The world is just beginning to awaken the absolute necessity of wool. We are just beginning to learn what an important part wool plays in warfare. We see the great military machine of Germany tottering, not because it is confronted by an even greater military machine only, but because its fabric contains less than 50 per cent of the wool required.

Governor Opens Meeting. An appeal for national legislation that will require all aliens to become citizens of the United States within a specified time or return to their native lands, feature the stirring address of Gov. Sleeper at the opening session of the war conference at the Delft theatre yesterday morning.

"Our national laws must be changed to make the alien, who shares the prosperity of our nation in time of peace, also share our burdens in a crisis such as now come upon the United States," said the governor. "Every alien who comes into the United States should be given a reasonable time to become a citizen and if he fails in that duty to be required to return to his native land. Legislation necessary. The necessity for such legislation is proven by the burden that our loyal citizens are now compelled to carry, without aid from many who are within our borders seeking only their own selfish ends. "We have entered the most stupendous war of all history. At times it seems to be that all the world has gone war crazy. But this war was forced upon this nation and today our forces are fighting for the very existence of our country, its free institutions, for our homes and for you and I who remain here at home. "We are fighting today not only for the sake of our allies, but for our own liberty and the sooner all of the people of this land are brought

FLY THE FLAG

The only fly in Delta county's patriotic ointment today is the fact that we have a slacker list.

'Service' is the slogan of the war conference in progress here. To make that word mean everything it signifies is the big idea on which the meeting is building.

As the German government is now 'ready conscientiously to discuss' proposals to cease air raids on unfortified cities we judge that the successful reprisal is a great awakener of conscience.

'Approximately 80 minutes' allowed for each meal on an American transport. With rough weather the first day out, about 2 1/2 minutes we suppose, would suffice for some.

Berlin at last officially admits the presence of 'an American regiment' in France. 'Untrained louts,' naturally.

Crown Prince Willy may succeed to the throne. But we doubt if he would stand much show in a primary election.

TROOPS IN FRANCE
The public has learned to make due allowance for the exuberance of a romantic temperament and a florid imagination in accepting the statements of J. Hamilton Lewis.

We are not, of course, impugning the veracity of Senator Lewis when we say that his usually rosy statements are subject to a considerable discount, for at the moment of speaking the senator, under the glamor of an iridescent fancy, undoubtedly means all he says.

To illustrate, when the Cook county exponent of the ornate Corinthian style in clothes and oratory assured his audience the other day that we had 'one million' troops in France, Mr. Lewis without doubt meant just that figure and was, like Clive rather surprised at his own moderation while the rest of us applying discount at the usual rate placed the senator's million at about 700,000.

And that proves to be the exact figure at the time of Mr. Lewis' computation. For in his address to the picturesque French contingent known as the Blue Devils Secretary Baker so far emerged out of his reticence about figures as to say that we now have 'more than 700,000 men' in France.

So it is fair to conclude that by the time Senator Lewis' 1,000,000 shall have reached in his imagination 1,000,000 shall have reached in his imagination 1,500,000, we shall have 'over there' a real one million by actual count.

Mr. Baker has now made the first official statement of the American numerical strength in France. It is 'more than 700,000,' and as the number is mounting there is good hope that America will not be too late for the great, swift and decisive part in the war which both sides now practically hold to be decided by the preponderance of available reserves when the culminating struggle comes.

The German staff can no longer be under any real delusion as to the fitness and fighting quality of the troops we are sending over there. There are none better in personnel, and few so good. And they are fresh men at the maximum of physical and moral efficiency.

United States as a sheep producing district, the dawn of a vast new industry destined to surpass all others in the Upper Peninsula, is breaking.

Whatever money the Development Bureau has spent in this gigantic publicity campaign will be returned to the Upper Peninsula a hundred fold, for it has focused the attention of the wool growers of the nation upon Clover-Land and they are coming with their flocks into this new land where one acre of grazing equals a half dozen acres on the western plains. But their advent into the Upper Peninsula is only the smaller part of the fruits of the work of the Development Bureau. The farmers now living in Clover-Land will take up the new industry, and in a short time their combined flocks will greatly outnumber those brought in and increased by the big wool growers. It is this phase of the wool industry which means so much to the Upper Peninsula because it will become so widely disseminated and apportioned that every community will benefit by it, a new avenue to wealth having been opened to all the farmers and an opportunity given to the urban centers to prosper from new payrolls through the introduction of various mills and factories to manufacture the home grown wool into diversified merchandise.

'The Upper Peninsula Development Bureau has made the stroke of its life, more than repaid all that has been invested in it even since its inception, by opening a vast acreage of cut-over land that has been lying idle to settlement by the wool producing, money making, flocks of sheep. And, while this new industry brings prosperity to the Upper Peninsula it will also help win the war, for it is destined that wool will win the war.'

Following his introduction by Mr. Andrews, Governor Sleeper's bow of acknowledgement was the signal for prolonged applause and cheering.

'There is every reason why this should be one of the greatest spots on the North American continent; there are many reasons why it should not,' said Michigan's governor. 'There is nothing Cloverland can't do if it so desires; nothing it will not do if called upon. Your aid has already gone far towards the end we are striving for. I know that you are going to do still more.'

Calling attention to the fact that the war is uppermost in the minds of all Americans, he enthusiastically commended the efforts that are being made in the peninsula to increase the nation's supply of wool. 'It is of vital importance that the sheep industry have all the encouragement it is able to give it,' he said.

'We have made gigantic preparations for fighting this conflict through to a successful conclusion, the speaker said. 'We have already given our government twenty-four billions of dollars to invest in the campaign against autocracy. There must be no compromise. We must not weaken. We must do all in our power to furnish our government and our allies with everything they need for the prosecution of this war. Unless we do we cannot win and unless we win, our time, our money and thousands of precious lives will be worse than wasted.'

'We must not raise sheep to produce wool and mutton for the sake of making more money for ourselves. We must raise them in order that we can furnish our country with added funds to crush Hunnism and 'kultur' forever.'

The governor concluded with a beautiful tribute to the women of Michigan in their endeavors to see that the boys at the front are well taken care of.

Introduces Harmon.
In introducing Leo C. Harmon, Mr. Andrews said:

I want you to hear what a man who was reared in the grazing sections of the west has to say about Cloverland. He was so enthused with the possibilities of his adopted state that he has taken more interest and devoted more time to the work of boosting than almost anyone I know of. He's president of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau and the man who put the 'over' in Cloverland, Leo C. Harmon of Manistique.

war against kultur comes from upper peninsula of Michigan," he said. "And while lumber and minerals have played an important part in the making of this territory, the time has come when we must begin to look in some other direction or it will not be long until we are living in a land of few possibilities and no opportunities."

He called attention to the fact that the lands made waste by the removal of timber must be put to productive uses. This is the job the Development Bureau has undertaken, he said, and expects to put across.

The Bureau is not conducted for profit, he said. It has no land to sell and is not under the control of outside interests. If the big western grazers are induced to come to Michigan it will be because the people of the state have persuaded them that this is the best place they can find in the United States for the grazing business.

Conditions in the west favor us, for the grazing country of the west is fast being taken up by the homesteader. They must find new homes. The Upper Peninsula Development Bureau is showing them the way to Cloverland, said Mr. Harmon.

'We are bringing into the territory the best men in the country, the speaker said. 'They are men with ideas, wide vision, money and all of the qualities that make good citizens. Because we have a country that is particularly fitted to their needs and we have needs that are particularly fitted to their business, we must get together.'

Calling attention to the great improvements that have been made on the highways in Michigan in the few years passed, the speaker urged that this matter be given special attention. This country will attract tourists by a thousand if we can let them what we have to offer them he said. It is another job for the Bureau.

The finances of the organization might be in better condition he said. The sum of $5,000 is needed badly and at once if the publicity campaigns are to go on. 'We have the pep, we have the vision. All we lack is the where-withall.'

'We have every confidence that the work is not going to stop at this stage,' he concluded, 'and we know the money we need will come.'

D. D. Cutler.
'We know that sheep are important,' Mr. Andrews said in introducing D. D. Cutler, railroad traffic expert of Chicago, 'because the other day when we wired Director General McAdoo down at Washington that there were three cars of hay at "the Soo" that were badly needed for sheep in Dickinson county, he ordered at once that the cars be hitched onto the rear of a passenger train and delivered.'

Mr. Cutler stated that he had been in the habit of visiting Escanaba once in fifty years. 'Way back in 1867, he and his father's hired man had brought a bunch of fat cattle to Escanaba from Fond du Lac county. His second trip to the peninsula's metropolis was in 1917. He promised to come oftener in the future, however.'

Mr. Cutler stated that his work had taken him, in years past, to the sheep district of Arizona, New Mexico and Colorado, where the industry is one of the important ones of those states. None of them, he said, were as well fitted to take care of the industry as northern Michigan. He complimented the Development Bureau in its efforts to get the big grazer to locate here.

There are real men and they will do more to develop this section than all the small farmers you could possibly secure in a great deal longer time because they have the capital, he said.

In the western states they raise alfalfa for feed. It is hard to get started and is very expensive in Cloverland the clover grows naturally and is inexpensive.

'You people are just beginning to wake up to the wonderful possibilities that lie in the upper peninsula along these lines.'

interested and expect to come in the next year to investigate, he said.
'Sheep and Victory are going hand in hand in this campaign,' he said, 'and in helping win the war, we are also helping ourselves.'

John W. Black.
John W. Black of Houghton, sent to the conference by the Ninth District Federal Reserve bank, was next. He expressed his confidence in the sheep industry in the peninsula comparing conditions here with conditions in Arizona and other southwestern states.

He discussed the Third Liberty Loan drive, its organization and the assistance given by the Development Bureau, and the splendid response from the northern counties of Michigan.

'Sheep and the Liberty Loan and iron and copper and everything else which are needed in the fight against Germany must have their place in the eyes of all of us,' he said.

C. W. Hutchinson.
C. W. Hutchinson, field man for the Bureau, who had spent several months in the western country in the interests of the organization, told something of the work that has been accomplished.

'When we were able to show them that it is not merely a selling scheme for the land companies, we were able to do business with the westerners,' he said. 'They are patriotic out there. They needed to be convinced that it was a patriotic duty. Then they began to investigate. When they do that the rest is easy.'

'They are going to bring into Cloverland their western spirit. They are not afraid of difficulties. All they want is a chance to improve their own condition, and help us develop Cloverland, while they are putting wool into the mills for the uniforms our boys at the front are to wear.'

'They have the capital, the energy, everything that the upper peninsula needs. The small farmer will take care of himself in his own way. We don't need to look after him so much. And if we can keep the big fellows coming we will have our problem solved.'

C. A. Nebelsen.
Mr. Nebelsen is a Utah sheep man who has decided to make Cloverland his home. 'I know a lot about the Development Bureau,' he said I had heard so much that I didn't think that a great deal of it could be true. When I arrived here I was surprised to hear that all of what Mr. Hutchinson said, was entirely correct in every detail.'

'I realized that if the sheep industry was to continue, we would have to transfer our flocks to some other part of the country. The homesteaders are taking up most of our lands out there and we are being forced to cut down the size of our flocks each year. I have been from Canada to Texas looking over sheep grazing lands and I know what I am talking about, when I say that Northern Michigan offers the best opportunities of any district I have ever seen. I have my tract picked out. I'm going to become a citizen of your state before long.'

'Your good roads, your wonderful clover and the character of the people I have met since I arrived on this trip, have captured me completely.'

To Find Finances.
Following the conference, the officers of the Development Bureau and a number of other interested had a meeting in the office of the National Pole company's offices to discuss the ways and means for financing the campaign through the summer.

Dealers Should Carry Tire Stock

The attitude of the United States Tire Company with regard to the situation created by the government's regulation of crude rubber importation is set forth in the following letter just issued by that company to the Trade:

'As there have been many rumors recently, of varying nature, regarding the effect on the production and supply of tires, due to the government regulation of crude rubber importation, and policies adopted by some people in the trade, which do not seem to reflect the true situation, we will give herein some facts, as we see them, which we believe will be acceptable to dealers.'

'In order to conserve boat tonnage for military requirements, the government has restricted the importation of crude rubber, the present order in effect to cover a period of three months at which time further consideration of the matter will be given covering another period.'

'The rubber on hand in the country

now, together with that en route, is sufficient to take care of normal requirements, covering the first period of restriction, and if the Trade and Public will refuse to become "panicky," due to all sorts of rumors, and refrain from overbuying or hoarding, it is the best belief of this company that unless some unforeseen circumstances arise, it will be entirely possible for the tire production of this country to take care of the needs of the Trade and Public for the present year.

'Adequate stocks to take care of all requirements should be carried by dealers, but there is no reason existing at this time for loading up beyond normal requirements, either because of an immediate possible shortage, or for any reason that we can now foresee.'

Come In Garden

The following communication was received by the Press yesterday from a former Garden lad who is now in the naval service, stationed at the Great Lakes Naval Training station, Great Lakes, Ill., June 10, 1918.

Editor Press:
There is a very patriotic little town in the east side of Delta county, called Garden. It has 23 men who have enlisted in the army and navy. But of these 23 men there has been only two that have been given an honor before they left. It has been put in the Press that some people of Garden don't even know there is a war.

It is not that bad, but there are things that are nearly as bad. When you go into the town of Garden you will see old, torn, dirty and faded flags, which are an insult to all who look at them, and to say nothing about what it is to the country and the men who are fighting for it. It has been said that the town flag has been thrown in a heap on the back steps of the home of a man of Garden.

That is an insult to the flag and country. Remember, men are dying every day for that flag.

Stop and think what that flag stands for. You would be mad if some one would stomp on your hat. You would have a right to be mad. Well, now, has an enlisted man the right to be mad when the flag is stamped on?

I say he has, when he has to die for it when the time comes.

Come, Garden, take down the old, torn, dirty and faded flags, and when you take them down remember that men are dying every day, the good old Stars and Stripes may fly for ever over the United States of America.

From a man who is fighting for your country and mine.

A MODERN CITY GARDEN.

Such gardens as this will not only prove profitable, but will also help this government win the war, by feeding our soldiers in France. Every man, woman and child should have a garden, be it ever so small. Do your bit and start your garden today. The boys "Over There" depend on you.

MOUDE DINES ON $20 AND MESHBAG, SO HER DOCTORS ARE WORRIED

Atlanta, Ga.—Mrs. W. W. Suttles, of this city, went to the Zoo and got too close to "Maude," the big elephant. "Maude" reached over and picked Mrs. Suttles up with her trunk. Of course, she fainted, dropped her silver meshbag, knitting bag and everything in it. "Maude" seeing the nice-looking meshbag lying so near, gently laid Mrs. Suttles on the ground and proceeded to devour the meshbag, plus $20, the denomination of a bill there. Now Mrs. Suttles, after recovering from her exciting experience, is trying to figure some way to recover the twenty bucks, while all the zoo specialists are closely watching "Maude" for symptoms of acute indigestion.

War Can Be Won Only By Army Taking Offensive, Is Opinion Of General Foch

London—That battles can be won in end only by the army, which takes the offensive is the significant declaration made by General Foch, commander-in-chief, of the allies in an important article contributed by him to the weekly journal, The Field, in which he discusses the problems of the soldiers and the way to victory.

"Modern warfare, to arise at its end and to impose its will on the enemy," says General Foch, "recognizes only one means—destruction of the enemy's organized forces."

"War undertakes and prepares this destruction by battle which brings about the overthrow of the adversary, disorganizes his command, destroys his discipline, and nullifies his units as far as their fighting power is concerned."

Battles Can Not Be Won By Defensive Fighting

"Our first axiom must be that completely to achieve this object, the battle must not be purely defensive. A purely defensive battle even well conducted, does not result in a victor, and a vanquish. It is simply a game that must be begun over again."

"From this it is obvious that an offensive whether started at the beginning of an action or whether it follows the defensive, can only give results and in consequence must always be adopted at the finish."

"To maintain our position is not synonymous with being victorious, and even prepares for a defeat. If we remain where we are and do not pass to the offensive to give the direction of attack to guard against the plans of the enemy and prevent him from carrying out the same maneuver, we must hesitate to carry on and sustain numerous combat, each with determined aim."

Reserves Organized and Kept in Readiness For Attack

"But since there remains no doubt that decisive attack is the very keystone of a battle, all other actions which make up a battle must be envisaged, considered, organized, provided with forces in the measure in which they will prepare, facilitate and guarantee development of a decisive attack characterized by its mass, its surprise, its speed and upon which, in consequence, it is essential that there shall be the maximum reserve forces possible of troops of maneuver.

The reserve—that is to say the prepared bludgeon—is organized and kept carefully constructed to execute the single acts of battle of which results are expected, namely the decisive attack.

Reserves Must Be Used Regardless of All Costs.

"Reserves must be husbanded with the most extreme possible parsimony, so that the bludgeon may be strong enough to make the blow as violent as possible. Let loose at the finish, without any lurking idea of saving them, with a well thought out plan for winning the battle at a point chosen and determined, reserves are thrown in all together in an action surprising in violence and energy all other phases of battle, an action with proper characteristics—surprise, mass and speed. All our forces, really participate either by preparing it or by carrying it out."

"In this our supreme aim, we must not be deceived by appearances."

"Although theory falls when applied by feeble hands and when accessories obscure the main principal, history and reason show us that in battle there is a single argument which is worth while, namely, decisive attacks, which is alone capable of assuring the desired results—the overthrow of the adversary."

Chronic Constipation.

Perhaps you have never thought of it, but this disorder is due to a lack of moisture in the residual matter of the food. If you will drink an abundance of water, eat raw fruits and take a lot of outdoor exercise, you may be able eventually to overcome it entirely. In the meantime use the most mild and gentle laxatives. Strong and harsh cathartics take too much water out of the system and make a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are easy and pleasant to take, and most agreeable in effect. Give them a trial.

FEAR OF BEING AFRAID IS SHELL SHOCK DEFINITION

Eugene, Ore.—Students of the department of psychology at the University of Oregon are studying "shell shock." Not having any direct experience with it, or opportunity to study actual cases some of their conclusions are interesting. For instance:

"Shell shock is a combined product of a number of things; fatigue of military service at the front, lack of perfect adaptation to military life, responsibility, lack of sleep, irregularity of meals and the constant suppression of the fear of being afraid."

BARBER TALKS HIMSELF OUT OF HIS FRIEND WIFE

San Francisco, Cal.—Mrs. Edna Ross sued for a divorce from Frank R. Ross, a barber, and testified that he made married life a burden by his constant talking. The plaintiff alleged that from the time her husband entered their home after work until sleep overcame him at night he talked constantly following her as she hurried from one room to another to escape his conversation. The decree was granted.

Save Till It Hurts - Why?

- Because—the United States is at war.
- Because—the only safe road to Peace is Victory.
- Because—soldiers and sailors cannot win unless the entire American people—every man, woman and child refrains from everything not absolutely necessary to health and efficiency, and thus releases labor for the production of materials of war and the support of our army and navy.
- Because—every pair of shoes, every suit of clothes, every hat, every suit of underwear, etc., not necessary, used by us at home, means one less pair of shoes, one less uniform, one less overcoat, one less muffler for our boys who are fighting to make our homes safe.
- Because—U. S. Bonds, War Savings Stamps and U. S. Thrift Stamps must be purchased by the people from money saved from their incomes—every dollar spent for an unnecessary thing is a force for evil. When that dollar buys labor and materials for equipping our army and navy it has a double force—first it ceases to aid the enemy and second it is fighting for us in behalf of mankind. Be sure that your pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters and dollars are enlisted in the cause of your country. An idle dollar is a SLACKER dollar, but a dollar wasted in war time is a TRAITOR dollar.
- Because—you should not let another day go by until you have actually given up some real thing—for your country—"until it hurts."

The United States Government Offers You the Opportunity to Save and Serve

You can buy a United States Thrift Stamp for 25 cents. A card is furnished on which to paste it. Sixteen of these, plus a few cents cash will buy a War Savings Stamp. On January 1, 1922 the United States Government will pay you $5.00 for each stamp pasted on a War Savings Certificate—this is 4% compounded quarterly when the stamps are held till January 1, 1923. A simple and secure investment—yielding a good income on your money. When you do this, you become an actively loyal American citizen—one who is saving lives by saving money.

To Sign Pledges For Canning Sugar

B. P. Pattison, County Food administrator yesterday issued the following bulletin to the people of this county:

"It has come to the attention of this office that some misunderstanding exists regarding the sale of sugar for canning purposes. In this connection the Food Administration has taken the following action:

Sugar pledge cards for home canning and preserving have been distributed to all dealers in the County. It is necessary for consumers who wish to use sugar for these purposes to sign this pledge. Twenty-five pounds of sugar can be secured at a time and as often as needed, but it is understood that this sugar must be used for canning and preserving only. Consumers need not be concerned about the shortage of sugar. There will be plenty of sugar for canning purposes and it is the wish of the Administration that the people can every bit of available food that can be saved in this way. Canned goods cannot be purchased on the market next year, as they will be taken by the Government to supply the needs of the Army and Navy. It is therefore up to the people to have their own supply. The control measures that have been instituted in connection with the sale of sugar were for the purpose of meeting the canning demand. It is therefore hoped and expected that everyone will avail themselves of this opportunity to can enough for their own use during the coming year.

B. P. PATTISON, Delta County Food Administrator.

FATHER IS CORPORAL IN SAME COMPANY WHERE HIS SON IS SERGEANT

Denver, Col.—George H. Hughes, forty years old, enlisted in the National Army in at the first call of President Wilson for volunteers. Richard A. Hughes, eighteen, son of George H., with the consent of his father enlisted a few days after the parent. Both were sent to Camp Kearny, Cal. where, a letter from the father says, the son has become a sergeant of the company in which the father is a corporal.

Y.M.C.A. Camps Are Very Popular

Camp Custer, Mich., June 12.—That Custer soldiers use the Army Y. M. C. A. is evident from the report on the activities of the Association for the past eight months. The educational work stands out as one of the finest pieces of service rendered in the camp. A total of 4,132 classes have been held with a total attendance of 73,180 soldiers. There have been given 208 educational lectures in the "Y" huts attended by 56,770 men. In 17 educational clubs there have been 1054 members and from the Association libraries there have been distributed 21,550 books.

The soldiers do not shun religious activities. In 1269 bible classes there have been 33,456 students. At 9906 religious service the Association has had an attendance of 159,990 soldiers. To men who have asked for them have been given 12,701 copies of the New Testament. Social activities draw big crowds. At 609 entertainments there has been a total attendance of 190,481 while 568 motion picture shows have attracted 258,406 spectators. In all 129,249 men have competed in athletic contests under the supervision of the Y. M. C. A. secretaries.

Soldiers have sent home 258,971,22 via the express money order route through the agency of the Y. M. C. A. It is estimated that more than 3,500,000 letters and post cards have mailed from the association huts and that the total attendance in the buildings for the eight months runs well above 3,000,000.

The Doctor Away From Home When Most Needed.

People are often very much disappointed to find that their family physician is away from home when they most need his services. Diseases like pain in the stomach and bowels, colic and diarrhoea require prompt treatment, and in many instances proven fatal before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. The right way is to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. No physician can prescribe a better medicine for these diseases. By having it in the house you escape much pain and suffering and all risk. Buy it now; it may save life.

SHORTCAKES FOR WHEATLESS PATRIOTS

The call for wheat grows more and more urgent and Americans now realize that wheat is as much a part of the real fighting program of the country as ships and guns. It has been said that brains will win the war. Thinking ahead on the wheat question has led many citizens to demand that wheat be taken over by the Government and held in hand to meet any shortage that may arise from submarine sinkings. That would be Germany's method, the brains of the rulers in that case would win; but America is depending on a democracy to win—the brains of all her people. Your brains must win.

Thousands of men and women have given up the weekly allowance of a pound and a half of flour, and are travelling a wheatless road to victory. Those housekeepers who make good use of this allowance in loaf bread and biscuit hesitate to turn even a dust of wheat flour into pie or shortcake and such extras. To these the recipes for shortcake worked out in the Experiment Kitchen of the Food Administration will be most acceptable.

BARLEY SHORTCAKE

- 1 cup liquid
- 4 to 6 tablespoons fat
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 4 cups barley

CORN FLOUR SHORTCAKE

- 1 cup liquid
- 4 to 6 tablespoons fat
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 2-3 cups corn flour

RICE FLOUR SHORTCAKE

Follow directions for corn flour, using 1-4 cups rice flour instead of corn flour.

BARLEY-CORN SHORTCAKE

- 1 cup liquid
- 6 tablespoons fat
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1-3 cups corn flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 2 cups barley flour

BARLEY-OATS SHORTCAKE

Follow directions for Barley-Corn Flour, using 1-2 cups rolled oats ground in food shoper instead of the corn flour.

CORN-OATS SHORTCAKE

- 1 cup liquid
- 4 tablespoons fat
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1-3 cups ground rolled oats
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1-3 cups corn flour

The same weight of flour is used in each recipe—the measures differ according to the kind of flour used. All measurements are level. Mix dry ingredients, cut in the fat and add the liquid. For individual servings, place dough on slightly floured board, pat to 3-4 inch thickness and cut as for biscuit. If a large shortcake is wanted, place dough in well greased biscuit tin and pat to desired thickness. These shortcakes are light and tender. An egg added to rice or corn flour makes a softer dough. The slightly acid taste of barley may be overcome by using 1-4 teaspoon of soda dissolved in one cup of liquid. The flavor of oat and corn is especially good. The shortcakes made from corn or rice flour are very white and flakey and similar in appearance to wheat flour.

Do not split these cakes as they crumble easily. Pile strawberries or other fruit on shortcake. Add whipped cream, if desired, and serve. These shortcakes can be used instead of pie crust in a great variety of desserts.

TAKING IT FROM BABIES.

Every ounce of wheat products in excess of six pounds per month, that you eat, Mr. American Citizen, is that much literally taken from the mouths of the starving women and children of France. The armed Allies may go without wheat, but these innocents will actually die unless we give them of ours in generous proportion.

Urge Holders To Keep Liberty Bonds For Own Savings

Secretary McAdoo has telegraphed A. R. Rogers, Ninth District Director of the Third Liberty Loan, to make appeal that Liberty Loan bonds be not traded for merchandise or for the securities of private corporations. It has come to the attention of the secretary of the treasury, so he advises Mr. Rogers, that in a number of instances the good sound, government bonds have been traded for some very doubtful securities.

"But aside from warning people not to trade their government bonds for securities of no or doubtful value I wish to appeal to bond holders in general not to trade their bonds for anything, either for good securities or for good merchandise," says Mr. McAdoo. "To do so would be to defeat in a considerable measure the purpose of the liberty loans. I am informed that many merchants have advertised that they would take liberty bonds of any of the three issues in exchange for merchandise. I do not think that these merchants have intended to interfere with the purpose of the liberty loan in any way."

"But we have sought to have these bonds purchased for permanent investment out of past or future savings, such savings thereby effecting conservation of both labor and materials. To exchange these bonds for merchandise or services is to thwart the conservation feature of the Liberty Loan campaign."

"The inadvisability of exchanging government bonds for doubtful securities needs no argument. But they should not be exchanged for securities of any kind. Practically all the substantial and representative investment houses have unselfishly aided in the Liberty Loan campaign and it is inconceivable that after the magnificent work of distributing government bonds, any effort should be made to substitute other securities."

Tennis Players May Begin Soon

Work of putting the tennis courts in Ludington park in shape for play will be completed next week, as soon as the park employees can be spared from their other work. The courts are now in bad shape but are being used by some of the earlier enthusiasts.

ENSIGNS IN UNIFORM DISTURB GIRLS' SCHOOL

Troy, N. Y., June—A detachment of ensigns was recently transferred from the Great Lakes to Boston. They stopped off in Troy. The Troy Navy League showed them the city and the Emma Willard School for Girls. Many of the young ladies were on the campus in their best bib and tucker. They were bombarded with a shower of cards. That night they wrote and the sailor boys in Boston wrote back. Troy postoffice authorities were considering putting on an extra force to cope with the additional mail for the school girls. The faculty took the matter up and hereafter ensigns will have to give Troy a wide berth.

MINER, HEARING OF WAR INVESTS ALL IN BONDS THEN GOES BACK TO JAIL

Reno, Nev., June 10.—For five year Charles McNeale has been work a placer claim in the mountains of the Powder River country in Oregon, happily unconscious of the fact that virtually the entire world was at war. McNeale came out of his mountain retreat with $65,000 in gold. On learning the Kaiser had made the universe his enemy the prospector attempted to enlist. He was too old. He then invested the $65,000 pike, in thrift stamps and Liberty bonds, ordered a grub stake and returned to the hills.

COWBOYS LONG TO CHARGE GERMANS ON HORSEBACK

San Francisco—Wearing real cowboy combros, cow boots with spurs and gaudy-colored shirts, 1,550 rangers from Idaho, New Mexico, Wyoming, Montana, Arizona and Utah arrived here to be made into soldiers.

Marching up Market street, they presented the appearance of a rodeo parade. The cowboys, who are in the draft contingents from the various Western States, declared that they would like to charge the Germans from horseback, but didn't have much hope that they would get such a chance.

MAYOR CAUGHT FISH ONLY WHEN PANTS WERE CREASED

Chicago, Ill.—The fish do not bite good for Mayor Thompson unless his trousers are "just so." That, in effect, was the excuse given Judge La Buy by H. S. Marshall, a tailor, arrested as a speeder. He said he was hurrying with the Mayor's trousers neatly creased for fishing. He was fined $5.

Says 20,000 Men Hold "Safe" Jobs

Washington, D. C.—Estimating that there are 20,000 men of military age performing civilian and nonessential war duty in department of the the government, Representative Martin B. Madden of Illinois, will introduce two resolutions on Monday to force the so-called bullet proof persons into active service.

One call on President Wilson to report to the house the number of employees of military age engaged in the respective boards and commissions created by the president.

The second resolution is aimed against the military establishments, where it is charged there are thousands of young men of military age occupying clerical positions whose work could be done by those physically unfit for active service.

It is also charged that sons of influential men have been placed in the naval reserve, where they are not subject to danger, and that their having been appointed to this work made it unnecessary for them to join the drafted army although they were subject to such service.

BROWNS GERMAN-MADE DOLLS

San Francisco.—An officer at the Civic Center saw a little girl loitering around one of the fountains, apparently reluctant to leave. He investigated and found that the girl had thrown several expensive dolls into the water. The officer rescued the "unconscious" victims and found a German trade mark on every one. Then he understood.

GOV. SLEEPER URGENTLY APPEALS FOR ALIEN LAWS

to an appreciation of this great truth, that much sooner may our national weight be thrown into the battle.

Demand World Freedom. "Our national position in this war is that we demand for the people of all the world a voice in their government. We have entered this war to make similar world haulcasts of the future an impossibility. We have entered this war to win at any cost and our arms must be successfully sustained.

"The only people of America in reality who up to this time have made any material sacrifices are the fathers and mothers and wives who have given their dear ones to bear arms in the righteous cause of their nation. But all of our people must be made to sacrifice. We at home have experienced a few wheatless days, a few meatless days and some heatless days, but that is not a real sacrifice. We have not yet begun to sacrifice as we must to win this war.

People Will Sacrifice. Our people, thrilled with the great patriotic spirit typical of the American people are willing to undergo hardships no matter what they may be and it is that spirit that must eventually bring triumph to our cause."

At the opening of his address Gov. Sleeper reviewed the early history of Michigan and traced the development of the state with its population of 90,000 people 80 years ago to the great commonwealth of today.

Cornelius Below of Marinette, who has been a guest at the McLean home at Wells, left this morning accompanied by Marmaduke Christie and Donald McLean for a ten days boat trip to Hamilton, Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Blaney have returned to their home at Nahma after a week's visit in Escanaba.

Mr. and Mrs. Mayle of Ishpeming, have returned home after a week's visit in this city.

Gibson Elliott has accepted a position at the Chemical plant.

Everett Bliss, Marquette, visited his sister, Miss Ada Bliss, here yesterday.

Miss Minnie Christiansen has returned from a visit with relatives and friends in Menominee and Marinette.

John H. Winterbotham of the State Council's Section of Washington, D. C., brought to the conference delegates yesterday morning a vivid realization of the serious purpose of the German people to encompass world domination through the prosecution of this war to a successful German peace.

Mr. Winterbotham's address was an appeal to the people to spurn German peace overtures when they come and to stand steadfast back of their government until a just and lasting peace has been dictated by the United States and the allied governments.

Mr. Winterbotham was in German when the war broke out and remained in that country for six weeks after the world conflagration war started.

"In describing his personal experiences in Germany at that time he said: "From my personal observation in Germany I am here to tell you today that the entire body of people in Germany are standing solidly back of their Kaiser in his prosecution of their war. I attended meetings in Germany at the outbreak of this war at which the demonstration of patriotism given by the German people was greater than any patriotic display I have yet witnessed in this country. I have attended meetings when the big war chest was being raised when the big iron pot was passed and every woman and man in the essemblage cast their jewelry into the vessel for the support of their government's war aims.

Must Spurn Peace. "There is one great danger that the people of this nation and of the nations of the allies face today. When the German government started this war the German people were told that world domination would be accomplished in a year. Three years have passed and that government is approaching the stage where realization of its original aims is about to take place. Soon there will come offers of peace. It will not surprise me if the German government will offer to return Alsace Lorraine and then may go further at the very outset and offer the restoration of Belgium. When that time comes the real danger will be present. Such a peace fixed on German terms cannot be a permanent peace, but only a peace to allow militarism in Germany to reestablish itself and prepare for an even greater conflict in years of the future. Then it will be necessary for our people to stiffen their backs and spurn German's peace terms and stand back of this government in the prosecution of the war until the nation that brought on this war is brought to her knees, a ruined, wrecked power. Then and only then can this nation or any of her allies be repaid for the sacrifice of blood and treasure that the defense of the cause of world Democracy has demanded. Then and only then can we say that the lives of the boys of this nation have not been given in vain."

Peninsula Necessary. At the opening of his address Mr. Winterbotham said that in no section of the United States of equal area were more war materials being produced than in the upper peninsula of Michigan. The speaker told of the work of the Council of National Defense and appealed to the people to support staunchly every war supporting project that is proposed by the government.

Secretary of State Speaks. Coleman C. Vaughan, secretary of state, in responding to an address of welcome on behalf of the Michigan War Preparedness Board, expressed the appreciation to the board member by the people of Escanaba and Cloverland. He referred to the present great war as a wonderful agency in aiding the people of Michigan to wipe out sectional feelings, asserting that the war has served as a mighty bridge across the straits uniting firmly the two peninsulas in a common purpose. He urged the people to lay aside every other consideration and to unite in the common effort for backing the state and the nation in winning the war.

Mr. Vaughan told of the work that has been accomplished by the Michigan War Preparedness Board since its establishment. He said that the board had expended its funds freely wherever it was found necessary for the support of any movement looking to providing comfort or equipment for the state's fighting forces."

Makes Patriotic Appeal. Judge George O. Driscoll of Ironwood, in responding to the address of welcome, on behalf of the Upper brought to this country we should sincerely thank the Almighty and our Boys "over there."

All Must Be Loyal. To support them loyally must be done. The queries that come back from across the Atlantic, where Secretary Baker has said this week 700,000 of our forces are fighting all ask what the people of America are doing to back them up. Our answer must go back to them that we privileged to remain at our homes, enjoying our usual comforts, making only minor sacrifices, are prepared to submit to any hardship that may be demanded.

See Danger of An Early Peace. "As one of the speakers here has said, the real danger will come when the German peace proposals appear proposing a German peace. Then the people of the United States must show to Germany that America never yet has and never will be afflicted with cold feet. It will be then more necessary than ever that the world menace of militarism be wiped out for all time and our support to our government and our fighters must be more staunch than ever before. We do not want a peace for 10 years, or 20 years or for a generation, but a peace that will last for all time and such a peace can only be assured by the triumph of the cause of America and her allies.

All Must Do Bit. "We must all do our bit, however great may be the hardship that it entails. We must work faithfully and stolidly together. Let us discourage unjust, ranting criticism. Let us rather show an appreciation of the wonderful accomplishments of our nation in the first year of our participation in the war. This is a time for the uniting of our hearts and hands in the loyal, unselfish support of our government."

Governor Sleeper Presided. Gov. Sleeper presided at the opening of the morning program, the starting of which was delayed by the lateness of the arrival of the train bearing the party of visitors to the Delta County War Board, was delivered by T. M. Judson, secretary of that organization. The address of welcome on behalf of the city of Escanaba was delivered by A. J. Young Peninsula County War Boards, thoroughly stirred the audience that packed the Delta theater in his patriotic appeal. "We are living in an age when man's worth is measured only by his ability to serve his nation in the manifold ways that are offered today," said the speaker. "The safety of our institutions, our homes, our wives and little ones are the stakes for which our armed forces are fighting on the fields of France today and to support the bearers of our colors is the great and principal duty of every patriot today. Irene Castle's appearance here in the "Hillcrest Mystery" the picture in which she was working when her husband fell to his death in an American airplane school—will for that reason be of great interest to her admirers here.

In the "Hillcrest Mystery" Mrs. Castle is at the best. Her grace and charm never were brought out to better advantage, even in the dancing acts in vaudeville which made her and her husband famous. The plot is down to the minute, dealing with German plotting to check the speed with which Uncle Sam is turning out ships to defeat the U-boats.

Mrs. Castle is supported by an all-star cast of players and the production is elaborately staged.

AT THE DELFT

The first big feature of the government's official war films has been started on its trip through Michigan under the auspices of the Michigan War Preparedness Board and will be seen at the Delft theatre here on June 14. The feature is called "Pershing's Crusaders" and has been greeted with big crowds. So far it has been shown only in the larger cities of the country. Now it is being sent through Michigan where the sole right to show the pictures has been given to the War Preparedness Board. Under the war boards plan the proceeds of the exhibitions go to the fund for the relief of the dependants of Michigan's soldiers and sailors, "Pershing's Crusaders" consists of eight reels of film, approximately 7,500 feet, showing the activities of the army and navy until they get within 1,500 feet of the German trenches on their way to Berlin. Four thousand feet of film depict the army over there under General Pershing and several close up views of the front line trenches, manned by the Americans, are given. Unlike some of the staged front line trench scenes, one sees in the unofficial war films now going through the country, the government pictures have no glamour to them; they show cold hard facts, the Yankees living in snow which reminds one of a Michigan winter, and of their ploughing through trenches under fire with the water up to their knees. Secretary of War Baker and General John J. Pershing are shown in many scenes inspecting the troops abroad, infantry, artillery cavalry and the much discussed aero squadrons, twenty-three German prisoners, the first taken by the American forces after they took over first line trenches are paraded upon the screen so that everybody can get a good square look at them. They are a tough looking lot but seem absolutely callous to their conditions and surroundings.

Boys' Part In Big War Is Outlined

(Continued from Page One) ed by the government and placed on farms, some of them in southern Michigan. Only last week twenty boys from Menominee county and 46 from Iron county went to the sugar beet farms in the lower peninsula. Mr. Weston reported at yesterday's conference that 65 enrolled boys in Gogebic county and 100 in the copper country are ready now for calls to such service. M. A. Leech, of Newberry, said Luce county already has 25 who are ready, and C. V. Ballard, of Iron Mountain said Dickinson county has thirty-five. Which is an indication of the response that is coming from the boys.

Enrollment in the Reserve and satisfactory work for six weeks entitles the boy to a bronze war-service medal awarded by the United States government. Recognizing that the boy who lives on the farm and remains doing to help produce the crop is doing all that his country asks of him at this time—is doing indeed, more for his country than he could do in any other way—the Reserve men in the upper peninsula are enrolling the boys, thus making them eligible to this honor.

Manistique Represented. "This medal," said T. W. Clemo of Manistique, "is coveted by boys, and naturally. But the boy doesn't, cannot, understand today what it will mean to him in later years. When our men come back from the other side they are apt to inquire of boys they know here 'What did you do to help win the war while we were over there?' The boy who has served in the United States Boys Working Reserve can say that he did exactly what his country asked him to do, and did it faithfully, and the badge of Reserve service will be public attestation of the fact. It will be a proud boy who wins it; it will be a proud man who, in later years, has that medal to show his own children. And it will be a mighty sorry boy who has to say to inquirers that he did not do his part.

"So it is fortunate that the government has provided for the same public recognition of the farm boy who sticks it out on the farm as is provided for the boy who goes to the farm from city or town.

"It is important, not only in a military way, but educationally, that we give our boys a very definite part in the war—and we men of the Reserve are merely trying to help the boys into the place which the government has declared to be their most effective place."

Editor Scores Point. Speaking on the point Mr. Clemo had made, about the educational value of farm work for boys, Walter P. McGuire, managing editor of "The American Boy" who attended as a representative of Charles A. Parcells, federal state director of the Reserve, said:

"Farm work will give the boy not only wages, not only health and strength. It will give him an understanding which he cannot obtain otherwise of the people who form almost a majority of our population—of the character of those people, their social condition, their school and home problems, their patriotism, their political ideals, their personal aspirations. This will vitalize sociology, as a school subject for the boy and will be of benefit to him whatever his life work may be.

"The marvelous processes of nature seen through a season on the farm, will mean more to him than several years of book study of nature. Every item in his physiognomy will gain significance. Economics students will gain knowledge, at first hand, of America's fundamental industry; such terms as production, marketing, speculation, supply and demand, wages, prices, by-products, transportation, will have a very definite meaning."

The point was brought up about the position of the boy who is eligible and fit for farm work and is allured by higher wages in an industry—higher wages than the farmer can pay. It was explained that the same thing is involved in this as is involved in the case of the man who quits a high-salaried job to go into the army or navy.

Money Not Important. "It is not the money that is important at this time," said Mr. Armstrong of Stanbaugh. "Of course money always lures, but these are times when it is necessary for everybody to consider what else is involved—what relation the situation bears to the war. The government has pointed out very precisely what boys who are above 16 and are able to do farm work, should do. All government officials have expressed themselves on this—all declaring that they should give preference to farm work.

"The reasons are simple. The food supply is of prime importance; the food supply is in greatest danger. Thousands of men have gone from the farms of Michigan into the army or navy or into the big-paying jobs in the factories of Detroit and other cities. Moreover, all of that large floating population which formerly was relied on so much by farmer for their reasonable help is also regularly employed. The bald fact is that nobody remains to do the necessary work of the farm in many places, except boys—and women. And we have not come to the point yet where we have to put out women to work in the fields. It means that it is up to the boys.

Parents Must Aid. "And it is, importantly, up to the parents of the boys. They should recognize that this is a time of sacrifice—that, when the government makes it plain that the place where the boy can do the best war service is on the farm, boys should go there even if it does mean that they will get a little less money for the vacation term. Remember that all of the money in the world will not win this war if there is not sufficient food to feed our boys on the other side, our million men on this side are not producing now, but must eat, the thousands who are on the seas and the millions of our allies who have been holding that brutal line for so many years. That's the first thing to think of."

It was explained that the boys who do work on the sugar beet farms are sent in groups of from 20 to 40 boys that they are under careful supervision for the protection of their health and morals that recreation is provided for them and that the supervisor sees to it that the boys are paid regularly and are properly treated. Nothing has been left undone to make this service a really good influence in the lives of the boys.

Will Push Work. The men left the conference determined to push the work of the Reserve throughout the upper peninsula, and asking that all of the people here become more familiar with the plan and purpose and co-operate in every possible way—especially parents who, at this time have the opportunity, as Mr. Armstrong puts it, "to show their boys the glory and satisfaction of a slight sacrifice, as distinguished from mere money-getting."

The county directors of the Reserve in the upper peninsula are:

- Alger—Rev. Alexander Anderson, Munising.

TWO NORSE SHIPS SUNK OFF COAST

Navy Department Denies Reports That U. S. Warships Have Engaged Raiders or Dropped Depth Bombs.

NO NEWS RECEIVED

Washington, June 12.—Further confirmation of the story that the German submarines operating off the Atlantic coast are moving southward came today in the announcement of the sinking of two Norwegian steamers in the Cape Hatteras district.

It is understood that the navy department has no report of the loss of the two vessels until the survivors were landed in New York today.

The following statement was issued by the navy department today:

Off Cape Hatteras. "The navy department is informed that the steamship Boursand arrived in New York at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon with the survivors from the Norwegian steamers Bindiggen and Henrik, sunk by submarines about 120 miles east of Hatteras. The Bindiggen, according to reports, was sunk at 5:30 p. m. on June 8 and the Henrik at 7:17 on June 10.

The submarines which up to today have sunk twenty vessels in U. S. waters are successfully avoiding U. S. patrol ships.

It is believed they are submerged during the day and operating just previous to sundown, making all movements to new locations at night when they run on the surface.

Report Denies

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt today denied that any U. S. warships have fired on the submarines dropped depth bombs and attacked and sunk any submarine off the Atlantic coast. It is thought, however, that complete reports of the operations of U. S. patrols have not yet been made because of restrictions practiced on the use of the wireless by the navy department.

That no news of the sinking of the two Norwegian steamers was received here prior to the landing of the survivors at New York, is drawn the conclusion that all steamers have been warned to take every precaution to conceal their location and to use their wireless only as last resort to summon help.

ALIMONY OF $250,000 IS ALL WIFE DEMANDS

Denver, Col.—Alimony of a quarter of a million dollars a month is all that Mrs. Minnie Doud asks in her divorce suit instituted against Arthur J. Doud. Mrs. Doud told the court she had intended to ask for only $250 monthly, but "the larger amount would be satisfactory." Her attorney was under the impression that some typist had erred, and the complaint was amended at the suggestion of the judge. Doud is a wealthy oil operator.

Custer Soldiers Is Appreciative Of Child's Work

An inspiring letter of appreciation from a soldier at Camp Custer, addressed to Miss Elina Anderson, a teacher at the Washington school, expressing his thanks for a pair of socks knitted by one of Miss Anderson's pupils was received yesterday. The letter follows.

24 Co 6 Bn 160 Dept, Brig. Camp Custer, Michigan, June 7, 1918.

Miss Elina Anderson, 1110 Wells Ave., Escanaba, Michigan.

Miss Anderson: "When I was a youngster and attended school I always had a liking for my teacher, and today I find that liking returning for I have just been the recipient of a wonderful pair of woole socks. The note pinned to them states that they were knitted by one of your pupils, and indeed a very apt one if I am any judge of knitting. The pupil was Edith Hellman and I have acknowledged their receipt.

"No doubt fit so wonderful a teacher—for you must be a wonderful teacher from the results you get in your knitting class—the little ones are learning to understand the true significance of the struggle that has involved the whole world and are learning to express the same spirit of service and self sacrifice that is being manifested by us of the army. How wonderful of them for they must have denied themselves many hours that might have been otherwise spent in their so much loved play.

"You may rest assured I am conscious of the inestimable value you are to the cause for who would not be inspired and encouraged to know that even the youngsters at school are concerned regarding their welfare and comfort. Every soldier has a warm place in his heart for the Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. workers—in my case that includes teachers.

"I wish that you and the pupils of your class could be with us tomorrow for the 85th Division will have their final review by Brig. General Donaldson prior to their leaving for 'over there'. A review, such as the one tomorrow, is one of the most impressive sights one can imagine. You would see 30,000 'Sammys', browned, hard as steel, confident, whose loyalty and courageousness are unquestioned, waiting for the word to go 'over there' and may it come soon.

"There are some of course, who will go across 'no man's land' and return no more, but when my time comes it will be comforting to know that all of you back home have also done your 'bit' and as I mount the first step I shall recall this day and Elina.

"God bless you.

"Most sincerely,

"CORPORAL FRANK D. LESIA.

Conferences Attended By Many People

(Continued from Page One) the opportunity to shower compliments on the Delta county Junior Red Cross auxiliary, which by all of authorities was called one of the few 100 per cent organizations of its kind in the central division. A display of work by the juniors both at the high school building and at the junior headquarters were the centers of marked interest.

Women's Committee Conference. The Michigan Woman's Committee Conference at the Pythian temple was in charge of Dr. Caroline Bartlett Crane. The varied field opened to women through the war, were discussed by the presiding officers and representatives women from several of the counties of the upper peninsula.

County War Board Conference. One of the most important of the afternoon conferences was that of the County War Boards at the city hall at 4 o'clock presided over by Governor Sleeper. O. B. Town, of the War Department Training Camp activities. So many important matters developed that it was necessary to adjourn the conference until 11 o'clock this morning.

Draft Boards Meet

At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon an important conference of the county draft boards of the peninsula was held at the Elks' temple, presided over by Maj. Gen. J. P. Petermann. At that conference many important matters were discussed and a better understanding arrived at concerning the provisions of the draft law requirements.

At 2 o'clock in the Carnegie library a large crowd of the upper peninsula chairman and workers in the Third Liberty loan committees met in conference with Mrs. D. D. Ashbaugh of Detroit, state head of the Michigan organization, presiding.

No set program was followed. A round table discussion of the organization methods and working plans for the past bond selling drives took place and served to bring out many interesting side lights on the work. Many ideas which will be of great benefit to the workers in the fourth campaign this summer, were emphasized. "I am very proud of the women of Northern Michigan," Mrs. Ashbaugh said after the conference. "Their organizations are the best I have seen and the conference gave me many splendid ideas and inspirations. The work they have done is merely more proof that women are in reality 'people' in spite of our present suffrage system and more than willing and capable of carrying their share of the war's burdens."

Breaks Food Regulations

The hearing of Andrew Rian, who for 30 years has conducted a general store at Metropolitan on a charge of violating the federal food regulations, in selling wheat flour without the required amount of substitutes, was conducted before George W. McCormick, upper peninsula food administrator here last night.

The evidence submitted showed that at the store owned by Ryan flour was repeatedly sold without the required quantity of substitutes and also that flour was sold in larger quantities than allowed under the regulations.

Rian testified that although he had but $50 when he arrived in this country and has collected considerable property under the protection of this government, he has bought no Liberty Bonds, no War Savings Stamps but at some time, he believed, he had contributed $100 for the Red Cross.

Sentence will be pronounced by the food administrator this morning.

Three Thousand Meet Governor

A steadily moving line of men, women and children moved past the receiving line at the Coliseum last night to shake the hands of Governor and Mrs. Albert E. Sleeper and the members of his official family. Beginning at 8 o'clock and continuing for nearly three hours the crowd filed by. The reception was carefully planned, capably handled and the confusion which generally accompanies an occasion of the kind was not noticeable.

Yankees Take More Prisoners

The following communique from General Pershing was announced tonight: "Aside from continued artillery activity in the Woivre and the taking of prisoners by our patrols in Picardy there is nothing to report. London, June 12.—A successful raid by the French last night is reported by Field Marshal Haig, in his night bulletin. The raid was carried out in the region of Loere (Flanders). Otherwise there is nothing to report from the British front the statement says.

Help Problem Is Given Attention At Conference

The problem of providing help for the industries and farms of the nation during the war, was given consideration at the sectional conference of the Public Service Reserve at the Masonic temple yesterday afternoon. Representatives of eight counties attended the conference at which the plan for distributing help to farms and manufacturing plants were explained by William H. Wreford, secretary for the U. S. Public Reserve in Michigan and M. LaMarche, special agent for the U. S. Employment service. The county representatives at the conference were:

- F. D. Davis, Delta county.
E. H. Jewell, Schoolcraft county.
John R. Vanevera, Marquette county.
Jhn Deyman, Iron county.
A. L. Sawyer, Menominee county.
L. G. Hillier, Baraga county.

Board Gets Call For An Engineer

A call was yesterday received by the Delta County Exemption board for a locomotive engineer or firemen, to be taken from the list of registered men of this county to report at the Van' couver barracks on June 19. The board has issued a call for a volunteer for this service but should no one respond the board is instructed to draft a man and forward him to the western continent.

Great Crowd At Park Program

Ludington park was packed with a throng of people last night when the high students and pupils of the public schools appeared in a magnificent physical exercise drill, under the direction of Miss Edgerton, physical director in the public schools. A musical program was furnished by the band and every part of that feature of the night's program was most delightfully carried out.
