

PRES. WILSON TO WED SOON

ENGAGEMENT OF NATION'S EXECUTIVE TO A WASHINGTON WIDOW WAS ANNOUNCED LAST NIGHT

(Special to The Press.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 6.—The engagement of Mrs. Norman Galt, of Washington, to President Woodrow Wilson, was announced at the White House tonight.

Mrs. Galt, who will be the first lady of the land, is the widow of a business man of Washington, Norman Galt, a partner in a prominent jewelry firm, who died eight years ago.

The president met his fiancée through his daughter, Miss Margaret Wilson and his cousin, Miss Helen Woodrow Bones, who is a member of the White House household.

Fourteen months ago today the president's first wife, who was Miss Ellen Axson, died in the White House.

Mrs. Galt's resemblance to the late Mrs. Wilson has frequently excited comment. She is strikingly pretty; in the late thirties; slightly below the medium height, and has a graceful, rather plump figure.

HUNTING LAWS CAUSE CONFLICT

The Michigan legislature in passing the code of game laws now in effect had no intention of depriving boys under 17 years old of the privilege of hunting, according to Senator George Williams, of Calumet.

Recently an interpretation of the game laws made public by the attorney-general points out that inasmuch as no provision is made for granting gun licenses to boys under 17 years of age, and no hunter is allowed in the woods without a license, the effect of the laws recently passed are to deprive boys under 17 of the privilege of hunting.

There is no reason why boys should be kept out of the woods, according to Senator Williams, and in preparing the gun license provision the legislature took in consideration the fact that most boys of this age are accompanied by adult hunters, usually someone of the same family, who goes into the woods.

LOCALS ARE SLUGGERS

Members of the Escanaba baseball team of this season take the rolls of the slugging demons of the northwest when their performance against Harvey Stock, star pitcher of the Lake Shore League, in a recent game at Oconto, is compared with Stock's effectiveness against the All Stars of his league in a game played in Milwaukee on Sunday.

Of Stock's performance in Milwaukee on Sunday the Milwaukee Leader said: Three runs in the sixth on a walk, three hits and a passed ball, gave the Milwaukee Leaders the game with the Lutz All Stars before 2,000 fans in Athletic park.

MARCH ON STEPHENSON

LOCAL BOOSTERS TO PARTICIPATE IN ESCANABA DAY AT BIG CLOVERLAND FAIR

"On to Stephenson" will be the slogan of Escanaba's business population today. Escanaba Day will be observed at the big Cloverland Fair, at Stephenson today and this city will turn out a delegation that will give to the fair officials there a true realization of the extent of Escanaba's desire to make the Stephenson fair a success.

Up to last night a total of 55 auto owners had signified their intention of talking parties to Stephenson today and if the sun shines that number, it is believed, will be boosted to at least 75.

In addition to those who will make the trip by auto, many will go to Stephenson on the forenoon North Western train, with members of the Escanaba Military Band, which has been engaged to furnish a musical program throughout the afternoon at the big Stephenson show.

It is hoped that Escanaba will have at least 500 people on the grounds at the Stephenson fair this afternoon, in reciprocation of the visit made to the local fair by residents of Stephenson and to express the desire of local business houses to cement closer industrial and social relations that exist between the people of this city and the people of Stephenson.

PURSE WAS SNATCHED

Walking to her home, on North Sarah street, early last night, Mrs. Owen Connahan was robbed of her purse containing $40. As Mrs. Connahan neared a dark alley on the street she met a young man walking in the opposite direction.

The robbery was reported to the police officials but up to a late hour last night no arrests had been made.

FRENCH GAIN ADVANTAGE

MOST IMPORTANT GAIN OF PRESENT DRIVE REGISTERED IN CHAMPAGNE DISTRICT

(Special to The Press.)

London, Oct. 6.—The most important advance yet scored by the French in the present offensive in Champagne was made at the point of the bayonet today, when they carried by an infantry assault the village of Tahure and the summits of Tahure hill, taking over one thousand German prisoners.

By this advance the French have cut the second line of defense of the Germans and have established themselves at a point of vantage, where their heavy artillery will have a commanding sweep of the Chalouange-Bazancourt railway line, one of the most vital arteries of supply for the German army on this front.

IT'S ALWAYS FRAUD WHEN DEFEAT COMES Following the decisive victory gained by the "wets" in the election of this week at Minneapolis, Nev. George B. Stafford, of Minneapolis, head of the "dry" organization, in commenting on the vote, said: "It now appears that the 'wets' have carried the election, but we do not yet concede it. If it had not been for the grossest frauds and illegal voting there would have been no doubt about the result. We are still in the ring, however, and if we are defeated, shall bide our time. "There has been the most shameful violation of law by the 'wets' wagonload after wagonload of illegal voters having been taken to the polls. "A prominent leader of the local option forces in Delta county, when seen yesterday in relation to the charges of fraud made by the "Drys" following the Minneapolis election, said that, unquestionably, the charges were true. "I have followed the campaign in Minneapolis closely and I am sure that the 'wets' won through fraud," said he. "Our forces were well organized and nothing but gross fraud could have beaten us. "The statements made by both the Minneapolis and the local dry leaders are truly the truthful version of every election in which that faction is defeated. An instance is yet to be recorded in the United States where the 'drys' have admitted their defeat by fair means. On the other hand when they score a victory it is the grossest violation with fraud, each "dry" victory, in their egotistical opinion, being a triumph for right. "Neither the 'dry' leaders in Minneapolis or their sympathizers in Delta county are big enough to admit that their cause was decisively beaten at the polls on Monday because the taxpayers, the men who pay the community's bills, would not subscribe to a hobby that imposed on them unreasonable penalties. Even in the face of one of the most decisive defeats given the dry movement in recent years, the childish cry of fraud is related to mask the weakness of their organization.

It's these days when the frost should be on the pumpkin, but where's the pumpkin?

These days its greatly a question whether your objection to overcoats can be outweighed by your fondness for mince pies.

Bulgaria wanting to go to war is a lot like Troy wanting to let in that wooden horse.

In these days a teacher's convention is looked forward to by the small boy with almost the fondness of Christmas, for it means a vacation.

When a fellow begins to clean up the woodshed in preparation for the winter's stock of fuel, he learns how many different things a coal bin can hold besides coal.

STARING.

Just now, a new question arises, "can a stare be felt?" Of course, it is difficult for some of the older ones among us to think of this as new. We can remember how in childhood we used to stare till the object of our regard turned and looked; it didn't always work, but nearly always, and we're all of us waked napping friends simply by watching their faces. And

"CASTLE IN AIR" TO FINISH "ZEPS"

New York.—The Zeppelin is a species of scarecrow. Count Zeppelin is a sort of bogey man—a Black Douglas! Thus did Hudson Maxim, high explosive and aeronautical expert on the recently appointed United States naval advisory board, pooch-pooch the latest activities of the German airships. I asked the famous inventor how he would fight the monster dirigible balloons.

"I would have a circle of captive balloons around the city to serve as signal stations," said Maxim. "These balloons would be adapted to be raised to any desired altitude and lowered at will. I would have each balloon armed with a machine gun and two or three men.

"I would also have a platform on the top of each balloon with an aeroplane ready for flight. The balloons need not be raised to the desired altitude except on the signal of danger.

"The Zeppelins, to attack London, would have to fly between, over or below this circle of balloons, and could not fall of being seen or heard, because at a considerable altitude above the city the least sound can be heard at a great distance. A Zeppelin could be heard coming long before it came within gun range.

"Each balloon would be connected by telephone or wireless telegraph with all other balloons, and with the earth, and at once, as soon as a Zeppelin was sighted, the aviators in the basket of each balloon would climb upon their respective aeroplanes, launch the aeroplane—and away after the Zeppelins.

"Of course, the altitude of the Zeppelin would be determined first, and the balloons would be immediately raised to the height occupied by the Zeppelin or Zeppelins, so that the aeroplanes would not have to climb after starting for the attack.

"In case of a high wind, the balloons could be lowered into a big cylindrical shed; in other words, drawn down like a jack-in-the-box on the ground."

"Are the Zeppelins going to end the war?" was the next question I fired at Maxim. "No, indeed, I would say, rather that the war is going to end the Zeppelins. If 100 Zeppelins were to visit London each day, and kill 1,000 persons, the loss would be less than the birth rate.

"Well, then, are aeroplanes going to be the deciding factor in the war?" was my final query.

Maxim shook his shaggy white head, and answered, "The main deciding factor in the war is going to be the worship for turning out munitions."

Travelers recently arrived from England have stated that the royal naval air service has been enlarged to such vast proportions that there will shortly be launched a fleet of 50,000 armed aeroplanes.

The feat of the late Lieut. Warneford, who won the Victoria Cross for demolishing a Zeppelin in Belgium, proved that the $50,000 German dirigibles are vulnerable to attack from a $10,000 aeroplane.

With a "mosquito fleet" of 50,000 Great Britain should be able, in the opinion of members of the Aero Club of America, to gain the supremacy of the air."

There is Real Satisfaction in Every Puff of Prince Albert

Every time you smoke Prince Albert tobacco in a pipe or rolled into a cigarette you will like it better. You will like its flavor, and you will like its wholesome aroma; you will particularly like it because it will not bite your tongue or parch your throat.

Prince Albert is the kind of a smoke men have sought for years. The patented process by which this brand is made has revolutionized pipe and cigarette tobacco. No other tobacco ever was, or can be, like Prince Albert.

Don't lose any time getting Prince Albert for it will give you more today and your tongue will not be sore.

The whole thing is to know for yourself just how good Prince Albert really is. Sooner you buy a tin for 10 cents, the sooner you will understand that Prince Albert will make your pipe and cigarette smoking more enjoyable than any other tobacco you buy.

To smoke all you want all day; to get real tobacco satisfaction without a sore tongue is just what you need in tobacco. Prince Albert will prove it. In 5-cent bags and 10 cent tins at stores that sell tobacco.

THE WAR

London, Oct. 6.—Up to a late hour tonight so far as was known in London no answer had been received to Russia's ultimatum to Bulgaria, and none was expected. It is taken for granted here that King Ferdinand and his ministers are definitely committed to the German allies, and, in return for territory to be ceded after the war, with some ports, including Constantinople and all that remains of European Turkey, has undertaken to assist actively in the operations against Serbia, thus hoping to open the way for the Austro-German army, the objective of which is the sea of Marmora.

The entente powers in this belief have landed, or are landing, a force at Salonki, which will take upon itself the duty of protecting the main railway through Serbia and Greece and give what assistance it can to the Balkan allies, should they be attacked by Bulgaria.

The infringement of Greek neutrality has brought forth a formal protest from the Greek government, but, in the words of one correspondent, it "is being winked at" by the great majority of the people of Greece. The opposition in the Greek chamber has also made protest against the policy of Premier Venizelos, which, it is claimed, is forcing Greece into an unnecessary war.

The next move devolves upon Bulgaria and as soon as she moves the Anglo-French troops, which are being mobilized, will be put in motion, while the fleets in the Black sea and the Aegean will assume their appointed roles.

Meanwhile Russia, whose armies for five months have been retiring, has begun an energetic offensive along a wide front from Riga to southeast of Vilna, and, according to unofficial reports, has already met with considerable success. This, however, is denied by Berlin, which says that all of the Russian attacks have been repulsed.

On the western front the big guns have again undertaken the task of attempting to level the German trenchments, presumably in preparation for a continuation of the attacks which proved successful in Artois and Champagne. In some sectors there has been infantry fighting in which a trench, or a few yards of a trench, changes hands, this being particularly the case in the areas where the allies have made their gains and where the Germans are trying to win back the lost ground.

The British fleet, too, is almost continuously bombarding the German positions on the Belgian coast.

Berlin, by Wireless to Tuckerton, N. J., Oct. 6.—A dispatch to the Lokal Anzeiger from Budapest, as given out today by the Over-Sea News agency, says the Bulgarian premier, M. Radoslavoff, when receiving the delegates of several parties at Sofia, said: "Bulgaria is justified in the hope that the situation will be more advantageous than heretofore. Events coming in the near future promise favorable results. Bulgaria will extend her frontiers toward the northwest and the south."

Berlin, via London, Oct. 5.—A dispatch from Sofia dated Oct. 4 to the Zeitung Am Mittag says: "Premier Radoslavoff of Bulgaria today made the following declaration to representatives of the government parties: "We confront war and must defend our national interests. We must wrest from our enemies everything they took from us two years ago and get satisfaction for every insult."

Athens, Oct. 6.—Premier Radoslavoff of Bulgaria has assured the Greek minister at Sofia that Bulgaria will not attack Serbia unless aggressive action against her first is taken by Austria and Germany in which case Bulgaria will be obliged to act against her neighbor.

London, Oct. 6.—The crown council of Bulgaria, according to a Genoa dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company, spent several hours in discussing the Russian ultimatum without arriving at a decision. The same authority declares that General Savov, former minister of war and former commander-in-chief of the Bulgarian army, in concluding a thrilling speech said: "Every Bulgarian who breaks away from Russia commits an act of treason toward his country."

Udine, Italy, via Paris, Oct. 6.—The original idea of taking Trieste seems to have been abandoned by the Italians. According to reports from the Italian headquarters the plan now is that when Gorizia is taken, the Italians will continue their advance along the Carso high plateau, leaving Trieste on their right and cut off from the remainder of the Austrian empire.

This operation is contemplated with a view to prevent the Austrians from destroying Trieste by bombarding it.

WOOD PULP USED FOR EXPLOSIVES

London, Oct. 5.—The question whether the Germans are finding wood pulp an efficient substitute for cotton in the manufacture of high explosives has been investigated by the "Paper Maker" which has consulted several experts.

"Sir William Ramsay says: "I quite agree that it is highly probable that the Germans are making nitro-lignose from wood fibre. This is the tragedy of our ways being too late. I quite agree that we should declare wood pulp contraband but I hesitate to start another campaign; it takes so much time and energy.

"The Germans have plenty of wood; their country is largely afforested. As to the relative efficacy of wood pulp and cotton I am not expert enough to answer that. All I can say is that I am told by French experts that the ballistic power of nitro-lignose is not equal to that of gun-cotton. But the Krupps are turning out any number of guns of all sorts, and doubtless they are standardized, as regards sights and chambers, for nitro-lignose."

Another expert, Walter F. Reid, sees no value in declaring wood pulp contraband, for "Germany has such large areas of forest containing suitable woods that the present rate of consumption of explosives could be maintained for years without importations of wood pulp." He adds that one of the most popular smokeless powders has been made of wood pulp for more than thirty years.

Clayton Beadle, a third expert holds a rather different view, saying the German pulp mills could not produce a product that would reach the requirement of explosives for long, adding "to suddenly drop cotton and switch to something new must spell disaster or at any rate, it would be a most serious handicap, and it has not yet been proved that it can be done."

Send for The Cook's Book

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill

It's FREE

Our instructions to the famous editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine were: "Get up a book of recipes of the things people like best. Find the best way to make and bake each one. Then write it out so plainly that even an inexperienced housewife can't have a failure."

"The Cook's Book" was the result. Some of the 100 recipes were originated, many of them were improved upon, and all were personally tested by this best known authority on cooking in America, and she tells so clearly how she made everything that one cannot go astray.

While some of the cakes and pastry are elaborate enough for any occasion, the recipes are all thoroughly practical and call for no expensive and unusual ingredients. In addition to telling how to make them, the book is beautifully illustrated in colors showing how to arrange and serve the dishes appetizingly.

More than half a million of "The Cook's Book" are now in use in American households. Yet the demand is constantly increasing. Many send for two or three at a time to give to friends or young housekeepers. Don't depend on borrowing one from a neighbor—have one of your own.

How to Get "The Cook's Book"

In every 25c can of K.C. Baking Powder is packed a colored certificate. Send us one of these certificates (paste it on a postal card if you like) with your name and address plainly written, and "The Cook's Book" will be mailed free of charge. Only one book for each certificate.

BIRTH OF NATION NOT IN MICHIGAN

"When 'The Birth of a Nation' coming to Escanaba?" is a question that is daily being asked of Manager L. J. Jacobs, of the Delft theater. Mr. Jacobs attempted to answer that question for himself when he visited Detroit and Chicago early in this week, but without success.

"When 'The Birth of the Nation' coming to Michigan?" is a question equally to the point, because this deluxe film, which has been showing at the $2 scale in New York ever since March, has not yet been shown in Detroit.

Mr. Jacobs established to his satisfaction, however, that when "The Birth of the Nation" does come to town, it will travel in rare style. The moving picture houses rent their pictures. For a regular program there is a fixed weekly charge, and features are paid for at special rates, according to their attractiveness.

But the houses won't be able to rent "The Birth of a Nation." It's a good thing; the best thing, both artistically and as a money maker, that moving pictures have ever produced, and the owners intend to make the most of it.

When "The Birth of the Nation" comes to town it will come, it is said, on the same basis as a regular theatrical offering, with the same scale of prices that would be charged for a bang-up show, and the contract will provide that the lion's share of the receipts will go to the owners of the picture. Also it will come with a symphony orchestra, perhaps of fifteen pieces, that will give it an adequate musical setting.

As to just when this will come to pass, there can be no present information. But it will not be until "The Birth of the Nation" has begun to exhaust some of the possibilities of the large cities.

Local Firm Celebrates Twelfth Annual Sale-Event Com- mands Widespread Attention.

Each year of the thirty-five years and more, since the establishment of the House of Grinnell, has been marked by steady growth. From business occupying a single store they have developed into a $3,750,000 corporation, operating three Piano Factories and twenty-four stores in Michigan and Ontario.

For twelve years Grinnell Bros have submitted to the public their great sale of Summer Resort Rental Pianos and Player-Pianos; and each year this sale has grown in extent and importance—the sale now under way being by far the greatest in the history of this house. Their great rental business with summer resorts throws on their hands at the close of the summer season many beautiful Pianos and Player-Pianos which must be sold immediately to make room for new Fall stock—hence this great money-saving clearance.

To the large sale stock of Summer Resort instruments are added all their exchanged, sample and slow-worn instruments. These have been fully regulated and carefully tuned. Discounts as great as half, and even more.

Think of buying a Grinnell Bros (town make) Piano, $400 style, a only $275; a $500 Steinway at $272; a $250 Hale at $110; a $350 Smith &

Barnes at $227; a Boudoir, small style, at $67; a $400 Kranich & Bach at $187—of finding Pianos at just the price you want today; and the greatest value at that price.

Player-Pianos, $237, $340, $325, etc., etc. Regular prices $500, $600, $650, etc. 33-note styles. And like the Pianos, each one carefully adjusted and tuned.

Every Piano on the salesfloor is plainly marked with a red tag, giving the regular price, the amount of rent received or other reduction, and the Summer Resort Sale price. There is no room for doubt or argument; the plainly marked tags tell the whole story.

Besides the low prices Grinnell Bros. are making Special Payment Terms which bring these great bargains easily within reach of everyone wanting music.

Their Year's Free Exchange Trial and the strong Grinnell Guarantee are also unusual inducements, coming from a firm which always lives up to every letter of its agreements.

It will pay any person who has any thought of buying a Piano or Player-Piano to inspect the remarkable values now available to quick buyers. Do not make the mistake of delaying. Visit Grinnell Bros. store, 703 Ludington street TODAY! They are open evenings.

DAILY LETTER

Copper share holders generally were well pleased with the action of the coppers today for there were practically no declines and this strength was shown in the face of perpendicular drops in several of the New York issues. The railroads, like the copper held firm. There was some weakness in Anaconda, but this is due to the growing belief that there is something in the rumors of a consolidation with Inspiration. The latter issue made a new high today and closed at the top. The more conservative New York brokers are expecting further declines in the war specialties. However, they rallied quite sharply from their low points but most of buying was short covering. In the precious metal issues, there has been considerable selling of Tonopah Grain.

Boston Markets

There was great excitement in the grain market today. May Wheat sold up 7 cents and December 5 cents and closed right at the top. December Wheat today is ten cents higher than it was last Saturday when we called attention to its purchase. Corn and Oats likewise were higher in sympathy with Wheat.

THIRTEENTH PENNANT WON BY BOSTON TEAMS

The pennant won by the Red Sox 1 the thirteenth for Boston.

Harry Wright led the Boston Nationals to flags in 1877 and 1878, Meritt in 1883, Seale in 1891, 1892, 1893, 1897 and 1898; Stallings in 1914.

The American league won in 1903 and 1904 with Jimmy Collins as manager; in 1912 with Jake Stahl and this year with Bill Carrigan.

The flag for the Philadelphia Nationals is their first in thirty-two years they have been in the league.

Annette Kellerman, said to be the world's most perfect woman, appears again today at the Strand theater in Neptune's Daughter. The feature will be the offering again today at both matinee and evening performances.

THE DELFT

The Hero of the Lost Court, a Paramount feature of five parts will be the feature offering at the Delft this afternoon and tonight.

Sir Anthony Elmet, an artist, is secretly engaged to Elinore Vane. At the same time that Anthony gets a letter from his brother Paul, that he is coming to London for a visit. Elinore gets word that her friend Nina is to pay her a visit. The arrival of the two guests is marked by a festive event.

Paul, who has been in the military in India, is dressed a ring which he says was given him by a dying Indian. The ring contains a vital filled with the sleep of death. Lady Rosamund, mother of the young man, allows the ring to be placed on her finger.

Subsequently, while the four are out on a mountain-climbing trip, Anthony rescues Nina, who has fallen over a cliff and caught in a protruding snag. In consequence of the rescue, a strong friendship is engendered between Nina and Anthony. On the other hand, as warm a friendship has arisen between Elinore and Paul, much to Anthony's discomfort. Upon questioning her as to whether she has told Paul of her engagement to his brother, Elinore tells Anthony that she has not mentioned it to him. Rather than cause a breach in the family, Anthony countenances the love affair of Paul and Elinore, and they are married.

In a short time, Paul becomes a gambler, and Elinore realizes that her path is not one of primroses. In his bachelor apartments, in London, Anthony is visited by Nina, who admits her great love for him, and implores him to take her to America. He repulses her, however, and hearing Elinore approach, directs her quickly into the next room. Elinore enters and tells Anthony how unfaithful Paul has been to her, and ask him to take her to America with him. Anthony refuses flatly. Elinore then uses in-

THE DELFT

One year in New York and six months in Chicago is the record of "Seven Keys to Baldpate" this unique play of laughs and thrills. A company of rare excellence has been retained to present this famous comedy and it is safe to predict an unusually clever and interesting entertainment.

From the story of the same name by Earl Derr Biggers for his foundation, young Mr. Cohan has constructed the only new thing in playwriting that has been offered in years. There's a punch in every line of its dialogue and a volley of laughter following every punch.

In "Seven Keys to Baldpate" Cohan runs the gamut of human emotions. His weird manner of introducing the characters who, one after another let themselves into a summer hotel that has been closed for the winter, all of them under the impression that theirs is the only key to the hostelry, the tangling of the plot, the exciting experience of the hero and the heroine in their endeavor to outwit the adventures, the crooked mayor, the scheming railroad magnate, the block maffer, the chief of police, and an amateur detective, makes one of the most exciting evening's entertainments imaginable.

WISCONSIN'S LOSS TO BE MILLIONS

Stoughton, Wis., Oct. 6.—The loss on Wisconsin tobacco this year will amount into the millions, possibly 10 per cent of the entire crop being best quality though shed burn may cause still further losses. Hail and rain caused the damage.

Some farmers are building fires under the tiers to preserve the shed-dried weed.

Possibly 10 to 25 per cent of the crop had been harvested before these disasters appeared and a large portion of that has been rendered almost worthless.

The income from tobacco in Wisconsin has been estimated at $6,000,000 a year. It may reach $1,000,000 this year.

THINKS PHILLIES WILL WIN SERIES

"Nothing but the Phillies!" This was the optimistic statement of Mrs. Fred Luderus, 2452 Burielgh street, wife of the captain of the Philadelphia National league flag winners, Friday, when asked for her opinion of the outcome of the coming annual-crucial series.

"My heart and soul have been in the team, and with Alexander slated to twirl the opener, I can see nothing but a defeat for the Red Sox. Of course, I don't know much about the individual strength of the American leaguers, as I have paid little attention to them, as I have been interested in Moran's men all the time. Speaking of Mr. Moran, I wish to pay him all the credit in the world. Never in the history of the Philadelphia club, in my mind, has a better man been at the head. The boys have played harder for him, and have injected more fighting spirit, than for any other leader, and this has been a great essential in their bringing the first flag to the Philadelphia National league club. I traveled with the team the early part of the season and they immediately looked up to me as pennant winners.

Many fans are of the opinion that with Alexander out of the way, the Red Sox will have an easy time of it. I don't think so. The other boys will be fighting all the time, and the pitchers, besides Alexander, will have as much to fool the Red Sox and will bring victory.

"My only wish is that the Phillies win the series in a hurry so that a great deal of worry can be distracted from the minds of the players, who have had a very strenuous season. The Phillies will win the series." This will be the first time Mrs. Luderus will be accompanied by one who has gone "through the acid test," that of witnessing a world's series, in the person of Mrs. Al Demaree, wife of the slongated Phillie moundsman, who, too, may get the opportunity to face the Carrigan sluggers. Mrs. Demaree was a spectator at several world's series in New York, when her husband was a member of the Giants.

Mrs. Luderus will leave for Chicago today, and will meet Mrs. Demaree there. They will then depart for Philadelphia, where they will be two of the strongest boosters for the boys under Pat Moran.

Philadelphia, Oct. 6.—Connie Mack manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, six time winners of American league pennants and three times world's championships, stung by criticisms relative to his deliberate breaking up of a famous baseball machine, has made a sweeping declaration regarding his plans for 1916. Mack said recently:

"We are losing ball games every day and probably will finish the poorest of any team in either major league in years, but I have made considerable progress along the lines of reconstruction. If the fans will look back to the 1908 season they will realize that my progress was slow until the combination was complete, and then team came like lightning. My progress must be slow because the only part that I have now that I am banking on for my new machine are pitchers, and they don't know anything yet and cannot be expected to show until next season.

"I will have almost an entirely new team in the field in two weeks' time and then the fans will be able to get a line on my future championship team. To date I have not a single youngster, barring one, who will be a part of the new machine. My best prospects will be here in a short time, and I think the fans will be satisfied.

"I repeat that we will have another wonderful club before the close of next season. Everything depends on how soon my pitchers develop. They will surely be right by the middle of next season. They are slow finding themselves, but they will come around. The rest of my combination has been completed and will be signed up between now and the spring training season."

One Cause of Matrimony. Many a bachelor marries just because he feels that when he gets old and horrid he will want something besides the clock to make a noise around the house.

TRIES TO BUILD A THIRD TEAM

John J. McGraw has assembled two championship teams since he took command of the Giants just about 13 years ago, and he is now drawing up plans and specifications for a third. He does not expect to have it next season, but is building for a winner in 1917.

McGraw saw the best team he ever had lose its punch the year after it won a world's championship. The 1905 Giants, with Mathewson and McGinnity, were so strong in all departments of the game that they probably could have beaten out this year's field without extending themselves. Within two years McGraw had another team that was good enough to force the Cubs into a post-season contest to decide the championship, but it was not until 1911 that he won the pennant again. Five years elapsed before the Giants participated in their second world's series.

The average time required to build up a pennant winner is four years. This season saw the downfall of the American league champions of 1910, 1911, 1913 and 1914, and the wreck of the National league champions of 1911, 1912 and 1913. The Athletics, however, were deliberately scattered, while the Giants made a brave show part of the season only to collapse in the stretch.

Connie Mack declared himself out of the pennant race early in the season, collected a staff of young pitchers and started to reconstruct his batting order. Connie has promised that the Athletics will amount to something next year, but it will probably be two years before he can develop a first division team.

McGraw tried to go through with his veterans this year, because he figured the National league race an easy one to beat if his pitchers stood up. He made a good guess, but his pitchers failed him.

McGraw, therefore, is not going to wait until next year to begin the reconstruction of the Giants. The last three weeks of this season are being devoted to fall training of the young men who have cluttered up the bench for two years, and others who were shooed out of the brush by the scouts this season.

The close of the international league season will throw several players back to the Giants. Some five or six college men will get on the job, and possibly a half dozen recruits from the minors will be asked to show.

By looking them over this fall McGraw will be able to weed out the incompetents and become familiar with the material he must work with next spring in Marlin.

The necessity of finding a pitcher who can carry the Giants, along as Mathewson did for 12 years is McGraw's greatest task. Matty is done. He was the daddy of them all in his day, but cannot "tote" his people along any more. Probably McGraw will never find another Mathewson. They happen along about once in every 20 years. With Matty to pitch the first and fourth game in every important series the Giants never figured on anything less than an even break. For two years now the Old Master has not been a "repeater" and without him the Giants have failed. Tesreau is the nearest approach to an "iron man" the Giants have had since McGinnity.

MISTAKE JUPITER FOR HEAD LIGHT

London, Oct. 6.—Since Zeppelin raids have become more the rule than the exception in London and environs, there has been a marked increase in public interest in astronomy. Just now the newspapers are filled with discussions about this or that star—discussions directly attributable to the fact that Londoners have acquired the habit of star-gazing in the hope of sighting hostile air craft. Toward eleven o'clock at night, the usual "Zep time," perhaps a third of London looks skyward.

A few nights after the big raid the Planet Jupiter, seemingly rising in an unaccustomed place, was mistaken for a Zepelin searchlight. Perhaps a dozen persons made the discovery. Since then several newspaper articles have appeared giving Jupiter a clean bill of health.

RED SOX OPPOSE VETS TO PHILLIES

New York, Oct. 5.—Eleven of the players who helped win the world's series for the Boston Americans from the New York Giants in 1912 will be found among the eligibles on the roster of the Red Sox in the coming series with the Philadelphia Nationals for this year's world's championship. When the opposing teams are lined up the catching corps for the Boston club will be identically the same as in 1912 and the men, Speaker, Lewis and Hooper, who will take care of the outfield will fill the same positions that they occupied when the Red Sox were returned world's champions three years ago.

Changes, however, will be marked in the pitching staff and the infield. Wood and Collins are the only survivors of the twirlers who won the honors in that famous eight-game series while a Gardner will be the only regular left for the defense of the infield, although former shortstop Wagner will be available in case Barry's indisposition may prevent his playing the second base.

In striking contrast to the veteran-like line-up of the Boston players Manager Moran's aspirants for world's title and honors have been gathered together from widely separated districts during the past two years. Their great fight during the season just closing, however, has clearly demonstrated their combined strength and playing ability. Imbued with the spirit and determination that they showed thru-out the season and by which they brought the National league pennant for the men can be depended on to hold their own against their more seasoned competitors for the world's championship.

TWENTY-FOURTH SERIES TO PICK WORLD'S CHAMPS

New York, Oct. 6.—Although thirty-one years have elapsed since the first battle for the baseball championship of the world was won by the Providence R. I. "Gays," there were several years in which the struggle was not repeated so that the coming contest between the Boston Red Sox, and the Philadelphia Nationals will be the twenty-fourth series to be played for the premier title of the diamond. The inaugural contest in 1884 was won by the Rhode Island team, then champions of the National league. In three straight games from the Metropolitan standard bearers of the old American association of that year. Unavoidable lapses occurred in eight of the subsequent seasons. There was no competition for the world's honor in 1891 or 1893. There was also a five-year lapse from 1898 to 1902 inclusive, but in 1903 the Boston Americans beat the Pittsburgh Nationals five games to three. The following year's championship was claimed by the Boston Red Sox by default as the New York National league club would not permit its 1904 pennant winners to play the American league champions.

In 1905, however, the two major leagues arrived at an understanding after the matter had been thoroughly discussed during the winter months, and the world's championship competition was placed on a solid basis. The National commission assumed control of the annual series and made it compulsory for the pennant winning clubs in each league to have their teams meet at the close of the playing season every year. The world's title to go to the club winning four out of seven games. Rules were adopted by the National commission which governed everything connected with the post-season battles. Arrangements were completed regarding the disbursement of the gate receipts between the winning and losing players, the club owners and the National commission and to the merest detail everything was done to the satisfaction of everybody interested.

Under these new conditions the post season games were resumed and they have been played every year regularly since 1905. In the fall of that year the New York Giants defeated the Ath-

$900,000 HOME FOR THE N. Y. YANKEES

Chicago, Oct. 6.—Plans for a new American league park in New York calling for an expenditure of $900,000 were completed last week during the visit of President Johnson of that circuit in the east to take part in the final arrangements for the world's series.

The location, while not definitely disclosed until the proper legal documents have been recorded, will be only fourteen minutes from Wall street and the nearest ball park in Gotham to the business district of that city.

The club owners will purchase the really holdings outright and the improvement to be added to make the most modern and commodious baseball plant in the country will call for a total expenditure of at least $900,000 according to the preliminary estimates. It is expected to have the new Yankee League ready for the opening of next season. The arrangement by the American leaguers have used the Polo ground's jointly with the Giants during the last three seasons terminated with the end of the 1915 schedule.

GERMAN-AMERICAN TO ORGANIZE PIG BANKS.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—In ten days, according to Henry Meinhansen, Chicago will have a German-American bank. Mr. Meinhansen, who is president of the German-American Oil Co., says the bank will have a paid up capital and surplus of $2,000,000. He adds it will be a protest against the Anglo-French war loan.

"Much of the capital stock," says Mr. Meinhansen, "has been subscribed."

Coincident with the organization of the Chicago bank similar institutions are to be opened in New York, Cincinnati, and St. Louis, it is reported. The New York bank will have a capital and surplus of $3,000,000 or $4,000,000 and the others will have $2,000,000 each. All will be ready to receive deposits in a week or ten days, it is said.

Only one game out of five. Last year the Boston Braves made a clean sweep in the post-season games taking four straight from the Athletics, after a sensational spurt and final victory in the National league race.

PRINCE ALBERT the national joy smoke is such good tobacco you feel like you could just eat the smoke!

Yes, sir, P. A. puts a razor edge on your smoke-appetite-division that's nobby enough to be photographed! No other pipe and cigarette tobacco can be like Prince Albert, because no other tobacco can be made like Prince Albert. The patented process fixes that—and removes the tongue-bite and throat parch! Let that digest!

The toppy red bag, 5c

And that line of conversation is 24 kt., whether you play P. A. in your old jimmy pipe or roll it into a makin's cigarette. For you can put your little old blue-pencil O. K. right here that Prince Albert is a regular double-header for a single admission—as joy's to your tongue and taste one way as the other!

Will the "rollers" kindly step forward for a spell and get some of this listen into their systems? Because Prince Albert certain and sure jams more joy into a makin's paper than ever before was figured up on two hands!

In the plain language of the hills, you can't any more resist such makin's tobacco than a bullfrog can pass up a piece of red flannel! Because P. A. hands to you everything any cigarette roller ever dreamed-out—rare flavor, and aroma, and mildness, and body; absolutely the best—but—the best smoke you or any other man ever did roll and put the fire to! Men, we tell you to wise up.

P. A. is crimp cut and stays put—which means rolling P. A. is as easy as falling off a log. And it's good to remember P. A. is put up in the toppy red bag especially for you "rollers." Sells for the price of a jitney ride, 5c.

Now will the "pipers" kindly open both ears?

Here's tobacco that has made it possible for three men to smoke pipes where one smoked before!

Any way you hook it up, Prince Albert is tobacco insurance! Yes, sir, it guarantees your future as well as your present smokings! And just makes your tongue so jimmy pipe joy's that your smoke appetite grows whopping big. You men who "dassn't," we say you go to P. A., natural-like! Because there isn't a bite in a barrel of this national joy smoke.

Unlimber your old jimmy pipe! Dig it out of the dark corner, jam it brimful of P. A. And make fire with a match! Me-o-my!

You get acquainted with Prince Albert in the toppy red bag, 5c; or tidy red tin, 10c, but for the double-back-action-joy, you buy a crystal-glass pound humidor. And then you're set! You see, it has the sponge-moistener top and keeps P. A. at the highest top-notch point of perfection. Prince Albert is also sold in pound and half-pound tin humidors.

ISHPEMING MAY SECURE PLANT

Officers of the Ishpeming Advancement Association are taking a kindly interest in the proposal of B. H. Silverman of this city and A. A. Aaron, of Chicago, to establish a garment manufacturing plant at Ishpeming.

The Ishpeming correspondent for the Mining Journal says:

The committee appointed a month ago by the Ishpeming Advancement association to investigate their proposition has found that Aaron & Sherman, who desire to establish a house dress making factory in Ishpeming, have a good financial standing in Chicago, but according to the committee's report, submitted to the association yesterday afternoon, their terms will have to be modified somewhat if the proposed deal goes through.

The committee wrote Mr. Aaron who was here in company with Ben Silverman of Escanaba, trying to interest the business men, that the terms proposed were altogether too burdensome; that the committee would not recommend the organization of a company to be capitalized at $50,000, but that it would favor organization with a capital of $25,000 with $15,000 paid in; also that $4,000 would be paid Aaron & Sherman for merchandise in stock at their Chicago factory, and that Mr. Aaron would be engaged as superintendent.

Mr. Aaron wrote the committee that he would take its offer under advisement and would give a definite answer at an early date. The committee has written the managements of other factories for information bearing on the project. When it is available the committee will be able to make a more definite report.

WAR HAS BECOME INDUSTRIAL ART

Paris, Oct. 6.—Senator Charles Humbert, one of the leading members of the Senate Committee on Military Affairs, has written for The Associated Press the subjoined article on the relation of industry to the war. Senator Humbert has been conducting the successful campaign for the high pressure production by the whole industrial resources of France, of the shells and guns which he and his colleagues consider essential to victory. He is the new proprietor of Le Journal with a circulation of about one million. Senator Humbert writes:

"The important part played by industry in the present war is due, not only to the power and the perfection of firearms, but even more to the immense number of men in line. These millions of combatants would be nothing more than a mob predestined to massacre without the tools of combat which must incessantly be supplied and renewed, and which, for their manufacture in sufficient quantities, require the mobilization of numerous factories provided with the means of turning out the most modern instruments of war.

"Long before the war it could be seen what character the hostilities would take on. Personally, I predicted it. The Germans, especially very well aware of it, and it is only necessary to think for a moment of the formidable preparations they had made to realize that they could put at their warlike intentions a military machinery ready to its last detail. The work they have done of recent years to renew their artillery and to supply their armies with heavy, long range guns, sufficiently wieldy to be able to follow the movements of their troops, was most significant. I regret very deeply that my own country, in spite of oft repeated warnings, did not follow their example. And yet, it ought to have been pretty evident that in this century of scientific progress, of machinery to the limit supplies would play in war a part as important as they play in the economic life of every day.

"But the actual experience of war has gone far beyond any foresight for it. The destructive power of the fire arm—rifles, machine guns, rapid fire guns of all calibres—has been so revealed on the field of battle that the combatants have had to renounce completely the system of maneuvering in open court. Every troop which attempts to advance in the open against a well-armed enemy awaiting the attack, is doomed fatally to disaster; in an instant the fire of machine guns mows down the ranks like a blade of steel mowing down grain; and the volleys of artillery methodically annihilate them, letting nothing escape.

"That is the reason for the necessity for seeking protection, as much as may be, against these storms of steel and explosives; it is the reason for the enormous development of field fortifications, trenches, underground chambers of other times, concealed shelters and so on. The old fortifications of other times, fixed, standing out, marked in advance for the fire of the enemy's artillery, cannot hold out against the projectiles of giant cannon. But the plain ditch, scarcely a yard or two wide, easily dug, completed with invisible arrangements, the approach to which is made impracticable by means of barbed-wire entanglements—that constitutes an obstacle almost impossible to be taken. Infantry, looting to take it at a charge every man, though they be innumerable—for one machine gun, give it time and sufficient to feed it, will mow down a thousand men as easily as a hundred and then thousand if necessary, as easily as a thousand.

"But, on the other hand, this thread-like obstacle, dug in the ground, furnishes only a very reduced asset to artillery fire. To hit it, it is not enough to spend projectiles—they have got to be wasted to demolish the terrain under a veritable hail of devastating explosives, under a deluge of shrapnel.

"That is why the consumption of munitions, and especially artillery munitions has exceeded anything that was ever conceived in time of peace. And the farther it goes, as the fortifications of the battlefields daily become more complete and more difficult to reach, the use of projectiles must be more widely foreseen.

"Rubles fell in shortly before midnight but managed to rap his arms around the slimy piling. He called for help, but became hoarse and husbanded his strength.

He has "commanded" former Premier Zaimis to head a new coalition cabinet. Zaimis is for neutrality.

London, Oct. 6.—Bulgaria has definitely rejected the Russian demand expressed in the ultimatum sent Monday. Sofia announces that an agreement has been reached whereby Bulgaria will attack Serbia when the central powers invade that country, and has already presented an ultimatum to Serbia, regarding Macedonia, with a 24-hour limit for reply. The text is not given out, but it is semi-officially announced that Serbia will refuse to accept any demand Bulgaria may make.

Twenty thousand more troops have landed in Greece, making the total allied forces there now about 90,000. French troops are already on the way to Serbia through Greece, and allied and Greek forces are moving towards the eastern railways.

Roumania has set several army divisions in motion and is rushing artillery to the Bulgarian border, according to advices received this morning from Bucharest. Three thousand German officers have arrived in Bulgaria to take the principal commands in the Bulgarian army, according to Athens dispatches, and Serbia has sent still another division to the Bulgarian border.

The Venizelos party in Greece has won a complete victory. The opposition members of the cabinet—a minority—have resigned and King Constantine this morning in accept their resignations, parliament has given an overwhelming vote of confidence in the government and apparently the new cabinet will be a unit on the subject of entering the war against Bulgaria. Greece is pledged by treaty to assist Serbia.

Greece has mustered 180,000 troops, fully armed, provisioned and equipped. The remainder of the forces, 170,000, can be only partially equipped, arms being lacking for many. The financial condition of the nation is such that it can sustain a two-months campaign without loans.

Berlin reports today that heavy French attacks in the Champagne district, were repulsed. The new offensive, it was intimated, had been begun by the French. No other actions of importance were noted in the western area.

Petrograd dispatches announce the resumption of a strong offensive by the Russians at many points along the entire line from Riga to the Galician province. At many points, Petrograd announced, the Germans were weakening. At a few places they were decisively repulsing the Russians. In Galicia, it was announced, pronounced progress was being made.

Milan, Oct. 6.—A military convention was signed between Bulgaria, Germany and Austria some time ago, according to a Sofia dispatch. By the terms of this treaty, the dispatch says, the Bulgarian army is bound to attack Serbia with six divisions in the Nish-Pirot section, and to send Macedonian troops to Vardar to destroy railroad communication with Saloniki, thus delaying the allies in their effort to aid Serbia.

After Premier Venizelos had explained to the chamber of deputies the circumstances connected with the landing of allied troops at Saloniki, the chamber passed a vote of confidence in the government. The vote was 142 to 102, with thirteen members not voting.

The opposition leaders attacked the premier bitterly. They accused him of unnecessarily leading the country into the war on the side of the allies.

The chamber was in session all night, adjourning at 4:30 o'clock this morning. Plain speaking characterized the meeting. Premier Venizelos accused the opposition press of "selling its honor to German propagandists."

Premier Venizelos won a triumph notwithstanding the most determined attacks of the opposition which protested in the name of "Hellenism" against the occupation of Greek territory by foreign troops. The premier did not hesitate to accept the challenge. He gave a frank exposition of the attitude of the government after which he invited fullest discussion of the foreign policy of Greece.

"Some time has passed since the entente powers have made requests of Greece," he said in reply to an interpellation on the occupation of Saloniki. "Today they asked nothing but this—they who offer Serbia, Greece's ally, succor in the event of circumstances which would require Greece herself under her alliance to give Serbia help."

"Great nations may with impunity treat treaties as scraps of paper. For smaller countries such a policy would be suicidal.

The widest disorder broke out. The premier succeeded in dominating the situation, his voice rising above the tumult and the clang of the bell. He cried: "We have a treaty with Serbia. If we are honest we will leave nothing undone to insure its fulfillment in letter and spirit. Only if we are rogues may we find excuses to avoid our obligations."

The chamber then took a recess.

MICH. MAN WILL LIE IN A TOMB

Muskegon, Oct. 6.—When Henry Lyman, aged 49 years, the "Golden Rule" resident of Twin Lake, near here, dies his body will be wrapped in a linen shroud and placed in a sepulchre, as was the body of Jesus Christ after the crucifixion on Mount Calvary.

"Our Lord," Lyman declares, "was not buried in the ground and my body shall not be."

Lyman has built himself a little brick sepulchre on a wooded hillside in a secluded portion of his 60-acre farm in which his body will lie until Gabriel's trumpet announces Resurrection day. It is Lyman's belief, founded on an exhaustive study of the scriptures, that the soul, the spirit and the body are those separate units. The spirit, at death returns to its God the body becomes dust, while the soul lingers near the last resting place of the body, until Resurrection day.

"The body shall not be buried beneath the ground as are the bodies of animals and things without souls," Lyman says. "The soul, which must hover near its early shell until summoned before its Maker, should have easy access of the trees, the flowers and the other beauties of nature. It should not be forced to stay under the earth."

BUSINESS CONDITION IS NOW IMPROVED

Washington, Oct. 6.—Improved business conditions in practically all sections of the United States are reflected in reports from federal reserve agents in the twelve districts made public today by the federal reserve board.

The three southern districts, where cotton is the big factor, report that present prices and efforts of the federal board to finance the crop have had a beneficial effect on other lines.

Boston reports general improvement in all lines over last month, which is "very slight." But it is addition and apart from European orders which is taken as an encouraging sign.

New York reports retail business poor in certain sections, but wholesalers say trade is expanding and the outlook is good for fall and winter business.

Philadelphia reports September little changed from August from a business point of view, annual business conditions spotty with unusual activity in the manufacture of munitions, the steel business good, coal mining quiet and oil showing improvement.

The largest railroad in the district reports no idle good order cars. Of more than 500 representative firms in the district reporting conditions early in September, 135 said conditions were normal, 240 not normal, 157 good, 81 fair and 80 poor.

Improved conditions confined to special lines in the Cleveland district have found their way into general trade. The steel business continues to boom, but little domestic business for 1916, is reported solid.

With cotton at present prices, Richmond reports, a large part of the district's crops will move from first lands and the consequent liquidation of seasonal trade obligations will be generally helpful. Leaf tobacco prices are said to be holding well. Conditions are described as sound and with excellent promise.

Bright outlook in the cotton market in the Atlanta district, says the report, is an important factor. Railroads show considerable increase in freight traffic. The tobacco belt indicates a crop in good condition with an average better than last year.

Chicago notes that any change there in general conditions is for the better and that there is a feeling of more confidence in the future. Crops continue to look good.

The wholesale trade of the St. Louis district shows increased activity with a large jobbing business and commercial failures, decreasing in number. The corn crop is expected to go above that of 1914 and the ten-year average. A feeling of doubt is said to be turning to one of confidence among merchants.

Minneapolis says the district will contribute between 290,000,000 and 300,000,000 bushels of hard wheat to the 1915 crop compared with about 160,000,000 bushels a year ago. The report says it is already clear that farmers are showing a disposition to hold in the expectation of better prices. General business is said to be prosperous and is moving at about normal.

From Kansas City it is reported also that wheat farmers are inclined to hold for better prices. If there is no killing frost, Kansas and Nebraska are expected to show one of the largest corn crops in history.

General conditions in the Dallas district are said to show some improvement over August. The Texas cotton crop is estimated at not more than 3,25,000 bales. San Francisco says conditions have not changed greatly during September, with the lumber business slow.

WARN CARRIERS ABOUT NEW LAW

In enforcing stringent provisions of the new seaman's law on the great lakes during the remainder of the present shipping season, the department of commerce will take into consideration the good faith of carriers who signify their intention to meet the legal requirements as rapidly as practicable, according to Washington advices.

The law's effective date is Nov. 1 and navigation on the lakes will close about Dec. 1. Secretary Redfield in a letter of instruction to General George Ullier, chief of steamboat inspection service, said:

"The problem which your force of inspectors must face during November will be of enforcing the law without, upon the one hand, suspending the traffic, or upon the other, permitting themselves to be blinded by the tempting methods of any who may wish to save present expense in the possible thought that changes in the law may be secured during the coming winter.

"The question may in part resolve itself into one of good faith. Those who in good faith do the utmost practicable to be ready and who, when the law takes effect, are striving to comply with it, will be given the consideration that the fact may warrant when considering penalties for non-compliance."

ZEPPELINS ARE A RANK FAILURE

New York, Oct. 5.—Giant aeroplane battle-cruisers will eventually exterminate the Zeppelins! If the war goes on long enough we shall see armed and armored seaplanes of the allies as big as the Zeppelins themselves, and carrying perhaps, even more men in their crews!

So powerful in speed and gun power will these new air craft be that the Zeppelins will not dare leave their hangars.

These are the opinions of Henry A. Wise Wood, one of the aeronautical experts on the Naval Advisory board, given to me as the first interview by a member of the new board.

"Zeppelins are a rank failure," says Wood; "the Germans themselves recognize this, and are now building aeroplanes on the model of the monster Russian Sikorsky biplanes.

In the early days of aviation, Wood was numbered among the dreamers. He now feels like saying, "I told you so." Wood is convinced aerial liners will soon cross the Atlantic.
