

SHIPMENTS SHOW BOOST

TOTAL OUTPUT OF ORE FORWARDED FROM THIS PORT THIS SEASON EXCEEDS LAST YEAR'S RECORD BY BIG MARGIN

Total ore shipments for the season of 1915 from the port of Escanaba will exceed the total shipments for the season of 1914 by nearly two million tons. The total shipments from the Northwestern docks this year will exceed the amount forwarded in 1914 by over a million tons and the shipments this year at the St. Paul docks will exceed those of last season by over 800,000 tons.

Neither the Northwestern nor the St. Paul docks will wind up their shipping operations for this season before Thursday and definite figures as to the total season's shipments will not be available until after that time. At the Northwestern docks today the steamer Lupus will be loaded and started on her final trip of the year down the lakes. The steamer Perseus is discharging a cargo of coal at the St. Paul coal dock and she will not be ready to begin taking ore before this afternoon at the earliest. One half of the cargo for the Perseus will be furnished from the Northwestern dock and the remaining half from the St. Paul dock, as two different grades of ore are specified for the cargo.

The total ore shipments for the season from the Northwestern docks will be approximately 4,000,000 tons while in 1914 the shipments totaled approximately 3,000,000 tons. The total shipments from the St. Paul docks this season will be approximately 1,500,000 tons while last year the total shipments from those docks were but approximately 750,000 tons.

Although figures showing total ore shipments from docks in the Lake Superior district during the season now closing will not be available for several days, it is thought the increase over last year will be from eleven million to thirteen million tons. The Mesaba range alone shows an increase of over ten million tons, and it is thought that the combined increase in shipments from other ranges will be at least from two million to three million tons.

The total shipments in 1914 up to Nov. 1 from the Duluth, Missabe & Northern, Duluth & Iron Range, Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Soo docks was 23,987,000 tons, compared with 33,346,795 tons to the corresponding date this year.

GLADSTONE MAN DOUBLY BEREAVED

Ed S. Eaton of Gladstone has returned from Orilla, Ont., where he attended the funerals of both his mother and his father, who passed away within a few hours of each other.

Some two weeks ago, Mr. Eaton was hurriedly summoned to the bedside of his father, who it was thought could last but a short time. After his arrival there, he took a change for the better and it appeared that he might be spared for some time. When he had improved sufficiently to allow those who had gathered at his father's bedside to depart for their homes, Mr. Eaton himself took ill, threatened with pneumonia and seven other members were all confined to their beds at one time. At the time, Mr. Eaton had recovered sufficiently to enable him to start for his home, the father again took a turn for the worse and passed away on Wednesday of last week. The mother was unable to stand the shock of losing her life companion and she too, died within a few hours after the funeral of the husband and father.

Mr. Eaton was advanced in years, the father being 85 years old and the mother about the same age.

HEALTH INSTITUTE OWNER RETURNS

Nicholas Pavlov has returned from Ann Arbor where he received a course of treatment at the University hospital. Mr. Pavlov is now fully recovered and is prepared to give more efficient service to his patrons than ever before. He is planning a number of improvements at the health institute that will be completed within a short time.

BOAT WAS RELEASED

After remaining stranded on Sand Point throughout the day yesterday, the steamer John Lambert, was pulled into deep water by a sister vessel last night and continued on her way down the lakes. The Lambert was loaded with grain at Gladstone and was bound for Buffalo. In coming down the bay on Monday night the Lambert's captain became confused in the lights and ran too close to Sand Point with the result that the vessel struck the point while going at full speed. She was 18 in. out forward, but as the bow rested in the soft sand no damage was done to the hull. A vessel of the same name was loading at Gladstone and last night came down the bay and after hitching line to the stranded craft, was able to pull the Lambert into deep water, without great difficulty.

FIND BOTTLE NOTE WAS A PURE FAKE

After an investigation made by the police of both Escanaba and Menominee, it has been discovered that a note found in a lot on the bay shore near Ford River, reporting that two Egg Harbor, Door County men had been drowned, was a fake.

The note said "Henry Column and Harvey LeRoy drowned in Lake Michigan fifteen miles off Egg Harbor. Notify Escanaba life saving station and please notify parents at Egg Harbor we are their lost sons." The note got the officials in both Escanaba and Menominee to working and it was found that the two men were alive and well at Egg Harbor and had placed the note in the bottle to be funny.

There ought to be some legislation on this note in a bottle nuisance and a stiff county jail sentence as a penalty for fakes, would probably decrease the number of them. They create much trouble and may result in time in no attention being paid to genuine messages.

BOY SCOUTS TO MEET THIS P. M.

Members of the Escanaba troop of Boy Scouts will hold an important meeting at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the room of W. L. Davidson, at the high school building. The meeting promises to be one of the most important yet held by the Boy Scouts here and it is urged by the officers that every member make an effort to be present.

HANS NELSON TAKES LIFE

JEWELER EMPLOYED AT HILL DRUG STORE COMMITS SUICIDE WHILE TEMPORARILY INSANE

While temporarily insane, Hans Nelson, a jeweler for several years employed at the Hill Drug Store, committed suicide early yesterday morning by hanging. Escaping from the family home at 915 Third street, although followed by his wife carrying their four months old babe the insane man escaped from the sight of the frantic woman when they reached the bay shore, a short distance from the house. Mrs. Nelson made an ineffectual effort to find her husband in the darkness and then hurriedly called relatives and friends. Nelson made his way to the Christiansen fish dock. At the end of the dock a pile driver was anchored. He stepped on the platform of the pile driver and evidently in haste ripped off his suspenders. He knotted a rope that hung from above to form a loop and tied the suspenders about the knot to make it secure. He then evidently leaned forward with the rope across his throat and the knot behind his ear. His feet were on the platform and in that position he evidently remained until he was strangled to death by the pressure of the rope against his throat. The rope was not entirely about the unfortunate man's head and that he did not throw himself from the noise in his death struggle, is considered most remarkable. When found, the right hand was raised to the knot back of the ear, while the other arm hung limp at the side.

Relatives and friends, who were aroused, searched in vain until day-break for Mr. Nelson and as it was growing light, William Foster, who was passing saw the body and gave the alarm. A physician was called but it was found that death already had come. Dr. George Bartley, coroner, was summoned and after making an investigation ordered the body removed to the undertaking rooms of J. B. Wilkison. The formal coroner's inquest was held yesterday afternoon, and after hearing all of the evidence, the jury returned a verdict of death by suicide. The members of the coroner's jury were: E. L. Schou, Dr. P. J. Hiron, N. E. Bartley, Frank Fontaine, and Guy W. Sullivan.

It was believed by some that the insane man had taken poison before he hanged himself. (Continued on page six.)

SEEKS AID OF THE POPE

(Special to The Press.) New York, Nov. 30.—Henry Ford, who is endeavoring to have the "boys out of the trenches by Christmas" today sent a long cablegram to Pope Benedict explaining the mission of his peace party and asking for his assistance, according to a dispatch from Detroit. Madame Schwimmer, who was a delegate from the Woman's Peace Party, to The Hague last June, said that on interviewing the Pope he had said that every effort he had made to stop the war had been futile but that he would support their idea by urging the neutral governments to help them.

SHOPS ARE ATTRACTIVE

A large number of patrons yesterday flocked to the Christmas shops, arranged by the women of St. Stephen's Episcopal church at 708 Ludington street and opened to the public yesterday for the first time. In the building are grouped a number of delightful little shops where Christmas wants may be filled and delightful lunches may be secured. The shops will be open again this afternoon and will remain open this evening. The undertaking will be continued through each afternoon of this week.

Charles Willett, charged with having acted outside of instructions in a horse deal, appeared before Judge McEwen yesterday morning and was bound over to circuit court to stand trial. A $200 bond was furnished and Willett was released upon his own recognizance.

FORMER MERCHANT IS LAID TO REST

The funeral of Neil Nelson, a prominent merchant of this city, was held yesterday afternoon from the family home at 200 South Maple street. Burial took place at Lakeview cemetery with Rev. Lund officiating.

The members of the Odd Fellows and the North Star societies attended the funeral in a body to show their respect to the deceased friend and brother.

30 KILLED IN BLAST

EXPLOSION IN POWDER MILL FOLLOWS POSTING OF WARNING FROM GERMANS TO QUIT WORK

(Special to The Press.) Wilmington, Del., Nov. 30.—Thirty men were instantly killed today and seven fatally injured in a terrific explosion at the Upper Hagley plant of the Dupont Powder Co. Ten or twelve others are missing. One of the injured died tonight.

The cause of the explosion is shrouded in mystery. There was no reason for it, officials say.

None of the men who were in the plant at the time can give any explanation. The mangled remains of thirty of the workmen are scattered about a great hole where the plant stood. The injured are so badly hurt that they can not and probably never will talk.

Last week notices were posted at all plants announcing that mills would be destroyed if Germans working in them did not go out. Officials evasively denied having seen them. But today's accident following so closely upon the warning has resulted in rumors that the explosion was not accidental.

INJURIES MYSTERIOUS

An unknown man, believed to be a Pole, was found lying at the side of the North Western tracks, immediately north of the bridge over the Escanaba river, at Wells, shortly after 12 o'clock last night. He was but partly conscious and was suffering from a long cut under the jaw in addition to bruises about the face. Whether he had been struck by a train and hurled to the side of the track or had been attacked and beaten by robbers, it was impossible to determine. He was brought to the city aboard North Western freight train and Sheriff Andrew Iverson was notified. The sheriff removed the man from the railway yards to the office of a physician, where his injuries were given a preliminary examination and later he was taken to St. Francis hospital.

BOY GUN VICTIM TO GRAVE TODAY

Funeral services over the body of little Earl Paulin will take place this morning at 8 o'clock at the St. Joseph's church with Rev. Father Julius officiating. The pall bearers were chosen from among the friends of the little lad. All of his classmates will march in a body to and from the church.

The six schoolmates chosen to carry the body of their little friend are Rondo Lavolette, Glen O'Donnell, Arthur Dery, William Bink, Leo Roemer, and Clifford Dupuis.

FIND DOG'S DEATH WAS ACCIDENTAL

In the case brought against Urvan Dupuis by Theophile Martin both of Schaffer, the jury brought forth a no cause for action verdict yesterday morning in Justice McEwen's court. Dupuis was charged by Martin with having run over his dog with an auto.

MINSTRELS SCORE HIT

IMMENSE CROWD PLEASSED WITH EXCELLENT PERFORMANCE GIVEN AT ST. ANNE'S HALL

No minstrel show arranged in Escanaba in a number of years has approached the success that was scored at St. Anne's hall last night with a minstrel program arranged under the auspices of the young women of St. Anne's church and under the personal direction of Miss Adrienne Touisnant. Every feature of the performance was carried out without a hitch or an interruption. In fact, the show "took" in a manner that left not the slightest doubt as to its success. There were new songs that went with a swing and a vim that was catching. There were new jokes and local hits galore that kept the audience in an uproar from the opening of the first part to the close. The specialties, that composed the second part, were in a class by themselves. Each scored a tremendous hit, and the round after round of applause attested to the pleasure of the audience that packed every inch of space in the big hall.

The undertaking proved an unqualified success, both in the excellence of the performance and in the financial results that were obtained. Only those who have followed the work of preparing for the presentation of the minstrel program of last night know the immense amount of effort that was expended by Miss Adrienne Touisnant. To Miss Touisnant volumes of credit are due and following the completion of the program last night, she was showered with congratulations.

The event was arranged under the auspices of the young women of St. Anne's parish and all of those assigned to committee work were constant in their efforts to make the undertaking a success and the completeness of the work was attested to in the unusually elaborate plans that were successfully carried out.

Every member of the big cast acquitted themselves with credit, and all contributed their part to the successful whole.

Frank Compher most efficiently served as interlocutor last night and in addition appeared in an excellent solo number. The end men were J. E. Williams, George Hira and Phillip Touisnant while on the opposite end were Anna Mulvaney, Irene Villemure and Leola Lanthier. The pianist for (Continued on page six.)

MAY DELAY MESSAGE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—Senator Owen of Oklahoma, chairman of the special committee drafting the cloture rule which is intended to overthrow traditions of the senate for over a hundred years, said today the fight for cloture may delay for several days the delivery of the president's message to congress. It is due on December 7th. The committee reached an agreement upon a modified form of cloture which will permit the senate as a body to determine when the debate of any measure has lasted long enough.

DAM NEARS COMPLETION

Power will be turned on in a few days at the new dam No. 3 of the Escanaba Power company on the Escanaba river at Chandler's Falls. Electricians are now rushing to completion the final work on the big switch-board in the power station and by the end of the week it is believed it will be possible to furnish power from the new dam.

BUNGLED STORY IS CAUSE OF CONFUSION

A badly bungled statement which appeared in the city's evening publication on Monday, relative to the responsibility for the error that appeared in a ballot prepared for the special election of last week, has caused many to draw the inference that the error was committed by the city stenographer. The error was not made by the city stenographer and a request for the publication of the statement was made to the Press yesterday.

SAWYER IS APPOINTED

Kenneth I. Sawyer of this city, deputy state highway commissioner in charge of all state reward road construction work in the peninsula, has been appointed as superintendent for the county board of road commissioners in Marquette county. Mr. Sawyer will succeed V. S. Hillier, who resigned to take a position with a power company at Eau Claire, Wis.

Mr. Sawyer is excellently equipped for the work that he will undertake in Marquette county. For several years he was engaged in supervising road building work in Menominee county and for the past few years has held a position with the state highway department. A year ago he was placed in charge of all state reward road work in the peninsula, with headquarters in this city.

FINDS IT PAYS TO GO WELL ARMED

On Monday morning A. H. Maloche, a representative of the Bink Wholesale and Supply Company, left for Hardwood on the early morning train on a hunting trip. When he arrived at the little village he borrowed a gun of one of his friends and went in search of one of the antlered tribe. He walked about a half mile, when suddenly from out of the brush stepped a big buck. Mr. Maloche no doubt had the buck fever and he shot the innocent deer right through one of his horns. The next shot went through the buck's neck.

Mr. Maloche said the deer stood up on his hind legs and looked around to see from what direction the shot came, and he saw Mr. Maloche and made for him.

There were no more shells in the gun so he reached into his coat pocket and drew forth a revolver and shot three times. Whether the shots took effect or not is not known but the deer fell. Mr. Maloche is proud of the fact that the weighs 240 lbs., just ten pounds more than he does. Had it not been for the fact that he was so well armed Mr. Maloche might have been in grave danger of losing his life or at least of being seriously injured.

William LaCrosse, Jacob Pellinen and John Smetper were down from Maple Ridge yesterday to prove up on homesteads.

ROUMANIA TAKES TURN

RUSSIA NOTIFIED THAT NEUTRALITY WILL BE DEFENDED IF ENTRANCE TO THE DANUBE IS ATTEMPTED

(Special to The Press.)

London, Nov. 30.—Roumania gave the allies new cause for concern over the Balkan situation today by serving notice on Russia that she bars the Danube to Russian ships of war.

Roumania, in an energetic note, according to reports received from Bucharest, demands that Russia respect her neutrality and declares that she "will defend her neutrality if necessary."

The note, according to Bucharest dispatches, emphasizes a significant warning that the Danube has been mined.

London, Nov. 30.—A Chronicle dispatch from Athens states that Monastir was surrendered to the Bulgarians on Monday.

There is no official confirmation of the report. An earlier dispatch from Saloniki, however, stated that the Serbians were unsuccessful in their efforts to prevent the advance of the Bulgarians upon the city.

Paris, Nov. 30.—Four hundred thousand French boys of 18 and 19 years, of the class of 1917, will be called to the colors on December 15. The chamber of deputies this evening, after a bitter discussion, unanimously passed measures sanctioned by the army committee of the chamber.

General Gallieni, minister of war, in appealing to the members of the chamber to pass the bill, declared that every available man should be thoroughly drilled and ready in the spring of 1916, when, in concert with our allies, our reinforcements and our armaments, will permit us to make the decisive effort.

London, Nov. 30.—The admiralty tonight gave further details of the sinking of the German submarine off the Belgian coast last Sunday and also made the announcement that a German aeroplane had been shot down off Ostend. The statement says a British sub-lieutenant dropped bombs on the submarine, breaking its back.

Allied aviators were particularly active in west Flanders and Belgium today, according to Amsterdam dispatches.

GAY LOVER PUNISHED

Pierce M. Sweig, formerly a passenger brakeman employed by the Northwestern road out of this city, and husband of an Escanaba young woman, has been sentenced at Green Bay to one year's imprisonment at Wisconsin state penitentiary at Waupun, because he represented himself to be unmarried when he secured a license in that city to wed a young woman of Hyde. In spite of the fact that he had a wife in Escanaba, it is claimed that Sweig paid assiduous attention to the Hyde young woman, who believed him to be a single man.

All arrangements for their marriage had been made and Sweig secured a license at Green Bay, swearing to his unmarried condition before the county clerk in that city. Shortly before the ceremony was to be performed the young woman of Hyde learned that her lover already had a wife living in Escanaba. She notified the Green Bay authorities and a search was instituted for Sweig, who had fled.

He was finally located and returned to Green Bay, where, when he was arraigned in court, he pleaded guilty to the charge and was sentenced to one year's imprisonment at Waupun.

With all the burdens a lot of folks are piling up for posterity it would be little wonder if posterity sometimes wished it had been ancestry.

When a man or most any kind of an athletic team appears to have been relegated to the "down-and-outers," isn't it peculiar how many people want to boot them around? The Press bowling team is deluged with challenges.

A lot of people are accepting Henry Ford's invitation to accept places aboard the peace ship that sails on Saturday. But who would turn down an ocean trip about this time of the year, particularly when a man who is anxious to spend his money is footing the bill.

Balancing on the fence is strenuous work for poor old "Aunt" these days. But "Aunt" is an adept at straddling through years and years of practice and even if she does go to the extremity of predicting what a court decision is going to be, she comes right back and insists that the public can't interpret her brand of the English language. And after carefully reading "Aunt's" inane conglomeration of words, one can't find the heart to blame the public.

Among all the signs on which the wise ones predicate a long, cold winter, we find nothing so interesting as the fact that the bears are fatter than usual. It is interesting in the first place that so much is done for us nowadays, that men actually go out and interview Bruin to learn his opinion of the prospect. But far more interesting is the truth, on which these predictions are based that Nature does adapt her creatures to the conditions they have to meet. We in our pride of place are given reason which we fondly believe a far better thing than instinct. And so it is, if we use it, but we don't want to forget that a pair of such use is the observation of the working of instinct. We need the reminder from the animal world and the vegetable world that He who clothes the grass of the field and the beast of the wood will care for us also, if we use his gifts aright.

GIRL IS PICTURE OF WRETCHEDNESS

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 30.—"I haven't a friend in the world. I can now see that it was my own fault."

This statement was made before Judge Backus today by Hilda Gartman, alias Beatrice Gartman, an 18-year-old high school girl, when she pleaded guilty to robbing the residence of her brother-in-law, Patrolman Edward Holm of Forty-seventh street.

The girl was a picture of abject misery. Her face showed the effects of dissipation and her eyes had lost their luster. She showed flashes of brightness and captivating manners accredited to her by Patrolman Holm, but at the most she appeared listless and weary.

The girl proved an enigma to the court. Judge Backus was reluctant to send her to Waupun, which is the only institution open for young women because of the absence of any reformatory for girls. He will confer with a member of the state board of control and determine what action can be taken.

Miss Gartman also was charged with having robbed the residence of her sister, Olga McGovern. She went into the Holm residence with the aid of a key and took a fur coat and wearing apparel. She was wearing the coat when arrested in Sheboygan, where her parents reside.

She was sent to the House of Good Shepherd two years ago. When released in March she went to live with Patrolman Holm after all other relatives had lost confidence in her. She lived with the officer until May, but because of her wayward acts she ran away and went to Racine. The officer suggested that she be placed in an institution until she was 21 years old.

"We used every method possible to aid her," testified the officer. "She would go to a store and purchase shoes without our knowledge and then when caught she would burn them up. Her parents tried to do everything possible for her. They sent her to high school, but she ran away."

COATED APPLES ARE CONDEMNED

Grand Rapids, Nov. 30.—William J. Mickel, state dairy and food inspector is constantly discovering something that is out of keeping with the general scheme of good order. Last week he found out that growers were selling nuts which had been coated with oxide of iron to make them more saleable. Now he has found out that apples are being coated with machine castor oil for the same reason.

The oil is rubbed into the skin of the apples, and it makes a shine possible that would be impossible for nature to duplicate. It also fills up the pores and acts as a preservative, with ill effects to the consumer.

Mr. Mickel is making a thorough inspection and he has already condemned in this unusual manner. He expects to follow his campaign with arrests unless his orders to stop the practice are heeded.

JEWELERS GIVEN JOLT BY SLEUTH

Convention Is Thrilled by Clever Stunt Pulled by Famous Detective.

FRISKS SILVER WATCH

The great detective had just concluded his stirring speech. "Thieves had best have a care," he had said, "for the jewelers are now protected against them quite as fully as are the bankers."

Applause filled the room in the Grand Central palace, where the members of the American National Retail Jewelers' association had assembled for their annual meeting.

"We now have just time"—began President Tinley L. Combs of Omaha, Neb., but he went no further. In place of the watch he had started to consult was a void—an aching void, if one might judge from the expression on Mr. Combs' face. The watch was gone.

"Gentlemen," said the president, "if this is a joke, one might say it was a timely one. My watch is gone. A great detective is here. Perhaps he can put into actual operation some of the things he has just been telling us."

Detective on the Job.
A breathless silence filled the great room. All eyes were upon the detective.

Quite unabashed by the attention he was receiving, he hastily rose from his chair. "Let the doors be closed," he shouted. "Time flies, but not so this thimer."

"The watch is somewhere in this room. I will personally search every one present. If there is anyone who objects he may bring the watch to me and the matter will be considered a closed incident."

No one stirred.
"Very well, then, I'll proceed with the searching."

From the very first pocket into which he thrust his trained fingers came forth a watch.

"Ah, here is a watch," said the detective, exultantly. "I scarce expected to meet with success quite as soon. Here is a watch for you, Mr. Combs," he said, and promptly sat down.

"Thanks," said Mr. Combs, "mine was only silver, but this gold one will do."

Finds the Watch.
Had the situation been less serious the laugh that followed might have been more hearty. Hastily the watch was returned to its rightful owner. Then the detective continued his search.

A moment later a very guilty looking silver watch was extracted from the waistcoat pocket of one of the members of the executive committee.

"This is your property, is it not, Mr. Combs?" demanded the detective. It was.

"I knew it," said William J. Burns, the detective. "You see, I put it there myself. I thought it would be a good stunt."

Then the meeting proceeded.

LETS LAWYERS BATTLE ON
Judge Adjourns Court While Attorneys Fight, Then Resumes Hearing of the Case.

Hammond, Ind.—A garnishee case resolved itself into a flat encounter in Judge Reiland's court at Indiana Harbor recently, when L. W. Saso and Marcus Herschovitz, lawyers, passed the lie.

The court refused to call time. In fact, Judge Reiland adjourned court to give the belligerents all the time they wanted. They took ten minutes and then an armistice was declared and Judge Reiland went on with the trial of the case.

Saso looked as though he had fought with a bear.

THE WAR

London, Nov. 30.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Copenhagen says: "The Wilfrid bureau (the semi-official German news agency) says that several members of the Vienna cabinet will resign."

London, Nov. 30.—A dispatch to the Times from Florina, Greece, dated Saturday, says:
"The Bulgarians yesterday crossed the river Cerna. Monastir has been evacuated. The Serbian army is retiring in good order."

London, Nov. 30.—The Tribune asserts that Austria is attempting to conclude a separate peace, according to a dispatch from Rome to the Exchange Telegraph company.

For the first time since the outbreak of the war Emperor William of Germany and Emperor Francis Joseph have met. The German emperor went to Vienna and conferred with the Austrian sovereign, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, Baron von Burian, and the Hungarian premier, Count Tisza. The nature of the conference can only be surmised, but they are believed to have been concerned more with the situation in the Near East than in any other war theaters.

Coincident with Emperor William's visit, however, comes a report from the semi-official German news agency that several members of the Austrian cabinet are about to resign.

The British secretary of war, Lord Kitchener, after having visited the Balkan theater and Italy, is now in Paris, where he will give an account of his observations to the French government and possibly join in the war council to outline a policy for future military operations.

The threat of a Muscovite force invading Bulgaria has not yet materialized, nor has the attitude of Roumania been defined. The Russian foreign office suggestively calls attention to "the reported change of front by the Austro-Germans toward the allies at Strumitza and toward the Danube," which, it says, "if confirmed would indicate that the Austro-Germans and Bulgarians anticipated surprises from Russia and perhaps from Roumania."

London, Nov. 30.—The campaign in the near east is about to enter a new phase upon which the visit of Lord Kitchener to Paris and Emperor William to Vienna, it is believed, will have an important effect.

Earl Kitchener, after visiting the Balkans and Italy, has arrived at Paris for an important series of conferences with the French staff while the German emperor has gone to Vienna to see Emperor Francis Joseph and discuss with the Austrian generals what the next move will be. Presumably it is a question whether the central powers will attack the Anglo-French forces in southern Serbia or concentrate in western Bulgaria to meet the threat of a Russian invasion from the east and the possibility of Roumania taking sides against her old enemies, Bulgaria and Turkey.

So far as Serbia is concerned, winter appears virtually to have put an end to any important movements, although the Austrians are proceeding to deal with the Montenegrins, whose frontier they have crossed, while the Bulgarians are attempting to advance to Prizrend and Monastir.

With heavy and continuous snowstorms reaching the proportions of a blizzard these operations must be slow, especially as the Serbians and Montenegrins are still offering stubborn resistance. Monastir, it is admitted, can not be saved, but the Serbians who are defending the city are determined to resist to the last and give the civilians a chance to escape. They hold a front some five miles from the town in the direction of Prilep, from which point the Bulgarians, who have crossed the Carassou river, are advancing.

Snow has completely stopped operations on the Anglo-French front in Sarbia, the opposing forces, who are separated by a valley a mile across, having lost sight of each other.

There are no details of the Greek reply to the collective note of the entente powers demanding facilities for the Anglo-French forces, but a dispatch from Athens says it is couched in friendly terms and is regarded as paving the way for the desired settlement, which would enable Greece to maintain her neutrality and not interfere with the intention of the allies.

Desperate fighting continues on the summits around Gorizia; the Italians claim to have captured more Austrian trenches, but the Austrians declare that the attacks all along the Isonzo have been repulsed.

Artillery and aerial fighting has marked the progress of events in France, while in Russia an almost complete lull prevails. In the Caucasus a recrudescence of activity, however, is reported, Petrograd recording several scouting expeditions.

CONGRESS TO HEAR DYNAMITE PLOTS

Washington, Nov. 30.—President Wilson in his message to congress will call attention to the number of explosions and fires in American industrial plants in this country, as well as urging greater military preparedness, it was learned today.

He will ask that the Sherman law be amended making severe penalties for persons who seek to restrain trade in the United States by this means. A division in the ranks of Americans over the outcome of the conflict in Europe which may lead to excesses will be severely condemned by the president.

During several of his recent speeches he has called upon Americans to stand united, but it had not been generally considered before today that he considered the question of interference with American industries important enough to demand action from congress.

JACK JOHNSON GETS NINE RECRUITS

Glasgow, Nov. 30.—Four thousand people blocked the traffic in Queen street for a half hour today while Jack Johnson made a recruiting speech. He drove his big motor car to the Royal Exchange, removed his big white hat and showed his plentiful display of gold teeth, told how he had given two of his own motor cars to the government and urged every strong man to enlist.

He was introduced by Corporal Baker of the Scottish Rifles, clad in khaki, and the result of his speech was nine recruits.

British actors are frequently making recruiting speeches from the base of the Nelson column in Trafalgar Square, London, but an American prize fighter securing nine recruits for Kitchener's army in a Glasgow open-air meeting is a novelty, not altogether destroyed in interest by the fact that Johnson is appearing in a local music hall this week in a "revue." Incidentally his wife is placarded as America's most beautiful and versatile artist, the originator of America's greatest craze, the oyster dance.

POLLOCK STALLS IN CLOSING UP TITLE MATCH

Chicago, Nov. 30.—Contrary to the impression he gave Nate Lewis in a long-distance telephone conversation, when he said he would close the White match soon, Harry Pollock, manager of Freddie Welsh, appears to be in no hurry to keep his promise.

Promoter Eddle Pitts of Denver, who came here a couple of days ago expecting Pollock to meet him half way and talk business in a serious manner, was pretty well discouraged last night when shown a wire from Pollock. Pitts expected to have the match closed by this time, but finds that he is just as far away as ever, with Pollock having no intention of coming here to see him.

Pollock in his wire admitted White as the result of a poll of sporting editors, is entitled to first whack at the champion, but intimates that he is going to take his own sweet time in finding out what club is going to offer the best inducement for the match.

Pollock has put himself on record that Welsh will fight White any distance to a decision for the highest bidder, but will not be hasty in selecting the club going to offer the best inducements for the match. He has put himself on record that Welsh will fight White any distance to a decision for the highest bidder, but will not be hasty in selecting the club going to offer the best inducements for the match.

CANADA'S MOVE BOOSTS WHEAT

New York, No. 30.—As a result of the seizure by the Canadian government of 20,000,000 bushels of wheat, prices of May and December wheat advanced today on the market in New York, Chicago, Omaha, Kansas City, Minneapolis and St. Louis.

The advances ranged from 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 cents. Reactions followed the boosts and some were lost. Bulls were largely held in check by the opinions which were circulated that the English government will probably do all, or nearly all, the British, French and Italian business and the United States will be virtually out of the export trading at least as far as any material advance of prices is concerned.

There was no option on the market in Winnipeg today except for coast grains. The question of a cash market for wheat has not yet been decided.

THE DELFT TODAY

"Chimmie Fadden" is one of the most famous Irish-American characters ever created. He first appeared before the public in a series of newspaper stories by E. W. Townsend. These stories became the foundation of a book which sold in vast quantities and of a play which was popular for years, making "Chimmie" literally a national figure.

"Chimmie" is a Bowery boy of the rough big, good-hearted type. He saves a rich young woman of slumping tendencies from the insults of a "masher" and thus becomes a footman in the household of millionaire Van Cortlandt, accepting the position because he has become fascinated by the young lady's French maid, whom he dubs "The Duchess." The complications of the story cause "Chimmie" to be accused of burglary, but he is finally proved innocent and his love story with the beautiful lady's maid has a happy conclusion.

"Chimmie Fadden" is a document of New York life truly worthy of being preserved in photodramatic form. The natural eccentricities of the character give the play a rare individuality.

Primitive Plow.

The most primitive of plows was shaped from the trunks, limbs or roots of trees. Such were in use close to the time of the Christian era. The Old Testament mentions plows of iron or bronze, but except in western Europe and America little progress has been made in the improving of the implement since the time of Herodotus. The first recorded form of plow is found on the monuments of Egypt, where it consists simply of a wooden wedge tipped with iron and fastened to a handle projecting backward and a beam, pulled by men or oxen, and projecting forward.

DEER HUNTERS DECRY BUCK LAW

Upper peninsula hunters, particularly those who have all along been opposed to the plan of giving Michigan a buck law, have been reading with interest the experience in Wisconsin of this nature, those who question the wisdom of a law have been pointing to it and saying "I told you so."

Wisconsin hunters have been decrying as saying that already the law is shown to be a mistake, that from being a game conservation law, it will lead to heavier inroads; made on the deer, and that on basis of the experience had with the first season the Legislature will repeal it at the first opportunity.

trouble in Wisconsin is, if these are to be believed, that the hunt-keep blazing away at deer until finally bring down a buck. If happen to kill a doe they leave it and continue their hunt in the hope of getting a deer they can take into camp and then home with them. A Spooner, Wis., hunters says that one day he found the carcasses of eleven does and five fawns lying in the brush where they had been shot, and it is asserted that many returning hunters relate similar experiences. The opinion is expressed that more does will be killed this season than in any previous year, and it is asserted that most of the hunters are now opposed to the law, among them being men who before it was given a seat were among its earnest advocates.

Mr. Oates' Views

State Game Warden Oates who has been an advocate of a buck law, for Michigan, in discussing the reports about the experience had with a statute of that nature in Wisconsin, cautions against too ready acceptance of the newspaper stories, saying that it will likely be found that they are largely exaggerated and perhaps reflect the views of men who all along have been opposed to the buck law.

"Michigan hunters should not arrive at a hasty judgment about the operation of the Wisconsin law," he said "and particularly they should not accept at face value such a story as one hunter's finding in a single day the carcasses of eleven does and five fawns scattered in the woods. That sounds like a piece of exaggeration, and it is likely that many of the other stories are overdrawn."

"It will be interesting to learn how the buck law has worked out in Wisconsin, but this can only be learned when there has been opportunity to observe the results of the entire season's hunting, and particularly when the Wisconsin game department has been able to summarize and comment on them. Then there will be opportunity to form an opinion on the basis of testimony that will be worthy of consideration.

Hunters Must Help

"If the buck law has broken down in Wisconsin it is for the reason that the hunters have not sufficiently appreciated its importance as a means for preserving the game in the state, and thus have failed to do their part in making it a success. That the hunters must shoulder a considerable share of the responsibility is clear from the fact that in states where the standard is regarded as an unqualified success. If the standards of sportsmanship in the states of the middle west are at fault they must be elevated.

"It goes without saying that a buck law makes it more difficult to bring down a deer if the law is observed. It means that hunters will have to pass many shots, either because they are certain that the deer in sight is a doe or they cannot be certain what its sex is. But the point is that if there is to be hunting for many years in the future it must be made much more difficult, and the hunters must observe all rules that make it difficult.

"Take the upper peninsula and northern Wisconsin for instance. The wild country is being opened up more and more from year to year and the populations are growing. At the same time there is less cover for the deer here are more hunters to seek them out. Here is a set of conditions that surely dooms the deer within a short space of time unless the rules of the hunting game are made more severe, and unless the hunters themselves make it a matter of pride to live up to them.

"A buck law lived up to by hunters because it is to their own interest to comply with it would be the most effective measure for preserving the deer indefinitely. If the hunters can't see this they are most short-sighted. If they can be made to see it a buck law can be made effective."

DUMMY GUNS USED TO FRIGHTEN FOE

Petrograd, Nov. 30.—Dummy machine guns which make a noise like the real thing and thereby scare off the attacking enemy, are reported to be one of the latest innovations tried by the Austrians on the southern front. It is a well known fact that infantry, once loosed on a charge upon trenches defended with rapid-fire guns, are apt to swerve instinctively from points where the Maxims seem to be thickest. However dense the roar of heavy artillery during attacks, the short, sharp barking of these little guns is still distinctly audible. In order to increase the physiological effect of machine gun fire, the Austrians therefore hit upon the plan of mounting in their trenches, alternately with real Maxims, a large proportion of dummies. These produce a rattle identical in sound with that of the real gun, and are operated by rapidly turning the handle.

It pays to advertise in the Morning Press.

LOWER HOUSE TO BE LIVELY

Washington, Nov. 30.—A continuous battle royal is predicted for the House of Representatives of the Sixty-Fourth Congress. The return of twenty or more of the fighting "old timers," the coming in of more than a hundred new congressmen; the reduction to only a slender margin of the overwhelming Democratic majority with Tammany holding the balance of power—these are some of the signs which point to lively times.

Washington is looking forward with interest to the return of the "come-backs," those who will return to their Congressional seats after their exile in Elbe, following the upheaval of 1912. The top-notchers of this aggregation are all Republicans who have been resuscitated since their defeat by Democrats who sent them down in the Wilson victory of three years ago.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon, of Danville, Ill., thirty-eight years a member of the house—eight years a speaker—naturally heads the list. He will be glad to get back to Washington because he likes the Washington drinking water, he says, in giving the official reason for his return, but the "inside dope" is that he got too homesick for his seat in the House to stay away any longer.

Right up in the van of the "come-backs" will be William B. McKinley, also of Illinois, McKinley has been resting in private life ever since he managed the Taft campaign in 1912. Other Republicans to be sent back after two years absence by Illinois voters are "Billy" Wilson, of Chicago, George E. Foss, a brother of the former Democratic governor of Massachusetts, George E. Fuller, John A. Sterling, and William A. Rodenberg.

"Nick" Longworth, of Cincinnati, who balked on following father-in-law Roosevelt but of the Republican party and went down in the disaster of 1912, is another of the return procession. "Nick," though overwhelmed in the Taft downfall, remained loyal to the Republican party and after two years in seclusion won back his old seat. D. A. Hollingsworth, is another of the two years absentees coming back from Ohio.

Connecticut is sending two sturdy Republican regulars. They are Ebenzer Hill, who aided in drawing up the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill, and John Q. Tilson, who was a sticker for parliamentary etiquette in previous congresses.

L. C. Dyer, of Missouri, will return this session. Dyer was unseated in the Sixty-Third Congress after having served in the previous Congress will answer present. He was defeated two years ago after serving nine successive terms. Sulloway is more than 6 feet tall and weighs about 250 pounds.

George A. Lund, of Michigan, one of the richest men in Congress, will resume his old job in the House. William S. Bennett of New York, A. C. Shallenberger, of Nebraska, and Benjamin Focht and S. H. Miller, of Pennsylvania, are others who will re-join their companions after one-term absences.

Only a tattered remnant of the once vigorous Progressive delegation will be seen. Members were either defeated or returned to the Republican fold, all except six of the faithful. With "Vic" Murdock gone, the mantle of Progressive leadership probably will fall upon Congressman Ira Copley, of Illinois. Congressman Temple, of Pennsylvania, a former Bull Moose, is coming back as a Republican. Representative Stephens, of California and Representative Chandler, of New York, call themselves "Progressive Republicans."

Among Democrats who will be conspicuous by their absence will be Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, of Pennsylvania, who was defeated for Senator by Boies Penrose, Representative Stevens, of New Hampshire; who went down to defeat for Senator before Jas. Gallinger; and Maurice Connolly, of Iowa, whose aspirations to the Senate were frustrated by Cummings.

Representative Fitzgerald, the leader of the Tammany delegation in Congress, will stay in his seat in the house because of his defeat for Judge of the Seventh District Supreme Court in Brooklyn, this fall.

Summing up the whole situation, it is a safe bet that the whole session will be one of the most animated of recent years in the lower house. The return of old "scrappers" to the arena, the coltish kicking-up of new members unused to the legislative harness, and the omnipresent possibility of insurrection among Democrats taking advantage of the slender margin of the majority, will give House Democratic leader plenty of cause for constant worry and produce much "upset dope" at the capitol.

NO-HIT GAMES GROWING SCARCE

New York, Nov. 30.—Special complications covering the baseball season play in the National, American and Federal league disclose a number of interesting features in connection with the struggle for the pennants of the respective organizations. Two no-hit games were pitched in the National; none in the American and four in the Federal league. The record of one-hit games shows that nine occurred in the National; twelve in the American, and six in the Federal league. Two hit contests were more frequent, the American league leading with twenty-six; the National second with twenty-five and the Federal third with seventeen.

Two nineteen-inning games were the longest contests of the season, one being played in the National league and the other in the American. A sixteen inning struggle was the feature match in this respect in the Federal organization. The National league also led in the heavy-hitting department of the game, two twenty-four hit contests being recorded. The Federal were next with one twenty-two hit game and the American third with two twenty-one hit games.

All three organizations boast one game in which the total runs reached the twenty-seven mark. In the National league Chicago won a game from St. Louis 14 to 13; the Boston Americans defeated the Detroit Americans 15 to 12 and the Baltimore Federals won from the Kansas City Federals 17 to 12. In extreme scores the National league also takes the palm for Boston defeated St. Louis 20 to 1; the American league was next with a 16 to 0 game won by Chicago from St. Louis, while the Federal league's best offering in this respect was the St. Louis triumph over Buffalo by a 13 to 0 score.

NOT OUTRAGED, SAYS REPORT

Washington, Nov. 30.—The administration's reply to those who criticize the recognition of the Carranza government in Mexico because of charges of outrages upon priests and nuns of the Catholic church was made public here tonight in a letter by Secretary Tumulty to Dr. James J. McGuire of Trenton, N. J., who recently wrote to the White House asking for an explanation of what he characterized as widespread criticism.

Secretary Tumulty advised Dr. McGuire that the files of the State Department failed to disclose any official record of a single proved case of outrages upon nuns, and he included in his letter a statement by the Catholic vicar general at Mexico City, which was enclosing the shooting of priests and the expulsion and imprisonment of others, declared there had been no violations of nuns in that district.

Secretary Tumulty said in all wars the horrors of the conflict have been kept alive by those on the losing side, and that it should be the duty of all citizens of both the United States and Mexico to contribute in every manner to the rehabilitation of the nation so long torn up by civil strife and to avoid keeping open the wounds.

"Counsel and sympathy are needed and would be merciful now, because they would be of wonderful efficiency in uniting the people of Mexico in the work of reconstruction," wrote Mr. Tumulty. "Efforts to arouse rancorous feelings among them will have the effect of opening anew the wounds which should be healed, and of creating an open sore to torture that poor people as long as their minds are kept inflamed against her brethren."

The Secretary also called attention to the recognition of President Juarez by the Buchanan administration following "the bloodiest of all civil wars ever waged in Mexico," marked by "all the bitterness and cruelties of a religious war."

Emphasis was laid on the recognition of Carranza by the Latin American countries which joined in the Pan American peace conference. All of these Latin American countries, Mr. Tumulty pointed out, were Catholic nations.

Finally, a statement was reproduced which was given the State Department by Eliseo Arredondo, the Washington representative of General Carranza government to respect everybody's life, "property and religious beliefs."

Secretary Tumulty inclosed in his message, a letter written by former Secretary Bryan last March to Rev. Francis C. Kelley, of Chicago, giving in detail various steps taken by the United States government during the progress of the revolution in Mexico to protect the representatives of a religious organizations in Mexico. It previously has been published.

The Thistle of Scotland.
On the origin of the adoption of the thistle as the emblem of Scotland history is almost completely silent, but tradition is as glib as ever. According to one story, the Danes were stealing barefooted through the darkness towards the Scottish camp (in spite of their rule which regarded a midnight attack upon an enemy as unwarrantable), when one of the soldiers suddenly trod upon a thistle. Involuntarily he uttered a cry of pain, and the Scotchmen, being aroused, leaped to their feet, hurried themselves upon the Danes and inflicted fearful slaughter upon their foes.

Globe-Trotting Americans.
The American is an explorer from the cradle to the grave. What they appear to derive from their journeyings is a deep satisfaction with the home to which they return. Still, they can be generous. One traveler, who was known as No. 22 in her European party, summed it all up as she knitted a pink pocket on to a white sweater: "We went about everywhere in Europe—saw everything—and I've come to the conclusion that they are ahead of us in just two things"—"we hung upon her words—"flowers and fruit," she completed.—Harpers Magazine.

Got the Same Letter.
Two men with the same name and both members of the same club found a letter in their box at the club. The wrong man opened it first. It was just a little dun from a tailor, who threatened to do everything but murder. He knew the missive didn't belong to him, so put it in the box. The next night the wrong man and the right man happened to come to the club at the same time. Both went to the letter box, the right man reaching it first. The wrong man stepped back because he didn't want to embarrass the right one. But not he; he was there with the nerve. The right man read the epistle over very carefully twice. Then he tore it into bits, which he tossed carelessly into the nearest cuspidor, with a deprecating smile. "Poor little girl," said the right man. "How she loves me."

Lusitania.
Lusitania is the ancient Latin name for a country whose borders were almost identical with those of modern Portugal.

Boston Markets

Boston—The Boston market, although lacking in activity, was fully compensated by an excellent degree of firmness. All offerings were absorbed with very slight concessions in value and it is believed with renewal activity prices will readily respond to the strong conditions which now prevail in the metal market. Copper, silver and lead all strong, should spell higher prices for the metal shares.

DAILY LETTER

Ishpeeming—The market were again reactionary today but at that, they are not going down very fast, in fact, practically the only recessions were fractions. Further the markets are very quiet on these little recessions. The copers continue to lack a leader, but we feel that one will appear when least expected. The precious metal stocks also show declines from yesterday's high, although sales of silver ounce. Reports from the steel industry indicate a remarkably large volume of business. There was more peace talk circulated in Wall Street and probably this caused some of the heaviness. Verde Extension was weak again today but as yet have not been able to get anything official to account for the decline.

GRAIN—After a strong opening, wheat gradually declined, all options losing about a point. The best opinion is that wheat will find a slightly lower level but that it is a good purchase on the declines for a long pull.

WILLING TO WED RICH GERMAN GIRLS

Berlin, Nov. 30.—An American who signs himself L. Merritt Smith writes to the "Vossische Zeitung" from Heidelberg, Cal.:
"We are twenty young men, all strong, healthy and of good character. Recently we read in the San Francisco Chronicle that the German government intends to induce foreigners to settle in Germany after the war, to marry German girls or widows and to aid in the reconstruction of the empire."
"Nice" even of my friends and myself are willing to respond to this call and we desire to make the acquaintance of nice, respectable girls of widows under 30 years, who know English and not without means. We of us would like to become farmers in Germany if they could find wives who possess the necessary capital. Others desire to establish themselves in some trade. We are honest and sincere and mean business. Our desire is to marry good German women, as we are lonesome here and cannot find partners because we are not wealthy.
"We will be greatly indebted to you if you publish this letter and also turn it over to the other German newspapers. Photographs of ourselves and references will gladly be sent". In conclusion, I want to state once more that our offer is sincere. With ladies who only want to flirt, we do not wish to correspond.

In Good Company.
When Prof. Walter Raleigh, an Englishman, who was a direct descendant of the original Sir Walter Raleigh, was asked to lecture at Princeton college, Professor Root of Princeton went down to the station to meet the distinguished visitor and escort him to his rooms. Professor Root did not know Professor Raleigh, but he took a chance on being able to locate him in the crowd that got off the train. Walking up to a man that he thought looked like him, he said: "I beg your pardon, but am I addressing Walter Raleigh?" The man looked at him for a moment and replied: "No, I am Christopher Columbus. Walter Raleigh is in the smoking room with Queen Elizabeth."—Life.

Dignity of Manual Labor.
The trouble with most young men is that they do not understand the dignity of manual labor. They do not realize that honors and fortune may be more readily gained outside of the so-called learned professions than in them; and that it is just as honorable to swing a hammer or to hold a plow as it is to make a speech in court or to amputate a limb. The lesson young men should be taught as early as possible is that it is not so much what a man does for a living as how he does it, and that manual labor is as honorable as any other.—Lubbock Av. Alanche.

Wasted Team.
Ever since the introduction of electricity we have had and made free use of electrical meters, but it has only been within the last few years that reliable steam meters have been in the market, and these meters, with the accompanying coal and water weighers, have done more to demonstrate the wasteful use of steam and arouse the interest of the plant owner than anything else known. In one large plant the newly installed steam meters unearthened leaks and other waste amounting to over $60,000 a year, and this is by no means an extreme case.—Engineering World.

WERE DROWNED, SAYS THE NOTE

Menominee, Mich., Nov. 30.—"Anything you can write before you go out on your run?" queried the boss of the editorial rooms of a local newspaper, as the reporter showed up to begin six more days of labor.

"We have with us today one of our old time friends, a note-in-a-bottle yarn," responded the reporter. "It was a 'booze' bottle that this note was left in and the note strayed up more trouble than the original contents would have thought of raising."

"Who left the note?"

"A couple of boozes from Egg Harbor, I guess. They must be the regular cut ups over in Egg Harbor. The note they left was found in the bottle near Ford River yesterday. The note read like this:

"Henry Colum and Harvey Leroy drowned in Lake Michigan 15 miles off Egg Harbor. Notify the Escanaba life saving station and please notify our parents at Egg Harbor. We are their lost sons"

"Some note," commented the boss.

"Some note is right. You can imagine the Ford Riverites who found the bottle getting all excited and rushing the note to the sheriff's office at Escanaba. And when Sheriff Iverson got the note he not-footed it to a lone distance phone and called up Chief A. P. English here. Chief English called us up and I got busy on the long distance telephone to Egg Harbor.

"Finally I got hold of John Bettchinger, and found that Colum and Leroy were still very much alive. Furthermore, they hadn't been missing. They were 28 years and 24 years old respectively, which strikes me as old enough to know better, if they really write the note. What kind of a yarn shall I write about it?"

"Oh, kind of a joke story," responded the Boss, "And you might take a little slap at the lost sons for their foolishness."

That's all.

MISSSES ELIZABETH AND MARY GARLAND

The daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Garland of Washington are to be made much of in capital society this coming season. Miss Mary, at the left of the picture, is to be one of the season's debutantes, and Miss Elizabeth, at the right, is to become the bride of George Wharton Edwards of Bethlehem, Pa., on November 24. The Garlands are one of Washington's oldest families and live in a handsome old house in Georgetown.

ARREST HEIRESS ON FORGE CHARGE

Cheboygan, Nov. 30.—Miss Winifred Sammons, aged 17, said to be heiress to $50,000, and the daughter of a prominent Cheboygan family, has been arrested in Richmond, Ind., charged with forging a letter in an attempt to get money.

The story which Miss Winifred told in Richmond was that differences with her father impelled her to leave home last summer and to go to work in one of the Mackinac summer resorts. Here she met a woman from Richmond and at the end of the summer went to her home.

She worked as a domestic in the Richmond homes of Mrs. J. E. Uhrich, Mrs. Harry M. Jay and Mrs. Dudley Elmer at different times, always telling those she met that she was merely a guest there, according to advices received.

The incident, which caused trouble for Winifred, is said, was the presenting of a forged letter signed with the name of Miss Nola Russel, assistant secretary of the Wayne Council Social Service bureau.

The letter was presented to a prominent Richmond woman and contained an appeal for money. Investigation proved it was false and the head of the bureau caused the girl's arrest.

While Winifred is being held awaiting the prosecution of her case, the local police are investigating a theory that she was lured here by two men in acquaintance with two men in being scrutinized.

According to word sent from here to Richmond, it is indicated that the girl will inherit about $50,000 and much property when she is 25 years of age.

FRENCH EXPERT SEES U. S. TRADE

Paris, Nov. 30.—That the volume of business between the United States and Europe will not cease with the war, that the United States will not for several years have to fear European competition in manufactured products, is the opinion expressed by Robert Pinot, general secretary of the Comité des Forges de France. This organization is the official representative of the Creusot works and all the other iron and steel manufacturers of France and the medium through which the French government is now obtaining large quantities of war munitions.

In an interview M. Pinot said: "It is unfortunately true that we must look to the United States for several years to supply us with money or credit and with raw and manufactured materials. I realize that we will be working for the next twenty years to pay what we owe. Not before that time can we begin to put any profits in our own pockets."

"We cannot turn around so soon as the war is over and begin flooding your home markets, because of our cheaper labor. How can we? We will first have the enormous task of rebuilding our old steel plants, of reconvertng our automobile, button, cloth, printing, and railroad shops, all now busy making munitions, back to their old uses. We will try to repair the vast material destruction that has come with the war. Then we will have to do our best to satisfy our own home markets. To do these things we will have to continue to buy of you."

Owes Her Good Health to Chamberlain's Tablets.

"I owe my good health to Chamberlain's Tablets," writes Mrs. R. G. Neff, Crookston, Ohio. "Two years ago I was an invalid due to stomach trouble. I took three bottles of these Tablets and have since been in the best of health." Obtainable everywhere.

ROCKEFELLER IS ASKED TO ASSIST

Monastir, Servia, Nov. 30.—"The people of Albania are striving, but what is happening to Servia is the blackest page in human history," declared Mme. Slavko Grouitch, who arrived here today after a desperate 20-day thip from Nish.

Mme. Grouitch has cabled to John D. Rockefeller, asking that he aid the starving non-combatants, but owing to delays in communication, a reply is not expected for a week.

Mme. Grouitch is the wife of the permanent under-secretary of foreign affairs of Servia. She made a coast to coast tour of the United States last summer in the interest of the Servian relief, speaking at many of the larger cities, including St. Louis.

Although she was a member of a government party, Mme. Grouitch said that the most she could get to eat each day was a half loaf of bread.

"The horses we rode were starving," she said, "and some fell exhausted by the road side and died before our eyes."

"Some of the woman and children in the party dragged themselves along day by day, with little or nothing to eat. Woman became ill from lack of nourishment and lay down in the road to die, after confiding their babies to the care of strangers.

"Only one narrow horse t rail through Albania now leads to Servia, since the Bulgars cut the railroad."

Madame Grouitch's statements were corroborated by M. Michotte Welle, Belgian Minister to Servia, who was in the party of refugees with her. He said:

"I offered money to my servants but they burst into tears and cried: 'We can't eat gold; have you no bread?'"

"On our way here we heard, one night, the wild screams of a man along the mountain road. Next day we were told that the shrieks came from a man who was being murdered for his little chunk of bread."

"Servia is looking toward America for relief. Germany must let America help the Servians. Cut off from the world, they will starve by thousands."

FORD PEACE PROJECT BREAKS LAWS OF U.S.

New York, Nov. 30.—The New York Tribune says: "The very moment that Henry Ford begins to put into execution his threat to end the European war before Christmas he may be thrust into an American jail. Then if he is indicted and found guilty and the maximum sentence is imposed on him, he may spend five years in the federal prison at Atlanta and also pay $5,000 into the coffers of the United States."

"And not only Mr. Ford, but everyone associated with the manufacturer of automobiles in his mission of peace, will be equally culpable, and also be liable to a five-year sentence and a fine of $5,000.

Don't Look For Trouble

It is a mistake to go upon the plan of "Never trouble trouble till trouble troubles you." Better do all you can to keep out of it.

As the lack of money is at the root of most troubles, an active savings account in a safe bank like the State Savings Bank will do much to keep you out of it.

WILL NOT FAVOR OVERSEAS TRUST

Washington, Nov. 30.—Great Britain has informally asked the United States if it would unofficially approve the American Overseas Trust. The state department has replied that under no circumstances could any sanction be given an organization which would receive preferential treatment over other American shippers.

Sweden also has made similar inquiry, and has been advised that the plan has not been endorsed.

It developed that part of the plan of the trust was to organize subsidiaries in neutral countries, and that a measure of supervision was to be given the British government by permitting access to the books of the concern in neutral countries.

Sweden informed Great Britain that she would not approve such a plan. Referential Treatment Abandoned. State department officials declared that the Overseas Trust organizers now realize they could hope to get no assistance from the American government so long as their plan contemplated preferential treatment for one set of American shippers as against others. That feature has now been abandoned and a representative of the trust in London is negotiating with the British government to the end that the latter will have no connection with the new organization.

made it clear that they did not know the details of the new plan, and would reserve judgment until it was laid before them. It was explained also that the department of commerce had not given its approval to the Overseas Trust, merely stipulating that the plan would be acceptable if no discrimination was practiced.

RECOGNITION FOR MANGUM

The many friends in Escanaba of John D. Mangum, secretary of the Marquette Commercial Club, are greatly pleased with the recognition that is coming to him through results being accomplished by the Marquette boosters organization.

Of Mr. Mangum's work the Ishpeming Iron Ore said:

"To no one man of its city is more credit due for securing the new labor employing concerns soon to be enjoyed than Hon. John D. Mangum, the efficient secretary of its commercial club, an organization that is just now becoming effective in the work for which it was organized several years ago. Mr. Mangum is a tireless worker, full of energy, with unbounded faith in his city and in the region in which it is located. When he seeks to gain favors for his town he makes the effort with the firm conviction that he is offering a rare opportunity to those who are being solicited, and this is probably one of his greatest qualities in gaining the attention of business people. Marquette has always been lacking in manufacturing establishments and the labor they employ. It is a fine residence town, clean, healthy and prettily located. It is attractive and a pleasant place to live. As a residence city it is altogether desirable, but it always has been short of enterprises that keep a dinner party brigade at work, and that's very important to the continued success of any place."

Mr. Mangum has not secured these things for his town without much effort and without many discouraging experiences, some of which probably were met with his own community, for always we have with us those who have no faith, as well as a few who dislike to see any man win no matter how worthy his object.

"But the great majority of Marquette's people must be pleased with the accomplishments of the commercial club through its secretary who certainly has earned much credit by his persistence and effectiveness. The hardest thing to accomplish is to get the initial factory. This established it attracts others through its operation, particularly if it is successful. Associate industries come in and soon there is a fine long line of labor employing concerns that get a town started on the road to success. A few real live men can do much for a town, and particularly for one located in such a country as nature has made of this. It is to take advantage of natural conditions that the upper peninsula boomers should be working."

"During the next ten years there is going to be a great agricultural awakening in this county of Marquette as well as in the entire upper peninsula, because the country at large is going to learn more about our ability to produce things from the soil. The country is to be convinced that we really have lands suited to the growing of the things the world needs, and it will discover that we have a great home market that is very important in the conducting of things agricultural. It is going to recognize the fact that we have lands well worth $100 an acre that can be purchased for a tenth of this sum. Good roads will assist in advertising our advantages of soil and climate, and the county that is alive to its own best interests will be very active in the good roads movement. Good roads will acquaint thousands of people with our soil wealth who otherwise would be very long in knowing about it. It isn't simply to make a way for the automobile speeder. While he may come there will be others who will be keen enough to appreciate opportunity. Mr. Mangum is appealing to the men who have an eye to good investment. He has a farm, a very fine one, with fruit trees and other things to prove his contention that real farms can be developed here. He is illustrating what can be done, and that's a great help to the town in which he lives as well as to the entire upper peninsula because no man has a patent right on farms, and the domain here is big enough for hundreds of thousands of farmers. "The country needs more men of the Mangum kind, men who know the country and who are proclaiming its worth constantly and in loud convincing voices. Marquette city has good reason to feel glad that it possesses Mr. Mangum."

BARN IS GUTTED IN EARLY FIRE

What was at first thought to be the furnace chimney smoking at the home of Mrs. George Brickley, later turned out to be the barn at the back of her home which in some mysterious way had caught fire. Mrs. Brickley awoke yesterday morning and noticed smoke all about her home and she did not think anything of it as it was thought a brisk fire was in the furnace. When she looked out of the window and the flames were seen leaping from the roof of the barn an alarm was turned in and two fire companies responded. The damage to the building will amount to about two hundred dollars.

lying down across the rope, to make death doubly sure, a post mortem examination was made of the body by Dr. Bartley and no trace of poison of any kind was found.

Mr. Nelson had not been well for some time but he worked regularly at his desk at the Hill Drug Store and complained but little. On Wednesday evening of last week he told J. J. Sourwine, proprietor of the store, that he did not feel well and asked if he might remain away from the store the next day as he wished to get out in the woods in the fresh air. He owned a motorcycle and frequently was given days off by Mr. Sourwine to spend in the woods and in touring the surrounding country. He did not return to the store until Saturday evening when he came in to have a prescription filled.

He told Mr. Sourwine that he was not feeling a great deal better but believed that he might be able to report for work on Monday morning.

His condition continued to grow more serious, however, and to his family Mr. Nelson expressed the fear that he was becoming insane. He asked that relatives be called in and he repeated his claim to them that he feared he was losing his mind. They attempted to persuade him that his fears were groundless but agreed to remain with him. He repeatedly said that he feared he might try to take his life and asked that they take him to the probate court where his mental condition could be examined. Some one was constantly with him on Monday and he finally agreed that he would go to Chicago to consult a specialist. Hurried preparations were made to leave on Monday night, but Mrs. Nelson was unable to make arrangements to leave at that time and the trip was postponed until Tuesday night.

A letter was forwarded to relatives in Chicago announcing that they would reach that city on Wednesday morning.

He continued restless throughout Monday evening but for the greater portion of the time appeared to be rational. Nelson spent the evening at the home of his brother-in-law, Martin Anderson and late in the evening he appeared to be growing extremely nervous. He asked Mr. Anderson and other men who were with him to go with him to the county jail, where he could be locked up. They attempted to dissuade him but he insisted that he would be better off in a cell and they finally accompanied him to the jail.

When he reached the place there were no lights about and Mr. Nelson said that he did not wish to arouse the her. He said he felt better and believed he could sleep when he reached home.

The men accompanied him to his home and remained with him talking of different matters until 2 o'clock. He then said he was sure he could sleep and assured them there was no need of waiting longer. They went to their homes and Mr. Nelson went to bed. Mrs. Nelson heard him go up at about four o'clock and she asked him where he was going. He assured her that he wished to step out of the house for just a moment and would not leave the yard. She arose to watch him and saw him go out a rear gate. She had their four months old babe in her arms and throwing a wrapper about herself and babe, Mrs. Nelson followed her husband to the bay shore calling to him, but he paid no heed to her calls. She lost sight of him near the bay shore and was forced to return to the house and as soon as possible called relatives and friends. The search was then instituted that finally resulted in the finding of the lifeless body at daybreak.

Mr. Nelson was about 40 years of age and besides his wife is survived by four children, the youngest a babe of four months and the eldest, 12 years of age. Mr. Nelson was of a quiet, industrious nature and held the esteem not only of his employer and fellow employees, but of all of the patrons of the store.

Definite arrangements for the funeral were not made last night.
