

YANKS TAKE 13,000 IN DAY'S FIGHTING

HUNDREDS IN FINAL CROWD YESTERDAY

Thursday Record Stands as High Attendance Mark but Friday Crowd is More Than Satisfactory.

HAD BETTER WEATHER

Although the Thursday record at the box office was not equalled at the Northern State Fair yesterday, there was a most satisfactory crowd on hand to see the windup of the big autumn festival.

The track was in much better condition and racing was more interesting, especially to spectators who had found overcasts insufficient to keep them comfortable on the preceding day.

The free vaudeville attractions were able to really work and gave the patrons some of the classiest open air vaudeville Escanaba has ever seen.

"Maitre" again opened the show with his musical novelty. The Delmars came next with their high class acrobatic turn, showing the crowd a number of difficult tricks which they had not attempted on Thursday because of the wind.

The Escanaba Military band, with a long "rep" of the latest and best in music, dispensed it in generous quantities and their efforts were greatly appreciated.

Weather conditions considered, the fair this year was one of the most successful in its history. It has proven that the people of this section want the best to be had in that line and the association has already begun its plans for something bigger and better next year.

Many of the livestock exhibits and horses will leave today for Manistique where they will take part in the fair next week.

Attend Funeral At Marinette

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Chatfield went to Marinette yesterday to attend the funeral of John Howe who died in Minneapolis. The body was brought to Marinette for burial.

Deny That The Czar's Family Is Murdered

Copenhagen, Sept. 13.—The Bolshevik premier today issued an official denial to the story that the former Czar and her daughters had been murdered. The story in a Berlin news paper was widely circulated.

Pershing's Communique

Washington, Sept. 13.—The American forces are in possession of the entire St. Mihiel salient, to a point 12 miles northeast of there and 13,000 prisoners have been captured, according to the official war department communique, issued tonight.

"In the St. Mihiel sector we have acquired further successes. The junction of our troops from the south with those advancing from the west has given us possession of the whole salient to a point 12 miles northeast and resulted in the capture of many prisoners."

"Forced back steadily, the enemy is retreating and is destroying great quantities of material as he goes." "The number of prisoners has risen to 13,300. Our line is: Herbeville, Phillot, Hattenville, St. Benot, Xammes, Jaulny, Phlaucourt and Verzille."

BRITISH ARE STILL GOING

London, Sept. 13.—Local progress on the west front near St. Quentin was made yesterday and in the area southwest of LaBasse, according to Haig's night bulletin.

At the British Front—The British today took Gougeacourt, six miles northwest of La Catalaet. This was one of the fortresses in the Hindenburg defense line.

BERLIN SAYS ALL IS WELL

Berlin, Sept. 13.—"The day was more quiet," says tonight's war office statement. "Between the Neuse and Moselle, the enemy has not renewed his attacks."

Takes Chance On A Smoke; Now Jailed

Newark, N. J., Sept. 13.—John J. Mason, a negro employed by the Dupont Powder Works at Parlin, N. J., was locked up to await action by the Federal grand jury on the charge of violating the sabotage act.

Mason's offense consisted of lighting a match and smoking a cigarette in the ether room of the powder plant. The complaint against him alleges he took the risk of interfering with war work by furthering the chances of an explosion.

No mention was made of what might have happened to Mason.

Preacher Gets Job Checking Freight

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 13.—Rev. W. J. Howell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Auburn, Wash., is a freight checker in the railroad yards there.

"What's the Meas?" members of his congregation asked him. "My conscience troubled me," he replied. "I wasn't doing enough war work."

BIG MT. CLEMENS TRACT IS LEASED AS AVIATION FIELD

Washington, Sept. 13.—The acquisition of 1,800 acres between Selfridge field and Lake St. Clair, near Mount Clemens, for the instruction of aviation is announced by the war department.

SENDS BOYS THE MESSAGE BY WIRELESS

Crowder Tells Pershing of Magnificent Response of America to the Call for Registration.

NEARLY 14 MILLION

Washington Sept. 13.—The wireless flashed the news to General Pershing today that America has again gone over the top in registering her manpower and that the army to combat the German hordes is limitless in size.

General Crowder sent the message to headquarters in France, telling our fighting men how loyally the nation had responded to the call for the registration of her men.

Over 14,000,000

General Crowder's formal estimate will not be made until tomorrow, but with the exception of 11 states, the registration is estimated now to be 8.5 per cent greater than it was at first predicted.

If this runs on throughout the remaining states, the figures will reach the 14,000,000 mark instead of 13,000,000 as was estimated before the registration.

2,600,000 in Class One.

The provost marshal general's office figured today that in proportion to the increase as already indicated, instead of 2,328,000 men there will be in excess of 2,600,000 in Class One and that in the two classes to be called first, comprising the men of 19 and 20 and 32 to 36, the first call of which will go to the colors shortly after October 1, there will be 1,625,000 instead of the estimated 1,500,000.

Six Months' Supply.

With the calls for men at the rate of 250,000 a month as is now scheduled this will mean a supply for 6 months, while at that time the class that reaches the age of 18 may be registered and the 19 year olds taken, which will mean nearly 1,000,000 more.

Drawing October 2.

If the local boards are able to complete the schedule on questionnaires the drawing will probably take place on October 2.

It is planned to make it an impressive patriotic ceremony.

Exempt Wire Men!

Secretary Burleson in charge of the wire lines of the nation today instructed the district heads of the telegraph service to claim deferred classification for all men who are essential to the service.

British Flyers Help American Infantry

London, Sept. 13.—British aviators co-operating with the American infantry in the St. Mihiel sector yesterday and today, did effective work in bombing rear guard action and lines of communication. They dropped nearly 82 tons of bombs on the fleeing foe, the war office statement on aviation announced.

Explosion At Kiev Kills 350 Persons

Amsterdam, Sept. 13.—More than 350 persons were killed and hundreds injured today in an explosion at Kiev. The damage is estimated at $15,000,000. It is reported that Lenin and Trotsky during the crisis in the Bolshevik regime last month planned to escape to Switzerland where they have stored a considerable quantity of gold. Hundreds of arrests

AMERICAN SPEED

With the First American Army, Sept. 13—6:05 p. m.—General John J. Pershing and Secretary of War Newton C. Baker visited St. Mihiel this afternoon. They talked with the mayor of the town and learned that the Germans looted the banks before they fled.

Thursday morning, Sept. 12, 1918, at 5 o'clock, the city was in German hands.

Friday evening, Sept. 13, 1918, at 6 o'clock, the American Commander in Chief and The Secretary of War walk into the town and have a talk with the mayor.

The Germans are more than 15 miles to the north.

ANSWER: AMERICAN SPEED.

3,500 MEN REGISTER IN THE COUNTY

Incomplete Returns from Delt County Show Final Count as Pretty Close To Draft Board's Estimate.

That the registration of men between the ages of 18 and 45 for military services under the new manpower bill, will total more than 3,000 and possibly reach the 3,500 mark, was indicated yesterday by the incomplete return at the office of A.J. Pepin, clerk of the local board.

At a late hour yesterday, 2835 names had been forwarded, with four fair sized precincts to be heard from. Complete and official returns are expected today or tomorrow.

It was the prediction of Mr. Pepin that the registration would total between 3,000 and 3,500 in the county and the returns prove that he had it figured pretty closely.

The returns came straggling in all day yesterday and it was not until nearly losing time that the above had been received. Because of considerable detail necessary in handling the registration of each man, it was not possible to compile the figures in the various precincts as rapidly as election results are disposed of.

Much Hard Work.

The local board will proceed at once to list the men who registered and arrange for the mailing of questionnaires as quickly as the order to do so is received from General Crowder.

The drawing, according to news dispatches, will probably take place next week. The machinery of the draft organization everywhere is working long hours that it may be able to respond immediately to orders from the national capital, which will be the signal for the next step for getting the registrants into uniform.

Neurohr Body Taken To Home

The body of Otto Neurohr, who died in the naval training station at Ports mouth, Va., arrived in the city yesterday and will be taken to Berlin this morning, where funeral services will take

Gives Her Home For Sick Officers

London, Sept. 13.—A new branch of American Red Cross hospital work in Great Britain was inaugurated by the opening the other day, at Lingfield, Surrey, of a convalescent home for American officers. "American Red Cross Convalescent Home No. 1" is the country home of Mrs. Spender-Clay, daughter of Lord Astor, who has generously turned over her estate to the Red Cross.

The home, which stands in grounds of many acres, has room for 100 beds. Twelve convalescent Americans were received the first day from American hospitals in London. Another convalescent home for American privates will be established shortly and a home for convalescent nurses.

Ban On Gold Lace For Women

London, Sept. 13.—A new Defense of the Realm Order puts an end to the buying and wearing of gold embroidery by women.

It is stipulated that gold lace, gold embroidery and gold thread may not be used on any garment, hat or cap which is not part of the uniform of his Majesty's Service or of the dress of an officer in the Merchantile Marine.

Mattson Machine Runs Into Curb

An automobile driven by Charles Mattson of Stonington, crashed into the curb at the corner of First street and Delta avenue early yesterday morning. The brakes were not working properly and Mr. Mattson lost control in trying to set them. One of the front wheels of the machine was badly damaged. None of the occupants were injured.

Beauchamp Body Arrives In City

The body of Trefle Beauchamp, old resident of the city who died at the home of his son, Arson, at Ralph on Thursday morning, arrived in the city last night. Funeral services will be held from St. Anne's church Monday morning and interment will take

Whole St. Mihiel Salient Is Now In American Hands and Baker Visits General

MORE RECORDS ARE BROKEN

Count Captives and Sing "Where Do We Go From Here?" as Battle Slackens Last Night

BULLETIN With the American Army, Sept. 13. (4:00 p. m.)—We have captured more than 40 towns and villages since the St. Mihiel attack began. The battle continues. We are advancing.

BULLETIN With the First American Army, Sept. 13. (6:00 p. m.)—We have captured Vignelles, thus closing the noose about the Germans in the St. Mihiel salient.

Vignelles le Hattouchapel, lies five miles southeast of Domartin la Montagne, which is also in American hands. This five mile stretch is the only door left open to the forces of the kaiser that may still be in the St. Mihiel pocket.

BULLETIN With the First American Army, Sept. 13. (7:00 p. m.)—A body of Germans has been trapped in the St. Mihiel pocket. The number is not at this time known. However it is comprised of all of the army of the Hun in that portion of the salient, except those who fled northward in the darkness while our lines there were still thinly held.

There is considerable loot, and no estimate can be made of the amount, but our men are pressing on and it is believed that practically all of it will be captured before the remaining enemy soldiers can destroy it.

Our victorious advance tonight leaves us on the line: Himmangee le Lachousses, St. Denolt, Xammes, Jouny, Morry, cutting off the St. Mihiel salient above Vignelles.

BULLETIN With the First American Army, Sept. 13.—Secretary of War Baker today inspected 4,000 prisoners, including 150 officers, captured yesterday by a single American corps. A German regimental commander register his opposition to riding back of the lines in a motor truck with enlisted men.

It took the American army 30 hours to smash into him the whole defense and half a dozen "mop up" operations.

enough taxis, but the Americans didn't expect to take so many prisoners."

BULLETIN Paris, Sept. 13.—"The success at St. Mihiel, is set forth in the American communique," is the way the night war office statement here begins. It adds:

"In the course of the day between Sadey and the St. Quentin-Ham road, we made further progress. South of the Allette we enlarged our positions north of Hantoupla Fosse."

BULLETIN Paris, Sept. 13. (8:00 p. m.)—

Latest advices received here tonight state that the farthest penetration of the Americans in the St. Mihiel salient, were to Hannonzillepe-Lachessée, nearly 17 miles northeast of the beginning of the drive.

Paris, Friday, September Thirteen.—The St. Mihiel salient is no more.

Where at dawn yesterday a German wedge 15 miles deep and 20 miles wide, extended like the head of a serpent downward between Taoul and Verdun, there is now an army of khaki clad Americans.

The last German menace on the west front has been wiped out an General Pershing's army is starting to square up its front line trenches to night.

"The dough boys, reating after the hardest tussle of the war, are counting prisoners and booty, exploring the ground gained and singing, "Where Do We Go From Here?"

REMAINING HUNS ARE DEAD OR CAPTURED.

Clear across the neck of the hore from Chemnot east to the Moselle via Pagny on the German front, Domartin, northeast of St. Mihiel, the American front line trenches the great pocket is swarming American troops.

The Germans who remain are dead or captured.

THIRTEEN FIGURES IN MOST PROMINENT

To begin with it was Friday, the thirteenth. Also there are thirteen letters in the name John J. Pershing.

There has always been a sort of a terror of the St. Mihiel salient in the minds of European soldiers.

WANT REST SOME TIME IN THIS REGION

What other operations are coming tonight, tomorrow next week—are secrets that are looked in the breast of that idol of every fighting man in France.

Never during the whole war has the commander-in-chief of any army been able to follow so closely in the wake of his army.

The action has come to a temporary halt, but every minute may bring new surprises for the Germans.

Admits Enemy's 'Plane Losses Are Increasing

New York, Sept. 13.—Steady increase of German airplane losses is admitted by Captain Otto Lehman in an article published in the Berlin Tageblatt.

It will be noticed that since January and February, 1918, our figures for losses show a steady increase.

The reason for that, however, is the increased participation of airplanes resulting from the fact that the German flyer who had been operating on the eastern front migrated to the western front when fighting ceased in the Russian theatre.

CLAIMS SUPERIORITY. The eastern flyer, who had been accustomed to quite different fighting conditions, in the beginning, undoubtedly had to pay a bloody apprenticeship in fighting with French and British.

These attacks are made often at the ridiculously low altitudes of 100 meters and even ten meters.

RACING FANS GET THRILLS IN 3 EVENTS

Ideal Conditions Make Last Day's Racing Card One of Best Ever to Mark County Fair Here.

FINISHES ARE CLOSE

After a day of moist disappointment and another of frigid near enjoyment, horse racing fans came into their own at the Northern State Fair here yesterday, when three crack races were staged under ideal conditions.

A warm sun and a firm track, with a field of the fastest horses ever to start in a series of races in this city and the whole topped off with one of the most efficient starting judges ever to wield a flag from the tower at the county fair grounds course, furnished the near ideal combination for the day.

Every heat in every race was contested to the wire by drivers who were out for blood. Every race had a thrill packed in at least one of the heats and as the horses came bunched to the stretch, it was a wildly shouting grand stand crammed pack of people who were brought to their feet.

Lead Patriotic Note. And in addition a patriotic touch was given to the program through a plan arranged by Starter Brown.

The band was requested to play The Star Spangled Banner and as the first notes were sounded the people in the big crowd came to their feet and stood with bared heads, as the National Anthem was played.

The starting judge who officiated yesterday was the master of the track from beginning to the end of the program. He gave a snap to the proceedings that strongly appealed to the crowd and little starter-baiting was attempted by the drivers.

In the Free-for-all Harry L. owned by Greenwood, took three straight heats but he was pressed to the wire in every heat by either Major Gans or Flaxy B. who finished with second and third money respectively.

In the 2:21 class event, Josephine Empress, owned by Lawlor, grabbed first money; again in that race there were close contenders to furnish all the thrills that delight the hearts of racing fans.

In the 2:24 class event Fred C. had first money largely conceded from the outset, but a pretty fight was staged for second and third money by Hedgwood and Robert Bingen.

The Race Results. The results of the races follow, with the horses finishing in the order given: Free-for-All.

Chicago newspapers of Thursday carried a news story announcing that Corp. Philip J. McKenna, son of Philip J. McKenna, former editor of the Daily Mirror in this city, has been wounded fighting with the American forces in France.

BRITISH AIRMEN HIT GERMAN SUBMARINE SHELTERS AND SHOPS

London, Sept. 12.—British naval air forces between Sept. 1 and Sept. 7, made four attacks on German submarine shelters and workshops on the docks at Bruges, Belgium, according to an official statement by the British.

Children Win Many Prizes At the Fair

One of the big features of the Northern State Fair yesterday was the series of school contests held in the exposition building under the direction of City Superintendent F. E. King and County School Commissioner C. U. Woolpert.

Winners in the city school spelling contest were: Pauline Deers, St. Joseph's, first; Emily Bonamer, Jefferson, second; Leo Brunelle, St. Anne's, third.

In the rural school contest they finished: Angelina Martin, Gladstone, first; Ralph Wilson, Bark River, second; Thelma Edberg, Perkins, third.

Writing Contest. In the writing contest for rural schools, first, second and third places were won respectively by Floretta Bourbonnais, Gladstone; Mary Cretens, Gladstone, and Emma Kashbohm, Bark River.

Other Contests. The Kipling girls won first prize for the best display of girls' club sewing. The Bark River girls won in canning and the farm boys' prize went to District No. 3, Bark River township.

For the best individual work in local girls' canning clubs, the prizes went to Virginia Roedter and Harriet McGuire.

For High school project work, Wallace Girdle's poultry won the premium for him. Prizes for project work in the city schools were given to Rosalind Els, St. Joseph's, Esther Weddel, Webster and Edith Anderson, Washington.

The contests were held in the school department of the exposition building. For the schools, the club premiums were awarded as follows: First, Washington. Second, St. Joseph's.

Bark River Young Man Passes Away

After an illness of six months from diabetes William Martin, 23 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Martin, passed away yesterday at the home of the parents at Bark River. The young man had been seriously ill for several weeks and for some time it had been known that he could not recover.

He was born at Bark River and spent all of his life in that township, where he was held in the highest respect.

He is survived by his parents and one brother, Cyrus Martin. Funeral services will be conducted over the body on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 at the Swedish Lutheran church at Bark River. Rev. Dahlborg, of Carney, will officiate at the services.

Cant Joy Ride In Los Angeles Autos

Los Angeles, Sept. 13.—"Quit joy riding in city owned cars or lose your job."

This ultimatum has been posted by the Board of Public Works in every department under its jurisdiction. Works Commissioner O'Brien also gave warning that any person found guilty of joy riding in a city owned car will not only lose his or her job but also will be arrested and prosecuted.

"Some of the city employes," added O'Brien, "seem to have the impression that the municipality of Los Angeles is a regular Santa Claus."

25 Years Given One More Draft Kicker

Camp Lewis, Wash., Sept. 13.—Private William H. Edwards, of Salt Lake City, who said he would not defend his own life with force, is now serving a sentence of twenty-five years at hard labor on Alcatraz Island. Edwards was tried and sentenced by court-martial for refusing to sign enlistment and assignment cards. He refused to do non-combatant work around a military camp because he does not believe in aiding the war in any way.

FRANCE AND BELGIUM TO EXACT INDEMNITY FOR ENEMY OUTRAGES

Washington, Sept. 13.—Framing of a severe indictment against Germany for outrages inflicted upon occupied portions of France and Belgium has been arranged for by the French government, possibly as a preliminary to the future presentation for claims of indemnity. An official dispatch from Paris said that the French government had decided to institute an international commission in which all the entente powers will be represented, so as to relieve it from the appearance of partisanship, for the purpose of ascertaining the deeds accomplished in defiance of laws that Germany have made themselves guilty of in the western front.

BROWN SAYS THAT BOCHE IS RUNNING

Yanks Have Key Role on Jump Since July 17—Shrapnel Wounds Put Him Out Temporarily.

NOW IN BASE HOSPITAL

The following interesting letter from Wilburt G. Brown of the 125th Infantry, who has been laid up with shrapnel wounds more or less serious will be of interest to his friends here, and is printed with the consent of his wife, to whom it was written:

"I now take the first opportunity I have had to write. It has been impossible for me to write sooner, because I have been moved constantly from one hospital to another and when a man is wounded it is a big handicap, even in his letter writing.

"I think, however, that I shall remain here until I am all healed up and at the present time I am feeling first rate. My wounds were not serious but they are bad enough to be mighty uncomfortable to say the least, but I should be glad, I suppose, that they are not worse.

Hit By Shrapnel.
I was hit by a shrapnel on the second of August, on the left shoulder. It was sure coming with some speed for it knocked me down with quite a little force and my shoulder is still black and blue, with a little cut there. My left thumb was nearly taken off and got better satisfied with that, it hit the forefinger of my right hand but not badly. They all consider that I'm lucky and I suppose I am. Anyhow, there are a lot of the poor fellows here that are in worse shape than I am.

"At any rate, it has been some experience. I've been all over France although the last trip was in a hospital train for a couple of days. It sure was some train at that—pretty coaches and loaded down with 'Tommy's.' You ought to see the hospital I'm in now. It would make seven or eight like the one in Escanaba. The food is fine, the nurses are so good and the doctors are the best fellows in the world. Even the Y. M. C. A. sends us treats of all kinds.

"It is a little bit like heaven, after passing through so much Hell. On the Run.
The Heine sars on the run and the latest news is that they have been running pretty constantly since July 17. Maybe they will learn a lesson or two from the boys in brown."

To Help Chum.
"I'm going to close now and write a letter for one of my chums, who I shot through the hand. I can't manage it better than he can, for my finger is hurt just a little."

Kaiser Bill Tells People "Negation Of Kultur" Was Cause Of Big World War

Amsterdam, Sept. 13.—Speaking at the Krupp munition works at Essen, Emperor William declared that every one in the remotest corner of the Fatherland knew that he had left no stone unturned to shorten the war as far as possible for your people and for the entire civilized European world.

The emperor said it took two to make peace—that one could not do it unless he could overcome the other. Germany, he declared, was confronted with her enemies will to destroy her and she must place against this her determination to preserve her existence.

After mentioning his offers of peace, the emperor said that the German leaders had made it plain to everyone who wish to understand "that we are at all times ready to offer the hand of peace."

"I have long felt a desire to pay you a visit," he said. "Now at last I want to express my imperial thanks to the directors of the Krupps, the foremen, the workmen and the workwomen, for the absolutely astounding manner in which the Krupp works have been placed at the disposal of the German army and its supreme war lord. Very great work has been accomplished by all from the directors down to the last workman and workwoman and this under increasing food and clothing difficulties and the losses, sorrows and cares which have spared no home, neither prince house nor modest workman's dwellings."

Thanks the Workers.
"Industrial mobilization without distinction of age or sex has constituted a demand such as never before was made on the German people and yet it was responded to willingly and joyfully. In that connection I should like, above all, to express my warm thanks, as the country's father to the women as well as the girls and the men for the self-sacrificing performance of their duty, despite their harassing cares."

"In my journeying through the land, I have spoken with many a widow, many a peasant, many a member of the landwehr and the landsturm, whose hearts were heavy with cares, but who glowed with the thought of duty first. I have been touched by you cares to the depths of my heart.

"What paternal suggestions could do to diminish the burden as far as possible has been done. Much could have been done otherwise and it is no wonder there is dissatisfaction here and there.

"But to whom, after all do we owe this? Who spoke at the very beginning of the war of starving out the German women and children? Who was it who introduced terrible hatred into this war? It was the enemy."

"Everyone of you in the remotest corner of the fatherland knows I left no stone unturned to shorten the war as far as possible for you and your people and for the entire civilized European world. In December, 1916, I presented the enemy public with a clear and unambiguous offer of peace in the name of the German empire and my allies. Jeers, mockery and contempt were the answer.

"God Knows My Responsibility.
"He up above knows my sense of responsibility. Repeatedly during the past months the responsible leaders of the imperial government have unambiguously given to understand, to everyone who wished to understand, that we are at all times ready to offer the hand of peace."

The emperor declared the answer of Germany's enemy was the outspoken will to destruction, the disintegration, the crushing of Germany.

"To make peace," he added, "two are needed. If either is unwilling the other cannot, presuming that he does not overthrow the other. Thus we are confronted with the enemy's absolute will to destruction. And against this absolute will destruction we must place our absolute will to preserve our existence."

and have come to the following answer:
"In this world good clashes with evil. That is how things have been ordered from on high—the 'yes' and 'no' the 'no' of the doubting mind against the eyes of the creative mind, the 'no' of the pessimist against the 'yes' of the optimist; the 'no' of the unbeliever against the 'yes' of the champion of faith; the 'yes' of heaven against the 'no' of hell.

"You will acknowledge that I am right in describing this war as the product of a great negation. And do you ask what negation it is? It is the negation of the German people's right to existence. It is the negation of all our kultur, a negation of our achievements, of all our work."

"The German people was industrious, meditative, assiduous, imaginative in all domains. It worked with body and soul, but there were people who did not wish to work, but to rest on their laurels. Those were our enemies. We got close to them through our profitable work and the development of our industry, science and art through our popular and social legislation. Thereby our people thrive and then came envy.

Blames Envy of His Enemies.
"Envy induced our enemies to fight and war came upon us. An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth, their hopes have been deceptive and how our eighty generals, after whom you new workshops are rightly named have dealt them blow after blow hatred springs up. We only know the honest wrath which deals the enemy the blow, but when he lies prostrate and bleeding we extend to him our hand and see to his recovery.

"Hatred manifests itself only among people who feel themselves beaten. It, therefore, such terrible hatred exists among our enemies it owes its origin to the fact that their calculations have been wrong.

"Everyone who knows the character of the Anglo-Saxon knows what it means to fight through—how tenacious they are. We do not know when the struggle will end, but one thing we know, namely, that we must fight the battle through.

"And now my friends, let me draw your attention to something more. You have read what recently happened in Moscow—the mighty conspiracy against the present government. The parliamentary government, the Democratic government, the Democratic British nation has endeavored to overthrow the ultra-Democratic government which the Russian people had begun to construct, because this government considering the interests of its fatherland wishes to maintain its people in the peace for which it clamors."

"But the Anglo-Saxon does not yet desire peace. That is how things are. It is proof of his feeling of inferiority that the Anglo-Saxon has recourse to such criminal means."

"Everything now depends on our final exertions. Everything is at stake, and because our enemies know it, because they have the greatest respect for the German army, because they see they cannot overcome us by means of internal disintegration and to weaken us by false rumors.

"These do not emanate from the German people, they are artificial productions. But whoever harkens to such rumors, whoever passes on substantial news in the railway workshop or elsewhere, sins against the fatherland. He is a traitor and is liable to severe punishment no matter whether he be a count or a workman.

"I know very well everyone of you will acknowledge that I am right in this matter. Believe me, it is not easy for me to bear every day the anxiety and the responsibility for a nation of seventy millions, and for more than four years to be a spectator to all the difficulties and increasing distress of the people."

The emperor then referred to the German empress, "who by God's assistance again is on the road to recovery."

He recalled the passages in the Bible: "Sect thy burden upon the Lord and He shall sustain thee" and "But seek ye first His kingdom and His righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you." The emperor then added:
How Can We Please God?
"How can we please God and soften His heart? By doing our duty. In making our fatherland free: Consequently it is our duty to hold out with all our strength in the fight against our enemies."

will abandon us there at the last moment?
"We should be ashamed at the faithlessness which comes when one gives credence to rumors. From the facts which you yourselves have experienced, forge for yourselves a firm belief in the future of your fatherland."

"We often at home and at the front, in church and in the open air have sung, 'Ehre Feste Burg ist Unser Gott.'"
"My request, my demand of you and through you to all the workers, who have proved themselves so admirable and capable and through you again to the entire German people, is this: for me and for my relations to my people my words of Aug. 4, 1914, hold good. I know no party. I know only Germans."

"It is now no time for factions. We must now combine into a block and here, the most appropriate word is to be as hard as steel and a block of the German people welded into steel shall show its strength to the enemy."

"Whoever, therefore, is determined to obey this summer; whoever has his heart in the right place and who intends to keep faith, let him stand up."
"Now promise me on behalf of the entire German labor, we intend to fight and to hold out to the last, so help us, God." Whoever intends let him answer "yes."

The assembly loudly chanted "yes" and the emperor, "I thank you. With 'his yes' I go now to the field marshal. Now it is for every one of us to fulfill his duty and to exert his body and mind to the utmost for the fatherland. Every doubt must be banished from heart and mind."

"Our watchword now is: The German swords are raised, hearts are strong, muscles taut. On to battle against everything that stands against us, no matter how long it lasts, so help us God. Amen. And now farewell."

Other Counties Of State Will Launch Drive In November

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 13.—In announcing, as supreme head of all war activities that the war fund drives planned for next November and January are to be combined in one drive, President Wilson provides for all other states of the United States, what Michigan had already decided to do when Governor Sleeper recently appointed the state patriotic fund campaign committee. The combined Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., War Community Service and American Library association combined drive was to be held in November; the Knights of Columbus, Salvation Army and Jewish Relief Fund combined drive was to be held in January. The Red Cross drive was planned for the spring following. But now all drives are combined in one, beginning November 11, this year, under state supervision, with State Treasurer Samuel Odell as treasurer. Not counting the Red Cross, the quotas of the other activities amount to $5,492,000 for Michigan. The Red Cross quota which is not yet set, will probably bring the total to $10,000,000 for the state.

All the state organizations are represented in the committee, which has opened state headquarters in Detroit and is now outlining plans. County war boards, and their township and school district subdivisions, will aid the workers of all the organizations. The county war boards, in fact, are largely responsible for the adoption of the idea, as throughout the state there was a decided feeling against several drives a year. With only one, the maximum effort of all the organizations is exerted and no further solicitation is necessary for a year. Each organization is on an equal footing; the huge sum of money is safely guarded in the state treasury, and it is paid out through the state on the order of the proper officers of the various organizations as their needs demand.

The general committee has named an executive committee as follows: Carrol F. Sweet, Grand Rapids, chairman; David A. Brown, Detroit, vice chairman; State Treasurer Samuel Odell, Lansing, treasurer; Mark T. McKee, Detroit, general secretary.

kaiser Prodigal Of Iron Crosses

Paris, Sept. 13.—According to L'Eclair, Emperor William of Germany has been profuse in his generosity to high officers, princes and other high dignitaries in his bestowal of the iron cross. L'Eclair points out that he has found 153 princes to honor with the highest German decoration; 967 dignitaries and 1,246 Germans of the general staff. The number of private soldiers honored with the decoration is 4,763. Besides 12,645 non-commissioned officers have received it. The number of aviation service reaches 3,934, in the navy 4,462, in the medical service 1,863, chaplains 84, and members of army service units 475. All these were of the first class. The number of iron crosses of the second class reaches 10,000.

PEOPLE EQUAL TO TASK, SAYS ARTHUR ROGERS

Ninth Federal Reserve District Will Buy Any Amount, Says Liberty Loan Chairman.

DRIVE BEGINS SEPT. 28

Selling in Northwest to Be Completed in Five Days—Local Organizations to Carry Out Details—Workers Behind Fighters.

"The people of the Ninth Federal Reserve District will buy the amount of Fourth Liberty Loan Bonds allotted to them, whatever that amount may be. They would buy these bonds even if they did not bear any interest."

This strong statement was made by A. R. Rogers, chairman of the Liberty Loan Executive Committee of this district, after careful consideration. In explaining his confidence in the loyalty of the people of the Northwest, he said:
"I am thoroughly convinced that the tively simple. In a great many counties, probably in the majority of them, individuals will be notified where and at what time to buy the bonds allotted to them and their subscriptions will be promptly made without solicitation.

"How ever a county committee decides to carry out the details of its campaign will not be material so long as the results are obtained. All any county has to do is to subscribe the amount allotted to it and to secure it properly and without resort to any methods that cannot be justified.

"We have a great big task in front of us, but the people of these states are equal to it. They are not going to fail to loan the money necessary to their Government when millions of our young men are gladly giving the service which may mean their lives."

WHERE THE MONEY GOES.

Billions are big. The average layman finds a million hard to comprehend. As an aid to understanding why your Government must have so many billions of its people's dollars, Paymaster General McGowan, of the United States Navy, gives the following list of the costs of various kinds of supplies and equipment in the Navy. There are only about a million men in the United States Navy now.

Estimated Cost of Various Types of Vessels Now Under Construction.

AMERICA'S TASK IN FRANCE. The above picture of a French town is typical of what the Americans are facing as they drive back the destructive hordes of Kaiserism. It is to prevent more of this cruel waste and help those who have suffered by it to regain their freedom that America's men are fighting in France and Americans at home are asked to provide the money. These objects cannot be obtained unless everyone does his duty during the Fourth Liberty Loan, September 28th to October 2nd.

people of this great part of the country will do whatever their Government asks them to do in this crisis. I believe this after working with these men through two Liberty Loan campaigns and having pretty well learned their processes of reasoning and their inclinations.

"I do not have this faith in the people of the Northwest because I think all of them are patriots, or are anywhere near perfect.

"I do know, however, that a large majority of the men in these Northwest states understand what this war means, what part the United States Government must take in this war if it is to be brought to a successful conclusion."

"They know that the people of the United States, individually and collectively, must stand by their Government if it is to accomplish its great ambition and bring harmonious peace to the world.

"They know that America must finance her Allies and that if America furnishes the money it means victory. Every American must do his full share. I know that the men and women of the Northwest appreciate their duty to their Government and will perform it at whatever cost to themselves. They have learned that everyone in America must get under the load which America is carrying for the democracy of the world.

"Realizing all this and feeling strongly the righteousness of the cause, we are soldiers, and whatever the Government in which we are stockholders asks us to do, we will do."

"The actual work of selling bonds in the Fourth Liberty Loan drive in the Ninth District will begin Sept. 28 and will be completed just five days later. The work of organization throughout the district is being done now. The county chairmen in all counties are perfecting local organizations, making the allotments and arranging all the details that will make the actual selling of bonds compar-

"The man who runs away will live to fight another day" is Hank Ford's chief motto.

"Yanks" may not be a high sounding title but it has considerable over that misfit "Sammy" stuff.

Said Kaiser Bill to the workmen of Essen: "Very great work has been accomplished and this under increasing food and clothing difficulties and the losses sorrows and cares which have spread no home, neither princely house nor modest workman's dwellings."

NEWBERRY VS. FORD.

The Grand Rapids Herald, which supported Osborne for the Republican senatorial nomination, believes that sending Newberry to the senate is a war measure, to which we all agree.

Regardless of all corollary considerations and of all pre-primary disputes, Michigan must unflinchingly commission Mr. Newberry to Washington and as unflinchingly leave Mr. Ford in civil life until this war is done and won.

President's Wilson's interference in Wisconsin politics last spring could have been justified only on the hypothesis that a national emergency demanded his appeal for the defeat of Congressman Lenroot (candidate for senator).

But what becomes of the president's "acid test" when applied to Henry Ford? On April 11, 1916, Mr. Ford expended thousands of dollars in a spectacular advertising appeal to all Americans to forsake the president's purposes in demanding the defeat of This means a drop of 20 to 30 per cent. The McLemore resolution. He went infinitely further than Lenroot ever went. He glorified McLemore and ridiculed the upstanding Americanism which refused to compromise with German dominion.

This was no mental lapse. It was the deliberate disclosure of a mind which failed to think in terms of uncompromising Americanism. It was of a piece with Mr. Ford's attitude when the Lusitania was torpedoed.

According to the affidavit of Dr. Johannes von Tilling of Poughkeepsie (presented as a part of a defense against governmental action to revoke his citizenship) Mr. Ford was in this Teutonic physician's office the day of this gigantic murder and then declared: "Well, they were tools to go on the boat; they were warned."

What then of the "acid test"? Shall it be applied in Michigan? Instead of inviting Mr. Ford to "accept a senatorship"—an act which of itself was a constitutional affront to all theories of democracy and home rule—the president should have branded him with a thousand times the emphasis aimed at Lenroot across the lake.

Germany has yet to "pay the price" for sinking the Lusitania and all the other American ships which the McLemore resolution sought to yield up to German sovereignty. Michigan and America demand that the "price" shall be unconditional surrender.

Mr. Ford loves peace—and so do we all. It is not for that he must be opposed. But he loved peace more than he loved America's rights and reputation as we all now understand them.

THE PIFFLE HOOK—JUST PIFFLE.

If I saw a jaybird spooning with a crimson crocodile, Or a cross-eyed hot owl wearing B. V. D's,

I could calmly trudge on homeward without parting with a smile. I have seen a sight that's queer far than these.

If I saw a yellow raven do a Grecian classic dance, Or a soft-shelled turtle writing in a book,

Do you think it would astound me? Why it wouldn't have a chance. I'd never pause to, take the second look.

Ah, nothing boys, would move me now, or bring surprise and fright, Or cause an upward movement of my hair.

I know you won't believe me but today the sun shone bright, For an hour on the Delta County Fair.

A REFORMED NUT.

There was a time each summer when a fever in my brain, Broke loose and make me dippy—kept me standing in the rain,

Just to watch some little numbers chalked up rudely on a wall, Telling the zipping, thrilling story of a far-off game of ball.

Every morning for the pink-sheet I would reach my shaking hands, Just to see if Home Run Baker poled another to the stands.

And when the team I favored took the long end of the score, I could scarcely keep from shouting, if it didn't I was sore.

But now the only thrill I get is when the headlines shout: That an allied battling rally has put Ludendorf to rout.

Or that Foch's team has hit the ball—the British, Yanks and French, Have solved the Teuton curves and sent a twirler to the bench.

I know I ought to grieve. I ought to feel downcast and faint, Because my pet contenders lost the pennant, but I ain't.

Iron Trade Review

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 12—The Iron Trade Review says:

Price questions for the moment hold the center of the stage in iron and steel. Preliminary to the usual quarterly conference in Washington next Thursday, Sept. 19, with the war industries board, numerous group meetings of producers in various lines are being held. There is a well defined expectation in some quarters that the government in fixing schedules for the final three months of the year may recognize price inequalities in certain lines and make allowances accordingly.

Interest especially has been turned upon pig iron. The widening gap in production costs in various districts due to higher ore, freight charges, dissimilar labor conditions, etc., has become a more insistent factor. Government machinery is being centered more upon the upholding or stimulating of production in pig iron, coke, raw steel and certain rolled lines where the immediate demand is most pressing, such as shell steel and plates. The high ranking given to blast furnaces, to steel works including billet, bloom and slab mills, to plate mills and to coke plants in the enlarged classification of essential industries issued by the war industries board further signifies this purpose. These several industries are listed in Class 1. As such they are entitled to first preference in supplies of fuel labor and transportation, as well as other essentials. Of special importance to the iron and steel industry is the statement that the preference list will guide the war department in the granting of industrial exemptions from the new draft.

Measures directed at the conservation of steel are going forward constantly. Tin-plate mills dating from Oct. 1 will be kept within a 70 per cent rate of operation and will be supplied with steel only to that extent. This means a drop of 25 to 25 per cent from present operations, but this has been timed so that the demands for food containers will have been well covered.

THE IRON TRADE REVIEW.

Food Administrator G. A. Prescott Says:

"Are YOU obeying the sugar ration order?"

"What sugar ration order?"

Just try asking everybody you know the above question, and you will find out how many people keep up-to-date for you will be positively appalled by the number who have not yet read or heard that America is now on a sugar ration that allows only 100 spoonfuls to each person per month.

As for some of those who know that there is a sugar ration, they do not know why, and are grumbling.

They do not know for instance, that only a few weeks ago, Hun submarines sank 13,000 tons of sugar off the Atlantic coast.

Part of that sugar was to have been used by YOU and ME.

Our SUGAR has gone down. The same week over one hundred British MEN and WOMEN went down on a hospital ship.

Their homes have been called on to mourn the loss of flesh and blood. Here in Michigan some of us are only being called on to mourn the loss of our sugar.

While other homes are paying for our liberty with their flesh and blood, do some of us begrudge to pay that price in sugar?

Frances Marion, Mary Pickford's senarist has received a six months' leave of absence and is now on her way over. Just what line of work she intends to take up in France is unknown. Her only reply to inquiring friends was, "I can't sit and write stories over here, when there is so much to be done over there."

Admirers of Frank Keenan will be interested in knowing that Universal has made a release of the "Long Chase," which as first released three years ago. The picture is now a five-reeler and has been released as a Blue Ribbon feature. It is from the book of Peter B. Kyne, adapted by Harvey Gates and directed by E. J. LeSaint.

The Photoplay League of America for the production of better, cleaner films, has been successfully organized and branches of the society are rapidly springing up all over the country. James R. Quirk, editor of the Photoplay magazine, is president of the League. Here are a few of the advisory patrons. Cardinal Gibbons, Samuel Gompers, Mary Roberts Rinehart and David Starr Jordan.

Netette and Rinrinitin, most popular little people in Paris today, have arrived in America. They are tiny amulets, made of a few scraps of wool and silk thread, and they protect from harm he who possesses them. A French soldier sent the charms to Corrine Griffith, pretty Vitagraph star, and begged her to accept them as a token of his appreciation of her work. The fair Corrine has started a campaign to establish Netette and Rinrinitin as firmly in the affections of the American people as they are in those of the French.

The motion picture exhibitors' annual convention which was held in Chicago last week, adopted as its slogan, "Come and help win the war!" They wasted no time in putting it into practice—they closed the convention Friday evening with a ball for the benefit of the Great Lakes Naval Relief Society.

Alice Joyce has completed Morse Kingsley's romantic drama, "The Highest Bidder." Tom Terias directed it.

Marguerite Clark recovered from the effects of having the mumps and of being engaged, only to tumble into the muddy Mississippi. It happened while producing the scene in "Uncle Tom's Cabin" in which Tom Frank Losee, rescued Eva. As the dainty little star was carried dripping to the shore, she gasped, "That's the nastiest water I ever drank."

"The Mind the Paint Girl" in which Anita Stewart "comes back" is one of Piner's best known comedy dramas and one of Billie Burke's greatest stage successes.

Another song bird has followed the footsteps of Geraldine Farrar and has arrived. In other words Enrico Caruso has gone into pictures! His first picture, under Famous Players-Lasky is "Cousin Carus," a comedy drama of New York life, which will give Caruso ample opportunity to display his spirit of fun, a part of his personality seldom seen. Jesse L. Lasky is responsible for it, title and all.

"Nigger" is a little stray dog, which attached itself to the members of a Vitagraph company when they were producing "Bares, Son of Kazan." Assistant Studio Manager, R. H. McCray conveyed a liking for the lonehose puppy with and took up a collection in its behalf, with the result that "Nigger" is now resident in a collar studded with blue stones from which dangles a Los Angeles license tag. And what's more the company

AT THE STRAND

Speeding fifty miles an hour at high noon down Fifth avenue, with fashionable shoppers scurrying for the curbs and outraged crossing cops vainly swinging their semaphores against him, Edward Earle opens with a real thriller the Vitagraph Blue Ribbon Feature "One Thousand Dollars," which will be seen in the Strand theatre today.

Vitagraph got permission from the police department to stage the stunt and conveyed by motor cops and pursued by camera cars, Earle started at the Circle and led the outfit a wild chase until Greenwich village was reached. Then, deserted by his escort he was nearly locked up by an "ordinary" policeman who had noted his arrival from afar and was not in on the game. Aside from the thrills incident to the speeding, the scene is interesting as it shows the many famous churches, clubs, hotels, and mansions along the avenue.

"One Thousand Dollars" is a sparkling comedy drama from O. Henry's book by the same name. Three popular stars are featured, Mr. Earle, Agnes Ayres and Florence Deston, and in the supporting cast are Temp-lar Saxe and Anne Brody.

AT THE DELFT.

Real bloodhounds, not to mention several Great Danes, will be important factors in the development of the story of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," the new Paramount photoplay starring Marguerite Clark which will be a super-attraction at the Delft theatre today.

The dogs are the property of Captain Douglas H. Hertz, who leads in the exciting slave chase which are features of the photoplay. The dogs were taken to Bath, Me., where the river scenes of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" were photographed, and it was found difficult to secure accommodations for the animals. They were finally lodged in cells in the police station where they remained until the chase scenes were completed.

Mias Clark plays two roles in "Uncle Tom's Cabin" those of Eva and Topsy. She appears simultaneously in the same scenes by the aid of double exposure photography, the effect at times being weird. She is finely supported by capable players chief among whom are J. W. Johnston, Florence Carpenter, Frank Losee, Ruby Hoffman, Susanne Willis and Jero Austin.

HOME TOWN HELPS

GOOD FEATURE FOR PARKS

Public parks should be educational to a marked degree, so that the public is not alone pleased by appearance, but comforted by convenience, and amused by concessions and special equipment, but enlightened and interested in special provisions of nature as exemplified in groups of plants of like habits or uses. It is much to be regretted that plants of great economic value cannot be safely brought together for the benefit of all, but such plants are always wrecked or stolen or their valuable parts taken by those vandals found in every public gathering; proof positive that the public cannot in all things be trusted with its own property, but needs protection against itself.

But there are collections of plants that could be afforded sufficient protection under screen or glass, or both, that would challenge the attention of all and furnish subjects for study, reflection and debate for many. One of these, easily instituted in a conservatory, would be a bog garden containing only insectivorous plants. The more common of these are the pitcher plants so common to eastern marshes, such as the Sarracenia and the Calliflora darlingtonia. Then come the sundews, covered with sticky hairs, such as the Drosera, and lastly, those which have contrasting or traplike leaves, of which Dionaea or Venus' fly-trap is the best example. Nothing that could be placed on exhibition would draw so many interested visitors as a display of really plant acrobats with most animal ferocity and appetite, killing and devouring all luckless insects falling victim to their lures.

NEW ERA OF CITY PLANNING

Municipalities Spending Millions to Correct Mistake—Tendency to Build Out Instead of Up.

Prof. C. E. Merriam of Chicago declares that the activity of the American city today is centered upon fundamental physical plans for municipal growth. By way of contrast, he says the decade from 1900 to 1910 was taken up with the overthrow of the applan system and the period from 1910 to 1918 saw the introduction of modern plans of municipal government. That his classification of the present era strikes at the truth is proved in New York and Chicago, where millions are spent to widen one street. Other cities all over the country are correcting the mistakes of poor planning at an immense cost.

Making a Home

Decide whether you want to live in your own or other people's houses.

Decide what sort of home you want to build.

Build it on honest lines that conform to the principles of good architecture.

GERMAN MINERAL WATER DRANK BY AMERICAN BOYS

Narrow Pathways.

In the main these trees used for street planting should do better in residential districts than they do in their native habitat. It is possible to give them better supplies of food and water than nature grants them, and we may nearly as easily supply them with equally good soil. The chief drawback to a vigorous growth in the narrow pathway, which on the average street is not more than three feet wide, with concrete walk on one side and sidewalk on the other is the impossibility of the tree's receiving the necessary amount of soil so that food and water is furnished in sufficient quantities.

GERMAN MINERAL WATER DRANK BY AMERICAN BOYS

With the American Army in France, American army officers between the Rhine and Vesle rivers have been drinking at mess recently some of Germany's finest mineral waters. When the Americans went in France they found great stores of mineral waters in bottles for the use of German officers. In their retreat the Germans did not stop long enough to destroy these mineral water depots and the American army came into possession of thousands of bottles of them.

GERMAN MINERAL WATER DRANK BY AMERICAN BOYS

As a precaution against any German trick, the Americans had the water analyzed and found it pure and good and on the table at every meal.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

This is not only one of the best and most efficient medicines for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough, but is also pleasant to take, which is important when a medicine must be given to young children. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been in use for many years and has met with much favor wherever its good qualities have become known. Many mothers have given it their unqualified endorsement. Wm. Scruby, Chillicothe, Mo., writes: "I have raised three children, have always used Chamberlain's for coughs, colds and croup. It is pleasant to take. Both adults and children like it. My wife and I have always felt safe from croup with it in the house." Chamberlain's Cough Remedy contains no opium or other narcotic.

Dickinson To Aid Newberry

Lansing, Sept. 13.—Lieutenant Governor Dickinson, in a statement given out, makes a detailed explanation as to his charges in the primary fight for United States senator. The lieutenant governor announces that he will support Mr. Newberry, but calls attention to the fact that he is still bitterly opposed to the use of money in the primaries, and will see to it if possible that the primary law is so changed at the coming session of the legislature that lavish expenditures of money will be prohibited.

Mr. Dickinson says in part: "In a statement on the senatorial nomination, I am aware that it will be liable to criticism, however fair, it may be. I shall give it exactly as I view it. "With an amazingly perfect organization backed by unlimited amount of money, against unorganized and divided opposition, a man of acknowledged integrity, unquestioned ability, a true patriot and one of Michigan's highly respected citizens has been nominated for United States senator. Under ordinary conditions he would have been my choice, and it would have been a pleasure to have voted for him. A large part of my legislative work for years has been to protect by statutes nominations from degrading methods and the lavish use of money—the blighting, corrupting influences more than any other in politics. "I believed the letter, as well as the spirit of these laws was being violated by the methods used by the managers of Mr. Newberry's campaign, and I acted as I did because I believed it would save the Republican party from a defensive campaign and hold sacred those laws enacted to protect political morals. "I acted only after thorough deliberation and with no thought of benefit to any candidate. I wrote every word and without dictation from a soul, except public opinion as I found it in every part of the state. These matters are now the past. The present is in consideration. Judging from communications that I am receiving many are asking 'Is the result of the primary endorsement of the lavish use of money?'"

"If figures are the evidence, the answer is an emphatic negative, as Mr. Newberry's vote seems to be around 48 per cent, with 52 per cent in opposition. "But this cannot be a criterion, as these same communications suggest that thousands voted for Mr. Newberry, who condemn money in politics but believed him to be the ablest one of them all to represent the state in the senate, while thousands of others whose personal choice was Mr. Newberry, voted for others because they could not subscribe to the Newberry campaign methods. "If the result is taken by the enemies of the primary as a discredit of the system and followed by legislative assaults to make the primary less workable, then the blighting influence will be long and far reaching if such assaults are successful."

IF WE FAIL THE WORLD IS LOST

American Soldiers Can Crush the Hun Only If Equipped by American Dollars.

DUTY OF ALL IS CLEAR

War More Than Armies—To Provide Food, Clothing, Weapons and Hundreds of Other Things Is Opportunity of Those Who Do Not Offer Lives—Buy Bonds!

America is the Atlas on which the world is resting. Not only must American soldiers fight and win the war for democracy, but American dollars must equip and maintain American armies and, in addition, they must maintain the armies of the Allies. Never has so colossal a task fallen to the lot of any nation; never before in the history of the world has any nation been in a position to accomplish such a task. America can do all that she is expected to do, but she can only do it if every citizen of this greatest republic does his full share. The war in Europe is more than the splendid army of young American manhood fighting under our banners in Flanders; it is a matter of food, shelter, clothing, munitions, weapons, roads, engines, cars, ships, hospitals, medicines, of hundreds of other important things that take labor and

VITAL STATISTICS

- Your country is financing Democracy's war.
- Your district ranks first in doing its full share.
- Third Liberty Loan records show you responded promptly and generously to your quota.
- The Fourth Liberty Loan has been announced.
- Subscriptions must be made between the dates of September 25th and October 3rd.
- Interest and terms will be liberal, but they don't matter.
- The amount will probably be double that asked for in the Third Loan.
- Your allotment will be higher than ever before.
- Your Government isn't worrying about you because your patriotism has been proved—you live in the Patriotic Ninth. It is up to you to see that this confidence is not misplaced.
- You must not fail to do your full share.
- If you individuals fail, your Government will fail.
- If your Government fails, the Allies will fail.
- If the Allies fail—freedom, justice, brotherly love, the spiritual ideas that make life worth while will fail.
- None of these can fail.
- You and a million and a half more like you, in the Ninth District, will buy Liberty Bonds on September 25th, 1918.
- To loan your full share, you will sacrifice luxuries and comforts. You will work and save and when it is all over you will have proved your loyalty and increased both your spiritual and your material possessions.
- When you think you are asked to do a good deal, just stop and think of them over there.

Nothing But Heart Failure Can Prevent Achievement Of Real Victory, Lloyd George Declares

Manchester, England, Sept. 13.—Nothing but heart failure on the part of the British nation can prevent our achieving real 'victory,' said Lloyd George in a speech today. He said the British casualties in the last offensive were one-fifth of what they were in 1916.

The premier said he was all for a league of nations and that, in fact, a league of nations has already been begun. The British empire, he said, was a league of free nations and the allied countries fighting the battle for international rights are now a league of free nations.

The Prussian military power, he declared, must not only be beaten, but Germany itself must know that the 'ulers have outraged the laws of humanity and that Prussian strength cannot protect them from punishment.

Jars German Junkers.

Stockholm, Sweden, Sept. 13.—As the first step toward peace Germany must renounce pan-German ideas, in the opinion of Prof. Hans Delbruck of the University of Berlin. Prof. Delbruck in an article in the magazine Prussian Year Book, declares that the pan-Germans not only bear a part of the responsibility for the war but also the chief responsibility for its promulgation. Prof. Delbruck says:

"The world demands and has a right to demand that the German people give a guaranty that the pan-German spirit, the spirit of superiority, of might, of heathendom, is not the German spirit. The best method of showing the world that the German government had definitely and irrevocably shown the pan-German endeavors the door would be for the government to collect all of those antebellum pan-German incitations and demonstrate by means of our enemies' literature how greatly their conduct damaged us and helped to light the fires of this catastrophic war."

Tells Of Crash Between Ships On The Atlantic

An Escanaba young lady, one of the many Red Cross workers who have been knitting for the soldiers and sailors, has received as a reward for a sweater, sent to Great Lakes recently, the following interesting letter which tells of the collision of two ships on the Atlantic, which recently figured prominently in press dispatches:

Dear Friend:

We returned from Brest, France, a week ago today and were ready to start back but we had an accident. Perhaps you have read of it. We were hurrying to New York to board the convoy when a little distance off Cape May we had a head-on collision with the "Admirant," a fruit ship bound for Cuba. Both ships were going a full speed. We were loaded so heavily that the Hisko wasn't so badly damaged. We will have to wait a few weeks for repairs, however.

The "Admirant" sank in about 20 minutes. We lowered boats and saved everyone on board with four exceptions. They had only two boats lowered and some were swimming around in the water, watching the ship sink and waiting for us to pick them up. It wasn't an easy job for they were terrified and screaming for help—they thought that we were Germans.

It took the Hisko eighteen days to get to Brest and fourteen days to come back so you know we didn't travel very fast. The work on the ship is not hard but it gets tiresome. We stand by the guns four hours and then have eight hours off.

There are pretty sights in France and sad ones too. Nearly every woman and girl there is wearing mourning. They do all the work. I walked through the parks and they were sitting there knitting and sewing for the soldiers. The men, with the exception of the aged and the young boys are all in uniform. The children run out in the streets and beg the Americans for cigarettes and candy, they can't buy them over there.

I went through an old stone castle built by the Romans forty-five years before Christ. It certainly was an interesting sight.

The French girls got most of our money. At first we didn't know how to count it, and when we bought anything we just held out a handful and let them help themselves to as much as they wanted. Most of went back to America broke.

This is all I have to write this time. I am enclosing a small souvenir from France. Hoping to hear from you soon, I remain,

Virgil D. Greene,
U. S. S. Hisko.

Pot Luck Party.

Misses Hazel and Letta Shaw were hostesses to a number of friends Wednesday night at their home. The event was a "pot-luck" affair and the evening was most enjoyable spent.

Compares Yanks To "Crusaders"

Rome, Italy, Sept. 13.—Under the title of "The Crusaders in the Holy War," the Nineteenth Century of Genoa publishes an interesting communication from a correspondent in France which gives a thrilling description of the spirit of the American army and of the gigantic preparations for their transfer overseas, their equipment and sustenance, preparations which have caused all the harbors of France, both on the Atlantic and Mediterranean coasts, to enlarge their facilities enormously.

The correspondent says further: "American intervention is not a formality, a hope or a promise. It is a reality in every sense of the word. We could not believe that the Americans ever would be able to do so much but now it can be said, after what they have done already, that they will do still more and will accomplish their purpose.

The American army is a phenomenal revelation. The remarks and thoughts of the officers and men are astonishing. It is not alone an army which enters the ring but a nation in arms which has crossed the ocean with the thoughts and stern purposes of crusaders to fight for justice and honesty. They believe, they have the conviction and faith in victory and to them it is only a question of time. Their conviction springs from their faith in the power of their country, a great country in a great hour, capable of doing great things."

School Garden Prize Winners Are Announced

Winners of the various school garden club contests were announced at the Northern State Fair yesterday as follows:

Barr—Michael Kosinski.
Jefferson—James Buckley.
Webster—Ella-Wonder.
Washington—Elmer Shedore.
Franklin—Irene Dotsch.
St. Joseph's—Barbary Ammel.
St. Anne's, Alfred LaBranche.

Competition was close and the grading of the gardens was a difficult matter. Those in charge stated that the children had done most excellent work and deserve a great deal of praise for their efforts.

AGAIN IN CHARGE.

Many people insist that the Ninth District is the best organized of any group of states. Results seem to prove it. The active workers in the Third Liberty Loan campaign numbered over thirty thousand out of a little more than 5, million people.

The men responsible to Washington, the officers of the Northwest's financial army, are not taking the credit. They only directed this great territory's patriotic energies.

There have to be officers, however, and everyone should know who they are. The men and women who led to victory in the Third Loan will be in charge during the Fourth campaign, September 28th to October 3rd.

Isn't it Great?

The Northwest's crops are satisfactory. The money returns from them will be big. The Ninth District will do its full share towards feeding the armies of freedom and then will turn around and loan the Government its full share of dollars to make the Fourth Liberty Loan a great success. Surely this is a fine part of a wonderful country in which to live.
