BRITISH ARE TWO MILES FROM ST. QUENTIN

London, Sept. 19.—At the end of two days successful forward movement, the allied armies in Picardy stand two miles from St. Quentin both on the northwest and the southwest of the Hindenburg bulwarks.

The French took 1,500 prisoners yesterday capturing Sady wood and Essigny le Grande in the face of terrific machine gun resistance.

The great Hindenburg line is crossed in a dozen places in this sector. Le Cateau's fall is expected to be a matter of hours while the Teutons are fighting to the last ditch for St. Quentin because of its moral as well as strategic importance.

The positions faced by the allies today, according to well informed correspondents, are no stronger than many that have already crumbled. A few more miles advance between Cambrai and St. Quentin will imperil the whole western battle line of the Germans.

YANKS QUIET—RALEIGH DRIVE KEEPS UP

On the American front the action remains quiet. German activity is limited to the usual sniping and shelling.

French made further headway north of the Aisne.

Before dawn today the allies renewed the attacks and there was a desperate fighting until after nightfall. Lempre and Cauche wood where the Germans put up such a desperate resistance yesterday, fell to the Brits today.

Two German counter attacks yesterday were smashed. The first was launched on an 8-mile front after a heavy bombardment. The attackers were beaten off with great losses to them.

More than 25 tons have been recaptured so far in the new drive. 10 guns are among the booty.

Host To Cooties To Aid Soldiers

Former Chicago Official Leads Body For Research Work.

Washington, Sept. 18.—There is in Washington a man inconspicuous doing his bit, or his all, for his country by serving as a "host" for body lice, the "cooties" of the war zone.

This man formerly served the city of Chicago in a public capacity. He has a son with the American expeditionary forces in France, and when he returned home he took in the experimental work of the entomologist.

What Scientists Aim To Do. The entomologist, in addition to watching these particular "cooties" and others confined in glass tubes and other places, are testing chemicals to learn their destructive action on lice, their effect on human bodies and their penetration of clothing.

One of the scientists of the Bureau of Entomology, Department of Agriculture, also is serving a host for the parasites, but in a more restricted sense than the Chicago man.

Extensive governmental efforts to devise ways of overcoming the parasite evil are under way. Similar efforts have been made and are being made in practically every country that has large armies in the field.

Not Yet Serious In Camps Here

The "cooties" has not yet appeared in numbers at the camps in this country, but if it should do so military authorities expect to be ready to deal with it.

The moving pictures that are to be part of the campaign against "cooties" show how the louse comes into existence, how it passes into the nymph stage and from that to the adult, and how it propagates its species.

Red Cross Aids In Liberty Loan Campaign Now On

The following letter has been sent out from the National Woman's Liberty Loan-committee to be read to Red Cross workers throughout the nation, to stimulate interest in the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign.

This is the forerunner of a series of four letters to be sent every little while the National Woman's Liberty Loan Committee. These will tell you something of how the vast sums of money appropriated for the prosecution of the war are being spent by the Government.

The money we pay out and what we get for it is a fair statement of our war program and of our national achievement so far, and indicates definitely the magnitude of our undertaking, the giant scale of preparation and the standard we have set for ourselves in this grim struggle to preserve our national life and the civilization of the world.

This City Looks the World in the Face

Whenever there is a far-reaching disaster, two kinds of men always come to the surface--those who forget themselves to aid their fellows and relieve distress, and those creatures who see in the disaster only an opportunity to plunder.

Today, as never before in America stand out these two classes. There are men rich and poor who have made common lot of the nation's danger, and have put aside every selfish consideration to do what they can do to save the country's honor and insure its safety.

There are men rich and poor, so low and sordid, so blind, so soulless, that these stirring times mean nothing to them but a chance to "better" themselves--as if the forcing out of a little more money at such a time could by any stretch of imagination do anything but degrade them in their own and the eyes of their fellows.

A crises is here and the ghouls are out---not robbing the dead, but doing worse by---

Delaying---when delays on war work in America aid Germany in deluging France with blood---our blood.

Shirking---when shirking at home means the piling of American dead on French and British dead.

Profiteering---when money made so filthily takes toll of the blood of better men, of men who are offering THEIR BODIES to save OUR BODIES.

Striking---when to strike now is aiding barbarians who have enslaved millions of men, women, and children, and are working them at the point of a bayonet.

Scheming---thinking in terms of money, dollars and dimes, when such practices prolong the war and open wider the bloody floodgates of German destructiveness.

Like the muckraker in Pilgrim's Progress who would not look up when offered a crown of glory, these men are unable to see the things of great price--freedom, justice, the attributes of Christianity, the sanctity of womanhood.

Let men of other cities degrade themselves and bring their home places into disrepute, if they will, but let the record of this city be such that, come what may, the people of this city can proudly look the whole world in the face, saying, "We did our duty; we paid our full share; we gave to the flag without stint our uttermost of labor, of money, of men, of loving devotion, and ask nothing of the flag in return but an honorable and enduring peace made certain by a decisive victory."

LT. CAUGHLIN IS VERY ILL AT HOBOKEN

Son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Coughlin of This City Arrives from France in Eastern Hospital.

FATHER GOES EAST

Lieut. Hugh Coughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Coughlin who has been in France for the past year, is seriously ill at a military hospital at Hoboken, N. J., according to a message received by the young officer's parents yesterday.

Mr. Coughlin left last night for Hoboken, without knowing the cause of his son's illness. Immediately after arriving at the eastern hospital he will wire members of the family here to serve as instructors.

Three weeks ago a letter was received by the parents from Lieut. Coughlin, announcing that in spite of his protests, he had been selected by his major to return to America to serve as an army instructor. In the letter he gave no hint as to when he would sail but said that in addition to serving as an instructor for three months, he would be given a month's furlough at his home here.

After the receipt of the letter no further word was received from Lieut. Coughlin until the message arrived yesterday from the hospital physician at Hoboken.

Message Is Indefinite
No hint was given in the message as to the nature of the lieutenant's illness. It was believed possible by Mr. Coughlin, however, that his son was aboard the steamer Mount Vernon that was torpedoed off the coast of France slightly over two weeks ago and in that experience he may have suffered injuries or shock that account for the message of yesterday.

Save Cargo Space By Cutting Bones From Beef Carcass

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Maj. Gen. George W. Goethals, chief of the division of purchase, storage and traffic of the general staff of the army has commissioned Arthur A. Hammerschlag, president of the Carnegie Institute and Lieut. Col. J. W. McIntosh, substance division, Q. M. C., N. A., to co-operate with the Chicago packers in experiments which may save up to 40 per cent of the tremendous cargo space now required for shipping fresh beef. President Hammerschlag and Col. McIntosh have already reached the stock yards and the experiments have begun.

The experiments contemplate not only the conservation of shipping space, but also the problem of having the packages small enough to be handled by the class of labor available at unloading ports overseas and the quick and convenient issue at supply depots in France.

They range from the mere cutting of the carcass into more convenient sizes and shapes to the entire boning of the carcass to be packed in boxes. It is estimated that if the plans prove practicable a saving of from 15 to 40 per cent of the room now used in transporting the same amount of beef will be made possible. Since fresh beef constitutes a considerable part of some 250,000,000 pounds of beef and pork products now sent monthly to allied countries the saving by the new method may prove to be considerable if found practical. The bones and surplus fats salvaged by the operation will be converted into various by-products.

The chief difficulties encountered so far have been the necessity of obtaining enough labor sufficiently skilled in this particular work and the providing of facilities necessary to handle the quantities, required without interfering with production of other meat products for our armies and those of the allies.

Women For Work In Hospital Huts Are Badly Needed

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 19.—Urgent need for women "Hospital Hut" workers for service across seas has caused National Red Cross headquarters to call on the Michigan State Red Cross board for volunteers who preferably can pay all or part of their expenses. The American hospitals in France are beginning to fill rapidly—fighting is continuing on several sectors and there is a shortage of women to take care of the social necessities in the sick rooms. The women for this service must have attractive personalities and cheerful dispositions, as they are expected to bring to the soldiers the closest touch of home life. They must be of high type; women with decided backgrounds. They do not necessarily need to be musical but must be able to entertain and help care for helpless soldiers in various ways—writing their letters, communicating with their homes, and making their lives as happy as possible. Applicants must be not less than 25 years old, cannot be of Austrian or German descent and must not have a husband, father or son in the service. Women desirous of entering this service should communicate with Mrs. E. C. Wetmore, Michigan State Board, American Red Cross, 110 West Fort street, Detroit.
