WORLD LEAGUE TO TAKE LIFE, WILSON SAYS

Call for Meeting of League Council Is Most Optimistic.

Washington, Jan. 13.—Assembly of the council of the league of nations in Paris next Friday will "mark the beginning of a new era in international cooperation and the first great step towards the ideal concert of nations," President Wilson declared in issuing the call for the meeting as provided by the Versailles treaty. The text of the call was made public tonight.

"It will bring the league of nations into being as a living force, devoted to the task of assisting the peoples of all countries in their desires for peace, prosperity and happiness," the messages to Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, Brazil, Belgium and Spain said.

"The President is convinced that its progress will accord with the noble purpose to which it is dedicated."

Delivered by Ambassadors.

President Wilson's message was transmitted by the state department to American embassies, for formal presentations. It was the same in each case with the exception of the address, and the full text sent to London follows:

"In compliance with Article V of the covenant of the League of Nations, which went into effect at the same time as the treaty of Versailles of June 29, 1919, of which it is a part, the President of the United States, acting on behalf of those nations which have deposited their instruments of ratification in Paris, as certified in a process-verbal drawn up by the French government, dated January 10, 1920, has the honor to inform the government of Great Britain that the first meeting of the council will be held in Paris at the ministry of foreign affairs on Friday, January 16, at 10:30 a. m.

Marks a New Era.

"The President earnestly ventures the hope that the government of Great Britain will send a representative to this meeting. He feels that it is unnecessary for him to point out the deep significance of this meeting.

"It will mark the beginning of a new era in the international cooperation and the first great step toward the ideal concert of nations. It will bring the League of Nations into being as a living force, devoted to the task of assisting the peoples of all countries in their desire for peace, prosperity and happiness. The President is convinced that its progress will accord with the noble purpose to which it is dedicated."

"JOIN LEGION," PERSHING SAYS

Denver, Jan. 13.—Colorado honored General Pershing today. From the moment the commander of the American Expeditionary Forces stepped from his train to the hour he returned to it to depart for Cheyenne, General Pershing was acclaimed on every hand. He ended his day with an address to a cheering audience that filled the municipal auditorium. The general spent some time inspecting a United States hospital at Aurora and he shook hands with many patients and told each one that he hoped he would join the American legion.

"I want every man who was in the army in France to join the American Legion," he said.

PHYSICIAN IS NOT INDICTED

Louisville, Jan. 13.—Dr. Christopher G. Schott, Louisville physician, whom the grand jury today refused to indict on the charge of murder, feels that his theory that Elizabeth Griffith, his office girl, shot and killed herself has been vindicated. "Truth will prevail," he is quoted as having said when the grand jury's report was read. "Of course, I feel gratified at this complete vindication."

The view of Mrs. John Griffith, mother of the girl, is that she did not commit suicide. "There is another and higher court," she said, "and as sure as there is a God, the guilty will be punished."

AND NOW IT'S LEAP YEAR

TAKE 6 YEARS TO MAKE THIS NATION 'ARID' Will Be a Desert at the End of that Time, Agent Says.

Chicago, Jan. 13.—A six-year job faces federal prohibition agents in making the United States dry, according to H. M. Gaylord, assistant chief commissioner of Washington, who addressed agents of mid-Western states today. At the end of that period, he said, the revenue bureau has figured that the United States will be "a real desert."

Revenue agents who will work under A. V. Dalrymple, prohibition director for Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Indiana and Minnesota in the enforcement campaign which opens on Saturday, received special instructions during the last two days by men experienced in raiding stills and catching "moonshiners and bootleggers."

"We are going to achieve prohibition," Mr. Gaylord said. "To do this an educational campaign will be necessary and we think this will require six years. In that time the sentiment of every law-abiding, self-respecting citizen will be solidly behind prohibition."

POINCAIRE TO BE PREMIER. CANDIDATE?

PARIS, Jan. 13.—(By The Associated Press)—Approach of the presidential election in France Jan. 17, recalls the fact that of the nine men who occupied the Elysee Palace since the advent of the third republic in 1870, only three—Emil Loubet, Armand Fallieres and Raymond Poincaire—have completed their terms of office. Of the nine French presidents there alone returned to public life, having been elected senator after his resignation. This example will be followed by M. Poincaire who Sunday was elected senator from the department of the Meuse.

Not one of the ex-presidents has become affiliated with the government in the ministry after leaving the chair but according to current speculation this precedent will be broken by M. Poincaire. It is generally believed his return to public life will bring him back into power as a minister and perhaps as premier.

Influenza Lid Put On At Station

Chicago, Jan. 13.—A partial quarantine of the Great Lakes naval station was ordered today by Commandant Bassett, due to influenza. All amusement places have been closed and gatherings and classes will be abandoned for the present. Between 150 and 175 cases developed yesterday, and the quarantine was announced as a precautionary measure.

There are 6,000 men at the station. Most of the cases are said to be mild, and station officers hope to have them under control soon. The camp has not been closed to visitors, but all meetings will be in the open.

The recurrence of influenza will postpone plans to send 500 men to sea. Three hundred had been scheduled to join the Pacific fleet and 200 the Atlantic fleet.

Increase in influenza cases was noted in Chicago, where 115 cases were reported today. The daily average has been between 15 and 20 cases.

KAHN BLAMES INCOME TAXES

New York, Jan. 13.—Revision of the federal income tax to bring it within the bounds of moderation and afford relief in the present era of economic disturbance, was urged in an address here today by Otto H. Kahn, New York banker. Speaking before the Council on Foreign Relations, Mr. Kahn said the three chief factors in upsetting present day economics were the world demands for America's raw materials, inflation and faulty taxation.

The world demand for American materials will slacken, he said; the cure for inflation is a slow process, but the remedy for faulty taxation can be secured at once whenever it pleases congress to seek a remedy and apply it.

Two Dry Enforcers Are Given Places

Washington, Jan. 13.—Appointment of E. G. Boom, of Moscow, and W. T. Boyce, of Stanton, N. J., as federal prohibition directors for the states of Idaho and Delaware was announced today by Commissioner Roper.

GALLIVAN IN HEATED TALK, FLAYS MARCH Investigation Into the Awards of Medals Is Ordered.

Washington, Jan. 13.—The movement for congressional investigation into awards of army war decorations produced a stormy scene in the house today, during which a resolution by Representative Gallivan, Democrat, calling on Secretary Baker for a report on the awards was adopted. The fight centered largely about Mr. Gallivan's attacks on General March and others on duty in Washington during the war. The chief of staff and others attacked were defended by other members.

"The house ought not to acquiesce in the attack on General March," declared Representative Moore, Democrat, in concluding the debate in an appeal for rejection of the resolution, which on a roll call was adopted, 183 to 123. Most of the Democrats opposed it.

General March was referred to by Gallivan as "the high priest of Prussianism and the man for whom no officer, ever speaking a word except contempt," adding that his "citation for the distinguished service was given only under orders."

Several other members lauded the chief of staff for his fairness and efficiency, declaring he was entitled to any honors conferred on him. They also accused Gallivan of unfairness in attacking officers who could not reply.

WATER POWER BILL ATTACK IS BLOCKED

Measure Has Been Before Senate for Ten Years.

Washington, Jan. 13.—By a vote of 40 to 16, the senate, nearing final action on the water power development bill, late today rejected an amendment by Senator Harrison, a Democrat, which would have exempted the waters of the St. Lawrence and Niagara rivers from its provisions.

All of the principal amendments to the bill which the house passed last June were acted on during the five hours the measure was before the senate today, and the indication tonight was that a final vote would be taken tomorrow.

The water power bill has been before congress for ten years. Senator Nelson, in charge of the bill, resented during the debate today arguments by opponents of the measure that congress would be giving away water power, and said he would not suggest that the people holding big water power development plants were trying to defeat it.

Senator Lenroot, Republican, declared that water power interests got what they wanted and asserted that the government "was surrendering to special interests."

The Wisconsin senator predicted the measure would be vetoed.

New York, Jan. 13.—About 150 American business men from all parts of the country will start from St. Louis for Mexico City the middle of next month to foster international commercial relations, it was announced here tonight at a meeting of the New York branch of the American Chamber of Commerce in Mexico. The party will be accompanied by the Mexican consul at St. Louis, and the governments of Mexico and the United States are cooperating to make the trip a success.

CALLIAUX TRIAL TO OPEN TODAY?

Paris, Jan. 13.—Joseph Calliaux, the former premier, charged with intriguing to bring about a premature and dishonorable peace with Germany, will appear before the new senate sitting as a high court tomorrow. Although both the prosecution and defense are ready, there are indications that the trial will not proceed. Many senators said they favored setting January 27 as the date for the opening of the examination. It is reported that some of them will propose sine die adjournment.

The Ukrainians are well supplied with war materials."

Laredo, Tex., Jan. 13.—Passengers from the interior of Mexico arriving here today said rebels made an attempt to capture their train between Vanegas and Saltillo yesterday. HUGE CROWDS STORM STEPS OF REICHSTAG Bayonets Used by the Troops in Stopping Disturbance.

BERLIN, Monday, Jan. 12.—(By The Associated Press)—Plundering on a large scale occurred today in the occupied town of Oberhausen. Men stormed the town hall, threw the archives into the streets and stripped the shops.

The disturbances spread to the villages of Marsebob and Erouckhausen, where the plunderers used fire arms against the police. Order has not yet been restored.

Oberhausen is a city of 100,000 and the junction of the Cologne-Hamburg and Wisel-Emerich lines. It is situated just to the north of Muelheim. The other villages mentioned are east of the Rhine in the same region. Up to 2:30 this afternoon order had not been restored in connection with the demonstration before the Reichstag. Big processions passed along the streets from all quarters. Numerous factories were obliged to close.

The demonstrators bore flags inscribed, "We demand an unrestricted workers' council bill."

Numerous speeches were delivered from the Reichstag steps, protesting sharply against the bill in its present form. The street car service was partly suspended, the men being on strike. The police restricted themselves to the guarding of the Reichstag.

GOVERNMENT IS BUSY.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Berlin dated Monday says: "The government is taking precautions against the disorders against barricading the front of the parliament building. The new railway strikes and the stoppage of telephonic and telegraphic communication are causing much nervousness."

CROWDS BAYONETTED.

Basle, Jan. 13.—(By The Associated Press)—Many persons were killed or wounded at the last session of congress. Senator Hitchcock said, had given way to a spirit of "honorable compromise" which led to the belief that ratification with some reservations would take place before the end of January.

Some Democratic leaders, however, expressed hope that next week may bring an agreement which can be presented to the senate with a cloture rule to hasten a final vote.

NEW POLICY TO SAVE FORESTS

New York, Jan. 13.—Plans to conserve the timber supply of the United States through a national forestry policy in order to meet the future demands of industry were adopted today at the annual meeting of the American Forestry association. The program includes extension of federal holdings, cooperation by states for fire protection, forest taxation and insurance, loans on growing timber and forest surveys and research.

CLOTHING TO JUMP HIGHER, DEALER SAYS

Chicago, Jan. 13.—Clothing prices next spring will be from 25 to 40 per cent higher than at present, according to R. H. King of Seattle, who addressed the National Retail Clothiers' association today.

Mr. King said the increase would come from a complexity of causes, chief of which was increased pay to clothing makers. Labor has gone up 275 percent since 1914, he said. He also said the decrease in hours and the increase of Australian wool from $1.15 a pound in 1914 to $4.10 now will have a bearing. "The coming year will be a crucial one for clothing merchants," he said. "It will not so much be a question of making money as to keep the business from the rocks."

NEW'S FATE IN HANDS OF JURY

Los Angeles, Jan. 13.—The case of Harry New, alleged murderer of his fiancée, Freda Lesser, tonight was in the hands of the jury. T. L. Woolwine, district attorney, closed the argument for the state this afternoon. Judge Craig occupied 20 minutes in reading his instructions to the jury, and the jurors then retired to deliberate whether New was insane, as the defense contended, when he killed Miss Lesser on the night of July 4 last, or whether, as the prosecution contended, the killing was a cold-blooded murder and punishable by death.

SENATORS SEE LOBBY PARTY ABOUT TREATY

Each Faction Declares It Is Ready to Compromise on Settlement.

Washington, Jan. 13.—Assurances that Democratic and Republican senators were united in endeavoring to end the treaty and avoid carrying treaty issues into the coming election fight were given by Senators Lodge and Hitchcock, the Republican and Democratic leaders respectively, today to spokesmen of organizations claiming to represent 20,000,000 people desirous of early ratification of the treaty.

Big Delegation.

The two leaders were visited separately at the capital by more than a score of representatives of various organizations, including societies working for ratification of the treaty, labor unions, churches and agricultural and educational bodies. The calls on the senate leaders followed a meeting to urge immediate ratification of the treaty with such reservations as may be necessary to secure the requisite two thirds vote.

Senator Lodge told the delegation that he would be glad to consider any modifications which the Democratic minority might present and that there was being evinced "a general desire" to dispose of the treaty promptly so as to avert its injection into the campaign.

A New Spirit.

Calling at the office of Mr. Hitchcock the delegation was told by the leader and by Senator Smith of the norths being made to bring about prompt ratification. The spirit of antagonism which dominated treaty debates at the last session of congress, Senator Hitchcock said, had given way to a spirit of "honorable compromise" which led to the belief that ratification with some reservations would take place before the end of January. Some Democratic leaders, however, expressed hope that next week may bring an agreement which can be presented to the senate with a cloture rule to hasten a final vote.

COMMISSION IS READY TO OPEN INVESTIGATION

Lewis and Other Mine Workers Are Called to Testify.

Washington, Jan. 13.—The coal strike commission was enabled to begin its actual work in considering and adjudicating claims of bituminous miners for wage advances and shorter working hours by agreement of operators to participate in the investigation and abide by the decision of the commission. The commission immediately called for John L. Lewis and other miners' representatives to set forth their case. Lewis and his associates set forth the full demands as presented before the strike for a 60 percent increase in wages and a 30 hour week and six other concessions. "The miners' standards of living, social position and the environment in which they must raise their children have never been too low," it was said. The commission will sit each day. At the conclusion of its formal session the commission called in miners representing coal fields outside the central fields for informal conversation. The miners presented a number of complaints with reference to the 14 percent increase granted them.

ESCANABA MEN INTERESTED IN CANNING PLANT

Maple Syrup Producers to Attend Meeting in Lansing.

East Lansing, Jan. 13.—Maple syrup producers in the vicinity of Escanaba are greatly interested in a plan for a central blending and canning plant to be launched at the annual meeting of the Michigan Maple Syrup Growers' Association at M. A. C. Feb. 2-6 in connection with farmers' week at the college. DeWitt county has a number of maple syrup makers. Among those located near Escanaba are Edward Holmwood and W. H. Hodgkins. By taking maple products out of the sugar market, where they are now forced to compete with the cheaper cane and beet sugar, and supplying the demand for flavors, sweetening, and high grade syrup, the growers hope to obtain prices sufficiently high to continue in the business. Otherwise they are faced with constant losses and many have considered cutting off the existing maple forests.

A Central Plant. The plan is to make the central plant perform the same function as the creamery for dairymen. The crude syrup will be sent in large cans to the blending plant, where it will be emptied and the cans sent back. The syrup will be weighed and tested, like quantities assembled, and the entire product of the state blended into two grades. Information may be secured from Prof. F. H. Sanford of the Forestry Department of M. A. C.

The meeting of the maple syrup men will be one of a number of state agricultural conventions to be held at East Lansing during farmers' week when 5,000 visitors are expected. A great variety of exhibits and many entertainment and educational features are planned. Dean Vivian of Ohio State University, Dr. E. V. McCollum of Johns Hopkins, nutrition expert, and H. C. Taylor, chief of farm management at Washington, will be among the speakers.

U. S. REFUSES TWO PER CENT NAVAL AWARD

Division of Germany's Warships Is Passed Up by America.

Washington, Jan. 13.—The United States government has refused to accept any indemnity from Germany for the destruction of the German fleet at Scapa Flow, because it objects in principle to the division made by the supreme council, it was said today at the state department.

Germany, in compensation for the destruction, is required to deliver to the allies certain inland steamers and harbor facilities, such as floating docks and tugs, and the council had decided to allocate 2 per cent of this to the United States. Ambassador Wallace today informed the council that the United States would waive its claim to any part of the indemnity.

State department officials would not explain the American objection to the settlement, but it was recalled that from the first American representatives at the peace conference have favored the destruction of the ships on the ground that their division among the powers would make it necessary for this country to proceed with a larger naval building program.

SENATOR FALL GETS "BID" TO VISIT MEXICO

New York, Jan. 13.—An invitation to Senator Fall of New Mexico, chairman of the senate sub-committee investigating the Mexican situation, from Luis Cabrera, minister of finance in President Carranza's cabinet, to go to Mexico City and find out "what Mexico really is" was made public here tonight. The committee was organized after a session of the lower house this morning at which it was decided that the assembly should not act as a trial court but that the matter should be placed in the hands of its committee.

Everyone Should Drink Hot Water in the Morning

Wash away all stomach, liver, and bowel poisons before breakfast.

To feel your best day in and day out, to feel clean inside; no sour bile to coat your tongue and sicken your breath or dull your head; no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headache, colds, rheumatism or gassy, acid stomach, you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

To keep these poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, drink before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify, and freshen the entire alimentary tract before eating more food. Get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your pharmacist. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless. Drink phosphated hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation.

MONEY VALUE OF MICHIGAN CROPS BREAKS RECORDS

Lansing, Jan. 13.—The money value of crops grown in the State of Michigan during the past year is probably the greatest on record, not because of unprecedented acreage or yields but because of the higher price levels reached. The value of the leading crops including all mentioned in the joint crop report issued by Mr. Coleman C. Vaughan, Secretary of State and Mr. Verne H. Church, Field Agent, U. S. Bureau of Crop Estimates is $342,602,000. This includes the grain crops, hay, potatoes, sugar beets, clover seed, apples, pears and peaches, but does not include some crops such as the small fruits, truck crops, chicory, mint, etc., for which quantitative estimates are not available. The total acreage of the crops included, exclusive of the fruits, is 8,856,000. This is an excellent showing in the face of the extraordinary movement of farmers and farmers' sons from farms to industrial centers, and the impossibility of securing an adequate supply of well-qualified farm labor. A severe drought in mid-summer extended over much of the State and reduced the yields in certain sections, while grasshoppers did an enormous amount of damage in many counties of the northern half of the Lower Peninsula. However, the season was generally good and more favorable on the whole than for several years past.

Silver ores and nitrate from northern Chile and Bolivia are shipped from this port.

Negaunee, Jan. 13.—Strangers, who appeared to be regular good fellows, caused the downfall of Wilfred J. Deschambeau, a well known Negaunee young man, who will, at the February term of circuit court, face a charge of having sold liquor. Deschambeau was arrested by members of the state police, who appeared against him at a hearing in Judge William Jones' court yesterday afternoon.

As a result of having become too familiar with his unknown acquaintances, and, in the event that he is unable to procure bondsmen to go his bail for $500, he will be held in custody until the opening of circuit court. Prosecuting Attorney M. J. Kennedy conducted Deschambeau's examination yesterday.

Police Bought It.
Deschambeau's arrest followed his sale of "moonshine" whisky to state police. He met a couple of well dressed strangers at a dance held here on New Year's eve, and, as the men smelled liquor from Deschambeau, they asked him if he had anything on his "hip." Not being able to prove himself a "real sport" then and there by producing a bottle, the young man informed the "friends" that he would get them all they wanted.

The strangers, who proved to be members of the Negaunee detachment of the state police, accompanied Deschambeau to his home and the lad produced the "hot stuff." It was a long walk for the police, but it was worth it, they say. They immediately returned to their headquarters, but being unable to give the young man's name, they gave the officer a good description.

Acknowledged Guilt.
Lieutenant Downing suspected that it was Deschambeau from whom his men had purchased the liquor, but a sergeant thought it was another young man who fitted Deschambeau's description. To make certain, another plain clothes operator was put on the trail, and he, too, was able to purchase liquor from Deschambeau.

Yesterday in Judge Jones' court Deschambeau acknowledged his guilt and was bound over to circuit court. In the event that he can get bondsmen for the $500 he will be released until the opening of court on Feb. 9.

NEW TREATMENT THAT KNOCKS RHEUMATISM

75c BOX FREE TO ANY SUFFERER

Up in Syracuse, N. Y., a treatment for rheumatism has been found that hundreds of users say is a wonder, relieving cases that seem little short of miraculous. Just a few treatments even in the every worst cases seem to accomplish wonders even after other remedies have failed entirely. It seems to neutralize the uric acid and lime salt deposits in the blood, driving all the poisonous clogging waste from the system. Soreness, pain, stiffness, swelling just seem to melt away and vanish.

The treatment first introduced by Mr. Delano is so good that its owner wants every body that suffers from rheumatism or who has a friend so afflicted, to get a free 75c package from him to prove just what it will do in every case before a penny is spent. Mr. Delano says: "To prove that the Delano treatment will positively overcome rheumatism, no matter how severe, stubborn or long standing the case, and even after all other treatments have failed, I will, if you have never previously used the treatment, send you a full size 75c package free if you will just cut out this notice and send it with your name and address with 10c to help pay postage and distribution expense to me personally."

City Flooding Lot
for an Ice Rink

Street Commissioner John Garrity and Fire Chief Arvid Johnson spent a portion of yesterday in scraping the snow off the lot at Stephenson avenue and Ludington street and flooding it preparatory to making an ice rink for the youngsters of the city. Many prefer this sort of sport to going out on the bay and quite a convenient spot has been chosen by the city for this purpose.

TRACTOR PROVES BIG SUCCESS IN FIGHTING SNOW

Calumet, Jan. 13.—The Keweenaw county road commission has concluded that a caterpillar tractor as a snow fighting device is practical. After several weeks' tests, the fifteen-ton army machine is a proud success. The tractor was used to draw the county plow and roller, and it performed the task with such apparent ease that the commission announces that it will replace horses in opening the highways. Only two men are required to operate the equipment while a horse-drawn roller and plow need at least eight teams and as many teamsters.

Drawing the plow and roller, the caterpillar can attain a maximum speed of five miles an hour and when the mechanic is more familiar with the operation of the tractor it is believed that the gasoline consumption will be at the rate of three gallons to the mile. Various changes will be made from time to time, so by the first snowfall next winter, the huge engine will be even more serviceable. Among the improvements that have been made to convert it into a snow-fighting device is a bob sled which replaces the fore wheel. This solved the principal difficulty, enabling the machine to glide through the snow and increasing the speed.

The commission plans to erect a portable shelter, on a sleigh, for use in the remote parts of the county.

SAGITAW CASE
BEFORE STATE
COURT TODAY

The Michigan supreme court on Friday will hear the appeal of Adam Lambert, administrator of the estate of John Sagitaw, killed 160 years ago by a Soo Line passenger train. The case has been tried twice in Delta county. The first resulted in a disagreement and the second in a verdict of $6,500 for the plaintiff. Judge R. C. Flannigan set the verdict aside and H. C. Dotsch and T. J. Riley, attorneys for the plaintiff, appealed to the supreme court. The court will hear arguments Friday.

The suddenness and severity of last night's storm resulted in calling off the school board meeting which was to have been held and at which, it was believed, the all important question relative to a general raise in the salaries of teachers was to have been given consideration.

Friends of teachers have been extremely active during the last few days and a petition signed by a large number of business men was to have been presented, according to statements made yesterday. While the teachers were asking for a straight raise of $25 a month, there was a general feeling that this sum probably

WHO IS DELAYING?

While the treaty fight has been forced to take a back seat while the Democratic brethren attempt to conciliate among themselves, it is by no means a dead issue. The people of the United States as well as the people of the world heard from the Senate in no unmistakable terms that America is still for "America First" and the policies of the fathers. The Senate acted on the groundwork built by the loyal "39" who early in the game made plain that they would vote for no international covenant in which the rights of the United States came second to every spirit country on the globe. One man has refused consistently to abide by that decision. He rests to all intents and purposes, secure and aloof behind the closed doors of the White House. In the meantime his cohorts in the Senate have made feeble attempts to compromise. Some of them realize that the compromise must come from the side of the league supporters. The other side has made its compromise and stands pat upon a platform of nationalism.

An interesting sidelight upon this matter of "getting together" by the Democratic Senators who insist upon the league being incorporated in the treaty as it was carried from France under the President's arm, is the story of a confab held in Washington at the call of Senator Hoke Smith, of Georgia. The confab turned out to be a duet indulged in by Senators Smith and King. Senator Smith who has been inclined to accept the Lodge program, having voted on that basis, invited the Democratic Senators to his home for a conference at which he hoped to reach some basis for a compromise which would bring about early ratification of the treaty. But the only Senators to accept the invitation were Senators Chamberlain, Trammell and King and the only one of the trio to show up at the appointed hour was Senator King. Consequently, after a short chat on the matter no agreement could be made and the Senate convened with little prospect of a compromise. These Senators had sufficient time during the holiday period to get together and work out a plan. They failed to do so and the result is that the matter stands just where it stood after the vote was taken last month. Who is delaying the ratification?

LIVING CLOSER TOGETHER.

Social chasms are threatening. They are like the deep crevasses in the Alpine snow, which under the ascending sun let loose the avalanche. The line of separation dividing wealth and poverty is too wide and deep. Many generous people have bridged it with kindly deeds. The selfish and lavish luxury of others creates a dangerous break in the social fabric.

Much unrest is due to pure envy. The poor man sees the rich neighbor in his elegant limousine. If he has a bitter and resentful temperament, he may resolve to pull the rich man down and take possession of his cars and palaces in the name of the proletariat. Yet wealth may have earned these luxuries by superior efficiency in serving the public.

The various elements of society should live closer together and in more intimate relations. The rich man is not necessarily called on to give up his fine house and live in the tenements. But he should know from personal observation how his workers live, and do his best to obtain for them a higher standard of comfort.

Selfish expenditure widens the chasms. People who have been able to conduct a big business honestly and efficiently are entitled to an abundant life and living and possession of a comfortable fortune. If they devote their superfluity to philanthropies, or render it back to the public by giving their service at lower prices, they get more out of life and win deeper affection.

The money wasted by the rich spendthrift, if divided up among a factory of workers, would not amount to much for each individual. But the spirit displayed creates ill feeling. Those who have learned to make a generous return for opportunities society gives them, have placed both their business and the social structure on a sounder foundation.

AMERICAN DIET CHANGING.

Whether it is because of the increased cost of meat or because people's tastes have changed, the fact remains that Americans are eating 8 per cent less meat than they were 20 years ago. This is disclosed in a recent dietary survey made by the United States Department of Agriculture.

In this survey 2,000 dietary records, each covering a period of 7 days, were collected from 1,425 families and 575 institutions in 46 states. Sixteen nationalities and many occupations and incomes were represented, as were also both urban and rural localities.

From a summary of 509 of these family records it appears that last year the average cost of food per man per day was 46 cents, with an average return in food value of 3,225 calories, 96 grams protein, 118 grams fat, and 405 grams carbohydrate. These figures are in fairly close accord with the dietary standards ordinarily used in discussing such problems of general nutrition.

A comparison of the foodstuffs purchased by the 509 families with the amounts of the same food purchased by 400 families about 20 years ago shows that the amount of meat in the American diet has decreased about 8 per cent, and the amount of grain products about 11 per cent. People are eating more milk, butter, and cheese than they were two decades ago, for the amount of dairy products consumed has increased about 6 per cent. Four per cent more vegetables and 5 per cent more fruit is being eaten now.

Some individual food habits undoubtedly need to be corrected, but, judging by these studies, it seems fair to conclude that the average diet seems to be adequate.

WHAT DID HE SAY?

The Democratic press published in a prominent position the letter of President Wilson congratulating the striking miners upon their patriotism in calling off the strike after they had been idle nearly two months. Now won't those same papers publish in an equally prominent place what the President had to say in commendation of the patriotism of the men who stuck to their jobs and dug coal during all that time. Just what did the President say, anyway?

DAYS WHICH INSPIRE.

January 29th is the natal day of William McKinley, twenty-fifth President of these United States. Soldier and statesman, he typified and stood for Americanism at its very best. His administration signalized an era of national prosperity, unity, and constructive progress which people, without regard for party, recall with lofty pride. The memory of that era will ever be bright. His career cruelly terminated at the hands of an alien assassin, the lessons of his patriotic, Christian life are of enduring value. The birthday of the beloved McKinley should be made the occasion of an annual observance and celebration.

February 12th is Lincoln Day—the anniversary of the birth of the Great Emancipator, whose fame will live throughout the ages. The Republican party, at its birth, gave Abraham Lincoln to the nation and to the world. A union insoluble became his monument. His pre-eminent service to mankind is recognized and revered wherever history is known and read. A half century gone has added lustre to his name. No sectional lines are drawn in paying affectionate tribute to his greatness. Many states have fittingly set apart this date as a holiday. In these abnormal times it becomes doubly incumbent upon Americans to give heed to the precepts of the immortal Lincoln. His counsels have gained weight with the passing of the years. Let them be revived and reread on this his anniversary to strengthen the nation for the working out of its destiny.

TOOK SEVEN YEARS TO LEARN.

Woodrow Wilson, in 1912: "The Federal Government, under the constitution, has no right or power to impose or collect tariff duties except for the purpose of revenue."

Woodrow Wilson, in 1919: "In the matter of tariff legislation, I beg to call your attention to the statements contained in my last message urging legislation with reference to the establishment of the chemical and dyestuffs industry in America."

Marse Henri Watterson has been made a Colonel on the staff of Governor Morrow of Kentucky. Thus does patient worth again achieve a victory.

Japan is reported to be shipping arms into Mexico. What's the big idea? Jackrabbits or Americans?

Sugar prices are to be raised again. Ho hum!

It might be mentioned, in passing, that quite as much good citizenship is involved in shoveling the snow from your sidewalks these mornings, as in going to the polls on election day.

City Treasurer Mayou, having just completed his semi-annual tax collection, is thoroughly convinced that reports of unrest in the world are not without foundation.

No trouble yet reported in getting people to serve on juries which have to investigate personally whether beer is intoxicating.

The people who can't afford to subscribe to the home newspaper, will be cheered by the fact that the patent medicine almanacs for 1920 are now being delivered free.

Those fellows who seem to have been careless with their soft boiled eggs at breakfast, are seen on closer view to be merely wearing the latest colored neckwear.

AT THE THEATRES

At the Delft.
 Elsie Ferguson, the distinguished stage and screen star, comes to the Delft theatre today in a powerful Arctcraft drama of high society life in England, "A Society Exile." Miss Ferguson takes the part of Nora Shard, an American girl, who, besides being the heiress to millions, is also the authoress of a great novel. Nora is taken by an ambitious aunt to England. Here the aunt hopes to see her happily married, but the high-spirited girl refuses the worthless lord who aspires to her hand. She becomes closely acquainted with a Sir Howard Furnival, who wished to turn her novel into a play. The suitor she spurned arouses suspicions of Furnival's jealous wife against Nora.

After a tragedy has happened, Nora is forced to flee England. She takes up her residence in Venice, whence the brother of Lady Furnival followed her and fell in love with her.

At the Strand.
 This is the story of "Hell Roarin' Reform," starring Tom Mix, which shows at the Strand theatre today and tomorrow:
 Tarantula is about the toughest town, in point of population, that you could find in the country. Its neighbor, Elkburg, is so law-abiding that it only maintains a calaboose for the entertainment of visiting horse thieves and other undesirables.

One of the welcome visitors is Tim, played by Tom Mix, a cowboy whose platform is the square deal; but he breaks loose on frolics which have a tendency to distract the Elkburgers from their chief occupation—slumber. In order that they may get some sleep, during one of his visits, the Elkburg folk work a ruse and bestow on Tim the honor of carrying the Belgian Babies' Milk Fund to the post office, ninety-five miles away.

Along the trail he is held up by bandits who do not hesitate to take milk out of the mouths of babes, and they relieve him of the fund. They ride toward Tarantula—which has a sting like its well-known namesake—and Tim follows. On the way he meets a preacher who has been driven out of Tarantula by the bandits.

He determines to get the outlaws who rob babies and insult preachers, but is halted in his task when, on rounding a curve in the trail, he sees the bandits further down engaged in robbing the stage coach.

Yes, the man across the table and Warren G. Harding are from the same town. Both are in the newspaper business, and the man across the table has a better chance to be president.

Yes, those were good old days when a fellow could go out and get all the sugar he could pay for.

Now he can go out and hustle like the devil to pay for all the sugar he can get.

TALKING IT OVER WITH SADIE

BY IMOGENE

"WITH ALL THE BRAINS she's got," said Sadie, giggling to herself. "an' her experience vamin' the guys, your little Sadie thought she knew a married bird when she spotted one, but I guess she don't. Anyway she got one put over on her yesterday that she ain't gonna forget. Say, that baby got away with it better'n a kid an' a apple tree near the fence."

"He strolls in about noon, just when I feels that there ain't nothin' worse'n a poor workin' girl with her steady off her for life an' nothin' to live on for—honest ain't it fierce the dark blue feelin' in you cops onto just before feed time?—an' say, even your busted hearted, hard boiled Sadie loses a heart beat when she lamsps his lustrous brown glimmers."

"Me for you, abby," says I to myself, an' starts vamin' the boy like I was starvin' on a lonely street corner an' him the only meal ticket in sight. An' does he fall?"

"Say, by the time he gets through inquirin' about the boss an' givin' me a good line on what he wants an' that he's gona be in town for two weeks, he's got me thinkin' he'd swallow a wood min-now, if little Sadie was on the other end of the fish pole.

"He invites me out to lunch an' take it from this baby she ain't waitin' to be coaxed none, with the dirty looks I gets from the rest of the Janes that's givin' him the once over, an' by the time we hits the harmony house again the baby doll's rot me missin' a heart beat every five minutes, which is some record for a hard-boiled Jane, besides handin' me the big idea that he ain't a mile an' a half from bein' fussed hisself."

"Honest I just gets a happy feelin' that maybe Sadie's heart ain't no more'n badly bent, when in he breezes with a classy Jane that ain't far behind him when it comes to looks, an' he ain't givin' me time to say, 'Daddy, look,' when he brings her over an' says, 'Miss Sadie, I wants you to meet my wife.'

"Say, take it from your little Sadie, she hps some time keepin' her mouth from flyin' open right there, an' some sweet day when she ain't particular how she talks she's gona tell the world what she thinks of married guys that ain't actin' the part."

Gloria Swanson Married.
 Gloria Swanson, star of Cecil B. DeMille productions, including "Male and Female," and Herbert Sornborn were married recently in a private parlor of the Alexandria hotel, Los Angeles, the ceremony being performed by Judge Crawford of Los Angeles. The couple immediately left on a honeymoon trip to San Francisco and Santa Barbara. Miss Swanson, who under contract with Famous Players-Lasky, was formerly the wife of Wallace Beery.

"Marguerite De La Motte, who is playing the lead in a Metro feature, "The Hope," narrowly escaped death recently in an automobile accident in which her mother and father were both severely injured. The car in which they were driving collided with a South Hollywood street car and was dragged fifty feet. Mr. and Mrs. De La Motte both suffered fractures of the skull and were taken to the hospital. Miss De La Motte was sent to her home.

The Best Cough Medicine.

When a druggist finds that his customers all speak well of a certain preparation, he forms a good opinion of it, and when in need of such a medicine is almost certain to use it himself and in his family. This is why so many druggists use and recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. J. B. Jones, a well known druggist of Chubrun, Ky., says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family for the past seven years and have found it to be the best cough medicine I have ever known."

DINNER PAIL IS THING OF PAST

Cafeterias Are Replacing the Old Bucket in Steel District.

Pittsburgh, Jan. 13.—The dinner pail is passing from the mills and factories of the Pittsburgh district. Restaurants and cafeterias are taking its place in the more important plants because executives are beginning to realize that a hot, palatable meal makes the workman more contented and more valuable than the cold, indigestible food—packed away in a tin bucket.

In the Homestead mills of the Carnegie Steel company in Munhall, a few miles from Pittsburgh, more than 11,000 men are fed in the cafeterias every day, and the number is constantly growing. At the plant of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company in East Pittsburgh, also a suburb, 1,200 employees get their food in the company restaurant, and a new dining hall and modern kitchen is being erected. When it is completed, the company will be able to feed 3,000 of its workers at one time.

22 Cafeterias.
The American Sheet and Tin Plate company has 22 cafeterias in daily operation in its different plants. It was one of the pioneers in the movement.

In the Munhall works cooked meats and vegetables are kept hot in steam tables, and served as the men desire, or as the various shifts reach their lunch or dinner hour. Pies, cakes and coffee, in fact many desserts of which the workmen seem very fond, are also available at all hours, as well as tea and milk. The men who can thus buy a hot meal for 25 to 35 cents.

"Our employees are delighted with the meals served in the plant," said a woman representative of the Westinghouse company who is in close contact with the work. "They get better food for less money than they get at home, and they get it when they need it. We lose money by the arrangement, because we provide food at actual cost and give away the coffee, tea and milk. But it pays in the long run, for it satisfies everybody."

These workers' dining rooms, it was explained by one company superintendent, must not be confused with the dining rooms which have long been in service for office forces and officials of manufacturing concerns.

"Providing warm food for the 'white-collar' men was a luxury the shopmen never expected to attain," he said. "But now we are giving all our men who want it warm meals, and we are glad to do it. This plant will never go back to the dinner bucket system."

SOCIAL

Episcopal Church Dinner.

One of the most enthusiastic congregational meetings held by the membership of St. Stephen's Episcopal church was that of last evening in the Masonic Temple when reports of various committees were heard, the year's church work reviewed, the annual election of vestrymen held and matters pertaining to the church generally discussed. In addition to this there were social features which made the meeting one of the most enjoyable held since the advent of Archdeacon Wilder in this city.

The financial condition of the church is regarded as particularly gratifying. After paying off a good sized installment of the church indebtedness and all running expenses a balance remains in the treasury of approximately $1,500, which, considering the demands of the past few years, is regarded as a splendid showing.

The election of vestrymen resulted as follows: R. E. MacLean, W. R. Smith, W. J. Clark, Dr. C. M. Cuthbert, A. T. Hoffman, L. J. McMartin, C. H. Bisdee, Miles Thomas, F. H. Van Cleave, A. Ellsworth, D. A. Oliver and Dr. A. J. Carlson.

During the evening the ladies of the Guild served a dinner which was especially pleasant and enjoyable. Mrs. Frost and Mrs. Cuthbert reported for the Guild, Mrs. Gross and Mrs. Swartz for the Woman's Auxiliary, Samuel Stephenson for the Sunday School, L. J. McMartin for the vestry and W. R. Smith responded for the vestry on its re-election in a very fine and inspiring address.

Following adjournment of the business session proper, several hours were most pleasantly spent by the young people in dancing and other social diversions. The meeting was attended by about 125 members of the congregation.

Men's Clothes Prices Will Rise

Material Advances Predicted for Spring Raiment

(A Reprint from The Chicago Evening Post)

Men's clothes, like women's skirts, are going up again.

If you are asked to pay $50 or $60 for the same sort of suit which you once got for $25, don't grumble—you're going to pay more next spring. Take the word of Charles E. Wry, secretary of the National Association of Retail Clothiers, for it.

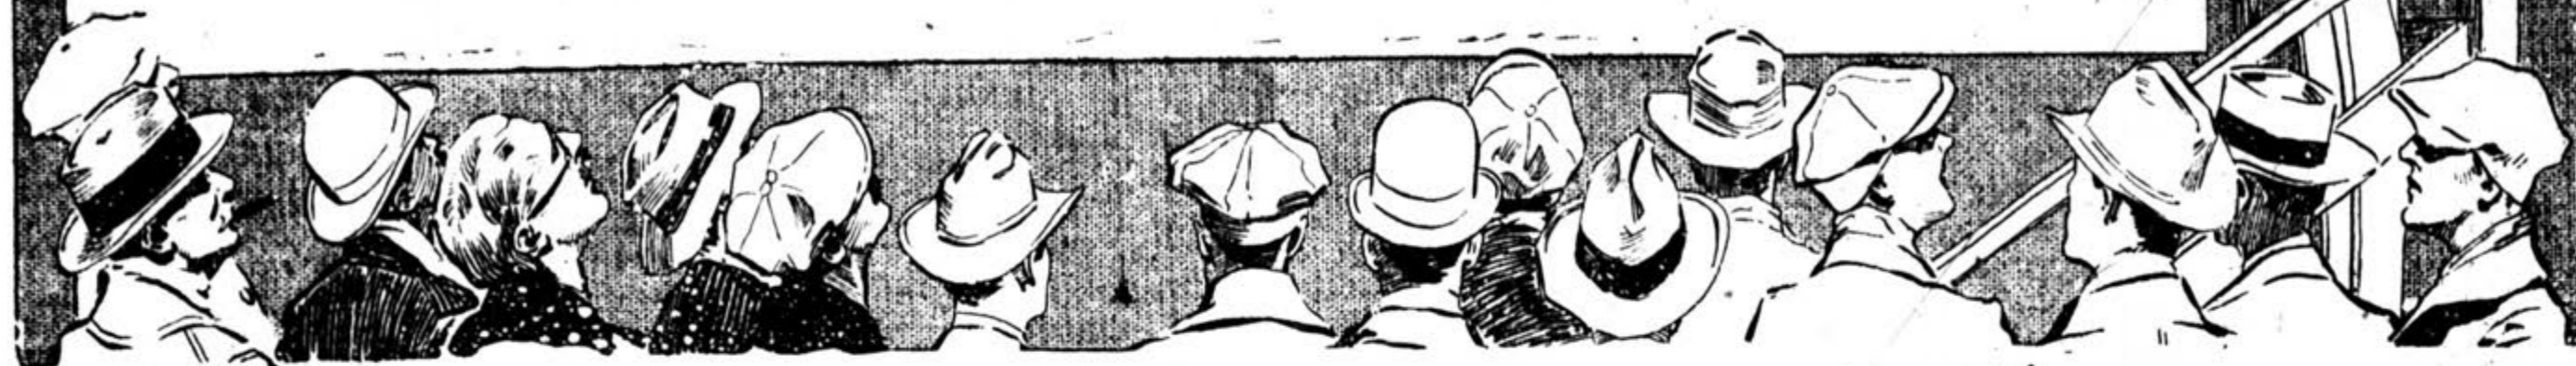

"Clothing prices," said Mr. Wry today, "will continue upward next spring. This is made certain by the prices at which retailers are now purchasing their spring stocks. Prices are so high, indeed, that no retailer can expect to make any profit. He will be lucky if he breaks even.

"The causes of the high prices lie beyond the control of the retail dealer. Among them are demoralization of the clothing industry incident to the army demands for uniforms during the war, greatly increased labor costs and shortage of labor, due to the stoppage of wholesale immigration.

"Piece workers in Chicago garment factories," Mr. Wry went on to explain, "are earning as high as $135 weekly. From one of the poorest paid industries, employing largely immigrant labor before the war, the needle trades have become among the best paid. Wage increases since 1914 average 175 per cent, while government reports fix the increase in the cost of living for the same period as 131 per cent.

"Our association is going to do all it can to combat the high cost of wearing apparel. We are preparing to hold further price advances down to a minimum, even at a sacrifice of our own profits. We shall take steps to assist Attorney General Palmer in his fight on profiteers."

Exercise Utmost Economy and Buy Your Clothing Now!

AT a conference of economic investigation embracing delegates from the various apparel industries and a committee appointed by the government, reported that there would be an increase averaging 35% in the cost of clothing for 1920. This was not due to any effort toward profiteering but because of the higher cost of fabrics and tailoring on account of under-production. This advance will be reflected in goods delivered for 1920 selling. For this reason we urge you to save on your clothing by supplying yourself now with such goods as we have remaining from our 1919 stock.

We have plenty 1919 clothes on hand to "dress up" all the men and young men in Escanaba and vicinity, and we're going to do it now! We're not going to consider 1919 prices either. Nor will we stop at 1918 but we are going to take you back to 1917.

The good old days when a young man could buy his "favorite Society Brand" suit for $20.00 to $25.00, or the older conservative man, who wanted something good in quality but a trifle cheaper in price, would pick out a Hart Schaffner & Marx all-wool for $18.00 to $20.00—yes, it's hard to believe but it's true. We're going to put on the greatest clothing slaughter in our history—not a so-called January clearance, but a real honest-to-goodness

WILLIAM FOX WANTS TO KEEP IT OVER HERE

Big Movie Magnate Should Have Had Some Help.

Of all the offers made for the Dempsey-Carpenter bout the one which appears to be the most deserving has received the least publicity. It is that of William Fox, the motion picture magnate, who does not desire to make a cent on the fight. He has offered $550,000 for the bout, $300,000 to Dempsey win, lose or draw and $125,000 cash to Carpenter with perhaps a like amount to indemnify the Franchman for loss of theatrical contracts which would have to be cancelled.

Not only is Fox guaranteeing the battlers, more than a half million dollars but would also give either boxer 35 per cent of any profits should he win and 15 per cent if he loses. The other 50 per cent of the profits would be turned over to the Red Cross of America, Canada, England, Australia and France.

Fox, who has never before interested himself in the promotion of boxing, declares that he makes this offer in the hope that the heavy-weight championship bout can be kept in this country. That he is not in it for profit and that his offer is genuine is indicated by the fact that he is willing to divide the profits between the boxers and the Red Cross.

Fox's offer far exceeds anything yet announced and is the greatest amount ever offered for a sporting event.

ARNOLD STATS, HOLY CROSS

MAY FIND REGULAR BIRTH WITH THE GIANTS—Arnold Stats, who performed so well last year as utility outfielder for the New York team, may earn a regular position this year. If no new third baseman is procured, Burns may play that position and Stats may be moved to fill Burns' berth in left field.

Ishpeming, Mich., Jan. 13.—Markets were quite weak this morning but before the closing they came back strong. Crucible Steel sold off nine points in the first few minutes of trading, but closed with a net loss of about one point. Mexican Petroleum, which has been heavy recently, closed with a net gain of eight points. The markets generally, showed a material improvement in the last hour. Short sellers have been receiving much encouragement during the past few days and it looks as if they have over extended themselves. Copper shares held firm throughout the day. The New York Metal Exchange is quoting 19 1/2 cents for Spot Copper, 19 5/8 bid for February delivery and 19 3/4 cents bid for March. It is generally conceded the metal situation has improved materially, although prices show only slight gains from the extreme lows recently made. Mohawk sold ex-dividend today. Shea Copper is in excellent demand. White Caps assessment of two cents is due Jan. 17th. We understand Gadsden is putting down two diamond drill holes from their 1100 level and likewise sinking a winze. Call Money rates were high again today, though this does not deter the investment buying of securities.

FIGHT CARD TO BE STAGED HERE FRIDAY, JAN. 30

Young Wallace Unable to Meet Ade Because of Injured Hand.

Matchmaker W. B. Firkus of the Delta Athletic Association announced yesterday that plans are now well under way for putting on another fine boxing card consisting of three bouts in this city Friday evening, Jan. 30.

A little disappointment was occasioned yesterday when it was learned that Young Wallace, of Menominee, who had been picked as the opponent of Matt Ade, of Milwaukee, would be unable to start here because of an injury to one of his hands. The Wallace-Ade match was to have been the headliner and friends of the Menominee boy believe he had the goods to give the Milwaukee favorite a hot battle, so there will be considerable disappointment because of Wallace's injury. However, it is possible that these two men can be brought together for a match here at some later date.

Dr. Firkus has not yet fully determined on who will be the selection to face Ade but he will get some man who is able to meet the Milwaukee men on even terms. He has several such fighters in view but will make no announcement until he closes with them definitely.

It was also stated that Larry Coughlan will also appear again but the deal for his opponent has not been closed at this time and no announcement will be made until everything is all set.

Local youngsters to meet. The two local boys, Charley Shimborg and Bob O'Donnell, will meet again. Both are eager for the match as both are more or less dissatisfied with the result of their last clash and both of them want conditions so that there will be no doubt as to which has the edge.

Fight fans are promised a fine card by Dr. Firkus, who stated yesterday that he wasn't going to sign up any one merely for the sake of putting on an exhibition. He wants real fighting done, and with that end in view is looking them over carefully before he makes a final decision on the men who will face Ade and Coughlan.

DEMPESEY NOT WELCOME IN NEW JERSEY

Trenton, Jan. 13.—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, and his manager, Jack Kearns, will not be permitted to participate in any boxing contests in the state of New Jersey, John S. Smith, president of the state athletic commission, stated today.

"Jack Dempsey is not good enough for New Jersey," he added. He supported the American Legion in calling Dempsey "a slacker," and compared the war record of Dempsey, who, he said, acted as a labor scout for a ship yard, with that of Carpenter, who risked his life in battle and won the highest honors.

Brands J. Dempsey 'Slacker' and Puts $25 on Carpenter

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 13.—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, was charged with having "apparently skulked in hiding from the draft board" during the late war, and Georges Carpentier, his French rival for championship honors, was made a life honorary member of the post, at a meeting of the El Paso Post of the American Legion held here last night. The local post also appropriated $25 to be wagered on Carpenter in his coming fight with Dempsey.

It is not too early to think about that "Old Faithful" HEMLOCK HOME MADE SILO

Some people build this Silo because it costs less. Some build it because they can get the stock at once right from regular lumber yard stock; some because it is one of the very best Silos in existence (many say the very best).

Anyhow, all these reasons together make it certainly worth investigating and we want to present you with a fine book on the subject, and later if you decide to build it, we will supply free the plans and full instructions for building and rot proofing. Let us hear from you.

JOHN KILBANE HAS A RECORD FOR QUITTING

Little Fellow Made Several Farewell Tours of Clubs.

Johnny Kilbane is as foolish as a fox. That accounts for the feather-weight champion, "retiring" since 1917 when he was knocked out by Benny Leonard, lightweight leader. Johnny won his title on points from Abe Attell in 20 rounds in 1912. From then on until 1917 he cleaned up everything in sight in his division so well that there was nothing for him to do but step out of his class. He stepped out too far, however, when he took on the champion of the lightweight division.

After being put to sleep by Leonard, Kilbane announced that he could retire from the ring. This at once brought out any number of saviors who were willing to accept the title. Seeing a lot of nice purses along the horizon Kilbane decided to postpone his retiring act for awhile.

Things were shaping up nicely for the champion when the war came on and the boxing game fell asper. Kilbane hid himself to a cantonment and became a boxing instructor for the soldiers.

The war brought out a lot of new seekers for Johnny's title and he again decided to play an extended "farewell" engagement. This has lasted since last fall with a "retirement" about once every fortnight.

Racing Men Reelect All Old Officers

Syracuse, Jan. 13.—The stewards of the grand circuits adopted a racing schedule today and granted Toledo's request for two weeks of racing. All officers were re-elected. They are: Ed. Devereaux, Cleveland, president; E. W. Swisher, Columbus, vice president, and W. H. Kinman, Cleveland, secretary.

In connection with the session, the Turfmen of America, an organization of newspapermen specializing in race news, was formed with T. E. Gahagan, of Detroit, as president.

PIN SMASHERS OF ESCANABA MAY BE SENT TO HANCOCK

Plan Is Meeting Much Favor Among Many Business Men.

Prospects for Escanaba having a fair representation at the upper peninsula bowling tournament to be held in Hancock next month seem to be growing brighter. The proposition to raise a small fund to defray a portion of the expenses of the men who are expected to go, is meeting with much favor in the few places it has been submitted and already about $75 has been pledged if the plan goes through. It means that Escanaba will send, during the ten days of the tournament, a contingent of about 30 bowlers to take part in the tournament and everyone of them will be there for the further purpose of pointing out Escanaba's splendid facilities for handling the tournament next year. Her hotel accommodations, the magnificent alleys here and the spirit of good fellowship that will be found, will be used as reasons for holding the next tournament in this city.

If the tournament can be handled means that approximately 30 bowlers from the upper peninsula will be in Escanaba during a period of ten days and if they receive the kind of treatment which they have a right to expect, they will be everlasting boosters for this city.

A. J. NEAULT IS GIVEN BOOST BY NORTHWESTERN

Popular Local Man Is Made Head of Reclaiming Dept.

A. J. Neault, who has been division storekeeper at this point for the C. & N. W. for a long period, was notified yesterday of a fine promotion, the only regrettable feature about which is that it will take him to Chicago. Mr. Neault has been given charge of the reclaiming department, something of an innovation with the road, which promises to develop into one of its most important posts.

He will leave for Chicago as soon as a relief man arrives here but for the present the Neault family will remain in Escanaba.

Mr. Neault has been one of the leading spirits in Knights of Columbus circles and he will be greatly missed there as well as among his associates in the railroad world.

The promotion comes as a reward for faithful and efficient service which Mr. Neault has rendered for many years and his friends are pleased to learn of his advancement although it means that he will have to leave the city.

Ladies Darken Your Gray Hair

Use Grandmother's Sage Tea and Sulphur Reclpe and Nobody will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her head took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Army Overcoats at a Mere Song

These coats have all been dyed blue or black and new plain buttons put on, making a snappy civilian coat. That Uncle Sam put the best of material as well as workmanship into the army overcoats he had made for his boys is fully well known by every man, woman and child the country over. A hundred men can buy this snappy, serviceable overcoat at $12.50 each, 50 men can buy it at $13.50 each, 25 men can buy it at $14.50 each. Are there enough men in this city willing to buy this overcoat so that we can get you the ridiculously low price of $12.50 for each?

PAY-DAY SAVING

The time to consider opening an account is not when the pay envelope has dwindled to nothingness.

Money spent is gone forever. The best way is to separate from the earnings that which it is practical to "put by"—and deposit it in a Savings Account in this institution.

Our officers recommend the adoption of the pay-day saving habit.

No Great Act of Heroism Required.

If some great act of heroism was necessary to protect a child from croup, no mother would hesitate to protect her offspring, but when it is only necessary to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and give it as soon as the first indication of croup appears, there are many who neglect it. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is within the reach of all and is prompt and effectual.
