BULLETIN
London, Oct. 21.—According to a signaller who has returned from Antwerp, Winston Churchill, first Lord of the admiralty, accompanied marines to Antwerp and was with them in the trenches all the time. Just before the order was given to retire, Churchill urged them to hold out twenty-four hours when the big guns would arrive.

BULLETIN
London, Oct. 21.—Tonight's statement from the official press bureau of the war office says: "Throughout yesterday the enemy made vigorous counter attacks along the allied front and was beaten back. During the past four days the Belgians have been in trenches holding a line thirty kilometers long with greatest determination against heavy odds."

BULLETIN
London, Oct. 21.—A British warship shelled the German trenches along the Belgian coast, killed 1500 Germans and brought down an aeroplane and a Zeppelin according to a dispatch from Dover. The British seamen watched the Germans digging trenches Saturday night under the glare of great lights. The British got the exact range and in early morning began the bombardment.

BULLETIN
Paris, Oct. 21.—Fighting continued throughout the day with unabated fury in west Flanders from the North sea across the French frontier. Reports are received that England's fleet is bombarding Ostend but it is unmentioned in the official statement tonight. The fiercest fighting is between Nieuport and Dixemude. The allies have given ground nowhere along the front. The Verdun forts are reported to be holding well.

BULLETIN
Rotterdam, Oct. 21.—According to the Rotterdam Post, the Germans have transported heavy artillery to positions before Belfort and the bombardment is begun. A newspaper here states that on Monday a floating mine was washed ashore at Brest which exploded and killed three children. Another mine is ashore at Knocke. Four drifted into Zeebrugge, where they were dealt with by the Germans.

BULLETIN
Manchester, Mass., Oct. 21.—The following statement from Vienna was made public by the Austrian ambassador tonight: "The battle in middle Galicia becomes more vehement. "We are gaining ground toward the east. All attempts of the enemy to retake Magiers are in vain. Several machine guns have been captured. The prisoners we captured in taking the heights of Chyrow, say our artillery fire has an awful effect."

BULLETIN
Berlin, Oct. 21.—Wireless via London.—The general headquarters reports: "The German troops advancing along the coast from Ostend encountered the enemy at Nieuport. LOCOMOTIVE IS DIAGNOSED

CASE OF JOHN COLBURN AGAINST CHICAGO, MILWAUKEE AND ST. PAUL RAILWAY OCCUPIES ATTENTION

Locomotive No. 7204, owned by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway came in for a correct diagnosis in circuit court yesterday when the action brought by John Colburn against the railroad was being threshed out. During the forenoon yesterday the plaintiff, represented by Atty. A. H. Ryall and the defense, with Attorney Watson of Crystal Falls and Atty. N. C. Spencer heard the plaintiff's side of the case, which augers to be the biggest of the present term of court.

The case was started before Judge Flannigan on Tuesday afternoon and was taken up again yesterday morning, lasting throughout the day and all indications point to its continuation through the day today. During the morning session of court the plaintiff presented five witnesses through which he attempted to substantiate his claim that his saw mill at Cornell was set on fire on the night of May 14, by sparks emitted from the smokestack of a Chicago and Milwaukee locomotive, pulling 28 cars of coal over the Escanaba and Lake Superior railway. Those who appeared for Mr. Colburn are: Joseph Terrien, Fred Gardner, James Donovan, Wilfred Breaux and John Colburn.

The defense started their long string of witnesses with the calling of Samuel Tenant, a watchman at the mill. Eldred Strahl, storekeeper for George Mashek was called immediately after the noon recess, who testified to having seen a fire in the mill on the morning of May 13 and had sent some of his men to put it out and had later seen that the fire had been extinguished. Mr. Strahl testified that Mr. Mashek had operated the mill at that time to saw his own timber but that the mill had been owned by Mr. Colburn.

Frank P. Maas, of Green Bay, the engineer, who drove locomotive No. 7204 through Cornell on the night of the fire, proved himself to be an excellent witness. He testified to having seen a refuse pile burning near the mill on the morning of May 14 when he was pulling a train of ore to Escanaba and further stated that he saw the fire, considerably larger, burning, on his return trip shortly after 8 o'clock that evening. His fireman at that time, L. Stiekler of Green Bay, also offered testimony along the same lines. Charles McGregor, another railroad man was the next called, through whom the defense started (Continued on Page Six.)

FOR REPRESENTATIVE

Atty. G. Raymond Emson, of Gladstone, is the Republican nominee for the office of representative of Delta county in the state legislature. Natural ability, special qualifications and strong personality combine to make of Mr. Emson the ideal man for the office for which he is a candidate.

Mr. Emson is naturally aggressive and enterprising. He is one of the leading members of the Delta county bar and one of the most prominent attorneys in the upper peninsula of Michigan. He possesses a personality that wins friends and in the state legislature he is bound to command respect and become one of the leaders of the state's law making body.

Mr. Emson will be able to go to the legislature unfettered and unhampered by business affiliations, to carefully represent the interests of all of the people of Delta county. The people of Delta county are fortunate that a man of the stamp of Mr. Emson is available as their representative and he deserves the united, nonpartisan support of all voters.

WORK FOR BIG PROJECT

HIGH SCHOOL GYM TURNED INTO GREAT SEWING BOOM FOR CHRISTMAS SHIP GIFT MAKING

Plans for helping America's Christmas Ship are progressing splendidly at the local High school. Every evening the girls work diligently on warm, serviceable garments with which to clothe the destitute children of Europe. Sewing machines have been borrowed from kind people throughout the city and the gymnasium has been changed into one big sewing room.

The plans for the supper and candy sale to be held Saturday evening after the football game are making rapid strides. Decorations are already being put in place and no effort or time is being spared in attempting to make this project a big success. Today or tomorrow the remaining fraternal and religious organizations will receive their circulars and it is hoped that their response will be as encouraging as those who have already responded.

J. J. Hines of the Bijou theater has kindly consented to contribute a large portion of next Monday evening's proceeds to the Christmas Ship. A good line of movies will be shown and the High school orchestra will furnish the music and altogether it will be well worth your while to attend. The Parochial schools of the city are helping in finishing the garments which are sent them and every day more people are offering their help; more sewing machines are being promised and altogether everything looks toward the success of the undertaking.

Don't forget the supper Saturday evening in the gymnasium. Bring your family and friends and remember that by doing so you are boosting the biggest charitable project in history.

WRONG DATES WERE GIVEN

Through an error it was stated yesterday that Emmett L. Beach, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor would spend Thursday and Friday in Delta county when in fact the dates for the appearance of the candidate in this county are Friday and Saturday. Mr. Beach will deliver an address to the voters of Gladstone on Friday evening and on Saturday evening will address an audience at the city hall in this city. Democratic leaders of the county are exerting an effort to make the meetings of Mr. Beach among the most enthusiastic of the campaign in Delta county.

EXPLOSION KILLS MAN

LABORER BLASTING STUMPS RECEIVED INJURIES THAT CAUSED DEATH AT LOCAL HOSPITAL YESTERDAY MORNING

Struck by a heavy root while blasting near Northland on Tuesday, Michael Topal, a laborer, received injuries that resulted in his death at a local hospital yesterday morning. The unfortunate man's ribs were crushed in by the blow and the splintered end of one rib pierced the lung. He was rushed to Escanaba as quickly as possible and given every possible attention at the hospital but the effort to save the life was in vain and shortly before 4 o'clock yesterday morning he passed away.

The body was removed to the undertaking rooms of J. A. Allo, where it will be held while an effort is being made to locate his relatives.

Topal, with other men, was engaged in dynamiting stumps, on one of the I. Stephenson Company's farms near Northland. A heavy charge of the explosive had been placed under an exceptionally large stump. After the fuse had been lighted the man, ran to what was considered a safe distance to await the explosion. When the charge let go a heavy root was torn from the stump and hurled through the air. Topal was caught in the side and he fell to the ground with his ribs crushed. He was brought to the city on a special train and was rushed from the station here to the hospital in Haring's ambulance.

HOME TALENT IS A SUCCESS

A large audience of Escanaba people last night witnessed the first production of "Society Vaudeville" at the Peterson opera house and is pronounced to be the best home talent entertainment ever presented in the city. For the record established by those taking part last night, the audience this evening should pack the house to the doors.

Opening with "My Jack O'Lantern" with Ethel, Mary and Jean MacLean as soloists the 100 voiced chorus, composed of children of the city between the ages of five and seven, stirred the audience to a thunder of applause. The idea was one of the most unique ever staged in Escanaba. The baseball song by a score or more lads of the city scored a decided hit with the audience. They were called back twice and each time they carried out their parts almost perfectly.

The Japanese Love Song, with Beulah Thompson as soloist was a pretty little piece, made up of eight girls of the city. All wore Japanese costumes and the rendering of their songs was followed by a thunderous applause from the audience.

"By the Side of the Zuyder Zee" with Marie Turner as soloist, was one of the big hits of the evening. The little soloist was entirely at home in her position as soloist and carried out her part of the program perfectly.

The Dance of the Raggedy Dolls, the company made up from prominent young women of the city, brought laughter from the audience when everything else failed. With all feeling of "stage fright" that may have possessed them, cast aside the members of the group went through the dance without a hitch and were compelled for an encore.

UNION MEN ARE OPPOSED

UNITED LABOR JOINS FRATERNAL SOCIETIES IN FIGHT AGAINST FRATERNAL INSURANCE AMENDMENT

Union organizations in Michigan are taking up the fight with the fraternal societies of the state in opposing the adoption of the proposed fraternal insurance amendment to the state constitution. Among the organizations that have already adopted resolutions condemning the proposed amendment are the following: Michigan Federation of Labor; Detroit Federation of Labor; Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers; Order of Railway Conductors; Switchmen's Union of North America; Detroit Typographical Union No. 18 and many others.

Petitions for the Amendment to article 12, to be known as section 10, of the state constitution were circulated by the New Era Association of Grand Rapids, (a fraternal society without either lodge or ritual), and it is the only organization in favor of it.

The New Era Association never used the union label on an of its literature or printed matter, and is on the unfair list of the Photo Engravers' Union.

FIRE DRILLS ARE ADVISED

John T. Winship, state fire marshal has issued a special bulletin to the people of Michigan, pointing to the necessity of regular fire drills in all schools. The current bulletin follows:

"Fire drills are not so much to prevent the bad consequences of the fire as of the panic which usually accompanies it. The principal thing is to prevent the panic. The two points that are to be considered are order and speed. See to it that the fire alarm system is always in perfect working order. See that the exit facilities are sufficient and are always unobstructed. It is usually advisable to have the children march two by two, and where possible the march should be accompanied by music or singing, to divert the minds of the pupils. Teachers should always follow to be certain that no child has been left behind. Some of the older children may be designated as monitors, with certain fixed duties. It is important to teach the pupils in the course of fire drills to overcome obstacles and to be prepared to meet emergencies, in the event of an actual fire.

"All doors should open outward, and should never be locked during school sessions. Fire drills should be carried to the fire escapes as well as to the exits, and should conclude with a continued march of the children out of and away from the school building. It is especially important to hold, occasionally, a fire fighting instruction program. There should be short talks by the teachers on fire prevention and the evils of carelessness. It is important that these lessons should be as free as possible from excitement, and should be addressed to the common sense of the pupils rather than to their imagination.

Mrs. I. Kratz, Miss Esther Kratz and Simon and Bob Kratz returned yesterday morning from Eau Claire, Wis.

LODGE MEN HELD MEET

REPRESENTATIVES OF ALL FRATERNAL INSURANCE SOCIETIES HERE MEET AND ADOPT RESOLUTIONS

Representatives of all fraternal insurance societies of Escanaba met last night at the office of Lewis & Pierson, in the First National Bank building, and adopted strong resolutions denouncing the proposed fraternal insurance amendment to the state constitution.

The meeting was called by City Chairman Charles E. Lewis, of the Michigan Fraternal Voters League and every fraternal insurance society organized in this city was represented at the meeting. Following are the resolutions adopted:

"Resolved that the proposed amendment to the constitution of the state of Michigan, to be known as Section 10, of Article XII, is a piece of vicious legislation and deserves the condemnation of every thoughtful citizen.

"And be it further resolved that inasmuch as this amendment is designed to hamper and destroy all fraternal benefit societies, that all lodges in the city of Escanaba that will be effected thereby, are unalterably opposed thereto and will urge their members to work and vote against it on Nov. 3."

PLANS ARE COMPLETE

All plans are complete for the formal installation of the officers of the Cora Hive, Ladies of the Modern Maccabees at the North Star Hall this evening. Preparations for the event of this evening have been under way for the past several weeks and it is expected that through the interest aroused attendance records for the year will be broken.

Following the elaborate ceremonial session at the hall the members of the lodge will go to the Delta hotel where a banquet will be served.

NEW RECORD IS HUNG UP

High temperature records for the month of October in Escanaba, for a long term of years were broken yesterday when the mercury in the official thermometer at the weather station mounted to 69 degrees. The mercury rested close to the 70 mark through out the middle of the day, gradually growing cooler as the day advanced but with a balmy, delightful evening being provided. Fair weather is promised by the weather man for Escanaba again today.

THE FIGHT FOR THE COAST

For the present the first objective of the Germans and the western allies is the possession of the seacoast of northern France. The fiercest fighting is along the Franco-Belgian frontier. If either side wins a decisive victory it may be the turning point of the vast campaign.

WAR

(Continued from page one.) Paris, Oct. 21.—Refugees who have come out of Tsing-Tau, the fortified position in the German possession in Shantung province, are authority for the statement that up to the time they left the Japanese had lost several thousand men before Tsing-Tau while the casualties of the Germans did not amount to more than several hundred.

Germans have ever since been too busy maintaining their lines against the Anglo-French attack to give attention to any secondary campaign. That they are now able to hold their lines across the entire breadth of France and at the same time to push a vigorous attack along the coast is in itself proof of the skill of the German commanders.

In addition to its effect in influencing, if not of definitely deciding the result of the forty days' battle, the possession of the northern French ports would be of value to the Germans for its effect on Great Britain. The British expeditionary forces would be shut out from the easiest and most natural ports of entry, and England would be more than ever menaced by a destructive invasion of Zeppelins.

On the other hand the allies, by routing the enemy in the extreme northwest, would bring as complete failure to the new German aggression as the battle of the Marne brought to the advance on Paris. The way would be paved for a speedy transfer to German territory of the main theater of hostilities.

in the manufacture and sale of alcoholic drinks. This statement, confirming previous reports, has been made in the name of Emperor Nicholas himself.

The Russian Union of Abstinence, which devotes its energies to combating alcoholism, addressed to Emperor Nicholas a memorial that he forbid the sale of spirituous liquors in Russia. His majesty replied in a telegram sent in the name of Grand Duke Constantine and addressed to the president of the alliance, saying: "I thank you. I long ago decided to interdict for all time in Russia the sale of alcoholic drinks by the government."

London, Oct. 21.—Berlin announced today that German warships sunk a British submarine in the North sea last Sunday. The submarine was the "E-2." The destruction of the submarine is the first loss sustained by the British submarine service since the outbreak of war. The "E-2" was a comparatively new boat, having been completed in 1913. Her complement consisted of sixteen men.

London, Oct. 21.—A dispatch to the Reuter Telegram company from Stavanger, Norway, says the British steamer Glitera, of Lieth, was sunk today twelve miles off the Norwegian coast by a German submarine. The crew of the steamer was ordered into the boats and the valves were opened.

London, Oct. 21.—The warships of the British navy with their big guns were sent to the coast to co-operate in the movement against the Germans at Ostend and other points. Apparently the Germans heard of this and, according to the Daily Mail, five German submarines were sent out to attack them. A scout division of British destroyers was sent to the support of the larger ships and attacked the submarines on Monday. In the course of the action, twelve torpedoes were fired by the submarines, but not one of them hit.

London, Oct. 21.—The plight of the Belgian people, both at home and in Holland, England and France, is stirring the hearts and minds of men even in countries already distraught by the horrors of war. Figures are necessarily vague, but a conservative estimate is that one and one-half million out of a population of seven million have been expatriated.

The tremendous responsibility of caring for these Belgian refugees presents problems which are being discussed at length in English newspapers. Countless suggestions have been made. These include colonization in Ireland and the establishment of new lace factories and similar industries. Besides, the British unemployment has been increased by the war, accentuating the problem.

London, Oct. 21.—A Paris dispatch to the Daily News says that Dr. Klein, attached to the Third French army corps, reports that his men have buried the son of the German field marshal von Moltke.

London, Oct. 21.—German and Russian reports agree that the situation in the east has not been changed, although the armies are in close touch along the East Prussian frontier and across Poland and in Galicia. However the Austrians claim to have repulsed Russian attacks and to be making progress in their campaign to drive out the invaders. The Russians, on the other hand, say they are making a large number of prisoners.

Heavy fighting is still going on around Przemyśl and the cupolas of the forts surrounding the town are said by an Italian correspondent to have been destroyed by the big Russian siege guns, while some forts have been mined and dismantled and the magazines blown up. The town itself, however, has not been damaged.

The same correspondent says the battle on the Vistula, San and Dniester rivers continues. There is a system of great entrenchments on the Russian side and the entire front is furnished with powerful guns which day and night hurl thousands of projectiles into the enemy's line. The Austrians and Germans, adds the correspondent, have been obliged to remain on the defensive, but have repulsed a great cavalry attack to the west of Warsaw.

Saravevo, the Bosnian capital, according to a report issued at Nish, is enveloped by Serbians and determined efforts are being made to take the town before the end of the trial of the alleged assassins of the Austrian heir, Archduke Francis Ferdinand, whose murder started the war.

Italy has issued an official denial of the report, so often circulated, that she had occupied Avtona, the Adriatic port of Albania.

The news from Italy shows that the Italian people are growing more antagonistic to the Austrians because the Italian fishing industry has been interrupted by Austrian mines in the Adriatic and because the service of many steamship lines has been suspended for the same reason.

Pekin, Oct. 21.—Arrivals at the Chinese capital from Siberia say that Russian troop trains are traveling westward over the trans-Siberian railway hourly.

London, Oct. 21.—Fighting characterized by exceeding desperation is in progress in west Flanders and northwestern France.

The Belgian army, supported by the allies, is holding stubbornly to the line of the river Yser and thus far has successfully halted determined efforts of the Germans to advance along the coast.

Large advertisement for 'Watch This Space' with a circled number '15' in the center.

which says fighting has been reported in the vicinity of Nieuport, which stands at the crossing of the river near the sea.

A little farther to the south the allies are attempting to advance toward Lille, for the relief of that city, which has been in German hands for some time. They also are pushing on to the north and south of Arras. Their efforts yesterday to advance on Lille, where the Germans hold strong positions, were repulsed, according to the German reports.

To the southward at the bend of the line, the Germans continue to make furious but futile attempts to break the French line.

Along the Meuse, in the east, according to the French account, the Germans have failed to repulse the French troops who debauch along the territory in which is situated the Camp des Domaines, now in the hands of the Germans, in an attempt to cut off that portion of the German army which is thrust toward St. Mihiel.

Generally speaking, the French claim to have some detailed progress at various points along the front. Paris reports that the allies have destroyed fifteen German machine guns, two of which were armored, near Labasse, as well as a battery of German artillery in the environs of St. Mihiel.

Both sides are managing reinforcements to the western front, where one of the supreme struggles of the war is on. The Germans are not bringing new troops from the east, but are throwing every available man in Belgium into the firing line. They seem to have the railroads working well, although they must have been seriously damaged during the battles of August and September. Troops are being transported over them and train sources report that train after train of wounded is being taken back to Germany.

In the fighting in this open country, where the men have not the protection of elaborate entrenchments, such as they have on the Aisne, the losses must be very heavy, especially where endeavors are made to carry positions by assault.

From the Battle Front, via Paris, Oct. 21.—The German invaders are meeting a vigorous resistance in their effort to extend their line on the right wing farther westward. Much of the fighting is being done in the obscurity of fogs.

French marines yesterday gave a good account of themselves. German troops tried a surprise attack on the marines Sunday, but the French hero held the field works against superior numbers. The fight lasted all day, and then the Germans contented themselves with cannonading the position of the marines. A thick fog covered the entire region Monday and the marines, accustomed to such weather conditions, crept toward the German trenches. "No shooting," was the order; "use the bayonets." The marines got within thirty feet of the trenches before they were seen. Their coming was heralded too late for the defenders, who were bayoneted in the trenches and beyond the trenches as they ran. Four hundred prisoners were taken.

One of the places where the French had been most harassed is near the elbow of the western line. The important position there had been taken and retaken during the last few weeks. Every time the Germans had been obliged to abandon the position, they returned in force and pushed back the French by weight of numbers. The French took the position for the twelfth time and held it ten hours. Then came a shock of the human battering ram and the French gradually gave way. The Germans began fortifying the place, but while they were engaged in this task the earth heaved and there was a deafening explosion. The ten hours the French had held the place had been sufficient to mine every rod of the ground. It is estimated that three German battalions were annihilated.

Paris, Oct. 21.—An official communication issued by the war office last night, says: "The following are extracts from a letter found on a German prisoner dated Dusseldorf, Oct. 4: "With us officers and soldiers are becoming rarer. We have no more men than are adequate. Volunteers and men of the landwehr are all we have today. If you saw the soldiers you would turn your head. Everybody is being taken. It is Germany's last hope. All the aged men are becoming soldiers. Have you bread? Many complain they have none."

LESLIE DIETZ IS IMPERSONATED

Leslie Dietz, son of the defender of Cameron Dam and whose sister recently spent several weeks in this city, is being impersonated by a stranger in the east who claims to be walking to Washington in an effort to secure a pardon for his father from President Wilson.

Although Mr. Dietz has been at his home in Wisconsin during the greater part of the time is represented to have walked 11,000 miles, visited every state in the union, and to have secured 3,000,000 names to a petition asking for the pardon of his father, the defender of Cameron Dam, who is now serving a life term in Waupun prison.

When Mr. Dietz was in the peninsula he said the signatures to the petition were confined to Wisconsin people and that in the neighborhood of 300,000 names had been secured. The story as published in The New Work World is as follows:

"Leslie Dietz came into the World office on Saturday after a tramp of 11,000 miles, during which time he has visited every state and obtained 3,000,000 names to a petition to President Wilson asking for the pardon of his father, John E. Dietz, who is serving a life term in the state prison in Waupun, Wis.

"In the summer of 1912 Leslie Dietz started out with his petition to the president.

"To get his 3,000,000 signatures Dietz first traveled west, always going by foot. In every town he sought and got signatures to his petition. Also he got letters from mayors and other men of prominence. Not once during his long trip has he asked or received charity.

During his travels he has received letters from congressmen and United States senators. In his possession he has a number of these addressed to President Wilson.

"He arrived in Baltimore during the Star Spangled Banner celebration and there, in one day, he says, he got the signatures of twenty-nine governors to his petition.

"When his journey at last was ended and he crossed from New Jersey over to New York and landed at the foot of Cortlandt street, he did lose his nerve. He felt the big petition was weighing heavily on him. He inquired his way to the postoffice and mailed the petition to the president.

"Now I want to take the personal letters I have to him," said Dietz. "How am I to get there? Why, walk. It's mere a stroll from here to Washington. I'll be there soon, now and I believe the president will see me, and after he hears the real story of why John Dietz became a bandit I believe he will open the prison gates for him."

DEATH FOLLOWS THROW OF DICE

Superior, Wis., Oct. 21.—A half-hour after two automobilists had shaken dice in a saloon early today, to see which would die first, the machine went over the side of a viaduct and the prophecy had come true. Peter Lindberg, driver, escaped practically unharmed. William Steward, 35, solicitor, was crushed to death.

ENGLISH MAY BE STIRRED; HINTING ABOUT SCANDAL

London, Oct. 21.—Notice has been given that the following questions, among others, will be addressed to the ministers on the re-assembling of parliament: How many months have elapsed since the committee on imperial defense held a meeting, and whether, in view of the rumors of a possible invasion, a meeting is planned.

What authority had the secretary of the board of trade for stating that Zeppelin dirigible balloons would attack London at the end of October, and whether he is aware that his statement caused an increase in insurance rate adding greatly to the expenses of business men.

Whether the secretary for Scotland is aware that Methil harbor (Scotland, on the Firth of Forth, is brilliantly lighted during the night and according to local belief signalling takes place with the enemy.

Whether more than one member of the royal family, having pecuniary interests in the ranks of the enemy, and what steps are proposed to be taken. There are many other indications of financial scandals.

WOMAN SAVES A FRENCH BIRDMAN

Paris, Oct. 21.—How a French aeroplane was saved from the German by a woman is described by wounded soldiers returning from the Arras district.

The wife of a French officer, who with her husband, is keenly interested in aviation, was watching for the latter's return from a scouting expedition, when she espied a biplane coming from the front. Through her glasses she saw it suddenly away and descend rapidly. Suspecting that the aviator was in trouble the officer's wife obtained a permission to drive out in an automobile to the spot.

She found on arrival that the pilot had been wounded in the left arm, and had fainted from loss of blood immediately after landing. Knowing that German patrols were near she instructed her chauffeur to drive the wounded man back to town, took charge of the aeroplane and flew it to the aviation camp 10 miles distant.

CATTLE SCOURGE SWEEPS ONWARD

Niles, Mich.—United States government officials, co-operating with the state livestock and sanitary commission, who are here investigating the epidemic among dairy herds of this vicinity, having received the positive conclusion that it is foot and mouth disease, a European cattle scourge, began today to take drastic measures to combat the disease.

A general quarantine in the infected territory will be ordered. President Halladay, of the state livestock commission, served notice on the railroads that no more cattle can be shipped from the infected districts until the quarantine is lifted.

A field force of thirty men will be put to work at once investigating all dairy herds and all infected cattle will be destroyed.

About 300 cows are infected. The disease has spread over the Indiana state line at New Carlisle.

BOOSTS POTATO AS FOOD VALUE

Lansing, Oct. 21.—State Dairy and Food Commissioner Helme has issued a bulletin urging the use of more potatoes for food and declares the people of Michigan should support their big crop. The bulletin says:

According to the federal census, Michigan last year produced more potatoes than any other state in the Union and the three states of Michigan, New York and Wisconsin produced over 60 per cent of all the potatoes used in the United States. The potato crop of Michigan is this year exceptionally good and it is the one food stuff now in common use which is now selling at a very low price. Potatoes in the potato districts of Michigan are at present wholesaling from 35 to 40 cents a bushel and they are by far the cheapest form of starchy foods, which starchy foods are necessary in the human system to produce heat and energy. The following statements relative to the food and medicinal value of the potato are taken from an article by Dr. J. H. Kellogg of Battle Creek.

"The potato is more easily digested and appropriated by the body than the starches of wheat, corn and other cereals. In laboratory tests it was found that potato starch digested in less than one-sixth of the time of cereal starch. One-fourth of the weight of the potato is food substance nine-elevenths of which consists of starch. Of the remainder, three-fifths is protein and two-fifths alkaline salts in combination with citric and malic acids, the acids of the lemon and the apple. The potato is deficient in protein and fats which can be easily supplied by other foods.

Nearly 5 per cent of the dry substance of the potato consist of salts, chiefly of potash. These salts tend to purify the blood from the acids caused by the use of meats, which are the chief causes of hardening of the arteries, gout, rheumatism, Bright's disease and apoplexy. These salts of the potato are located just under the skin and for that reason potatoes should not be pared before being cooked.

The potato has a high nutritive value. One pound of baked potato has the same food value as 5 7-8 oz. of beef, one pound of chicken, 10 pints of beef tea or oz. of bread. The potato is not rich in protein and this should be supplied to the ration by the addition of milk or eggs. Half a pint of rich milk will thus balance a pound of baked potato is the most valuable of all known foods in furnishing alkaline salts to purify the blood and the free use of the potato combats rheumatism and gout which are the results of chronic intestinal poisoning.

RUSHING TO TAKE PART IN CAMPAIGN

Washington, Oct. 21.—While a general exodus of members of the House started as soon as the docking resolution was repealed, Congressman Mapes of Grand Rapids, returned to Washington on the day this action was taken. Mr. Mapes had been called home on account of death in the family. He decided, however, to return to Washington and be present to vote against the war tax bill. Congressman McLaughlin was called to Michigan to attend the funeral at Ann Arbor of his nephew, a son of Prof. Andrew J. McLaughlin. Congressman Cramton has returned home and will accompany former Governor Osborn on his tour through the seventh district. He will also speak with Senator Townsend at Caro on October 30. Congressman J. M. C. Smith has returned and will get active in his campaign for reelection in the Third district. Only four Michigan congressmen are now left at the capital. They are Congressmen Mapes, Sam Smith, Beakes and Doremus.

Senator Charles E. Townsend has left for Michigan and will devote the time from now until election campaigning for Chase S. Osborn and the Republican ticket. Senator Townsend has been billed by the Republican committee for every night until November 3. He will speak in every congressional district except the first and the twelfth.

STEEL CORPORATION'S ARGUMENTS; BEGUN 3 YEARS AGO, AGAIN ON

Philadelphia, Oct. 21.—The argument in the government's suit to dissolve the United States Steel Corporation, the greatest combination of capital in the world, on the ground that it violates the Sherman anti-trust law began before the United States Circuit Judges Buffington, (Presiding), McPherson, Hunt and Woolley. It was agreed that the entire week be given to the argument.

The final argument of the suit was begun three years ago and the testimony gathered makes 50 printed volumes, each an inch in thickness.

The government asks that the greatest corporation in the world in the point of capitalization be dissolved into the original companies, that the government claims were merged illegally, the companies being: Carnegie Steel Co., of New Jersey; National Steel Co.; American Steel Hoop Co.; American Sheet & Tin Plate Co.; American Tin Plate Co.; American Sheet Steel Co.; Federal Steel Co.; American Steel & Wire Co.; National Tube Co.; Shelby Steel Eube Co., and the American Bridge Co. The court is also asked to make independent a number of coal and small transportation companies which are included in the corporation.

The brief filed by the Steel Corporation in its defense, declares that the competition among the companies acquired by the corporation was greatly limited; that the corporation's share of the country's total production of finished products in 1901, when the corporation was formed, was only 50.1 per cent; that it has since been reduced to 45.7 per cent of the country's production for all the markets of the world and to 40.9 per cent of the total production for the domestic market.

Denying that the corporation suppressed the competition, the brief says the organization of the corporation was only a natural and normal development of trade conditions.

The brief calls attention to the corporation's successes in building up foreign trade for American iron and steel products and says records do not show a single case of rebates being given or asked by the corporation or its subsidiaries.

As to employees, the brief says the corporation reduced the wages only once, and this was caused by the business depression in 1900. Since its formation the brief says, has increased the wages on an average of 28.5 per cent.

LANSING MAN HAS INVENTED NEW GAME

Washington, Oct. 21.—Hon. Charles Van Keuren of Lansing, former member of the Michigan legislature is attempting to capitalize the war in Europe by the invention of a new game called "The Game of Peace." Through Congressman Patrick H. Kelley, Mr. Van Keuren has presented his game to President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and Congressman Richard Bartholdt of Missouri, president of the Inter-parliamentary Union. Mr. Van Keuren hopes to secure the endorsement of Secretary Bryan for the game. He has recently secured a ruling from the commissioner of internal revenue to the effect that the cards with which his game is played are not subject to a stamp tax.

The game is played with a set of cards similar to ordinary playing cards, except that the four suits represent the nations, England, France, United States and Germany, between whom peace treaties have recently been made. The object of the game is for the player to rid himself of the war cards and get as many possible of the peace cards.

AT THE ROYAL

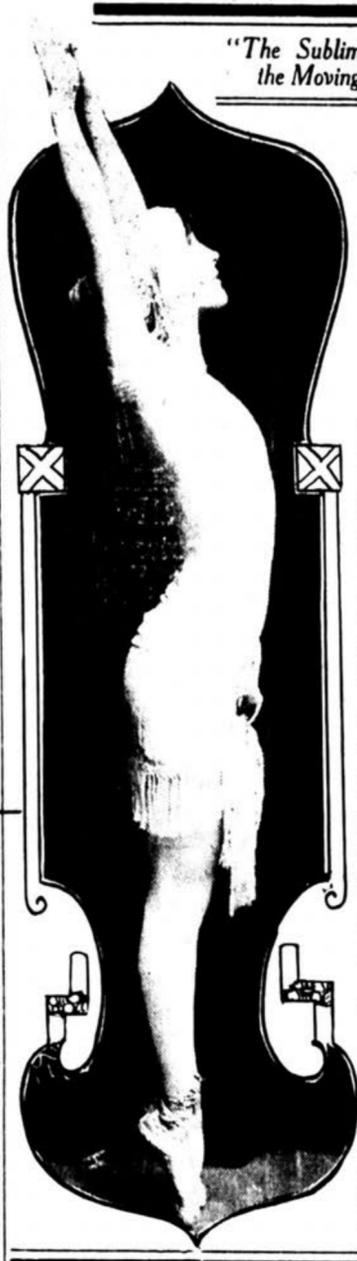

The famous dramatic success "The Little Gray Lady" is the feature attraction at the Royal tonight. It is an adaptation of Channing Pollock's dramatic romance of official life in Washington as it is today. Jane Grey who is presented as the star is no one but an actress of surpassing skill in the legitimate productions in which she has been starred for years, but possesses the ability to convey all her charm, personality and magnetism to her audience quite as well, when playing before the camera. The title role of "The Little Gray Lady" as closely resembles Miss Grey's characteristics as her name does the title of the play, and that of the character she portrays, Anna Gray. The scenes of "The Little Gray Lady" are laid in Washington and embrace a typical Washington boarding house, where all the inmates are Government employees, as well as several departments of the United States Treasury. The admission will be ten cents.

"The Little Gray Lady" was produced by the Famous Players Company under the personal direction of Daniel Frohman and is in four parts.

R. H. Carron of the Soo left for Oshkosh after a brief stay in the city.

W. B. Winter has returned to his home at Stephenson after a several days visit in the city.

B. Felix will leave this morning for a visit at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

THE CHIMES

By Charles Dickens, Featuring Tom Terris

SYNOPSIS—"THE CHIMES"

Trotty Veck, the licensed messenger, reconsiders his promise to allow the marriage of daughter Meg to Richard, after being advised by Alderman Cute that it is a sin for the poor to wed.

After his day's labor, he meets William Fern with his infant daughter Lillian seeking shelter from the authorities who have threatened to hand him. The kind-hearted little man takes them to his humble home for the night.

Far after midnight, Trotty, seated by the fireside and soothed by the chimes, falls asleep and dreams.

His dream first takes him to the belfry of the old church, where the spirit of the chimes chides him for having done something he should not, and endeavors to show what the consequence might be, by picturing the future.—In this vision, Trotty sees his daughter Meg living in poverty and acting as mother to Fern's daughter Lil, now grown to girlhood—Fern in prison for his demonstration against the rich, and Richard, a drunkard from disappointment. Sir Joseph Bowley visits the little come and offers to adopt Lil, but instead, mistreats her so that she is compelled to escape, but finally, upon promise from Sir Joseph to free her father, gives herself up to him, only to be ejected in time from his fine home with an unfortunate infant. She goes back to Meg and dies from the effect of her ill-treatment, leaving the infant to Meg, who in turn is compelled to leave her home due to poverty.

Going to the bridge, Meg attempts to end all for herself and infant. At this point Trotty's dream comes to an end. He now realizes that the poor as well as the rich have a right to marry, and hastens to correct his error. This done, he goes to check Fern, leading one of his meetings. Knowing the influence little Lil has on her father, takes her and induces Fern to give up his plans. Trotty and Richard are taken prisoners by Sir Joseph's servants and brought before this despot, who, instead of compelling Trotty to submit to his terms, is himself forced to sign a document giving the poor their right.

REVENUES LESS AND EXPENSES HEAVIER

Washington, Oct. 20.—President Daniel E. Willard of the Baltimore & Ohio, who is chairman of the committee of railroad presidents, made the opening statement today before the interstate commerce commission, on behalf of the eastern railways' application for an increase of freight rates of five per cent.

Willard said the needs of the railroads are pressing and immediate, and the situation is critical. He said the annual statements of all the roads concerned in the present proceeding showed total operating revenues of about fifty-three millions less than the previous year, and that the operating expenses were eighteen millions more.

Clifford Thorne, representing the railroad commission of Iowa, began questioning the witnesses to show that there had been no material increase in the cost of railway supplies in the last two years.

Standard Test for Hemp.

According to a report from the American consul at Hongkong, the fiber division of the bureau of agriculture at Manila is conducting extensive experiments for the purpose of establishing scientific standards for testing hemp, in lieu of the present methods according to which experts of many years' experience judge the quality and value of the product by sight and touch. The new tests will be based upon the relation between the weight of a meter length of the fiber and the breaking strain. Tests for single fibers will be varied with tests for twisted fibers. As soon as this system of tests is fully worked out it will be put into effect in the Philippine hemp market.

The following unsolicited testimonial should certainly be sufficient to give hope and courage to persons afflicted with chronic dyspepsia: "I have been a chronic dyspeptic for years, and of all the medicine I have taken, Chamberlain's Tablets have done me more good than anything else," says W. FIELDER JONES AFTER GIANTS AND DODGERS

New York, Oct. 21.—Fielder Jones, attempting the concealment afforded by the assumed name, is in town. The former manager of the world's champion White Sox is here to wean away several major league stars to the Federal league cause. Jones is at present manager of the St. Louis Federals.

Jones' mission has half failed. He started out originally to sign up for the Gilmore circuit three Giant notables and the two most prominent members of the Dodgers. Jones yearned to have Jeff Tesreau, George Burns and Arthur Fletcher of the Giants, and Jake Daubert and Charley Pfeffer of the Dodgers listen to soothing words about stupendous salaries.

But the three Giants left Jones flat, without giving him a definite answer.

TO MEET WESTERN TEAM EACH SEASON

Following Yale's defeat of Notre Dame on Saturday by a score of 28 to 0, comes the news that the Eli athletic authorities are considering the advisability of scheduling at least one big game a year with a representative western eleven.

The football advisers of Yale have sent out a confidential letter to Harvard, Pennsylvania and several other eastern schools, asking their opinion on the subject and their experience in staging contests with western teams.

Chicago, Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois are understood to be the teams which Yale would consider for games.

With Harvard and Pennsylvania playing Michigan, and with Princeton considering the advisability of taking on a strong western opponent, the Eli feel they should not get behind the times.

There is something more than a desire to bring about a test between the east and west in the proposed undertaking, according to the alumni. There is the benefit of indirect advertising with the growth of western football and the attention bestowed by western newspapers on their home teams and a consequent curtailment in the amount of news devoted to eastern teams, alumni of some of the big eastern schools assert there is a tendency on the part of promising western preparatory school material to matriculate in a western college. Inter-sectional games would attract material to the eastern colleges, assert the alumni.

WILSON WOULD AID SOUTHERN PLANTERS

Washington, Oct. 21.—While the war tax bill was being held up in the house by Representative Henry, Texas, President Wilson became concerned over the revolt of southern congressmen because of administration opposition to federal legislation to benefit cotton growers.

To placate them he let it be known to congressional callers that he would like to see passed by congress before adjournment these measures:

The Lever bill, providing for the supervision by the government of the cotton warehouses and the issuance of warehouse certificates.

An amendment to the currency law, approved by the federal reserve board, permitting national banks to lend up to 75 per cent of the value of commercial paper, instead of 30 per cent, as now provided.

The president says these measures will give much relief. The president is opposing all plans of bond issue for the aid of the southern cotton growers.

JOHNNIE EVERS CAPTURES TROY WITHOUT A BATTLE

Troy, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Troy gave Johnny Evers, captain of the Boston Braves, a rousing reception last night upon his return to his home in this city. There was a parade with ten bands and several drum corps and over 5,000 men in line. Nearly every organization in the city was represented.

Capt. Evers rode at the head of the column in an automobile with Mayor Burns and he was wildly cheered all along the line of march. After the parade there was a banquet at the state armory at which about 500 guests were present.

DEAL IS ON TO END BALL WAR

New York, Oct. 20.—The local papers publish the following account of how the baseball war is to be settled:

A big baseball deal is pending by which, if it goes through without hitch, the Wards, owners of the Brooklyn Federal league club, will buy the Yankees from Frank J. Farrell, W. S. Devery and others, while Charles Weeghman and his partners in the Chicago Feds will purchase the Cubs from Charles P. Taft. If these transactions are completed, the other Federal league clubs will be "taken care of" by organized baseball. It is well understood that the Wards and Weeghman will not agree to buy the Yankees and Cubs, respectively, unless their colleagues in the Federal league receive a square deal.

The plan for a settlement, which is under careful consideration, calls for the admission of the Brooklyn, Buffalo, Baltimore and Pittsburg Federal league clubs to the International league, with the Federals in Kansas City and Indianapolis to be absorbed by the American association clubs in those cities.

The losses of the St. Louis Feds—about $50,000—may be refunded by the owners of the Cardinals and Browns or by the national commission which has a $500,000 emergency fund in the bank, the result of a 5 per cent tax on the gross gate receipts of each of the sixteen major league clubs this year. The International league will be renamed the Federal and no obstacles will be thrown in the way of the proposed consolidation.

WORK OF CONGRESS PRAISED BY WILSON

Washington, Oct. 21.—President Wilson made public today a letter to Majority Leader Underwood of the House in which he reviewed the achievements of his administration, outlined the program for the next session of Congress, and declared "the Democratic party is now in fact the only instrument ready to the country's hand by which anything can be accomplished."

The President wrote the letter as an endorsement of all Democratic members of congress in lieu of speeches he said he would like to make in every congressional district. He predicted victory for his party in the elections because "every thoughtful man sees that a change of parties just now would set the clock back, not forward," and because "a practical nation is not likely to reject such a team, full of the spirit of public service, and substitute, in the midst of great tasks, either a party upon which a deep demoralization has fallen, or a party which has not grown to a stature that would warrant its assuming the responsible burdens of state."

The legislative program begun during the present congress was declared by the President to have been begun "to destroy private control and set business free." He said that the people of the country had been served by this congress as "they have never been served before."

Outlining the work already accomplished, Mr. Wilson mentioned the reform of the tariff, the passage of the new currency bill, the anti-trust bills, and the handling of foreign problems. He said he doubted if "there has ever been a finer exhibition of teamwork or of unhesitating devotion to the fulfillment of party pledges."

Praising the new tariff bill, the President asserted that "private control had shown its sinister face on every hand in America, had shown it for a long time, and sometimes very brazenly, in the trusts, and in the virtual domination of credit by small groups of men." He said that high prices did not spring directly from the tariff, but out of the suppression of competition which flourished more easily under the protection of a higher tariff. He declared that the panic which opponents of the new bill predicted, had not come, and that despite the European war there had been sufficient time to prove the success of the act.

THEATER LOVERS LIKED THE SHOW

Of the presentation of the musical comedy "When Dreams Come True," booked for the Peterson on Friday evening at Marsuette on Monday evening the Mining Journal says:

The musical comedy, "When Dreams Come True," presented at the opera house last evening, was received with appreciation by an assemblage that well filled the parquet, balcony and gallery. The play has a more connected plot than most productions of its kind; its music is tuneful and for the most part is sung by excellent voices. However, the dancing numbers were perhaps the feature of the entertainment, and these were well executed by Frederick Santly, the leading man; Miss Margaret Grae, who took the part of Beth, the dream girl; Miss Etta Bayuk, Miss Mabel Withee, Bert Wheeler, Miss Peggy Lundeen, Miss Connie Mac and Jack Mundy.

The music is of the catchy order, and is appealing. The songs "When Dreams Come True" and "The Town That Grows Where the Hudson Flows" brought out enthusiastic applause. "Come Along to the Movies" which was sung and acted realistically by the Misses Mac, Withee and Lundeen and Messrs. Santly, Mundy and Wheeler, was a prime favorite. Encores were demanded throughout its rendition. Other songs which are good are: "It's Great to Be a Wonderful Detective," "Dear World," sung by Miss Grae; "The Wedding Rehearsal," "Love Is Such a Funny Little Feeling," "Giddy Up, Giddy Up, Dearie," "When the Clock Strikes One," "Who is the Little Girl?" and "There Ain't No Harm in What You Do."

The scenery is attractive, the first being laid on the emigrant deck of the steamer "Kaiser," bound for New York. The second scene depicts a pier in North river at midnight. The last two acts are staged in the home of Jerome K. Hedges.

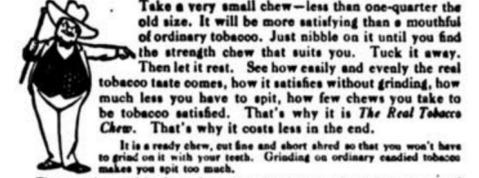

Mr. Santly is a finished actor and the possessor of a well-cultivated voice. He is ably supported. The comedy, presented by Miss Connie Mac, as Matilda, who was a "black-on-white," and Jack Mundy, as Hercules Strong, the detective, is good and provoked many a laugh.

THE LINEMAN GETS A CHEW FROM THE GOOD JUDGE.

THE better the news the faster it travels—"Right-Cut", the Real Tobacco Chew is taking hold like sixty.

Seems like every man who tries it wants to pass the good word along. It's full-bodied, sappy tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and liquor. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

EIGHT WORDS TELL OF BRITISH NAVAL VICTORY

London, Oct. 21.—The first news of the destruction of four German destroyers off the Dutch coast reached the British admiralty in two laconic wireless bulletins from Capt. Cecil Fox of the light cruiser "Undaunted."

The first message read: "Am pursuing four German destroyers."

Then came the second: "Sunk the lot."

AT THE PETERSON

Grab your wife in one hand, and the price of a couple of "sits" in the other, and "hike" down to the Peterson on Sunday evening, Oct. 25 and see "Bring Up Father." It's a cure for all ills; even family troubles. The grouch disappears like mist in the sunshine. It's an aid to digestion and a sure remedy for the "Pip"—whatever that is. "Bring up Father" has made a dent in the theatrical record that it will take years to wipe out. It's the biggest sensational musical comedy hit of a quarter of a century. That's why you'll want to see it.

Most Dangerous of Minor Ailments.

Of the minor ailments a cold is by far the most dangerous, not in itself but the serious diseases it so often leads to. Pneumonia and consumption always start with a cold. When you have a cold you are much more likely to contract the infectious diseases such as diphtheria, scarlet fever and whooping cough. Colds are easily cured, in fact, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cure of this most common ailment, and is pleasant and safe to take. Why take such desperate chances when so reliable and trustworthy a medicine may be obtained for a quarter. For sale by all dealers.

LOCOMOTIVE IS DIAGNOSED

the claim as to the reliability of the spark arrester.

L. J. Ross, of Ontonagon, who served as conductor of the train which passed through Cornell near midnight on the night of the fire, was called and testified to having seen the roof collapse as the train passed. John Fisher, the brakeman on the same train, stated in his testimony that a strong wind was blowing toward the tracks and that the sparks entered the caboose windows so fiercely that it was necessary to close the windows.

James Bascome, a civil engineer in the employ of the railroad of Milwaukee, offered testimony regarding the blue print which he prepared of the location of the saw mill at Cornell with regards to the railroad. He stated that the grade was not of sufficient rise to cause an engine to puff violently.

John Lambert, road master for the Escanaba and Lake Superior railway, stated that the grade at Cornell was not a hard one and one which could be climbed with a train such as was pulled on the night of the fire, with little difficulty.

When William Lucas, of Milwaukee, general foreman of the boiler works of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway was called the fire works were started. The witness produced a model of the spark arrester used on all locomotives of the road and further took his oath that they were the best for sale by any firm. He stated that he had supervised the building of locomotive 7204 and that the engine had remained on the Milwaukee division for a year afterward and that he had not seen the spark arrester from the time that he put it in place.

Atty. Ryall scored a point when he succeeded in getting Lucas to say that he did not know whether or not the spark arrester was in good condition at the time of the fire or not. Lucas insisted however, that "anyone would be a fool who would send an engine out without one or with one in bad repair. A sample of the screen used in the arrester was also produced by the attorneys for the defense and Atty. Ryall attempted to show that the screen might easily have been burned out on that night and his claim was partly substantiated.

C. W. Deeman, master mechanic of the shops of the Green Bay and Western railway at Green Bay was called and testified that his road together with several others such as the Michigan Central and Rock Island used the same arrester and believed it to be the best. But he too was compelled to admit by the attorney for the plaintiff that the arrester might fall into disrepair.

Charles Becker, Jeninsula division master mechanic of the Chicago and North Western road was a witness for the defense and spoke of the excellent quality of the arrester used by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul. Mr. Becker, however, could give no plausible excuse why the same, if it were the best, were not used by his railroad.

Here the court was adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning when the case will again be taken up. From present indications the defense will not be finished until nearly noon today after which the plaintiff has more witnesses to use, following which both attorney's will make their final plea to the jury.

HOLD FUNERAL ON SATURDAY

Funeral services over the body of George Brickley, veteran drayman of the city, who passed away suddenly at his home on Elmore street on Tuesday night, will be held at St. Anne's church at 9 o'clock on Saturday morning. During the past year Mr. Brickley had suffered from repeated paralytic strokes and when the final shock came on Tuesday evening he survived for but two hours.

Mr. Brickley was a member of the Loyal Order of Moose, the Woodmen and the Institut Jacques Cartier. Each of those organizations will be represented at the funeral.

AWAKENS AFTER TEN MONTHS OF SLEEP

Gardner, Mass., Oct. 21.—After sleeping for ten months straight, a modern Rip Van Winkle at the state colony here is just settling down to his nap. He may sleep for years, according to Dr. Charles E. Thompson, superintendent of the colony.

He knows nothing of the European war, and when he awakens, the vast changes in the world will probably be much more dumbfounding to him were those which saddened the original Rip, after his 20 years' slumber in Sleepy Hollow.

The authorities refuse to divulge the man's name, in order to spare his family embarrassment. They say he is 27 years old, and that he was brought to the institution several years ago in a feeble-minded condition. Ten months ago he fell into a heavy slumber from which he has not once awakened. He is fed with a tube, and keeps in perfect physical condition, plump and strong in appearance and with a rosy complexion.

"His condition is known as dementia precox," said Dr. Thompson. "When he awakens he will probably have a much clearer mind than he had when he came, and I should not be at all surprised if he remembers many of the happenings in his ward. The sleeper probably hears and comprehends many of them, but he has no command over the faculties by which such comprehension could be expressed."

On bright days, the man is placed in a wheel chair and taken out for an airing. A white-kownd nurse constantly attends him. His case, while extraordinarily puzzling to medical men, is not unique. It is stated that a patient in the Boston Psychopathic hospital slept in this manner for the full 20-year period of the Rip Van Winkle legend.

"POP" GEELAN AND BRIDE WERE HERE

After being married at Ishpeming yesterday morning, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde "Pop" Geelan, arrived in Escanaba last evening enroute to Minneapolis, the former home of the groom. At Ishpeming last night when the couple boarded the train they were pursued by a crowd of over 100 people and both the bride and groom were literally drenched with rice when they entered the car.

Mr. Geelan for the past several years has served as captain and first baseman for the Ishpeming baseball team and has a host of friends in this city.

ASK WILSON TO PROTEST BOMBS

New York, Oct. 21.—A resolution and letter against the dropping of bombs upon European cities by Zeppelin aeroplanes were adopted by 200 passengers on the steamship Olympic which arrived here last night from Scotland.

F. Hopkinson Smith, the American novelist, one of the passengers, mailed the letter to the president as soon as he stepped ashore. With it he addressed a personal letter authorized by those who signed the resolution. "We feel that it is not a question of neutrality, but a question of humanity," the letter sets forth, "and that any power refusing to heed your wise and humane counsel would forfeit the sympathy of the world."

Why Protest is Asked. The meeting at which the resolution was adopted was held on board Thursday night. The president is asked to protest against the practice for the following reasons: "First, because it is contrary to the instinct of all self-respecting nations; second, as being sure to alienate every particle of sympathy from those endorsing such outrages and third, as not only brutal and cruel in the last degree but without other military advantage than the terrorizing, maiming and killing of innocent noncombatants who are helpless against such attacks."

CONGRESS IS BIG SUCCESS

CLOVERLAND POTATO SHOW AT MENOMINEE ATTRACTS IMMENSE THROG OF GROWERS AND BUYERS

(By Staff Correspondent.) Menominee, Mich., Oct. 21.—The Cloverland Potato Congress, which opened in Menominee today, is one of the biggest and best exhibits of select commercial potatoes ever exhibited in this section or in fact in any section of the country. Everybody interested in potatoes, whether producer, consumer or buyer, should make an effort to see this greatest exhibit of Cloverland potatoes of quality.

The Congress will continue through the remainder of the week and should attract hundreds of visitors from all sections of Cloverland that they may see for themselves what is being accomplished in a "potato way" in this district.

The congress was attended on the opening day by expert potato buyers from widely separated sections of the United States and tonight it is certain that through the congress thousands of bushels of potatoes from Cloverland have found a market at a considerable advance over the regular market price on tubers.

In addition to the buyers for large hotels, railway and steamship companies the congress is attended by a large number of growers from Wisconsin, Illinois and states of the south. The growers have been attracted by the pure seed slogan of Cloverland and great quantities of potatoes are booked for shipment for seed to different sections of the country next spring.

The congress is the first of its kind ever attempted in the northwest and tonight is pronounced an unqualified success. The people of Cloverland have not only been shown what Cloverland potatoes really are but scores of men from the outside world have been amazed at the general high quality of the entire Cloverland potato crop.

Dolores Mertz, of Gladstone, completely won the hearts of the audience with her clever "Quaker Girl" song and her dance. Her accompaniments were played by A. F. Schilling of Gladstone.

The comedy sketch, featuring W. L. Daddison and Marie Snyder, produced sensations and thrills of the last kind. All members of the cast carried out their individual parts admirably.

The "Imperial Russian Dancers" was one of the really pretty features of the night's program. The act is made up of decidedly difficult dances and the members of the cast carried them out without a hitch. Dressed in Russian costumes the act was indeed a pleasing one.

The final scene carried with it practically all of the prominent young people of the city and surpassed anything of like nature ever before attempted here. Each young man in the cast appeared in full evening dress while the young women were likewise gowned. The opening scene showed the party dining in a parlor garden. The opening number was "I Want To Go Back to Michigan" by James Frost. As the second, Miss Nona Robertson acted as soloist in "Peggy From Panama." Miss Gertrude Lindsay created a hit when she sang "I'm Falling in Love." Mr. Price rendered "The World's All Wrong" while James Frost and Nona Robertson sang the "Automobiling" number and were accompanied by the chorus.

"The Wedding Guide" capped the evening's entertainment off most admirably. Miss Gertrude Lindsay and F. Alexander Shaw appeared as headliners in the final number and the last scene with the beribboned bride and groom leaving the stage was indeed most imposing. In spite of the fact that but a week has been taken in preparation, the "Society Vaudeville" last night proved to be a delightful success and because of that fact the opera house tonight will probably be packed to the doors.

BULL MOOSERS GET THE COVETED PLACE

The National Progressive ticket of candidates will lead all tickets on the official ballots to be voted by the electors of Delta county on November 3. Having cast the greatest number of votes for presidential electors at the last general election, the Bull Moosers are granted the honorary position on the ballot. The Republican ticket will appear in second place; the Democratic ticket in third place; the Socialist party in fourth place and the Prohibitionist ticket in fifth place.

FULLER IS ENDORSED

Of the record of achievement established by Auditor General O. B. Fuller in the office of auditor general at Lansing, a lower peninsula exchange says:

"Familiar with every detail of his department, Auditor Fuller is constantly to be found at his desk personally directing its affairs. Efficiency in every branch of his department has been his aim, and during his tenure of office the Auditor's department—the real pulse of state affairs—has been brought to a high standard.

"Efficiency in the public service was never more highly appreciated than today. Taxpayers, who have been obliged to foot the expense of state government, have come to inquire more minutely than in years ago into the records of state officials. They are ready to approve economy and efficiency when combined in any department of state, and to accord proper recognition to the official who achieves them through diligent and painstaking service."

—Hartford Day Spring.

EDDIE COLLINS TO HEAD THE YANKEES

Chicago, Oct. 21.—According to reports from the east, Eddie Collins, famous second baseman of the Philadelphia Athletics, stand a splendid chance of being appointed manager of the New York Yankees during the present winter.

Collins had a three years' contract with Philadelphia for $18,000, but during the past season he was made a handsome offer by the Yeds and he made Manager Mack give him a new contract calling for $8,000 a year.

According to the report, Mack is willing to let Collins go to New York although it would break up his wonderful $100,000 infield. It is said that the other seven American league clubs would compensate the Athletics, for Collins in charge of the Yankees would be a big boost for the league and a money-maker for the entire circuit.

NIES FUNERAL WAS LARGELY ATTENDED

One of the largest funerals held in several years at St. Joseph's church was that which yesterday morning marked the laying to rest of the body of Nicholas Nies, pioneer businessman of the city. The floral offerings received were many and beautiful, speaking of the wide circle of friends held by the deceased. The funeral was held from the residence of Peter Lemmer to St. Joseph's church. Following the impressive church service the body was escorted to its final resting place at St. Joseph's cemetery.

RUMMAGE SALE GIVEN LAUNCHING

The rummage sale arranged by members of the Charity committee of the Escanaba Woman's Club, was given on an eminently successful launching at 711 Ludington street yesterday. The sale will continue through today and tomorrow.

From the time that the place was opened for business yesterday until the close last night, trade was brisk and a great quantity of articles was disposed of. Clothing, shoes, bedding and house furnishings in excellent quality are offered in the big stock that has been donated by the charitable people of Escanaba that the committee may be provided with funds to aid poor families of the city during the winter season.

JIM SCOTT PITCHES GAME FOR CONVICTS

Pontiac, Ill., Oct. 21.—Big league ball players have a great variety of experiences, but it was probably left to Jim Scott, pitcher for the White Sox, to be the first to get inside prison walls and play ball with real prison inmates.

With some friends he visited the state reformatory here to witness the usual Saturday afternoon game among the convicts. In the third session one of the prison pitchers weakened and Jim was invited to go to his rescue. He was "game" and went, allowing one hit and no scores. The inmates gave him an ovation.

Mrs. Jacob Kratze and sons returned this morning from a visit with relatives at Milwaukee. Nicholas Britz returned to his home at Lathrop yesterday after transacting business in this city.
