Two touchdowns were made by Wilkinson, left half, and one by Rose, right half, in the third and fourth quarters, Rose kicking two goals, gave Syracuse their points. Michigan's only score was made in the third quarter when a splendid forward pass placed the visitors in position to shove Maulbetsch over for a touchdown. Cattlet failed at goal. Splawn, hailed as the mainstay of Michigan, was eliminated from the game early in the second period and Coach Yost's eleven soon afterward crumbled before the Orange attack. While in the field Splawn was never near enough the Orange goal line to attempt a field goal. Syracuse displayed great interference and offense, but fumbles kept down the score.

His Record His Endorsement

A record that has been established through the application of common sense to the administration of the affairs of the state and in solving special questions that developed, has won for Gov. Woodbridge N. Ferris, a right to expect at the hands of the voters of Michigan at the polls on Nov. 3, a loyal support.

During the last session of a Republican legislature Mr. Ferris worked in perfect harmony with the state's law makers and succeeded in securing for the people of the state much beneficial legislation. His administration has been free from the cheap blustering and sensational publicity seeking tactics that marked the record in office of his predecessor in the governor's chair and who at this time is seeking re-election.

The people of the state of Michigan, during the administration of Mr. Ferris, have been given a much needed rest from showy sensationalism and have welcomed the return of peace to the state-house, where violent turmoil held sway for the two preceding years.

In the different situations that developed about the state in the past two years, Mr. Ferris in each instance has displayed rare judgment and a keen perception of the underlying facts. In every situation in which he has been placed he has been safe and sane. He has proven himself a governor in whom the people may place implicit trust at all times. His record deserves the reward of re-election on Nov. 3.

Italy's Opportunity

There are persistent rumors that Italy has seized the Albanian port of Avlona, across the straits of Otranto, and has long been coveted by the other powers.

Before the outbreak of the Balkan war, Austria looked upon Albania as a part of her "ultimate destiny" and, moreover, could not consent to having the Adriatic bottled by Italian possession of both shores of the Straits of Otranto.

The news of the Karlsruhe's exploit, according to the Daily Mail's Tenterife correspondent, was brought to that port by the German Creffed, which it was stated, had arrived there with the crews of the British steamers. A later message, however, averred that more than four hundred men of the crews are prisoners.

The Karlsruhe is a comparatively new ship, having gone into commission early in 1913. She is very fast, having a speed of twenty-seven knots, which has enabled her thus far to successfully elude the persistent British pursuit.

A news dispatch from Copenhagen says that the ship yards at Kiel are constructing a fleet of thirty armored lighters which may be used in transporting a German land force to the shores of England.

A dispatch from Pekin says that a German torpedo boat destroyer, which escaped from Kiao-Chau bay, was captured by the warships of the allies.

The Swedish steamer Alice, homeward bound from London, has been blown up by mines in the North sea. She sank in three minutes. All the members of her crew were saved.

MERCY COMMITTEE TO RAISE MONEY

Washington, Oct. 24.—Organization of a committee of mercy, a nationwide movement to raise money to relieve distress in war-ridden Europe has been announced. At the head of the movement are such men as Elihu Root, Mayor Mitchell of New York, Charles W. Elliot of Harvard University and August Belmont.

Feed 16 on One Dollar.
The committee of mercy is an international, neutral, non-partisan and non-sectarian organization. It claims to be able to provide sixteen hungry people with a meal for every dollar raised.

The fixed policy of the committee is to do nothing which could directly or indirectly aid the financial resources of the combatants and so, however, remotely, tend to prolong the war.

Has Miss Boardman's Support.
This movement in no way conflicts with the work of the Red Cross and indeed, has the hearty endorsement of Miss Mabel Boardman. Branch committees will be formed in every state of the Union. Americans are invited to subscribe and also to organize entertainments for the raising of money.

Miss Mae Hessel has returned from a short visit at Rapid River.

A large number of dancers attended from Garden Bay, Isabella, St. Jacques and other surrounding towns and everyone reported a good time. Refreshments were served and an excellent program was furnished by the Escanaba Military Band orchestra, under Henry Olmsted's direction. These semi-monthly dances have proven to be very popular, even going so far as to draw two auto loads to their last party from Escanaba. The members of the club are as follows: M. Dugener, Henry Flynn, N. Plude, F. G. Forbes and W. Calender.

MARQUETTE ELKS HAVE FINE HOME

Elks of Marquette are to have one of the most magnificent temples boasted by a lodge of that order in the peninsula. Work on the construction of the building has been under way since early in the summer and is now nearing completion.

The Mining Journal says: The temple of Marquette lodge, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, which has been under course of construction since the early part of the summer by Foster Bros. Construction company, of Milwaukee, will be completed, in less than a month's time, it is announced. The dedication will take place about Nov. 20. It and its accompanying features are now being planned by a committee of the lodge. Just what the nature of the observance will be he has not been definitely decided, but it has been tentatively planned that a carnival will be held, at which time all persons will be given an opportunity of inspecting the building. This event will probably be followed a short time later by a ball, to be held in the large auditorium of the temple. The committee's plans will be submitted at a meeting of the lodge on Nov. 4.

The temple is not only one of the most artistic buildings in the city, but it is one of the most substantially built and is said to be a much better and larger structure than that of any Elks' lodge in the peninsula. Foster Bros. have made excellent progress with the work, which is now practically completed with the exception of the interior finishing and some of the other minor details.

The two store rooms on the ground floor are modern in every particular. The lighting of each is exceptionally good. The arcade front, which will be utilized by two stores, is one of the features of the building. There are four display windows two of which will be used by each of the stores.

The basement of the building will be devoted to bowling alleys, which are to be installed in a short time. One of the provisions of the temple which has been most frequently commented on by persons who have visited the building the last few weeks is the large auditorium, which takes up the greater amount of the space of the second and third floors and which is to be used as the lodge room. It is equipped with a stage of good size, and a balcony that will accommodate a large number of people. The floor space will be about equal to that of Fraternity hall, the floor of the latter being somewhat longer and narrower than that of the temple auditorium. The finishing of the auditorium are of a somewhat unique pattern, setting off the room to advantage. Around the walls is being built a platform about a foot high.

The club rooms, on the fourth floor, will be fitted up with everything needed to insure the comfort of the members. The large living room, located at the front of the structure, is a large, roomy place, with a fireplace of original design. Provision is also made on this floor for a pool and billiard room and a kitchen.

Serpah Belanger, of Bark River attended the funeral of the late George Brickley here yesterday.

The Misses Rose and Loretta Fahy of Bark River were in the city yesterday.

SCOTT FOR CONGRESS

Frank D. Scott is the People's candidate for Congress on the Republican ticket.

Eleven thousand voters in this district decided that a plain every day man should be their candidate for congress.

The railroad boys, the men who work in the mills and shops, the farmers, the laboring class and the business men are his sponsors.

He stands for a square deal to all and special privileges to none.

SAYS STEEL COMPANY IS RESTRAINING TRADE

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 24.—The federal government fired its second gun in its attack on the United States Steel corporation today, when Henry E. Colton, special assistant to the attorney general, began his argument to have the United States court dissolve the concern on the ground that it is violating the anti-trust law.

Mr. Colton said he was surprised to find that the defense was trying to prove that the late J. P. Morgan was not responsible for the organization of the steel corporation. He insisted that it was the direct result of the scheming of five great groups of industrial and financial interests as represented by Morgan, Carnegie, Rockefeller, Gates and the Moores. He reiterated the government charge that the United States Steel corporation. He insisted that it was the direct result of the scheming of five great groups of industrial and financial interests as represented by the Moores. He reiterated the government charge that the United States Steel corporation, purely a holding company, not only threatens to restrain trade, but actually is restraining it.

The government can prove, he added, that the corporation has the power to restrain trade and can also prove that it exercises that power.

ATTENDANCE REQUESTED

Gov. Woodbridge N. Ferris has issued a special recommendation to the people of Michigan urging officials of cities, townships and villages having in charge the public health, to attend the annual convention of the Association for the Prevention and Relief of Tuberculosis, to be held at Muskegon next week. The appeal issued by Gov. Ferris follows: To the People of the State of Michigan, Greeting:

Michigan is making a vigorous effort to "stamp out" bog cholera. Hogs are marketable. Michigan is making a vigorous effort to "stamp out" tuberculosis in cattle. Cattle are marketable. Why not make a strenuous effort to "stamp out" tuberculosis in men, women and children? Human beings are priceless.

I, Woodbridge N. Ferris, Governor of Michigan, most earnestly urge physicians, health officers, nurses, teachers, mayors and village and city officials to attend the Eighth Annual Convention of the Association for the Prevention and Relief of Tuberculosis, at Muskegon, October 27 and 28, for the purpose of arousing Michigan to a full realization of the importance of banishing the White Plague from our great State.

WOODBRIDGE N. FERRIS, Governor.

PANAMA TRIP IS ENDORSED
Members of the Hancock, Marquette and Traverse City divisions of the state naval militia, of the battalion in which Escanaba, until recently, held a berth, will next year enjoy a cruise to Panama now seems certain, as the trip has been endorsed by Secretary Daniels of the Navy department.
The plan is to have the Michigan naval militia, and the naval militia of other states, participate in the formal opening of the Panama canal by making a cruise on the ships of the Atlantic fleet to California waters. Notice of the favorable decision of the secretary of the navy was received this week by officers of the Marquette division of the Michigan reserve. It has been hailed with much pleasure by all the Marquette reserves, most of whom are figuring on taking the proposed trip.

GARDEN ORCHARD STORE A SUCCESS

The Garden Orchards of Garden Bay, located for the past two weeks at 821 Ludington St., with their own stock of fancy, choice and medium grade apples, and their potatoes, have met with great success. They have showed to Escanaba the finest assortment of choice winter apples that ever came to this city and all from Delta county. Mr. Stephens states that he has topped the market in Minneapolis this year on several of his varieties, and is well pleased with the market here for fancy, as well as medium grade apples.

OPINION A POSER TO WETS AND DRY

Lansing, Oct. 24.—The decision of Attorney General Fellows to the effect that but one petition for the submission of local option questions can be filed from each precinct, ward or township, has caused considerable guessing among those interested here in the "wet" and "dry" question.
The suggestion that the "wets" in a "wet" county might head off the submission of the question by filing a petition themselves, thus nullifying the one the other side should file has caused considerable thinking. Mr. Fellows ruled that where two petitions were filed both were no good.
The opinion was based largely upon a decision of the supreme court. The court has held that the section of the law which specifies one petition, is mandatory. The law provides no person can withdraw his name from any petition after filing. This precludes the withdrawal of any of the petitions.

It was intimated here today that a board of supervisors might entertain the first petition filed and throw out the second one. While this action might be attacked in the courts, it is thought it would be the only way to decide the question if both sides should present petitions.

STALLINGS CONFISCATES BATS THAT WON TITLE

Souvenir collecting is a hobby with a great many people. It is so with George Stallings, the peerless manager of the World's Champion Braves.

These two pieces of wood are treasured by Stallings above all other inanimate objects. With these two bats the lanky Ohioan and the "Rabbit" laced out the hits that won three of the games against the former champions.

As soon as the last man was out in the fourth game and the Braves' bats were being collected, the gentleman from the south whispered something in Mascot O'Connor's ear.

One of them, a long, thin handled club of the wagon-tongue variety, bore the name Gowdy pyrographed in capitals in the bulge. Five bands of tape, 4 inches apart, decorated the handle.

That was also the stick with which Lanky Hank smashed out the two doubles and a home run in that ever-to-be remembered twelve-inning struggle at Fenway park, which practically clinched the title for the Braves.

BALL PLAYERS NEVER QUIT, SAYS CONNIE MACK

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 24.—Christy Mathewson, the Giants' pitcher, says he has it on good authority that Chief Bender of the Athletics is so disgusted with baseball that he has decided to quit the game.

SAYS FIGHTERS GET ALL THE GATE COIN

New York, Oct. 24.—When Billy Bibson announced a few days ago that other business interests made it compulsory to retire as a promoter of big glove contests, the belief became general that Bibson had made a "big cleanup" on boxing and, finding that it was no longer profitable, was getting out.

Since his connection with boxing Bibson has entertained more than 700,000 people at his club in the Bronx and the receipts were about $450,000. The first show was conducted May 22, 1908, and with the exception of four weeks there has been at least one show each week.

"Under the 'club law,' the Fairmount A. C. showed in exhibitions some of the best known and cleverest boxers in the world. It played to capacity time and time again and the receipts during these so-called war times amounted to about $250,000.

Out of about $450,000 handled during the regime of the Fairmount A. C. more than 65 per cent went to the boxers. The balance went for expenses and to cover deficits on many shows where the guarantees given performers were often twice as large as the receipts.

Mr. Bibson in talking of his experience as a club owner, pointed out that he expended close to $7,500 for legal fees.

Big losses were sustained by the club when it failed to conduct the Landford-Ketchel bout five years ago and also the Kaufman-Lang bout.

In the case of the Lang-Kaufman match the club was crowded to capacity and the receipts were more than $15,000. When the police threatened to break their way into the building, Mr. Bibson called off the bout and returned to the patrons every dollar paid for tickets.

Fitchburg, Mass., Oct. 24.—Patrick J. Moran, who has been acting as coach for the Philadelphia National league baseball team, was elected manager of the club to succeed Chas. S. Doolin, according to a telegram Moran received from President William S. Baker of the Philadelphia club Tuesday night.

Mr. Moran had been a catcher in professional baseball for twenty years and played first with the Lyons club of the New York state league and subsequently with the Boston, Chicago and Philadelphia teams in the National league.

FOOTBALL RULES NEED SOME INTERPRETATIONS

Chicago, Oct. 24.—With the more important football games yet to be played, coaches and captains of the competing elevens should have understandings with the officials before the contests in regard to certain interpretations of the code and ground rules.

Rule 6, section 16, paragraph b, reads: A safety is made from a kick which bounds back from an opponent from one of the kicker's own side, who when struck is behind his own goal line.

Rule 19, section 1, reads: A player is put offside if the ball in play has last been touched by one of his own side behind him. No player, however, may be called offside behind his own goal line, nor when holding the ball for a place kick after a fair catch or touchdown.

These rules contradict each other. Any kicked ball which strikes out of the kicking side before being touched by an opponent shall go to the opposing team at the spot of the foul.

Rule 19, section 1, reads: A player is put offside if the ball in play has last been touched by one of his own side behind him. No player, however, may be called offside behind his own goal line, nor when holding the ball for a place kick after a fair catch or touchdown.

If a punter, while kicking from behind his own goal line, boots the oval into one of his own teammates, who was behind the goal line, it would be an injustice to give the ball to the opposing eleven at that spot because it would give the defending team a touchdown. As a result a safety is the only logical solution of the problem.

Some officials wait for the runner to yell "Down" before blowing their whistle, while others declare the ball dead as soon as its forward progress is stopped while the runner is in the grasp of an opponent.

POTATO YIELD MUCH HEAVIER

The total potato crop is placed at 333,000,000 bushels for this year, a gain of 16,000,000 bushels over last year. The area harvested in Pennsylvania and Ohio, owing partly to drought is somewhat short of last year.

The Maine yield is far above normal and it is expected that the Minnesota yield, now being harvested, will bring the state farther to the front in total. In Aroostook county, Maine's famous potato section, farmers are marketing at from 35 to 40 cents per bushel, while Michigan and New York farmers are realizing 40 to 45 cents.

During the past year a shortage of supply brought in 14,000 bushels of foreign potatoes, mostly from Canada, but this year the domestic yield will supply all our demands.

PLEASE MAN'S APPETITE IN EFFORT TO GET VOTE

Tonahawk, Wis., Oct. 24.—"The war to a man's heart is through his stomach." The worth of this old saying is going to be tried out by Republican leaders at this city tonight. Voters throughout this section have been warned not to eat supper at their homes tonight, but to save their appetites for the big free banquet which will precede the party rally here.

OLDEST WHITE MAN IN THE UNITED STATES

Omaha—Thomas Morris of Waterloo, Neb., has lived through the terms of every president of United States and most of the big historic events of the last 120 years, and is vigorous today on a Nebraska farm.

In six months he will be 121 years old, and is believed to be the oldest white man in the United States and in all probability the oldest in the world.

He has lived in three centuries. He was three years old when Washington's term as president closed. This connects him with the administration of every president of the United States.

Seen Many Reigns. Mr. Morris was one year old when the famous trial of Warren Hastings closed, and was eleven years old when Nelson won Trafalgar. He lived on the period of the Napoleon wars, and reached his majority six months before Waterloo was fought. He has seen the reigns of George III, George IV, William IV, Victoria, Edward VII, and the present King.

Never Attended School. Morris was born, Jan. 14, 1794, at Bellefleur, Montgomeryshire, Wales. His father's name was Thomas Morris. He was a laborer, and died when Thomas was three years old. His mother's name was Elizabeth Lavis Morris, and she lived until 1863. Thomas had no sisters, but one brother named Charles, who died in 1861.

He never attended school and never married. In his boyhood he was apprenticed to a butcher and worked at this trade eight or ten years. But on account of a crippled foot he had to change his work and was apprenticed to a shoemaker.

About five years ago he gave up work altogether. Up to six years ago he made almost daily walks of one and a half miles to clear Creek in Custer County to fish. This sport was his principal diversion from toil. Mr. Morris still has the use of his faculties. His eyesight is remarkable.

Use Tobacco Moderately. Mr. Morris has always smoked tobacco and used liquor in a moderate degree. He takes tea or coffee at all meals and upon retiring takes to his bedroom a quart of tea or coffee which he takes during the night.

Forty-seven years ago a lad named Charles Mylton went to live with Mr. Morris, then seventy-three, and from that time the two have been inseparable companions.

In 1871 they left Wales and emigrated to America, arriving in Chicago on the Sunday following the great fire. They located in Blackstone, Livingston county, Ill., where they resided until 1872, when they moved to New Hampshire, Harrison County, Mo. Here they lived until 1886, when they moved to a farm four miles southeast of Westerville, and a few years later moved on an adjoining farm, where they now live.

LONDON HAS MEANEST LOT OF SWINDLERS

London, Oct. 24.—London has produced the meanest crowd of swindlers on record since the English troops got into the fighting line in France.

Every day the London papers are filled with appeals from the wives, mothers and sisters of missing officers, seeking information as to their fate. Hundreds of officers are not accounted for who are not known to be dead.

Swindler have taken advantage of the women distracted by failure to get news of their relatives and are constantly preying on them.

The mother of a young officer who has not been heard from since the battle of Mons, was recently approached by a swindler who represented himself as a valet and said he had seen the missing officer in Brussels and expected to return there the next day. The swindler was short of cash through the failure to get a remittance and asked for money which he would promptly return upon his arrival at Brussels. The money was supplied and letters to the missing son were entrusted to the sympathetic courier who never was heard of again.

These men have even represented that they saw wounded officers in certain hospitals near the fighting zone and have delivered fictitious requests for funds to supply delicacies to the injured.

The following unsolicited testimonial should certainly be sufficient to give hope and courage to persons afflicted with chronic dyspepsia: "I have been a chronic dyspeptic for years, and of all the medicine I have taken, Chamberlain's Tablets have done me more good than anything else," says W. G. Mattison, No. 7 Sherman St., Hornesville, N. Y. For sale by all dealers.

WILD PEG BY BUSH UPSET CAREFUL PLAN

Boston, Mass.—Back in 1908 when the Chicago Cubs and the Detroit Tigers staged a world series, one of the greatest plays ever made in a world championship contest was staged.

Detroit was at bat and none had been retired. Pitcher Mordcael Brown and Third Baseman Harry Steinfield held a consultation.

"Don't leave third, no matter where the next ball is hit," said Brown to Steiny. "I am going to make Cobb hunt into my hands and am going to throw to you for a force play at third."

Brown pitched and Cobb bunted. Brown ran toward the third base line the moment the ball was hit. The sphere rolled directly to him. He fielded it to third and the runner was forced with time to spare. The play was hailed as one of the headiest ever staged on any diamond.

The same situation came up in the twelfth inning of the third world series game. Gowdy, who had been batting terrifically, started the round with a double into the left field stands. Mann was sent in to run for him and Gilbert and Bill James.

Conlie Mack did some quick thinking. He signaled to Bush to pass Gilbert. The state was set for a force play at second or third, and Mack hoped Bush would be able to work himself out of a tight hole.

Bush expected Moran, the next man up, to sacrifice. Baker read Conlie Mack's sign to remain on third when the ball was hit and anchored himself to the bag. Bush expected Mann to bunt, and planned to make the same that Brown had made in 1908.

Moran bunted, but it was not as easy a ball to handle as the bunt Cobb had laid down six years ago. It was a mean, twisting bouncer which Bush fielded cleanly with some difficulty.

Mann and Gilbert had started off with the crack of the bat and Mann was within ten feet of third when Bush got his hands on the ball.

Bush turned in time to see Mann making a desperate effort to reach the base. He would have to throw fast and true to win. His throw was fast but it was wild. The ball shot past Baker like a bullet.

MAKE FIRST RUN AT NEW FURNACE

The first run of ore at the new Jones furnace will be made within a few days at Marquette. A fire was touched off in the furnace for the first time on Thursday. The Mining Journal says:

At 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon the match was applied to the new Jones furnace in North Marquette by Mrs. Alton T. Roberts, and everything is now in readiness for the first run of ore, which will go through within four or five days. The event was unmarked by ceremony. John T. Jones, the inventor of the process, and his family, a small assemblage of town-people, and John M. Longyear, one of the backers of the New Process Metals company, were present.

CAN'T AFFORD TO WEAR COTTON DRESS

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 23.—"I can't afford a cotton dress; they have to be washed and are too expensive. Am glad St. Louis people can afford them."

This disconcerting telegram from Dr. Anna Shaw, America's foremost suffragist, caused much excitement among the women of the Equal Suffrage league here. They had wired Dr. Shaw, asking her to wear a cotton dress, as all the other women who were to be on the platform when Dr. Shaw spoke here intended to do.

PLAN TO CONVERT THE MINOR LEAGUES

New York, Oct. 24.—The Federal league clubowners will answer the call to the colors here when the independent forces will mobilize here today and Saturday. One of the biggest schemes which the "Feds" have up their sleeves was called primarily to pan a final raid on the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs, of which more than forty minor leagues will assemble at Omaha, Neb., on November 10.

The Federals realize that as there is only a slight chance of coming to a satisfactory settlement with the major leagues, the only plan left to embarrass organized baseball is to get control of some of the minor leagues and thus cut off the majors' supply of players. Then to establish these leagues where the Federals can send their excess supply of players and develop new talent.

Gilmore to Attend Meeting. Saturday the Federal will probably appoint a committee to move en masse on Omaha next month, provided with funds to convert all the minor leagues possible. It was learned today that President Gilmore of the Federals has already engaged reservations in an Omaha hotel for the day when the minors will be there. The Federals' hope is to persuade some of the minors to desert organized ball.

Bresnahan Not to Jump. A yarn came out of the west today detailing the alleged fact that Roger Bresnahan of the Cubs has jumped to the Feds and would manage the Brooklyn team in the "outlaw" league next year. It was an exciting story, but the Wards, owners of the Brooklyn team, say it isn't true.

"Nothing in it at all," was the reply to questions. "If Bresnahan has agreed to manage a Brooklyn team next year it must be some sandlot organization. We don't know anything about Bresnahan."

"AD" FINDS $5,000 JOB FOR N. Y. MAN

New York Mayor Mitchell appointed to a $5,000 city job today a man he found through an advertisement in the newspapers. The office is that of third deputy commissioner of charities and the new incumbent preferred above a dozen politicians who had been seeking the place, is George G. Thompson, who answered this advertisement in the "Help Wanted" column.

"WANTED—Business manager, 35 to 45 years of age; able to superintend large force of employees; direct extensive construction work on large and direct purchasing and distribution of enormous quantities of supplies; only men of marked executive ability and good experience need apply; salary $5,000 a year; highest references required."

NO TOY FAMINE FOR CHRISTMAS

According to G. Willard Walstrom head of the toy department at the Fair Savings Bank store, there will be no toy famine in Escanaba this year as a result of the European war.

As most toys sold in this country have been made abroad, particularly in Germany, it has been generally expected that there will be a shortage this year, but Mr. Walstrom says some of the toys ordered for the holiday business had been received in the United States before the outbreak of the war. In addition, American manufacturers have been largely increasing their capacity.

Mr. Walstrom purchased toys for the local store early last spring, as had been his custom for many years past. The price at that time was normal, so that the company will not have to charge "war" prices for the season. Some of the large wholesale concerns had not received their consignment of toys at the time war was declared, and it is a question if their orders will be filled in full. The Fair store for several years past has been buying toys direct from representatives of the manufacturers. The stock received several weeks ago will be on display next month.

What Liquor Trade Stands For

The liquor trade of the United States, paying a quarter of a billion annual taxes to the Federal Government and great sums in local taxes to the State and municipal governments, stands for license, regulation and control of the business, so geared as to meet the matter of fact, not the matter of theory, demands of the American people.

"THE RING AND THE MAN"

In Four Acts, by Cyrus Townsend Brady
FEATURING BRUCE MCRAE
staged by Daniel Frohman. Produced by Famous Players Film Co.

—SYNOPSIS

Bruce McRae, the distinguished dramatic actor, makes his first appearance in the popular story of love and politics, "The Ring and the Man," by Cyrus Townsend Brady. The commanding personality and splendid poise of Bruce McRae fit him peculiarly for the role of Gormly, the man whose bravery and self-possession in the face of crucial circumstances enable him to successfully oppose the corrupt forces of the gigantic political ring that is trying to run him. Gormly's real name is Forlyce, but the shadow of a crime which hangs over his past has caused him to change it to Gormly, by which name he is known to his business associates and the public, who respect him as a great merchant-prince, and reform candidate for Mayor. Back of Gormly's ambition is a cool and beautiful woman, Eleanor Haldane, whose father is President of the Gotham Traction Co., a powerful corporation which has always controlled the city's administration. The Gotham Company and Gormly become involved in business complications, and Gormly, seeking the wisdom of city politics, partly through a desire to destroy the power of the Gotham Company, and partly to realize Miss Haldane's faith in him, decides to enter the mayoralty race, and is seen far in the lead of the Gotham Company's candidate. Another woman in Gormly's life—a woman of the past—now tries to regain her power over Gormly, and Gormly takes the great secret of his former life to the Chief of Police, who is a tool of the Gotham Company. The Chief calls on Gormly and threatens to expose him unless he withdraws from the race. Gormly courageously refuses. Haldane is informed of this development by the Chief of Police, and knowing of Gormly's love for his daughter, urges her to offer herself as wife to Gormly if he will cease his fight against the Gotham Company. Loving her father, and wishing to test Gormly, Elizabeth does this, and is both pleased and grieved when Gormly sacrifices even his love for his principles, and refuses to be bribed even with the gratification of his greatest wish. How the shadow of the crime of his past is lifted from him, how he defeats the vicious ring forces and finally wins his election and his bride, is dramatically visualized in this gripping production.

ANIMALS KILLED WILL BE PAID FOR

Washington, Oct. 24.—That owners of cattle whose stock has to be killed because of infection with foot and mouth disease will be reimbursed for losses is the word which Congressman Samuel W. Beakes has obtained from the Department of Agriculture. President George Watson of the Michigan Live Stock Sanitary commission, wired Mr. Beakes to ascertain whether the owners would be compelled to stand the loss. Mr. Beakes had a conference with Secretary Houston and learned that there is an appropriation to reimburse stock men for losses of this kind. This fund will be used until exhausted and if necessary an additional appropriation will be asked from the next Congress.

Stock men who have fancy breeds, however, should not expect to get fancy prices for their pedigrees. The method of determining the price to be paid for animals slaughtered is by arbitration. The federal government appoints one arbitrator, and the state government another. If they cannot agree upon the amount to be paid they select a third man who has the deciding vote.

The recent epidemic which has led the Department of Agriculture to place a quarantine upon cattle in Cass and Berrien counties in Michigan, and Laporte and St. Joseph counties in Indiana, is believed to be the original foot and mouth disease which originally came from eastern European countries. No cure has been discovered for it, and all cattle affected or exposed to it, by being on the same lands will be killed. Only twice before have there been outbreaks of the disease in this country. The first was in New England in 1902, and the second in New York and Pennsylvania in 1908.

STOCK IS SLAIN TO HEAD OFF DISEASE

Niles, Mich., Oct. 24.—Hunters and dogs are to be placed under the ban in the campaign against the foot and mouth disease in this section. The state game warden's department has been asked to co-operate with the state live stock and sanitary commission and government officials in the effort to prevent hunters and dogs from roaming over the infected district and thereby carry germs into territory that is now clean.

The slaughter of condemned stock began near Niles Wednesday. About 200 head of cows, sheep and hogs that were appraised on Monday by Whitney Watkins of Manchester, were killed. Three government veterinarians clothed from head to foot in rubber suits, hats and gloves did the slaughtering. Infected herds at Three Oaks were appraised today, and similar herds at New Carlisle, Ind., will be next appraised.

Mr. Watkins has been accepted by the state of Indiana as official appraiser in that state also. New cases are being found daily.

The state sanitary commission and United States bureau of animal industry, D. N. P. Houck in charge, have opened offices here to be used jointly.

MAKE DELIVERIES BEFORE TUESDAY

Every contribution for the Christmas Ship must be delivered at the high school before Tuesday morning. This is imperative for on Tuesday the boxes will be packed and on Wednesday the car will be sent to Chicago, whence it will be shipped to Brooklyn, N. Y. Any person wishing to contribute will please remember the high school messenger service is willing and ready at all times to call for and deliver the articles to the high school headquarters. Any person willing to lend their services in delivering these is assured of a hearty "Thank You" from the management.

The work is progressing rapidly at the high school and the sisters of St. Joseph's and St. Anne's have kindly accepted garments to finish. Such helpers are greatly appreciated, especially now as the time of shipping draws nearer and nearer.

F. A. Coleman of the Universal Film Co. has promised the use of a four reel feature movie play and this added to Mr. Hine's generous promise of the use of the Bijou on Monday evening assures us a goodly sum.

Don't forget the cafeteria supper in the high school gymnasium Saturday evening, directly after the football game. The proceeds from both of these functions will be used to buy warm ready-made garments for the children of Europe.

The little village of Ralph, Mich., comprising sixteen families, has given gathered enough material for a battleship of its own and Lansing's. $1,000 surely ought to be a spur to drive us toward greater endeavor and success.

Don't forget that the day of shipment, Oct. 27, is only a few days away. Call up the high school and its messenger service will respond at once and collect your contribution.

SENATOR SMITH IN SYMPATHY WITH SOUTH

Washington, Oct. 24.—Senator William Alden Smith of Michigan is one of the few northern Republicans to express sympathy for the cotton growers of the south, and declares his willingness to vote to aid them financially, if a proper bill could be reported. Similarly, Senator Smith favored the regional rivers and harbors bill, framed largely in the interests of the south.

Speaking of the cotton industry, Senator Smith quoted figures to show that during September 125,778 bales of cotton had been exported, while in September, 1912, 329,328 bales were exported. This alone, he declared, was sufficient evidence that the European war had affected the export cotton market very detrimentally.
