Official announcement was received yesterday by J. B. Byrns, special chairman in charge of plans for the Michigan War Conference to be held here next week.

For the two days of the conference the capital of Michigan will be transferred from Lansing to Escanaba, an honor that has never before been conferred upon a peninsula city and one seldom, if ever, enjoyed by another city in the lower peninsula.

Through arrangements completed yesterday by Mr. Byrns the big feature picture "Pershing's Crusaders," the first war picture released by the United States government, will be shown at the Strand theatre here on both Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

The picture will be shown in Michigan for the first time in this city, providing a convention feature of marked interest for both the visitors and local theatre goers.

Youth Given 90 Days In County Jail

Confesses To Attack On Young Woman At Gladstone On Wednesday Night.

Alfred Woods, arrested at Gladstone Wednesday night for assaulting Miss Flora Durocher, entered a plea of guilty at the preliminary examination in that city yesterday and was sentenced to 90 days in the county jail. He was brought to Escanaba at once and began serving his sentence.

The hearing was conducted by Prosecuting Attorney T. E. Strom of Escanaba. At the outset, Woods denied any knowledge of the affair, but after he was confronted with the evidence which included Miss Durocher's identification and was put through a grilling examination by Attorney Strom, he broke down, cried and confessed.

Woods is but 18 years of age. According to his story, he had been sent out by a labor employment agency in Chicago to Iwona where he was promised employment in the woods. He and his companion, an Indian, who gave his name as Edward Fairport, were waiting for a train at Gladstone. Woods was without money. He borrowed a quarter from Fairport and went down town to secure something to eat. On his way back to the station he met Miss Durocher. Holding his open pocket knife before the frightened girl's eyes he commanded her to accompany him. When she screamed and attempted to break away, he told her to keep quiet and by way of emphasis, pricked the back of her hand several times with the point of the knife.

FORMER POSTMASTER

Timothy J. Killian, pioneer citizen, former postmaster and one of Escanaba's most highly respected citizens, dropped dead yesterday while at work in his garden near the Butcher Creek bridge.

Body Is Discovered

Early last night Clive Cleary, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Cleary, was walking through the garden plots, when he discovered the body of a man lying below an embankment near the side of Butcher's creek. He ran to the South Park pavilion where he notified Deputy Sheriff Otto Scheriff. Mr. Scheriff hurried to the place and at once identified the body as that of Mr. Killian.

Dr. George Barley, coroner was called and after a careful examination found that death had been due to an attack of apoplexy. It was believed that Mr. Killian had been dead for nearly an hour when his body was found.

The body was removed to the undertaker's rooms of J. A. Allo where it will be prepared for burial and later will be taken to the home of his daughter, Mrs. P. J. Corcoran, Elmwood street.

Was 79 Years Old

Mr. Killian was born Nov. 15, 1839, in Rosecommon county, Ireland. He came to Escanaba 54 years ago and continuously made this city his home from his arrival here he aided in the construction of the Northwestern road from this city to Negaunee. Later he was engaged in business here, took a prominent part in civic affairs, serving as postmaster and in various offices of trust.

PROCLAMATION

Wednesday and Thursday, June 12 and 13, the city of Escanaba will have the honor of entertaining Gov. Albert E. Sleeper, and many other prominent men of Michigan and of the Nation. The selection of Escanaba as the scene of the first war conference ever held in Michigan, is a distinction that should be fully appreciated by our people.

To demonstrate our appreciation of the honor conferred upon our city becomes the duty of all loyal citizens. As mayor of the city of Escanaba, I desire to call upon the people to decorate with the National Colors their business places and their homes on June 12 and 13.

That the spirit of patriotism brought to this city through the conference may be carried into our schools, I would suggest that as nearly as possible regular school work should be eliminated on Wednesday and Thursday.

I desire to also call the attention of the people to the fact that the conference will bring to Escanaba a greater number of people than can be accommodated in our hotels, as on this occasion there will be present the members of the various County War Boards chairmen and committees of all boards of supervisors, food administration authorities, Cloverland bankers, and officers and directors of Upper Peninsula Development Bureau of Michigan.

That the spirit of true hospitality may be shown, I therefore ask that all who have extra rooms as their homes shall report the number of guests they can accommodate to L. M. Beggs or Albert Ellsworth. (Signed) C. M. CUTHBERT, Mayor.

Sow Vegetables Housewives Urge

Lansing.—"Use all the fresh perishable food products." This is the appeal Food Administrator George A. Prescott makes to the housewives of Michigan.

"Michigan has been blessed with a most remarkable planting and growing spring and every section is going to have an abundance of early garden truck," said Mr. Prescott. "Which fact seems almost providential, as this extra large supply will liberate the more concentrated and staple foods for soldiers and our allies. The usual wastage of a large volume of these products should be overcome in a critical time like the present.

If every householder will can a few quarts of this immediate supply of fresh vegetables the supply can be conserved and the prospects for waste almost entirely eliminated.

"It is not patriotic at this time to use canned goods which must be held as a food reserve, and this wonderful spring has given every home the opportunity to help create this reserve stock by using fresh products instead of the canned goods. Free consumption of these perishables will have the following beneficial effect on the food situation. Their liberal use will (1) help to save the wheat, without reducing the nutritive value of the diet, and (2) save transportation because such foods are in large measures produced locally.

"The best medical authorities encourage the liberal use of spring vegetables so this advice," said Mr. Prescott, "is good for our healthy as well as promoting the well being of our national life. Make new vegetables the big end of your food supply for the next sixty days. This is the most important service we stay-at-homes can render the government," concluded the State Food Administrator.

KING'S WAR TIME SUIT COSTS $14

London, June—King George, while on a visit to the woolen manufacturing towns in central England, has inspected several factories for the new factories for the new standard suits for civilians. Upon completing his inspection, the king made the first exception to his resolution not to have any more new clothes during the war and selected at length of brown standard cloth, to be made into a $14 suit for country wear. King George expects to spend next week in inspecting troops in the Aldershot district.

Order Coal Now Is The State Order

Week Opening Monday and Closing On Saturday Is Period Fixed for Ordering Coal for Winter.

The week of June 3 to 8, opening Monday and closing on Saturday has been designated as "Coal Ordering Week" by the state fuel administrator.

To insure Delta county securing its full allotment of hard coal for the coming winter, W. J. Clark, county fuel administrator, yesterday issued a call to the people of this county to place their orders for their coal needs with their dealers this week.

Following is the text of the call issued by W. K. Prudden, state fuel administrator, advising all consumers to order their coal this week:

There are two powerful reasons for early buying: One is selfish, the other is patriotic. The public will not only save money by buying early but will guard themselves from a repetition of the hardships of last winter.

The Fuel Administration is doing its utmost to increase the production of coal. The Director General of railroads is working to increase the transportation facilities in the nation. Their combined efforts, however, may be defeated by the recurrence of weather as prevailed last winter. They will certainly be defeated unless a large majority of domestic consumers cooperate with them by buying early.

Keep People Warm.

There is something more important than personal comfort involved in this campaign for early buying. One hundred million people must be kept warm next winter; hundreds of thousands of factories upon which the United States and the entire civilized world depend for the successful prosecution of the war against Prussian autocracy must be supplied with coal. The industrial activities of the nation has resulted in production in excess of our transportation facilities. We are manufacturing more goods than the railroads can carry.

There is only one way to meet the situation. Less freight is moved during the summer months than any other time. The coal must be moved in summer. If you neglect to buy your winter supply now, you will place an unnecessary burden upon the railroads.

Hundreds of thousands of American men are at the front in France; increasing numbers will be sent during the summer.

Must Keep Guns Going.

These men must be kept in ammunition; they must be fed; they must be clothed. Coal must be provided for the factories, for the locomotives, for the ships, for the men at the front.

The consumer can help by buying his coal now. Will he do it? He is asked to place his order now that the dealer may deliver his coal at the least possible price and expense, that the dealer may be able to deliver him coal direct from the mines. Coal cannot be stored at the mines. It can be stored in the consumer's bin. Will they do their part? Promptness in ordering and patience in waiting deliveries are needed as a basis for the cooperation of the whole country with the Fuel Administration in its effort to do its share of the nation's war work.

France May See World's Series Washington—A world's series may be played in France next fall. The New York Giants are already on record as favoring such a series, provided they win the National league pennant. They are expected to do this without much real trouble. Charles Comiskey is also in favor of taking his White Sox to Europe for a second world's series for the edification of the American army, but the Windy City magnate is not quite so sure of winning the 1918 American League championship. Therefore, the whole plan must be held in abeyance until later on, when it is known just which teams will engage in this blue ribbon tournament on the diamonds of France. Both owners and players are eager to take part in such a series, it is believed. If these games are played in Europe next fall all expenses will be borne by organized baseball. Not a cent will be collected from the American soldiers for whom the games will be played. The National Commission will have charge of the series and the athletes will be under the strictest discipline. It is felt that such a series would interest the soldiers far more than games this summer between "pick up teams" selected by Christy Mathewson from both big leagues and taken to France. The short trip on the ocean would not bother the training of the major leaguers, but might even improve them after the strain of their world's series contests on this side of the pond. Hotel Rooms Will Be At A Premium

Indicating the great number of visitors who will come to Escanaba next week to participate in the first war conference ever held in the upper peninsula, is the fact that all reservations at both the Delta hotel and the

New Ludington hotel, have now been taken for the conference days. All traveling salesman, regular guests at the hotels, are being warned to keep away from Escanaba on Wednesday and Thursday of next week. Every available room in Escanaba will be brought into use for the two days. All of the smaller hotels have been asked to hold their rooms for conference delegates and in many private homes rooms are being booked to care for the overflow.

It was first expected that approximately 300 visitors would be in Escanaba for the conference, but according to information coming to General Chairman J. E. Byrns the number will be closer to 400 than to 300.

Charley's Aunt Will Draw Crowd

"Charley's Aunt" the farcical comedy that will be presented by the class of 1918 at the High school auditorium on Friday night, has been shown through out the United States with great success.

Last year it was given at Appleton by Lawrence college and proved a decided hit according to those who witnessed it. More recently it enjoyed a long run in Milwaukee, where several local people saw the production.

Escanaba people need not go to Appleton or Milwaukee to see this play. Buy your ticket now, and be there promptly at 8 o'clock.

The Doctor Away From Home When Most Needed.

People are often very much disappointed to find that their family physician is away from home when they most need his services. Diseases like pain in the stomach and bowels, colic and diarrhoea require prompt treatment, and have in many instances proven fatal before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. The right way is to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. No physician can prescribe a better medicine for these diseases. By having it in the house you escape much pain and suffering and all risk. Buy it now; it may save life.

Osborn Accepts Important Post On Border Work

Chairmanship of the Committee on Relations with Canada tendered him by Alton B. Parker, chancellor of the Sulgrave Institution, has been accepted by Chas. S. Osborn, it was learned here.

Part of the duties of Mr. Osborn in connection with his new office will be to foster friendly feelings between the United States and Canada and prevent misunderstandings. In his letter of acceptance Mr. Osborn made it clear that he would give the work as much time as it will require.

"Because of our proximity and the community interests this should be the most practical and potential of all the committees," wrote Mr. Osborn, "and as I live on the border and in constant touch with our neighboring country and it citizens the work has a particular appeal to me."

"The fact that I was the only governor in the United States, I believe who went to Washington and supported the reciprocity proposition at the time it was urged and carried, may give me some little opening and means of working in a congenial atmosphere."

The Sulgrave Institution has a membership of about 5,000. Dr. John Greer Hibben is chairman of the Advisory Council of which ex-Presidents Roosevelt and Taft and Judge Hughes have been asked to become members. Among the members of the committee are Chauncey M. Depew, Jacob M. Dickinson, James Cardinal Gibbons, Samuel Gompers, David Jayne Hill, Henry Watterson, George T. Wickersham and James Wilson. Theodore E. Burton has been elected vice chancellor and Charles Warren Fairbanks, honorary chancellor.

-THEATRES-

AT THE STRAND

One of the strongest scenes in "The Turn of a Card," the Paralta play featuring J. Warren Kerrigan, which will be shown at the Strand theatre for the last times today, was also one of the hardest problems which the Paralta producing staff has yet had to solve. It called for the "shooting" of one of the greatest wells in the "Ok-lahoma oil fields."

Motion picture directors have always been considered invincible. They can shoot practically everything—from shooting stars to shooting villains. But shooting an oil well—that is different. And not only was the well to be shot but the story called for a long scene showing it gushing. Technical Director R. Holmes Paul was puzzled. His productions have included numberless gushing girls and gushing rivers, but gushing oil wells were a little out of his line. However, he announced to his staff: "Have the players and cameras ready early Monday morning. We'll take that oil stuff then." And then Mr. Paul confidently made his plans for the stupendous undertaking, meanwhile wondering to himself what the result would be.

Accordingly the following Monday they motored to the La Brea oil ranch. Arrangements had been made for an artificial "shooting" and they included a concrete tank with a capacity of twenty thousand gallons and a pump of tremendous power to throw a column of oil into the air. However, Mr. Paul was informed that a new well was to be actually "shot" that day. The technical director was delighted and hastened arrangements so that the action of the play could be filmed while the real well was being tapped for the first time. So when you see "The Turn of a Card" at the Strand you will enjoy the actual "shooting" of a big oil well.

1,000,000 MEN ABROAD! EXACT FIGURES WITHHELD

Washington, D. C.—Representative Longworth of Ohio, speaking in the house today on the army appropriation bill asked Chairman Dent of the military committee whether it was true that there were 1,000,000 American soldiers abroad as announced yesterday in a Memorial day speech by Senator Lewis of Illinois. Mr. Dent replied that because of the request of war department the exact number of troops abroad he kept secret he was unable to answer.

The senator from Illinois is at least believed to be one of the principal spokesmen for the administration and it, therefore, think it proper to ask if the figures he quotes are correct," replied Mr. Longworth.

"Do you believe the figures are incorrect?" asked Representative Sherley of Kentucky.

"I do," Mr. Longworth replied, "and I criticize any man in public life who gives information to the public which is not correct."

Yanks Wake Huns

France-American line and the men went over the top at 4 o'clock at the sound of the officers' whistles, without artillery bombardment. As it was a surprise operation, artillery preparation was dispensed with owing to the comparative secrecy of artillery and also owing to the fact that neither side had consolidated their lines. There were no elaborate concrete trenches to knock to pieces with huge shells. Both sides were dug in and scattered over the battle zone where there were little hollows and shell holes serving as miniature trenches.

The Americans concentrated last night in a ravine and got ready for the attack.

German Gas Falls.
The Germans sent over a considerable number of gas shells, but the Yanks wore their masks and were not troubled.

Just after dawn the attack broke and the Americans sprang forward encountering no barbed wire nor defensive positions except machine gunposts.

The battle was fought over fields of waving corn and through small woods.

Plans Laia For New War Stamp Drive

London, June 6.—Tonight's report from Field Marshal Haig follows: "Hostile local raids were repulsed by the French at nighttime in the neighborhood of Loere (Flanders). There is nothing further to report."

French Statement.
Paris, June 6.—French and American troops today attacked and advanced to a depth of a kilometer on the front between Deully-LaPorterie-Busselles (northeast of Chateau Thierry), taking 370 prisoners, the war office announced tonight.

German Statement.
Berlin, via London, June 6.—"The situation is unchanged," says today's war office statement of operations on the Aisne and the Marne rivers. Only local actions are reported. The French are bombarding Chateau Thierry the statement says.

Forty-six enemy airplanes and four captive balloons were brought down, it adds.

The text of the day report follows: "Army of Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria.—There was artillery activity of saying intensity.

"Army Group of German Crown Prince.—The situation is unchanged. Local engagements took place west of Pontoise, north of the Aisne and in the Seivieres region we gained trenches an douterworks.
