GERMANS RAISE GRAEETST LOAN

Berlin, April 13.—The subscription of the second German loan, completed recently, denotes another high water mark in the records of finance. When the first loan, Sept. 19, totaled a total of $1,050,000,000, it was the biggest public loan the world had ever seen.

The great ease of the money market also facilitated flotation of the loan. Call money is quoted at 1 to 1.2 per cent and rates never go lower than that at Berlin. The banks particularly savings banks, have unusually large supplies of cash. Since the beginning of the year, deposits in savings banks have run unusually high, amounting in January alone to more than $50,000,000.

SPORTING DEPARTMENT

JESS GREETED BY THOUSANDS

Atlantic City, N. J., April 13.—Jess Willard, the conqueror of Jack Johnson, was the central figure at the resort yesterday. Thousands of visitors, with the resident population, paid him homage, dogging his every footstep to shake his hand, pat him on the back or offer their comment, and generally make things miserable for the bashful fighter.

Never before has the seashore experienced a similar demonstration, although two years ago it entertained Presidents Taft, Roosevelt and Wilson Willard was slated to make two appearances with exhibitions at one of the local playhouses.

The reform faction, however, robbed thousands of his admirers of the pleasure of witnessing him in action by notifying the police that such a performance would be unlawful under the resurrected old blue laws. The crowds in consequence had to be satisfied with a view of his physique and a ten-minute talk by Manager Jones on "How It Was Done."

Willard last night spoke of the much anticipated reunion with his family in Los Angeles. He is homesick and expects to get into Los Angeles by July. He will appear at the Panama exposition at San Francisco late in the summer.

NEW CHAMPION QUICK TO LEARN

If there were half a dozen white heavyweights in their prime today, who could be considered as championship possibilities, it is probable that Jess Willard would develop into one of the world's greatest fighters. Since the cowboy is now the undisputed king of his division, it is not likely that he will ever be any better than he is now, and it is almost certain that, because of his age, he will hit the down grade shortly.

The assertion that Jess has it in him to develop into one of the great fighters of all time is based upon the wonderful ability to learn and improve which he has evinced within the past few months. Fight critics refused to accept Willard as championship possibility because the Willard they knew was not a championship fighter. He could only exert his tremendous strength and size to crush his partners. He could not side-step and feint and execute the fancy tricks that mark a finished boxer. It was the same in his previous fights. He won from lesser lights because of his physical prowess.

Last Monday Willard outgeneraled, outfought and outboxed the cleverest big fighter of the decade. According to the reports from the ringside, he had everything. That means that in the few weeks he was preparing himself at El Paso for the big battle, he learned an amazing amount of pugilistic science and developed an unexpected store of speed.

The critics went to Havana in flocks to scoff. They looked Jess over, and in a day or two the odds began to shift. It wasn't because they had been fooled before. It was because Jess had developed wonderfully since they had seen him last. Always a man of remarkable physical proportions and the possessor of a deadly wallop, there is no reason to believe that Jess, after making such strides in the art of fighting in so short a time, could not further develop into one of the greatest fighting machines of his age. It is true that age had gotten to Johnson. It is doubtful if Jess, as he is today, could have won the title when the negro was in his prime. But it is interesting to note that little is now being said about Johnson being out of condition. It is agreed that Willard was simply better than most folks believed he would be. But Jess is probably as finished a fighter as he ever will be. He is not likely to dissipate, but the next two years will find him devoting himself to the stage and no-decision bouts, and unless the unexpected again happens, no fighter will endanger the new champion's crown before the cowboy is ready to retire.

M'FARLAND ALREADY STALLING ARRANGEMENT

Chicago, April 13.—The first boxing contest under the new Illinois law, if it is passed, will be between Packey McFarland, the stockyards favorite, and Mike Gibbons, the St. Paul phantom.

This may sound a little strange but it isn't improbable, at least, not to Patrick J. McFarland of more or less pugilistic fame for the stockyards boxer really has dreams of appearing in Chicago against the Minnesota scrapper, for Packey wants to fight where he will get the most money.

All this was the result of a telephone conversation between McFarland and the matchmaker of the Cream City A. C. of Milwaukee yesterday. He wants to stage the big match and as next Thursday is supposed to be the date set by the boxers to open bids for the match, he was doing a little lobbying on behalf of his club.

"Just because the Cream City A. C. is the biggest club in Wisconsin is not any sign that they are going to get the fight," McFarland stated later. "I already have an offer from New York, and then again I am going to wait until I see what the Illinois legislature intends doing in regard to a boxing bill here."

WOLGAST HAS CHANCE OF WINNING SUIT

Cadillac, Mich., April 12.—Ad Wolgast, former lightweight champion, will claim a share of the winnings of Jess Willard. Ad holds a contract drawn up between Tom Jones and Willard, giving him when he advanced $1,500 to release the cowboy champion from the clutches of Charley Cutler, who had a claim on Jess' services.

Wolgast visited a local attorney to learn more about his rights and he declares that he can collect one-eighth of the total of Willard's ring earnings so long as the latter fights. Ad claims to have received money from Willard on this contract as a result of Willard's fight with Gunboat Smith and Charley Miller.

According to Wolgast, Jones way to pay him back $750, but he has the amount still coming. That he may have some trouble getting his share of Willard's earnings, Ad doesn't doubt, but he says Jones is an honest man.

JOE JACKSON IN A VERY BAD WAY

Cleveland, April 13.—Joe Jackson Cleveland's hard-hitting outfielder, may not be in the lineup on opening day at Detroit. A season of barnstorming with a southern show troupe, followed by family troubles, is telling on Joe, who has suffered a nervous collapse and looks but a shadow of himself. Within the last ten days he has lost fifteen or twenty pounds in weight as the result of brooding over his troubles.

In an effort to get in shape after his lay-off of nearly two weeks, he worked throughout yesterday's game and looked like the same old Joe. Twice he sent Fensor back to the left field fence to capture his long drives. He got a single and a triple his other two times up and stole third base. As soon as the game was over, though, he went to bed, being unable to eat. He was feeling somewhat better at noon and said he would play, as Manager Birmingham had allowed Liebold and Graney to go home to Detroit and St. Thomas.

Last night Jackson was all in and may go to a hospital.

NEVER SAW BASEBALL GAME

Man Employed by Cleveland Club Twenty-Two Years Never Has Been Able to Witness Contest.

The oldest man connected with baseball has never seen a game.

He is David Riblet of Cleveland. For 22 years he has been present at every game in Cleveland's baseball park, and on such terms of intimacy with the stars of the diamond that they have called him "dad" and "Uncle," but David refers to the stars as "Mr." That's how much of a fan David is.

If Riblet lives until March 13 he will be ninety years old. For the last four years he has been the watchman in the club rooms of the Naps. He says he has reached the century mark.

"But I don't ever expect to see a ball game," adds Riblet. "You see, I'm one of those kind of men who always stick at their post, no matter what is happening near by them."

For 18 years Riblet operated the turnstiles at the bleacher gate. He says he sometimes grew a bit curious to learn what was happening when the thousands of fans shrieked their applause at some great play, but he never deserted his post of duty.

And now Riblet can't tell a three-base hit from a strikeout.

"And I never got a chance even to think about such a thing as a baseball until I was past sixty years old," said Riblet.

TEAM OF VETERAN PLAYERS

Not Difficult to Pick Aggregation Out of Old-Timers Capable of Holding Its Own.

Although but 25 of the 330 ball players who figured in the American and National league races of 1902, the last year of the American league baseball war, still remain in the big arena, a team composed of these veterans, all of whom have been in the game for upward of 14 seasons, would be capable of holding its own with any that might be selected today. All of these players are far above the average in intelligence, which accounts for their remaining in the game so long, are excellent fielders, great batsmen, and, with one or two exceptions, grand base runners. This all-star veteran team would line up as follows:

Mathewson, Plank and Hess, pitchers.

Bresnahan and Doolin, catchers.

Lajoie, first base.

Evers, second base.

Wagner, shortstop.

Wallace, third base.

Leach, center field.

Crawford, right field.

The manager for this team could be selected from among John McGraw, Fielder Jones, Clarke Griffith, Hugh Jennings, Wilbur Robinson and "Whooa Bill" Phillips, as all of these former stars were in the game in 1902, Griffith and McGraw being pilots as now.

TO ENFORCE GAMBLING RULE

Manager Branch Rickey of St. Louis Browns Plans to Be Hard Boss —Ban on Card Games.

"I am going to offer no new rules. The players will not be permitted to gamble. That's an old rule, but wasn't enforced last season," said Manager Branch Rickey of the St. Louis Browns, the other day. "By gambling, I mean that the men must not wager for any sums that they cannot afford.

"No gambling will be permitted in the hotels. The players may promise to break up their games at eleven o'clock, but they seldom do that. So the ban is on gambling in the hotels, no matter what promises are for calling the contest earlier, or of limited stakes.

"A little session on the train, under my observation, will be permitted. I

Pacific Coast Recruit Will Endeavor to Show Manager Jennings He Made Big Mistake.

New blood is the cry in the National league. Despite the fact that the clubs have been ordered to reduce to 21 players by May 1, every club has a bunch of vacancies to be filled. McGraw plays no favorites, and the boys who can show the stuff will win the prizes.

Pitcher Ralph Stroud will try to show McGraw that Mac's old Baltimore pal, Hughie Jennings, made a big mistake when he decided that little Ralph was not clever enough to defeat major league batsmen. Stroud has had some good seasons in the Coast

MUGGSY MCGRAW GETS A WALLOP

Richmond, Va., April 13.—After the Giants had been defeated by the Richmond Internationals on Saturday Manager McGraw was leaving the grounds through a side gate when a muscularly young man, who proved to be C. L. Straus, a well-known local fan, taunted him with having been outplayed by the Virginians.

"Don't speak to me. I don't know you," McGraw replied, evidently piqued.

"You needn't get huffy about it," replied Straus.

McGraw made some reply and with the result that the two mixed. In a moment or two McGraw found himself sprawling on his hands in the street. Regaining his feet, he faced Straus, threatening to fix him, according to bystanders, but he quickly changed his mind and ran to join several of his players in an automobile who had failed to observe the scrap.

Botanical Divisions.

A teacher in a Woodland avenue school asked the other day: "How many kinds of flowers are there?" Three pupils held up their hands. She chose one to reply. "Well, is there how many kinds of flowers are there?" "Three, teacher." "Indeed? And what are they?" "Wild, tame and ecclie."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Insect Pest Causes Heavy Loss.

It is reported that the blowfly causes an annual loss of more than $400,000 sheep in Australia. Victoria has not yet seriously suffered from this pest, owing, no doubt, to the compulsory dipping of all sheep, and to the starlings, which are here found in large numbers.

can then see that the players cease card playing, and retire at a reasonable hour. I do not favor gambling, however."

PLAYERS GETTING TOO MUCH

President Charles Ebbets of Brooklyn Team, Says Salaries Are Altogether Too High.

Charley Ebbets, president of the Brooklyn National League club, declares that salaries of ball players are away out of proportion to the value of services rendered by the men and that he for one does not intend to be held up by them any longer. If they are not satisfied with what he offers them they can jump to the Federal league. Discussing the subject not long ago Ebbets said:

"I've grown tired of coddling the players and submitting to their hold-up tactics. All last season I tried to keep my players in line by meeting the Federal league offers. That has cost me a lot of money. But I am through with those tactics.

"The whole gang can jump, if it wants to. They can't gouge me for another dollar. Salaries have been boosted far beyond proportion. Every dollar being made in baseball is going to the players these days.

"I'm offering my men salaries that I think are in keeping with what they earn. During the past year I have paid them salaries above their earning capacity. I'm through now. Any of my men who want to jump can jump. I'll fill their places; I'll get semipro, if necessary."

Lajoie Alone Remains.

The passing of Billy Sullivan from the American league leaves Larry Lajoie the only veteran who broke in when the league came into existence. Larry is assured of a lifelong job, for he is the player who made the organization.

league since he left the Tigers and may stick on his second try. Jimmy Archer came up on three different occasions before somebody discovered he belonged on the top crust.

Then there is Al Holke, one German, who will be working against another German. Al has heard rumors that Fred Merkle was not as skillful last season as he used to be, and will try to horn in on the first corner.

MANAGERS FOLLOW J. MCGRAW

All the Big League Pilots Are Now Employing Veteran Coaches to Develop Their Young Pitchers.

Everybody seems to be doing now what Johnny McGraw started doing a number of years ago—the employment of a veteran coach to train the young pitchers.

McGraw's old teammate, Wilbert Robinson, was looking for a job some years ago. He applied to McGraw. Robinson was too old and too bulky to play. McGraw was just about to turn down Robinson when he thought about the coaching idea.

Robinson was a great catcher in the old days, and he always had accomplished great results in handling young pitchers.

"You're hired," McGraw said to Robinson. "Your title is coach. Your job will be to develop my young pitchers."

Robinson made good. He labored long and patiently with "Rube" Marquard—but he got results. "Jeff" Tesreau was as wild as a Zulu warrior when he was turned over to Robinson for "treatment." Tesreau today ranks as one of the greatest pitchers in baseball. Robinson made a good pitcher out of "Al" Demaree.

The success of Robinson with the Giant recruits has influenced most of the other big league managers to hire a veteran catcher to coach the yearling twirlers.

DREAMY SCANLON TO BE "REGULAR"

RECOUNT VOTES IN ALGER CO.

Of the contest that has developed in Alger county over the result of the local option election on Monday, a correspondent says:

The "wets" of Alger county yesterday filed a petition for a recount of the votes cast in the recent "local option" contest in six precincts. They took this action following a meeting of the board of supervisors, sitting as a board of canvassers, at which it was announced that the election had been won by the "drys" by two votes. It was previously reported the county had gone "dry" by a single vote. The recount will be commenced today.

Both sides have prepared to contest vigorously. William P. Belden, of Ishpeming, and a Lansing attorney have been engaged as counsel by the "drys." Attorney Stuart, of Muskegon, and counsel from Chicago will represent the "wets."

The precincts in which a recount is asked, are: AuTrain township, Onota township, Rock River, Muskegon township, precinct No. 2, Limestone township, and Mathias township.

SCORE BIG HIT AT NAHMA SHOW

A unique and decided success was that scored by a minstrel show given at Nahma on Monday evening, under the direction of John Kelley, formerly of this city. The event was arranged for the benefit of the Nahma Sunday school and a total of $109 was cleared through the undertaking.

Members of Olmsted's orchestra and a quartette from this city left Escanaba by auto for Nahma on Monday and because of the terrible condition of the roads, the orchestra did not reach Nahma until after the minstrel program had been started and the quartette, which was to take part in the program, did not arrive until 11 o'clock. The belated vocalists were heartily greeted however, and their numbers were contributed at the dance, which followed the minstrel program.

FIGHT WILL BE CLASSY

The Clabby-Chip mix-up, which is to be staged in Marinette on April 28, will be one of the classiest ring battles ever staged in this district. The encounter will be a give and take affair, with both men feeling each other. George Chip will oppose the Hammond boy, got sweet revenge on Al McCoy lately when he put the New York battler to sleep in short order. Clabby is indulging in strenuous training and will try to put his fast opponent through the sleep route. The Badger city is preparing for the followers of the fristic game and excellent hotel accommodations have been arranged. A great deal of coin is exchanging hands and the odds are slightly on Chip. Escanaba boxing fans are contemplating an invading Marinette in large forces and take in the classiest mill ever staged in the north-west.

The Power of Nickles and Dimes

To many people a nickel or a dime seems too small a coin to deserve much attention and these small amounts are spent carelessly and needlessly without a thought to their real power.

During the year 1913 the Woolworth Stores, which deal entirely in 5 and 10 cent articles received these coins to the value of $66,228,072.

This enormous total indicates the tremendous importance of small sums. Add every one that you can possibly spare to your Savings Account—they will build up your balance in a surprising manner.

Simple, When You Know How

Saving money, like any other undertaking, becomes a simple, ordinary action—if you know how.

Earning money does not teach saving. The best savers are often those who earn only a few dollars a week. Those who earn more often are unable to save at all.

But having a Savings Account teaches how to save—it teaches because it helps—and it is the Safe Way to Save.

We invite your Savings Account—$1.00 or more to start. Try it.
