IMPERIAL GERMAN EMBASSY, Washington D. C., April 22, 1915.

BULLETIN London, May 8.—1256 persons lost their lives in the Lusitania disaster, of whom 115 were Americans. The bodies of Charles Frohman, electrical manager; Dr. F. S. Pearson, New York and Charles Plamondon, of Chicago, have been recovered.

The officially given up as dead are: Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, multi-millionaire. Charles Klein, playwright. Justus Miles Forman, playwright. Elbert Hubbard, writer. Mrs. Hubbard. American consul Frost, at Queenstown today reported to the American Embassy that the total number of survivors is safely placed at 615. The Cunard company, in a revised list of those aboard, stated there were 1251 passengers and 650 in the crew, totaling 1901. Of 188 Americans aboard they account for but 73 saved. Consul Frost said that upward of 1200 bodies are unrecovered.

BULLETIN New York, May 8.—Count von Bernstorff, German ambassador made it plain that Germany would not yet admit that the Lusitania was sunk by a German submarine. "I have nothing to say," Bernstorff gasped after closing the newspaper reporters. This afternoon the count conferred with Daniel von Heimhauser, counsel for the Embassy and Julius P. Meyer, Hamburg American Line director. He denied that captain Boyed, a naval attaché, or any other at present, was representing the German secret service in the United States. Deductions may be drawn from the various statements following: That Germany will not admit the responsibility for Lusitania sinking or the 1,400 deaths; that Germany will demand absolute proof that a German submarine sank the ship, and not mines, an infernal machine or other unknown destructive means, before paying any claims.

(Special to The Press.) London, May 8.—The first story of how the Lusitania was sunk, was gathered from the refugees: The Lusitania, on the last leg of a voyage to Liverpool, making 16 knots. It was 2 o'clock in the afternoon and a clear, calm day. In the morning the speed was reduced by captain Turner, probably fearing scattered mines. The passengers lolled in chairs, others lined the railings, peering over into the waters. There was much nervous tension. Sharply at 2:50 o'clock there was a signal from the bridge: "Full speed ahead." Suddenly the cry rose from the starboard deck: "there's a submarine." One thousand yards off the starboard bow, breaking the sub-glittered surface, the sleek hull of the submarine was seen. It rested for but a moment, then submerged. This was the only warning. There was an impetuous rush to one side of the ship. On the saloon deck they were more curious than fearful. Other classes became excited. Suddenly came an ominous cry from the watchers: "A torpedo is coming straight for us." From where the submarine sunk a great white streak was traced, aimed slightly ahead of the Lusitania, but as the liner plunged forward the track seemed to veer more and more toward a point amidships until it struck between the first and second funnels with a dull thud. There was a terrific tearing of metal, followed by a loud explosion in the stokehole. The liner faltered, steadied and was directed landward.

MOTHER Your mother's life has not been easy; she worked not the eight and ten hour day, but the twenty-four hour day of the wife and mother. She cooked and cleaned, and patched and nursed, from dawn until bedtime, and in the night was up and down getting drinks for thirsty lips, covering restless little sleepers, listening for croupy coughs. She had time to listen to your stories of childish fun and frolic; time to say the things that spurred your ambition on. She never forgot to cook the dishes you liked. She did without the dress she needed that you might not be ashamed of your clothes before your friends. Remember this now while there is yet time, while she is living, to pay back to her in love and tenderness some of the debt you owe her. You can never pay it all, but you can pay down something on account this very day.

NEW TRIAL IS DENIED (Special to The Press.) Washington, D. C., May 8.—A new trial of the $500,000 breach of promise suit brought by Mrs. Ida M. McNabb, against John S. Kinney, millionaire mine owner of Michigan, was denied by Justice Stafford in circuit court No. 2 today. Notice of an appeal to the court of appeals was filed today and the bond as a supersedeas was fixed at $35,000.

LUCKY NUMBER GETS GLADSTONE LOT (Special to The Press.) For the past several weeks the Gladstone Cash Store has been giving numbers with each sale of meat, on a 50 by 150 bay shore lot, in the upper bay city. Last night the contest was brought to a close and the winning number was 13805 and the person holding that number is requested to put in an appearance at once as an excellently located lot awaits him.

MAN IS CALLED AFTER LONG ILLNESS After a prolonged illness, Patrick Wade, 74 years of age, passed away at a local hospital, surrounded by the members of his family. Death was undoubtedly due to old age. The man is survived by one son, Patrick Wade of this city and Miss Margaret Wade of Chicago, who has been in the city for the past week, and who was at the bedside of her father when the end came. The funeral over the body will be conducted on Monday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Patrick's church and interment will be made at St. Joseph's cemetery. Mr. Wade was known to scores of local people who will receive the notice of the death of the aged man with a sense of real sorrow.

O'DONNELL ON DANGER TRIP ESCANABA LAD LEAVES NEW YORK FOR RUSSIA ABOARD VESSEL LADEN WITH CONTRABAND CARGO Sailing from New York yesterday aboard the steamer Atlantic, loaded with a cargo of contraband goods for Sevastapool, Russia, Connie O'Donnell, an Escanaba lad, anticipated an adventurous voyage. In a letter written to the editor of the Press, O'Donnell asks that his father be notified, if news is received here of the sinking of the Atlantic, by a hostile ship. O'Donnell arrived in New York two weeks ago after a trip from the Pacific coast, passing through the Panama canal and of that trip he offers a most interesting description. The letter received yesterday follows: Dear Sir: As I am leaving Saturday for Sevastapool, Russia, as chief steward on the steamer Atlantic, I wanted to inform you, should anything happen to me, I wish you would please notify my father, whose address is 1004 Adams St. Chicago, Ill. (Continued on page six.)

SEAT SALE IS PLEASING (By Russell Rushton) The advance sales of the tickets for the operetta Bul-Bul have far exceeded those of any previous year thus insuring an exceptionally large crowd for Monday night. The public is interested and seems to be willing to back up the High school in the coming event. The previous entertainments given by High school students are a sufficient guarantee to the citizens of Escanaba for the quality of Bul-Bul and they have no need to regret the support they may have given them. The dress rehearsal at the high school yesterday morning was gone through without a single break. Every member had his or her part well in hand and the prompter was not once called into service. The costumes were all and more than was expected of them, made of silks and satins of the most gorgeous hues, giving the play a richer and more beautiful effect. The two acts were a howling success from start to finish. The positions of musical director, in charge of Miss Ryan and stage manager, with Miss Lynch, are in general two thankless jobs but it is to these, to whom the success of the entire undertaking is due. To develop and train a group of fifty singers to the same degree of perfection which these have attained is a task, the result of which is nothing short of miraculous and whatever laurels may be awarded the leading members of the cast the real credit and reward which can only be a place, in highest public esteem must be given these two who have worked so untrillingly and faithfully to put forth this operetta. Mr. and Mrs. John Green will leave this evening for Roemer, Minn., where they will make their future home. Edward O'Connors left last night for a business trip to Buffalo, N. Y.

WRESTLERS PREPARE FOR BIG CONFLICT The coming Tuesday night, when the wrestling contest between Frank Smith and Sajatovic, the wrestler and strong man, will be staged at the Peterson Opera House, is anxiously awaited by the sport followers of Escanaba. Both of the contestants are confident of victory, and from their record it will be an interesting conflict. Smith says he will show the strong man a few of his own new points of the game, and will spring several surprises. He is training hard and will undoubtedly carry off the honors. Sajatovic is a giant in stature and is a physical marvel. His physique is perfect and the local admirers of his prowess are touting him for the champion. The newspapers of the cities, he has shown in this country, are loud in their praise of him.

DESTROYER TO BOTTOM (Special to The Press.) London, May 8.—The admiralty announces the British torpedo boat destroyer "Maori" has been sunk by a mine off the Belgian coast. The crew was captured by the Germans.

SURPRISE FRIENDS HERE (Special to The Press.) George Hirn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hirn of 415 South Charlotte street, completely surprised his scores of friends in the city yesterday by taking as his bride, Miss Anna Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Brown of Menominee. The announcement of the wedding came as a decided surprise to Mr. Hirn's friends of the city who had not entertained the slightest suspicion of the approaching event. The date of the marriage was known by the members of the family for several weeks but few outsiders knew of the ceremonies which were performed yesterday morning at 6 o'clock at St. Joseph's church. The bride's sister, Miss Marie Brown served as bridesmaid while Dr. Frederick Hirn, brother of the groom, acted as groomsmen. Following the wedding ceremony the couple went to the home of the groom's parents on south Charlotte street where a wedding breakfast was served for the bridal party and a few intimate friends. At 11 o'clock the couple left for Menominee where they spent last night with the bride's parents and today they will proceed to Green Bay and Milwaukee on a wedding trip. The bride is known to many local people and is highly regarded by all. There is perhaps no young man better known in the city than the groom, his wide acquaintance being principally due to his frequent appearances in minstrel shows here when he has scored big hits. He is employed in the freight offices of the North Western railway and is one of Escanaba's promising young men.

FOUR SCHOOL BOYS DO A BIG JOB Work in manual training was carried out to a high degree of perfection at the Washington school on Thursday by four boys of that school, ranging from 12 to 13 years. After being given a few pointers by instructors as to the mixing of cement and the laying of the mixture, the four lads immediately set to work and before the close of the day had mixed 8,000 pounds of cement with sand and water and had set 12 iron posts for the play grounds. The work was excellently carried out and reflects greatly upon the ability of the boys. The quartet who did the work so splendidly are: Emil Smith, Donald McCafferty, Howard Miller and George Wilson.

MRS. CARMAN IS ACQUITTED Mineola, L. I., May 8.—Mrs. Florence Conklin Carman was acquitted of the murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey here today. The jury took just one ballot.

NORTHERN BEAUTS GO TO FLAT ROCK The Northern Beauty baseball team of this city, will travel to Flat Rock today to open the baseball season in that community. The members of the local team will meet at the Olmsted billiard hall at 1:30 o'clock and take a street car for Flat Rock from that place. Burton and Roth will form the battery for the Beauts.

SPECIAL SERVICES AT ARMY HALL Special services will be held at the Salvation Army hall this evening at 8 o'clock in observance of Mother's Day. A special program has been arranged for the occasion by officers of the local corps and it is expected that an unusually large audience will be present to participate.

SALE AND SUPPER GIVEN THIS WEEK Particularly elaborate plans are being made by members of the Ladies Aid Society of the First Presbyterian church for a sale and supper to be conducted at the basement of the church on Thursday evening of this week. Supper will be served from 5 to 8 o'clock and the sale will be conducted during those hours. An elaborate display of hand made articles has been arranged for the sale, allowing many patrons to fill household wants there.

Now the American people can more heartily than ever, agree with General Sherman as to what war really is.

Ald. Ed was absent but his able ally was on the job, as witness the manly (?) effort to block the appointment of the only woman office holder in Escanaba.

If Escanaba has a Begole, will he please step forward and we then will establish a commission form of government.

With new blood at the helm of the Escanaba Business Men's Association one can expect the proverbial fur to fly.

Mayor Begole of Marquette demonstrated here that while he may be deaf he makes up in other talents all that he may lose by the absence of hearing.

The sinking of the Lusitania has shocked the nation and the world, un-speakably, but this is not a time to indulge in hysterics. Instead, it is time to exercise a cool, conservative judgment, as befits the people of a neutral power. The loss of American lives must be viewed as an incident to a terrible, cruel war. Those of our nation who went down to death in the Lusitania knew the risk they were taking before they sailed and they took their lives in their own hands when they disregarded a warning that was given, no matter how without precedent that warning may have been. Never, since the war began, was it more necessary than today to heed the admonition of our president "be neutral."

TO A MOTHER.

A great nation pauses today to honor Mother. Hallowed in the shrine of our hearts is that being we call Mother. The one person, above all others, who, in success and in adversity; in health and in sickness; in Godliness and in sin, is our unchangeable, self-sacrificing sponsor. It is her name that we speak first as an infant and it is her name whom the man who has lived right, takes relief in murmuring as death comes. It is she who watched over us as a child; stood behind us as we entered the world's battle; gloried with us in our joys; wept with us in our sorrows; defended us when others condemned and at the end passed to a Heaven of rest, serene and confident in the belief that her son and her daughter were what she thought them to be.

No higher aim in life could be taken by man than to be that which his Mother wished him to be. But few of us can say we have lived as Mother would have us live. But her influence, her teachings, her example have been the range lights by which most of us have tried to steer our course. It is Mother, next to God, whom all men revere.

WAR

Washington, May 8.—Official advices received here late tonight were to the effect that a crisis in the Far East has been averted, that Japan has modified her demands and that China will accept them.

Before the terms of the agreement are finally concluded, however, an expression of opinion is expected by the United States from Great Britain, France and Russia, as the allies of Japan, as to whether the interests which the leading powers have had in the maintenance of the territorial integrity of China, or "the open door" policy, have been in any way affected. The American ambassadors at London Paris and Petrograd have been instructed to learn the attitude of the powers, which, like the United States, are pledged to maintain the territorial status quo in China. Inasmuch as Japan and Germany are at war the latter country was not consulted at this time, but later may be included in the American government's correspondence on the question. Secretary Bryan would not discuss this matter. He announced today the state department had received the substance of the Japanese ultimatum and that it contained important modification by Japan of her demands. It was generally understood that these modifications related to the withdrawal by Japan of the general demands in group V asking for the installation of trial advisers in China, and on obligation by China, to purchase fifty per cent. of her ammunition supply in Japan.

It was this group which had been looked upon in many quarters as threatening the political and administrative independence of China.

Pekin, May 8.—The attaches of the foreign office were at work all night translating Japan's ultimatum and drafting the terms of China's compliance with the demands, which will be submitted to Yuan Shih Kai and the state council this morning. The reply will be delivered to the Japanese minister this evening or Sunday morning. The Chinese not will review China's case, answer the charge contained in the ultimatum and accept the demands without qualification. The government expects no serious revolutionary outbreak from the people. The military leaders have assured Yuan Shih Kai that their support would continue.

The Lusitania was one of the largest of trans-Atlantic liners as well as one of the speediest. She was built in Glasgow in 1906. She was 785 feet long, eighty-eight feet beam, and sixty feet deep. Her gross tonnage was 32,500 and her net tonnage, 9,145. She was owned by the Cunard Steamship company of Liverpool. Her captain was W. T. Turner.

The vessel was pronounced by her builders to be as nearly unsinkable as any ship could be. The lower deck was water tight. The double bottom was so constructed that should the bilge keel be torn away and the hull pierced, the entering water would be confined within the inner and outer bottoms. The lower portion of the hull was divided into 175 watertight compartments with communicating doors so constructed that they could be closed automatically from the navigating bridge in a few seconds. Every thing about the Lusitania was of colossal dimensions. Her rudder weighed sixty-five tons. She carried three anchors of ten tons each. The main frames and beams placed end to end would extend thirty miles.

Kinsale, off which the Lusitania was torpedoed, is a seaport of Ireland, thirteen miles southwest of Cork. It lies near the entrance of St. George's channel, between Ireland and England, through which trans-Atlantic vessels pass on their way to Liverpool.

Many of Prominence Aboard Boat New York, May 8.—Richard R. Freeman, Jr., son of a shipping broker, widely known, engaged passage on the Lusitania at the last moment. He is a graduate of Harvard, who left his work as a mining engineer at Ishpeming, Mich., to accept a similar position in Serbia.

Hancock, Mich., May 8.—Fred Milford, insurance agent of this city, was a passenger on the Lusitania. Mr. Milford was enroute to his former home in England, where he intended to visit his father whom he had not seen in many years. Mr. Milford is well known in both the copper and iron districts of Michigan.

Detroit, Mich., May 8.—Eight Detroiters were passengers on the Lusitania. Among them was J. H. Mason, whose wife and young son were drowned in the wreck of the Empress of Ireland in the St. Lawrence river last May.

New York, May 8.—Uncertainty as to the fate of Charles Frohman, probably the most widely known theatrical man in the world, who was a passenger on the Lusitania, was the absorbing topic among thousands in the theatrical district tonight. Mr. Frohman had gone to Europe with Charles Klein and Justice Miles Foreman, playwrights. Mr. Frohman's offices in the Empire theater building were besieged until a late hour for possible news of him and when told there was none the inquirers sadly turned away.

cabin passengers, as he had promised to withhold their names. He said, however, that among their number were several prominent steel and iron manufacturers bound for Europe to close contracts.

Philadelphia, May 8.—S. M. Knox, president of the New York Shipbuilding company and William S. Hodges, Paris representative of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, were among the prominent Philadelphians who were passengers on the Lusitania. Mr. Hodges was accompanied by his wife and two small sons.

Harry J. Keiser, vice president of the Philadelphia National bank, was another passenger.

Pittsburg, May 8.—Among the passengers on the Lusitania were ten members of the Gwent Welsh male chorus, who were returning to Europe after completing a tour of the United States.

Michael Ward, ten years a street car motorman here, was on the Lusitania with his savings of $5,000, bound for Ireland where he had purchased a farm.

Chicago, May 8.—Thomas C. Jeffrey, whose name was given out by the steamship company as booking from Chicago, is the millionaire automobile manufacturer of Kenosha, Wis. Ten natives of Persia were among the Chicagoans on the Lusitania, according to their friends here. They were returning to Persia to investigate reports received here of a massacre of their relatives.

Montague Grant, who had been in Chicago ten years; was not a naturalized citizen, it was said. His wife was a native of Virginia. They were going to England to visit Grant's relatives there.

Scott Hayes was a representative here for many years of the New York Airbrake company.

Mrs. G. W. Bartlett was a former Chicagoan. She was a daughter of Mrs. M. M. Rothschild.

H. K. Harrison was returning to visit his relatives in the Isle of Man. Mrs. James Minor and her infant son Walter were enroute to her former home at Castlegate Lannmark, Scotland.

E. B. Thompson, of Seymour, Ind., was visiting England in the interests of a commercial house which he represented.

Edward M. Collis, of Riverside, a suburb who was a passenger on the Lusitania, left Chicago a week ago for New York.

Mrs. Leslie Faber, one of the passengers on the Lusitania, was known on the English stage as Winnifred Arthur-Jones. She is a daughter of Henry Arthur-Jones, the noted playwright.

Henry W. Jackson, was returning to his home in England after an experience in the United States, employed as a chauffeur.

Miss Mary Nicoll came from Scotland less than a year ago to visit her sister, Mrs. J. W. Young. She was on her way to visit the old home in Scotland.

T. R. TAKES STAND; HE ISN'T NEEDED

Syracuse, N. Y., May 7.—An excerpt from the minute book of the Albany Journal company read in the supreme court here today during the trial of William Barnes' suit for libel against Theodore Roosevelt purported to show that Mr. Barnes assigned to that corporation a salary claim of $20,000 against James B. Lyon, founder of the Albany printing concern which bears his name. The claim, it was said, represented salary for two years, and for the assignment the trustees authorized the giving to Mr. Barnes of a general release from all existing claims against him held by the Journal company. The Lyon company and James B. Lyon have been mentioned many times in previous testimony.

Excerpts from the minute book were read by counsel for Theodore Roosevelt after objections made by Mr. Barnes, attorneys had been overruled. The minute book was introduced during the afternoon session of court. During the morning session Justice William S. Andrews ruled that Colonel Roosevelt could not testify about local conditions in Albany. The colonel then went on the stand for examination. He remained there long enough for William M. Ivins, chief counsel for Mr. Barnes, to inform him politely that he had no desire to question him. It probably was the colonel's last appearance upon the witness stand.

RATE LIFT WILL NOT SOLVE QUESTION

"The increase in both freight and passenger rates asked for by the railroads, and largely supported and deemed wise by the people is only a temporary relief," is the opening statement of Col. C. W. Mott, secretary manager of the Upper Peninsula Development bureau in an article published in the Monthly Bulletin for May issued by the Chicago and North-Western Railroad and sent broadcast over the nation.

The article occupies four pages of the Bulletin and is increased in value and attractiveness by scenes of agricultural development in Cloverland. "The real solution for increased revenue lies in having intense rural settlement ten to fifteen miles on each side of the main line and branches of any railroad in this country," says Mr. Mott.

"More intense rural population cannot come to and the old settled districts, as the farming lands are largely occupied, but in these old, intensely settled districts progress can be made in profit-making by the use of more intelligent farming methods, using better seed and better cultivation, which will increase the products of the fields and also enlarge the output of the factories and give more employment to the transportation lines that serve them. Increased efforts in this direction will produce more passenger revenue and freight tonnage per mile.

"The success and profit of the fields and factories adjacent to any railroad reflects the prosperity of the transportation lines that serve them.

"Railroads are not in a position to construct and originate business, but the management that different lines can be leaders in the up-building of the people and country adjacent to their railroads.

"Railroads in the past were built without any viewpoint of the future and were permanent revenue could be looked for, they only looked for and considered that which was presented at the time of building the road.

"Mainly railroads were built to transport products of the forest, but today, in most cases, the land that grew the timber, if it is properly farmed, is far more valuable to the railroad as a revenue producer.

"Many railroads were built to transport goods and have become more liberal in their viewpoint of helping in the up-building of the rural population adjacent to their respective lines, and this is especially true of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway.

"Through the efforts of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau and the Traffic Department of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway there was established, last summer, five agricultural experiment stations at different points along the line of the Peninsula (Clover-Land) Division."

The article then tells of the vast opportunities of Clover-Land for dairying and farming purposes.

MORTGAGE SALE

Whereas, Default has been made in the payment of the money secured by a mortgage dated the 6th day of December, in the year 1912, executed by John LaRose, Sr., and Gertrude LaRose, his wife, of Fairbanks Township, Delta County, Michigan, to John LaRose, Jr., of the same place of residence, which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of the County of Delta, in Liber 7 of Mortgages, on Page 555, on the 28th day of January, in the year 1913, at 9:30 o'clock a. m.

And Whereas, the amount claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this mortgage is the sum of five hundred sixty-eight and 70-100 ($568.70) dollars, of principal and interest, and the further sum of twenty-five and no one-hundredths ($25.00) dollars as an attorney fee stipulated for in said mortgage, and no suit or proceeding having been instituted at law to recover the debt now remaining secured by said mortgage or any part thereof, whereby the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become operative.

NOW THEREFORE, Notice is hereby given that by virtue of the said power of sale, and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises therein described, at public auction to the highest bidder, at the front door of the court house in the City of Escanaba, in said County of Delta, on the 30th day of June next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day; which said premises are described in said mortgage as follows, to-wit: The East one-half (E 1/2) of the North West quarter (N. W. 1/4) and the West one-half (W 1/2) of North East quarter (N. E. 1/4) of Section Thirty-five (35) Township Thirty-Nine (39) North of Range Nineteen (19) West. Dated at Escanaba, Mich., April 3, 1915.

FOOD IN POLAND SOARS IN PRICE

Warsaw, May 8.—A detailed report of the desperate situation in the mining district of western Poland, in possession of the Germans, has been received by the Rockefeller commission organized to assist the suffering population here.

A comparison of food prices before the war with those which prevailed January show the following contrasts: Rye flour increased from $40 to $90 a ton; wheat flour from $60 to $102; buckwheat from $60 to $125, and peas from $60 to $250. Before the war a ton of straw cost $210; in January it brought $612 and the price of oats has increased 500 per cent.

Out of the population of 135,000 in the district of Sosnovitz, 12,650 persons are now dependent upon charity. In Bendin there are 5,000 charity subjects out of a population of 50,000, and in Dombrov 5,000 out of a population of 60,000. These figures do not include the unemployed who are receiving assistance from their former employers. These number about 45,000 or counting their families, about 100,000 persons.

Continuing, this report says that during the last five months the population of this region suffered serious epidemics of typhus, scarlet fever, dysentery and cholera. Of cholera there have been thirty-five cases, and the death rate among noncombatants has increased from 10 per cent to 12 per cent.

Two chief causes of misery in this region have been the cutting off of imports on which this part of Poland always has depended, and the closing of the coal mines, which in normal times give employment to 50,000 men.

STATES CHAMP AS ECONOMIST

Detroit, Mich.—Michigan's champion economist has been brought to light by the operations of the Harrison anti-narcotic law.

Official order blanks, each having twelve lines and costing one cent per blank must be used by physicians and others in procuring narcotics since the enactment of the Harrison law.

An upstate doctor, having sent in an order to his druggist for a single drug in March returned to the store in May and demanded that he be allowed to use the same blank for an additional order of drugs.

"Unless I can do that," he said to the druggist, "I'll have to spend a cent every time I want a supply of drugs. If I can fill up that first order blank, it will last me at least two years, and the book of ten order blanks will last me as long as I live, if I am not reckless. This Harrison law is putting all sorts of hardships on the doctors.

When the druggist inquired of James J. Brady, collector of internal revenue, if the doctor might be allowed to practice such economy, the collector reluctantly declined to permit it. The prodigal use of order blanks must be continued.

FORMER STATESMAN ON PEAGE COMMISSION

Washington, May 8.—Richard Olney, secretary of state during President Cleveland's administration, has accepted President Wilson's invitation to become a member of the commission provided for in the recent peace commission treaty with France.

C. R. Crane, Chicago, has accepted a similar place under the treaty with Russia.

Mr. Olney served successively as attorney general and secretary of state during Cleveland's administration. A notable incident of his service is the final settlement of the British controversy over the Venezuelan boundary. Mr. Olney was offered a portfolio in the cabinet of President Wilson, but declined it because of his advanced age.

Mr. Crane was named by President Taft as ambassador to China, but was recalled before he had left San Francisco. The official reason was that he had disclosed his plans.

REBUILD TURRET CHIEF FOR OCEAN
Calumet, Mich., May 8.—The Canadian steamer Turret Chief which was wrecked at Copper Harbor in the big storm of Nov. 9, 1913, and was released last spring by Capt. Alex Cunniff and the wrecker Favorite, has been purchased from the hull underwriters by Adam McKay and associates of Hamilton, Ont., and will be rebuilt for use in the ocean trade. The boat will be made seaworthy in the shortest possible time.

After the Turret Chief was released from the rocks at Copper Harbor, she was taken to Port Arthur and beached. The underwriters paid for the ship as a total loss, about $110,000, and have had her on the market since then.

Mr. McKay has chartered the ship for the first trip after she has been repaired. She will load at a Canadian port for Great Britain and will ply exclusively in the trans-Atlantic trade as long as there is any business.

It will be required two months to put the Turret Chief in shape. Her bottom is practically all gone and the expense of repairing her will run well up into the thousands. The price paid by Mr. McKay was not made public.

The Turret Chief was built in England in 1896. She is 253 feet long and has a beam of 44 feet. Prior to coming to the lakes she was employed on salt water, for which trade she was designed.

"I expect the trans-Atlantic business to be profitable as long as the war lasts," Mr. McKay said in discussing his purchase. "After the war, nobody knows what will happen."

AMONG THE THEATRES

THE BIJOU
There is a splendid five reel program to be given at this house today and one which should attract a great amount of attention among local people. The featured picture is "Their Hour" and should bring many people here. "No. 329" is another drama of special interest.

THE ROYAL
The Royal theater will be reopened on Monday evening of this week with a most unusual program. The featured picture will be the celebrated picturization of "The Life of Abraham Lincoln." The life of the great statesman is faithfully followed out throughout the two parts that are offered.

Another special feature is "The Winthrop Diamonds" while another drama is "Three Hats."

The reopening of the popular little house will be greeted with pleasure by scores of local people who have been patrons for many years.

THE DELFT
This house has most unusual programs for both today and tomorrow. The featured picture for today is "The Treasurer of the Louzats," which will be shown in five complete reels. It is a picture that should thrill the most unemotional mind.

For tomorrow this house has H. B. Warner in his original role "The Ghost Breaker." This is a fantastic picture that should attract.

WOULD YOU LIKE TO LIVE IN DECATUR?
Decatur, Ill., May 8.—Not only base ball free of charge, but two free "jittneys" for those fans who live too far away to walk to the park. Can you beat it? Can't tie it. The decision to make the gate free all this season except on holidays was popularly received, and opening day was a huge success. But someone complained that he had to pay car fare to get from his home, out in the rhubarbs, to the park, so the business men who have subscribed the money which is to pay the expenses of the club decided to throw in a couple of autos that have seen better days, but still run quite satisfactorily. Now the fan who live far, far away, can get a free ride to the ball park if he manages to be ready when one of the jittneys passes his way.

HAS BIG SUPPLY OF OLD METAL
Berlin, May 8.—So great has been the flood of old metals for melting purposes, that the war ministry has had to issue a statement, thanking the donors but declaring the lack of metal is not sufficient to necessitate such sacrifice.

"Of late," says the ministry, there have been accumulating in the raw materials of the war division of the ministry metal objects of all kinds from the household and the factory church bells, for the use of the army. It is impossible to thank each sender for this laudable interest, so the war ministry bespeaks in this way its gratitude.

"The army authorities do not wish to take advantage of this movement, because at the present there is no shortage in old metal. Aside from this fact, the less well to do circles of our population would be apt to compete in a spirit of sacrifice in giving to the Fatherland their metal while in the case of a real shortage, large supplies and objects, such as roofs, could be used."

STATE CONSTABULARY USED AGAINST WORKMEN IS LABOR HEADS' CHARGE.
Washington, May 7.—Charges that the Pennsylvania state constabulary is used to break strikes and to create reigns of terror in times of industrial dispute were made to the United States commission on industrial relations today by James H. Maurer, president of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor and member of the state legislature. After detailing specific instances of cases in which he said the state police acted against union strikers, Mr. Maurer asserted that he would advise the union men of Pennsylvania to learn military tactics and how to shoot in order to protect themselves.

"Next week," Mr. Maurer added, "at the convention of the state federation of labor, I am again going to advocate that union men learn the military arts in order to protect themselves."

TWO SUFFRAGETTES BESIEGE THE PRESIDENT BUT FAIL TO SEE HIM
Washington, May 7.—President Wilson was besieged in the White House today by Mrs. Lawrence and Mrs. Henry Lowenberg, Philadelphia women, who insisted upon seeing the president in order to get his consent to receive a delegation of Pennsylvania suffragists. They refused to accept the word of the president's secretaries that the president would be unable to see them. They replied they would wait until he could see them. After remaining on guard all afternoon the women discovered the president had gone out to the golf links.

Then they went to the state department to learn that Mr. Bryan was engaged with the Chinese ambassador. Later they returned to the White House but found the president could not see them. They said they would return tomorrow.

TERRY M'GOVERN WEARY AND WAN

Terry McGovern—Terrible Terry—decided he would like to see what prowess the present day glove wielders possess, and so he dropped in the other night at a Bowery music hall, where Johnny Kilbane and Benny Leonard hooked up. Terry at one time was the holder of the crown now worn by Kilbane.

One Gotham scribe had the following to say about Terrible Terry's actions:

"In the tawdry little music hall where the fight was held there was a pitiful little tragedy of the prize ring enacted. Terry McGovern, who once held the title which Kilbane, the trim and curly-headed, now wears so proudly, was a ringside spectator.

"Once he was a trim, alert athlete like Kilbane. Last night he slouched wearily into a ringside seat and sat staring in front of him with the pathetic expression that is in the eyes of old days. The frame that was once a bundle of springs and tingling nerve was flabby and the face that was once alight with the fighting spirit was blank and expressionless.

"As he watched one of the preliminaries, there was a spurt of blood from the mouths of one of the fighters. For a moment the old Terrible Terry craned forward licking his lips with a flash of impotent canine ferocity.

"The work of his successor, the featherweight champion, he watched dully for a while. Then there came a look of resentment in his face. That was not the way he fought. That was not the way to do it. He clenched his fists and his arm moved slightly. Then suddenly he leaped back into flabby dullness. He remembered he was an old man, a very old man, almost 38, and broken down.

"And yet the patrons of the prize ring argue that the game—the many art—helps to build up a stalwart race. Terry was the best of his class, the ideal of the ring followers and at 38 he is an old man, a very old man."

FINE ENTERTAINMENT FOR KNIGHTS TEMPLAR

The copper country executive committee in charge of arrangements for the forthcoming grand commandery and state convocation of the Knights Templar announces the official program, as follows:

The steamships are scheduled to reach Houghton Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. At 8 o'clock that evening, the knights and their ladies will be taken by special train from Houghton to Calumet, where a reception will be given in the Coliseum, the knights wearing the full Templar uniform.

Tuesday, June 8, will open with a parade of commanderies from Hancock to Houghton. The grand commandery will be escorted to the Masonic Temple, where it will open its business session and continue in session all day. Directly following the parade, the ladies and the knights who are not in attendance upon the business session will be entertained with sightseeing trips to the Michigan College of Mines and about the Copper Range district. In the evening a band concert will be given.

Wednesday, June 9, will be Calumet day, and that town being the home of the grand commander extensive arrangements are being made to insure a day of pleasurable entertainment. There will be a grand parade of commanderies, reviewed by R. E. Sir Gordon R. Campbell, and staff. The afternoon will be devoted to exhibition drills. In the evening there will be a band concert. Special trains will be run to Houghton, leaving at 9 o'clock. Thursday will be the last day spent in the copper country, and will be devoted to sightseeing.

Those coming to the upper peninsula by steamer will make their homes on the ships, which will lie at the dock at Houghton. An Thursday, June 10, the steamer will run to Hubbell and Lake Linden, and other places of interest spending the most of the day in this manner. The officers, past officers and representative of the grand commandery, who attend the business session on Tuesday will be taken for a ride by autos to points of interest about Houghton and Calumet. They will be accompanied by their ladies. Thursday evening pictures of the underground workings in copper and iron mines will be shown at the Gerredge theater in Hancock, and other entertainment will be provided.

The steamer will leave the dock for the return trip home Thursday at midnight, arriving at Detroit and Benton Harbor Sunday afternoon. Stops will be made at some of the commandery points going and coming and some of the commanderies will doubtless go on shore and give exhibition drills.

Michigan is to be honored in having present Most Eminent Sir Lee S. Smith, of Pittsburg, Pa., acting grand master of the grand encampment, and Leonidas P. Newby, of Indianapolis, grand senior warden of the grand encampment. R. E. Sir George W. Buck, P. G. C., of Duluth, Minn., will be the personal representative of the grand master. R. E. Sir Pitt H. Sperry, inspector general of Wisconsin, and other distinguished visitors will also be present.

The few men of war of China will be promptly disposed of by the Japanese vessels in case of war. With the ocean free, the general staff in Tokio will be able to concentrate her army in seven days at Nagasaki. Seven days later they will be China. While this operation is in progress the troops in Korea and Manchuria will be concentrated at Newchwang. With that point as a base the 80,000 men will start for Peking.

A naval force will seize Taku and proceed up the river to Tien-tsin. Here they will effect a junction with the troops marching from Newchwang. A third column will start from Kiao-chau, also on Peking.

By these moves the Chinese will be bewildered. The seven divisions which make up the flower of China's army must be held together to be effective. Probably they will be kept in the vicinity of Peking.

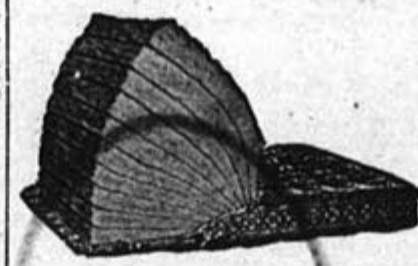

War experts expect another army will be sent up the Yangtze Kiang for the purpose of capturing Nanking and Hankow. Military experts say that Japan will have no difficulty in conquering China.

WILL DEMAND REPEAL OF ARBITRATION ACT

Washington, May 8.—A demand for the repeal of the Newlands railroad arbitration act, and a probable congressional investigation of the arbitration board which handed down its decision in the case between the western railroads and their engineers and fire men, are the two developments of national interest which will probably grow out of the case.

A demand will also be made for the repeal of the Newlands act in its entirety and the substitution of some permanent, expert, federal railroad wage commission which will do in the field of railroad wages what the commerce commission is doing in railroad rates.

Both sides to the controversy are dissatisfied with the present method of arbitrating wage disputes.

LUSITANIA LONG BIGGEST VESSEL SAILING THE SEA

The Lusitania, and her sister ship, the Mauretania, were from 1907, when they were built, until two years ago, the largest steamships afloat. The Lusitania was of 32,000 tons, 790 feet long, 88 feet beam and 60.6 deep and had 70,000 indicated horsepower. She broke all previous transatlantic records on her first trip. The Mauretania was launched a short time after the Lusitania and had the same dimensions and the same speed. The Lusitania was built in Glasgow.

Two years ago the German-American line launched the Imperator, which took the title of the largest vessels from the Cunard line, the Imperator being 919 feet long. In 1914 the Canadian company built the Aquitania, 901 feet long and in the same year the Hamburg-American launched the Vaterland, 950 feet long, there being thus now only three vessels larger than the Lusitania.

ASQUITH PRAISES MEN BEFORE DARDANELLES

London, May 7.—Of the operations in the Dardanelles up to Sunday Premier Asquith gave the house of commons some news this afternoon, although the number of troops landed was withheld. As twenty-nine thousand were landed the day and disembarkation continued for a week, while the French have also joined the British and Australasians on the Gallipoli peninsula, it is apparent that the force is a formidable one.

The premier, while issuing a warning that the casualties were heavy paid a glowing tribute to the troops, through whose exertions considerable progress toward the narrows has been made.

An Athens dispatch says that the Turks have again been defeated. Petrograd dispatches report that further details have been inflicted on the Turks on the Turco-Persian frontier near Dilman, and near Olti, on the Caucasian border.

HERO, AGED TEN 'S BURIED WITH HONOR

Vienna, May 8.—Jan Wisniewski, aged 10, who died a hero, has been buried with full military honors in Machrich-Weiskirchen. He was one of the youngest, if not the youngest of the actual fighters in this war.

Jan's home was in Rychwald, from which he fled with his parents, Polish peasants, when the Russians came in December. The three were making their escape in a wagon when a piece of shrapnel killed his father and mother.

Neighbors took him in, but his childish mind clamored for revenge and he waited until it was night to run away and join the Austro-Hungarian forces. The soldiers let him in the trenches and soon made him their favorite. He was so small that he could wriggle from one trench to another with food, tobacco and the like, without making much of a target.

Last month, when ammunition suddenly ran low during the midst of a vicious attack, and the fire was so hot that it was out of the question to make one's way to the ammunition wagons, Jan begged in vain to make a try for it, and when he was refused made a dash.

He reached the train in safety, loaded himself down with cartridges, and began the return journey. A hundred feet from the trench the soldiers saw him fall, struck by a piece of shrapnel. While the men, regardless of the fire, ran toward him, he worked his way onward toward the trench until he collapsed 10 feet away.

When the battle was over Jan was removed to the field hospital but his wounds were too severe for him to survive. He is mourned by "his" company as no other member has been.

MRS. FRANK BEGS SAVE HUSBANDS LIFE

Atlanta, Ga., May 8.—"I beg the American people to save my husband's life, because he is innocent."

This is Mrs. Leo M. Frank's plea to the people of this country to help her in her fight to save her husband from the gallows, to which he has been sentenced, charged with the murder of 14-year-old Mary Phagan.

"I love and honor my husband today more than ever before," declares Mrs. Frank, "because I am sublimely confident of his innocence."

She asks that the American people back up her plea to the governor with petitions, urging that Frank be given a fairer chance to prove his innocence—urging not a pardon, but a commutation of his sentence to one of life imprisonment.

COUNTRY RIPE FOR REPUBLICAN VICTORY

Madison, Wis., May 8.—Laughingly declaring that he himself is "out of politics," ex-President Taft predicted a national Republican victory in a brief interview.

"I can make no claim to being a political prophet," he said, "but the trend of things is toward a Republican victory."

"Would you consent to be a candidate again?" he was asked. "No," he said, with a laugh. "I am not a politician entirely. I am now a college professor, and am keeping close to that profession. Nobody has been seriously annoying me with any proposal to become a candidate."

"Some people out this way have thought you might be a candidate again, especially since the Republican banquet in Milwaukee at which Mr. Hill spoke."

"Which Mr. Hill?" he asked. "John Wesley Hill of New York," answered the reporter.

"Oh, I hadn't heard about the banquet," said Mr. Taft. "So they had a banquet and Mr. Hill delivered some of his oratory, did he?" And Mr. Taft laughed.

"Do you think it likely that Elihu Root will be the party's candidate?" "I cannot say, of course, but I know that if Mr. Root does become the candidate no other man will be better qualified than he. Mr. Root is a man of splendid abilities. He is a statesman."

"Would you please say something regarding American neutrality?" Mr. Taft was asked. "Yes," he replied. "I believe firmly in President Wilson's policy in the present war, although I do not approve of his policy in Mexico."

"Would you care to particularize with respect to the Mexican situation?" "Not at this time. My views have been published before, and, right now, I would not have the time to go into the subject. But I think our country did wrong in 'butting in' in Mexico, at the time it did; and I feel that it may have the result of requiring us to 'but in' again later. And I imagine that if this European war had not come along when it did, some of the nations now involved in it might have had something to say, too, that might have required us to interfere."

Mr. Taft reached Madison from Chicago Wednesday at 5:30 p. m. A considerable crowd watched him alight from his train, but was surprisingly unresponsive. Gov. Phillip, Speaker Whitteot of the assembly, and other members of the legislature and President Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin, met him at the station. He was taken by auto to the executive mansion.

LAW ENACTED HIT INSURANCE

Michigan's insurance business was widely affected by a number of bills passed by the last Legislature. About one-half of the measures introduced which has more or less direct bearing on the insurance industry were enforced into laws. The list of bills that went through with the name of the senator who introduced them follows:

Ogg—Provides fraternal beneficiary societies must adopt a ritual.

Fitzgibbons—Acquires agents to make fire insurance companies operating in Michigan shall conduct their business.

Fitzgibbons—Permits insuring of railroad conductors and engineers and officials for loss of position from discharge or retirement.

Tripp—Provides for incorporation of mutual mercantile fire insurance companies.

Walter—Changes law to insure motormen of electric lines. Mutual protective law.

Taylor—Provides life companies for Michigan may invest in home office building in proportion to assets.

Walter—Prohibits life insurance companies from securing signers to petition for submission of proposed amendments to the state constitution.

Walter—Revises laws relating to state fire marshal.

Foser—Permits Michigan fire companies to do a marine insurance business and ocean risks.

Morford—Administrative changes in accident fund administration by state insurance commissioner.

Fitzgibbons—Anti-discrimination bill prohibiting discrimination under work men's compensation law.

Barnes—Provides for incorporation of burial benefit companies to incorporate with a capital stock of $25,000.

Robert—Permits mutual companies to do a general liability business.

HOUSE CZARS' STIFLE BILL TO PAY CLAIMS

Lansing, Mich., May 8.—While the ways and means committee of the house was severely criticized in many quarters for its failure to report out Senator Foster's bill appropriating $600,000 for the erection of a new state office building, and for its announced intention to kill the teacher's pension bill unless the clause relative to state aid was stricken out, the "house czar," as the way and means committee was commonly known during the last month of the session now is being attacked from a new angle.

Senator Robert Walter, of Traverse City, says the committee among other things was entirely lacking in patriotism. The committee killed Senator Walter's bill appropriating $50,000 to discharge legitimate debts the state of Michigan contracted with a number of Spanish-American war veterans a few years ago.

The legislature of 1899 passed a bill authorizing the payment of doctors and nurses' bills incurred by Michigan veterans of the Spanish-American war, when these claims had been approved by the local prosecuting attorneys, judges of probate and examining physicians. The veterans were told to put in their claims and that they would be paid by the state, when properly audited and finally approved by the auditor general. Many were paid, but 1,088 veterans have claims on file in the office of the auditor general amounting in all to approximately $50,000 and as a special appropriation was needed to discharge these obligations, Senator Walter, a veteran of the war of 1898, tried to do a bill through the legislature. Governor Ferris said he gladly sign such an appropriation, and the bill went through the senate without a dissenting vote, but it was never reported out by the ways and means committee of the house.

The ways and means committee was informed that in some instances the veterans signing the claims had died and that their widows and children were badly in need of the money but the committee turned a deaf ear.

TALKS ABOUT THE PRESIDENCY

Detroit, May 8.—How Senator William Alden Smith feels, now that a definite "Smith-for-president" movement has been started in Michigan, was revealed by Senator Smith in a discussion with a reporter.

"I have received many honors at the hands of my party and the people of the great state of Michigan," said Senator Smith. "For twenty years I have been their debtor, and so far as it has been in my power I have endeavored to show my appreciation by a faithful discharge of public duties. "I am not so foolish as to believe that I am more worthy than scores of other men of the high honor which the legislature has shown me. I know the limitations of my ability better than anyone, but I permit no one to outdo me in sincere appreciation of the confidence shown."

"Michigan has a perfect right to go to the national convention with a favorite son. This will unify our party and place our state in a position of real influence in the choice of a national standard bearer.

"From many parts of the country I have been complimented by friendly interest in this matter. "It is of the utmost importance that the nominee of the Republican party should be a man of experience in public affairs."

"First of all, he should be a protectionist and a man of business sense. Yet that alone is not enough. I hold that any man chosen as party representative even for that exalted office should be a Republican in the broadest and best sense.

"He must be big enough to comprehend within his vision our entire citizenship; fair enough and courageous enough to deal justly with every public question; to have been thoroughly alive to the importance of protection to American industry and labor; to have been uncompromisingly for sound money."

"He should be neither flighty nor timid, neither self-opinionated nor narrow. His attitude should be manly, courteous, courageous and kindly in the consideration of every problem no matter how vexing. "It was said by Congressman Kelley and others that I was typical of the possibilities of American citizenship. If this is so, it is a tribute to our institutions more than to individual endeavor."

"As I said to the members of the legislature, I am not running for this nomination, and I am not going to run away."

"I have not lifted a finger to bring about the feeling that seems widespread. I have not spent one penny nor written a letter to a living soul about it. What enthusiasm exists is purely voluntary."

"The people of Michigan always have been generous and kind to me. I have been the beneficiary of their favor many times. If I received nothing more at their hands I shall always consider myself deeply indebted to the people of Michigan."

Lansing, May 8.—Despite the fact that the 1913 legislature killed a state-wide prohibition bill, Lieutenant Governor Laren D. Dickinson, the acknowledged "dry" leader in the state says that from a temperance standpoint, the issue was successful.

"One great trouble," said the lieutenant governor, "lay in the fact that the legislature was known to be a 'dry one.' Many people for that reason expected great things. But why should we be criticised? We have not taken a single backward step and the bill permitting township boards to refuse bonds for licenses in 'wet' counties is directly a forward step.

If you look over the statute books of Michigan, there is really nothing left for the temperance forces but statewide prohibition. And as far as people on this question is for an amendment to the constitution and not for a statutory ruling.

"On trouble with the 'dry' forces in this legislature was the utter absence of organization. We were more poorly organized than ever before to my knowledge. In the senate we had 19 votes, but they did not seem to come together except on the Sour bill. In the house, matters were still worse. There was a big working 'dry' majority there without a single leader.

"This legislature will be criticized for smothering bills in committees. I want to say for the senate that I never saw committees work harder in my whole life.

"At the beginning of the session I stated publicly that there would be nothing but remedial legislation. I have not changed my mind, for that is practically all there was.

"We will be called all sorts of names for a while, as every legislature is, but the 1915 legislature will be noted for two facts, first, that it passed no freak legislation, and, second, for the great amount of care which it put into the legislation it did pass."

Eighty-four bills, enrolled and signed by Lieutenant Governor Dickinson and Speaker Smith, were ready to be submitted to the governor Thursday.

Among the first was Senator Hilsendegen's bill for mediation in strikes. The boxing commission bill was not enrolled for the signatures of Dickinson and Smith and its delivery is thus postponed one week.

CALUMET AND HECLA MAKES $125 A SHARE

Boston, May 8.—The Calumet & Hecla Copper Co., which only six months ago passed its dividend—for the first time—has a period of prosperity which is unique in its history, barring possibly the six months at the close of 1906 and the early part of 1907, when lake copper ranged from 23 to 26 cents per pound. Calumet finds a big demand for its copper at 22 1/2 cents per pound. It is now earning, counting its equity in subsidiary profits, more than $125 per share.

From its operations alone Calumet is showing profits of $9,700,000 per annum, or $97 per share. Taking only the important producers among its subsidiaries—Almbeck, Allouez, Isle Royale and Osceola—which combined are earning nearly $9,000,000 a year, Calumet & Hecla has a further earning capacity, based on its ownership in these subsidiaries, of about $5,000,000. Superior and Tamarack under present conditions would add to the total, to say nothing of the White Pine Copper Co., which is just starting production.

From this total of $12,700,000 profits there must be deducted interest on Calumet & Hecla $4,124,000 4 percent notes, although when profits are of the present proportions $160,000 note interest cuts but little figure.

SINKING OF BOAT HITS COPPER MEN

Boston, May 8.—The drive on the market today seems to be beyond reason. The sinking of the Lusitania had only a sentimental effect but it found the bears forced stocks down at will, catching stops and forcing other selling. The close showed a good rally but the drop was too quick for any organized support to be given. It is a great chance for the people who have taken profits to get back their stocks.

THREE MEDALS TO DOOR COUNTY MEN

Sturgeon Bay, May 8.—Of the four hero medals awarded in the state of Wisconsin by the Carnegie commission, three of them are given to residents of Door county and near vicinity.

The three heroes are none other than the men who attempted to save the lives of the crew of the schooner Three Sisters, which foundered off Red River on the night of November 24, 1912.

They are Edward Delfosse of the town of Union, this county and Geo. DeBaker and Rev. W. C. Melchers, a priest of Red River, Brown county.

Each has been presented with a bronze medal in recognition of the heroism shown on that occasion. Two of them are hardy fishermen, who did what was performed as a matter of duty, and with no thought of recognition such as has been shown them. The other is a young priest of Red River.

When the schooner Three Sisters went to her doom, the lives of her entire crew of three men were lost. These were Capt. Phillip Klumb of East Marinette who had moved to the west shore from this city; Andrew Hanson of Marinette, and an

The Three Sisters had loaded at Chaudoir's dock on November 22, and the next day was driven out by a terrific gale that swept over Green Bay. She was run before the storm until abreast of Red River, where Captain Klumb brought the vessel up into the wind and threw out the anchor. The staunch little craft rode out the gale during the afternoon of Saturday and the night following, but when Sunday morning broke with no abatement of the storm, the crew signaled to those on shore for assistance. The huge seas made it impossible to launch a boat, which tried again and again without success.

It was then seen that the Three Sisters was settling in the water, having sprung a leak. Each of the seas broke over the doomed craft, drenching the three men on her deck to the skin and freezing as it fell in a thin spray. Capt. Klumb leaped overboard in an effort to save his life, but died after being hauled out of the water.

Edward Delfosse finally succeeded in launching a boat, and with the assistance of DeBaker and Mr. Melchers reached the Three Sisters. After much coaxing they finally got one of the men into the boat, the other steadfastly refusing to risk his life in the frail craft. Soon after leaving the ship the small boat capsized in the surf. The fishermen succeeded in reaching shore alive and exhausted, but there was not enough strength left in the body of the man they had soon after from the exposure. Andrew Hanson, who remained aboard the vessel also died of exposure.

The effort made to save the lives of the men, was one of the bravest and most daring ever seen on the shores of Green Bay. It looked like almost certain death to attempt to launch a small boat in the surf that was breaking on the beach, and none but a stout heart and expert hand would have done it.

The medal received is small compensation for the risk taken, but it shows that the act of heroism has been noticed, and the medal received will no doubt be proudly worn by the modest heroes.

How the matter was brought to the attention of the Carnegie commission is not known, except that papers were sent to them giving an account of the foundering of the schooner and the attempted rescue by the Belgian fishermen and priest.

ANCHOR LINE STEAMER UNDAUNTED BY ATTACK
New York, May 8.—The British steamer Transylvania of the Anchor Line sailed late today for Liverpool, a few hours after news of the Lusitania's sinking had been received. The Transylvania's cabins were crowded, her agents said. There were 879 passengers aboard. There was little nervousness apparent among the passengers, all of whom had heard of the Lusitania's fate.

O'DONNELL ON DANGER TRIP

As we are carrying contraband cargo, consisting of cotton, copper and nitrate, we are to be in danger of capture at all times after we leave New York, or maybe of being torpedoed.

The trip one way will take about 20 to 30 days, figuring on good weather from Russia. We are to look to England and thence to France and return here—if we do!

We arrived here two weeks ago from the Pacific coast, and had a fine trip till we arrived off of Cape Hatteras, where we encountered a terrific blizzard, where we lost a deck-load of lumber, but made up for it by rescuing 31 passengers off of a steamer which was in distress.

The sights in the Panama canal are of an interesting study, but Escanaba people don't have to go far to see the same kind of locks, for they are identical with those at the "Boo" barring the scenery.

Culebra Cut is a wonderful piece of engineering. It is cut through a solid mountain, and Gatun Lake is just a trench about 4 feet deep which is situated in a low lying swamp. After it was dug the sluices on the Atlantic side were opened and this swamp flooded. It now is between 60 to 80 feet deep, for 1 to 1-2 miles on either side. It puts one in mind of the "Dismal Swamp" in Florida. The cities of Colon and Panama are very Americanized. One can get any American article one calls for. There is quite a number of Spanish here also, and as for Panama City, that is a very large place, having all the Government buildings there. It is a mixture of Spanish and Americans, both in architecture and manners.

While in San Diego, I visited the Fair and found it very interesting, but not as much so as the weather, which was fine. Los Angeles was the same.

The Panama-Pacific Fair at San Francisco was a great undertaking, for a city that was built in eight years. They sure have got pluck and perseverance, those "Friscoans". It sure is a great fair, but what offsets the pleasure of enjoying the fair is the continual rain, fog and mist, one must carry a "rain stick" continually.

Well I think I have overstepped the limit of writing, so hope you will accept to my request in informing my father.

Hoping I may see you some time in September or October, when I return.

I remain respectfully,
CONNIE O'DONNELL,

MEN'S CLUB TO HOLD SERVICES

It is expected that a tremendous audience will be attracted to the First Methodist Episcopal church this evening when members of the Men's Club of that church, will have charge of the service. The service will be the first of its kind ever arranged in this city. Atty. A. H. Ryall, who had been announced to speak on "The Bible As the Foundation of Common Law" has been forced to cancel the engagement because of an affection of the throat. Instead F. L. Baldwin will deliver the principal address of the evening, taking for his subject "The Quest of Diogenes."

- The complete program for the service follows:
1. Male Chorus—Keep the Step.
 2. Congregational Singing.
 3. Congregational Singing.
 4. Prayer—Mr. Judson.
 5. Male Chorus—Duet.
 6. Scripture Reading—Psalm 19.
 7. Offertory—(Instrumental Music)—Orchestra.
 8. Congregational Singing.
 9. Address—F. L. Baldwin—"The Quest of Diogenes"
 10. Congregational Singing.
 11. Male Chorus.

BILLY SUNDAY IS GIVEN A SCORING

Philadelphia, May 8.—On the grounds that he is "coarse," vulgar, blasphemous, irreverent, abusive, disgusting and slanderous; that his teachings are travesties on the teachings of Christ, Dr. Andrew F. West, dean of the graduate school of Princeton University has declined to invite Billy Sunday to address the students.

In a letter to the Philadelphia newspapers, Dean West expressed the attitude of the entire faculty of Princeton regarding the suggestion that Sunday be invited to the University.

VISITING PASTOR TO OCCUPY PULPIT

Rev. B. E. Prugh, of Harrisburg, Pa., will occupy the pulpit at the First Presbyterian church, at both the morning and evening services today. "The Second Coming of Christ," will be the subject of the morning sermon while in the evening the subject of the address by the visiting pastor will be "Reason's for Being a Christian." Rev. Prugh is a most eloquent and convincing speaker and it is hoped that a large audience will greet him at each service.

QUEENSTOWN IS DEATH CITY

spent. On the deck men and women clung to the last hope that they would be taken off. The wireless sputtered help calls incessantly. On the bridge stood Captain Turner directing the fight.

With a final lunge forward, the Lusitania sank. As she took the final plunge most of those on the deck leaped. Many wore lifebelts; others jumped as they were. Some struck the sides and others jumped clear. Here most of the lives were lost because of the swirling maelstrom closed in, sucking with it hundreds into death. From the shore spectators saw arise a curtain of deathly vapor and smoke, hanging low, covering the scene. When the veil lifted—all was gone. From what survivors say, nearly everyone within 100 yards of the ship when it sank was caught in the underdrag.

Queenstown, Ireland, May 8.—Queenstown is a city of the dead. Long lines of sheeted corpses cover the floor of all of the principal buildings. The Cunard wharf is packed with bodies washed ashore and found floating on the sea.

The griefful spectacle is poignant. The majority of bodies at Market Hall are women and little children, many are tight-locked in each others arms after the sea massacre. Of the 184 Americans on board, the American consul can only account for 62 survivors. Only a few of the first cabin passengers were saved. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, Elbert Hubbard, Justus Miles Forman, Charles Klein are still missing. The body of Charles Frohman lay uncovered for hours before it was identified. The entire city is in mourning and bells are tolling for Lusitania's dead. The funerals of many must be held Monday. Fifty soldiers are requisitioned to dig the graves.

Washington, May 8.—After a conference with the President, secretary Tumulty said: "Of course the President feels the distress and gravity of the situation to the utmost and is considering very earnestly, but calmly, the right course of action to pursue. He knows that the people of the country wish and expect him to act with deliberation as well as with firmness."

tide of popular indignation against the sinking of the Lusitania by a German submarine, with the consequent enormous loss of life of American citizens has caused the administration officials to indicate more positive views for comprehensive action than was revealed earlier today. The apparent effort of the officials is to produce an impression, although not in the form of a statement, that they early decided what action was expected from the administration. Secretary Bryan, to stem the tide, issued a warning against "rocking the boat." Two concrete forms of the action that the government took was cabling Gerard at Berlin to get from the German foreign office "its report of the sinking of the Lusitania," and second, instructions to the United States representatives in England "to get all information possible." It is stated at the White House that no warning went to American citizens to not embark on the Lusitania. The only thing the administration has done was some time ago to issue a statement that it would not be best for Americans to visit the belligerent countries on pleasure tours.

Check the record merchandise exports, now running at a rate of $3,500,000,000 yearly, lower the mounting of railroad earnings one dollar. Reduce by one grain the 700,000,000 bushel wheat crop, just forecast by the Governmental statistics. Reduce the fine cotton crop promised or curtail employment in United States one hour. The stock market in opening today resumed a decline with "war stocks" then a powerful capitalistic interest for the first time since the war, came forward with buying orders, and the general list recovered. Final quotations showed irregularity, rather than a pronounced weakness.

GIRL-SLAYER IS CALLED UNTRUE

Muskegon.—Although the body of 13-year-old Evelina Mary Steele, the victim, it is claimed, of her step-mother's jealousy, is lying in a grave in a Pentwater cemetery, while the child's father is mourning her loss among his relatives there, and in spite of the step-mother's repeated confessions that she poisoned the girl, the state's case against Mr. Albert Steele, self-confessed slayer, is known to be weakening.

In about three weeks Mrs. Steele will face a charge of first degree murder in circuit court.

Outside of the confessions made by Mrs. Steele before she entered a plea of not guilty in circuit court, there is but little evidence against the woman. The examination of the child's stomach by physicians has failed, it is said, to show the presence of poison in quantity sufficient to cause death.

Mrs. Steele's attorneys will make a determined fight to have her earlier confessions barred from the trial, on the ground that they were secured under duress.
