RENEW EFFORTS FOR AGREEMENT ON THE TREATY

Senate Deadlock Likely to Be Broken Early in Session.

Washington, Jan. 2 .- Efforts to break the peace treaty deadlock in the senate were renewed today, as senators of both parties began returning from their holiday trips preparatory to the reconvening, Monday, of congress. A number of conferences were held, in which both Senator Lodge, the Republican leader, and Senator Hitchcock, acting Democratic leader, were prominent figures, although they did not see one another. All of the conferees gave an impression of hopefulness that the days work had advanced the situation toward an agreement.

Who should make the first open move for a compromises, however, continued to be a warmly debated question, each side apparently maneuvering to force the other side to be the first to break from its former position. Senator Lodge still maintained that any compromise move should come from the Democrats and Senator Hitchcock said the initiative should be taken by the Republicans.

Article X the Crux.

Article X continued the crux of all the discussions, neither side having found much favor for its roundabout proposals on the subject. Next in prominence was the question of voting power in the league of nations, with the Democrats apparently determined to make some modification in the reservation adopted at the last session by the Republican majority. There were a few other points of interest but the general im pression seemed to be that an agree ment on article X would almost end the whole controversy.

In declaring formal compromise offers must come from the Demoerat and Republican leaders reiterat ed that enough senators to defeat ratification were pledged to accept Hypothetical Question no compromise that would materially impair the majority reservation program of last session.

What "Materially" Means.

T date, Senator Hitchcock replied that there were enough on his side of the chamber to defeat ratification, who were pledged against any compromise that did not impair materially the majority program.

Yet, both sides showed confidence that in the end enough senators to ratify would ie able to agree in their definitions of 'he word "materially," as applied to modifications of the reservations.

FORMER GERMAN LINERS OFFERED TO AMERICANS

Sell 34 Vessels Siezed at War's Opening.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 2.-Thirty former German passenger ships seized when the United States entered the war, including the Leviathan, the largest vessel affoat, the Agamemnon, the George Washington and other which were the pride of the German merchant marine, were offered for sale today by the shipping board. Proposals for the purchase of the vessels which may be filed up to Jan. 20, will be received only from American buy ers and must include a pledge to use the ships on lines designated by the shipping board.

Reconditioning Cost Heavy. Decision of the board to offer the former German liners for sale was determined principally by the cost of reconditioning them for passenger service, Chairman Payne said in announcing the sale. Many of the vessels were used by the war department as transports, both before and after the armistice, and the cost of refitting them for passenger services has been estimated by shipping board officials at approximately $50,000,000. By restricting the sale of the ships to Amvice on designated lines, the board expects to accomplish the establishment of its proposed passenger service program to all parts of the world,

· SUNFLOWERS TO SUPPLANT CORN IN CLOVERLAND

Experiments of Past Summer May Solve Winter Feed Problem.

The idea of using sunflowers as a stock feed in the form of stage is a new one to most of us but if the results that have been so far secured are typical, this crop will soon be very well known in sections such as the upper peninsula where corn cannot be matured for the silo every year.

Some extensive experiments have been carried on in various states with sunflowers as a silage crop. Some of the most notable are those performed in Montana. The year will bring the centenary of Susan B. Anthony, who has been called the greatest woman reformer the world has ever known. As a young woman Miss Anthony aided in organizing the first woman's temper ance society. Later she participated in the anti-slavery movement and Harold Bergerson, unlawfully during the civil war she was an or ganizer of the Women's National Loyal league. At the close of the war she took up the cause of woman suffrage. Florence Nightingale. With the world war still fresh in the public mind particular interest will attach to the centenary of Florence Nightingale, "the angel of mercy," who will always be remembered as the greatest nurse in history. In Miss Nightingale was found that rare combination of heart and brain which makes the ideal nurse. By means of her winsome personality and marked executive ability she dignified the profession of nursing and raised it from the makeshift employ-into the realm of the fine arts. The 6th of October will bring the centennial anniversary of the birth of Jenny Lind, "the Swedish Nightingale," whose popularity as a singer has never been eclipsed. There was also Fanny Crosby, the famous blind hymn writer, who spent the latter years of her long life in Bridgeport, Conn. She was the author of more than 8,000 hymns which have been sung in the Protestant churches throughout the world.

Famous Stage Women. Heading the list of famous women of the stage who first saw the light in 1820 appears the name of Laura Keene, the celebrated actress and manageress, whose name will ever be associated in history with the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, for it was to see the popular light comedy actress in "Our American Cousin" that the President attended the theater on the night of April 14, Pasadena, Calif., Jan. 2.- The East vanquished the West here yesterday when Harvard defeated Oregon 7 to 6 in the annual inter-sectional football game.

The versatile attack of the easterners, based on smashing straight football tactics, but featured with forward passes and punts was met by stalwart defense from Oregon. Brady broke his arm in the second round of a scheduled ten round bout, but "carried on" during the remaining eight periods. In every session, except the final one, he was awarded the decision. Jawson tore loose with everything he had in the tenth round and managed to squeeze one round away from the Michigan flash.

Jawson was the aggressor throughout the entire battle, Brady feeling him out for the first two rounds, and, after he had broken his arm, elongated James was on the defensive. Brady, however, cut in with several wicked left hooks and uppercuts, and kept the Mffwaukee lad on edge throughout.

An examination by Calumet physicians did not reveal the nature of Brady's injury, and he left for Chicago, to have an X-Ray taken. and Mrs. W. L. Middlebrook, of Manistique to Mr. Gordon Shipman of bune in its current issue says:

Shipman was solemnized at 2:30 o'clock on the afternoon of Christmas Day at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Middle-

At the opening strains of the Mendelssohn wedding march played by Miss Ethel Shunk, Miss Middlebrook descended the stairs leaning on her father's arm and preceded by her maid of honor, Miss Evelyn Roos. Miss Middlebrook was a very lovely bride in a "Lucile" gown of white satin heavily embroidered with white silk and trimmed with a bit of Duchesse lace that had been worn by her great grandmother. Her handkerchief was carried thirty-four years ago by her mother on her wedding day. She carried a shower boquet of white roses, freesias, and sprays of mistletoe. The maid of honor was dressed in a pale pink gown and wore a corsage boquet of pink roses.

The ceremony was performed in the living room which was lighted with red candles and decorated with festoons and wreaths of holly. At one end of the room an altar had been formed by grouping together several small evergreen trees twinkling with many colored lights. The beautiful Van Dyke marriage service from the Book of Common Worship of the Presbyterian church was given by Rev. Robert S. Sidebotham in a particularly impressive manner.

After the congratulations following the ceremony, the bride and groom led the way to the dining room where an elaborate Christmas dinner was served. The decoration motif of holly and evergreens was repeated in the dining room; the table was lighted with red candles and the centerpiece consisted of poinsettias, ferns and holly most artistically arranged. The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table. When the bride's cake was passed, the guests all rose as the bride cut the first piece for good luck for her maid of honor. Mr. and Mrs. Shipman left on the

they will spend several days before returning to Manistique. They expect to visit her brother Harold Middlebrook and his wife of Gary, Ind., while they are on their trip. The going away costume of the bride consisted of a brown crepe de chine dress with which she wore a cut vieuna cloth coat trimmed with heaver and a small traveling hat embroidered with chenile flowers of different color.

The bride and groom received many beautiful gifts notable among which were the gifts from the men of the Seims, Helmers, and Schaffner construction company. Those present at the wedding were: Mrs. Margaret Shipman of Escanaba, A. R. Moore of Escanaba, Mr. and Mrs. John McCarthy, Rev. Robert S. Sidebotham, Dr. E. A. Moran of Chicago. Miss Ethel Shunk and Miss Evelyn
