

WOULD-BE SLAYER BRINGS OWN END

Frank Holt; who Attempted to Take the Life of Morgan, Found in Pool of Blood in his Cell with Top of Head partly Blown off

(Special to The Press.)
New York, July 6.—Frank Holt, the half-crazed Professor of languages, who made a daring attempt on Saturday to kill J. Pierpont Morgan, and, who, the night previous, set an infernal machine in the Senate reception room at Washington, was tonight found dead in a pool of blood in his cell in the Mineola jail. The exact manner by which the man met his death is shrouded in mystery owing to the refusal of officials to give out information, but it is believed he blew his head off by chewing on a percussion cap which he had concealed in his clothing. County physician Cleg-horn, after examining Holt's body said this. Afterwards the physician and District Attorney Smith asserted that Holt had fractured his skull by diving head foremost from the trellis work on the cell to the cement floor. That he had contemplated suicide was indicated by the following note, presumably to his wife, although no name was found on it:

"My Dear One:— I must write to you once more. The more I think of it, the more I see the uselessness of living under the circumstances. Bring up our dear babies in the fear of God and man. Good by, sweet,— "FRANK."

P. S.—All please pardon me for the heartaches I've caused. Pray with me that the terrible slaughter will stop. My heart breaks. Good bye. With his mind tortured by illusions and with his vitality at such a low ebb that his removal to the Nassau County hospital was considered by the authorities as the only means of saving him from death, Holt lay on his cot all today, the mere wreck of a human being. Earlier in the day he had attempted suicide by severing an artery in his wrist with a lead pencil he had borrowed to write the above note. The guard went into the cell at about 10 o'clock and found the prisoner almost in a state of collapse. He had been unable to sleep for four nights and all food had been rejected. At half past ten o'clock Guard O'Ryan found it necessary to go to the other end of the tier and for five minutes was busy at some other duty. As O'Ryan turned to go back to Holt he heard, what he says, was either an explosion or the fall of a pile of boards. Half the lights in the place were out at the time and the tier was partly in darkness. The noise came from Holt's cell and O'Ryan ran to the door. Only one light was burning inside and that in the corner. In a pool of light thrown by a single electric bulb into the corner of the cell lay the body of Holt, doubled up, and from the top of his head, which was shattered, ran a rivulet of blood.

BULLETIN

Washington, July 6.—Police commissioner Woods of New York has just telephoned to Major R. W. Pullman, chief of police of Washington, that Holt was shot from outside the Mineola jail and that detectives have also discovered a trunk full of dynamite just outside the jail.

COMPANYS BILL IS HELD

Because of the tactics of the North Michigan Water Company, in raising individual water rates throughout the city and the statement from Mayor B. J. Mackillecan that a least 150 complaints have been filed with him against the company, the council last night referred the company's hydrant bill to the water committee and the city attorney. The committee with the city attorney will interview the local officials, reciting the complaints that have been made and will report to the aldermen at their next meeting the result of their effort to secure an amicable adjustment of the differences between the company and the water consumers.

PROGRAM IS GIVEN HERE

LOCAL PEOPLE WITNESS SANE CELEBRATION AT PARK AND ON LUDINGTON STREET

Escanaba celebrated the Fourth of July on Monday in a safe and sane manner. During the morning hours the program which embodied an address and the reading of the Declaration of Independence, was carried out at Ludington park. Atty. N. C. ## ENGLISH GAIN NEW VICTORY

(Special to The Press.)
London, July 6.—A striking victory for the British, reinforced by the French artillery, southwest of Ploen on the east bank of Ypres Canal, and signs of a renewed German drive on Calais with the object of invading England and on Verdun, with the purpose of striking a blow at the heart of France, is reported from the western front tonight. They were kept strictly on the defensive at Ypres on account of the scarcity of shells, the British were lent the support of a large quantity of French artillery, and according to official reports, have gained successes of some proportions.

EMBALMERS SCHOOL IS OPENED HERE

A total of about twenty people have enrolled in the school of Embalming and Sanitary Science, started here by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Allo, both of whom are registered embalmers. The instructions will be given at the local school as prescribed by the Eckles College at Philadelphia.

Most of the students who are to take the course under the direction of the local undertakers, have arrived here and the work has already been started.

When the term is concluded the State Board of Undertakers Examiners will come to this city to give the examinations instead of it being necessary for the pupils to go to Lansing, as in the past.

ATTENTION MOOSE

On Thursday evening, regular meeting night, there will be a chicken banquet at the Moose headquarters. All members are requested to be present.

DYING WOMAN RIGHTS WRONG

HERE 23 YEARS AGO

In a belated effort to right a terrible wrong committed by her 23 years ago and by which a blot was placed on the name of an innocent man to the end of his days, Mrs. Alberta Brown, dying in a hospital at Phoenix, Ariz., has written to the officials of Delta county. The late Ezra Valentine, Sr., a pioneer resident of this city, was the man whom the dying woman admits she wrongfully accused of a serious offense and who passed away here several years ago with the unfounded charge still against his name. Repentant and grief-stricken at her terrible offense the woman on her death bed in the Deaconess hospital, at Phoenix Arizona, has written a confession which, if made a few years ago, would have gladdened the closing days of an old man's life.

In her letter Mrs. Brown admits that she came to this city under an assumed name, after parting from her husband. About to become a mother she laid the offense at the door of Mr. Valentine, who then was a prominent resident of the city and who the woman now admits should have been in no way involved in the charge as he absolutely was without guilt. In her letter she admits that she blackmailed an innocent man for a sum of money and then left the city.

Her letter, written in a painful scrawl, was received by County Clerk A. J. Peplin, several days ago and copies have been provided for the members of the wronged man's family.

At the time the charge was made against Mr. Valentine, he protested his entire innocence of the charge but realized the futility of his denial against an apparently wronged woman in court, and agreed to make a settlement of the charge.

The lodging of the unfounded charge resulted in the disruption of Mr. Valentine's family life and a few years he passed away with the unfounded charge still against his name.

The letter received by County Clerk Peplin, addressed to the supervisors of Delta county, follows:

Phoenix, Arizona, July 1, 1915.
Mrs. Alberta Brown,
To Supervisors, Escanaba, Mich.
Dear Sir:

Nearly twenty-three years ago a woman calling herself Elenor Van-Aucher, lived for a time in your town with her mother and two little boys. She made a false statement regarding a Mr. Valentine, said he was the father of her unborn child. I received some money from him. It is I who is writing to you. I was leaving my husband when this awful thing occurred. I did not know the right man's name. I took my great grandmothers name, Van Aucher, so my husband would not find me. I have suffered great sorrow for my sin. Will you please make this public and clear the name of Mr. V. I have met with great trouble. I am poor but will do anything I can do to make reparation. My address is: Deaconess Hospital, Phoenix, Arizona.

MRS. ALBERTA BROWN.

RESUME PAVILION PARTIES NEXT WEEK

Because of the rush of dancing parties arranged in the city and the surrounding district before and following the Fourth of July holiday, members of the Escanaba Military band will not give their usual ball at the South Park pavilion this week. After this week, however, the band will give a ball at the pavilion on Thursday evening of each week.

CHICAGOAN COMES HERE

Atty. James C. Baker, of Chicago, has arrived in the city to take over the law offices of the late Frank D. Mead and Myrick D. Mead.

Mr. Baker is a graduate of Northwestern University and of the Law Department of that university. He has been engaged in the practice of law in Chicago for four years and during a portion of the time was associated with the judges of the Appellate Court in assisting them in the collection of authorities and the preparation of opinions. He comes to Escanaba with the highest recommendations of the Judges of the Chicago courts and of Judges of the Supreme Court of Illinois.

Mr. Baker spent a few days recently in Escanaba, met many of the business men here and was greatly pleased with the city. He was much impressed with the large enterprises here and expressed great confidence in the city's future growth and the expansion of the already large industries of Escanaba and its industrial suburbs.

Mr. Baker's family will join him here later.

SESSION WAS LENGTHY ONE

Members of the Escanaba city council passed upon a great volume of business that had accumulated at the office of the city clerk, at a session at the city hall last night that was not concluded until nearly 11 o'clock.

Among the matters that were given attention were the following:

It referred to the street committee a petition for the opening of a road along the west limits of the city.

Gave permission to Snyder Brothers to move their saloon to the Salinsky building at 1004 Ludington street.

Accepted the report of the council finance committee rejecting the claim of Ex-Atty. William Buchholz for damages for injuries sustained by falling on a defective walk.

Received for first reading an ordinance amending the city's milk inspection ordinance, making it an offense to adulterate milk sold in the city.

Granted to Mrs. Anna LePiere permission to build a half circular sidewalk at the corner of her property on Michigan.

Received the reports of the chief of police and justices, showing that nine arrests were made during the month and a total of $40 was collected in fines.

Received the report of expenditures of the following boards: Park board, $203.81; Library board, $283.81; street commissioner, $749.90, and board of public works, $893.55, but the bills of the latter board were referred to the council auditing committee for investigation.

RIDGE UMPIRE IS INJURED

Joe Richards, of Brampton, who umpired the Maple Ridge and Co. A. game at the former town, July 5, was hit by a batted ball that broke his nose in two places. Doctor Ryan of Escanaba attended him, who took him to Escanaba on the freight train for further treatment.

This happened in the fourth inning when a batted ball hit pitcher Blaney on the shoe which glanced off to Mr. Richards face.

Mrs. James Roberts is the guest of her son, Alexander Roberts at Moose Lake, Minn.

ESCANABA TAKES TWO

LOCAL INDEPENDENT TEAM "SHOWS" EAST MARINETTE TEAM IN FINAL GAMES OF THE SERIES.

After losing the first game of the series to the East Marinette aggregation at South Park on Saturday, the local independent base ball team "broke back" in the Sunday and Monday games and walloped Marinette by the score of 7 and 2 and 6 and 3.

Every game played here in the three game "series" was of a variety and allure that should imbue much enthusiasm into local fans. It was a standard of ball that would be called fast in the best of communities and it was of a calibre to please the most fastidious fan.

An old time fan who saw the three games yesterday declared the series to be one of the best balanced sort he had had the pleasure of witnessing in this class of baseball.

"Frank" Olmsted, the veteran pitcher was in the box until the fourth in the game of Monday when a lame shoulder compelled him to withdraw in favor of Garland. Off of both Olmsted and Garland the Marinette team was able to glean but five blows. Both men threw hangup ball for the entire distance.

Lief, in the game of Sunday, pitching for the locals, allowed Marinette but a measly four hits and at every stage of the game had them guessing which way his "curlers" were going. Though Lief pitched good ball here, his shoulder is still a bit sore. "Dutch" Flath batted 1000 in Monday's game. Out of four times up he got four blows and one run.

On next Saturday and Sunday the locals will buck up against the fast Menominee team. With the flying start which the locals have received from Marinette they will go out after the scalp of Menominee when they come here this week.

The box scores for the two games, Sunday and Monday, are:

HOUSE WAS GUTTED

A fire, started, it is believed, from a defective wire in the building, badly damaged the interior of the home of J. R. Harris, at 529 South Georgia street, on Monday afternoon. Members of the family were at Bark River attending a family picnic and the fire was not discovered until it had gained considerable headway. When the members of the fire department arrived the entire building was filled with smoke and so intense was the confined heat that the paint in every part of the house was blistered and charred. The main blaze was confined to the kitchen, where an immense hole in a wall, about an electric wire, led to the belief that the fire started from an uncovered wire in the partition. The family left the home shortly after 2 o'clock and it was after 3:30 o'clock when Wesley Malloch passed the building and saw smoke pouring from the rear. He as once turned in the alarm that brought the firemen to the scene. It is believed that the blaze was started soon after the family left the house and slowly smoldered, woodwork and walls, in every room. Decorators and painters had completed two months work at the house only on Saturday night. The loss caused by the fire is covered by insurance.

A chimney fire on Monday morning killed the firemen to the Drager home, at Jacob and Campbell streets, but no damage resulted. A small brush fire at the cedar yard of Erickson and Bissell, late on Sunday afternoon gave the firemen their third call of the day. The blaze in the yard was confined to a brush pile and no damage resulted.

YOUNG WOMAN ARRIVES TO ACCEPT POSITION HERE

Miss Werner has had wide experience in her work and comes to the local concern highly recommended.

Now that the old Eagle has scorned himself hoarse again a lot of us can settle down to work with Labor Day as the next non-laboring day to look forward to.

It's about this time, when school has been over for about two weeks, that fathers and mothers begin to wonder just how the teachers got along with those children at all.

The judge sitting in the newest Thaw case does not believe the case should be tried in the newspapers. Believe us, sir, learned judge, you never will know how those same newspapers have been tried by that Thaw case.

That man Holt who flew up a part of the capitol and tried to kill J. P. Morgan, says he was actuated by a earnest desire to end the war. Now ended then and depends today on common fellowship and common respect for the rights of all.

Now a movement is growing rapidly to make the welcoming of new citizens a part of our celebration of the nation's birth. This year in a hundred cities, there were exercises planned to stimulate the interest of the new citizen in the work of citizenship, to make him feel that to be an American means something more than to change the place of his residence. The civics we teach in our schools is useful, but it is a dead, dry thing beside the impulses that gave this nation birth, that built up its dear-bought faith in liberty for all. Something of the throbs that comes to American hearts when we read of Valley Forge and Nathan Hale and Gettysburg this movement aims to bring to these new Americans. And more than that, something of the conviction that we shall win our own happiness only thru respect for the happiness of each other—that a nation is not a group of men who find it convenient to live together, but a union of men who hold a common faith and serve a common end.

It is not enough that men should come from the ends of the earth to live among us. We need to teach them and they need to remind us that not by chance is this a country where men may live in happiness, that it will not long remain such a country unless they realize that our interests are common, unless they cherish the idea that before everything else on earth comes to America—unless, in a word, when they assume the privilege of citizenship they become Americans.

WAR

London, July 6.—Much activity was apparent today in all the three elements—land, naval and air—where the warring powers come into actual contact, but reports as to results generally were contradictory.

Berlin uses a "reliable source" for the denial that a German battleship of the pre-dreadnaught type was sunk by a Russian submarine at the mouth of Danzig bay, but the official reports from Petrograd on the occurrence are accepted as correct by London, where resumption of the naval operations in the Baltic has been watched with intense interest.

Reading between the lines of the various official reports, it is not difficult to deduce that the Russians are making a desperate stand between the rivers Prouth and Dniester. Grand Duke Nicholas reports that the fighting in southern Poland is of the most desperate character, while Vienna admits that the Russians are attacking in strong force. Austro-German sources, however, declare this effort to be a forlorn hope.

General von Linsingen's Teutonic army, after a fortnight of terrific struggles, is reported by both Vienna and Berlin to have reached the Zolta Lupa river in eastern Galicia.

Berlin claims important successes also on the western front, where, in the forest of Le Pretre, the German forces are reported to have compelled the obstinately resisting French to evacuate trench after trench over a 1,500 yard front, until a thousand prisoners, including a battalion staff and a number of guns, fell into the hands of the attacking troops.

The Paris version of this claim is that after an extremely heavy bombardment the Germans succeeded, along a front of one kilometer, in regaining a foothold in the old lines which had been taken by the French. Both sides report sanguinary, but fruitless attacks at other points along the western line. There is no change along the Italian frontier.

Udine, Italy, via Paris, July 6.—Details have now been received of the taking by the Italians of Zellenkofel peak, west of Monte Croce pass, on June 26.

This mountain is over seven thousand feet high and is usually ascended from the Austrian side as the Italian slope has been considered impassable. The Austrians had a fixed observation point with forty men well entrenched just below the top of the mountain whence they signalled with the heliograph to their artillery below. The Italians, finding it impossible to take the front line which is extremely steep, and being exposed the whole way to the enemy's fire, decided to try the route which has been considered impossible. Thirty volunteers with ropes and headed by two lieutenants, climbed the almost perpendicular face of the mountain. Notwithstanding the difficulties of the ascent they carried a machine gun in pieces, which was strapped to their shoulders. Slowly they reached the top overlooking the Austrian trenches. They waited until night and then opened fire with the machine gun, after which they charged with bayonets before the Austrians had time to recover from their surprise. Only one Austrian, the officer in command, escaped.

DOCTORS DISCOVER ADRENAL GLAND

Chicago, July 6.—How are your adrenal glands?

If they are in good working order and you know, anybody who ought to be licked, go to him. You can't lose—less, perchance, his adrenals are in better condition than yours, in which case he might be just pining for a mixed flock of rattlesnakes and wildcats to vent his ferocity upon.

The adrenal, a ductless gland, was shown up in its true light by Dr. De Witt G. Wilson, Boston, before the American Institute of Homeopathy in convention.

It is of a class of glands which when properly secreting makes men fight and endure pain in wild and prodigious measure. Observations in the war zone furnished the proof, according to Dr. Wilcox. So much was told that the insides histories of the war may contain such passages as this:

"The adrenals of our troops were working excellently that morning, whereas the ductless gland secretions of the Muscovites were slower than grape juice. It was all we could do to restrain our boys from eating the prisoners alive."

Tests now possible in Europe, he said, may even make it possible to discover the capacity of a recruit for the business of killing before he is sent into it.

WAR HUSBAND LATEST IN GERMANY

Berlin, July 6.—The war has given a sudden and unprecedented impetus to the "marriage brokerage" game, and advertisements for husbands—war invalids in many cases. Many women exhibit an irrefragable desire to get married right away and appear to be quite unconcerned about the kind of a husband they get.

Individual women who want to get married at any cost are not the only ones however, who have taken admittance of the unusual situation. The more or less shady matrimonial agencies are making hay while the sun shines, and apparently stop at nothing in order to turn a questionable penny.

Thus many have, in some manner selected the names and addresses of women whose husband have been killed at the front, and intrude upon their grief with offers of second husbands. The men for the most part are mere adventurers, but in a few cases are invalided soldiers, either anxious for a home or beguiled into letting their names to be used.

WAR CAUSES A JUMP IN PRICE

"War prices" prevail this year on firecrackers and fire works. Dealers say buyers can expect to pay a little more on some items when they make their Fourth of July purchases than they did a year ago.

They may not notice the advance so much, however, for the reason that the packages are put up in the same shape but contain less pieces. This will apply to bunches of fire crackers. A Roman candle may shoot up 10 balls this year instead of 12 balls.

Gunpowder and chemicals that enter into the manufacture of fireworks are scarcer this year than ever due to the world's war and that fact accounts for the increase in the price of fireworks.

The wholesale price of fireworks has jumped for several years, but the dealers have been reluctant to boost their prices to patrons. However, with the yearly increase compounding itself the dealers were forced this year to raise their price.

HAS A NEW TREATMENT FOR TUBERCULOSIS.

Chicago, July 6.—Forty physicians at the Chicago Hospital College of Medicine saw a demonstration of a new treatment for tuberculosis. Dr. Maximilian Spatz, discoverer of the formula, stated that the treatment was still in its experimental stages, but that the results obtained in 200 cases lead him to great hopes. The formula is a combination of volatile oils injected into the system, and of the cases so far treated every one is reported by Dr. Spatz as having improved.

When a sufficient number of cases on which to base a conclusion have been treated—about 1,000—the formula and the method of administration are to be made public. They have already been given to a number of physicians.

BRITISH SHIP WITHSTANDS ATTACK

Queenstown, Eng., July 6.—With nine dead sailors stretched on her deck, eight men lying wounded below and her sides riddled with shot and shell, the British steamship Anglo-Californian steamed into Queenstown harbor this morning, after having withstood the attack of a German submarine for four hours.

The ship's escape from destruction was accomplished with no other means of defense than the indomitable spirit of captain and crew, combined with masterly seamanship, which enabled her to frustrate the efforts of her assailant to destroy her.

Captain Parslow stood on the bridge of the Anglo-Californian, amidst a rain of shot, and calmly directed the movements of his ship until he was killed by a shell. His place was taken by his son then until British destroyers appeared and the submarine was compelled to flee.

The Anglo-Californian left Montreal on June 24. The submarine was sighted at 8 o'clock last Sunday morning. Captain Parslow ordered full steam ahead and wireless calls for assistance were sent out. The submarine on the surface, proved to be a far speedier craft than the steamer, and rapidly overhauled her, meanwhile deluging her with shells. One shot put the wireless apparatus out of action. Finding he could not escape by running for it, Captain Parslow devoted all his attention to maneuvering his ship so as to prevent the submarine from using torpedoes effectively.

"Our captain was a brave man," said one of the narrators. "He kept his post on the bridge, coolly giving orders, as the submarine circled around us, vainly seeking to get a position from which it could give us a death blow with torpedoes. All the while the underwater boat continued to rain shot and shell upon us and at times was so close that she was unable to employ rifle fire effectively."

"At last one shell blew the captain off the bridge, killing him outright, and terribly mutilating him. Just before that he had given orders to launch the boats, but this was very difficult under the shell fire. Several men were struck down while working at the davits. Ultimately four boats were got overboard and were rowed away until picked up."

The son of Captain Parslow, serving as second mate, was standing by his father's side when the latter was killed. The son was knocked down by the violence of the explosion. Springing to his feet, he seized the wheel, and, as ably as his father had done, continued to dodge the submarine. Another shell burst alongside him, shattering one of the spokes of the wheel, but young Parslow remained at his post. The wireless "S. O. S." calls that had been sent out at the first alarm had reached those able to give more than passive assistance, however, and British destroyers appeared. On their approach the submarine abandoned the attack and submerged. Young Parslow was still at the wheel when the destroyers came up.

Washington, July 6.—Officials here pointed out today that apparently no American rights have been violated in the attack by a German submarine on the British steamer Anglo-Californian, since the officers of the vessel admitted their attempts to escape. If any Americans were killed officials hold that the case was parallel to that of the British steamer Armanian, on which a number of Americans lost their lives.

Montreal, July 6.—Fifty Americans and Canadians were among the crew of ninety-five aboard the British steamer Anglo-California, which sailed from here June 24.

BRITISH SOLDIERS HAVE CERTAIN HOURS TO WORK.

London, July 6.—"T.M." is a methodical war," writes an English soldier who served in several Indian campaigns and also in the South African war, and who now is at the front near Ypres.

"In South Africa," he explains, "we rode gayly out in the morning, never knowing whether he would meet an enemy over the first hill or ever see one all day. Here we go to fight by 6 o'clock omnibus. We know that we shall be in the firing line at a certain hour and out of it at another. It is all cut and dried."

"The Germans are even more methodical. There is a town about two miles behind our line that they shell regularly every Sunday from 11 to 3 and every Wednesday from 1 to 2:30, and at no other time. This has gone on for months."

U. P. FIRM SELLS JAPANESE PATENT

Menominee, July 6.—The Japanese patent for the manufacture of steel tubing in Japan with the automatic welding machine, the invention of M. B. Lloyd, has been sold to a large shipbuilding and locomotive works company in Kobe, it has been announced.

The company which purchased the patent rights is the Kawasaki Dockyards company of Kobe. This firm employs more than 15,000 men.

The sale of the patent was the culmination of a four months' trip to Japan of J. W. Wells and R. W. Wells, who are associated with Mayor Lloyd in the Automatic Welding company, which owned the Japanese patent on the tubing machine.

J. W. Wells returned to Menominee several days ago from the Orient. R. W. Wells, is still in Japan, superintending the moving of the tubing machine from the berth where it was on exhibition at Yokohama to the headquarters of the Kawasaki company at Kobe.

The tubing machine will manufacture a mile of steel tubing a day. It turns out a seamless and automatically welded product from one-half an inch to six inches in diameter. Its product are used for bicycles, steel furniture, metal beds, various automobile parts, etc. The invention has revolutionized the manufacture of steel tubing in this country.

BETHLEHEM CO. TO BUY ORE HERE

That the Bethlehem Steel Company will soon become heavy purchasers of Lake Superior iron is the report that comes from the east, giving a decided improvement to the tone in the ore market.

An exchange says of the report: The Bethlehem Steel company, it is reported, will soon be a heavy buyer of Lake Superior ores. This demand will be brought about, it is said, because of a delay in filling a contract for a fleet of steamers for hauling ore from the Bethlehem corporation's Chilean mines to the Atlantic seaboard. Placed, with an English shipbuilding firm more than a year ago. Work on the steamers was suspended when the war broke out. In the meantime the American shipyards have become so busy that they are unable to accept a contract from the Bethlehem company. Some of the plants are said to be booked up for two years, and the only available capacity of any consequence is that of the Cramp company, but with the prices of materials steadily rising its officials are not looking for any new business at present.

The development of the Bethlehem Steel corporation's Chilean iron properties will, it is estimated, involve an outlay of $10,000,000. In the meantime that work is being held up, and Charles M. Schwab is contracting for American ore supplies.

According to a dispatch from Washington the iron ore shipments from the Lake Superior mines show an increase of 30 per cent to Secretary Lane in the geological survey's mid-year review of mining conditions.

The pig iron output also is increasing monthly, the report says, while enlargements and extensions at iron and steel plants furnish unmistakable evidence of returning confidence.

General improvement in the copper industry also was noted. Prices, output and wages have shown an upward trend and prosperity is the word in the copper districts.

Demand for spelter and lead, with present high prices, has given an impetus to mining in the zinc-lead districts, and the demand for quicksilver has increased.

"These reports are significant and assuring to all who desire the industrial advancement of the United States," said Secretary Lane.

The report says the general mining advance has been stimulated by United States being thrown on its own resources for mineral products, the enormous orders for war supplies, from belligerent European countries and comparative freedom from foreign competitors.

DOCTOR KILLED ON WAY TO PATIENT

Kalabazoo, Mich., July 6.—Dr. L. B. Rhodes, of South Haven former president of the Kalamazoo Academy of Medicine, was killed near South Haven today when his automobile, turned turtle, as he was hurrying to attend a patient.

Charles Callahan, a rich farmer living south of White Pigeon, was killed at midnight last night when his automobile turned turtle. Both accidents happened exactly the same way and while the drivers were running at high speed. Both were crushed under their machines.

Dr. Rhodes is probably one of the best known doctors in this part of the state and has many times been honored by the Kalamazoo Academy of Medicine. Callahan was taking two girls Belle Martin, 18 years old, and Mildred Foreman, 14, to their homes from a band concert at White Pigeon when he was killed. The girls escaped without injury.

Lansing, Mich., July 6.—That the state board of agriculture must establish a market commission under the terms of an act passed by the last legislature was decided today by Attorney-General Fellows.

The bill in one place reads as though it was optional with the board to appoint a market director and proceed to the establishment of markets in which the farmers could dispose of their surplus products.

The attorney-general decided that when the bill in its entirety is taken into account there is no doubt as to the desire of the legislature to establish a system of markets and to that end the state board of agriculture should select a market director and proceed to business.

The salaries of the market director and his force must be paid out of the

A New Way of Using Left Overs By Mrs. Janet McKeen Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

Every housewife finds the disposition of left overs a most perplexing problem. K C Beef Roll will go a long way toward helping you out when the family get tired of hash and stews. You really ought to try it for supper tonight or tomorrow night at the latest.

Beef Roll, K C Style
Three cups flour; 1 teaspoonful salt; 1 level teaspoonful K C Baking Powder; 1/2 cup shortening; 1 cup milk; 1 cup each, chopped cooked beef and ham; 1 teaspoonful mixed mustard; 2 beaten eggs; 1/2 cup onion; 1/2 teaspoonful each, salt and pepper; broth or water.

Make a biscuit dough of the flour, salt, K C baking powder, shortening and milk, and roll into a sheet half an inch thick, having the ends even. Mix the other ingredients by themselves, using liquid as needed to make a paste. Spread the paste over the dough and roll like a jelly roll. Bake in a buttered pan about forty minutes. Brush over the outside with a little beaten egg left for the purpose and return to the oven to brown. Serve hot with a rich brown sauce. Other meats, such as chicken or veal, alone, or in combination, may be used. The onion and mustard may be omitted.

Ninety recipes—just think of it—by the famous cooking authority, Mrs. Janet McKeen Hill, sent free upon receipt of the colored certificate packed in 25-cent cans of K C Baking Powder. Send for the handsome Cook's Book today to the JAGONE MFG. CO., Chicago.

STARVED WOMAN ASKS FOR AID

LeCrosse, Wis., July 6.—A letter describing the pangs of starvation and making a pitiful appeal for "a little flour," has come to LeCrosse business man from relatives in Austria. The names are withheld because it is feared that the writer might be embarrassed were the identity of herself and family sent back to the Austrian authorities as authors of a letter that undoubtedly escaped censorship. The letter follows:

"Dear Uncle and Aunt: Many thanks for your last card. Would have written before this, but there is nothing to write about but misery. There is little work to be had, and this is poorly paid. Here are some of the prevailing prices of foodstuffs:

Meat, 45c per pound.
Flour, 10c per pound.
Lard, 60c per pound.
Potatoes, 21 1-2c per pound.
Butter, 45c per pound.
Rice, 16c per pound.

"Some are not to be had at all. A common pair of men's shoes costs $6. No one can imagine the hardships this war has brought upon us, and would hardly believe what tortures we and the children are enduring on account of not having enough to eat. I am glad my poor mother is dead, so she does not witness our absolute misery. All men of 18 to 50 are claimed for the army now, and I fear that my husband will yet have to go.

"When I step out on the street I hear nothing but the crying of hungry children and the moaning of despairing women. Oh, how one wishes for death!

"This week $0.000 captured Russians were brought here and this again raises the prices of foodstuffs, for they have to be fed. My husband and I are living principally on a bowl of soup a day. Meat we have not seen for seven weeks. The most terrible thing of all is to see all the starving children without being able to minister to their wants. I wonder if there would be no way that you, my dear uncle and aunt, could send me a little flour from America.

"We are having very dry weather and hope ardently for some rain. All nature seems to be starving with us. I am 29 years old, and my hair is grayer than my mother's was when she died."

The comedy to be offered here today is "The Great Egg Robbery."

THE DELFT.

The feature at this house today is the appearance of the world's youngest comedian "J. C. His act is one of real merit and those who fail to see this clever young laugh-maker will be missing one of the big opportunities of a life time.

ACCIDENT BOARD IS BUSY

Lansing July 6.—The deputy commissioners for the industrial accident board, authorized by the 1915 legislature, and who have been on the job for just two weeks, have already proven their worth, says the members of the board who also intimate that they will have them taking more of the burden of business off their shoulders before long.

One of the hardest things the members of the board have to do is to stay in Lansing and pour over cases they have already heard and be put out in the state attending arbitrations at the same time. The law provides that one member of the board shall be the third arbitrator, where cases are arbitrated. There has been a remarkable increase in the number of arbitrations asked for and as a result they are now pending in almost every village, city and town in the state.

For a member of the board to attend takes much time away from the office here and to bring the witnesses and arbitrators here is costly. When the deputy commissioner law was in
