

BERLIN RAIDED FROM AIR

STRAND RIOT TO BE PROBED SIMS ASSURES

Admiral Makes It Clear the Yanks in Crowd Were Not Originators.

London, March 10.—Admiral William F. Sims came to the defense of the American blue jackets and doughboys today. In courteous but decisive phraseology he made it clear that the Americans were not alone to blame for what happened in yesterday's Strand riot, and that it is unjust to make it look like a purely American affair. The admiral said: "In a case mob psychology where British, American and Colonial are concerned, it is unfortunate that the word 'Americans' is used so freely in connection therewith. The men who started it are at fault."

Investigation Has Started.

The riot, in which 1,000 Americans, Australians and Canadians made common cause in a pitched battle with a small army of London police, had its origin in the breaking up of a "crap game" among Americans by a policeman and the arrest of two American sailors.

Admiral Sims added that a naval-military board of three members was investigating the affair and if Americans were found guilty they would be disciplined. He said further: "All reports show that in this brief incident it was necessary to emphasize this:

"That no men who come to this city are better behaved than the American soldiers and sailors.

Likened to College Men.

"The incident is similar to what might happen to college fellows when one is arrested and the others interfere."

Meanwhile the American naval and military authorities are taking every precaution to preserve order, and many American soldiers and sailors are being sent out of London. It is regarded as unlikely that there will be a recurrence of yesterday's regrettable affair.

Seven policemen and eleven soldiers and sailors were wounded, the latter by policemen's clubs, but all will recover. The twenty Americans arrested have been turned over to the American authorities.

Affair Not Serious One.

The London newspapers unanimously voice regret over the incident. Some refer to the "hospitality and friendliness with which the Americans were treated here," but the general tendency of comment is that the affair was not serious, that the men were idle, and were only "letting off steam."

Col. Mitchell, American chief of staff here, said he deeply deplored the matter and added that it was being thoroughly investigated.

No Bitterness Felt.

London, March 10.—Admiral Sims' characterization of the psychology of yesterday's Strand riot as similar to a college row, if the English understood a typical American college riot, would be the happiest dismissal of an incident which might have produced unfortunate effects.

But the outstanding fact today is that there is absolutely no bitterness and no criticism by the English press or individuals. On the contrary, more than one paper hints that the police erred on the side of over security in a matter so small as a penny gambling game.

To Investigate Assault.

One incident particularly will be subjected to severest scrutiny by the American board of inquiry, consisting of Commander Sterling and Judge Advocate Kennedy and White, is the police assault on the American military policeman, Corporal Zimmerman.

At naval headquarters it is said that Zimmerman threw himself into the fight in an attempt to arrest American sailors engaged in the fray and that a British policeman interfered and warned him that this "is my business." The London policeman then gave Zimmerman a terrific clubbing.

Two Deaths Of Malady, Day's Toll

Chicago, March 10.—Health authorities watching developments in connection with the new malady, lethargic encephalitis, or "sleeping sickness," became alarmed when two deaths were reported. A consultation of health officers was called and held over Miss Lydia Gray, who has been in a state of coma for 18 days.

Will Study Her Case.

Through a study of this case it is hoped something will be found that will lead to complete identification of the malady.

The two deaths were those of a man and a child of five years. The man was stricken while apparently in perfect health. The child had suffered from scarlet fever.

Preceded by Illness.

Invariably, the history of the malady up to the present shows it is preceded by influenza or some other illness. Physicians have held there was small probability of the disease terminating fatally. The deaths today caused them to modify their opinions and renewed efforts are being made to determine the cause and find the remedy.

Twenty-five cases have been reported in Chicago during the last week.

Robertson Comes to Escanaba Golf Club

Alex. Robertson of Chicago has been engaged by the Escanaba Golf club as club professional for the coming season.

Robertson has just closed a long engagement as professional for the Riverside club near Chicago and is widely known over the middle west as both player and instructor.

He has visited here two or three times with C. S. Martin, formerly professional at the Escanaba club, and on one of these occasions set the course record which stood until the latter part of the season. The impression he made, personally and professionally, was most favorable and resulted in the contract closed last week for a season here.

Robertson will arrive in Escanaba about April 15.

WEATHER

TUESDAY, MARCH 11, 1919.

Forecast: Tuesday fair with not much change in temperature. Highest yesterday, 38 degrees. Lowest yesterday, 20 degrees. Precipitation, .04.

A disturbance of considerable energy prevailed Monday morning in the lower St. Lawrence valley, according to a resume of weather conditions issued by Harvey H. Spingler, observer here.

Moderate depressions were noted also in Texas and in the British Northwest. Pressure was high in the central sections from coast to coast. The principal precipitation area of the past 24 hours embraced the lower lake region, the middle and north Atlantic and New England states. Temperatures were generally seasonable in all sections.

Fair weather, with little change in temperature, was predicted for the "Roosevelt More Flagrant Violator," Convicted Man Asserts.

Terre Haute, Ind., March 10.—In a statement tonight Eugene V. Debs, socialist leader, hurled defiance at the United States supreme court which today sustained the decision of the trial court that found him guilty of violating the espionage act and imposed a sentence of ten years' imprisonment.

"I am not in the least concerned about what those bewigged, be-gowned and bepowdered corporation attorneys at Washington say," said Mr. Debs. "I have not changed my mind in the slightest. I stated to the court at the time of my conviction that the law was utterly despotic and vicious. I despise it and defy the supreme court to do its worst."

Constitution But a Scrap.

"If, according to the supreme court, the espionage law is valid, then the constitution of the United States is another scrap of paper. The predecessors of the same court affirmed the validity of the fugitive slave law sixty years ago with the belief their decision was final and that chattel slavery as a result would be perpetual. Within five years from that date chattel slavery was dead on American soil."

'Calls Roosevelt Violator.

"Far more flagrant violations of the provisions of the espionage law in respect to free speech were committed by the late Theodore Roosevelt, but he was not indicted."

"Under the law I was convicted for a speech I could have made"—he hesitated.

"In Germany," supplemented his wife, who had her arm about him.

"Yes," said Debs, "and in Great Britain, France and Italy, too."

"It is worthy of note," he continued, "that though the espionage law was allegedly designed to stop spies, not one spy was convicted under it. That reveals the animus of the law, under which the United States is made to begin where old Russia left off under the czar."

Debs said he would make no further attempt at release. He appeared happy, even jovial, and said he was going to celebrate by taking Mrs. Debs to a movie show.

Decide no Alimony to Woman on Salary

Chicago, March 10.—The appellate court of Illinois ruled today that a woman earning a good salary is not entitled to separate maintenance and alimony.

The case was that of Mrs. May N. Jackman, directed a divorce decree some time ago. She obtained office work, and according to the evidence, is making $200 a month.

"It is patent," reads the appellate court decision, "that the complainant was a capable business woman and found greater comfort in employment in an office than a housekeeper, probably married life had been found by her to be a disappointment."

Bandit Loots Bank; Killed by a Posse

Silver Lake, Wis., March 10.—A bandit who today held up the Silver Lake bank, escaping with $9,000, was shot and killed tonight near Kenosha by a posse. The man was cornered and put up a fight. None of the posse was injured. All of the money was recovered. The robber had not been identified.

Tons Of Explosives Dropped On Rebels In Saturday Battle

Berlin, March 10.—The most terrible air raid of the war took place here Saturday. Throughout the day air-men, directed by War Minister Noske, rained tons of bombs on the Spartacans' headquarters, gun emplacements and underground stations, where government troops and Spartacists perished together.

The central part of Berlin looks worse today than London or Paris after the most destructive Zeppelin raids. Huge craters gap on every hand. Whole buildings have been leveled and five subway stations are in ruins.

Every appliance of modern warfare, including bombs containing tons of explosives, as well as tear-provoking bombs, were used during the last stage of the battle.

The Reds have been driven to the outskirts of the city, where they are still bitterly fighting.

Major Horribly Mutilated.

Berlin, March 10.—Major von Klucker, former German military attache in Paris, is the victim of the latest Spartacist atrocity. The Reds captured him at Halle, cut off both his hands, flung him into the river, and then riddled his body with bullets as he was struggling, half unconscious from pain, to keep above the surface. Just before he disappeared he gasped a last "Hoch Vaterland."

Chicago Is Hotbed of Terrorists

Washington, March 10.—William H. Lamar, solicitor of the postoffice department, charged with the investigation of periodicals and newspapers which may be violating the espionage law, today placed before the Overman investigation committee of the senate the names of more than half a score of newspapers which have been supported by the I. W. W. and thereby, according to Mr. Lamar, aided in the spread of Bolshevik doctrines in the United States.

Radicals Are Combined.

Mr. Lamar's statement sets forth that at the present time the radical elements in the country have combined in the work of spreading the doctrine of Bolshevism and efforts are being made to encourage a "reign of terror which will result in the overthrow of the government by force."

His report declares that the newspapers and agencies concerned in the work are divided in four classes—the I. W. W., the anarchistic and radical Socialists, and the Socialists. He says the I. W. W. is the most powerful and active in the work and that they support a large recruiting force which is operating throughout the country aided by lecturers and agents.

Twelve Papers Involved.

The papers which the I. W. W. support, according to Mr. Lamar, are twelve in number, five being printed in English and the others in foreign languages.

The English papers are the New Solidarity, of Chicago; the One Big Union, Chicago; the Industrial Unionist, Seattle; California Defense Bulletin, San Francisco; the Rebels' Worker, of New York.

The foreign language papers are Lanesva, of Chicago; Golos Fruzenka, Russian, of Chicago; Lituogo Protelario, Italian, of Chicago; Nya Varlden, Swedish, Chicago; Der Industrieller Arbeiter, Jewish, Chicago; Probulda, Bulgarian, Chicago, and A. Seiscadulas, Hungarian, Chicago.

GETS FORTUNE JUST IN TIME

Seranton, Pa., March 10.—Penniless, friendless, hopeless, on the way to the poorhouse to become an inmate of which he had just obtained a permit, Harry Congdon, 22, stopped at the postoffice from force of habit today.

A clerk handed him a letter. It was from a lawyer in Syracuse, N. Y., informing Congdon that an aunt of his had died and left him $5,000. Five seconds later the poorhouse permit had become a scrap of paper or many scraps and Congdon was performing a horripile.

A little later, on the strength of his letter, some one loaned him money to take him to Syracuse.

Discipline of Americans Big Surprise

Paris, March 10.—The disciplinary methods of the American army are a source of constant surprise on the part of the French observers.

This afternoon Paris basked in warm rays of the first spring sun. The boulevards were crowded with people of all nationalities, except German. Military uniforms abounded. The city was filled with American soldiers coming from military camps for the first time on three days leave in Paris, after months of grimy life.

Man Is Arrested.

Scene: The grand boulevard' des Italiens.

Time: 2:30 p. m.

There appears an American second lieutenant, striding manfully along the broad walk. Ten steps behind him follow two husky American policemen. The trio passes a line of doughboys gazing into the marvels of high priced jewelry in a show window. Every soldier coming to Paris buys presents for his home folks.

The doughboy glances sideways but fails to salute the shavetail. Immediately the second lieutenant signals the two military police behind him who arrest the doughboy on leave and bring him before the officer. The latter reads the riot act to the creature, fallen vacationist, whose name, number and address are taken by the military cops.

While this ceremony is under way two other American doughboys pass and fail to salute. They, too, are stopped and their names taken. Meanwhile, a crowd of French people gather and look on.

"It's their business," says someone.

"Let's not interfere," says another.

"Truly 'the land of liberty' on serves one."

No Others Do It In Paris.

Throughout the war the unwritten law that salutes are dispensed with on the Paris boulevard where officers are always multitudinous has always been observed.

Laying traps for homesick soldiers while on leave in Paris seems a bit strong to the American observer. Australian soldiers never salute their officers except during working hours. The writer never has seen them salute anybody in Paris, but he can now better understand why every doughboy will go home with the vow to quit the army forever and why they all swear they'll never vote for a general for president.

ROBINS SHOWS HIS AUTHORITY WITH TROTSKY

Has Secret Documents Read Into Testimony on His Instructions.

Washington, March 10.—Portions of the secret correspondence between American Ambassador Francis and officials of this government in connection with the negotiations of the Bolshevik government for rejection of the treaty of Brest-Litovsk were read into the records of the Overman subcommittee of the senate today. The documents, copied from official records were submitted by Col. Robins for the purpose of showing his association with Lenine and Trotsky were at the earnest solicitation of the American ambassador.

Ready to Back Rebels.

The documents showed: 1. That Ambassador Francis was ready to recommend recognition of the Lenine-Trotsky government if the treaty with Germany were not ratified.

2. That the ambassador strongly urged his government against sending troops to Russia in the belief that such intervention would provoke the Bolshevik into ratifying the treaty, thereby bringing to an end the negotiation for the continuance of the Russian army in the war.

Told to Violate Orders.

3. That Ambassador Francis instructed Col. Robins to violate the orders given by American officials to cease relations with the Bolshevik leaders, and sent him to Moscow to confer with Lenine and Trotsky over the ratification of the treaty.

Col. Robins put the documents into the records of the committee's investigation of pro-Bolshevik propaganda in order to correct certain statements in the testimony of Ambassador Francis regarding the work of Robins in Russia. In the opinion of Robins these statements tended to place him in the light of having endorsed the Bolshevik government and of having acted as a go-between for the American embassy without Ambassador Francis' condition or consent.

Reiterated His Declarations.

He showed by the documents that the ambassador urged him to keep in communication with Lenine and Trotsky after he had been ordered not to do so. Robins reiterated his declaration against the methods and principles of Lenine and Trotsky and expressed resentment over the insinuation over the testimony of certain witnesses that he was in sympathy with their program of terrorism and rule by force.

Willard Trains for Bout, Tells Archer

Chicago, March 10.—Ray O. Archer, general business manager and personal representative of Jess Willard, arrived here tonight to secure sparring partners for the champion. He made the following statement:

"Willard is in Kansas City, doing preliminary training for the battle. He weighs 275 pounds and is in good condition. He will be ready for his fight July 4.

The middleweight is preferred by Tex Rickard, promoter of the fight. In the middle west proves impossible, the east will have second choice and the western states, third. Rickard already has three sites in mind.

Willard regards Dempsey as the most serious contender since he won his championship, according to Archer.

If Willard defeats Dempsey he will give Jack Johnson a chance to come back, providing the fight can be staged in the United States.

Riding behind reindeers in the vicinity of Archangel, Russia, is one of the experiences told by Elton Holmes in a letter to his father, R. A. Holmes, of this city. Fresh Buying Move Shows Up in Street

New York, March 10.—After a heavy opening today, in which there were recessions of from one to two points, a fresh buying movement came into the market and important gains were recorded. United States Steel was a strong feature, but the independent steels moved up easier. The oil stocks continued active and strong almost to the very close of the day.

Just at the end of the session there was some profit taking, but even then the offerings were well taken and the market showed no signs of weakness. Transactions were more than 1,250,000,000 shares. There is more evidence of public interest in the market. Commission houses report large numbers of customers in branch offices.

Underlying the market is the feel-

Miss Baldwin Is a Charter Member of "Non-Kissing Club"

Appleton, Wis.—"No more kissing" is the motto of Nu Epsilon Sigma, secret society organized by three girls at Lawrence college. Charter members are: Esther Baldwin, Escanaba; Winifred Harvey, Amhurst; Ada Burt, Ishpeming. Eight girls who have taken the vows are: Alleen and Irma Henry, Jefferson; Althea Noel, Port Edwards; Myra MacInnis, Green Bay; Dorothy Dunn, Marinette; Eunice Bogie, Sullivan; Nanette Harpelle, Chicago; Gertrude Fischer, Hudson.

Inspiration From Men.

Seeing two fellows grip hands in greeting after an absence of a few years and then settle into a calm conversation without osculatory display of affection gave the girls an inspiration. They decided if the boys could be perfectly happy with those greetings, why not the girls, and do away with the perpetual hug and kiss! Each member of the club will hereafter rush up to her dearest chum when she returns home and indulge in a hearty hand clasp, perhaps a slap on the back, animated conversation and no more.

Effects Will Be Felt.

Effects of the nonkissing club on Lawrence college will be felt over the campus. Each group of bubbling girls will be severely criticised by the members if any demonstration or lip-smack affection is made in public or private corners of the campus. Even a frown cannot be removed by lightly kissing the grouchy one's brow for that would forever bar the offender from membership to the honored club.

Japan Promulgates New Guardianship

Paris, March 10.—Japan at the peace conference has defied China and assumed the attitude of guardian of eastern Asia. She has promulgated a Monroe doctrine of her own. She answers China's protest against Japanese imperialism and militarism by saying that China is too weak to govern herself and therefore Japan must supervise Chinese affairs until the Asiatic republic grows strong enough to walk alone.

The Japanese say they are simply co-operating with the Chinese. They explained their interests in Chinese coal and iron mines as perfectly natural for the proper development of Japanese commerce and industries.

EARLE BOOSTER OF ROAD BONDS

Former State Commissioner Urges People to Vote for Road Tax.

Horatio S. Earle, of Detroit, whose efforts for better highways in Michigan have been commemorated by a monument at the junction of the east and west branches of the Dixie Highway, always has been famous for his ability to hit the nail on the head, specially in any class of road argument.

He sums up the proposed highway amendment to be voted on at the election April 7 with a few pointed paragraphs that are so obviously un-tempered Earleisms that the Michigan State Roads association has given them that title. Good Roads Earle says he is for the amendment:

"Because by so doing I vote to accept a dollar from the United States government for each dollar that Michigan appropriates for main market highways:
Because I want the roads as soon as possible;
Because if we bond for the money, the income will pay his part as well as we who are here now;
Because the cost of the market roads will be spread upon the entire state and nation, making it possible for localities to build tributary roads, with their own money, aided by the State reward.
Because I want to see Michigan as good or better than any other state in the Union, and roads will develop the state;

Because, if we get good trunk line roads we will attract resorters from all over the country, who will leave a profit each year in the state of more than this amendment will authorize the people, through their Legislators to appropriate;
Because, when the figures are studied I can see that it will be no burden upon the taxpayers of the State;

Because the United States rewards us if we build this road system; and, if we do not, we must pay our share of the reward to other and more progressive states.

Under the act which gives Michigan its opportunity to pick off some $3,000,000 in federal aid for road work, there is one other all-important and sweeping change. The old law specified that Federal aid would be available only for highway construction no roads where mail actually is carried or where there is a reasonable prospect of carrying the mails within a short time. Under the latest and broader definition of the term "rural post roads," they are made to include:

"Any public road a major portion of which is now used or can be used, or forms a connecting link not to exceed 10 miles in length or any road or roads, now, or hereafter used for the transportation of mails."
Streets and roads in cities or villages of a population of 2,500 or more, are exempted from Federal aid under this new rule.

"This increase of Federal aid over the state department's estimates, gives us some small idea of the need for some method of making available sufficient funds to meet Uncle Sam's contribution," said Senator William

Frills and Furbelows

The off-the-shoulder line is excellent. Shadow embroidery has been successfully recalled to favor by its use on simple blouses of georgette.

Collars and cuffs of embroidered batiste are a dainty accessory set that may see successful service on a frock of tulle, satin or serge.

White satin toques are without trimming except for a veil of black embroidered tulle.

Frill collars and plaited jabots of Valenciennes lace and net are introduced for wear on blouses of dark tulle.

Winter's blast or low temperature are no barriers to the comforts derived from our Cloverland hat, split or half round. Birds Eye Veneer company.

APPEALING FOR FOOD.

What was once a demand for food by the countries ravaged by war—and this means not only the central powers, but Rumonia and the Slavic nations—has become an appeal almost frantic.

As long as horrible suffering exists in such countries as Russia the difficulty of affecting a readjustment of affairs, restoring peace, and establishing a permanent and responsible government grows in magnitude and intricacies.

The hardest period for the people of the countries in question will be from now until the first harvests. Economy has resulted in stretching the limited food supply, but it will go no farther for the reason that it has been exhausted.

THE GUILT OF VICTORY.

If he were alive today General Fritz John Porter would be able to believe it. Because the Confederates were too strong for him or the fortunes of war against him on a memorable occasion he lost out.

The governor of Kansas and a considerable part of congress do not like the way in which the great battle of the Argonne forest was won by our troops, and it merely irritated them when Senator Kirby asked: "What is the purpose of all this? We won the fight, didn't we?"

FORTY DIE DAILY BY FIRE.

The public is so accustomed to large figures in connection with insurance that possibly report that last year's fire insurance losses far exceed $30,000,000, may not make a lasting impression on the public mind, but no person with any genuine human emotions can fail to grasp the tragic significance of the fact that in 1918 15,000 lives were lost in fires.

This accusing commentary on our national carelessness was furnished at the recent convention of fire marshals in New York.

The statement has been made that the United States is the best equipped nation in the world with respect to fire prevention and fire fighting appliances.

This anomaly can only be explained by the carelessness and irresponsibility of the American people. And as long as it is the other fellow's property which is being burned, and the other man's family which is perishing, the insured will continue.

THE NEW SUPERINTENDENT. The board of education has selected W. B. Olds as superintendent of the Escanaba public schools from a long list of applicants for the post.

No man can come into Escanaba and make the schools what they should be unless he has the solid support and co-operation of the board of education.

It is to be hoped the new superintendent will find here the necessity for a high standard of work accomplished by the pupils in the grades before it will be possible for them to do satisfactory work or accomplish the aims intended through training in the high school.

No matter how we attempt to gloss it over, the foundation of all educational training is still in the "three R's." To neglect them is fatal.

If you are paying a dollar a year more in city taxes than you should pay, you are paying out a dollar for which you are getting nothing in return.

There are a lot of people who have had the "sleeping sickness" for years and didn't know it.

The wading season in Escanaba is at hand.

Thieves Enter Store But Haul Isn't Big

Police authorities here are working on a clue that may implicate Escanaba persons in the robbery of the Rudolph Oshinsky wholesale store at 1901 Ludington street some time Sunday night. The haul included about fifteen shirts, waists, 10 silk dresses and a cap coat.

The loss was discovered on the arrival of Mr. Oshinsky at the store Monday morning. He immediately made a thorough search to establish how much had been taken by the burglars. The safe had been opened and a number of papers were scattered about, but no cash had been left in the safe by Mr. Oshinsky. Entrance apparently had been gained by battering the back door of the place.

Ishpeming Mich.—There was an enormous turnover in the New York list today total sales running over 1,200,000 shares. In addition to the activity markets were higher, and many substantial gains were scored on the day, notwithstanding there was a little profit taking in the last hour. Utah Copper, sold up to 74 3/4, 7 5/8 points above Friday's opening. Anaconda sold to 63 and Inspiration to 48 7/8. Republica Iron and Steel made an extreme gain today of 3 1/2 points, selling to 84 1/4. Report of sales of Metal have been confirmed. Indications are that those who are buying these coppers know what they are doing. No announcement of Ahmeek, Calumet & Hecla or Osceola dividends as yet. Kennecott directors meet tomorrow for dividend action. We are told that Jerome Verge has encountered 17 feet of high grade ore. Several New York houses are now advising the purchase of the Coppers and in the railroads. St. Paul is the favorite.

Get the Habit of Drinking Hot Water Before Breakfast. Says we can't look or feel right with the system full of poisons.

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath?" you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe these hot water enthusiasts.

There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and the thirty feet of intestines of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body which if not eliminated every day become food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels, the quick result is poisons and toxing which are then absorbed into the blood, causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.

Party, Sleigh, Train, Crossing, Foot-Loose

If you were one of forty in a sleighing party; if the sleigh became stalled on a railroad track; if while the vehicle was stuck a fast train hove in sight and came rushing down toward the crossing, as trains sometimes do:

What would you do? You'd jump? That's what the others did, according to the Menominee Herald-Leader.

The sleighing party was arranged by Menominee high school folks in honor of the Escanaba players. The sleigh became stalled at the Ordway street crossing of the C. & N. W. The train shot around a curve. The sleigh riders jumped. With the load lightened, the horses pulled the sleigh off the track. The train went on. So did the party. No lives were lost.

New Regulations for Draft Board Members

"Someone is always taking the joy out of life," said A. J. Pepin, clerk of the draft board yesterday.

A bulletin from headquarters was received giving further instructions concerning the filing of draft records, and this after the board had believed its labor practically ended.

The new orders give the specific size of the packing cases, which means that the boxes in which Delta's records now repose must be cut down. The boxes are also to be lined with waterproof paper, which had not been done here.

Must Refile Cards.

But most important in the changes is an order to file all original registration cards in "dictionary" alphabetical order. These will be used as an index for the questionnaire covers. The duplicate cards from the office of the district board will be filed in four "age" groups, in alphabetical order.

All property belonging to the government, other than the records, will be sold to the person submitting the highest sealed bid accompanied by a money order or certified check. The steel filing cases, a typewriter and other articles will be included. A list will be published by the board in the near future.

Much Already Done.

All of this work must be done before the provost marshal will send an inspector.

The new instructions contain a long list of rules, but the most of them have already been complied with by the Delta county board.

Meat: Russia and the Allies

Russia crumbled away and failed the Allies largely through lack of food, according to an American eyewitness.

With plentiful reserves and resources virtually untouched, her people starved at home and at the front because there was no adequate organization to place food where it was needed.

Animals on the hoof were shipped thousands of miles to the various fronts, wasting transportation facilities required for other purposes. They arrived shrunken and emaciated, to be killed and dressed amidst filth and confusion behind the lines. Half of those brought from Siberia, it is said, perished on the way; many more were unfit for food.

On the other hand, the American packers turned live stock into meat in large sanitary plants located in the producing sections, and shipped the product under refrigeration so that it reached the trenches in France in perfect condition, without waste.

Says Our Authority:

"Had such facilities for cold storage transportation been available to the Russian supply committee as were placed at the disposal of the quartermaster of the United States by Swift & Company, there might have been a different story concerning Russia's part in the final drama of the war."

A large-scale packing industry would be an asset to Russia, in war or in peace, as it has proved to be to the United States.

The cost of this large scale industry in the form of profits is only a fraction of a cent per pound of meat.
