The latest reports from the front show the steady advance of the French right, operating in the southern part of the Woivre region. Despite the demoralizing effect which the simultaneous attacks of allies have had upon the German lines it is not believed even by the most sanguine that the German retreat will end in a rout.

ESCANABA MAN RENOMINATED FOR AUDITOR GENERAL AT ENTHUSIASTIC REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION

(Special to the Press.)
Kalamazoo, Mich., Sept. 30.—In a convention marked by overwhelming enthusiastic Republicans of Michigan assembled in convention here today nominated a state ticket of officers as follows:
C. C. Vaughn, secretary of state. J. W. Harrer, state treasurer. Oramel B. Fuller, auditor general. Today's convention was marked by a get-together spirit and on every side was heard the cry "a reunited Republicanism for a sweeping victory in Michigan this fall."
The keynote address of the convention, delivered by Chase S. Osborn, candidate for governor, was greeted with tremendous applause and when Mr. Osborn appeared on the platform pandemonium broke loose in the convention hall and order could not be restored for several minutes.
Today's convention marks the opening of the most vigorous campaign that has been made by the Republicans in years.
The interest of the upper peninsula delegations was naturally centered in the nomination for the office of auditor general and that O. B. Fuller was renominated again by a wide margin over Dr. Scidmore, of Three Rivers, was a matter of great satisfaction to the men from above the straits as well as to a host of the delegates from the lower peninsula who loyally supported the Escanaba candidate. The address delivered by Gov. Osborn follows:
We are gathered together here as Republicans.
We have been entrusted by all of the Republicans of Michigan by delegation to represent them. We are here to think in terms of party, because only as we exclude the unit as the chief consideration and adopt the whole do we represent in cohesive solidarity the coposite sense and spirit of the part. The individual has not place here except as an instrument of free and independent expression.
It is impossible as a delegate to sit here alone in individual capacity. Each county delegation represents every Republican, old and new, in its county and altogether we are to act for all of those who have sent us here with their imposed confidence and power. Even the individual candidate loses his personal entity and becomes a symbol of all.
Realizing this we shall address ourselves to the work of reconstructing the Republican party so that it shall be what its founders intended it to be and what it has been during all of its positive working history, the greatest and best instrument of perfecting and continuing government in our nation.
The object of party is to supply an organization that will bind men of sufficiently common belief to be homogeneous into an entity for the service of mankind within the horizon of its possible operation. No party in any nation in history has reached such a high plane of altruistic and economic service as the Republican party of the United States of America. It has selected wise, courageous, and patriotic leaders. It has conciliated human difficulties and adjusted in fairness economic inequalities; and it has kept in heart-tough with those demands of finer humanity that must be answered as we proceed in national life until perfection in government shall come in perfection of mankind and all of the conditions under which we exist. In fact it has done so much of value that its record of achievement bewilders comprehension. Born in the spirit of human liberty its first great act was the emancipation of four millions of human slaves. Continuing its ethical, moral and physical work, its last great performance has been the building of the Panama Canal, consummating the wedding of the water of two oceans of different levels.
Both of these tremendous performances, and all that went between, while directly benefiting America, were a contribution to the entire world. We live not to ourselves alone either as a people or a nation. We are here today with the same spirit, the identical hope, the perfect courage, the undimmed devotion to high purpose and deep human sympathy and the analogous physical determination that all through its history have characterized the Republican party.
There have been several near crisis in the history of the Republican party, but there have been but three in which a direct test of its vitality can be said to have been made. The first was its

BIG ESCANABA DAY CROWD WILL MARCH ON CLOVERLAND FARMERS' FAIR AT STEPHENSON TODAY

Escanaba's preliminary delegation to the Cloverland Farmers' Fair at Stephenson, returned to the city last night enthusiastic over the plans that have been made by the people of Stephenson for entertaining the host of visitors from this city on Escanaba Day at the fair today.
The people of Stephenson and vicinity appreciate the interest that has been displayed by Escanaba in their fair and to demonstrate that appreciation Escanabans will be given a royal welcome there today. In sharp contrast to the bearing toward the Stephenson fair of the Menominee businessmen is the movement launched here several weeks ago to make the day at the fair set apart for this city, the red letter day for the county show. Through the efforts of the Escanaba Businessmen's Association, an unprecedented interest has been aroused in the movement and the result of the work of Escanaba's boosters will be demonstrated in the big crowd traveling south ward this morning.
Escanaba reconnoitering delegates that attended the fair yesterday were enthusiastic last night over the magnificent displays that have been arranged at Stephenson and the great interest that is being shown by the people of that community in the undertaking.
The displays in every line are pronounced to surpass those of many of the big fairs of this fall and should be viewed by all believers in Cloverland as fundamental evidence of what is being accomplished in an agricultural and horticultural way in this district.
The climax of the fair will be reached today in the big Escanaba Day program and Escanaba will aid the people of Stephenson in establishing a new attendance record for the annual undertaking.

AGED RESIDENT PASSES AWAY

ARE NOT TO SUSPEND

PLANTS OF THE I. STEPHENSON COMPANY AT WELLS NOT TO CLOSE FOR INDEFINITE PERIOD AS REPORTED.

Rumors that the plants of the I. Stephenson company at Wells, were to suspend operations for an indefinite period, were put at rest yesterday by the announcement that the saw mill will be closed for a period of two weeks, within the next month or six weeks, but is not now intended to interfere with the operations of the flooring mill.
Work has been suspended at the plant of the Mashek Chemical & Iron Company for a month. On Nov. 1 the chemical plant will resume operations and the furnace of the Stephenson Charcoal Iron Company, which has been out of blast since July 1, will be put in blast and operations will be conducted for several months at least.
The lumber mill of the I. Stephenson company will be closed for two weeks within a short time, to allow readjustments that are made necessary by prevailing conditions but a complete suspension of operations for an indefinite period is not contemplated at this time.

ESCANABA NATIONAL BANK ISSUES BUSINESS LETTER FOR MONTH OF OCTOBER

As a means of acquainting the general public with actual business conditions and to offset the pessimistic business spirit that is fostered in some quarters as the result of the European war the Escanaba National Bank, has issued a business letter for October. The letter is a statement of actual conditions and should be read carefully by all as a means of correcting a false business impression. The letter follows:
The European war continues to be the most active issue in the minds of most people and it is only natural that its effect should be far reaching on the business of this country as well as of those countries engaged in actual hostilities. It is too early to forecast, except in a very general way, what the result of the great struggle will be, but authorities are generally agreed that while the great destruction of wealth will necessarily cause hard times in Europe, so far as this country is concerned the opportunities for new and enlarged business development are very great indeed and it remains for the progressive business man to avail himself of them.
Be Patriotic; Talk Business.
Without exception the people of the European countries involved in the war have responded instantly to the demand made upon their patriotism and there is certainly no reason why the people of this country should not at this time show their patriotism with equal strength. As a matter of fact, the task is really harder for us because patriotism in America just now does not mean spectacular action accompanied by the blowing of trumpets, the waving of flags or the glitter birth under the Oaks at Jackson. There were many incongruous elements and highly pitched passions there, but under Divine guidance our fathers were able to subordinate and conciliate until forged in soul desire the Republican party was born in order that men in chains might be freed.

ROOSEVELT TELLS STORY

BULL MOOSE CHIEF IS CENTRAL ATTRACTION AT NATIONAL PROGRESSIVE MEET AT BAY CITY

Bay City, Sept. 30.—Colonel Roosevelt's visit to Bay City today resulted in three things: He made a speech. His presence was the cause of a spectacular arrest and he told a real "Teddy Bear" story.
The speech was not as thrilling as the first nor any better received than the story. He reiterated that the Progressives and the Republicans will come together. "In the same way that a policeman and a burglar come together." He scored "near Progressives" who boast that they have supported a few progressive measures. "A few swallows do not make a summer," he said.
The arrest was that of a pickpocket who had robbed a delegate to the Bull Moose state convention here, within a few feet of the Colonel's automobile. Some one shouted, "Grab that man," and the crowd became panic stricken, fearing the fellow was going to attempt the life of the Colonel. The crowd witnessed a sensational struggle between the pickpocket and the chief of police. The Colonel, too, seemed greatly interested.
Now for the "Teddy Bear" story. Clifford Buck, a young shoe dealer of Bay City was the one first to greet the Colonel here. "Do you remember the Potomac," he asked. The Colonel knitted his brows. He was trying to recall Buck. "Are there any ladies around?" said the Bay City man.
"By George," he laughed. "I remember now."
In 1906 when Colonel Roosevelt was president, he went for a stroll one summer's afternoon along the bank of the Potomac river. He was accompanied by Ambassador Jusserand of France. The day was hot. The president wanted a swim. So did the Diplomat. "Are there any ladies round," shouted the Colonel to two young men passing by in a canoe. One of the young men was Buck. "No," replied the canoeists.
The Colonel undressed and in real "Teddy Bear" fashion entered the water. The Ambassador did likewise. "Except," said the Bull Moose chief, in relating the story, for the first time today "The French diplomat wore gloves. He started to paddle around before I noticed them."
"Why the gloves?" I asked.
"Well, you see some ladies might suddenly appear on the scene," he said. "And—and, Well, I want to at least have something on."
The story swiftly spread through Bay City. It has been fully designated as the "Original Teddy Bear Story."
The Colonel's speech, given in the Armory, where two years ago the militia was called out when Taft delegates refused Roosevelt delegates admittance to the place, was heard by 2,000 people. It followed closely his speeches in other states.

ESCAPE NARROW

Henry Grenier, motorman on the hospital carline, escaped the loss of his right leg early last night by inches. While making a flying switch for his car, at Ludington and Charlotte streets, Grenier slipped and fell across the rail.
Under its own momentum the car ran forward and just as the wheel of the front truck caught the motorman's leg the car stopped.
Had the car moved three inches farther ahead the unfortunate man's limb would have been crushed off.
Spectators rushed to the scene and pushed the car back, releasing the motorman from his perilous position. He was taken to St. Francis hospital where it was found that while the limb was severely bruised the injury is not a serious one.

PARTY HOLDS BIGGEST CONVENTION IN HISTORY OF ORGANIZATION IN MICHIGAN

(By Staff Correspondent)
Detroit, Mich., Sept. 30.—Democrats of Michigan, in a tumultuously enthusiastic convention today nominated the following list of state officers as running mates of Gov. Woodbridge N. Ferris:
William I. McManus, Petoiky—secretary of state.
J. H. Robson, Clinton county—state treasurer.
James Campbell, Huron county—auditor general.
Burns C. Amberson, Lenawee county—attorney general.
Edward C. Shields was reelected as chairman of the Democratic state central committee without a dissenting voice.
The threatened invasion of the convention by insurgent delegations failed to materialize and the weakness of the dissenting element in the party was well demonstrated at today's convention when but three counties sent contesting delegates. In neither case were they able to show any WAR (Continued from page one.) London, Sept. 30.—Having invested Przemysl, the Russians are reported to be making their way not only through the Carpathians to sweep across the plains in northern Hungary, but in strength toward Cracow, which they may reach before the week is out, unless the Austrian field army succeeds in checking the advance.

The Germans are in force at Cracow, where the Austrians would form their extreme right, and they have considerably reinforced their front, extending north of that fortress through Kalicz, Russian Poland, to Thorn, in the province of West Prussia. Farther north, they have crossed from East Prussia and have got as far as the river Niemen, where they are reported to have suffered a reverse.

Berlin, via Wireless, Sept. 30.—Information given out in Berlin today declares that the Austrian government, under date of yesterday, denied Russian success near the fortress of Przemysl. It is further declared that the situation on the river Save is unchanged.

London, Sept. 30.—It is officially announced from Vienna, according to a Rome dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company, that a junction has been effected between the new German army and the remnant of the Austrian army which fought in the Galician battle. The new combined army is taking up a position and already has been in contact with the Russians along the Carpathian-Tar-narow-Cracow front.

Rome, via Paris, Sept. 30.—"Cheer up; we'll spend Christmas in Berlin." is the encouragement which General Rennenkampf has offered to his men, according to a report received here from Russian headquarters. The general proffered this word of cheer for the purpose of helping his officers and soldiers stand fast during the present discomfort and sufferings of war.

Paris, Sept. 30.—After a sanguinary combat, says a Belgrade dispatch to the Havas agency, the Serbian troops have retaken Semlin, in Slavonia. This assures them the advantage of being able to take the offensive.

New York, Sept. 30.—A cablegram received from Tokio tonight by the East and West News bureau here contains corroboration of press dispatches to the effect that the Japanese besieging army yesterday morning began an attack on the German advanced positions outside of Tsing Tau.

The cablegram says that "braving formidable cannonading from the fortress and warships, the Japanese army succeeded in driving out the enemy from his position and occupying at noon of the same day the heights that command the German defense line." During the fighting the cruiser Elizabeth and other warships in Kiso-Chau cannonaded the flank and rear of the Japanese army vigorously.

The cablegram declares also that while the German warships were shelling the right wing of the Japanese army, Japanese aeroplanes made a counter attack and dropped bombs on the warships. The cablegram concludes: "One of the aeroplanes received several shots from machine guns mounted on German warships, and the other a hail of rifle bullets, without, however, harming either the aeroplanes or the aviators."

couraging as the influence of Republican unity had not yet become fully effective. The October elections resulted in decisive Republican victories, however, and in November the Republican triumph was overwhelming.

It will probably not be questioned that if it had not been for the services Zachariah Chandler rendered at this time in behalf of party unity the Republican party would not have been saved and Abraham Lincoln would not have been elected in 1864.

The third crisis in the life of the Republican party is the present one and it is rapidly being cured in Michigan. Shall it be for Michigan to heal the national wounds as well as its own? It is left for us to say and to do here at Kalamazoo.

Living again with restored vitality the Republican party must have new activities to feed upon and continued sources of inspiration. It cannot nourish itself upon its deeds of yesterday, no matter how seasoned with nectar and perfumed with high performance they are.

Chandler was a pronounced radical and had steadfastly opposed many features of Lincoln's policy, but honest disagreement of opinion had not impaired his confidence in the man; he believed in Lincoln as no other man in public life at that time was known to believe in him and to trust him.

Chandler next proceeded to New York and opened negotiations there with the managers of the Fremont movement. Discussion consumed several days but ultimately the leaders of the Fremont organization agreed that Fremont and Cochrane should be formally withdrawn.

ORNAMENTS OF WORTH

RIGHT THINGS TO BE WORN TO SUIT THE OCCASION.

Adornments Must Be Fitting if They Are to Be Effective—Ideas for the Coiffure That Should Be Kept in the Memory.

"All the girls are wearing hair ornaments this summer," announced Marjorie. "How do you think I would look in something of that kind?"

"Some coiffure ornaments are very attractive and in good taste," answered Marie, "and I am certain well-selected ones will improve any one's appearance if worn at the right times."

"Won't you suggest some I might like to wear?" pleaded Marjorie.

"Why, yes," was the reply. "I have in mind several seasonable novelties which might suit you. For instance, there are shell pins with hinged tops with gems that may be turned in different directions to suit the coiffure, and simulated caps of strings of pearls with tiny chin straps of pearls to match to wear in the evenings."

"Narrow bandeaux of rhinestones that widen out into a barette in the back and which are matched by the high spans in combs set with rhinestones are very pretty."

"There are also caps formed of strings of jewels set wide apart, with two straight feathers up the front, their quills outlined with gems."

"Square-topped pins, inlaid with gold, matching gold-topped side combs and a high open-work back comb, with a filigree design in the gold, are all shown, as are also hairpins with filigree gold tops, shaped like a ball, the center filled with compressed sachet balls and thin bands of gold ending in gold tassels to wear across the front of the hair, the tassels hanging back of the ears like simulated earrings."

"Glass as a material for coiffure ornaments is steadily making its way into favor. Under a strong light spun glass agrettes are most effective, especially when of white combined with emerald green, sapphire, blue, ruby red or golden yellow."

"Some glass tiaras show a design in flowers and leaves attached to a skeleton latticing in silver or gold. Rosebuds with their foliage are favorites, but so are white wild daisies and any of the smaller field blooms."

"Clusters of oak or mistletoe leaves are used with good effect in glass tiaras, and, in fact, any sort of foliage that is not overlarge may correctly be used, excepting, of course, the strawberry leaves sacred to the English duchess."

"Coiffure ornaments and tiaras in amber or in amber colored glass are stunning looking on a brunette beauty, and for blondes there are fetching effects in all-jet or in jet combined with paste, pearls or opals."

MAKES PRETTY CANDLE RING

Idea for Those Who Continue to Use the Somewhat Old-Fashioned Illuminant.

The ordinary glass candle ring is not, as a rule, an article of a very ornamental nature, and in our sketch we show something of a much prettier kind that can be prepared without any great amount of labor.

In making it, in the first place, a ring must be cut out in stiff cardboard, and for the shape and size a glass ring can be used as a pattern. The card is smoothly covered with silk of an old gold color on which the simple floral design shown has been worked in various shades of green and pink and lightly stitched together underneath, so that it may be easily removed when it is necessary to wash it. At the outer edge, the ring is finished off with a fine gold silk cord. The right hand sketch illustrates the ring placed in position upon the candle-stick.

Other colors in which this ring might be effectively carried out are cream colored silk with leaves worked in various shades of green and pale pink cord or claret-colored silk, green leaves and gold cord.

Pretty candle rings can also be made of thick plain white cardboard, and then a pretty floral design can be painted upon them with water colors.

Compact Face Cloths.

Small disks of cotton, compressed into pill-box size, expand when they are dropped into water to the size of ordinary face cloth. These are sold, ten of them, in a little Morocco case, for three dollars, and they find favor with the woman who is traveling rapidly—so rapidly that the face cloth has no time to dry before it must again be packed into its receptacle for further journeying. For these compact little cloths are thrown away in the assurance that another can be had from the leather case at the next stopping place.

YOST GETS LINE ON HARVARD'S STRENGTH

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 29.—With the return of Coaching Fielding H. Yost, Capt. James Raynsford and Quarter Back Hughtitt from Cambridge, Mass., where they on Saturday watched the Crimson in action against Bates, came the announcement that morning gridiron drill was at an end and that from now on the coaches will be satisfied with a long afternoon practice.

SENIORS WINNERS

In one of the most exciting gridiron battles ever staged at the Brewery Diamond, the husky Seniors subdued the fighting Sophs by a score of 13 to 12. The Sophomores managed to put the pigskin over the line in the initial quarter by a series of line plunges. But in the final stages the Seniors hammered the Sophs line and placed the oval twice behind the enemies goal. The feature of the conflict was when Hogkins pulled down a long pass and tore away fifty yards for a touchdown. Coach Hutto officiated.

The work on the Seniors annual commenced yesterday and is creating a great deal of interest among the upper classmen. The different editors have not yet been appointed but this matter will be attended to in a few days.

On Thursday the faculty and Alumni team will clash with the varsity. This will be one of the hardest games on the local schedule. Among those who will don the moleskins for the Old Stars are the Professors Davidson, Willerton, Hutto, and Prin. Lint. Besides these will be Guy Moats, Hirn, and a few more of the old grads. The standing of the Inter Class games:

	W. I. Pct.
Freshmen	1 1 .500
Sophomores	1 1 .500
Seniors	1 1 .500
Juniors	1 1 .500

On Saturday the Seniors and Freshmen will meet. This is one of the most important games on the schedule as it will decide whom will hold the lead. On next Tuesday the Juniors and Sophomores will battle the winner will meet the victor of the Freshie and Sophomore tilt. The Inter Class games have caused a great deal of football interest and the enthusiasm has been intense.

Positively Masters Croup

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound cuts the thick choking mucus, and clears away the phlegm. Opens up the air passages and stops the hoarse cough. The gasping, strangling fight for breath gives way to quiet breathing and peaceful sleep. Harold Berg, Mass., Mich., writes: "We give Foley's Honey and Tar to our children for croup and it always act quickly."

BEAR ATE ENTIRE CROP OF APPLES OFF OF ONE TREE.

St. Ignace can vouch for the fact that bears are fond of apples. Out on his farm Wood has a tree which was loaded down with large, luscious apples and the owner was waiting the time when the fruit should be sufficiently ripened to pick and pack them away for the winter. He drove out to the farm to take another look at the apples, arriving just at dusk. What he saw nearly caused him heart failure. Under the tree was a black bear devouring the last of the apples. The bear had broken down the limbs until he had gotten them all but one. Wood grabbed his gun, but in the dusk he could not see the sights and although he blazed away Mr. Bruin made his escape.

SLAYER OF GIRL IS BEING SOUGHT

Akron, O., Sept. 30.—Three clues were followed to day by posse to find the slayer of Miss Vinnie L. Brecker, aged 22 years, the pretty Akron girl, murdered when her head was literally hacked to pieces with a hatchet by an unknown assailant.

A long wooden weapon in the shape of a tomahawk, which had been used by the murderer before he attacked Miss Bracker with a hatchet, a note unaddressed and unsigned reading: "Didn't you recognize me last night?" and another bit of scribbling on a piece of cardboard, are the clues that may lead to the identification of the slayer.

There were five deep gashes in the murdered girl's head. One finger had been severed and her shoulders and were a mass of cuts and bruises.

Two persons were arrested today in connection with the case, but according to the police it is not likely that the evidence will warrant holding either.

Miss Brecker had been interested in mission work in Akron and was widely respected. Two women live on the second floor of the building in which the murder was committed but neither of them heard screams or sounds of struggle.

$6,000,000 PAID TO THE GERMANS

London, Sept. 30.—Burgomaster Max of Brussels, who was arrested on the order of the German military governor on the charge that he had ordered the banks to refuse to pay an installment of the indemnity which was due, has been released, according to an Ostend dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company. The release followed the payment to the Germans of $30,000,000 francs $6,000,000.

The war tax levied against Brussels after the Germans had occupied the Belgian capital was said at the time to be $40,000,000.

Brussels, via London, Sept. 30.—The release of Burgomaster Max again gives the picturesque capital a chance to serve as intermediary between his people and the Germans, a position which he has filled with extraordinary originality.

When the invaders entered the city he procured very liberal terms from them by guaranteeing good behavior on the part of his people.

IS KILLED WHILE SAVING MOTHER

Doyestown, Pa., Sept. 30.—Florence Cope, 18, a pretty girl of Buckingham valley, near here, was killed by her uncle John, Cope, at her home, while she was trying to save her mother from being shot by the uncle. Cope who wore neither hat nor shoes, when the killing occurred, escaped to the woods, and a large party was out to day searching for him. The girl's father, Clinton Cope, a farmer, was cutting corn by moonlight while the tragedy was being enacted in the house near by.

The uncle had been visiting at his brother's home and Monday night he and the girl's mother quarreled over his alleged drinking habits. The girl had gone to bed and when she heard the quarrel she rushed downstairs in her nightgown and stepped between her mother and the uncle who had a shotgun in his hands. Whether the girl was deliberately shot by the uncle or received her death wound accidentally has not been determined. She died two hours afterward.

FARMER ACCUSED OF SETTING GUN

Menominee, Mich., Sept. 29.—A piece of pink paper in the hands of Sheriff Kell led to the arrest yesterday of John Westman, a farmer living nine miles west of Stephenson on a charge of placing the set gun which shot Joseph Jonavin and left him alone and helpless for two days in the woods near Stephenson last week. Westman will be given a hearing before Justice Van Den Berg this afternoon.

The offense for placing a set gun in the woods is manslaughter if a victim is killed, and a misdemeanor if anyone is found guilty of setting a gun. Jonavin, who was the victim, is in a precarious condition at Stephenson; it was found necessary to amputate his leg between the knee and the thigh. Westman has made no statement since his arrest and at the hearing this afternoon he will merely be arraigned by Justice Van Den Berg, as Prosecuting Attorney Haggerson is not in the city.

Sheriff in Catch.

Westman is a Hollander, 53 years old, who is a farmer near Stephenson. He is small in stature and speaks broken English. He was born in Holland, and since coming to Menominee county married and is the father of four children.

Yesterday morning Sheriff Kell examined the woods near where the accident happened in the hope of gaining a clue with which he could find the man who placed the gun in the woods. He found a piece of pink paper which had been used as a wad in the loaded shell, and then dug a buckshot from a tree near by.

Son Blames Father.

With this in his possession, the sheriff visited the only two farmhouses in the vicinity, asking to see firearms that were kept in the house. At the Westman home the sheriff was shown the wadding and shot used in loading shot-gun shells and both the shots and wadding compared exactly with what he found in the woods. The wadding used in loading the shells which contained the charge which entered Jonavin's thigh, apparently was taken from a paper sack, the remainder of which the sheriff kept as evidence which he believes will convict Westman.

At Stephenson, the sheriff questioned Westman's son and gained a statement from him made before two other witnesses to the effect that his father had placed a set gun in the woods. With this evidence, Sheriff Kell arrested the senior Westman and he is now in the county jail.

DETROIT MAN HAS A FREAK $10 BILL

Detroit, Sept. 29.—The arrest of Nicholas Kowalski in a Michigan avenue luncheon for tendering a government note with face of a $10 bill on one side of it and on the other side a duplicate of a $20 bill, has revealed that the government by mistake has sent into circulation eight notes of this description and that Kowalski was not attempting to defraud the luncheon proprietor. Government officials today cleared Kowalski of any unlawful intention by announcing that some time ago government printers got their plates mixed and the eight notes with a perfect print of $20 on one side and $10 on the other side were put into circulation.

Kowalski had tendered what he thought was a $10 bill for his lunch. The clerk handed him $19.75 in change. Instead of keeping the change, the patron called the clerk's attention to the fact that he had to much change. The clerk was positive he had received a $20 bill and Kowalski was equally certain he had given him a $10 note. An altercation ensued, the bill was taken out of the cash register, the patron declared it did not belong to him and eventually the police were called and both men locked up.

GERMANY IS IN RIGHT DECLARES ARCHBISHOP

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 30.—A letter received this morning from Archbishop Messmer by Rev. Bernard Traudt gives interesting insight concerning European opinion of the war. The archbishop is still in Switzerland, and his letter is dated September 10, from Bischofszell in that country. Concerning the war he says:

"Belgium is paying a just punishment for its treacherous conduct against Germany, which is clear proof to show that both Belgium and France have broken Belgium's neutrality, even before the war was fully opened.

"It is not true that Louvain is all destroyed; only a few quarters of the city were shattered by German guns, but the loss of the university library is unfortunately true. The fact is, however, that while German soldiers were trying to have the cathedral and the cathedral they were fired upon from the rear by the inhabitants of the city.

Crazed by Fury.

"When the true story of the Belgium kind of warfare will be published it will be an indelible bluish on the otherwise splendid Belgium people. They must have become crazed in their fury against the German invaders.

"It is the opinion here that England is playing the most perfidious part; that while pretending to fight Germany she is doing all she can to weaken France and Russia. France will have to pay the price for England which will suffer little loss. At present its navy is entirely inactive in northern waters and people say they want to save as many of their ships as possible. Their 200,000 new men, even if they reach France, will count for nothing when they reach the German army. From their conduct in the late battles in France, German war humor got up the saying that 'the English soldiers are the best runners in the world. Even the German cavalry had to do its best to capture a few of them.'

"While the Germans have so far accomplished wonders of military tactics and valor, the Austrians seem unable to cope with Russian overwhelming masses. If Austria cannot gain a great battle soon and drive the Russians back, it will have a very depressing effect on the friends of Austria and Germany.

Prays for Teutonic Victory.

"I have followed the beginning of the war very closely and cannot but play for the victory of the just cause of Austria and Germany.

"As to Italy, no one knows what the new ministry is going to do. I hope to God it will remain neutral. As for its king and government, I believe they cannot help Austria, as the common people of Italy are entirely anti-Austrian and would revolt against the idea of fighting for Austria."

Concerning his return the archbishop writes:

"I went to Zurich to inquire about sailing, and found that the Italian boats are all engaged for September, but I may have a chance on the first boat leaving in October. I might possibly get away a week or two sooner by way of Rotterdam, but as I am here I wish to see the new pope and get his blessing for the archdiocese and myself. I am very anxious to be at home again, and at work."

THE KITCHEN CUPBOARD

BLACKBERRIES IN DELICIOUS WAYS.

LUNCH
Egg Salad, Mayonnaise,
Hot Rolls, Olives,
Blackberries and Pineapple,
Chocolate.

THERE are a number of varieties of blackberries. The long blackberries are firmer than the round ones. Some are much sweeter than others, so this should be taken into account when putting them up.

Blackberries and Pineapple.—Take a quart of fresh blackberries and cut into small dice the same amount of pineapple. Chill the fruit thoroughly and serve with sugar and cream. This is a dessert that always pleases, as the sweetness of one fruit is neutralized by the other's acidity.

A Tasty Novelty.

Blackberry Omelet.—For this use a cupful of large blackberries. Cut in two with a silver knife; sprinkle with four table-spoonfuls of sugar and set aside; beat four eggs, the whites and yolks separately; to the latter add a teaspoonful of sugar, a trifle of lemon juice and a pinch of salt. Fold in the whites lightly and turn into a hot buttered omelet pan. When done spread over the top the sugared berries, fold and set in a hot oven for a minute and serve on a hot platter.

A Decorative Dessert.

Blackberry Mold.—Take one and a half pounds of good cooking apples; pick the berries and peel and core the apples, cutting them up. Place the fruit in an enameled pan, adding three-quarters of a pound of sugar and a teaspoonful of water. Stew the fruit until tender, then rub it through a sieve, when there should be three gills of puree. In another pan melt half an ounce of gelatin in a gill of water, but do not let it boil; when melted stir it into the blackberry and apple puree. Stir for five minutes and then pour the mixture into a wet mold, and when cold turn out and serve with whipped cream.

Nice For Children.

Blackberry and Sage.—For this stew some blackberries with enough sugar to sweeten them until you can strain off a pint of juice. Put this juice into an enameled pan and when very hot sprinkle into it two large table-spoonfuls of fine sage or tapioca. Stir briskly until the sage turns clear; the mixture will then have thickened; pour into a wet mold; when cold turn it out and serve with a plain custard round it. The custard should be made with a half pint of milk, one ounce of sugar and two eggs; beat the eggs with the sugar for five minutes, then gradually stir in the milk; put the custard in a pitcher into a saucepan of boiling water. Stir the custard till it thickens, but on no account let it boil or it will curdle. When the custard coats the back of the spoon used for stirring it is done and should be poured into a basin to cool before pouring it round the pudding.

Diamond Operations.

Machinery and barbed wire have supplanted the crude methods of breaking up diamond-bearing blue earth and protecting the valuable find employed 20 years ago in the South African diamond mines. The depth of the strange crater shaped holes in which the peculiar diamond-bearing earth is confined are now penetrated by shafts, reaching hundreds of feet down into the earth with 40-foot levels. The broken earth is removed in closed trucks to the surface, where after a season of exposure to sun and atmosphere, strewn on the ground, it is hauled to the mills. Her pulsators finally locate the diamond on grease-covered inclined tables, which the diamonds adhere, while loose sand, earth and gravel are washed away by water. Across ground, covered by broken earth brought up from the mines, contain possibly millions of dollars' worth of gems, and these treasure-troves are protected by high fences of barbed wire, with intricate arrangements of the corners and at the gates. About four thousand miles of wire are up in the defenses about the Kimberley mines.

Cardinals Other than Paps. England has cardinals other than those created by the pope. At a time there were officials of that ilk attached to a number of our cardinals, whose duty it was to visit sick and relieve the needy, but Paul's is now alone in the possession of a senior and a junior cardinal elected by the deans from among minor canons. One of the holders the title in recent times was the "Jackdaw of Rheims," London Chronicle.

TIGES HIT BALL HARD AND WIN

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 30.—Detroit hit the ball with a vengeance today and trimmed St. Louis 9 to 6 in eight innings, the game being stopped on account of darkness. Leverage was easy in the early innings and began to falter again toward the close of the game.

SENATORS TO LOSE GANDIL; WILL JUMP TO FEDERALS.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 30.—Chick Gandil, Washington's first baseman, will perform in the Federal league next season. While his team was playing its farewell engagement her Gandil was in communication with President Gilmore, closing arrangements for his jump to the independents. Gandil is sore on organizer ball because of a fine that was plastered on him as a result of a run-in with Umpire Chill, which the Washington club refused to pay. The fine is being withheld from his salary.

NORTHERN LEAGUE IS REORGANIZED.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 30.—When the Northern baseball league magnates finished their reorganization work late last night, there was not much left of the old Northern league. It will be a six town loop in the future and Duluth and Superior are the only American towns left. St. Bonifacius and Port Arthur are the new Canadian entrants, Fargo, Moorhead, Grand Forks, Winona and Virginia have been lopped off. The new league is put on a ten-year basis and John Burmeister will reign as president for that period.

WHAT TINKER SAYS ABOUT FEDERAL LEAGUE.

"Organized baseball will be forced to recognize the Feds sooner or later. Walter Johnson is as good as signed. Milan and Foster only other Nationals the Federal really wanted. There will be a Federal league club in New York next year. Weeghman has already made a small fortune with his Chicago club. Fed have recked high class minor league clubs, who will withdraw from organized baseball this winter. Ban Johnson a false prophet—and more surprises coming."

A Marvelous Escape

"My little boy had a marvelous escape," writes P. F. Bastians of Prince Albert, Cape of Good Hope. "It occurred in the middle of the night. He got a very severe attack of croup. As luck would have it, I had a large bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. After following the directions for an hour and twenty minutes he was through all danger." Sold by all dealers.

OLDFIELD SUE FOR $60,000 BREAKS SEVEN ORDINANCES.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 30.—Barney Oldfield, automobile speed king, added a new record to his string yesterday when a suit charging him with having broken seven city ordinances at one time was filed against him. It also was charged that the speed king struck a man on a motorcycle while traveling at the "snail's pace" of thirty miles an hour. Oldfield is asked to pay $50,000. Chris Ringhouse is the plaintiff in the suit, and he avers that Barney not only ran him down but also swore at him. The damages are divided in a demand for $25,000 for personal injuries, $25,000 for being attacked, and $10,000 for injured feelings from being called names.

SUCCESS OF DAIRYMAN MUCH DEPENDS UPON CAREFUL REARING OF CALVES.

Where Valuable Animals Are Raised It is Advisable When Possible to Have Separate Pens for Them and Feed in Stanchion.

(By C. H. ECKLES.)

The success of the dairy farmer depends to no slight extent upon the careful rearing of the calves. This is especially true since dairy cows have reached their present high market price. Most farmers begin with ordinary cows or the best they can get close at home. As a rule this is the best plan to follow. The development of a high class herd from these will depend largely upon three things:

1. The careful selection of individual cows.
2. The use of a pure bred sire.
3. The careful raising of the heifer calves from the best cows.

The cow should be in good flesh at calving time for the best results in milk. She should be dry six weeks. During the pasturing season there is no better plan than to leave her in the pasture, of course under observation, until the calf is born.

The dairy calf is ordinarily raised by hand since the milk of the dairy cow is usually worth so much more than the calf that it requires the first consideration. It is a well established fact that a calf raised on skim milk is as good as one nursed by its mother. In localities familiar with dairying this is well understood, but in other places is virtually unknown, and a strong prejudice exists against feeding skim milk on account of the unhealthy and underzested calves that have been raised in this way. Such calves are the victims of ignorance or carelessness. The skim milk calf properly raised differs little, if any, in size, quality, thrift, and value from the same animal when raised by the cow.

While the question as to whether calves should be dropped in the fall or spring may be decided by special conditions, on the whole, fall calves have superior advantages. They come at such a time that work is not urgent and they can have the best attention of the farmer or dairyman. The disadvantages of winter feeding are more than offset by hot weather and annoyance from flies. The fall calf is weaned in the spring and can be put on grass without further attention, while the spring calf goes on dry feed when weaned. For the first three months it does not matter materially whether calves are eating hay or pasture, but the second six months they will do better on grass than any other ration. Ordinarily the cow which calves in the fall will produce a greater yield during the year as the summer grass stimulates secretion during the latter part of lactation.

The calf's quarters should not be allowed to accumulate a lot of damp, dirty materials as this is almost sure to result in sickness and bad results. The bedding should be abundant and changed often. In order that the pens or stalls be kept clean they should be in the choicest part of the barn where sunshine and light are abundant. In summer they should have access to a pasture where there is plenty of shade.

Where valuable calves are raised it is advisable to have a separate pen for each animal. Calves should be fed in a stanchion. The most common trouble in calf-raising is scours, or indigestion. This is brought on by over-feeding, feeding sour or old milk, cold milk, and dirty pails, troughs or stalls. Success depends largely upon the ability of the feeder to prevent scours. It is easier to prevent scours than it is to cure them. By watching the small points and keeping conditions right success will take the place of failure.

MORE USE OF FERTILIZERS

According to Data of Bureau of Department of Commerce Arrival of Materials is Enlarged.

Imports of fertilizer materials have increased, according to data of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, department of commerce, for the period ended with April, 1914, indicating greatly enlarged arrivals of nitrates, potash salts, and other similar materials.

Kainit, a potash salt of very low price, was imported last year to the extent of 455,000 tons, valued at $2,000,000; sulphate of potash, 43,000 tons, valued at nearly $2,000,000; and other fertilizer salts, 172,000 tons, valued at $2,000,000. About 90 per cent of the imported potash is used for fertilizers, and only about 10 per cent in the manufacture of glass, soap-making and other chemical industries. The imports of both the nitrates and the potash salts have more than doubled in the last ten years.

NO OPEN DOOR FOR IMMIGRANTS

Washington, Sept. 30.—"If the United States ever needed an immigration law it needs it now. It is absurd to talk about suspending the immigration laws in order to permit the widows and orphans of soldiers slain in the European war to enter this country. Al-eral European governments now at war are a charge on the public."

Representative John L. Burnett of Alabama, chairman of the committee on immigration and naturalization, was commenting on a suggestion that the immigration laws be temporarily suspended to enable the suffering women of Europe to enter this country and find employment.

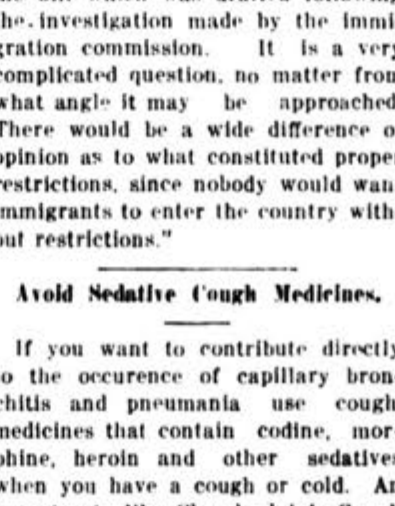

Enough Needy of Our Own. "Nobody has a deeper sympathy for the widows and orphans of this terrible war than I have," continued Chairman Burnett. "But we must look at this question from the standpoint of the nation's welfare. It is all very well to talk of humanitarianism, but who is going to provide for indigent women and children from Europe? This country now has a sufficiently hard problem to solve in taking care of the needy. While a war widow from Europe might secure employment as a domestic, as is suggested, how would she be able to take care of her children? As a matter of fact, conditions are so different in her own country that it will be far easier for her to provide for them there than here. In fact she will be able to provide for them there in some way, while here they would become an immediate charge on the public."

"It would be a great economic mistake to permit the free entry of poverty-stricken European women. Ordinarily that is just the class of immigrants we do not want in this country, although they may belong to the better class of workmen's families. The suggestion that the immigration laws be suspended was made in a letter written by a well-known Washington club man, now in Europe, whose name it withheld. Apparently he thinks it would be a very simple thing to suspend the immigration laws."

Doubts the "Comfortable Homes." "It would not be a simple matter to follow out this suggestion even if it were practicable," continued Mr. Burnett. "Every time the immigration question comes up in congress a bitter war of words is started. You will recall that it required years to pass the bill which was drafted following the investigation made by the immigration commission. It is a very complicated question, no matter from what angle it may be approached. There would be a wide difference of opinion as to what constituted proper restrictions, since nobody would want immigrants to enter the country without restrictions."

Avoid Sedative Cough Medicines. If you want to contribute directly to the occurrence of capillary bronchitis and pneumonia use cough medicines that contain codeine, morphine, heroin and other sedatives when you have a cough or cold. An expectorant like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is what is needed. That cleans out the culture beds or breeding places for the germs of pneumonia and other germ diseases. That is why pneumonia never results from a cold when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. It has a world wide reputation to rids cures. It contains no morphine or other sedative. THE ROCK DRILLER DRILLS THE GOOD JUDGE

IT'S a glad day for a tobacco chewer when he finds the Real Tobacco Chew. "Right-Cut" is made of rich, mellow, full-bodied tobacco. Seasoned and sweetened just enough.

Knowing how much it means to his comfort a man takes pleasure in telling his friends about it, too.

You don't have to grind it away. The taste lasts.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is the Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and glucose. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

FRANK CHANCE UNDECIDED ABOUT PLANS FOR FUTURE. NONE CAN PREDICT WHAT TEAM WILL DO.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 29.—Frank L. Chance, accompanied by Mrs. Chance and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Duncan of Los Angeles, arrived in Buffalo yesterday. They are motoring from New York to Chance's ranch just outside of Los Angeles.

The ex-manager of the New York Americans will probably leave town this afternoon. Chance plans to stop at Cleveland for a day and then start for Chicago, where he will spend a few days.

"There isn't a word of truth in reports about my going to manage this, that and the other team," said Chance to the writer. "I'm going to forget baseball for the winter months. Whether I'll ever return to baseball is something I can't predict now. I may, and again I may not."

You see it first in The Press.

Predicting what a baseball club will do in a pennant race is like trying to solve perpetual motion. It can't be done.

Even wise old Connie Mack misses now and then.

Mack probably would like to exercise the recall on an early season prediction he made regarding the St. Louis Browns.

Toward the middle of July Mack's team visited St. Louis and was beaten three out of five games. The Browns then were in third place and going strong. Their sensational spurt caused Mack to utter these words:

"I think the Browns are the most improved team in the league today. It can't be a spurt. When they're third at this time of the year, they're not going to slip. The Browns can't weaken. I look for them to be dangerous."

COMPENSATION

If government should wipe out your investments or your means of gaining a livelihood, you should be recompensed, shouldn't you?

When Switzerland outlawed absinthe, manufacturers, dealers, employe and even farmers were indemnified for losses. Where "prohibition" outlaws the manufacture and sale of liquors, why shouldn't the manufacturers, dealers, employe and even growers (farmers) be compensated by our government?

PROGRESS IS NOTED

To gain a fair knowledge of the giant strides which agriculture has made in Cloverland, one need only make a trip by motor or rail up the Felch mountain line. This is a section of the country that has been known only as a lumbering country up to a few years ago. The Felch Mountain R. R. is a branch of the C. & N. W. Ry. running a distance of 35 miles from Narenta where it intersects with the main line. Narenta lies nine miles west of Escanaba. The road runs in a north westerly direction from Narenta through Delta, Menominee and Dickinson counties, its terminal point being Metropolitan. The country opens up at Schaffer and presents one of the most vast and highly cultivated settlements in Delta county here, large barns, silos and stables tell the tale of progress, in no uncertain way. Perronville in Menominee county, is fast developing the farmers there are viewing with the farmers of Schaffer and the result is noticeable in the amount of land that is being cleared and reclaimed. Whitney is the net place that attracts the eye and dull indeed would be the mind that Whitney would not arouse to a state of interested activity. The transformation from a howling wilderness of but a few years ago to a vast extent of highly cultivated land with splendid barns, which house large numbers of registered cattle, is largely due to the National Pole Company. This company conducts one of the finest dairy farms in the state of Michigan. A visit to Whitney would amply repay any one at all interested in the growth and development of Cloverland. Silos, in Dickinson county, was not at all considered as worthy of expending any time or labor for farm development until a short time ago. Perhaps Michael Kenny, merchant, farmer and lumberman, is deserving of more credit than any single individual for the rapid strides farmers have made in that section. To particularize, Mr. Kenny located at Silas seven years ago, taking up a piece of land that was considered of small value. Mr. Kenny has proved to be of a versatile turn of mind, for he not only conducts an up-to-date store, a crew of men in the woods, but also conducts a farm, that he may well feel proud. The farm is highly improved and is provided with splendid dwelling and modern barn, which house a fine bred of holstein cattle. A crew of men are harvesting potatoes as our party passed by and on inspection it was voted that it would be a hard matter to find a better crop anywhere. Rural

New Yorkers are Mr. Kenny's favorites.

The next stop was made at Hardwood, which proved to be our terminal for this trip. Hardwood is located in a pleasant valley, well cleared and highly cultivated. A. P. Farrell appears to be the guiding star of Hardwood. Mr. Farrell is a lumberman, who has found time and experienced much pleasure and profit in making an up-to-date farm, equipped with all modern appliances, the buildings are commodious and very artistic in appearance.

Taken as a whole this trip of 28 miles has proved to be one continuous agreeable surprise not easily to be forgotten.

PROMINENT SPEAKER TO TALK HERE TODAY

Dr. Charles E. Bradt, of Chicago, will deliver two of the most interesting lectures heard in Escanaba for a long time, at the Presbyterian church this evening. The first will be given during a banquet prepared by the ladies of the church for the men of the congregation, and it will be served in the church parlors. The topic Dr. Bradt has chosen for this time is: "A Man's Job."

The second lecture will be given after the banquet and every one is cordially invited. The banquet will commence at 6:15.

Dr. Bradt is slated for addresses throughout the entire northern part of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dishno left for Chicago last evening, where they will visit with Mrs. Edward Jobert.

Mrs. B. J. MacKillean and Mrs. C. W. Molin of this city and Mrs. E. W. Wicking of Wells, left last evening for a several days visit at Chicago.

DEMOCRATS NAME TICKET

Today's convention was the biggest ever held by the Democratic party in Michigan, over 1500 delegates being packed into the Detroit Armory, when the seating capacity of the main floor was completely taken. The county caucuses were held this morning and the contesting delegation from Delta county appeared to take part but were ruled out with instructions to appear before the committee on credentials in the afternoon.

The Eleventh congressional district caucus was presided over by Clyde Hooper of St. Ignace and the principal feature of that caucus was the stirring address delivered by Francis T. McDonald, of the Socialist Democratic candidate for congress.

Michael J. Doyle, of Menominee, was named as chairman of the committee on Credentials; J. W. Thron of Antrim county, on permanent organization and order of business and Robert Rayburn, of Alpena, on committee on resolutions.

William Preston, of Mackinac Island and K. F. Comstock of Alpena, were named at the caucus as members of the state central committee.

The morning session of the convention was opened by Chairman Shields who was accorded a tremendous ovation. He was followed by M. H. Vavanaugh, of Ann Arbor, who delivered the keynote address of the convention.

When Gov. Ferris appeared on the stage, cheers and shrieking whistles filled the air for five minutes and whenever the name of either Gov. Ferris or President Wilson were mentioned by the speakers, wild cheering filled the hall.

Gov. Ferris' address at the afternoon session consumed but 35 minutes but in it he outlined a party policy that repeatedly threw the immense crowd of delegates into roars of applause. Stating his position on the recall of judges, advocated by Chase S. Osborn, Mr. Ferris said: "I feel that I should make my position clear and I want to say that I am not in favor of the recall of judges."

In his address Mr. Cavanaugh called Osborn an acrobatic fence rider. The first order of business this afternoon was the report of the committee on credentials and in the three counties sending contesting delegations, the committee seated the delegation headed by J. J. Cleary, from Delta; the delegation headed by Judge Connelly from Wayne and the delegation from Calhoun headed by A. H. McCaughey. The contesting delegation from Delta county appeared before the committee on credentials with the claim that William Finnegan was not legally chairman of the Democratic committee in Delta county, but they were wholly unable to substantiate their claims and the contestants from Delta were wholly without standing in the convention.

Following is the address delivered by State Chairman Shields at the opening of the convention:

Gentlemen of the Convention, At your convention two years ago I stated that politically Michigan was then a debatable state. The result of the election following that convention wherein the people chose Progressive Presidential Electors, a Democrat Governor and Republican state officials confirmed that prediction. In my opinion Michigan today contains a larger percentage of sincere conscientious independent voters than any other state in the union.

The Democratic party is no longer a party of criticism, but has attained the position of responsibility for government. It is the positive and constructive party of this nation. By the administration of President Wilson the people of this nation have been taught that the Democratic party is loyal, patriotic and has the best interests and welfare of the whole nation as its fundamental program. The clear reasoning and perfect logic of our President has fortified him in advocating laws and procedure which cannot be intelligently or convincingly criticized.

In the State the absolute fairness, honesty and conscientious adherence to the demands of his duty to the whole state has gained for Governor Ferris, not only the respect but the enthusiastic admiration and support of all men and women.

The fact that the political parties of Michigan are now more nearly equal insures greater care in the choice of officials, a closer scrutiny of the personal characteristics of candidates and a searching inquiry into the principles and platforms upon which each candidate runs for office so that Michigan may choose one who is not only best fitted temperamentally, but who represents the clearest, the most concise and the most beneficial program for Michigan's government.

In your nominations today I hope you will select such able and competent candidates that the whole State will realize that they are as carefully chosen and as fully represent our ideals as did the nominations of Governor Ferris and Lieut. Gov. Beach at the primaries.

You are sent here as delegates chosen by men directly elected by the people to represent the whole Democratic party of Michigan. I ask you to be fair, honorable and considerate—give every delegate a hearing, let each have his "Day in Court" and let us all remember that the very purpose of our being here is to discover the conclusions of the majority and then to abide by them. I, as the first man to address this convention, pledge my abiding faith in and loyalty to the Democratic Party and shall give liberally of my time, energy and ability to the support of our candidates, our platform and our traditions regardless of what disposition your deliberations today may make of the Chairmanship.

Pursuant to a fixed determination that this convention shall insure fair and honorable treatment to all members of our convention, on behalf of, and in conformance with the specific action of your State Central Committee I have the pleasure of presenting to you, as a distinct honor to the Democratic Second Congressional District. Your temporary Chairman, the Hon. Martin J. Cavanaugh of Ann Arbor.

BURGLARS YOUTHFUL

THREE ESCANABA LADS ROB CASH CLOTHING COMPANY'S STORE BUT ARE CAUGHT

Breaking into the store of the Cash Clothing Company, at 1040 Ludington street, on Tuesday night, Lawrence O'Donnell, Raymond Carlson and Wilfred Sandboom, carried away goods valued at nearly $400. The three youthful burglars were arrested early yesterday forenoon and all of the stolen goods were recovered. All made complete confessions to Pros. T. E. Strom and Chief of Police Andrew Iverson yesterday afternoon. O'Donnell and Carlson, will be arraigned before Judge C. D. McEwen this morning charged with burglary and grand larceny, while Sandboom, who is but 16 years of age, will probably be taken into the Juvenile court before Judge Judd Yelland.

All are Escanaba lads. O'Donnell has been working on boats on the Great Lakes throughout the summer and was employed aboard the steamer Republic, when she came here with a cargo of coal this week. Carlson signed as a member of the crew on Tuesday. O'Donnell and Carlson came down town on Tuesday evening and met Sandboom. They loitered about the streets for some time, and according to their confession, O'Donnell and Carlson, proposed that they rob some store. They discussed several different places and finally selected the Cash Clothing Company. They began their effort to break into the building, using shovels in their work, comparatively early in the evening after the store was closed. They were unsuccessful with the tools at their disposal and went to the railway yards where they secured an iron draw bar. They returned to the rear door of the store and finally succeeded in prying it open. The three lads ransacked every part of the store and taking four suit cases from the stock, packed away their selections. O'Donnell and Carlson returned to the boat carrying the heavily laden suit cases. Their booty was secreted in their lockers. When the robbery was discovered yesterday morning, a suspicion was aroused that it was the work of sailors and Officer George McCarthy with members of the firm went to the Republic where they conducted a search and finally found the goods O'Donnell and Carlson were found hiding in the boiler room and were at once taken to the police station and later Sandboom, who had not accompanied his companions to the boat, was placed under arrest.

Among the goods taken by the three lads was the following: two and a half dozen pairs of garters; three sweaters; 16 shirts; 200 gold plated collar buttons; 55 pairs of socks; 82 pairs of kid gloves; 14 silk mufflers; five boxes silk handkerchiefs; 72 pairs silk socks; three pairs pajamas; eleven belts; seven caps; 176 neckties; four suitcases, four suits of clothes and two overcoats.

The next regular meeting of Lodge 1400 will be held at the club rooms on Thursday evening October 1st, at which time a large class of candidates will be initiated into the mysteries of the order. There are two very important matters to come before the members at this time and the presence of all members is earnestly requested.

One Fact We All Know is that the hen does not lay eggs the year around, and we venture to say that 95 per cent of all eggs sold now come out of the cold storage.

To be honest with you we will say that whatever eggs we handle from now are cold storage eggs and we further will say that they are good eggs, which we will sell you at 27c per single dozen and at 26c per dozen in case lots.

And Mrs. Bossy takes a vacation, much the same as Mrs. Hen does. Hence high priced butter.

And here is where Butterine comes in to keep Mrs. Bossy's butter from taking to aeroplane flights.
