BULLETIN
Paris, Oct. 5.—The Figaro reports the young Grand Duchess of Luxembourg deported by the Germans, now a prisoner in the Castel of Nuremberg. According to a resident of Luxembourg just arriving in Paris, officers of the Luxembourg army and 250 volunteers were shot including commander Major Vanduyke. Nearly all of the Luxembourg villages were razed because they interfered with the attack on Longwy. A famine now prevails in the Duchy.

BULLETIN
Paris, Oct. 5, 11 p. m.—Tonight's official statement says: "The general situation is without change. On our left wing action is still going on continuously. In Argonne and on the heights of the Meuse, they were repulsed in attacks by night and day.

BULLETIN
Servian army headquarters, Valjevo, Serbia, Oct. 5.—Servian artillery firing is very accurate. After the fighting at Rozham a correspondent counted three hundred Austrians killed by Shrapnel. The entrenchments are literally filled with bodies mowed down by deadly artillery fire. All prisoners praised the Servian artillery. The fighting spirit of the Austro-Hungarian troops is kept alive by strict discipline.

(Special to the Press.)
Paris, Oct. 5.—The German resumption of the offensive was signalled in a startling fashion today by the delivery of two furious assaults. The first series massed counter attacks directed at the allies north of the Oise. The action in this vicinity was so severe that the French were compelled to give ground at several points. This is not significant, however, of a general recession. It rather means the advance of the French. The British positions assailed were forced to withdraw to the more heavily entrenched fortified position of the main body where the big guns afford better protection. The battle in this region still rages with no result as yet. The second German left developed surprising strength in counter attacks delivered during the night and at repeated intervals during the day, without gain to the enemy. Other sections of the battle front had no developments of importance. The return of the Germans to attack probably means that the invaders are making a desperate effort to keep their offensive alive for the purpose of saving the morale of the army.

PERKINS LOSES TO FLAT ROCK
Because their catcher Richards was injured in the fourth inning of Sunday's game, the members of the Perkins baseball team lost both their confidence and the game to Flat Rock by a score of 10 to 0. The contest was witnessed by a large number of the fans of the surrounding district. Truckey worked on the hill for Perkins while Johnson threw for Flat Rock.

W. C. T. U. IS TO MEET AT MARQUETTE

The next biennial session of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in the peninsula will be held in Marquette, in 1916. The Mining Journal of Marquette says:
Marquette has been selected as the place for holding the next general session of the Women's Christian Temperance union of the upper peninsula, in June, 1916, this decision having been reached at the annual convention held in Pickford, Chippewa county, last week.
The officers for the district for the ensuing year are: Mrs. Anna Crockett, Sault Ste. Marie, president; Mrs. Minnie Crawford, Sault Ste. Marie, corresponding secretary; Mrs. L. A. Johnson, Iron River, recording secretary; Mrs. Mary Keast, Crystal Falls, treasurer; Mrs. Louis Peterson, Stephenson, vice president at large; Mrs. Mary McDowell, Pickford, superintendent of reports of medal contests.

There was a good attendance at the convention, most of the counties of the peninsula being represented. The superintendent of the executive committee made the following appointments for the next year:
Mrs. Minnie Crawford, Soo, superintendent of press work; Mrs. Nellie Bundy, of Marquette, superintendent of the Local Temperance Union; Mrs. H. H. Fellow, of Marquette, superintendent of evangelistic work; Mrs. B. B. Hattorf, of Marquette, superintendent of Sunday school work; Mrs. Lena Bell, press superintendent at Marquette; Mrs. Louise Peterson, Stephenson, superintendent of lumbermen's and miners' missions; Mrs. Anna Sears, Sheldon superintendent of mothers' meetings; Mrs. Mary McDowell, of Pickford, superintendent of medal contests.

Resolutions were adopted voicing the thankfulness of the delegates for a year of prosperity and peace and renewing allegiance to the cause of temperance; protesting against the war in Europe and directing attention to the fact that the women and the children are the worst sufferers; favoring laws and the enforcement of present laws against cruelty to animals; pledging greater effort during the coming year to present the temperance cause more often from the pulpits; taking a decided stand for the movement for state-wide prohibition; extending thanks to the people of Pickford for entertainment during the convention.

Mrs. E. L. Calkins, the state president, was present during the several days of the convention, and gave a number of interesting talks to the delegates and the visiting members and officers.

TELEPHONE COMPANY HAS DONE MUCH

The Michigan State Telephone company has not been idle during the summer past and a great amount of construction work has been outlined for the summer to come. It is planned to erect an entirely new copper circuit between Manistique and this city, thus giving to Manistique and local people a much better service than can possibly be secured at the present.

The recent completion of a line from Iron Mountain to Republic has greatly added to the efficiency of the service in the peninsula. The line was built at a cost of $23,500 and is 47 miles in length.

The company has also recently completed a new exchange at Ironwood.

The bids that will be submitted are from the White Company, the American LaFrance Company and the Seagrave Company. The White company has had a 30 horsepower machine in the city for the past 24 hours for demonstration purposes. Talk of a fire run for both horses and machine was abroad last night and in all probability will take place this morning that the superiority of a machine over a team may readily be shown.

Olo Hanson, Ed. Stone, Ed. Groos and Art. Anderson returned from a hunting trip to Squaw Creek. Although they went on a hunting trip, they returned with a mess of fish.

Snyder, "The Tigers"; and Mervin Wetton, "The Pirates." The team captains will meet this evening to select their teams and each captain will be allowed to name one lieutenant.

SERVICE FOR BIG PLANT

J. H. Weissenflug, of Scranton, Pa., president of the North Michigan Water Company, spent yesterday in Escanaba, inspecting a route for a water main to provide service for the plant of the Birds Eye Veneer Company. It has been practically decided to extend the main from the head of roller avenue to the plant, a distance of 1600 feet, instead of traveling a circuitous route from the head of Ludington street, as was first proposed. A test made at the end of the Rolle revenue sewer yesterday showed a pressure of 58 pounds, or but two pounds less than the ordinary pressure at the pumping station.

MACCABEES ARE OPPOSED

Members of the Maccabee lodges of the district are engaged in a concentrated effort to defeat the proposed "fraternal insurance" amendment to the state constitution, which is to be submitted to the voters at the November election. It was first reported that the Maccabees were not opposing the amendment, but that report was proven to be erroneous as the members of that organization are as vigorously opposing the proposed change in the state insurance laws as the members of any other fraternal organization in the state.

NEW INTEREST AT WHITE HOUSE

(Special to the Press.)

YOUNG MAN SHOOTS SELF

BROODING OVER ILL HEALTH, WELLS YOUNG MAN TAKES LIFE IN OWN HANDS AND UNES GUN

Despondent over his ill health, Carl Sedmihredski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sedmihredski, of Wells, sent a bullet from a 22 calibre revolver, crashing through his breast at the home of his parents on Sunday afternoon, that his suffering might be suddenly ended.

On Saturday the lad returned to his home at Wells, following several weeks in a local hospital, but in spite of the fact that it is evident that he was brooding over his health, he appeared in the best of spirits when friends called at the Wells home to congratulate him on his regaining health.

Invitations had been issued for his marriage to Miss L. Heureux of this city, the ceremony to take place this morning at St. Anne's church. Continual brooding over his health and the thought that his ill health would not permit him to be happy on his wedding day, it is believed, slightly unbalanced his mind, and taking a gun from the home of his sister, he went into a second floor room and shot himself.

The sound of the report reached the ears of the guests on the lower floor and upon rushing to the scene they found the young man lying on the floor, with blood spurting from the wound.

The ambulance was called and the lad rushed to the Laing hospital where an X-Ray examination was necessary to locate the bullet which passed through the left lung. Throughout the day yesterday, the life of the lad was despaired of but at the time of going to press he still lived and conditions at the present seem to point to his recovery.

His bride-to-be is at his bedside almost constantly, refusing to leave him even for a few moments at a time.

MANISTIQUE CHAMPIONS

Manistique's crack baseball team made it two straight victories over Escanaba by taking Sunday's game 4 to 1. Errors at critical stages of the game gave the Schoolcraft county team the victory on Sunday afternoon. In spite of effective pitching, Oimsted pitched great ball for the locals, allowing but four hits in seven innings, while Scanol who finished for Escanaba, held Manistique hitless. Big Chief Paul, of Nahma, had the local sluggers at his mercy throughout the game, allowing but six hits that were well scattered.

EVENT TO ATTRACT

Of the card party to be given under the auspices of the Educational Committee of the Escanaba Woman's Club at the home of Mrs. C. E. Andrus on Saturday afternoon, the following statement has been issued by the officers of the committee:
We trust those whom we are trying to interest in our plans toward bringing up our fund for the visiting nurse will not consider 50c an over-charge, there will be no other charge made for refreshments. If cards do not meet with your approval, remember your contribution goes toward the fund and will be greatly appreciated. This fund is $200 between now and the first of the year and the Educational committee is responsible for it. The cause is worthy and deserves the patronage of more than just members of the Club. Therefore we have given each member the privilege of inviting a guest that they may have the opportunity of aiding in this work.

ALL PLANS COMPLETE

All preparations are practically complete for the third annual convention of the Royal Neighbors of America to be held in this city on Thursday. Announcement was made yesterday by the local committee in charge that all Modern Woodmen of the city with their wives are invited to attend the morning session of the convention at Odd Fellows hall and the dancing party in the evening at Clark's hall.

Ethel Mayme, owned by Joseph Hirm, of this city, took third place in the race. Both horses were driven by their owners. The track was heavy with sand and the best time made was 2:31 1-2.

AUSTRIANS FIGHT AND ARE ARRESTED

As a result of a fight at Wells on Sunday night five Austrians were landed in the county jail here by Sheriff T. J. Curran and his deputies.

In the fracas the house in which the men were living was considerably damaged and the men arrested on the charge of "malicious destroying property." All will probably be arraigned this morning in local courts.

Not until the battle, second only to that of Liege, was well in progress was the sheriff's office called. Immediate response on the part of the officers sent them scurrying in all directions and two were taken near Chandler's Falls while others were taken in the immediate vicinity of Wells. Warrants have also been issued for three others who are said to have been engaged in the fight.

TAILOR SHOP HAS

The new addition to the Jackson Tailor shop has been completed, the Masonic block, giving to the local tailoring establishment one of the foremost shops in the northwest.

The addition extends to the alley to the rear of the building and is equipped with several windows on either side and a skylight giving ample light for the work of the tailors. With addition to the local shop, several other changes will be made including the changing of the cutting room to a position farther toward the front of the store. When all is complete at the Jackson shop it will indeed be most complete.

SAW MILL CLOSES FOR SHORT TIME

The saw mill of the I. Stephenson Company at Wells, has been closed for a short period, while arrangements are being made to meet conditions that have developed in the lumber business. The company's second mill is being operated as usual, a suspension of operations at the plant is not anticipated.

ANTWERP.

A great battle is being waged about the city of Antwerp. The Germans, possibly in an endeavor to clear all enemies from the rear of the invading army in France and to make absolutely safe the way of retreat, have begun
a systematic attack on the fortifications which are said to be the strongest in Belgium.

The Belgians, of course, are resisting. When they moved their capital from Antwerp to Brussels to strongly fortified Antwerp they looked upon
the latter city as their last stand.
Here they will fight with the courage
and determination of a cornered animal.

As yet the Germans have attacked
only the fortifications. It is the hope of civilization that the city may be saved from ruin. For the destruction of Antwerp would be a loss to the world greater than any which has hitherto marked the progress of the war.

The world-wide condemnation of the destruction of Louvain has not been without effect. It is likely that no more deeds of deliberate and senseless cannibalism will be committed by either side. The damage which was done to Rheims cathedral is appalling, but the destruction came as an incident in actual warfare and military necessity is far more than a casualty. At Antwerp there can be no such excuse. If the forts fall there can be no need of bombarding the city. Street fighting may work large damage, but it cannot destroy.

Antwerp, aside from its importance
as a great center of modern commercial industry, is one of the most beautiful cities of the world and one of the richest in glorious monuments of the past. The cathedral has been the center and inspiration of six centuries. It is almost as bold a marker of the architecture as was the noble minster of Rheims, but Antwerp

is not part of a vast battle lines and cannonading would be worse than wanton. Throughout the city are scattered remarkably beautiful buildings of venerable antiquity. There are, too, collections of the Flemish and Dutch masters which are valuable almost beyond computation.

Whether German assailants or Belgian defenders win at Antwerp, the world has a right to demand that the splendor and beauty of the city be spared. Neither side should forget that the war is waged against the men and nations of today, and not against men who lived and wrought and died
centuries before a Hohenzollern emperor of Germany or a Coubourger ascended a Belgian throne.

Accounts of the Japanese assaults on a Kiau-Chau forts have come from Japanese and German sources. According to the former, two Japanese
were killed; according to the latter,
1,700 Japanese were killed and 700 wounded. And yet the Japs have been accused of placing a light valuation
on human life!

Berlin has the most famous cook
in the world. She cooked for the British ambassador until five days before war was declared and then was set adrift, indicating—the Germans declare—that England was bent on war even when talking peace. Will it be the movies or vaudeville for the

After many hardships in the war zone, thirty Mormon missionaries have appealed to the American relief committee in London for aid. One doesn't wonder what they suffered. Europeans are having enough troubles of their own, without getting converted to Mormonism.

Speaking of dry states, states that may go dry, and their neighbors—a doating item states that there is more whiskey stored in Kentucky today
than there was in the entire country
ten years ago. What is Kentucky preparing for—a siege?

Europe isn't the only place whose geography is getting all mixed up.
One learns that Madagascar last year
exported 7,539 tons of Lima beans—
and everybody thought those things
came from a thriving Ohio city.

The name of the genius who sent out the story of the thirty ghostly crews silently whirling over the Canadian Pacific from coast to coast, loaded down with Ghurkas, hasn't been released.

Why doesn't Sulzer go and make a party of his own instead of constantly trying to butt in on another fellow's personal property?

It scarcely seems as if the day was passing right unless news comes that Secretary Bryan has signed another peace treaty.

sional Goat Snodgrass will not seem

HOGS GET DRUNK
DRINKING SILO JULEP

Bellefontaine, O., Oct. 5.—An entire drove of pigs became intoxicated at the John C. Sullivan farm yesterday and the squeals and grunts coming from the swine today indicate they suffer the usual "day after the night before" feeling.
When thirst overtook the hogs they brought themselves of the silo on the farm and, proceeding in a drove to the place, they licked up the silo
drippings with gusto.
The intoxicating effect was almost instantaneous and gyrations entirely uncommon to the hog family accompanied the chorus of squeals and grunts until, finally they ambled to their favorite nooks to sleep off the effects of the silo julep jamboree.

Minister Was Puzzled.
At a marriage service performed
some time ago in a little country
church in Georgia, when the minister said in a solemn tone: "Wilt thou have this man to be thy wedded husband?" Instead of the woman answering for herself, a gruff man's voice answered: "I will." The minister looked up very much perplexed and paused.
He repeated the sentence, and again
the same gruff voice answered, "I will." Again the minister looked up surprised, not knowing what to make of it, when one of the groomsmen at the end of the row said: "She is deaf.
I am answering for her." — Lip-

MAKE ECLAIR SHELLS

NO PARTICULAR MYSTERY ABOUT
POPULAR DELICACY.

Mixture of ingredients and the Cooking of the Batter Before Baking Are Matters That Must Be Carefully Attended To.

Now that eclairs shells are used in so many different ways housewives are gradually learning that this new form of pastry can be made at home
instead of always depending upon a professional cake maker. The recipe must be followed exactly if good results are to be expected, for it is the mixing of ingredients and the cooking of the batter previous to baking that produces the shell that is now being used as the receptacle for ice cream,
cold pudding and fruit mixtures, as well as for salad and cheese combinations.

Any reliable cook book will give a correct recipe for choux paste, which is the culinary name for the special batter used for eclairs and cream puffs. Proper proportions are equal quantities of flour and boiling water,
with half the quantity of butter. No
sugar is used, as the filling, if sweet, is sufficient. If the shells are to be filled with a salad or cheese mixture,
a little salt and paprika should be added to the flour. They can be filled and served either hot or cold.

A recipe which will make 18 small shells calls for one-half cupful of butter, one cupful each of flour and boiling water and four eggs. Put the water and butter in a saucepan and as soon as the boiling point is reached
add the flour all at once and stir vigorously. When the smooth paste leaves the sides of the pan, which is a noticeable stage in the process, remove the saucepan at once. Let the mixture stand for a few minutes and then add the unbeaten eggs, one at a time, beating the mixture thoroughly
after the addition of each egg. Drop by spoonfuls on a buttered shallow tin, shaping the batter in small rounds or
in small finger-shaped portions, having the batter slightly higher in the center. Bake about a half hour, reducing the heat after the first ten minutes. If removed from the oven before they are thoroughly baked the puffs will collapse. A safe rule is to take one out and if it does not fall in three or four minutes it is proof that the others are cooked.

With these shells as a foundation
some of the elaborate desserts now served at fashionable restaurants are an easy possibility to the home caterer. The shells being made in advance no additional work is involved at the time of serving, except splitting and filling. Vanilla ice cream is a favorite filling for hot weather dessert. Pack
the cream firmly in the cavity, replace the top and pour over all whatever appropriate sauce is preferred.

Cream Clam Soup.

One of the best possible ways of preparing clams is in cream clam soup.
Here is an old, well tried recipe:
Drain a quart of clams and chop fine; return to their own liquor and bring slowly to a boiling point. Then let the mixture simmer for twenty minutes. Strain through a fine sieve and thicken the liquor with one-third of a cupful of butter, the same amount of flour and seasoning of salt and pepper. Now scald four cupfuls of milk, to which has been added a slice of onion and two blades of mace.
Strain and add the milk to the clams.
Just before serving add the yolks of two eggs slightly beaten.

Bean Rabbit.

Here is a delightful supper dish
when you have a few cold baked beans left over: Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter in half a cupful of hot milk, add one cupful cold baked beans pressed through a strainer, one half teaspoonful salt, one-fourth teaspoonful paprika and a grating of onion. When the mixture is thoroughly heated add three-fourths of a cupful of soft cheese, finely cut, and a teaspoonful table sauce. Stir until the cheese is melted. Serve on crisp toast.

Prevent Fading.

The way to keep gingham and other wash fabrics from fading is very simple.
Buy several packages of diamond
dye—blue, pink, lavender and green—
prepare it according to directions
and put it in bottles ready for use.
Put enough of the desired shade in the rinsing water and your dresses
will come out looking fresh and new.

Forequarter of Lamb.

This is the most economical of roasts of lamb. Have the butcher take out the shoulder blade and stuff this pocket with bread crumbs, which have been browned with a little onion and butter in a frying pan. Roast and serve with brown gravy and currant
jelly.

Save Egg Shells.

Egg shells are very useful for clearing soups and jellies. That there may be shells in readiness make it a point of always washing the eggs before using them. Put the shells aside in a bowl in the refrigerator.

To Remove "Squeak" From Shoes.

Have a cobbler drive two or three nails (sometimes one is sufficient) in center of bottom (tap) of shoe (treat
both shoes in this same way, if necessary); caused by tape rubbing together.

Enjoy Outing at Groos

A company of 12 local young men and women enjoyed an outing at Groos on Sunday. Dinner was served in the woods, and the afternoon was spent in indulgence in various out-of-doors amusements. They returned to the city early in the evening.

Local Boy as Best Man

The following is an extract taken from one of the Muskoka publications:
The marriage of Woodbridge Metcalf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Horton Metcalf, and Miss Norah Clements, of Muskoka, Canada, which was an event of Saturday evening,
was one of the interesting affairs of the early fall; doubly so, perhaps,
because the date first chosen by the young people was changed to an earlier one on account of the appointment of Mr. Metcalf to a faculty position at the University of California.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Metcalf, accompanied by their son, left Detroit Thursday for Hala, Muskoka, where the wedding was solemnized. Mr. B.
M. Winegar, of Montreal, assisting Mr.
Metcalf as best man. Mr. and Mrs.
Metcalf left for the west and will stop at several points along the Canadian Pacific.

Mr. Winegar is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Winegar of Park Ave.

Bordeaux, Oct. 5.—President Poincare, accompanied by Premier Viviani
and Minister for War, Alexandre Millerand, left at noon today to visit the battle front.

The president goes to the battle
line, not to take part in the strate-
gical, as in the case of Emperor Wilhelm and possibly Emperor Nicholas,
but that he may personally congratulate the troops upon the bravery they have displayed in the long and stubborn fighting.

The news of the president's departure for the front has given rise to the rumor that the allies have gained a great victory, the news of which is withheld, and that M. Poincare has gone to witness the final discomfiture of the Germans. The correctness of this deduction is officially denied,
and it is repeated the situation in the fighting zone is unchanged, as described earlier in the day by a statement of the war office.

Despite the rushing forward of reinforcements to aid the enemy, the German attacks, as viewed here, seem to have little effect. The battle takes on more and more the form of a siege.
Additional forces, which are being sent to the line of the Aisne and Oise,
it is noted, are not coming from Lorraine, Belgium or Germany, but are being drawn from the army operating in Champagne province. The withdrawal of German forces from the center has caused considerable surprise, in view of the extraordinary precautions taken to stop the French advance in this region, especially as the center is regarded as an important element in the German defense.

Paris, Oct. 5.—An official announcement issued by the French war office
tonight reports progress in the region of Soissons, where several of the German trenches have been taken.
The battle of the left wing is in full swing, without any decisive result having been attained. The text of the communication follows:
"On our left wing, the struggle is in full swing in the region of Arras,
without any decision having as yet been reached. The action has been less violent between the upper valley of the Ancre and the Somme and between the Somme and the Oise. We have made progress in the region of Soissons, where some of the enemy's trenches have been captured. On almost all the remainder of the front the lull, already noted, persists. In the Woivre region, we have made some progress between Apremont and the Meuse and on the Rup-dés-Mad."
London, Oct. 5.—The Daily Mail's correspondent in France reports fighting in and around Douar, in the department of Nord, eighteen miles south of Lille, and considers that if the French have reached Douar in force the situation of the Germans
under General von Kluck must be desperate.

London, Oct. 5.—A Bordeaux dispatch to the Times says: "The Germans may soon have cause to regret the success of the movement which carried the mtu St. Mihiel and the banks of the Meuse. While their engineers are making unavailing effort to bridge the river again, the French are working towards their rear."
"The balance of days and nights
of exhaustion in dripping trenches,
of dashing bayonet charges, gallant cavalry action and obstinate bombardment is about to be struck.
France awaits the end of the three weeks' struggle with confidence while casting an eye upon Antwerp."
Berlin, via Wireless to Sayville, R.
I., Oct. 5.—An official statement issued here today, says:
"On the western wing a new French attempt to encircle our forces has been repulsed. The French have been ejected from their positions south of Royce. The sorties from Toul were repulsed with heavy losses."

Petrograd, Oct. 5.—The official communication from the general staff
headquarters, issued tonight reads:
"The battle of Augustow ended
yesterday, Oct. 3, in victory for the Russian arms. The German defeat is complete. The enemy is at this point in a disorderly retreat toward
the East Prussian frontier. The Russian troops are in close pursuit, the Germans in their desperate flight abandoning trains of cannon and munitions, of havig even time to gather up their wounded."
"It is already known that the battle of Augustow began on Sept. 29
with a bombardment by the German heavy artillery, followed by an occasional movement by the enemy. At the same time the Germans made repeated efforts to crush and dislocate the Russian forces near Dluskeniki, on the Nemlen. On Sept. 26, the Germans also began an attack on the fortresses at Ossowetz, but everywhere met with fierce resistance and were compelled to retreat."

"Not satisfied with counter attacks
our troops took the offensive and pursued the enemy. Notwithstanding the energetic resistance offered by the Germans they could not check the onward rush of our troops, who captured the enemy's positions one after another. Routed by this irresistible onslaught, the Germans weakened and are at present in full retreat. They are leaving our territory in haste. At certain points this retreat is degenerating into a flight."
The military governor of Warsaw has posted the following notice: "For some time the population has been agitated by absurd reports of the probability of a hostile occupation. By order of the commander of the army,
I inform the public that Warsaw and its vicinity are, as before, beyond all danger from the enemy. I beg all inhabitants to be calm and peaceably carry on their occupations."
The military critic of the Russian Slavo says the German army assembled in Silesia includes the Bavarian corps and that the army is commanded by the king of Bavaria.
"The Russians now have to deal with a total of six armies," he says. "Two of these are in East Prussia and constitute the left flank; two in west Poland form the center, and two others are concentrating on the right wing, in West Galicia."
London, Oct. 5.—A dispatch from Amsterdam to Reuter's Telegram
company says:
"The German commander at Koenigsberg, East Prussia, has officially announced that the Russian armies in the battle of Oct. 1 and 2 lost three hundred prisoners, eighteen big guns,

many machine guns and much transport material."
London, Oct. 5.—A German official statement received here tonight by the Marconi Wireless Telegraph company said: "The situation throughout the entire theater of war becomes daily more favorable to German arms." The statement then continued:
"The Austro-Hungarian commander-in-chief, Archduke Frederick, and the heir presumptive to the Austro-Hungarian throne, Archduke Charles Francis, have inspected the greatest part of the Austrian northern army
and express themselves well satisfied with the splendid warlike spirit
among the troops."
"The Russian troops which crossed the Carpathians and entered the district of Marmaros have been repulsed and driven back in disorder in the direction of the Galician frontier."

County Clerk J. A. Senor returned last night from a short hunting trip
at Nahma.
George B. Norton returned yesterday from a visit in Detroit and different points in the lower peninsula.
Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Glavin left last evening for a short visit at Chicago.

DR. MAYO SAYS
CANCER IS CURABLE

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 5.—Dr. W. F. Mayo, of Rochester stated that cancer is curable if treated in its early stages and that it is not hereditary so far as medical science knows, in a paper on "The Cancer Problem," read Friday before the Minnesota State Medical association in St. Paul.

Dr. Mayo held that effective treatment of cancer, so far as developed, was distinctly surgical, and that courageous early treatment in many cases effects cures, whereas delay, until operative treatment is useless or only palliative causes that treatment to be futile. Surgical science, he said, has borne the blame unjustly for many fatalities from cancer where operative treatment had been permitted and given at a stage when the disease was beyond cure.

Radium and X-ray treatments have their value, according to Dr. Mayo, for certain forms and certain stages of cancer. "Radium," he said, "has been proved efficacious to a large degree in cases of superficial carcinoma and in sarcoma in about 30 per cent of cases."

Avoid Sedative Cough Medicines.

If you want to contribute directly to the occurrence of capillary bronchitis and pneumonia use cough medicines that contain codeine, morphine, heroin and other sedatives when you have a cough or cold. An expectorate like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is what is needed. That cleans out the culture beds of breeding places for the germs of pneumonia and other germ diseases. That is why pneumonia never results from a cold when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. It has a world wide reputation for its cures. It contains no morphine or other sedative. For sale by all dealers.

A Marvelous Escape

"My little boy had a marvelous escape," writes P. F. Bastians of Prince Albert, Cape of Good Hope. "It occurred in the middle of the night. He got a very severe attack of croup. As luck would have it, I had a large bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. After following the directions for an hour and twenty minutes he was through all danger." Sold by all dealers.

MANY CHANGES IN MAJORS NEXT YEAR

New York, Oct. 3.—Several new managers will have charge of major league teams next year. It seems to be a foregone conclusion that Pat Moran will succeed Charley Doolin as leader of the Phillies, although President Baker refuses to discuss the subject. Nobody appears to know who will supplant Fred Clarke at the Pirates' helm, unless Hans Wagner receives a trial. It is freely predicted that O'Day will be relieved of the Cubs' management, but there's nothing official. John Ganzel is believed to have signed tonnage the Cleveland Naps.

In Chicago it is said that Jimmy Callahan will not lead the White Sox next year, while there seems to be ground for the belief that Jack Dunn can have the management of the Yankees. If Dunn refuses, W. J. Clymer of the Buffalo international league club may get the place.

BRIDAL COUPLE ARE HURT IN A RUNAWAY

Newark, O., Oct. 5.—Jesse L. Cramer, 24, and his bride, Emie L. Cramer, married at 11 o'clock this morning, were probably fatally injured tonight in a runaway accident.

Mr. Cramer, who is a farmer, was testing the speed of his horse and drove into an open drawbridge. All plunged twenty-five feet to the river bed.

Mrs. Cramer has a double fracture of her skull and her husband is injured internally.

LAD LOSES A LEG; CAN'T PLAY FOOTBALL

Milwaukee, Wis.—"Now I can't play football, and I was going to be quarter back on our team," wept little Paul Maves at Emergency hospital last night when he recovered from an anaesthetic. Physicians had amputated his left leg just below the knee and half of his right foot.

He was going to meet his father to walk home to supper when he fell under a Milwaukee road freight train at Fifteenth and Canal streets. Paul is 10 years old and lives at 2012 Canal street.

When the railroad men reached the boy, they found him weeping and almost hysterical from pain. He was holding his injured leg with his arms. "Please don't tell my mamma," he begged the policeman who took him to the hospital in an ambulance.

"You'll buy me a wooden leg, won't you, mamma?" Paul asked later as he beheld his mother. "I'll get used to it and won't have to have crutches, maybe."

He was climbing between two cars of a standing train when a switch engine backed into the string. The boy fell to the tracks.

TOLD STUDENTS
WAR WAS COMING

Washington, Oct. 5.—Students of history at the University of Michigan, 10, 20 or 30 years back are today well grounded for an understanding of the complicated causes which led up to the present titanic military struggle in Europe. Those who took a course known as "Problems in Modern European History" from the late Professor Hudson, know the underlying reasons for the cataclysm.

While not openly predicting a great war, Prof. Hudson always intimated that the irreconcilable ambitions, jealousies and racial, religious and commercial hatreds of the various nations would sometime reach the breaking point. Europe, to his scholastic and far-seeing mind, was sitting on a keg of dynamite. Among the many problems which he analyzed and studied with hundreds of young people of the middle west were the principle of the balance of power in Europe and the resulting triple alliance and triple entente; the problems of the Far East and the Near East, the former involving the "open door" in China, and a calculation of the wonderful latent powers of Japan; the latter having to do with the "Sick Man of Europe," as the sultan was then called.

Ten years ago the question of what to do with the "Sublime Porte," was foremost in Europe. This is still a problem today and carries with it the ambitions and aggressions of Russia, Austria and the new Balkan states. In western Europe there were the questions left unsettled by the Franco-russian war, and the canker resulting from the taking of Alsace-Lorraine by Germany. The unjust dismemberment of Poland and the unrest arising from the heterogeneous racial conglomeration in Austria-Hungary, were all elements in the problem. Every one of these questions were set before the student in masterly style by Prof. Hudson. And all are necessary for a real understanding of "the greatest war in history."

HAVE COMFORT IN KITCHEN

Proper Placing of Electric Fan Will Make Work Far Easier and Less Tiring to Temper.

For the woman who does her own cooking there is hardly any one thing that can give so much kitchen comfort as an electric fan. I have one placed on a shelf diagonally in line with the top of the window. As everyone knows, heat, smoke and cooking odors rise to the ceiling, and, unless given an outlet, permeate all the rooms. Most apartment kitchens have one window, often on a court. Unless there is a good breeze circulating outside the hot air will not go out very quickly, even if the window is open at the top; at least, not quickly enough to prevent smoke and odors from escaping into the other rooms. An electric fan placed as I have said will instantly drive the hot or smoky air out at the top of the window, and an incoming stream of cool air will be forced through the lower opening of the window.

A 16-inch electric fan costs about fourteen dollars. If you already have an electric fan and don't know just where to put it in order to make it do the greatest amount of good possible, try it in the kitchen, and cook in cool, smokeless, odorless comfort.—Kansas City Star.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Powdered starch applied instantly to fruit stains will remove them.

To loosen rusty screws apply a red-hot poker to the head of the screw.

If brass is rubbed with sweet oil after being polished it will not tarnish so quickly.

For cleaning tin there is nothing better than dry flour rubbed on with a newspaper.

Soak new potatoes in water that has a little soda dissolved in it, and you will find that they scrape and clean beautifully.

A well-beaten white of an egg whipped into mashed potatoes before serving them will add greatly to the looks and to the taste of the dish.

To prevent wet shoes becoming hard, clean them and rub vaseline over them before putting them away. This will keep them flexible and prevent the leather from cracking.

Eggless Ice Cream.

A scant teaspoonful of two quarts of new milk. Put three pints on to boil in a tin pail set in a kettle of boiling water. Mix flour with the other pint of milk till smooth, then stir it into the boiling milk. Let it boil ten or fifteen minutes, and just before taking it from the fire stir in one and one-half pounds pulverized sugar; any good white sugar will do. Care must be taken to stir all the time after putting in sugar, only letting it remain a moment, or just long enough to dissolve it. Take from stove and strain at once through a crash towel. When cold add one quart of cream. Flavor with vanilla in the proportion of one and one-quarter teaspoonful to a gallon.

Steamed Chocolate Pudding.

Butter, three tablespoonfuls; sugar, two-thirds cupful; one egg; milk, one cupful; pastry flour, two and one-fourth cupfuls; baking powder, four teaspoonfuls; unsweetened chocolate, two and one-half squares; salt, one-fourth teaspoonful; vanilla, one teaspoonful.

Cream the butter, add sugar gradually and egg well beaten. Mix and sift flour with baking powder and salt, and add alternately with the milk to the first mixture, then add chocolate, melted. Turn into a buttered mold or individual cups; cover and steam two hours.

Golden Fritters.

One pint of water, one pint of flour, six eggs beaten very light, each beaten separately, one tablespoonful of butter. Let the butter boil in the water for a few minutes, then thicken smoothly with flour. Let it remain a short time on the fire, stirring all the time; then put it in a mixing dish and add the eggs. Beat the batter long and hard, then fry in lard. Stir the lard hard and then drop in the fritters by spoonfuls. These are very nice served with fruit or maple syrup.

To Remove Scorch.

If your iron is too hot and you scorch the piece you are ironing, brush the scorched part lightly with peroxide which will immediately remove the scorch. Then brush over with cold water, (or if starched goods, with cold starch water) and iron under a dry cloth.

Home-Made Baking Powder.

One cupful cream tartar, one-half cupful soda, one-half cupful cornstarch; sift the ingredients five or six times, so as to have them thoroughly mixed. This recipe one knows is pure; makes about one pound and costs about one-half what you would pay in the store for it.

"NOBLEMAN" WEDS
A CHARLOTTE GIRL

Charlotte, Mich. That the "Viscount" Phillip Cosmo Gordon-Lennox, late of this city, who was convicted of non-support in the Barry county circuit court, will not appear at the next term of court in Hastings to receive his sentence is the consensus of opinion here, and in that case his bondsman, Isaac Arnold, of this city will be compelled to appear in court and pay the bond, which he signed as security for the bogus nobleman's appearance after the adventurer had been convicted.

The charge was made against the Englishman by his father-in-law in Hastings, who was compelled to support the "viscountess."

After the Englishman's conviction he persuaded Arnold to sign his bond in order that he might be released. Arnold did so, and the Englishman and his wife promptly disappeared. It is thought they are in Chicago. When the "viscount" first appeared in Charlotte he was a social lion.

Representing himself to be a member of the aristocracy with a big fortune awaiting him, he cleverly ingratiated himself with Arnold, to whom he showed papers to prove himself what he purported to be. He is now under obligations to Arnold to the extent of over $3,000.

CHILDREN OF DIVORCED
PARENTS PACK DUDS

Cheboygan, Mich. Despite the earnest pleas of two children to be permitted to live with their mother Judge Cross today awarded them to the father, Robert Gould, who was divorced from his wife a year ago.

Since the divorce the children, Robert, 12 years old and Thelma, 7 years old, have been living with the father. Sometime ago he went to Maunewa to work and sent the children to Grand Rapids to be cared for at his brother's home.

While there, it is said, the children decided that they wanted to live with their mother. They wrote to her at Sault Ste. Marie and made a pathetic appeal for her to come and get them. Mrs. Gould went to Grand Rapids and the tots met her at the station. They had part of their belongings packed in an old grip and had slipped away from their uncle's home before other members of the family were awake.

Mrs. Gould took the children and started for her home but was apprehended and the dream of the children was shattered when the court ordered them to leave their mother. Deputies had to tear them from her in the court room.

RESTEM BEY, PEEVED, IS OFF FOR TURKEY

Washington, Oct. 5.—A. Restem Bey, the Turkish ambassador, has left Washington for New York and today is on his way to Turkey. In a statement before leaving the ambassador said that he was quitting the United States on leave of absence at his own initiative. He explained that this step which he had undertaken without conferring with his government, with which he had not been in communication was the result of the attitude of the United States toward statements he had made comparing lynchings in the United States and the "water cure" in the Philippines to massacres in Turkey.

When the government officials indicated that an expression of a modification of the ambassador's view would be welcomed by the United States Restem Bey notified the Secretary of State that his opinions were unchanged, and he took leave of absence.

DEATH LOSSES FOR GERMANS IS 180,000

Paris, Oct. 5.—While absolutely no authentic figures are obtainable from are familiar with the situation declare that the German casualties in the battle of the Aisne, now believed entering its decisive stage, total fully 180,000 in killed, wounded and missing.

The losses of the allies, they say, will probably reach 100,000, inasmuch as at many points of the line it has been found necessary to deliver frontal attacks on heavily entrenched positions.

The British have lost heavily, but all the gaps in their forces have been filled with the members of the latest expedition to reach France.

Several officers in the garb of the British Indian troops have been seen here in Paris and this is accepted as conclusive proof that at least the Indian regiments are in the field, although up to the present time there has been no official statement on this subject.

WEST INDIES FEAR
THE GERMAN NAVY

New York, Oct. 5.—The steamer Korona today brought a cargo of war-tales from the West Indies. Every native there sleeps with his gun under his pillow, said the Korona's sailors. Little specks of islands that no one ever heard of north of the tropic of Cancer are throwing up towering earthworks and barbed-wire defenses, yesterday's nobodies, are today's generals, rout-abouts are soldiers, every other island. Ten thousand rusty flintlock muskets rule the land, and from the sea come tales of strange men of war threading in and out among the island, always seeking and never finding one another.

This was the war gossip current among sailors from their ports, whom they met on the docks at St. Lucia.

"One of the interesting things," said Frank De Lagarde, the Korona's assistant purser, "was the native guard, every native on the island is happy those days, for he totes a gun, rides a bicycle and marches behind a brass band and the government pays for it all."

"Some of the strangest looking bicycles I ever saw have been commandeered by the authorities. Some of the more the old high wheel affairs that our daddies rode; some of them have no tires; most of them are red with rust and all of them squeak. I heard the troops coming two blocks away. And the arms they carry are in the same class."

"At Barbados every negro and Chinaman on the island has joined the army. I heard that they had been told the Kaiser was planning to send his fleet over and capture the possession. That was enough for those natives. They threw up a line of breastworks that the whole of Europe couldn't take. They fire a cannon every time a ship is sighted. They have burnt up a lot of powder that way, I understand. Whenever that old cannon cuts loose the army coves, lickety split for the shore. They line up behind the breastworks with their muzzle loaders and their derringers and you've got to show them that you don't mean any monkey business."

CALL FRENCH GUNS
"BLACK BUTCHERS"

London, Oct. 5.—Dilatating on the splendid accuracy of the artillery fire and the extent to which the artillery has been used in the present war, the Daily Mail correspondent of France says: "The infantry has counted for little in these protracted operations. On the valleys' left wing the men say that they have nothing to do and several have complained of spending eight days in the trenches without seeing a German. Both armies are tired."

"There was an appalling incident. Three days ago 500 Germans were caught in some flat fields with slopes on every side. The French artillery took up positions secretly and when the moment came to open fire the officer in command, 'Make me a cemetery there. His order was obeyed, the guns accounting for the greater part of the 500 and rifle fire for the rest. Those who were there say not a single German escaped."

"It is no wonder the Germans have nicknamed the big French guns in the field artillery the 'black butchers.' Their effect is terrible. The shells they throw explode only 10 feet above the ground and spread missiles over the area measuring 100 yards by 30 yards. The shock of their explosion alone often kills at once a whole row of entranced men."

OFFICERS TEACH PARROTS TO TALK

London, Oct. 3.—The correspondent of the Telegraph at Petrograd, telegraphing regarding the operations in Russian Poland, near the east Prussian border, says:

"The triangle formed by joining St. Shushin, Augustowo and Ossowo is little more than a vast swamp, making military operations difficult, even in the best weather. Rain has been falling heavily for the past two days, but the Russians, nevertheless are pressing on determinedly.

"The recent fighting has been sanguinary, two German divisions having been destroyed in the battle of Drukeniki. In the west of Russian Poland the brushes between the advance guards continue.

"The Polish peasants are extremely bitter against the Germans and this feeling has been increased by contact with German humor. As an instance, the Germans everywhere pretended to not understand. When translated the peasants found that these papers had inscribed thereon that 'Whosoever presents this at the end of the war will be hanged.'

"There has probably been sniping by the civilian population, as the bodies of six peasants were found hanging to a tree in a Polish town a few days ago. Their fellow townsmen vowed to have revenge and two days later a German scouting party found the bodies of 22 German soldiers hanging from the same tree.

"A letter received here from a Russian officer who is camping on the estate of Emperor William at Rominiken, east Prussia, says:

"William's estate is magnificently equipped and we have everything at our disposal which we could wish. We are enjoying particularly delicious dinners prepared by his fine cooks.

"His parks swarm with rare animals and birds. We are teaching his parrots the Russian language and they are learning to address their imperial master with compliments. I should blush to repeat in company."

CUCUMBER CROP IS SHORT IN MICHIGAN

Washington, Oct. 3.—The Department of Agriculture will immediately take up the investigation of diseases which have affected the cucumber crop in Michigan. Complaints of the ravages of cucumber diseases have come to a number of Michigan congressmen. It seems that a campaign to secure an investigation by the Agricultural Department and an appropriation by Congress to exterminate the disease has been inspired by the branch of the H. J. Heinz Pickle company of Grand Rapids.

Congressman Mapes received a petition signed by numerous cucumber growers in the vicinity of Zeeland, Congressman McLaughlin received a similar petition from residents near Tremont, and Congressman Cramton received one from growers in the Thumb district. The petitions set out that cucumber growing has become an important industry in Michigan, that the disease in later years has infected the cucumber plants to such an extent that the crop has fallen off 50 per cent, and that prompt action to eliminate the disease is desirable.

Congressman McLaughlin, who is a member of the House agricultural committee, took up the matter with William A. Taylor, chief of the bureau of plant industry. He promised to prompt and thorough investigation. Mr. Taylor declares there is at present money in funds available for the immediate work. Mr. McLaughlin declares that when the agricultural appropriation bill is taken up in December, he will make a fight to have a special item included for carrying on the work of eradicating cucumber diseases.

SAYS M'ADOO IS AWAY WRONG

Houghton, Mich., Oct. 3.—Cashier Charles McIntyre, of the First National bank of Lake Linden, when asked about Secretary McAdoo's charge that his bank is carrying an excess reserve, said:

"Before the war we carried a reserve as high as 12 per cent at times. Since the war began the reserve has hung around 7 and 8 per cent, and last Saturday, the Calumet & Hecla day, it was down to 5 per cent. The government requirement is 6 per cent minimum, so that I do not see how we can be accused of hoarding an excess."

MISS BOLANDER IS SUMMONED

Miss Adella Bolander, violinist, vocalist and pianist with the Bolander orchestra, which furnished one of the chief programs at the recent Chautauqua here, died recently at her home in Chicago.

Bright's disease from which the young woman was suffering when she appeared here, was the cause of her demise. She was in poor health while in Escanaba and had to give up her work soon after leaving here. The Bolander orchestra was engaged by the Redpath Lyceum bureau for the past season, beginning the five-day circuit engagements in Mississippi spring, and playing through Illinois and Michigan.

SCHROEDER HELD UNDER BIG BOND

Green Bay, Wis.—Preliminary hearing of Albert Schroeder, charged with assault on the person of Sister Anna, a nun of the town of Greenleaf, was begun in municipal court before Monahan Thursday morning.

During the time that testimony was given by Sister Anna and Sister Antoinette the courtroom was cleared, only those directly connected with the case being allowed to remain.

Among those who were on the stand at the preliminary hearing were Sister Anna, the assault victim; Sister, Antoinette, who was present at the time; Frank Kotak, Peter Heibel, P. Leonard, Sheriff George Kolochecki, M. LaMarche, Albert Laeke and Herman Ronoe, the man whose barn Schroeder was painting.

Schroeder was bound over for trial in municipal court on October 8. He is being held under bonds of $5,000. Unable to furnish the bail, defendant was remanded to the county jail. The accused man admitted in open court that he had served three years in the state penitentiary at Stillwater, Minn., on conviction of assault with intent to commit rape.

METAL TAGS TO SCORE DEATHS

Liege.—(By Courier)—Here, where the tide of German advance for a time dashed on the rock and steel of Belgian forts, I saw something which affected me far more than any of the sorrows of war I have yet encountered. It was a good sized basketful of metal tags, under careful guard at military headquarters.

They are all that is left of Unser Braven Yungchen (our brave boys) who fell around Liege—their identification mark," said the officer.

I asked permission to examine one. It was a small tin tag with two holes for a string. A large number was stamped on it and, below, the number of the regiment. The comparison is grotesque and much like some dog license tags that I have seen.

Great Graves Near Liege.

This afternoon I saw the "rest" of that tag and many others like it—rather, the place here that "rest" of that tag was.

Between the forts Barhoux and Vequeze it was in the trenches where the Belgians received the Germans with a shuddering fire when they stormed those two forts—the first that fell—hereby getting an entrance into the city. It was here that the men went down like grass before the scythe. The Germans had come one—nothing could stop them—they seemed to go to their death gladly, as one Belgian remarked to me.

The Belgian trenches now are filled and levelled. I could hardly find them even with a guide. One grave was about 60 feet long. Another 80 or 90.

Here is where the metal tags were gathered.

Each man and officer wears one around his neck. That of the private is usually a tag with a number corresponding with the number opposite his name on his company and regimental rolls. Many also have the number of the regiment on the tag.

Bear Names and Addresses.

The tags of the officers usually are of aluminum, and, besides the number, have the name and rank, sometimes also the home address. Some of the privates also have replaced the common tin tags with an aluminum one, purchased themselves at 30 cents each, upon which is stamped name, address and regiment besides the required number.

After the battle when the Germans find their dead the collar on each shirt is opened, the string cut and the identification tag taken and sent to headquarters. There the books are open and "fallen," together with the place of fight or battle is written opposite the name and number of the dead soldier.

At Liege probably for the first time so far as I can learn German officers and common soldiers were buried in the same trench.

It has always been the rule—a sort of unwritten law—that every fallen officer should have a separate grave. To a large extent this is still done, especially with the officers of higher rank than captain. But the unprecedented mobility and rapid advance of the German army into Belgium and France made this extremely difficult.

No Time For Ceremony.

A non-commissioned officer—a volunteer 58 years old—who commanded a burial squad at Liege, told me there was not time to take much pains in burying. The tags were removed from the fallen, watches, money, etc., taken to be sent to the relatives, the bodies—uniform and all—wrapped in their blankets and laid in rows, side by side in the trench.

The fallen of the enemy are placed together in a separate trench. The uniforms are taken from the bodies of the enemy's fallen and laid on the top of the grave as a means of identification to friends. If they wear tags they are removed.

The officer with whom I talked, said that the many separate graves of officers, as had been shown after 1870, proved troublesome to land owners. It has been decided, therefore wherever thought best to bury officers with their men.

One of the features of the German side of a battlefield in this war is the thorough manner in which the Germans "clean up" the field after a battle. It is not only the natural "scent of orderliness," which is so characteristic of the German character, but there is method and purpose. That is, the battlefield shall reveal no tales. It shall give nothing from which a conclusion can be drawn as to losses or any other information. Everything is removed as if a rick-packer had gone over the field. There are little traces of graves from the size of which conclusion might be drawn as to the number buried.

The future belongs to the living not the dead, seems to be the motto.

Clean-Up Squad Always Mays.

On the German side of battlefields I have visited, and from the many I have visited, and from the enemy's other battlefields in Belgium and France, I have always heard the same observation, "however, fast the Germans advance, they leave a 'clean-up' squad."

In sharp contrast to this are the sections of the battlefields over which the French fought. They are simply littered with guns, knapsacks, blankets, etc. Every one of these things is a sign readable by the trained officer.

At the last analysis it is the "metal

TESREAU IS SUED FOR BREACH OF PROMISE

New York, Oct. 5.—"You Broke My Heart To Pass the Time Away" might well represent the complaint of Miss Clara Young of Perryville, Mo., who has started a breach of promise action against Charles E. (Jeff) Tesreau, star of the Giant's pitching staff. Jeff has filed a -25,000 bond in the supreme court guaranteeing his appearance when the case is tried.

That Jeff kept his pitching arm in condition winter before last by practicing "bear hugs" with Miss Young was the charge of the young woman. She alleges further that Jeff asked her to sign him up for life and that she assented.

For several months Miss Young was happy. Jeff spent many cold winter nights in the parlor of her home, warmed by the heat from the glowing hard coal burner. His love, unlike the snow, did not melt away when the warm spring sunshine came. Many letters passed between the couple while Jeff was traveling about the country with the Giants.

Miss Young spent many happy hours planning her trousseau, anxiously awaiting the close of the baseball season, when her "Lovin' Jeff" would return.

Then came the blow! Clara's dream castles tumbled about her ears with a dull, sickening thud. Her dream of love was over.

Word reached Perryville that Jeff had married a Miss Helen E. Blake, and started around the world with the Giants-White Sox party. Thrusting for revenge from the man who had shattered her ideals, Miss Young filed suit against the Giant pitcher. She has a number of letters in her possession received from Tesreau, which she says she will produce when the suit is tried. In one letter the baseball star wrote:

"You spoiled me the evening we came from your sister's—I mean I was already spoiled—but that first kiss was enough to have me tell you about it. And I have never regretted a word I ever told you or minute I spent with you."

In another letter to her he queries: "I gave my arms lots of exercise last winter, didn't I?"

In a third letter he wrote: "McGraw has been kidding me ever since the news came out. He asked me if I could do my best when I was in love. Everybody on the club now calls me Clara."

CUPID STARTS SCHOOL OF CORRESPONDENCE

Owosso, Mich.—The chief of police, the Michigan Central agent and several neighbors of James C. Reynolds, sexton of the Maple River cemetery and well known in this part of the county, assisted Cupid in getting Reynolds to meet Mrs. Emma E. Joyney, of Leon, Ohio, Wednesday and although they never had met before, they were married immediately.

Reynolds recently inserted a matrimonial advertisement in the local papers and it was answered by Mrs. Joyney. They decided to wed after corresponding for a time and Mrs. Joyney. They decided to wed after corresponding for a time and Mrs. Joyney was to come to Owosso where she was to meet Reynolds at the Ann Arbor depot Tuesday evening. She failed to arrive and the groom was apprehensive. He came to town however, Wednesday morning with a load of grain and was on hand when the Ann Arbor passenger train arrived from the south. Mrs. Joyney did not come on that and Reynolds was sure that his bride had failed him. He started home.

Meanwhile Mrs. Joyney arrived on a Michigan Central train. Finding no one at the depot to meet her, she began making inquiries. The ticket agent seeing a chance to aid Cupid, got busy on the telephone and called farmers along the route of Reynolds's homeward trip. These friends stopped Reynolds, told him of the arrival of his bride and he turned about and went to the police station. The chief directed him to the Michigan Central depot.

Reynolds had a license and the couple went to the Baptist church parsonage and were married Wednesday afternoon by Rev. J. G. York. They will reside on the groom's farm, south of Owosso. Reynolds is a widower and Mrs. Reynolds has been married once before.

Nothing I have seen so far in this war—the wretchedness of prisoners, the misery in the path of war, the suffering of wounded, the stench arising from Fort Loncin the men maimed for life, has so impressed me, so saddened me, as this little tag.

Cherry Pie.—Line the pie plate with good crust, fill with cherries, sweeten with about two-thirds of a cupful of sugar and sprinkle over two teaspoonfuls of flour. Wet the edge of the under crust to prevent juice from running out, cross the top with strips of pie paste and bake.

A Favorite Dish.
Cherry Brown Betty.—In a buttered pudding dish arrange alternate layers of stoned cherries and breadcrumbs, seasoning each layer with bits of butter, a tablespoonful of sugar and a pinch each of ground cinnamon and nutmeg. Serve accompanied by hard sauce.

Cherry Cups.—Sift together a pint of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a pinch of salt, third of a cupful of sugar and then rub in two tablespoonfuls of shortening. Mix with water to a drop batter. Butter deep individual baking cups or dishes well and drop in a teaspoonful of the batter, then another spoonful of the batter, allowing space in the cups for the pudding to puff up well. Put them in a steamer or in a pan of hot water and place in the oven. Cover and steam. Serve with cherry sauce.

LEAGUE LEADERS

DOWN THE YANKS

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 5.—Bush held the Yanks to two hits today and the American League champs won with a shutout 2 to 0.

The Score: R. H. E. New York 000000000—0 2 1 Philadelphia 101000000—3 5 0 Batteries: McHale and Sweeney; Bush and Schang; Ump: Evans.

JOHNSON IS HIT FREELY BUT WINS FROM BOSTON

Boston, Mass., Oct. 5.—Walter Johnson was hit freely today but he kept the blows scattered and Washington won from Boston 9 to 3.

The Score: R. H. E. Washington 200101022—9 11 2 Boston 101000001—3 10 3 Batteries: Johnson and Ainsmith; Collins and Cady. Ump: Connolly Eand kan.

THE CRACKING OF THE GIANTS

New York, Oct. 5.—The once mighty Giants have faded. The nerve racking pace of a tight pennant race, in which they hoped to annex their four straight National league championship, has had its effect and the old Giant machine has gone to pieces under the strain.

A variety of reasons are advanced for the collapse of the McGraw benchmen. The loss of Herzog and McCormick, who were members of last year's team, the falling down in the batting of the regulars, and the failure of Marquard and Demaree to pitch up to their 1913 form, all seem to contribute to the slump of the old champion.

A comparison of the pitching record of 1913 and 1914 shows that Mathewson and Tesreau are the only New York flingers who have been able to duplicate this season their performance of last year. Mathewson has not quite equalled his 1913 mark, but Tesreau has surpassed his record of last year.

In contrast to the good work of "Matty" and "Big Jeff" the pitching of Demaree and Marquard has been a bitter disappointment to Gotham fans this season, since great reliance had been placed on this pair of heavies to add to the list of victories.

Last season Demaree and Marquard pitched wonderful ball, the former winning 23 out of 29 games and the last-named copping 23 out of 32 games pitched. The records of the pair for this season show they have lost double of games they have won.

This reversal in pitching form on the part of the two stars was enough in itself to put the skids under the Giants. But in addition, McGraw has had to contend with weak hitting on the part of his regulars. While the Giants surpass the Braves in team-battling, the individual batting marks of the New Yorkers, with the exception of Burns, Grant and Bescher, are below the percentages turned in last season.

Of the three Giants who have bettered their batting averages this year, the greatest climb has been made by Grant, who has advanced from .211 in 1913 to .307 this year. Burns has boosted his figures from .268 to .302 and Bescher has gone up from .258 to .277.

McGraw Will Rebuild. Another apparent weakness in the Giant's game is in the pinch-hitting department. Harry McCormick, who managed the Chattanooga team this season, was the pinch-hitter for the Giants last year, and closed the season with a batting average of .275. This season Mike Donlin, in his day one of the greatest batters in the game, was engaged to fill McCormick's place. But Mike has failed to live up to his reputation as a pinch-hitter, his batting average being less than .200.

The foregoing are the facts and figures in regard to the slump of the Giants. But in some quarters other causes are advanced for the downfall of the old champions. Some say that the winning of three pennants caused the team to become "chesty." Believing they had a clinch on the flag this year they took things easy and when the time came for them to show the punch or lose—they lost.

New York fans will not be surprised if several of the present regulars are either benched or released when the 1915 season opens next April. Manager McGraw has a dozen promising recruits awaiting the chance to get into the regular lineup, and it is more than likely that he will give some of them an opportunity to show what they can do. At present the old Giant machine looks to be on the rocks and it is evidently up to McGraw to rebuild the outfit with some of the material now doing bench duty.

SUNDAY'S RESULTS

American League. Detroit, Oct. 5.—Detroit, fighting for third place in the pennant race, closed the season by defeating Cleveland, 11 to 6, here. Cobb's hitting and baserunning brought victory to the Tigers, but Cleveland's weird defensive work helped to swell the score. Washington must win two of its three remaining games to finish ahead of Detroit.

The Score: R. H. E. Cleveland 6 8 3 Detroit 11 10 4 Batteries: Dube and Stange; Mitchell and Egan.

Chicago, Oct. 5.—The final curtain of the American league season in Chicago was rung down with a 5 to 1 victory for the White Sox over St. Louis. Daring baserunning on the part of the home club, coupled with base on balls off Leverenz, opportunity hitting and errors, gave Chicago the game.

The Score: R. H. E. St. Louis 1 5 3 Chicago 5 9 5 Batteries: Leverenz and Agnew; Faber and Mayer.

National League. Cincinnati, Oct. 5.—Pittsburg and Cincinnati divided a double-header here, Cincinnati winning the first, 5 to 4, and the Pittsburg club the second, 11 to 4. The second was called at the end of the sixth on account of darkness.

First Game.—The Score: R. H. E. Pittsburg 4 7 2 Cincinnati 5 10 4 Batteries: Adams, Gonzalez and Schang; Fittery, Douglas and Glocks.

Second Game.—The Score: R. H. E. Pittsburg 11 7 1 Cincinnati 4 6 4 Batteries: Mameaux and Smith; Benton and Gonzales.

St. Louis, Oct. 5.—St. Louis and Chicago divided a double-header here, the home team taking the first game by a score of 4 to 3 and the visitors the second game by a similar score, the latter contest being called at the end of the sixth inning on account of darkness.

First Game.—The Score: R. H. E. Chicago 3 8 2 St. Louis 4 9 2 Batteries: Cheney, Pierce and Archer and Bresnahan; Niehaus and Snyder.

Second Game.—The Score: R. H. E. Chicago 4 8 0 St. Louis 3 5 0 Batteries: Vaughn and Bresnahan; Williams, Robinson and C. Connor.

Average Consumption of Water. While the average amount of water used daily in the cities of the United States varies from 50 to 150 gallons per capita, there is an almost uniform consumption of a little more than half a gallon by each person for drinking purposes.

Manager McGraw has a dozen promising recruits awaiting the chance to get into the regular lineup, and it is more than likely that he will give some of them an opportunity to show what they can do. At present the old Giant machine looks to be on the rocks and it is evidently up to McGraw to rebuild the outfit with some of the material now doing bench duty.

BOSTON CHAMPS WIN TWO GAMES

Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 5.—Boston delivered a heavy jolt to Brooklyn today, taking the first game of a double header, with a 15 to 2 slaughter and the second 9 to 5, in spite of loose playing.

CONTRACT WORRIES MANAGER MCGRAW

There is no doubt that McGraw is planning a complete reorganization of his club for next year, but an unexpected obstacle has arisen. Most all of the present players—especially the veterans—are under three-year contracts at high salaries. These contracts were made irrevocable so that they could not be broken by the players who might get notions about the Federal League. This irrevocable clause also tied up the owners, and the question arises as to how McGraw is going to get rid of these men when he starts his reorganization. Of course they can be sold or transferred by trade, but in any even the club which gets them must assume the contract and pay the salary. Will they? They will not.

"As a matter of fact," said one of the magnates yesterday, "the clubs rushed too quickly into that plan of protecting themselves against the Federal League. They would be better off, in many cases, if the outlaws had succeeded in weaning away the players they were after. Here we are loaded up with a lot of material we do not want, but have got to carry."

A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Thiek. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Collins, of Madison, were in the city yesterday.

STALLINGS SAYS THAT BRAVES SURE TO WIN

Hozean Bulger, who writes baseball stories for the New York Evening World, drifted into the hotel where the Boston Braves made their headquarters while in New York. This occurred previous to yesterday's doubleheader between the Giants and Braves. Bulger found Stallings and his players swamped with telegrams, following is what Bulger wrote in yesterday's issue of the World.

All that George Stallings needed this morning to make him the happiest man in the world was some one to help him read telegrams.

"The players can't help me," he explained, "because they are reading their own. But if I can get through this bale in time," he laughingly added "we'll be tearing into that double header just as we intend doing before we learned upon leaving Boston that the Pirates already had saved us the trouble of clinching the pennant."

In the lobby of the Somerset hotel, as Stallings was talking, there were more messengers boys than players, and one could easily have mistaken the gathering for a political headquarters getting the returns. Congratulatory telegrams came from all parts of the United States, and there was not a player who failed to get one of those "whooper-up" messages from the old town. In the lot received by Stallings there was one from the Giants, and he said he appreciated that more than all.

The whole United States, it seems, has been pulling for the Braves because of their wonderful dash thru the homestretch, and there was never a ball club so universally remembered by telegraph.

And, when we come to think it over, such doings, should not be considered strange. Here is a ball club that was in last place July 4, one of the jokes of the season. From that humble position they suddenly put spurs to themselves, got a toe hold and breezed through the entire league within a little more than six weeks. In the National league it is a record.

Fearing that he would have to win the pennant for the Giants in the double header at New York, the Boston manager played an early game with the Cubs yesterday so that he could leave Boston at 5 o'clock and reach here in time for his athletes to have a good night's rest. From the cocky and clean cut appearance of these new champions they appear to have had the rest all right, even the Pittsburg's defeat of the Giants made the unusual precautions unnecessary.

Stalling will do no more traveling at night until he has had a chance to beat the Athletics and even up all of his old scores with Ban Johnson.

There is none of the blase, matter-of-course manner about the leader of the new champions. George Stallings is as enthusiastic and happy over his success as a boy out of school.

"Fellows," said the Braves' leader as he expanded his chest and let out a sigh of relief, "I am going to be honest and tell you that when I made that boast the latter part of July I did not really believe that our club would overhaul the champions the first week in September. I felt a winning spurt coming on, but I could not figure it to last so long. My players hit it up better than I expected. They even fooled me. But I didn't have to urge them. They got the pennant be buzzing and began to urge me. It was in the air."

"For the simple reason that my club has kept up this pace so consistently," Stalling continued, "I believe the impetus of it will carry them right on through the Athletics. Baseball form is a great thing and figures are usually right, but there is nothing in the world like a team that gets the notion in its head that it is a winner. My players are eager to get at the Athletics, and you can bet that the big series will not be one-sided."

SOMERS MAY QUIT AMERICAN LEAGUE

Cleveland, O., Oct. 5.—One stupendous coup that would make the Federal League rank with the American and National leagues is planned by the outlaw organization. Every effort is to be made to influence one man to desert the American league. They plan to win over one magnate and it is said that Charles Somers of the Naps is that man.

Somers in one respect is the biggest man in organized baseball. He controls more ball players than any other magnate. He has one of the finest baseball plans in the country.

Somers is ready to sue for peace. The Federal invasion has played havoc with the playing strength of his team and as a result he has lost a fortune this year through falling off in attendance. Other American league moguls did not suffer as severely and plan to continue the fight against the Federals. Ban Johnson it is said tried to patch up matters in a recent visit to Cleveland, but failed.

Somers is the man who made the American league. It was his money that tided the new organization over the shoals when it appeared as if Johnson's scheme would fall through.

FEDERALS WANT JOHNNIE MCGRAW

Chicago, Oct. 5.—A story printed here today says the Federal league has offered John J. McGraw, now manager of the Giants, the leadership of a Federal league team to be placed next year in New York. The story hints McGraw is dissatisfied with a clause in his contract which provides that he draw $30,000 a year. If the Giants finish first or second, but cuts the salary to $12,000 should the team end below second. Members of the Ward family, holders of the Federal franchise in Brooklyn are said to have made McGraw the offer. The story says the Indianapolis team is to be placed in New York if McGraw will take its management.

The Brooklyn Federals are said to have signed for next year Walter Johnson, Ray Collins, Hans Lobert, Sherwood Magee and Charles Doolin.

THE GOOD JUDGE TAKES A SNAP SHOT OF THE POLITICIAN

YOU would rather take a clean, small chew, of course! "Right-Cut" users get real tobacco satisfaction from less than a quarter their old size chew—and they are passing the glad news along to their friends. It's the Real Tobacco Chew. Made of pure, sappy tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short ahead so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary snuffed tobacco makes you spit too much. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut". One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

Many Thanks ...

For the vote of confidence so liberally bestowed with the hundreds of sacks at the Central Cash Market this Saturday past. You had been offered beet roast at 10c and spring chickens at 15 cents per pound. Was this offer a mere bait, a ruse, or would some one take it in his head to have you believe that the Central Cash Market is overcharging you. There never was nor ever will be such a thing as overcharging at the Central Cash Market. We use neither bait nor bargain for what so ever we sell you goes at but one rock bottom price and nothing is excepted. To come back to beef roast and spring chickens will say that beef roast is in the critter cost 15 cents per pound and live spring chickens cost 16 cents per pound delivered here. To the 15 add 2 cents for shrinkage and dressing and two cents per pound for handling charges and you have spring chickens at 2 cents per pound over and above cost. And when you come to retail on a 2 cents per pound margin you have to go some to make both ends meet.

Kindly accept from someone who does business open and above board, whose only aim is to serve you well and give you your money's worth at all stages of the game. During the few months the Central Cash Market has been doing business we have saved you $2000 and over. This will buy clothes, fuel and help out in a good many ways. We are open for inspection and invite the verification of any statement we make you and again let us thank you for the confidence you have in the Central Cash Market and allow me to further state that this confidence of yours will never be violated. Yours for a square deal and your money's worth always.

MACDONALD MAKES READY

W. J. MacDonald, of Calumet, representative of the Twelfth congressional district in congress, will be a candidate for reelection on the National Progressive ticket at the November election. Although voters of the end of the peninsula are not now widely interested in MacDonald's candidacy, he was originally elected on this district and his campaign will be watched here with considerable interest.

Of MacDonald's plans for his campaign the Mining Journal says:

W. J. MacDonald, of Calumet, representative of the Twelfth district, is in Marquette yesterday on his way to the copper country, where he will open his campaign for reelection in a few weeks and will be in Marquette for a week and a half before starting on a tour of five days' stay. The remaining part of the election he will give to other counties of the district. Although attendance on the sessions of congress has prevented Mr. MacDonald from giving any attention to his campaign until this late date, he expresses confidence in his ability to carry the entire district in the coming month, and he expects to address interviews most of the voters.

In reply to a request of The Mining Journal for a statement, Mr. MacDonald stated the following:

"The house has practically finished work for the session. It is awaiting the passage of the war tax bill in senate and the completion of the reference report on the Clayton antitrust bill. Congress will then adjourn, probably before Oct. 15."

"I expect to spend the time that I can in the district in presenting the people as fully as possible the facts in regard to the work of congress for the past two years, to counter my view of the present political situation and vital matters that should be carefully considered by my voter before he goes to the polls."

"November, to make, in substance, clear and concise report to the people who have honored me with their trust as their representative at Washington."

"I believe that the average citizen more and more coming to see that political matters are of vital importance in his immediate welfare, that they are not merely a game to be left to the politician to play for his interest, or the interests of those who control the party machines."

"The beneficiaries of the old boss-stroled bi-partisan machine system are bitterly determined to wipe out of public life the men who stood against them and for progressive action. They will spare nothing to accomplish this end. All the old shopworn slogans such as the 'full dinner pail' and the like will be worked over and over again. Thoughtful men will not be misled, however, as it is becoming more and more apparent that our conditions demand reforms vital to public welfare, which will in the long run benefit even the stubborn reactionaries, even though it shears off part of their dime power over the fellow citizens."

"The interests of the district are looking longingly for a return by a people to their old-time supremacy and the election to office of a man whom they can control. The people, having once exercised their right are not likely to go backward. It is human rights demand consideration is here to stay."

Representative MacDonald expects heavy vote in the district, and being he is going to be sent back to congress. He admits that on the issue of the situation this seems to be the best order, but says that he is advised from many quarters that the movement of sentiment in his favor among the masses of the voters is increasing. I have scores of letters written to me from whom I am sure never before will be written to their representative before assuring me of support," Mr. MacDonald said yesterday.

Mr. MacDonald returns to the district well supplied with campaign material he will use in his canvass. The most interesting exhibit is the following copy of an autograph letter from Col. Theodore Roosevelt:

"New York City, Sept. 1, 1914."

"Hon. William J. MacDonald, Calumet Michigan;

"My dear Mr. MacDonald:

"Permit me personally to congratulate you upon your activities in the 33rd Congress. I have more particularly in mind your efforts to bring before the bar of public opinion the machinations of those evil forces which would selfishly control legislation, as evidenced in the lobby exposures, and your fearless championing of the rights of labor."

"Your whole course has merited the support of all good citizens in your district, regardless of party. You have been aggressively and effectively a part of that group of representatives who have proved to be the only sanely constructive force at the Capital."

"You have stood against the secret closed caucus, for open committee meetings and against gag rules."

"You voted for the Progressive Tariff Commission, for real currency legislation, and the genuinely effective measures dealing with the Trust Problem."

"All of these and others were offered in fulfillment of the covenant with the people embodied in the Progressive platform of 1912. You and those associated with you proposed a program of concrete measures for the advancement of social and industrial justice. You are deserving of no less credit because these measures were rejected."

"It is my desire and my hope and belief that a service of the character, vision and courage you have given, will meet with the hearty popular endorsement at the polls, which it so richly deserves."

"Trusting that you will be returned to continue your efforts for the common good in the 64th Congress and that this fight for a square deal, so admirably begun, shall suffer no interruption for the lack of men of your caliber and courage, I am,

"Faithfully yours,

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

Rats in England.

Deputy Consul Luther J. Parr, at Sheffield, England, makes a report on rats. The steel works and large stores in Sheffield are infested with rats, writes Mr. Parr, and many attempts have been made to exterminate them. In the work, however, little damage is done, and it is the rule occasionally to employ a professional rat catcher, who captures about 100 rats a night, and is paid one dollar for a night's work. Such a calling is no doubt influenced by the fact that there is a ready sale to the sporting men for the rats caught, the rats being used in training dogs. Several exterminators are in use in Sheffield, all more or less effective. An opportunity will shortly occur in Sheffield to demonstrate the value of American rat exterminators. What is known as the killing shambles and the fish and meat market, in the center of the city, are to be raised in accordance with the new city planning idea of the municipal authorities. When this work is begun thousands of rats will be forced to seek other quarters. Articles and letters in considerable number have appeared in the Sheffield papers recently urging that special efforts be made to exterminate the vermin and not permit them to migrate.

TO RESTORE PICTURE FRAMES

Two Mixtures Which Will Remove the Tarnish Caused by Smoky Atmosphere—Use Soft Brush.

Gilt frames which have become darkened through exposure to smoky atmosphere can usually be improved by the use of an old-fashioned remedy. To make it take sufficient flour of sulphur to give a golden tint to about two and one-half pints of water, and in this boil four or five bruised onions. Strain off the liquid, and with it, when cold, wash with a soft brush any gilding that requires restoring.

Another restorer is two ounces of white of egg; chloride of potash or soda, one ounce; mix well; dust off the frames with a soft brush, and go over them with a soft brush dipped in the mixture. It would be well to try a little of this mixture first on a portion of the frame that is not conspicuous, as there are different methods of gilding, and the potash or soda might possibly not suit. Sometimes the white of egg alone, put on with a camel's hair brush, is sufficient to clean a nice gilt picture frame. Avoid rubbing the frames, as the gilding must be touched very gently.

Recipe for Spinach Loaf.

One and one-half cupsful of spinach which has been cooked, chopped and rubbed through a sieve; two eggs, two tablespoonfuls of butter, one teaspoonful of salt, one-eighth teaspoonful of pepper, one-quarter teaspoonful of onion juice.

Add the melted butter to the spinach, then the well beaten eggs and seasonings. Turn into buttered molds or a bread tin. Set in a pan of water and cook until firm. Garnish with hard cooked eggs if desired.

Disguised Raspberries.

Make a small amount of tapioca cream, say one pint of milk, 14 tablespoonfuls tapioca, cooked together (in double boiler) 15 minutes, add one-fourth cupful of sugar, yolk of one egg, pinch of salt. Cook until thick and finish with vanilla. When cold, put raspberries in serving dish, un-sweetened, pour cream over them. Make a meringue of the white of egg and barely brown in oven. Serve ice cold.

Currant Pie.

Wash and stem enough currants to measure three cupfuls and put them in a deep pudding dish. Cover them with enough sugar to sweeten them. If they are very sour they will need a good cupful. Then pour over them half a cupful of boiling water and put the dish in a slow oven to simmer gently for half an hour. Remove from the oven, cool and cover with pie crust. Bake until brown and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

Marmalade Fritters.

Six rounds thin bread sandwiches filled with Rosebud's fine marmalade, two eggs beaten, one-half cupful milk, one cupful flour, one tablespoonful sugar, one tablespoonful butter or oil, dash salt. Mix all thoroughly. Cover the sandwiches with above mixture and fry in hot fat. Drain, sprinkle with powdered sugar and cinnamon and serve.

Delicate Pudding.

Three crackers rolled fine, one pint boiling milk poured over them. Let cool, then add three tablespoonfuls sugar, three eggs, reserving whites of two. Bake and when done beat the two whites stiff, sweeten, flavor, spread on top and brown in oven.

For a Ball of Cord.

A little brass holder for a ball of cord has on one side a small pair of scissors securely fastened. This would be a great convenience on the desk or on the kitchen shelf.

SPINACH AS IT SHOULD BE

Delicious Vegetable Always at its Best When It is Cooked Without the Addition of Water.

Spinach is seldom cooked properly. In spite of the fact that it is the vegetable easiest cooked. It should be thoroughly washed in cold water a number of times and allowed to stand in cold water to freshen. Then taken up in large handfuls and placed in a porcelain-lined boiler or saucepan. No water need be added, as the washed leaves will hold enough water to do the cooking. If you have a large quantity to cook, a cupful of water may be added, but this is not necessary. Cover and cook five minutes, then uncover and turn the spinach over so it will cook evenly. It will not require more than ten minutes. If the spinach is young and tender. It will be a rich vivid green and appealing to behold. As soon as it begins to darken it is overcooked and will become rank and bitter, and about as palatable as hay. The spinach may be drained and served with plenty of butter and seasoning of salt and pepper. A garnish of hard-boiled eggs enhances its appearance. Or the spinach, when steamed tender, and drained may be chopped fine and reheated in a saucepan with two generous tablespoonfuls of butter to half peck of spinach, and salt and pepper to taste. Simmer five minutes if the spinach is young; not longer than ten minutes if older. If your spinach is over-grown and requires more than ten minutes cooking in its own moisture, it is better to first blanch it in plenty of boiling salted water, in order to remove its strong and oftentimes acrid taste.

POLITICAL AGENT VISITS THE CITY

J. H. Mackin of the Soo, who is representing Francis T. MacDonald, congressional candidate for the new Eleventh district, was in the city yesterday on his tour of this section of the district. Mr. Mackin has been in Delta county for the past several days and to the Press last night stated:

"Although I have practically just started my campaign for MacDonald I am receiving most gratifying predictions from some of the foremost politicalians of all political affiliations for both MacDonald and Ferris. It is a matter of great deal of satisfaction to me to know that a man of the type and calibre of MacDonald has been chosen by the democrats to make the run and I am going to be terribly disappointed if my predictions should go wrong. However, at the present time I see no possible change for such, in spite of the strong opposition."

"It is my most heartfelt desire that Mr. MacDonald will be given the time to come into this district for a few speeches that the people may know just what he is and how he stands. He is the type of man that the people could depend upon as a just and reliable representative and is a born leader of men. His experience when connected with the secretary of treasury under the Cleveland administration should make his qualifications of the best."

REFUSES USE OF MAIL TO RING CO.

Washington, Oct. 5.—The supposed power of a ring to cure disease led to the issuance of fraud order today by the postoffice department against the Electro-Chemical Ring Co. of Toledo. The company, which has been owned and conducted since 1892 by W. H. Brownson, used the mails on a large scale to advertise the curative properties of the ring.

The Toledo concern offered two rings for sale—the one a plain ring for $2 and the other gold plated for $4.

In his answer to the summons to show cause why a fraud order should not be issued against his company, Brownson said his receipts last year were $45,600 and that he paid income tax on $15,550 for ten months.

TRANSITORY FRENZY FREES ILL. WOMAN

Chicago, Oct. 5.—Mrs. Nellie Higgs, tried for the murder of William W. Willis, a married man with whom she had conducted a liaison, was found not guilty by a jury in Judge Kersten's court here today.

Her acquittal adds another name to the long and unbroken list of such verdicts in cases of women similarly accused in this city.

Mrs. Higgs testified that her mind was a blank concerning the actual shooting, and an expert testified that at the time of the act, she was suffering from "transitory frenzy," but had regained her mental health and was not likely to suffer a relapse.

Mr. Higgs divorced her as a result of her association with Willis.

Stephen A. Malato, the assistant state's attorney, prosecuting the case, pleaded that the jurors would break the spell which he said had given freedom to so many guilty women of recent years.

Mrs. Higgs is the seventeenth woman defendant in a murder case to be acquitted here in recent years.

FRENCHMAN EXECUTED FOR MILITARY REASON

Bordeaux, Oct. 5.—Pierre Nasica was put to death today for "military reasons." It was the first execution under military law at the temporary capital.

Nasica faced the end bravely. As he stepped from the automobile patrol wagon that brought him to the Arzac parade grounds, the condemned man was rolling a cigarette which he smoked while he listened to the reading of his sentence.

Then he shook hands with the chaplain and stepping briskly to the execution post, folded his arms and looked straight at the firing squad. He refused to have his eyes bandaged. At a sharp command a volley sounded. Nasica sank to his knees dead. Detachments from all the regiments of the Bordeaux garrison witnessed the execution and when it was over departed past the body.

Eugene Carrington of Green Bay is in the city on business.

Miss Grace Little of Manistique is visiting in the city with friends.
