French Generals Arrived in N. Y Yesterday to Place Orders For Horses, Wagons and Supplies to Carry out Winter Campaign

TRAIN IS STRANDED IN FRANCE

In Exploration Conducted by French Aviators, All Trains of the Kaiser are Held up--German Ruler Visits Army in Field

BULLETIN

(By Staff Correspondent.)
Bordeaux, Oct. 19.—I am officially informed that false reports, published principally in Swiss newspapers to the effect that a new German army estimated at 500,000 or more has been sent into the field in France. The movement of the German troops only indicated the replenishing of the battle losses.

BULLETIN

Paris, Oct. 19.—The Le Matin publishes a report today that General Helmuth von Moltke, chief of the German army general staff died at a hospital at Fecamp, a French town on the English channel.

BULLETIN

Rotterdam, Oct. 19.—A correspondent for a newspaper here who left Antwerp today says Saturday evening a great number of German wounded were brought into town.

BULLETIN

London, Oct. 19.—The first news of the destruction of the four German destroyers off the Dutch coast has reached the admiralty in two short messages from Captain Fox of the cruiser Undaunted. The messages said: "Am pursuing four German destroyers." The next message said: "Sunk the lot."

BULLETIN

Washington, Oct. 19.—The German embassy gave out the following tonight: "There is reliable news from San Francisco that the British battleship Triumph was heavily damaged while bombarding Tsing-Tau together with the Japanese ships by the shell fire from Howitzer's fortress. She had to withdraw immediately."

BULLETIN

London, Oct. 19.—A Reuter dispatch from Petrograd says the Czar has ordered that all German-Austrian subjects who have been granted honorary rank in the councillor of Commerce to be deprived of their title.

BULLETIN

Rome, Oct. 19.—A description of the Kaiser's visit with the soldiers at the front says: "The Kaiser wearing a gray uniform appeared unexpectedly among the soldiers who cheered while bands played martial airs. Meanwhile the guns opened fire against the enemy's position."

BULLETIN

Petrograd, Oct. 19.—The general staff issued the following today: "We report partial success on October 18 in very fierce fighting in the region of Warsaw and south of Przemysl."

BULLETIN

New York, Oct. 19.—Several officers of the French army arrived here today to place orders for twenty thousand horses, ten thousand army wagons, several hundred thousand bushels horse feed and thousands of blankets.

BULLETIN

Paris, Oct. 19.—Thirty German trains are stranded in France as a result of an exploit by French aviators who drove an airship across the German lines in a dense fog and dropped eighteen bombs blowing up the Tergnier railway station, partially destroying the viaduct. The airship returned undamaged to the French lines.

BULLETIN

London, Oct. 19.—A Marconi wireless from Berlin says: "Following is the official report issued today: "The German forces have reached the neighborhood of Dunkirk. Heavy fighting is taking place at Dixmude and Roulers. The inhabitants of Dunkirk and Boulogne are in flight."

BULLETIN

Paris, Oct. 19.—The following official bulletin was issued tonight:

"In Belgium the German attacks between Nieport and Dixmude are repulsed by the Belgians effectively aided by a British squadron. Between Arras and Roye we have made slight progress. In the vicinity of St. Mihiel we have gained ground along the right bank of the Meuse. There is no important news from the rest of the front."

(Special to the Press.)
Paris, Oct. 19.—The British warships by cannonading the German land forces who opened a terrific bombardment on the allies between Nieport and Dixmude southward on the Ypres canal, struck terror to the hearts of the invaders by their flanking and enfilading fire and broke the force of the attack. The Belgians dashed forward and in a counter attack hurled the Germans back. The German attack in this section is directed to break through along the coast and secure foothold on the French coast line before the allies strengthen their lines.

(Special to the Press.)
Manchester, Mass., Oct. 19.—The Austrian ambassador gave out the following from the minister of foreign affairs at Vienna: "Our forward movement on both sides of the San river continued yesterday. Last night several Russian attacks were repulsed with heavy losses. Today there is fighting on the whole line. Our heavy artillery has commenced. Our army advanced through the Carpathians and reached (name of city is not given) north of Przemysl. Our troops have already reached the eastern bank of the San. We are everywhere pursuing the enemy."

FIVE ESCANABA GIRLS TO ENTER SISTERHOOD

The following local young women left for Concordia, Kansas, where they will enter the Sisterhood. The Misses Blanche and Alexandrine Beaumier, Miss Virginia Rondo, Miss Rosella Olson and Miss Cyr. Miss Emma Polsson of Lake Linden was also included in the party. They were accompanied by Mother Antoinette, of the Concordia convent, who has been visiting in the city for the past several weeks.

LAST GAME TO BE PLAYED TODAY

The last of the interclass football games will be staged at South Park this afternoon following the regular school sessions. The game of this afternoon bears a particular significance inasmuch that it will be the last class game of the season and will ascertain the champion class football team of the local high school.

DELTA WOMEN TO HEAR SHIELD EDITOR TONIGHT

H. C. Evans, editor of the Yoeman Shield will this evening address the Yoeman of Escanaba at the North Star hall on the proposed fraternal amendment. The address by the editor should prove a most interesting one to each Yoeman of the Delta Homestead. Following the address tonight a "Children's Festival" will be staged in which the children of the local Yoemen will take part.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Beaumier of 215 South Norris street, on Sunday.

PIONEER IS SUMMONED

Nicholas Nies, for 32 years a resident of Escanaba, passed away late on Sunday night at a local hospital after being seriously ill for the past two weeks. The body was removed to the undertaking rooms of J. A. Allo, where it has been prepared for burial. Definite arrangements for the funeral will be made today when James Nies, a brother, arrives here from Wolbach, Neb.

Mr. Nies became seriously ill two weeks ago and was taken to the hospital where nothing could be done to stop the progress of the disease that had gripped his system and at 12:45 o'clock on Sunday night, he passed away.

Mr. Nies for a number of years was engaged as manager of the Escanaba hotel at Thomas street and Dousman avenue but for the past 20 had conducted a saloon at 405 Ludington street.

Mr. Nies was a member of the Luxembourg Bruder Band, Section No. 16 the Sons of Hermans and the order of Eagles. Following are the pallbearers selected to attend the funeral: Nicholas Braun and Nicholas Thinnies, representing the Eagles; Richard Roth and Joseph Walsh, representing the Sons of Hermans and James Drusch and John Berens, representing the Luxemburg Bruder Band.

BIG SELECTION AT RUMMAGE SALE

A mammoth stock has been accumulated at 711 Ludington street, where the Woman's club rummage sale is scheduled to open on Wednesday morning, bright and early. Yesterday draymen of several different lines were kept busy drawing contributions in the shape of wearing apparel of all kinds, baby carriages, furniture and scores of other things that will be sold rapidly with the opening of the store.

A great number of people have contributed articles of wearing apparel that scarcely have the newness worn off, all of which will be sold at a fraction of its original cost. Many bargains may be picked up at the rummage sale stand and it is anticipated that a large number of local people will take advantage.

GOOD SHOW BOOKED FOR THE PETERSON

The attraction at the Peterson Friday evening, Oct. 23, will be "When Dreams Come True" in which Frederick Santley is the featured player. The piece is a musical comedy from the pen of Philip Bartholomae, author of two successful farces, "Over Night" and "Little Miss Brown." The music is by Silvio Hein, and includes some of the best efforts of this successful young composer.

The first scene shows the deck of an ocean liner at sea, the second, the deck with the liner tied up and the Statue of Liberty in the distance, the third the reception room in a fashionable residence in New York, and the last the ballroom of this house.

Mr. Santley has invented and staged most of the dancing numbers in the piece and in nearly all of them he is a participant. Other members of the cast include Margaret Grae, Connie Mack, Andrew Glassford, Florence Lee, Anna Little and Jack Mundy. A large and capable chorus of young people, chosen for their singing and dancing ability will assist the principals. The costuming of the play is a feature that has been given much attention to by the management and the gowns from the Orange Costume Co. of New York, are modelled from the very latest Paris creations.

YOUNG WOMAN'S AUXILIARY TO HOLD MEETING TODAY

The members of the Young Women's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church will meet this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Mrs. R. H. Banks at which time matters will be taken up and discussed. All members of the auxiliary are especially urged to attend the meeting of this afternoon.

TO APPLY FOR WRIT

Formal notice was yesterday filed in the Delta county circuit court, by Atty. A. H. Ryall, representing the dry forces of Delta county, that in Friday application will be made before Judge R. C. Flannigan for a writ of mandamus against the Delta county board of supervisors, to compel that body to reconvene, canvass the petitions for the submission of the local option question and to order the question submitted to the voters of Delta county. The matter will be heard before Judge Flannigan on Friday with Atty. A. H. Ryall, representing the petitioners and Atty. Joseph F. Cuddy, appearing for the objectors to the legality of the petitions.

MESSENGER SERVICE TO BE ESTABLISHED

(Communicated.)
The question has arisen as to how the different offerings of mery for the Christmas ship, may be taken from the various homes to the high school. We have tried to emphasize the fact, that the school will establish a messenger service and call for all contributions, great and small. If any individuals who have clothing for which they have no use but which will help these poor destitute people, they would only see that they are properly cleaned and phone the high school that will be all that is necessary. The messengers will be there to call for them.

Many heads of organizations have not yet received circulars, but this is caused by the time for sailing of the Christmas ship being put ahead two weeks and the management being so rushed that to get out more was impossible. But if those who receive these today or tomorrow will respond as quickly as those who have already received them, nothing more could be asked for. Rev. Land of the Swedish Lutheran church, Father Julius of St. Joseph's church have already decided to have a collection taken up for the benefit of the ship.

Individuals have offered their sewing machines to expedite the sewing of different articles. The Delta Hardware has kindly offered their service in collecting and returning the machines. If any individual feel that they have the time to spare and feel kindly enough toward this movement, their help in finishing garments will be greatly appreciated.

The grade schools in the city are making various useful and pleasure-giving articles under the direction of the domestic science supervisors. Even the children are being made to feel Europe's need of their small help and are sacrificing their time to help us.

It might be interesting to note that Lansing, the capital of our state, has gathered $1,000 for the Christmas ship. A 2,800 foot moving picture film was taken, the people of Lansing being made to step lively according to the commands of the movie director. On the evening when this film was thrown on the screen practically all Lansing flocked to the movie theater to see it and one can easily understand that it did not take long to realize $1,000, all of which goes toward the Christmas Ship.

Inquiries have been made as to who will be expected to attend the supper given Saturday evening. Everybody is cordially invited. The price will be moderate and the food, we guarantee, will be worth all and more than the price we set. Come and bring your friends and by doing so help boost America's Christmas Ship.

MUSICIANS TO MEET TONIGHT

Members of the Escanaba local of the International Musicians Union will meet at the hall of the Escanaba Military band at 7 o'clock on Tuesday evening to perfect that organization. The local union was organized two weeks ago and on Tuesday evening the final steps will be taken to make the organization a permanent one.

FRANK VOGEL DIED MONDAY

(Special to the Press.)
New York, Oct. 19.—Frank Vogel, the partner of Henry Siegel in his defunct bank and stores, died here tonight of heart disease.

SERVICES WILL OPEN

FORTY HOURS DEVOTION TO OPEN THIS MORNING AT ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH—MANY VISITING PRIESTS HERE.

The solemnity of Forty Hours Devotions will be opened at St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock this morning. Solemn High Mass will be celebrated this morning by Rev. Father Blin of St. Anne's church, assisted by Rev. Father LaForest, of Iron Mountain as deacon; Rev. Father Tastevin, of Perkins, subdeacon and Rev. Father Meyer, of St. Francis Hospital, master of ceremonies. The sermons during the Forty Hours Devotions, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 7:30 o'clock, will be delivered by Rev. Father Corcoran of Iron Mountain.

The Solemn Close of the special services will take place at 7:30 o'clock on Thursday evening and in the Eucharistic appearance St. Patrick's Boys Brigade, Companies B and C in khaki uniforms and Company A in white uniforms, will act as a guard of honor.

Assisting the pastors of St. Patrick's church during the Forty Hours Devotions will be the members of the local Catholic clergy and the following outside priests: Father Molinari, Vulcan; Father Phelan, Niagara; Father Jacques, Menominee; Father Sperline, Nadeau, Father Beauchene, Flat Rock; Father Tastevin, Perkins; Father LaForest, Iron Mountain; Father Corcoran, Iron Mountain; Father Stenklein, Sault Ste. Marie; Father Marx, Green Bay; Father Savageau, Manistique and Father Lagolvan of Garden.

The visiting priests will arrive in the city today and tomorrow to remain here during the special services. At the High Mass service on Wednesday morning, Rev. Father LaForest of Iron Mountain will officiate. On Thursday morning Rev. Father Jacques, of Menominee will officiate at the High Mass service and he will also preside at the solemn close on Thursday evening.

The women of St. Patrick's parish have been very generous in their donations of flowers for the church during the special services and the altars present a very beautiful appearance.

A large concourse of people is expected to be present and to the exercises of the Forty Hours Devotions all are welcome.

MEETING IS DELIGHTFUL

Members of the Catholic Woman's Club were entertained last evening at the home of Mrs. John J. Cleary. Last night's function was a regular meeting of the organization, being arranged as a literary night. Miss Maude Aucutt, of Antio, Wis., was the guest of honor for the evening and in addition to the literary program Miss Aucutt favored the club members with several delightful solo numbers. At the conclusion of the program a delicious luncheon was served.

WAR SLIDES SHOWN TO HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS

A number of splendid stereopticon slides, from the Novelty Slide Company, showing the actual scenes of the European war, were witnessed by the student body of the local high school yesterday afternoon. Miss M. E. Lynch read the accompanying lecture, while Principal P. A. Lint operated the projecting camera. Realizing the difficulty under which the pictures were obtained in Europe, the pupils showed their appreciation by their undivided attention.

LOCAL PHARMACIST BAGS CHICKEN INSTEAD OF GAME

The warrior returns with the glories of battle. So the hunter returns with the trophies of the hunt. Friday Lewis Stangby went hunting. Mr. Stangby searched the district in which he was located systematically and carefully. Last night he returned to the city torn by brambles and briars from a day in the tall meadow. He claimed to have bagged a partridge. An investigation was started. Well informed sportsmen found the partridge to be a chicken, probably run down in some farmer's yard. Such is the discretion of the huntsman.

Atty. H. J. Rushton is in L'Anse on professional business.

ARE AGAINST AMENDMENT

Members of St. Joseph's court No. 392, Catholic Order of Foresters, last night at an enthusiastic meeting held at the North Star Hall, went on record unanimously against the fraternal insurance amendment that is to be submitted to the voters of the state at the November election. The matter was fully discussed at last night's meeting and when the vote was taken to stand against the adoption of the amendment not an opposing vote was cast. The meeting of last night was one of the most enjoyable held this year by members of the court and was attended by a large part of the membership.

"TOMMIE" HUGHITT INJURED SATURDAY

O. N. Hughitt, of Ozden avenue, yesterday received a telegram from his son "Tommy" Hughitt, star quarter for the University of Michigan, stating that although he had suffered several severe bruises and a dislocated elbow, he expected to play his position in the Harvard game.

On account of the injured member "Tommy" will be out of the contest with Syracuse next Saturday but claims that he will be in condition for Harvard.

Members of the Michigan football team and those who witnessed the game with the Aggies last Saturday admit that it was the hardest battle of the year and in several different newspapers it has been stated that the brunt of the Aggie attack was directed in Hughitt's direction.

STORY BRANDED AS RANK FRAUD

Mrs. O. E. Newman, formerly Miss Myra Dietz, who recently visited Escanaba with her husband, who is preparing motion pictures of this city, has branded as a fraud the man who is now on a walking tour through the east, claiming to be Leslie Dietz. Mr. Dietz is not in the east and his family has no connection with the stranger, who is walking from city to city in the east, claiming to be the son of the defender of Cameron Dam on the president for the pardon of his father. A number of the larger newspapers have carried stories in the past few days dealing with the fictitious story told by the stranger.

WANTED MAN CAUGHT HERE

Wanted at Otsego, Antrim county, for obtaining money under false pretenses, Raymond Smith, alias Raymond Van Dorn was arrested by Sheriff T. J. Curran late on Sunday night at Chandler's Falls. Smith had been employed in Gladstone until recently when he went to Chandler's Falls and took a job on the dam construction work there. He was traced to that place and was placed under arrest at his sleep. Sheriff Archie Cullington of Otsego will probably arrive here today to take charge of the prisoner.

SPECIAL JURYMEN HAVE BEEN DRAWN

Nine special jurymen were drawn at County Clerk Semer's office yesterday. They are: Escanaba First Ward, Nicholas Wurth; Second ward, J. B. Moran; Third ward Edward Olson; Fourth ward, F. E. Olmsted; Fifth ward, John Folio; Sixth ward, Victor DeGrand; seventh ward, Charles Ecke; Gladstone, First ward, George Perry; second ward, Dennis McCarthy.

STORM FRONT BEING INSTALLED AT BIJOU

Manager Hines of the Bijou theater yesterday started the installation of a storm front at the Bijou theater. Contractor John S. Lindsay is in charge of the work and has a crew of men at the work.

With the completion of the work patrons of the theater will not be compelled to stand out in the cold while waiting for admission to the theater during the winter months.

BOTTOM DROPS FROM THE LAST

MANY CASES ON CALENDAR FOR OCTOBER COURT TERM ARE CONTINUED TO FINISH THIS WEEK

The bottom fell out of the calendar for the October court term of circuit court for Delta county yesterday when but seven jury cases were set for trial out of a total list of 42. Out of eighteen defendants arraigned on criminal charges, eight yesterday entered pleas of guilty and will be sentenced later on the term by Judge R. C. Flannigan.

Following are the jury cases that are to be tried at the present court term: Fred Paro against Escanaba Manufacturing Company; Joseph Youngs, Sr., and others against the Escanaba Manufacturing Company; Thomas Vallencourt against Peter Biehler; David Geroux against Archie Geroux; John D. Colburn against the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway; Hewitt Grain & Provision Company against Charles Arnold; Arthur Peterson against Tilda Beck and O. V. Linden and John Heim against Chicago & NorthWestern Railway.

Following was the disposition made yesterday of the cases on the criminal calendar: George Rice, statutory offense, continued; Gilhart Carlson and George Luther, pleaded guilty to burglary; Erick Holmberg, assault with intent to kill, passed temporarily; Arthur and Carl W. Sundstrom, appeal from justice court, continued by consent; John Judlaski, pleaded guilty to assault, being armed with dangerous weapon without intent to kill; Henry Kessler, embezzlement, to be disposed of during term; Joseph Blondeau, assault with intent to kill, passed with probability of continuance over term; Louis Anderson, violating liquor law, passed temporarily; Frank Paquin, violating liquor law, pleaded not guilty and case continued; Raymond Carlson, grand larceny, pleaded guilty; John Miller, for murder of Andrew Gustafson, Atty. H. R. Dotsch named as counsel and case continued; August Froberg statutory offense, case continued; McKinley Smears, burglary, pleaded guilty; August Johnson, violating liquor law, pleaded guilty, fined $100 and costs by the court; Earl Evans, violating parole, to be sentenced; J. E. Weissenfuh, violating state game laws, passed temporarily.

Many civil cases on the calendar were passed for various reasons. In many of the cases Atty. T. J. Riley is retained as counsel and by consent all of those cases were continued over the term. A number of cases were continued by the mutual consent of the attorneys present.

PAPERS SHOW INDEPENDENCE

The Mining Journal of Marquette says editorially: "The upper peninsula newspapers are as a rule, Republican in their politics, and some of them are so strenuously Republican that they lean backwards. Yet not many more than half of them are giving loyal support to the Republican ticket, and in some of them that on other occasions have protested their Republicanism until they have given their readers mental indigestion there has not been a word even about the county tickets. But no person should quarrel with this new attitude, if it represents a determination in the future to view politics in a broader way, and with a large measure of independence. For many years Michigan suffered because the Republican party had in the state a lopsided strength, reflected in the attitude of the newspapers. The best government is forthcoming when the minority party is threatening, and when it has a fair number of organs to voice its constructive criticism."

HOLD FUNERAL THIS MORNING

Funeral services over the body of James Hughes, who passed away suddenly at his home at Denver, Colo., will be held at St. Patrick's church at 8 o'clock this morning. Rev. Father Barth officiating. Interment will be at St. Joseph's cemetery. The body of the young man arrived in the city yesterday morning accompanied by the funeral party, after making a record trip from Denver direct to Escanaba. Mr. Hughes was widely known in this city, where he spent his boyhood days and it is expected that the funeral of this morning will be largely attended.

THE TORCHLIGHT AGE.

No longer do liberty inspired citizens of this free republic shoulder leaky oil torches, don uniform capes and march through the streets to the glory of their party label. Times have changed in American politics. We are just as much in earnest, doubtless, but our earnestness takes other and, as we believe, saner forms for manifestation.

The torchlight procession perhaps served a good purpose. That was a time of intense partisan feeling. To be "regular" at election time was expected of every freeborn citizen. To "scratch" a ticket was only second in iniquity to voting some other ticket than that one's father always voted. From president to township assessor a voter was expected to stay in the same column with his marking; certainly no assessor could appraise property acceptably unless his views on the tariff were orthodox.

Yes, times have changed. A few of us attend partisan rallies, but not many. A few vote the way some supposedly wise man tells us, but only a few. Most citizens, sitting down with their intelligence and their conscience, decide how they will mark their ballot on election day, and their decision is irrevocable.

It is far better so. The intense and bitter rivalry of thirty years ago, say, accomplished nothing advantageous except to those who mate politics their profession. For citizens generally it meant disturbance of business, disruption of personal relations and general perturbation lasting for weeks before and after each important election. It was a profitless rivalry.

Good citizens now understand that no party proposes to ruin the country. No party monopolizes either virtue or the capacity to govern. It should interest a citizen least of all to know how his grandfather used to vote.

In its essentials the question how to vote is simple. Which of a group of candidates for an office appears best fitted to conduct the business with which that particular office is concerned? There is chance for the widest divergence of opinion, but for the widest divergence of opinion, but for no disagreement as to the principle which should guide the choice. Politics is mostly business, anyway the business of conducting government in the most efficient way.

According to the advice of a man who has passed his 100th birthday, we should laugh heartily and eat what we want. Alas, eating has ceased to be a laughing matter!

It is hoped the mutiny in South Africa will not last long enough to revive the dear old Ptermaritzburg and Bloemfontein geographical phraseology.

Weedy William, late of Albania has joined the German army. It must be a terrible handicap, even for so fine a body of men as the kaiser's own.

A Pennsylvania man was stricken dead while gissing his son's bride at the wedding. It is not related whether he died in martyrdom or ecstasy.

The Noah Webster statute at Amherst has been unveiled. All the words necessary to describe it are found in Mr. Webster's justly noted volume.

It is quite evident that the Panama canal was very considerate in enjoying that slide during a temporary lull in maritime affairs.

England is ready to forgive Gen. Smuts his unpleasant name now that he is ranged as one of the loyalist leaders of South Africa.

The campaign has two more weeks so run, and one wonders what will happen when the few remaining superlatives are exhausted.

It's moving at Tsing-Tau and the American consul and other non-combatants are taking advantage of the last chance.

If the next Olympic games are to be held at Berlin a submarine contest may be included on the program.

That Panama slide may hold vessels back for a week, but it takes longer than that to go around the Horn.

Photographs are so deceiving. Carranza looks as if he might uplift mayor of Philadelphia.

Switzerland continues to export the cheese that made the name of Schwytzer famous.

It looks as if the German army in the west meant to play old-fashioned football.

With men men to be interned must be a great relief.

WAR

"On our left wing, north of the canal La-Basse, the allies occupy a front on Givenchy. Allies from Fromelles have retaken Armentieres."

"To the north of Arras, yesterday was marked by a notable advance on our part."

"Between the region of Arras and the Oise we have progressed slightly at certain points."

"In the center and on our right wing, the situation remains stationary."

Paris, Oct. 19.—The official communication by the French war office tonight says: "During the course of last night two violent attacks were attempted by the Germans to the north and east of St. Die. These were repulsed with serious losses to the enemy."

"No other reports of any importance have yet been received on the operations of the day."

London, Oct. 19.—The official press bureau issued tonight the following announcement: "The British troops have made good progress during the last few days. In the northern area the allies have driven the enemy back more than thirty miles."

London, Oct. 19.—The following official report from German headquarters, issued in Berlin Sunday morning, is sent by Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent: "In the western theater of war, yesterday was generally quiet and the situation unchanged. In the eastern theater, our troops are advancing in the environs of Lyck (East Prussia). The battle near Warsaw continues."

Petrograd, Oct. 19.—The Russian general army headquarters makes the following announcement: "On the front in East Prussia and on the Vistula, there is nothing new to report. Austrian attempts to cross the San river have failed."

"South of Przemysl, the fighting continues. At several points there were bayonet attacks, in which we captured fifteen Austrian officers and more than one thousand soldiers.

"Austrian reinforcements are reported in the passes of the Carpathians."

London, Oct. 19.—The Amsterdam correspondent of Reuter's Telegram company has forwarded the following Austrian official statement regarding operations in Galicia, which was given out in Vienna Saturday noon: "The battles on the line running through Stary, Sambor and Melyn on the river San are progressing favorably, as are our operations against the enemy on the Dniester river. North of Wyszkow, the Russians were again attacked and repulsed."

"At Synowukowsky our troops forced a crossing of the Stry river, conquered the heights north of Synowukowsky and pursued the enemy. We further occupied the heights north of Podbusz, southeast of Stary and Sambor, after severe fighting. Our attacks north of the Stry river are progressing. North of Przemysl, on the east bank of the San River our troops are gaining ground. Up until now about fifteen hundred prisoners have been taken."

Manchester, Mass., Oct. 19.—The following statement was given out tonight by Dr. Konstantin Theodore Dumba, Austro-Sungarian ambassador to the United States: "Fighting in Galicia is continuous along the whole front, Stary, Sambor and the San river. The last remaining Russian forces that broke into Hungary are being pursued through the Carpathians into Galicia. The Russians committed in the district in Galicia from where they are dislodged all sorts of horrors—sacked, stole, and abused women and girls."

London, Oct. 19.—The anti-German rioting in London during last night seems to have been more general than was at first supposed. Many shops were wrecked. Damage was done in Deptford borough and in Old Kent road. In the former district several stores were attacked and one was set on fire. In Old Kent road meat markets were smashed and this was followed by the wrecking of a confectionary store early this morning. Some of the shops were pillaged. Police and soldiers were called out and twenty arrests were made. Precautions have been taken to prevent further rioting.

London, Oct. 19.—The rioting in the German shops in Deptford was resumed late Sunday night. A large force of police which tried unsuccessfully to put down the disturbance had several of its members injured.

Great excitement prevailed through Sunday in Deptford and neighboring burroughs. Crowds thronged the streets and refused to move at the orders of the policemen and soldiers until they were clubbed. The rioting was led by one hundred dock laborers, who had to make room for Belgian refugees.

The arrival in London of thousands of Belgian refugees has stirred up the population in the poorer districts of the city against the Germans. Thousands of Germans are still carrying on business, or continuing in their places of employment, not only in London, but throughout the country, and the agitation for the discharge of those employed in hotels, barber shops and other places is growing in intensity.

The Germans have established civil administrations in the German part of Belgium, and are said to have demanded war levies from Ostend and Blankenberge, Ostend being called upon to pay $1,000,000 and Blankenberge to supply certain provisions for man and beast.

The Hague, via London, Oct. 19.—The burgomasters in the leading Dutch towns have issued proclamations announcing that the German government has granted permission for all Belgian refugees to return to their homes in Antwerp or other parts of Belgium. The only reservation is that men liable for military service will be considered prisoners of war if they return.

The Dutch burgomasters urge the Dutch to permit the Belgian refugees to return home as quickly as possible. Train service between Roosendaal and Antwerp has been resumed. Considerable satisfaction is expressed over the prospect that Holland will soon be relieved of the great burden of supporting more than one-half a million Belgians.

The German legation at The Hague has sent to the Dutch press a communication saying in effect that Germany had taken measures in August to spare Belgium a famine by asking Holland to allow the transportation of food-stuffs into Belgium over the Maas, the understanding being that the foodstuffs were intended for Belgians only. The Dutch government, while sympathizing with the request on humane grounds, was unable to consider it, as the export of foodstuffs into Belgium was objected to by Great Britain and France on the ground that it was Germany's duty to see that the countries occupied by her armies did not suffer from famine. If Holland helped in that respect, it would be an infringement of neutrality.

London, Oct. 19.—An official report by General French, commanding the British expeditionary force, gives the total of the British killed, wounded and missing from Sept. 12 to Oct. 8 as 561 officers and 12,980 men.

The war office issued tonight another casualty list received from headquarters under date of Sept. 6. It gives fifty-one non-commissioned officers and men as having been killed, 149 wounded and 55 men missing. Those of the killed belonged entirely to the Royal Scots, Royal Irish and East Surrey regiments. The East Surreys, the King's Own Scottish Borderers and the Somerset Light Infantry figure largely in the missing list. Of commissioned officers, the list gives four killed and five wounded.

London, Oct. 19.—The Germans are bombarding Lille from the south, according to a dispatch to the Daily Chronicle. They are bringing heavy reinforcements from Brussels.

London, Oct. 19.—A Rotterdam dispatch to the Daily Mail, under date of Sunday night, says: "A message just received from a German source reports that the Germans are between Furnes (Belgium) and Dunkirk (France) and are nearing the latter place."

London, Oct. 19.—A dispatch from Dunkirk to the Daily Mail, sent Sunday evening, says: "Severe fighting is taking place today. Heavy firing has been heard at Dunkirk since 8 o'clock this morning. It is supposed that destroyers or gunboats are being used in the canals."

Amsterdam, via London, Oct. 19.—A dispatch to the Telegraph from Sluis says that three thousand Germans who have occupied Blankenberge, Belgium, have demanded a war contribution of hay and oats to the value of $25,000. The Germans have evacuated Courtrai, and numerous German troops have hastily left Bruges in the direction of the French frontier. The correspondent adds that it is rumored that the Germans are retreating in West Flanders.

London, Oct. 19.—Two important successes in the battle for Dunkirk and Calais, for the possession of which the Germans are striving, are credited to the allies in the official communication issued in Paris this afternoon.

The French are said to have reoccupied Armentieres, an important railway junction on the Belgian frontier northwest of Lille, and to have repulsed an attempt of the Germans to cross the river Yser, which flows through that little corner of West Flanders, which is all of Belgium hands. This would mean a check to the German attempt to reach Dunkirk by the coast route. The French also are said to have pushed back still farther the German army which is attempting to advance along the Belgian frontier to the coast.

The battle which culminated in Armentieres again coming under French influence lasted for a week, during which the fighting was hard and continuous. The town was seized by the Germans last week owing to its importance as a railway center, lines diverging from it in all directions. Besides, it is on the road to Lille, which the Germans still hold, despite reports to the contrary. The battle opened with cavalry fighting, which gradually developed into a general battle, which indicates that the French are advancing in force toward Lille.

The allies also have made an advance north of the La-Basse canal, between that line and Arras, and at certain points between Arras and Oise. This latter is a rather long front, but the claims in the French official communication are taken here to mean that the German movement westward has been checked. The Germans, however, are bringing up reinforcements, seemingly determined to resume the offensive either toward Calais or at some other point on the long front. Berlin says it is not known where these new troops are going, but the allies probably soon will learn their destination, as their aviators said to be busy everywhere over the German lines. It is thought here, however, that it probably will be some days before the Germans make their presence felt, although they have made a reputation for quick movements.

In the center and in the Vosges, the situation is reported stationary. This is not taken here to mean that no fighting is taking place, and it is considered likely that the battle on the Alsace frontier, which has been going on for some days, has yet to reach its end.

From the Battle Front, Oct. 19.—What in previous wars would have been called great battles were fought today on the eastern wing of the fighting line, stretching from the Belgian coast to Switzerland. In this great battle of nations, however, these fights are regarded merely as incidents. The fighting all week has been of the most fierce nature in this district, owing to the strenuous efforts of the Germans to obtain possession of the strong fortresses of Verdun, Toul and Epinal, in order to open a way from Metz into France.

St. Die, on the Meurthe, thirty-two miles northeast of Epinal, was the center of today's attack, which resulted in a repulse for the Germans with heavy casualties. The borders of both Alsace and Lorraine also felt the shock of the battle, and in the Vosges the famous French Alpine regiments were in contact with German columns. These mountaineers continually kept the Germans busy by utilizing their remarkable mountain guns and baffling the efforts to drive them out. Their greatest achievement in the recent operations was the cutting of railroad communication between Colmar, capital of Upper Alsace, and Muelhausen, Alsace, thereby increasing the difficulties of the Germans in sending their wounded to the rear and bringing up supplies.

The Germans have brought up 10-inch mortars in this district, supposedly for an intended eventual stage of Belfort. In view of this possibility, the French have renewed their attacks from the south and again advanced beyond Altkirch. A great part of the theater of operations in southern Alsace is illuminated at night by forest fires along the Swiss frontier, caused by shells falling across the border.

Along the entrenched line, where the armies have been face to face for six weeks, nothing beyond a desultory bombardment occurred today; but farther north, on the western wing, where the German efforts to break the allies' lines have been unsuccessful, the fighting still continues.

Berlin, via The Hague and London, Oct. 19.—All signs indicate that a change is impending in the protracted struggle in northern France, where for weeks the hostile armies have faced each other in such strongly entrenched positions that neither has been able to advance except at enormous cost. The principal effect of the mutual flanking operations has been to extend the battle lines without either side finding a weak spot.

The German army which besieged Antwerp is now free and the invading forces have been strengthened otherwise for an assault against some point in the extended battle front. Rigid secrecy is preserved as to the point chosen for this offensive movement. The bulletins given out by the German headquarters throw no light on the nature of the stroke which unmistakably is impending.

MAY RAISE RATES ON CLASS FREIGHT

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 19.—The state railroad commission will issue an order within a few days authorizing the railroads of the state to increase rates on class freight shipments, approximately five per cent.

This is a decided reduction from the schedule asked by the railroads and over which several hearings have been held. The railroads asked for a new schedule of rates allowing five per cent increase, but upon investigation following several hearings, the railroad commission found that while the proposed rates were five per cent increases at some points, they went even as high as 40 per cent at other points, and really meant an average raise of 15 per cent. As a result of this the commission prepared a schedule of new rates, based on mileage, which was Friday submitted to representatives of the railroads and shippers for their consideration.

Agreement is Reached. After listening to the tentative schedule and the plan of basing rates as arrived at by the commission, the shippers and railroad representatives went into separate executive sessions to discuss the matter. Within a few minutes the shippers appeared, saying they were well satisfied. The railroad men took two hours to deliberate and finally concluded that while they were disappointed in the commission's tentative order, yet they tentatively order, yet they were willing granted the railroad a hearing at any time if it can be shown that the schedule of the commission, figured on a mileage basis, works a hardship to the railroad.

That the railroads would have been ahead had they accepted the six per cent increase in freight rates, which the shippers agreed to give them during a hearing the past summer, is shown by the fact that the railroads now admit that the order of the commission will mean less revenue for them than under the plan proposed by the shippers and which the railroads were not willing to accept.

Detroit is Hard Hit. Hal H. Smith, and Arthur T. Waterfall, of Detroit, representing Detroit shippers and others, are pleased with the commission's tentative plan inasmuch as it means a 32 per cent reduction from what the railroads desired in freight raises as applying to Detroit shipments. While Detroit will be hit hard on freight shipments to nearby points, yet rates to points located some distance from the city will not be increased more than five per cent.

About the only difference remaining for the commission to iron out between the railroads and the shippers is a difference in opinion as to how the class freight rates shall be figured between Bay City and Saginaw. The railroads desire to follow another course than the one suggested by the commission, and Frank L. Kleinfeld, representing Saginaw shippers, makes strenuous objection, claiming the same system ought to be used in arriving at rates for these cities as for the balance of the state.

The following unsolicited testimonial should certainly be sufficient to give hope and courage to persons afflicted with chronic dyspepsia: "I have been a chronic dyspeptic for years, and of all the medicine I have taken, Chamberlain's Tablets have done me more good than anything else," says W. WHAT LONDON THINKS ABOUT THE XMAS SHIP

A charming idea occurred the other day to some one in Chicago. It has already captivated the whole of the United States. It will be received with gratitude and with a tug at the heartstrings throughout Europe, and especially among the nations now at war. The idea, as our New York correspondent describes a most interesting dispatch, is simply this; that the children of the United States should send Christmas gifts to every child in Europe whose father has fallen in the war. America is enjoying the blessings of peace. Secure and distant from the war's alarms, her people can pursue their daily avocations undisturbed by the intense pre-occupations of war. Her children are safe from the horrors of invasion such as have been endured by thousands of hapless children in Belgium or in France. Their homes are not subject to fire and pillage. When Christmas comes there will be all the serene and peaceful joys of Christmas-tide. But in warstricken Europe scores of thousands of children will look in vain for the father who never returns and who lies in some unknown and untended grave. A sad Christmas prospect the sorrows of which will touch the heart of every child to whom they are explained and the explanation is being brought home to American children with all the skill in which the American Press has no rival when it has a sympathetic and sentimental chord on which to play. So every American boy and girl is now being exhorted to do his share and her share to play the part of Santa Claus in some home in Europe which has been clouded by the tragedy of this war. How many that will be no one can now compute. We shrink from the inquiry. Never in the world's long history will there be so many lintels marked with the fatal sign. Never will there have been a Christmas when the trees have been lighted with so sad a heart.

America, as our correspondent informs us, has taken up this charming idea with enthusiasm. The Americans pride themselves on being the most businesslike people in the world. But they are also the most sentimental, and we doubt if such an idea could have occurred elsewhere, or, if it had, that it would have been taken up with such characteristic energy. The American newspapers will see to the collecting of the myriad gifts; the children are to buy the toys themselves with their own money. The Boy Scouts and the Camp Fire Girls are working hard for the scheme's success and many of the most influential ladies in the states are giving it their active support. White House approves and applauds, and the ambassadors of all the countries now at war have promised on behalf of their governments that the gifts shall safely reach their recipients. Nor is this all. These precious gifts are not to be sent across the Atlantic stowed away in the hold of some ordinary vessel. They are to be despatched in a special time "Christmas Ship," flying only the Stars and Stripes, and one steamer which is to bear "the white star of Christ" and the single word "Inasmuch." This ship is to sail from port to port in Europe with her unique freight, guided safely through every mine-field and entering freely the most jealously-guarded ports. And the toys as we have said, are to be distributed wherever there is a child who has been bereaved by the war, irrespective of nationality and the rights or wrongs of the causes for which the combatants have fought. What a delivery it will be! Where will the bearers of these gifts not penetrate? Great Britain, France, Russia, Belgium, Serbia, Germany, Austria—and who can be sure that even that long list will be exhaustive when Christmas comes?—It will be the most gigantic distribution that the world has ever seen; and even so, war in Japan, in India, and in the Dominions who will not be cheered by America's kindly thought. But the thought itself was golden springing from a kindly heart and taken up by a kindly people. Who can doubt that it will achieve the desired result, not only by bringing happiness to those who are too young, perhaps, to be sensible of their loss, but also by reminding the warring nations of the openings words of the first Christmas?

Most Dangerous of Minor Ailments. Of the minor ailments a cold is by far the most dangerous, not in itself but the serious diseases it so often leads to. Pneumonia and consumption always start with a cold. When you have a cold you are much more likely to contract the infectious diseases such as diphtheria, scarlet fever and whooping cough. Colds are easily cured, in fact, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cure of this most common ailment, and is pleasant and safe to take. Why take such desperate chances when so reliable and trustworthy a medicine may be obtained for a quarter. For sale by all dealers.

A FABLE FOR PARENTS

By GEORGE E. STREETER. Thomas Bookman, Ph. D., was one of those exceedingly clever men—short and stout, spectacled and whiskered—who find it difficult to make both ends meet. As a private tutor he forced the old Greeks and Romans down the small throats of the young, who were much more eager for dinner than for the classics. Everything about Mr. Bookman was dingy and melancholy. The world in which he lived was surrounded by creditors, who merely knew him as a debtor to be continually carried forward in their books. His children looked upon him as a man of mystery, woefully deflated in small change; while his wife realized that he possessed real ability and no income to speak of. The only oasis in the Sahara of the Bookman family was Lucretia, the eldest of the six daughters. She was an eminently practical girl. One day she said to her father: "I have long been thinking of our position, and it seems to me that unless something is done at once we shall starve. There are six of us girls, and not one earning a cent. I have had an offer of marriage from Fred Harris, our baker." "What?" gasped Mr. Bookman. "Yes, father; our baker. He is not a literary man, but he has a good business." "This is terrible!" exclaimed the Ph. D. "What madness has seized you my daughter?" "No madness, father; am talking plain sense. Listen to me for a minute. You know that we have never been overfed, though perhaps overeducated. I will never marry a man connected with either education or literature. I have decided to marry Mr. Harris, and, if I want to read Plato afterward, I shall be able to do so near a good warm stove." "But, Lucretia, Socrates says—" "Both Socrates, father, and all his tribe!" rejoined the young woman. "He would be arrested as a vagrant in these days. Fancy the poor old man stopping people on the streets, and asking their opinion on the tariff, bimetallism, or the Filipinos. Mother says she is willing to have me marry the baker, for it means unlimited bread and cake for the Bookman family." For a minute or two Mr. Bookman was silent. He was thinking deeply, and along a line of thought that was new to him. "I am becoming interested in what you say, my dear," he finally remarked. "But bread and cake are not the only necessities. Only this morning your mother told me we are in need of coal again." "Well, father, before next winter comes, Jennie may marry young Hart, the coal merchant of South street; he has called on her three times this week." Father and daughter continued the conversation for more than an hour 'till dull March afternoon. Mr. Bookman began to see things in a different light, and gave his consent to Lucretia's marriage. That bright young woman urged her sisters to keep a sharp lookout for business men, and before the month of April was over she led the way by marrying Fred Harris. In June, Jennie married the coal merchant; and Lucinda, the second girl, became the wife of George Ross, a neighboring butcher. Things looked brighter for the Bookman family. In discussing with his wife the great change in the family's affairs, the head of the house thus expressed himself: "You see, my dear, how much we are indebted to Lucretia's practical mind. If my father had insisted on 'ne becoming a blacksmith, or a shoemaker, he would have been wiser; and I, no doubt, would now be better off. Think of the years I have spent in trying to lead the youth of this town around the moss-covered Parthenon, getting only small fees in return. But we are now connected with trade, and although I am no politician, I appreciate a free breakfast table. "The ancients," he continued, warming to his subject, "seem to have satisfied their hunger with dialogues, but such airy nutriment as that is not suited either to this part of the globe or to the present age." "No, indeed," replied his wife. "Only yesterday I bought some combs from a Harvard graduate. He spoke so nicely, but seemed thoroughly disheartened. He said he is not tall enough to join the police, over age for the army, and far too bilious to enter the navy. I think he said he took four scholarships, but he declared that if he failed to sell the dozen combs he had with him before night, he would commit suicide." "Very sad, my dear," remarked Mr. Bookman. "Just listen to this little verse I wrote this afternoon: Education is no good To take the place of daily food. Hair a loss and a level head Are better than learning without any bread!" "Beautiful," said Mrs. Bookman, "and so true!"

PROGRAM GIVEN FOR CONGRESS

Menominee, Mich., Oct. 19.—The program for the Potato Congress to be held in Turner hall Oct. 21, 22 and 23 has just been announced. Particular emphasis has been laid on the education features. Among the speakers at this congress are included our Mayor, M. B. Lloyd, Col. C. W. Mott, of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, J. W. Weston, State potato agent in the upper peninsula, Prof. J. G. Milward of the University of Wisconsin, Henry G. Bell of the Middle West oil improvement committee, Prof. C. W. Waid, field representative of the Michigan Agricultural College and Secretary of the Michigan Potato Association, Mr. R. L. Nye, new superintendent of the Menominee County Agricultural College and Mr. R. G. Hoopingartner, county agent for Iron county. Have Cooking Lesson. Particular attention has been paid to the women of Menominee and vicinity in arranging for the program. For their benefit cooking demonstrations have been arranged daily from 2:30 to 4:00 o'clock. These demonstrations will be under the supervision of Mrs. H. Schon and will be given over entirely to methods of preparing cooking and serving potatoes. A special salad contest has been arranged and prizes will be awarded to the women of Menominee or vicinity who can prepare the best dish of potato salad. At 9:30 o'clock on Oct. 21, a potato peeling contest will be held in which only women may enter. Music will be furnished every night from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock by Montpas orchestra. On October 22, a special attraction has been arranged for the benefit of the boys in the shape of a potato race. Besides these things a special advance prize will be given away every evening. On Wednesday a fifty pound sack of flour, on Thursday night a sack of sugar and on Friday night five bushel of potatoes. Anyone attending the show on these nights has an opportunity to win these prizes. Complete program follows: On the opening day the building will be open at 1:00 o'clock. The regular hours will be 9 to 12 a. m.; 1 to 5 p. m., and 7:30 to 10 p. m. The judging will be done on Thursday morning, Oct. 22. The decision of the judges will be announced on Thursday afternoon or night. General admission to adults of age accompanied by their parents, free. Peppin-O'Connell. The bride formerly resided in Marinette, but for the past three years has been a resident of this city, where she has many friends. The groom has spent the past several years here and like his bride has a wide circle of friends. At the Sacred Heart church of Schaffer at 8 o'clock this morning, Miss Evelyn V. Peppin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peppin of Schaffer, will become the bride of Mr. George O'Connell, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. O'Connell of this city. Rev. Father Poulain, pastor of the church, will officiate at the ceremony. The bride will be attended by Miss Margaret O'Connell, sister of the groom while Mr. Guy Donovan will act as groomsmen. Following the ceremony of this morning an elaborate wedding breakfast will be served at the home of the parents of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. O'Connell will board the NorthWestern train at Bark River at noon today for Chicago where they will spend their honeymoon. They will return to the city early in next week to make Escanaba their permanent home. Among the Escanaba people who will attend the wedding of this morning are: Mr. and Mrs. M. O'Connell, Miss Margaret O'Connell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Connell and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. O'Leary. The bride of this morning has a large number of friends both in this city and at Schaffer, while the groom has spent all of his life in this city and numbers his friends by the score. Muther-Ellsworth. After being married at St. Joseph's church, of this city on Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ellsworth of Lathrop have returned to their home after a honeymoon trip to Green Bay. The bride was formerly Miss Anna Muther. At the wedding ceremony at the local church Miss Tyra Jepson attended the bride while Fred Cooper served as groomsmen. John G. Green of the Barquette Mining Journal Mechanical department, was in the city yesterday enroute to his home from Iron Mountain. Harold Green of Milwaukee arrived home yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hews and family of Portland, Ore., are visiting at the home of his brother, W. A. Hews.

SOCIETY VAUDEVILLE! Big Musical Production Peterson Opera House, Oct. 21-22 Reserved Seats On Sale Monday at the Mead Drug Co.'s Store Prices 75c and 50c

KEEP YOUR EYES PEELED YOU PEOPLE OF ESCANABA AND VICINITY A clever scheme has been set on foot to put the Central Cash market out of business. Would you knowingly help cut your own throat. By concerted action most businessmen of this city agreed to sell to cash customers at the same prices that the Central Cash Market is now asking. Book customers are to be fleeced as in the past that the Merchants may down the Central Cash Market, which is your only bulwark against exorbitant prices. Every cash sale thus diverted from the Central Cash Market cannot fail to leave its bad effect and in time put you back in the same sorry predicament you were in before the Central Cash Market opened for business. Know Ye the Phrases from the man who honestly and fearlessly does give you rock bottom prices on everything he sells you. What ever penny you have to spend, leave it at the Central Cash Market—as the Central Cash Market is really no one else's market but your own—a market where you can buy for less money today than if you were to run this same market yourselves. The Central Cash Market is run on sound business principles—it is run economically—it is run for the benefit of the public and it will be run for the benefit of the public as long as you see fit to support it. In order that the Central Cash Market may live and in order that you may always get your money's worth, you should do your trading at the Central Cash Market and thus nip in the bud as fine a plot as has been hatched for many a day in your very midst to down you and your CENTRAL CASH MARKET

BRIGHT LIGHTS WERE MISSING

Pittsburgh, Oct. 19.—We will have a first baseman next season who will prove a better man than Konetchy, remarked President Barney Dreyfuss of the Pirates yesterday afternoon.

"He is older, but he has more brains and ability, and will serve the club a lot better."

"It requires only one guess as to who the next first baseman will be Konetchy's flop to the local Feds means that Honus will spend the balance of his career at first base. He has played the bag before and he will begin the forty-second year of his life as its regular guardian."

Another, and a younger man, will take the Dutchman's place at short Honus is satisfied to play first base and the management feels assured that the new material will develop a good shot field man.

Think This Isn't The Life. "I wish other affairs, worried me a little as this Konetchy business," continued the Pirate magnate. "The Feds are welcome to him."

Someone brought up the subject of the eight-man trade with St. Louis.

"I admit that we got the worst of that bargain," cut in the Pirate owner. "Clarke came to me late in May and shaking his head, said that he could not make it a go with Mowrey or third and Konetchy on first. Some body must get the worst of every trade and we did not have Konetchy long until we regretted the deal."

Konetchy took a funny view of Pittsburgh. The town was not Bohemian enough to suit his bon vivant tastes. The Konetchy's were bored by the sedateness of Oakland, and the first baseman often yearned for the social activities that he enjoyed with the St. Louis set.

"He even told me in my office that we did not mingle enough socially," remarked Dreyfuss. "He told me how he was entertained in St. Louis and added that I had never taken him out for a machine ride. I told him that he wasn't hired for that purpose, and asked if he had saved any money in St. Louis. To this he replied, 'Well, I've got to save it here for you can't spend any money in this dead town.'"

TAKE LOVERS' PLACE WHILE COUPLE ELOPE

Newark, N. J., Oct. 19.—Newark was thrilled today by a real live elopement involving members of two of the city's best families, with all the romantic adjuncts of irate father, stealthy detectives, taxi chase and the note on the bureau.

The girl is Olga Kerr, 19, daughter of Judge Carl F. Kerr. The hero is Dr. John J. Morhrbacker, 27, medical inspector in the Newark high schools.

The doctor had been trying to steal Miss Kerr for some time and the father had had them watched. So the doctor informed the girl's teacher yesterday he thought Miss Olga's eyes should be examined. A little later two young persons were seen to dash away in an auto. The watchers also in a car pursued them and brought them back.

When confronted by irate father and jurist, he exclaimed the couple were total strangers to him.

Then it all came out. An obliging young couple had assisted the elopers by impersonating them in the doctor's car while the bonafide "bound-to-be-weds" fled to New York in a taxi and were married.

This morning after Miss Kerr had kept her father guessing by denying their marriage, the maid found on the dresser this note:

"Gone to Bermuda. Don't worry." And a rope ladder was hanging out of the window.

NAME COMMISSION ON PANAMA EXHIBIT

Washington, Oct. 19.—The Panama Pacific International Exposition commission has been organized by the designation of William Bailey Lamar of Florida, as members and Frank N. Bauskett, of South Carolina, formerly confidential secretary to Secretary Bryan as secretary. This commission will act as a reception committee for persons representing foreign governments which participate in the exposition and serve as an arbitration board to settle disputes arising between commissioners of foreign governments and the directors of the exposition.

Commissioner Lamar and Secretary Bauskett will open headquarters in San Francisco in December.

MICHIGAN NEEDS MORE SCHOOLS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—The need of more and better rural schools in Michigan is made manifest by conditions revealed in a recent census report showing the percentage of illiterates among the native white farming class of this State. The figures show that the percentage of illiteracy in the rural districts of Michigan is twice that of the cities and villages of the state. Michigan has 74,800 illiterates and 37,228 of them live on the farms of this State that can neither read nor write.

Bee Business Bad. Michigan bee keepers have just completed gathering the 1914 honey crop. According to the bureau of crop estimates of the United States department of agriculture, the yield per colony of bees was 37 pounds. In 1913 the production per hive was 50 pounds.

The decrease is said to be due to the shortage of the wild flower crop this season. The latest census figures of the bee and honey industry of this state relate to 1910. That year there were 16,892 farms in Michigan that kept bees and the total number of colonies was 115,284.

PHILIPPINES PROSPER SAYS ANNUAL REPORT.

Washington, Oct. 19.—Another year of American guardianship in the Philippines, Porto Rico and the Dominican republic was summarized in the annual report of the bureau of insular affairs. Columns of figures tell the story of civilization's march in the tropics. Civil government succeeding the military in the remote Philippine districts, internal prosperity in commerce, extension of railroads in Luzon and more than 500,000 children in public schools, tell of the progress on the borders of Asia.

Porto Rico's exports continued at high water mark with the exception of sugar. Irrigation work and waterway improvements continue. Porto Rico has $80,000,000 of foreign trade each year.

A. W. Hart of Milwaukee, having spent the past several days in the city on business, left for the Soo.

Miss Alma Magnuson of Rapid River is taking a course in stenograph at Gordon's Business College.

Atty. C. H. Weston of Crystal Falls was in the city on professional business yesterday.

WARDEN LEISNER IS ON THE JOB

Deputy State Game Warden Herman Leisner has returned from Negaunee, where he appeared against two men arrested by him with warden John Rough, on the Beaver branch of the Northwestern road on Wednesday night. The Negaunee correspondent for the Mining Journal says:

Yrjii Heikkila and Vittore Maki, of Turin township, were arraigned in Judge Argall's court yesterday, pleaded guilty to the charge of headlighting deer and were fined $20 each which they paid.

The men were brought to the city by Deputy Game Warden Rough, who in company with Deputy Warden Leisner, of Escanaba, arrested them at midnight Wednesday, while they were hunting. The wardens came upon the men along the Beaver branch of the Chicago & Northwestern railway, about fifteen miles west of the Beaver station.

The men are employed near Beaver by homesteaders.

Warden Rough intimated yesterday that more arrests will soon be made in Turin township, as there are many men there who have little, or no, regard for the law. A number of small timber operators recently bought in a large acreage of land there, and from five to ten men are employed at each camp. Nearly every man helps to secure game for the camp's table.

FAIRBANKS MAY SPEAK FOR OSBORN

Washington, Oct. 19.—Former Vice President Charles Warren Fairbanks is expected to be one of the speakers for the republican ticket and Chase S. Osborn in Michigan this fall. Congressman Fordney has the tentative promise of Mr. Fairbanks that he will make a speech at Saginaw near the close of the campaign. Mr. Fordney left for Michigan this week and will later make some speeches for republican candidates in Indiana. It is believed that Mr. Fairbanks will be willing to help the ticket in Michigan for Mr. Fordney's help in Indiana.

Miss Earleidean Devet of Kipling has arrived in the city and has enrolled as a student at Gordon's Business College.

WOULD TAX CHILD LABOR EMPLOYERS

Washington, Oct. 19.—A new and novel method of stamping out the evil of child labor in this country is proposed by Congressman Joseph Taggart of Kansas City. In the absence of a federal law prohibiting child labor, Mr. Taggart has introduced a bill to levy a special tax on all persons, firms or corporations knowingly employing children under sixteen years of age in industries other than agriculture or horticulture. He places the tax at five per cent of the income in addition to the present income tax. Mr. Taggart's idea is that such a tax would make the engaging of child labor unprofitable and that it would gradually be abandoned.

Phil Labre of Bark River was in the city yesterday.

William McNally of Garden is over on the jury.

Atty. Joseph Primeau of Negaunee was in the city on business.

William Roberge of Dixon was in the city on business yesterday.

Miss Bertha Garner who has been visiting with friends in Watson, Mich., has returned to her home in this city.

FARMER AGED 90, WANTS YOUNG WIFE

Tilton, Ga.—Does any husbandless lady becoming the seventh wife a 90 year old Georgia farmer

"Uncle Bob" Knox, four times a widower by death, twice divorced, would once more enter the bonds of wedlock.

The lady must be pretty and she must be young. "Uncle Bob" wants to "die in harness." Other requirements are: Ability to cook and a promise not to wear peak-a-boo waists and X-ray skirts.

In return "Uncle Bob" offers a home farm, an automobile and himself.

"A newspaper correspondent was met at the station by "Uncle Bob" driving his own automobile. Off for a spin over the farm the spry old man modestly admitted his accord as a Mexican war veteran and his fame as the community poet. But when it came to his matrimonial record shy-ness took wings.

At twenty-four Robert Knox was first married. Mrs. Knox No. 1 died. Mrs. Knox No. 2 died; No. 3 was divorced; No. 4 and No. 5 died, and No. 6, whom "Uncle Bob" married when eighty-five years old, was divorced a few months ago.

Robert Knox 90, sixth wife gone, went back to his farm, where he now does his own cooking and housework. In the divorce courts he announced that "home without a woman is a mighty poor place."

Now he's waiting his chance, with his "intentions" well known and chiefest of his requirements that she must be "a good looker and not too old to light my pipe for me."

WIFE FINDS $390 IN THE WOODPILE

Houghton, Mich., Oct. 19.—John G. Bracco, undoubtedly is the happiest man in Calumet. He yesterday found in cash that he had believed hopelessly lost.

Bracco is an Italian miner employed by the Calumet & Hecla and lives in Calumet. He has worked in Calumet for a number of years and by dint of great economy has managed to save $390 out of his earnings, supporting his family the while.

Like many other Europeans of primitive minds, Bracco has little faith in banks. He has had his money in a Calumet savings bank, but last Saturday, believing that the European war threatened all institutions, he drew his money out, determined to keep it at home. He went to a dance at the Italian hall Saturday night, a few hours after having drawn his money from the bank. Fearing to leave the cash at home he took it with him, snugly planted in an inside vest pocket. Returning from the dance, he missed the money.

This loss of the savings of a lifetime nearly drove Bracco insane, but he advertised his loss and offered a liberal reward if the money would be returned by the finder. He considered there was only one chance in a million that the money would be returned.

Mrs. Bracco went out to the woodpile yesterday morning to bring in wood for the breakfast fire and on the woodpile she found the missing wallet and the $390.

Bracco thinks it is a case of a conscience stricken person. He is positive he was never near the woodpile from the time he drew the money till he went to the dance. He knows he had the money when he got to the dance. He is convinced that some one found the money and intended to keep it, but became conscience stricken finally and was then afraid to acknowledge finding the cash, surreptitiously return it instead.

NO CHAMPION IN FOUR YEARS

Last Thursday was the fourth anniversary of the death of Stanley Ketchel, the last of the great middleweight champions. It was on October 15, 1910, that "Steve" was shot and killed at Conway, Missouri by Walter A. Dibley.

Four years, and in the interval not a name has arisen among the men of the class over which he reigned supreme at the time of his death fit to be linked with his.

The ring has known no more picturesque character in all its annals than Stanley Ketchel. Since the days of Dempsey, there has not been a fighter who was so close to the hearts of the followers of the sport. Ketchel in his crude way was a fatalist. He lived for the day, always. That is perhaps the reason he never knew the meaning of the word fear. He would walk into the ring with a Johnson as serenely confident as against the worst dub of his own weight.

Ketchel was born at Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 14, 1887. He was just 23 when killed.

Although born in Michigan, Steve drifted out to Montana when a mere boy, and worked around at odd jobs. He liked to be known as an ex-cow puncher in the days of his fame, but as a matter of fact did little, if any, of that work. A friend of the writer, who knew him as well as any one, tells us that Steve was really a dishwasher in Butter when he started his boxing career.

Up to 1907, he has had over thirty fights around Butter, and won nearly everyone with a knockout. However, outside of the Montana mining regions he was practically unheard of.

The next year he journeyed out to California and became famous in a day. On July 4, 1907 Stanley Ketchel, an unknown, fought the great Joe Thomas twenty rounds to a draw, at Marysville, Cal. The next day the whole sporting world was ringing with his name.

Two months later he proved that his was not a flash in the pan by knocking out Thomas in thirty-two rounds after the bitterest fight ever seen on the coast.

SAYS THAT CIRCUSES ARE NOT DYING OUT

Baraboo, Wis., Oct. 19.—Are people tired of the circus?

Al Ringling, one of the Ringling brothers, known as the "King of Show men," answers, "No."

"Nothing can be substituted that will satisfy the appetite of the public for circuses," said the veteran ringmaster. "Don't let anyone tell you that the circus has outlived itself. They are way wrong."

"Some people prefer vaudeville, some drama while others date on grand opera, but everybody attends the circus. That the circus is still popular was demonstrated during the past season. While other enterprises lost money the circuses went right on playing to capacity crowds. Now that our shows are in the cotton districts of the south it is doubtful whether we will be so successful. We are beginning to feel the effects of the war."

Mr. Ringling, the oldest of the five brothers, is now in Baraboo, his winter home. He was on the road with one of his circuses early this summer, but was forced to return to Baraboo on account of illhealth. He spends most of his time motoring, hunting and fishing. He makes a daily visit to Ringville, at this time of the year a deserted colony of houses, barns, cages and training stages. Ringville is the headquarters of the Ringling circuses in the winter. The colony resembles a small western village.

COURT KNOCKS OUT LOAN SHARK LAW

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 19.—The supreme court in an opinion Thursday afternoon written by Justice Bird, declared the pawnbrokers' law of 1911, better known as the loan shark law unconstitutional and reversed the conviction of Gordon W. Quiddler under it.

Although the case on which the law was tested came from Wayne county, the decision affects every city in the state and absolutely knocks out state control of the pawnbrokers, rates of interest and the matter in which pawnbrokers must conduct their business.

Justice Bird in his opinion says that the act, which was No. 105 of the laws of 1911, covers too much and thus is in plain contravention to the section of the constitution which provides that no law shall embrace more than one subject in its title. After reciting the title which indicates that the bill relates to the loaning of money and prescribing rates of interest and penalties and forfeitures for violations, Justice Bird says:

"Under this title it would be competent for the legislature to enact legislation regulating the rate or rates of interest that might lawfully be charged for the use of money and also to provide penalties for the violation of its provisions. It would be likewise permissible to gather beneath this title any matter or provision which was reasonably germane to the fixing of interests or their enforcement. But it would not be competent for the legislature to go beyond this and include provisions in the act which were not germane and had no proper connection with the subject matter recited in its title."

Holds Title Misleading.

The opinion then cites section 16, of the law as illustrative of things in it that do not conform to the title. This section provides for the issuance of a search warrant when supposed stolen articles are in a pawnshop. Justice Bird continues:

"This section might not be out of place under a title regulating the business of pawnshops, but it appears to be very much out of place under the title to this act. What proper connection is there between the legal machinery for discovering and recovering stolen property and the fixing of interest rates and the enforcement of the same? One reading this title would never suspect that they could find within the text provision for recovering stolen property from pawnbrokers. And were the average man requested to read the law and give it a title, he would call it a 'regulation of the business of pawnbrokers.' As a slight proof of this assertion the compiler and index of the public acts of 1911 indexed the act under the head of 'pawnbroking' and not under the head of 'interest.'"

"It has been the policy of this court to give this constitutional provision a liberal construction so as not to embarrass legislation. But we feel that even such construction would not save this act from falling under the ban of the constitutional requirement. The objection raised is not one merely of form, it goes to the substance of the act. The act in its entirety is aimed at the regulation of the business of pawnbrokers and loaned two other acts which regulated the same business."

Must Observe Construction.

"Such regulation has been recognized as proper legislation in this state, but before it can become effective legislation some effort must be made in passing to observe the failure of the legislature to do this the act must be declared void. Having reached this conclusion it will be unnecessary to consider the other reasons assigned."

"The judgment of conviction is reversed and vacated and the respondent discharged."

The case came to the supreme court on the conviction under Prosecuting Attorney Shepherd of Quiddler, who was convicted of lending money at interest in excess of 7 per cent, without having had applied for a license to carry on such business and without having given an approved bond in conformity with the act.

MICHIGAN'S INITIATIVE LAW HELD AS MODEL

Washington, Oct. 19.—Michigan's initiative and referendum law, adopted by the people in 1913 by a vote of 219,000 to 152,000 is held up as a model in a bulletin issued by the National Popular Government league. At present there are seventeen states of the union which have such laws on the statute books while six additional states will submit the question to a vote of the people this fall. Of the seventeen states which have the law, only two have what may be termed excellent statutes.

The National Popular Government league lists the laws of five of the states as good, one as fair, seven defective and two as worthless. President Wilson, Secretary of State Bryan and Senator LaFollette are quoted as favorable to the principle of the initiative and referendum.

ROYAL BELGIAN CHILDREN SAFE

London, Oct. 19.—The Belgian royal family had already taken the precaution to establish a home in England in anticipation that Antwerp would fall before the besieging Germans, Ostend prove untenable, and it would be expedient for the kind and queen to quit their country temporarily. To remain and become prisoners of war would but add an extra burden to the so lately prosperous, but now poverty-stricken little kingdom, as the Germans would demand an enormous indemnity as a ransom for the king and queen.

Brought Children to England.

As soon as the queen was forced to leave Brussels for Antwerp, she made the journey over to London, escorted across the channel by a man-of-war, and taking her three children with her—Crown Prince Leopold, duke of Brabant, who will be 13 next month; Prince Charles, count of Flanders, 11, and Princess Marie Jose who is just 8, but already famous for her beauty and original ideas.

Lord Curzon of Kedleston, an old friend of King Albert, met the queen and took charge of the children, the queen returning to Antwerp within a day or two.

The whereabouts of the two princes and the fascinating little princess were kept secret until they were discovered at Hackwood Park in Hampshire, one of the most splendid country homes in England, which Lord Curzon has rented from Lord Bolton, the owner and presented as a home to King Albert and his family.

Really American Hospitality.

The Belgian royalties are the recipients of American hospitality in the sense that it is American money, that which Lord Curzon inherited from his wife, Mary Leiter, Chicago, which enables him to be so generous.

Hackwood Park was a famous gathering place for society in the days of Queen Elizabeth, when the favorite sport was hawking, and the estate was known as Hawklin Wood. Its present name is a corrupt abbreviation.

Trade in Foreign Countries.

In foreign countries you come into competition with the best goods from every land. An article must have merit of the highest order to win esteem. In many of these countries Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the most popular medicine in use for coughs and colds because it is the best. For sale by all dealers.

CANNOT PREVENT PERSONAL LOANS

Washington, Oct. 19.—While high administration officials stated that loans to belligerent countries by private individuals in the United States were in the same class as munitions of war and other classes of contraband trade, which the American government was neither able nor obligated by international law to prohibit, it became known at the White House that the administration policy toward foreign loans had undergone no change.

Discussion of the subject was revived through the issuance by Acting Secretary of State Lansing, with the approval of the president, of a statement setting forth that no act of congress nor obligations of international law made it incumbent on the government to prevent the shipment of munitions of war or any other commercial transactions of a contraband character.

Inquiries then were made of the administration officials as to their attitude on loans. It was made plain that loans were in the same category with other commercial transactions, but that the policy of the American government that loans to belligerents are "inconsistent with the true spirit of neutrality," had not been changed since last August.

At that time when J. P. Morgan & Co. asked the state department for its views with regard to a possible loan to France, the bankers stated that while they did not doubt their legal right to negotiate, they wished to do nothing to embarrass the government's neutrality. The state department said it would look with disapproval on the loaning of money of belligerents.

Recently there have been reports that American bankers were contemplating the acceptance of bonds issued by belligerent governments in exchange for contracts of American goods.

84 VARIETIES APPLES PICKED OFF OF ONE TREE.

Hart, Mich.—One of the interesting exhibits at the recent Oceana county fair was a display of 84 varieties of apples picked from a single tree. This exhibit was made by G. W. Haight of Pleasant Valley farm. Mr. Haight has done some experimenting with a tree that was originally a Tallman Sweet. He now has the tree grafted to 135 different varieties of apples. This is believed to be the most versatile tree in the country.

IT does beat all how word of "Right-Cut" the Real Tobacco Chew gets around so fast.

A man hears of it—tries it—likes it better than the old kind—and straightway is eager to get his friends started on the chew that satisfies.

Sappy, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is the Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and licorice. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

CHARGE ENGLISH OFFICERS WITH DISHONORABLE ACTS.

Berlin, Oct. 19.—German officers, The Lokal Anzeiger says, it learns, make it a rule to return the salute of captured French officers. This is not the case, the newspaper says, with British officers. The newspaper relates an experience which it says shows that the British are unmindful of the dictates of honor, inasmuch as the officers ordered the troops to hold up their hands in token of surrender. Only later to take up their weapons and suddenly begin shooting at approaching Germans.

What Liquor Trade Stands For

The liquor trade of the United States, paying a quarter of a billion annual taxes to the Federal Government and great sums in local taxes to the State and municipal governments, stands for license, regulation and control of the business, so gauged as to meet the matter of fact, not the matter of theory, demands of the American people.

GORDON'S FOR THE STENOGRAPHERS

The United States Civil Service has been to the Gordon Business College of this city, urging that an effort be made at the local school to turn more experienced stenographers who are said to be at a premium in the government service. The Gordon College has now an enrollment of 45 students and more are entering from all sections of the peninsula daily and Escanaba residents may well be proud of the record that is being established by the local business college. The letter mailed to the Gordon college follows: United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

October 15, 1914
Gordon's Business College, Escanaba, Mich.
Gentlemen:
For some time the Commission has experienced considerable difficulty in supplying a sufficient number of male eligibles for stenographer and typewriter positions to meet the requirements of the Government service, particularly in Washington, D. C. An extra effort is being made to supply this demand.

Included is a poster advertising stenographer and typewriter examinations for men. The Commission requests that the poster be placed upon your bulletin board or in some other prominent location. The Commission will be grateful for your cooperation in its endeavor to meet public need. By direction of the Commission: Very respectfully, JOHN A. McILHENNY.

Actors Don't Use Walking Sticks.
There is one profession that has always refrained from carrying a walking stick. The actor knows well that on the stage he must walk without extraneous support, and he knows that the mere hint of a walking stick in his hand as he walks the streets is a temptation to lean this way or that. Actors, even when out of a job, never lean on a stick. They know that their balanced walk is their asset. If the whole of society recurs to walking sticks the actors will refrain.
