THE FARMER AND HIGH PRICES

The National Grange has used the opportunity of its annual session at Washington for promulgating a rejoinder to those who hold the farmer responsible for the high cost of living.

As the statement issued by the Grange contends, the advanced price of farm products is due to several causes, the principal one during the past year being weather unfavorable for many of the crops, in which there was a marked shortage. This of course is a temporary condition, which may disappear next year. As to the generally higher range of prices for agricultural products, the argument is advanced that the farmer is obliged to charge more because it costs him more to live and to carry on the operations on his farm.

"It must be borne in mind," says the Grange, "that the high prices have struck the farmer in whatever he buys as much as it has the city consumer. Farm labor is scarcer and higher than ever before in this country. Everything the farmer buys, whether machinery, fertilizer, fencing, clothing, or the necessities of life, has increased in price by leaps and bounds. This is also true of taxation, the increase being in many sections fifty per cent, or more during the last five years. In former days everything the farmer needed was produced on his farm or in his immediate neighborhood. This is all changed, and the farmer of today is the largest consumer of manufactured products, even, in too many cases, buying his meats and flour."

There is a good deal of truth in this, and also in the way in which the Grange "turns the tables" on the city consumers, showing that living now might be nearly as cheap as a generation ago if methods of housekeeping had not been radically changed. Instead of buying in quantities, as formerly, the city folk live in cramped quarters, with a kitchenette six by eight, and buy in very small quantities or subsist out of cartons and cans, and in many cases with little regard to home economics. With this may be coupled expensive methods of distribution, which are not the fault of the farmer.

In this part of its argument the Grange makes out a pretty good case.

U. S. NAVY SHORT 15,000 SEAMEN

Washington, Nov. 23.—High wages ashore and the increased cost of living have seriously hampered navy recruiting, Rear Admiral McGowan, pay master general, told the House naval committee, in explanation of why there are only about 55,000 enlisted men in the service, although Congress has authorized a total strength of 77,000. He said it was hoped that a total of 70,000 could be reached by the end of 1918.

"Their inability to send home enough money to keep those dependent upon them is the governing factor in preventing many men from enlisting," said the admiral. From long experience with the accounts of blue-jackets, he said, he was certain a majority had wives, mothers, sisters, or other dependents at home, adding: "And they are the most generous and big-hearted men that ever lived. We're just about keeping even in recruiting now and that conditions will continue while the present high wages prevail."

Re-enlistments now average about 85 per cent of the available men, and the per cent steadily is going up. "There is something about the life that men love," Admiral McGowan said. "Most of those who make good in the navy love it so well that they want to stay."

Representative Kelly, of Michigan, asked if an increased pay scale would not aid recruiting. The admiral said it undoubtedly would, but that pay was not the only consideration. He agreed to submit later suggestions as to ways and means of speeding up recruiting.

MAN RUNS AMUCK IN PHILADELPHIA WOUNDING MANY IN PISTOL FIGHT.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 23.—An unidentified man, armed with a large caliber revolver, and a plentiful supply of cartridges, terrorized the passengers in a trolley car in the central section of the city tonight, engaged in a running battle with a squad of policemen and hundreds of citizens, and finally was captured after he had wounded five of the pursuers and probably was fatally wounded himself.

CARRANZA WON'T TALK ON AGREEMENT

Queretlo, Mex., Nov. 23.—General Carranza told the Associated Press today it was "too early" to discuss the statement given out Friday by Secretary of the Interior Lane, at Atlantic City, concerning the policy of the United States toward Mexico. In the statement Mr. Lane, who is chairman of the American commissioners considering the American-Mexican matters with the Mexican commissioners, asserted his belief that Carranza was a strong man and should be given a "full chance" to settle the Mexican differences.

General Carranza also stated that he would not comment on the Atlantic City protocol until Mexican Commissioner Pani arrived here with a copy of the agreement and a reply had been sent to the United States.

Other high Mexican officials, who are here to attend the constitutional convention, are still awaiting the full text of the border control protocol. There is evidence that the news of the protocol and Secretary Lane's statement had been received with mixed feeling. There is seemingly satisfaction that an arrangement has been reached for the withdrawal of the American troops from Mexico and for the control of the border, but this is tempered by the feeling that Secretary Lane's statement will require deep consideration. The terms of the agreement mentioning a delay of forty days for the withdrawal of the troops, if conditions permit such action, is adversely commented on in some quarters, as many influential men had hoped for the immediate withdrawal of the troops of American territory.

ROUGH RIDERS TO ENDOW HALL AT UNIVERSITY

New York, Nov. 27.—Preliminary plans for the Rough Riders of Spanish American war fame to build and endow a commons hall at Norwich University, at Northfield, Vt., were announced here tonight. The university, a military school founded in 1819, was the alma mater of Admiral Dewey, one secretary of the navy and a number of army and navy officers. At the outbreak of the Spanish war, it was said, 80 per cent of the graduates and former cadets of Norwich volunteered for service.

Mrs. Annie Vaughn, of Menominee, is visiting local friends a few days. Raymond Murray of L'Anse, arrived in Escanaba Tuesday for an extended visit at the home of his brother, Frank Murray on Mary street.

WAVE OF MURDER SWEEPS CHICAGO

Chicago, Nov. 23.—Three deaths by violence, developments of one day, taxed the wits of the police here tonight. The Italian feud in Little Italy claimed another victim this afternoon, the fourth murder which the police attribute to a blood thirsty and unexplained among the Italians in a short time.

A well dressed man of middle age was found apparently murdered near the Desplaines river in Forest Park, a bullet hole behind his right ear and a deep gash behind his left ear. Frank Valentine, was stabbed to death, two others were badly cut, and three men also cut up, were arrested after a fight which followed the closing of saloons last night. None of these fighters could tell the police the cause of their fight, nor could any of the hundred or more Italians who gathered about the body of Louis Diavardi, the victim of the Italian shooting, give any information as to his assailants.

WAR PRICES BRING SUFFERING TO POOR

With flour soaring in price and bread following upon its trail, with coal, potatoes, fruit, milk and eggs, furniture, shoes, cotton goods and other commodities rising every day the problem of living becomes increasingly serious.

By skimping and planning and economizing the thrifty poor who have a small but steady income may be able with difficulty, to make ends meet, but to those who through sickness or accident are deprived of a steady income, the rapid rise in the cost of living come as a harbinger of privation, cold, hunger and sickness.

The Salvation Army officers visit the poor in their homes and are familiar with their needs. No material relief is offered except to those in actual need, but where they find up on investigation people who are suffering from poverty and unable to help themselves, they are quick to relieve immediate needs and, if possible, find a way whereby those in distress can be put in a position to help themselves.

During the year ending September 29th last, the Salvation Army in this city gave to the poor without charge garments and shoes, 15 meals besides other relief of various kinds. The officers spend 362 hours in visitation, calling at 267 homes. They also held 88 meetings on the street and 107 meetings in their hall at which 22 professed conversion. POLLARD ONE OF BEST MEN

Billy Morice, the famous Penn star of years ago, officiated in the Brown-Yale and Brown-Harvard games and also was umpire at the Harvard-Yale game.

"I have done quite a lot of officiating in New England in recent years, but never saw Brown with such a wonderful team," says Morice. And let me tell you, I have seen some great teams turned out by the Providence institution. Brown richly deserved its victories over Yale and Harvard, as it played superior football. There was nothing fluky about either victory, and the Bruonians would give Pitt a wonderful battle. I have not seen Pitt and might be under-estimating Warner's team, but it is my opinion that Brown would give any team an awful battle."

"Let me add," continued Morice, "that the color line is the only thing that can keep Pollard off any all-American eleven, and I don't think such a thing exists. Pollard is without doubt one of the greatest backs ever developed. I do not believe it possible for a man to repeat a performance such as he gave against Yale, but the colored marvel went it one better against Harvard. He was tackled by three or four men every time before he was stopped, and it often looked as if he must be seriously hurt; but the harder they hit him the better he liked it. In the entire game Pollard did not take a time-out, and he was handled hard, but not roughly. Harvard was penalized once for unnecessary roughness, but there was no attempt at deliberate dirty work. The Crimson players appeared to be going after Pollard pretty hard, but it was absolutely necessary, as he can not be stopped by an ordinary tackle. He is a marvel and is my first choice of any backfield."

Yes! Fresh Oysters in This New Germ-Proof Package

From the Sea to Your Table, Sealed Air-Tight

Out of this TRUPAKT vending refrigerator we are daily delivering to our customers these ice-cold, sea-sealed packages of meaty, juicy oysters.

These are TRUPAKT Oysters—freshly gathered from the finest seashore beds, transferred from Nature's pearly-white oyster shells into these ivory-white non-metal containers, and brought to us in fast refrigerator trains. Each package is sealed air-tight when you get it, just as it left the seashore.

TRUPAKT No-Bulk OYSTERS

OVERNIGHT SHIPMENTS—ALWAYS FRESH AND PURE

Nowadays the state and federal authorities supervise oyster beds. At the seashore, oysters are pure and wholesome. The methods of shipping and selling in bulk are what impair oysters.

Now comes the TRUPAKT system that avoids the objections found in bulk-shipped oysters which are opened in the stores and stand in metal cans.

TRUPAKT Oysters are always sealed up in this germ-proof package.

No hands can touch them. No metal can contaminate them. No light can deteriorate them. No water can soak them and leave them flat and tasteless.

Farewell to Bulk-Shipped Oysters

The TRUPAKT system keeps oysters firm and wholesome. It retains their natural juice and brings them to your table with the smack of the ocean in their original frosty freshness.

Millions of people eat oysters and millions of others will learn to love them now that the TRUPAKT system gives everyone a way to tell pure oysters with the live sea flavor.

The TRUPAKT system crowns with final success the many-year quest of experts for a hygienic method. It results from a great invention—the No-Metal Napacan.

No Other Oysters in Napacans

This new container—the No-Metal Napacan—is made of stout paper, pressed layer on layer, and impregnated with paraffin. That seals all the pores and makes the Napacan water-proof and air-tight. This patented process, done under super-heat, also makes this ingenious container sterile. It contains no metal to rust or corrode from contact with the oysters.

The TRUPAKT Company has the exclusive rights to use the No-Metal Napacan for oysters.

If you're fond of oysters, order from stores that sell TRUPAKT, and avoid bulk-shipped oysters that are dipped out into open-mouthed paper pails, often laden with dust.

If you've never eaten fresh oysters at the seaside, get a trial package—the natural flavor of TRUPAKTS will unfold a new table treat. Eaten cooked or raw, there is no finer dish from Nature's larder.

Count the noses 'round your table and order accordingly; small family size, 15c a package; average family size, 30c.

TRUPAKT, Inc., General Sales Office, MILWAUKEE

Oyster Packing Rooms at the Beds on the Sea Coast

NOTE: Trupakts are always shipped exclusively by fast express—never by freight. Most bulk oysters in this territory are shipped by slow freight to the jobbers.

By receiving Trupakt oysters exclusively by fast express we are able to give them to you from six to ten days fresher than most other oysters you can buy in this territory.

Practically all bulk shipped oysters contain 20 to 30 per cent unknown hydrant water, added after the oysters are received at interior points; hence bulk shipped oysters are not as cheap as they seem when you consider that you are paying at the rate of $2.00 per gallon for the hydrant water they contain.

No water is added to Trupakt oysters. They are packed solid meat, and are sealed right at the oyster beds in the same individual, sterile package you open in your kitchen. The package which sells for 30c contains from 30 to 33 oysters—enough for a family of from four to five people.

They are just as cheap or cheaper than bulk shipped oysters sold at their price per so-called pint.

Where is Escanaba?

The population of Delta county has increased rapidly in ten years. The total value of our farm products has increased 300 per cent in five years. The census each year shows a more rapid increase.

Every new settler is an added asset to Escanaba. He buys from Escanaba's business men; he supplies the city with fresh products from the farm; he creates a market which contributes hundreds of dollars yearly to the city. He increases the value of his farm and makes the county's property valuation become greater every year and makes the distribution of taxes broader.

The growth of Escanaba is intimately related to the development of agriculture in the surrounding country.

The Commercial Club of Escanaba has already taken a start in the development movement.

It will help your business. If you are not a member, you have not done your part. Put YOUR shoulder to the wheel.

Mr. and Mrs. August Granger who have been the guests of friends in this city the past four days, returned to their home in the Soo Wednesday morning.

The passing of the first anniversary of the opening of the K. of C. club was most fittingly observed by member of the Escanaba council Knight of Columbus and their families last night.

With a program of cards at the club rooms and a dancing party at the Moose hall, the evening was made a busy one as well as an enjoyable one for members of the order and their families. A luncheon was served at a late hour concluding one of the most enjoyable functions ever arranged by the Knights of Columbus in this city.
