WAR LESSONS AND DEFENSES.

From some sources, even where feeling is strong that the government should adopt extreme measures against Great Britain, there is sharp criticism of President Wilson because he advocates a moderate plan of national preparedness. It is charged that the national defense section of his recent message to congress is radically different from what he said on the subject in his message a year ago and that his record is therefore glaringly inconsistent.

Certain it is that President Wilson's opinions have undergone a material change within the past year. But why? Is it not because conditions affecting vitally our national interests have materially changed within the same period? A year ago, when President Wilson failed to urge any appreciable increase

THE WAR

Sofia, via London, Dec. 21.—The Echo de Bulgarie announces that the Bulgarian troops have been halted on the Greek frontier for the present in order to avoid embarrassing the Greek government, while the allied troops are gradually massing around Saloniki. It declares, however, that it may become necessary for the German and Bulgarian armies to invade Greece in pursuit.

The paper says that King Constantine recognizes that the central powers may be forced by military expediency to attempt to expel the allies and has cautioned the allies that they can not expect that Bulgaria's respect for Greek neutrality will last forever.

London, Dec. 21.—The announcement of the British withdrawal from Gallipoli overshadowed all other war news tonight. For the British public the abrupt war office statement marks the end of one of the great chapters of the war's history.

The shock of the news was hardly broken by the fact that rumors had been current in the streets for some days and that the withdrawal of the forces had been a matter of widespread pro and con discussion ever since Lord Ribblesdale's famous speech in parliament in which he declared that withdrawal had been recommended by a high military authority.

The feeling of the man in the street was generally one of relief mixed with regret. A popular half-penny paper sums up the British public's attitude as follows:

"Thus ends the enterprise on which the highest hopes were built and which if it had succeeded, would probably have turned the tide of the war. Our troops from the first to the last were within a few miles of victory."

The policy underlying the Dardanelles expedition may yet be carried to a successful issue in some other quarter of the Near East, but the prospect of forcing a way to Constantinople through the famous straits is apparently abandoned.

British troops continue to occupy the tip of the peninsula at Seddul Bahr commanding the entrance to the straits, where many declare a new Gibraltar will one day be. The position here is protected by a double line of ships and it is assumed this will be held.

Quiet has continued in the war during the last twenty-four hours and none of the oft-repeated threats of a big offensive in France, in Russia, and in the Balkans has yet actually materialized.

Persistent reports of a Greco-Bulgarian encounter, resulting from a Bulgarian surprise attack, have been cleared up by the Greek statement that the encounter took place in Albanian territory. No one was killed and few were wounded. Order was restored promptly and an amicable inquiry is proceeding.

It is announced from Paris that no enemy detachment has yet crossed the Greek frontier.

Meanwhile work on the defensive lines around Saloniki is being actively pushed and the Greek villages in the neighborhood of the lines are being evacuated by the population. Greek military circles declare they are convinced that the forces opposing the allies will not attempt to cross the frontier, the Bulgarians because they realize the danger of provoking Greece; the Germans because they are grateful for Greek neutrality and because they realize the tremendous cost which the enterprise would entail.

London, Dec. 21.—During the relaxation in all the offensive campaigns, except the Italian pressure on the Austrians, which has followed the expulsion of the Serbian army from its own country, European interest is focused upon the probability of some new but as yet undeveloped upheaval.

It appears to be taken for granted on all sides that the policy of the central powers will be to attempt to gain a decisive victory somewhere, while their opponents will prefer to devote the winter to preparations for warfare in the spring.

There is much discussion in Great Britain of a reported German attempt upon the Suez canal. Messages received from neutral countries professing to have German sources of information describe the German field marshal von der Goltz as equipping at Aleppo and army for an invasion of Egypt. The same correspondent asserts that the Germans are collecting extensive droves of camels and donkeys for their transports. A majority of the English writers who know Egypt declare that such a project would be hopeless.

Officers returning from the western front express the belief that fighting there on a big scale is impossible because the country is muddier and altogether in worse condition than last year.

The activity on the Gallipoli peninsula and small Italian gains are the only important military operations reported today.

Germany has lost the small cruiser Bremen and a torpedo boat in the Baltic sea in a submarine attack. It is presumed that the submarine was one of the English undersea squadron which recently has shown enterprise in those waters.

The Turks claim to have sunk a British monitor in the Tigris river near Kut-el-Amar.

NEW BOOKS AT PUBLIC LIBRARY

The books reviewed below are among the Autumn publications now on the shelves of the Public Library. They may be borrowed at any time.

Felix O'Day, by Hopkinson Smith. Scribner, $1.25.

Felix O'Day is lively to rival the hero of "Peter" in the reader's affections. An optimistic spirit of goodwill lingers over the whole story and the characters are so real and fully alive that they seem like personal friends.

Adventures While Preaching the Gospel of Beauty, by Nicholas Vachel Lindsay. $1.00.

During the summer of 1912, Mr. Lind say tramped from his home in Springfield, Ill., across Missouri and Kansas, through Colorado into New Mexico, and this book is an account of his adventures on the road. It is a charming little book, filled with a genuine, deep rooted love for fields and simple folk, and the poet's realization of beauty. There is sweetness and serenity and appreciation of the unending comedy of life. A book for the saddened and disheartened city dweller.

"I Accuse, by a German." Doran, $1.50.

"I Accuse" is one of the memorable books of the war. Its strength is its argument, for the author is skillful in piling up evidence. His shrewd analysis of diplomatic papers is expressed with telling effect, and, for the most part, he is well informed and accurate. Strong feeling gives force to his sentences, and this will win him a wide public.

The Money Master, by Gilbert Parker. Harper, $1.35.

Here is Sir Gilbert Parker at his best. He has gone back to Quebec and has given us some character study of rare charm.

Theory of the Leisure Class, by Thorstein Veblen. MacMillan, $2.00.

"Too strong to thrust aside. An academic, subtle and acute phrasing of what the working men are saying in every shop and Sunday trades council."—The Dial.

The Heart of Blackstone; or, The Principles of Common Law, by Paul. $1.00.

Thomas H. Anderson, Justice of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, says in his introduction to this book: "The author's rare power of condensation, orderly division of the subjects treated, and their logical development, give special value to this work as a succinct yet comprehensive view of the leading principles and maxims of the common law." An illuminating little book for the general reader, who wants a little knowledge of law.

The Freelanders, by John Galsworthy. Scribner, $1.35.

An admirably written, but often depressing story—a "dispassionate study of human follies." Mrs. Galsworthy's theme is the land problem and the decline of agricultural labor in England, and this humanitarian message so pervades the novel that it almost loses its character as mere fiction. It is in the vein of the "Patrician" rather than of the "Dark Flower".

Riverside History of the United States, in 4 volumes. Houghton, $1.75 per volume.

Volume 1. Beginning of the American People, by Becker; volume 2. Union and Democracy by Allen Johnson; volume 3. Expansion and Conflict by Dodd; volume 4. The New Nation, by Paxson.

An excellent review of United States history, combining brevity with large research and breadth of vision, usually only found in longer and more detailed works. This work brings history down to 1915. The last volume is particularly valuable for its analysis of the interaction of business and politics in recent decades.

The City of Domes, by Barry, New York, $1.50.

A carefully written manual of the Panama-Pacific Exposition. It will make those who have been unable to see the "city of domes," poignantly regret it. The illustrations are beautiful and well-chosen, and the book is conveniently small in size.

Martha of the Mennonite Country.

The Greek situation remains unchanged. The Greek government is reported to have protested formally against the entente allies fortifying outside of Saloniki. This protest may be of the same character as the one lodged against the first landing of troops, which was then described as merely a technical one to keep the records clear.

Field Marshal French issued an eloquent farewell to the British army in France prior to his turning over the command to General Sir Douglas Haig. In it he asserted the conviction that a glorious ending to their efforts was not far distant.

The Earl of Derby, director of recruiting, today told a London audience that he had found the heart of the country was right. He predicted a victory for the allies at an earlier date than many persons expected. The recruits mobilized under the Earl of Derby's plan have already begun drilling in several cities so that they may have some military training when they are formally called to arms.

MILLER WANTS INVESTIGATION

Washington, Dec. 21.—Congressman Clarence B. Miller introduced, just before the adjournment of Congress, his long-advertised resolution for a congressional investigation of affairs in the Philippine Islands. The document is lengthy, repeating statements made by Miller since he returned from his second trip to the islands. Mr. Miller provides that the committee of investigation shall be composed of five members of the House, three Democratic and two Republicans. Their inquiry is to cover the following:

- 1.—The civil service and employees thereof.
- 2.—The efficiency of all governmental institutions and the officers and employees therein.
- 3.—The conditions of government and control of all non-Christian people and the regions they inhabit.
- 4.—The feelings and sentiments of native inhabitants toward American sovereignty and American citizenship and the propaganda of political parties now active in the islands.

5.—The health and sanitation of the islands, including all boards having to do with the health service, the educational teaching force and the efficiency of the educational system. Upon introducing the resolution, Mr. Miller gave out a statement defending former President Taft's statements regarding conditions in the islands.

Ostriches Cheaper These Days. It helps one to realize the South African slump in ostriches, as shown by the sale of a full-grown bird for three pence at Granamstown, when one recalls former prices. In the early days of ostrich farming, a chick newly out of the egg would sometimes fetch £10, and £500 has been paid for a good pair of grown birds. But those were the days when one plucking of a single bird would bring in £25, and of late years prices have not risen so high—you could get quite a good pair of ostriches for £12. Ostrich farming dates from about 1865, and brought many a pioneer a fortune when it first began.—London Chronicle.

TEST STANDARD OF FOOTBALL

New York, Dec. 21.—Indications point to 1916 as a record breaker from the point of inter-sectional football. Although the gridiron armor has scarcely begun to gather dust since laid away at the close of the past season, the managers of the big college elevens are already in correspondence regarding feature contests for next autumn. Institutions with records above the average and prospects for strong combinations a year hence are looking for broader fields to conquest. As a result eastern and middle western teams, as well as elevens from the Pacific coast and the Rocky Mountain regions, will match gridiron strength and skill during the football season of 1916.

So keen is the interest in these inter-sectional games that the rival universities can afford to offer unusually large sums for transportation purposes, thus removing one of the serious handicaps to such contests. While the subject of these games has just been taken up at a number of the more important institutions, the possibilities in this direction include matches between Dartmouth and Illinois; Michigan Argies and Washington and Jefferson; Harvard and some prominent colleges of the middle west; Nebraska and Cornell; Northwestern and Nebraska, Syracuse and some far Western college in addition to the usual meetings between Pennsylvania and Michigan; Syracuse and Michigan; Army and Notre Dame and similar fixtures. The 1916 season will also be featured by a number of inter-sectional interscholastic games between the leading preparatory and high school elevens of the east and middle west.

WOLGAST IS IN BAD WITH CLUB

Although Ad Wolgast lost his lightweight championship title a few years ago to Willie Ritchie, he is fast becoming the possessor of another crown.

Ad is gaining the title of "Most Boxing Commissioned Fighter in Existence." Ad has been on the carpet before different boxing bodies more than all the rest of the boxers in the country put together.

The latest is that Ad will be called before the New York commission to explain his battle with Leach Cross in the metropolis last Friday night. They claim that Wolgast did not appear in boxing condition and that he broke his contract with the Harlem club when he boxed Frank Whitney at Atlanta four days previous to his bout with Cross. James Thompson, who examined Cross, stated that the Michigan battler was in good condition for the match. The chances are that the commission will be asked to suspend Wolgast for six months. The commission is also after Leach Cross and has recommended that he be suspended for sixty days unless he discharges the terms of an agreement made with the commission to box Packey Hemmy at the Harlem Sporting club in New York on Dec. 23, in the event that he beat Wolgast when they met.

The New York club was not the only club that suffered by Wolgast taking on a bout shortly after taking part in the hard contest. The Cream City A. C. of Milwaukee was handed about as hard a jolt as one could care to receive when Joe Mandot was knocked for a goal by Benny Leonard at New York Friday night. Promoters all over the country are taking just such chances with boxers and they have been getting stung quite frequently lately. No boxer should be allowed to compete in a bout for at least seven days before a match. In this way they would appear in the ring in good shape and if not it would enable the club staging a show to have plenty of time in which to locate a suitable substitute.

BULLET PASSES THROUGH HEART, LUNG AND LIVER, BUT YOUTH WILL RECOVER.

Kirkville, Mo., Dec. 21.—E. H. Fisk, Helena, Mont., student at a medical institution here, who on Dec. 6 fired a bullet which passed through his heart lung and liver, is well on the road to recovery, his physician announces.

The bullet entered the left side of the body between the fifth and sixth rib and after passing through several organs, became lodged under the eleventh rib on the right side where it still remains.

Fisk's recovery was made possible, physicians declare, through the coming of the patient's mother from her Montana home a few days ago.

Theatrical Gossip

THE DELFT

At the Delft theater today one of the greatest Paramount features ever to be held in this city will be "The Fighting Hope." It is a picture featuring the famous movie star, Laura Hope Crews, and she alone is worth the price of admission to see.

In addition to this great feature one of the greatest comedy Trambolin acts on the circuit will also be here. This is an act of high standard, and clean in every respect. Mr. Jacobs stated yesterday that they get the best acts obtainable and the people should appreciate the fact that only the best shows are brought to this popular playhouse. Don't forget to let the children attend the Christmas matinee on Friday afternoon.

THE GRAND

At the Grand this evening one of the funniest pictures ever to be shown in which Charlie Chaplin features will be shown at the Grand this evening. "Mable's Busy Day." It is a very funny feature and all of the children will be pleased to see it.

STRAND.

"Divorced," the latest release on the Equitable program, will be shown at the Strand Theatre on Thursday. It is a five-part society drama, with Hilda Spong, the celebrated English emotional actress as the star, and is full of tense, heart-gripping action. The scenes range from a brilliant wedding, the first motion picture, by the way, ever taken in an actual church, thru a gay supper party, to a number of complications leading up to a murder, a tremendous court scene, and a final reconciliation, which gives a happy ending to the drama.

Substitute for Horn.

A cheap and easily made substitute for horn can be made of wheat flour and sodium silicate. This substitute is very hard and strong and, by inserting organic dye into the composition while mixing, it can be colored to imitate almost any kind of horn substance. The compound is made by mixing 10 parts (by volume) of sodium silicate (40 degrees Baume) with distilled water, and then stirring the resultant liquid into a thick paste with fine white wheat flour. The mass is then allowed to stand for three weeks, during which time it undergoes a chemical reaction that produces a hard, hornlike substance. This composition can be molded without pressure when first made and turned and machined like brass after it has set.

MAYOR CALLS POLICE 'ROTTEN'

Chicago, Dec. 21.—The first step in a campaign to clean up the Chicago police department which he declared was honeycombed with graft and protection for criminals, was taken today by Mayor Thompson by calling into conference the chief of police, the assistant chief and the president of the city civil service commission.

After the conference the mayor said that both he and the chief of police were convinced that there was a collusion between the police department and the crooks of Chicago, and that criminals were being protected.

"As soon as we find out where the protection is coming from," said the mayor, "we are going to clean out the department."

"As to plots within the department to murder its own members," continued the mayor, "I can only say that murders of policemen have been numerous of late; that James Mitchell, the partner of Policeman Burke, the latest victim, was murdered a month ago and probably by the same persons who killed Burke."

Burke, a young policeman, recently married, was shot and killed by an alleged robber he was attempting to capture Thursday night.

"I know the police department is absolutely rotten," the mayor said. "It is honeycombed with grafters. I know criminals, hold-up men, murderers, pickpockets and thieves of all description known to the police are walking the streets every day and are not arrested."

"This is a terrible thing to say, but I would not be surprised to learn that in the department are men who have planned murder."

Mayor Thompson said he would immediately start a wholesale cleaning up of the police department and rid it of crooks "even though it costs me my life."

Nicholas Hunt, a former inspector of police, who for the last few years had been at the head of a private detective agency, will be installed as head of the detective bureau of the police department according to reliable information, succeeding Capt. John Halpin, who last week was convicted of grafting in covering protection to swindlers. Mayor Thompson said he had no intention of removing Chief of Police Charles C. Healey.

"Chief Healey has been making an honest effort to make the entire force honest," the mayor said, "and I propose to back him up."

PUT AUTOS AT DISPOSAL OF U.S.

Detroit, Dec. 21.—Fifteen hundred Detroit automobile owners, through the Wolverine Automobile club, have placed their cars at the disposal of the war department in case they are needed for the defense of the nation, according to Alfred O. Dunk, vice president of the club.

Not only are Detroit automobile owners cordially co-operating for the defense of the United States, but there is a plan afoot among them to form a corps for the purpose of co-operating with the Aero club of America, it was announced.

"Automobiles can go a thousand and one places where a railroad train cannot and, besides, automobiles could render their service before a special train could be gotten ready," said Mr. Dunk.

The plan of co-operating between automobile owners and the war department is being taken up generally, in Automobile club, but to the Detroit club belongs the honor of having originated the plan.

HIS OWN GUARD ON WAY TO JAIL

David Esaacson Hopes in Prison to Invent Something for Government.

MAN OF MANY PARTS

Had Premonition of Fate and Feels He Will Still Be of Some Use—Believes in Upholding Law.

Atlanta, Ga.—David Esaacson, bowed by age and troubles, poor as a church mouse, inventor, alchemist, dreamer, swindler, on his way to the federal prison here, boarded the steamship City of Columbus at her pier in New York city. Searching out Captain Diehl of the steamer. Esaacson announced himself as a United States officer, charged with taking a prisoner to Atlanta.

"And where is the prisoner?" asked Captain Diehl.

"I am the prisoner," Esaacson replied to the astonished captain. "I am at once prisoner on parole and my own guard, for I have given my word that I will deliver myself."

Esaacson, sixty years old, was convicted in the federal court in New York city of having used the United States mails to swindle many persons through a manufacturing company, of which he was president. Esaacson was sentenced to imprisonment of a year and a day in the federal prison here and to pay a fine of $200.

Passengers Ignorant.

Not knowing who he was, Esaacson's fellow passengers were delighted with him; his conversation proved him a man of the world; the seapaces he painted delighted the other voyagers. Landing at Savannah, Esaacson dallied there a day or two, then came here and relieved himself of his duty as a deputy United States marshal; he delivered himself to the warden of the jail. Esaacson said:

"Marshal McCarthy is one of the best of God's noblemen. He said to me: 'Esaacson, I am going to let you take yourself to Atlanta, not because I am partial to you—for I would do this for any man in whom I had confidence—but because your case has appealed very strongly to me.' Such kindness from a man accustomed to handling prisoners penetrated the very core of my being."

Esaacson claims to have rediscovered an art which the ancient Egyptians practiced—that of enameling a pebble so that it resembles exactly a precious stone; only an expert can detect a false stone. He has not completed his experiments in this direction. He added to the correspondent:

"I Am the Prisoner."

Felt It Was Coming.

"It was the saddest moment of my whole life the day I left New York. I never felt so crushed in spirit, but I am going to bear it philosophically. For, believe it or not, this series of experiences was preordained. Years ago I had a premonition that certain events would occur in my life; I could almost see the future and discern their nature."

Esaacson derided the accusation that he had bled his dupes for $500,000.

"A few thousand, a few thousand," he said, "of which I have not a centime now."

"Old as I am, I have not completed my work, my honest work, by a great deal," he concluded. "While in Atlanta I shall continue that work, pursue my discoveries, and, together with my painting, I shall keep busy. Some day—and I can see it as clearly as I see the light now—I shall invent something that will be of use to the United States government, in the enforcement of whose laws I believe thoroughly. My experience will be one that in years to come will bring some benefit, and if I can devote myself while in Atlanta toward the invention of something that will be of service to Uncle Sam, I shall not count my time as having been spent in vain."

100,000 Sparrows Drowned.

Hutchinson, Kan.—It is estimated that fully 100,000 sparrows were drowned here during a sudden rain and wind storm.

FORD PREDICTS END OF WAR

Christiana, Norway, Dec. 21.—Every nation in the world soon will look upon the American peace plinius as taking the initiative in stopping history's worst war. The landing of the peace expedition in Europe will be recorded as one of the most benevolent things the American republic ever did," said Henry Ford today to the Associated Press representative on stepping ashore on Norwegian soil.

The steamship Oscar II, carrying the Ford peace expedition, arrived at this port on Saturday after a fourteen day voyage from New York. The delegates expressed much displeasure because the vessel was delayed three days by the British authorities at Kirkwall, Orkney Islands.

Mr. Ford said he was confident the expedition would result in getting the men out of the trenches before the winter was over. He declared he had information from official sources that his peace plan was looked upon approvingly. He added that his motive in coming to Europe was to develop to the full an understanding throughout the world by the time peace sessions were begun at The Hague where William Jennings Bryan, an ex-secretary of state, was expected to join the peace party. Mr. Ford explained the presence of the American party in Norway was merely intended to convince the Norwegians of the fervent wish of Americans for peace. He expects to gather a Norwegian delegation here and then in about three days proceed to Stockholm, Sweden. He said the party would grow as it traveled, through neutral countries and that this would convince the belligerents that the rest of the world demanded peace immediately.

By the time Copenhagen was visited and The Hague reached, probably two weeks hence, Mr. Ford said, the peace movement would have a definite program.

The members of the Ford party landed at 8 o'clock in the morning and went to various hotels. The weather was fine and the travelers have a good chance to see Norwegian life.

After holding meetings while crossing the Atlantic and disagreeing over the question of the American preparedness policy the 150 peace advocates on arriving here were anxious to learn what attitude would be adopted toward them by Europe. Receptions by Christiania preachers and university professors and an unofficial call made by Albert G. Schneideman, American

FIRE DRILL WAS SAVIOR TO 1,400

Christiania newspapers publish long accounts regarding the Ford expedition, accompanying their stories with cartoons from foreign newspapers.

Just before the Oscar II reached Christiania the Ford guests held a public meeting aboard the ship. Samuel McClure of New York said that unless the peace pilgrims composed their differences of opinion regarding President Wilson's preparedness policy, it would cause disaster to the expedition. He declared American preparedness was necessary and was not related to the peace effort. The Rev. Charles F. Aked, pastor of the First Congregational church of San Francisco, maintained it was ridiculous for Americans to urge peace abroad while preparing for war at home. Finally a resolution declaring that the delegates were unanimous for European peace was adopted.

London, Dec. 21.—A Christiania dispatch to the Morning Post says that several newspaper correspondents as a result of a quarrel will leave the Ford peace party, the steamship of which is at that port.

Notice of Special Assessment

Notice is hereby given that the special assessment for the Delta avenue sewer has been made by the special assessors, and that the assessment roll is now on file in the office of the city clerk for inspection by parties interested. The common council will meet at the council chambers in the city of Escanaba on Tuesday, the 15th day of December, 1916, at 8 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of hearing objections, if any there be, to said assessments.

EIGHT OF ZEPPELIN CREW WHICH BOMBARDED LONDON FOUND FROZEN TO DEATH

London, Dec. 21.—Eight members of the crew of a Zeppelin which raided London, Oct. 13, were found frozen to death on their return to Germany, according to The Daily Express. The story caused a profound impression and possibly acted as a deterrent to further raids.

Requires Serious Thinking.

It is true that thousands of children may never learn to like the compulsory school attendance law, but they can learn to like it by lying across mother's knee for a few mornings and thinking seriously while she hardens her slipper soles.—Houston Post.

OUR JITNEY OFFER—This and 5

DON'T MISS THIS. Cut out this slip, enclose with five cents to Foley & Co., Chicago, Ill., writing your name and address clearly. Detroit, Dec. 21.—Fourteen hundred school children were led to safety through smoke-filled hallways of the Sacred Heart of Mary parochial school, when fire threatened the destruction of the school building. Sanfield avenue and Russell street.

With great clouds of the dense smoke rolling around them, the parish youngsters walked calmly out in response to the fire call, just as if they were having drill. In fact, some of them did not know that it wasn't a drill until they found the smoke in the lower halls. Only one slight panic marred the exit of the throng, and it came among the pupils on the third floor of the building. The damage is estimated at $2,500.

Notice of Special Assessment

Notice is hereby given that the special assessment for the Delta avenue sewer has been made by the special assessors, and that the assessment roll is now on file in the office of the city clerk for inspection by parties interested. The common council will meet at the council chambers in the city of Escanaba on Tuesday, the 15th day of December, 1916, at 8 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of hearing objections, if any there be, to said assessments.

CONFERENCE IS PLANNED

Of plans being made for the Upper Peninsula Boys' conference to be held in Marquette in February and at which Escanaba will be represented by a large delegation, the Marquette Chronicle says:

At a meeting called last night in Guild hall by George D. Westerman, Upper Peninsula secretary of the Y. M. C. A., which was attended by about 50 Marquette boys, preliminary arrangements were made for arranging the program of the annual Upper Peninsula Boys' conference to be held in Marquette February 11 to 13, inclusive.

Those who attended last night's meeting were the members of the delegation of boys which represented Marquette at the conference in Calumet last year and who expect to take an active part in the conference this year.

The boys showed great enthusiasm over the coming event and every effort will be made to make the Marquette meet the most successful ever held in the Upper Peninsula. That the attendance this year will eclipse that of 1915 meet was the prediction of Mr. Westerman, who told the boys that everywhere in the Peninsula greater interest is being manifested in the coming conference than ever before.

After Walter McKie had been chosen chairman and Aubrey Young secretary of last night's meeting, Mr. Westerman suggested that a nominating committee be named whose duty it will be to name sub-committees to take charge of the various features of the program.

Acting upon Mr. Westerman's suggestion, the boys named Principal H. D. Hughes of the high school, W. B. McClintock, athletic director of the Northern State Normal, E. D. Cushman, athletic director of the Marquette public schools, Francis Daniels, Aubrey Young, and Gus Sonnenberg, as a nominating committee. This committee will meet next Sunday afternoon to name the sub-committees.

The program for the conference was not gone into in detail last evening. Mr. Westerman outlined a tentative program and gave the boys many valuable ideas for features to be worked out for the event. While the program will likely follow the same general lines as in Calumet last year, the Marquette boys are already planning for several new features which will be different than any that have yet been held in connection with a conference. The list of speakers for the conference has not yet been announced as it has not been entirely completed but it is assured that among the speakers will be many of the most prominent men in Y. M. C. A. circles in Michigan and elsewhere.

SCHOOL OFFICERS HELD A MEETING

A meeting of the officers of the school of Delta county was held Monday at the court house. Many matters of importance were gone over. A. L. Coffey, a member of the state educational department, spoke to the officials during the afternoon session.

Mr. Coffey stated that the number in attendance was the largest at any meeting of its kind held in the Peninsula. Mr. Coffey is finishing a tour of the peninsula which has covered the past two months and in each meeting he has spoken on the same topic.

A PIONEER NEAR DEATH

Overcome by coal gas escaping from a stove at his home, at 322 Ludington street, T. J. Killian, a pioneer of the city, was found unconscious shortly before noon yesterday. Charles Mapes who resides next door to the Killian building, heard peculiar groans coming from the adjoining building and notified Alfred Corcoran, a grandson, who is employed at the North Western offices. Mr. Corcoran hastened to the building and by breaking down a door gained an entrance. Mr. Killian was unconscious and Dr. J. J. Walsh was immediately called. The patient was removed to the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. J. Corcoran, on Elmore street, where early in the afternoon he regained consciousness.

When Mr. Corcoran and Mr. Mapes entered the second floor rooms of the Killian home they found the air permeated with coal gas that was escaping through a door that had fallen open on the stove. Efforts to arouse Mr. Killian, who was lying in bed, as he had retired Monday night were futile. Late yesterday afternoon

NEW MARK ESTABLISHED

Mrs. E. J. McCarthy last night at the Delft Club alleys broke the alley record for women bowlers, of 175, established by herself, toppling the pins for a record of 214. Mrs. McCarthy marked in every frame through the eighth last night and it was then that her record attracted the attention of all spectators. Flustered, apparently, by the attention centered on her, she missed easy spares in both of the final frames, thus preventing a record that would have at least approached the alley record for masculine bowlers.

Mrs. McCarthy was last night showered with congratulations when she had completed her record game and Manager B. D. Brophy, of the Delft Club, presented her with a five pound box of candy.

John Erickson of Carney was a visitor in the city yesterday.

FARES TO GO UP JAN. 15

DOCK WORK IS STARTED

Increased passenger fares will go into effect on the roads of the upper peninsula on January 15, according to an unofficial announcement made yesterday. Under the new rate Escanaba travelers will be required to pay 24 cents per mile instead of 2 cents, as the result of a decision handed down by the interstate commerce commission about one week ago. The new rate effects points in Cloverland, Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska and parts of Missouri and Kansas. It does not affect the lower section of Michigan.

Indicating the desire of the dock officials to have everything in readiness for a rush of ore when navigation opens next spring, at both the North Western and St. Paul docks repair crews are already at work. General repairs will be made by the North Western to docks No. 3, 4, and 6, while the St. Paul company will give general repairs to both of its docks.

Under normal conditions of the past dock repair work here has not been undertaken until after the opening of the new year, but this season the work was started as soon as the shipping season was closed.

Every indication is now given that cargoes of ore will be demanded from Fairfield, Ia., for a few weeks visit this port at the earliest possible date next spring.

Mrs. A. D. Oliver of this city is in Fairfield, Ia., for a few weeks visit with friends and relatives.
