Well Germany, we're waiting.

To a man like Holston it must appear little less than a crime that congress is not in session.

Just when we begin to feel comfortable with'em off along comes a frost that kills the cabbage plants.

Were we called upon to present an example worth emulation we could think of nothing better than the pesky dandelion; it smiles, it is cheerful it doesn't-but you know the rest.

John D. is to fork over a little item of $4,000,000 as the federal tax on his income. Mere trifles like that don't bother us now and neither would it if we had the income to pay it.

Roosevelt's effort to "rock the boat" in this tense period has had the usual result for the fool who does the rocking. His jingoistic effort has but spelled for one once great, a political doom that time will not eradicate.

A Milwaukee woman 100 years old has become a movie fan. Next year she'll probably start flirting with the boys and chewing gum.

The principal thing about "strict accountability" is that it's nothing unless you can back it up. And old Uncle Sam is sure some backer.

LET US TRUST ONE ANOTHER.

It is pleasing, though not surprising to read that at a meeting of the German-American alliance of Rochester, N. Y., "the sentiment" according to the president of the organization, but thoughtful Americans will not "was in favor of unqualified support of President Wilson in whatever action he may take."

That American citizens of German birth or blood should sympathize with the struggling Fatherland is not only natural, but laudable. But that there should be any doubt of any citizen's preserving his allegiance to this country is incredible. To entertain for a moment any other idea would be cruel and unjust insult to millions of men whose brain and brawn have helped to make America strong in ideals and in achievement.

All of us want peace. To all of us the idea of war is shocking, not because fear sways us, but because of the horror of war fills our souls. We do not believe that war with Germany or any other country is likely.

All of us feel full and perfect confidence that President Wilson, no matter what complications may arise, will, for America's sake and for humanity's sake, do as much as any man can in reason do to avert war. But if what now seems to be impossible we should be drawn into war with any other country, it is our firm and abiding opinion that the men of America, regardless of birth or blood, will stand together as one to defend their land and their nationhood.

Let us trust one another. Let us draw closer together.

MERITED REBUKE.

It is significant that both The Chicago Tribune and The Chicago Post voiced uncompromising rebuke of Mr. Roosevelt. For The Tribune was the principal newspaper advocate of Mr. Roosevelt and his cause in 1912, and The Post stood with him and the third party movement.

But it is not on political grounds that these papers condemn Mr. Roosevelt, but for neglect of the duty he owes his country in his violence in criticizing the administration and advocating a course that could only mean war. The Tribune speaks of the "inconsiderate and inflammatory utterances of Mr. Roosevelt," and says: "We think that when the government of the United States is endeavoring to decide to the best of its ability a question which holds the dignity and the happiness and usefulness of hundreds of thousands of this generation of Americans, and which concerns the future of the United States, Mr. Roosevelt might for once... abate his opinions and control his utterances."

Here is no mild indictment of a former president of the United States, but thoughtful Americans will not hold it too strong. For Mr. Roosevelt is using the very prestige of prominence conferred upon him by his countrymen to injure the cause of the country. To quote The Tribune again, "We have not needed the war dance or the runner with tidings. We have needed composure and restraint."

There might have been a time for such a word. Were there a danger that the honor of America or the lives of Americans were to be held cheap, no patriot could withhold his voice. But no man in his senses fears such a thing. Without a shred of official responsibility, knowing well the weight that rests on the administration and its needed of the confidence and support of every American, he has been in hot haste for the flinging of spurs and the long roll of the drums. Knowing that the responsibility was not his he has proclaimed what we would do in a crisis far more serious than any he was ever called to face.

The voice of Mr. Roosevelt is disappointing even for the least considerate of ex-presidents. He need not be astonished that he finds himself condemned by papers which gave him earnest support in politics when he adopts a course that runs counter to the duty of every patriotic American.

WAR

London, May 15.—The belligerents on both the east and west battlefronts are engaged in most momentous battles. The French, who already have gained possession of what were thought to be impregnable German positions to the north of Arras, are reported to be continuing their victorious advance while the British are asserted to be holding a large force of Germans in their front and repulsing all German attempts to reach Ypres, which has proved the graveyard of so many thousands of men since the opposing lines were established there last autumn.

The Germans claim to have made a slight advance, but with the battle ebbing and flowing, this is not considered serious in military circles here. Along toward the coast the Belgian army has repulsed an attempt of the Germans to regain the bridgehead, which the forces of King Albert established on the right bank of the Yser canal, while down in the Woëvre another French army is pushing its offensive and claims to have gained possession of the whole of the forest of Le Pretrie, which would be a step nearer in the allies' aim to force the Germans to evacuate St. Mihiel.

The Austro-Germans after their lightning-like rush through western Galicia have now reached a line running due north and south to the west of Przemyel, while the other armies, emerging from the Carpathians, are pressing the Russian flank. Even up in Poland it is asserted that the victory of the Teutonic allies in the south has had the effect of forcing the Russians to fall back.

Petrograd, however, continues to take the situation calmly, and although admitting that the Russian army has been forced back by overwhelming numbers and has lost heavily in the retreat, says the Russians are now concentrating on a new line and preparing for another big battle. Until this battle is decided the British military critics are withholding their comment. It is pointed out by some of them, however, that more than once the Russians have been driven back, but that they always recovered and made the victors regret their penetration into Russian territory.

Down in southeastern Galicia, and in Bukowina, according to Russian accounts, the Austrian army, which has not the assistance of the Germans, is in full retreat and is being harried by Russian cavalry. The Russians claim to have obtained the advantage over the German raiders in the Balto-province of Courland and to have taken a thousand prisoners near Shavil.

Tarnow, Galicia, May 15.—A giant howitzer of a new type played an important part in assisting the Austrians to smash the powerfully fortified Russian position at Tarnow. The howitzer is of the same caliber of the 42 centimeter guns and its work certainly is not less terribly effective. When the Austrians occupied the Russian positions they found men dead without wounds rather far from the places where the projectiles of the howitzer exploded. The air pressure from their projectiles swept the Russian wire entanglements away and the shells in exploding threw fragments of casing a mile away. The effect of this shell fire on the nerves of the Russians is described as having been very great.

London, May 15.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Rome says it is officially announced that that part of the triple alliance treaty concerning Austria was abrogated May 4.

Reuter's Rome correspondent quotes the Giornale d'Italia as stating that the triple alliance treaty was denounced by the Salandra cabinet, which concluded a treaty with the triple entente allies.

Rome, May 15.—Premier Salandra has convoked a council of ministers, who are now meeting to make a decision relative to the present crisis.

Madrid, Spain, May 15.—The Spanish government is so much concerned over the scarcity of coal that the cabinet is willing to guarantee the payment of orders placed in the United States by opening a credit in New York to the amount of at least one million pesetas ($200,000). This deposit will be maintained as long as necessary. Something like a coal famine exists throughout Spain and large orders are being placed in the United States by Spanish companies.

A royal decree promulgated today suspends the import duties on coal and the transport taxes which were discriminatory against America. The British government has prohibited, beginning yesterday, the export of coal and coke. Spain cannot get them from Germany, hence she must turn toward the United States for coal.

Paris, May 15.—Coal is scarce in France. This country in normal times annually uses sixty million tons of coal. The French production is normally forty million tons, but this year it will be less than twenty-five million tons. The French requirements are considerably less than this amount, but nevertheless imports from the United States are necessary.

Notice is Hereby Given That sealed proposals will be received by the undersigned Commissioner of Highways of the township of Escanaba at the town hall in said township, until the twenty-sixth day of May, A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock a. m. for furnishing all the necessary materials, and performing the following work, to-wit: to macadam one mile of road, 9 feet wide, according to plans and specifications thereof now in my office, and which will be open to inspection until the time above mentioned; on which said day, and at the place aforesaid, I will contract therefor with the lowest bidder giving good and sufficient security for the performance of said work.

The right to reject any or all proposals is hereby reserved. Dated this twelfth day of May, A. D. 1915.

JOVITE ROBERT, Commissioner of Highways of the Township of Escanaba, County of Delta, State of Michigan. Gladstone, R. F. D. No. 1, Mich. 1921-134-61.

BRITAIN WILL SEGREGATE ALL MALE ENEMIES

London, May 14.—Premier Asquith told the House of Commons today that the government proposes to segregate all adult male enemies for their own safety and that of the country. All male enemies over military age will be repatriated. Women and children in suitable cases will be repatriated, though some might remain.

Two important anti-German demonstrations will be held in London today. One will be a meeting at the Mansion house with the lord mayor in the chair. The other meeting will be held at Tower hill, the historic site of many previous gatherings when popular movements were afoot.

It is estimated that there are 60,000 persons of German or Austrian birth outside the interment camps in England, of whom 20,000 are in London. The majority are engaged in humble occupations, small shop keepers, barbers, waiters and working men.

There has also been a demand that the German emperor, the German crown prince, the emperor of Austria and Prince Henry of Prussia be in some way deprived of their honors as Knights of the Garter and particularly that the banners of the German emperor and the crown prince which hang in the Knights' stalls in St. George's chapel at Windsor be removed.

Horatio Bottomley, a former member of Parliament who has a considerable night in a speech that unless the banners are removed within a week he will personally lead a body of men to tear them down. He challenges the government to take steps against him.

TWO CARS WRECKED SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Manistique, Mich., May 14.—Two automobile accidents, which resulted in one man being badly injured and two cars wrecked beyond repair, occurred in this city on Sunday afternoon. Fred Carroll, in his Ford collided with a car being driven by Charles Gallagher at the corner of Deer Street and Houghton avenue, and William Thelmany, of Nahma, lost control of his Ford car on Walnut street near the courthouse and struck a telephone pole with enough force to completely wreck the car and badly injure one of the occupants.

The accident between Carroll and Gallagher occurred when Carroll, westbound on Deer Street, turned to go south on Houghton avenue directly in front of the car being driven by the Gallagher, which was also west bound on Deer Street. Carroll says he did not hear the other car approaching from the rear. William Thelmany, it is believed, lost control of his car when going west on Walnut street, with the result that he crashed into one of the power company's transmission line poles. The force of the car and jarred the heavy transformer at the top of the pole loose, causing it to fall on to the car. Andy Cooper, one of the occupants of the car, was badly bruised about the face and hands. Both the Carroll and Thelmany cars are total wrecks.

S. S. TRANSYLVANIA LIABLE TO ATTACK.

Rotterdam, May 14.—"The steamship Transylvania, which Saturday left New York belongs to the category of ships which carry contraband and, therefore, is liable to attack by German submarines," says the semi-official Berlin news agency.

"In the paper Army and Navy Feb. 6, appeared the statement that when the Transylvania left New York Jan. 23 for Liverpool her cargo included two 40-centimeter cannon, delivered by the Bethlehem Steel Co., carried on the fore deck. Each piece is sixteen meters long and weighs seventy-five tons. Other large fittings for warships were also on deck, while in the holds were stored away many cases containing parts of cannon and other armament. These things were consigned to Harland & Wolff."

SUCKED INTO BIG FUNNEL; SHOT TO SAFETY BY STEAM

Cork, May 12.—The most extraordinary escape recorded among the survivors of the Lusitania was that of Mrs. H. L. Gwyer, the bride of three weeks of Rev. H. L. Gwyer, a Canadian.

With her husband, Mrs. Gwyer was in one of the last boats to leave the side of the Lusitania. They were so near that the wave of the sinking ship almost swamped the boat, and Mrs. Gwyer, falling overboard, was swept by the suction directly into one of the huge funnels of the Lusitania as it swept into the water.

She was given up for lost, but in a moment, it is supposed, the sea water coming in contact with the furnace fires created such a volume of steam that Mrs. Gwyer was shot out of the funnel to the surface again picked up and brought ashore, little the worse for her marvelous escape.

SHRINERS TO ATTEND MEETING ON JUNE 11

Escanaba Shriners are making plans to go to Marquette on June 11 to attend the annual mid-summer session of Ahmed Temple Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. Of arrangements being made for the coming meeting the Mining Journal of Marquette says: "Ahmed Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, will convene in Marquette June 11 for the semi-annual meeting and ceremonial session. The officers of the temple believe there will be two to three hundred visitors. The state meeting of the Knights Templar in the copper country will close June 10 and as many Templars are also Shriners a considerable delegation is expected to arrive here for the meeting. Several Shriners from the lower peninsula will be guests of honor. Many of the Shriners will be accompanied by their ladies, particularly those who will come to Marquette from the conclave in the copper country. The visitors will be entertained by the Arab patrol and the temple entertainment committee. These bodies will take charge of the visitors as they arrive and will conduct them about the city and perhaps to Presque Isle. The class for the summer meeting is not as large as some have been, the greatest interest usually being taken in the annual meeting. However there will be a good attendance. The following committees are in charge: Reception—E. S. Bice, E. O. Stafford, S. A. Williams, W. D. Roany, P. G. Teeple and C. A. Shelton. Entertainment—E. L. Pearce, Fred J. ### AMONG THE THEATRES

THE GRAND

For today "The LaFollette" company will again hold the boards at this house. The act has given excellent satisfaction here and should draw hundreds to the Grand at the shows of the afternoon and evening today. Five reels of pictures will be shown. On Tuesday this house presents "The Escape," a thriller from start to finish. "The Escape" is no ordinary picture by any means. It is shown in seven reels and in his advertisement Manager Sullivan says: "Don't get married until you see this picture." This is a return engagement by request.

THE BIJOU

"The Recoil" is the name of the featured picture at this house today, while the picture called "The City of Terrible Nights" will come a close second as far as featurism goes. Both of these pictures, however, are ones that should attract the admiration of many.

THE DELFT

Manager Jacobs has something for his picture house today that departs considerably from the general run of moving pictures. In this feature today the picture called "More Than Queen" is shown in vari-colors, making for a most beautiful portrayal. This picture alone should draw many to this house but in addition Charles Chaplin will be presented in "In the Park". For tomorrow Manager Jacobs takes great pleasure in offering Marguerite Clark in "The Crucible" in five parts. Hall Caine's picture "The Christian" is shown in eight parts, is billed for a near future date at this house.

THE PETERSON

"The Chocolate Soldier" will come to the Peterson on Thursday, May 20, when the master work of Oscar Straus will be interpreted by The Whitney Opera Company, the same organization as gave the opera for a whole season at the Casino, in New York, 200 performances in Chicago, two years in London, and which has created an equal sensation in many other cities. Not since Gilbert and Sullivan's days has a comic opera achieved the success of "The Chocolate Soldier," and the answer is not far to seek. Mr. Whitney's casting of the opera was considered almost perfect, but for the sake of its better all-around presentation he has this year made a number of changes in the cast, so that he considers the Whitney Opera Company today the finest organiza-

THOROUGH HUNT URGED FOR MISSING BODIES.

London, May 12.—American Ambassador Page received a message from Wesley Frost, American consul at Queenstown, urging him to make clear to the Cunard Co. and the British admiralty that "really effective measures to recover the 1,100 missing bodies from the Lusitania are imperative." Mr. Page said the embassy was doing everything possible to expedite recovery of bodies and had assurances from the admiralty and the company that they were doing the same. The embassy has taken steps to have the bodies of Americans embalmed and upon identification it will see that they are returned to America.

public denunciation by naturalized Germans, expressing "horror and indignation of the German outrages. Letters from individual Germans are appearing in the newspapers, but the prominent among the German residents have not as yet made any move. The cabinet was in special conference today to review the alien situation as altered by recent happenings, and the country is eagerly expecting drastic action.

Anti-German outbreaks of particular severity occurred today in the neighborhood of the East India docks. Sixty or seventy German shops were wrecked. Germans in the vicinity are uniting for self defense and police reinforcements are being rushed to the scene.

There have been riots in Liverpool, Manchester, Salford and Birkenhead. In Liverpool the Germans have been interned, and those who are naturalized subjects of Great Britain have been advised to go to interior towns or seek internment. Many of them have decided upon the latter course. A demand is made by newspapers that the 25,000 Germans still at large should be similarly treated.

BRITISH RIOTERS ATTACK GERMANS

London, May 15.—Anti-German riots in the East end of London were renewed this morning with even greater violence than yesterday. Wherever a German showed himself he was attacked. The police force has been so thinned by drafts sent to the army that it had difficulty in dealing with the angry crowds. Special constables had to be called out.

Lord Charles Beresford and William Joynson-Hicks presented separate petitions in the house of commons today asking that the house decree the internment of all male alien enemies of military age and the removal of other alien enemies to places thirty miles or more from the coast. The petitions bore about 500,000 signatures.

In consequence of the riot and of the commands for the segregation of all alien enemies, the government has under contemplation more comprehensive measures for the internment of such persons. Details of this plan will be divulged tomorrow.

Premier Asquith stated in commons that the cabinet was alive to the fact that "the progressive violation of the rules of civilized warfare and humanity by the enemy, culminating in the sinking of the Lusitania," and the feelings thus aroused had made the necessary to look beyond merely military considerations. The government therefore was carefully considering the practicability of the internment of alien enemies on a more comprehensive scale.

A number of German establishments were raided and sacked, and their contents scattered over the streets. The Germans themselves were forced to go into hiding. The police in some cases were defied and some officers were injured during their endeavors to protect the Germans. The furniture and fittings of German houses and stores were thrown into the streets. When the proprietors were caught they were severely mauled. In some cases their clothes were torn off. One German was thrown into a horse trough with the reminder that his compatriots had been drowning women and children. He was only saved by the intervention of the police.

There were several instances of German butchers trying to escape to their carts. They went racing down the streets in a mad gallop, but in most cases were run down and their vehicles smashed.

A number of Russian Jewesses were flocking this morning to the police stations in the east end and pleading for protection, explaining that they were being mistaken for German.

Reports are reaching the police that private houses belonging to wealthy Germans in the fashionable West end are liable to be burned. Troops are in readiness to assist the police if necessary.

Large placards in the windows of almost all business houses and markets bear the words: "No business: Transacted with Germans."

The protest of the German citizens of Bradford against the course of the German government in the torpedoing of the Lusitania is the first united

N. Y. GERMAN ORGAN SENDS PEACE APPEAL

The New York Volkszeitung, organ of German Socialists in America, issued the following peace appeal: "The expected results of the sinking of the Lusitania and the non-combatant loss of life have come. The incitation to war has at last set in in America. . . . The workers can have no interest in a war. They stand to lose their all—lives, homes, jobs, families, happiness. Therefore it must be the duty of the American working man to fight the campaign of frenzy and hate. "It is not a question of excusing the German act. That cannot be excused. But we cannot bring dead American passengers to life by sending unknown thousands of soldiers to early graves. After all, there are other methods of punishing Germany for wanton slaughter. "Down with war! Peace at all cost!" must be the slogan of the American workingman.

MRS. CARMAN REMATES HER STORY TO JURY

Mineola, N. Y., May 10.—Mrs. Florence Conklin Carman testified in her own defense today at her trial on the charge of murder in connection with the shooting of Mrs. Louise D. Bailey in the office of her husband, Dr. Edwin Carman, in Seaport, June 30, last. Her testimony was almost identical with that related by her in her first trial last fall which resulted in a disagreement. On direct examination Mrs. Carman denied everything to which Celia Coleman, her former negro maid, had testified. She denied that she had ever used a revolver or other firearm, but admitted that there was a pistol in her room at the time of the shooting.

HEART-BROKEN OLGA GETS $1,600

Appleton, Wis., May 15.—Olga Capelle, 23, Sheboygan Falls, is pretty. Otto Fenner, Sheboygan Falls, 31, had a three-wheel outfit, a team of horses, an automobile, and winning ways. They went riding in the automobile, became engaged and Olga says Otto promised to marry her in June, 1913, but when that time arrived, asked that the wedding be postponed until after harvest. That fall he complained that business was poor and postponed the wedding until May 7, 1914, and again postponed it until August, but in August refused to marry her, went to church with another girl, who turned her nose up when Olga entered the church. That was the testimony of Olga and her mother in a breach of promise suit. Otto did not appear and the jury awarded Olga $1,600. She said she had spent $150 and several months' work on her trousseau. Her mother testified Olga had faded away until her friends hardly knew her.

NEAR HOME, SPEND NIGHT IN WOODS

Ishpeming, May 15.—It didn't make a bit of difference last night to Miss Gertrude Hawes of this city and Mrs. J. J. Strawbridge, of Seattle, Wash., that they were only four miles from Ishpeming instead of 400. The path of Ishpeming law in an unknown direction and as a result they spent the night in the chill, damp woods, with speekee sounds, a scurrying chipmunk and an occasional stir from some out-at-night bird as companions. This morning a party of anxious relatives and friends found them only a couple of miles from Ishpeming in the care of a small boy who early this morning heard their calls for help and led them along a trail to the road.

The two ladies left yesterday afternoon for a tramp for the swinging bridge at Forty Acre falls. The falls were falling as usual and after bestowing large quantities of admiration, the young ladies found themselves, minus a sense of direction. They tramped for several hours, apparently in circles. They had no matches to light a fire; vague knowledge of bears and wolves in the Upper Peninsula woods sent naughty, cruel little shivers all over them, they were lost and miserable. Even the bosom of Mother Earth was cold and frosty—no comfort or safety there. So they avoided wandering further. Arm swinging and lusty shouts aided in keeping wakefulness and courage on the job. Then came morning, the small boy and the way home.

Whooping Cough.

"When my daughter had whooping cough she coughed so hard at one time that she had hemorrhage of the lungs. I was terribly alarmed about her condition. Seeing Chamberlain's Cough Remedy so highly recommended, I got her a bottle and it relieved the cough at once. Before she had finished two bottles of this remedy she was entirely well," writes Mrs. S. F. Grimes, Crooksville, Ohio. Obtainable everywhere.

ASK GRADUATING CLASS TO AID WAR VICTIMS

Boston, May 15.—The thousands of classes graduating from American schools and colleges this spring are to be given a chance to concentrate their help for starving children in both America and Europe in a "Class of 1915" fund.

The movement recently undertaken by Dr. Charles W. Salton, president emeritus of Harvard University and a number of other eminent educators, to interest American school children in some helpful angles of the war, and which has been working under the title of "The Children of America's Fund," has taken up specifically the graduating classes of 1915, and issued an appeal to class presidents, reads as follows:

"Presidents of 1915."

"Dear Sirs:—

"Over a six million little children are homeless and starving in this country and Europe.

"Twenty million American boys and girls in colleges and schools are forming into a great relief army under the leadership of the 'Classes of 1915' to help them. They love to live just as you do, but unless America gives them food they will die! Five cents worth of food will give a starving child one day's life. The cost of your class memorial class banquet or class dance will keep many children alive. Will your class join this nation wide movement and give at least part of your class fund this year to save their lives?

"Your class is looked up to by all lower grades, they will gladly follow your lead and help you make the 1915 Class Fund the largest in the history of your school. In this time of terrible need a gift of this kind will be a lasting memorial to the generosity of your class and the finest tribute you could pay to the influence of your school and teachers."

CONFERENCE IS FAVORED

Washington, May 15.—The proposal to call a conference of neutral nations is being carefully canvassed in official circles, and with considerable favor. In the first place, it denotes immediate action, a constructive step that would meet with immediate popular favor and response in this country. It is pointed out, moreover, that if such a conference did not result in any definite, specific result at this time, it might still accomplish several things.

For instance, should have for the first time a presumably united group of neutrals voicing their feeling as to the conduct of a war during that war instead of singly after the mischief has been done. We should have the opportunity of focusing the neutral public sentiment of the world to express its united grievance not only against Germany, but English as well for their offenses against international law, and particularly the law affecting neutrals.

More than that, there would thus be brought into being an international organization which would be ready to take a hand when it came time to make peace, either with a view to having, something to say as to the terms of peace or as to the question of international disarmament.

SUPPORT WILSON, TAFT URGES U. S.

Philadelphia, May 15.—Deliberation and calmness and above all other things support of President Wilson, were urged by ex-President Taft, in giving his views of what American action should be in the crisis that has arisen because of events in Europe.

Mr. Taft forces that the time may come when the patience and pride of the American people may be strained to the breaking point, and then, he declared, the result will be war.

"But, remember," he said, "it will be the people's war. They will suffer; they will die and in all things they will have to pay."

It is not war with Germany that he sees as the only possibility for the United States breaking into the great conflict. He reminded his listeners that both England and her foe have violated what this country has understood to be "international law."

He had no time for the pronounced jingoists.

"Haste will avail nothing," he said "if the United States has been outraged the wrong does not need to be avenged immediately.

"There will be time enough when by sound deliberation the president through the people of the whole country has made up his mind what should be done."

Mr. Taft pictured all corners of American's interests and made peace seem so fine and war so dreadful that his "peace with honor" viewpoint was dire enough to cast a pall over his audience.

"We are at a critical stage in our foreign relations, growing out of the great European war," he asserted. "The belligerents on both sides have announced policies with respect to the principles and rights of neutrals that are contrary to heretofore accepted principles of international law."

"Germany has not only announced, but enforced, contrary to the laws of war, a policy in her naval warfare by submarines and torpedoes against the unarmed commercial ships of her enemy, not only to the defenseless subjects of her enemy, but the peaceable citizens of the United States traveling on board such ships and entitled to warning and rescue before such ships are sunk."

"Is war the only method of making a nation accountable? Let us look into our own history. England connived at the fitting out of armed vessel to prey off our commerce, attack our navy and to kill our sailors. We protested and what did we do then? We held her strictly accountable in the Geneva conference. Was not your honor as much preserved by this method as it would have been if we had declared war?"

"We must bear in mind that if we have war it is the people, the men and women, father and mothers, brothers and sisters who must pay with lives and money the cost of it, and therefore they should not be hurried into the needed sacrifices until it is clear that they wish it, and know what they are doing when they wish it."

"For this reason every president with a respect for his oath and the rule of the people will in moments of popular excitement and just indignation pointing to war, act as a brake—will caution against haste—will hunt for some escape from the horrors of war."

"The task of the president is a heavy one. He is our president. He is acting for the whole country. He is anxious to find a way out of the present difficulty without war."

"Before party, before ourselves, we are for country. That is what he is working for. Shall we not stand by him? He will not surrender our country's rights."

"It may be necessary that for a hundred lives and the method of their taking we should lose thousands and hundreds of thousands of lives. The national honor and interests may ultimately demand it, but time for serious thought and clearly weighing the consequences will not prejudice the justice of our cause or the opportunity to vindicate it and this is the president may be counting on to secure."

"It is the people's cause, not his alone, and he does well when quick action is of no critical importance, to ally excitement and to wait the regular and studied action of the people's representatives."

At the conclusion of his address Mr. Taft proposed a toast to "The President of the United States." This was drunk standing and amid enthusiasm.

SAYS ROOSEVELT IS DOING HARM

Chicago, May 14.—"Col. Roosevelt is doing the American nation harm." This bald statement is made in an editorial published today in The Chicago Tribune, which in the presidential campaign of 1912, was Mr. Roosevelt's chief newspaper organ.

Mr. Roosevelt, according to The Tribune, "constantly indulges himself in the rare enjoyment of unmodified opinion. We have allowed him to damn with unctious and condemn without mercy, because it was valuable to have someone so highly vitalized on that particular work. But we have not needed the torchbearer in this crisis which has confronted us. We have needed the sane counsels of the elder tribesmen, the men who knew life through experience and who have seen cause and consequences. We have not needed the war dance or the runner with tidings. We have needed composure and restraint."

Other passages from the editorial are as follows:

"When the colonel as an unmitigated and uncompromising force gives his opinions freedom and lets them loose to run the world he is doing the American nation harm."

"And we think that when the government of the United States is endeavoring to decide to the best of its ability a question which holds the dignity of the nation and the happiness and usefulness of hundreds of thousands of this generation of Americans, and which concerns the future of the United States, Mr. Roosevelt might for once qualify his righteousness, abate his opinions, and control his utterances."

"It might be urged with a superficial show of reason that the damage done by such inconsiderate and inflammatory utterances of Mr. Roosevelt, which find a reaction not only here, but also, where they are more damaging, abroad, gain weight by newspaper publication, and that we who censure are guilty principally with regard to the effect that we deplore. The superficiality of that course of reasoning is revealed by the thought that restraint is easily possible to Col. Roosevelt, but that newspapers have not the collectivism which would permit an instantaneous good judgment to take effect instantly and universally. Furthermore, it is not a newspaper's province to censor, mitigate, or abate the manifestations of life. Its duty is one of record."

"President Wilson's judgment must be our judgment. It is so in fact and it must be so in the theory. It is not the part of rational men to cloud it or raise up dissension against it."

Compares Taft and T. R. The Chicago Post, which also supported Col. Roosevelt in 1912, today publishes the following editorial, under the caption, Mr. Roosevelt is Wrong:

"There are excuses for Mr. Roosevelt's public speech upon the burning issues raised by the killing of Americans on the Lusitania. They lie in the fact that our system of government provides no place where men who have served the nation as president or secretary of state can bring the discom of their experience to the service of the country in a crisis."

"Nevertheless, it is our opinion, as it must be the opinion of most others of Mr. Roosevelt's friends, that he is not acting rightly in the issuance of the continuous public interviews which must be a serious embarrassment to the present president of the United States."

"No matter how right he may be in his feelings, he has no moral right to give vent to them."

"Mr. Roosevelt, in this case, should take his lesson from the generous and admirable course of Mr. Taft."

ANNOUNCE $500,000 GIFT TO C.&H. EMPLOYES

Calumet, Mich., May 14.—No announcement in recent years affecting copper country industrial conditions brought more surprise and genuine pleasure than that posted this morning by Calumet & Hecla, and its subsidiary companies, to the effect that leases suffered by the employees of these companies, through the reduction in wages made necessary by the depression during the early months of the European war, will be restored to them on June 12. Half a million dollars will be distributed among the 10,000 employees of these companies in addition to their regular pay.

FRENCH BANK SUES RICH CROOK

Boston, May 14.—After being dependent for a lifetime on his earnings as a professional burglar, and receiving last year, at the age of 72, an estate valued at $800,000 Clark Parker, until recently of Winthrop, Mass., now finds himself defendant in four suits for a total of half of his fortune. The latest of these suits is filed here by LaBanque de France, and is for $250,000. The bank alleges that Parker took from it on July 2, 1888, $47,672.90, that it has expended many thousands looking for Parker, and that the interest on its losses brings the damages to a quarter of a million. The alleged bank robbery took place at Lyons, France, when Parker "by means of a fraudulent trick or device," secured the money and absconded with it.

Parker received his fortune under the will of his brother, Benjamin Parker, a molasses broker. Clark Parker was as wild as his brother was steady-going. He visited all parts of the world, and the rogues galleries everywhere record his visits. He served time in many prisons, and led a care-free life until a few years ago he settled down at Pasadena, Calif. Later he came to Boston, where a bitter contest was waged against the will of his brother by Prof. Frederick P. Gay of the University of California, a nephew of the Parkers. Clark Parker won the fortune, and immediately suits began to be filed against him. One is brought by the private secretary of the wealthy brother, who claimed ownership of $50,000 in bonds that were in the molasses broker's possession. The executors of the will also filed suit and Clark Parker's own lawyer is seeking $20,000 for his services.

HINES STEAMER BURNS IN SLIP

Sturgeon Bay, Wis., May 13.—The steamer Robert Holland burned last night while lying in the Pankratz slip. Engineer Ruben Allen, who slept forward, was awakened by the reflection of the flames on the window. An alarm was turned in and fire department responded. The boat was owned by Capt. Hamilton of the Hines fleet, and carried lumber. All of the aft end is damaged. The probabilities are the boat will have to be completely rebuilt. It has been laying here waiting to go to the local shipyard.

MOTHER AND CHILD MURDERED BY ROBBER

Chicago, May 7.—Mrs. John Copersmith and her two-year-old son were murdered in their apartment on the South side today by a robber who crushed the skulls of his victims with a hammer and then cut their throats with a butcher knife. The murderer remained long enough to wash his hands and to ransack the apartment for valuables. He took $65 in currency. What the police consider their best and most tangible clue to the murder was the bloody impression of a hand on a table in the kitchen. Two men were arrested tonight.

HIGHEST WAGES NOW PAID

The surprise of the present announcement is increased by the fact that it follows so soon after the mining companies announced the restoration of normal wages, which became effective the first of this month. As present the employees of the C. & H. and subsidiary mines are receiving the highest rates of wages that have ever been paid by these companies and there are more men employed in the district than at any previous time in its history.

ADDED TO THIS COMBINATION

the disbursement on June 12, incident to the company's shouldering the burden of the losses in wages for time worked during the period of depression, will fill the cup of prosperity to overflowing.

RECOGNITION OF THE LOYALTY

and faithfulness of employees is deeply appreciated and the announcement made today caused the greatest rejoicing among the workers in all departments of the various mines.

NOTICE

Because of the prosperity now existing in the copper industry, the board of directors of this company has decided that the wages forfeited by the employees and officers, because of the reduction made September 1, 1914, and continuing to May 1, 1915, shall be paid to them.

1915 TAX TO BE RECORD BREAKER

Lansing, Mich., May 15.—The state tax this year will be the largest in the history of state, $9,598,000.10 or all increase over last year of $3,469,339.99 or 56 per cent increase over 1914.

These figures are given out by Auditor General Fuller and are approximately correct, the exact sum will not differ from the above figures more than a few thousand dollars at the most. More startling still is the fact that Wayne county will be required this year to pay more in state taxes than the entire state tax of 1898. Wayne county's increase in state taxes this year over 1914 will be more than $900,000.

Last year the state tax was $6,129,288.11 and according to Auditor General Fuller the 1915 state tax will be higher by $1,009,000 than ever before in the history of the state. Nineteen hundred thirteen held the previous high record, the state tax for that year being $5,899,520.78.

However, here is a consoling statement. Auditor Fuller says the 1915 state tax will be far less, approximately $7,202,000 if nothing happens out of the ordinary in the meantime to raise the amount.

Of the $9,598,000.10 state taxes this year, Wayne county will contribute approximately $2,400,000. Taking into consideration the fact that the city tax for Detroit is unusually high this year and the loss of personal tax on automobiles, the metropolis of the state will be hit harder than any other city in the state.

Auditor General Fuller announces that there will be 83 items to make up the state tax this year as compared to 57 last year.

PICKUPS FROM THE SAND LOTS

St. Anne's took an exciting game from the Boy Scouts yesterday at the Marsh diamond by a score of 10 to 9. The fray was a hair breath affair and it was until the later rounds when the St. Anne's gang picked her out of the fire. Gay pitched steady ball for St. Anne's and was backed up by good support. Gay and Deslets composed the battery for the victors, while Roy and Youngquist served for the Scouts.

Co. B and the All Stars will meet today to decide the supremacy of the city's amateur championship. The Brigadiers are expecting a hard sell but have the same old gang that has held the muslin for the past three seasons. The fray will be fought out at the Brewery diamond and a big crowd of rooters will be on hand.

Co. C second team took a little jaunt to North Escanaba and humbled the Northtown sand lot tappers yesterday by a count of 15 to 8. The Brigadiers handled the pill in classy fashion always holding their larger opponents at bay. Swanson served the twisters for Co. C and hurled a good game.

KREISLER BRINGS BACK OLD GEMS

One of the marked services rendered the music world by Fritz Kreisler, who comes to the Delft theater on Wednesday night, has been his resurrection of music gems that had long been buried in collections and libraries of Italy, Austria and Germany. Kreisler realized in his early life, that if he succeeded in marking out a distinctive and new path for himself, it would mean a deep study of the literature of music. He devoted himself unsparsingly to the work, and he has unearthed an abundance of the compositions of both old and modern composers, his own recital programs have become models which all violinists have been striving to follow.

"When Fritz Kreisler first came to this country as a 'boy wonder' it seemed as though he would join the multitude of 'fiddlers' who were never so happy as when whistling harmonies in Paganini studies," said an eminent critic. "With the coming of maturity, however, came a growth, until today, while he retains all the technical facilities that marked him as unusual in youth he is the first interpreter of the classics in the world. It is the universal opinion of the critics that such works as the Beethoven Concerto can be played by no living violin artists as it is played by Kreisler. The tonal splendor, poetic beauty and simple charm that his playing combines are said to stir, thrill and overwhelm his auditors. No one has ever arisen in any generation that could compare with Kreisler in winning the enthusiastic attention and interest of every possible degree or shade of musical taste or attainment."

JAM'S SPORT COLUMN

George Dauss is the only Detroit pitcher that has a clean slate with six hides on his belt. Jennings' "Iron Duke" has a rival in Guy Morton, the dark horse of the American league, who has stored away five.

Alexander will have to look for more fields to conquer. Grover C., who hails from Pat Moran's Quakers has only lost one fray since the '15 campaign has been in session. Alex the great, succeeded in putting 12 away on the breeze route yesterday.

Company C. won a baseball game from Northtown. The score was 15 to 7. Peterson made a home run. Bouditt and Peterson pitched and Boudette caught.

"CY" YOUNG GOES TO WESTERN LEAGUE

"Cy" Young, former short stop for Marquette, in the old Marquette-Delta County League and sold by Cadillac last fall to the Kansas City team of the American Association, has again changed berths. He has been sold by Kansas City to the Sioux City team of the Western League.

THE ROYAL

This house has an especially attractive program for today. Miss Gertrude McCoy is appearing in the leading role in the feature called "A Tragedy of the Rails." This picture is adapted from the story "33 Runs Wild" which recently ran in the "Short Story" magazine. The comedy for this house today is "Postponed." A Biograph drama is "The Bandit and the Baby" and the program is wound up with one of George Ade's celebrated pictures "The Fable of the Galumpton Girl."

This program is one of real merit and should receive the earnest consideration of the public when preparing to attend a movie show.

INFORMATION IS COLLECTED NATION FIRM IN SUPPORT OF WILSON

and that I may be able to give you a helping hand whenever needed, I remain,

Yours truly,
PEDER PEDERSON.
May 15, 1915.
Mr. Peder Pederson,
County Supervisor,
Stonington, Mich.

Dear Sir:—
I beg to acknowledge your letter of May 12th, and I want to thank you for the kindly spirit of help and cooperation manifested in the same. I appreciate very much your interest in the work we are endeavoring to do, which is shown by the desire both old and modern composers, his own recital programs have become models which all violinists have been striving to follow.

There were so many of the supervisors laggard in sending in the reports of their townships that it was necessary to send out the second letter, as the most of them had no good reason, like yourself, for delaying the matter, and they did not seem to thoroughly realize that this work is being done to help and benefit their own townships and county.

I am very glad you have taken an interest in this matter, for as you know, a business of any kind, and especially the business of educating people in other states to the agricultural, commercial and manufacturing value of the fifteen counties of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, which is Cleveland, takes money to pay the bills, the same as any other legitimate business.

For the last two years the Board of Supervisors of Delta County have taken an unwarranted position in refusing to appropriate their proportion, which they can do under the state law, for the purpose of publishing the facts in reference to Delta County through an organization of this character.

When this Bureau was organized in Menominee and for three years Delta County paid their subscription, and it does not seem right at this time to have Marquette, Dickinson, Schoolcraft and Menominee counties, which surround Delta county, paying their subscription a penny agreed to, and have Delta hold back on account of the narrow viewpoint of some of the supervisors.

When the Bureau was organized there was an unwritten obligation that each county would donate, under the state law which gives them the power, so much money for the support of this institution.

Delta County is getting all the advertising the other counties are receiving and is also getting quite a large proportion of the people we have been able to attract to Cloverland.

I hope the new Board of Supervisors will see the wisdom of being fair and generous and do what the other counties are doing, for every settler located in any township on 80 acres of farming land is worth $600.00 per year revenue to that township, and the appropriation from Delta County would not exceed five cents, and even a smaller amount, for each person in that county each year.

Mr. Frank Burleson, the former supervisor of your township, told me last year that they got five new families, and I see by your report that you got three, and if these parties go to work on agricultural land, each family is worth $600.00 per year revenue to your township, and every body gets their proportion of this money. Twenty-three percent of it goes to all classes of people in a commercial line.

Some people believe that the land man is the only person who receives a benefit from work of this kind, but he only receives one profit, and that is when he sells the land, and after that he does not receive any benefit excepting the increase that occurs in the value of the land by the adjacent settlers clearing up their land and making farms of the same.

I know your experience leads you to believe these facts, and I hope you will use your influence in seeing if the supervisors of Delta County will not do what the other counties are doing to help the Bureau build up the value of the land and bring in new settlers which will decrease the taxes each has to pay by dividing the total amount among a greater number of people.

Yours truly,
C. W. MOTT.

KEEP OFF SIDEWALKS AND HAVE LIGHTS

A new ruling of the police department went into effect last night, in that all bicycles or motorcycles operating within the city limits, must be equipped with lights.

The officers intend to enforce the new ruling to the letter so if one is a bicycle or motorcycle owner it would be well to walk down town at night if it hasn't a light attached. That is, if the owner doesn't want to find himself in jail.

Another strict ruling of the department is the riding on the sidewalks. It will not be countenanced longer and the first person caught in the act will be arrested as a lesson to others.

Cleveland, O., May 15.—Delegates to the world court congress read President Wilson's note to Germany with grave concern today. All agreed that whatever contingency arises the government will receive firm support of the nation.

"The American public will stand back of the government in any emergency which arises," said John Hays Hammond, chairman of the congress. "In the present situation the solid support of America is at the command of President Wilson and leaders in social and economic life undoubtedly will be glad to lend him the support of their patriotic and helpful counsel."

"I have no doubt, in the absence of congress, the President is enlisting the counsel of men experienced in international affairs and representing all parties and all sentiments."

Henry Lane Wilson, former ambassador to Mexico, said: "The note to Germany is an excellent worded state document. Americans generally desire peace, but not at a sacrifice of honor and dignity, and honor and the note seems to express this attitude."

"If the situation develops to that point where it is impossible to avoid conflict, the American people will stand solidly behind the government."

"In such an event, ancestry, religion and politics will have, in my opinion, absolutely no influence in the attitude of our citizenry, hyphenated or otherwise."

Dr. John Wesley Hill of New York said: "It is to be hoped that this crisis will be passed without a serious break in the long standing friendship existing between Germany and the United States."

"Self-respect and national honor however, arise above all other considerations, and as President Wilson asserts and defends them, he is assured of the sympathy and support of the American people."

The world court congress today entered on the third and last day of its session. Dr. Albert Shaw, Dr. Harry A. Garfield, Prof. Jeremiah W. Jenks and Prof. Samuel T. Dutton were speakers at the day sessions.

Tonight John Mitchell, Dr. John Wesley Hill, Gen. Ballington Booth and Dr. Charles F. Thwing will be the speakers.

Springfield, Ill., May 14.—Governor Dunne, commenting on the American note to Germany today, said: "The President and his advisers at Washington have acted with the utmost caution and deliberation."

"They have only formulated the position of this republic as to the protection of the lives and rights of its citizens after sufficient time has elapsed to let reason and law supplant the shock that resulted from the loss of many non-combatant American lives."

"The American nation through its President has spoken and the patriotic citizenship of the republic stands by ally behind him and will sustain him to the end."

Frankfort, Ky., May 15.—"President Wilson, I believe, is prompted by patriotism, justice and firmness in his declaration he has made public," Gov. James B. McCreary of Kentucky said today.

"The President's statement seems to me to be positive, firm, comprehensive and up to the demands of the occasion."

St. Louis, Mo., May 15.—The local branch of the American Neutrality league, composed largely of Germans, adopted a resolution expressing their confidence in President Wilson's ability to handle the international situation growing out of the sinking of the Lusitania and the reaffirming their allegiance to the flag of the United States. A copy of the resolution was telegraphed to President Wilson.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 15.—"The note is clear, firm and dignified," said Gov. Ralston. "It is as vigorous as it is convincing. Without bluster, but with high courage befitting the occasion, it points out the wrong and demands acknowledgement and reparation."

"President Wilson meets the expectation of the people and will have their co-operation," said Representative Cline of Indiana, a member of the house foreign affairs committee. "The United States, always observing recognized principles of international law, cannot condone such flagrant and wanton violation that imperils the lives of our citizens."

Fort Dodge, Ia., May 14.—Senator Kenyon today said he believed President Wilson's demands would be complied with. "The President's note is a clear presentation of our country's position," said the senator. "Germany, being a just nation, must recognize its force. The President will never lead us to war if it can be honorably avoided."

Washington, D. C., May 15.—Congressman Gardner of Massachusetts said:

"I call the President's note resolute and vigorous. I do not see how he could have made it stronger without deliberately offering provocation to Germany. At the same time I clearly recognize the fact that an irrevocable step of awful solemnity has been taken. As an American, I take pride in that step and in the manner in which it has been taken."
