

LATE BLIGHT THREATENING

FIELD AGENT FOR DISTRICT GIVES REMEDY TO FARMERS FOR BATTLING KNEPAC TO POTATO CROP

(By J. Wade Weston, Field Agent for Delta, Menominee and Dickinson counties.)

The weather conditions of the past few weeks have been highly favorable for the development of the Late Blight Disease of Potatoes. During the past week or 10 days the disease has developed rapidly and as a consequence the prospects for a record crop, that would exceed all former records, is in danger and there is a good chance that the crop will be so badly injured that the seed supply for next year will be limited. The recent frosts did great damage to the potatoes especially those fields on low, poorly drained land. We cannot bribe the weather man, but we can do something towards the control of this most serious potato disease, Late Blight. Every man that has a field of potatoes should go over them carefully and see if he can find the first symptoms of the disease. If so, then "get busy." We have the disease in every community. If you haven't got it now, you are most sure to have it later, especially if the weather remains wet and cool. Protect yourself as much as possible by spraying thoroughly with home made Bordeaux mixture. Emphasize the home made brand. It works the best and its the cheapest. This is made by dissolving 5 lbs. copper sulphate (Blue Vitrol) in 25 gallons of water separately 5 lbs. of stone lime, slacked, or 8 lbs. of Hydraulic lime to 25 gallons of water, then mix these two dilute solutions together and use immediately, that is within 24 or 48 hours after mixing. Apply to vines by a power sprayer, either knapsack or horse sprayer, being sure to get the vines thoroughly covered and be sure to get the under side of the leaf covered as that is the place that is most important in controlling the disease. Symptoms: First dark spots appear on lower leaves of plant, these leaves have a more or less water soaked appearance at first and later turn black, a white powdery mildew appearance on back side (under side) of leaf is a sure indication that the disease is present. When only an occasional plant is affected in this way, the grower may with profit, spray thoroughly and tide over the plants until the tubers get more fully developed and in this way save themselves from such a great loss. The grower, with a large per cent of plants affected, may as well rest easy and save his money until next year, as the spraying will do no good. Bordeaux is a preventative and not a cure. If large quantities (say a barrel) of copper sulphate could be used in a community, it can be secured in the city at a much lower rate than in small quantities.

NEW TEAM ON GRIDIRON

Present prospects are for almost an entirely new football team this fall. An entire backfield and two good ends are especially needed. With the light team, speed and open field passing will be the order. Fundamental work on handling the ball starts Monday and all candidates should be out ready for work then. All men should report Saturday between 9 a. m. and 3 p. m. for instructions. Whether the team is successful or not depends entirely on the new material.

U. S. IS PLAYING IGNOBLE PART AMONG NATIONS—T. R.

Plattsburgh, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Theodore Roosevelt in an address tonight at the military instruction camp here, declared that for thirteen months the United States had "played an ignoble part among the nations." In that it had "famously submitted to seeing the weak, whom we had covenanted to protect, wronged," and "had seen our own men, women and children murdered on the high seas without action on our part."

DETROIT BROKERS TO TEST MEASURE

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 27.—Reports to the Michigan Securities commission are to the effect that the "blue sky" law passed by the 1915 legislature would be attacked in the courts by stockholders of other states who do business in Michigan. A Detroit attorney has been retained by the brokers and the first step will be taken soon, the commission has learned. The "blue sky" law of 1915 became effective Tuesday and it is declared an effective bar to all questionable stock dealings. Outside brokers who are back of the move to test the statute will base their action on the right of the state to regulate the sale of securities originating in other states. When he learned of the plan to attack the law, Attorney General Fellows expressed confidence that it would hold water.

LAW TO BE STRINGENT

The most stringent anti-cigarette law ever adopted by a state in the union will become effective in Michigan shortly.

The provisions of the new law follow:

Section 1. Any person within this state who sells, gives to, or in any way furnishes any cigarettes in any form to any person under twenty-one years of age shall be punished by fine not to exceed fifty dollars or imprisonment in the county jail for not to exceed thirty days for each offense.

Section 2. Any person under twenty-one years of age who shall smoke or use cigarettes in any form, on any public highway, street, alley, park or other lands used for public purposes, or in any public place of business or amusement, may be arrested by any officer of the law, who may be cognizant of such offense; and further, it shall be the duty of such officer upon complaint of any person and upon warrant properly issued to arrest such offenders and take them to the proper courts. In case the offender is found guilty the court may impose a penalty in its discretion in the sum not to exceed ten dollars or imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed five days for each offense.

Section 3. Any person who knowingly harbors any person under twenty-one years of age, or grants to them the privilege of gathering upon or frequenting any property, or lands held by him, for the purpose of indulging in the use of cigarettes in any form, shall be held under the same penalty as provided for under section one of this act; Provided, That no part of this act shall be construed as to interfere with the right of parents or lawful guardians in the rearing and management of their minor children or wards within the bounds of their own private premises.

Section 4. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

MAD RUNAWAY ON LUDINGTON

After completing a detour of the western portion of the city, a dray team owned by Harry Barkell, dashed madly down the full length of Ludington street last night, shortly after 8 o'clock and after several autos and a number of people had narrowly escaped being run down by the team, they crashed into a telephone pole before the Ludington hotel where they were stopped.

Just before the wagon hit the pole it hit a Buick roadster owned by C. M. Neuman of Milwaukee, damaging to a considerable degree the car. Starting at the Escanaba Brewery the team dashed toward the State road and after completing a detour of that district ran down Sarah street to Ludington where they turned and started in their mad flight down the main thoroughfare. The wagon swayed and rocked as the team ran and a number of people and several autos came close to being hit.

The wagon was badly demolished when it hit the pole but the horses escaped with but a few scratches. This is the second time that the same team has figured in a mad runaway. A month or two ago they took about the same route down Ludington and did not stop until they had jumped over the dock into the sand at the foot of Ludington street.

DELEGATES MEET HERE

REPRESENTATIVES OF ORDER OF VASA WILL OPEN DISTRICT CONVENTION AT NORTH STAR HALL TODAY

Representatives of the Order of Vasa of the upper peninsula and northern Wisconsin, will meet in Escanaba today in the district convention of that order. Nearly 50 delegates, representing as many cities of Cleveland and northern Wisconsin will be seated in the convention which will open this morning at the North Star hall. A session will also be held this afternoon and this evening the convention will close with a big banquet that will be served by the members of the Evening Star Society, of this city.

Members of the local committee, in charge of plans for the convention of today, have completed all details for the entertainment of the city's visitors and last night everything pointed to the holding of one of the most successful district conventions in the history of the order. To the banquet of this evening all members of the order and their friends will be invited. Following the serving of the banquet a program of addresses and musical numbers will be carried out and later dancing will be enjoyed.

FROST DOES BIG DAMAGE

One of the most destructive frosts in the history of the district cut down crops over a wide territory yesterday morning. The frost belt extended throughout the peninsula, the greater part of Wisconsin and a big section of the lower peninsula. The mercury dropped to a new low record for August for a number of years, yesterday morning and brought a killing frost to a large part of the territory. The damage caused was especially severe on all crops planted on low grounds and in small clearings extended to the up lands. In large clearings, however, the damage was light. Late potatoes and corn were the crops hardest hit although general garden crops were also severely damaged.

MISS PATTON IS HOSTESS TO LARGE NUMBER FRIENDS

Miss Leola Patton last night entertained a number of her friends at her home in honor of Miss Christina Bjornmarion of Washington Island and Miss M. St. Louis, who are visiting in the city with friends and relatives. Games were played, a musicale was given, dancing was enjoyed in after which a most delightful luncheon was served by the hostess.

NEW BILLARD HALL OPENED TONIGHT

This evening at 310 Stephenson avenue has been excellently equipped and when opened to the public for the first time tonight should attract many patrons.

SPEEDISTS ARE READY

Speed fans of Escanaba will be attracted to the Flat Rock racing park in droves on Sunday when what promises to prove the greatest motorcycle speed test ever arranged in the northwest will be staged at that place. Three big races are arranged for the riders of the district will compete in five mile, ten mile and twenty-five mile events. The Flat Rock track has been reworked for the event of Sunday afternoon and those in charge are satisfied that it will be in condition for the lowering of national records for dirt tracks.

A special automobile service has been arranged for the afternoon between the city and the driving park and accommodations will be provided for all who desire to attend. Many of the riders who have competed in former races of this season, are entered in the events of Sunday and a number of new speed merchants have been booked up. The list of starters promises to be the largest ever arranged for a motorcycle meet in this district, a fact that will insure some fast and exciting finishes.

Earl Bordiales will be in the races in his speedy Harley Davidson; as will John Seymour, the fearless little Escanaba rider, who won the 10 and 25 mile events at the last meet and on Sunday will use his regular speeding Indian. Olaf Gustafson of Menominee will also ride a fast Indian, while Nyholm, of Menominee, will ride in a twin Indian that has just been rebuilt by an expert motorcycle adjuster and promises to show some surprising speed. Charles Beyers of Escanaba will ride in a new Excelsior racing machine that he has purchased expressly for the event of Sunday.

DANCE AT STONINGTON WILL ATTRACT LOCAL PEOPLE

A number of local people will this evening be attracted to Stonington to the dancing party to be given at the Stonington pavilion. The musical Tolans will furnish the music for the evening. The Launch Bell Co. will leave the Stephenson dock at 8 o'clock for the trip.

O. W. Bailey and H. S. Purdy who have been spending their vacation for the past two weeks in the city, have returned to their homes in Detroit, by way of the straits.

MANISTIQUE IS READY

COMES HERE PRIMED TO MEET ALL EFFORTS OF LOCALS. CLAIM TAKE BOTH

The probable batteries for this afternoon:

Manistique
Freeland and Weymouth.
Escanaba
Garland and Murray.

This afternoon at South Park the Escanaba Independents stacked up against the fast and clever salaried team from Manistique which arrived in the city last evening under the management of O. W. Heyfer.

The Rapid River team, 14 men strong, arrived in the city last night at 10:30 o'clock and immediately thereafter were tucked in bed by their manager who will stand watch during the greater share of the night to make certain that none of his lads attempt to "make a getaway" for a few hours.

The Manistique aggregation has come to Escanaba primed to the guns for the contest of this afternoon and for the game of tomorrow. Captain Freeland has had his men out to go through a stiff practise every day this week and they looked like a bunch of prize running horses when they arrived in the city last night. BOOSTERS ON AUTO TRIP

Boosters for the Northern Michigan State Fair last night made more noise than ever before with their auto parade through Bark River and Schaffers.

Gathering at the First National Bank building at 7 o'clock fully a dozen cars, well covered with posters and headed with real live boosters with horns, started on their trip through the farming district to advertise the fair, after they had completed a route about the city.

Absent from the city about two hours, all again returned and again local people knew there was to be a fair and a real live one too. More such events as that of last night are to be held before the fair opens. It signifies that the association has real, live boosters for its officers and guilders.

REV. DATSON OUT OF CITY NO SERVICES ON SUNDAY

Because of the absence from the city of Rector, W. J. Datson, there will be no services at St. Stephen's Episcopal church on Sunday.

"PUBLIC HEALTH" IS U. S. MONEY IS CAUSE

SUNDAY EVE. TOPIC

The fourth meeting to be conducted by the Men's Class of the First Methodist church since the inception of that organization here, will be that of Sunday evening when City Health Officer Dr. A. J. Carlson, will address the assemblage on "Public Health."

A special musical program to be rendered on Sunday evening is now being prepared and with the featured numbers being from the male quartet, this end of the evening should indeed prove entertaining to those present.

GOLD THIEVES MAKE HAUL

Gold thieves on Thursday night entered the dental offices of Dr. R. H. Banks and looted the place of all gold in stock made a getaway without leaving so much as a trace behind for the officers to follow.

Not satisfied with the $40 or $50 haul that they made at the Bank's offices, the thief or thieves went to the office of Dr. A. J. Connolly, where they again attempted robbery. After gaining entrance into the outer office, one man opened a door leading into a room where Dr. and Mrs. Connolly were sleeping. Dr. Connolly was aroused by the opening of the door and looking up beheld a man's head projected into the sleeping apartment. When the thief saw that the room was occupied he turned and fled down the stairs and was gone.

Efforts on the part of local officers yesterday to secure any clew to work upon in the two cases were futile. Both doors through which the thief or thieves gained entrance were equipped with Yale locks and in both instances they were opened with a key.

A number of dental offices have been robbed during the past week between this city and Milwaukee and it is believed that the robbers are working north.

U. S. INDIFFERENT ABOUT CARRANZA

(Special to The Press.)

Washington, Aug. 27.—The State department has received advices that Carranza is making every effort to establish himself in Mexico City before the peace plan adopted by the Latin-American conference, can be executed. Carranza may personally go to Mexico City tomorrow. Whether he replies to the note of the conference before reaching Mexico City or whether he replies at all is said to be a matter of indifference to the United States. The elimination of Carranza as a factor in the Mexican situation has been determined upon.

Vera Cruz, Aug. 27.—The hour of four o'clock today, marking the expiration of the time limit specified by Secretary of State Lansing and the Latin-American conferees in the Pan-American note delivered to First Chief Carranza, dated August 17, passed today without a reply from the Constitutionalist's leader.

MINISTER'S DEATH WAS ORDERED?

(Special to The Press.)

Gary, Ind., Aug. 27.—That Rev. Edmund A. Kayser, came to his death by orders of the ring leaders of the Anti-German system in the United States, was a development late today. President Andre of the German Alliance of Hammond, Ind., tonight declared there was no doubt in his mind that the minister's death came as a result of his pro-German activities.

EXPERTS BELIEVE POWER OF AMERICAN DOLLAR POINTS FAVORABLE GERMAN ACTION

(Special to The Press.)

Washington, Aug. 27.—The United States today received further assurances from Germany of its determination to yield to the demands of this government regarding the protection of American lives at sea, as disclosed by the International News Service today.

Count Von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, informed the Secretary of State, that Germany would give "full satisfaction" to the United States for the loss of American lives on the White Star liner Arabic. The German government, he said, would go farther than a mere disavowal, when it is established that the vessel was sunk without warning. Lansing informed the Ambassador that the United States considered it had conclusive proof that no warning was given and the Ambassador indicated, in his reply, that Germany only desired to receive its own report. The "question of the Lusitania disavowal, was brought up and Lansing told the Ambassador that the United States desired to keep the two incidents separated. The position of the United States is that satisfaction for the sinking of the Arabic should be offered immediately.

It is impossible today to receive authoritative information as to the real reason why Germany has decided to yield to the demands of the United States. The power of the American dollar, of which Germany had fear, was the prime cause, it is believed. From a German standpoint, according to this information, England now is economically beaten and Germany also believes that England can not raise $500,000,000 in this country as she plans. The belief that the lack of money will stop the flow of ammunition is assigned as the cause for Germany's foregoing plans to stop the war munition trans oceanic shipments by submarine activities.

London, Aug. 27.—With the occupation of Oltta, the ninth Russian fortress to capitulate within three weeks the Germans are now virtually in control of the line of the Nieman and Bug. Grodno, 40 miles southeast of Oltta, the only stronghold on this front, still in the hands of the Russians, is semi-officially reported to be on the point of evacuation. The Germans have resumed the offensive in the Baltic provinces and report gains southeast of Mitau and east of Kovno.

New York, Aug. 27.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt issued a second reply tonight to Secretary of War Garrison's reprimand of Major General Wood in which he reiterated that General Wood had no responsibility for his speech. "I did make the strongest kind of a plea for preparedness and did in the strongest way ask that we act as Americans and nothing else," he said.

MRS. A. C. BARRAS WAS IN MUSICALE

In reporting the Presbyterian musicale of Thursday evening, yesterday morning, the Press unintentionally omitted the name of Mrs. A. C. Barras who appeared with Mr. Price in two duets as the opening numbers of the musical.

The efforts of Mrs. Barras in the numbers in which she appeared with Mr. Price were entirely delightful and pleasing to a vast audience. Through the part that she played in the two splendid numbers, much of the success scored by the concert, is attributed.

Pity the poor schoolboy. The most melancholy day of them all is almost here.

One needs only to give the Manicue lineup the once over to reach the safe conclusion that the week-end series, opening today, will sure be some series.

There's just one thing Cloverland has to be thankful for. That frost went down into Wisconsin and the lower peninsula and wrecked just as great havoc in the old agricultural districts as it did here.

One effective way of holding down auto speeders is to keep streets in poor repair. Here we've been spending money to keep up the streets and hiring a cop to watch the speeders, when the whole matter might have been settled in the first place by keeping our money.

Roosevelt says Gen. Wood should not be criticised for Roosevelt's rather rapid remarks against the government, made at the Plattville encampment. Naturally, from the Colonel's point of view, no criticism is due but others have been known at times to differ slightly with the Colonel's views.

Judging from the tenor of Germany's latest remarks she has a far higher regard for the friendship of the United States than a few weeks ago. It's just possible that the cent Gulf of Riga jolt has had an unusually beneficial effect in making the German official mind receptive to some humane suggestions made by outsiders.

WOODROW WILSON'S WORK

At no time during the last half century has any president of the United States carried so many heavy burdens as Woodrow Wilson has borne and is bearing. He has faced domestic problems of the gravest and most vital importance. In addition, through no act or fault of his own, he has been facing, and is facing, the most serious international difficulties that have arisen since we became a nation.

His conduct in every crisis has been beyond praise. Calm, clear-eyed and self-poised, he has inspired his countrymen, who have been watching him most anxiously, with a feeling of confidence such as few heads of nations of patience, dignity, firmness and power.

To the burdens that he has carried in the line of duty has been added a heavy and unnecessary load in the form of bitter attacks, unjust suspicions and angry aspersions emanating from the belligerents abroad and their extreme partisans here. Many men would have broken down under this strain and thus proved unequal to the situation. Others would have grown nervous and excitable and shown signs of anger and resentment. But Woodrow Wilson has been quiet, cool and thoughtful at all times. The more acute and critical the situation the more his self-mastery has become apparent. He has kept his mind upon American and her peace and honor and to the utter exclusion of all else. The darts and pavilins hurled at him in fits of passion by men whose first thought may not be of America, but whose welfare, whose very lives, he is wisely safeguarding, have not turned him a hairbreadth from his course. For any sign that he has given, they have not reached him, though deeply he must feel the pain of being misunderstood and misrepresented by those whom he is trying to serve.

To his country and to his countrymen Woodrow Wilson is giving the very best that it is in any man to give. He has sought peace for them while zealously guarding their honor. Under some of the presidents of years past, or some of the men who have of late aspired to the presidency, the country might, in these perilous days, and probably would, find itself engaged in more than one war. And to what end except to add enormously to the millions of slaughtered men the millions of crippled men the millions of widows and the millions of orphans that are the bitter fruit of a single year of war waged by all the great nations of the earth saving our own? The one great advocate of peace the one great defender of civilization's laws and Woodrow Wil-

DANIELS PLANS TO DEVELOP NAVY

Boston, Mass., Aug. 26.—A navy steadily increased in size and efficiency so that it will be ready to defend the country against attacks from any quarter. This is the aim of Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels as declared before the governor's conference today at an adjourned session on board the flagship Wyoming of the North Atlantic fleet in Massachusetts bay.

For two hours the secretary stood on the bridge of the flagship while Admiral Fletcher took the fleet through intricate maneuvers, demonstrating attacks and defenses. Then he joined the governors in the admiral's cabin and told them why he had made them his guests for the afternoon.

"The navy must abide in the hearts of the whole country if it must be strong and powerful and made great," the secretary said. "It is for the people, not for the president nor myself, to say how great it shall be. As you go to your homes you will speak the word that will help us determine the question."

"The greatest things the navy is doing are not heralded. Since the war began there is not an officer in any department of the navy who has not taken advantage of the lessons taught by the war. Experiments are proceeding day and night and today in every element our navy has no superior in the world. We do have superiors in size and numbers, and it is for us to continue to strengthen our navy."

On the Other Coast. Let a conductor try to "put one over" by short-changing a patron and a man will rise up in righteous indignation and bawl him out to a fare-you-well. But let the same man get too much change from a conductor and he'll slip it nonchalantly into his pocket and pat himself on the back for his "cuteness."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

WAR

London, Aug. 27.—Brest-Litovsk, the main Russian fortress and concentration center for the Bug river line of defenses, was occupied by the Austro-Germans today. While the Russians offered stout resistance to the invaders during their approach to the fortress, it is apparent that they did not attempt to defend Brest-Litovsk, but evacuated it as they did Osovetz, in conformity with the intention, indicated in the dispatches from Petrograd yesterday, to take a new position farther east.

The Germans now are in possession of the whole line of railway from Cholim to Bialystok. The Russians having already evacuated the latter city, the fortresses of Grodno and Ollta are now the only strongly defended positions remaining in the hands of the Russians. Both these are being approached by the Germans and probably will be given up when they have fulfilled their purpose of facilitating the retreat of the Russian armies.

The Russians have not yet entered the vast Bialovlesh forest, which extends thirty miles north and south and has a width of seventeen to thirty miles. The forest is a famous hunting center and a bison preserve. South of it are the Priepet marshes which protect the Russian left and with plenty of roads and three or four railroad lines. It is here that Grand Duke Nicholas will make good his retirement if Grodno and Vilna can hold out long enough. Even if they should fall, military observers say the grand duke will be well on his way to his new positions before the Germans could reach his flank. There is again talk of Russian preparation for a stand, but no indication as yet as to where this stand is to be made.

On the operations on the Gallipoli peninsula, which are now so important to the cause of the allies, there is no further news.

Wounded men who have arrived at Alexandria tell of how nearly the allies came to winning a great success in one of their attacks. An Austrian officer declares that if the allied forces had had two more hours of darkness they could have covered six hundred yards of ground which separated them from the Sari Behr hill, generally known as Hill 971. One this hill was in the allies' hands, the officer declared, the Turkish communications would have been cut and it was for the possession of this hill that the Dominion troops fought so bravely, but fruitfully.

Except for the postponement of the statement of the Greek premier, M. Venizelos, on the future policy of Greece, there is nothing new in the Balkan situation.

ASKS COURT TO HALT SUSPENSION

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 27.—Application was made to the circuit court of Ingham county today by George R. Holloway, of Grand Rapids, representing the Michigan Fraternal congress, for a restraining order to prevent Coleman C. Vaughan, secretary of state, from suspending the operations of the Ogg bill until the voters of Michigan have an opportunity to pass judgment on it at the November election in 1916.

The representatives of the Fraternal congress had planned to start proceedings in the supreme court, but the court has adjourned for the summer and it would not be possible to get a quorum until September. Although it is rather unusual to mandamus a state official through the circuit court, it is not an extraordinary proceeding, and Tuesday night, Holloway completed his application, which covers 30 typewritten pages.

In the declaration filed with the Ingham circuit court it is claimed that in many instances the petitions filed with the secretary of state by the New Era association for the purpose of obtaining a referendum on the Ogg bill, requiring all fraternal beneficiary societies to maintain a ritualistic form of government, were not in accordance with constitutional requirements.

It is alleged in the declaration that when the petitions originally filed by the New Era association in Kent county were recalled because the wards and precincts were not designated, that this information was filled in by stenographers, who used Grand Rapids city directories to locate the signers. The charge is also made that 562 signatures on the petitions from Kent county were forgeries and all in the same handwriting. Further charges are made that 694 names appearing on the Kent petitions are non-residents of the county.

Although the law required the New Era Association to file 22,400 petitions, a total of 32,800 was filed. Kent county, in which the home office of the New Era Association is located, is credited with 14,295 and Wayne county comes second with 10,589. Ingham county was third in the list with 1,198 and the remainder came from scattering counties. Allegan county contributed 15, Barry 378, Berrien 55, Eaton 128, Genesee 516, Jackson 664, Ionia 207, Kalamazoo 316, Lenawee 383, Mason 279, Montcalm 194, Muskegon 542, Oceana 446, Saginaw 102, Shiawassee 157, St. Clair 260. Several other counties were represented by small petitions.

WHITE HOUSE OPEN TO SECRET AGENTS Washington, Aug. 27.—Identity of the mysterious "M. P." who, according to a newspaper article, declares he discussed freely with President Wilson and Secretary Lansing the inner secrets of German-American diplomacy, was Washington's greatest puzzle today. Who "M. P." could be, aroused much more interests here than anything his alleged conversations with the president disclosed. The essence of their conversations, which according to the World dealt with the president's protest against German submarine methods and against British acts against American methods, revealed no news that the administration was not generally known to have held. These included the statement that the American protest to England would go regardless of Germany's attitude toward the United States. The dragging out of the submarine warfare controversy was embarrassing the administration in dealing with the British. The British tentative proposal to buy up the American cotton crop was not satisfactory to this country—because, though this was not mentioned in the "M. P." disclosure, it would leave the British to fix the price. "The president hardly looked for a positive German pledge to discontinue submarine warfare—it was tacitly understood that the administration was interested rather in the way it was being put into effect. That such statements should have been made to "M. P."—assuming him to have been acting in any sense for the German government—was a different matter, however. The statement that the president would "bind himself" to carry his British protest to the "utmost" if the Lusitania case were adjusted satisfactorily with Germany, was also deemed a most surprising form of expression.

KENT PROTESTS EXPRESS BOOST

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 27.—Although practically all the principal cities of the state were notified of the hearing before the state railroad commission on the application of the express companies to increase rates on interstate shipments to conform to the new ruling of the interstate commerce commission, Grand Rapids was the only city to enter a protest.

Lee H. Brice, assistant secretary of the Grand Rapids Chamber of Commerce, declared that according to the best information in his possession he was satisfied that the proposed increase of 2.5 per cent asked for by the express companies, amounts to practically 12 1-2 per cent and may reach 20 per cent as far as Grand Rapids shipments are concerned.

Representatives of the express companies declared that the Grand Rapids man was mistaken. Owing to the fact that Grand Rapids was the only city represented the express companies have promised to check up shipments from that city.

No decision was reached by the commission following the hearing Tuesday afternoon, but it is believed that the commission will act favorably on the petition of the express companies.

EDISON SEES THE BIG YEARS AHEAD

East Orange, N. J., Aug. 27.—Beyond the hectic rush which immense war orders have given business conditions, Thomas Edison sees seven years of prosperity ahead for the United States.

"These war orders, said the electrical wizard today, as he paused for a moment directing his ever growing factories here, "are lending a flush to business conditions that is not real. But underneath them I can see prosperity of the most sublime sort for this nation. But one thing can overcome it—overdoing it. People must not lose their heads as has been the case in other periods. They must conserve their resources. The real prosperity period will come at the close of the next year when the armies of Europe have laid down their weapons and turned to more peaceful pursuits. There undoubtedly will be a great influx of immigrants coming to escape the burden of the greatest war taxes the world has ever seen. While we are getting 15 bushels of grain from an acre they will get 40 and it will be to our interest. The U. S. said Edison, should be slow to go to war over Germany's submarine outrages.

Miss Sophie Westlund of Chicago is in the city visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Larson.

ASKS COURT THROW OUT PETITIONS

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 27.—Application will be made to the supreme court today by George Holloway, of Grand Rapids, for a writ of mandamus to prevent Coleman C. Vaughan, secretary of state, from counting certain petitions filed with the state department by the New Era Association of Grand Rapids to suspend the operation of the Ogg bill requiring fraternal beneficiary societies to have rituals, until the law has been voted on by the people of the state at the general election in 1916.

It is contended by Holloway who says that he represents a number of fraternal insurance societies now operating under a ritualistic form of government, that many of the petitions filed with the secretary of state do not meet with constitutional requirements.

Holloway declares that although more than 14,000 signatures were on the petitions from Kent county, that less than 600 are in conformity with the law. He alleges that 26 petitions from Kent county containing a large number of signatures were approved by a notary public and not by the persons who circulated the petitions. It is also contended by Holloway that the wards and precincts with the street addresses were placed on the petitions in many instances by the circulators and not by the signers.

If Holloway's contention is sustained by the supreme court, he says that there will be insufficient petitions legally filed to suspend the operation of the Ogg bill.

Secretary Vaughan informed Holloway that it is not his duty to inquire into the legality of each signature. The law provides that he shall accept the statements of the county clerk that the petitions are in due form and the burden of proof will rest with those who want the bill to take immediate effect without a referendum.

MAN IS HELD IN KAYSER MURDER

Gary, Ind., Aug. 27.—Joseph Schneider, member of the Gary Saxon Verein, has been arrested and will be held pending investigation into the murder of the Rev. Edmund A. H. Kayser, who was found dead, Tuesday night, in a lot near his home, with a bullet hole in his neck, after an attack begun, presumably in his house.

Developments in the mystery today brought two women, whose names were withheld by Chief of Police Hietz, into the case.

The first of the two women is one who was visiting the grave of a child in the cemetery near the Rev. Edmund Kayser's home. The second woman was seen by the first with three or four men on the night of the murder, around a nearby grave. They were, the first woman reported, plotted the murder of the Rev. Kayser. At one stage they flipped the coin apparently to decide who was to perform certain tasks in connection with the attack on the preacher.

The police, the postmaster, post-office inspectors from South Bend and Cincinnati, the coroner, the state's attorney and the dead pastor's followers and compatriots all were at work. His wife and father hurried to Gary late in the day.

Police are working to discover the motive for the murder. Besides the theory that he was attacked because of his vehement utterances against the foes of Germany, there are beliefs that he may have been murdered "on moral grounds" on account of alleged too friendly relations with one of his parishioners or that financial matters may have had something to do with his death.

The first theory is regarded as the most probable. Living in a community whose sympathies were overwhelmingly in favor of the allies, Mr. Kayser aroused much antagonism by letters to the press of Gary, defying the kaiser, vilifying President Wilson and defying the allies. He continued as president of the Gary German-American Union.

He was 42, a native of Wurtemberg, a graduate of Straasheim university. In his preachments he was vigorous and fervid. Over his congregation he held an inexorable dominance that led into their homes and commercial affairs.

Eight years ago he founded the church, St. John's Evangelical, in the Tolleston region of Gary before that "made-to-order" city had become the present flourishing steel metropolis. It was an independent church, not subject to the rule of the Lutheran central bodies and not openly admitting that creed.

When he first came there the section was a waste of sand. He gathered about him some fellow Wurtembergers and induced them to settle there. Then he traveled to Missouri, to New Jersey, to Pennsylvania and twice to Germany, recruiting colonists.

He controlled the lands upon which the colonists built their homes. They built him a home, the finest in Tolleston, near the church and the German cemetery.

Kayser bought the arid acres surrounding the church, divided them into lots and sold more than a hundred of them. On others he built houses, which he rented to his flock. It was computed last night that the lots had cost him between $75 and $100 each and that he had sold them at an average of $300. His profits on homestead ground alone, at these figures, was $22,000.

When the war broke out Kayser became intensely active. He wrote for German and English newspapers in words of scarlet and terms of fire. When the Lusitania was sunk he screamed Germany's right and took issue violently with President Wilson's activities and sentiments.

A resolution of the Saxon Verein of his congregation, pledging neutrality, he tore up and threw into the faces of the parishioners who had framed it.

Gary is a hotbed of Lithuanians and Slavs, many of whom have lost relatives in the war. The feeling against Kayser grew notoriously bitter. Less than a fortnight ago he was attacked on the street in Hammond, miles away, by a stranger.

Near Gary are the Astoria powder mills, supplying the allies with explosives, guarded by armed patrol. All about are mills of many sorts which are humming night and day on "war orders" for the British. Gary is seeing its first prosperity for several years because of the trade of the allies. These things combined to intensify the community anger against Kayser, who at all times had been regarded as an over ambitious promoter and had been likened to Dowie.

The murdered Gary pastor, the Rev. Edmund A. H. Kayser, wrote with free and flowing pen, in epigrammatic fashion, his hatred against England, his contempt for American newspapers which he regarded as hostile to the kaiser and his worship of Germany and its cause.

Excerpts from his writings, regarded as inflammatory by many readers of the Gary newspapers, follow:

TEDDY CENSURES PRESIDENT'S STAND

Plattsburg, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Don't applaud unless you feel a burning sense of shame because the United States has not stood up for Belgium.

Therefore Roosevelt, former president of the United States, snapped out these words tonight at a crowd at the military instruction camp during a speech in which he censured the administration for its attitude in the European conflict and strongly urged preparedness for war. As he paused after uttering the sentence, his audience, consisting of about three thousand persons, burst into wild and prolonged applause.

"The surest way for a nation to invite disaster is to be rich, aggressive and unarmed," the former president said at another time in speaking of preparedness.

In a statement made at the railway station shortly before leaving for New York Colonel Roosevelt defended his criticism of the administration's course in the present situation.

"I wish to make one comment on the statement so frequently made that we must stand by the president. I heartily subscribe to this on condition and only on condition, that it is followed by the statement, 'so long the president stands by the country.' The men who believe in peace at any price or in substituting all inclusive arbitration treaties for an army and navy should instantly move to China. If he stays here, then more manly people will have to defend him, and he is not worth defending. Let him get out of the country as soon as possible. Eloquence as a substitute for action, to rely upon high sounding words, unless backed by deeds, is proof of a mind that dwells only in the realm of shadow and shame."

COLLEGE PROFESSORS TO ACHIEVE SUCCESS

Oakland, Cal., Aug. 27.—College presidents, if they are to be successful, must have other talents than scholarship, according to David Starr Jordan, chancellor of Stanford university, who Tuesday night, outlined the requirements of a college president in an address before the National Education association. Some of the requirements for the position he stated are:

- He must not tell all he knows about those around him.
He must not do anything he can hire someone else to do.
He must be neither too "clubby" nor too convivial.
He must be a scholar to the extent that he knows truth from untruth.
He must "fix it" so that his board of trustees can only endorse or reject his recommendations.
He must not "pass the buck" to the trustees.
He must not smoke.
A description of educational methods employed in many parts of the world was given by speakers in today's program for the teachers who are attending the convention of the association.

TAFT SAYS DEMOCRAT TARIFF OFFSET BY WAR

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 27.—William Howard Taft gave out a statement in which he said that the European war has an important effect on the American political conditions. "The chance of republican success at the coming presidential election," he said, "are excellent, unless the war intervenes to upset the normal trend of events. Under the present conditions no man may prophesy the outcome. The war has prevented the normal and natural effect of the democratic tariff and has given a protection which that tariff would not have secured to American industries.

"I believe that the republican party has returned to its own. Throughout the United States I observed every evidence that the progressives are returning to the republican party."

more allies. I hope she needs them. Great sporting blood—two to one and not yet satisfied.

"Do I know that such sentiments and views are extremely unpopular now? But I do not care a continental. Whoever knows the truth and does not proclaim it is a miserable coward."

"As long as the heavens are blue the German empire will not perish. We are told that blood is thicker than water. But business is business and this war is cold-blooded business for England.

"The Germans are convinced right now that the damnable jealousy of their enemy forced them to fight for their existence."

"Where does the average American get his information on German topics? Direct from English sources."

DAILY LETTER

Coppers were again the leaders and were very strong and active. There was further sales of metal today at 15 cents according to reports and an advance in price to 20 cents on this movement is predicted. Several one and two point gains were made and closing is at practically the best figures for the day. Anaconda was a leader and sold up to 74 3/4. Butte & Superior and the Zinc stocks on a two pound sterling advance in Spelter. There may be some foreign selling in the railroad and those coppers held abroad on account of the demoralized state of the Foreign Exchange market, but we look for the exchange market to be righted in very short while. Then, again, these Lake stocks are not held abroad in fact, there are only a few of the coppers that are. We believe that the good coppers should be steadily bought and that we are going to have very much higher prices in the next sixty days for copper shares.

BOSTON MARKETS

Local coppers were stronger today on higher metal prices and demand, but weakened a trifle in afternoon on profit taking. It is claimed European metal supply is lower now than has been since the war broke out and that buying will be heavy. In both Europe and here it is estimated 300,000-400,000 pounds are needed. Spelter reported sold at 16 cents barely delivery and Electro copper at 18 1/4 cents. We look for much higher prices.

Had No Answer. A man walked into George Harmon's office in Valley Falls the other day and said his doctor told him ten years ago if he didn't stop smoking he would become feeble-minded. And when Mr. Harmon asked him why he didn't stop, he just walked out and slammed the door.—Kansas City Star.

BLEASE DEFENDS SOUTHERN MOB

Boston, Aug. 27.—Gov. Cole Blease, South Carolina, addressing the governors' conference here today, declared that lynching for certain crimes is a protection to civilization. He condemned the third degree in dealing with prisoners and expressed the opinion that it was worse in some respects than lynching.

"The money we spend for courts and prisons is very ill laid out," said Governor Blease. He continues in part: "We make, by distrust, the thief, the burglar, and incendiary, and by our court and jail we keep him so. And acceptance of the sentiment of love throughout Christendom for a season would bring the felon and the outcast to our side in tears, with the devotion of his faculties to our service."

"In the south an aroused mob is an outraged community which carries out the law, but brushes aside with might force the law's technicalities and delays. There is no hypocritical, sanctioning violation of fundamental rights under the cloak of law by those sworn to uphold the law; the deed is open, and civilization and justice are vindicated. And when mobs are no longer possible liberty will be dead."

"We have prisons and prison methods in the United States today which are a disgrace to any civilization."

"When I assumed the office of governor I inaugurated the parole system and granted hundreds of paroles. I was as vigorously condemned on the other hand and as heartily praised on the other, for nearly every decision I reached upon each individual case, as any man who has ever been in public life in the history of this country, I cared not for the condemnation or the praise. The parole system which I inaugurated was entirely successful. Out of the hundreds of paroles granted, very few failed to lead good lives."

A review of the state militia, 7,000 strong, was the feature of the afternoon.

BOTTLE LAW NOT EFFECTIVE NOW

Lansing, Aug. 27.—Judging from the number of communications received by state departments, almost on behalf of the population of Michigan who are housekeepers have the idea that the law compelling one size and kind of a milk bottle went into effect Wednesday. But such is not the case. The standard milk bottle law, passed by the last legislature, does not become effective until January 1, 1915. Its period of operation was put that far away in order that dealers could get rid of the bottles they had on hand which did not comply with the law.

The only law that went into effect last night regarding milk bottles was one pertaining to the Babcock test in creameries, and the amendment to the old law simply makes it a penal offense to underfeed or misfeed in any way the Babcock test. While the "pure pop" law is now in effect, it will be some time before the dairy and food department is ready to proceed under it. The application blanks, which must be filled out by manufacturers of all sorts of soft drinks, are just being mailed out. Registration of syrups and all combinations which by their very contents are to be made after the applications have been returned and after the syrups and drinks have been subjected to a test by the state bacteriologist, if such is deemed necessary. Outside manufacturers have already given indications that they intend to work under the new law, while many of the Michigan bottlers have done the same.

"Michigan Butter" as a brand will become an actuality as soon as the state's butter commission gets together, applied for a copyright and issues licenses for its manufacture. By act No. 63 of the 1915 laws, there is created a commission on butter, consisting of the dairy and food commissioner, the president of the Michigan State Dairymen's association and the president of the Michigan Butter Maker's association.

This commission is to meet and decide exactly what shall constitute standard butter of the state. Then, after the brand has been copyrighted at Washington, licenses to make such butter will be issued—after, of course the butter maker has satisfied everybody that he can make the brand. These licenses can be revoked at any time by the commission.

Responsibility Due to Indigestion.

"About three months ago when I was suffering from indigestion which caused headache and dizzy spells and made me feel tired and despondent, I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets," writes Mrs. Geo. Hon. Macdon, N. Y. "This medicine proved to be the very thing I needed, as one day's treatment relieved me greatly. I used two bottles of Chamberlain's Tablets and they did me more good than I could have expected to get from any other medicine."

JAMES-SISLER BOUT IS "U" DEMAND

Ann Arbor, Mich.—Ann Arbor is all worked up over her favorite sons in the big show. The town worships "Bill" James, the big hurler who has just joined the Tigers; while the campus pays homage to George Sisler who is making good with the St. Louis Browns.

Local fans are planning to make arrangements with the Detroit management for an Ann Arbor day sometime next month, when the Browns are at Navin field, and hope to have a pitcher's battle between Sisler and James carded for a definite date.

Sisler is more than making good on the claims made for him by college critics. He is leading his team in hitting, his average being .292 last week, as the result of 42 hits and 16 runs made in 46 games, during which he legally batted 144 times.

COBB CELEBRATES HIS TENTH YEAR

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 27.—Tyrus Raymond Cobb, often referred to as the greatest baseball player in the world, yesterday celebrated his tenth anniversary of his debut as a major league player. No special ceremony was planned by Detroit fans to mark the occasion but it was expected that Cobb would receive an unusual demonstration—and probably something more substantial—from his friends this afternoon when he stepped to the plate in the last game of the important series with Boston.

Cobb's path of fame which he blazed for himself has probably never been equaled in the history of baseball. For eight successive seasons he has been the champion batsman of the American league. His average for the present season is about .380 and it seems almost a human impossibility for any of his rivals to wrest the crown from his this year. No batter has ever made such a record.

GERMANS WILL FIGHT TO HOLD COMMERCE

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 27.—W. G. Harding, of the Federal Reserve Board told the Alabama Merchants Association here that the placing of cotton on the contraband list by the allies did not create a desperate situation but rather one calling for intelligent leadership. He urged Southern bankers to make concessions to finance the crop and predicted there would be international competition for the American crop despite the fact that it was contraband. Mr. Harding handled, for the Reserve Board, the arrangements for the hundred million dollar cotton loan fund. He explained to the Alabama merchants, however, that he was not speaking tonight for the Federal Board, but was giving his personal views.

"Germany," said Mr. Harding, "is as anxious to have cotton as the allies are to prevent her. It is not inconceivable that there may be evidence before very long of international competition for possession of the South's great staple. It is at least a possibility that cotton will be purchased in large quantities for foreign account and stored in southern warehouses, to be shipped out as needed and as opportunities for shipment arise."

"No one has ever accused the Germans of being lacking in far sightedness. They are already looking forward to what will happen when peace is restored and that they will make a supreme effort to recover their lost trade with other nations, cannot be doubted. Is it reasonable to believe that they would look with complacency upon the absolute control of the cotton market by the mills them to secure their supplies of cotton at very low prices and defer their own purchases until after peace is made and take the chances of securing them their own stocks at much higher prices? It is not reasonable to believe that they will arrange to buy cotton as the spinners of other nations buy it and can they not easily arrange to have the cotton stored in this country for their account until they can transport it to their own shores?"

OVERTURNED CAR IGNITES

Appleton, Wis., Aug. 27.—An automobile owned and driven by Frank Greenwald and containing six passengers turned turtle last night at Dillingham's Corners, when a culvert gave way under the car. The passengers were pinned beneath the car, which broke into flames. Mrs. Greenwald was bruised badly. The others suffered minor injuries. They were extricated from the wreckage by persons who were in the vicinity at the time.

Supply of Oil Assured. An oil bed in northern Alberta, Canada, is estimated by a British geologist to contain enough oil to satisfy the world's demand at the existing rate for some two thousand years.

FIELDERS HAVE THE SUREST AIM

New York, Aug. 27.—Wow! did you see that throw? Such an expression has been on the lips of almost every baseball fan dozens of times, as they have witnessed outfielders, after making a beautiful running catch, whip the ball from deep in the outfield to home plate without hesitating to consider the distance.

"Just like a shot from a rifle," these fans have added as the throws have spanked into the catcher's mitt in time to catch a runner attempting to score from third, and they marvelled at the accuracy. The fans would marvel still more if they knew that under the conditions the marksmanship of the outfielder was more accurate than would have been that of the average rifleman.

If some of the followers of the latter activity doubt this, just try running backward or sideways for 15 or twenty yards and then without hesitating attempt to make a bullseye 225 or 250 feet away. Then after you have fallen by several feet or yards, fess up.

The secret of the superior accuracy of the outfielder over the rifle man is instinct. The instinct to use the arm in throwing is one known to every boy and man and many girls and women. It evidences itself very early in life and the throwing of sticks and stones or other objects among boys of meager age, in a custom well known to everybody and recorded many hundreds of times on juvenile court records. This instinct is developed to the power in the major league ball player and it is because of this that his throwing, under the conditions he works, is more accurate than would be the marksmanship of the average rifleman under the same conditions.

Among the most accurate throwers in the big leagues today, the trio of Red Sox gardeners, Tris Speaker, Harry Hooper and Duffy Lewis, form the greatest collection. The St. Louis Browns boast Shotten; the St. Louis Cardinals, Wilson; the Washington Senators, Clyde Milan, and the Brooklyn Dodgers, Zeek Wheat and the New York Giants, George Burns, who with the three Bostonians class as the exclusive set of fine whipped outfielders.

M'FARLAND HAS AN EASY TIME

Chicago, Aug. 27.—Packey McFarland is finding the task of getting down to 146 pounds such an easy one, according to Manager Emil Thiry, that he will lay off today and discontinue until tomorrow his training for his $32,500 bout with Mike Gibona. Packey will move his training quarters to Bill O'Connell's loop gym tomorrow, where he will wind up his Chicago training. Packey will leave on Sunday for New York, to finish preparation for the go, which takes place on September 11.

McFarland took on four boys at the Collins A. C. yesterday, working nine fast rounds. Tommy Burke, a tough St. Louis middle weight, won three sessions with Packey and Leo McMahon, amateur champ, Joe Denger and Curtis Peters each mixed things up for two rounds. Thiry refused to say what the beam read when Packey stepped on the scales after the workout, but he intimated that the Irishman is finding it comparatively easy to get back into condition after his long layoff.

EMPLOYEES OF U. S. STEEL REAP PROFIT IN MARKET

Pittsburg, Aug. 27.—Employees of the United States Steel corporation, who bought their shares on the profit-sharing plan are large beneficiaries through the advance in its stocks during the last few weeks. Many of the employees purchased their preferred stock at as low as $52 a share, and those who have the common stock are in a position to realize even large profits, for the advance has been relatively larger. On the present basis of earnings, it is thought that a resumption of dividends on the steel corporation's preferred shares may be possible by the next January quarter, and pay is predicted for the stock.

PANAMA NEWSPAPERS RAP U. S. OFFICIALS

Panama, Aug. 26.—Although the joint land commission has suspended sitting because of the absence of one of the American commissioners, bitter attacks of the Panama Canal newspapers. Charges of unfairness and prejudice together with allegations of false testimony on the part of American land inspectors are made. The recent troubles of the land commission were due to the inability and the two American commissioners to reach agreements on amounts to be given certain claimants. The attacks on American canal officials are directed chiefly against Frank Feuille, special attorney in charge of the claims, although Governor Goethals also is receiving a share of the attacks.

For some time it has been the policy of the Panamanian members of the commission to be as liberal as possible with the claimants while on the other hand the two American members have been inclined to closely examine all claims brought before the commission. In this they have been upheld by the American canal officials. It is frequently pointed out by Mr. Feuille that the United States is already very liberal with claimants but is decidedly opposed to paying twice for the same tract of land to which the claimant has a doubtful title.

The relations of the canal officials and the two American commissioners are also somewhat strained. A recent award in which the two commissioners agreed with the Panama members was resented by the canal officials and incidentally brought down upon the American members a rebuke from Secretary of State Lansing. This award, while in itself unimportant, sets a precedent upon which the price of lands in the immediate vicinity would be established. It would mean the payment of approximately $2,000,000 more for the land than its present market value.

Governor Goethals has asked Secretary of War Garrison to endeavor to have the department of state arrange with Panama for some other means of settling land claims. He advocates the organization of a special claims court to sit in the Canal Zone from which claimants could appeal to a higher court in the United States. Diplomatic difficulties, however, confront this plan.

"THE SINS OF THE MOTHERS"

VITAGRAPH BLUE RIBBON FEATURE IN FIVE ACTS WITH ANITA STEWART AND EARLE WILLIAMS

"The Sins of the Mothers" is a story of gambling. The heroine is a beautiful girl. She loves cards. She loves races. She loves roulette. She loves all games of chance. She loves them with a passion that is a mania.

You know how the drug habit can grip a man, or the liquor habit. You know to what lengths it will lead him. This girl inherits a similar craving—a craving for gambling. It is born in her. Her mother before had the gambler's instinct. She secretly kept a gambling house.

You see this girl returning from a convent where her mother sent her as a child. You see her about to enter society. She is loved by a strong man. Her future is before her. She is taught to play cards. You see her heritage assert itself. You see it grip and hold her in its meshes. She can't resist it.

How it lures her! First to the bridge tables of fashionable society—then to the races—and finally to the notorious gambling hell formerly kept by her mother.

You see the great race track scene. You know how Vitagraph can stage a scene like this.

You see the inside of the gambling house—the gamblers. You see the raid by her husband who has become District Attorney. He doesn't know she is there. You see what happens.

All these things appear before you on the screen in Vitagraph reality.

PLATTSBURGH CAMP WILL BE CONTINUED

New York, Aug. 27.—Major Gen. Leonard Wood, commanding the department of the east, announced today that the camp at Plattsburgh, N. Y., where more than 1,000 business men have been receiving military instruction, would not be discontinued when the present volunteers will have completed their course in the elements of military training. The life of the camp, General Wood stated, had been extended to Oct. 17. Another group of men, he said, would occupy the camp beginning Sept. 8.

"CUPE" OLIVER IS D. A'S NEW NAME

D. A. Oliver is likely soon to become known among his friends as "Cupe" Oliver, because of his recent eminently successful efforts in behalf of the little God of love. For a number of years Mr. Oliver has been interested in Thorval Brandt, of Stonington. Likewise he was interested in Thorval's best girl, Mamie Erickson. Mr. Oliver's protegee recently lost his mother through death and found himself with an aged father and a large farm to care for. He found it impossible to look after both the house work and the farm and came to Escanaba to consult Mr. Oliver. Mr. Oliver took on the demeanor of a Solomon and proposed that he get married and thus solve the perplexing problem. The young man explained that financial barriers were in the way of that action no matter how greatly he might desire to follow out the suggestion. Mere monetary matters, Mr. Oliver asserted should not stand in the way of making two hearts glad, so he went out and made all the necessary arrangements. The young woman on whom Thorval had been centering his attentions was next called into consultation and she admitted that she would not be averse to a matrimonial union. The date was fixed and at the appointed time the bride and groom to be appeared at Mr. Oliver's store. Rev. Schidt, pastor of the Swedish Methodist church, was called to the store and ceremony was performed in the parlors of the store, with Mae Brotherton serving as maid of honor and Atty. H. J. Rushton as best man.

FIRM ORDERED TO MAKE NEW POLICY

Buffalo, Aug. 26.—The Eastman Kodak Co., Rochester, is a monopoly in restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, according to a decision by Judge John R. Hazel, United States district court.

The decision grants the defendant company an opportunity to present a plan "for the abrogation of the illegal monopoly" by Nov. 1.

The bill against the Eastman companies was filed in 1913. A month later, July 16, 1913, the company filed its answer, and for a year various attempts were made to bring about a settlement, the company agreeing to make changes in its selling policy, except fixing retail prices on its goods, which it contended was necessary for the protection of its customers against price cutting by retailers.

These offers, apparently, were unsatisfactory, and in 1914 the trial was opened and continued intermittently until May 15, 1915.

Restraints, the government declared, had been imposed on competing manufacturers and dealers by the company's terms of sale, which prohibited dealers selling Eastman goods from selling the goods of any other manufacturer, and fixed retail prices of the goods.

man on the Manistique team is ready and waiting for the gong that starts the game this afternoon. They will have had a god night's rest by then and their muscles will be twitching to be into action.

Manager Ike Schram was about town last night just as optimistic as ever about the games today and tomorrow declaring that there is no team in the upper peninsula that can beat the locals. All of the Independents were out for practice yesterday and they looked great to Captain Olmsted and Manager Schram. "Not since the season opened has my team shown up better," said Manager Schram last night.

Garland will probably be sent to hill today for the locals while Krause will be saved for tomorrow though it is possible that the order may be just to the occasion.

Manistique is not satisfied with the opinion of Claude Elliot alone as umpire but will have Gravelle of Rapid River to watch their interests today and Morley Bruce of Manistique to act in the same capacity on Sunday.

Anyway, the contest of this afternoon, is foremost in the minds of local fans and with the fair weather that is predicted it is expected that the attendance will be large.

The Belle C. Will make a regular trip every Sunday leaving the Merchant's dock at 10 a. m. and running to both docks at Stonington. Returning the boat will leave Stonington at 5 p. m.

CONVICT EDITOR OBTAINS PARDON

Stillwater, Minn., Aug. 27.—The editor of the Stillwater State Prison Mirror, whose writings have attracted considerable attention in Minnesota and in other states, has been granted clemency by the state board of parole and will depart from the prison before the end of the present week.

In the current issue of the paper the editor, whose name was not made public by the board of parole, bids farewell to his fellow convicts and expresses sadness at the parting, "although we have the joyful prospect of once more breathing free air and dwelling where one's soul can once more be one's own and God's."

"During our incarceration here," the editor continues, "we have learned one lesson never to be forgotten. We have learned there is pure gold here among all the dross; that there are within these walls as good and true hearts as ever dared to throb, men who would make the world better by living in it, were they all given the chance. We have formed deep-rooted friendships that will last until the last rays of life's light are extinguished. We now go out into the land of freedom to toil as only a free man can for those who are dearer to us than our own life ever can be. They who have had the fingers of scorn pointed at them from all nooks and corners; they who have suffered untold, indescribable hardships and deprivations because of our absence from the family hearth.

"Our greatest sorrow in saying good-bye is that we cannot take you all along to share our joy and freedom."

dom with us. But memory will keep enshrined your names on the tablets of our heart, stone walls and from bars shall not break the links of kindness and friendship.

"So good-bye, one and all; good-bye dear old Mirror. May you ever prosper and continue to bring cheer to those who may be so unfortunate as to get here from where we now go forth; may you ever continue to boldly proclaim the rights of the convicted men and women; may you never cease in the good cause for which you were intended and have steadfastly maintained and may the time soon come when you will prove to all as you have proved to man that the word convict does not particularly apply to any one class of people, but that those in prison are 'even as you and I'—just ordinary human beings."

TO PUNISH BELGIANS WHO WILL NOT WORK.

Punishment also is threatened to any person who hinders work ordered by the Germans, or who induces other persons to decline to work.
