Paris, Oct. 15.—Although the fall of Ostend appears to have become a certainty, the German sweep of the north west coast to the west has been circumvented by the allies in a driving wedge between the army of Von Beseler and the forces of Von Kluck which compose the invaders right of the main line of Germans. Definite information regarding the movements and the strength of the armies engaged is lacking on account of the stringency of censorship inaugurated with developments of the movement of the department Du Nord in France and West Flanders, Belgium where two of the greatest armies are reported to have met in a pitched battle, the greatest of the war in which fighting is already reported to be severe. The official report tonight reports gains along the front and the capture of Estaire thirteen miles west of Lille. This indicates an advantage gained by the allies.

VALUATION IS FIXED

TOTAL ASSESSED VALUATION OF ALL PROPERTY IN COUNTY PLACED AT $10,448,668.

The total assessed valuation of all property in Delta county, as equalized by members of the board of supervisors at their final meeting yesterday, is $10,448,668, or an increase of $516,199 over the assessed valuation fixed by the board a year ago.

As equalized yesterday the board raised the figures fixed by township and city boards in four instances and in three instances cut off considerable sums from the figures fixed by the township officers.

The board cut $55,000 from the assessed valuation of Bay de Noc township; $15,000 from Fairbanks township; $10,000 from Maple Didge township; and added $21,000 to Baldwin township; $20,000 to Brampton township; $22,000 to Escanaba township and $17,000 to the city of Gladstone.

The report of the finance committee was adopted with supervisors voting in the affirmative excepting Supervisors Mason and Cook of Gladstone and Robins of Baldwin township.

Following is the assessed valuation fixed yesterday for all property in the townships and cities of the county: Baldwin township $270,985; Bark River $289,910; Bay de Noc $186,174; Brampton $455,880; Cornell $148,995; Escanaba township $267,895; Fairbanks $135,125; Ford River $198,205; Garden $464,158; Maple Ridge $431,815; Masonville $537,170; Nahma $552,810; Wells $1,326,681; Escanaba city $4,270,610 and city of Gladstone $963,318.

The Cubs scored their two runs in the first inning on a base on balls. Good's triple and Zimmermans double Cicotte relieved Scott in the second inning and pitched a good game.

The Sox made but two hits off the Cub pitchers and scored their three runs in the fourth inning on an error by Werrick, base on ball to Fournier, Roth's double and Schalk's single.

Three bonds of the denomination of $1,000 each will be sold and the remaining $9,000 of the issue will not be sold. Two of the bonds will become due on June 1, 1918 and on June 1, 1919.

AUTOS MEET IN COLLISION

Meeting head on at the sharp turn in the bay shore road entering Gladstone last night at 9 o'clock, an Overland auto owned by Dr. Stillwagon of Gladstone and driven by George Rice of that city crashed into a roadster from Escanaba, badly damaging both cars, breaking the shoulder of Rice and otherwise bruising him about the body.

The Escanaba car was proceeding toward Gladstone when at the sharp turn in the road the Gladstone car bound for Escanaba suddenly loomed in sight. Without a moments warning the two cars crashed tearing the fenders from one side of the Escanaba car and badly damaging the Gladstone car, which hurtled the local car and landed on its side in the road, pinning Rice underneath. The Escanaba car carried three occupants, who, uninjured, lent immediate aid to the three occupants of the Stillwagon car. The party was picked up by the Stromberg car of Escanaba and Rice hurried to a physician where the fracture was reduced. The two cars were towed to a Gladstone garage where they will undergo repairs.

OFFICERS INSTALLED

Members of Escanaba Hive, No. 531, Ladies of the Modern Maccabees, last night formally installed officers for the coming year at a highly enjoyable meeting held at Grenier's hall. The officers installed were as follows:

The meeting was one of the busiest held by members of the local board in a number of years giving action to many important matters. The board adjourned without naming a date for the next meeting.

PEPIN AND SON GARAGE GET NEW MITCHELL SIX

Lawrence Pepin, of the firm of Pepin & Son Auto Livery, arrived in the city yesterday with a new "Mitchell Six" after having driven the big car over terrible roads from Racine. In spite of the bad roads the trip was accomplished without accident.

The car is of latest model and is attracting much attention about the city. The new machine will be used for demonstrating purposes.

A. Bergman of Hyde was in the city yesterday on business.

Mrs. J. Lehr of Chicago is visiting in the city with friends and relatives.

ATTY. JOSEPH F. CUDDY

Who successfully led legal fight before board of supervisors against submission of local option question. Atty. Cuddy's grasp of the legal points involved and his exposition of them before the board yesterday, led to the defeat of the movement.

LOCAL OPTION IS DEFEATED BEFORE BOARD

Supervisors Vote Unanimous to Submit Question Because Law not Complied with by Petitioners

NOT PROPERLY POSTED

Atorneys Agree that Petitions not Properly Posted in one Township and Three Wards of the City

Members of the Delta county board of supervisors yesterday, unanimously declined to order the submission of the local option question to the voters of Delta county, because of the fact that the necessary preliminary steps, prescribed by law, had not been complied with by the petitioners. Supervisors John Folio, of Fairbanks and Albert Halvorsen, of the Seventh ward of Escanaba, did not vote on the question. The supervisors voting for the adoption of a resolution denying the submission of the question were: Supervisors Atkins, Barron, Beattie, Bergman, Bruce, Burlison, Chatfield, Coiburn, Cook, Englund, Good, Grey, Kraus, Larson, Lallquist, Mason, Miller, MacLean, McMartin, Peterson, Robbins and Young.

Following is the formal resolution unanimously adopted by the board:

Supervisor Mason offered the following resolution and moved that it be adopted and entered on the minutes of this session.

Whereas, it appears by the report of the committee on canvassing petitions praying for an election to determine the will of the qualified voters of this county on the question of county prohibition that 32 petitions containing 1620 names have been submitted to the clerk and that the number of names required by law to authorize the said election is 1495.

And whereas the statute requires that the "signatures of all the petition residing in any one and the same township, ward or election district, shall be attached to one petition, or list, separate from those of any other township, ward or election district, and that an exact copy of said petition and of all the signatures there-to shall be posted in three of the most conspicuous places in the said township, ward or election district, for at least ten days immediately prior to its presentation to the county clerk."

And whereas, it appears upon the face of the affidavits that this requirement had not been complied with in several townships and wards: to-wit: the township of Wells, with 200 signatures; the Fourth ward of Escanaba with 116 signatures; the Sixth ward of the city of Escanaba, with 204 signatures; and the Seventh ward of Escanaba of Escanaba with 52 signatures, and that the subtraction of the total for these townships and wards from the total of 1620 signatures, leaves the number of 1008, which is less than the number of signatures, required for submission.

Be It Resolved, that the board of supervisors of the county of Delta, sitting the canvass the petitions aforesaid, determines them insufficient in law to authorize the election, prayed for by the petitioners.

The resolution was adopted after arguments had been made by Atty. A. H. Ryall, for the petitioners and Atty. Joseph F. Cuddy, for the objectors and after Pros. Atty. Strom had ruled that the point raised was one that had never been passed upon by the supreme court of the state and that in the absence of such a decision, the petitions referred to in the resolution could not be considered as legal petitions.

Atty. A. H. Ryall, appearing before the board in support of the local option petitions, admitted also in his address to the supervisors, that the point raised was one that had never been passed upon by the courts and admitted that the petitions not properly posted could not be considered.

Among the petitions thrown out by the board were all of those circulated in the Sixth Ward of Escanaba under the personal direction of F. L. Baldwin, leader of the local option movement in the county.

Atty. Joseph F. Cuddy, appearing before the board to represent the opponents to the petitions, yesterday gave one of the most complete legal surveys of a matter ever presented to any body of men in this county. He displayed a grasp of the situation that at once won for him the undivided attention of the supervisors and held their close interest to the end.

OPENING GUN IS FIRED

The opening gun of the Democrats campaign was fired here last night when a Democratic rally was staged at the City hall where a brief concert was held, following which a crowd that packed the council chambers to the doors followed the band into the building. After the band had rendered a selection, Joseph F. Cuddy, democratic candidate for prosecuting attorney, appeared in the introductory address in behalf of the entire democratic county ticket. Each candidate received his share of praise from the speaker, who in addition spoke in glowing terms of the accomplishments of President Wilson since his election to office. Atty. Cuddy closed his address by mentioning that he too was a candidate on the ticket for prosecuting attorney and by introducing Mr. McDonald.

The congressional candidate confined his address last evening to a strict discussion of the issues of the campaign and named in a pleasing manner the accomplishments of Wilson with a Democratic following and urged that men be elected to go to Washington who would continue the good work instead of disrupting it. The address of Mr. McDonald was forceful and compelling and several times he was heartily applauded.

Chairman William Finnegan presided at the meeting of last night.

BARK RIVER TO RECEIVE REFUND

Bark River township will receive a refund of the amount paid by that township in county road taxes, in compliance with a law adopted by the legislature in 1909 but not now operative and by action taken by the supervisors yesterday. Under the law of 1909 a township issuing bonds for building state reward roads were entitled to a refund from the county of all taxes paid for county road purposes, assessed in that township, until the principal amount of the bond issue had been paid. Under a law subsequently passed the refund to townships issuing bonds, amounts only to the difference in the county road tax and the amount spent by the county in improving roads in that particular township. Bark River township has remaining unpaid $4500 of a bond issue of $13,500 and until the former amount is entirely wiped out that township will receive a refund of the county road tax assessed there.

MOOSE LODGE HAS CHANGED MEET DATE

Lodge No. 1400, Loyal order of Moose has changed its meeting night from Thursday evening to Friday evening of each week in order not to conflict with other lodge meetings.

This was done at the request of members who belonged to other lodges and wished to participate in both gatherings.

The L. O. O. M. meeting to be held tonight will be of more than ordinary importance for the reason that the construction of a future home for the lodge will be up for discussion.

A large attendance is expected.

BIG FOREST FIRES IN RHODE ISLAND

(Special to the Press.)
Plainfield, Conn., Oct. 15.—Forest fires with a six mile frontage are sweeping toward Rhode Island tonight. The fire has been raging since Sunday. 2,000 acres of valuable land, miles of fencing and 10,000 cords of wood have been burned. The fire is said to have been caused by hunters.

Atty. Cuddy based his objections to the acceptance of the petitions not only on the grounds named in the resolution presented to the board by the special committee, but for several other reasons which he detailed to the members. Mr. Cuddy asserted that the burden of the proof of the legality of the petitions and as to the compliance by the petitioners with all of the preliminary steps required by law from the petitioners and that the supervisors must sit as judges in those matters. Mr. Cuddy pointed out

KILL IT!

Former State Insurance Commissioner Palmer is out with a vigorous denunciation of the proposed insurance amendment.

Both declare it will greatly injure these societies. Their reasons have been given in our news columns, so it is unnecessary to repeat them here.

The issue is vital. Every voter affiliated with a fraternal insurance organization should arouse himself to the danger and prevail upon his friends to help him kill the amendment.

NEAR ADJOURNMENT.

The passage of the Clayton anti-trust bill through house and senate probably completes the session's record in that direction.

Had several unexpected issues not arisen demanding the attention of congress this Clayton bill and one or two others aiming at the same general problem would have been enacted months ago.

By common consent the tariff and the currency measures were given precedence over the trust legislation.

Then came the tolls issue, which could not have been foreseen; the Mexican crisis demanded attention, and the war in Europe brought up a whole train of problems for president and congress to handle. This Clayton bill, together with the trade commission measure enacted some weeks ago, constitute a material advance in the governmental handling of the problem of the trusts.

WAR

(Continued from page one.) London, Oct. 15.—Vienna today makes the claim that the Russians have evacuated Lemberg, while the Russians yesterday denied a similar report that they had given up the siege of Przemyel.

Nothing has come through concerning the battle on the East Prussian frontier, but the activity of the German fleet in the Baltic and south of Finland may presage the arrival of German reinforcements which, it was reported some days ago, were being embarked at German Baltic ports.

A German squadron, the flagship of which is flying the flag of Prince Henry of Prussia, has been cruising in the vicinity of Aland island, and only a day or two ago the Russian cruiser Pallada was torpedoed by German submarines, two of which were lost.

A patrol of Cossacks, while hidden in a forest near Warsaw brought down a epplin airship by well-directed fire, according to a Petrograd dispatch.

A dispatch received here from Nish, Servia, relates that, acting on the instructions of the German general staff, Austria has concentrated on the banks of the Drina the greatest army yet sent against Servia, in a final and supreme effort to crush that country.

Petrograd, Oct. 15. The following official communication from the general staff was issued tonight: "On the left of the Vistula, along the roads leading from Warsaw to Ivangorod, our troops on Oct. 13 successfully thrust back the German forces. One of our regiments captured two German companies.

"Fighting continues to the south of Przemyel. "There are no important changes on the other fronts."

Paris, Oct. 15.—A dispatch to the Havas agency from Nish, Servia, dated Oct. 13, says: "Yesterday on the front between Svrnik and Lomniza the enemy began a violent artillery fire on the Servian left wing. The Austrian fire was rapidly silenced by the Servian artillery."

Svrnik is a Bosnian town on the Drina river, fifty miles northeast of Sarajevo. It is almost on the boundary line between Bosnia and Servia. Lomniza is ten miles northeast of Svrnik, in Servia.

London, Oct. 15.—There was every indication today that Turkey and Portugal would be drawn into the war. Portugal has not declared war on Germany, as was reported earlier in the day, but a partial mobilization of her forces will be ordered tomorrow, and martial law has been declared in Portuguese Congo.

Portugal has an alliance with Great Britain, but this is purely a defensive one and was negotiated for the protection of Portugal and not with the idea that Portugal ever should be called upon to go to the assistance of Great Britain.

A short time ago a German officer suspecting that the Portuguese were instigating unrest among the natives of German East Africa, crossed into Portuguese Nyassaland and killed a Portuguese sergeant and four natives.

Cabling from Lisbon, a correspondent of the Central News says it is reported that the German minister to Portugal and other Germans residing in Lisbon are about to leave for Madrid. As a result of cabinet meetings and conferences between the leaders of the various Portuguese parties and the president of the republic the correspondent continues, it has been resolved to convoke congress Oct. 16 in order to pass a vote for the mobilization of the Portuguese troops.

German reports coming through Rome say that the real struggle is only just beginning and that, if necessary, five million men can be called upon for compulsory service, while many volunteers also are available.

The former German cruisers Goeben and Breslau, which sought refuge in Turkish waters when driven out of the Mediterranean by the British and French warships, may be despatched for involving Turkey. Although these ships were ostensibly sold to Turkey, they are still officered and manned by Germans and have been cruising off the Roumanian and Bulgarian coasts of the Black sea, where the Russian Black sea fleet has been for some days. Should the Russian warships sight the Goeben and Breslau, an engagement would be possible.

In a dispatch from Amsterdam, a correspondent of the Reuter Telegram company says that the Frankfurter Zeitung has received from Constantinople a communication which says that the British ambassador to Turkey asked the women of the embassy last Monday to leave the city. Questioned by one of his hearers whether this was absolutely necessary, the ambassador replied: "You must accept the hint without asking the reasons."

General Botha, the premier of the Union of South Africa, has sent a force to deal with Colonel Maritz and the rebels under his command. According to an official telegram from the south African government, the rebellion is not so serious as was feared. It is said that the men under Maritz do not exceed five hundred, including Germans, and that, as the Dutch farmers are flocking to General Botha's standard, Maritz is not likely to receive any large acquisitions.

Plymouth, via London, Oct. 15.—To Plymouth, with its wonderful history, has fallen the honor of welcoming the Canadian volunteer contingent for Great Britain's expeditionary force.

As soon as it was known Wednesday morning that the transports were arriving, great crowds hurried to all points overlooking Plymouth sound and greeted the men swarming the decks with enthusiastic cheers, to which the Canadians heartily responded.

The vessels anchored off Devon Port. The bands aboard played lively tunes and sounds of merriment came across the water all day long as the ships came to anchor. The last of the transports arrived at 9 o'clock at night. Only a few of the Canadian soldiers have yet been landed.

New York, Oct. 14.—Mrs. M. Gerschwyler of Rapid City, S. D., one of the passengers arriving today on the Italian liner Verona, said that her train from Milan passed another filled with Zulu warriors. She was informed, she said, that they were on their way to join the allies in northern France. Mrs. Gerschwyler declared that the Zulus were armed with spears and bows and arrows.

Washington, Oct. 15.—The German ambassador tonight gave out a statement, authorized by the German government, which declared that dum-dum bullets in large quantities had been found on French prisoners taken near Longwy and at other points. The statement declares that the government has proof that the use of these bullets had been authorized by the French officers, despite the prohibition of their use by The Hague convention.

Rome, via Paris, Oct. 15.—The Italian minister of foreign affairs, Marquis di San Giuliano, is hovering between life and death. His condition is marked by alternating improvements and relapses.

The minister is convinced that he is near the end. When urged not to worry, the marquis replied: "I am not worrying now. I know that Italy is proceeding on the safe road, but the difficulties are many and it is indispensable to be constantly on the alert."

The marquis insist on reading the newspapers, and there are being printed special editions with the details of his illness eliminated.

Build Island of Concrete. An artificial island of reinforced concrete has been built in the Mediterranean at Hyeres strait, near Toulon, the great French naval base, which is to be used solely for testing torpedoes.

The island is not a large one, being less than 80 feet long by about 50 feet broad, and is built upon a reinforced concrete caisson which was towed out from Toulon and submerged. It is divided into compartments by walls 4 feet thick, in the largest of which, 10 feet below the sea level, the torpedoes are handled.

Projecting from this compartment are three torpedo tubes, while above the surface of the water, 10 feet in the air, are two aerial-torpedo tubes. The operating mechanism, which uses electricity as a motive power, is all contained in the superstructure built over the caisson, and lighting and ventilating systems as well as wireless and searchlights are provided. An electric crane extending out from one side permits the torpedoes to be lifted from the water and returned to their stations after practice.—Popelar Mechanica.

and the Clerk smiled. Ther recently went into a fashionable shoe shop the daughter of a man whose wealth has been acquired within very recent years.

She was disposed to patronize the clerk and rejected a number of "classy" slippers he produced for her approval. Finally she said: "I think, perhaps, I shall take these two pairs. But Louis XV heels are too high for me. Give me a size lower—or, stay—perhaps Louis XIII will be high enough."

Ghastly Custom. The medical profession has succeeded in doing away with a revolting custom that has prevailed in Constantinople for almost a century.

In 1837 the authorities discovered that the Greeks were in the habit of smuggling in large quantities of arms and ammunition in closed coffins. They therefore ordered that thenceforward coffins containing the corpses of Greeks should be borne lidless through the streets and only sealed after entering the cemetery.

Since that time the Greeks have attempted by painting the faces of the dead and resorting to other crude devices, to render the procedure less ghastly. They have also agitated, from time to time, for the abolition of the custom, but made no impression upon the Ottoman government until the local doctors came to their aid.

The committee in charge of the work tried to obtain the services of men who have a real message to deliver to the farmers and citizens of Menominee and Menominee county and surrounding country.

The opening speech will be given by Col. C. W. Mott who will point out to the citizens of Menominee the importance of the agricultural development of the county and its relationship to the development of the city.

Badger Professor Speaks. Prof. J. G. Millard, of the University of Wisconsin, will talk on Thursday afternoon on "Standardizing of Commercial Potato Shipments."

On Thursday evening Mr. Henry G. Bell, of Chicago, will give an illustrated lecture on "Intensive Potato Culture."

How to Make Crop Pay. On Friday morning Prof. C. W. Wald, field representative of the Michigan Agricultural college will have a vital message for the growers of potatoes, his subject being "Making the Potato Crop Pay."

Other talks will be given by Mr. R. L. Nye, the new superintendent of the Menominee county Agricultural school; R. G. Poopingardner, county agent for Iron county and by Mr. J. W. Weston, state potato agent in the upper peninsula of Michigan.

It is seldom that the people of a community have an opportunity of hearing as many specialists in such a short length of time as will be presented at this congress, and there is no one who can afford to miss hearing every one of them.

Mr. Gladstone once said that he had solved the domestic problem in this way: "Whenever Mrs. Gladstone insists I submit; and I whenever I insist she submits." He didn't say, however, whether they took turns about insisting and submitting.

Marriage is a failure when one of the parties insists on being the insister and doesn't take turns in submitting to the submitter.

And the Clerk smiled. Ther recently went into a fashionable shoe shop the daughter of a man whose wealth has been acquired within very recent years.

She was disposed to patronize the clerk and rejected a number of "classy" slippers he produced for her approval. Finally she said: "I think, perhaps, I shall take these two pairs. But Louis XV heels are too high for me. Give me a size lower—or, stay—perhaps Louis XIII will be high enough."

Ghastly Custom. The medical profession has succeeded in doing away with a revolting custom that has prevailed in Constantinople for almost a century.

In 1837 the authorities discovered that the Greeks were in the habit of smuggling in large quantities of arms and ammunition in closed coffins. They therefore ordered that thenceforward coffins containing the corpses of Greeks should be borne lidless through the streets and only sealed after entering the cemetery.

Since that time the Greeks have attempted by painting the faces of the dead and resorting to other crude devices, to render the procedure less ghastly. They have also agitated, from time to time, for the abolition of the custom, but made no impression upon the Ottoman government until the local doctors came to their aid.

The recent funeral of Constantine V, patriarch of the Greek church, furnished a test case. After an acrimonious debate, it was decided that the coffin should be closed and the custom abolished.

WORD "COSSACK" STRIKES HORROR

London.—If you want to strike terror to the heart of an Austrian or German these days, say "Cossack." The very word seems to hold a horror for the Kaiser's men and also for Francis Joseph's troops.

Remembering their exploits against Napoleon and their wild warfare during the revolt of Hungary, Austrians and Germans shudder when they think of the Cossacks invading their countries. The Cossack's cruelty during the Russian revolution is well known and their operations in China in 1900 were criticised not only by all the world outside Russia, but by Russians themselves.

War Enriches Cossacks. In the Russo-Japanese war the Cossacks did not live up to their reputations. The reason was clear enough as they are marauders by origin. Their reason for being in warfare is to enrich themselves by it.

The Cossacks' social position in Russia makes them so. Originally Cossacks were formed from bandits to protect the frontiers during wars with Turkey and Poland.

The total population now is about 3,000,000 of which 700,000 are women. The Cossacks own about 145,500,000 acres of land. Military service is obligatory for all men for twenty years, beginning at the age of eighteen.

Active service the Cossack does for three years in the preliminary division. The next twelve years he is in active service and the last five he is on the reserve list.

GIVING FILIPINOS PROMISSORY NOTE

Washington, Oct. 15.—Declaring it was promissory note without any date of maturity, Congressman Patrick H. Kelley of Michigan, ridiculed the bill promising the inhabitants of the Philippine Islands their independence.

He declared that President Wilson had toned down the demands of his party on this score. While they had been preaching immediate independence for the islands for years, now that they have the chance to give it to them they are hesitating.

"What has become of the Jones bill which fixed the time of independence for 1913?" he shouted. "What has become of the Jones bill of a later draft fixing the time for independence for 1920? In this bill you have abandoned all idea of immediate independence and have simply provided for a little larger participation by the people in their local affairs. By this bill you are merely continuing the policy of the United States from the beginning."

Speaking of the declaration in the bill that the islands would ultimately be set free, Mr. Kelley said he could not see how granting independence could possibly end our responsibility.

He believed such action would largely increase our responsibility there. These islands, he said, would be a rich prize for some ambitious nation greedy for more land. He said the American people would never consent to an abandonment of the Philippine Islands to either conquest or revolution. He believed we had a great humanitarian duty to perform in establishing a popular government in the far east which could be an example and inspiration to all of the Orient.

EXPRESS COMPANIES HIT HARD BY WAR

The great European war has hit the express companies of the United States hard.

The war has placed decided limitations on the foreign business of the express companies. While packages for France and the British Isles, Italy, Spain, Switzerland and some other countries in Asia and Europe are accepted, many countries are absolutely cut off, as far as this service is concerned. Among them are Belgium, where civil administration has now been entirely upset, Germany and Austria, Russia, Servia, Montenegro, Roumania, Bulgaria, Albania, Turkey, Persia, Arabia and Egypt.

For the information of the public the American Express company has lately issued a bulletin to its local agents informing them of the conditions under which foreign business is now conducted. It is prepared to accept and reforward all business destined to Great Britain and Ireland, Norway, Sweden and Denmark, Italy, Switzerland, Greece, Spain, Portugal, Havre and Paris, France, Azores and Canary Islands, and India, also to the Netherlands, subject to the supervisory method which has been adopted by the Netherlands government. All shipments arriving in that country are delivered by the steamship company into the custody of the government and the latter release for delivery to the ultimate consignee only after determining that no contraband of war is inclined and that the Netherlands route is not being used for transportation of goods of any kind to any belligerent countries, or to any other than Holland destinations.

The company furthermore says that it is prepared to accept shipments carrying collections of invoice value for shippers account, provided the transportation and insurance charges are fully prepaid and included in such C. O. D's.

Special attention is devoted to the importance of shippers considering the advisability of placing war risk insurance, the premiums for which range from 1-2 to 1 per cent upwards in some cases as high as 10 per cent. The principal governing factors in such premiums are the points of destination and nationality of carrying vessels. The lowest war risk rates apply on shipments to Great Britain when carried on steamers flying the American flag.

As a general proposition the mail service to the countries for which the express companies will not accept

ALLEGED KRUPPS SOLD

BELGIUM POOR GUNS.

Philadelphia, Oct. 15.—"The Krupps purposely sold defective guns to Belgium and Turkey to impair the effectiveness of their defense in a war such as is now raging," declare Barclay Warburton, the Philadelphia publisher.

He has just returned from a six months' trip through Europe, where he acted as agent for a big English gun firm and incidentally succeeded in rushing a trainload of orders concealed in boxes and trunks through Germany to Russia the day before hostilities started.

"Russia discovered the deception," continued Mr. Warburton, "and manufactured her own heavy guns, after she had purchased the rights from the Krupps, with the result that the czars' artillery now is equal in efficiency to German's."

BRITISH INFANTRY CAN MARCH 30 MILES A DAY.

London, Oct. 15.—British infantry has the reputation for marching and staying power. Fifteen miles a day was regarded a few years ago as a good average for a large column; twenty-five for a small body of seasoned men. In the autumn maneuvers of 1909, when a test was made of British marching ability, the first infantry brigade covered thirty miles in one day, and the second and third brigades, hampered by artillery, twenty-three miles. The fifth and sixth infantry brigades covered thirty-one miles; the first Devonshire regiment thirty-five miles; the first grenadier guards thirty-five miles, and the first Cheshire regiment thirty-three miles. The service equipment carried on this occasion averaged sixty pounds in weight.

INFORMATION IS VALUABLE

The October number of the State Health Bulletin, contains a special warning against tuberculosis, its prevention, causes and effects. "Every child" the bulletin asserts, "should have drilled into its mind the great danger of the malady and the necessity of preventative measures. This knowledge the child should have incorporated into its being and made part of itself."

The bulletin gives the following as some of the causes of tuberculosis:

"Tuberculosis is caused by a germ. Tuberculosis is communicable—that is, catching, when circumstances are such that infected dust, or any other matter is inhaled or otherwise gets into your system. Consumption is tuberculosis of the lungs, and is the most common form of this disease. Consumption of the bowels is the most frequent next to that of the lungs. Most any part of the body may be affected with tuberculosis, bones, muscles, ears, throat, skin, covering envelopes of brain and cord. The germs leave the system of the one affected by means of discharges—sputum coughed up, bowel excretions, urine, discharges from nose, or by pus discharged from abscesses.

"Germs of any sort never leave a moist surface, that is, they will not get into the atmosphere unless forcibly expelled with small droplets of saliva or mucus during coughing spells, or in speaking or sneezing. They will not enter the air from any container containing water even, but when any infected matter is permitted to dry and get pulverized, as will any discharges on sidewalks, roads, spitoons allowed to get dry, etc., then the germs will enter the air clinging to dust particles and constitute a very great danger. And so it is seen that it is very dangerous to face a consumptive while he is coughing, or even to stand to you. The ordinary breath of such a person does not contain germs as so often is supposed, but take no chances.

"Milk from a tuberculous cow, or milk exposed to infected dust, is a very common source of tuberculosis.

"Flies are common carriers of tubercle germs, as well of other deadly germs, and we reiterate the statement that the common fly is the 'most dangerous animal in the world. Moral—keep them out of your homes, and if any do get access to your rooms, then 'swat them.'

"Consumptives must not spit on walks—gentlemen will not, whether they have consumption or not.

"A 'cold' or any other weakness renders you more liable to infection, your 'defences' are down and the tubercle bacillus is looking for an entrance to your system. Moral—don't neglect 'colds.' It is often said that a certain person caught a cold. Later news says that he died of that 'cold.'"

Total signatures to all petitions rejected by clerk, 15.

Your committee met on Wednesday evening, October 14, to hear counsel on the legal questions involved, as contained in the objections of Joseph F. Cuddy, as filed with the clerk on October 12, that the names of 182 persons given be stricken from the petition, that certain petitions be rejected on the ground that the dates of the affidavits attached are not in accordance with the requirement of law, and to all affidavits attached to any petition which affidavit is sworn to on any other day than the identical day upon which such petition was presented to and filed with the county clerk of said Delta county; and to the appearance of prosecutor Torval E. Strom before this board otherwise than as a petitioner. The legal questions involved were argued verbally before this committee.

In addition thereto, this committee received from Mr. Cuddy three affidavits attacking petitions from Bark River and Masonville township by alleging facts at variance with the face of the affidavits.

Your committee, therefore, has canvassed the face of all petitions and submits the figures foregoing without recommendation as to the action of this board.

DEMOCRATS PARTISAN SAYS SENATOR SMITH

Washington, Oct. 15.—Senator William Alden Smith charged that Democrats were acting in a partisan manner when they brought in the Chamberlain resolution providing for the naming of a board of managers for the National Home for Volunteer Soldiers in Washington. He declared that the country was getting altogether representative of members of one party on boards which were supposed to be nonpartisan. "We have just created the federal reserve board," he said, "supposed to be nonpartisan, and I have been looking very diligently to find a Republican on that board. The functions of these boards rise far above the political horizon, and I regret to see them filled with Democrats alone."

THE IRON TRADE REVIEW

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 15, 1914.—The Iron Trade Review today will say: The continuation of dullness in domestic demand and failure of foreign business to develop into orders of appreciable size are having effect on prices. Buffalo pig iron has receded to lower levels, semi-finished materials are weaker, contracts for tin plate at Chicago have been made at very low prices and there is weakness in nearly every product. Wire is almost the only exception to the rule. The capacity of furnaces in steel plants and rolling mills is being reduced.

The appearance of two textile machinery builders of New England and a few other buyers in the New York pig iron market resulted in more sales than had been made in that district during any week since last July, but the total tonnage was only about 10,000 and the eagerness of urances to take the limited amount of business was indicated by the development of lower prices. There has also been some shading on foundry iron at Pittsburg and very little, if any, southern iron is sold at more than $10,000 for No. 2 Birmingham. Eastern merchant furnaces at present have on their books unfilled tonnage to keep the plants now in operation busy for the next four months, but the going capacity is much below normal.

During the past few days the tendency toward weakness in prices of shapes and bars has developed and on anything like desirable business the ruling quotations on these products is 115 c Pittsburg. In view of the limited demand this is not surprising. In fact the recent strength of prices has been rather remarkable.

Prices of semi-finished material are showing considerable irregularity and little difficulty is experienced in shading recent quotations. A sale of forged billets was made at $23.00 Cleveland. Inquiry from foreign consumers continues and with somewhat better prospects of sales being made.

Wire mills continue busy and specifications especially from jobbers are satisfactory. Considerable foreign business is being done. Owing to the inactivity in the oil and gas fields steel pipe mills are operating at only about 50 per cent of capacity. The city of Cleveland has awarded 3200 tons of cast iron pipe to the leading interest.

"BRINGING UP FATHER"
George McManus conceived the idea of the now famous cartoon series "Bringing Up Father" from a newspaper man's standpoint, he hit it right. To put the same characters on the stage is another matter and a very difficult one. McManus believes that there's a specialist in every line of business, therefore when he "got staked struck" by consulted Gus Hill, whose experience in making millions out of cartoon plays, extends back for many years. Mr. Hill's newest production "Bringing Up Father," after a half a year of preparation, is now ready for the people and I'm quite sure that the people are ready for it. That there's a scarcity of good comedy before the people is no secret. "Bringing Up Father" is going to give you something to laugh about until something else just, or half as good comes along. It's a big production built on vaudeville lines and contains the best elements of clean and wholesome comedy, with any amount of whistle-able music and the sort of girls you'd like to have with you forever. There are funny comedians and pleasing dancers, with gorgeous scenery and magnificent costumes. The mere title of "Bringing Up Father" and that you know of it through the columns of the daily papers, it in itself enough to suggest hilarious comedy situations. I in the hands of this veteran producer, whose life's work has been to please the public, you can accept it for granted that no opportunity is lost; in fact the production of "Bringing Up Father" is to be the crowning effort of Mr. Hill's long career.

JOHN M'GRAW A POOR MAN

New York, Oct. 15.—Listen to the plight of a manager of a baseball club which did not win the world's championship, nor even the National league pennant, and whose salary is only $18,000 a year. John J. McGraw of the Giants is the person.

McGraw appeared yesterday in a suit which the city of New York brought against him to collect $366 which he was assessed as personal taxes in 1912 on $20,000 worth of personality. McGraw said his only business at the time of the assessment was levied was managing the Giants and running a billiard room. The billiard business was not a success. He had a ten-year lease on the room, but he sold it at a loss.

McGraw said his bank account never amounted to more than from $6,000 to $8,000, and he owned a $600 automobile. As for the $18,000 he received for managing the Giants, his family needed all that, said McGraw, and all the furniture in his home belonged to his wife. He denied owning $20,000 in property. The suit was dismissed.

LEAVES $1,000,000 TO SUFFRAGE WORK

New York, Oct. 15.—Under the will of Mrs. Frank Leslie, filed for probate in the Surrogate's Court yesterday afternoon, more than $1,000,000 is bequeathed to Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, the suffrage leader, to be used as she deems wise in furthering the cause of woman suffrage.

"It is my expectation and wish," said Mrs. Leslie in her will, "that she (Mrs. Catt) turn all my said residuary estate into cash and apply the whole thereof as she shall think most advisable to the furtherance of the cause of woman suffrage, to which she has so worthily devoted so many years of her life, and that she shall make suitable provision so that in case of her death any balance thereof remaining unexpended may be applied and expended in the same way.

STALLINGS EXPLAINS WHY BRAVES WON

Boston, Mass., Oct. 15.—There is no reason why Connie Mack should be spanned by other Athletic backers who have been disappointed in the outcome of the world's series. To begin with, the Mack machine was the equal of the Braves' combination, and the fact that it did not win cannot be attributed to its failure to turn out same class of baseball.

The Mackmen pitchers are of a class that will produce results within a few years. The youngsters are fast developing and it is the opinion of the Boston players that Mack's young performers will within a short time prove their class.

In Tuesday's game Shawkey and Penneck divided a total of six hits between them, and in all but one inning, when the Braves got to Shawkey for three hits and two runs, both were masters upon the mound. Among the Braves the general opinion is that the new Mackmen twirlers will replace the old in the year to come.

The Athletics were beaten because they met with a ball team which outclassed them in ginger. The "old pep" is an advantage which often overbalances mechanical superiority. The Athletics can beat anybody with a comfortable lead. Throughout the season they demonstrated this by getting the jump on their opponents. Yet they met the Boston club they met with something which they had not encountered before. They met with a team which had been accustomed to coming from behind and pulling up from defeat.

The Braves have won more ball games after they have apparently been hopelessly beaten than any other team on record. It seems to be their knack to rise from impending defeat and turn out on the victors' end. Nothing but this can possibly make a fair team win.

Legal View.

A Cleveland attorney took the Mediterranean trip a month ago. It was his first time across the water, and he stated on his return that he would have had a perfectly glorious time but for the silly questions asked him by customs officials. It was on the pier at New York that his woes came to a climax. The officer looked up in amazement. "Open your trunk, please," commanded the custom-house officer. "Have you anything in there but personal property?" he continued. "What do you mean by personal property?" countered the lawyer. "For heaven's sake, don't you know what personal property is?" "I thought I did," answered the attorney. "And I can assure you that there is no real estate in my trunk."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

AS I EXPECTED—STALLINGS I AM SATISFIED—MACK

By George Stallings.

Tonight we are where every man on the team expected to be at the beginning of the series. We won four straight games and set a record. I wonder if they now regard our club as a joke. We have outplayed the Athletics from start to finish. The boys had the fighting spirit, besides knowing how to play the game. We are proud of the support given us.

By Connie Mack.

In a measure I am satisfied at the outcome. Of course we all wanted to win, but the Braves showed surprising strength and really outplayed us. I am glad reverse came as it did, before the men on our team got too old to reform. They have now learned their lesson and it was good training for next year. I give very credit to the Boston team.

PUT WOLVERINES THROUGH WORKOUT

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 15.—Yost handed out another of his rigidly secret drills last night in his preparation for the game with M. A. C. Saturday, sending the Wolverines thru a long signal practice and also into a short scrimmage with some of the other regulars. The scrubs were occupied in a clash with the freshmen eleven.

This afternoon the Michigan coach handed out another series of new plays, which are to be used in the coming games. In drilling the varsity eleven in these he kept the men at their work until long after dark, dispensing with a ball when it became too dark to see the oval.

Michigan rooters are up in arms as a result of the exhaustion of the seats for the Lansing game. As a result of the inability of the Aggie officials to accommodate the 2,000 Michigan rooters who had planned on attending the game, it is probable that a Michigan M. A. C. battle will never again be played on the Farmers' grid-iron.

Child Acts Surgeon's Note.

Sarah Shaffer, thirteen years old, of Los Angeles, Cal., developed into a little heroine when her five-year-old sister fell on the sidewalk while at play and shattered her elbow. Dr. Edward G. Wiley, chief police surgeon, explained patiently over the telephone how the splint should be put on, and Sarah made such a good job of it as to win the admiration of all who saw the tiny patient when she arrived at the receiving hospital with her little amateur nurse. The children's father is at the county hospital and their mother went to visit him. Maybelle fell and broke her arm. Sarah called up the receiving hospital, but owing to the distance was advised to call one of the district doctors. She could raise none, and again called the receiving hospital. Doctor Wiley told Sarah what to do to relieve the baby's pain, while the ambulance raced out to the Shaffer home, and Sarah obeyed instructions to the letter.

Avoid Sedative Cough Medicines.

If you want to contribute directly to the occurrence of capillary bronchitis and pneumonia use cough medicines that contain codeine, morphine, heroin and other sedatives when you have a cough or cold. An expectorate like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is what is needed. That cleans out the culture beds or breeding places for the germs of pneumonia and other germ diseases. That is why pneumonia never results from a cold when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. It has a world wide reputation for its cures. It contains no morphine or other sedative. SNAKE CHARMER HELD FOR MURDER

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Ruth McCullough aged twenty, a "snake charmer," a follower of county fairs and street carnivals, and her companion, Clarence McCormick, aged eighteen, the son of a Lancaster, Mo., farmer, were arrested here early today by Sheriff Knox of Ottumwa, Iowa, Sheriff Grimes of Keokuk and a local detective, charged with killing I. W. Mollat, a wealthy Hedrick farmer.

The purpose of the murder, which occurred October 6, was robbery. The slayers obtained only twenty-three dollars.

The fugitives, who were penniless and about to be ejected from the rooming house when taken, are reported to have confessed.

Mollat was shot four times while in an automobile and his head beaten to a pulp. The alleged murderers stole a ride on a freight train to a town thirty miles from Moomouth, Ill., and then took a passenger train for Chicago, where they were traced by a letter McCormick wrote to a friend.

Later signed statements by the prisoners were given out, McCormick assuming all the guilt for the crime which was committed. According to the alleged confession the purpose was robbery. Mollat was lured out of the village on the pretext he was to meet a Miss Jessie Springer, in whom he was interested. Mrs. McCullough and McCormick were riding for several hours in Mollat's machine when the fatal shots were fired.

GOOD ROADS IS BIG QUESTION IN MICH.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 15.—Interest in the good roads petition being circulated by Henry B. Joy is state-wide. Already over 40,000 signatures have been received and more are coming in rapidly as the idea spreads. Thousands of Michigan's citizens have given freely of their time to circulate the petition, which bids fair to become the basis of a wonderful road system for the state.

Many ideas have been advanced as to the best means of organizing to get the best results. G. Leo Headock, of Saginaw, in a recent letter to Mr. Joy expressed his keen interest in the project and his desire to help, asking Mr. Joy's ideas as to the best means of securing the proper machinery to create a good roads system for Michigan. Mr. Joy replied in part: "The question is a great big, broad one of the utmost vital importance to the people of Michigan."

Suggests Commission Be Named. "Several years ago we worked very diligently to procure in this state the passage of an intelligent and wise law with relation to Employees' Accident compensation. It was a question broad and big. The governor of the state, with the authority of the legislature, appointed a commission to draft the compensation act.

"The importance of main arterial highways today stands second to no other question before the people. Almost every man I talk with has a different idea. The differences of opinion are hair-splitting and are as far apart as the east is from the west.

"In order to answer your letter I am compelled to come to the conclusion that the needs of the state of Michigan require that a commission of three or five of the ablest business men and lawyers in the state be appointed by the governor, these men being induced to do the work purely out of patriotism for the commonwealth. This commission should make an exhaustive study of the situation and prepare an act providing for the accomplishment of main arterial highways. Such an act would in my judgment meet the approval of the people of Michigan and would be enacted by the legislature.

The plan of state aid for county work is manifestly unsatisfactory. As conditions now exist, if a county chooses not to improve its roads the state cannot compel it to do so. Therefore, no main arterial highways can be laid out, because a county may see fit not to build its part of such highways.

"It would be necessary in some way for the commission to take into consideration this situation, and provide machinery for the state to compel the building (arranging, of course, for a proper distribution of the expense), of main arterial highways, so that their construction could not be blocked by any county traversed.

"The question of proper division of expenses, the question of proper financing, the question of a standard of hard-surfaced roadway, the question of full authority for carrying out the work being placed in the hands of a state highway commissioner, and a hundred other questions are so difficult to speak of intelligently without a vast amount of consideration that I can only suggest in this letter an outline of this great problem as it passes through my mind in seeking to answer your letter.

Some Good Men to Name. "I believe Edward N. Hiney, chairman of the Wayne county highway commission, has developed and introduced into Wayne county a type of highway satisfactory. It is being extensively copied all over the United States. I would very much hope that in some way the state of Michigan might have the benefit of Mr. Hines' exhaustive study of the highway problem, with which he is very familiar.

"P. T. Colgrove, of Hastings, has also done much work along those lines and I would hope to have the benefit of his experience. Others could be found who as unselfishly are devoting themselves to highway improvement as are these gentlemen.

"I very much hope that such a commission for the drafting of an act will be one result of the next session of the legislature.

"Every dollar expended by such a commission should be published in a pamphlet for the information of all the people. The public will no longer support such movements where they are not taken into confidence of those executing the work."

Public Opinion.

People say how strong public opinion is; and, indeed, it is strong while it is in its prime. In its childhood and old age it is as weak as any other organism. I try to make my own work belong to the youth of public opinion. The history of the world is the record of the weakness, frailty and death of public opinion, as geology is the record of the decay of those bodily organisms in which public opinions have found material expression.—Samuel Butler.

Mystical Number on Coin.

No one seems unwilling to accept a 25-cent piece, even though there are on each coin the following hoodoo combinations: Thirteen letters in the scroll held in the eagle's beak; thirteen feathers in each wing; thirteen tall feathers; thirteen upright bars in the shield; thirteen arrows; thirteen leaves on the branch; thirteen letters in the words "quarter dollar."

Whole Class Guilty.

A school-teacher complained to the principal the other day that one of the big boys was flirting outrageously with the music teacher, who came in once a day. The principal spoke severely to the class and ended by saying that, out of consideration for the feelings of the culprit, he would not name him in public. At the close of the session, however he was to come to the principal's office for an interview. Yes, you guessed it! All the boys in the class showed up.

Carl Wickford left for the Soo where he will reside permanently.

GOV. FERRIS ASKED TO REMOVE HELME

Representatives of the state organization of retail grocers will appeal before Governor Ferris in Lansing this afternoon to charge James Helme, state dairy and food commissioner, with incompetence and to ask the governor for his removal from office, says the Detroit Free Press. The Detroit delegation will be led by Martin J. Maloney, who was president of the Detroit Retail Grocers' association for three years.

"We do not charge Mr. Helme personally with crookedness," said Maloney, "but we do say that he is incompetent, otherwise he would have removed the three Detroit inspectors who have since been let out on charges of graft. He allowed those men to make statements against Detroit business men which they knew to be untrue and malicious and he continues to permit it.

"The grocers not only of Detroit but of the state have been put before the public as a lot of business men who are guilty of shady practices. This is known to be a falsehood. A competent man would not have permitted those inspectors to go as far as they did.

"We haven't anything against the governor, in this. We are all admirers of Mr. Ferris. But we want him to take Helme out of office and put some good man in. They say a new broom will sweep clean. The grocers will have renewed confidence in the governor and themselves. They will work harder than ever to maintain our pure food laws."

Church, State and Poor.

A book on "The Church, the State and the Poor" has been written by an English vicar. The book is comprehensive, tracing the subject of pre-reformation days. The author regrets that during the growth of collectivism, under which he classifies what is called "Christian socialism," the church has trusted too much to the state to better the conditions among the poor. Now there is a revival of interest in the welfare of the poor on the part of the church. The writer's contention is that a firm belief in the Christian creed is the only inspiration and guide to any effort to solve "the social problem."

LOCAL OPTION IS DEFEATED

that the law requires that the petitions shall be posted for 10 days immediately prior to being filed with the county clerk. It was shown by Mr. Cuddy that in the majority of instances the petitions were posted on Sept. 30 and affidavits as to posting were made on Oct. 10 while the petitions were not filed with the county clerk until Oct. 12, a discrepancy that Mr. Cuddy held made illegal all of the petitions so presented.

Mr. Cuddy referred to the petition from Bark River township, bearing 77 names, accompanied by an affidavit from Martin Rood, testifying that the petitions were posted in three places in that township on Sept. 30. Mr. Cuddy produced another affidavit before the board also made by Mr. Rood, testifying that in reality he did not post the petitions in that township until Oct. 6. Affidavits that the petitions in Bark River township were not posted until Oct. 6, were also filed by Mr. Cuddy, made by Miss Lettie Frechette and by Oscar Wedell. On the basis of this showing of insufficient posting as required by law, Mr. Cuddy asked that the petitions from Bark River be thrown out.

Referring to the petition from Ford River township, bearing the affidavit of George Jensen and containing 35 names, Mr. Cuddy asked to have the entire petition thrown out as the date on the affidavit was so indistinct that no member of the board could determine whether the date was Oct. 2, Oct. 3 or Oct. 8, it being held by the attorney that under the law the supervisors would not be permitted to guess as to the identity of the figure.

Referring to the petition from Baldwin township, bearing 51 names, Mr. Cuddy showed that the petition bearing the names was dated on Sept. 30, while the affidavit as to the legality of the signers was made on Sept. 29, thus showing that the affidavit was made that all of the petitioners were legal voters, before the petition had been signed.

Mr. Cuddy showed that all of the affidavits as to the petitions from the city of Gladstone were signed on Oct. 9, three days before being filed with the county clerk, a fact that he asserted made all of those petitions not of legal status before the board.

Mr. Cuddy asserted that a survey of the petitions and affidavits offered to the board showed that the law had been violated by the petitioners in a manner that did not reflect credit upon the fathers of the movement.

Mr. Cuddy pointed out to the supervisors that it was their duty to submit the question of local option when the names of a sufficient number of signers to petitions had been legally submitted to that board but insisted it was equally the duty of the board to guard against receiving petitions that had not been legally presented.

In arguing against the claims of Atty. Cuddy, Atty. Ryall demonstrated the inconsistency in the law, particularly in referring to the two affidavits presented to the board by Martin Rood, of Bark River township. It was held by Mr. Ryall that no matter what affidavit was made by Mr. Rood subsequent to the signing of the affidavit attached to the petition, under the law the first affidavit must be received under the law as the true affidavit. He held that it was the law that no matter what error was made by an affiant in an affidavit attached to a petition, that affiant could not correct that error by a subsequent affidavit. It was held by the attorney for the petitioners that it is the law that the board has no right to inquire as to the legality of signatures accompanied by an affidavit and that no matter if all of the signatures on a petition are illegal or forgeries, they cannot be attacked and must be accepted. Under the interpretation of the law by the attorney for the petitioners, one is enabled to personally write any number of signatures on a petition and after making a false affidavit as to their authenticity, neither the legality of the names of the affidavit may be successfully attacked after being properly filed.

Following is the complete report submitted to the board by the special committee of supervisors named to investigate the local option petitions: (Continued on page four.)

Miss Abbie L. Follo, daughter of Ald. Louis Follo, last evening became the bride of Mr. Hans O. Ellingson. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock at the rectory of St. Stephen's Episcopal church, Rev. W. J. Datson, officiating. Miss Helen Flemming served as bridesmaid, while Mr. Valentine Follo, brother of the bride, officiated as groomsmen. Previous to the wedding members of the bridal party were guests at a dinner at the home of Charles Follo, brother of the bride. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Ellingson left for a wedding trip to Milwaukee, Chicago and other points in the west.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Ald. Follo and for a number of years has made her home in this city, having a wide circle of close personal friends. The groom is engaged as cashier for the North Western road at the freight depot and is regarded
