TO DEPORT SLOAN FOR GAMBLING

London, Dec. 2.—Tod Sloan, the former jockey, was arrested yesterday on a deportation order under the force of the real act, which permits the deportation of an alien without the necessity of assigning a reason.

A French actress named Dherly, who played in the French revue at the Gaywick Theatre, was arrested yesterday. She will be sent to France with her mother tomorrow. The ground of arrest in both cases was the charge of keeping a gambling house.

The police cannot prosecute any of the principals because the officers reading publicity, do not want to figure in court proceedings. Sloan has been in London about four months. He has been watched by the police since his arrival.

The police decline to discuss Sloan beyond saying that the United States may be assured that there were adequate grounds for inviting him to return to his country.

Under the deportation order Sloan was taken at government expense to Liverpool. A steamer ticket was given to him, also two shillings to buy luxuries on the voyage. He will, of course, transfer to the saloon, but officially he is sailing as a steerage passenger.

He was allowed to take all personal belongings. The defence of the real act has enabled the police to clear London of scores of undesirable characters. A recent departure to South America by a man who did not await deportation occurred in the case of James Jeffrey Williams, better known in the rogues' gallery as Silverberg, who often used the name of Colemann courtmartial proceedings against Col. Dayton.

Williams was prominent in the Pryor, who was charged with taking young officers to the flat, where they played chemin de fer. Williams was the man who won. Col. Pryor was an intimate friend of Martin, the cotton factor of Chattanooga, who mysteriously disappeared some time ago and was supposed for a time to have been murdered.

Neither Lord Roseberry's warning nor Dr. Hexamer's counsel is likely to carry much weight in America. Things which have happened in connection with the world war have opened our eyes. We no longer see the early dawn of universal peace or the speedy establishment of the brotherhood of man. We are sadder, and less optimistic, but doubtless wiser. We are coming to the conclusion, if in fact we have not already reached it, that if our rights are not to be violated, our interests ruthlessly disregarded and our peace threatened by the unjust and unwarranted practices of other nations, we must be strong enough to protect ourselves and to inspire fear by our power where contempt only may now exist by reason of our weakness.

KINGMAN FOR STATETRE ASURER

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 2.—Former State Senator Albert C. Kingman, of Battle Creek, injected a little ginger into the coming political campaign when he announced Monday afternoon that he would be a candidate for the republican nomination for state treasurer at the state convention next year.

Kingman was a candidate for state treasurer in 1912, when John Perry of Osceola county, and John W. Haarer, of Ann Arbor, were the contenders. Haarer was nominated on the second ballot and after waiting four years Kingman has decided to try for the nomination again.

During the legislative sessions of 1909 and 1911, Kingman represented the Calhoun-Branch district in the senate, and figured prominently in the special session of 1912, when he was among those who voted against former Governor Osborn's immediate effect presidential primary bill.

Kingman, however, will find plenty of opposition again next year as two lively candidates, Senator Samuel Odell, of Shelby, and Deputy State Treasurer Frank Gorman of Sandusky have been avowed candidates for several months. Both Gorman and Odell have done some quiet skirmishing for delegates, and each candidate appears confident of winning. Kingman thinks, however, that his chances of winning are exceptionally good.

THE WAR

LONDON, Dec. 2.—Emperor William's visit to Vienna, which coincided with the resignation of three of the Austrian cabinet ministers, is the cause of much speculation.

The two events are obviously assumed to be connected with the reported effort of Germany to force Austria into a German zone versus a business confederation, a desire of Emperor Francis Joseph to secure a separate peace through the intervention of Pope Benedict, and a rumored dispute between Austria and Bulgaria over the division of Serbian territory.

There is naturally no authoritative basis for any of these reports beyond statements in the German newspapers that Emperor William's visit was one of the highest importance.

Meantime, the operations in the Balkans and the movements of the armies of the central powers continue with unabated energy. Like Germany, Bulgaria announces that with the capture of Pristina her campaign against Serbia has come to an end, which seems to support the suggestion that, to avoid a dispute with Greece, King Ferdinand of Bulgaria, has decided against the occupation of Monastir, the only town of any importance remaining in Serbian hands.

Monastir was still in the hands of the Serbians late Monday night and no official news that there has been any change there has been received since.

Austria, with the assistance of German troops, continues her operations against Montenegro, the frontier of which has been crossed, but without considerable opposition from the Montenegrins, who are masters in mountain warfare, and who have been joined by some portions of the Serbian armies which succeeded in escaping from the invaders of their country.

Battles are now being fought in that part of the Sanjak of Nopazar which was taken by Montenegro after the Balkan war. The Austro-Germans are advancing south from Sienica and across the frontier from Priepolje. In the north the Montenegrins claim to have defeated the Teutons in the region of Fotcha, Bosnia. It is expected, however, that the Austro-Germans have provided sufficient forces to make sure of a successful campaign, as they did in the case of Serbia.

In southeastern Serbia, where the British, French and Serbians hold strong positions, the snow still prevents any movements of importance. No news has been received of the Austrians and Germans who proceeded to Ruzschuk, on the Danube river, to cooperate with the Bulgarians and Turks to oppose a possible Russian invasion through Roumania.

The attitude of Roumania is still uncertain. The latest reports say that she, like Greece, is trying to remain neutral, but with two belligerent armies on her borders this, it is believed, may prove difficult.

Greece, in her last reply to the note of the entente allies, insists upon the maintenance of her neutrality and independence, and a final settlement of the points at issue between the Hellenic kingdom and the entente powers is not yet in sight.

ASKS SANTA CLAUS TO FIND A HUSBAND

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 2.—In addition to his regular occupation of finding work for unemployed men and women John Hallahan, assistant superintendent of the Illinois Free Employment Bureau in East St. Louis, has been invited by a California girl to find her a husband.

Hallahan declines to make public the name of the girl. In her letter she expressed the hope that Hallahan will be able to make her a Christmas present of a husband.

After stating she is lonely, an orphan and a good cook the girl closes her letter as follows: "I am a Christian and careful. It seems hard to come in contact with the right sort of a man but what he is divorced. I hope you may have personal caller and that you will be able to speak of me to them. Please keep my name confidential.

Among the requirements of the husband are that he shall not use liquor, tobacco or profanity or indulge in any other objectionable habits.

"Would consider a Southern gentleman, or even a Democrat," the letter states, "but good references must be produced."

CLAIM SHIP'S COAL "WAS DOCTORED"

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 2.—Certain officers of the steamship Tivoli, which burned to the water's edge off Thomas Point, in Chesapeake Bay, Friday night will report in the next few days to the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic officials that in their belief the fire was indirectly of an incendiary origin.

In the disaster two lives are known to have been lost. Seven persons are still unaccounted for, two of these young children of the Master, Captain Richard Heward.

From the nature of the blaze, it is said, at least two men who were aboard the ship have reason to believe that the coal in the bunkers, which was loaded at this port, had been "doctored," and was intended for a British ship.

In view of the sudden burst of flame, which in 20 minutes burned the entire superstructure of the vessel, it is said to be more than probable that the coal contained foreign chemical elements.

Captain Heward, who was picked up from the wreck and taken aboard another vessel to Cape Charles, Virginia, was standing in the engine room of the Tivoli talking with Chief Engineer Pitter. Both men witnessed a peculiar burst of blue flame, and both exclaimed simultaneously. "The ship is doomed."

APPOINTMENT IS UP TO FERRIS

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 2.—Apparently the promised change in the management of the Industrial School for Boys will take place sooner than Governor Ferris anticipated.

Several days ago, however, the chief executive declared positively that there would be an upheaval at the school and at Monday's meeting of the board of control, Superintendent E. M. Lawson tendered his resignation, and Mrs. J. E. St. John, who had been matron for the last 20 years asked to be relieved of further responsibility and announced her intention of leaving the school at once.

At the request of the board Lawson will remain until his successor is appointed. Because of their activities in the investigation at the industrial school public instruction, and his deputy, John Munson, have been mentioned as probable successors to Lawson.

Because of the fact that he is a democrat, Munson has been most favored. However, Keeler and Munson declared most emphatically Tuesday morning that neither would accept the position if Governor Ferris should tender it to them.

Keeler in all probability will be re-elected for another term as superintendent of public instruction, and he is practically assured of three years more in his present office. It is believed that Governor Ferris, who is in a position to dictate the appointment will urge as Lawson's successor a man of ability in that particular line of work.

THE DELFT TODAY

"The Soul of Broadway." Valeria Suratt and William E. Shay in the most amazing photo-drama ever produced. Briefly the story concerns the life of La Valenda, a typical woman of the New York stage, wonderfully beautiful but old in sin. Her lover (portrayed by William E. Shay) becomes a thief that he may shower luxuries upon her. He is sentenced to prison and for five years eats his heart out in solitude, to emerge at the end of that time a sad-faced, gray-haired man, entirely cured of his mad infatuation.

By accident Valencia sees him. Her old passion for him is revived. It means nothing to her that since his release from prison he has fallen in love, and married a good woman. She tries to win him back. When her fascinations fail, she threatens to expose his past life. He will not yield and she prepares to carry out her threat. Then Destiny takes a hand and with climactic suddenness and power the end comes.

On Saturday, "Seal of the Navy" will be shown. The episode that failed to appear last Saturday will be shown on Saturday together with the regular episode. The followers of this picture will have the opportunity of seeing the 12th and 13th episodes.

QUALITY AND PACKAGE MUST HAVE STANDARD

Chicago, Dec. 1.—Charles J. Brand, chief of the bureau of markets, U. S. department of agriculture today told the National Conference on Marketing and Farm Credits that standardization of farm products as to quality and as to size and type of package is necessary as an accurate basis for price quotation.

He said that accuracy of standards in scaling products means a smaller margin to the price paid by consumers and the price received by producers. He thought standardization of packages a proper subject for federal legislation under the weights and measures power of the constitution.

"We can never have much progress until the buyer and the seller are discussing the commodity in the same terms and that means that we must have grades and standards not only as to quality, but as to packages and containers," said Mr. Brand.

"In order to get an accurate idea of the diversity which prevails in this matter regard, C. T. More of the department of agriculture has made a collection showing the size and types of packages and containers current in the trade. I assure you it is a motley horde, and is in itself a complete argument for standardization.

"New York has one set of grape baskets, Michigan another, and still other grape territories other kinds. Some of them look very much like others, but contain less. Such confusion furnishes endless opportunity for manipulation and even dishonesty. In the case of strawberry boxes, not only is there exceedingly great variation in the cubic contents, but it is a common practice to repack from containers of greater capacity to those of less in distributing in and to the retail trade. Likewise with peaches, the successful commercial orchardist packs his peaches according to the size of the fruit, and often when he buys his own fruit he finds that where he had packed as high as 36 to 45 in each four-quart basket, the retailer has repacked only 19 to 25 peaches in the same basket.

"Under the weights and measures power of the constitution, congress has recently established the standard barrel for apples, cranberries and certain other fruits. This act becomes effective July 1, 1916. Undoubtedly this barrel will replace a large number of short measure packages which are used for potatoes, truck crops and other things, and which vary in capacity from two bushels up to ten or twelve pecks. The standardization of apple boxes, berry crates and cups and other containers is under consideration and we may look forward to progress with reference to these."

Cooperation as the first and important step in the proposed reorganization of American agriculture along lines that will bring lasting prosperity was pictured by Frank L. McVey, chairman of the thirty-sixth national conference on marketing and farm credits, in his address. He argues for better agriculture, better markets and better financing and said in part: "We are told that of the wealth produced in a given year, agriculture was to be credited for $9,000,000,000 and that 36 per cent of the population of the United States is engaged in farming or supported by it. Despite this showing, agriculture taken as a whole, has not prospered. It is agreed that there must be changes, which may be centered about three things: (1) better agriculture, (2) better markets and (3) better financing.

GETS NEW PHOTOS OF PLANET WORLD

Baltimore, Dec. 2.—Using the 60 inch telescope at Mount Wilson observatory, at Pasadena, Cal., the largest of its kind in the world, Dr. Robert Wood, professor of physics at Johns Hopkins University, has obtained remarkable results in photographing the moon, Saturn and Jupiter by yellow light and ultra violet and infrared rays.

The planets showed remarkable differences when photographed by the different lights. On Saturn a broad dark belt about the equator was plainly visible on the photo of the ultra violet photographs, but totally lacking on the others. The polar caps and the rings of the planet also showed differences.

The change in appearance was caused, Dr. Wood says, by some material in the planet's atmosphere, either finely divided dust or some absorbing gas opaque to the ultra violet rays but transparent to the ordinary yellow ones.

Jupiter showed even more marked differences than Saturn, the markings being very much more complicated and intricate, in one than the other.

SACK SHORTAGE CAUSE OF ORDER

Because of the rapidly increasing shortage in sacks for holding parcels post packages, and the necessity of having all possible equipment in the large centers to care for the big Christmas parcels post rush, Postmaster John O'Meara received orders yesterday to forward all surplus sacks from this office to Chicago, aboard the regular mail cars instead of by freight. Under ordinary conditions the surplus sacks are returned to Chicago by freight, but from this time until after Christmas all such sacks will be returned to Chicago immediately aboard the mail cars.

INVALID DAKOTA LAW LIKE OURS

Lansing, Dec. 2.—The law which invalidates the law passed by the Michigan legislature, according to Attorney General Fellows.

The law was sent to him by Attorney General Carroll of South Dakota. "With some few modifications," said Mr. Fellows, "the law is the same as ours. I understand that South Dakota is now preparing an appeal, so we will then soon have the whole matter before the United States supreme court, where I am satisfied the law will be upheld.

At the invitation of Attorney General Carol, Mr. Fellows will assist in this appeal. He was the author of the original bill drawn up by the attorney general, and afterwards passed in Michigan and South Dakota.

The federal judges who held the Dakota law invalid and not say why they did it. They simply rested their act upon decisions of other federal courts an older laws, including the 1913 Michigan one, which the Detroit federal courts held invalid, and which was repealed by the 1915 statute.

FRANK MURPHY TO REVIVE BASEBALL

Green Bay, Wis., Dec. 2.—Baseball will again be revived in this section of the state if the efforts of Frank E. Murphy, of this city, are successful. Mr. Murphy is attempting to again revive the old Wisconsin-Illinois league, and is now in touch with prominent men in cities where the circuit formerly held sway. Letters are being sent out to men interested in the sport, asking their co-operation. Following is a copy of a letter mailed to President T. E. Ahern of the Fond du Lac Business Men's association. "My Dear Mr. Ahern: Don't you think Fond du Lac would support a ball team next season? I would like very much to reorganize the old W.-I. league and put a team in Fond du Lac; this team to be owned and controlled entirely by local management, and not be a feeder for some team with the result that just when it was going good its best players would be called away. "Will you kindly look around and let me hear from you at your earliest convenience?" Mr. Murphy is one of the best known baseball men in the state. He is a veteran in the promotion of the sport, having been identified with the old Wisconsin league that flourished twenty-five years ago, in which Fond du Lac was a member. He recently owned the Green Bay franchise. He is a banker and a business man of the type to inspire confidence in any plan that he may be behind will be based on solid business principles.

FAVORS STATE MARKETING LAW

Chicago, Dec. 2.—Dr. Charles McCarthy, Madison, Wis., is an address before the National Conference on Marketing and Farm Credits, advocated the creation by law of a marketing commission empowered to create define and enforce reasonable standards of farm products. Mr. McCarthy favored a plan which would permit producers meeting certain requirements and carrying out certain standards to use a label or brand issued by the state, thus indicating to the consumer that the state had inspected the products. But legislation alone, he held, would not bring the desired results. Law had to be supplemented by organization for its own enforcement. He said in part: "To say standards shall exist and to define them is one thing, to carry them out is another. Ultimately no legislation will succeed without organization. We cannot say by law a standard of apples or a standard of butter is hereby established. We must have some organization to see that that standard is administered. "If Farmer A has a few potatoes and Farmer B, five miles from there, has a few of the same kind of standards, they may not be better off than if they produced any old kind of potato. Farmers A and B and C and D and E and the rest of them must unite and get a warehouse where the grading can be done and a label can be put upon the sacks and where, by telephone or telegraph connection, the produce can be sold to the best advantage. Once you have this you can make the farmer see that his brand represents certain standards and those standards must be kept. "We can arrange the capacity of a barrel or define a certain kind of a measure, but when it comes to the quality of the goods or the grade we are in difficulties at once. To do it in a national way in most produce at least seems an impossibility. "In the Massachusetts apple grading and packing law the kinds of varieties for our different grades are defined—the maturity, how picked, color, shape, size, condition, diseases and fungus growth, insect injuries, bruises and other mechanical injuries, how packed, etc. When one reads under the heading 'conditions' the simple word 'sound,' one is struck with the fact that that means no blemish unless there is a vast system of education to show what a sound apple is. It, after all, must be backed up by an organization and a brand."

BRYAN CAN'T GO ON PEACE VOYAGE

Miami, Fla., Dec. 2.—William J. Bryan today said he had been forced to decline to sail on the Ford peace ship on Dec. 4. He said, however, that he approved of the plan and expected it to prove a big power against the war in Europe. Detroit, Mich., Dec. 1.—Henry Ford, who will leave for New York tomorrow evening, preparatory to sailing for Europe next Saturday on his peace mission, announced tonight that accommodations on the steamer Oscar II had been reserved for fifty newspapermen, mostly from New York, Philadelphia and Boston. Nearly fifty other writers, it was added, had been unable to obtain places on the ship.

CHICAGO BANKS TO HELP LONDON

Chicago, Dec. 2.—A special meeting of the Chicago Clearing House association was held today and its members decided in favor of subscribing to the proposed loan of $50,000,000 to aid eight leading banks in England. The loan is secured by L 11,000,000 in British government bonds, deposited with the Bank of England. It was explained at the meeting that the loan differed from the Anglo-French loan in that it was a transaction between American and British banks and that the government was in no way involved. It was announced that Chicago banks will individually decide how much to subscribe.

SAYS VICTORY SEEMS TO BE BRITAIN'S

London, Dec. 2, 1915.—Andrew Bonar Law, secretary for the colonies, presiding tonight at the S. Andrews Day banquet, declared that he felt more hopeful as to the outcome of the war than he had for months past. In reply to statements in German newspapers that he had said Great Britain was on the point of bankruptcy, Mr. Law said the country was a long way from it, but that he did not pretend that it could go on indefinitely on the present scale. But the wealth of Great Britain, he added, had not even been touched as yet and she could bear the strain for a far longer period than her enemies. London, Dec. 1, 1915.—Viscount Haldane, former lord high chancellor, discussing the possibilities of peace during a meeting at King's Hall last night, declared that peace was more to be desired than any other thing at the present time. Nevertheless the speaker predicted that no peace negotiations would be considered by Great Britain or her allies until Emperor William and the German war party had been thrown out of the saddle by the German democracy. "The allies of a century ago," said Viscount Haldane, "were quite ready to make peace with France, but not with Napoleon. So today, until we can deal with the real German people, whom we can trust and whom we know as sane contributors of many good things to the world's civilization, but who have temporarily yielded their place to false leaders, we do not care to talk peace."

PEACE INVITATION IS TURNED DOWN

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 2.—Victor L. Berger, the first Socialist member of congress and recognized as one of the leaders of that party in America, has declined the invitation of Henry Ford to be one of the great motor car maker's delegates to Europe on the steamship Oscar II in an effort to bring about peace. In declining Mr. Ford's invitation, Mr. Berger replied: "Mr. Henry Ford, "President Ford for Automobile Co., "Hotel Baltimore, New York, N. Y. "I appreciate your idealism in trying to stop this horrible world war I do not believe, however, that this awful slaughter can be ended without concerted effort of the democratic political organizations within the principal countries now in the throes of this terrible struggle. Therefore, I must decline your kind invitation, but I wish you the best of luck in your undertaking."

STUDENTS ASK FOR NEW COACH

Madison, Wis., Dec. 2.—Because it was impossible to get a complete canvass of student opinion on the coaching situation at the University of Wisconsin before the meeting of the athletic committee of the regents Tuesday, the plan of presenting the Tuesday has been changed, and a committee of the heads of student organizations will meet with three of the regents Tuesday and inform them of the students demands for a new coach. There was a secret meeting of the athletic council Monday in which recommendations to the regents on the situation were drawn up. Director Ehle, who is head of the council, would make no statements as to the nature of the recommendations, but there is a feeling that the council felt forced to recommend a change in the coaching staff on account of the strength of the student sentiment against Coach Juneau. The report that the regents' athletic committee will make after its session with the student leaders Tuesday will probably determine the action of the board in the monthly meeting Wednesday. Most of the students believe that Coach Juneau will not be given a contract for another year, but there have been rumors that for some reason or other, he would be kept for next year at least. These rumors have aroused the alumni throughout the state and if no definite action is taken by the regents Wednesday there will be a much wider investigation into the Wisconsin situation than is now being carried on by the grads.

BUCK DEER, HORNS LOCKED, ARE KILLED AS THEY BATTLE

Duluth, Dec. 2.—With horns locked, killed as they fought for the supremacy of the forest, two buck deers were brought into Duluth by Peter Delovio. According to Delovio, he was with three companions when they heard sounds of animal conflict. Horns clashing resounded through the woods. Believing that two bull moose were battling, the hunters approached the conflict warily. Their caution was needless, for the two bucks, unconscious of all that was going on around them, battled for life. At one side, anxiously watching the battle was a doe and a spike-horn buck. Not wishing to spoil the exciting scene, the sportsmen remained quiet, until the bucks became locked, when, seeing they could not free themselves, the hunters approached, touch the animals with their hands, then fired.

HUNGARY VERY LENIENT WITH INTERNERD MEN

Budapest, Hungary, Dec. 2.—Interned civilians in many parts of Hungary are treated so leniently as to justify the recent statement that their internment is little more than formal. Most of the foreigners who remained in Hungary after the first month or two of war were of long standing in their communities and are not even regarded as in any way a menace to the welfare of the community. Although actually forced to live in formally assigned internment camps, the trusted aliens are given leave whenever they have a good reason to assign. For example, recently the entire population—(only 24)—of an internment camp near Budapest, were given a week's leave to attend the races at Vienna. The Hripl tells why they were compelled to return before their leave was up: "A party of visiting neutral journalists was being shown the capital a few days ago, and they asked if it would be possible for them to visit one of the Hungarian internment camps. Application was made to the Minister of the Interior, and he immediately designated the camp at Alag, a village near the capital where twenty-four enemy aliens are interned. "Two days before the date fixed for the visit the official in charge of internment camps rang up his Alag subordinate in order to advise him that visitors were coming and that he should put the camp in order. The following conversation followed: "See that everything is in order at your camp, as a dozen neutral newspaper men are coming?" "Tuesday at noon." "But that's impossible." "Why?" "Because the prisoners are not at home." "Where are they then?" "They went to Vienna to the horse races." "Well then, the newspaper men will have to put up with those who remain, suggested the Budapest official. "Yes, indeed," came the reply, "but none of them are at home. They even took their women folk with them. You see one cannot very well give permission to four or five and ignore the rest. I had to let some of them go." "The Budapest official scratched his head a minute and then ordered telegrams sent to the prisoners in Vienna asking them to return at once, with his apologies for disturbing their holiday."

DROPS 10,000 FT. FROM AEROPLANE

London, Dec. 2.—Colonel Matland of the Royal Naval Air Service jumped with a parachute today from an aeroplane which was 10,000 feet in the air. He landed safely. Colonel Matland has been experimenting with projected developments of the aerial service and arrived at the point where it was necessary to determine whether an airman could land safely by parachute from such a height. Same one has to do it," he said "There is only one person I care to ask I will make the attempt myself." It took the Colonel fifteen minutes to make the descent, but he solved his problem satisfactorily.

AD WOLGAST IS SHADED IN BATTLE

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 2.—Jimmy Murphy scored the most brilliant victory of his splendid career at the Olympia A. A. last night when he conquered Ad Wolgast, the Michigan wildcat, in six hair raising rounds. At the conclusion of the sixth round the crowd went wild over Murphy's wonderful showing in defeating the former lightweight champion of the world, who showed himself far from being a has-been. Murphy's victory was close, although it came near a decisive ending in the first round, when he almost knocked Ad out. About a minute after the start Murphy brushed aside a left hook and waded into Wolgast with his right and left working like piston rods. First a left hook and then a right uppercut found Wolgast; and his knees sagged and he nearly toppled to the floor, but managed to stagger across the ring, with Murphy in pursuit. Here Jimmy lost his head and, instead of trying to find an opening, lowered himself into a crouch and waded right into the ex-champion, swinging wildly with both hands, but Ad's ring generalship saved him.

SAYS GERMANY FOSTERED PLOT

New York, Dec. 2.—The German government was revealed today as the main spring of the movement to provide German cruisers at sea with coal and supplies shipped on neutral vessels from American ports early in the war by testimony of Dr. Karl Bueas, managing director of the Hamburg-American line. Dr. Bueas took the witness stand late today in the trial of himself and other line officials and employees for conspiracy to defraud the United States. Dr. Bueas, elderly and somewhat infirm, was assisted to the witness chair soon after William Rand, Jr., had concluded the opening address to the jury on behalf on the defense. In the fall of 1913, Dr. Benz testified, he received from the head office of the line in Hamburg a letter which notified him that his superior officers and the German government had signed and sealed an agreement which would become operative in time of war—of which there was not then a whisper—and that an abstract of this agreement would be sent shortly to the German consul general in New York, where he might see it. The letter then outlined the salient points, which were, as recalled by Dr. Bueas, about as follows: "That the Hamburg-American line would undertake to send coal and supplies to any German warships needing them in the Atlantic ocean, should Germany engage in war and should here be such warships in the Atlantic at that time. "That certain methods of communication would be used by the home office of the line in Hamburg to advise the line's officials where to send the supply ships. "In due time the abstract of this agreement with the German government came to the German consul general here as promised, was examined by Dr. Bueas, and found to be as outlined in his letter. There the matter rested until the 31st day of July, 1914. On the morning of that day, when the shadow of war rested over Europe, Dr. Bueas received a cablegram from Hamburg, which read about as follows: "Are you prepared to carry out our agreement with the German government?" "To this he sent one word back

JOFFRE MAY HAVE SUPREME CHARGE

London, Dec. 2.—Field Marshal Sir John French, commander of the British forces on the western front, was in London yesterday and conferred with Premier Asquith. So far as the public knows, Field Marshal French has not been in London before since he paid a secret visit to the British capital late in January last. He conferred with the British and French war ministers at Calais on July 6. Earl Kitchener, the British secretary of war, was in Paris yesterday. There have been reports that a movement is on foot to place General Joffre, the French leader, in supreme command of the Franco-British forces on the western front. London, Dec. 1.—Field Marshal Earl Kitchener, secretary for war, has returned to London from his trip to the near East. Earl Kitchener will meet his colleagues in a war council of the cabinet Thursday. At that time he will convey to them the results of his observations on the various battle fronts and his conferences at the capitals of the countries he visited.

ADVANCES IN OIL STOCK NOW TOTAL $148,000,000

New York, Dec. 2.—The persistent price increase in the gasoline market of late and the heavy demand for petroleum have not brought happiness to the automobile owner, but the owners of stocks of Standard Oil companies have found cause for rejoicing. Taking the entire group of thirty companies which grew out of the dissolution of the old Standard Oil Co., the stocks show an appreciation in market value of more than $148,000,000 over their combined value a fortnight ago. In this period the Standard made more progress than in any similar period of the year. Reports from various petroleum producing centers have told of bidding for all the crude oil by agents of leading refiners.

And then, feeling that German ships were soon to be swept by allied warships from the sea, he set in motion the machinery to provide neutral vessels to carry his cargoes of coal and supplies to his patriots' fleet in the South Atlantic."

HUSBAND GAVE BLOOD

The infusion of the blood of her husband into her veins is believed to have saved the life of Mrs. Carl Fragstad, of 1119 Van Cleve avenue, at the Laing hospital on Wednesday night. An internal hemorrhage had nearly drained the blood from the body of Mrs. Fragstad and she was practically pulseless when the unusual operation was performed. The arm of Mr. Fragstad was opened and blood from his body allowed to flow into the veins of his wife. An improvement in her condition was noted soon after the transfusion of blood had been started and at the hospital it is now believed that the patient will recover unless unforeseen complications develop.

TRAVELING MEN WILL HOLD MEET

Complete plans for a big booster meeting to be held in this city during the holiday period, will be made by traveling salesmen who make this city their headquarters, at a meeting to be held at the Delta hotel at 11 o'clock on Sunday morning. The first preliminary meeting for the holiday gathering was held here on Thanksgiving Day and at the session of Sunday the local traveling salesman will fully complete their plans.

BELGIAN LEVY IS 480,000,000 FRANCS

Amsterdam, Dec. 2.—When the year covered by the original way levy on Belgium expired last month it was reported here that the German administration would continue to collect at the rate of 40,000,000 francs monthly without stating the total sum desired or the period of its collection.

Later, according to prominent Belgians who recently left their country the German authorities announced that they would require 480,000,000 francs, collectable as previously each, but that security for the sum total was to be provided immediately. Unless such securities were voluntarily produced, the Belgian travelers reported, private banking accounts and safe deposits were to be seized by the German administration as collateral for the levy.

GEORGE J. MAAS HAS PASSED AWAY

Negaunee, Dec. 2.—After being ill for more than two years, George J. Maas, of this city, a resident of Negaunee nearly all of his life, and one of the most prominent mining men in the Upper Peninsula, died early this morning in his family home on Main street.

His wife, his son, William and his brother, Arthur, of Milwaukee, were at the bedside when death came to Mr. Maas. Besides these three, the deceased is survived by four other brothers. They are Walter, of Salt Lake City, Frank, of Minneapolis, Rudolph, of Franklin, Mich., and Edward of California. Mrs. Joseph Sues, of this city, and George Voelker, of Ish-

WILL ENFORCE NEW LAW HERE

C. U. Woolpert, county commissioner of schools, has received instructions from F. L. Keeler, state superintendent of public instruction as to the requirements, under a new law, in granting certificates to teachers who have had a full normal school training.

Mr. Keller's letter is as follows: "Inasmuch as literature sent out from this office may have caused some misunderstanding as to when the law requiring six weeks normal training for teachers goes into effect, I am offering the following explanation and suggestion.

"The law requiring six weeks of normal training before certificates can be issued to those who have not had at least five months experience in teaching in this state previous to July 1, 1916, must be taken into consideration in granting certificates to applicants at the April examination, 1916. If the county board of examiners so desire they may allow applicants to write at the April examination and if they pass, the certificate may be granted after completing the normal work as required by law, if completed within the life of the certificate. It will be necessary for the board of examiners to hold an adjourned session of the meeting held on the Saturday following the examination in order to avoid any legal objection to the granting of certificates at any other time than the Saturday following the examination as required by law. Instead of closing the meeting on that day adjourn it to a future date when you can grant the certificate. This will give applicants at least a hot summer to prepare themselves to meet the requirements of the law."

REMEMBER THE CHRISTMAS SEAL

The Red Cross Christmas seals will go on sale within the next few days. Keep the fact in mind when you start upon your Christmas shopping tours.

Make one of your first packages a sheet of Red Cross Christmas seals. Purchase enough of them so that you can affix one to every package, every letter, every card you send out to loved ones and friends.

You know how much this annual sale has done to help in the nationwide fight against the great white plague. You have been told many times that it is one of the few means of raising funds with which to carry on the battle. Therefore you cannot fail to understand how much your individual purchase, when multiplied tens of thousands of times, means in preventing the spread of the disease.

The Red Cross seals are not expensive. They are so cheap that they are within the reach of everyone who makes a Christmas gift. Therefore do not feel that you can have no part in this great annual work. No matter how small your purchase it helps make up the great total and without it and thousands more like it, the fight cannot go on.

TO COPY LOCAL SYSTEM

"When our club was organized two years ago, a civics department was created. This department was divided into a number of sections, one of which was delegated to look into the matter of pure food. The head of this committee, Mrs. James B. Wilkinson, decided to follow the example of some of our larger cities, instituting a regular system of store inspection. Also to publish a House Keeper's White List. The city was divided into sections, and two women were placed over each section with instructions to inspect once in three months, every store of any kind which sold food-stuff. Mr. Rowe, the state dairy and food inspector was sent for, and he accompanied the ladies on their first tour of inspection, instructing them carefully in their duties. The work proving very heavy, we decided to content ourselves with a certain amount of inspecting, calling upon Mr. Rowe for work which seemed to be more particularly in his sphere.

"In scoring, we use the sanitary score card issued by the Food committee of the National Consumers League making them out in duplicate. We leave the copy with the proprietor, that he may see just how he stands, and turn the other in to the head of our department, where they are kept for reference.

"In order to get up the Housekeep-

Talk It Over With Your Wife

SEE what she says, before doing anything that concerns your home—especially in money matters.

A man's wife has much to do with his success or failure. If she is thrifty his success is assured.

We'll be glad to explain the advantages of banking to thrifty women of this community.

ers' White List, which is published once in three months when all the score cards have been turned in from the quarterly inspection, each dealer must have a certain average. At first we made this as low as sixty-five, until the dealers began to understand our requirements. Then we gradually raised to seventy-five. Later we may make this even higher. In publishing the list we now give the name of the store and the average with it, deciding that it was unfair to publish merely the names, when some stores averaged so much higher than others.

"After our next inspection which will be a general one conducted by Mr. Rowe and myself, in order to see that our regular inspections have been kept fairly uniform by the different sets of inspectors, we are going to place some of the cards which the state provides for the windows of stores which have passed a satisfactory inspection. There are three grades of these cards. A white one certifying that the store is in extra fine sanitary condition, a blue one, stating that it is in fine condition, and a red one, stating that it is in good condition. These cards are very large and the colors bright, so that they attract considerable attention when placed in a window. They are signed by Mr. Helme, the state food and dairy commissioner. They can be taken away at any time the store is not kept up to par. We are going to give them according to the yearly average of each store, and will make that average a third high one, so it will take early work to reach and maintain one high enough to draw a card.

We have instructed our inspectors to ask permission in each store before starting to inspect and to maintain as friendly relations as possible, as we have no wish to antagonize unnecessarily any of our dealers. In the few places where they have been refused admittance they simply walk out, and I do the work for them, as there is a heavy fine for turning away a state inspector."
