HOPEFUL INDICATIONS.

Throughout the constitutional revolution Francisco Villa maintained that he would not seek or accept the Mexican presidency. He frankly admitted his unfitness for executive responsibility.

Now he is in arms against Carranza, his former chief and it has been generally assumed that he sought for himself the presidency which Carranza had appropriated as his unquestioned share of the spoils of victory.

Apparently all Carranza has to do to end the rupture is to submerge his own obstinate personality. If he will withdraw from the anomalous position he has assumed as provisional president he will deprive Villa of his sole reason for rebellion.

THE ROCKY BOYS.

Little Bear, chief of the Rocky Boy tribe of Indians of Montana, has officially notified President Wilson of his people's neutrality in the present European war.

Little Bear and the Rocky Boys are childish and pathetic, of course. This neutrality fulfills the ideal of the jokersmiths who have written about the neutrality of Basia Land, Andorra and Monaco.

the secretary of the interior to convey to Little Bear his personal appreciation, which will be done with seemingly gravity.

The Rocky Boys are good Americans, and very safe ones; better and safer, perhaps, than some of those who laugh at them.

Philadelphians are protesting because the statue of Franklin in front of their postoffice needs its face washed. An ugly smear extends from chin to waistcoat as if the patriot had been eating soup without a napkin.

The government of Italy is having a hard time suppressing the demonstrations of people who are clamoring for war. Which is a direct reversal of the commonly accepted view as to the relative positions of rulers and peoples of European nations in respect to war making.

Yuan Shih Kai, to celebrate the festival of establishing Confucianism as the Chinese state religion, participated in services which lasted from 3 to 6 a. m.

The German artillery is paying marked attention to the country home of President Poincaré of France, according to dispatches. And the home of his parents has been pillaged.

The Dardanelles have been closed, according to the news. Turkey may be able to close some things, but it could not close the lips of a certain ambassador of recent fame.

Women are gathering this year's vintage in the famous Bordeaux vineyards. If Ohio goes dry, we shall never be able to decide whether woman is man's equal as a vintner.

Austria has been bombarding Belgrade ever since the war began. One fancy there is not much of Belgrade left by this time, so the amusement appears rather harmless.

One victim is certain to suffer, however the war may result. Everyone agrees that mayhem shall be committed against the map of Europe.

Now that Villa is fighting constitutionalists, how has he rechristened his army and his cause?

IRON TRADE REVIEW

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 1.—The Iron Trade Review says: Pending negotiations for shipments of iron and steel products to foreign countries represent large tonnages, but to what extent pending business will develop into orders is still very uncertain.

Remarkable dullness in pig iron continues and it seems probable that production this month will be still further reduced. The announcement of lower freight rates from Birmingham to many northern points on pig iron, indicates that there is considerable confusion and that much remains to be done in order to adjust the rates on the basis fair to all concerned.

Southern pig iron promises to be a much more important factor in the New England market under the reduced rates. Leading manufacturers will protest against rates on crude materials being raised as the result of the re-opening of the so-called five per cent advance case.

Exports of the steel corporation are now about normal as increased orders from some countries are off-setting losses in business from other countries. It is expected that the untitled tonnage loss of the steel corporation for September will be heavy.

FISH IN HOT WEATHER

HEALTHIER THAN A CONSTANT DIET OF FRESH MEAT.

Supply is Generally Plentiful and Should Be Freely Used—Jellied Dish for Sunday Night Luncheon—Brook Trout.

(By LIDA AMES WILLIS.) For the summer, white-meated fish is greatly used, and the supply is quite equal to the demand.

True, there are restrictions in eating fish as frequently as we do meats. But these very restrictions add to its value. Most of us eat too much fresh meat, especially in hot weather, when it really should not be served oftener than three times per week.

Jellied Fish.—A nice relish for Sunday night supper, or for luncheon on a hot day, may be made as follows: For two cupsful of fish flakes use quarter of a package of soaked gelatin and a generous cupful of hot fish or chicken broth.

Brook Trout a la Cascade.—Get good-sized trout, freshly caught, if possible. Remove the fins and have the fish drawn at the gills. Wash well in cold water.

Magdooek au Gratin, With Sauce Mornay.—Try this for your next fish day dinner when you have a special guest. Most of the work may be done in the cool of the morning or before the actual hurry of dinner getting.

White Potato Meringue. Pare and grate one large white potato, add the juice and grated rind of one lemon, one cupful of cold water, one cupful of salt and the well-beaten white of one egg.

Raspberry Gelatin. A delicious dessert for the fruit season isclair or pastry puffs filled with a raspberry mixture. To make the filling, whip until stiff a half-pint of cream.

Oriental Beef. One and one-half pounds of round beef, one-half pound fresh pork, one onion, two green peppers, one cupful crumbs. Salt to taste. Put all through meat chopper.

To Prevent Pastry Scorching. Salt in the oven, placed over the baking plates, will prevent the pastry from scorching at the bottom.

WAR

There is evidence that this movement is beginning to tell and that unless something unforeseen happens, this portion of the German army must fall back to another defensive line.

"One thing is certain, and that is the German armies are in a position of the gravest danger. The allies have succeeded in a masterly fashion in threatening both flanks of the enemy simultaneously and he is compelled to fight for his life. He may succeed in extricating his force intact, for he is still formidable in every way. To save himself, however, he can hardly maintain his center upon his present position, and it looks as if he will unflinchingly have to retire in order to withdraw himself from the grip of the allies' claws.

The French official report this afternoon says the action continues to develop to the northward, so that the French left must now be pushing toward Cambrai, as yesterday it was in the neighborhood of Albert. Even farther north than this, the French cavalry is operating, and last week a German force which was sent to Orchies, sixteen miles southeast of Lille, to punish franc-tireurs for a purported attack on a German hospital at that place met with superior forces and had to fall back.

The Germans, too, admit that they have been unable to arrest the French advance against their right and that, also, the allies have advanced on their right front. Indeed, there seems to be some agreement in the official reports of the belligerents relative to events on the battlefield. The German reports refer to an advance of the allies, while the French communication says a vigorous attack made by the Germans on Trais-le-Mont, north-east of the forest of Argive, was repulsed with heavy losses.

One and one-half pounds of round beef, one-half pound fresh pork, one onion, two green peppers, one cupful crumbs. Salt to taste. Put all through meat chopper. Mix thoroughly, form into loaf, place in pan, lay three slices of bacon on top, pour over it one can tomato sauce. Bake in steady oven 1 1/2 hours. Thicken gravy and strain.

Between the Argonne and the Meuse and again in Foevo, there has been more severe fighting. The French claim to have made slight progress and to have advanced at several points especially to the east of St. Mihiel. Although the French staff is very sparing with its information, it is evident that the forces which advanced from Toul to oppose the Germans who crossed the Meuse near St. Mihiel have succeeded in getting behind the small contingent of invaders, who had successfully carried out an attempt to bend the French line at this point.

Here, too, the armies seem to be awaiting the result of the greater contest going on farther west, where, British experts believe, the allies have at last firmly set the claws of their left in the German right wing under General von Kluck.

London, Oct. 1.—The Rome correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company says that it is officially announced in advices from Petrograd that the Austrian province of Galicia is now completely free of Austrians, the last remnants of their troops having sought refuge in the Carpathians.

Another dispatch from Rome says that an Austrian army, fleeing before the Russians, has been surrounded near Douklo and that its defeat is complete. All the food, ammunition and war materials, which were being conveyed back to Austria, have fallen into Russian hands. The captures include five hundred military automobiles.

Competition for a 'Delft' Figure

Competitive designs are invited by the Delft Theaters, Incorporated, for a Delft figure. All designs submitted not to exceed four colors, on suitable paper, mounted on card board. Size of figure not to exceed 6 inches in height. Mount not to exceed 18 inches in height. Design of the figure to be typical of Holland and to be without background. No name or mark of any kind will be allowed on the design or mount, otherwise it will not be considered. The figure will be placed in a niche on the front and at the top of all Delft theaters.

SUES WINSOR M'CAY'S WIFE

New York.—Here is the way Mrs. Irene Watkins Lamkin, daughter of a former governor of Mississippi, and wife of Harry Tobin Lamkin, a prominent cotton broker, has sent in her bill to Mrs. Maude Defour McCay, wife of Winsor McCay, famous artist, via a suit for alienation of affections filed in the supreme court.

For flattering and winning the affections of Harry Tobin Lamkin $250,000. And that is not all. Mrs. Lamkin has filed suit for divorce against Lamkin, naming Mrs. McCay as corespondent. Mrs. Lamkin was successful yesterday in obtaining an award of $25 a week from her husband and $250 for her lawyer, Frank Sarle Parham.

Mrs. Lamkin says that Mrs. McCay practiced her art so successfully that she managed to revive in Lamkin's heart an old flame which the wife says was kindled when the artist's wife and Lamkin met in Cincinnati. It was not until August of last year, however, when, as Mrs. Lamkin relates in her papers, she discovered that the affections of her husband had gone elsewhere. She investigated, she alleges, with the result that she found that her husband and Mrs. McCay—whose acquaintance describe her as an extremely handsome woman—made frequent trips to Philadelphia.

To these accusations Mrs. McCay has entered an answer in the divorce proceedings in which she denies each specified charge made by the wife and announces her determination to fight the divorce suit. Lamkin has not yet filed his answer to the divorce suit, nor has he taken any other defensive step.

The limelight claimed Mrs. McCay as an attraction in 1908, when McCay found William Mulr, a racing man, in his home at Sheephead Bay. The artist showed Mulr the door, but the invitation was not accepted and McCay slapped the horseman in the face. McCay said at that time that she thought Mulr was his wife's betting commissioner and that too much money had been wagered on the races.

POLICY IS OUTLINED

The following statement has been issued by the athletic authorities of the Escanaba high school:

It has been thought wise to briefly outline to those interested, the athletic policy of the Escanaba high school. At different times business men and citizens of the city have been asked to donate a sum to carry on athletics. For the last few years the revenue for carrying on the different branches of athletics has been derived from the sale of single admission tickets. This method being an uncertain one, the Athletic Association has not always been able to finance the games as successfully as they have wished.

The athletic policy has been broadened so as not to exclude all except ten or fifteen students, but rather to include all students, and this has been brought about through organizing class teams in football, basketball and baseball.

In view of these facts, it has been thought advisable to offer all football and basketball games to high school and grade students in the form of a Season Athletic Ticket for $1.00 and to business men and all others interested for $1.25. In this way athletics will be placed on a firm financial basis, and the expense incurred will be shared more evenly.

It is thought that the businessmen of the city and all others will encourage the nine different student teams who are selling season tickets by purchasing one or more. By so doing, they will be giving their help to the promotion of a clean, manly sport, as well as the development of the physical and normal side of the boys of the Escanaba high school.

The home football games will be Norway, Ishpeming and Marquette. The basketball schedule will be announced later.

Mrs. O. B. Lambert left yesterday for a visit in Detroit.

AMERICANS TELL HORRORS OF BATTLE

London, Oct. 1.—While driving from Brussels to Grammont, where they purposed taking a train from Ostend, Edgar Allen Cantrell of Newport, Ky., and his invalid wife, went through a hail of bullets, one of which killed their driver. The two Americans were left with their car overturned in a ditch and at the mercy of a German U-ahn, who let them pass, however, upon seeing their credentials.

Mr. Cantrell, who, with his wife reached London today, gives a graphic picture of the state of Belgium since the German invasion. He says the stench from the shallow burial trenches is unbearable, and that the bodies in these graves are often cut up by the heavy wheels of passing artillery.

The railroad generally are marked by overturned locomotives. The forts of Liege, Mr. Cantrell said, looked as if they had been shattered by a terrible earthquake. He passed German soldiers feeding refugee peasants on bread and soup.

Near Brussels he saw a trainload of prisoners. The Germans allowed the people to give food and tobacco to the French prisoners, but not to the Englishmen. The English filled fifteen cars.

Mr. Cantrell talked with a wounded German officer, who said that the English infantrymen were so fond of cover that they were not feared. But he described the English cavalry as devils. He said they charged standing up in shortened stirrups and that the swing of their sabres beheaded their enemies. They handled their horses like ponies on a polo field.

Mrs. Cantrell collapsed in London today as a result of the ordeal through which she has gone, and their sailing for America was postponed.

CLOVERLAND OFFERS MEN

The upper peninsula is well represented on the Michigan varsity football team. Hughitt, Neiman and Cochran are the men from Cloverland. These men are relied on to do the bulk of the Wolverines defense. Hughitt is a local product and this is his third year as a member of varsity. Last year he was a running mate to Jimmy Craig and many critics picked him as the All American quarter back. The diminutive Escanaban is expected to be the Wolverines consistent ground gainer. Cochran hails from Houghton and weighs over two hundred pounds. He won his M. last year and is relied on as the pivot of the Matze and Blue line this fall.

Neiman comes from the heart of Cloverland and was the star of the All Fresh squad last season. He was used as center but Yost has been using him at one of the flanking positions this fall. He is a strong defensive man and is very fast and according to the latest reports the Hermandville lad is sure of landing a berth.

Bobbie Huebel, a Menominee lad is putting up a strong argument for recognition and on Saturday, while playing for the second team, humbled the varsity. Huebel was the star of the game. He made the touchdown and booted the goal. When Yost cut the squad to thirty men Huebel was left The Michigan mentor expects much of the Menominee lad.

PASTOR WEEPS WHEN ACQUITTED

Corunna, Mich.—"Not guilty" was the verdict returned at 10 o'clock this morning by a jury that had been out for 24 hours in the case of Rev. Chester Loomis, the young Methodist Episcopal minister of Henderson, charged with having been unduly intimate with Mrs. Phillip Bingham, 21-year-old wife of a lush township farmer.

Bingham made the complaint. It was understood last night that the jury would be locked in until Monday unless a verdict was reached at 9 o'clock, but court was convened this morning to receive the verdict. Loomis wept for joy when his acquittal was announced.

No case ever tried in Shiawassee county has created more interest than this one. Sympathy generally is with Loomis. He stated some time ago after having resigned the pastorate of the Henderson church because of the charges against him, that he would seek a different field after the disposal of his case.

Rev. Loomis' case has not yet been considered by the Detroit Methodist Episcopal conference which is in session in Saginaw as the conference has been awaiting the outcome of the civil trial.

ROAD TOO SMALL FOR AUTO DRIVER

Menominee, Mich.—State street near Coleman avenue never look narrower and more full of bends and kinks than it did yesterday afternoon to William Sovia and Frank Sharrow, both of Wilson. Also a Ford machine owned by Sovia never seemed quite so heavy as it did before it was lifted from the prostrate pair.

The two were just starting for Wilson about 4 o'clock in the Ford machine, after a long stop in Menominee. It is said. Sovia was driving, and according to pedestrians who saw them before the accident happened, was using each side of the road and a generous share of the middle and the ditches. The machine was proceeding at a merry clip, according to one man who saw the accident when it refused to go further at the ridiculous angle at which its owner attempted to drive it. So it turned turtle. The pair was caught beneath and lusty shouts for a derrick brought the pedestrians to the rescue.

Neither man suffered any broken bones or serious injuries, but both were badly bruised and more or less muzzed up from contact with a mud-ditch.

The automobile, however, received damages which necessitated repairs before the men could continue on their journey home. The windshield, a wheel and both lamps were broken and the radiator crushed. When repairs were made the little "beast of burden" started out willingly, the internal mechanism not having been damaged.

Sovia claims he lost a $35 gold watch in the spill. A search was made where the accident occurred, but was not found.
