KAISER SEEMS TO HAVE GIVEN UP ALL HOPES

Does Not Wish to Return to Germany and Thinks He Was Betrayed.

BERLIN, Jan. 3.—The Hague correspondent of the Tagesblatt gave an unusual picture of the former German emperor in a long article regarding the personal appearance of the former ruler and his future prospects.

"The Kaiser himself, grown much older, has been struck in his vital strength" says the correspondent. "The trembling in the right arm and leg which earlier was only just noticeable, has so increased that it is apparent at a glance and dominates his entire appearance. He has become corpulent though he eats little. "The Kaiser's attitude is still soldierly but he appears to have grown shorter. It is noticeable how slowly he speaks, in contradiction to his old habit. He lives up only when remembrances of the old days come to him. This often occurs in the middle of a conversation. No one who has seen him and is capable of responsible impressions, believes that this man, who is spiritually torn and shows it, will ever play an active role in any form whatsoever through worry about his future which constantly torments him the better impulses of his will are dulled."

In the opinion of the correspondent the Kaiser has purchased the Doorn House as proof that he has given up all thought of returning to Germany.

"He no longer expresses the wish to return to Germany," says the writer. "He believes Germany is lost. More than ever he believes he has been betrayed by his counselors and the whole German people."

Starting the New Year Right

REVOLUTION IS PROVEN INTENT OF COMMUNISTS

Raids Continue in Many Cities of Country During Night.

New York, Jan. 3.—Armed with more than 300 warrants, federal agents and police detectives continued search tonight for radicals accused of plotting to overthrow the government, who escaped the government's dragnet which has netted 700 prisoners in the last 24 hours in greater New York. Under heavy escort, the radicals captured here, were transported to Ellis Island today. As a result the immigration station is swamped tonight with its record jam of alien archists held for deportation.

While boatload after boatload of Russian, Finnish and other alleged alien communists were being shipped to immigration pens and the island, it was reported that three steamers were being put in readiness to follow the "Soviet Ark" to Russia with hundreds more of undesirable.

Bombs, rifles, pistols, bayonets, knives and ammunition seized in raids lent a sinister air to the reported activities of radicals captured by government agents in Northern New Jersey.

Seize Tons of Literature.

Tons of seized propaganda literature, alleged to have urged the overthrow of the government by violence, were being sorted and studied by federal agents tonight.

Department of Justice headquarters here was swamped with an enormous amount of red banners, communist and communist labor party papers, I. W. W. membership cards and pic-

100,000 IMMIGRANTS COMING.

New York, Jan. 3.—With hundreds of aliens being shipped to Ellis Island for deportation as dangerous radicals, it was reported today that 100,000 immigrants are expected this month. Nearly 50,000 arrived last month.

FINANCE CORPORATION SAYS FOUR LOANS ARE SOON TO BE MADE.

Washington, Jan. 3.—Appeals of American business for aid in financing the reconstruction of Europe were answered today when the finance corporation announced that four loans, aggregating $17,000,000 soon would be made to commercial interests which will employ the money in exporting needed materials to the stricken nations.

Wide difference of opinion had existed as to the advisability of extending government aid to manufacturing exporters. Decision of the corporation to utilize its powers under the amended war finance corporation act, came as no surprise, as Secretary Glass has taken a definite stand in favor of tendering assistance of some sort.

Officials Retired. War finance corporation officials were reticent tonight about plans for further loans. He admitted, however, that shaves of applications for advances, "were under consideration."

Heads of great business houses have been frequent visitors at the offices of the corporation and officials have thus obtained information of value as to the general needs both here and abroad.

The loans announced were comparatively small but they were believed to forecast the attitude of the corporation's future action.

Gilt edge securities were demanded and complete data as to how the firms receiving government aid were to use the money, were required.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—The capture of Tarsitsyn, about 110 miles southwest of Kamishin, is announced in a Bolshevik official statement received from Moscow by wireless. The Bolshevik forces took much booty the statement adds.

DANVILLE, VA., LOSES MILLION THROUGH FIRE

Large Part of Business Section Swept by Raging Blaze.

Danville, Va., Jan. 3.—Fire which threatened destruction of a large part of the business section here tonight, was brought under control shortly after midnight, after causing damage estimated at between $750,000 and $1,000,000.

The flames originated in the Z. V. Johnson department store which was gutted, and half a dozen other stores and theatres were swept.

Seven buildings were destroyed, including the Masonic temple and a number of stores. The plant of the Danville Register and Bee, adjoining the temple, was not seriously damaged. A high wind drove the flames but abated after midnight and the fire fighters gained control with aid from nearby towns. The origin of the fire, which started in the Johnson company's department store, is unknown.

At midnight the fire was still beyond control. The Masonic Temple in a block which appeared entirely doomed, had been destroyed. A high wind complicated the work of the fire fighters. When the Masonic Temple walls fell, more than seven business structures had been destroyed and the property loss was estimated at $750,000, with the flames still making progress.

WARN INVESTORS AGAINST STOCKS OF LITTLE VALUE

New York, Jan. 3.—Investors are warned against "the sinister activity of promoters who are trying to float stocks of dubious character," in the December report of the federal reserve bank for the second district made public today. The amount of these securities on sale is estimated at "hundreds of millions."

The report declares that certain cases of apparently fraudulent intent have been brought to the attention of authorities. But in the past, most prosecutions have succeeded only when the fraud has been completed and the investor has lost his money.

"It is therefore essential," the report states, "that individuals buy only after seeking advice from trusted bankers or others with sound information and good sense in financial matters."

GREY MAY COME BACK TO U. S. AS AN AMBASSADOR

New York, Jan. 3.—Possibility of his return to Washington, as British Ambassador, was indicated in a statement today by Viscount Grey, prior to his departure for London on what he called a leave of absence.

"I have no statement to make about public affairs," he said, "but I should like to say that the time I have spent in the United States has not only been very interesting, but I have been shown so much kindness that I have been given strong inducement to return."

Viscount Grey came to the United States as British Ambassador Sept. 27 last. At the time it was said the length of his stay was uncertain. It was understood when he arrived that he came not only as ambassador but on a special mission to discuss with President Wilson provisions of the peace treaty.

President Wilson's illness, however, precluded discussion of such matters.

TREATY FIGHT TO BE PROLONGED TO EARLY FEBRUARY

Congress Will Dispose of Railroad Legislation First, It Stated.

Washington, Jan. 3.—Members of the senate and house began to return to Washington today for the reconvening of congress Monday.

The senate will resume debate on the Sterling session bill, penalizing attempts to overthrow the government, while in the house the case of Victor Berger, Milwaukee Socialist, re-elected after the house had unseated him, is expected to come up with prospects of summary action again denying Berger a seat.

The house also will hear speeches on the Irish question and begin work on a long string of, appropriation bills Monday.

Long Treaty Fight.

Developments in the German peace treaty situation are expected this week, but with few leaders entertaining hope for definite action much before February. Compromise conferences continued today.

The program of legislation awaiting congress is virtually interminable, including army and navy policies and measures to deal with industrial disputes, development of natural resources and innumerable reconstruction problems.

Railroad Legislation First.

The first legislation to be completed in the railroad reorganization bill, the oil, gas and coal club. The land leasing bill, both of which are in conference with prospects of enactment this month. Committee chairmen of both parties today laid out extensive plans for work next week. Many hearings are scheduled, together with numerous investigations, including inquiries into Bolshevik and other radical propaganda, navy war decoration awards, the federal trade commission, the coal situation, war expenditures, the Mexican situation and print paper conditions.

ALIENIST SAYS NEW WAS INSANE WHEN SHOT GIRL

Los Angeles, Jan. 3.—Two more alienists testified for the defense today in the trial of Harry New, alleged murderer of his fiancée, Freda Lesser, giving opinions that New was insane when he shot the young woman.

They were Dr. E. B. Hoag and Dr. E. O. Sawyer. Dr. Hoag referred to New as "a constitutional inferior" and also described him as a "psychopathic personality," a "man with paranoic symptoms" and a "feeble minded person with the brain of a child of 12 years or less."

Under cross examination the witness said that assuming the theory of the prosecution to be correct, New's killing of Miss Lesser was not necessarily the act of an insane man.

Dr. Hoag was asked if he did not consider it strange that if New was insane, Miss Lesser, an intelligent young woman, had not ascertained this. The witness said he didn't know Miss Lesser, but ordinarily he would expect a girl in such circumstances to learn of New's mental unsoundness.

The witness said the strange demeanor of New in court—his seeming indifference and blank staring—was not assumed. He said he had purposely seated himself close to the defendant and had counted his respiration and also by observing the pulsation of the carotid artery in the neck, counted his heart beats. In the tensest moments of the trial, the witness said, the respiration and beating of the heart were as usual.

Woman and Pet Dog Asphyxiated by Gas

Philadelphia, Jan. 3.—Coal gas from a heater in the cellar of her home, caused the death of Miss Pauline Zeles and her pet dog, according to the coroner's physicians who performed an autopsy on the bodies today. The result of the autopsy was announced late tonight. Miss Zeles' body was found beside the lifeless form of her dog in her apartment here last night.

French Premier in Auto Crash; Escapes Unhurt

Toulon, Jan. 3.—Premier Clemenceau, who is on a visit to the department of Var, was in a smashup of automobiles today but escaped injury. Four deputies were badly hurt.

Premier Clemenceau and his party were proceeding along a road near here. A farmer with a huge load of straw blocked the way but M. Clemenceau's chauffeur succeeded in avoiding a collision. A second auto smashed into the former's car. It skidded down hill and turned over.

NEAR SOLUTION IN BROWN MURDER IS THE BELIEF

New Evidence Implicates Man Who Left City With Brown,

Mt. Clemens, Jan. 3.—That authorities were nearing a solution of the mystery surrounding the death of J. Stanley Brown, wealthy son of a Detroit manufacturer, found dead on a country road December 23 was indicated tonight by Alex J. Groesbeck, state's attorney general who took personal charge of the investigation yesterday.

The attorney general continued his secret inquiry today, examining half a dozen witnesses but made no statement of developments. Authorities intimated that new circumstantial evidence implicated a man in Brown's killing and tended to show that this man left Mt. Clemens in company with Brown at a late hour on the night the latter was shot.

The proprietor of the hotel where Brown made his home, and two guests, were examined presumably as to Brown's movements on the day of his death. Late this afternoon Mrs. Cecil Vester, Miss Gladys Summit and Ben Soransou, a Camp Custer soldier, were questioned.

FIRST LOAN IS AUTHORIZED TO STRICKEN LAND

Finance Corporation Says Four Loans Are Soon to Be Made.

Washington, Jan. 3.—Appeals of American business for aid in financing the reconstruction of Europe were answered today when the finance corporation announced that four loans, aggregating $17,000,000 soon would be made to commercial interests which will employ the money in exporting needed materials to the stricken nations.

WILSON WON'T USE POWER IN SUGAR MEASURE

Plan to Buy and Distribute Cuban Crop Is Not Given Approval.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—President Wilson has decided not to exercise powers conferred in the McNary sugar control bill authorizing the purchase and distribution of the Cuban sugar crop, according to a statement tonight from the White House. The statement said the president had decided on the basis of facts presented for his consideration and the recommendation of the sugar equalization board that this power should not be exercised.

Supply Is Sufficient.

In a long statement announcing the president's decision, the declaration is made that apparently the available sugar supply is sufficient for American needs, even on the present unnecessarily large basis of consumption and notice is given that the power of price control through the licensing system authorized by the bill, will be invoked if necessary in cooperating with the department of justice. Figures attached show that the estimated 1919 consumption in the United States was slightly more than 4,500,000 tons, of which normally only 1,000,000 was domestic production. As the Cuban crop is unusually large at 4,800,000 tons, however, of which the allies will take about 1,250,000 tons and as the estimated Louisiana, western beet, Hawaiian and Porto Rican production will reach 2,000,000 tons the statement foresees a sufficient supply for American needs.

The American per capita consumption of sugar, the statement said, had risen from 25 pounds in 1866 to an average of 85 pounds during the 1914-1918 period and to 92 pounds for 1919.

No Contract With Producers.

Conditions have so changed that the sugar board felt that action by it under the McNary act does not offer a way to securing a regular supply at a reasonable price, the statement said. There is no contract with western beet sugar or Louisiana cane producers for the 1920 crop and by Oct. 16, the control of the board applied only to the remainder of the 1919 Cuban crop, the statement said.

"One of the elements which helped materially to make the boards action for the 1919 crop effective, no longer exists. The board was able to deal with the unified Cuban selling agency for the 1919 crop and to secure and control of the entire crop. Now there is no person or committee authorized to sell the balance of the 1920 Cuban crop."

The statement points out that under the McNary act control of domestic sugar would end June 30 and adds that should the sugar board succeed in purchasing Cuban sugar for delivery throughout the year, it would be in the position of "Trying to maintain a uniform reasonable price over the country with no control whatever over large quantities of sugar from Hawaii and Porto Rico which comes in mainly after June 30 and over the new Louisiana cane and western beet sugars."

Asks For Dismissal of New Jersey Appeal

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—The government today in a brief filed in the supreme court asked dismissal, for lack of jurisdiction, of the application presented on behalf of the retail liquor dealers association of New Jersey for permission to introduce original proceedings to test the validity of the national prohibition constitutional amendment. Another brief in connection with similar proceedings brought by the state of Rhode Island will be filed next Monday.

The number of stars that can be seen by the naked eye in both hemispheres is about 6,000.

In the Amazon there are known to exist at least 2,000 species of fish.

REVOLUTION IS PROVEN INTENT OF COMMUNISTS

Ellis Island, tonight declared many of the alien radicals will leave the country as soon as possible to escape the government dragnet.

"It would seem the radical and labor movement is a legitimate game open for all bureaucrats," said Recht. "Attorney General Palmer is now clamoring that there are 300,000 undesirable in this country. There is an easy and cheap way to get rid of them. Let the state department cease interfering with the right of people to leave this country and all those people who are hunted, and ill treated on suspicion of radicalism, will cheerfully avail themselves of the opportunity to go."

424 IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, Jan. 3.—Department of justice officials tonight announced that 424 alien radicals were held for deportation proceedings as a result of raids last night and today in the Chicago district. Hardly a score of persons arrested have been released.

The local officials started out with 267 warrants. Those persons not yet found will be arrested as rapidly as possible.

States Attorney Hoyne's men began wholesale arrests New Year's day and refused to postpone action as asked by Attorney General Palmer, and declared federal agents refused to cooperate with them. Local agents arrested about 70 more persons today. The prosecutor's men in three days have taken about 350 persons. Those with the persons taken in the federal raids yesterday and today total about 600 in Chicago.

The prosecutor's men again visited I. W. W. headquarters and seized more literature. Among those taken today were D. M. Crocker, an I. W. W. and editor of the New Solidarity; Jack Russell, I. W. W., and Miss Anna Gallagher, editorial writer for a publication called "The One Big Union."

Tacoma, Jan. 3.—Judge Wilson in Montesano today granted the application of George Vandever, attorney for the eleven I. W. W. charged with murder in the Centralia shooting on armistice day, for a change of venue to Tacoma or Olympia. The exact place will be fixed next Wednesday.

PIOTTED REVOLUTION.

Washington, Jan. 3.—Radical leaders planned to develop the recent steel and coal strikes into a general strike and ultimately into a revolution to overthrow the government, according to information gathered by federal agents in Friday night's wholesale roundup of members of the communist and communist labor parties. A definite program to expand the two labor disturbances for the purpose of blotting out every semblance of organized government, was disclosed in evidence gathered in half a score of cities.

This data, officials said, tended to prove that the nation-wide raid had nipped the most menacing revolutionary plot yet unearthed.

During the last two weeks of the coal strike, communist agitators were discovered to have penetrated practically every mining center east of the Mississippi.

Attempts to incite mine workers to violence were the boldest in West Virginia, officials said, serious trouble being narrowly averted there.

"Slush Fund" Ready.

The raids also disclosed that a "slush fund" had been created by the two parties against whom the government moves were directed. Much of this money, said to run into several millions, has been set aside to bail out adherents of the doctrine in case of arrest for sedition.

Proofs also were said to have been obtained that in the case of agitators who went among the steel and mine workers, funds for bail were made available in every section frequented by the "Red" agitators. Their plans for organization of its workers in support of the communist cause were pictured as more complete than a political campaign.

Assistant Attorney General Garvan made public tonight the department's memorandum submitted to the bureau of immigration, upon which was based the government classification of the communist and communist labor parties as coming under the espionage act. This disclosed that both groups were pledged to fight any suggestion of military action by America against the soviet Russians.

Under Russian Control. Membership applications revealed that both groups were under the control of the Russian communist council.

Significant among other features of the communist labor party's doctrine was the enunciation of the following principles:

"We maintain that the class struggle, that is, a struggle by the proletariat to conquer the capitalist state, whether its form be monarchial or Democratic-Republican, and to replace it by a governmental structure adequately adapted to the communist transformation."

Present Laws Weak.

Federal officials deplored weaknesses in the present laws governing the procedure preliminary to deportation. It was pointed out that in most cases, persons arrested as having been radicals taken in these raids, can obtain temporary freedom on bail of $1,000.

There was an apparent feeling that if bail were granted some of the most dangerous of the Reds would gladly forfeit that amount to avoid deportation. The department planned, however, to keep all under surveillance and re-arrest any who attempt to lose themselves amongst the foreign born in America.

Late figures received by Mr. Garvan showed that a total of 2,635 aliens were held, with evidence which federal agents believed was sufficient to warrant deportation. The total number of arrests was estimated at close to 4,500.

CLOVERLAND POST ELECTS OFFICERS NEXT WEDNESDAY

Arrangements have been made for holding the annual election of officers of Cloverland Post, No. 82, American Legion, next Wednesday evening. The meeting is to be held in the city hall and will convene at 8 o'clock. It is stated that after the regular business the legion members probably will formulate a program of sports for the remainder of the season, including the organization of a basketball team and that another campaign will be planned for new members.

The legion officers have been offered the use of the high school gymnasium for practice for the basketball quintet and it is likely that games will be staged with the high school team.

FIX STATUS OF DEPUTIES IN MICHIGAN

Unique Motion to Be Argued Before Judge Flannigan Here Next Week.

The exact status and liability for damages of the state game warden and of every deputy state game warden in Michigan, may be determined in the Delta county circuit on Jan. 13, as the result of a motion filed yesterday by Atty. Gen. A. J. Groesbeck in the suit brought by Dr. W. Pingree Curtis of Chicago against State Game Warden John Baird and Deputy State Wardens Herman Leisner and John Rough.

The motion filed by the attorney general asks for the dismissal of the bill of complaint as to State Game, Fish and Forestry Warden Baird, for the reason that the state warden is held to be not responsible for the acts of the deputies of his department. The original suit was the outcome of the arrest of Dr. Curtis of Chicago by Deputy Wardens Leisner and Rough on a charge of attaching his license tag to a deer not killed by himself. The Chicago physician was found not guilty of the charge in a justice court at Negaunee and the suit against the state warden and the deputy wardens for $5,000 was immediately started in this county by Dr. Curtis, through Atty. H. J. Rushton.

Asks Dismissal. The motion for the dismissal of the bill of complaint as to the state warden is based on the following grounds:

"1. The declaration filed on behalf of the plaintiff in said cause does not state a cause of action against the said John Baird.

"2. The declaration filed in said cause creates no liability on the part of the defendant, John Baird, to the plaintiff in said cause.

"3. Under the facts alleged in said declaration it cannot be so amended whereby a cause of action can be created as against the said defendant, John Baird."

Disclaims Liability. In the affidavit filed with the motion, the state warden asserts that he was not present when Dr. Curtis was arrested; that he did not instruct the deputy wardens to make the arrest and that he was in no way responsible. The affidavit further asserts:

"Further, that the said Herman Leisner and John Rough are not the appointees of this defendant or his predecessor, and that he has no authority by law to make such appointments or the appointment of any deputy state game, fish and forest fire commissioner in said state, and that there is no provision under the laws of this state whereby he is in any way made liable for the acts of such deputy game, fish and forest fire commissioner as he is advised."

The affidavit is considered as a definite declaration that deputy state game wardens no longer have the power of the state back of them, as the state warden disclaims responsibility for their appointment and also

39 VESSELS AND 74 LIVES LOST ON LAKES 1919

Cleveland, O., Jan. 5.—Nineteen ships, sixteen steamers and three barges, were lost on the Great Lakes during the season just closed and seventy-four lives were lost on boats that foundered or were pounded to pieces, the greatest life and property loss on the lakes since 1913 when 29 vessels, valued at $3,313,000 and 254 lives were lost, most of them in the big gales that swept the lakes from Nov. 9 to 11, including "Black Friday" six years ago.

The greatest loss of life during the past season was when the steamer John Owen with a crew of 22 and the steamer Myron with seventeen men went down, both on Lake Superior. Nineteen lives were lost when the passenger steamer City of Muskegon hit the pier at Muskegon and pounded to pieces. The steamer Homer Warren was lost on Lake Ontario with a crew of nine and seven lives were lost on the barges Dundurn and Quebec which were wrecked on Lake Erie and at Port Colborne.

The greatest property loss during the past season was on the steamer D. R. Hanna which was sunk in Lake Huron last May in a collision with another steamer. The Hanna which had a carrying capacity of more than 10,000 tons had a cargo of about 350,000 bushels of wheat when she went down. She was insured for $430,000.

The boats that were lost in 1919 were valued at $1,326,500, the D. R. Hanna being the only modern ship lost during the season, the tonnage of the other lost ships ranging from 500 to 4,200.

SUGGESTS PLAN TO GIVE CREDIT TO EUROPEANS

New York, Jan. 3.—The establishment of an international public market for international securities as the most normal and expeditious means of providing war stricken Europe with long term credit, was recommended tonight by Eugene Meyer, Jr., managing director of the war finance corporation, before the Association of Foreign Press Correspondents.

Bank credit is necessarily short term credit and totally inadequate, he explained, although the Edge bill, recently passed by congress, is designed to facilitate long term credits appropriate for foreign trade under present circumstances. Commercial credits also are being arranged in considerable amounts, he said, some of the industrial companies getting their funds from the war finance corporation. Reconstruction loans already arranged for, he said, totalled $15,000,000 for purchases of agricultural machinery, locomotives and electrical machinery.

Insists that he is not responsible for their acts.

Supersedes Old Law.

It is considered probable that an effort will be made to establish the claim that when the public domain commission absorbed the state game, fish and forestry department in 1915 that law superseded the old law of 1899, under which the state warden was specifically made responsible for the acts of his deputies.

Irrespective of the merits of the original case a deep interest will be centered in the disposition of the motion argued in court here next week, as it is considered that the motion will definitely fix the status of deputy state game wardens.

DECEMBER WAS NEAR RECORD IN TEMPERATURE

But One December Colder Than Month Just Closed. One Equaled Record.

But once in history has a colder December than the month just closed been recorded and also but once in history has a December of equal weather severity been placed on the record.

The average daily temperature of December of this year, according to the Monthly Meteorological summary issued by Observer H. H. Spindler, was 13 degrees. The only December of past years when that record was exceeded was in December 1872, when the average daily temperature was 11 and the only time the record has been equaled was December 1892.

Average is Low. The summary issued yesterday by observer Spindler shows that every day of last month averaged 8.4 degrees colder than the normal for December in this section. The lowest temperature of the month was 14 degrees below zero on Dec. 15 while the highest temperature record was 38 degrees on Dec. 28.

Precipitation Below Normal. The precipitation for last month was also far below the normal but 4.3 inches of snow, fell during the entire month. At the close of the month there was but 4 inches of snow on the ground. The normal precipitation for December is 1.70

ELEVEN INCHES OF ICE IN BAY REPORT SAYS

The latest report of ice conditions in Lake Superior harbors, dated December 22, shows Duluth with 23 inches of solid ice, the thickest that has been recorded this winter. Ice conditions in upper peninsula harbors are reported as follows: Marquette, 6 inches; Escanaba, 11 inches; Houghton, 8 inches; Sault Ste. Marie, 7 inches. At Saginaw there is 12 inches of ice, Alpena, 9, and Detroit, 7. It is probable that the ice has increased in thickness in nearly all harbors during the last few days.

Ice in rivers in the vicinity of Marquette ranges from 14 to 18 inches in thickness.

DOELLE BOOSTS DEEP WATERWAY TO AID SECTION

Secretary-Manager Upper Peninsula Development Bureau Urges Sentiment

Benefits that will accrue to the upper peninsula of Michigan and all western states through the carrying out of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence deep-waterway project, as a shipping outlet from this section to the markets of Europe, have been outlined by J. A. Doelle, secretary manager of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau.

The basic reason upon which the project is promoted, Mr. Doelle says, is that a waterway which will connect the middle western and Great Lakes states with the Atlantic ocean will permit the shipment of goods from Great Lakes ports to Europe at a cost much less than shipping from the middle western states to the Atlantic seaboard by rail and thence to Europe. Statistics show, he states, that raw or manufactured materials may be shipped by water for one-tenth the cost of shipping them by rail.

Started in 1895, the idea of having a deep-water route from the middle west to the ocean was brought forward and resulted in the appointment of a national commission which, after investigation, reported in favor of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence project, this being considered the most feasible plan, based on opinions of expert engineers who made a technical study of the proposition.

Mr. Doelle uses a series of maps to show what obstacles are in the way of a waterway from Duluth to Montreal which would be navigable for ocean-going vessels. To begin with the locks at Sault Ste. Marie would have to be deepened, or a new lock constructed that would take care of boats with draughts of thirty-five feet. The next obstacle is at a point in the Detroit river where the waterway would have to be deepened considerably. The greatest obstacles are in the Welland canal, where there is a drop of 326 feet, and in the St. Lawrence river, where there is a drop of 221 feet.

Would Cost $175,000,000. The cost of the project is estimated at $175,000,000. It is a project in which there is international interest, divided between the governments of the United States and Canada. The Canadian government is vitally interested in the plan, and the middle western and western states of the United States have appointed commissions to promote the matter with a view to the establishment of a national commission in this country and later an international joint commission with which the final adjustment of the project would rest, before it could be submitted in the form of a bill before congress, and the parliament of Canada.

Mr. Doelle cites wheat shipments as an example of what the deep-waterway project would mean to the central western states. With Montreal as the seaboard port, wheat could be shipped from Duluth over the proposed route at a saving of five cents per bushel; compared with the present cost. This would mean an annual saving of $17,000,000 on wheat alone. Shipments on other cargoes would be handled much cheaper, also, and promoters of the project believe it would result in a greater amount of manufacturing of raw materials in the Great Lakes and other middle western states.

It is brought out that the distance from Montreal to Liverpool is considerably less than that from New York to Liverpool, this alone being a vital argument in favor of the Great Lakes route.

He says that strenuous opposition to the plan is coming from New York. This is because New York does not relish the idea of losing ocean commerce that would surely be diverted to the Great Lakes route. Mr. Doelle declares, "New York puts up the argument that the route through the St. Lawrence river would be dangerous to the United States as it would provide an opportunity for the British fleet to get into the Great Lakes in case of war. This argument is generally regarded as absurd and not within the realm of possibility."

Senator Lenroot recently wrote a letter to the congressional committee on waterways and harbors in which he referred to the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence project as one of the most important commercial problems before the nation, the speaker says.

Mr. Doelle says that the deep-waterway project would make every upper peninsula lake port, including Escanaba, an ocean port, and that every city in the upper peninsula would be benefited if the plan is carried through. The only action to be taken by the public at present, he says, is to do what can be done to create sentiment throughout the middle western section in favor of the project so that when it is brought before congress it will not be killed by eastern opposition.

HIT BY ENGINE AGED MAN MAY BE FATALLY INJURED

Frank Beaudoin, Pioneer Citizen, Hurt While at Work.

Struck by a Northwestern engine while working in the yards yesterday morning, Frank Beaudoin received injuries that it was thought last night might prove fatal. He sustained a bruised skull, a crushed foot and numerous bruises and cuts about the body. That he was not instantly killed is considered remarkable.

Mr. Beaudoin was shoving a push car, loaded with lumber, up the track through the yard. A heavy passenger engine, in charge of Engineer James Greene, for the Watersmeet train was being rushed up from the round house to the station. Neither the engineer nor fireman saw Mr. Beaudoin pushing the small car up the track until it was too late to avoid the crash. The engine struck the small car of lumber, throwing Mr. Beaudoin beneath and rolled him several feet before the locomotive could be brought to a standstill. It was necessary to reverse the engine before the victim could be released.

Rushed to Hospital. The company's surgeon was called and the patient was rushed to St. Francis hospital with all possible speed. Mr. Beaudoin is 63 years of age and because of the serious nature of his injuries grave fears as to his recovery were entertained. In spite of the precarious condition of the patient he recovered consciousness for a few minutes at 11 o'clock yesterday forenoon but again lapsed into unconsciousness and was still unconscious at a late hour last night.

GLEANERS GET ARMOUR PLANTS IN MICHIGAN

Farmers Organization Purchases Elevators and Absorbs Big Organization.

Detroit, Jan. 3.—Farmers in the Gleaner Organization in Michigan and neighboring states have completed the purchase of the Armour & Co. interests in Michigan, according to an announcement by Grant Slocum, founder and head of the Gleaners, of which there are more than 70,000 in Michigan alone. The deal hands over to the farmers not only the biggest and best elevators in the United States, but a complete business organization, the headquarters being at Grand Rapids, formerly under the name of the Lewellyn Bean Company.

The Gleaner corporation with a capital stock of half a million will take over the buying and selling ends of the business at once, and Fred Lewellyn, President of the Lewellyn Bean Co., with his entire staff, in their present capacities, will join forces with the Gleaners. The Gleaner Clearing House Association, with headquarters on Russell street, Detroit, now owns and operates 14 buying stations and elevators, with an establishment in New York City and numerous others contemplated.

Plan Is Co-operative. The great Gleaner chain is entirely co-operative, and many thousands of Gleaner farmers are the stockholders, sharing the work and the profits. By acquisition of the Armour & Co. terminals, the farmers control not only the production of the food products but also to a large extent, the marketing to the consumers.

"Although some farmers have made profits this year, especially close to big city centers, thousands have failed," says Mr. Slocum. "And they have been practically forced to go into the marketing business on order to keep their heads above the water. The farmers have been hit as hard or harder than, any other class, by the increased cost of everything, especially labor and manufactured products. With control of terminals, the Gleaners hope to stabilize the farming business as well as to give the public a square deal."

Fred Lewellyn has been engaged in co-operative work with farmers for many years, and the company of which he has been president handles more than any two other organizations in Michigan. He has worked on the belief that by sharing the elevator's profits with the farmers greater and better business is built up.

The Grand Rapids terminal elevator and bean plant is the most complete of its kind in the nation. The most modern equipment has been installed for picking, polishing, washing, drying, etc., and for the handling and storing of all products of Michigan farms. The Big Rapids terminal elevator and bean plant is the largest in Northern Michigan, and equipped with latest machinery for handling grain, beans and other farm produce. The Big Rapids plant will be a terminal to serve farmers of Northern Michigan through local co-operative elevators and local shipping stations.

MARKETS.

STOCK MARKET.
New York, Jan. 3.—The upward movement in the stock market made further progress today on a substantial turnover. In the absence of actual developments, today's upward swing was attributed to prospects of a related money market as indicated by yesterday's sharp decline in demand loans.

There also was a marked revival of inquiry for oils, including the Mexican and Texas group, but rails were under restraint. There was a confident absorption of steel and equipment shares also. Sales $50,000 shares.

Ishpeming, Mich., Jan. 3.—Mohawk declared dividend of $1.50. The last three quarters only $1 was paid. This is only another proof of the fact that the metal situation was never as bad as some pictured. Copper shares were all higher today, and some stocks displayed considerable buoyancy. The entire list moved up with ease, and for a short session, today's market was the best that an extreme optimist could have wished for. Many two to five point advances were recorded, and markets were very active. The steel shares made steady gains, and this group should not be overlooked. The New York Coppers, Chino and Kennecott are the favorites at the moment. In the lower priced shares, there is excellent buying in North Butte and Seneca. As we have stated before, there must have been a radical change in the Metal situation during the last ten days, which even the advance to 19 1/2 cents reported yesterday does not indicate. It must be remembered that naturally, the lowering of the price for the metal automatically increased consumption, and, on the other hand, decreases production. In the long run, this is bound to be a bullish factor on all copper shares. There is one other point that is also overlooked, and this is the enormous demand for investment securities by small investors in all parts of the country.

From 1912 to 1917 he was commandant of the Massachusetts bay naval station, and president of the Naval War college, at Newport. His last command was that of the Asiatic fleet, which he held at the time of his retirement from active service about a year ago. Admiral Knight has written several books on naval affairs and is regarded as an expert in the field of ordnance and ammunition.

"LISTEN LESTER" COMES TO THE DELFT FRIDAY

"Listen Lester," John Cort's exhilarating musical comedy, with the entire New York cast, chorus, production and special orchestra, gorgeously gowned and full of spontaneous wit, comes to the Delft Friday, January 9, to inject a brilliancy into the theater district. Lester is not only worth listening to, but is well worth looking at as well, as has been attested to by the fact that this play comes to Escanaba after a full year's run at the Knickerbocker theater in New York. Harry L. Cort, George E. Stoddard and Harold Orlob have written a merry melange that is bright and snappy, the music being marked by an originality, for the composer has brought to his composition a cleverness and melodic veil that tickles the fancy, the ears—and the toes.

The setting is Palm Beach, Fla., which offers opportunity for unique and colorful background and customing of the newest style, all of which, needless to say, is taken the utmost advantage of in the sartorial display of the offering. In this environment is projected the story of Arbutus Quilty and her letters; of Colonel Dodge and his connection with these letters; of pretty Mary Dodge and her love affairs—of countless other delightful people and their equally delightful and amusing business and pleasures and doing; all of which forms a genuinely interesting tale that is augmented by a Broadway cast, including Miriam Folger, Florida Bellaire, Florence De Barr, Abb Ott, Frances Anderson, Betty Kirkbride, Henrietta Lee, Cecil Williams, Gus Shy, William Wayne, Mark Thompson, Murry Hart, John L. Lyons, Andrew Leigh and a chorus that is dainty, dancy and altogether delectable.

At the Strand.
A story admirably suited to Mary MacLaren, one whose heroine breathes the very personality of "The American Beauty of the Screen"; such is "The Unpainted Woman," which shows at the Strand theater today. The story is by Sinclair Lewis, famed for his gripping human interest stories.

Briefly told, "The Unpainted Woman" is a story of a country village; its so-called aristocracy; its snobbery and bitter class distinctions; a young wife who uncomplainingly submits to taunts and virtual ostracism because, though but a hired girl, she dared to marry the son of one of the "best families"; and later, as a widow, how she through her courage and sweetness of character forces down the barriers and comes into her own.

At the Delft Tomorrow.
William S. Hart's new Artcraft picture, "The Money Corral," which comes to the Delft theater tomorrow, is one of the best photoplays in which Mr. Hart has been seen in many a day. It is announced that in the making of the big rodeo scenes for this film all the cowgirls, punchers, Indians and Mexicans within a hundred miles came to take part in the episodes that required fast riding, shooting, roping, etc.

Bill Hart is prominent in these scenes himself. Later the story takes the principal characters to Chicago and the Western hero is introduced to the underworld crooks.

At the Strand Tomorrow.
"The Twin Pawns," the Pathe picture opening for a two-day run at the Strand theater tomorrow, is one of those stories that strikes out from the shoulder at the beginning of the first reel and holds the spectator in an enthralled grip to the very end.

The story opens with the villain, who is the real thing in villains, getting possession of papers disclosing the fact that the woman who died in a tenement flat was the wife of a steel magnate. Her daughter is a twin whose sister has been raised in luxury by the father.

With the villain in possession of the papers and the daughter, one can be prepared for almost anything that may follow. In "The Twin Pawns" the villain acts with great cunning, but eventually, as is the proper way with all good stories, the heroine is freed from the troubles that pursue her.

Do you remember Richard Travers, one time matinee idol? He's coming back to the screen after three years' work and his first will be "The White Moll," in which he will be leading man for Pearl White.

"Jiggs" in Movies.
"Bringing Up Father," that classic of the funny section, is being made into reel comedies at the Christie studios in charge of Al Christie. "Jiggs" will be played by Johnny Ray, Irish comedian of vaudeville fame, and "Maggie" will be played by Margaret Fitzroy, well known stage and picture character player. Laura LaPlante, one of the youngest and prettiest Christie girls, will be the pretty marcelled debutante who is heir to the Jiggs fortunes.

Screen Clemenceau Novel.
Fox is making elaborate plans for the screening of Premier Clemenceau's one and only novel, "The Strongest." R. A. Walsh will direct the production.

Gladys Leslie's latest release is "The Midnight Bride." It formerly was a magazine story under the title, "The Marriage of Little Jeanne Sterling."

Viola Dana says love should be comradeship. "As a general thing," she says, "I would prefer to leave any discussion of love or romance to heads far older and wiser than mine. To be absolutely frank, I haven't any precise definition for love, I don't understand it, but I do understand comradeship and I do appreciate a playmate. I think I should be bored to death by a lover, but a comrade is a different thing."

Metro Buys "Judah."
Purchase of "Judah," a modern play by Henry Arthur Jones, is announced by Metro. It was among the dozen plays recently brought from England by Harry J. Cohen and will be used as a starring vehicle for May Allison.

Through the arrest again yesterday, of Olaf Wallin, charged with conducting a place where intoxicating liquor was sold, he was bound over to circuit court; by Justice Emil Glaser and this makes three brothers who are scheduled to face liquor charges at the next term of court.

When the Wallin place was raided about two weeks ago, Louis and Olaf were arrested, Olaf being fined $25 and costs for maintaining a disorderly house, gambling being pretty well evidenced. Louis was held to the circuit court on a charge of furnishing liquor and a warrant was issued for Otto also on a charge of having furnished liquor to Peter Olson, a farmer of Bark River township. Otto was not arrested until the following day and he too was bound over to await the action of the circuit court.

There is a possibility, it was stated last night, of still further action being taken against Olaf Wallin, proprietor of the place.

OUR FISCAL SITUATION.

One of the ways—in fact, a most effective way—to make up the tremendous loss of revenue due to the decline of customs duties and to the elimination of liquor as a source of government receipts...

Customs revenue, on the other hand, had been decreasing under war pressure, until from being the mainstay of government financing it has been relegated to an unimportant part in producing money for the national administration.

A budget system for the elimination of waste is absolutely essential to the economic administration of public funds required by the fiscal situation, which confronts the nation.

It is obvious that this is an unscientific and wasteful adjustment of expenditures to revenues. In fact, there is no sound relation between them.

We think it is clear that the votes cast for Mr. Berger were cast for a person who could not, under the laws and constitution of the country, fill the office to which he had been nominated...

THE CENSUS

The first census was the enumeration of the Israelites by Moses, 1490 B. C.

In the United Kingdom the first complete census was taken in 1801 and since then it has been taken every tenth year.

The first census of the United States, in 1790, cost $44,000, and at that time the money ran out and the first was taken in 1871, the work became more expensive.

The first federal census showed New York city to be possessed of a population of 22,000. The new census is expected to show a population of close to 6,000,000 for the metropolis.

When the first census was taken the area of the United States was 825,000 square miles, or about one-fourth of the present area, with less than 30 per cent of that population.

Printed schedules were used in the taking of the United States census for the first time in 1830. Previously, the enumerators had used such paper as they happened to possess.

The first federal census showed New York city to be possessed of a population of 22,000. The new census is expected to show a population of close to 6,000,000 for the metropolis.

The force of enumerators and clerks employed to take the present United States census represents a larger body than the combined populations of New York and Boston 150 years ago, when the first census was taken.

One of the greatest difficulties encountered in taking the first United States census was a religious superstition. Many of the preachers were violently opposed to the census, because in Bible times a curse fell over the land when the children of Israel were numbered.

During the 120 years between the taking of the first census in 1790 and the enumeration in 1910 the center of population of the United States moved westward at an average rate of about 47 miles for each decade.

The first United States census numbered only the inhabitants of the country. In the decennial census of 1810 an attempt was made for the first time to collect industrial statistics. The data gathered along this line was far from complete, but valuable, nevertheless, as furnishing a general indication of the extent and nature of the manufacturing industries of the country.

The taking of the census by the British government in India is a particularly difficult task, for there questions of caste mysteriously intrude. On the occasion of the last census it was said that hundreds of thousands of Mussulmans and Hindus hid themselves in the forest all night, preferring to face the terrors of the jungle rather than the questioning of a government clerk.

Big Ten Gymnasts Meet April 9th

WHY THE FRENCH DOLZE GEORGES CARPENTIER SO

Dempsey's War Record Is Bringing Him Some Unpopularity.

Should Jack Dempsey finally decide to pull himself away from the life of luxurious ease that he is living on the Pacific coast among the moving picture folk and agree to meet Georges Carpentier, there is every chance in the world that the bout will not be staged in this country.

Not only are several European bankers, including the Rothschilds, interested in the bidding for the bout, but Charles B. Cochran, the English promoter, has a contract with Carpentier which extends over a period of two years. This contract will keep the French idol from doing any fighting anywhere except with the consent of Cochran. As this contract is understood to be binding, there is little hope that Cochran, should his present negotiations fall through, will consent to give the bout to any other promoter.

France is still raving over Georges Carpentier. The French are quite dippy over their champion. The popularity of Georges in his native land far surpasses the favor in which Jack Dempsey is held by the American sporting public, but that is Dempsey's fault.

Had Jack availed himself of the opportunities that all other young Americans had during the time this country was at war with Germany, he would be an idol, too. Dempsey is a great fighter and the type which makes a hit with the fans, but the hit he makes is discounted by his war record.

Jess Willard grew unpopular through his ring idleness and his failure to come to the front promptly in offering his services to the Red Cross or other war benefits.

Jack Johnson, although his color was against him from the start, was not unpopular until his personal behavior became obnoxious to the public.

The public appreciates the superlative ability of a champion, but it is exacting also in its demands in character and personality. A champion must be every inch a man if he is going to be an idol.

That is why France is outbidding American promoters for the much-talked-of match between Carpentier and Dempsey for the world's heavyweight title.

U. P. BOWLING MEET WILL BE WELL ATTENDED

Iron Country Expected to Send Great Crowd to Pin Tournery.

Hancock, Jan. 3.—The pins of the Elks' bowling alleys promise to be thoroughly massaged at the close of the annual Upper Peninsula tournament, which will be staged in this city this month. Early advices from the iron country convince officers of the association that the eastern end of Cleveland will do its part toward proving bowling is by far and wide as popular as any indoor winter game.

Two new towns will be represented in the rolling in February—Gwin and Munising. Both cities have a number of fancy bowlers that have been running up some remarkably high scores in recent games.

No sport seems to be attracting quite the attention in the iron country this winter as bowling. Every city has its alleys and the way they are being patronized testifies in a major degree how popular the game is. Intercity games are being rolled almost every night and teams are compelled to make reservations a week in advance of matches if the alleys are to be procured.

WILL PLAY SECOND FOR BOSTON—Eddie Foster, who has just been traded by Washington to the Red Sox, and who is counted on to fill the Boston infield gap at second base.

BENNY LEONARD AVERAGES $8,000 A FIGHT IN 1919

If one could take a glimpse at certain figures which only the income tax collectors are privileged to see, there would be no question but what Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, would be considered the most diligent hunter for the elusive dollar among the fighters today.

Billy Gibson, manager of Leonard, declares that the champion has made close to $200,000 from his fights alone during the 12 months of 1919. He took part in 25 bouts and received an average of $8,000 every time he drew on a glove in public, except at several benefit performances.

The lightweight champion realized that the reign of any king these days is very risky and that one must get the big money while it is available. Benny was busier than any other title holder during the year, but appears to be better today because of his continuous work.

Leonard's best match of the year was with Willie Ritchie, former champion, at Newark, last April after a four-round set, between the pair in San Francisco in which Ritchie had become rather frisky with the champ. The Newark bout drew $53,000, which was only exceeded during the year by the Willard-Dempsey clash at Toledo.

While Leonard was bringing home the greenbacks for himself he also helped the promoter to get a bit of change. The bouts in which the little champion took part drew better than $500,000.

Being the greatest lightweight champion is only one of Leonard's accomplishments, however, for he is also a good business man. A tire company in which he has large holdings and other investments for the year ran his income up a couple of hundred thousand dollars more. Considering all things, it was not a bad year for Mr. Leonard.

YOUNG FITZ MAY FOLLOW OLD BOB AS RING CHAMP

"Like father, like son." So it is said, but it is not often true. Bob Fitzsimmons, son of old Bob Fitzsimmons, offered a surprising resemblance to his illustrious father in his first professional fight the other night, says Robert L. Ripley in the Detroit News.

Young Bob met Ed Kinley, a fairly good light-heavyweight, who has performed creditably against Battling Levinsky, Clay Turner and Charlie Weimert, and he was returned winner by a big margin. Fitz Jr. showed himself to be a most promising prospect and with able guidance should prove worthy of his lineage. He has a good knowledge of boxing, is very fast, and what is most important—he is full of fight!

If eugenics count for anything, young Bob should be a wonderful athlete. His father is regarded by most experts as the greatest fighter ever in a ring, and his mother was Rose Julian, the greatest female acrobat and gymnast that the world has ever known.

Physically, Fitz Jr. bears considerable resemblance to old Bob. He lacks only the knockknees, freckles and red hair. He is better proportioned and built on bigger lines—weighing about 170 pounds—is slightly over six feet tall, and is now 23 years old.

Young Bob shapes up in a ring in a way that reminds one of his father. He has long arms, with the same large forearms, the wide shoulders and narrow waist. He is very fast for a big fellow, faster than his father, and uses an excellent left jab. He uncovered a short crushing right at intervals, but seemed rather timid in taking a chance with it. The famous left shift of his dad's was apparently missing from his repertoire, however. His defense was good—so good, in fact, that his opponent failed to land a clean blow during the eight rounds.

Fitz knows a great deal about the game. The old champion was always anxious for his boy to enter the ring and coached him for years with that object in mind. Old Fitz used to say: "I'll surprise you all some day. Wait till that boy of mine is ready."

However, the war came on, and young Bob enlisted, and his ring debut was delayed until now. It is a pity that old Bob could not have lived to see him.

He would have been proud.

Funeral services will be conducted over the body at the Catholic church at Garden on Monday morning. Interment will be at the Garden cemetery. The merchants and citizens of Escanaba responded nobly to the holiday call for donations of money and necessities and the result is that the club will be able to use money to great advantage during the bitter weather of the winter. The Charity Ball netted a nice sum and donations of approximately $286 were received at Christmas time. The ladies are well pleased with the condition following their annual distribution of Christmas dinners and feel that the outlook for the winter is bright. FEW BANKRUPTS IN PENINSULA FOR LAST YEAR. R. T. Looney, referee in bankruptcy for the United States court in the upper peninsula, is preparing to make his annual report for 1919 to Judge Sessions and it will be a somewhat remarkable one. It will show that in 1919 there were only two petitions in bankruptcy filed in fifteen counties. One bankrupt lived in Gogebic county, the other in Houghton. Mr. Looney says this is the smallest number of bankrupts in any year since he has been in office, more than a decade. He has had as many as twenty in previous years.

Boys' Conference in Negaunee Feb. 27-29. Considerable interest is already being manifested in the Boys' Conference of the Upper Peninsula, which is to be held in Negaunee Feb. 27, 28 and 29. Escanaba usually sends a good sized delegation to these meetings where problems of young men are discussed for several days and where many boys are started on the right path to success, through inspirational talks delivered by men who have themselves achieved success through struggle. Although no definite steps have been taken here as yet, it is more than probable that a dozen or more young Escanaba men will attend the conference. TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY. FOR RENT—Furnished room.
