

BIG CROWD IS CERTAIN

ESCANABA WILL BE WELL REPRESENTED AT STEPHENSON FAIR ON THURSDAY

No effort is being spared by members of the Escanaba Business Men's Association committee to allow Escanaba to be well represented at the big Cloverland Fair at Stephenson, on Escanaba Day, Thursday. Yesterday twenty-five car owners had sent in their signed intention of taking parties to Stephenson on that day and yesterday the garage owners of the city agreed to fix a charge of $2 a head for passengers to Stephenson and return on Thursday.

Officers of the Cloverland fair at Stephenson were the means of sending a large delegation to the Delta county fair here and it is the desire of the local business men's association to demonstrate to the Stephenson boosters that their efforts in behalf of the local fair were appreciated.

OPERATIONS PROVIDE FOR NEW SCHOOL

The opening of lumbering operations at Helena, by the Helena Land & Lumber Company, a corporation backed by local men, is to result in a new $2,000 school house being erected at Helena Junction. A correspondent says:

That the townships of Marquette county are keeping pace with the cities in the quality of school buildings being provided is shown by the many fine structures they have erected during the past few years.

Helena Junction, in Turin township is the latest place to plan to build a modern school structure. The Junction has just been established on the Northwestern main line, a short distance from McFarland, by the Helena Land & Lumber company, of which Stack and Glavin, of Escanaba, are the principal stockholders. The company has purchased a large tract of timber land there and a saw mill has been put in operation. A boarding house has been erected and several dwellings will be built during the next six months.

The township board has decided to submit to the voters bonds of $3,000 to be voted to erect the new school. Plans are being prepared, and will be submitted to the superintendent of public instruction for approval, in compliance with a law passed by the last legislature requiring such action.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED

About 60 people on Sunday evening very pleasantly surprised Mr. and Mrs. John McGuire at their home at 1117 Ludington St., in celebration of their fifteenth wedding anniversary. Most of the evening was spent at cards. Prizes were awarded to the winners who were Mrs. Robarge and Ben Clairmont, first, and Mrs. E. Maloche and Wm. Robarge, of Forest Lake, consolation prizes. Several musical selections were rendered during the evening. A lunch was served after which the guests departed offering congratulations and wishes for many such events in years to come.

STORE ESTABLISHED IN NEW QUARTERS

The work of moving the hardware and tinning establishment of Carl Johnson, from its old location to the new quarters provided for the firm in the Delft building, has been practically completed. The firm occupies the west storeroom of the new block, which has been especially fitted out for the tenant and will make for him one of the most attractive stores of its kind in the city.

STEPHENSON TO LEAD WORK

Grant T. Stephenson, formerly of this city, now of Milwaukee has been prevailed upon to head the organization of several divisions of the Wisconsin State Militia to be located in Milwaukee and other Wisconsin cities on Lake Michigan.

Of the plans of the former Escanaba, the Milwaukee Journal said: For the man who wants to combine recreation days on the water with instruction and discipline of value in his daily work and enabling him to play an important part should he be called upon to defend his country, no better opportunity is offered than that of the state naval militia, according to Capt. Grant T. Stephenson, commander of the Michigan Naval Militia, as consented to head the organization of several divisions of the Wisconsin Naval Militia in Milwaukee and other Lake Michigan cities.

"The men have the opportunity of instruction in navigation, signaling, wireless telegraphy, infantry drill, artillery drill, work with the ship guns, swimming, handling the small boats under oars and sails, marine and team engineering and, in some cases, aviation.

GRANGERS MEET TODAY

Grangers of Delta county will meet in Escanaba today for the annual session of the Pomona Grange. One of the important matters to come before today's session of the Grangers will be the selection of delegates to attend the state meeting to be held this winter.

NEW RECORD IS HUNG UP

W. P. Schuldes last night hung up a new alley record and a new bowling record for recent years in Escanaba when he downed the pins for a total of 278 at the Delft club alleys. After starting out with a spare in the first frame Schuldes hung up eight straight strikes. He spared in the tenth and on his final ball scored a strike. Since the opening of the Delft club alleys that club has been one of the most popular amusement places in the city. Each afternoon and evening a number of women spectators have been attracted to the club and within a short time it is hoped to organize regular bowling schedules for women and the establishment of regular afternoons for their appearance on the alleys. The set of alleys without question is among the best to be found in the northwest.

Miss Agnes Flemming, of Oshkosh, who has been visiting with relatives at Sault Ste. Marie, was in the city Monday evening on her way to her home.

NO BREAK THREATENED

RELATIONS BETWEEN GERMANY AND THE UNITED STATES DESCRIBED AS "MOST SATISFACTORY"

(Special to The Press.) Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—The United States and Germany are now nearer a settlement of their diplomatic controversies over the activities of German submarines than at any time since the Lusitania tragedy. This statement came today from a high authority.

The situation between the two governments is described by officials of the State Department as "conditionally satisfactory" which is interpreted to mean that while a definite agreement has not yet been reached, Secretary Lansing and the German Ambassador understand that they are in accord on the general questions. The state department made it plain today that there is no justification for intimations that the situation may again reach the acute stage.

YOUNG MOTHER IS SUMMONED

After an illness of nearly a year from diabetes, Mrs. Helmer Bruce, wife of the supervisor of Bark River township, passed away on Sunday evening, surrounded by members of her family.

Mrs. Bruce had spent all of her life in Bark River township and held the esteem of all who knew her. Her death has come as a shock to the community and as a deep personal loss to all who had enjoyed her friendship. In addition to her husband and three children, Mrs. Bruce is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Falk and a brother, Gustav Falk.

MOTHER OF TWO ESCANABANS DEAD

After an illness of a few weeks, the mother of T. M. and John Judson, of this city, passed away at the home of the family at Van Buren, Ind., on Friday and funeral services were conducted over the body on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Judson had frequently visited with her sons at their homes in this city and had formed the acquaintance of a number of Escanaba people. Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Judson had been at the bedside of Mrs. Judson for the past ten days.

WTT AND DRY CONDITIONS COMPARED

Comparing conditions in Florence county with those that now prevail in Iron county, under the dry regime, the Florence Mining News makes the following pertinent remarks: A few weeks ago we were bragging on not having a criminal case in Florence county on the Circuit Court calendar and, indeed, it is years since we had one, too. Circuit Court for Iron county opened at Crystal Falls on Monday and, according to the Diamond Drill, a heavy docket was listed, which included fifteen criminal cases, among which were several charged with violation of the liquor and local option laws. You remember Iron county went dry last spring and so up there that old saying, "Eat, drink and be merry," had to be revised by dropping the second word. Of course, comparing the two counties in area and population, there is quite a difference of fifteen criminal cases. No wonder we brag and we have reason too, for we have a record that cannot be duplicated in many counties of the United States. And you can bet your hat that we would rather live in good old Florence County, Wis., even if it is in the wet column, than in Iron County, Mich., where they have a host of criminal cases every term, including murder, burglary and all sort of other wicked cases.—Florence Mining News.

MINNEAPOLIS VOTES WET

(Special to The Press.) Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 4.—Returns up to a late hour tonight from practically all precincts of the city of Minneapolis give the wets a majority of 7300. Returns from Hennepin county, outside of the city of Minneapolis, are expected to cut down the lead gained by the wets in the city, but even the most sanguine dry leaders late tonight would not venture the opinion that the lead could be overcome.

Today's election was the culmination of one of the most strenuous wet and dry campaigns ever conducted in the United States. Both sides used every power within their control in bringing the issue before the voters. Until the results began to come in tonight the final result was only a matter of conjecture, although predictions were freely made that the wets would sweep the election.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Radloff, of Alfred, were in the city Monday on their way to Stephenson, where they will spend a few days visiting with relatives.

FACE A BREAK WITH TURKEY

UNITED STATES MAKES PROTEST AGAINST MASSACRE OF AMERICANS

(Special to The Press.) Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—The United States now faces an acute diplomatic controversy with Turkey. Aroused by accounts of Turkish atrocities against the Armenians, the state department today instructed Ambassador Morgenthau, at Constantinople, to make representations to the Turkish government. Further action by the United States will depend on the nature of the explanation the Turkish government makes. It is thought here tonight that if Turkey's assurances are not satisfactory and if there is no prospect of a decided improvement in conditions, the United States may go to the length of breaking off diplomatic relations on the ground that Turkey's attitude is contrary to the spirit and dictates of humanity.

SCHOOLS CLOSE ON WEDNESDAY

All of the public schools of the city will be closed at noon on Wednesday, to allow the corps of teachers engaged here, to attend the annual convention of the Upper Peninsula Education Association, which opens at Marquette on Thursday morning. Escanaba's delegation of teachers, for the greater part, will leave for Marquette on the afternoon train on Wednesday while the remainder will leave the city on the early morning train on Thursday morning. The sessions of the convention will open on Thursday morning and every session promises to prove among the most interesting ever to mark a convention of the association in the peninsula.

INJURY WAS DEATH'S CAUSE

Caught under the wheels of a car while switching in the north Soo Line yards, at Gladstone, yesterday, George Schaffer, was thrown under a car and both legs were crushed. Although physicians were immediately called and he was given every possible attention the accident victim passed away yesterday afternoon.

Schaffer was engaged in switching cars in the company's repair yards at Gladstone. As the engine was pushing a string of cars toward a car that he wished to pick up. He noticed that the switch bar was out of position and he walked between the cars to trisect the bar. He was caught and thrown across the track, four wheels of a heavy car passing over his legs. Both limbs were terribly crushed and he was rushed to the office of the company's surgeon where every thing possible was accomplished to save his life and alleviate the suffering of the injured man but at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon he passed away.

He is survived by his wife and four small children. He was one of the most popular employees of the Soo Line at Gladstone and his sudden death has come as a terrible shock to all who knew him.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Olson and son Chester, and Walter McKenzie motored to Nahma and Isabella on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. J. Muessel, of Minneapolis, who have been spending the past five weeks in this city, left Sunday night for Louisville, Ky., where Mr. Muessel will be employed.

GERMANS PUSH ALLIES BACK

TEUTONS REGAIN SOME OF THE GROUND TAKEN BY FRENCH AND BRITISH. BULGARIA SILENT TO RUSS DEMAND

(Special to The Press.) London, Oct. 4.—Violent and repeated counter attacks by the Germans, delivered in a persistent effort to re-establish themselves in work, captured from them by the Allies in Artols, resulted today in their scoring gains against both the British and French. The recovery of this straightens perceptibly the German line on both sides of the Salient, protecting Lens, which has its apex at Angres.

After bitter fighting of a hand to hand character, during which the losses to both sides were heavy and the British resistance was splendid the Germans succeeded in establishing themselves in the greater part of the Hohenzollern redoubt, which, with the Wilhelm II, works, were among the highest prized British captures in their advance of ten days ago. Field Marshal French, while admitting this German gain, declares the British are holding their own on the remainder of their front.

South around Somme, where the hills of Givency rise to the heights that command an unbroken view of the Germans leveled the French works and gained a foothold. On the other hand, just northwest of Givency, the Germans admit the French have captured a section of a trench which they still hold.

(Special to The Press.) London, Oct. 4.—The time limit set by Russia in her demand upon Bulgaria to openly break with Germany, Austria and Turkey and to expel troops her borders German and Austrian military officers, expired this afternoon.

So far as is known here at midnight the Sofia government has not replied. Meanwhile military activities on every vital frontier of the Balkan theater are increasing, indicating a determination on the part of the hostile commanders to be prepared for any eventuality.

WOODLAWN GIRL GOES UNDER CAR

Thrown in front of a hand car while riding on one of those rail vehicles on Sunday, Miss Marion Sparks, of Woodlawn, escaped fatal injury miraculously on Sunday. She was doubled up and crushed beneath the car, which passed over her body but escaped with an injury to her spine, which it is not believed will confine her to St. Francis hospital here for more than a week. She was riding on the hand car when one of the handles struck her, throwing her to the track in front of the machine. Before it could be stopped the car had passed over her body.

ESCANABA MAN IS HEAVY LOSER

Fire destroyed property valued at $10,000, owned by Cornelius Callagher of this city, at Beaver Island. The building was one of the largest at St. James and was a frame structure which furnished food for fierce flames, that could not be combated only by a bucket brigade.

WHAT DOES HE CARE? The balance in the general fund of the state treasury fell below the $1,000,000 mark, when the vouchers for the semi-monthly payroll were sent out by State Treasurer Hauger. The general fund contained $889,000. Auditor General Fuller wrote to all state institutions asking them to withhold big demands until January. State Treasurer says that if the state boards cooperate there will be enough in the general fund to pay salaries of all state employes and meet minor expenses.

PRESS MEN TO SEE BATTLE LINE

Berlin, Oct. 4.—The German staff recently invited newspaper men from neutral countries, United States, Holland and Roumania, to inspect the battle.

"They first went to Champagne, where they were permitted to question German soldiers and captured French soldiers, and also to view the field and trenches when under French fire.

BROADWAY JAMMED WITH REVELERS

New York, Oct. 4.—Broadway was jammed Saturday night on the high wave of prosperity—and riding merrily. Following a week of the wildest speculation Wall street has seen in years, a week in which fortunes have been won and lost in almost the twinkling of an eye, cafes and white light retreats were jammed.

Delmonico's, Rector's Sherry's, Shanley's, Churchill's, the Garden, Jack's—every place known to revelers was crowded.

"I've been on Broadway for years," said the manager, "and barring New Year's eve, I never saw anything like this. They began to come tonight as soon as it was dark and they'll be here all night."

DON'T RUIN YOUR HANDS ON A WASH-BOARD

USE SKITCH

Many beautiful hands have been spoiled in the wash-tub. Don't spoil yours—it isn't necessary. Rubbing clothes on a washboard is the clumsy, old-fashioned way of cleaning them.

The modern, scientific way is to mix three teaspoonsful of Skitch with your soap, according to directions, and boil the clothes 20 minutes. Then rinse in lukewarm water, blue—and you're through!

The clothes come out of the boiler spotlessly white—the cleanest wash you ever saw—and not a thread of the finest fabric injured.

If your grocer doesn't sell Skitch send his name to Hans Pichtelberg, Milwaukee, Wis., and a free sample will be sent you.

WILSON OPENS CABINET MEET WITH PRAYER

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 4.—How President Wilson led his cabinet in prayer at a recent meeting, was told here by Bishop William F. Anderson of Cincinnati at a session of the Indiana Methodist Episcopal conference.

"When the president arrived at the cabinet meeting," said the bishop, "his face wore a solemn look. It was evident the serious affairs of the nation were on his mind. He said to cabinet members, 'I don't know whether you men believe in prayer or not. I do. Let's pray and ask the help of God.'

And right there the president of the United States fell upon his knees and the rest of the members of the cabinet did the same. The president offered a prayer to God."

WOLVERINE OUTLOOK MORE FAVORABLE

Ann Arbor, Oct. 2.—The arrival of Maultsches, Benton and Watson greatly improved the University of Michigan football outlook.

Reimann also arrived yesterday to grab a tackle job, and the encampment was reinforced by the arrival of Skinner, a youth who threatened to play center for a time last fall and who is very likely to be a formidable candidate this season for the pivot job.

Inasmuch as Reimann weighs 200 and Skinner 20 pounds more, there is every reason to believe that Yost will have better than a 200-pound line from tackle to tackle this year. A majority of the likely candidates are crowding the 200-pound point this date are year and several are above it. With these veterans pouring into camp, the big question of what Yost would have this year is beginning to clear up. Cochrane, Watson, Reimann Norton, Howe, Skinner, Rehoh, and two or three others seem to provide a wealth of line material, and Benton Staats and Dunne are flank certainities. Pat Smith is sure to play full, and Maultsches will tote the ball from a halfback angle. Calvin seems to be getting by as quarterback, and only the other half is in much doubt. Hildner is believed to have the call, but it is believed that it will be filled this year as last with a flock of young gentlemen who will enter and depart from the games as conditions warrant their presence.

SAYS HE QUIT FEDERAL LEAGUE

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 2.—"I'm going to win this pennant for St. Louis and then quit the Federal league," said Fielder Jones after yesterday's game.

"President Gilmore and Chief Umpire Brennan have got my goat. Gilmore is a smart business man, a first class promoter, but he doesn't know how to run a baseball league."

"The umpires have been rubbing it into St. Louis from the jump. Take the case of Umpire O'Brien yesterday for instance. He put me out of the game for merely suggesting that he merely run his own part of the game and allow McCormick to call the balls and strikes. O'Brien was working on the bases. I noticed him running in every time the pitcher tossed the ball in the ball in the seventh and told him where to get off at."

"Why don't you mind your own business and let McCormick run the plate, I said."

"Get off the field," retorted O'Brien. "He put me off too," added Jones. I had to sit in the coop and saw wood while Stovall did as he pleased, Geo. fights on the field and isn't suspended. But the moment I opened my mouth Gilmore suspended me for three days for talking."

Stovall came up while Jones was talking and slapped the enraged St. Louis manager on the shoulder good naturedly.

"Quit your kidding," roared Stovall. "I never was more serious," replied Jones, as he walked away.

M.A.C. PLANS TO AID HOUSEWIVES

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 2.—Housewives throughout the state will be at liberty this fall and henceforth to submit knotty household problems to the women's department of M. A. C. for solution.

In a bulletin just given out by the extension department of the college, an announcement has been made of the establishment of a bureau of information for women. Letters mailed to this department, whether they be from city or country woman, will be answered, if possible, by the home economics experts of the college and by members of the home economics extension staff.

An additional department for the benefit of women will be one known as that of "household engineering." Women have been invited by the college to avail themselves of this department for advice relating to water and sewage disposal systems for country homes.

"Assistance towards the solution of this problem is offered to communities where a small number of householders or farmers wish to have a specialist call at their homes and give advice concerning the installment of such systems as are suited to their needs," the bulletin announces.

O. E. Robey, of the farm mechanics department of M. A. C., is acting in the capacity of household engineer. In addition to the departments of household engineering and the information bureau, the college this year will further aid women of Michigan with a series of extension schools, demonstrations and lectures.

DAILY LETTER

The feature of the copper share market today was the continued strength in Miami. A few minutes after the closing a $1.00 dividend was announced as compared with 50 cents last quarter and this accounts for the strength. The balance of the coppers were inclined to be reactionary. Lack of activity more than anything else caused the slight declines. The New York list was choppy all day. Early American Locomotive, American Can were strong while around the noon hour Reading took the lead. In the last few minutes of trading the market did not absorb the realizing sales as rapidly as it did early and prices generally were lowered. We cannot help but feel that the coppers should do better, and that sooner or later the interest that is now centered in the war-stocks will be turned to the coppers.

UNDERWRITERS HIT BY RECENT STORMS

Marine underwriters will pay some big losses as a result of accidents on the Great Lakes during the last week. The smallest steamer in trouble has the largest proportionate loss.

The Arabian, which was beached at Wilson Harbor, Lake Ontario, Saturday, has a cargo of nitrate worth close to $75,000. The nitrate will be a total loss. The ship itself probably will be a total loss. She is 178 feet keel with a carrying capacity of 1,200 tons, of wood and steel, and was built in 1892. She probably was not worth more than $25,000.

Wreckers succeeded in reaching the steamer Lackawanna, ashore on Gull Island, Lake Michigan, Monday morning. The storm Saturday and Sunday prevented the wreckers doing anything and when they got to the Lackawanna they found her seriously damaged. The Lackawanna has a cargo of corn aboard, which, Capt. Alex Cunningham of the wrecker Favorite telegraphed is more than half wet. He estimated he could save 40,000 bushels of dry grain.

The extent of the damage to the steamer Western Star, wrecked at Claperton Island, Georgian bay, has not been known until Surveyor C. H. Lincoln, representing the underwriters has made an examination and a diver has examined the submerged part of the ship's hull. The vessel's bow is stove in to the bulkhead with a hole near the forefoot. The ship is under water from her No. 3 hatch aft. Her bow is out of water and the storm of Saturday and Sunday did not seem to move the boat any.

The underwriters have called for bids for realizing the Western Star. This will give the wreckers time to examine the ship, which they were notified to do Saturday as bids for her release would be asked this week. If the Western Star's hull is seriously damaged, there is danger of her being broken by the weight of her cargo, and the raising of the ship may be a more complicated job than it otherwise would be.

She is insured for $200,000 and to be a total loss wrecking expense and repairs must amount to about $152,000.

BISHOP MEETS MANY PRIESTS

Green Bay, Wis., Oct. 4.—Bishop Paul Peter Rhode, who assumed charge of the Green Bay Catholic diocese following his installation Wednesday night, made the acquaintance of practically every priest in his new diocese at a banquet Thursday night.

Several hundred churchmen, who came for the installation ceremony, remained for the event. Among the speakers were Bishop Rhode, Msgr. Lochmann of Kaukauna and Rev. Joseph Hans of Beloit, state champion of the Knights of Columbus.

The new bishop performed his first function in this diocese by celebrating requiem high mass for the repose of the soul of his predecessor, Rt. Rev. Joseph J. Fox.

Bishop Rhode announced today the appointments of Msgr. P. G. Lochman, as vicar general and Rev. Joseph A. Marx, as secretary and chancellor of the diocese. He also reappointed the consultors.

Msgr. Lochman held the office of vicar general while Bishop Fox served the Green Bay diocese. He is a Green Bay man and has spent over twenty years in the priesthood. He is pastor of St. Mary's church at Kaukauna. Father Marx became secretary to Bishop Fox several years after his appointment.

DRIVER'S NEGLIGENCE MUST BE MADE CLEAR

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 4.—An opinion of the supreme court rendered today affects automobile owners throughout the state in dealing directly with the oft-occurring incident of a child suddenly running from a curb or roadside in front of a machine. The court ruled that the mere accident itself is not proof that the driver of the car is negligent, that his negligence must be absolutely proved in order that damages may be recovered.

The decision was made in a case originating in Detroit.

Justice Steere, who wrote the opinion, ruled: "Drivers upon highways are held as insurers against accident arising from negligence of children or their parents, and though in law, such negligence in a particular case may not be a defense as contributory negligence, for a driver also guilty of negligence, the fact of an accident does not establish liability or raise a presumption that the driver is negligent." The court has never before given the auto driver, in so many words, the good standing he has under this decision.

M'LAUGHLIN ASKS BETTER DEFENSE

Muskegon, O. Oct. 4.—That congress at its next session should make preparation to put the United States in an adequate state of defense is the opinion expressed by Congressman James C. McLaughlin of Muskegon, representative of the Ninth Michigan district. Two steps should be taken, he asserts, to properly prepare the nation for defense against attacks by land forces.

"There should be an increase in the size of the regular army of the United States, and the federal government should encourage the payment of proper compensation to those young men who devote their time and services to military drill in a regular organized company. What increase should be made in the regular army to put it in shape to resist invasion of this country by a foreign power, I am not now in a position to say, but the navy board will present its plans and estimates of the country's needs at the next session of congress when accurate figures may be obtained. At the next session of congress when accurate figures may be obtained. At the present time the regular army of the United States consists of from 125,000 to 150,000 men, but these are so scattered, in the Philippines, along the Mexican border, in Alaska and in forts and army posts all over the country where their presence is imperative. Actually the nation has a mobile force of only about 25,000 men that could be used to resist invasion. This is 15,000 less men than a single German army corps. When such little nations as the Netherlands have 300,000 men trained to bear arms, the inadequacy of the United States is made apparent."

New York, Oct. 4.—Dr. Dernburg, formerly unofficial agent for the kaiser in this country, is reported by The Berliner Tageblatt of Sept. 3 as having said before the German Economic Union for Central and South America that the German people must meet the adverse criticism of the world by conducting themselves with greater humility.

"Germany has few friends in the world," he said. "If the war should last a long time, German trade would be compelled to seek new fields and the task of winning back lost territory would be more difficult."

"We have not understood the psychology of South Americans, and not South Americans alone. It is a mistake to say that merely envy and ill-will are to blame for this, for ourselves have frequently insulted this psychology by our methods. The less self-exaltation, the more friends we shall win."

WEATHER CUTS HONEY CROP

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 4.—The "little busy bee" in Michigan was robbed of almost a quarter of a million dollars worth of honey by the weather during the past summer, according to F. E. Millen, state inspector of apiaries.

Mr. Millen, who keeps in close touch with the honey-making industry in the state today estimated that no more than a half crop will be harvested by the beekeepers this season. The weather was so wet for a large part of the season that bees were unable to reach the blooms and so were prevented from collecting honey.

The honey crop in Michigan is in normal years placed in the neighborhood of a half-million dollars. The loss of half the crop will accordingly mean a loss of something like $250,000 this season for keepers of apiaries.

DR. DERNBURG UGES HUMILITY

New York, Oct. 4.—Dr. Dernburg, formerly unofficial agent for the kaiser in this country, is reported by The Berliner Tageblatt of Sept. 3 as having said before the German Economic Union for Central and South America that the German people must meet the adverse criticism of the world by conducting themselves with greater humility.

"Germany has few friends in the world," he said. "If the war should last a long time, German trade would be compelled to seek new fields and the task of winning back lost territory would be more difficult."

"We have not understood the psychology of South Americans, and not South Americans alone. It is a mistake to say that merely envy and ill-will are to blame for this, for ourselves have frequently insulted this psychology by our methods. The less self-exaltation, the more friends we shall win."

TUMULTY NOOD STIRS WRITER

Washington, Oct. 4.—Secretary Joseph P. Tumulty's gestures and the tones of his voice set newspaper writers a whacking their typewriters. For Mr. Tumulty is the president's mouth-piece, and for the first time in the memory of a generation the president is going it almost alone in the handling of great national crises.

Washington correspondents, who usually know exactly what ought to be done, can't make up their minds these days until they have "seen Tumulty." At 10 every morning Secretary Tumulty sits at his desk with twenty or thirty correspondents grouped about him, their ears strained to catch his every inflection. He says very little. His manner is informal and he uses slang as he jokes with the newspaper men.

If an intelligent layman now to Washington had attended one of these conferences recently he'd have left the White house with the impression that Mr. Tumulty had a grouch that morning and that he didn't approve of a certain Washington dispatch in a certain New York paper. To the news paper men who know him the few casual words let drop by the president's secretary spoke volumes. That afternoon papers from New York to Manila heaped another "crisis"—this time a real one. President Wilson would insist on a disavowal of the Atlantic sinking as a continuing diplomatic relations.

Mr. Tumulty's name is seldom mentioned and he is almost never quoted. Every day the Washington dispatches speak of "high administration officials," "White house circles," or of "friends of the president." Nine times out of ten they mean Mr. Tumulty. To the correspondent who knows every detail in the progress of diplomatic negotiations and every angle of the international situation, ten words and a gesture by Tumulty can be turned into a dispatch long enough to fill a column on the first page, and every word of it reasonably accurate.

"The Daily Planet had a good story this morning," says Tumulty to one of the correspondents in his most casual manner. Ten minutes later there is a rush for The Planet and within an hour the wires are carrying an approximately accurate statement of the president's position in the Dumba matter or the stage of negotiations on the submarine issue. Yet until Tumulty had uttered his careless comment the Planet's story probably represented merely a correspondent's lucky guess.

The man who trusts to gestures and inflections to guide the thought of a nation, when peace and war are in the scales, must be an artist; and Tumulty is that. These daily conferences are something like a game and the newspaper man who knows it well enjoys playing it. He finds it exhilarating to pick out the big news from twenty minutes of small talk. Part of the game is to act as though one of these chance remarks meant no more than the talk about the weather or the latest poke, between which they are often sandwiched. There is an unspoken understanding that Tumulty will say exactly as much as he wishes to say, and no more. He is never asked to confirm or explain.

It speaks well for the way things are done at the executive offices that the correspondents don't hesitate to "go strong" on one of Tumulty's "tips." Sometimes these tips are almost as intangible as thought-suggestion. If the correspondent were asked for a verbatim quotation from Tumulty justifying his conclusions he could not think of a single sentence that would be admitted as evidence. Yet few mistakes are made, and regulations from the White House are rare. There are none of the stories, prevalent in other days, of the president using the press to send out "feelers" and then reversing his attitude if the public's reaction proved unfavorable.

STEPHENSON TO LEAD

(Continued From Page One) The opportunity for travel and the broadening that travel brings is one of the great advantages in being sent to the naval militia. This year the Yantic, my ship stationed at Sisco, Mich., cruised 1,600 miles on the two weeks' trip into Lake Erie. Besides, there were frequent week-end trips.

"There is sure to be opportunity to visit all the big lake ports, and every few years the navy department sends the militia to the coast, to see ocean ports, battleships and navy yards. In case of war, the bluejackets of course get a much wider experience. During the Spanish-American war the Michigan divisions manned the U. S. S. Yosemite. The rule of the navy department provides that militia forces are called before any volunteer force."

"The most attractive part of the work is the yearly cruise. This year the Great Lakes fleet assembled off Erie, Pa., Aug. 11, where Capt. Klein, of the United States navy, took command. He immediately prescribed a six-day course of drills and exercises, for small boats under sails and oars, target practice by individual ships, etc. There was shore liberty each night by sections. After the fleet disbanded, Aug. 17, the ships were given permission to visit Buffalo, Cleveland or Detroit.

"The men are accorded the best accommodations the ship assigned will afford. The rations are good. In the Michigan naval militia, the bluejackets are served the same menu as the officers. Some idea of the quality of the provisions can be gained from the fact that the supplies, exclusive of the cost of preparing, cost 15 cents a day per man.

"If a man enters the deck division, the knowledge he gets of navigation will be a pleasure to him, even when he is on board a steamer just as a passenger. If he joins the engineers' division—which he will not do unless he has some technical knowledge and interest—he will receive valuable experience which will assist him in his daily work."

Some idea of the ethical value of the training may be gleaned from the instructions in the manual for officers and men: Be alert and attentive to your duties. Engage in no other occupation than the duties of your station. Keep on your feet and do not lounge. Speak in clear and distinct voice in reporting or delivering a message. In case of accident, do exactly as your superiors do, and do not get excited. Always relieve on time.

The manual says further: "The average militiaman has independence of character, and is self-reliant, strong and intelligent, and is frequently a man of broad and liberal culture and has the strongest sense of personal honor, dignity and self-respect. This is the kind of men who must constitute the militia in time of war, and we must rely especially upon such to arouse the people to patriotic action and to lead them forth to the defense of the country in time of peril."

"That describes exactly the kind of man we want in the divisions now forming in Milwaukee," said Capt. Stephenson. "My experience has led me to know that intelligent, enthusiastic men of the highest type of character are an asset to a ship's company, while a man below the average in intelligence or of questionable character is a liability. The applications before us indicate that the Milwaukee divisions will have no superior force on the Great Lakes, once they are properly equipped, trained and supported by the state."

Miss Elsie White, of Kipling was in the city Monday evening, on her way to Salt Lake City, where she will make her future home.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Burroughs, of Kipling, were in the city Monday evening on their way to Salt Lake City, Mo., where they will make their future home.

NOTES ON BOOKS AT THE LIBRARY

The books reviewed below are to be found on the shelves of the Public Library:

Nua Mary, by Una Hunt. Scribner. $1.25.

True and compelling reminiscences of the author's childhood, well told. The reader catches frequent glimpses of his own youth, and this is Mrs. Hunt's real reason for writing the book, as she says in her preface. It is a charming story and will delight its readers.

The Whole Year Round, by Dallas Lore Sharp. Houghton. $2.

Refreshing, entertaining, and unusual nature essays. They are characterized by humor, imagination, and poetic feeling, and the individuality that always marks Mr. Sharp's books.

The essays in this book are grouped according to season. Surely, we feel Spring in the air when we see such a chapter-title as "Spring! Spring! Spring!" or "The Spring Running!" And what is a "February Freshet" if not a prophecy of Spring!—This book will delight children as well as grownups.

How to Become a Citizen of the United States of America (Wie werde ich Burger der Vereinigten Staaten von Amerika?), by Charles Kallmeyer. $1.25.

A practical and simple little book, in both English and German, for the alien who is anxious to become a citizen of this country. It summarizes the necessary qualifications and gives procedure for taking out papers, etc. The Joyful Heart, by R. H. Schauf-

fer. Houghton. $1.25.

Mr. Schauffer calls his book "a guide-book to joy" and again "a manual of enthusiasm," and there are no phrases which could better describe this altogether charming little volume of essays. It is brimming over with enthusiasm and optimism—a book for "the sad, the bored, the tired, anxious, disheartened and disappointed." How to Show Pictures to Children, by Estelle M. Hull. Houghton. $1.00.

An excellent book—clear, practical and suggestive—filling a long felt need of parents and teachers. The chapter on "The Name of Picture-posting" is especially interesting.

FORESTS ARE PUT TO GREATER USE

Washington, Oct. 4.—There were 18,342 special-use permits in force on the National Forests on June 30 last, according to figures just compiled by the U. S. Forest Service to show the various uses to which the public is putting the government land involved. The list includes 59 apiaries, 3 brick yards, 31 canneries, 39 cemeteries, 9 churches, 1 cranberry marsh, 32 fish hatcheries, 1 golf links, 43 hotels, 1 astronomical observatory, 10 fox and rabbit ranches, 1,085 residences, 74 resorts and club houses, 3 sanitariums, 500 sawmills, 163 schools (9 slaughter houses, 57 stores, 16 municipal water-sheds, and 182 water power sites, with many other uses. Fees collected on 7,895 of these permits contributed a total of $175,840.40 to the general forest revenues, but 10,447 of the permits were issued without charge.

The permits cover more than 1,087,000 acres and 15,041 miles of right-of-way, granted for various purposes, these figures including 173,121 acres for municipal water-sheds; 6,572 miles for telephone lines, and 80,585 acres and 1,919 miles for reservoirs, canals, pipe lines, and other irrigation and domestic supply works.

The steady growth of National Forest business is shown in columns of yearly figures going back to the last century. Between 1891, when the first forests were established, and 1900 there were only six timber sales. The number in 1915 was 10,905. The number of free timber permits has risen from 283 in 1901 to 40,000 in 1915, and of grazing permits from 2,317 in 1901 to 30,610 in 1915. The special use permits, which were only 298 up to the end of 1905, were increased by 5,657 in 1915, making a total during the last 11 years of 42,368. Of these 18,342 are now in force.

THE DELFT

One of the most unusual screen features ever shown in Escanaba is the picture offering at the Delft today. Midnight at Maxim's is its title and in its course shows four acts of a cabaret show at the famous New York grill. In addition to the feature film Otto and Olivia, in a comedy juggling act, will provide the vaudeville number of the program.

THE STRAND

THE GRAND

The Courtney Stock Company opened an engagement at the Grand theater last night and will remain for two weeks at the popular local playhouse, presenting tabloid productions of famous dramas. A Woman's Revenge is the title of the current bill that will be changed on Thursday. The company is well balanced and clever and last night pleased a large audience. One performance will be given each evening with a matinee and two evening performances on Sunday.

HELD FUNERAL HERE YESTERDAY

A large number of sorrowing friends and relatives yesterday morning paid their final respects to the memory of John Fitzpatrick, of Oakland, Cal., formerly of this city, at St. Patrick's church. Rev. Father Barth officiated at the service and interment was at St. Joseph's cemetery. Members of the local division of the Ancient Order of Hibernians attended the funeral in a body and accompanied the body to its final resting place. Members of the party who accompanied the body to Mr. Fitzpatrick's boyhood home brought the story of the death of the unfortunate man who was a structural iron worker, in charge of a crew of men. While directing operations at a tremendous height he lost his balance, while standing on a narrow beam, and plunged headlong to the ground. His back was broken in the fall and he lived for but 30 minutes after the terrible plunge.

ESCANABA HORSE PROVIDED SENSATION

Of the accident in which an Escanaba horse figured at the Menominee county races last week, the Herald-Leader said:

Three hotly contested races; the fastest time made on the track during the fair and a run-a-way went toward making yesterday's card the best that Menominee horse lovers have seen in a long time.

It was in the first lap of the third heat in the 2:20 trot that Baron J. Cecil stirred up a little extra excitement for the spectators by making a mad dash past the grand stand without her driver in the sulky.

The first two heats in the race had been very hotly contested between the Baron and Witon Clansman. In the third Jule Brannon of Marinette was driving his horse to the limit trying to win out and thus have a chance of taking the event as he did the 2:20 trot on the day before.

While the two leaders were flying past the horse barns at break neck speed the lines snapped. Brannon sat in the cart for a few rods and then did the only thing he possibly could from the standpoint of safety. He jumped but the speed of the cart turned him completely over and he landed on his head and shoulders.

He was far enough away so that there was no danger of his being run over by the other horses. He picked himself up and went to the side of the track. His face was cut and bruised and his shoulders were cut. In the meantime his horse pounded on past the grandstand.

Mrs. Brannon, wife of the driver, was seated in the stand and saw the accident. She did not become excited and but few persons realized that the man's wife had witnessed the accident. The horse was caught at the other barns opposite the Agricultural building.

STEPHENSON PARTY NOW AT HOME

Marinette, Wis., Oct. 4.—Senator Stephenson and family party returned this morning after a three weeks trip to the senator's old home in New Brunswick. They visited in Boston, St. Johns, Frederickton and Florenceville, N. B., and Montreal, spending two days in the latter place. At Florenceville they visited relatives of the senator. One of the former was an aged lady two years older than the senator. At Fredrickton they were unable to obtain hotel accommodations and had to stop at a private house because the annual agricultural fair was on. William Stephenson, speaking of the trip said today: "We found Canada really more prosperous than the United States. Everyone there seems to be busy and times are good."

Then and Now.
"You must not be so quarrelsome, Willie" said William's father, impressively. "Remember that the meek shall inherit the earth." "Maybe they will hereafter," responded the young militant, "but around at my school they are used to wipe up the earth."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.
