FRANCE LEFT TO WORK OUT OWN DEVICES

AMERICAN ATTEMPT AT INTERVENTION TO BE LAST.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.

Washington, Jan. 12.—American, like Great Britain, has left France to her own devices.

Details of America's attempt at friendly intervention in the last four weeks were disclosed today.

Boyden Too Hasty.

First, Roland W. Boyden spoke without instructions from the department of state two days ago when he made his sensational speech at the meeting of the reparations commission pointing out that while France was legally right about Germany's having defaulted under the treaty, the fact was Germany had done the best she could.

"Incidentally the government revealed today that of the two conflicting versions of Mr. Boyden's speech, the one claiming that he had advocated a revision of the treaty of Versailles and the other stating that he urged a more liberal interpretation of the reparations clauses of the Versailles pact, the latter is the correct version."

Invasion Futile.

Second, the United States government pointed out to Premier Poincare the futility of an invasion of the Ruhr, arguing that the amount of coal to be gained was not to be compared with the damage that would be done in Germany where bitter feeling would be engendered and outside of Germany where world opinion would be ranged against the French.

Third, the cable dispatches from Paris today to the effect that Premier Poincare did not at any time regard the messages he was receiving from Secretary Hughes through Ambassador Jusserand as a formal "proposition" are somewhat misleading.

The American government made its suggestion that a committee of bankers and experts be formed to render advice on the amount of Germany's reparations and there was no doubt here of the purpose of the American government in making the proposal.

Nor was there any misunderstanding in France as to what the American suggestion was. If Premier Poincare chooses to say that the "proposition" was not a "proposition" and hence could be ignored, then American officials will not quibble over the meaning of words.

France knows America wanted to help and Premier Poincare sent Mr. Hughes several messages commenting on the various features of the plan. In fact, the American government even suggested that France could appropriate the idea and make it her own.

The French reply originally was that the appointment of a bankers commission meant that governments would surrender their power of decision to the newly created commission.

The United States countered with the view that it could be stipulated in advance that no government was bound to accept the commission's findings.

Then the French argued that the premiers conference in Paris on January 2nd would settle the matter.

The United States ventured the comment that the proposal should be seriously considered in the event the premiers conference should break up without an agreement.

Upper Peninsula Legislators Form Bloc at Lansing

LANSING, Jan. 12.—Fifteen Upper Peninsula members of the legislature have organized for united action during the session.

John Holland, of Gogebic county, is the chairman. The results will be organization of other groups in the legislature, some members believe. It is possible that the "farmers' club" will get together again and this might force concerted action by the group representing urban centers, dividing the legislature into three distinct "blocs."

There has been rumbling for several days of a contemplated reorganization of the "farmers' club" a group that held undisputed sway over legislative activities for nearly a score of years until disagreements between the grange and glenier organizations created a split in the ranks.

URGE LAWS TO SHIELD WOMEN

Washington, Jan. 12.—While speakers at today's sessions of the women's industrial conference generally agreed that special legislation was needed to safeguard women in industry, a difference of opinion was expressed as to whether it should take the form of protecting them or of limiting in certain respects their activities in factories.

Ridiculing the theory that welfare legislation for women aggravates social differences between the sexes, Miss Mary Gibson of Cleveland, declared that many women are forced to do home work before and after factory hours and consequently shorter hours and better working conditions were necessary for them.

Her solution of the problem was to make the case of each employed woman a special one to be decided upon its merits.

Miss Soproniska, P. Brockridge, assistant dean of women of the University of Chicago, discussing "women's wages," declared that mothers with young children must be kept out of industry, and that they must be supported out of their husbands' earnings.

Dr. R. A. Spaeth, of Johns Hopkins University, urging expulsion of mothers with small children, from industry, advocated better education among employed married women in birth control methods.

Official Reports On Memel Received

Washington, Jan. 12.—The first official report received from any of its representatives relative to the situation in the Memel region of east Prussia was made public today by the state department without comment.

House Passes Bill Fixing Officer Pay

Washington, Jan. 12.—The house today passed the independent officers' appropriation bill carrying $496,235,771, after an unsuccessful attempt by a number of Democratic members led by Reps. Jones and Black of Texas, and Davis of Tennessee, to cut down the shipping board items, particularly those relating to the employment of attorneys.

Mr. Davis sought unsuccessfully to have the bill recommitted with instructions for a provision which would prohibit the shipping board from "sending out propaganda" in favor of legislation.

American Transport to Look Like "Ark"

Coblenz, Jan. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—The American transport St. Mihiel, will look a good deal like Noah's ark when she sails from Antwerp with the last of the American forces in Germany if the officers and men are allowed to carry all the queer animals and merchandise they have accumulated in the idle and fabled hours of the last two years.

KLAN LEADERS SAID VICTIMS KNEW TOO MUCH

SKIPWITH, M'KOIN, AGAIN FIGURE IN TESTIMONY.

Bastrop, La., Jan. 12.—Will R. Norsworthy, Morehouse parish planter, testifying today in the open hearing in the investigation of masked band depredations in Morehouse and the slaying of W. Daniel and Thomas Richards, victims of a black hooded mob, credited Captain J. K. Skipwith leader of the parish organization of the Ku Klux Klan with having said Richards and Daniel "knew too much."

Norsworthy was testifying as to a conference he said was held with Skipwith in the latter's home at Vauze, Louisiana.

Norsworthy is a brother of J. T. Norsworthy, who testified that he was a former klansman, and "captain" of the Morehouse chapter of the Klan.

Not a Klansman Will Norsworthy declared he was not a klansman. He explained that his conference was to ascertain the authenticity of a report that he had been offered of agreeing to accept $1,500 to kill Skipwith and Dr. McKoin.

"Skipwith told me it was lucky for me that I had friends in this country," Norsworthy said.

"I asked him about the killing report. He said he had a letter that I had been hired by citizens of Mer Rouge to kill him and Dr. McKoin."

"Captain Skipwith said he had investigated and found the report untrue."

The witness continued that he had been informed by friends "that Dr. McKoin with two friends with guns were looking for me."

"Coco to Meet 'Cyclops'" The testimony of Norsworthy with a statement of Robert L. Dade and Kelly Hays that black masks were used by a Klan band on a march to the village of Stemple early last summer and the testimony of Joseph Davenport, Mer Rouge merchant were high lights of the day's proceedings.

Dade said Dr. McKoin was a member of the raiding party, McKoin, Dade said, was garbed in white. At an early hour tonight the attorney general's staff had fixed no date for the conference between Attorney General A. V. Coco, and Captain Skipwith, which was requested by the latter early today. It is probable that it will be held tomorrow.

Reports were current that Skipwith had made an open threat against the attorney general. Mr. Coco in a statement to the Associated Press absolutely denied that the report was true.

Turk Delegation Agrees on Dates

Lausanne, Jan. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—The Turkish delegation to the near east conference agreed today that all Greek males seized by the Ottoman army at the time of the Smyrna affair shall be liberated and sent to Greece immediately after signature of the peace treaty. Most of these able bodied Greeks at present are working in labor gangs in the interior of Anatolia. A general exchange of the Turk and Greek civil population—that is, Turks in Greece and Greeks in Turkey—probably will begin in May.

Efforts are being made outside the conference to find solutions for the questions of the Turkish tariff and distribution of the Ottoman debt.

Gun Registration Law Is Proposed

Lansing, Jan. 12.—A proposal that purchasers and owners of firearms be required to register with local and state authorities will probably be incorporated in the recodification of the state criminal laws to be presented to the legislature, it was announced today.

One Man Killed in Coal Mine Blast

Vincennes, Ind., Jan. 12.—One man is dead, one seriously injured and another is known to be entombed as a result of an explosion in American Coal Mine, No. 1, near here late today.

The explosion is believed to have been caused when a charge of explosives near a gas pocket ignited. The mine, which is said to be the largest bituminous coal producer in the world, is idle.

RUM RUNNERS SCATTER WHEN FLEET APPEARS

New Jersey Coast Swarms with Booze Crafts Hunting Shelter.

Highlands, N. J., Jan. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Government crafters were reported tonight by bootlegger's scouts to be keeping a sharp watch on waters off the Highlands and runners who last night were smuggling liquors ashore from a fleet massed off Ambrose Channel lightship declared a holiday.

Two Highland runners ventured out this afternoon and although they returned with small cargoes they asserted that the risk was too great as the Highlands were under close guard. They added, however, that rum runners from Long Island ports had visited the liquor fleet and had no trouble running their cargoes which hung over the sea.

Some of the rum fleet they declared, had disposed of their stock and departed.

Receiving this report, the local bootlegger's met at a supper in a boat house and voted to "lay low until the squalls over." The bootleggers sat on whisky cases and rested their backs against stacks of them.

State Unable to Pay County Road Building Aids

LANSING, Jan. 12.—Michigan is not in a position financially, to meet its obligation to pay county awards for road building by a property tax, Gov. Groesbeck told members of the state association of road commissioners and engineers, meeting with the state highway commission and members of the highway committee of the legislature today.

The amount of these awards, the governor said, would be between $7,900,000 and $8,000,000 by July 1, and it would be impossible to increase the property tax to raise that sum.

The governor declined to enter into any discussion of the gasoline tax as a means of raising money to carry out the road building program.

PACKERS FIGHT U. S. ACTIVITY

Washington, Jan. 12.—The packers brought their objections to methods used in the enforcement of the packers and stock yards act to Washington today and for more than three hours discussed them with the government officials charged with administration of the law.

Dissatisfied with the way in which government delves into the affairs of their establishments, which they are understood to feel oversteps the attempts of congress representatives of the packing industry brought their troubles to Secretary Wallace, of the department of agriculture, who is charged with administration of the act.

While neither the packers nor the government officials would discuss the conference, it is understood the latter was firm in their determination of going ahead along the lines they are now following.

Latin Peace Parley Nearing Conclusion

Washington, Jan. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—The Central American conference which met here Dec. 4, under the presidency of Secretary Hughes, has entered upon its final stages and is expected to complete its work within the coming week.

Working under the plan of subcommittees used during the arms conference, the delegates are reported to have agreed on all of the points submitted to them in the American invitation. A plenary session will be held next week to pass upon the reports of the subcommittee, although secondary points are yet to be settled, no opposition is expected to the tentative agreement.

Frady Dies Before Trial Is Opened

Chicago, Jan. 12.—Efforts of Miami, Fla. doctors to keep Edgar C. Frady, pioneer Chicago automobile man, alive long enough for him to go into court, where the state was prepared to demand the death penalty for the alleged slaying of his wife, failed today when Frady died in a Miami hospital.

Frady was charged with shooting Mrs. Dorothy Frady, sister of John R. Thompson, wealthy restaurant proprietor, at a resort hotel in the Florida city last February. Frady attempted to cut his throat with a safety razor and a pocket knife, but failed.

He eventually recovered from the wounds, but his health failed and two blood transfusions were made in an effort to keep him alive to face trial.

It will soon be next year, unless the calendar is wrong.

Hughes Offer Is Still Up To Allied Premiers

Washington, Jan. 12.—Secretary Hughes proposal for reference of the reparations problem to international financiers for recommendations based on purely economic consideration is regarded in Washington as still before the allied governments for acceptance or rejection.

In the opinion of administration officials it may yet offer a way to reconcile the conflicting views of Great Britain and France on the course to be followed.

A white house spokesman stated today that the government was not moving in any at this time and could not move unless the powers concerned showed a desire that it should do so.

It was added that the friendly purpose of the United States had been made plain to all concerned. Ultimately it is hoped that a way to be helpful would be opened by action of the French or British governments.

At the state department it was said that Secretary Hughes' suggestion stood unchanged, that nothing had been done by the government to withdraw the proposal. It was evident that officials did not believe that actual occupation of the Ruhr region by the French and Belgians had operated to prevent the carrying out of such a project as Mr. Hughes suggested if practical test of the French government for forcible collections did not come up to French hopes.

An authoritative interpretation of French governmental opinion obtained during the day is in line to some extent with this view. It was stated that there was no doubt in the event that occupation of the Ruhr failed to obtain the results French expert opinion had forecast, further conferences with Germany might be expected and probably would lead to such alterations in reparations schedules as experts had demonstrated to be necessary.

WOLF MENACES NORTH BORDER

New York, Jan. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Northern sections of the United States are threatened with the invasion by packs of hunger mad wolves from Canada and untold damage is likely as a result of attacks on sheep and cattle, Director W. T. Hornaday of the Bronx Zoo, said today after an intensive study of the alarming increase of gray timber wolves within the last few years.

Scores of packs are now roaming have among farm animals and are wiping out furred game in Ontario, while, recently, two Ontario mail carriers were attacked and killed near Lake Nipissing. The remains of a trapper and two Indians, devoured by wolves, also were found a few days ago by hunters.

The rapid increase in the number of gray, or timber wolves, according to Director Hornaday, is due to present low raw fur prices. Two years ago, he said, wolf skins brought from $20 to $50 in New York, while today prices range from $5 to $15.

Alaska Asks Aid.

Game animals are being rapidly exterminated by the wolves, his report showed. In Alaska, entire herds of Caribou have been annihilated and Wright Wenrick, game warden, has appealed to the department of agriculture to send trained killers to check the activities of the animals.

Director Hornaday declared there have been many instances where hunters and trappers were attacked and in occasional instances, killed, by roving wolf packs.

M. N. Smith Heads Escanaba National

M. N. Smith, cashier of the Escanaba National Bank since its organization as a national bank, was yesterday elected as president of that bank to succeed the late J. C. Kirkpatrick.

Mr. Smith was elected at the annual meeting of the directors of that bank yesterday and his promotion to the presidency was followed by promotions for three other employees of the bank. John K. Stack, Jr. was elected as vice president, James M. Schmitt, cashier, and E. L. Moersch, assistant cashier.

U. S. May Enter In Treaty Labor Board

Washington, Jan. 12.—Announcement that the chamber of commerce of the United States is considering the advisability of participating in the international labor office, set up under the treaty of Versailles was made here tonight by Julius Barnes, the chamber's president.

Speaking at a dinner given by him in honor of Albert Thomas, director of the international office, Mr. Barnes declared that such a participation would be based on the idea of "leveling up" foreign industrial standards rather than "leveling down our own."

DEBT FUNDERS NEAR TALK ON PAYMENT TERMS

Washington, Jan. 12.—Conversations between the American and British debt commissioners progressed today to a point where it is believed the matter of the terms of the settlement of Great Britain's debt of more than $4,000,000,000 can be approached at the next session on Monday.

An agreement in principle, at least still is forecast before the end of next week at which time the British commissioners plan to depart for London.

Much Progress Made. An official spokesman for the commission declared after today's session that the general situation had been very thoroughly explored and that a great deal of progress had been made in clearing up many points essential to a general assessment of the whole problem.

It was emphasized that the task of arranging the payment of such a stupendous sum was not an easy one and that particular care to be taken that the settlement finally made would not recreate serious fluctuations in exchange of international trade.

In the negotiations thus far, considerable attention has been given to the form of payment of the principal of the debt and it was indicated that an annual installment plan had been uppermost in the conversation on this particular point.

No Terms Tracked. Whether there will be a deferment of the yearly payment on account of principal until Great Britain has more fully recovered from the industrial depression which she now finds herself remains to be determined.

While the terms are yet to be discussed, there were increasing indications today that the settlement agreed upon would be well within the limitations fixed by congress, certainly so far as the time of payment of the principal was concerned.

FRENCH ACTION CALLED BREACH OF PEACE PACT

Berlin, Jan. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Replies to the Franco-Belgian communication notifying Germany of the impending occupation of the Ruhr, the government today handed identical notes to the French ambassador and the Belgian minister declaring the decision of the reparations commission and the stipulation of the Versailles treaty mentioned in the communication contained no legal basis for action in the Ruhr regions, which is described in the note as a violation of international law and of the Versailles treaty.

Arguing that the default in the Ruhr and coal only justified the demand for cash payments, the German reply includes: "So long as this situation exists and its actual consequences are not removed Germany cannot fulfill her obligations toward the powers which brought this about."

GELSENKIRCHEN TAKEN. Essen, Jan. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Gelsenkirchen, three miles northwest of Essen, and in the second zone of occupation, was taken over by the French today.

BACK CUNO REGIME. Berlin, Jan. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—The conference of premiers of the federal states here today unanimously approved the central government's attitude of reparations and occupation of the Ruhr.

Dr. von Kulling, premier of Bavaria, said the Bavarian people were ready to support the central government to the last against the "insult and repudiation of France and declared unity of the states was essential to the solution of the difficulties."

HERRIN TRIAL NEARING CLOSE

Marion, Ill., Jan. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Twenty nine impeachment witnesses the largest number heard any day since the opening of the Herrin riot trial were put on the stand by the defense today in the hope that it would be able to rest its case before the court adjourned over Saturday and Sunday.

At the close of the session, however, the defense counsel announced that they still had a score of witnesses to be called as would not be able to complete the presentation of their evidence until Monday, when the state is prepared to begin its rebuttal.

Angus W. Kerr, chief counsel for the defense, also announced that he would be ready to proceed with the next case growing out of the riots, the trial of 18 men, including the five defendants in the present case, charged with the murder of John Shoemaker, one of the 20 non-union men slain during the outbreak, immediately after this trial ends.

Increase Marriage License Fee, Plan

Lansing, Jan. 12.—Dan Cupid is the latest victim of searchers for revenue sources in Michigan, it was learned today. A bill is prepared to increase the state's license fee to $1, half of which would go into the general fund of the support of bureau of vital statistics. Rumor has it that Alex J. Groesbeck, Michigan's bachelor governor, suggested the levy against cupid's industry. It would yield about $55,000 annually.

Waco, Texas, Jan. 12.—Texas rangers here late today arrested Horace Boucher, Bernard Boucher and Miss Naomi Boucher this afternoon on complaints filed by L. A. Skipworth and Ranger Captain R. D. Shumate, charging the three with the murder of his son, Grady Skipworth, at Lovell's Leap here Nov. 20. They have not yet been placed in the McLennan county jail and local peace officers say they do not know where the rangers have taken them.

UNUSUAL FEAT

The name of the Maritza, the river which appears likely to form the boundary of Thrace, is associated with one of the most unusual feats of arms in modern history. In 1885 Bulgaria, under Prince Alexander, found herself unexpectedly at war with Serbia, and sadly short of ammunition. Most of the fighting in the three days' battle of Slivnitsa had to be effected by bayonet charges, and to stimulate the troops the Bulgarian bands came into action, playing the national air "Djumi-Maritza." The charges were irresistible. This was almost the last instance of bands playing troops into action.

"FATTY" NEVER BANNED; HENCE NOT RETURNED

Public Has Misconception of Comedian's Status.

BY JAMES W. DEAN.

New York.—What's all the fuss about Fatty Arbuckle, anyway? Arbuckle never was banned from the screen by Will Hays. Will Hays has not restored him to the screen.

The day after Arbuckle was acquitted nine months ago, Hays advised against the immediate release of three pictures that the comedian had completed before his trial.

This was generally interpreted as a complete ban against Arbuckle, that Hays was acting as a dictator of the films. Arbuckle could not find employment with established producers. He refused to work for "wildcat" concerns that would have paid him a large salary to make pictures that could have been exploited on the notoriety of his trial.

May Appear Later.

When Hays visited Hollywood in December he saw the extreme to which film men had gone in following his advice. Arbuckle could get employment of no kind in the industry. Then Hays said that, as an individual, he did not want to stand in the way of Arbuckle going to work. This statement was interpreted as a "reinstatement" of Arbuckle.

Arbuckle has gone to work for Joseph Schenck, his former employer. He is not starring in pictures. He may later appear in pictures.

Any "dictatorship" of the movies is an artificial position. The motion picture is one of the leading industries of the country. It depends on its relation with the public for its success. The only dictatorship of the movies is public opinion.

There are 20,000 people employed in the making of pictures. They can not be ruled over as subjects of a kingdom or cardroom. They are artisans and artists pursuing their chosen vocations with the usual conditions that prevail between employer and employee.

Not Dictator.

No one man, regardless of his position or of his employers, can tell those 20,000 or any one of them when they can work and when they can not. If he had that power, his position would be out of keeping with all ideals of American government. Hays is an adviser, not a dictator. I have talked with him at some length and I know that the above statements reflect his attitude and sentiments.

You know, and I know, and Will Hays knows, that the only thing that will restore Arbuckle to the screen or keep him off it, will be public opinion.

REASON FOR THE AGITATION

"Either my eyes are acting funny or else there's something powerful, wrong with yore house," said an acquaintance who had halted in the big road to stare at the Johnson domicile. "I reckon it must be my eyesight, but the doggone house 'pears to be shaking and shivering like it was going to tumble down."

"Aw, I reckon likely my 14 children happen to have took a notion to scratch their chiggers at the same—p-tu—time," replied Gap Johnson, of Rumpus Ridge, Ark., who was hanging over his own front fence, hooked on by the elbows.—Kansas City Star.

SNOWPLOWS IN ACTION FRIDAY; WALKS CLEARED

For the first time this winter, Escanaba sidewalks were cleared of snow yesterday by means of plows. An attempt was made Thursday to use the plows, but it was found that they would not "track," so they were taken back to the warehouse and handles placed on them. Yesterday morning they were tried again, with better results. Hoses were used as the motive power, with the exception of a Fordson tractor, which was tried out. The sidewalk plows were not pulled at all for the tractor, which was then attached to one of the road plows.

This tractor was one designed especially for use in snow, and fitted with "Gridiron Grip" wheels. On the first attempt, the ring to which the chain was attached was pulled out of the front of the snow-plow. This was repaired, and another trial made. The tractor pulled the plow down Lake Shore drive, where the snow on the street was the deepest of any place in the city, and also made a path down several other streets.

The plows themselves are made of two-inch planks, with proper cross-bracing. They were assembled some weeks ago, in anticipation of the next big storm, and had been stored in the substation. There are three sidewalk plows, making a five-foot path, and two road plows with a width of eight feet.

Ice Rink Attracts Crowds of Skaters

Popularity of the Legion ice rink at the Fair Grounds is increasing daily, and with an excellent program of speed events in the process of development, it is expected to continue to build up favor among the ice skating fans of the city. Among the skaters daily are many men and women who have not tried their skill on the ice for many years.

Army and Navy Club Entertains Skinner

The Escanaba Army and Navy club held the first meeting since its organization in the form of a luncheon at the Ludington hotel last evening, in honor of Major F. S. Skinner, district engineer, and D. B. Tompkins, his assistant. Ten attended, including the guests and the honorary members of the club, the Rev. Fr. Jacques, and A. J. Young. Informal talks on national defense were given.

RETAILERS RUSH LUMBER ORDERS

Demand for lumber is rapidly gathering momentum, now that the new year has got under way, and the market is featured by increasing strength, says the American Lumberman, Chicago. Retailers are hurrying into the market to cover their spring needs, which they expect to be heavy. Architects throughout the country report an enormous amount of home planning and contractors look for great activity in the building line next season. This excellent outlook is met in most cities and towns, and also in the rural districts as a result of the improved agricultural situation. The lumber retailers therefore have good reason for their sanguine expectations, and are buying on a scale that is quite unusual for this early in the year and are sending out sizable inquiries. The generally depleted stock conditions meanwhile render it increasingly difficult to place orders. Practically no Douglas fir or other West Coast woods are being offered for rail delivery. Western and northern pine and hemlock mills are far oversold, and current business in the Middle West is largely confined to southern pine.

Demand in New England and throughout the Atlantic seaboard is very strong and quickly absorbs everything offered. West Coast producers have found these eastern markets for cargo shipments so attractive that they are concentrating on them and gradually abandoning their formerly important rail trade. Besides, they have a huge local and California demand to satisfy, as well as growing export requirements. There is no sign of any of these markets approaching the saturation point, which makes it certain that the middle West will have to turn elsewhere for most of its lumber. This will naturally be the southern pine mills; and they have no abundant supply. These circumstances will undoubtedly lead to an unprecedentedly strong lumber market.

The call for industrial lumber meanwhile is expanding, and factory consumers are encountering just as great difficulties as the retailers in securing their requirements. Shop lumber is scarce everywhere. Hardwood stocks are low and are being steadily reduced. Even lower grades for box and carting purposes are becoming hard to obtain. Railroads and car builders are heavily on the market and are largely responsible for the general shortage of upper grades and heavy construction items. Exports are increasing, reflecting improved conditions in many of the foreign consuming markets.

Prices on all woods show a strong upward tendency, and a number of advances have been recorded since the first of the year.

from what the critics call a policy of "isolation" when it offered a concrete plan to settle the European reparations problem but that it could not assume the role of dictator and compel France to accept America's proposal. Great Britain found she couldn't make France accept her reparations plan either. She retired gracefully. So has America. Both are watching the effect of the French experiment, hoping on the one hand that it will clear the air and make the French see the British and American viewpoints from a different angle and hoping also that no complications will occur inside Germany to upset the government there or the populace and incite sabotage or bolshevism.

As for the withdrawal of the American troops from the Rhine, officials of the American government were given another opportunity today to explain publicly the significance of the move but it was deemed wiser to remain silent. European press dispatches were brought to the attention of officials with the comment that Paris, London, and Berlin interpreted the move differently, one view being that American forces were withdrawn for fear of friction with the other troops passing through the American-area of occupation and the other that a protest was intended against French disregard of America's friendly warnings about the unwisdom of invading the Ruhr.

Officials chose to let the public believe that both lines of reasoning contributed to the final decision which was unanimous throughout the government. Considering all the circumstances, it was determined that America's troops should not remain in Europe. That's all that will be said officially but every disclosure since the policy was first announced tends to confirm the original inference that America wanted her action to be construed as her protest against the use of force to collect a debt. Her traditional policy has been that for many years. Elihu Root espoused it in connection with the famous

MAJOR SKINNER HEARS REASONS FOR "BREAKER"

Arguments Presented at Hearing by Harris and Others.

Before Major F. S. Skinner, district United States engineer and his assistant, D. E. Tomkins, Escanaba yesterday presented its formal appeal for the construction by the government of a breakwater in Escanaba harbor. Escanaba's plea was presented by City Manager Fred R. Harris, who filed a formal brief, embodying Escanaba's claims for recognition and supplemented that brief with an oral statement of this city's harbor problems. Manager Harris was assisted in presenting Escanaba's claims by O. I. Bauden, secretary of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, J. B. Moran and Capt. Daniel Seavey, all of whom spoke briefly before the engineers. It was the original theory of the Escanaba committee that a breakwater should be constructed eastward from Sand Point to a point opposite the north end of the proposed municipal dock.

Inspection Made

Following the hearing and an inspection of the site it was suggested by the engineers that greater efficiency would be accomplished in the construction of a combined dock and breakwater as a continuation of the present Merchant's dock. Both by brief and oral statements it was shown that lake carriers of package freight would reestablish Escanaba on their schedules if a proper dock should be established and maintained at this port. It was further shown to the engineers that because of spring ice shoves and the tremendous sweep of the sea from the north, it would be impossible for the city to maintain a dock on the north shore, without breakwater protection. The necessity for shelter for all craft was shown in the fact that farmers of the Bay de Noc and Garden and Fairbanks peninsulas are largely dependent upon water transportation for the marketing of their crops and a dock at which farmers can land their crops cannot be provided until a suitable breakwater is constructed. Following is the formal brief filed with the engineers yesterday.

"F. S. Skinner, Major Corps of Engineers, District Engineer, Dear Sir: The City of Escanaba, located on one of the best harbors on the Great Lakes and destined sooner or later to become a seaport, was a few months ago without a water front. All available frontage, until then, was owned by private interests. Recently the city purchased a very desirable piece of water frontage, contemplating the construction of a municipal dock.

"Steamboat lines have almost discontinued service to Escanaba because of the lack of safe and convenient harbor and dockage facilities. One boat per week which landed in Escanaba last summer had to land at a dock owned by the C. & N. W. R. R. Company, which arrangement did not permit the handling of package freight. Steamboat lines have already offered us the possibility of greatly improved boat service provided adequate harbor and dockage facilities are provided.

"Rich Farming District "Rich farming districts on the Stonington and Garden peninsulas and several islands lying in Green Bay lie within a few miles of Escanaba by water. To get to Escanaba by road from these districts is entirely impracticable due to the necessity of traveling a very round about route covering a distance of from 40 to 60 miles. There are at present no adequate harbor and dockage facilities for small craft which could profitably ply between Escanaba and these points.

"To enable Escanaba to take advantage of these opportunities which lie at her door, it is essential that safe dockage facilities be provided for large boats and also that dockage and well protected harbor facilities be provided for small craft.

Repair of Old Dock

"First: To provide dockage for large boats from the City of Escanaba is now contemplating the repair of an old dock which although badly dilapidated has been almost totally wrecked by ice shoves during the past few years. Every few years this dock has been damaged greatly by such ice shoves, the ice sometimes piling to a height of 30 feet or more on top of the dock. The City of Escanaba hesitates to spend annually large sums of money on docks, knowing from past experience that the same ice certain to be greatly damaged by the elements. The City of Escanaba feels that inasmuch as the government has never spent one cent of money on the Escanaba harbor, it is well within its province to provide the City of Escanaba some protection for dockage erected at great expense to itself.

Protecting Small Craft

"Second, Small craft have no protected harbor in which to lie at present. Protected water frontage is now in the hands of large private interests from which the city cannot buy. The only available frontage which has recently been acquired by the city is frequently subject to heavy seas from the north, too great for small craft to withstand. The government lighthouse property abutting this property is also subject to these seas and because of the constantly receding shore line the boat-house belonging thereto has had to be moved several times within the past few years.

Additional Factories

"There are also additional factors which might well be taken into consideration by the government in contemplating improvement of the Escanaba harbor. At present government boats coming to Escanaba with lighthouse supplies and for inspection purposes can land only at a dock privately owned by the C. & N. W. R. R. Co., which is some distance from the government lighthouse.

"As stated above the action of the currents from the north has caused the shore line of the lighthouse property to recede and a corresponding deposit of sand at the side of the old dock, the rebuilding of which the City of Escanaba now contemplates. This necessitates dredging in order to maintain a channel of sufficient depth for large boats.

"The policy of the United States congress to encourage the im-

WATER EXTRA STRONG? CALL CITY OFFICES

If any Escanaba citizen finds this morning that the taste in the drinking water is especially noticeable, he, or she, is requested to notify the city hall at once, so that a sample from the house tap may be obtained for comparison with the samples being taken from the bar at different points by E. F. Badger, engineer for the state health department.

Mr. Badger probably will remain here for two or three days more, completing his investigations. The samples he has taken, it is expected, will be brought to Lansing for analysis, and a detailed report sent to the Escanaba authorities.

For several days, the taste had not been so noticeable as when the ice first formed, but Thursday and yesterday it came back strong. Changes in the bay currents, probably due to the wind, are believed responsible.

ABOUT $1,600 IN PENALTIES TO BE IMPOSED

Something like $1,600 will be collected in tax penalties at the city clerk's office, judging by the total of tax payments that failed to get in under the January 19 deadline. Clerk Carl E. Anderson is just figuring up his collections of the last few days, and announces that the amount which will be subject to the four percent penalty is approximately $42,000. The net levy of state, county and school taxes is $259,512.48. Of this amount, approximately $177,000 has been paid into the clerk's office since collections started in December, and about $40,000 has come in by mail, leaving a balance, in round numbers, of $42,000. This is about the average yearly amount subjected to penalty, Mr. Anderson declares.

Ashes Can't Block Driveways, Warning

Emptying of ashes in the driveways of streets and alleys must stop, Chief of Police Tolon warns householders. Within the last few days, much trouble has been experienced by drivers of sleighs and even automobiles, because of the presence of ash-piles in the driveways.

Such a practice is an abuse of the opportunities presented by the city collection service, the chief declares, and announces that prosecutions will follow if the indiscriminate dumping of ashes is not stopped.

HERE COMES A DERBY!

GOVERNOR SAYS BAIRD ORDER A GRAVE MISTAKE

Wrong Interpretation Led to Criticism of Department.

E. C. Voght, president of the Northern Michigan Sportsmen's Association and newly elected president of the Congress of Michigan Game Associations, will return to Escanaba today carrying the personal word of Gov. A. J. Groesbeck, given at a conference held at Lansing this week, that letters recently sent out by the department of conservation to game wardens were mistakenly interpreted as instructing wardens to cease their efforts in game law enforcement and devote their time to trapping predatory animals.

Explains Letters to Wardens. The governor admitted that the letters were a mistake, because they did not make clear the real intent of Mr. Baird's instructions.

The following day, January 4, in Flint, was held the convention of the Michigan Congress, and its sessions were very harmonious and entirely satisfactory to the representatives of the upper peninsula.

The governor asked that the Game Congress committee continue to serve and that it go to Lansing for conferences with him at any time to adjust differences of opinion on matters concerning game and fish conservation.

As a result of this conference with the governor and the department of conservation heads, which was held January 8, the day before the Game Congress meeting at Flint, the Congress, upon recommendation of its committee, voted to continue their loyal support of the governor and the department of conservation, believing that full co-operation will be given in Lansing to sportsmen's organizations.

This conference was very gratifying to the sportsmen. The governor expressed, in most cordial terms, his desire to co-operate with organized sportsmen through out the state, saying that this was the first representative committee of its kind which had come to him, that in the last legislature he had advocated personally the angler's license, but that it had failed for lack of representative and organized support.

men expressed the points of criticism which they had to make of the department, and they were discussed in a frank and friendly manner. The governor, for example, with regard to the recent letter to wardens, stated that the language used had not expressed the real purpose of the department, which was not to require wardens to relax in the slightest their patrol duties, but to give them their spare time in winter to useful work in connection with the control of predatory animals.

The governor then asked a personal favor to himself that this committee from the Michigan Game Congress continue with him in the department for the purpose of adjusting any differences of opinion or possible criticisms which should be taken care of.

He proposed that the committee frame a definite and concrete program for presentation to the legislature, after which he would undertake to call a joint meeting of the game committees from the two houses, at which time the committees could present its program in person for the consideration of the legislature.

The result was that the committee upon leaving Lansing felt that the organized sportsmen of the state should continue to co-operate with support the governor and his department, and that an opportunity would be open to them at all times to take up in a regular and formal way any differences of opinion that they might have as to the policies of the department.

been subjected to abuse and fraud particularly in that part of the upper peninsula located at the junction of Ontonagon, Baraga, Gogebic and Iron counties. It was voted, at the close of this discussion, to table any action with regard to the merits of the present system.

In order to completely stop the possible shooting of quail, it was voted to recommend the placing of quail on the list of protected birds. It was also voted to change the bass season so as to close on January 1 instead of March 1, as heretofore. In order to prevent the waste resulting from the so-called camp deer, it was voted to recommend that permission be granted to transport such unused portions to the residence of the hunter provided the license tag be attached and sealed upon the unused portion.

In order to make the department of conservation more effective it was voted to recommend that the governor appoint the commission and that they be empowered to employ the director and other employees so that the latter would be directly responsible to the commission.

This closed the executive meetings of the Michigan Congress and the sessions terminated without the expression of any hostility to the governor or the department other than suggestions as to changes of policy which it was thought would be helpful, and it was the sense of the meetings that the attitude of the organized sportsmen should continue to be one of friendly co-operation with the department.

In the evening, was held the annual banquet of the Genesee County Sportsmen's association, at which the delegates of the Michigan Game Congress were guests of honor, and this banquet developed into a bitter attack by the Genesee county sportsmen upon Mr. Baird, director of conservation department, and Mr. Lott, its secretary. The toastmaster was James Oliver Curwood, famous novelist, of Owosso, who has been engaged in a bitter fight with Mr. Baird for some months. Mr. Baird and Mr. Lott were present in person and the latter read an elaborate paper outlining the policies of the department, reviewing their activities for the past year, and offering the defense of the department to the criticisms which Mr. Curwood and others had been making against it.

Mr. Curwood was seconded in his attack on Mr. Baird by Orin A. DeMoss, of Detroit, and a lively controversy ensued between him and Mr. Baird over the fact that DeMoss is out on bail charged with having purchased a deer to which his license tag was attached. Mr. Baird also announced that he had a letter in his possession saying that De Moss had attempted to purchase partridge, the truth of which was admitted by De Moss, with the explanation that although formerly a violator, his interest in conservation matters had caused him entirely to change his ways.

Feeling Sharp at Banquet. The banquet of the Genesee county sportsmen came to a close with a sharp clash of feeling between those who were followers of Mr. Curwood and those who felt that felt that Mr. Baird and Mr. Lott, who were guests of honor, had not been accorded the courtesy of treatment to which they were entitled from sportsmen. It was the feeling of the new officers of the Michigan Game Congress and of the sportsmen who attended from the upper peninsula, that regardless of whether the department has committed mistakes and subjected itself to fair criticism, that the attack of Mr. Curwood at the banquet, at which he was toastmaster, and at which the department officials were guests, exceeded the bounds of courtesy and did not represent officially or unofficially the feelings of the representative sportsmen throughout the state.

Some Christmas you will see smoking jackets listed as gifts for girls.

Who Are These Movie Actors?

THESE THREE PICTURES are composites of the features of three well known movie actors. In the above picture the forehead and cap are those of a famous wild west hero. The eyes and nose are of a man noted for his acrobatic skill. The mouth and chin belong to a chap who has given you many laughs.

IN THIS COMPOSITE you have the forehead of the husband of a famous movie star. The eyes and nose belong to a man who has been divorced from a woman who appears now and then in pictures and vaudeville. The mouth and chin have quivered over recent domestic infelicity.

THIS COMPOSITE CONTAINS one extremity of a hero who is noted for his others. The eyes and nose are those of a sad new papa. The mouth and chin are of one whose son was born before he entered pictures.

Market Reports

NEW YORK STOCKS.

New York, Jan. 12.—Pool operations in special stocks induced by the huge sums of money available for loaning purposes at low rates again furnished the basis for most of the gains in today's stock market.

Except for some scattered buying in the rubber, motor, and oil groups, the standard shares generally moved irregularly within narrow limits.

The apparently peaceful effect of the French invasion of the Ruhr served to lessen the restraint to which the market has been subjected since the failure of the recent premier's conference to reach a reparations agreement. Public interest in the market has increased but the volume of this outside trading is still a relatively negligible factor.

Sales were 1,052,000 shares.

Little Girls Are Safe With Aunt In California

Many friends of the little daughters of the late Mrs. Laura Fredrickson, whose tragic death occurred shortly before Christmas, when her garments became ignited from a wood stove at her home, south 10th street, causing her to be burnt severely about the face and body, her death following a few hours later, will be pleased to hear that the two girls arrived in San Francisco, California, safely and are now comfortably settled at the home of their aunt, Mrs. R. A. Patrick.

Previous to their departure from this city a subscription was taken up among the various generous individuals of this city and a neat sum was collected in this manner. The little girls were dressed from head to heels and were given transportation and all the best care that money could purchase was given them. They were then started on their long journey to the coast under the care of the C. & N. W. Ry. officials.

The balance of the money was forwarded to the aunt, who in appreciation has sent a letter to the friends in this city who so kindly assisted the girls who were motherless and whose father had been dead eleven years.

As there were so many persons in this city interested in the little girls' welfare, we deemed it advisable to publish the letter which was received Thursday by the sponsors of the kind deeds done the girls who were at the mercy of strangers but who fared unusually well having been cared for by true friends.

San Francisco, Cal. Jan. 2nd, 1923. Escanaba, Mich.

Dear Sir: I thank you many times for your kind letter and all the trouble and time you have taken on account of the children. They speak very highly of you and of all the friends. I received the check and was surprised on account of not expecting anything. I intend to place the money in the bank for the children's very own since it comes from their mother and friends. That is my desire. They are indeed very sweet girls, Mary is under the doctor's care for her nose, throat and teeth and I am sure she will be quite relieved when he will have finished.

They had a pleasant trip and every one was more than kind to them on the way over. They were dressed as neat as could be and we are more than happy to have their sweet presence with us. The people were so kind on the train they had hardly spent any money. They had nearly all of the money which you gave them to spend on the trip when they arrived.

The girls are very happy to be here. We have no snow and the weather is just right. Thank you again and wishing you a most prosperous New Year-I am, Truly yours, MRS. R. A. PATRICK. P. S. The girls arrived Saturday, Dec. 23rd and were taken care of by the Travelers Aid Society until they located us. They are happy to be here.

WO FARM LOAN ASSOCIATIONS END BIG YEAR

Large Volume of Business Transacted; Dividends Declared.

A surprisingly large volume of business was done by the two national farm loan associations in Inwood-Thompson county during the year, according to statements of the secretary-treasurer following the recent annual meetings. In each of the associations new loans were negotiated during the past year for a total of $50,000, or a total of about $100,000 in a county. Each association has declared a six percent dividend to stockholders.

Officers Elected

The Manistique association met at the afternoon of January 9, electing the following officers: President Isaac Pawley; Vice-president Harry Blandford; Secretary-treasurer G. S. Johnson. On loan committee are, William Lewart, Archie Snow, and Fred Strom, with Fred Peterson and William P. Rice elected as substitutes.

Broaden Sphere

In each association are more than sixty men, making the organization representative of about 20 farms. Backing the organization is a federal land bank with $100,000,000 resources. This is the farmer what the Federal Reserve Bank is to the manufacturer.

Masons and Wives Enjoy a Banquet

Manistique Masons and their wives were treated to an immense banquet at the Masonic hall last night, an annual affair staged by the entertainment committee.

COULD HARDLY DO ANY WORK

But Since Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound This Woman Feels So Well

Keseville, N.Y.—"I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly for the good it has done me. I was so much troubled with female weakness I could hardly do any work. I saw your advertisement in the paper, and read it to my husband. He said, 'You had better try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound,' so I bought a bottle, and by taking it I am now as well as I was. I am getting strength and getting fleshy. My female troubles have vanished and I have never felt so well. The Liver Pills are the best I ever took. If you think my letter will encourage other sufferers you have my permission to use it as an advertisement."—Mrs. SARAH BLAISE, Box 177, Keseville, N.Y.

Doing the housework for the average American family is some task, and many women lose their health in the process.

If you, as a housewife, are troubled with backache, irregularities, are easily tired out and irritable, or have other disagreeable ailments caused by some weakness, give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. Let it help you.

CREAMERY MAN WEDS TEACHER NEXT MONDAY

Two extremely happy people boarded the train at Manistique Friday morning, both provided with tickets to St. Ignace. Both were young, but that wasn't the only reason they were happy. The real reason was that they were on their way to be married, and from that may be gathered that one of the young people was a man and the other a girl.

The girl was Miss Hazel Madison, until yesterday a teacher at the West Side school, Manistique. The man was none other than Martin Tarnitzer, familiarly known as "Cheese It" because of his association with the Manistique creamery and cheese factory during his residence here.

Both of the principals in the little romance are well known here, and the announcement that they are to be married comes as a complete surprise to their many friends. Even other teachers on the school faculty were unaware of the contemplated "elopement" until Miss Madison's resignation as teacher was tendered and announced.

Since severing his connection with the local concern, Mr. Tarnitzer has filled a position of responsibility in the Wisconsin capital city and came here Thursday to get his bride-to-be.

Miss Madison's home is at St. Ignace, and it is understood the marriage will take place there Monday, after which the couple will enjoy a short honeymoon before returning to the future home of Mr. and Mrs. Tarnitzer at Madison, Wis.

NORMAN FOX IS CITY'S LEADING RADIO GRADUATE

Norman Fox, of this city, now in Detroit, was one of the most ardent of radio fans while here, and could be seen almost nightly listening in at the set in the Elk's temple here, still retains his interest in the aerial concerts, as communications received here by his friends indicate.

Mr. Fox states that outfits identical with the one at the Temple here are giving the best service to amateurs down at the metropolis, and says that concerts from the Drake Hotel, Chicago are much enjoyed there, as they are here. Amateur sending stations make considerable interference there, he says.

Interest in the radiophone is not lagging in this city either, as indicated by the new fans added to the list, and the addition of new sets to the city's battery of receiving stations, some of them in private homes. A test set has just been installed in the V. I. Hixon home by L. C. Harbin, Paragon set sales representative.

In addition to the old reliable Davenport, Iowa, concerts in the early evening, the Palmer school, the Sweeney school, East Pittsburgh and Schnetzky are some of the reliable sources of entertainment.

COMMISSION PLAN URGED AT MANISTIQUE

"There are problems to be dealt with in Manistique that can only be taken care of by a commission form of government, in my opinion," said a Manistique business man the other day, "and I believe the time is coming when this change should be effected. The matter should be agitated at once, I think."

That other cities who have not the commission form of government are considering the plan, is shown by the following communication received here from the Lansing Chamber of Commerce, who believed the commission plan to be in force in Manistique.

"Several of our business men are interested in a Commission or Business Form of City Government and I have been requested to write you and find out what the consensus of opinion is relative to the advisability of having a Commission Form of Government.

Will you have the kindness to advise me how it is working out in your City and if you had to do it over again, would you use your influence to have same instituted? We are very anxious to get some concrete form of business efficiency for Lansing and any information you can give us will be greatly appreciated."

Snow Plows Carve Way Through Drifts

Snow plows were out early in Manistique for the first time this year and most of the sidewalks were cleaned off in time for the earliest pedestrians on Friday, following the cessation of the storm that hit this city Thursday.

There is something peculiar about the way the snow piles up in the downtown section of Cedar street. Instead of piling up in drifts in the middle of the street, or falling evenly over the entire surface, the snow accumulates on one side only, alternating with each separate storm, according to the direction of the wind.

This particular storm dropped all of the snow on the east side of the street, giving the business men on that side the brunt of the exercise, while the opposite side of the street was practically free of snow.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Lee Carey, at Whitelake, a baby boy.

SMYRNA FIRE SURVIVOR HERE FOR A VISIT

Peter Babladelis Spent Two Years in Asia Minor.

Peter Babladelis, one of the American refugees when Smyrna burned and brother of George Babladelis of the Liberty Cafe, in this city, arrived here yesterday with his wife and baby daughter, for a visit.

Mr. Babladelis is an American citizen and a member of the American Legion, having served with the American forces in the late war with Germany. Two years ago he secured a passport to Greece, and returned to his native land to be married.

He was at Smyrna at the time that city was wiped out by fire, and together with other American citizens, was assisted by the United States relief, who arranged for his passage to this country, a trip that extended over 30 days.

Mr. Babladelis was in this city several years ago, and noted many changes that have taken place during his absence.

"LADIES ONLY" TO BE FEATURE OF NEXT SHOW

For ladies only. That is to be a feature of the next amateur entertainment to be offered Manistique folks, according to the recent announcement of the Women's Club, telling of a minstrel show to be given here on February second.

"Women Only" does not mean, however, that men will be barred from the audience. It only refers to the cast, which will be all female talent, as the show is to be staged by the ladies of the club, utilizing only female talent.

As has been the case with other successful amateur events staged here recently, the production will be under the direction of Anne Hoeking Smith, well known here, who is expected to arrive in a week or so to attend to the details of staging the entertainment.

It has been intimated that other specialties may be introduced by Mrs. Smith, in which a few male characters will be used, but the minstrel show proper will be a vaudeville by women only.

SUNDAY MOVIES ARE DISCUSSED BY CITY DADS

Sunday movies for Manistique were again discussed pro and con at the last meeting of the city council, though no action was taken.

At the previous meeting, the question was opened for discussion when a petition, carrying the names of scores of Manistique voters was presented. This petition asked that the ordinance prohibiting showing of movies on Sundays be repealed.

The matter has been agitated at other times since the closing of theaters on Sunday was effected by the council, but it is claimed by those supporting the movement that sentiment favoring the reopening of shows is more general at this time, and they are determined to secure some definite action on the question, though it is not probable that a repeal of the ordinance will be effected this winter.

Committee is Named for Salvation Army

In preparation for the Salvation Army drive that is to be staged here next week, the following committees have been named by Dr. A. R. Tucker, commander of the local Legion post: Dr. A. R. Tucker, chairman, P. R. Baldwin, treasurer, Harry Erikson, George Stevens, R. H. Teeple, Joe Blumrosen, Ivan Cornell, Robt. Carley, W. T. S. Cornell, A. F. Hall.

Mrs. W. S. Crowe, chairman of women's committee, Mesdames F. M. Orr, Morley Bryde, J. S. Melstrand, F. W. Monroe, W. T. Cornell, J. L. Husband, L. E. Mr. Donald, Joe Blumrosen and Miss Irene McCellan.

The annual meeting of the Bethany Society was held Thursday evening at the home of Rev. Nelson, at which time the officers for the ensuing year were elected. Miss Rosalia Wallenfang was President; Marie Ahlstrom, vice-president; Elsie Ericson, treasurer; Olive Peterson, secretary; Margaret Gunnarson, organist; Abba Thompson, flower fund treasurer. A social opening was enjoyed after the business meeting, delicious refreshments being served by the hostess.

Mrs. Wesley Gillian left Thursday morning for Detroit after an extended visit in this city.

BUSINESS MEN REVIVE "PEP" IN GYM WORK

Interest in men's athletic night at the Manistique high school gymnasium was again revived on Thursday night, and a good-sized group of men were on hand to take the health program.

Starting with a game of basketball, the men were then given a session of calisthenics, followed by three games of volley-ball, and concluding with a few laps around the track.

J. Blumrosen's volley-ball team emerged the victors of the three game series, by annexing two of the three games by a close score over George Nicholson's team. Leon Nicholson and Paul Hoholik were stars on the respective teams with Al Eckerman the champion server of the evening.

"Every booster gets another," is the motto of the men who attended this Thursday, and expect to have even a larger group on hand to get the benefit of the recreation next Thursday night.

ESCANABA MEN BUY BAKERY IN MANISTIQUE

It has been announced that the "Home Made Bread Bakery," Cedar street, will be re-opened for business today, following the sale of the place to F. Joint and E. Beauchamp, two Escanaba men. The bakery was closed by the former owners, F. J. Civigny, in December, Mr. Civigny having made plans to move from the city.

The bake shop was opened by Mr. Civigny more than two years ago, and was operated under his management up to the time that it was advertised for sale. Mrs. Civigny left some time ago for Chicago, called there by the illness of a daughter. Miss Violet Bridges, another daughter, will remain in this city to attend school, while Mr. Civigny plans to leave soon for Michigan to visit his mother. He states he has no definite plans for his future in business.

The new owners are said to be men of experience in the bakery business, and expect to make a strong bid for their share of Manistique's bakery business.

Two Percent Bid Gets City Money

Bids for the banking of the city's money were considered by the council this week, and an offer from the State Savings Bank was accepted, making that bank the city depository.

Due to the fact that much of the tax levy has been paid recently, the city has a substantial balance at this time, but this will be lessened when loans authorized last year are paid, and the city at no time has a very large balance to remain in the bank.

As one of the city officials remarked, "The city's money is always on the move."

CONFERENCE ON DELTA COUNTY RELIEF FUND

The executive committee of the local post of the Legion has been appointed to go to Escanaba to confer with Mayor Judson regarding the disposition of the Delta Relief fund, which at one time is said to have amounted to over $12,000. This money was used during the war for relief purposes and after the armistice was to have been appropriated for ex-soldiers.

It is commonly understood that this fund is now on deposit at an Escanaba bank but no report has been made in over a year and the local post intends to have more definite information. John Mattson, a member of the executive committee, who was in Escanaba Thursday to attend the meeting of the board of supervisors, made an appointment with Mayor Judson at that time for early next week.

COMMITTEE ON FINANCE MAKES ITS STATEMENT

City Expenses Are Detailed In Report.

A thorough analysis of the financial conditions of the city of Gladstone is made in the statement prepared for the information of voters by the finance committee of the city council. This statement is as follows:

"The city's income from taxes for the current year is Thirty-two Thousand Three Hundred Ninety-two Dollars and from soft drink licenses and other miscellaneous sources, approximately One Hundred Dollars, making a total of approximately Thirty-two Thousand Five Hundred Dollars. This money will be spent approximately as follows:

Interest on bonds	$5,000.00
Maintenance of fire department	6,900.00
Maintenance of police department	4,000.00
Salaries	3,800.00
Maintenance of cemetery	1,750.00
Retirement of first proposed bond	3,000.00
Street lighting and hydrant rental	3,415.00
Total	$27,865.00

"This constitutes absolutely fixed expenses which must be met. This leaves a total of $4,635.00 to take care of all other expenses of the city and of this amount approximately Sixteen Hundred Dollars will be needed to care for the poor. On the basis of cost during the past year, this is a very modest sum, as Escanaba expends Ten Thousand Dollars annually on its poor. Insurance on buildings and compensation insurance for men employed will cost approximately $55,000. These two items are almost as definitely fixed as the others and must be met.

"This leaves a balance of about $2,485 to pay for street and sidewalk repairs, plowing sidewalks, street and sidewalk construction, cleaning alleys, meeting emergencies and all other miscellaneous expenditures of every nature. These expenditures will have to be pared down and the city will be compelled to get along without certain services which have heretofore been furnished, unless the electors see fit to vote more money for city purposes.

"It must be readily seen that there is little possibility of any extravagance with such a budget. The reason for our peculiar situation is because of our exceptionally low valuation of $2,159,607.00, which is about one-third or less than other cities of our size. This is due to the fact that a large amount of railroad property in the city not subject to local taxation and to the location of large plants outside of the city limits which are not locally taxable who employ men whose families we must furnish with police and fire protection and other services.

"On the valuation of $2,159,607.00 we raise annually about $32,000 for city purposes. At the same rate Manistique, a city of the same size, with about the average valuation of six millions could raise $90,000 and actually could raise and expend $60,000 for its city purposes, or nearly twice as much as we are able to do.

"It must therefore appear that financing the city on an income of a little over a half of what other cities of the same size expend is a difficult problem, especially when we try to furnish the same services as other cities. One thing is certain, the city must keep within the appropriations and if the citizens demand more from the city, they will have to vote more money."

Mrs. Mottel On Scout Committee

In an announcement of leaders and committees of the Gladstone Girl Scouts who are planning to attend the county conference at Escanaba January 19, the name of Mrs. William J. Mottel was omitted. Mrs. Mottel is a member of the committee of Troop one and is one of the active scout executives who will attend the county sessions.

Members of the society gathered at their regular meeting place, the Eagles' hall at 8 o'clock and immediately following a short business session the impressive ceremonies were conducted.

The new leaders of the camp were put through the installation ritual by past district deputy, Mrs. Henrietta Jordan, assisted in the ceremonial by Mrs. Isabelle Knight.

Following installation a fish bouillon served by a committee of hostesses was enjoyed with a most pleasant social hour.

According to the reports submitted at the early business session, the Royal Neighbors here have just finished a highly successful year, the Autumn Leaf camp being rated among the first on the honor roll for the entire country.

PLACE SCHOOL FUND PROBLEM BEFORE VOTERS

Review of Situation Will Be Given to the Public.

In an earnest endeavor to place before the general public the school situation in Gladstone before the third special election January 24, a complete survey of the serious problem now facing the city has been made.

The special election called for January 24 has been adopted as a solution on the recommendation of legal authorities and the advice of the superintendent of public instruction at Lansing. It is to insure an impartial attitude at this election that an outline of the situation has been prepared.

Reviewing recent events it will be remembered that in two former occasions the school board endeavored to impress upon them the serious situation in which they were placed through lack of funds and through inability to levy sufficient taxes to cover the running expenses of the schools.

Near Majority

The first election, called in September, showed a vote of two to one in favor of the election. Feeling that the matter was not thoroughly understood throughout the city and to demonstrate their good faith in their efforts to keep the schools in operation, the school officials called another special election two weeks later. A fairly successful meeting was held and but little opposition was brought up.

This evidently did considerable good for at the election a few days later a change of heart was shown and a considerable majority voted in favor of the measure. A clause in the charter, however, states that a two thirds vote is necessary and the measure was again lost by a narrow margin, although nearly the necessary votes in favor were cast.

Since that time the schools have been successful in operation but the specter of closing the schools has ever been before the board of education. The manner in which the schools have served as a community center and the increasing approval shown by the public has not lessened the worries of the school officials and the impression among some that the board was only "bluffing" has made things harder for the members know only too well that they are not.

Close April 1. With a deficit of thirteen thousand dollars faced in June 1922 and the added expenses of running the new Junior high school for which the public voted for two to one, the facts have come to just this: unless additional funds are obtained, the school board will be forced to announce the impossibility of keeping the schools open longer than April first and the closing of the public schools of the city will be an accepted fact.

The third ward or Buckeye school now on its second school year is filling a long felt want in that section of the city and saving the children almost a mile walk to school. The gymnasium of the Junior high school building has been in use practically every evening since the opening of the school year for class activities, class plays, the gymnasium course public meetings, band practice, school athletics, legion basketball games and other needed activities. These are but two of the many facts taken into consideration in the conclusion that to close the schools in April with prospects no better for the coming year would indeed be a calamity for the city.

Furnish Facts. In succeeding issues of this paper an endeavor will be made to present all facts to the public in order that it may be fully informed. The school board has gladly consented to give all possible data in regard to the cost of operating the schools, comparison of expenses with previous years, the actual cost of the new school buildings and other information.

The advisability of coming under the graded act, apparently the only logical course to pursue at this time, will be touched upon and a further explanation of this will be made when the board puts the annual budget before the people for approval.

REGRETS THE PASSING OF FIRE HORSES

The passing of the fire horses in the service of the local fire department has occurred almost unnoticed by the busy populace, but there are those among the firemen who cannot or will not so easily forget. If you want to find a real friend of the horse, just ask William Marshall about the sale last week when the team was bought by Robert Nebel for $125. The sale was by bid and Mr. Nebel's was the only offer received. "Jerry" and "Harry" the once proud conveyors of the fire truck are now engaged in hauling sand and dirt in the filling in work Mr. Nebel is now doing on Voorhis avenue.

SUPERVISORS ARE ACTIVE AT MEETING

Supervisors Claude Hawkins, M. I. Call, Robert Nebel and John Mattson, Gladstone's full representation on the board were in Escanaba Thursday to attend the special meeting of the Delta county board of supervisors. Mr. Hawkins, who is chairman of the board, was delegated at this meeting to attend the state association of state supervisors conference to be held in the near future.

Chairman Hawkins was empowered to appoint three Delta county men to go to Lansing regarding a proposed change in the primary taxation distribution. As soon as it is determined whether it will be necessary to send a delegation, he has announced that Hon. Peter Jensen, Judge Yelland and Dr. Lemire would be appointed to represent the county. The secretary of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce will go there soon to investigate the matter.

Among other matters taken up, the board designated that five banks to serve as depositories for county funds, three from Escanaba and two from Gladstone; instructed the board of auditors to meet monthly and audit all bills, all bills not presented in 30 days to be held up; designated the county clerk as purchasing agent for all county purchases and all departments to go to him for requisitions.

"QUEEN" WINS MASQUERADE BALL PRIZE

With the "Queen of Hearts" presiding over the merriment and "The Shiek" providing most of the amusement the Fraternal Reserve association staged one of the most successful parties of the season at its masquerade ball given Thursday evening at Wasa hall.

The hall presented an attractive scene with the various colored costumes of the dancers, and the program of music given by LaDue's orchestra was received with repeated accolades. It is estimated that close to one hundred couples were present, including many masked dancers who did not appear in costume.

First prize for the most beautiful costume worn was awarded to Mrs. Harold P. Fenton, who represented the Queen of Hearts, and first honors for the comic costume went to Leonard Fitzpatrick, dressed as The Shiek.

Misses Julia, Signe and Edna Dahl as winter garden girls, Misses Flora Fisher, Vivian Bergstrom and Gagny Stenberg were others who through the originality and attractiveness of their costumes were entitled to prizes.

Credit for the success of the affair is due in a large measure to the committee men who made all arrangements and worked weeks in advance preparing the party. This committee is Lloyd Fitzpatrick, chairman; Charles Berry and Ralph Murray associate members.

BROTHER HERE FROM SWEDEN

Word was received yesterday by Edw. Larson, Gladstone garage man, that his brother, Tyke Larson, had arrived in an eastern port from Sweden and that he would leave right away for this city where he may locate permanently. He is expected here some time today. News of the safe arrival of his brother from the old country was welcomed by Mr. Larson, who although he knew of the trip did not know exactly when to expect him.

CHURCH PLANS ANNIVERSARY OBSERVANCE

A banquet and special program will mark the observance of the 15th anniversary of the Albee Memorial church, on Monday evening, January 29. Special services will also be conducted at the church on the Sunday previous. A committee was named at a meeting of the official board, last Thursday evening, to complete arrangements for the observance of the anniversary.

A STEP FORWARD.

A long step toward efficiency in county government was taken by members of the Delta county board on Thursday when that body took action which in practice will amount to the appointment of County Clerk George Hanvey as purchasing agent for all county departments. The system previously in effect has practically allowed each county officer to order supplies for his department without reference to the purchasing committee, unless the amount of money involved was considerable. Bills thus contracted were referred to the auditing from two to six months after delivery, for payment. In the interim the official ordering the goods may have left the service of the county, or the time elapsing between the delivery of the goods and the presentation of the bill, made it most difficult to check the various items.

Under the new plan of operation the county clerk will practically serve as purchasing agent for all county departments. In cooperation with the purchasing committee he will pass upon all bills that are presented before reference to the auditing committee, which will meet monthly and no bill more than 30 days old will be considered.

Under the new plan the county clerk should be able to purchase certain supplies in quantities that will result in a considerable saving for the county. One official will be made responsible for all purchases and at the monthly meetings of the auditing committee, accounts against the county can be audited without guessing and in an orderly process that will closely approach the manner in which the accounts of any business corporation are handled.

MONEY GRUBBERS, ARE WE?
The penalty of being prosperous is to be charged with money-grubbing. In Europe particularly, the final criticism (not untouched with envy) is always that the United States has too much money and is a slave to it.

It is true that the United States is the richest country in the world. It was not always so. Other countries had their turn. The important question is how that money was used in comparison with how the United States uses it.

A delegation of French librarians is touring this country; they are astounded at the vast number of volumes carried in the libraries of this country, and at the thousands of libraries scattered throughout the land in village and city, whether the poor, equally with the rich, may turn and enjoy the resources provided by the community. In France only the educated few use the libraries which are small and ill-supplied; the poor rent what books they want from the stores.

During the past year the United States spent $7,500,000 in Europe for paintings by old masters; another fortune in private libraries and other treasures. Europe makes a great outcry, and as in the case of "The Blue Boy," regards it as a public disgrace that the nation was unable to raise sufficient funds to retain the great work in England. Thousands on thousands flocked annually to take a last look at the masterpiece, few of whom had ever thought of it before publicity arising from its sale. Moreover, the most of these important works were in private galleries and unseen by the public at any time.

But what happened to "The Blue Boy"? Henry E. Huntington "lifted it" to California, to join his immense privately collected riches in books and pictures, and the entire treasure-house is given to the public forever. Every important gallery in America is enriched, in a lesser degree but in a similar manner, comparatively few great collections are withheld from the public. Blent with the capacity for great wealth there is, it seems, in every possessor of fortune a desire to enrich the nation with the opportunity for and exemplification of culture.

Books and pictures are brought from Europe by Americans, it is true. But here, at least, they be-

There are nearly 4,500,000 men under arms in Europe today. A quarter of a million are encamped, gun in hand, in the Near East. Fifty warships, ready for hostilities, crown on Constantinople. Two per centum of the entire population of Europe is being maintained by the state for war purposes.

"Chapters From a Woman's Life"

By JANE PHELPS.

AT THE DELFT.
One of the most delightful screen offerings of the year is "The Five Dollar Baby," starring charming Viola Dana, which will close its stay in Escanaba today, at the Delft theater. It is a screen version by Metro of Irvin S. Cobb's short story, which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, and it proved to be a delightfully human photograph of life in New York's Ghetto. Harry Beaumont directed the film.

Miss Dana was never more mirth-provoking than she is in her newest role. As a rough and ready child of thirteen, brought up by a Jewish pawnbroker, she is highly amusing in the earlier scenes of the play. She is constantly involved in some lively incidents or other with the people of the East Side, all of whom are remarkably fine types.

The story is that of a baby who is abandoned and picked up by a hobo, who pawns her for five dollars. The pawnbroker, who boasts that he "lends money on anything," decides to rear the child himself. When eighteen years later, he is asked to surrender her to the man who pawned her, he contrives a means of avoiding the performance of his obligation.

Rex Taylor adapted the story for the screen. John Arnold photographed it. A. F. Mantz was art and technical director.

AT THE STRAND.

Suppose you were cast adrift in mid-ocean in a small boat with two companions, and finally managed to get aboard a plague ship, upon which the only living thing was a black cat!

Would you kill this sure sign of bad luck, or would you take it under your wing and protect it, against the warnings of your companions?

Jim Dorn, the leading male character, played by Jack Holt, in Paramount's latest picture, "On the High Seas," which will be shown at the Strand for the last time, today, elects to save the cat and is rewarded for his pains by a series of catastrophes and disasters that would force nine men out of ten to kill Puss as the cause of these fateful incidents. But Jim spared the animal and the wisdom of his course was proved, for Puss was finally present at Jim's wedding to the one girl in the world he loved. The picture features Dorothy Dalton, Jack Holt and Mitchell Lewis and was directed by Irvin Willat. It is well worth seeing because of its beauty and thrills.
